

WOMAN SLAIN; MATE FOUND DEAD

A rural Harrington man fatally shot his estranged wife with a double-barreled shotgun Sunday as two of their children looked on, state police reported.

His body was later found in the cab of his pickup truck with a hose connected to the exhaust.

Investigators said the man, William H. Stubbs, 46, was angry because he had been ordered to court for failure to support his children.

Police said Mrs. Dorothy Stubbs, 46, and two of their children, Robert, 16, and Sandra, 15, were awakened Sunday morning by Stubbs' pounding on the door of their trailer home in Viola, seven miles south of Dover.

The son tried to wrestle the gun away from his father, police said but Stubbs flung the boy aside and fired point-blank into Mrs. Stubbs' chest. The children ran to a neighbor, who called police. Mrs. Stubbs was pronounced dead at the scene.

Two state policemen found Stubbs' body in his truck on the edge of a woods on the farm of Thomas Chambers, near Killens Pond, 10 miles from Viola.

They found Stubbs inside the closed cab of the truck, with a vacuum cleaner hose leading from the exhaust into the cab.

He was pronounced dead at Kent General Hospital, Dover, by Dr. Norman P. Jones, state deputy medical examiner. The cause of death was listed as asphyxiation due to carbon monoxide poisoning.

The couple worked at the International Latex Plant in Dover. Services for Mrs. Stubbs were held Wednesday morning at the Berry Funeral Home in Felton. Interment was in Odd Fellows Cemetery, Camden.

Private services for the husband were held yesterday morning in the J. Millard Cooper Funeral Home, Harrington.

Surviving are four children: Mrs. Ruth Ann Wothers, Somerville, N. J.; William S. Stubbs III,

Defective Car Muffler Blamed in Kent Death

A defective muffler apparently caused the death Monday of Thronlee Tilghman, a 34-year-old farm worker of near Harrington.

Tilghman was found dead in his car by his employer, Delbert Mills. Death, due to carbon monoxide poisoning, is believed to have been accidental.

A police investigation disclosed that Tilghman reached his employer's home near Killen's Pond about 1 a. m. Monday and decided to sleep in his car for the rest of the night.

About 8 a. m. Mills saw the parked car in the driveway with the motor running. He found

Rural Zoning Makes Urbanization Easy

Rural zoning can take the bit out of sprawling urbanization, notes George Vapaa, Kent County agent.

He cites instances where rural zoning:

1. Reduces the cost of public facilities and services.
2. Helps to keep productive areas in farming.
3. Helps to prod lands unsuited to agriculture into forestry or recreation.
4. Helps to avoid unwise mixtures of conflicting land use.
5. Helps protect community health.
6. Promotes safety on highways.

4-H'sers Spending Two Weeks at Camp Barnes

Boating, swimming, gun safety and crafts are all in a day's fun for 135 Delaware 4-H boys and girls at Camp Barnes this week. The annual two-week 4-H encampment began Mon., Aug. 6, and will end August 18. A large group of 4-H'ers camped last week with their leaders enjoying the facilities over the past weekend.

In addition to the usual recreational activities associated with camp, there will be informal instruction in such subjects as Getting Along With Others, Learning By Doing, Personal Appearance, Forming Habits, and the Fourfold 4-H'er.

Rough Edges is the theme for the 1962 camp, according to James O. Baker, state 4-H leader. He says, "Every boy and girl has a few rough edges. It's up to them to decide whether to live with the rough edges or attempt to rid themselves of them. Many of the activities are planned to help grind these edges."

Since the camp is steeped in Indian lore, tribal customs and dress play an important role in camp activities. The council circle is probably the highlight of the day's activities, according to Baker. He says the youngsters gather in a large circle with their elbows touching. Silence is observed throughout the ceremony. Only one person is allowed to speak at a time.

The campers are divided into tribal groups and each tribe selects a chief and a sagamore (assistant chief). They maintain these groups throughout the camp for tribal competition, recreation and classes.

The stockholders were told revenue amounted to about $4,000 per day, and net margin rose to a new high mark of $182,512. For the first time the co-op was listed in Dun and Bradstreet's Million-Dollars Directory, Kirby said.

Minor Children Eligible For Pension Payment

Unmarried minor children of deceased veterans may be eligible for pension payments even when their mother, the veteran's widow, is not eligible, Leon Fields, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Wilmington said today.

Cases in point are where the widow is ineligible due to having remarried or due to having income in excess of established limits. The ineligibility of the widow does not affect the eligibility of the minor children.

Mr. Fields pointed out that when a widow and children are already on the pension rolls, the subsequent ineligibility of the widow poses no problem. Pension payments to the children are continued after the mother's name is removed from the rolls.

However, in cases where the widow has never applied for a pension, or whose application was not allowed, due to her remarriage or excessive income, the VA may have no record of any minor children to which payment should be made.

Unmarried minor children of deceased veterans may be eligible for pension until they are 18, or 21 if attending school, provided their own personal incomes would not bar them.

