

COUNCIL OK'S MOST CHARTER AMENDMENTS TO GO ON BALLOT

The City Council, at a special meeting Tuesday evening, approved unanimously many amendments to the City Charter, and one with reservations, and voted to put them on the ballot in the municipal elections Tues., Jan. 8.

Chief activity was confined to election laws and qualifications of candidates and on one item Councilman Wilson Bradley posed an objection, based on requests by his constituents.

One amendment said that candidates for mayor and Council must have been residents of the City at least two years, immediately preceding the day of election, and must be freeholders. Councilman Bradley thought "it was taxation without representation" and that it was not legal. Grover Brown, city solicitor, said he would check on the matter and, if it was illegal, the amendment would not be put on the ballot.

The placing of certain amendments on the municipal ballot was made possible by the home-rule bill passed by the 121st General Assembly.

Getting back to the amendments on elections, the following changes were approved:

The mayor must be nominated by petition, instead of from the floor on the night of the annual Citizens Meeting in January, as is currently the custom. Petitions for candidates for mayor and Councilmen must be presented at the City Hall within 10 days of the Citizens Meeting. Currently, petitions for Councilmen can be presented at any time before the meeting adjourns.

The 10-day period will give the public a chance to know who is running for office. At present, the candidates are revealed at the Citizens Meeting, on a Friday night, and elected the following Tuesday.

A provision of the amendment stipulates that the person presenting the petition must have it notarized to the effect the signers are bona fide voters.

Alderman and two councilmen are to be named to Election Board by the Council, instead of merely two electors as at present. Duties of the board will be named later. In other proposed amendments:

Vice mayor, treasurer, and secretary to be appointed by Council at organizational meeting night after election, all other officials, employees, etc. to be appointed at next regular meeting, the first Wednesday in February.

To give City power to hold election for annexation to City. However, under State law, annexation is subject to wishes of the voters in the district where annexation is considered.

To give City power to raise, by taxation, 2 per cent of its annual assessment, instead of $40,000 per year as at present.

To hold public hearings on sidewalks, curbs, and street improvements and to refuse to make the same if more than 50 per cent of the property holders, on the pertinent streets object. Present Charter allows improvements on request of five petitioners.

To raise salaries anytime instead of once a year, as presently stipulated.

Require auditors' report on Dec. 5, instead of the current Jan. 5. This would enable Citizens Meeting to hear full report.

Make fiscal year from October, of one year, to September of the following, instead of January to December, as at present.

To name assessors in September, instead of at any time, as at present. This would give assessors time to work before taxation begins in the spring.

Adult Fitness Class To Be Held at Field House

The physical education department of the Harrington Special School District will conduct an adult recreation program during the winter months in the Harrington field house.

The program will start on Wed., Nov. 28, for all interested men and women. Boys and girls still in school will be excluded from these activities.

The program will provide participation for all interested persons. The basic objective is a get fit and stay fit program. All persons participating in the program are asked to be present in time for an opening warm-up workout. The field house will be available at 7:15 with the evening activities starting at 7:30. All participants are asked to provide their own clothing suitable for the activities. Gym shoes are a definite requirement.

New Electric Company Office At Harrington

Step inside the bright modern new building of Delaware Power & Light Company at Harrington. Immediately you sense an atmosphere of cordiality. The employees are happy—they enjoy the well-appointed business offices, and are proud because they have had a hand in the planing. A. B. Parsons, division manager, and K. M. Farrow, district manager, asked them individually and in groups for ideas, many of which were incorporated in the final plans.

The lighting, from ceiling panels creates a soft effect, yet provides 100-foot candles on working surfaces. Colorful floral arrangements are everywhere.

Comfortable temperatures are maintained the year around with heat pumps. Three General Electric weathertron machines cool, clean and circulate the air in summer, then heat, clean and circulate the air in winter. Thermostats throughout the building are set at 75 degrees, a temperature the employees have agreed upon as being most comfortable.

Duct work for the heating-cooling system is encased under a ledge, around the interior perimeter of the building. Cluttering the ledge with papers, books or materials is absolutely taboo. But, a beautiful floral arrangement is set on the ledge in each office.

Here again employees played a part and helped make the arrangements, under the guidance of Nellie Wimbrow, a company secretary in Salisbury, and also star flower-arranger. For containers, she used discarded materials connected with the electric service business, i. e., an insulator, a meter, a disc, a street lamp hood. The containers are set on flat slabs of wood, sliced to retain the bark and show the grain. The tree trimming crew provided these wood slabs! The office force sanded and shellaced them.

Nellie selected artificial flowers for their color and all-season.

Delaware state police said the head-on collision involved cars driven by Mrs. Frances Wiltbanks, 23, mother of the dead boy and daughter of the dead woman, and Airman 2/C Arnold W. Creamer, 19, of the Dover Air Force Base.

Mrs. Wiltbanks, her mother and son were in the front seat of the Wiltbanks car. Two other Wiltbanks boys, in the back seat, escaped unhurt and Mrs. Wiltbanks was treated at the Milford Memorial Hospital for minor lacerations.

Creamer, alone in his car, state police said, suffered fractures of the pelvis, a dislocated hip, lacerations and also lost several teeth. He was admitted to the base hospital.

A double funeral service was held Wednesday for Mrs. Yearsley, 60, widow of Walter V. Yearsley, and David Lee.

Mrs. Yearsley is survived by two sons, Henry, in the U. S. Army, and Walter, Dover, and by a daughter, Mrs. Frances Wiltbanks, Cornelia, Ga.

Also surviving are five brothers and two sisters: Robert P. Dunning, Townsend; John Dunning, Denton, Md.; Earl and Laurence Dunning, and Mrs. Elsie Springer, Doer; Leslie Dunning, Elkton, Md.; and Mrs. Ada Phillips, Harrington. Ten grandchildren also survive.

The child is survived by two older brothers, Norman Jr. and Michael, in addition to his parents and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Travis O. Wiltbanks, Cornelia, Ga.

Services were from the Berry Funeral Home Wednesday afternoon, with burial at Hollywood Cemetery, Harrington.

Meanwhile police are continuing an investigation of the collision.

Urash was pronounced dead on arrival at the Kent General Hospital.

He is survived by a daughter, Miss Julia Urash and a son, John, both of Dover, and a brother Daniel Urash, of New York City.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the Conner Funeral Home, Dover. Interment was at Odd Fellows Cemetery, Camden.

