Three experts addressed Harrington Lions Monday night on urban affairs in a meeting at The Wonder R.

John Johnson, urban agent, University of Delaware, the main speaker, spoke on the administrative angle.

Robert W. Cook, associate economist, division of urban affairs, University of Delaware, spoke on an economic base study which included industries, businesses, residences, and manpower.

Robert H. Paslay, assistant director of the Delaware State Planning office, Dover, spoke on physical planning.

Newspaper Men Given Tour of State Attractions

The group of writers from metropolitan newspapers and magazines who toured Delaware last week liked what they saw here and advised the Delaware State Development Department which arranged the four-day tour.

While only a few days have passed since the last of the group of writers returned home, already several articles complimentary to Delaware and its tourist attractions have appeared and a large number of highly complimentary letters have been received by the Development Department.

A majority of the 28 touring writers arrived at Rehoboth Beach on Wednesday where they were the guests of the Chamber of Commerce and the "city fathers" for two eventful and pleasant days.

Wednesday evening, Gov. Elbert N. Carvel joined Rehoboth Beach Mayor Juel C. Stamper in officially welcoming the writers to the state and to Delaware's No. 1 resort at an informal reception and dinner.

Thursday's itinerary included a "beach buggy" tour of the beach area; a visit to the Rehoboth Art League studios and a cruise through southeastern Sussex County's inland waterways.

Friday, the travelling travel writers visited Dover, Odessa, and the Winterthur and Hagley Museums, and were guests at a dinner at the Hotel DuPont that evening.

Saturday, the writers visited New Castle to participate in that community's "A Day in Old New Castle" observance and were guests at luncheon at the Arsenal-on-the-Green.

The four-day tour of Delaware was under the joint auspices of the Delaware Travel Council and the Delaware State Development Department, and was arranged by David S. Hugg, of the latter organization. Organizations affiliated with the Travel Council were hosts for the various activities included in the four-day tour.

A similar tour last year was most successful and resulted in much favorable publicity for Delaware and its tourist attractions.

Some of the outstanding were: The Delaware Junior Miss Pageant, Halloween Street Dance, Easter Egg Hunt, and their participation in the Chicken Festival last year, parade, concession stand, float, and the Jaycees help in several displays.

The local chapter was honored by having a winner in two additional state projects, Miss Delaware and Teenage Safe Driving Roadoe.

MEMORIAL BRIDGE TOLL RISES JULY 1 TO 50 CENTS

The Delaware River and Bay Authority Tuesday doubled passenger car tolls for Delaware Memorial Bridge, effective July 1.

The new schedule raises the 25-cent toll for passenger cars and light trucks to 50 cents.

Also doubled is the toll for an auto towing a light trailer. This goes from 50 cents to $1.

Other increases are: two-axle trucks, 50 to 75 cents; three-axle, 75 cents to $1; four-axle, $1.25 to $1.50, and five-axle, $1.50 to $1.75.

Commutation and shopper's ticket prices remain the same, 10 cents a crossing for commuters and 20 cents for shoppers.

The authority said the increases are a pre-financing move in preparation for the construction of a new twin span and the proposed Lewes-Cape May Ferry.

As for the ferry, the board formally accepted reports from the consulting engineers on the feasibility of the operation.

There was a long discussion of the toll increase. All members agreed no changes should be made in commutation and shopping rates.

Theodore C. Bright of Pennsylvania, one of five New Jersey members, said: "The commutation and shoppers tickets have created a lot of good will between the states. We cannot afford to make changes in these two areas because of the good relationship."

"I can see no reason why the regular shoppers and commuters should have to help underwrite a proposed ferry."

Some details of the ferry operation were described last night at the Highway Day dinner by J. H. Tyler McConnell, chairman of the Authority.

McConnell said the proposed ferry can gross more than $2.5 million in its first 18 months of operation if service is started July 1, 1964. He said it could earn its current operating costs and current debt service in the 11th full year of operation.

The son of Knight Dream, Adora, which proved he was as great a pacer in the mud as on a good track.

Carvel Won't Ask Court Test

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel said Tuesday he will not seek a Supreme Court ruling on the constitutionality of two Senate resolutions appropriating substantial sums of money.

But he held out the possibility that such rulings may be sought by another authority and also predicted that money to pay for reapportionment litigation will eventually come from joint action of both houses of the General Assembly.

Carvel also said he will make a last-ditch appeal to President Kennedy tomorrow to have Ft. Miles for Delaware. He said he will discuss disposal of the fort land at a White House conference with Kennedy on "mutual problems."

The Governor told newsmen he has written Atty. Gen. David P. Buckson saying "after careful consideration, I have concluded that it would not be proper for me to request the Supreme Court for its advisory opinion regarding the constitutionality of the two Senate resolutions (41 and 46) to which you refer."

Senate Resolution 41 creates a Senate committee to investigate "alleged violations and irregularities" in the state agencies and appropriates $10,000 for the purpose. SR 46 creates a committee on reapportionment and awards it $200,000 for related expenses.

The governor said "these resolutions are not before me for approval or for any other action on my part. Unlike a statute duly enacted by the General Assembly, a Senate resolution requires no action by the governor."

But Carvel said the auditor and treasurer who must pay the bills of the committees might very well want an opinion regarding them.

He also predicted that reapportionment funds will be voted by action of both houses which will thereby pass legislation taking precedence over the Senate resolution.

In his letter the governor took a swipe at the attorney general for releasing a letter requesting the opinions.

"I regret that you considered it advisable," Carvel told Buckson, "to release to the press a copy of your letter to me within hours after it was delivered to my office."

"Such haste in press releases casts doubt upon the spirit of nonpartisanship which should characterize communications between the governor and the attorney general and which prevailed heretofore with your predecessor."

The Ft. Miles property is to be turned over to the General Services Administration by the Army at the end of this month unless some further delaying strategy can be devised.

Delaware wants the beach resort area for the recreational use of its citizens, but the Army contends that federal law demands it to turn the acreage over to GSA.

Local Youths To Attend Summer Science Day Camp

For the first time since Harrington High School began to participate in the Delaware Summer Science Day Camp, two applicants have been approved, for the 1963 session—Doris Wechtenhiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Wechtenhiser, and Robert Smith, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Smith.

