

THIRD AT-LARGE LEVY COURT BILL OFFERED

The third in a series of similar bills to have Kent County Levy Court commissioners elected at large was introduced Monday in the House.

The new bill, HB 474, would provide for the three commissioners to be nominated from a specific district but chosen in a general election by a total vote within the county.

Under the bill introduced by Rep. L. Gooden Darling, D-Hartly, and H. Dawson Shulties, D-Willow Grove, the Levy Court districts would be changed. The first district would be composed of the now 1st, 2nd and 5th representative districts; the second would be the 3rd, 4th, 6th and 9th representative districts and the third would include the present 7th, 8th and 10th districts.

Democratic sources in Kent County said the bill introduced Monday represents a consensus of what a majority of the party's committee wants in the way of legislation.

Some time ago, Kent County held at-large elections and the wish is to return to that. However, most believed that voting in a primary election should only be within the district from which the commissioner is to come.

Two earlier bills will be stricken from the house calendar. Commissioners would be elected at-large every two years under terms of HB 474.

All members of the court almost certainly would be from one party, under provisions of at-large election. In the past decade, Democrats have scored majorities in every election.

The earlier bills, HB 220 and HB 355, both were introduced by House Majority Whip Glenn W. Busker, D-Smyrna, and both were referred to Busker's Revised Statutes Committee.

The three bills apparently differ only as to district boundaries.

Legion Sponsors Gift Shops

The first of the American Legion Auxiliary's Christmas Gift Shops for the hospitalized veterans was held Saturday, Nov. 30, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the Veterans' Administration Hospital in Perry Point, Md.

Members of the 26 units throughout the state collected and themselves contributed gifts which were set up in a Christmas shop to be visited by the patients who will select gifts therefrom for the members of their families. After the gifts are selected and appropriate gift cards written by the veterans, they are gift wrapped and mailed free of charge to the veterans' families. Many hundreds of veterans will visit the Christmas gift shop at the Perry Point Hospital Saturday.

Similar gift shops will be held at the Brack Ex Veterans' Administration Hospital Sat., Dec. 7, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.; at the State Hospital, Farnhurst, on Wed., Dec. 11, beginning at 9 a.m. and at the Emily P. Bissell Sanitarium on Mon., Dec. 16, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. William N. Cann, the Department Rehabilitation chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Delaware, will be in charge of the various gift shops.

Veteran patients at the Welfare Home at Smyrna and at the Governor Bacon Health Center are also remembered with gifts at Christmas.

SHD Awards Map Contract

The State Highway Department has awarded a contract to A. Hoen & Co., Baltimore, for the preparation of 125,000 State Highway maps for the year 1964, at a price of $8,087, the low bid price submitted by this concern when bids were recently received on this project.

Since the present supply of highway maps is depleted, the contract provides for an early delivery of a portion of the maps, perhaps during January.

The new maps will contain colored photos of interesting places in Delaware, as well as much information concerning the state. The route of the Delaware Turnpike and approach route to the Lewes-Cape May Ferry will also be shown on the map.

Other contracts awarded by the Highway Department included one to the Delmarva Asphalt Co., Seaford, for 6,100 tons of slag, at their low bid price of $30,378, and one to Carey Equipment Co., Seaford, for providing a compactor-cutter-crusher for use in Sussex County, at their low bid price of $3,350.

Senate Ok's Bill to Name Pike for JFK

Measures, to rename the Delaware Turnpike for John F. Kennedy and request other states on the Boston-Washington route to do the same were passed by the Senate Tuesday.

A bill and a companion resolution were passed under a suspension of rules since they were introduced only moments before Gov. Elbert N. Carvel suggested both actions in an address to the General Assembly Monday.

The bill would designate the entire Delaware Turnpike as the "John F. Kennedy Highway."

The resolution requests that the several states through which the route from Boston to Washington passes rename their arteries so the entire roadway can be called the "John F. Kennedy Highway."

There is a bill in House committee to appropriate $50,000 to erect a monument to the late President at the site on the line where he dedicated the Delaware and Maryland toll roads.

Kent County, meanwhile, decided to let a proposed new state office building in Dover stand as its memorial to Kennedy.

County Democratic Chairman Vernon B. Derrickson, acting on a suggestion he received last week to select a suitable tribute to the late President, reported Tuesday to Levy Court that Kent County has "no memorial suitable for the stature of President Kennedy."

Derrickson suggested that a proposed state office building, now being considered by the General Assembly, stand as Kent County's tribute to President Kennedy.

The $2-million building would be erected on the state capitol grounds in Dover.

Century Club to Present Christmas Play Tuesday

The December meeting of the Harrington New Century Club will be held next Tuesday evening at 6:30 with a covered dish supper at the club house. Members are invited to bring their husbands or a guest to the festivities. Place settings for each person will also be needed, along with the covered dish.

The program for the evening will be a play, "The Christmas Party", starring outstanding dramatic talent of the club and town. Mrs. Harry John Dill, Jr., is chairman for the evening. Members of her committee are Mrs. Fulton J. Downing, Mrs. O. J. Nemes, Mrs. Frank Derrickson, Mrs. L. S. Masten, Mrs. Leon Kukulka, Mrs. O. T. Shockley Jr., Mrs. Frank F. Quillen, Mrs. Abner Hickman, and the Rev. Mrs. Lorraine Ottlinger.

Mrs. Theodore Harrington, Sunshine Chairman, has also asked that members bring fruit for the cheer baskets which the club annually gives to shut-ins. The fruit may be brought to the Club House at the time of the meeting, 6:30 Tuesday, Dec. 10.

MAMMOTH PARADE USHERS IN YULETIDE PROGRAM HERE

Fifty-five floats, vehicles, and marching units took part in a parade here Saturday afternoon which saw the ushering in of the Chamber of Commerce's annual Christmas program.

Winners in the float division were as follows: 1st, Taylor Hardware, $25, 2nd, Peck Brothers Farm Supply Company, $15, and 3rd, Harrington Century Club, $10.

Winners in vehicles were as follows: 1st, Clendening Pharmacy, $10; First National Bank, 2nd, $5, and 3rd, Rob Wan Shop, $5.

The Cub Scouts won first prize in marching units. Judges were Borden Smith, radio station WKSB, Milford; Miss Roseanna Messick, Houston, and Claude Cahall, Camden-Wyoming.