Squirrels Poor Indicators of Winter Weather

The conscientious, diligent work of scientists has made many contributions to our standard of living and our advanced thinking, according to George Vapaa, Kent County agent. They have also disproved many of our favorite myths, he adds. One of these which scientists have cast new light upon is the idea that, "If squirrels are seen gathering and storing seeds and nuts earlier in the fall than usual, it is going to be a hard winter."

Zoologists have proven there is no scientific basis for assuming that early nut collecting by squirrels means a severe winter. Squirrels hide their winter food in many caches and sense them out when the food is needed. And they always store about 10 times more food than they actually need.

By leaving many of these caches of nuts and seeds untouched, squirrels perform a valuable service to mother nature, the agent says, by starting new trees. Their value as tree planters far outweighs their disadvantage as consumers, he notes.

Every individual item to be used by the State Highway Department in snow removal operations has been checked and placed in condition for immediate service, according to an announcement by William J. Miller, Jr., Director of Operations for the Department.

Mr. Miller said the equipment and supplies are prepared to completely clear the high-ways of snow wherever it is possible to do so through plowing activities and the spreading of a sand mixture on the road-way surface.

At the direction of Mr. Miller, and under his supervision, Raymond H. Johnson, Maintenance and Equipment Supervisor for the Department, visited each maintenance yard to examine the plowing equipment and check on the stock piles of sand in various locations.

Mr. Johnson reports that the trucks, to which the snow plows will be attached, and the plow equipment was checked at each location with special attention to all of the working parts.

Mr. Johnson reported that he carefully checked the amount of chemicals on hand, both salt and calcium in all three counties and also viewed the stock-piles where prepared sand is awaiting use.

As a result of purchasing additional equipment, Sussex County has five salt and sand spreaders of five cubic yard capacity while Kent County has three similar spreaders which, with other spreading equipment, will enable them to cover their area.

New Castle County uses tail gate spreaders, which have been working very well in that county because of the much starting and stopping along some of the highways in that county.

Mr. Johnson said that as a result of the inspection, some work was found needed on some trucks, such as light adjustments, fixing turn signals and a few other small items, but said work is in progress in making these adjustments.

Mr. Miller said, after examining Mr. Johnson's report, that he felt his department would be ready to go to work on the highway as rapidly as any snow falls.

The maintenance crews who will operate snow removal equipment have all been trained in the use of this equipment and are familiar with the areas in the territory they will cover.

PTA Day Planned For Dec. 8

A conference for parents of high school students expecting to go to college has been planned at the University of Delaware for Saturday, December 8.

It is a joint project of the Delaware Congress for Parents and Teachers and the university's extension division, and is designed for parents of youths who have decided to go to college or in the opinion of their guidance counselors are college material.

Meetings will consider admission requirements, costs, student personnel services, fields of studies and the university's expectations for its students.

President John A. Perkins will greet the parents at a luncheon in Kent Dining Hall. Other speakers during the day will include Vice President George M. Worrlow; Dr. Edward Ott, director of admissions; John E. Hocutt, dean of students, and Roy M. Hall, dean of the school of education.

The day will begin at 9:30 in Wolf Hall auditorium. Following lunch, the parents will meet in special sessions with members of the faculty in Alison Hall classrooms.

Norman Kugel, of Newark, is chairman of the event for the Delaware Congress of Parents and Teachers. He is accepting reservations through November 30.

Labels on food products can take the guesswork out of shopping, believes Katie Thomas, Kent County extension agent, home economics. Also labels help the consumer get his money's worth in food.

An informative label is like a window; it tells what the consumer wants to know about the contents of a can or package. With emphasis today on self-service in food stores, the label has become the salesman and the consumer's best guide in food selection. Check the net weight of food in the container as you do price comparison of different brands of the same item.

With 6,000 or more items available in a food store, competition is keen for product exposure. With new products and new packages appearing every day, comparative food shopping is becoming more complicated.

Food shoppers will find a real friend in the label, Mrs. Thomas points out. Labels are backed by laws and standards which the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act has established for all foods that cross state lines.

Mrs. Thomas urges consumers to develop the habit of label reading. It can be an excellent guide for getting the most satisfactory buy in food products.

U. of D. Manuscript Recalls Pirate Days

Who says libraries are musty hangouts for stodgy bookworms? Certainly not the University of Delaware library staff which points with pride to a recent manuscript acquisition which recalls an era when pirates, privateers and freebooters ruled the Delaware River and Bay.

The handwritten petition is one of many existing documents alluding to pirate forays upon shipping, and the plundering of arms and small, poorly defended towns.

Dated April 5, 1749, it urged the transfer of vital county records from New Castle "to a proper and convenient house at Christina Bridge" and is addressed to the Justices of New Castle County.

The petitioners, James Armitage, Thomas James, J. Beber, David Witherspoon, Jacob Gooding, William Patterson and David Bush, cite the daily anxieties caused by the presence of French and Spanish privateers cruising in Delaware Bay, and remark upon the defenseless condition of New Castle.

From 1653 an ever increasing number of raiders frequented the Delaware River, stripping ships, and carrying off slaves, livestock and valuables from homes along its banks. By 1747, because of England's wars, the incursions were at their peak. French and Spanish privateering activities were added to the depredations practiced by local freebooters.

The alarm expressed by the seven petitioners proved prophetic when, only a month later, a Spanish privateer of 14 guns and 160 men confronted the town of New Castle, proposing to capture a large ship at anchor and then plunder the town.

Some resolute firing of the town's cannon routed the privateer before the threat could be carried out.

The latest addition to the university library's manuscript collection supplements many other original sources being gradually brought together and preserved as a basis for the study of Delaware's past.

$200 Top Put on Pay Hikes

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel says that if state employees get a salary increase in next year's budget, it won't be more than $200.

Carvel made the comment during a Budget Commission hearing into the 1963-64 appropriation requests of four divisions of the State Highway Department.

The requests include a new inspection lane for New Castle County, a helicopter for state police and additional communications equipment.

The Governor gave state employees an idea of what to expect in the way of salary increases where he told Motor Vehicle Commissioner Russell W. Whitby:

"I would say that $200 yearly per individual is about the maximum increase you can expect. The cost of living has been held at a fairly steady level and it looks to me as though that's about the best we can do. I'm not saying there will be a $200 annual increase, but I don't think it can be any more than that."