The Summer Science Day Camp, in session from June 17 to July 12, is sponsored by the Education Committee of the American Chemical Society, Delaware Chapter. It is an opportunity offered to the science-minded youth of the state to participate in exploratory experiences designed to supplement instruction-al work in the regular high school science courses. Lectures, tours, and field trips provide members opportunities to learn of some of the latest technological advances in the fields of chemistry, biology, and physics.

Students are selected on the basis of their interest in science, or mathematics, or both, also on their scholastic aptitude as well as the recommendation of their school. Campers chosen for the project must be currently enrolled in the tenth grade.

Camp headquarters will be the Pierre S. duPont High School, Wilmington. Doris Wechtenhiser will stay with Mr. and Mrs. William New, 604 Brandywine Boulevard, Bellefont, and Robert Smith will stay with Miss Katherine Smith, Wilmington.

Each year approximately 28 Delaware boys and girls are selected for the program, which was first organized in 1957.

The following Harrington students have participated in the Delaware Summer Science Day Camp: 1958, Ruth Walls; 1959, William Thompson; 1960, Sandra Tatman; 1961, Carol Smith; 1962, Stuart Greenberg.

His wife, known locally as Ma, died May 8.

Chest X-Rays Increase Here

The number of persons x-rayed here were 732, as compared with 688, for 1962, for an increase of 44.

The breakdown here, for the current year, is as follows: Community, 536, school, 135, and industry, 61.

Tabulations in nearby communities is as follows: Felton, 334, as compared with 274 for last year; Frederica, 135, against 202 last year; Houston, 329, against 330 last year.

PASSAGE OF SOON

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel Tuesday urged the General Assembly to pass the public accommodations bill now lodged in a Senate committee.

"For some time," Carvel said, "I have felt that further public education by the (Human Relations) Commission was necessary for the implementation of the Public Accommodations Act. However, the events of the past few weeks have led me to the conclusion that now is the time for action."

"Among those events is the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court of last week which ranks in importance with the school segregation decision of 1954. This decision reminds us all again that our's is a government of law and not of men."

"The voice of the people of our state is expressed by the General Assembly and I think it is important that the voice be heard without delay. This can only be accomplished by bringing Senate Bill 89 (public accommodations bill) out of committee and having it fully debated and considered."

"I urge the legislature to adopt the recommendation of the State Human Relations Commission and to enact Senate Bill 89 into law at the earliest possible moment."

Carvel told his news conference there appears to be an increasing statewide uneasiness resulting from interracial tensions across the country.

"If appropriate action is not taken by lawmakers and law enforcers to meet a problem of this magnitude," the governor said, "the situation could degenerate into a serious social crisis."

Carvel noted that in 1961 the General Assembly authorized the creation of a 23-member Human Relations Commission, "broadly representative of various racial and cultural groups of the state."

"One statutory obligation of this commission, Carvel said, is to make recommendations to the governor and General Assembly on needed legislation."

Senate Bill 89 was introduced by Sens. Evelyn M. Lord, R-Wilmington and Joseph A. Martin, D-Wilmington. It is now in the Senate Judiciary Committee, chaired by Sen. Allen J. Cook, D-Kenton.

Cook said recently he favors a joint resolution supporting equal accommodations as preferable to enactment of legislation.

Welfare Pilot Plan Approved

The State Board of Welfare will begin an intensive program on Sept. 1 to rehabilitate Delaware families on relief.

Dr. Walter A. Dew, chairman of the board's committee on services, described the complex plan after the board gave its approval Monday night.

The basic idea, Dr. Dew said, involves a system of classification of cases to select those most likely to benefit from intensive casework.

Then, specially trained workers will be assigned to those cases at the rate of one worker for each 60 cases. Workers are normally assigned to caseloads of 150 to 200 each.

The casework rehabilitation plan has been used experimentally in a successful pilot project undertaken jointly by the Department of Public Welfare and the Welfare Council of Delaware, where each caseworker had only 35 cases to handle.

The new project is designed to help families receiving assistance to become independent, self-respecting and productive citizens. The project will be financed 75 per cent with federal funds and 25 per cent with state funds under the terms of new federal legislation.

At the end of last month there were 1,856 assistance cases involving 7,916 receiving aid in Delaware.

The department hopes to be able to transfer 300 relief cases to the new program by Sept. 1.

In another action Monday night, the board extended the program of medical care of old age assistance recipients by approving fee schedules for services of optometrists, opticians, pediatricists and chiropractors.

The optometrists have agreed to provide eye examinations to the department's clients at $3. The optometrists and opticians will fit glasses for a service fee of $5 plus the actual cost of lenses and frames. The board was informed that a standard frame costs $1.75 and that a pair of single vision lenses ranges from $3.40 to $4.85 while bifocals cost from $6.90 to $9.65.

FENCE TALK

With George Vapaa

Continue to apply dust to rose bushes after every rainy period. This must be kept up until the fall.

Cultivate the surface soil to kill weeds.

Insects are liable to become troublesome now. Watch for them and apply remedial measures early.

An added feeding of a complete fertilizer may be given to any perennials which seem to need it.

Sheared deciduous hedges should be trimmed before the new growth hardens sufficiently to make it difficult to cut.

Pinch out the tips of growing shoots of chrysanthemums until they are bushy.

Dahlias may be planted up until about the middle of the month.

Tropical waterlilies may be planted this month.

Remove flower heads from lilacs and rhododendrons for tidiness and to conserve the plants' energies.

Thin the fruits of apples, peaches, plums, etc., if too thick on the branches after the "June drop."

Why not try your hand at propagating shrubs from softwood cuttings? From the last of May until August is a suitable time. Use a vacant coldframe.

Farming in Finland will be my topic on WFIL-TV, Channel 6, next Saturday morning at 8 a.m. It is a half hour slide talk of part of our family trip two years ago.

Dr. George Webster, the farm program director is the host. Dean Belt, our New Castle 4-H Club agent, tells me that Doc is making a European pilgrimage himself this summer. Dean will do the story of their recent horse show June 8th, same time.

"Eyes to the Future," is the theme of our Soil Stewardship Sunday this year. Some of you may see the message in your church bulletin this week.

Charles Blendt, of Smyrna, the president of our state association of soil conservation districts, says that the observance is getting wide attention this year. The ladies auxiliary, under Mrs. Earl White, of Bridgeville, and local home economics extension clubs, are reminding us of the spiritual values in conserving our soil and water resources. A forward look, sound planning, is necessary to preserve and improve on our heritage. American, by and large, are actively working at this stewardship.