A feature of the parade was the participation of Miss Delaware, Miss Diane Isaacs, of Greenwood. She rode in the vehicle of B. Norman Hopkins. Another feature was the 40 et 8 locomotive of the Sussex Kent Voiture of the American Legion. The vehicle was in the parade and, afterwards, took children for rides.

Christmas Program At Asbury W.S.C.S.

A play entitled "At the Manager" was presented at the December meeting of the Asbury Methodist Church Woman's Society of Christian Service Tuesday evening. Mrs. B. Norman Hopkins was leader for the program.

Mrs. Floyd Nasser, president, opened the program with a prayer in memory of the late John F. Kennedy. Mrs. Fulton Downing, Spiritual Life Secretary, gave the devotions on "The Meaning of Christmas."

The play was also a comment on the meaning of Christmas in this day and time and on the importance we place on the shopping and rushing as opposed to the real message of the Christ child. Those taking part in the play were Mrs. Harry John Dill, Jr., Mrs. Earle Nelson, Miss Dawn Hopkins, Ruthann Moore, Mrs. Marvin Richardson, Mrs. Donald Jarrell, Mrs. Millard Cooper, Mrs. James Moore, Mrs. Robert Masten and Mrs. William A. Minner.

At the business meeting which followed Mrs. Nasser announced that Mrs. Mark Willey, promotion secretary, is urging all members to participate in a membership drive to add new members to the W.S.C.S. rolls.

A great number of gifts were brought to be sent to the Neighborhood House in Wilmington. Children from the Primary and Junior departments also have sent gifts for the house.

Unreported until now was the total received in the UNICEF drive. The amount collected was $126.02. 57 children from Asbury participated in the drive.

Mrs. Downing also announced the beginning of a prayer group to be held in the Chapel every Wednesday morning from 10 to 11 a.m. beginning January 8. The Rev. Shockley will be the first leader and everyone is invited to attend.

Student recognition day will be held again this year during the Christmas vacation. Mrs. Charles L. Peck, Jr. is working with the Rev. Shockley on the plans.

Mrs. Peck has also arranged to have a poster listing the names and addresses of all of our students and servicemen who are away from home. She is hoping that many members of the church will send them Christmas greetings at this time.

The youth of the church will once again present the living manger scene this year. Mrs. Charles Rapp, Sunshine Chairman, would like to have the names of any shut-ins so that she may send them cheer bowls before the holidays.

Members of the local church Activities Committee served refreshments at the conclusion of the meeting.

Sabin Oral Vaccine Clinics Open Dec. 8

Four Kent County physicians will be directing the six Sabin oral vaccine clinics in the county this Sunday when the second phase of the statewide polio immunization program gets underway.

The doctors and the clinic locations which they will be supervising are: Dr. Richard W. Comedys, Smyrna Armory; Dr. Benjamin F. Burton, Frederica Firehouse; Dr. Hewitt W. Smith, Harrington Firehouse, and Dr. Maynard H. Mires, State Board of Health Building in Dover. Dr. Mires will also be in charge of the clinics at the Camden-Wyoming Firehouse and the Hartly Firehouse.

Clinic hours for the administration of the Type 3 oral polio vaccine are 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. In all, a total of 50 sites in Delaware will be used as clinic locations.

The physicians in charge of the polio clinics in Kent County will be assisted by volunteer nurses from the Delaware Chapter, American Red Cross, by volunteer pharmacists, by members of the National Foundation, and by representatives of the State Board of Health.

Like the Type I Sabin vaccine given at clinics on November 3, Type 3 will be administered by dropping three drops of vaccine on a lump of sugar and giving the lump to an individual to be eaten. No needles are used.

Dr. Henry H. Stroud, state chairman of the polio immunization campaign, said that the vaccine given at the clinic this Sunday is entirely different from that offered at the first clinic. He said that there are three different strains of polio virus, and three separate vaccines are needed to afford complete protection.

It is necessary, he added, for Delawareans to take all three types of the vaccine, including Type 3 given this Sunday for complete protection. The final dose, Type 2 vaccine, will be given at statewide clinics on Jan. 19.

Delawareans who missed the first of the current series of Sabin vaccine clinics should nevertheless attend the clinics this Sunday and receive Type 3 vaccine, Dr. Stroud said. He pointed out that the vaccine given Sunday will afford protection against Type 3 polio virus, and recommended that persons who did not receive the Type 1 vaccine take the Type 3 this weekend and the Type 2 vaccine which will be given on Jan. 19.

Robbery Suspect Back From Florida

Five months after he fled the state, a robbery suspect was returned here from Florida by state police Saturday.

The accused man, George Louis Stevenson, 26, of Houston, who, police said terrorized a young woman when he leaped into her car with a knife and then stole the vehicle, was taken before Magistrate Clarence E. Dyer. He was committed to Kent Correctional Institution in default of $5000 bail on a robbery charge.

State police claimed Stevenson from Florida authorities who arrested him recently in Deland. He waived extradition.

The piece-meal trail began police said, when Stevenson jumped into Mrs. Hortense Ayers' car which had stopped for a red light on Rt. 13 in Harrington.

Mrs. Ayers was forced from the driver's seat and Stevenson took her on a "wild ride," ending when he stopped at Ellendale, beat her, took a watch and her money and drove off, according to police.

Americans Unite In Crises, Rutledge Tells Democrats

The proper evaluation of the late President Kennedy by historians will take time, Allen B. Rutledge said at a Christmas party Tuesday of the Ninth District Democratic Club in Farmington Firehouse.

Rutledge, guidance counselor in Harrington schools, added the president's assassination caused the nation to assume an air of sadness.

Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley were the other presidents assassinated, he pointed out, but the demses of the last two-mentioned individuals have not been as prominent in the public eye as those of Lincoln and Kennedy. In fact, Rutledge added, the death of Kennedy received the greatest news coverage of that given to any individual.

The assassination hurt us abroad, he believed, but he thought the smooth, rapid transition from one president to another may have helped us abroad. The transition served notice we are a nation of strong principles, that in time of crises we unite as one people, and that a leader always springs up. He believed Johnson would be a strong president and one who would see us through.

Rutledge conducted the Christmas program, there being no business transacted because of the death of President Kennedy.

The program opened with a Bible reading by Peggy Edgar, a prayer, and a pledge of allegiance to the flag led by Miss Judy Melvin.

Mrs. Esther Stubbs sang several numbers, accompanying herself on the accordion. Ray Wright gave two trumpet solos.

Santa Claus distributed apples, candy, and other gifts. Robert Stubbs won a cake.