CHRISTMAS PARADE PROGRAM TO BE HELD THIS SATURDAY

Christmas Seals Originated in Denmark

Just before Christmas in 1907, Emily P. Bissell, a Red Cross volunteer in Wilmington, was casting about for some way to raise $300.

Her cousin, a doctor, had asked her to help raise the money to complete the treatment of eight patients with tuberculosis. Then Miss Bissell read an article by Jacob Riis, Danish-American writer and philanthropist. Mr. Riis had received on his mail from Denmark a Christmas Seal there to help support a hospital for tuberculous children. He suggested the same thing be done in the United States.

Emily Bissell persuaded a Delaware printer to turn out some seals. They were put on sale for a penny in the Wilmington Post Office, but they didn't sell. Wanting some publicity for her Christmas Seals, she went to the editor of a Philadelphia newspaper, the North American, asking him to run a story about the Seals. The editor refused. Christmas was no time to remind people about tuberculosis, then the leading cause of death in the United States.

On her way out of the Newspaper building, Miss Bissell stopped to talk to Leigh Hodges, a columnist for the paper. She told her story to Mr. Hodges, who took some seals from her and went to talk to the editor. Next day the front page of the North American appeared completely encircled by Miss Bissell's Christmas Seals. Result—proceeds of $3,000 instead of the $300 Miss Bissell had sought.

Christmas Seals are now as much a part of the Christmas scene as Christmas trees, reindeer, and Santa Claus. Christmas Seal funds help to find people ill with TB, to provide some of the necessary services for TB patients, to encourage legislation needed for strengthening public health agencies, to promote the health of the entire community.

Prizes of $10 and $20 will be given for commercial and organizational floats.

Prizes of $5 and $10 will be given for vehicles and marching units.

Prizes will be in the form of gift certificates redeemable at business places in Harrington.

Three school bands will be participating, but will not enter into competition.

The streets, the Christmas tree and water tower will be lighted.

Letters are being mailed and solicitors are contacting local merchants for funds to cover the expenses. It is hoped that all will cooperate in making this year's Christmas program a very successful one.

The following is a complete list of entries for the parade:

- 1, Police car; 2, town officials; 3, Junior Band; 4, Boy Scouts; 5, J. J. Specialty Shop; 6, Paul Callaway; 7, St. Stephen's Church; 8, Kirby and Holloway Transport; 9, Star Lite Shop; 10, Sam Short; 11, Harrington Motor; 12, Forty et 8; 13, Harrington Jaycees; 14, Delaware Power & Light Co. ARA Funds For Sussex Work Asked

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel will be asked to declare Sussex County eligible for federal funds under the Area Redevelopment Administration.

William A. Carter, president of the Millsboro Town Council, told members of Levy Court he was setting up an appointment with the Governor, probably for next Thursday.

He asked for the "moral support" of Levy Court, which was given him informally.

Raymond E. Townsend, president, and R. Glen Mears, member, said that they would accompany Carter on this trip. Martin W. Johnson, newly elected member who will not take office until Jan. 2, said he, too, would try to go to the meeting.

Carter said that James E. Culver, president of the Bridgeville town board, had intended coming with him to Levy Court but was taken ill. Culver will try to go to Dover with the group.

Both Millsboro and Bridgeville are planning sewer projects, though Bridgeville is further along and has been told by the Water Pollution Commission that they would have to stop dumping raw sewage in a branch of the Nanticoke River.

The flowers are given to the glory of God and in loving memory of their parents, by Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson.

Wednesday, Nov. 28, 7:30 p.m., there will be a staff meeting in the lounge. The following officers are urged to attend. They are as follows: vicar, secretary, warden, building and grounds chairman, church school superintendent, secretary of the Vestry, Altar Guild directress, president of the Episcopal Churchwomen, president of the Men of St. Stephen's, parish keyman, Junior Choir director, Senior Choir director, and church treasurer.

Sun., Dec. 2, following tradition, we shall have at 8 a.m. a corporate Holy Communion for the men and boys of the church. This will be followed by breakfast in the Parish Hall which will be served by the Episcopal churchwomen. It is a great pleasure to be able to announce that Father Hinks, to whom St. Stephen's is so devoted and indebted, will be the celebrant for this sacrament.

Even this far before Christmas, it is not too early to remind those who wish to buy memorial flowers for the Chancel decorations that they should place their order with the church office at their very earliest convenience. It is our plan to use approximately the same number of pointsettias as last year. Please let it be understood in advance that these pointsettias are to remain in the church through the Circumcision Celebration of Holy Communion, which takes place at 7:30 p.m. on New Year's Day. These pointsettias will be bought at wholesale and will not be overly expensive. We shall let the congregation know the cost as soon as possible.

"please do not mutilate." It is important that these instructions be followed. On these cards beneficiaries must report all income received during 1962 and that expected in 1963. Income means everything, including Social Security payments, except of course the VA pension payments themselves. Law requires the VA to use the reports to determine continued eligibility of pensioners and in some cases to make adjustments on the basis of increased or decreased outside income. The most important thing is getting those cards back from the beneficiaries. Prompt and accurate reporting can save the VA—and the beneficiary—both delay and headache. This year's income reporting times begins one month earlier than usual for almost 2000 disabled veterans and the dependents of some 1500 deceased veterans on VA pension in Delaware, Leon Fields, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Wilmington, explained this week. Along with their November 30 checks, all VA pension recipients will receive enclosed tabulating cards. They carry the words additional management research information to help them survive in a highly-competitive industry. The Agricultural Experiment Station and Cooperative Extension Service at the University of Delaware last week published the latest findings and recommendations in Cooperative Bulletin No. 1, "Some Recommendations for Growing Broilers on Delmarva Peninsula Based on Current Management Research. The studies, reported by Ray Lloyd, associate extension poultryman, and Frank D'Armi, assistant professor of poultry research, were conducted from 1957 to 1962 at the University Substation in Georgetown. Management practices reported include tests on floor space, feeder space, frequency of feeding, mechanical vs. hand feeding, box lid feeders, heating systems and litter, both new and re-used. The authors said that broiler production performance had advanced so rapidly that recommendations of 10 years ago do not hold today. The publication revises earlier recommendations. Progress cited in Delmarva broiler performance shows that it costs five cents a pound less to produce a broiler in 1962 than in 1952. The growing period has reduced from 80 days to 70 days; weight per bird has increased from 3.20 pounds to 3.83 pounds; and death loss among flocks has dropped from 7.20 per cent to 3.67 per cent. Copies of Cooperative Bulletin No. 1 may be obtained from County Extension offices at Newark, Dover, or Georgetown, or from the Department of Rural Communications, University of Delaware.

