

NATION'S FOOD STOCKPILE ENOUGH FOR SEVERAL MONTHS

The nation's food stockpile is enough for several months, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said in Dover Monday night, but he criticized Republican congressmen for opposing his stockpiling recommendations.

"President Kennedy and I have long advocated intensive stockpiling of processed foods and wheat at key locations to assure an adequate supply of food for our people in event of a national emergency," Freeman told Democrats at a Kent County fundraising dinner in the Dover School cafeteria.

"But," he continued, "the Congress, which is Democratic in name only, has constantly used a Republican-Southern coalition to thwart our progressive recommendations for the national welfare."

He conceded that the nation could survive "for many months" with stored food now available.

Praising the nation's program of distributing food to needy persons overseas, the secretary commented:

"For hungry people, bread and rice on the table are more important than missiles in the sky."

He called our farm production "America's single greatest success story" and added that, while some may question our achievements in space and science, "no one, nowhere in the world, questions the fact that American agriculture is overwhelmingly superior to that of any other nation."

Backing this up, he said one farmer can feed 27 Americans while the Soviet Union requires one farmer for every six residents. Overall, he said 8 per cent of our population is engaged in growing, processing and distributing food while the figure is 45 per cent in Russia.

He said this would undoubtedly be a factor in our favor in any clash of arms.

The Secretary also told his rural audience that it is a strange paradox that the farmer, who has been so successful in increasing production while cutting costs, has been deprived "by faulty policies from acquiring his just share of the national wealth."

"From 1952 to 1960," Freeman said, "we had a picture of falling farm income and climbing food surpluses."

"We've increased the support price on soybeans, for instance, from $1.83 a bushel to $2.30, hardly a drastic move since they're selling for $3.63 a bushel on the exchange."

Freeman said $400 million more went to the farmers of the country last year alone because of administration actions which cost the taxpayers nothing while benefiting farmers.

He praised President Kennedy as a humanitarian.

"His first executive order after assuming the presidency," Freeman said, "was to tell me to distribute surplus food to the needy of the nation and to do it generously and broadly."

"As a result, two million more Americans than previously are receiving free food annually," Freeman told the Democrats.

Freeman was over two hours late arriving for his talk because of the cabinet meeting called late in the afternoon concerning the Cuban crisis.

Before his talk the secretary joined equally solemn Dover Air Force Base personnel Monday night to watch President Kennedy on television announce the U. S. blockade of Cuba.

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel and U.S. Rep. Harris B. McDowell Jr., were at the speakers' table but had to leave for a Wilmington meeting.

Freeman put in a plug for McDowell, up for re-election, and urged his listeners to get out the vote.

Vernon B. Derrickson, chairman of the Kent County Democratic Party, presided.

Holloway - Lekites

The wedding of Miss Katherine Holloway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holloway, of Harrington, to Walter G. Lekites III, son of Walter G. Lekites, Jr., of Felton, and Mrs. Kathryn Burton, of Dover, took place at 3 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 22, in the chapel of St. Lukes Methodist Church in Denton.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Otha Brewer, pastor of the church.

Their attendants were Mrs. June H. Lekites and James Carter.

Both are graduates of Harrington High School. Mrs. Lekites attended State Teachers College at Salisbury. Mr. Lekites is attending the University of Delaware.

2 Minor Accidents Here Over Weekend

There were two minor accidents near Harrington over the weekend.

A car driven by Alfred Goslee, 39, of Delmar collided with another driven by Elmer Harrington, 47, of Houston, about a mile south of Harrington. Police said Goslee ran into the rear of the Harrington car which was making a left turn.

Both drivers were fined $10 and costs, Goslee for improper passing and Harrington for making an improper turn.

Also fined $10 for improper passing was Roy C. Walker, 19, of Williamson, N. J. Police said Walker started to pass a car driven by Ernest Biesecker, 25, of Trenton, N. J., on U. S. 13, near Harrington and struck the Biesecker car.

Bondsman Changes Mind

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jackson, Harrington, posted $1,000 bail for Marjorie Ann Anderson, also of Harrington, when she was arrested on a breaking and entering charge.

On Friday, Lee Jackson appeared in the Superior Court to surrender the woman and be released from the bond. Judge William J. Storey accepted the man's request and proceeded to consider the woman's case.

She was arraigned on a charge of breaking and entering at the Phyl-Lyn Charm Shoppe in Harrington, on July 23 and stealing a quantity of clothing.

While Judge Storey was arranging for a pre-sentence investigation, Jackson came back in the courtroom and informed Judge Storey that he had decided to remain on the woman's bond.

After directing that Jackson's decision be noted on the court records, Judge Storey ordered the woman released until her case is ready for the imposition of sentence.

Cleaning Agents Can Cause Death

You're asking for trouble when you mix household bleaches and cleaners, warns Miss Coral Morris, University of Delaware home management specialist.

According to the National Safety Council, a homemaker wasn't satisfied with the results derived from using a well-known cleaner in the toilet bowl. In an attempt to clean the bowl better, she added household bleach to the cleaner and stirred the mixture. The acid content of the cleaners liberated chlorine gas, which is a deadly poison, when the bleaching compound was added. Death occurred in a matter of minutes.

Household bleaches — which have a variety of trade names — are solutions of sodium hypochlorite. Acid substances, even vinegar, added to such bleaches will create and release poisonous chlorine gas.

Use these precautions, urges Miss Morris:

- Never combine cleaners and bleaches.
- Store them safely in separate places.
- Keep them away from food and medical supplies.
- Never leave them where children might have access to them.

Racing Meet To End Tomorrow Night

The current night harness racing meet at the Kent and Sussex Raceway will end Saturday night.

William W. Shaw, director of racing at the Harrington oval, announced this week that directors of the Kent and Sussex Racing Association reached this decision at a meeting last Wednesday night.

The meet, originally scheduled for 30 nights to end on October 19, had previously been extended to October 24 due to the making up of four rained out nights. The announcement by Mr. Shaw said that Saturday would definitely be the last night of racing regardless of weather between now and then. This means the track will have a 33-night meet.

Through last Saturday night which covered 21 nights of racing, Mr. Shaw said that both attendance and total mutual handle were slightly below the meet average of last season. He attributed the decline to the fact that Harrington had been forced to compete, both for horses and racing fans, with the Baltimore Raceway. The Baltimore track opened on Sept. 15 as did the Harrington oval, and ended its meet Oct. 13.

Track officials expressed the hope that without the competition from the Baltimore Raceway attendance would increase enough during the final week of racing to bring the averages up to last year, the most successful in the track's history.

1963 Wheat Program Outlined

Wheat diversion and additional price-support payments are new features of the 1963 wheat stabilization program Jacob Zimmerman, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, outlined today.

These payments were provided State Committee, said this week, by the new farm law, signed by President Kennedy on Sept. 27. They supplement the marketing quotas and price supports previously in effect for the 1963 wheat crop.

The chairman explained that the diversion payments will be similar to the payments made under the 1962 wheat stabilization program. They will be available to growers who reduce their wheat acreage by at least 20 per cent and who devote the diverted acres to an approved conservation use. The payment will be based on the farm's established wheat yield and one-half the county price-support loan rate.

In addition, a price-support payment of 18 cents a bushel on the normal production (established yield) of the 1963 wheat acreage will be available to growers who participate in the wheat-diversion part of the program. Small farms must also be in compliance with their farm acreage allotments in order to be eligible for price-support loans or purchase agreements and the 18-cent price-support payment.

Price-support loans and purchase agreements averaging $1.82 per bushel nationally will be available to growers who comply with their acreage allotments. This part of the wheat program is the same as in previous years.

