

KILLEN URGD TO ANNOUNCE CANDIDACY FOR GOVERNOR

A prominent young Kent Countyman urges State Auditor Ernest E. Killen, Harrington grain dealer, to announce his interest in securing the Democratic nomination for governor in the election this year.

"Of the Kent Countymen who have shown a definite interest in receiving the nomination, he would make the best candidate," said James G. Smith, a member of the Delaware River and Bay Authority, this week.

Kent Countymen believe the candidate for governor should come from their county, since they believe the candidates for U. S. representative and U. S. senator will again come from New Castle and Sussex Counties, respectively. Furthermore, it has been 20 years since a Democratic candidate for governor has come from Kent County, they point out.

Smith, prominent in the activities of young Democrats, come from a family long prominent in politics. His grandfather, the late Will Smith, of Harrington, was sheriff of Kent County. It was he who introduced Killen into politics in 1940 when he asked him to assist Sen. Fred Bailey, then chairman of the Democratic Committee for the upper part of the Ninth Representative District.

Upon his return from service in the armed forces, Killen was made Ninth District chairman and was also made a member of the State Committee, replacing J. Gordon Smith, former chairman of the State Highway Commission and father of James G. Smith, upon his moving from Harrington to Dover.

Killen's supporters point to his long experience in politics and his three terms as state auditor, state election commissioner, a member of the State Budget Commission, a member of the Board of Pardons and the Post-Mortem Board, as qualifications for the gubernatorial post.

Young Smith and Killen are strong supporters of youth in politics. Killen says, "President Kennedy left us a challenge for young people to take a more active part in politics and to hold more offices."

A 6000 majority in his last contest for auditor and was second highest man on the state ticket, is also a former collector of internal revenue, being appointed by President Truman upon the recommendation of U. S. Sen. J. Allen Frear.

Dover District WSCS Annual Day Apart Service

The annual "Day Apart" Service of Dover District, Woman's Society of Christian Service, will be held in Mount Olivet Methodist Church, Seaford, on March 9, Monday, at 7:30 p.m. It is an evening service announces Mrs. I. C. King, president of Dover District.

Mrs. Granville Hooper, Cambridge, conference secretary of spiritual life, will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Hooper has served in several offices of the Peninsula Conference WSCS, and the annual conference. Prior to her present line of work, she was the secretary of children's work of the Northeastern Jurisdiction, Methodist Church.

The Rev. Milton H. Keene, host minister, will give the preparation and instructions for the sacrificial meal at the conclusion of the (Continued on Page 8)

Development Dept. Circular Distributed

The Delaware State Development Department is currently distributing a revised edition of "Adventure Out-of-Doors in Delaware," an attractive six-panel, three-fold brochure listing all of the state's public camping, fishing and picknicking sites. The brochure also includes a chart, listing activities permitted at various recreation areas, and a map, pin-pointing location of various facilities.

Copies of the 1964 edition of "Adventure Out-of-Doors in Delaware" may be obtained by contacting the Development Department at 45 The Green, Dover. They are also available at the Game and Fish Commission, North Street, Dover; Recreation Promotion and Service, 1301 Orange Street, Wilmington; Delaware State Chamber of Commerce, 1112-14 King Street, Wilmington, and the Travel Bureau of the News-Journal Company at Wilmington, Dover and Georgetown.

Sabin Oral Vaccine Clinic Open April 19

All three types of Sabin oral vaccine will be made available to Delawareans at 15 locations on Sunday, April 19.

Dr. Henry H. Stroud said recently that the Medical Society of Delaware will sponsor the clinics in order to make all types of vaccine available to persons who missed one or more types earlier. Previous clinics in November, December and January were held for the distribution of Types 1, 3, and 2, vaccine, respectively.

Although all three types will be distributed on one day this time, individuals may not take more than one. If they have missed two or more, they will be advised to take one of the missing types on April 19 and obtain additional doses later, after a waiting period of six to eight weeks between doses.

Dr. Stroud said that the clinics will be conducted in the same manner as the three earlier programs, with drops of the oral polio vaccine placed on cubes of sugar and the cubes eaten.

The clinics will be open from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Locations of the April 19 clinics are as follows:

NEW CASTLE COUNTY — Claymont Fire Company, Talleyville Fire Company, Stanton Junior High School, Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Co. (station No. 2, Newark), Goodwill Fire Company (New Castle), and Five Points Fire Company (Richardson Park).