Baptist Church to Show Billy Graham Film Nov. 24

Evangelist Billy Graham's newest feature-length dramatic film, "Shadow of the Boomerang," will have its Harrington showing November 24 at 7:30 p.m. at the Harrington Baptist Church, 110 Fleming St.

Starring vivacious Georgia Lee and television's Buffalo Bill, Jr., Dick Jones, "Shadow of the Boomerang" is an outdoor action picture with all of the excitement and breath-taking scope of the land, "Down Under." Setting for the screen drama is Australia's "Outback," the continent's vast interior region where some of the world's largest cattle stations are located.

The two young Americans head an all-Australian supporting cast, playing brother and sister roles in a turbulent story of homestead life. Their arrival in Australia to manage newly acquired family holdings, plunges the couple into strange surroundings and situations with which they find it difficult to cope. The brother is immature and impetuous, slow to accept Australian ways. His sister is much more democratic, readily accepted by her new friends with whom she joins in an attempt to instill understanding and tolerance in her brother.

Filed against the backdrop of the Billy Graham Australian Crusades, "Shadow of the Boomerang" seeks to underline the Godly reaction to human crises and conflicts. Spokesman for the Christian position is Billy Graham, seen in dramatic Crusade footage photographed at the site of the Evangelist's record-breaking crowds in Melbourne and Sydney. An authentic headline relay meeting which shared the big city crusades with the stockmen of the "Outback," is used as an effective dramatic device in the story climax.

"Shadow of the Boomerang" was produced and directed by Dick Ross, president of World Wide Pictures, the organization which has created such previous Billy Graham film successes as "The Heart Is a Rebel," "Souls in Conflict" and "Oiltown, USA." The new picture will be shown free of charge under the auspices of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Film Ministry.

appearance. She used nothing like a daffodil which definitely says spring. Flower selection was a challenge too, to keep the costs down. Most arrangements cost less than $3, but the deliberate care with which they were selected and arranged gives them a luxury look. In the district office, where most customers transact business, Nellie worked the floral arrangement around Reddy Kilowatt, symbol of the electric industry.

The building has a conference room seating 50, which is used for safety meetings and staff meetings.

Special electric features include an ice making machine, so that the outside crews may have generous supplies of ice. Electric snow melting pads under the side walks provide for the safety of customers in bad weather.

Out in the stores department where construction materials are stored, heating is by electric forced air heaters placed near the ends of industrial fluorescent light fixtures.

An inter com system allows telephone calls to be dialed within the building and permits 4 different people to talk simultaneously on a conference basis.

Harrington has radio communication and a direct telephone line with headquarters building in Salisbury, where a system operator is on 24-hour duty. The office is in constant radio communication with mobile radio units in service trucks, line trucks and supervisors cars.

The building serves as operations-base for 40 employees and includes those who serve customers in the Harrington district as well as those who work on a division level, serving Kent and Sussex Counties. By occupation the employee group includes cashiers, meter readers, service men, engineers and their assistants, line men, tree trimmers, a home economist, a secretary, a district manager and a division manager.

Delaware Power & Light Company also maintains district offices in Southern Delaware at Rehoboth, Georgetown, Laurel and Millsboro.

Farm Butchering Offers Many Hazards

Even though modern farming has made tremendous advances during the past decade, some of the traditional practices still linger on. One of these is farm butchering. This age-old custom is still observed on many Delaware farms each winter, according to George Vapaa, Kent County agent.

Accidents frequently accompany the butchering operation, warns the agent. One of the greatest causes of injuries is falls due to slippery footing. Vapaa says ice should be removed from the ground where the butchering is to take place and ashes should be sprinkled to insure adequate footing. If the job is done indoors, sand, sawdust or crushed rock salt will help.

Check hoists to be certain they are strong enough to carry the weight placed on them. Watch for weak ropes, worn pulleys and rotten or weak tree limbs.

Vapaa offers these suggestions for safe butchering this winter.

- 1. Keep all butchering knives in a knife rack when not in use.
2. Keep knives sharp and handles in good condition.
3. Observe all the ordinary precautions with firearms used for stunning the animal.
4. Use a tamper to force meat into the meat grinder.
5. Keep children away from all butchering operations.
6. Clean or mop up all grease from floors immediately.
7. Use extreme care in handling the scalding water.
8. Whet knives away from the body.
9. Avoid strain from overlifting.
10. Always cut or chop away from the body.

Reese Theatre Open Thanksgiving

In an effort to lend a tang to the holiday spirit, the management of the Reese Theatre announces that the theatre will be open on Thursday, Thanksgiving. This special holiday show will play Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 22-24. Gary Crosby and a host of holiday merrymakers are featured in "Two Tickets To Paris" with Joy Dee and Kay Medford in the featured roles. Chubby Checker, Gary (US) Bonds, John Leyton, "Dukes of Dixieland," Brooks Bros. and Gene Vincent in "Ring-A-Ding Rhythm," the co-feature, adds to the merriment of this star studded bundle of joy. And "The Three Stooges" and "Tom & Jerry," the extra added attractions, further add to what will be great family entertainment.

Once in a great while, the management receives so many requests from patrons to present a certain picture, every effort is put forth to bring it to the Reese Theatre screen as soon as possible. Such a picture is "Tender Is The Night" with Jennifer Jones, Jason Robers, Jr., Joan Fontaine and Tom Ewell, listed to play Sunday and Monday, Nov. 25 and 26. F. Scott Fitzgerald's compelling story of sinners and straying saints is the dramatic triumph of the year.

Don't Heat All Outdoors

by Miss Coral K. Morris

This winter, heat just your house—not all outdoors.

Many homeowners waste fuel by allowing warm air to leak out around windows and doors and through cracks in walls, floors, and ceilings. If you're one of these people, start now and do something about it. You may be able to cut your fuel bill in half by tightening and adequately insulating your house.