President George H. Exley announced the next meeting would be Mon., Jan. 6, at the American Legion Home here and that William Potter, Democratic national committeeman, of Wilmington, would speak.

The City Council will advertise for a chief of police, with appointment scheduled for reorganization night in January, when it is customary to consider rehiring of all City employees.

At its December meeting Wednesday night, the Council heard Mayor Fulton J. Downing recommend advertising for a chief of police. He added he felt Chief of Police David Peterson had not had enough experience. The five Council members present then voted unanimously to accept the mayor's recommendation.

The membership of the Council may be different after the municipal election however, and the actions of this Council cannot be necessarily binding on another Council. Chief Peterson had been a patrolman before he assumed his present post on the resignation of Chief Ernest Kohland.

In other activity: City Manager Alfred G. B. Mann said there had been good response on the paying of delinquent water accounts. He added he "turned off two today and they paid up." Continuing, he said he had not found five other delinquents at home but that he would return. The City does not like to turn off water without giving notice, fearing damage to devices using water.

The Council agreed to authorize Richardson Associates, consulting engineers, to make a survey for a water main from the water tower to Thorpe Street, thence due east across East Street to Porter Street. Cost of survey would be $880.

The main would be of 8 or 10-inch pipe. Construction date is indefinite, the procuring of funds yet to be solved.

The new main would help intersecting lines from other streets, a dairy, and possible new industry.

Authorized the city manager to buy 10 traffic cones and 5 flasher lights for traffic control. Decided to hold January meeting on the 8th because its regular meeting date is New Year's.

Authorized house-to-house survey, to cost $150, to ascertain street address, taxable occupants, sewer and water connections, and type of business, data to be ready (Continued on Page 5)

Entomologist to Visit London

Dr. Lewis P. Kelsey, assistant professor of entomology at the University of Delaware, departed Nov. 27 for a trip to the British Museum in London. He will study some types of Scenopinidae flies, (a group of flies commonly known as "window flies").

From London Kelsey will fly to Paris to study a collection of 14 fly specimens housed at the Museum of Natural History. During his two week stay in Paris he will make a side trip to Admont, Austria, where a Benedictine Monastery has another collection of these flies.

The trip is connected with Dr. Kelsey's studies of the Scenopinidae flies of the world. To date, he has examined approximately 80% of the available species of these flies and has about a hundred new species to examine and identify.

Material gathered during Dr. Kelsey's trip will be submitted to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C. for publication.

Miss Groves—Your lesson for tomorrow will be John Milton's Life Works and Characteristics.

Chairman Named At U. of D.

Associate Professor Max S. Kirch, a University of Delaware faculty member since 1953, has been appointed chairman of the department of modern languages and literatures.

He has been acting chairman of the department since June 10.

The appointment was announced this week by Dean Bruce Dearing of the school of arts and science, who said that Dr. Kirch "has demonstrated unusual capacities for organization, recruitment of faculty and the development of teaching programs during nearly six months as acting chairman of the department."

Professor Kirch has received national recognition for his teaching, experimentation and writing on foreign language teaching, especially at the elementary school level. His publications include "The Implication of FLES for the Elementary School, High School and College" and "Formal or Familiar Forms of Address for FLES?"

Last summer Dr. Kirch conducted a seminar for younger members of the department faculty in an effort to improve instruction. He also has supervised NDEA summer language institutes at the university for the last three years, which offer programs for the retraining of elementary and secondary school language teachers of French, German and Spanish. He works closely with the school of education faculty for whom he offers a course in teaching methods and supervises 15 student language teachers.

Delaware's department of modern languages and literatures presently has 15 full-time faculty members and three graduate assistants. The department has 120 majors and 1,325 course enrollments. Majors are offered in German, French, Spanish and Russian and courses also are offered in Italian. Dr. Kirch himself teaches education courses for language teachers, German and linguistics and is qualified to teach French and Spanish. He believes there is a promising future for his department because of the considerable demand for language majors as teachers, translators and interpreters.

The new chairman said that a student majoring in a foreign language must have the ability to understand, speak, read and write the language and have an understanding of the life and culture of the lands where that language is spoken. The non-major must have at least minimal control of the language for communication and understanding and also have general historical and cultural background.

Professor Kirch received his bachelor's, master's and doctor's degrees from the University of Pennsylvania where he held a Mayor of Philadelphia scholarship. While at the University of Delaware he has received a faculty research grant and, in 1956, the Foreign Language Travel Grant. In addition to his publications on elementary language teaching, Professor Kirch has written a college textbook on the teaching of German through language laboratory drills. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Delta Phi Alpha, the AAUP, the Modern Language Association of America, the American Association of Teachers of German and other professional organizations.

Now get busy and study it. (A few minutes of silence and then whispering among the girls.)

Miss Groves—Here, girls, what are you doing?

Irene—O! I was just talking about Milton (Welch).

Miss Libby—Drexel, what year was the French and Indian War?

Drexel (Bullock)—In 1492.

Orin Crane '25 wrote of a trip to Dover by the agriculture class. The Junior Class, Dec. 16, 1922, held an entertainment at the New Century Club Building. In January, a sketch, "Her One Proposal," was given. Those taking part were Winona Thompson, Emile Moore, Marine Welch, Helen Betson, Ruth Workman, Rachel Price, and Verna Thompson.

Miss Woodland was one of the teachers.

Swain-Schaper Wedded Nov. 9

Miss Gloria Sue Schaper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Schaper, of Onley, Virginia, became the bride of Mr. Ronald Swain, son of Mrs. Dale Phillippi and the late Mr. Alden Swain, of Harrington, at 2:30 o'clock on Saturday, the 9th day of November, at the Onley Baptist Church. The Rev. L. R. Morris officiated at an altar decorated with white gladioli, pine, ivy, and lighted candelabra. Wedding music was rendered by Mrs. William Kellam, and Miss Jo Ann Chambers sang "O Perfect Love" before the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of white brocade. She wore a finger-tip veil of French lace and carried a white orchid placed on her prayer book.

Miss Jacquelyn Schaper, sister of the bride, and only attendant was maid of honor. She wore a light blue dress and carried a nosegay of white carnations.

The mother of the bride wore a blue dress with black accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations. The mother of the bridegroom wore a cranberry dress with black accessories and her corsage was also of white carnations.

The bridegroom had as his best man Charles Knox, of Atlanta, Ga. The usher were Messrs. Fred Kellam and Jay Brumley.