Mr. Zimmerman pointed out that the regular price-support is available on the 1963-crop wheat which a grower produces in compliance with his farm allotment and put under loan or purchase agreement. The 18-cent payment, on the other hand, is made to such a grower—who is also participating in the wheat diversion program—on the normal yield of the 1963 wheat acreage, no matter how much he actually produces.

Chairman Zimmerman said that the signup in the wheat diversion program is now underway. Notices have been prepared and mailed to farmers, telling them how provisions of the programs may apply to their farms. He urged that any questions about the program be referred to the ASCS County Office.

History of Engineering and Science Lecture

Dr. Robert Multhauf, head curator of the Smithsonian Institution's division of science and technology, will be visiting lecturer at the University of Delaware Thursday.

He will speak on "The History and Use of Surveying Instruments" in room 130, Math-Physics Building at 8 p.m. The talk, to be illustrated by slides, will be sponsored by the History of Science Society and the History Club.

Dr. Multhauf is directing the creation of wholly new exhibits for the new museum building nearing completion in Washington, D. C. Each of the museum's rare instruments and machines will be displayed to show its significance to the historical development of science and technology.

Since his appointment to the position in 1954, Dr. Multhauf has directed research in the field, which has resulted in many publications issued by the museum. He is on the editorial board of "Technology and Culture" and is a member of several historical and scientific societies.

Dr. Multhauf began his career as chemical engineer for Hercules Powder Company in Wilmington in 1941, after receiving his bachelor's degree from Iowa State University. Following service during World War II, he obtained his master's and doctor's degrees in medieval history from the University of California.

Context of Gov. Carvel's Oct. 16 Press Conference

One of the major problems facing the State of Delaware when I came to office in 1961 was that of handling our finances in a responsible and efficient manner. Under the previous Republican administration Delaware had had a running deficit ever since 1957. Our administration was handed a deficit budget for fiscal 1961 and a forecast of another deficit budget for fiscal 1962.

In his budget message prepared for delivery early in January 1961, Governor Boggs predicted Delaware would have a $6 1/2 million deficit and Issacson, Stolper & Company and Dr. Brunce, hired by the Legislative Joint Revenue Committee had predicted a deficit of $28.9 million by June 30, 1962. The State was in the red and struggling with the problems of an economic recession in January 1961. Our agencies, which exist for the purpose of serving our people, were being starved by inadequate budgets. The rapid population explosion which was taking place in Delaware was putting a heavy strain on these agencies. Compounding this problem was the fact that the costs of services had been spiraling upward during the Eisenhower inflation years. The deterioration of our financial position had driven interest rates on State bonds to an all time high.

It is easy to make bold political talk about supporting increased police protection, improving educational standards, bettering conditions in the correctional institutions, launching mental health programs, maintaining our streets and highways, providing new recreational areas and dozens of other worthwhile projects. The simple fact is that none of these promises can be kept without the money to pay for them. The person who makes such promises on one hand and then opposes every attempt to finance them is guilty of the worst kind of hypocrisy and irresponsibility.

This is why I charge the Republican minority in the 121st General Assembly with fiscal irresponsibility. This is the reason

Advise Use Of Disinfectant In Home Laundering

Disease-causing bacteria may stay alive on clothing and household fabrics even through home laundering. To curb this family health hazard, Miss Coral Morris, University of Delaware home management specialist, suggests using an effective disinfectant in the wash water.

Warm water laundering is needed to maintain the appearance of some fabrics. But these temperatures are too low to kill bacteria. Even when hot water and detergents are used for laundering, large numbers of bacteria remain on clothing and spread to other articles.

Harmful bacteria include Staphylococcus aureus, which may cause carbuncles, kidney infection, and pneumonia; Pseudomonas aeruginosa, related to ear and genital infections; and Paracolon, found in the intestines.

Quaternary and phenolic disinfectants and chlorine bleaches are effective in controlling these bacteria. Miss Morris warns that a chlorine bleach may damage some fabrics. When using a disinfectant, read the label on the container and follow instructions carefully.

A disinfectant need not be used in every wash, but it is safer to use one if there is sickness in the home or neighborhood. If you use the community laundry, always use a disinfectant to prevent the spread of disease-causing bacteria.

Two Harrington Men Sentenced

Two Harrington men were sentenced Monday in Kent County Court of Common Pleas, one on two liquor violation charges and the other for accessory after the fact.

Forzell Daniels, who was tried July 20, on two charges of selling liquor without a license, received a three-month suspended sentence. Daniels was placed on six months' probation and ordered to pay costs.

In the other case, George Jackson, Jr., 18, was given a six months' suspended sentence and placed on probation for six months on a charge of accessory after the fact. Jackson pleaded guilty to the charge Wed., Oct. 17, and was sentenced Monday following a pre-sentence investigation.

The accessory charge involved a robbery committed by somebody else which Jackson was alleged to have had knowledge of. Judge William G. Bush III was on the bench.

UNICEF To Collect Funds For Needy Children

No need to worry about the hobgoblins and witches that you will see in Harrington on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 31. They are really angels in disguise—collecting funds for the United Nations Emergency Children's Fund. Known as the UNICEF program, this is an annual event in Harrington.

The funds collected by the children is used to buy food, medicines and services for needy children throughout the world. Won't you give generously when a little ghost or pirate calls at your home next Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Oscar Gillette and Mrs. Ellwood Gruwell are serving as co-chairmen this year. The Women's Society of Christian Service of Asbury and Trinity Methodist churches are sponsors, but children of all denominations are invited to help.

Drivers will take the children to various sections of the town, after they have received their official UNICEF tags and coin containers. Refreshments will be served when the children return to the clubhouse.

Don't forget the slogan "A Million Treats and No Tricks About It."

Del. Ranks High In Use of State's Park Land

Delaware ranked 11th nationally in the use of state and national park land during 1960, with 157 visits per acre of available land. More than 589,000 visits were made to the State's 3,745 acres of park land, according to Gerald F. Vaughn, U. S. Department of Agriculture economist at the University of Delaware. There are no national parks in the state.

Citing data from statistical abstracts of the United States, Vaughn reveals that Rhode Island led the states with 306 visits per acre of state and national park land. Wisconsin was second with 279 visits per acre—followed by Maryland (271), Iowa (230), New Jersey (222), Connecticut (205), Ohio (203), Arkansas (190), Oklahoma (175), Illinois (160), and Delaware (157). Pennsylvania ranked 12th, with 138 visits per acre. Alaska was last, with less than one (.26) visit per acre. The national average was 15 visits per acre.

These figures (although they do not include municipal and county parks) can be interpreted as a rough indication of states needing additional public recreation areas, Vaughn notes. He explains that states with a relatively low number of visits per acre may have sufficient existing park acreage to satisfy present demands for outdoor facilities for such activities as camping, boating, and swimming. However, those with a relatively high number of visits per acre may have a pressing need for more park land.

Livestock Shipping Losses Cost Money

Bruising of cattle and hogs on the way to market cost Kent County producers thousands of dollars each year, says County agent George Vapaa.

Animals that are down-graded or condemned at the market represent a considerable monetary loss to the producer by adding to the cost of transportation, insurance, and processing, as well as increasing the cost of production through loss of feed and labor.

Causes of cattle bruises revealed in a recent study were: crowding, bumping and rushing, 66 per cent; trampling, 14 per cent; cane, whip and club, 10 per cent; horns, 3 per cent; other causes, 7 per cent.

"How much of the bruising is due to faulty corrals and loading chutes is not known, but it may be a considerable amount," Vapaa explains. "The tendency by all who handle livestock to hurry animals is an important contributing factor in bruising caused by crowding, bumping and rushing."