Housing engineers in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service suggest you start first with the doors and windows. Do these need caulking? Are there any loose panes? When a house is first built the frame may appear tight. But after the house settles, cracks often appear. Reputably all loose panes and close the air leaks around the window and door frames with caulking.

Next, add weatherstripping. This will shave your fuel bill—maybe as much as 15 per cent if you have an old house. There's another 5 to 10 per cent to be saved with storm windows and doors.

You'll also notice a big difference in your fuel bill when you insulate. In a typical house, 25 to 35 per cent of the heat is lost through the attic floor and roof, about 30 per cent goes through the outside walls, doors and windows.

Your contractor will help you select the right insulation for your house. It will depend on how you intend to use the insulation, how easy it is to put on, and how much you want to spend.

Whichever insulation you choose, you'll find it will make your house much warmer this winter and cooler next summer. Insulation and weather stripping are long-term investments—ones that pay off in added comfort and lower heating bills for years to come.

Fungicides Are Important to Way of Life

The hue and cry of a few so-called experts and alarmists have made people overly conscious of the fungicide and pesticide situation, according to George Vapaa, Kent County agent. Contrary to what these people would have you believe, fungicides and other pesticides are responsible for America's rich and abundant food supply, according to Vapaa. When they are handled properly, they are safe to use for both the consumer and the user.

Consumers use a variety of household items which are dangerous when misused. Such things as bleach, ammonia, lye, turpentine and iodine are common household items. Yet they are extremely dangerous. Vapaa says people have learned to respect these and are able to use them for their intended purpose without danger. These same rules will make using fungicides and other farm chemicals safe, the agent advises. Here are some precautions he recommends every user should know:

Keep fungicides and other pesticides in a locked, orderly cabinet inaccessible to children, irresponsible people or pets. Destroy old containers promptly. Never use or store unlabeled chemicals or those not in their original containers. Keep the package closed except when preparing the mix. Do not inhale dusts, mists or vapors of fungicides or other pesticides. Spray or dust with the wind, not against it. Try not to spill pesticides on shoes or other clothing. Immediately wash any part of the body that has been contacted, and remove contaminated clothing and shoes.

Do not eat or smoke while using pesticides. Wash hands and face with soap and water before eating or smoking. Pour out all unused solutions where they will soak into the ground at least several feet away from food plants. Cover bird baths, pet dishes and fish ponds when spraying and dusting. Read and understand the label on the material before you buy. Re-read the instructions again before using. Fungicides, like other pesticides, should be used according to direction—at the specified time and in recommended amounts. Also observe other precautions, especially those on safe handling and frequency of application.

FENCE TALK

With George Vapaa

Roland Garrison, of Dover, had a big day last week. He was elected president of the Delaware Farm Bureau, an organization of over 1500 farm families. He also learned he was high man in soybean production for Kent County in 1962. The recognition is well deserved for this farm leader.

Who is imaginative enough to take a given tract of land and plan its sand potential for fine homes for commercial recreation, or possibly for irrigation.

There would seem to be profit possibilities for planned pond sites in Kent County. Some would only have to be dammed up. Others could be dug where the terrain is favorable.

The recent Land and People Conference, of the U.S. Department of Agriculture stressed the developing of recreating resources as a new goal for farmers.

The talk was for camping sites, picnic areas, hunting preserves, ski runs in mountain areas, and the like. Much of this was proposed as commercial enterprises.

Water is a limited resource. It can be developed within economic limits. We should plan our communities with its potential in mind.

The Delaware Poultry Improvement Association prepares a handbook that brings poultrymen up to date on current interests every year.

Kent County poultry leaders contribute their efforts. The goal is to develop new growth and new young leaders. The industry accounts for half the total Delaware farm income.

Rhesa Walton of Dover serves as county vice president of the association. Helping him with the handbook are George Pyott, of Dover, Ernest Cool, of Felton, Charles Peck of Harrington, Fred Wiebel of Hartly, Ed and August Haas of Dover, and many others.

In this busy fall harvest season, it's smart to play it safe by having all safety shields in place on power take-offs and other moving farm machinery parts.

The stakes are too high for you to gamble against having an accident by working around machinery without guards. If you lose, it's too late to be sorry.

Get standard power take-off hitches and shields from your machinery dealer. But even the best shield will not protect you if you don't put it on.

Ewe flocks should be treated for both internal and external parasites before being taken off the pasture.

Drench the animals with worm medicine and dip or spray with a recommended pesticide. Your veterinarian and county agent can advise on what to use. While you're handling the ewes, check their feet and trim them if necessary.

U. S. farmers last year spent $42 billion to buy goods and services from the rest of us and from other farmers. Though farm people now make up only 8 per cent of the nation's population, they bought 13 per cent of the petroleum produced in the U.S.; 8 per cent of the rubber; twice as much steel as the railroad industry—about 5 million tons; more electricity than was used by the cities of Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Chicago, Boston, Detroit and Houston combined; more tractors and trucks than any other industry; 60 million tons of chemicals and much, much more. All of us have a big stake in farm prosperity.

Millions of "city" jobs depend on farming. Some 6 million people are involved in providing the goods and services that farmers buy. Another 10 million work at transporting, processing, storing and selling farm products. It is estimated that four out of 10 jobs in private employment are related to agriculture. Across the nation it would be hard to find a more important customer than American agriculture.

Mrs. Wilbur Pearson

Mrs. Ann C. Pearson, 86, wife of Wilbur Pearson, Railroad Avenue, died Sunday following a long illness.

She was a member of the Rachael Rebekah Lodge, and an honorary member of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Harrington Fire Department.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Pearson is survived by two sons, J. Carroll Pearson, Milford, and Drew Pearson, Wilmington; three daughters, Mrs. Ernest Stevens, Milford; Mrs. Ruth Hall, Dover, and Mrs. Kathleen Montague, Harrington; nine grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren; a brother, Loren Callaway, Harrington, and two sisters, Mrs. Potosi Moore, Harrington, and Mrs. Clarence Talley, Gwynhurst.

Services were held Wednesday at 2 p. m. from the J. Millard Cooper Funeral Home. Interment was in Hollywood Cemetery.

Winterthur Farm Operators Win Alfalfa King Title

Leslie Potts and William V. Cannon of Winterthur Farms near Wilmington have won the "Alfalfa King" title for 1962 from the Delaware Crop Improvement Association.

