

KENT SCHOOL CHIEFS JOIN DRIVE ON TAX DODGERS

Kent school chiefs and the Levy Court turned the screws a little tighter Tuesday on a chronic county problem—the tax dodger.

The school administrators took dead aim on delinquent taxpayers—and the taxpayers not on their lists — by working out an agreement with the Levy Court to finance deputy tax collectors in the districts.

The plan must be approved by each school board but the administrators present Tuesday—representing the largest county districts — fully approved it.

They met first for a short time with the Levy Court and then, meeting alone, took only a half hour to come up with a plan agreeable to them and the Levy Court.

Provisions are that each school board recommends to the Levy Court a man for employment—at board expense—as an assistant to the county receiver of taxes to collect taxes.

And the districts must foot the bill—set at $2 an hour and 8 cents per mile mileage—for their tax collectors.

Left elastic was the extent the district would use the employees. Caesar Rodney Supt. F. N. Postlethwait indicated his district would like a man to not only collect capitation taxes but compile accurate and up-to-date lists of those owing the tax.

The school chiefs were most concerned with the capitation tax—which in the county is only $1.25 but varies in each district from $5 to as much as $12. The county receiver of taxes has the job of collecting all county taxes and all school district taxes.

However, a great amount of taxes, both real and capitation, are estimated to be not collected in the districts and the county at large.

The plan to hire men to work with the local tax rolls represents an effort by the Levy Court and the school districts to co-operate in more efficiently collecting their taxes and reduce losses through failures to collect.

The districts will exercise local option as to how much work they intend to give their men. Milford is interested in collection of its capitation tax, said Supt. Chester Dickerson.

Eight Named For Summer Study Program

Eight Delaware high school science teachers were selected this week to study under the S. Hallock DuPont Research Participation program at the University of Delaware's School of Agriculture this summer.

Announcing the selections was Dr. Morris S. Cover, director of the Agricultural Experiment Station, co-sponsor of the program with the School of Agriculture.

Cover said response to the program announced March 7, was excellent. Some 54 teachers applied for the limited openings, he said, and many excellent applications had to be turned down.

Selected teachers will work with experienced agricultural scientists during the eight-week summer program between June 17 and August 8. They will gain first-hand knowledge about research methods and interpretation of scientific results in special fields.

Each will receive a basic scholarship of $600 and certain allowances for dependents. The program offers three credits.

Participants and areas of study include:

Carlton Bryan Bennett, Jr., Seaford, Seaford Special School District; agronomy (taxonomic characteristics of Delaware grasses).

William H. Conrad, III, Claymont, Claymont High School; agronomy (determination of total hydrolyzable sugars and amino acids in soil organic matter).

Oliver W. Crichton, Wilmington, Tower Hill School; plant pathology (the histopathology and cytopathology of soybean and clover roots infected by pathogenic organisms—nematodes and fungi).

Charles T. Cinaglia, Newark, Brown Tech, Wilmington; plant pathology (effect of fungicides on the biochemistry of fungi).

Richard C. Musselman, Newark; Newark Senior High School, entomology.

Arthur W. Ellis, Delmar, Seaford Central High School, entomology.

Robert A. Chenvert, Wilmington, Alfred I. duPont; animal and poultry science (virology).

Felton School To Present Annual Spring Concert

The Felton School Music Department will present its annual spring concert on Thursday evening, April 25, at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. The concert will feature the High School Band.

The High School Chorus will sing "The Heavens Declare the Glory of God," "The Happy Wanderer," "Ezekiel Saw De Wheel," "I Could Have Danced All Night," and "Yo Dee Oh Dee Ay." Phyllis Clark, a senior, is the chorus accompanist.

The Junior Band will play a march "Midnight Patrol," "Scale Waltz," "Pied Piper," and George M. Cohen's "Yankee Doodle Boy."

Number by the dance band are "Tea for Two," "Once In A While," and "For Dances Only."

A saxophone quartet will also be featured in an arrangement of "Glow Worm."

The High School Band will play a march, "Heat Lighting," an overture, "Crusaders"; "Star Dust," "On The Trail"; "Hey, Look Me Over," which features the majorettes; "Some Enchanted Evening"; "Original Dixieland Concerto," which features a combo and a final march "Guadacanal March."

Mrs. Janet Parker will direct the chorus and Ross Evans will direct the bands. Refreshments will be sold by the Music Boosters Club. Tickets will be sold at the door which will open at 7:30. The concert is open to the general public.

Businessman to Run For School Board

Bill Irwin, associated with the Dairy Queen, of Harrington, for the past eleven years, has filed a petition for the Board of Education of the Harrington Special School District.

Mr. Irwin graduated from Olney High School in Philadelphia in 1941. He is a veteran of WW II, having served two years overseas in the CBI Theater. Bill is 39, married and has a daughter, Sandra Lee, in the second grade.

He attends Reformation Lutheran Church in Milford, where he has served as a councilman for the past three years and as financial secretary for the past two years.

He is employed by International Latex Corporation, where he has been chief draftsman in the engineering department for the past five years.

He was instrumental in having his company adopt an in-plant training program in blueprint reading for technicians and shop mechanics.

Last month he received national recognition by having an article published in Plant Engineering Magazine, which related to the training of maintenance personnel in blueprint reading.

For the past two years he has instructed evening courses in human relations and supervision for the Delaware State Department of Vocational Education.

Calvin Johnson to Speak at $100-A-Plate Dinner

One of the most unusual dinner speakers on the American scene, Calvin D. Johnson, of Washington, D. C., will be guest speaker, Tues., May 7, in the Wilcomico Youth and Civic Center, Salisbury, at the annual $100-A-Plate Dinner climaxing this year's Delmarva Poultry Industry association fund drive.

Known widely for his inspirational talks on Americanism, Johnson 64, is consultant on public affairs for the American Trucking Association and a former member of the House of Representatives from Illinois.

What is not so widely known is that Johnson maintains a strenuous speaking schedule only with the aid of an electronic "heart pacer" implanted in his body to keep his heart beating at a steady, accelerated rate.

Incisions are watch-pocket size. The device, transistorized, and with 5-year batteries, is attached to his abdominal wall. Wires are placed under the skin and between two ribs to contact points in the heart muscles. Small, painless shocks are sent to the heart at the average of 50 to 60 a minute.

Average heart rate is 70 to 90 a minute. People suffering the heart condition afflicting Johnson have heart rates of 30 to 35 a minute. Before the "pacer" was installed in Washington Hospital Center recently, Johnson's heart rate sometimes dropped to as low as 10 a minute and he would faint.

Now, he feels fine, keeps as many as five speaking engagements a week - delivers an address with all his old verve and animation, say people who have heard him recently.