Bruising figures on hogs are different because they move slower and are less surefooted. The survey shows that causes for bruising are: canes, whips, and clubs, 42 per cent; kicking and prodding, 20 per cent; crowding and trampling, 15 per cent; fork and nail punctures, 12 per cent; other causes, 11 per cent.

"These figures give a good indication of where work needs to be done to convince livestock producers and handlers that much of this type of loss is preventable," the county agent points out.

DEMOCRATS TO MEET TONIGHT

There will be a meeting at 7 p.m., today at Democratic Headquarters on Commerce Street. All Democrats are invited.

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel Wednesday night ordered the Delaware National Guard to be placed on the alert so that it can be mobilized promptly if necessary.

The governor spent the night at the communications center of the state Civil Defense organization in Delaware City so that he could make any emergency broadcasts to Delawareans if the need arose.

This was done at the suggestion of the Governor's Advisory Council of Civil Defense which also asked all Delaware radio stations to be on a standby basis in case emergency broadcasts should be necessary. The governor broadcast one statement last night.

"We do not want to alarm anyone unnecessarily," the governor said, "but we do want to be prepared. We do not want another Pearl Harbor."

Since there is no one radio station that can be heard throughout the state and none of the downstate stations are on the air after dark these stations were asked to have their crews available for such broadcasts. Listeners were asked to leave their radios on so they could hear such broadcasts if such were made.

Motor Fuel Receipts Show Increase

Receipts from motor fuel taxes in Delaware for the first two months of the present fiscal year showed an increase of cost to half million dollars over the amount received for the same period of last year.

The receipts for the two months totaled $2,298,892.34, which was an increase of $428,523.68 over the same amount received last year for these same two months.

Receipts for July totaled $1,130,972.76 and for August $1,167,929.58. The receipts for both months represented the sale of 39,315,014 gallons of motor fuel which was 4,020,963 gallons more than was sold in the same period of last year.

The records of the motor fuel tax division of the State Highway Department showed 77 concerns bonded as distributors of motor fuel in this state during August and of this number 21 reported no sales for the month.

Six other concerns reported sales that accounted for $748,396.85, or about 64 per cent of the taxes collected for August. These concerns, with the amount of taxes turned in by each were: Atlantic Refining Co. $123,743.32; Gulf Oil Corp., $123,336.36; Humble Oil & Refining Co., $260,372.20; Sun Oil Co., $91,966.79; Texaco, Inc., $67,808.86, and Tidewater Oil Co. $81,169.32.

SHD Awards Three Contracts

The State Highway Department awarded three construction contracts during the past week on which the total cost was $586,455.54. The contracts were given to the concerns submitting the low bids on the projects.

George & Lynch, Inc., Wilmington, received the largest contract of the group, it provided for the construction of a new bridge and approaches along the southbound lane of Route 13 at Drawer's Creek, north of Odessa.

The bridge and approaches will be located on a new alignment designed to eliminate the curve existing at this point along this highway. The present bridge has been limited to single lane traffic after it was strengthened more than a year ago.

The new bridge will be located between the present bridges along the north and southbound lanes and the new alignment for the approaches will include 18 cement concrete slabs, placed on piling, to eliminate the grade and curves in the present alignment. The low bid price on this project was $426,405.54.

Another contract went to Robert C. Peoples, of Wilmington, for the repair of Red Lion, Dragon Run, and Rayon Dykes, in New Castle County, at their price of $43,480.

Henry C. Eastburn & Son, of Newark, received the contract for making repairs to the north pier of the Barker's Landing Bridge, for which their price was $16,560.

Wheat Acreages of 15 or Less Exempt From '63 Quotas

Jacob W. Zimmerman, chairman, Delaware ASC State Committee, announced that 1963 wheat marketing quotas will not apply to farmers who plant 15 acres or less of wheat for harvest in 1963 under an amendment to the Agricultural Act of 1962 signed into law by President Kennedy.

This legislation, in effect, makes the provisions of the 1963 wheat program relating to wheat acreages of 15 or less the same as farmers voted on in the August referendum on wheat marketing quotas for the 1963 crop. It applies only to the 1963 crop. It does not change provisions relating to farms with more than 15 acres of wheat in 1963.

The new provision, like that in effect at the time of the referendum, permits a farmer who planted no wheat in the past to

Concert Choir Debuts With Works of Bach

The 58-voice University of Delaware Concert Choir will make its season's debut with a "Festival of Choral Music" on Thursday (Nov. 1) in Mitchell Hall at 8:15 p.m.

Featured will be performance of Schubert's "Mass in G" and Bach's double motet, "Come, Jesus, Come." The choir also will sing three opera choruses and selections from the Broadway musical, "The Music Man." Dr. Ivan Trusler, director of choral music, will conduct. A string orchestra, appearing through a grant from the Music Performance Trust Fund of the American Recording Industries, will accompany the choir.

Written when Schubert was 18, the "Mass in G" is scored for chorus, soloists, strings and organ, and reveals the great gift of song and joyful faith of its composer. It is the simplest and most lyric of his masses.

For his motet, Bach used the text from a little known chorale by Paul Thymich, which he found in a collection of 5000 hymns. The work employs two choruses for an antiphonal effect.

Third part of the concert will feature the "Bell Chorus" from Leoncavallo's "I Pagliacci"; "Zitti, Zitti," for male chorus from Verdi's "Rigoletto," and "Scene and Prayer" from Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana."

Selections from the Meredith Wilson musical will include "Goodnight, My Someone," "Pick a Little, Talk a Little," "Goodnight Ladies," "Lida Rose, "Will I Ever Tell You," "The Wells Fargo Wagon," "Till There Was You," and "Seventy-Six Trombones."

Concert soloists will be Carol Dunai, soprano, a junior of 214 Millcreek Park and Russell Corbett, tenor, a junior of 1504 Stony Run Drive, both of Wilmington, and Joseph Krewatch, of Newark, guest bass soloist.

Featured instrumentalists will be Eugene Gonzalez, instructor of music, clarinet; Doreen Woodward, senior of Hillen Dale Rd., Rosedale, Pa., chimes, and Joan Foster, junior of 29335 Malvina, Warren, Mich., piano.

The concert, which is open to the public without charge, will be previewed in assembly programs at DeLaWarr and Mt. Pleasant High Schools during the day.

Jaycee Seat Belt Drive in Fourth Week

The Harrington Jaycees are entering their fourth week of the campaign to get seat belts in as many vehicles as possible.

A fact list, being distributed by the Jaycees as part of the drive and with the co-operation of the DuPont Co.'s Louviers Safe Drivers League Committee points out the benefits of seat belts in vehicular accidents.

According to the booklet, almost 50 per cent of fatal auto accidents occur at less than 40 miles per hour, two out of every three persons killed in autos were within 25 miles of their homes, persons thrown from the car in an accident are five times more likely to be killed than those who stay inside of the car, and the chances of receiving injuries of any kind in an accident are reduced by 60 per cent if seat belts are worn.

Tickets for belts are on sale by all Jaycees or may be obtained at Taylor's Hardware Store or at Buck Hopkins Flying "A" Station. The price of $4.95 per belt includes installation.

Winterthur Lectures to Open

Dr. John Higham, professor of history at the University of Michigan, will deliver the first in the 11th annual series of Winterthur lectures at the University of Delaware next Wednesday, October 31.

He will speak on "Twentieth Century Historians of Early America" in Wolf Hall at 8:15 p.m. The lecture series, sponsored by the university in cooperation with H. F. duPont Winterthur Museum, is open to the public without charge.

Dr. Higham recently participated in a survey of historical writing in America as part of a study of the humanities sponsored by Princeton University. He is author of books and articles on American social and intellectual history.