Full details may be obtained at any VA office.

He explained the General Assembly has not provided enough money to meet matching requirements for federal money already available.

The money is not yet irrevocably lost, however, Frank W. Vanderslice, assistant for federal-aid in the highway department, said Wednesday night.

He said the state could still put up matching funds at least for the remainder of this fiscal year, and perhaps for the next two fiscal years. He could not be more definite, he said, until he saw the full text.

The state highway commission asked the General Assembly for a $16 million bond issue last April but not action was taken on the request, Miller said. He said the matter will be discussed at today's commission meeting.

EXLEY OPPOSES CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION AS INIMICAL TO KENT

He is strongly opposed to the holding of a constitutional convention in the state, Rep. George H. Exley told the Ninth District Democratic Club in a spirited speech at a covered-dish supper at the Farmington Fire Hall Tuesday evening.

Going thru normal channels, the convention would be held in 1965 but could be held in 1963 under pressure. The last constitutional convention was held in 1897. Legislation for a convention passed the Senate but

Motor Fuel Tax Receipts Report

Receipts from motor fuel taxes in the State of Delaware for the month of June have practically doubled between 1954 and the present year, it was revealed by an examination of the records.

These receipts for the month of June in 1954 totaled $588,594.62 while for June of the present year the motor fuel tax receipts were $1,108,103.

The receipts for June in 5 of the 9 years were the largest for that particular year up until the month of June. For two other years the June receipts were the largest of the summer season.

With two exceptions the motor fuel tax receipts for the month of June constantly increased each year, the two exceptions being the years of 1957 and 1958.

The receipts for June of 1955 were $597,893.33 and then jumped to $761,350.26 for June of 1956, these being the largest receipts for any summer month of that year.

The receipts for June of 1957 fell below that for the receipts for this month in the previous year, with the receipts being $721,566.15 and the same condition existed for June of 1958 when the receipts were $752,287.73.

An increase was noted in the receipts for June of 1959, which were $781,740.89, but these receipts were the smallest for any month of the summer season in that year.

The June motor fuel tax receipts started a huge increase in 1960, when $850,957.98 was received, and in 1961 when the receipts were $954,639.45, which again showed June to have the largest receipts of any month in the summer season.

State Can't Use U.S. Road Funds

Delaware was caught without a match for its highways Wednesday.

The state was allocated $10,733,000 as the federal government cut loose $1.9 billion in previously frozen highway funds. Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges said it was done to stimulate the economy.

But, said William J. Miller Jr., operations director of the State Highway Department, "It won't help us at all because we must have matching funds."

He explained the General Assembly has not provided enough money to meet matching requirements for federal money already available.

The money is not yet irrevocably lost, however, Frank W. Vanderslice, assistant for federal-aid in the highway department, said Wednesday night.

He said the state could still put up matching funds at least for the remainder of this fiscal year, and perhaps for the next two fiscal years. He could not be more definite, he said, until he saw the full text.

The state highway commission asked the General Assembly for a $16 million bond issue last April but not action was taken on the request, Miller said. He said the matter will be discussed at today's commission meeting.

Farmers Must File For Gas Tax Refund

Farmers are losing a lot of money if they don't claim their federal gas tax refund, according to W. T. McAllister, University of Delaware farm management specialist. They are eligible for a four cent per gallon return on all gas used for farm purposes. Claims must be filed no later than Septemehr 30, McAllister warns.

Farmers who filed last year should get the proper form through the mail or they may be picked up at the Internal Revenue offices in Wilmington, Dover or Georgetown. Ask for form 2240 gas tax refund. Claims should be filed for gas purchased between July 1, 1961, and June 30, 1962.

The gasoline on which a refund may be claimed covers that used for farming purposes, and includes most normal production operations. Three exceptions, however, are noted by McAllister. They are: gasoline used on the highway, (even though for transporting farm products); that used for processing, packaging, freezing, or canning operations; and, that used for non-farming or personal purposes.

Records of fuel purchases should be kept to verify the refund request and care should be exercised to avoid inaccurate or excessive claims, he says. Form 2240 does not apply to diesel and special motor fuels. Farmers who have questions regarding taxes on these fuels are advised to contact an Internal Revenue Service director.

Wash. College Professors
Granted Leave

Two Washington College professors have been granted Sabbatical Leave to pursue research under the institution's Faculty Leave program.

Dr. Joseph H. McLain, professor of chemistry and chairman of the department, will depart in September for Scotland where he will be research associate at the University of Edinburgh. There he will work with Professor T. Cottrell on solid-solid reaction velocities and related physical chemical phenomena.

He also will visit other universities, and chemical corps, for discussions on the directions of research and development in the physical chemistry field. His travels are expected to take him to Stevenson, Scotland; Troisdorf, Germany; Gyttorp, Sweden; and Brussels, Belgium. Dr. McLain's Sabbatical Leave is for the entire school year, and he expects to return in June 1963.