Minner 'Grand Old Man' Of Harrington, Dies at 101

Nimrod "Cod" Minner, who celebrated his 101st birthday March 16, died Saturday in Milford Memorial Hospital.

Harrington's "grand old man" had lived alone at 236 Delaware Ave., since the death of his wife, the former Annie Sylvester, four years ago. He suffered a stroke Wednesday, April 10, reportedly only the fourth illness in his long life.

His 101st birthday was observed quietly with a family dinner, in contrast to the community celebration when he reached the century mark. At that time he received congratulatory telegrams from President Kennedy, Gov. Elbert N. Carvel and U. S. Rep. Harris B. McDowell Jr.

The Harrington High School Band — 58 strong — marched down Delaware Avenue and serenaded him in the yard of his six-room bungalow.

Minner often told visitors that he attributed his long life to staying home at night—"married or single"—not drinking a drop of liquor and working hard.

He admitted to two vices, cigars and a pipe.

He was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad for 46 years. When he retired April, 1934, he was a baggageman at the Harrington station.

Members of his family said he insisted on doing his own housework, made a weekly trip to the grocery store and, until a few years ago, tended his own garden.

Minner, a jolly six-footer, remained active almost up to the last. His daughter, Mrs. George M. Melson, of Delmar, said he "wouldn't dream of living with us." He preferred to live alone and was proud of the fact that he could keep active despite his years, she said.

He was a native of Harrington and never expressed a desire to live anywhere else. He became a charter member of Trinity Methodist Church in 1885. Last November he shoveled the first spadeful of dirt for the new addition to the church.

Born during the Civil War, he spent his later years in the cold war period. He managed to keep abreast of world events.

In addition to his daughter, he is survived by two grandchildren, three great-grandchildren and a great-great-grandchild.

Services were held Tuesday afternoon at the J. Millard Cooper Funeral Home here.

Changing Life No Other

Minner did not have much to say about the state of the world, the changing times, or life in the twentieth century. He remembered with pleasure a horse and carriage he used to get around the countryside. He loved the horse.

More than a century of life played its acts out for Minner in Harrington and the surrounding area—where he was born March 16, 1862.

He was married to Annie Sylvester, who died Sun., Aug. 14, 1960, at 88. The Minners then lacked two months of having been married 73 years. She was the aunt of Earl Sylvester, a next-door neighbor and former state senator, who died in 1962.

His son-in-law, George Melson, of Delmar, at the time of the celebration of Minner's 100th birthday last year, said he and his wife would come to Harrington once a week to get the soiled laundry and, after washing and ironing, take it back the following week.

"But otherwise," continued Melson, "Minner did all his own housework in his six-room home. "We used to go on Tuesdays, but that's the day he defrosted his refrigerator and he did not want anybody underfoot; so we went on Fridays.

"But we never got there until after 2 o'clock. If he didn't have his cleaning done, he wouldn't say a word after he greeted us. "Sometimes my wife helped a bit. But she didn't put things back in the right place. Then he did it over. "Everything was routine with him. That's the way he lived all his life. "He wouldn't dream of living with us. After his wife died, he came one time for two weeks. After that, his visits were only for a mid-day meal and by 3 p.m., he was clamoring to go home. "Coming here (Delmar) from Harrington, he never turned his head from the right side of the road. Without the aid of glasses, he read all the signboards and the for-sale signs on houses and farms. "Then, on the way back, he

4-H's to Attend Nat. Conference

"Our Heritage—Foundation for the Future" will be the citizenship theme for the 33rd National 4-H Conference in Washington, D. C., April 20 through 26. Attending the annual event at the National 4-H Club Center will be two girls and two boys from each of the 50 states and Puerto Rico. They will be accompanied by about 90 state 4-H leaders who will hold their own annual official meeting.

Representing Delaware will be Helen Gramp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Gramp, of Dover; Jean Ann Tucker, daughter of Mrs. Carl Tucker, Greenwood; George Nickle, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Nickle, of Newark, and Franklin Melson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Melson, of Bridgeville. James O. Baker, Delaware state 4-H leader, will accompany them.

Many of the 4-H conference sessions will stress America's cultural and economic past as a basis for helping solve today's problems and influencing tomorrow's decisions.

To accomplish conference aims, delegates will hear selected speakers, participate in group discussions, visit historic shrines and meet Congressional and other national leaders. They will also tour the White House, take a boat trip to Mount Vernon for a citizenship ceremony and visit eight embassies of European, Asian and South American countries.

Highlighting this year's conference will be "breakfast with Congress" on Tuesday morning. Each state's delegates and adult leaders will be host to their state's two Senators and to the Congressman from districts represented by the 4-H'ers.

Each of the delegates will take an active part in the seven-day conference, serving on various program and work committees.

Century Club Holds Spring Luncheon

The spring luncheon of the Harrington New Century Club was held at the club house on Tuesday afternoon with the lovely spring bonnets of the members and guests vieing with the beautiful spring flower decorations.

Mrs. Francis Winkler, president, welcomed the group and expressed her delight in the good attendance. Mrs. Harry John Dill, Jr. gave the invocation.

Following the luncheon, which was of the covered-dish variety, Mrs. Quay Rice, accompanied by Mrs. Walter Winkler, sang two selections for the enjoyment of the audience. The songs were

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church News

The Rev. Quay D. Rice, Vicar MONDAY 3:30 p.m. Youth Confirmation Class. TUESDAY 3:30 p.m. Brownie Troop 7:30 p.m. Healing Service THURSDAY 7:15 p.m. Youth Choir 8 p.m. Youth and Adult Choirs 8:30 p.m. Adult Choir only.

This Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service little Kathy Sue Greer, the two-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greer, will receive the sacrament of Holy baptism. Godparents will be Mrs. Violet B. Beene and Bill McColley.

Friday and Saturday, April 26 and 27, six of St. Stephen's youth plan to attend the Diocesan Junior High Conference at Camp Arrowhead near Rehoboth. The subject of the conference is: "What in the world are you doing—for Heaven's Sake?". The leader is the Rev. Dorman Ball, of St. Mark's Church, in Millsboro.

The grounds of St. Stephen's are taking on a new look these days. Clyde Perry assisted by Messrs. Richard Hayes, Granville Hill, George VonGoeres, and youth of the church have built bleachers and have begun the preparation of a softball diamond in anticipation of a busy summer softball season.

Vestry discussion is centering around a weight lifting-body building gymnasium these days, so your reporter hears, so watch for more news of this later.

The Women of St. Stephen's regret that the date of their spring card party coincided with Asbury's Antique Show. (There should be some way to clear such dates). However St. Stephen's plans to support Asbury's project and crave not only Asbury's good support but that of all lovers of a good, innocent game of bridge, hearts, rummy, etc. The date for both church projects is April 24.