Mrs. Fred Kellam, of Onley, served as mistress of ceremonies.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride, after which the couple left for a short wedding trip. For traveling, the bride chose a green wool dress with brown accessories and wore the orchid from her prayer book.

Among the guests from off the Shore attending the wedding were Mrs. Dale Phillippi, Miss Patty Phillippi, Mrs. Alice Martin, Mrs. Clara Wilcutts, Miss Nancy Calloway and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Brumley.

The couple are residing at 1402 Piedmont Avenue, Apt. 5, Atlanta, Ga.

Certified Seed Booklet Released

Soybean production in Delaware is becoming big business according to William H. Mitchell, assistant professor in agronomy at the University of Delaware. Over 200,000 acres of the state's 448,000 acres of usable crop land are devoted to soybean production.

It takes about 100,000 bushels of seed to plant the soybean acreage in Delaware he says. Assuming reasonable losses from clean-out, low germination, and rejects for off-types, Mitchell estimates there will be 60,000 bushels of certified seed available for 1964 plantings.

In view of favorable soybean prices, he advises farmers to sell their current crop and plant certified seed next year. He adds that it may cost more to use certified seed than run-of-the-bin seed, but the added investment will be returned many times in extra yields next fall.

Certified seeds grown in Delaware must pass a bin inspection and analysis before it can be tagged, sealed and sold. Information on obtaining certified soybean seed, as well as certified wheat, oats, barley and rye seed, can be found in a booklet entitled "Delaware Certified Seed Producers 1963." This booklet is available from the Mailing Room, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark, Delaware.

4-H Youth And The Nation's Agriculture

A group of men recently had a peek at what could be a part of the U. S. farm scene 20 years hence. Among the things they "saw" were artificial lighting of entire fields making possible several harvests within a single growing season; devices to predict which eggs hatch pullets and which produce roosters; soil sterilized against plant disease and harmful weeds by mobile X-ray units.

Fantastic—but not impossible—were electronic vegetable harvesters capable of selecting only mature crops then cleaning, grading and packaging them as the machine travels over the field; processed milk weighing a fraction of raw milk, stored without refrigeration and transported to a common market; converted salt water piped from the ocean to areas having a shortage of fresh water; farmers taking weekend rocket trips to check up on agriculture in far away places; and scores of other seemingly unbelievable developments.

Who, two decades ago, envisioned the technological changes—the mechanical, chemical and biological developments that today make our agriculture the most efficient in the world; the efficiency which enables 92 per cent of our working force to choose non-farm occupations?

We can be reasonably assured that future developments will be products of the minds of young men and women presently living on a farm, and who will leave the farm, but not agriculture, to find work. Many of these young people will carry to their jobs a solid background of specialized experience, skills and training gathered in the 4-H agricultural program supervised by the Extension service of land-grant universities and colleges.

But practical experience alone does not meet the expanding needs of the vast agri-business complex. Formal education is essential. And that education is costly.

Many boys and girls who proudly wear the green and white 4-H emblem need an assist to begin or continue college. Toward this end, far-sighted business enterprises have been providing 4-H scholarship funds for a long time.

Soon college scholarships and fellowships valued at $145,000 will be presented to 275 of the nation's most outstanding 4-H youths and to young adults who once were 4-H Club members.

Presentations will be made during the 42nd National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago the first week in December. This annual event is the showcase of some 1,500 boys and girls representing the best of 4-H in all 50 states and Puerto Rico. Hosts will be the business executives whose firms provide the trips, scholarships and other 4-H assistance.

If this far-reaching interest and support continues through the next four decades it has in the last four, the technological advances still on the drawing board, and many more not yet conceived will have a better chance to become realities. Thus investment in rural youth pays big dividends, dividends that keep the U.S. agri-business in the unique position it vigorously guards today.

Blackbirds Inhibiting Corn Production in Del.

Blackbirds by the thousands are causing economic havoc to many Delaware field crops.

There is no simple solution to the problem, but John T. Linehan, U. S. Department of Interior biologist stationed at the University of Delaware does have some ideas that he feels will help farmers control much of the damage caused by these birds. He and Allen Stickley, another U.S.D.I. biologist have been working on the Delaware blackbird problem for several years. Linehan has been located at the University of Delaware for nine years. Stickley has been there three years.

Linehan cautions the use of the term "control" since this indicates some type of "war" waged against the birds. He prefers to think of their work at the University as blackbird depredation control—that is control of the damage done by the birds rather than controlling the birds themselves.

Attempts have been made to reduce bird damage ranging from the traditional scare crow to elaborate noise producing devices. In Florida where the damage is particularly costly, the use of toxicants and reproduction inhibitors has been given serious consideration.

So far crop protection seems to be the best control method.

In Delaware the principle damage has been to corn, fruits and melons. Ed Schabinger, New Castle County Agent, says damage to corn has been so severe that many farmers have switched to soybeans rather than take a chance with the blackbirds. He says the corn that is grown receives considerable damage during certain stages of growth.

One of the most promising developments in the area of crop protection is in the use of resistant varieties. Linehan says any cultural practice that a farmer can use to reduce or discourage damage offers real benefits.

He says it is hard to make a single recommendation that will solve the many blackbird problems that farmers face. "What may be profitable for one grower won't work for another. In Florida, damage to sweet corn is so great farmers use elaborate measures to protect their fields from the birds.

In Delaware the problem isn't that great and won't justify the same all-out efforts."

As a general recommendation he offers these suggestions: grow corn on the areas of the farm where damage is least apt to occur—this means away from wetland and marshes; choose a variety that is resistant to bird damage although not all corn varieties have been tested some are more resistant to damage than others; plant corn so it will mature at a time when damage is at a minimum—this means about mid-August, corn that matures earlier or later than this is apt to receive considerably more damage; be prepared to fight off birds by all available means—he suggests writing for a publication "Protecting Corn From Blackbirds", Wildlife Leaflet 385 available from the School of Agriculture.

Water Softness Figures in Washday Results

Labor-saving household equipment is constantly being improved as homemakers play an important role in letting manufacturers know what they want. More washing machines are used today as a result of their many and varied features. In fact, 44 million American washing machines are washing over a billion and a half pounds of clothes each week, according to Katie Thomas, Kent County extension agent, home economics.

The kind of washing machine best for you depends a great deal on your water supply, she says. Automatic washers are not practical when the water supply is limited or has very low pressure. This is also true if it cannot be heated to 140 degrees, or has a large percentage of untreated minerals.