Dr. Nathan Smith, associate professor of history and department chairman, has received a research grant from the American Philosophical Society, of Philadelphia, to be applied to his study of "Liberalism in a Revolutionary Crisis: The Russian Experience, 1905 - 1907." Dr. Smith's Sabbatical Leave is for the fall semester.

Dr. McLain graduated from Washington College in 1937 and returned here to teach chemistry in 1946 after receiving his Ph. D. from Johns Hopkins University. He was made full professor, and head of the department, in 1955.

An officer in the Chemical Warfare Service, U. S. Army, during World War II, he was awarded the Legion of Merit for his solutions of important problems in munitions.

Dr. McLain was research liaison manager for a year for Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation and has been a consultant to the firm since 1950, doing considerable research on propellants and explosives. He has written extensively on chemistry, propellants, and the like, and holds a number of patents. In 1959 he held a National Science Foundation grant.

Dr. Nathan Smith joined the Washington College faculty in 1956 and was named head of the department of history and political science last year. A graduate of Roosevelt University, he earned his Master's degree and his Ph. D. at the University of Illinois with studies on Russia.

He has held a Ford Foundation fellowship in Soviet studies, and other fellowships, and in 1958 he served on the Conference on Slavic and East European History. He is a former history editor for the Consolidated Book Publishing Company.

Kent Democrats Down to Two Fights

Only two possible contests were left Monday night in Kent County Democratic fights as two candidates withdrew at the last minute.

The disclosure of the withdrawals came with the announcement by Kent Chairman Vernon B. Derrickson of the completion of the slate of delegates to the Aug. 28 nominating convention.

Kent's two remaining contests pit the incumbent, Glenn W. Busker, against George M. Blendt for nomination for state representative in the first district, and the three candidates for sheriff: George Graham, George Vincent and Joshua Bennett.

John Pratt withdrew as a candidate for the Second Levy Court District, leaving the nomination open to State Rep. Carl Prettyman. Charles W. Bostick, president of the Levy Court, withdrew as a candidate for receiver of taxes, leaving that post open to Dorsey Torbert.

The Democrats still do not have candidates for several posts, including the Third and Fifth Senatorial Districts and the Second, Fifth and Seventh Democratic Districts. Derrickson said the executive committee has until early September to get candidates for these offices.

Derrickson listed the complete slate of delegates as:

First Representative District (one vote each): Ruth L. Busby, Mary F. Ennis, Charles C. Blendt, J. Everett Lofland, Glen W. Busker and Ruth M. Haas.

Second (three-fourths of a vote each): Franklin D. Luff, Vernon E. Derrickson, James G. Smith, Jr., Harry Hagerly, William James, Samuel J. Fox, Howard Hawley, Roland Feder.

Group Hospital Service Elects President

J. Sellars Bancroft, Secretary of Wilmington Trust Company, Wednesday was named to the board of trustees and elected president of Group Hospital Service, Delaware's Blue Cross-Blue Shield organization.

He succeeds F. A. Wardenburg whose resignation was formally accepted Wednesday. Wardenburg had served as president since the founding of Group Hospital Service in 1935. His long service was warmly praised by other trustees and he was named honorary chairman of the board a position newly created Wednesday.

Bancroft is a director of Wilmington General Hospital, and a former member of the board of Group Hospital Service. He is also active in the family service of northern Delaware and on the advisory board of the Visiting Nurse Association. He is a director of the New Castle Mutual Insurance Company, and of the Labor Foundation.

Accused Speeders Want Trial In Sussex

There were 18 defendants who appeared before Judge Lawrence C. Elliott in Court of Common Pleas Wednesday either for plea or sentencing.

Deputy Attorney General Howard T. Kunis, Jr., conducted the prosecution.

Two Georgetown men who had been arrested for speeding said they weren't guilty and asked for trial. They were Harry D. Quillen and Horace Baugh. Quillen said he would be represented by David P. Buckson.

Nelson Rash, Harrington, who had previously entered not guilty pleas to two separate charges of speeding, changed his plea through his attorney, Herman C. Brown, Dover. He was fined $25 on the first charge and $80 on the second.

Floyd O. Mitchell and Gene Wildonger, both of Selbyville, were placed on probation for a year and ordered to make restitution for the alleged theft of poultry equipment from Lemeul H. Hickman, late in February.

The share of each was set at $266 and they were ordered to pay $50 each before the 15th of each month.

Mrs. Alma Harmon, Rehoboth, was fined $10 for being intoxicated in a public place. This charge was the aftermath of a drunken driving case against Mrs. Harmon on which the jury failed to agree.

Judge Elliott recalled to James C. Sabo, attorney for Mrs. Harmon, that the case had hinged not so much on the condition of Mrs. Harmon as on the question of whether or not she was actually driving the car.