A graduate of Johns Hopkins University and the University of Wisconsin, Dr. Higham has taught at the University of California at Los Angeles, Rutgers and Columbia His first book, "Strangers in the Land," received the Dunning Prize of the American Historical Association in 1956. Recently he edited "The Reconstruction of American History."

Succeeding lectures in the series will be "Who was Benjamin Franklin," by John William Ward, of Princeton University, on November 14, and "Art as a Humanistic Discipline," by Otto J. Brendel, of Columbia University on December 6.

Brain Power, The Best Substitute for Muscle Power

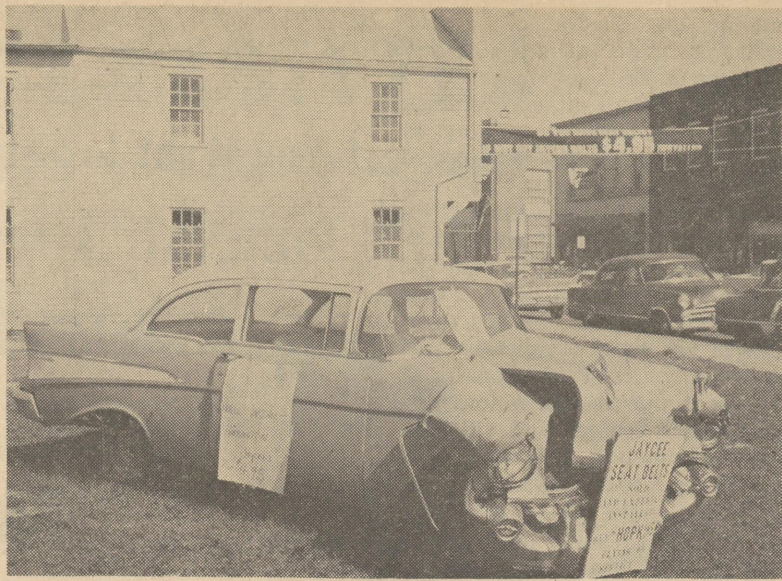

By W. T. McAllister

When I was a young man working my way through college by doing farm work, the pitchfork, milking stool and scoop shovel were the most widely used pieces of equipment on the farm. To a large extent, we have replaced these items with more efficient machines such as the hay baler, milking machine and power operated conveyor. In spite of these mechanical advances, however, farming continues to be an occupation that requires a lot of hard, physical labor. Although the amount of muscle power needed has been reduced, there is still a long way to go on most farms.

Certainly there will be a lot of new labor saving machinery in the future. This is going to be expensive and in a lot of cases won't be practical for the small farmer. So now and in the future, many farmers will still be substituting brain power for muscle power to find easier ways of accomplishing the difficult jobs. The most efficient operator from the standpoint of getting work done easier that I have ever known was a Dutchman in Lancaster County. He followed the philosophy that when his back got tired before the job was completed was time to figure out an easier way.

Most farmers can make their farm work easier without spending a lot of money. Analyze a time-consuming or tiring job by asking these questions:

1. What is being accomplished? Is the job necessary? Could it be combined with other work? Does the job involve double handling, back-tracking and hand carrying?
2. How is the job done? Why is it done this way—is it by habit or by plan? Is there a better way? Can the job be simplified?
3. When is it done? Could it be done better at some other time? Does doing it now interfere with getting more important work done on time?
4. Who does this job? Could other workers do it easier or better? Are skilled people wasting time doing unskilled work?

THIS DEMOLISHED CAR makes one wonder if the driver had a seat belt, such as are on sale by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Who Will Be Queen
The student body voted Tuesday for Harrington High's homecoming queen for 1962. The five nominees are Barbara Jones, Cici Kirwan, Kaye Needles, Carol Smith, and Joyce Webb. The name of the winner will be announced Saturday during the half-time activities of the football game.

Preceding the game will be the annual homecoming parade. Taking part in it will be the high school band, the five nominees for queen, and the floats sponsored by the homerooms. The floats will be judged and prizes will be awarded to the winners. The parade will start at 12:45 at the school.

Miss Morris—Grade 8
We have started planning for our 8th grade party. Miss Morris' class has charge of the entertainment. The following are on the entertainment committee:

Judy Burgess, Donna Callaway, Marsha Harrington, Carolyn Miller, Edward Wheatly, Donny Fry, Donny Minner.

The party will be Oct. 26 from 7:30 to 11 o'clock. There will be both games and dancing. There will be two chaperones from each of the three sections. Prizes will be given for those in costume. Mrs. Dolby's home room is doing the decorating and Miss Schreiner's students are getting the refreshments ready.

Hockey Game
Tues., Oct. 23, Harrington High's hockey teams traveled to Georgetown in high hopes of retaining their undefeated and unscathed status. The first half of the varsity contest was tough and go for both team; neither one scored. The second half was played under terrible conditions; driving rain blinded the players and made the field extremely slippery. Every girl played a hard game yet the final score remained 0-0. The varsity team still has its record!

The junior varsity team let two balls slip into the goal cage and that made the difference. The girls were close to the goal cage several times but just couldn't get inside. Their score was 2-0 making their season's record so far 1 win and 3 losses.

Next Wednesday both teams meet Delmar on the home field. If you want to see some action, don't miss this game!

Wear Right Clothes For Cornpicking

Wearing the right clothing around corn-harvesting equipment may spare your life or limbs, says George Vapaa, Kent County agent.

A man running a cornpicker should wear snug-fitting clothes that won't catch on moving shafts, belts, gears or other moving parts. Even a smooth shaft can grab a torn pant leg, and gobble up the rest of the pants—with you in them.

Be careful about the kind of gloves you wear, too, Vapaa warns. Avoid wearing gloves if makes them necessary, they should be cloth without floppy gauntlets. Don't wear double-thumb gloves. Leather gloves aren't as safe as cloth ones because they don't tear or pull off as easily if they are caught.

If you've been putting off having some of your old clothes mended, do it now before the corn-picking season progresses any further. A stitch in time may save your life.

Blue Cross To Provide Benefits For Senior Citizens

"Almost half of all Delawareans aged 65 and over are already members of Blue Cross and Blue Shield. The others will have an opportunity to become members by applying for membership in November," H. V. Maybee, managing director of Group Hospital Service, Inc., said in announcing a month of November enrollment period for the senior citizens of the state.

Regardless of their physical condition, all Delawareans who are 65 and over and not already members may apply for membership in either of two programs:

1. A brand new program called the "65-National." This features 70 days of coverage at maximum benefits and is especially geared to needs of senior citizens.

2. The "65-Limited" program. This features 30 days of coverage at maximum benefit plus 30 days at $10 a day. This "65-Limited" program was first offered in 1959 to residents of Delaware 65 and over, not already Blue Cross-Blue Shield members.

Providing coverage to senior citizens is nothing new to Blue Cross and Blue Shield. Mr. Maybee said, "Group Hospital Service has since its start 27 years ago provided continuous coverage for members who joined before they were 65, after they became 65. Since 1959 we have offered coverage for those Delawareans enrolling after age 65. Now, this new program offers wider coverage than the existing "65-Limited" coverage. This will give the senior citizens of Delaware who are not members a choice of "high level" or lower level "benefits."

He said Group Hospital Service realizes there will be some senior citizens who cannot afford to purchase the protection. It is hoped that relatives or other interested persons will help them, he said.

The new "65-National" program will cost $12.75 a month for an individual. The "65-Limited" program will cost $7.31 a month for an individual.

The "65-National" program which is being offered by the non-profit community organization to all senior citizens in November is the broadened protection of the national Blue Cross and Blue Shield associations worked out by them with the American Hospital Association and the American Medical Association.

Nationwide, more than 5 million citizens 65 or over already have Blue Cross protection.