Hard water is detrimental to your wash because it can leave minerals such as calcium, magnesium and iron salts which combine with soap and stick to the clothes, giving them a grey appearance. Detergents do not form this scum. But if your water is excessively hard, softening takes too much detergent to be practical, says Mrs. Thomas, and water should be softened by another method. She suggests a Zeolite water system or the addition of softeners that chemically combine with the minerals.

Mild detergents and soaps are most useful for washing clothes that are only slightly soiled. For heavy soil and general family wash, all-purpose detergents and soaps and most controlled-suds detergents are best.

Remove difficult dirt spots before putting a garment in the washer. Wet the soiled area thoroughly with detergent solution and loosen surface dirt with a brush. Agitation in the washing machine further loosens soil and brings it to the surface, where the detergent can keep it in suspension.

The amount of water in the tub should be enough so that clothes can move freely. When there is not sufficient water, dirt is not carried away and goes back onto the clothes.

Water temperature is important for different types and colors of fabrics. Your washing machine instruction book is the best guide to follow. Recommended temperatures at 140 or more degrees Fahrenheit for white cottons and linens, 120 degrees for light-colored cottons and linens, 90 degrees for dark-colored clothes, rayons, nylons and other synthetic fabrics, and 80 degrees for woollens and "easy to care for" wash and wear fabrics.

Washday automation "deluxe" may be said to have arrived with the combination washer-dryer. They are a good buy when space is limited or for handicapped, restricted or exceptionally busy persons. For the average homemaker, they may mean a spread-out laundry job because there is only one machine for use at one time. The dryer unit also has a longer drying time than standard dryers as less water is extracted from clothes during the wash cycle.

It is our pleasure to have the Kent County Convocation of Episcopal Young Churchmen to meet here this afternoon at 4:30 p.m. This Convocation was originally scheduled for Christ Church, Milford; but due to the building program of that church, it will be held here.

The annual parish meeting of St. Stephen's will take place this Wednesday, Dec. 11. It will begin with a covered dish dinner at 6:30 p.m. At 7:45 the parish meeting will take place. This will include reports which will be presented by all of the officers of the Church. After which three new vestrymen will be elected for the coming three years. Persons entitled to vote must: have been baptized, be 18-years-of-age, be regular in attendance and contribute regularly to the support of St. Stephen's. The nominating committee will submit names of nominees but other nominations may be made from the floor. To be eligible to be a vestryman, one must be a qualified voter as outlined above. It is important that all St. Stephen's Church family be present at this meeting. There will be a nursery keeper for very small children and entertainment for school children. Members of the E.Y.C. should plan to stay for the meeting.

The Choral Society of Dover, invites the public to their presentation of "The Messiah" by Handel, on this afternoon, Dec. 8, at 4 p.m. in the Dover High School auditorium, on the corner of Delaware and Pennsylvania Avenues. 100 voices from Kent and Sussex Counties of Delaware and adjacent Maryland counties will be accompanied by piano and string ensemble. No admission card is needed, and no seats are reserved, as an overflow audience is anticipated. An offering helps defray expenses. We are happy to announce that members of our congregation singing with the Choral Society this year include Mrs. Arthur Williams and Twin Masten.

Even this far before Christmas, it is not too early to remind those who wish to buy memorial flowers for the Chancel decorations that they should place their order with the church office at their very earliest convenience. It is our plan to use approximately the same number of poinsettias as last year. Please let it be understood in advance that these poinsettias are to remain in the church through the season and even over Epiphany if they last that long. These poinsettias will be bought at wholesale and will not be overly expensive. We shall let the congregation know the cost as soon as possible.

It is our very great pleasure today to administer the Sacrament of Holy Baptism to little one-year-old Shelli Wendorff, the small daughter of Darrel and Donna Wendorff, Mechanic Street. Little Shelli was supposed to have been baptized two weeks ago today but due to the tragic death of our president, this event was postponed to this time. Shelli was born at Andrew's A.F.B., at Camp Springs, Md., but her mother and father and from Kansas. She has two sisters; Vickie and Kathy, who are both members of our church school and catechism classes. As her uncle and aunt, both of whom live in Kansas, cannot be present, Alta Rice and Clyde Perry will proxy for them as Godparents. They are Larry Lynn Diehl and Judith Diehl, both of Kansas. After the service the congregation will want to welcome little Shelli into their fellowship at the time of coffee hour.

VA Guardianship Program Increase

A marked increase in the scope of the Veterans Administration Guardianship program was recorded during Fiscal Year 1963. Leon Fields, manager of the VA Regional Office, Wilmington, said he had been advised today.

A total of 139,000 new beneficiaries, minors and either incompetent veterans or incompetent dependents of deceased veterans, were added to the rolls, he said.

During the year, 120,000 beneficiaries were released from the guardianship rolls, making a net increase of 19,000 beneficiaries and a new total of 530,000 wards under the guardianship program. More than 80% of the wards are minors.

Under the Guardianship program, beneficiaries in the 50 states, Puerto Rico, and the Republic of the Philippines are served through the Chief Attorneys in 65 regional offices.

Mr. Fields said the program protects beneficiaries by selecting the best-suited persons to manage their estates. Supervision by the Chief Attorney assures use of VA funds for current needs of the beneficiaries with conservation of any funds surplus to those needs.

Assets of 400,775 beneficiaries accounted for during the year totaled $764 million, with receipts of nearly $276 million.

Mr. Fields said VA attorneys also recovered for the United States $2.5 million from escheated funds, overpayments and other collections.

In Delaware we have nearly 1100 beneficiaries with assets of about 2 1/4 million dollars.

Pattern Selection Calls For Analysis

Understanding your own figure is a smart step to knowing what styles you can wear best, notes Miss Janet Reed, extension clothing and textiles specialist at the University of Delaware. The slim and svelte models of the fashion pages do look lovely, but they don't always wear the right type of clothing for you. Large hips, narrow shoulders, high waists, and short legs are not among these girls' noticeable problems.

To find your own best styles, Miss Reed suggests trying on several dresses that you like and that fit you well. Analyze them for their good points. When the time comes to select a pattern for a new dress, you will have a better idea of what to look for.

Most patterns need some alteration to give a custom-made fit. A pattern with double value is one which is becoming to you and in which the style adapts easily to alterations. For example, the figure with narrow shoulders in proportion to bust size will get a better fit and find alterations simpler in a pattern featuring a shoulder dart or yoke. If your shoulders are rounded, the same is true of a back yoke. And a six-gore skirt gives six seams where allowances can be made for a figure with large hips.