Mrs. Isaac Noble was a Sunday dinner guest of her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Nagel, of Federalsburg.

THREE DRIVE 2 WINNERS EACH AT HARNESS RACES

Kent and Sussex's first of two benefit matinee race programs held Saturday at the Fairgrounds track here was witnessed by some 1000 persons and resulted in excellent competition and thrilling finishes.

Ten events were presented under ideal racing conditions, but the big winner of the day was the CKRT American Legion of Harrington, for whose Child Welfare Work (the Post's major project), this program was held. Commander Earl Quillen announced that approximately $1000 was realized by the Post from admissions and concessions. Another matinee is slated Saturday.

The races, in many cases warm-ups for the Brandywine meet which opens Friday night, April 26, produced unusually fine time. With 2:10 for pacers and 2:11 for trotters as the qualifying standard for Brandywine, a flock of horses easily made the grade during the afternoon.

Racing Commissioner Crawford (Dick) Holson manned the big mobile starting gate brilliantly. Presiding Steward Edsel Farlow was in command of the judges stand, and the veteran Gene Anderson, co-director of the matinee with Frank O'Neal, did the announcing. U.S.T.A. rules prevailed. All officials donated their services.

Three drivers, two veterans and a youngster just getting into the sport, shared the day's honors. They were Ellis Myer, of Bridgeville, and Vinal Kirby of Milford, well-known area reinsmen, and 18-year-old David Wade, of Spring City, Pa., each scored two victories.

Myer, one of five well-known harness brothers, turned in the fastest time, a 2:07 3/5, with Dr. Brooks Wheatley's capable 4-year-old, Dr. Brooks, who won by half a length from Rollon Gallon after leading all the way. It was an auspicious start for the son of Quick Reward, six-time 1962 winner, who picked up where he left off in his final race at Brandywine Sept. 6 when he set a new mark of 2:04 3/5.

Besides winning the feature pace with Dr. Brooks, Myer won an earlier race with Stan Barban's 3-year-old pacer, Potomac Lee. By a mere nose, Potomac Lee beat out Arthur Diamond in 2:09 2/5 in the day's tightest finish.

Vinal Kirby started the program with an impressive 2:11 victory with first-time starter, Conformation, a 3-year-old owned by the Black Shoe Stables, Hempstead, N. Y. She nipped Paul Vineyard's Bengazi, a juvenile, by a neck. Then Kirby made it two by scoring with Helmur Farm's Alma J. Direct, 4-year-old mare, in 2:09 2/5 when Mick Direct broke approaching the wire.

Young Wade, driving for his father, owner-trainer Carolus Wade, showed great promise in winning with 5-year-old Victor Scamp by two lengths in 2:10, and 4-year-old Jennyranda by 2 1/4 lengths in 2:11. Both are trotters, the latter a daughter of Jenko Hanover.

Harrington's racing dean, Paul Vineyard, turned loose his $18,000 3-year-old filly, Agile Hanover, for the Rockville (N.Y.) Stables, and the pacing son of Torpid, raced a 2:11 1-5, easily up by a 2 3/4 margin.

Johnny Amato's Lindsey Hanover won a 2-year-old trot, Tracey's Lady, a pace in 2:11 1-5, Mr. Quinton Scott in 2:15 1-5.

1ST-2 and 3-yr-old pace. Conformation (V. Kirby), Bengazi Hanover (P. Vineyard), Adele Diamond (Y. Cowger). Also started—Mission Flash, Afton Perry, Sir James Amber Hanover. Time—2:11.

Young Wade, driving for his father, owner-trainer Carolus Wade, showed great promise in winning with 5-year-old Victor Scamp by two lengths in 2:10, and 4-year-old Jennyranda by 2 1/4 lengths in 2:11. Both are trotters, the latter a daughter of Jenko Hanover.

Harrington's racing dean, Paul Vineyard, turned loose his $18,000 3-year-old filly, Agile Hanover, for the Rockville (N.Y.) Stables, and the pacing son of Torpid, raced a 2:11 1-5, easily up by a 2 3/4 margin.

Johnny Amato's Lindsey Hanover won a 2-year-old trot, Tracey's Lady, a pace in 2:11 1-5, Mr. Quinton Scott in 2:15 1-5.

1ST-2 and 3-yr-old pace. Conformation (V. Kirby), Bengazi Hanover (P. Vineyard), Adele Diamond (Y. Cowger). Also started—Mission Flash, Afton Perry, Sir James Amber Hanover. Time—2:11.

2ND-2-year-old trot. Lindsey Hanover (J. Amato), Emily's Dream (A. Amato), Seniority (A. Klapp). Also started—Blythe Jessica. Time—2:23.

3RD-3 and 4-year-old pace. Azelle Hanover (P. Vineyard), Ann Volstead (G. Roy), Miss Worthy Adios (H. West Jr.). Also started—Sassy Doll. Time—2:14.

4TH-3-yr-old pace. Potomac Lee (E. Myer), Arthur Diamond (A. Thomas), Afton Comet (V. Kirby). Also started—Scottybee, Harry's Shadyboy, Italia, Jean Muir. Time—2:09 2/5.

5TH-4-yr-olds & up, and pace. Alma J. Direct (V. Kirby), R. G. Direct (K. West), Macho Direct (Y. Cowger). Also started—Mountain George, Dark Mission, Miss Julia B., Afton Fricky. Time—2:09 2/5.

6TH-4-yr. and up, Trot. Victor Scamp (D. Wade), Mickey Biery (E. Long), Bill Beaver (H. Stanton). Also started—Pleasant Girl, Lex Hanover, Hadley's Surprise, Phyllis Marie. Time—2:10.

7TH-4-yr. and up, Cond. pace. Tracey's Lady (P. Hubbard), Stormy D. Lee (J. Wilson), H. Scotch (W. Washington). Also started—Plaming Byrd, Katchikan. Time 2:11 1/5.

8TH-4-yr. and up, Cond. pace. Dr. Brooks (E. Myer), Rollon Gallon (P. Hubbard), Allan Edward (W. Washington). Also started—Smokey Valley, Zu In Queen. Time—2:07 3/5.

9TH-3-yr.-old and up, Trot. Jennyranda (D. Wade), Prince Vic (J. Quinn), Great Adonis (V. Kirby). Also started—Wood Smoke, West Newport. Time 2:11.

10TH-5-yr. and up, Cond. pace. Mr. Quinton Scott (H. Dupree), Vanguard Hanover (P. Lowden), Stevie Boy (E. Cowser Jr.). Also started—Cindy's Up, Merrle Angie (E. Myer). Time 2:15 1/5.