Ten thousand acres of woodland are being cleared each year in Delaware. Bill Taber, the state forester, gave us this figure and says the land is going into crops, principally soybeans.

Our farm agency people are taking a critical look at our forest reserves, which admittedly do not return much in cash to farm owners. But trees are important as windbreaks against erosion in dry weather. Trees also help store ground water for local uses and provide recreational areas. These are benefits to the entire community.

Farmers should be given incentives to keep such land in trees—perhaps with 10 or 20 year easements to continue their present use. Bill says easements are widely used on the West Coast for this purpose. Why not here?

How many of us have heard farmers say "Haul it to the woods," when they want trash or obsolete machines away from the farmstead. Many of our woodlots develop into dumps needlessly.

Our group wondered if old highway borrow pits could make good dump sites. The suggestion was to have the Levy Court license and control commercial operators, with the Board of Health doing the inspection work.

Bill said he came to our meeting as a visitor. Most of these ideas are his, and we are happy to give him credit for them.

Summer session courses are being offered at three locations by the University of Delaware: Newark, Dover and Rehoboth. Here is a chance to pick up courses in three to eight weeks that normally take several months.

A wide variety of subjects is to be offered. Our Extension Service on the second floor of the Dover postoffice has catalogue information. Phone 736-1448 for a copy. June 17 is the first starting date. Our staff will be glad to counsel with you.

Thistles and similar weeds are not attractive to livestock except under very dry conditions. Trouble may then develop from poisoning in some species, or the weeds will spread over the whole farm as they go to seed.

Mowing weeds before they go to seed is one way to control them. Grubbing with a spade or hoe is a sure way to root out the plants. 2-4-D chemical does a good job of controlling broad leaf varieties at young stages of growth.

Dr. John Shropshire, our livestock specialist, cautions against these common poisonous plants: arrowgrass, bracken fern, lupine, chokecherry, larkspur, milkweed, water hemlock and nezeeweed.

Cygon is a brand new insecticide that shows good promise around the home and garden. It's a contact killer, a residual insecticide on foliage and a systemic protector inside the plant.

It controls a broad group of insects on such crops as potatoes, tomatoes, watermelons and certain non-bearing fruit trees. It's also good for killing flies around the home or barn.

Cygon is low in hazard to man and animals. Only normal insecticide precautions need be taken. This is one of the materials designed to replace DDT, for which many insects have developed resistance.

We're recommending it right now for borers in such plants as iris and dahlias. You may have trouble finding it locally. There are several sources and we'll be happy to furnish the names. Call 736-1448.

Several weeks ago, I wrote about a rope device treated with oil (Kerosene) to control insects. Dr. Dale Bray, our University entomologist, reminded me to caution against the use of machine oils and greases, which may be toxic to animals that might lick at these back scratchers.

This toxic property is the same reason why we do not leave farm machines where animals may lick at grease fittings, axles, or other oily spots.

Delaware Food Market Report

With the opening of the summer season, watch for holiday specials this week on ham, hamburger, broiler-fryers, bacon and cold cuts. These items are traditional Memorial Day features and meats used often during the picnic season. Weekend specials after the holiday, may also include beef steaks, and rib and round roasts of beef. Pork specials may not be as frequent or as attractive after May, as they have been, since supplies will probably decrease seasonally. Specials on lamb are unlikely. Supplies are lower than last year; prices have increased for a number of cuts in recent weeks.

To be deviled for the picnic basket, are eggs, still on the price toboggan and still one of the best protein buys available. The average price of Grade A large eggs is 45 cents a dozen. Grade A medium size eggs are even more reasonable.

Sweet corn a good cook-out special, is offered for as little at four cents an ear in stores featuring it heavily. Plentiful cartons continue unchanged in price, while quality seems to be better. Other vegetable choices include celery, green onions, lettuce, peppers, potatoes, radishes, and sweet potatoes.

Fruit choices are less generous than vegetable choices this week. Florida watermelons are now the leading fruit buys. Cantaloupe prices jumped up this week and strawberry supplies have been hurt by the recent weather. Those berries that are available, are of good quality but there are not enough of them to go around as yet. All citrus fruits went up sharply and banana prices remain unchanged. Local rhubarb and fresh pineapple prices are still reasonable and should be considered this weekend.

According to the National Dairy Council, milk and milk products provide 23 per cent of the nation's food nutrients for slightly more than 19 cents of each food dollar. The Council also calls attention to June as Dairy Month, to remind you of the heavy supply of milk, which always occurs during May and June. Supplies of milk and many dairy products are running above a year ago for this month. Cottage cheese, for an example, is exceptionally plentiful and local milk producing plants are offering a variety of cottage cheese types, and combinations of cottage cheese with fruits and vegetables.

There've Been Some Big Changes Made

The bus at the top was fine for 1938. It made frequent stops, operated on two lane roads, and encountered little traffic.

Today's bus is designed to run hundreds of miles without stops. Its motor is more powerful, yet quieter; and the coach is air conditioned, rest-room equipped.

But one thing is the same—the Trailways spirit of neighborliness and helpfulness to the traveler. This spirit, we feel, is why Trailways has grown in service to your community and the nation.

Music Teachers Association Sets Spring Meeting

Carleen Maley Hutchins, combination housewife and noted stringed-instrument maker from Montclair, N. J., will be one of the guest speakers at the spring meeting of the Delaware State Music Teachers Association, Monday, June 3, at the University of Delaware.

Mrs. Hutchins recently received a second Guggenheim award of $4,500 for her research, working closely with the Bell Laboratories on acoustical measurements for stringed instruments. Through the use of applied physics, Mrs. Hutchins hopes to revitalize a craft which, she maintains, has seen no major innovators since the 18th century.

Mrs. Hutchins has not limited her scientific approach to the basic strings, the treble violin, the viola, the violoncello and the double bass. Among these, she claims, are gaps which must be filled by new bowed instruments. She is concentrating her research in this area.

Her conventional instruments already are being played in the Budapest String Quartet, the Kroll Quartet, and by members of the Boston Symphony.

As a young woman, she discarded her initial study of the trumpet, which proved too dominant for intimate musicales, and took up the viola. She made her first viola in 1947, and has since been engaged in study and research on tones and timbre, following exhaustive electronics study.