Literature and applications for these two senior citizen coverages are available from plan offices in Wilmington, Dover, Milford, Seaford. The enrollment will take place during the entire month of November. Memberships will become effective on January 1, 1963.

Oldsters Believed In Witches Says State Department

The approach of Halloween with its tales of ghosts and goblins for the very young, serves to recall that many of Delaware's early settlers, like their kinfolk elsewhere in the American colonies, believed, in varying degrees, in witchcraft, and even practiced some unusual customs to ward off evil advises the Delaware State Development Department.

As an example of this, the state information agency notes that it was once the custom in this area to place a psalm book beneath the head of a newly born child to supposedly prevent its being exchanged for an elf child by witchcraft.

Another early Delaware custom was to cut crosses into broom handles so that witches could not ride on them. A still stranger custom was to feed cattle with crumbs from each course of a meal on Christmas Day to protect the animals against witchcraft.

According to some sources, "witches" even gave Johan Printz the third Swedish governor of Delaware, the "goose pimples." Although thought of a hardbitten warrior, Printz' blood reputedly ran cold when he accused Karim, a Finnish woman, of "witchery." Karim and her husband, who had come to Delaware with the Swedes, were subsequently banished from the main settlements of New Sweden, and their farm reportedly was seized by the governor.

Even in the time of William Penn, a woman, "of common fame being a witch," was hailed into court on charges of bewitching her neighbors' possessions, perhaps their livestock.

In more recent times, notes the Development Department, "witches" have obviously been less in evidence and have only been seen in the fertile minds of small youngsters whose imaginations have been stirred with tales read or told to them by older folks at Halloween.

U. of D. Student Receive Flu Shots

The old adage about the "ounce of prevention" is being put to practical use on the University of Delaware campus this week.

Through the generosity of a private donor, influenza inoculations are being given without charge to students, faculty and staff. The vaccine is being offered as a preventive measure in view of the flu epidemic predicted by the U. S. Public Health Service for the winter. The immunization program involves two shots spaced about two months apart. Those who have received inoculations in 1961-62 may get a booster shot at this time.

Inoculations are being given at the Student Health Center on the campus under the supervision of Dr. Gordon Keppel, university physician.

FENCE TALK

By George K. Vapaa

High Cost of Living

If farmers today were using the practices available to them 20 years ago, it would cost 13 billion dollars more a year to produce our food and fiber.

This yearly saving of 13 billion dollars is more than twice the cost of all agricultural research conducted in this country during the last 100 years.

Crops Show

The first Kent County crops show has fired local farmer interest. Too, we expect the 4-H and FFA classes for farm youth to be well filled.

The show is to be held at the USDA farm agency building along the dual highway south of Dover. The exhibits will be displayed several days and are open to the public during regular office hours.

Hay and silage are making farmers feed-quality conscious. Both are in short supply because of the long summer drought.

Corn and soybeans are showing superior quality this year even though yields are off in many areas. Small grains and clover seeds also can be shown.

There is no entry fee for any class. The rules permit Delaware crops grown by the exhibitor to compete for cash and ribbon awards. Exhibits should be submitted by noon Friday.

I wish more farmers would follow the practice of George Wicks of Smyrna to try new kinds of plants in a small way before jumping in with both feet on a larger scale.

George has just harvested the last of about six trial varieties of potatoes. He was comparing market quality, appearance, yields and resistance to scab. He also ran some minor element fertilizer tests against the standard grades.

This is his way of proving to himself the value of a new idea. More farmers could profit from it.

Gun Safety Important to Hunters

With a million men hunting this fall there are bound to be some unavoidable accidents. Records show, however, that guns placed in dangerous positions are one of the most important causes of accidents.

Never lean a loaded gun against the car or on a fence. A good safety habit is to unload the gun when stopping for a smoke or to eat lunch.

Failure to see a victim in the line of fire ranks high in causes of hunting accidents. Hunters should know where their companions are in the field at all times. Make it a practice to keep abreast of the group, and if necessary, call back and forth in heavy cover.

Keep Children Away from Picker

A corn picker and elevator may be interesting for children to watch, but make sure they watch from a safe distance.

Many moving gears, belts and shafts can't be shielded in a practical way. Every exposed moving part invites injury if children are allowed to play near machinery.

Particularly dangerous is the practice of letting children ride with dad on the picker or tractor. Running a picker and doing it right is a full time job that leaves no time to watch a curious youngster.

If your children want to feel they have a part in the corn harvest, let them go with you when you take the mid-morning and mid-afternoon snack to the field for dad and his helpers. Watching the corn elevator can be good entertainment if it is done from a safe distance.

Control Cattle Lice Warns Agent

Both dairy and beef animals are often heavily infested with lice in the fall, says Kent County agent George Vapaa. Now is the best time to get rid of lice, while the weather is warm. He recommends treating all cattle before they go into winter quarters.

A spray or dust application of rotenone of pyrethrum can be used on both dairy cows being milked and beef animals. If needed, make a second application about 14 days after the first treatment.

For lice control on beef and dairy cows not being milked, sprays containing either Co-ral, lindane, malathion, methoxychlor or Ronnel can be used. Vapaa cautions not to use any of these sprays on cows being milked.

Apply sprays with a power sprayer at 250 and 400 pounds pressure. Use about one gallon of spray material per mature animal. If using dust, apply liberally over the back, shoulders, and around the base of the tail. Use a still brush and rub the dust well into the hair. Ample dust should be applied above the rear of the udder and on the brisket. One pound of dust should treat three mature animals.

Contact the county extension office at the Dover postoffice for further information on cattle lice control. The telephone number is 736-1448.

Fish & Game News

The fall issue of the Delaware Conservationist features the annual fiscal report of Commission activities from July 1, 1961 through June 30, 1962 and a history of the federal aid to wildlife program in Delaware by Jay L. Harmic.

"The Pittman-Robertson Act is the backbone of Delaware's wildlife program. From suburb to the sea it has meant the survival of these resources for our citizens."

Anyone who would like to be on the regular mailing list for Delaware's only wildlife magazine and calendar may do so by contacting the Dover office of the Delaware Game and Fish Commission.

New Appointment

Daniel Parker of Laurel has been appointed dog warden for western Sussex County. Persons reporting dog complaints may contact Warden Parker at his home.

Wardens Are Always on Call

If you need a game warden in a hurry, here are some of the ways that he may be reached. During week-day office hours (8:30 a.m. through 4:30 p.m.) call the Delaware Game and Fish Commission at Dover, telephone 734-7474. In the evening or on weekends and holidays contact a warden at his home. Wardens' names, addresses, and phone numbers are as follows:

James C. White, state supervisor, R. D. 3, Seaford, telephone 629-7745.

Dawson N. Sapp, Dover (Bay Road), telephone 734-3220.

Ellis P. Sartin, R. D. 1, Middletown, telephone TErmiNal 4-7801. J. Wesley Walls, Sr., Marydel, telephone 492-3337.

Norris W. Benson, R. D. 1, Laurel, telephone 875-7656.

Clarence H. Reed, Milton, telephone 684-4609.

Frank H. Shockley, R. D. 2, Frankford, telephone 732-6077.

If your business with a warden is routine, either write or leave a message asking the warden to contact you.

Wardens welcome information ranging from suspected game and fish law violations to requests for information pertaining to hunting and fishing. Most convictions for illegal night hunting result from information furnished to a warden in advance, and a warden never reveals the source of his information.

Lewes Access Site to Be Paved

The Delaware Game & Fish Commission has contracted for the surfacing with tar and chip the parking lot adjacent to the small boat ramp on the Lewes-Rehoboth Canal. This popular two-acre access site along the Lewes-Rehoboth Canal was leased to the Game and Fish Commission by the town of Lewes several years ago.