Supplies of fresh vegetables continue to be good. Carrots, cabbage, celery, green (spinach, kale, etc.), potatoes, and sweet potatoes are all priced quite reasonable. Lettuce, salad greens, cucumbers, green onions, peppers, and eggplants, are good in quality and prices are generally cheaper this week. More sweet corn is available this week and quality is good to excellent.

Fresh fruit counters continue to have the look of spring, as fresh strawberries, pineapples, grapes, rhubarb, and melons are abundant, with prices from medium to low on all. Watermelons and cantaloupes are now available, but prices are high.

Ice cream, ice milk, sherbert and other products with ice cream as a base, are economical and easy to prepare desserts for busy spring days. All of these are in good supply and priced right.

S. B. A. News

Edward N. Rosa, regional director of the Small Business Administration for this area, urged local communities considering redevelopment projects, to make full use of services available from SBA.

Mr. Rosa's announcement was coupled with the release of a new SBA leaflet describing how the agency helps communities plan and carry out redevelopment projects.

The SBA is ready to assist community leaders in a wide variety of ways," Mr. Rosa said, adding, "communities can find SBA's technical services invaluable in developing an OEDP—overall economic development program."

The OEDP is a prerequisite to obtaining assistance from the Federal Area Redevelopment established by Congress in 1961 to co-ordinate Government efforts to assist in revitalizing economically ailing towns and cities. Specific responsibilities under the program have been assigned to SBA.

The SBA offers assistance in the initial planning stages including financial counseling, evaluating facilities and sites, advising on plant layout in addition to its regular programs of business loans, counseling on management problems, help in obtaining Government contracts and subcontracts, and a wide range of management publications.

The leaflet points out that SBA has reduced its maximum 5 1/2 percent interest rate on business loans to small firms to four percent in designated redevelopment areas, and has a special low interest loan plan available for redevelopment areas which have urban renewal, highway construction, or other federally-aided building projects.

The leaflet, Building Business, Building Jobs, SBA's Role in Area Redevelopment, may be obtained from the local SBA office located at 1015 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

April 30 Deadline For Filing '62 Wool Applications

Tues. April 30, is the last day for filing applications for payments for the 1962 marketing year under the wool payment program, R. Harry Wilson chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, at Dover, reminded growers this week.

The payments, to be made this summer, will cover shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed during the 12 month period, April 1, 1962, through March 31 of this year. Later marketings will be eligible for payments for the 1963 marketing year, which began April 1, 1963.

The chairman stressed the fact that the program payments on wool and lambs will not be made unless the grower files an application which is supported with all the necessary sales records.

These sales records will be the basis for calculating the national average price received by farmer for wool during the entire 1962 marketing year, so it is to the grower's advantage to file his application early. When the average price can be determined, the payment rates for shorn wool and unshorn lambs sold during the 1962 marketing year will be announced.

Mr. Wilson also reminded growers that the 1963 marketing year will cover only a nine month period, extending from April 1 of this year through December 31, 1963. After 1963, the marketing will be on a 12 month calendar-year basis, in line with recommendations by producers. Payments for 1963 and later marketing years, therefore, will be made beginning in April following the close of the calendar year

April 30 Deadline For Filing '62 Wool Applications

Tues. April 30, is the last day for filing applications for payments for the 1962 marketing year under the wool payment program, R. Harry Wilson chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, at Dover, reminded growers this week.

Payments for 1963 and later marketing years, therefore, will be made beginning in April following the close of the calendar year rather than beginning in July, as for 1962 and previous years.

Because of this future change-over, chairman Wilson said, there may be some confusion about just when applications for payment should be filed. He emphasized that applications are to be filed no later than April 30, for payments on marketings during 1962 marketing year just ended. This includes sales made during January, February and March, 1963.

The payments, to be made this summer, will cover shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed during the 12 month period, April 1, 1962, through March 31 of this year. Later marketings will be eligible for payments for the 1963 marketing year, which began April 1, 1963.

KILLEN'S CHANCES IMPROVE FOR GOVERNOR

State Auditor Ernest E. Killen's chances of being the Democratic nominee for governor next year have improved.

It has been reported Dover's Charles L. Terry Jr., president judge of the Superior Court, will be named to replace Chief Justice Clarence A. Southerland, of the Supreme Court, when his appointment expires in May.

Judge Terry has been mentioned as a candidate for governor. While New Castle County is interested in putting up a candidate, it is thought the post would come from Kent County since U.S. Rep. Harris B. McDowell Jr., is expected to run again from New Castle County, and Gov. Carvel is expected to run for United States Senator from Sussex County.

Killen has been mentioned for governor on several occasions in Kent and Sussex Counties.

Jaycees Easter-Egg Hunt Draws More Than 200

More than 200 persons attended the third annual Easter-Egg Hunt sponsored by the Harrington Jaycees Saturday morning on the school grounds.

Almost all of the 1000 eggs hidden were recovered and several prizes were awarded to the winners of the three age groups.

Jaycees participating in this event included: Chairman-Bob Quillen, Walter Lang, Donald Jarrell, Bill Kramedas, Edwin Webster, Bob Taylor, Donald Jester, and Jay Brumby.

Due to the success of this project, the Jaycees are looking forward to even a larger event next year.

Winners were as follows: Age group 10 to 12-1. Kenny Wright, and 2. Roberta Goodhand; age group, 7 to 9-1. Stephen Mulcahy, and 2. Becky Messick; age group 2 to 6-1. Cathy Rash, and 2. David Simpson.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

Have school taxes gone up? What? You don't say! Well, you haven't seen anything yet. Our school system has received plenty of criticism. Expenses are high, and the burden is unfairly distributed. Voters are being deceived about the costs; these do not show up until payments for the bonds start raising taxes. Student are not getting the education they need to enable them to develop their potentialities and be useful and patriotic citizens.

We are spending far too much money on buildings and not enough on good teachers. A bill in the General Assembly would give all teachers a raise of $200, or so it is claimed. This is wrong, as some do not deserve it while others are underpaid.

More than one person has reported that Columbia University teaches how to teach but not the subject. So it is possible to get a degree without being qualified; certainly some weird ideas come out of Columbia. Meanwhile, discipline in many schools is poor, and this interferes with studies.

While it would be bad to see property taxes raised, still it does seem that total taxes would be lighter if the local school boards had more control. Since the present distribution is 60% State and 40% local, it would be better if the figures were reversed and the local districts were faced with a heavier bond issue. Then they would not be so liberal in spending their own money.

Competition in today's rat race is so keen that the best education for the money is imperative. If much of the tax load and control were shifted to the local districts, some would fare better than others at the beginning. In the long run though, the more ambitious and resourceful students would overcome difficulties; and that very struggle would make them better equipped for their life's work.