Mrs. Hutchins taught science at the Brearley School in New York City from 1937 to 1949. Married to Morton A. Hutchins, a chemist, she has two children, William 14, and Caroline, 12. In her spare time, Mrs. Hutchins edits elementary school science books.

Mrs. Hutchins will be the speaker at 7:30 p.m. in the Math-Physics building. Her topic is "Acoustics and Research in the Building of Stringed Instruments."

At three, in Room 200, Old College, David Kraehenbuehl will speak on the topic, "Everyone Can Speak the Musical Language." He is director of research and composer in residence at the New School for Music Study in Princeton, N. J. He creates most of the musical materials for the Frances Clark Library for Piano Students. Formerly a member of the music faculties of Colorado College and Yale University, Mr. Kraehenbuehl was the founder and first editor of the Journal of Music Theory, which is still being published at Yale.

The Association's business meeting will be held following Mr. Kraehenbuehl's talk at 4:45 p.m. in Old College. Dinner will be served at 5:30 p.m. at the Student Center.

Information on the sessions may be obtained from Miss Mildred Gaddis of the university's department of music.

Speaking of Insects with Dale Bray

It is surprising how much damage insects do. For example, they destroy more forest trees each year that are destroyed by forest fires. It is their smallness that makes us underestimate this damage. If they were large enough we could afford to go after them as individual insects. As it is, we usually must destroy thousands of them without giving much attention to any particular one.

Armyworms are good examples of the large numbers of insects. The amount of damage one armyworm will do to a grain field is of no importance. But, when a field has thousands of them, as I have seen on many Delaware farms, the field of grain will be reduced. There is only one thing a grower can do when his field is plagued with armyworms and that is to apply an insecticide. Toxaphene or dieldrin can be used on small grains if harvest is seven or more days after application. On corn and sorghum, dieldrin should be used if the plants are to be used as dairy cattle forage. On pasture land, Sevin can be used. Armyworms like cool moist weather. We have had cool weather this year, and the rains of May 17 and 18 may have been helpful enough to the armyworm to bring on an outbreak.

Fortunately, armyworms don't feed on everything that grows. They prefer grass, grain, and corn. I have seen them clean all the grass out of an asparagus field without harming the asparagus in any way. Unless there is no grass, corn or grain around, the armyworm usually will not bother other plants.

The armyworm is just one of the many kinds of insects which can cause trouble. In fact, there are about 10,000 species of insects which are listed as public enemies. It's a good thing not all species of insects are public enemies because there are nearly one million already known. If you piled all the world's insects in one heap and all other animals including man in another heap, the insects would weigh the most. In the soil of a good pasture, there are about 200 million insects. Some ant colonies contain nearly 700 thousand ants, and a healthy termite colony consists of 3 million individuals.

Not all of the importance of insects is due to their large numbers and small size. It takes only one female mosquito to transmit malaria. The same is true for yellow fever, and probably encephalitis is spread the same way. Houseflies have been found to carry the germs of more than 20 human diseases. A single flea can spread bubonic plague, a disease which occurs in several wild animals of our western states and which can be spread to man.

CARE Chairman Named

Frank J. Horty, general manager of the Delaware Memorial Bridge, has been named chairman of a reorganized Delaware CARE

Committee. The reorganization is part of an expanded program through which the citizens of Delaware may assist in CARE's food and self-help projects for the underprivileged people of other nations. A nine-member advisory committee was named to direct the program in Delaware. Named to the group, in addition to chairman Horty, were Charles A. Robinson, Mrs. William N. Cann, Dr. Thomas McGuire, Glenn Dill, Joseph P. Brewer, Lloyd R. Leslie, Paul Roney and Andrew K. Mearns, Jr.

Mr. Robinson has served as chairman of the CARE program in Delaware since 1946. Contributions from Delaware during this period has totaled more than one half million dollars. The Delaware CARE organization will function primarily as an information agency, carrying the message of the work being done and the needs that exist to the citizens of the state. Chairman Horty said that CARE headquarters have been established at 1009 Washington Street, Wilmington, OLYMPIA 8-5458. Literature, motion pictures and other materials are available there.

Chairman Horty also announced the formation of a 28-member community committee to represent the CARE organization throughout the state.

Mrs. Donald Baer, Foulk Woods; Mrs. W. E. Henderer, Wilmington; Mrs. Paul L. Ackerman, Wilmington; Mrs. Mina Miller, New Castle; Mrs. William B. Joseph, Wilmington; Elizabeth Bullock, Wilmington; Mrs. Lawrence Alfele, Woodland Heights; Mrs. Park W. Huntington, Wilmington; William P. Frank, Arden; Mrs. Mina Thompson, Wilmington; Harvey Smith, Wilmington; Ross E. Anderson, Wilmington; Mrs. Edward Berg, Wilmington; Mrs. Charles J. Kilezheski, Wilmington; Mrs. Leo Blumberg, Wilmington, and George Foster, Wilmington.

CARE was organized 16 years ago as a voluntary American organization to provide food for the starving persons in other nations. Since its organization, its program has been expanded to include technical and professional assistance for the persons of underdeveloped nations.

A year ago the agency merged with MEDICO, founded by the late Dr. Thomas A. Dooley in 1958, and today sends physicians, nurses and technicians to developing countries to help heal the sick, staff hospitals and train local counterparts.

Last year the CARE organization delivered $63 million worth of goods and services to needy people overseas.

Landscape Awards Announced by Roadside Council

An added attraction to Delaware Highway Day was the announcement of awards presented by the Delaware Roadside Council on a state and county basis for outstanding landscaping work along highway business locations.

William P. Markland, vice president of the Council announced the award winners at the Highway Day luncheon at noon Monday. Edwin P. Neilan, who completed inspection of the sites last week despite his heavy schedule as president of the United States Chamber of Commerce concurred in the selections on a county basis.

The overall state award went to Marker's Poultry Farm, U. S. Route 13 near Dover. The Marker establishment was cited for having kept its property in good order over a long period of years when this type of business generally does not call for landscaping or plot improvements.

New Castle County awards went to the following: Howard Johnson Motor Lodge, Delaware Memorial Bridge approach, and the adjoining restaurant for general appearance. Western Termite and Pest Control Corp., Route 202, for excellent landscaping.