Deer Hunting on Public Lands

Deer hunting is permitted in season throughout the Petersburg Wildlife area and the Assawoman Wildlife Area. A spokesman for the Commission stated that the deer herd in Delaware is still growing and is not in need of additional refuge areas at this time. The Petersburg Area near Felton consists of 2800 acres; the Assawoman Area near Fenwick Island contains 1400 acres. Portions of these areas are usually refuges to facilitate dog training or to protect waterfowl flocks. Hunters are advised to keep 150 yards from occupied dwellings.

The seasons for hunting deer this year are: bow and arrow—October 1-November 3; shotgun only—Nov. 8, 9, and 10.

Waterfowl Regulations

Veterans News

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—Can the so-called "contract burial" be used to bury any veteran?

A—No, only those veterans who are under authorized VA care—or traveling to or from it by prior VA authorization—at the time of death. "Under Authorized VA care" means receiving treatment in a VA hospital, or being a patient in a non-VA hospital by VA contract, or residing in a VA domiciliary.

Q—Transportation of the body may be paid in addition to the $250 for burial expenses when the veteran dies at a VA hospital while undergoing authorized VA care. Can transportation expenses be paid also for a veteran who is not under authorized VA care when he dies, i.e., he dies at home?

A—For veterans who are not under authorized VA care at the time of death, the law provides a maximum of $250 to cover both the funeral and burial expenses and the cost of transporting the body to a place of burial. The total amount which may be reimbursed by VA cannot exceed $250. You are right, death when under authorized VA care will afford additional transportation expenses.

Q—How many hospitals does the VA operate?

A—The VA has 169 hospitals. At least one in every state except Hawaii and Alaska, where VA patients are cared for in private hospitals at VA expense.

Only 40% of Hogs Protected Against Cholera

There is a new challenge in the nationwide drive to eradicate hog cholera. We can expect one of the peak periods for the disease this fall, according to George Vapaa, Kent County agent.

The incidence of the nation's No. 1 swine killer can start rising about now. The danger season will continue for several months. This fact makes it vital that hogs not yet vaccinated be immunized without delay.

Vaccination is one of the key points in the current drive to eradicate hog cholera, Vapaa reports. It has been estimated that only about 40 per cent of the swine population has been vaccinated. This figure must be raised to 75 per cent to provide a solid wall of protection against disastrous outbreaks.

In order to achieve the most satisfactory results with vaccination, several points such as the health of the herd and local conditions needed to be considered. A veterinarian should be called to check the animals and vaccinate them.

The stakes are high in the eradication drive. It can mean 65 million dollars a year extra income to American farmers.

Century Club Notes

A delightful day combining the pleasure of eating out and getting a peek into early Delaware history was afforded nearly 40 members of the Harrington Century Club Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. J. Millard Cooper, chairman of public affairs, with her committee planned the event. The luncheon was held in the Treadway Inn, Dover at 12:30. A short business meeting followed.

With Mrs. Cooper's committee serving as drivers, the group was taken to the Delaware State Museum on S. Governors Avenue, where the many interesting exhibits were examined. From there the tour went to the John Dickinson Mansion. This restored home of the noted American statesman and former Governor of Delaware was of special interest to the women, since the Delaware Federation of Women's Clubs has had an active part in the restoration.

Mrs. Cooper's committee consisted of Mrs. Howard L. Sipple, Mrs. Walter Winkler, Mrs. Lester H. Rogers, Mrs. W. W. Sharp, Mrs. William A. Taylor, Mrs. Joseph Konesey and Mrs. John Curtis.

Four new members were elected to membership at the business session. They are Mrs. Reynolds French, Mrs. James Hawpe, Mrs. Dale Dean and Mrs. Mark Willey.

Mrs. Arthur Hoffman, chairman of the ways and means committee announced that the rummage sale will be continued for one more day, Friday, Oct. 26, from 9 to 9 at the club house. Articles for the sale may be delivered there on Thursday evening. Boys and mens clothing are needed.

The members voted to sponsor the Brownie Troop now being formed in the community.

The next meeting will be held at the clubhouse Tues., Nov. 13, when Mrs. William A. Minner will present the program on "Education." Elbert Chance, director of public relations at the University of Delaware will be on hand to narrate a film entitled "The University of Delaware Enters a New Decade."

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS

MANNER OF VOTING

When a voter presents himself for the purpose of voting, the election officer shall ascertain whether his name is upon the register of voters, and if his name appears thereon and is not challenged or a challenge be decided in his favor, one of the election officers to be stationed at the entrance of the voting machine shall announce the name of the voter and permit him to pass through the entrance to the booth of the voting machine for the purpose of casting his vote. Each judge shall then stamp or write the word "VOTED" in the column opposite the name of the voter in the Books of Registered Voters in his possession. No voter shall remain in the voting machine booth longer than three minutes, unless for good and sufficient reason he be granted a longer period of time by the election officers in charge. When the voter has cast his vote the voter shall at once leave the room. If he refuses to leave after a reasonable period he shall be removed by the election officers. No voter after having entered and emerged from the voting machine booth shall be permitted to re-enter the same on any pretext whatever. Only one voter at a time shall be permitted to enter the voting machine booth. Added 49 Del. Laws, Ch. 18, § 1. eff. Mar 20, 1953.

INSTRUCTING VOTERS ON ELECTION DAY

Any voter requesting instruction shall be given such instruction by an election officer with reference to the sample ballots posted in the polling place.

In case any voter, after entering the voting machine booth, shall ask for further instructions concerning the manner of voting, two election officers of opposite political parties shall give such instructions to him; but no person assisting a voter shall in any manner seek to influence his vote. After giving instructions and before such voter shall have registered his vote, the persons assisting him shall retire and such voter shall then register his vote in secret. Added 49 Del. Laws, Ch. 18 § 1, eff. Mar. 20, 1953.

DETERMINATION OF RESIDENCE OF VOTER

In all questions of residence arising under the provisions of Article V of the Constitution of this State, if any person, having resided within this State, actually removes to another place out of this State, with an intention of remaining there for an indefinite time, as a place of present domicile, he shall lose his qualifications of residence within this State, notwithstanding he may entertain a floating intention to return at some future period. The same principle shall be applied to removals from one place to another within this State.

ASSISTANCE TO BLIND OR PHYSICALLY DISABLED VOTERS

Any person who shall be physically unable to operate the voting machine by reason of defective eyesight, or the loss of the use of one or both hands, or inability to walk with safety without assistance, as manifestly renders him or her unable to operate the voting machine, or to reach the polling place alone with safety, shall be permitted to bring with him or her into the election room and booth any elector or two electors, if the nature of the disability manifestly requires more than one, such as a total disability to walk to the polling district for the purpose of rendering the necessary assistance to vote. No voter shall receive any other assistance in voting than that permitted by this section.

NUMBER OF PERSONS PERMITTED IN BOOTH AND VOTING ROOM; CONVERSATION IN ELECTION ROOM

Not more than one person shall be permitted to occupy any voting booth at one time. No person shall remain in or occupy a voting booth longer than may be necessary to prepare his ballot and in no event longer than three minutes. No more than one person for each booth in the room, other than the election officers, shall be permitted to enter or be in the election room at any one time, except as in this chapter provided. No voter or person offering to vote shall hold any conversation or communicate with any other person than an election officer while in the election room, except as in this chapter provided.

No election officer, challenger or any other person within the polling place, during the election or counting of ballots, shall electioneer or engage in any political discussion.