Judge Elliott considered an application by Robert W. Ketterman for relief from a previous fine, and modified his original sentence to eliminate the fine of $500. Ketterman had been found guilty April 18 of having an unlicensed still near Georgetown.

The judge said that he didn't modify his previous sentence for the sake of the defendant but because he had found that the payment of the fine would work real hardship on the defendant's wife and three children.

Pleas were taken in many minor miscellaneous cases.

In 1921, a united States submarine, having run out of fuel at set, rigged sails from blankets, hammocks, curtain rods, and the ramrod of a 3-inch gun, and sailed 100 miles to port at two knots.

Veterans News

Although most students enrolled under the War Orphans Education Assistance Program pursue college studies, eligible children may also take training in business and vocational schools, Leon Fields, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office, said today.

Students who have completed their high school education but do not desire to attend college, and students who drop out of school when they pass the age of compulsory attendance, age of 16 in Delaware, may enroll for business or vocational training approved by their vocational counselors, Mr. Fields explained.

Prospective students are eligible for enrollment under the program if the death of their veteran parent was attributed to an injury or disability incurred in war-time service or in some cases of extra-hazardous peacetime service. The other parent may still be alive.

Generally between the ages of 18 and 23, these students may receive as much as $110.00 a month for as many as 36 months of training when enrolled in full-time, approved courses, and smaller payments for less than full-time enrollment.

Individuals are advised on their course of training by educational or vocational counselors, Mr. Fields said. Guardians and prospective students in Delaware, who may be eligible, should apply to their Wilmington VA Regional Office.

Coin Beach Famous For Old Coins

Not everyone who visits the beaches along Delaware's Atlantic Coast goes there just to swim, sunbathe or fish. The Delaware State Development Department, according to the state information agency, go to the beaches of southeastern Sussex County in search of the old coins that are still occasionally washed ashore from the long-sunken wrecks that rest on the ocean bottom off these once perilous shores.

The most popular of Delaware's "treasure beaches" is the area known as "Coin Beach," where, down through the years, "finds" of coins, mostly from the 1780-90 period, have been made.

This stretch of beach, about six miles south of Rehoboth, still occasionally yields Irish and English copper coins, particularly after what is locally known as a "nor'easter." While this particular type of storm occurs very infrequently, it does have the effect of churning up the offshore ocean bottom and casting ashore bottom debris which sometimes includes coins and other relics from old wrecks.

While an occasional gold coin is found in the vicinity of Coin Beach, most finds of this nature are copper pennies lending credence to the theory that they come from the wreck of the "Faithful Steward," a sailing vessel that foundered in this vicinity in 1785.

However, there are those who contend that the coins more likely come from the sunken wreck of another ship, "The Three Brothers," which is assumed to have foundered near the present day Coin Beach approximately 200 years ago. This latter ship was supposedly headed for the Indian River with a cargo believed to have included quantities of copper coins intended to help offset the shortage of hard cash then existing in the American Colonies.

"The Faithful Steward" and "The Three Brothers" are but two of the many ships whose remains rest on the Atlantic bottom off the Delaware Coast. Many of these, like The Faithful Steward and The Three Brothers, were sailing ships driven against submerged reefs or overturned during storms that occurred in either colonial times or in the early days of a then new nation.

Perhaps the most famous submerged wreck off the Delaware Coast is that of "The DeBraak," a British sloop-of-war that sank off Cape Henlopen on May 25, 1788. Down through the years repeated efforts have been made to salvage the DeBraak's cargo reputed to be worth millions of dollars (reports, unsubstantiated by the vessel's recorded history, have it that the DeBraak had captured two well-laden Spanish galleons just a short time before approaching the American coast).

The body of James Drew, the DeBraak's captain, was recovered and today rests in St. Peter's Churchyard, Lewes, Captain Drew's trunk was also recovered and, together with other relics from The DeBraak and other wrecked ships may be seen at the Zwaanendael Museum at Lewes, advises the Development Department.

Seeding Time for Alfalfa Is Here

The most important practice in establishing an alfalfa stand is early seeding, according to Dr. W. H. Mitchell, University of Delaware agronomist. He says while many crops have a broad range seeding dates, this doesn't apply to alfalfa. The best time for seeding a new alfalfa stand is between August 15 and September 1. This will allow the plants to reach a height of six to eight inches before the first killing frost. Many good alfalfa stands have been killed by the first frost, Mitchell reports, simply because they were seeded too late.

Here are some other points to consider in establishing a new stand.