Shields Suburban Center, Greenville. Ezzo-Humble Oil Station, at U. S. Routes 41 and 52, Kennett Pike.

Top Junior Broiler Growers Named In Delaware Finals

A 12-year-old Kent County 4-H girl is the 1963 grand champion junior broiler grower in Delaware.
Janice Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Harrison, Goldsboro, Md., won the title with her broiler entries judged in finals at the Delaware Fairgrounds, Harrington, last week.

She was awarded $25 and a trophy by the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association, program sponsor in co-operation with certain hatcherymen, service clubs and the University of Delaware.

Winning $20 for second place was Rodney Dempsey, Newark FFA member. Larry Sylvester, Goldsboro, Md., FFA member, placed third and was awarded $15. A Kent County 4-H girl from Dover, Paula Castellini, won fourth place and $10.

Eight weeks to the day before the event, Miss Harrison and 126 other 4-H and FFA members were given 50 broilers to grow to maturity. Average weight per bird raised by the 118 who finished the project was 4.02 pounds. Heaviest birds were 5.36 pounds.

Judging was based on weight, conformation, condition and appearance, and uniformity.

Janice, a third year 4-H member, had placed 39th in 1961 and 15th in last year's contest. A 7th grader at Caesar Rodney High School at Camden-Wyoming, she belongs to the Westville 4-H Club.

Presenting the awards was Harold B. Short, Georgetown, president of DPIA. Harris Swann, Seaford, chairman of the DPIA Junior Broiler Committee, announced the awards during the program.

Fifth through 10th place winners, each winning $7.50, include: Robert Beene, Harrington, FFA, 5th; Chuck Link, Hartly, 4-H, 6th; William Stafford, Bear, 4-H, 7th; Edward Comly, Bear, 4-H, 8th; Lucius Webb, Lincoln, 4-H, 9th; Linda Slayton, Houston, 4-H, 10th.

NOTICE OF REDUCTION OF CAPITAL OF U. OF D. TO OFFER TWO SWIM COURSES

Courses in basic swimming and diving and competitive swimming and diving will be offered in the University of Delaware Summer School from June 18th through July 26th.

Harry Rawstrom, coach of swimming at the university, will conduct both courses in Taylor Pool on the Newark campus. The basic course will meet at 2 p.m. and the competitive course at 3 p.m., five days a week.

Courses carry no credit and are open to both men and women. Registration may be accomplished on or before June 17. Both men and women, as well as school-age children, will be accepted for both courses. Enrollment is limited to 25 and a fee of $25 will be charged for each course.

Emphasis will be placed in the basic course on attaining proficiency in breath control through bobbing, "downproofing," underwater activity, gliding and floating; on learning basic strokes; and on work with elementary dives. Being able to swim is not a requisite for the basic program.

In the competitive course, the four strokes of competitive swimming will be taught, along with dives that sufficiently challenge the abilities of each student. Class members will be urged to compete whenever possible, to develop a high degree of physical fitness, and to be emotionally ready for competition.

A registration form may be obtained by writing the Director of Summer Session, University of Delaware, Newark.

West Elementary School Plans Homecoming

U. D. Researchers To Test Windowless House

How well growing broilers will do in a windowless house will be tested experimentally at the University of Delaware's Georgetown Substation this summer.

The house, designed by E. W. Walpole, extension agricultural engineer at the University, also features an automatic fan ventilation system, insulation, augered feeders which may be raised from the floor between flocks, and gas brooders.

Unveiled to the industry during a poultry open house May 15, the experimental house is 40 by 96 feet and can handle 5000 birds. The first test flock is expected to enter the house in early June.

The windowless feature, unique in the Delmarva area, is an innovation that will undergo thorough tests. Research shows that broilers require little light and are quieter and grow better in darker houses. Eliminating windows also cuts down on initial construction costs and decreases heat loss.

Whether a lack of windows will affect flock performance on hot summer days is a question researchers want to study.

Walpole explained that several different uses of the automatic fan ventilating system will be tried in order to determine how low a rate of ventilation will be needed under different conditions. Ideal temperature for broiler growth is between 60 and 80 degrees F.

The six exhaust fans, located on the south side, can each move 4000 cubic feet of air per minute. Researchers plan to reverse the fans during hot weather to determine this effect on the birds.

The fans can be controlled by thermostats located outside the building—a unique location, since thermostats are generally found inside the house. As the outside temperature rises, the outside thermostat will start the fans to remove air and moisture from the building at a higher rate.

The experimental house also has a gas brooder stove system, used because it lends itself to thermostatic control. This system vents fumes into the air. Walpole said a hot water system would eliminate the fumes and would probably be more economical to operate.

Tests will also be conducted on the floor space requirement for birds. Now figured at .8 square feet per bird, Walpole thinks it possible to reach .6 square feet per bird if environmental control can be achieved. This will be a saving on the housing cost per bird, he said.

Home Economics Questions to Be Studied

The date is June 6, from 2 to 8 p.m.

Flower Show Gets Underway Tomorrow

Thousands of flowers will fill Carpenter Field House at the University of Delaware this weekend, at the Delaware Flower Show gets under way. The flower show, only statewide event of its kind in Delaware, will run from 2:30 to 9 p.m. Saturday, June 1, and from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sunday, June 2.

One of the main features of the show will be a huge floral clock made from specially grown plants by professional gardeners. The clock will serve as a keynote for the show's theme, "These Shining Hours."

Other features will be large exhibits by Delaware nurseries and other groups. Included will be a garden featuring a "gaggle of birds" with sculpture by Robert G. Koch of Dover, a natural wild garden, a contemporary garden with sculpture by Charles Parks, a garden around an old-fashioned covered well and an orchid garden. Other features will be a tropical garden, several gardens in waterfall settings and a display of pressed flowers collected by Mrs. Douglas Sanders, of Wilmington. Several garden clubs will have exhibits featuring various arrangements for informal buffet tables.

In addition to nursery and club exhibits, there are more than 200 classes for all individuals to enter, in both junior and senior age groups. These categories include flower arrangements and single floral specimens. The horticulture categories for single specimens may be entered up to 11:30 a.m. June 1. Entry deadline for other classes is May 30, and programs showing various divisions may be obtained from Robert F. Stevens, School of Agriculture, University of Delaware, Newark.