Their exhibit, along with those of other top exhibitors throughout the state, was on display during the 54th annual Delaware State Crop show at Dover, Tuesday (Nov. 20). The show was sponsored by the DCIA and the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

They operate one of the largest Holstein dairy farms in the state. Their sample of heat-cured alfalfa hay contained 23 per cent protein and 25 per cent fiber.

Other champions whose exhibits, like the hay exhibit, will be featured in a portable display to be shown throughout the state, include:

William Hopkins, Lewes, corn silage; Fred Samendinger and Bruce Holck, Newark, 10-ear corn sample; Wayne Hendricks, Harrington, oats; Bill Alfree, Middletown, red clover hay; David Winkler, Harrington, barley; Edward Yerkes, Magnolia, wheat, and George Fischer, Smyrna, soybeans.

Youngest champion was Hendricks, a high school freshman and FFA member at Harrington. Wayne said, "Fertilizer, along with good cultural methods, will help one become a champion." Wayne plans to farm with his father after graduation because, "there will always be a demand for more farm products and I want to help meet this demand."

Another youthful exhibitor was Winkler, a Harrington High School senior, whose barley sample rated highest in the competition. He had seeded a University of Delaware recommended variety with 400 pounds per acre of 5-10-10 fertilizer.

A recipient of numerous FFA and 4-H awards at the State Fair, Winkler plans to attend the University of Delaware, then return to the farm. "The future of farming looks bright to me," he observed, "unless high land prices drive us out."

Just last year, Alfree, one of the largest hay producers in Delaware, placed second in the All American Hay Show at Hershey, Pa. His champion clover and timothy hay sample is an example of the type and quality in demand for horses.

Hopkins, the state corn silage champion, is a dairy farmer in Sussex County. He believes there will always be a place for agriculture in Delaware because of the proximity of excellent agricultural resources near population markets.

State corn champions Samendinger and Holck, dairymen near Newark, received Green Pasture awards in Delaware several years ago. Their 10-ear sample of corn was from a single cross hybrid. Single crosses are noted for their uniformity and yielding ability.

New Bulletin on Hay Silage

"Making and Feeding Hay-Crop Silage" is the name of a publication just released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It lists the latest recommendations on harvesting, storing, and feeding hay silage.

The bulletin also lists advantages and disadvantages of ensiling hay crops, tells the best time to cut various crops intended for silage, and compares the benefits of ensiling wilted forage and fresh-cut (high-moisture) forage.

Dairy husbandman in USDA's Agricultural Research Service point out in the publication that ensiling is an excellent way to preserve the value of forage for later feeding. They make clear, however, that converting forage into silage does not increase the feed value of the harvested crop.

The new, illustrated bulletin also tells how to properly pack and seal a silo, and discusses the relative merits of horizontal and upright structures. Another section explains chemical and biological changes occurring in storage that convert chopped hay into silage.

Other subjects covered in this 20-page Farmers Bulletin include quality and feeding value of silage, nutrient losses that can occur when hay is ensiled and how they can be minimized, and the feeding of hay-crop silage with corn silage and hay.

Single copies of "Making and Feeding Hay-Crop Silage" (FB-2186) are free from the Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

Life Insurance Plan Offered To SHD Employees

A group plan of life insurance for permanent employees of the State Highway Department who desired it, became effective on Thursday of this week. The plan contains the double indemnity and dismemberment features.

The plan, which was formulated by William J. Miller, Jr., Director of Operations, and Robert Roe, Director of Personnel, for the Department, with insurance actuaries, include insurance for the spouse and children of the employee.

Each permanent employee is insured for the amount of the annual salary, while the spouse of the employee is insured for $1000 and each child for $500.

Each employee will pay the full cost of the premium for the insurance through a payroll deduction plan, which is now in effect.

Under the terms of the insurance agreement, should an employee be unable to continue regular work because of disability before reaching the age of 60, the insurance will be maintained in force without payment of any premiums.

Should the employee terminate employment with the State, they may convert their insurance to an individual policy at standard rates without any physical examination.

A Special Plea For Clothing, Toys for Stockley

During this time of the year, when we all are making long lists of new things to buy and give, it shouldn't take too much time to make another list—a list of good used articles that you have outgrown or no longer have use for and are just taking up valuable storage space, such things as clothing for men, women, infants and children, shoes, boots and last, but not least, good usable toys.

All clothing should be clean and in good condition. This appeal is being made in behalf of the needy patients at the Hospital for the Mentally Retarded at Stockley. These are the patients, young and old, who have no family or whose families are unable to provide them these necessities. It is through your generous donations that these needs may be filled.

So please, after that Thanksgiving dinner, start putting these articles together. Get the kids in on it, too; children like to give just as much as Mom and Dad do. They will be more than happy to clean out that toy box before Christmas and Santa arrive.

This appeal is made by St. Bernadette's Catholic Church to all parishioners and non-parishioners alike.

Donations may be made at Trotta's Appliance Store on Commerce Street or just call Mrs. Jessie Lyons — 398-8483, and all donations will be picked up, whether it be one, ten or twenty articles.

Delaware Food Market Report

Turkeys having become synonymous with Thanksgiving dinner, few American homes will be without the great gobblers as the major event arrives. Here are a few tips on turkey roasting and storage of leftover turkey.

Open pan roasting—Place turkey breast side up on rack in pan, spread over turkey softened butter or spoon on melted fat; roast, uncovered at 325 degrees. Cover lightly with foil of several thicknesses of cheese cloth or brown paper if breast and legs tend to overbrown. This method produces the most attractive bird.

Covered pan roasting—Place turkey breast side up in roaster, cover with top of roaster, roast at 350 degrees. Use no water in pan. Remove cover for final 15 minutes of roast time if additional browning is desired. This is a faster method of roasting but finished product is less attractive.

Remember to allow enough time for the turkey to "sit" 10 to 15 minutes before carving. This will help the carver do a much better job and the job itself becomes easier.

After dinner is over be sure to refrigerate what remains of the turkey at once. Remove all of the stuffing (if there is any) and refrigerate this separately. If desired, take the meat off the bones and freeze for other days when turkey is once again a treat. If you freeze the turkey meat it should be used within two months. Stuffing may be wrapped and frozen also but use this within a month.