If you have found that one brand of pattern fits you well, Miss Reed advises that you try to stick to it. Even though pattern standards are the same today, there are wide enough variations in neck, shoulder slope and width, depth of armseye and placement of darts to make some more suitable for you than others, she says.

The tape measure is your guide to pattern size. Bust, waist, hip and back waist length measurements are needed. The bust measure is taken over the fullest part of the bust, and parallel to the floor. Bend slightly to one side to find your natural waistline. The hip measure is taken seven inches below the waistline. The length from the bone at the back of the neck to your natural waistline gives your back waist measure.

Checking with a pattern chart might show several sizes into which you fit, and each would call for minor adjustment. In general, Miss Reed advocates buying according to bust size because it is easier to make alterations elsewhere. The size you choose depends on the dress style, your bone structure and how you like your clothes to fit. Of two figures with the same "tapemeasure tales", the larger boned, square shouldered type figure will probably be more comfortable in the size larger pattern, while a smaller boned, more rounded figure may find that the smaller size fits her equally well.

Ready-to-wear and pattern standards are different, Miss Reed cautions, although ready-to-wear brands often differ among themselves and this does not always hold true. Some women find that their pattern size is a size larger than the ready-made garments they buy.

Pattern manufacturers have added to the figure types in their offerings. Junior petite and proportioned sizes have recently joined the ranks of junior, misses, women's and half-size patterns. For the woman who sews for her daughter, patterns which cater to girls, chubbies, and sub-teen figures are available.

A final reminder from Miss

Reed is to consult a pattern book to compare measurements before selecting a pattern size.

Penn-Horticulture Society Sessions Planned

New developments in the production and marketing of fruits and vegetables, migrant labor legislation and the future of fresh market crops on the Delmarva Peninsula will be featured at the 77th annual meeting of the Peninsula Horticultural Society scheduled for December 10 and 11 at the Elk's Hall in Salisbury, Md. Robert F. Stevens, extension horticulturist of the University of Delaware, also secretary of the society, indicates this year's program will be of wide interest to society members including farmers, processors and commercial representatives.

Included in the seven separate half day sessions are topics on new herbicides, new varieties, developments in insect and disease control and mechanical harvesting. Special sessions on sweet potatoes, strawberries, tree fruits and irrigation are planned. Research results in horticulture, plant pathology, entomology and related fields will be reported by staff members of the university of Delaware, University of Maryland and the Virginia Truck Experiment Station.

A tour of the Philadelphia area will leave Salisbury immediately after the Wednesday session. Included on the tour agenda will be stops at the Philadelphia wholesale market, a prepackaging company, the Campbell Soup Company and a roadside market. The tour will return to Salisbury on Thursday evening, Dec. 12.

Fred Blackwell, chief counsel for the Senate Subcommittee on migrant labor will give a detailed explanation of migrant labor legislation including some recently passed Congressional bills. Stevens says farmers, processors and other employers of migrant labor will be affected by this legislation.

Howard Papan, a market gardener from Wyoming and Hudson Gruwel of W. T. Derrickson Company, Dover, will discuss the future of fresh market crops on the Peninsula. Stevens indicates these men have had extensive experience in vegetable marketing and will present a realistic view of the problems they have encountered in marketing fresh crops.

H.H.S. Fall Sports Banquet Postponed

Representatives from the Harrington High Alumni Association, the Loyal Order of the Moose, the Parents and Teachers Association and the Business and Professional Women's Club met at the school cafeteria Monday night and decided to hold a fall sports banquet at the school Saturday evening, Dec. 14 at 6:30 p.m. in honor of the varsity hockey, football and cross-country teams, which recently completed one of the most successful autumns in the school's history.

Later, it was discovered that the Milford Invitational Wrestling Tournament will take place on that date. Many of the boys on the football and cross-country teams also participate in wrestling and could not attend the banquet on Dec. 14. Therefore, it will be postponed until sometime in January.

Coach Harold McDonald's cross-country team raced through a 10 meet schedule without a defeat. The Lion harriers easily captured the Group II state championship, the nine team Harrington Invitational and were not extended in any outing.

Coach Vi Testerman's varsity hockey team completed their second straight season without defeat and have allowed but one goal during that span. The Lionesses were the champions of the Henlopen Conference.

Coach Frank Glazier's varsity football team shed their reputation as one of the two doormats in the Henlopen Conference. Despite having one of the lightest elevens in the league, the Lions won four games while losing five and were beaten by a margin of one touchdown in their encounters with third place Bridgeville, second place Millsboro and unbeaten, untied John M. Clayton, the Henlopen champion. Their four victories in 1963 equals the total triumphs of the past three seasons.

Tentative plans for the program include the showing of the film of the 1963 Delaware All-Star High School football game played at the University of Delaware in August. A professional camera crew made this color movie and those who have seen it say that it was an outstanding job.

Efforts are being made to have Dr. Kenneth Steers, coach of the 1962 Middle Atlantic Conference champion University of Delaware cross-country squad and Dr. Nancy Sawin, of Sanford Prep to talk on cross-country and hockey, respectively.

Dr. Sawin has addressed Harrington High hockey teams on two occasions. She is one of the hardest working proponents of the game, in America.

Tickets to the banquet may be obtained from Tom Peck, Mrs. Harold McDonald, Earl Yoder, Howard Dill and Keith Burgess. It is hoped that several more ticket outlets may be obtained.

It may be a long time before Harrington High can again boast of such a successful sports' season. Last autumn's hockey banquet was a rousing success. This time, three outstanding teams are to be feted. Let's show these 55 kids that Harrington is proud of them.

also of the Seaford High School. The instrumental ensemble has been working during the rehearsal period under the direction of Miss Cora Harris, of the Seaford schools; Frederic S. Brown, of Dover, and Charles Campbell, head of the Wilmington Music School. Mrs. Evelyn D. Swenson, of Seaford, is this year's Choral Society director. The entire chorus and ensemble is supported and assisted by Kathryn Cople, pianist.