One of the special individual exhibits will feature tokonomas, the shadow boxes often found in Japanese homes for flower arrangements. This category will be entered by several outstanding flower arrangers, by invitation only.

Prizes to sweepstakes winners will be silver bowls, trays and other items of silver, with gift certificates awarded in the Junior divisions. Junior prizes will be awarded at 7 p.m. Saturday, and senior awards will be presented at 6 p.m. Sunday.

In addition to exhibits, several contests for Junior entrants will be held. The youngsters, up to 18 years of age, will compete in flower judging, flower arranging and plant identification. These events will take place on Saturday morning.

The Delaware Flower Show is sponsored by the Delaware Federation of Garden Clubs and the University of Delaware in cooperation with Delaware nurserymen. Mrs. R. James Quillen, Jr., of New Castle, is general chairman.

The show is open to the public without charge, and anyone interested in flower arranging and flower growing may enter exhibits. Last year more than 5000 visitors attended the show, and preparations are being made for an even greater attendance this year, Mrs. Quillen said.

Evaluate Family's Worth, Make Plans To Reach Goals

What are you worth? Are you getting what you want from your life?

Now that activities are taking on a more leisurely pace for the summer, this is a good time to evaluate your worth and your wishes, says Coral K. Morris, extension home management specialist at the University of Delaware.

You may be surprised by what your family is really worth, she says.

To find out, first of all total the amount of your cash on hand, checking and savings accounts, stocks and bonds, cash value of insurance, estimated value of furnishings, car and other belongings, the market value of your home and other real estate and money owed to you.

In another list, total up the amounts of your mortgage debt and installment debt on car, household furnishings and other items, notes to banks, interest and taxes due and other debts you may have. Then, subtract the two totals to find your net worth.

What your family is worth in terms of money and material things should not be of utmost importance in itself, but it can serve as a guide in determining how successful you have been in the past and in deciding what you want in the future, Miss Morris says.

How can you achieve the kind of life you want? Miss Morris suggests making a list of the things you need and the things you would like to have, both now and sometime in the future. The list might include a house, household furnishings, or a car; a retirement fund; a college education for the children; an extensive vacation trip or other special plans; freedom from housekeeping; or many other items.

Consider your family's living costs, based on current expenses and the amount spent last year. Now you should be able to determine which of your goals you can or should achieve first, and you can make a plan to do so. Before you make any major expenditures, Miss Morris cautions, be sure you have a "safety margin" of savings for any emergencies that may arise.

Evaluate your plan and your progress at definite periods—perhaps monthly or bi-monthly.

Certified Soybean Seed Supply Below Demand

Though certified soybean seed production in Delaware has grown from practically nothing to a thriving business in the past 13 years, Delaware growers can only supply about a sixth of the seed needed by the state's growers, according to Dr. W. H. Mitchell, extension agronomist at the University of Delaware.

Almost 32,000 bushels of certified soybean seed was processed as of May 1, Mitchell explained. Soon, Delaware commercial seed growers will enter the fields to plant an expected 225,000 acres of soybeans.

Parents Teach Child Safety

Child protection is the parent's responsibility, reminds Katie Thomas, County Extension agent, Home Economics. Protection has to be provided for the toddler because he has not learned what can be harmful to him. Teach him safety while he learns about the other parts of his small world.

Children are naturally curious about what is on the other side of the street, what makes a match flame, and what is in the shiny pot on the stove. He must be taught to clearly understand what he is not to touch. You can stay one step ahead of him if you check to see that toys don't have sharp or rough edges. Plastic coverings for unused electrical outlets are inexpensive, notes Mrs. Thomas and they save on worry.

Some household items, such as medicines, matches, knives and scissors must be kept out of the child's reach, even behind locked doors, if necessary. The urge to climb a stool or wash-stand to find a new "toy" has caused many an accident.

Aspirin is a potential killer in the hands of a child—even the candy-flavored tablets which have taken some of the dislike and bitter taste from medicines. As few as 10 child-size tablets, if eaten by the child who investigates the medicine cabinet, can be harmful, or even deadly.

Gates at the top and bottom of staircases limit the child to an area which you can pre-check to be sure that it is safe. In the outside play area, keep clotheslines strung high, cover open holes or drains, and remove glass, nails and all items with jagged edges.

Along with protecting and teaching children, the parent's third responsibility is to set an example by observing safety rules himself, Mrs. Thomas points out.

Mitchell's tabulation showed that the Bethel variety, developed and released by the University of Delaware in 1961, leads the varieties with 10, 527 bushels under certification. This is almost a third of the total certified crop. Kent is next with 9222 bushels.

Mitchell urged soybean farmers to buy seed on a "pure live seed" cost-basis. Mitchell said: "Would you rather buy certified soybeans testing 90% germination and 99% purity for $4 per bushel or 99% of the mill seed testing 60% germination and 70% purity for $2 per bushel?" Too many people decide that the $2 seed is the best buy and never bother to figures out the P.L.S. or pure live seed cost.

Veterans News

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—Who administers National Cemeteries in the United States? A—(a) The Department of the Army through the Office of the Chief of Support Services of the Army administers 86 National Cemeteries in the U. S. and its possessions. (b) The Department of the Interior through the National Park Service administers ten others. These ten are located in Sharpsburg, Md.; Fredericksburg, Petersburg and Yorktown, Va.; Dover, Pittsburgh Landing and Murfreesboro, Tenn.; Gettysburg, Pa.; Vicksburg, Miss., and a small one in Washington, D. C.

Q—Who administers cemeteries where American servicemen are buried in foreign countries? A—The American Battle Monuments Commission administers the U. S. Military Cemeteries and Memorials on foreign soil.

Q—Can I reinstate my GI insurance?

A—With some exceptions, a policy converted to a permanent plan can be reinstated at any time with evidence of good health and payment of all back premiums with interest. A permanent policy surrendered for cash cannot be reinstated, except for men in active service. Under certain conditions, five-year term insurance can be reinstated only if within the five-year term period, with evidence of good health if lapsed over three months.

Q—Is age a barrier in serving as a volunteer worker at a VA hospital?

A—No. In fact, some of the outstanding volunteers have been men and women in their 70's and 80's. Such elderly folks usually have plenty of time on their hands and many of them, through trials of their own, have learned to be sympathetic and understanding. Then again, patients accept and look with affection upon the elderly volunteers, maybe because they are reminded of parents or relatives. Ability and willingness to serve are far more important than age.