CHALLENGERS; APPOINTMENT AND POWERS

Each of the political parties, acting through their respective county committees, may appoint and credit some suitable person as a challenger to stand without the door or entrance of the room in which the election is to be held, and by the side of the passage. If any political party fails to appoint a challenger, the Inspector and Judges shall make such appointment. The challengers shall be changed and their places filled in like manner during the day. The challengers shall be protected in the discharge of their duty by the election officers. The challengers, chosen for any general or special election, shall be peace officers of this State and shall have the same powers for preserving the peace as election officers have.

PERSONS PERMITTED TO STAND WITHIN 30 FEET OF ENTRANCE

One challenger designated by each political party shall be entitled to stand at the side of the passage and near the entrance to the room. No other person shall remain within 30 feet of the entrance except as provided in this chapter.

REMOVAL OR DESTRUCTION OF ELECTION SUPPLIES OR EQUIPMENT OR VOTING MACHINE

Whoever, during the general election—(1) removes or destroys any of the supplies or other conveniences placed in the booths or delivered to the voter for the purpose of enabling him to prepare his ballot; or (2) removes, tears down or defaces the cards printed for the instruction of the voters; or (3) destroys or removes any booth, railing or other conveniences provided for such election; or (4) tampers with, disarranges, defaces or impairs in any manner the use of or destroys any voting machine or the ballots on the face of a voting machine, shall be imprisoned not less than six months nor more than one year.

INDUCING ELECTION OFFICERS TO VIOLATE ELECTION LAWS

Whoever induces or attempts to induce any election officers to violate any of the provisions of this title, whether or not such election officers violate or attempt to violate any such provisions, shall be imprisoned not more than 5 years.

Delaware Food Market Report

Smart shoppers look ahead. They take advantage of the season's food specials at local markets—bumper crops of favorite foods. Very often this means buying in quantity because items are favorably priced. The U. S. Department of Agriculture suggests that you buy broiler-fryers in quantity—or at least an extra bird or two. These tender young chickens are in excellent supply now, so freeze a few for the weeks ahead.

Stewing chickens and turkeys are also good choices for fall meals. Retail prices for these two meats have been at their low level of a year ago, while prices for many red meat cuts have been running above. More stewing chickens come to market during October than any other month so be sure to check for specials to further save on your food budget.

The recess in withholding meat animals from market resulted in immediate increases in number of animals offered for slaughter. This action plus the fact that shipments are normally stepped up at this time of year bring prospects of continued lower prices on pork and beef. Shoppers again this week will find excellent meat buys due to weekend specials. Be sure to check such cuts as steaks, blade chuck, standing rib roast, and some ground beef. Pork cuts to check are hams, bacon, spare ribs, and loin roast.

Fresh vegetables of marvelous quality are available thanks to the recent weather of rain and cool, non-freezing weather. The weather has helped to extend the season for a number of items. Expect to find a bounty of Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, squash, (winter as well as summer), lettuce, endive and escarole. Sweet potatoes and white potatoes are in good supply as are onions, cucumbers and snapbeans. Considerable tomatoes and sweet corn are around but quality needs to be watched.

Apple harvesting is in full swing, the crop is large and prices are seasonally low. Other fruits to consider include avocados (they are of good eating quality), pears, artichokes, grapefruit, seedless grapes and cranberries.

The variety of canned goods offered as features is as large and colorful as fresh produce. Now is the time to get extra cans of corn, green beans, peas, pears, fruit cocktail, orange, pineapple and grapefruit juice and a variety of tomato products.

Some 4500 disabled veterans in Delaware will start receiving their increased compensation checks about Oct. 31, Leon Fields, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Wilmington, said this week.

The October payment will include the increase for that month as well as a special increase amounting to a three months retroactive payment. In November the checks will contain the regular monthly increase.

These increases for veterans with service-connected injuries will boost payments from $19 to $20 a month for those who have 10 per cent disability and will range up to an increase of from $225 to $250 a month for an unmarried veteran with 100 per cent disability.

In some special cases where a disabled veteran requires attendance and aid the monthly payment will be raised from $600 to $725.

These increases were designed to meet the rising costs of living since the last compensation payment increase in 1957.

OLD Mr. BOSTON
 YE INTELLIGENT BUYER'S GUIDE TO FINEST LIQUORS
 Like Fine Scotch, Canadian, Rum & Brandy...
KENTUCKY WHISKEY TASTES BEST AS A BLEND!

There's only one way to make a good Kentucky Whiskey taste better... blend it with other Kentucky Whiskeys and grain neutral spirits.

For years, the secret behind the famous smoothness of Scotch and Canadian whiskeys is the fact that they are actually blends of several different types of Scotch and Canadian whiskeys. Most Rums and Brandies are blends too, of several different types of these well-known liquors.

Now, Mr. Boston actually improves on the natural rich flavor of good Kentucky Whiskey by selecting several of the best and blending them together with choice grain neutral spirits. Result: smooth flavor balance and mildness that straight Kentucky just can't match. Try a bottle of Mr. Boston's Rocking Chair soon!

KEITH S. BURGESS — Sports Editor

"Sports Odds And Ends"

Clarence Hackett is having a tough row to hoe in his effort to maintain his ranking as No. 1 cross-country runner in Delaware. The former localite has a tough, time-consuming scholastic schedule. In addition to this he is holding down a part-time job and lost valuable practice time when trouble in both ankles sidelined him for several months. His record this year shows 3 first and 3 seconds in 6 races against the best runners in Delaware. The Wm. Penn ace has the good wishes of his many Harrington friends, who hope he can reach top form by state meet time.

Middletown High's football Cavaliers were beaten by the H. H.S. Lions two or three years in a row a few years back. Now the upstarters are undefeated for the year having beaten six larger schools. Their latest conquest was a 28-14 win over a North Carolina High team which had beaten North Dorchester 45-0 seven days earlier. H.H.S. edged North Dorchester 21-18 last Saturday.

Bill Billings, the Middletown coach, subscribes to our theory that lots of running is necessary to put a football team in the pink. The Cavaliers' entire first week was spent in running. This has resulted in a well-conditioned squad that is very hard to hold in the second half by teams that rely mainly on calisthenics and short sprints. We know a lad who trained on his own all summer. He reported for football at a lower Delaware high school level, hard and fit. Three weeks later this player was fifteen pounds heavier and slower. His team was coached by a sprint and calisthenics man.

Roy Moore, coach at Delaware State College has a limited time to drill his boys after classes so in the interest of good conditioning has his boys run at least a mile every morning at 5:45 a.m.

Regarding last week's Junior Football League game between the Colts and Eagles we received a phone call in which the caller said we erred in crediting Gary Smith with a game-ending interception of a Colt forward pass. Our informant said the theft was perpetrated by Gary Simpson.

This writer was advised by the doctor to take a few days off from work this week because of tonsillitis. We did so. A young friend of ours was advised by a physician to take it slow a few days because of leg trouble. Yet he had to resist adult pressure from a football devotee who advised the kid to ignore the doctor and report for piskin practice daily. The lad took the doctor's advice and the leg came around. It is apparent that in some cases a winning record is more important than the welfare of the participants.

Localite Hayward Quillen teamed with Dover Air Force Base golf pro Bill McBride, and someone named Ed. Walsen, to capture 4th place in the betterball-of-partners 1st annual pro-member golf tournament held at Shawnee Country Club, Milford, last week. The trio carded a 59.

Bill Johnson, local barber and all-around athlete, is one of three downstate bowlers who will compete in the finals of the Delaware Bowling Proprietors All-Star Tournament at Grady's Fairfax Lanes, Wilmington, tomorrow.

Harriers Final Workout Is Big Success

The H. H.S. cross-country team meets North Carolina High in a season-ending battle of unbeaten teams at Killen's Pond today (Friday). With this in mind sixteen Lions worked out with a vengeance Wednesday and ten set new personal course records for 1962.