George F. Wiltshire, Choral Society president, announced the names of committee personnel working on final details of the Sunday afternoon performance. Section captains are Miss Jean L. Petsch, soprano; Mrs. Nicholas H. Rodriguez, alto; Robert Collins, tenor, and A/2C Robert W. Kohn, bass. Mrs. Earl R. Rield is staging chairman; W. Charles Paradee Sr., ushers; Miss Suzanne Parrott, robing; Mrs. Kurt Lammer, publicity; Mmes. Charles E. Clinton, Leroy Dear, Jr., Earleen Tieman, Miss Rosemary Frase, James O. Sevast, and Charles E. Eagles-Colts Edge Bears 7-6

In the annual Harrington Junior Football League All-Star game, the champion Bears were nosed out by an eleven composed of the best players from the second place Eagles and the third place Colts.

Early in the first quarter a Bear gamble that failed on a fourth down and one to go situation gave the All-Stars the ball on the Bear 15-yard line. A fumble, a penalty and an inspired Bruin defense halted the drive near the goal. Roger Bullock got the champs out of the tight spot by reaching the eleven yard line on two carries that were good for a first down. Wayne Reid snared a forward pass on the 16 but the Bears then had to punt.

As the second period started Roger Klapp of the Stars was hit with a forward pass and although he dropped it, the officials ruled that he held it long enough. Klapp then scored a touchdown and ran over the extra point to stake his team to a 7-0 edge.

The Bears threatened as Wayne Reid made a brilliant, leaping catch of a Mike Adams pass and raced to the Stars 25. Roger Bullock and Gary Minner advanced the ball to the 18. Oscar Matthews took over the heavy duty here as he sliced to the 14 for a first down, hit to the 7 and then reached the 3 on his third carry. He fumbled at that point but a teammate recovered the bobble. Gary Minner charged off right tackle for the six-pointer. The point try failed leaving the score Stars 7 and Bears 6.

The Bears threatened again in the second period when Jon Marsan blocked a punt on the All-Stars 31 yard line and then carried on the next two plays to reach the 24. Gary Minner plunged for a first down but the drive fizzled out as Gary Smith caught Gordy Jarrell for a loss on a reverse and two pass plays failed.

The winners' Bill Garey faked to pass but finding his receivers covered ran for a first down. Nicky Morris completed a pass and a personal foul penalty tacked on to the play added up to quite a gain. Marsan caught Morris, who was back to pass, for a big loss as the half ended.

Mike Adams found Gary Minner all alone and hit him for a big gain as the second half opened but the play was called back by a penalty.

The Stars' Roger Klapp rounded left end and cut back sharply for good yardage. A pass up the middle was good but the Bears took over by recovering a fumble. Unable to move the Bruins had to punt. Morris ran for a gain around right end but Bill Garey was thrown for a big loss on an attempted pass. Jon Marsan blocked a kick for the second time and the Bears were in a good position once more. Matthews drove to the Stars' 24, but was caught by David Hurd for a loss on his next attempt.

The Stars took over and Hurd gained 12 yards to the Stars' 36. Morris completed a pass and after two plays failed got off a fine punt. Gordy Jarrell made a nice runback to his own 20 yard line. Matthews and then Bullock carried to score a first down at the 29. Matthews picked up three yards and Bullock hit the middle for seven for another first down. After the four minute warning, Matthews got through the line, was hit but kept his feet and dragged two tacklers with him for a sizeable gain. Oscar carried on a play that surprised some of the ladies in the audience. After a gain of several yards Nick Morris stole the ball from the Bears' ace back. This is perfectly legal and in effect gave the Stars the triumph right then and there as the Stars then ran out the clock.

At halftime ceremonies demure Andrea "Andy" Walls was announced as the winner in the voting to select a Harrington Junior Football League queen. She was crowned by Patsy Hubbard, last year's queen. Others who assisted in this program were John Swain, Sherrie Morris, Nancy Thompson, Darlene Dobraski, Chuck Hurd, Ruth Ann Moore, Billy Garey, Shirley Matthews, Gary Minner, Terry Gallo, Roger Bullock, Roger Klapp, Michele Wilcutts and Nicky Morris.

Cake Race Held at H.H.S.

Thirty-two lads lined up for a 2.3 miles cake race at Harrington High last week. Sixteen cakes, mostly homemade, but some "store-boughten" were given to the first sixteen runners to finish. The varsity cross-country team gave the student body a one minute head start but still defeated them 15-50 in the informal meet between the two groups. We feel that the student body could have done much better were it not for the absence of several of the more versatile and better-known athletes.

Randy Knox, Larry Garey, Charlie Tribbitt and Jack Hartzel were the only varsity football players to show up even though the gridiron gladiators are in fine physical shape after a grueling campaign.

Two faculty members, Bill Kramedas and Jay Brumbley, competed in order to give the event more color and to provide "rabbits" for the varsity harriers to catch. The teachers were given a four minute start and managed to somehow make their weary way around the course in fifteen minutes and twenty-seven seconds. Dennis Rogers, the No. 1 varsity runner, was timed in the tremendous time of 11:30 as he trailed Kramedas and Brumbley by only three seconds. In a previous workout with no pacemakers, Rogers did 12:11 over the same terrain.

Capt. Wayne Carson, George Bonniwell, Ellis Myer, State jayvee champ Bob Matthews, Roger Betts and Marshall Hatfield, all varsity harriers, followed Rogers. Dan Hicks, a freshman, was the first student body runner to finish as he nabbed eighth place. Randy Knox, like Hicks, a former harrier, was ninth. Donald Wells and Henry Minner finished in a dead heat for tenth.

Bob Dean, who just finished a fine cross-country season, was twelfth. Oscar Matthews III, a seventh-grader who plays Junior League football, was the real surprise of the day. The 12-year-old finished ahead of three varsity cross-country runners and whipped everyone on the student body team except Hicks and Knox, who as we have stated, have previous harrier experience. Matthews numbered several sophomores and juniors among his victims. Jack Dickerson, Frank Cain and Harold Brode grabbed the next three spots and also took home the last three cakes.

Other Junior League football players to make a good showing were Roger Klapp, Jon Marsan and Mike Adams.

Sixth grader Roger Hicks, took the measure of several older boys as he finished just behind two sophomores.

The race proved that practically any lad, who is in good shape, can quickly adapt to cross-country. We imagine some of these new comers will want to help Coach Harold McDonald's crew try for a second straight state championship next year.

Only one lad failed to finish the 2.3 miles grind. This race may be run again next autumn.

Greenwood Alumni Game Dec. 13

The annual Greenwood alumni basketball game will be played Friday night, Dec. 13, at the Greenwood High School gym. Tapoff is scheduled at 7 o'clock for the girls and 8:30 the approximate time for the men.