Q—Is a veteran expected to retire when he reaches 65 whether he would like to do so or not?

A—That would depend entirely upon the veteran. Many people, because of health or other reasons, plan to retire at 65; many others are both capable and desirous of remaining at their work for many years to come. More and more senior citizens are finding that they have a definite role to play in the modern world.

Q—I have read that elderly people in general will benefit from the medical research programs carried on by the VA. Isn't it true that only veterans can take advantage of VA medical and hospital care?

A—Only veterans can directly receive VA hospital or medical care. But advances made in the treatment of illness or disability through VA research are passed on, like all research, to the world and humanity in general is aided.

Student Center Director Appointed At U. of D.

Jack S. Sturgell, director of The Campus Center at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va., has been appointed student center director at the University of Delaware. He will assume his new duties on August 1.

Sturgell succeeds John E. Ewart who resigned in February to become assistant director of the student union at Boston University.

The appointment was announced by Dean of Students John E. Hocutt who said, "I am delighted that a man with Jack Sturgell's qualifications has been found for this important position. As director of the student center, he will be responsible for the organization and direction of educational, cultural and recreational programming."

The Student Center is the hub of student activity at the University. Plans for an addition costing more than one million dollars already have been announced and construction is expected to begin this summer.

Sturgell, a Navy veteran, holds B. A. and M. A. degrees from the University of North Carolina and has worked toward his doctorate at the University of Virginia. A native of Kentucky, he taught social studies at Danville, Va., High School from 1949 to 1952 and served as assistant dean of men at William and Mary from 1953 to 1957. After two years as a faculty member at Sweetbrier College, he returned to William and Mary where he has been engaged in student center work for the last four years.

In Williamsburg, he has been a member of the Board of Directors of the 20th Century Art Gallery. He is a member of the Kappa Alpha social fraternity.

Mental Health Ass'n. Directory Available

The Mental Health Association of Delaware announced the release of a new edition of the "Directory of Outpatient Psychiatric Clinics and Other Mental Health Resources in the United States and Territories."

Compiled by the National Association for Mental Health and the National Institute of Mental Health, this directory is the only national listing of its kind. Detailed information is given on each outpatient clinic, including name and address, auspices, geographical area and special groups served, age limitations, clinic schedule, and number and type of professional personnel.

In addition, the directory lists state mental hospitals, public institutions for mental defectives and epileptics, psychopathic hospitals, Veterans Administration mental hospitals, state mental health associations, state departments dealing with mental health, and regional offices of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The Rev. James R.

Hughes, president of the Mental Health Association of Delaware, in announcing the availability of the directory, said that the new listing indicates that "as a nation, our mental health services are being expanded and reorganized with considerable speed", and he looks forward to the implementation of the American Psychiatric Association's "A Mental Health Program for Delaware." This directory is made available to professional agencies and individuals in Delaware by the Mental Health Association's Information Service. One of the responsibilities of this service is to offer a guiding hand to direct those who have lost their way and direct them to an appropriate community resource for specific help. This service, free of charge, is made possible by your United Community Fund contributions. Copies are available through Mental Health Association offices, 1505 North Franklin Street, Wilmington, 6, Del. There is fee for each issue.

Felton Is Henlopen Baseball Champion

Felton High School won the Henlopen Conference baseball championship with a team that has only two seniors, pitcher Mike Harrington and left fielder, Tom Williams. This might lead to more of the same next year.

Felton trailed John M. Clayton by one game with both teams scheduled to play one more time. The Green Devils swamped Selbyville 12-0 and Delmar's improving Wildcats edged John M. Clayton in extra innings. The Conference had received permission this year to play off any ties so a championship game was played Monday afternoon before a good crowd at Greenwood's neutral field. Felton won 6-3 and now is the proud holder of its first Henlopen title.

At Selbyville the Rebel's hurler Smith gave Felton some uneasy moments as he pitched shut-out ball until the winners scored two runs in the fifth. Ten more runs came across in the next two frames to complete the rout. For the winners five players contributed 11 of their 14 hits. Draper (3), Blades (2), Ludlow (2), Harrington (2) and Green (2) did the honors with Harrington getting a triple and Green sending three runs across the plate.

Harrington pitched a two hitter as Selbyville missed a chance to end the season with a .500 average.

Monday afternoon at Greenwood Bill Green worked Clayton's ace fireballer for a walk in the bottom of the opening ending. Sam Ludlow blooped a safety into left as Green held at second since it looked as if the ball might not drop in. Bill Wood singled into left scoring Green for a score of 1-0. Tom Williams looked at a called third strike, but Bill Clark smacked one of the pitcher's shins and beat it out for a hit. Mike Harrington stared at a called third strike. With three ducks on the pond Bill Dill slashed one down the left field line which eluded Reggie Helms for a three-run triple and all the runs that Felton was to need. This was done of the fastest pitcher in the conference.

Mike Harrington fanned the first two men in the second stanza but the third batter laced one toward the hole between second and short for an apparent base hit. Will Dill (same as Bill Dill) at the last split second dove for the ball with an across-the-body stab, got it in the glove's webbing and whirled to throw to first for the out.

Clayton got it's first hit in the third as centerfielder Bill Clark just barely missed a diving catch. Clayton scored twice in the fourth on two hits and two errors as the base umpire ruled that first sacker Dave Wood didn't touch the runner on a disputed play. The Bears added another run in the fifth as Tim Timmons belted a pitch into deep left-center field for a home run.

Felton came back in the fifth for the final two runs of the afternoon. Dave Wood worked Long for a walk and came home on Tom Williams triple to right. Williams scored as the first baseman fumbled a throw from third on a ground ball.

In the sixth the hustling Bill Green drove a ground ball through the infield and never even resitated at first but tore on to second. He made a beautiful hook slide to the third base side of second base to elude the infielder's tag. Green then neatly stole third as the Bears never even bothered to try for the little speedster. He appeared to have designs on home plate too but the inning ended after one more pitch. Where was this guy when the Henlopen Track Championships were held two weeks ago?

He might have scored some points in both the sprints.

In the seventh just two outs from payday gutty Mike Harrington gave palpitations to all Kent Counties present as he walked two men. A hard drive to center field followed but it was too high and was raked in by Bill Clark. A smash past Harrington was grabbed on the run by Will Dill who raced to second to make the game ending putout.