Perhaps it is too late to use these new gadgets on your Thanksgiving turkey but they are fun to know about. The electric carving knife has arrived to help make the job easier. This self-powered knife vibrates back and forth, making a whiz of slicing turkey or almost anything else. It is battery operated. (What next?)

There is also a new roast carving grip to hold the turkey firm. It not only grips the fattest part of the turkey but also grips drumsticks and wings to make carving easier.

If you like to baste the turkey, then the new nylon baster is ideal because it comes apart for easy washing.

This is not all for there are many convenience foods which make the job of cooking easier. Here are a couple of "for instance." Corn bread stuffing, quick brown rice, smothered onions in polyester packs are a few of the many on the market.

Veterans News

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—May a widow who has previously been denied a claim for pension because her husband did not have a service-connected condition when he died, apply again under a new law?

A—Yes. The new pension law does not require that the veteran have a service-connected condition, but is based chiefly on the financial need of the applicant or her minor children.

Q—How does a new law affect educational benefits for reserves called up for active service during the Berlin Crisis?

A—A reservist whose training or education under the Korean GI Bill was interrupted by the call up for active service will have his deadline for completing his education or training extended by a period of time equal to the length of his "call-up" period of service.

Q—Are young people engaged in the VA's War Orphan Educational program benefited by provisions of a new law?

A—Yes. If they are forced to suspend their schooling or training because of financial reasons beyond their control, such as illness in their immediate family, or because the job at which they work requires their presence on the job at a certain season. Their deadline date will be extended by the length of time they are thus kept out of training.

FLYING LOW—Dennis Rogers noses out George Bonniwell for Henlopen Conference individual championship in 12:55 for 2.4 plus miles at Killen's Pond.

Cross-Country Ended Wednesday With Harrington Invitational

The fifth annual Harrington High Invitational Cross-Country championship was held on Wednesday at Killen's Pond at 4 p.m. Two races were held with both varsity and junior varsity teams in action.

In the varsity race seven downstate schools faced the starter. Entries were received from Easton, Milton, Milford, Caesar Rodney, Holy Cross of Dover, North Carolina of Denton, and the host H.H.S. Lions. North Carolina handed the locals their only loss on a day when three key Lions became ill.

Among the 49 harriers were top contenders Ed Williams of North Carolina, Jim Harvey, of Easton and Jerry Miller of Milford. Close behind this trio in clockings this season are Dennis Rogers and George Bonniwell of Harrington, Joe Boyle of North Carolina and Marvel of Easton.

Ed Williams finished in second place in the Maryland Cross-Country Championship run held at Hereford, Md., on the Western Shore last week. His team placed fourth. Jerry Miller was sixth among 119 runners in the Delaware State meet held in Rockford Park, Wilmington.

Williams' only loss on the Delmarva Peninsula came two weeks ago when Miller beat him at Milford. In this race Miller clocked 10:51 to 10:53 for the North Carolina lad from Ridgely. Both shattered Harry Knott's Milford course record mark of 11:18. Williams had beaten Miller earlier at Denton. Harvey was nosed out by Williams at Easton in a race that saw another Knott's record go by the boards. Bonniwell bested Jerry Miller at Milford in the Lion's opening meet but has not improved as fast as the Buc ace since, because Miller has been able to get in many more hours of practice. Bonniwell plays football and lost more ground when he was sidelined for a few days with a banged up knee and then to compound the issue was hurt in an auto accident.

Soph Dennis Rogers clocked 12:55 recently on the Killen's Pond layout. This time has been exceeded only by Williams' 12:35 clocking this season. With seven fast boys in the field it is possible that Clarence Hackett's 12:23 course record may fall.

In the team standings North Carolina, Easton and H.H.S. were expected to battle it out for the two team trophies.

Junior League Pep Talk

Have you supported the Harrington Junior Football League? Have you been to the games played by your children who have spent hours and hours practicing only to be let down at the game when mom and pop weren't there to see him make the pass that saved the game? Have you watched your daughter cheer to support her team, even though it was cold, wet and windy?

If you can't truthfully answer yes to all these questions, then you should start now to support this organization, not specifically with money, but with a little time and effort.

It is your duty to see to it that this organization makes a go of it. The future of the Junior Football League depends entirely on you—the Public!

In the junior varsity test the entry list exceeded that of the big race as the kids got their final chance to slice a few seconds off their previous best times.

Little League Baseball to Hold Meeting

The Harrington Little Baseball League will hold a meeting at 8 p.m. Wed., Nov. 23, over the First National Bank.

The following subjects need to be discussed: managers and assistant managers for the ensuing year, the possibility of additional teams, reports from the Little League Auxiliary and the organization of a senior league and how it will be operated.

Pat Knight, district representative, has been invited to attend the meeting. He will furnish the organization with information regarding both little league and senior league.

With our help and guidance we hope to see our boys of tomorrow grow into better men of tomorrow.

All league members, auxiliary members and any interested persons are strongly urged to attend this meeting.

Wesley College Wolverines End Perfect Season

The Wesley College Wolverines finished their first perfect season in history Saturday, downing an undefeated Drexel Institute of Technology freshman team 30-8.

Coach Dick Smith's Wolverines, already winners of the Tri-State Conference Championship for 1962, routed the Philadelphia engineers handily, with every man on the squad in action. In sweeping to eight conquests this season, Wesley scored 214 points to their opponents' aggregate 52, winning over Long Island Aggies 13-7, West Chester Freshmen 14-6, Montgomery Junior College 32-6, Potomac State College 28-0, Bainbridge Naval Prep 24-6, Drexel Frosh 30-8, Williamson School 52-6, Baltimore Junior College 32-6.

The Wesley team this year featured a majority of Delmarva peninsula gridders, including six alumni of the 1962 Delaware All-Star Game and five Delaware All-Staters.

The Wolverines' head coach is R. E. "Dick" Smith, former Freedom, Pa., and Fairmont College athlete, now in his second year at Wesley. Smith came to the Dover junior college after successful seasons with Caesar Rodney and Conrad High Schools in Delaware.

Following on a 1-7 first season, Smith's squad of 31 freshmen and six sophomores exceeded all expectations, as they began rolling over one opponent after another. They broke into national junior college polls as ninth in the nation and first in the east in NJCAA ranking and moved steadily upward to finish fourth in the country and still first in the east in the final season rankings.