Practice date have been set up for the nights of Dec. 10 and Dec. 12 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Sheldon Hayman will be in charge.

The writer of this article feels that this is going to be the big year for the alumni and predicts that the alumni will win both games.

A team will always put out that extra effort with a little support and backing. Let's see all loyal basketball fans and enthusiastic supporters out to root the old and present heroes on to victory.

Local Athletic Club to Be Formed

A meeting will be held above the First National Bank on the forming of an athletic club Dec. 12 at 7:30 p.m. All persons that are interested are urged to attend this meeting excluding high school students.

As you probably know, the average person doesn't get enough exercise, so now is the chance for an outlet for all that unused energy.

After the club has been organized, there will be activities and sports for all. So let's come out and join this worthy cause.

For more information contact Roland Melvin or Sheldon Hayman.

St. Stephen's Weightlifting Team Scores 1st Victory

Victory has come to the St. Stephen's Athletic Club in its second taste of competition.

The Harrington group walked away from Saturday's Delaware State Weightlifting Championships with three trophies, an amazing showing inasmuch as the club counted only six entries.

Jim Cain turned in the top St. Stephen's performance, capturing the 123-pound title with a total weight of 330 pounds. It was the first individual win for Cain, and the first championship for the infant team.

Cain counted 110 press, 90 snatch and 130 clean and jerk in his winning total. Teammate Mike Bakota nailed down runner-up honors in the 132-pound competition, chalking up a 395 pound total that included 120 press, 115 snatch, and 160 clean and jerk.

Ed Yocum, the 198-pound heavyweight, was the other trophy winner, finishing third with a 560 pound tally. His breakdown showed 160 press, 180 snatch, and 220 clean and jerk.

Also lifting for St. Stephen's were John Yocum who finished fifth in the 148-pound class with a 360 total, Roy Porter and Ezra Yocum.

The St. Stephen's group returns to action on Jan. 25, when it will compete in an open novice meet at the Camden, N. J., YMCA. Competition at the Delaware Valley Open at Wilmington's YMCA also is on tap for Mar. 7.

The Harrington-Felton area group still is looking for members, according to Ezra Yocum, the group's advisor and instructor. Prospective weightlifters are invited to contact him at his Viola home.

ORAL VACCINE

(Continued from Page One) given Jan. 19, and then pick up the Type 1 vaccine at a later date. This may be obtained from private physicians, but should be taken five or six weeks after Type 2—not between Type 3 and Type 2.

The polio immunization campaign is sponsored by the Medical Society of Delaware, in cooperation with the National Foundation, City Department of Health, State Board of Health, Delaware State Pharmaceutical Society, and nurse volunteers of the Delaware Chapter, American Red Cross.

"New Kind of Love" at Reese Dec. 6-7-8

A glance at the Reese Theatre program to be found in this newspaper lists another galaxy of new Hollywood hits. Delaware and Maryland theatre fans are showing their appreciation by bringing friends—last week it was several theatre parties.

It will be a field day at the Reese this Fri-Sat-Sun., Dec. 6-7-8 as the sensational comedy-drama "A New Kind of Love" with Paul Newman and Jeanne Woodward graces the screen. Following the adage "It's time for a change, time to take a new attitude on love" this story will grow on you by leaps and bounds. And for added thrills, MGM presents "The Haunting" the super diller that out haunts the ghosts themselves.

With the announcement of the coming of Laurence Harvey and Lee Remick in "The Running Man" and "Beach Party", Fri-Sat-Sun., Dec. 13-14-15, it looks as if another galaxy of enjoyment is on the way.

Trinity W.S.C.S. Notes

A goodly representation of the membership of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Trinity Methodist Church was in attendance on Tuesday evening to enjoy the Christmas program. Mrs. Arnold Gilstad and Mrs. Randall Knox, Jr., directed the presentation of "If We Had Been in Bethlehem." As slides of the Nativity were projected on a screen, the following ladies meditated on the possibility that she might have been an actual participant in the first century: Mrs. Charles Poukish, Mrs. William Shockley, Mrs. Richard Shultie, Mrs. John Walls, Mrs. Gilstad and Mrs. Knox. Mrs. Ernest Raughley served as pianist.

A coffee hour will follow the morning service Sunday, Dec. 8, which is the 83rd anniversary of Trinity Church. Co-hostesses are Mrs. Norman Brown and Mrs. Elwood Shultie.

A report of the Sunshine Committee was given by Mrs. Baynard Smith.

In closing the business session, Mrs. S. M. Williams, president, thanked the members for such fine response in bringing gifts for the Neighborhood House, and read several appropriate portions from Peter Marshall's book, "Let's Keep Christmas."

Members of Martha Circle, with Mrs. Ellwood Gruwell, as chairman, served refreshments.

Irish Professor to Speak at U. of D.

A professor of English literature from Trinity College, Dublin, will speak at the University of Delaware next Wednesday (Dec. 11).

Denis Donoghue, who is spending a year in this country working on a history of modern American poetry, will discuss the subject, "Three Directions in Modern American Poetry: Robert Frost, Wallace Stevens, William Carlos Williams." The lecture will be presented at 4:10 p.m. in Room 130, Sharp Laboratory.

Professor Donoghue is author of "The Third Voice," a study of modern British and American verse drama published by the Princeton University Press in 1959. He has contributed articles and reviews to many periodicals both here and abroad. His present research is being supported by a grant from the American Council of Learned Societies. The public is invited to attend.

Anthony G. Ballas

Anthony G. Ballas, 72, died Monday at the Memorial Hospital, Easton, Md., after a lengthy illness.

He was the son of the late George and Mary Ballas and was born in Magnisia, Greece. He has lived for the past 43 years in Federalsburg where he was associated with the Famous Dry Cleaners. Prior to that, he operated several restaurants and was in the wholesale candy business. His wife, Laura M. Ballas, died December, 1953. He is survived by three children; Mrs. Thomas O. Hoxter and Mrs. Frank W. Johnson; both of Seaford, and George A. Ballas, of Federalsburg, Md., who now operates the Famous Cleaners; three grandchildren, one great-grandson, one brother, Ernest Ballas, of Federalsburg; and one brother and two sisters, in Athens, Greece.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon from the Williamson Funeral Home, Federalsburg, Md., with the Rev. Stamof Gnanaris of the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church, Wilmington and the Rev. D. O. Clendaniel of Union Church, officiating.

Interment was in Hollywood Cemetery, Harrington.