Harrington's final game as a Felton uniform was a good one as he allowed only five hits. Sam Ludlow was the only Devil to get two hits though the winners had nine bingles.

Track At H.H.S. Is On Way Back

The track team at Harrington High School is on the way back to a level comparable to that of the peak years of '59-'60-'61. The 1963 model under the leadership of Coach Harold McDonald broke one of the school's better records, the mile relay, set three new Henlopen Conference marks and missed winning the league championship by a measly two points. All this was accomplished without the services of Dennis Rogers, 1962 loop cross-country on for heavy duty. Others missed some meets due to conflicts with school trips, jobs, etc.

The mile relay standard was set at the Milford Invitational where the Lions finished 5th in team scoring in a field of seven teams. Bob Smith, Barry Fry, Jeff Adams and Bill Sollars nosed out a quartet from Wicomico, of Salisbury, Md., in a time of 3:43.9. The old school mark of 3:49.2 had been set by Jim Schiff, Don Garey, George Pfeiffer and Buddy Bonniwell in 1959. Before this race Smith had already run and placed in the mile run and the quarter mile run. Adams and Fry had competed in another race, also. If this foursome had been fresh they might possibly have broken 3:40. At any rate the Lion mile relay team turned out to be good enough to have run at the Penn Relays in Philadelphia's Franklin Field. Unfortunately their high caliber was a complete secret in March when entries must be in for the big track festival at the University of Pennsylvania's big layout. The Penn Relay's is the world's largest and oldest track carnival. On one of the best tracks in the East and in front of 40,000 cheering fans, lads do much better than they ever dreamed possible. Dutch Bill, of Seaford, after two or three years of trying finally ran a 54.9 quarter mile at Seaford. In the Penn Relays Dutch ripped off a 50.9 time for the same distance. Said he "I felt like I was flying on that good track with all that cheering."

Barry Fry, at the Henlopen Championships, was the twelfth man wide in a field of one dozen, but came from there to clock 54 seconds flat and shatter the Conference mark and approach Jim Schiff's school standard of 53.6 set in 1959. A smaller field might have seen Fry under 53.5. Frank Cain and George Bonniwell leaped 10 ft. 6 in. the same day to beat Cain's 10 ft. 1 in. school record.

Jeff Adams, Fry, Smith and Richard Black broke the conference mile relay record with 3:49.2. Most of the team will be back next season. Watch them soar in '64. Adams, who surprised by running the quarter in 55 seconds, will be the hardest of the few track seniors to replace.

H.H.S. Nine Loses Overtime Tilt, Ends In 3rd

Jim Hawpe's Harrington High School team dropped an extra-inning game at Milton by a score of 6-5 on Thursday and in so doing were prevented from finishing the season in a first place tie with John M. Clayton and Dill, 2b. In other upsets the same day, Millsboro bowed to Bridgeville 8-4 and John M. Clayton lost to Delmar 4-3 in another extra-inning game. The J.M.C. loss set up the possibility of a four-way tie for the top spot in the Henlopen Conference, but the defeats of Harrington and Millsboro made it a two way deadlock as Felton slaughtered Selbyville's Rebels 12-0.

The locals were sailing along with a 5-0 lead as Milton came to bat in the last half of the fourth inning. The Warriors put together five runs to tie the score and it remained that way until the home team scored the winning run five innings later. Both teams had eight hits, with Bill Adams leading Harrington with two in five attempts. Bill had at least a pair of safeties in each of the Lions' ten games. This is the most consistent hitting performance at H.H.S. in many years. We remember another good show put on by Harold Brown in '43 or '49. Brown, a speedster on the basepaths, opened the season by hitting safely his first fifteen trips to the plate.

Harrington's 7-3 record and third place finish is the best local effort since the 1959 team finished in a first place tie. Jeff Adams and Dick Collins are the lone seniors on the squad. This leads to hope for another strong showing next season.

Greenwood Beats Rehoboth in Finale

Greenwood finally overcame stubborn Rehoboth by scoring thrice in the sixth inning to win 7-5 in the contest played in the resort town on Thursday afternoon. The Foresters ended their campaign with a 3-7 record as they tied for eighth place in the eleven team Henlopen Conference.

Julian Woodall, who has been Greenwood's only pitcher for two years, held the Beachboys to six hits while his mates managed seven safeties off a pair of hurlers. Bruce Henry and Buell Schulze had two hits each for the winners. Woodall aided his own cause by driving in two runs as did Bruce Henry. Woodall will be back for another go-round next season after which Coach Carl Baker will have to stir his charms to find and develop another moundsmen.

Greenwood opened the game by scoring twice, only to have the Seahawks tie it up in their half. The same thing happened in the next inning. Rehoboth took the lead with one run in the fourth to set the stage for the Forester's winning rally.

LAUREL RACEWAY

(Continued from Page 1) surface when he won both classics here last year under heavy flogging, won five straight Harness Tracks of America Series races this spring and finished a close second to the Lehigh Stable's Lehigh Hanover in the $50,000 final at Sportsman's Park last Friday night. Although Lehigh Hanover won the Final in 2:00, it was over a five-eighths mile course, leaving untouched Adora's Dream's 2:00.4 season's and series record over a half-mile track.

Owner Quillen, of Dagsboro, told President Hutchison that he was offered a half-million for Adora's Dream last week by Jack Stahl of New Rochelle, N. Y. He turned down the offer, however, stating that he wouldn't accept less than $1,000,000.

In scouting for suitable racing partners for Adora's Dream, Hutchison contacted the world's leading money-winning skipper and master of one of the finest public stables in the nation, Stanley Dancer, of New Egypt, N. J., who gave a green light for his HTA Final champ, and winner of last year's Little Brown Jug, Lehigh Hanover.

Hutchison, going all out in arranging these two $10,000 matches, said he plans to contact owners of some of the top Eastern Shore horses shortly.

Maryland's pioneer harness oval is going into its sixteenth season. The 32-night session will be the longest of the harness variety in the State's history. Last year Laurel Raceway enjoyed one of its best meets ever, jumps in attendance and wagering over the previous year setting national records. Attendance was up 81 per cent and betting increased 67 per cent.

The "Twin Double" wagering system, regarded as one of the keys to last year's success, again will be featured during the forthcoming meet. Post time nightly will be 8:30.