With only six men due to be lost to the squad through graduation, predictions for a second successful season in 1963 are already underway around the Wesley campus.

H.H.S. Ends 3rd Dismal Football Season

Harrington High varsity football teams are getting better each year, but the rate of improvement is so slow that another winning season might be three or four years away. In 1960 the locals won a lone contest and dropped eight. In 1961 the Lions again had one win but tied another while losing seven. The 1962 model was touted as considerably stronger in pre-season prognostications but won two games, lost six and tied one.

At Delmar Friday night the Lions were no match for the host Wildcats. The winners scored in every period even though substituting liberally in the second half. The Lions managed a 50 yard drive in the fourth quarter to avert a shutout. Paul Rash scored on a seven yard run with Jeff Adams running over the extra point for a final score of Delmar 38, Harrington 7. Rash, Adams, and stellar lineman Dave Harcum were among the seniors, who played their last contest for the Blue and Gold.

Harrington's two triumphs this autumn came at the expense of Dover Air Force Base High and North Dorchester of Shiloh, Md.

In Henlopen Conference play the home boys were winless for the first time although a tie was played with Selbyville. Wednesday night John M. Clayton and Millsboro fight it out for the league crown. Thanksgiving Day Delmar and Bridgeville meet in a battle to settle third place. These contests end the Henlopen season.

Selbyville and H.H.S. finished in a deadlock for last place with Harrington giving up 191 points in league play to the Rebels 172. On offense the Lions racked up 35 points to escape the cellar in that department as Selbyville managed only 19. The two basement occupants took a terrific lacing in statistics this fall.

Fish & Game News

Delaware's 1962-63 upland hunting season for rabbit, quail and pheasant opened Friday, one hour before sunrise. Pheasant and rabbit season will run until January 5 and quail may be hunted until January 19. Prospects look good for upland hunters this fall. Field observations indicate that rabbit and quail are more numerous than last year and our native pheasant population has been boosted with the release of 90 cock birds on Nov. 14 and 15.

Hunters are urged to ask the landowner's permission before entering private land to hunt. It is not necessary to post land against trespassers. In posting land the sportsman is only being reminded of the law. The hunter's personal contacts with the landowner and his self-discipline are all important since the bulk of the hunting will always be on private land.

The commission owns and leases over 15,000 acres of land which is managed for public hunting. A composite map of the areas is available upon request from the Delaware Game and Fish Commission, Dover, or from any licensing agent.

General hunting license requirements for Delaware are as follows.

Resident—(a) Persons over 15 years to hunt and trap in Delaware, $3.20. (b) Residents who are occupants of farms in this state containing 20 acres or who actually reside thereon and the immediate members of the family of such occupant who also reside on said farm, and the resident owner of said farm, may hunt, fish and trap on said farm without being licensed hereunder. (c) Residents under 15 years of age may hunt without a license in this state when accompanied by a person who is the lawful owner of a hunting license or has a lawful right to hunt.

Non-Resident—(a) Persons over 15 years to hunt and trap in this state, $20. (b) Non-residents other than aliens to hunt only on regulated shooting preserves when it is lawful to do so, but nowhere else. (c) Non-residents other than aliens who are under 15 years of age may hunt without a license in this State when accompanied by a person who is the lawful holder of a hunting license or has a lawful right to hunt.

ALL PERSONS over 16 years of age must purchase a federal migratory bird stamp to hunt migratory waterfowl (brant, wild ducks, geese) in addition to regular Delaware hunting license. (May be purchased at most Post Offices) $3.

During Delaware's ninth shotgun season for white-tailed deer, hunters bagged 702 animals. On Thurs., Nov. 8, 285, Friday, 135, and Saturday 282 deer were checked through the four checking stations by Commission technicians. At this rate of kill it is estimated that one hunter in 10 gets a deer since approximately 7,000 hunt Delaware's only big game. Since it is customary for the successful hunter to share the kill probably half of Delaware's deer hunters had some venison to eat this week.

In the final tabulation 410 bucks and 292 does were taken. The largest deer, with a dressed weight of 215 pounds, was killed near Woodland Beach by Louis Edgell, of Dover. This two and a half year old 10-point buck weighed over 250 pounds before the entrails were removed in the field. (Deer lose about 25 pounds per hundred weight after they are field dressed.)

As in former year the bulk of the kill came from Kent County—336 animals were taken; 219 from New Castle and 147 from Sussex. Reports from field observations of landowners this week lead game management personnel to conclude that Delaware's brood herd of deer is fully adequate for the range. Perhaps there are several areas a bit overharvested but in our small state animals move in quickly from heavier populated sections.

The Assawoman Bay Wildlife Area near Dagsboro has more deer this week than were there prior to the opening of the season. Since frequent aerial waterfowl counts are taken of this area the number of deer using there 1400 acres is definitely known. In western Kent County in the environs of the Petersburg Wildlife Area, where some felt there was an overharvest, deer signs this week indicate that there are still a lot of deer around.

It is vital to hunt deer heavily enough to hold them below the capacity of the range to support them. This done, deer will reproduce rapidly, provide large huntable surpluses, and not abuse the range.

New Appointments

John E. Garrett, 18 East 3rd St., New Castle has been appointed to the game and fish enforcement staff of the Delaware Game and Fish Commission. Warden Garrett may be contacted through the Commission's central office at Dover, Tele. 734-7473 or at home, East 8-3400.

Horace Mitchell, Ocean View, joins the staff as resident caretaker of the Assawoman Wildlife Area.

Waterfowl Notes

Waterfowl have been a little late moving into Delaware marshes this fall but during the last week the migration of ducks and geese got into full swing. Opening day was a little slow—warm weather isn't duck hunting weather. Predicted rough weather will undoubtedly bring better hunting.

Jr. Football To Play Thanksgiving Day

Thanksgiving Day an all-star team of Colts and Bears will play the Eagles. The game will start at 10:00 o'clock.

To highlight the season, a queen will be chosen from the squads of cheerleaders. The three candidates are Patsy Hubbard, Candace Peck and Donna Shreck. The queen will be crowned at halftime by "Miss Harrington," Miss Barbara Jones.

Junior Football Banquet Postponed

Due to a Lions Club meeting, the Junior Football banquet will be postponed to a later date.