Disney's "Son of Flubber" April 25 Thru 29 at Reese

We hear that good things are going to happen to Harrington. We hear that the good folks of our community realize that their own business establishments constitute the "backbone" of our community.

The management of the Reese Theatre has completely revamped its program for the coming weeks with the result the "Community of Friendly Neighbors" will see, undoubtedly, without reservation, the greatest line-up of attractions ever, to play Movie Center in a two month period.

Jimmy Stewart and Ruth Roman are the stars of "The Far Country" the attraction listed for this Friday and Saturday, April 19-20, in conjunction with the special presentation on the spectacular, "Swordman of Siena," with Stewart Granger.

Straight from today's headlines, MGM presents the true story, and filmed where it happened, the picture that made newspaper headlines, "Escape From East Berlin" with Don Murray and Christine Kaufman. Listed for showing this Sunday and Monday, April 21-22, along with the extra added action sensation, "The Choppers", a thrill story of auto strippers, one of today's problems of the highways.

"Son of Flubber," Walt Disney's blast of fun plays for five days, Thurs. thru Mon., April 25 thru 29.

Elvis Presley's new hit, "It Happened at the World's Fair" is coming for five days, Thurs. thru Mon., May 2 thru 6.

Alfred Hitchcock's "The Birds" is coming for a five day engagement, Thurs., thru Mon., May 9 thru 13.

FENCE TALK

With George Vapaa

Hydroponics is the science of growing crops without soil. Your county agent rarely gets a call about it. But on Monday there were two.

It has only been in the last 30 years that nutrient solution culture was seriously considered on a commercial scale. It is used for such crops as tomatoes, cucumbers, and lettuce. Flowers are a greenhouse crop using the method. Crewmen attempt to grow radishes using hydroponics combined with artificial lighting on submarines, we are told.

There isn't very much literature on the subject. But I ran into one put out by the State of Florida, Department of Agriculture at Tallahassee. It is bulletin 180, dated August 1958, and is entitled Hydroponics.

This can be a relatively inexpensive and cheap hobby. But there are some words of caution for a commercial operation. A lot of labor and equipment is needed. The nutrient chemicals are costly and tricky to handle. In Delaware, one would probably find it commercially practical in the greenhouse outside of the regular growing season. Good retail outlets are needed to assure reasonable profits.

Seven countries have asked the Peace Corps for volunteers who know how to operate and repair farm machinery.

Especially needed are agricultural mechanics who can offer ingenuity and common sense along with their knowledge, he explained. Much of this machinery has limited use and a short life because the countries lack the trained manpower to teach farmers how to operate and repair it. Training will begin early this summer for Peace Corps projects in Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Guinea, Malaya, Pakistan and Senegal. All of these projects need volunteers with rural backgrounds who have had training and experience in maintaining farm equipment.

Applications and information on these and other projects may be obtained from our County Extension Service in the Dover post-office or by writing Jim Gibson, Peace Corps, Division of Agricultural Affairs, Washington 25, D. C.

Are you looking for a way to practice with your green thumb and add to your house plant collection as well? Right now is a good time to start cuttings of your house plants.

Most plants will form roots quickly from a tip or stem cutting. Cut off about 4 inches of the end or tip of a stem. Place it in a moist rooting medium about one inch deep. Remove leaves that would be buried. Keep moist, but not soaking wet. If you put the container, plant and all, into a clean plastic bag, you will have to water only when you start the cutting.

A proper rooting medium is the key to easy rooting of house plants. Water, most often used, is the hardest to use. Much more successful are materials like vermiculite and perlite which provide air as well as water for the young roots. Both are sterile, lightweight, hold plenty of water and allow for plenty of air to reach the roots.

We suggest you try some in either vermiculite or perlite. It is more successful than water alone.

The story of soil surveys and how they are used for a wide variety of agricultural and non-agricultural purposes is explored in an illustrated 16-page publication recently issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Know Your Soil" tells what a soil survey is, how it is made, what it is used for, and how such information can affect the pocketbook of the average American.

Some of the frequent users of soil information—in addition to agricultural users—are land appraisers, realtors, builders, engineers, city planners, foresters, nurserymen, canners, pipeline manufacturers and insurance companies.

A single copy of "Know Your Soil" is available free from the Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, 25, D. C.

Farm tractor accidents now take more than 1,000 lives each year. Fatigue is often a factor in such accidents but excessive speed is still the No. 1 cause. Defective wheel brakes, rough roads or a quick turn can bring tragedy if the operator's speed is too high. Teen-aged tractor operators have far too many accidents. Work with these young operators and see that they receive careful instruction and supervision until they are fully qualified. Extra riders also rank high on the list as an accident cause. Spring work often brings a rash of tractor accidents—most of which can be avoided with careful operation.

Spring clean-up can make an important contribution to the year-around fire safety of your community. The importance of clean-up goes beyond eliminating the breeding spots for fire in trash and rubbish. It provides an opportunity for a thorough check-up of fire hazards in and around farm homes and buildings. It also reminds us how fire defenses can and improved and strengthened.

Farm Index, a publication of the USDA's Economic Research Service, lists seven major contributions that agriculture has made to the nation's economic growth since the turn of the century. Here they are:

—It's release of workers is a direct contribution to industry as well as an indicator of overall economic growth.

—It has lowered food costs relative to incomes.

—It has increased its purchases of industrial goods.

—It has sustained output during economic depressions.

—It has met wartime demands for food.

—It has brought in high earnings from exports.

—And, it has assisted other countries in their economic development programs.

Two out of 10 baby pigs is lost by the average swine producer. This, you'll agree, is too high a percentage with today's narrow profit margins. More could be saved with use of better management practices. The American Foundation for Animal Health recommends these practices to cut down losses:

Immunize sows properly, give her good rations and generally keep her in good health. As to farrowing quarters, keep them warm, draft free, clean and dry.

Delaware's rash of recent fires reminds us that fire extinguishers should be kept "at the ready" in case this menace strikes our way.

One of the steps in being prepared is for family members to know how to use one. Directions should appear on the extinguisher. If you have problems, your local fire department can usually provide descriptive "how-to-use" information. Also, write down directions to your farm in case someone has to hurriedly call the fire department. Reading clear directions is better than trying to give them from memory during the excitement and confusion—of an emergency call.

Federal law requires all taxpayers to include on their Federal income tax returns as income all interest and dividends received or credited to their accounts, and pay any tax that may be due. This is not a new tax, of course.

But now regulations also require all banks, savings and loan associations, corporations, and other payers of interest and/or dividends of $10 or more to any one account during each calendar year to report these payments to the Internal Revenue Service.

Furthermore, Internal Revenue regulations require the payer—whether a bank, savings and loan association, or other payer—to furnish the recipient's Social Security number or other identifying number to Internal Revenue with each reported payment.