Danny Hicks, 4 ft. 10 and 75 pounds, is a 13-year-old eighth grader but can beat lads 17 and 18 years old. Tuesday and Wednesday's practice runs saw him lower a very good clocking of 15:43 to an amazing 14:41 easily the best performance on a day of superior efforts.

George Bonniwell and Bob Smith heretofore No. 1 and 3 could not make this workout and are now running 4 and 5 as Dennis Rogers checked in with the best run on the 2.4 miles course this season clocking 13:23. Ken Garey did 13:27 and Randy Knox 13:29. The above quintet will make the Marylanders huddle Friday if they match or better these times.

Frank Cain continued his fine late-season running with a 14:17. Other record breakers were Nelson Reed, Donald Minner, Billy Abbott, Frank Welch and Roy Porter.

Coon Hunt to Be Held Nov. 2 - 3

The National Redbone Coonhound Association is again holding its eastern coon hunt at the Harrington Fairgrounds, Nov. 2 and 3. Starting at 7 p.m. it is also holding a bench show Saturday at 10 a.m. Saturday at 2 p.m. it is holding a popular water race at Griffith's Lake. These events are open to all breeds of hounds. The public is invited to attend.

Lion Eleven Wins 2nd Straight

A fired-up pack of Harrington High Lions invaded the aerie of the North Dorchester Eagles at Shiloh, Md., on Saturday afternoon and won a hard-fought victory in a close, exciting game. The Lions have now won two straight since they clobbered the Dover AFB High eleven here the previous Saturday. The seasonal log now stands at two wins and three losses.

The locals struck quickly for three touchdowns and as many extra points, then had to hang on for dear life in the second half as the losers' superior size and manpower began to take effect. Bill Adams and Barry Fry tallied on short bursts for H.H.S. while Jeff Adams rambled for 30 yards and a score with an intercepted pass. Bill Adams, Fry and Charles Taylor ran over the extra points. All the Lion scoring was in the first half.

The Eagles passed for a touchdown just before the first half ended with a score of 21-6. The hosts scored twice more in the second half but could not score an extra point in three tries.

In a dramatic finish Harrington stopped on Eagle drive on the four yard line, drove to the Eagle four before losing the ball on downs and later had a first down and goal to go on the Eagle five when the final whistle ended the game.

Saturday afternoon undefeated John M. Clayton will play here in the annual "Homecoming" game. The Bears are loaded this year and would like nothing better than to down the Lions, keeping the pennant express on the rails and at the same time rub salt in the wounds of former Bear coach Wm. Santo and former John M. Clayton classmates, Bill and Jeff Adams.

The latter trio would naturally like to see the other side of the coin. However, the Lions have a monumental undertaking as the Bears are formidable in the line and the backfield in addition to being big and experienced.

Harrington football people are hopeful that the full head of steam generated by victory the past two weeks will so inspire the Lions that they will spring an upset or at least make the score more respectable than the last time Coach Graham Dill, Don and Wayne Long were here two years ago.

Jr. High Gridders Remain Unbeaten

Jim Hawpe's Harrington Junior High football team won their fourth straight game of an unbeaten season when they edged Dover Air Force Base Junior High 6-0 at Caesar Rodney Tuesday afternoon.

In the second quarter Wayne Porter broke loose for 25 yards to the two foot mark. Sam Knox went over for the only score of the game.

Other juniors who did well for H.H.S. were Steve Motter, Ellis Myer and Ken Correll.

Monday afternoon the Lion juniors play at John M. Clayton and Wednesday afternoon they end the season at Georgetown. The County Seaters may prove to be the strongest foe on the schedule.

In four games the only score against the locals was a runback of a kickoff by a Caesar Rodney back.

H.H.S. Harriers Win 3rd Meet

Harold McDonald's Harrington High cross-country team has never had a losing season and 1962 is already a winning year as the locals rang up a near-perfect score in downing Caesar Rodney 15-45 on Friday afternoon. The Lions lost certain victories when Millsboro and Centreville dropped the sport but Harrington has downed Milford twice and Milton once in addition to C. R.

It is regrettable that the Riders from Camden-Wyoming could offer only token resistance for the locals sorely needed a stiff workout. Byers King's undefeated North Carolina High team comes here Friday afternoon. Since both schools are ending their regular season's competition, the Lions and the Bulldogs will be striving to finish with untarnished logs. McDonald's 1958 and 1960 teams were undefeated and the 1959 team was beaten only by North Carolina.

North Carolina last week clobbered a good Easton Warrior team as the Denton team's No. 1 harrier, Ed Williams, broke Harry Knotts' Easton course record, set in 1960, by half a minute.

The Lions could pull an upset if five of the first six locals perform up to their potential.

Against Caesar Rodney, the Riders' Klinger, a promising newcomer, pushed Ken Garey and George Bonniwell for the first half of the race but had to stop and walk on "Heartbreak Hill" and the stellar Lion duo got away from him. This pair did not realize how fast they were moving so they eased off the pace with the intention of crossing the finish line in a dead heat for first. However, Garey was a foot or two ahead at the finish. When George and Ken realized that either or both might have broken 13 minutes for the first time, the charged Lions obliged each other with a careful punt to each posterior.

Bob Smith continued his fine late season progress as he finished third and set a new personal course record of 13:42.

Dennis Rogers and Randy Knox carefully finished in a dead heat for fourth as they waltzed across the finish hand in hand.

Wayne Carson was sixth followed by Baker of C. R. and Frank Cain of H.H.S. Cain with a 14:30 was 8 seconds faster than his last best previous time.

Bob Beene chopped off six seconds. John Dickerson cut off 25 seconds as he broke his record for the tenth time this fall. Donald Minner was 20 seconds better and Allen Jerread lowered his time by 11 seconds.

According to these fine clockings, the Lions' second stringers could beat many of the varsity quintets in Delaware and Maryland.

Friday's crowd was the best of the season. A good group of rooters this Friday afternoon at Killen's Pond might spur the Lions on to that unbeaten season. Starting time is 4 p.m. With the state meet at Rockford Park coming up soon on Nov. 7, Coach McDonald would like to see his boys come of age today. The best upstate showing yet, is possible this year.

son. With a score of 3-0, this was the best showing the JV's have had to date. Sylvia Outten, Judy Burgess and Marilyn Walls scored the goals for the Lions.

Eagles Beat Stubborn Bears 14-0

The Harrington Little League football teams again gave the citizens of the community an exciting Sunday afternoon.

Fans saw the Bears put up a tough defense holding the high-flying Eagles to only two touchdowns.

Constant fine play by the Bears prevented more scoring and certainly showed the spirit of both teams. It was nip and tuck with fumbles and a few penalties hurting both teams in critical situations.

The Eagles were able to keep the ball in the Bears backyard most of the afternoon. This gave the Eagles the edge since the pressure was on the Bears. The Eagles had five first downs to two for the Bears in total offense the Eagles rolled up 110 yards to the Bears 40 yards. The first score came in the second quarter with Dill of the Eagles finally finding some daylight and going

Oct. 16 another game, another victory for the H.H.S. varsity hockey team!

The Lions' 11 defeated the Dover Air Base Falcons with a score of 6-0. The Lions got off to a good start in the first half scoring three goals, and they ended the game with another triplet. Linda Smith, Sharon Walls, Dawn Hokins, and Jeanie Thomas were the Lion scorers.

The H.H.S. Jr. Varsity team had their first win of the sea-over from the 4 yard line. Webb ran to score the extra point. The last and final touchdown came in the third quarter when Webb of the Eagles scored from the 3 yard line. The tried kick was good. The Eagles won 14-0.