1. Have your soil tested, especially the p-H test. This will tell you how much lime to use.
2. Don't be stingy with lime on alfalfa. One or two tons of ground limestone per acre should be applied at seeding time. If the p-H is below 6.0, disk one-half ton of ground burnt limestone into the soil just prior to seeding.
3. Purchase good certified alfalfa seed. Look for the blue tag. It's your assurance of purity.
4. Use 20 pounds of seed per acre when seeding a pure stand of alfalfa; or 15 pounds per acre mixed with orchardgrass.
5. Your choice of variety will depend on the individual situation. DuPuits is a fast growing, early maturing, high yielding variety. And it is fairly easy to get established. It has a relatively short life, however, (no more than two or three years) and is subject to bacterial wilt. Williamsburg is well adapted to that part of Delaware below the canal. It is long lived and is finer stemmed than duPuits. Narragansett, a newcomer to the recommended varieties list, is heavy yielding and adaptable to a variety of soil conditions. Vernal is recommended for northern Delaware. It is wilt resistant and fine stemmed. It recovers slowly, however, after harvesting.

6. Don't be stingy with the fertilizer. In most cases, 300 to 400 pounds of 8-16-8 or 6-18-18 will do the job. It is important to use fertilizer high in phosphorus at annual application of 0-10-30 or seeding time and then make an 0-13-39. This application is necessary to keep the stand producing well and thriving.

7. Be sure to use 15 to 20 pounds of borax each year.

8. Look for more cows—you'll need them to handle the extra feed.

Tax on Wages Is Farmers' Responsibility

Farm operators who hire agricultural workers must deposit Social Security tax funds, when such tax amounts to $100, reminds George Vapaa, Kent County agent.

The employer-employee tax rate for 1962 is 6 1/4 percent, an increase of 1/4 percent over last year's levy. Half of this amount can be deducted from the wages paid to farm employees.

Two tests can be used to determine wages subject to the tax. The first test is $150 in wages paid to an individual in a calendar year. The second is having hired the same employee 20 days on a time basis, regardless of the amount of wages paid. When either of these situations apply, the tax is applicable and must be reported for the workers involved, Vapaa adds.

Federal regulations require that tax on agricultural labor be paid to the government whenever the amount due equals $100, the agent explains. In other words, when a farm employer has paid out $1,600 in eligible wages, he should deposit the Social Security tax due on that amount in any commercial bank qualified as a depository for federal taxes.

Vapaa urges farmers and ranch men to pay their taxes on hired labor when it is due and avoid the risk of paying a penalty. Good business records can be very helpful in keeping up with wages paid and taxes due, Vapaa adds.

4-H'ers Study Citizenship

Four Delaware 4-H Club members spent last week (Aug. 5 through 10) in Washington, D. C., attending the 4-H Citizenship Short Course at the National 4-H Center. They joined 87 other 4-H members from Michigan and Missouri at the National 4-H Center for the week long short course. Those attending were Doris Minus, Felton; Carolyn Rickards, Greenwood; Ralph Tildon Jr., Harrington, and Allen Waters, Greenwood. They were accompanied by Mrs. Mary W. Sudler, Kent County home and youth agent.

During their week in Washington, these boys and girls visited the White House, Capitol Hill, Mount Vernon, the National Archives, and other important monuments and memorials in the area.

In addition to tours of places of interest, they participated in discussions on the meaning of citizenship, the nature of freedom, and the Communist threat. At the conclusion of the short course, each received a certificate marking successful completion of the 4-H Citizenship Short Course at the National 4-H Center.

This is the fourth year the Citizenship Short Course has been in operation. During 1961, club members from 22 states attended the courses. The youngsters stay at the National 4-H Center, which is headquarters for the 4-H'ers during their week in Washington. This is the first time the Delaware club members have attended this national short course.

Farm Odds And Ends

Soil Test for August Seeding
Do you plan to make a fall seeding? Does the field need lime? What fertilizer are you going to use and how much per acre?
If you don't have the answer to these questions, have the soil tested now. Don't wait until the day you make the seeding and then guess.

Doing the job right can make the difference between a successful "catch" and a poor "catch" or possibly a seeding failure.
A successful new seeding will start that field towards years of highly productive, high-quality forage.

Ask your county agent for information on how to have soil tested.

Select Hogs Carefully
If you've decided that you'll only get a quarter more for hogs and therefore won't bother about changing the type of your hogs, here are the dollar facts that should change your mind:
Suppose that the hogs will bring only 50 cents more per head. To save that much per hog on the supplement cost, you'd have to buy your supplement for $7.50 per ton less.

Instead of spending extra time looking for a $7.50 discount, look for a better board and do a better job of selecting gilts.

Fallacies About Lawn Watering
There are two fallacies about lawn watering that should be corrected—1) That grass should never be watered when the sun is shining and, 2) that a little water every day is best.

Watering when the sun is shining will not harm the grass if water is needed. If there is any best time to water, however, it is probably early morning. Watering in early evening may encourage diseases, since the grass will be wet all night.

Most turfgrass research workers agree that when lawns are watered they should be thoroughly soaked at infrequent intervals.

Continuous Lighting Best for Chicks
The growth of chicks will be increased by using continuous lighting up to seven weeks of age, according to extension poultryman Paul Walther of Iowa State University. A young chick, he says, has a food passage rate of about one hour. Therefore, if given only six to 12 hours of light daily, the chick either does not have enough feeding time, or the period between feedings is too long to promote maximum growth. However, Walther says, as a chick near 20 weeks of age continuous lighting has the opposite effect and may retard growth. After seven to eight weeks, natural daylight is sufficient.