The regulations provide a penalty of $5 which may be imposed upon any taxpayer who fails to supply his identifying number to a payer of interest or dividends. This penalty for each failure will be collected in the same way as the Federal income tax.

If you are a savings depositor at our bank and have not reported your Social Security number to us, please do so now by filling out Part I of Form 3435, available from us on request, and returning the form to us. If you have no Social Security number, ask us for an application form for an identifying number.

To enable us to comply with the law and to facilitate our handling of your account, we shall greatly appreciate your supplying us with the identifying number as soon as possible. Thank you!

SULKY SLANTS

By Mrs. Dave (Pat) Smith

Well, I know you all watched the Easter parade on 5th Ave. Well I was among the vast throng that paraded around. Not in my Easter bonnet. I sported no head gear.

This was my first time and believe me my last. I was always under the impression it was more on the parade side. Far be from that. You are pushed, squeezed, and almost knocked down.

But the flowers in Rockefeller Center were beautiful. The colors were gorgeous. I just couldn't leave them. So I guess my trip wasn't in vain.

Times Square was nearly as busy. With all the cameras, you could soon spot the tourist. But it didn't have the carnival style as usual. More of a reserved crowd.

As I drove over to 34th St. the Empire State Building was getting about as many tourists as 5th Ave.

All the large stores along the 5th strip were decorated with such beautiful flowers. Even the banks were decked in flowers.

For once up here in New York, as I went into church, the people up here were friendly. To me, they're very cold and distant.

I couldn't resist going over to watch the large steamers coming in from all over the world. There were tears, laughter, among those arriving for the first time with their tags pinned on them.

I went through the giant United States. You'll never know, if you haven't traveled on one, just how immense they are. That is one thrill I'll never forget.

I was really worn out just walking.

I have some wonderful pictures of it all. So I really had a ball. On my way out Riverside Drive I just had to stop and take a look at Grant's tomb. As many times as I've passed it, this was my first trip there. There were at least a hundred people up there also.

Being so pretty I thought I'd end the day up at Bronx Zoo but when I drove down Bronx River Parkway, you couldn't get within a mile of the zoo. So I'll take that in later.

Took New England Parkway over to Freedom Land. That was even worse. Ended up over in Westbury, L. I. That was so quiet I turned around, took my time along Long Island Sound just to watch the small sail boats, people fishing. More relaxed after such a hectic Easter Sunday.

Paul Vineyard spent the last weekend here in Yonkers. That was a wonderful drive you gave Mighty Tide.

See you next week.

Veterans News QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—As a peacetime—or 'cold war'—veteran, am I entitled to treatment in a Veterans Administration outpatient clinic or by a private doctor and have the VA pay for it?

A—You are entitled to outpatient treatment, or treatment by an approved private physician as well as medicine and bandages only if you are a veteran (either peacetime or wartime service) with a disability incurred or aggravated in service.

Q—I understand that if someone else assumes my GI home loan mortgage I am still personally liable for repayment of the debt. Can that be?

A—The sale or transfer of property subject to or by the assumption of a GI loan generally means that the purchaser does not become personally liable for the repayment of the debt. The original veteran borrower still remains liable for the debt. However, in certain cases the lender, with prior approval of the VA, may consent to the release of the veteran's personal liability. Consult your lender.

Q—Is a veteran who was drafted and served only a two-year hitch and saw no actual wartime service eligible to be buried in Arlington or any other National Cemetery?

A—Yes, any veteran who has a discharge other than dishonorable is eligible for burial in a National Cemetery. Application should go to the superintendent of the National Cemetery in which burial is desired. Any VA office will provide assistance. Application should be made at time of death for grave sites are not reserved.

"Sports Odds And Ends"

The shootin' Smiths, local hawkeyes, had a good weekend on the firing line. Gayle, the father, broke 99 out of 100 clay pigeons to tie with C. D. Clough, of Price, Md., for the Kent County title. Glenn Smith, H.H.S. sophomore, finished next with 96 out of 100 in the competition held Sunday at the Kent Gun Club and Game Preserve between Woodside and Rising Sun.

Saturday, Gayle, Glenn and 12-year-old Gary were in action at the DuPont Fish and Game Club, Wilmington. Gayle and Gary each cracked 47 out of 50 birds with Gary taking the Class E trophy. Glenn won Class C and Top Junior honors by missing only once in 50 shots.

Jo McCloskey, former Felton High basketball standout, won the scoring title in the Dover Women's Basketball League with 137 points. She sank 61 field goals and 15 fouls for an average per game of 15.2 points.

Ralph Gray, local bowler, was a recent winner of a News-Journal bowling award when he rolled consecutive games of 202, 216 and 235.

Allen Reddish, of Denton, ran against the H.H.S. cross-country team at Killen's Pond on several occasions with his best effort resulting in a fourth place. Reddish is now at Washington College and had two wins and a place in a recent dual meet with Western Maryland College.

George Winters, of Houston, Tex., was in Harrington Monday afternoon, looking for former teammates on the local town team of the "thirties". George pitched for Allied Kid in Wilmington and came here several times to pitch for "Keek" Farrow's Harrington Club. Winters blanked the strong Camden-Wyoming team of "Pop" Michaels, Wilkerson, Fifer, etc., the first three or four times he faced them. The writer was always at the park by 9 a.m. for an afternoon game. Here is our lineup of the boys who played with Winters. Catcher, George Short; 1st base, Fred Lord; 2nd base, Billy Shaw; shortstop, Harvey "Zip" Legates; 3rd base, Charles Morris; left field, Britt Holloway; center field, Morris Hall; right field, Townsend Masten. Slim Ryan, Edgar "Yam" Legates and Masten, were other pitchers. We may have missed a couple or three others. This team did not have a weak spot and could put up a good game against any semi-pro team within a hundred miles.

Five Enter Harrington School Race

A five-way race has already developed for Musetta Cox's seat on the Harrington Board of Education with the incumbent running again.

William J. Walls, Mrs. Cox, James W. Rash, Melville C. Taylor and William J. Irwin have all filed for the seat held by Mrs. Cox.

School board elections are May 11 and Kent County Clerk of the Peace Walter Handberry hasn't completed advertising for filings but the Harrington petitions came in last week.

Deadline for filing is April 30, and so far only the Harrington race has materialized.

In Hartly Glen G. Price filed Monday for incumbent Melvin Blechman's seat.

Stock-Car Races To Be Held Here In June and July

Four stock-car races will be held at the Delaware State Fairground here in June and July, Promotor Tom Brown announced this week.

The races will be held on Wednesday nights, June 5, June 19, July 3, and July 27.