Tips For Removing Scratches From Wood
Flower vases and cool summer drinks often leave circles on table or chest tops. Here are some suggestions from Katie Thomas, Kent County home demonstration agent, for treating these and other blemishes on wood surfaces.

You can often remove circles or spots caused by sweating containers by treating them immediately with turpentine on a cloth. If treatment is delayed, you may need to rub the spot with pumice powder and raw linseed oil. Keep the powder well-moistened with the oil to prevent scratching the wood.

When hot or sweating dishes cause deep white spots, rub the stains with salad oil and salt. Mrs. Thomas says. Dip your finger in the oil, then in the salt, and rub the spots. Quite a bit of rubbing may be needed to remove these stains.

Light scratches on furniture may be rubbed with a mixture of equal parts of boiled linseed oil, turpentine, and white vinegar. Deep scratches in dark furniture will disappear if a small amount of iodine or burnt umber is applied to the scratch. Then cover the treated area with colored wax.

Avoid leaving plastic mats or wood surfaces.

Historical Sketches of Christ Church, Milford, Founded in 1704

Written by the Rev. Joseph S. Hinks, retired pastor of Christ Church, Milford, in 1942.

The bell (part of a set of chimes) was placed in the belfry. This work of renovation was done following the years of the Civil War, 1865-66 (tower built 1874, pyramidal tower roof, 1894).

We have been told that he frequently walked to Harrington for a service, or to Milton, after conducting services on a Sunday morning in Christ Church.

The Rev. J. Leighton McKim left Christ Church in 1880 to assume the principalship of St. Mary's School, Burlington, N. J.

The Rev. John Linn McKim and his son, the Rev. J. Leighton McKim served the Parish for fifty years of the past 105.

It is interesting to note that the names of both of these priests appear in the lists of the clergy of St. Peter's Church, Lewes, St. Paul's Church, Georgetown, and St. George's Church, Indian River.

In the year 1881 the Rev. Lewis H. Jackson was called as rector of the parish, and he remained until 1885.

The Rev. James C. Kerr became the rector in 1887. His memory is still fresh to many in the parish, who recall his many kind ministrations and by those who still remember and profited by his priestly offices.

During his tenure the interior of the church was re-decorated. Many memorials were placed in the church. The altar, memorial to Mrs. Sarah McKim, the seven sanctuary lamps, memorial to Joseph S. Truitt, the two Eucharistic candle holders, the two three-branch candle holders, and other gifts.

The Rev. J. Holwell Geare succeeded the Rev. James C. Kerr, in 1887. The record of this clergyman includes many baptisms. Upon inquiry we have ascertained that he established a mission in S. Milford and built a small chapel in which a number of those baptisms took place.

The Rev. John Leighton McKim returned to the parish, as rector in 1894. He remained until he retired from active duties, having served the parish, in his two rectorates, thirty two years.

In 1910, the Rev. Charles H. B. Turner, D. D., Lewes, Archdeacon of Dover, was called as non resident rector. (May 22) Dr. Turner did not continue long in this position. He resigned in September.

In September 1910 the vestry called the Rev. Ethelbert H. J. Andrews. A review of the Parish under his leadership shows a decided change in the direction and administration of parish affairs, and an advance in the parochial relationship of the parish with Diocesan and national church programs.

the parish cooperated in these programs.

The Rev. H. J. Andrews was a priest of rare spirituality, a real leader. He is remembered by many of our parishioners with deep affection.

(Taken from Vestry minutes): The Forward Movement Plan, 1911; the Every Member Canvass instituted in the parish, 1911; the first rectory purchased.

The 75th anniversary of the consecration of the church was celebrated. At this service the offering was applied to the parish house fund.

The installation and dedication of memorial windows, Lectern, altar vases, etc. Church repaired after being damaged by lightning, September 1915.

The provision of a furnished room for this Arts and Crafts Guild, and its equipment.

The organization of the Woman's Auxiliary and its mission study classes, 1914.

The Rt. Rev. Frederick J. Kinsman, Bishop of Delaware, was called as the rector, November 1917, to succeed the Rev. E. H. J. Andrews.

The Rev. Thomas Wingate was elected rector in 1918. He remained until October 1921. During his administration of Christ Church the Rev. Philip Cook, D. D., was elected Bishop of Delaware.

The Rev. Percy Deacon was appointed Priest in Charge of the parish in August 1922. He was succeeded in 1924 by the Rev. Alexander Patman, as priest in charge.

In August 1925, the Rev. Guy L. Hill was called to Christ Church. During his pastorate the rectory and parish house were built.

The Rev. Joseph S. Hinks, present rector, came to the parish October 1928. The record of the past thirteen years is known to all our parishioners.