Sanctioned by NASCAR, the contests will comprise three heats, a consolation race, and a feature race each night.

Willow Run Ruritan Club Notes

The Willow Run Ruritan Club sponsored an Easter Egg Hunt for the community at the Petersburg Recreation Center Sunday afternoon.

Prizes of live rabbits were given to the winner in each of the various groups.

A pony was also chanced off.

Local Little League Needs More Adult Help

An ambitious expansion program has left the community Little League setup with a shortage in the adult supervision department. Last year's inauguration of a four team Little League provided an opportunity for 60 Harrington boys between the ages of 9 and 12 to participate in an officially sanctioned league. This season plans are underway to start a four team Harrington Senior Little League for those boys 13, 14 and 15. Again this will take care of four times as many boys as could play in the Pony League. The Pony League was restricted to 13 and 14 year olds, also.

At the first registration at the Harrington High School field house Wednesday, 49 lads signed up for Little League play and 26 older boys registered for Senior Little League participation. A minor league will provide for those boys 9 to 12, who are not drafted for one of the four Little League squads with eight teams or more seeing action, coaches and manager are needed, plus official scorekeepers for the new Senior League. It would seem that with upwards of 130 boys involved enough parents would come forward to fill all the vacant spots. Unfortunately, such is not the case. Anyone wishing to volunteer their services this summer should get in touch with League President Jim O'Neal.

A Buddy Dean hop for the benefit of the Little League will be held at the Armory Saturday night. Admission is $1.00. A good turnout will ease the financial problems of the league and help to insure a summer of supervised play for a lot of boys.

SUMMER SCIENCE

Two years of science courses within the areas of biology, chemistry and physics and three years of mathematics. They should rank in the upper ten per cent of their class.

Under terms of the foundation grant, it is expected that apprentices will meet their own expenses as far as resources permit. Some aid is available, however, so that no qualified student may be excluded from the program because of financial need.

Applications and all supporting documents should be postmarked no later than April 15. They should be mailed to Dr. William G. Fletcher, Hullahill Hall. Decisions on applications will be made about April 25.

U. of D. To Offer Home Economics Course

Girls who take an academic course in high school may also be able to gain background in home economics, if an experimental course offered this summer at the University of Delaware is successful.

The four-week course, sponsored jointly by the University and by the Home Economics Department, Vocational Division, State Department of Public Instruction, will be conducted for high school seniors who have had no previous home economics instruction.

At the same time, the class will be observed by Delaware home economics teachers so that they may conduct similar courses in their respective schools.

Girls enrolled in an academic curriculum have few electives available in their first two years of high school, with the result that they have little or no time for home economics courses until their junior and senior years. At that point, many are reluctant to enroll in freshmen courses with younger students. Home economics officials feel that the answer may lie in a "non-laboratory" course, designed to give academic students background in such subjects as management of time and energy, consumer economics, nutrition, textiles, child development, and personal and family relationships.

The teachers this summer will use the class as a workshop, developing curriculum materials that they may personally utilize later.

The summer course will be taught by Mrs. Catherine Bieber, assistant professor of home economics education at the University of Delaware. Classes will meet three hours a day for a total of 60 hours.

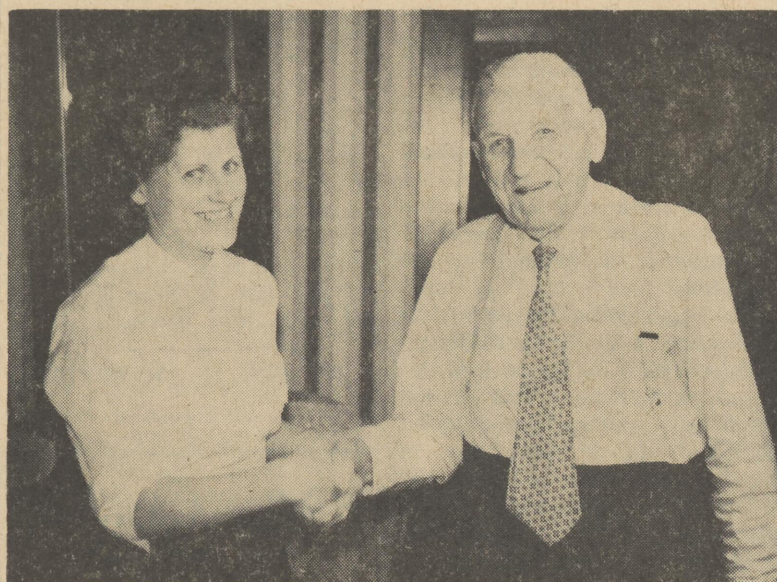

Credit will be determined by the high school officials concerned. Senior girls from every Delaware high school will be invited to attend.

Students considered for enrollment in the program must have completed their junior year, must be recommended by their high school, must present a high school record of high quality and must be interested in studying home economics.

watched and read things on the other side."

Minner, who was a jolly six-footer, slightly bent, loved a good joke. He was up daily at 7 a.m., and to bed by 10:30 p.m. But he started to get ready, at 10 p.m., to go to bed. He had to see that the stoves were taken care of and everything was okay before going upstairs to his bedroom.

Previous to his final illness, he had been ill only three times. Once was in 1918 during the Spanish influenza epidemic. Another was when he broke his kneecap in 1954. In 1955 he had major surgery.

"He was a little hard of hearing," said Melson, "but if we said something he shouldn't hear, you bet his hearing was excellent."

Married in 1888

Mr. and Mrs. Minner celebrated their 63rd wedding anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sylvester Oct. 20, 1951. Mr. and Mrs. Minner were married by the Rev. C. M. Thompson, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church (now Trinity Methodist Church) Oct. 21, 1888, in the parsonage at 112 Mechanic St. The church, at that time, was on the side of the present fire house. In fact, it served as a fire house until the present one was built.

Minner, the son of Nimrod Minner Sr., and Margaret Minner, was born near Harrington March 16, 1862. His wife, Annie, was the daughter of James T. and Wilhelmina Goslee Sylvester, and was born near Harrington Oct. 19, 1870. Mr. and Mrs. Minner lived in this vicinity all their lives.

Minner attended Powell School, at Powell's Crossroads near Harrington, and remembered the late J. Wilbur Powell as his teacher. He later lived on what was later known as the Becker property, which eventually became part of the Harrington Airport which survived until a few years after the war.

Minner first worked in the basket factory of Franklin Brothers on the present site of the Harrington Lumber & Supply Company on the northwest corner of Hanley and Weiner Streets. The firm was owned by William H. and Omar J. Franklin who had invented a basket and who played a prominent role in the history of Harrington.

Works For Pennsy

When Minner was 25, he went to work for the Pennsylvania Railroad in 1887, and worked 46 years and six months until his retirement from his position as baggage master in 1934.

When the veteran railroader went to work, there was only one track, as there is today since the railroad changed from double tracks to single a few years back. On the main line, the locomotive burned coal, and on the branch-line, wood. A roundhouse was situated near what is now the Liberty Street crossing.

Passengers to Rehoboth and Lewes had to get off at the canal and walk the remained of the distance.

Richard C. (Dick) Dale was freight agent when Minner started working for the railroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Minner, when first married, lived at the end of Hanley Street. They remembered well the serenade, a custom which prevailed after Harrington marriages until the Depression. At the serenade, called a chivari in some parts of the nation, the young bloods of the town would beat on pots, pans, and old saws, and fire shotguns at night at the home of the newlyweds. The racket usually did not cease until the merrymakers had been treated with cigars, apples, cake, hard cider, or money. Among those at the Minner serenade were the late Louie Jones, the late William W. Sharp, and L. Booker Harrington, who is still spry.

The late Ben Harrington, a railroad conductor, gave Minner two nicknames. One of them—Cod—persisted. Just why he was called this name, Minner did not remember, but he remembered how he got his second nickname—Barney. "When I lived on the farm, we had a horse named Barney. He (Harrington) got hold of it somehow and that's how I got the name," explained Minner.

C O D

We all call him Cod Minner. But his real name is Nimrod. We know So Cod it was, and Cod it is. And to us it will always be so.

We don't have to tell you who know him.
The things that have made him so dear
The things we will always remember
And refer to "When Cod was here."
No man loved the Lord and his neighbors
More than our good friend Cod
And he shared the real joy of living
With his fellowman and his God.
In our years of railroad service
We have never heard the men
Say a word against Cod Minner
Nor he speak ill of them.
And we know it is the prayer
today
Of all who know you here
That God will bless and keep you
For many more happy years.

(Written by W. Cliff Miller for Minner's 100th birthday anniversary.)

Asbury Church Ever-Ready Class Celebrates 40th Anniversary

The Ever-Ready Class of Asbury Methodist Church School celebrated its 40th anniversary at a covered-dish dinner Monday evening in Collins Hall of the church. Mrs. Reginald McKnatt, the president of the class, presided. Preceding the dinner the class song "You Can Smile" was sung, accompanied by Mrs. William A. Wheeler, at the piano, and the invocation was given by the Rev. Olin J. Shockley, Jr., pastor of the church.

A beautiful cake, presented by the teacher of the class, Mrs. William W. Sharp, was cut by the two most recent past presidents, Mrs. Clarence Jarrell and Mrs. Fred B. Greenly.

During the 40 years there have been four superintendents of the Church School; two have passed to their reward, H. J. Ramsdell and U. P. Morris. Fulton J. Downing, the only past superintendent, and Howard S. Wagner, the present incumbent brought greetings and told of the achievements of the class during their terms of office.

A history of the class, which originated on Easter, April 1, 1923, was read by Mrs. Sharp; also greetings from three former ministers, who were unable to be present—the Rev. J. E. Parker, the Rev. R. E. Green, and Chaplain R. E. VanCleaf. Mention was made of letters received from former members from New York, Pennsylvania, and various parts of Delaware. Several former members returned for this occasion.

Two former ministers and their wives, the Rev. and Mrs. Conrad Hamer, of Wilmington, and the Rev. and Mrs. R. S. Gibson, of Ocean City, Md., were honored guests and made speeches reminiscent of their ministry at Asbury.

Four of the eight original members were present: Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. Ernest W. Dean, Mrs. Theodore Harrington, of Harrington, and Mrs. Grace Masten Evans, of Wilmington, were present. Mrs.

Mrs. Winkler thanked the various "Kerry Dance" and "Good Night, rous chairmen and their committees who were responsible for the success of the afternoon, namely, Mrs. William Kohel, Hospitality Chairman; Mrs. Floyd N. Nasser, decorations; Mrs. Vincent Lobo and Mrs. Gayle Smith, program, and Mrs. Millard Cooper, chairman of tables.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, April 23, when installation of the new directors will be held and a final report of activities of the year will be given.

Mrs. Arthur Hoffman, chairman of the Ways and Means committee has asked members to keep in mind the bake sale scheduled for Sat., May 4, beginning at 10 a.m. at Taylor's Hardware. The calling committee will be in touch with each member concerning this project.

Dean has the distinction of being the only one, except the teacher, who has remained active during the entire period, and the only one who has served twice as president. Mrs. Virginia Clarkson read the roll of presidents who have served and sixteen were present.

Mrs. Fred B. Greenly read an original poem as a tribute to Mrs. Sharp, who has served as teacher of the class from the beginning, and Mrs. McKnatt presented her with a beautiful gold necklace and ear clips from the class in appreciation of her long years of service.

The assembly formed a circle, joined hands, and sang one stanza of the hymn, "Blest Be The Tie That Binds" after which the Rev. Mr. Shockley gave the benediction.

Research Summary Shows 80 Field Tests in 1962

The Agricultural Experiment Station at the University of Delaware conducted some 80 field type research tests at its Georgetown Substation during 1962.

In addition, the Substation served as a base of operations for other School of Agriculture functions, including educational programs of the Co-operative Extension Service, and maintained a diagnostic center for poultry disease analysis.

These facts were reported in the annual summary to the University Board of Trustees last week. Submitting the report were Dr. George M. Worrlow, dean of the School of Agriculture and Vice President for University Relations; Dr. Morris S. Cover, director of the Agricultural Experiment Station, and J. Frank Gordy, substation director.

The 45-page summary highlights experiments in poultry, field crops, horticultural crops and includes yield tests and insect and disease-control studies.

Director Cover said that the basic and fundamental research work of the Station is carried on at Newark but that field-type studies, to explore performance under down-state growing conditions, are done at the Substation.

Working on the projects are researchers from the main Station at Newark and also a staff of Substation researchers maintained at Georgetown.

Cover said many of the projects reported — especially the newer one — "are based on limited research and can be accepted only as indications rather than as definite and final recommendations."

Included in the substation projects last year were a series of experiments on broiler management. Specific tests were on feeding, ventilation, watering, flooring, medication and marketing.

In the area of crops, the Station evaluated 120 soybean introductions for yield and seed quality.

ty. Eight of these showed promise in both characteristics and were selected for further testing. An additional nine, for high yield alone, and 14, for seed quality alone, were retained for further testing.

Other studies were conducted on alfalfa and red clover root and crown diseases, apples, asparagus, barley and oats, cantaloupe, carrots, corn, cucumbers, forage, herbicides, lima beans, mulch materials, ornamentals, peppers, potatoes, strawberries, tomatoes and watermelons.