In the election of the Rev. Arthur R. McKinstry, D. D., as Bishop of Delaware, Christ Church was represented by the rector and Messrs. Collins and Stanton.

So we conclude this sketch. Avoiding as much as possible any comparisons, definite conclusions and deductions. We have not attempted to be the historian, or the interpreter, but the recorder.

Our purpose in presenting this sketch was not to give an original and complete history of the Parish. For this is not possible.

As this sketch is primarily for the parishioners of Christ Church much of it may prove to be very familiar, we trust however, that we have added some new and informative facts.

There are undoubtedly some old records, such as old books, baptismal, confirmation, and marriage certificates, church papers, or parish booklets, which antedate our present registers.

We ask you to read this sketch remembering these intangible factors, invisible forces, which give substance to the faithfulness and loyalty to all those to whom Christ Church was and is the witness for the unseen and eternal symbol of things that give meaning to life.

So with humble apologies for this incomplete history and for an inadequate presentation of such a worthy and interesting subject we offer you the foregoing.

The Articles of Consecration Of Christ Church

A declaration of the principles and purposes for which the church was built and consecrated and for which it now exists and serves.

Members of the official board met at our church Tuesday evening.

Members of our Sunday School Classes will meet at our community house Saturday evening and enjoy ice cream and cake.

The Rev. Bryan Blair made a few brief calls here Friday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Brackett, Denton, called on Mrs. W. G. Holbrook, Wednesday evening of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Zimmerman and son, John, of Reedsville, Pa., were last weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Chaffinch and family.

Capt. Bernard H. Thomas, Holly and Mike, visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Thomas, Monday of last week.

Service are helping achieve this goal by devising more efficient food packaging and handling methods, which help cut marketing costs.

For example, right after World War II, we spent about a fourth of our take home pay for food.

Today, less than a fifth of our take-home pay goes for food. Food on the market today is trimmed, packaged, frozen, pre-mixed, or ready to cook.

Our AMS study has saved much time and money by encouraging greater use of tray packs to handle fast-moving canned groceries.

A store with a $20,000 grocery department can tray pack up to 40% of its weekly movement.

Mary Towers spent last Thursday with Shelly Brown, of Denton.

Seed Growers Deadline Nears

Certified soybean growers and others interested in producing certified soybeans are reminded that the deadline for making application to the Seed Certification Committee is September 1.

According to W. H. Mitchell, University of Delaware agronomist and secretary of the Delaware Crop Improvement Association, there will probably be a record crop of soybeans for certification this year.

A breakdown of the registrations on August 1 showed 147,241 pleasure vehicles, an increase of 5,640; 60,653 trucks and tractor trailers, an increase of 4,059; 398 tractors, an increase of 2; 872 motor cycles, an increase of 47; 40 stock cars, an increase of 12, and 4,038 farm trucks a decrease of 7.

The registrations for Kent County were 29,936 pleasure cars, an increase of 2,727; tractors had 145 registrations same as last year, 262 motor cycles, an increase of 3 and 1,467 farm trucks, a decrease of 14.

The TV set is my shepard, My spirit shall not want. It maketh me to sit down and do nothing for His name's sake, because it requireth all my spare time. It keepeth me from doing my duty as a Christian because it presenteth so many shows that I must see. It restoreth my knowledge of the things of the world. It leadeth me in the paths of unrighteousness for my own sake. Yea, though I live to be a hundred I shall keep on watching TV. Its sound and picture, they confound me. It presenteth entertainment before me, and keepeth me from doing important things with my family. It fills my head with ideas which differ from the Word of God. Surely no good thing will come of my life because my TV offereth me no spare time to do the will of God; thus I will dwell in the power of the Devil and his angels forever.

Of course, we know that TV can also be very good and educational and that it has excellent entertainment value. However, it is the responsibility of parents to study the TV Guide and to censor the programs that our children are seeing because what goes down into the well of that subconscious is going to come out and it's up to us to see that it is good.

Delaware Food Market Report

Fresh fruits and vegetables continue in mid-summer abundance, at prices inviting to food shoppers. As far as price changes go, most fruits and vegetables stand at their reasonable prices. Beautiful honeydew melons are exceptionally good buys and so are cantaloupes. Local peaches combined with those from other growing areas make this fruit one to serve often. Bartlett pears, lemons, limes, cooking apples, blueberries and watermelon are all good buys once again this week.

Eggplant is expected to be one of the more plentiful vegetables for the rest of the month. Right now quality is excellent and prices low. Tomatoes are abundant now so if you are planning to can this vegetable now is the time. Snap beans, beets, celery, lettuce, cabbage, green peppers are a few of the vegetables in excellent supply right now.

Veterans News

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS Q—What are the conditions on which a U. S. veteran may receive medical care at VA expense in the foreign country in which he is residing? A—He must be a U. S. citizen, must be residing only temporarily in the foreign country, and must need medical care for a disease or disability that has been ruled service-connected by the Veterans Administration. The exception is for veterans of United States military service who live in the Philippines, where these conditions do not apply. Q—I am a Korea veteran and have not yet changed my original "RS" insurance policy. What are the options? A—You may (1) exchange it for a term policy that will cost you about one-third of what you are now paying but cannot be renewed as term insurance after you reach age 50. You can convert to a permanent plan before you reach 50. Or you may (2) convert your present policy to a permanent plan now. If you exercise either of these options before September 14, 1963, you will receive a special dividend. Q—Can I take advantage at this date of the law that went into effect in 1960 that gave veterans, widows and orphans an increase in pensions? A—Yes, you should get all the facts and then determine whether the new or old pension plan is the best for you. Of Local Interest Marilyn Jarrell, 16, will serve on farm magazine's Teen Board for the coming school year, according to Gertrude Dieken, women's editor of the publication. "Sports Odds And Ends"

Sheldon Hayman, a member of the Stone's Hotel softball team, had the best game of his career Thursday night. Hayman pounded out two home runs, a triple, single and double in six appearances at the plate.

At a Little League meeting Thursday night, a member of a Houston delegation whose name was Hummell, mentioned that he used to do some pitching. In 1915 he was paid for the first time collecting a dollar and some change for pitching a ball game. We asked if he might be the legendary "Mag" Hummell and his answer was in the affirmative. We have heard people speak of him for over thirty years as a pitcher good enough to have made the big leagues with the right breaks. It was a pleasant surprise to meet him for the first time.

The Harrington Lions Club purchased eight tickets to the Blue-Gold All-Star football game and turned them over to H.H.S. football coach Bill Santo. Santo and a group of senior members of his football team will take in the game Saturday afternoon, August 25.

The contest is played at the University of Delaware, Newark each year for the benefit of Delaware's retarded children. The Blue team is made up of outstanding players from the 1962 graduating classes of all those schools in the city of Wilmington and the northern suburbs. The Gold team comes from the rest of the state.

The slogan of the game is "We play that they may learn."

Two more interesting male versus female softball games were played at the Moose Home, Wednesday night of last week.

Jack Redden's 9-12 year-old Lions of the Harrington Little League defeated B. Norman Hopkins' teenage girls team 13-5, to avenge a previous defeat suffered at the hands of the young ladies.

The other contest saw the 13-14 year-old players of Harrington's Pony League Club bow to the local older girls' softball team by a score of 17-16 in a hotly-played tilt that went nine innings.

An interesting sidelight of the recently completed Little League season was the frequent appearance of a huge Virginia truck driver at the games. If a game was in progress when he passed by, he would steer his tractor-trailer into the spacious parking lot at the Moose Home, take a seat in the stands, and have a ball at the ball game.

Little League Teams to Picnic

The four baseball teams in the Harrington Little League will be given a picnic on Monday, August 27th at the American Legion Pool. Rain date is the following night. Starting time is 7 p.m. Each lad is requested to bring a bathing suit and towel.

The decision to hold the picnic was made at a Little League meeting held at the Legion Home on Thursday night. Another proposal is being studied which is considering the feasibility of building a multiple sports field which could be used for the two youth baseball programs and also for the youth football program in the fall. St. Bernadette's Catholic Church is reportedly thinking of giving a lease on a portion of their land for this purpose.

In other business a delegation from Houston inquired into the possibility of that town fielding a team in the local Little League. This matter is still under consideration and a decision should be reached at the next Little League meeting to be held the first Wednesday in September.

Johnson and Smith Win In Milford Golf Tourney

William R. Johnson and William A. Smith teamed up to win the Best Ball title in the Member-Member Golf Tournament held at the Shawnee Country Club, Milford recently.

Johnson, local barber and Smith, a teacher at the local school, were competing in the first flight, which is reserved for the superior players. Average golfers shoot in the second flight.

The Harrington duo was vying against a dozen or so other pairs. In best ball play each partner plays each hole with only the best effort counting in the overall score. For example, if Partner A plays a hole in three strokes and Partner B takes four strokes only Partner A's three goes on the score card.

It seemed that every time Smith went sour on a hole, Johnson was red hot and vice versa. The end result showed Bill and Johnson a whopping 8 under par and 6 strokes ahead of the distant second place finishers. The winning total was 132 for 36 holes.

Softball News

Standings in the Harrington Softball League are unavailable at press time. Several games have been played since the last writing. The most notable of these saw the Ruritan Club suffer their second defeat of the season. Bill's Barber Shop upset the leaders by a score of 10-4.

Other scores: Jaycees 8 - Bill's Barbers 6; Bill's Barbers 8 - Jaycees 7; Bill's Barbers 7 - Jaycees 6; Ruritan 11 - Stones 3; Ruritan 8 - Stone's 7; Ruritan 11 - Bill's Barbers 3; Ruritan 6 - Jaycees 2; Stone's 9 - Jaycees 7.