Ground-Breaking For Benedictine School March 15

The Benedictine Sisters of Ridgely, Maryland, have announced ground breaking ceremonies for the new classroom addition will take place on Sunday, March 15th at 2:30 in the afternoon.

The Benedictine School, once known as St. Gertrude's Academy, a boarding school for girls, was founded in 1959. It is a residential, private facility for the education and training for mentally handicapped girls and boys.

The new $1,000,000 construction was found to be a necessity with a steady increase in applicants each year and the constant advances being made in the care and treatment of the "retarded" or exceptional child. The Benedictine Sisters have been assisted in the past and continue to enlist the financial assistance of the public in providing sufficient funds for the badly needed new facilities.

There are presently 56 boys and girls at the school and with the plans for construction of a completely new unit, this number will be increased to 100. The proposed classroom wing will contain ten classrooms with attached bathrooms. The greatest difference between these new classrooms and standard ones will be in the equipment which will be much more specialized. The dining area will accommodate 100 children with a fully equipped kitchen and service area. The design includes two large recreation areas for meetings, etc.

The dormitory section will have five self-contained units, each comprising a Sister's room, two baths and 20 beds with dressers and closets. At the end of the dormitory wing will be an infirmary unit with nurse's quarters, 4 additional bedrooms for Sisters and a utility and laundry room.

The administrative wing will consist of offices for the director, secretary and treasurer. Also included will be a conference-library room, a file and reception area and a lobby.

The Benedictine Sisters have a long range goal for development and expansion of their facilities at Ridgely to include additional buildings that will ultimately accommodate 250 mentally retarded children. This goal, however, is a 10 year objective.

Alumni Association To Meet Tuesday

The Harrington Alumni Association will meet Tuesday evening, March 10, at 7:30 in the high school cafeteria. All alumni are urged to attend.

Chicken Festival Cook-Off to Be Larger than '63

This year's national chicken cook-off in June at the 17th annual Delmarva Chicken Festival in Easton, promises to be even more cosmopolitan than its predecessor last June at Salisbury, according to a report just received from the Poultry and Egg National Board of Chicago.

The Poultry Board is national consumer informative agency for the poultry industry and co-sponsor of the National Chicken Cooking Contest, along with the Delmarva Poultry Industry Association.

Lloyd Geil, its general manager, reported that entries and recipes counted since the entry mailing deadline of February 15 were up 40 percent over last year's total. They came from 46 states, the District of Columbia and Canada.

All eligible entries are now being sent to state cooking contest committees, Geil said. Judging panels named by the state committees or the Poultry and Egg National Board will select state winners and alternates in the four divisions of the contests during recipe eliminations or cook-offs held in March and April. Four finalists from each state will then be eligible to compete in each of the four divisions of the national cook-off at Easton, June 18, 19, and 20.

Maryland's and Delaware's top cooks will be chosen at three separate cookoffs and in an additional two recipe contests, according to the two Peninsula cooking contest chairmen.

Delaware will hold a state cook-off in the senior, junior, portable appliance and barbecue divisions of the contest on April 4th at Harrington, reports Mrs. Elva Short of Lewes, Delaware chairman.

Maryland will hold two cook-offs rather than the one previously announced, reports Mrs. Judy Dike of Denton, the Free State chairman. Senior division entrants will vie for state prizes and chance at the national finals in Denton on March 21st. State cook-off in the portable appliance division will be held at the historic Lexington Market in Baltimore on March 14th.

Maryland winners and national finalists in the junior and barbecue divisions will be chosen in a recipe contest held late in March under the auspices of her committee and the Poultry and Egg National Board, Mrs. Dike reports.

Felton Students Wins Science Project Awards

The eighth and ninth grades of Felton School, which have been busy making science projects, will proudly display them at the next PTA meeting on Monday, March 9.

Mr. Luff, the high school principal, Mr. Mastin, the high school science teacher, and Mrs. Parker, the junior high science teacher formed the committee which judged the projects. There were many commendable ones, but the winners were as follows:

9A—first, Ted Combs; second, Richard Farley; third, George Nashold.

9B—First, Jean Poynter; second, Lana Davee, and third, Wayne Saulsbury.

9—First, David Alexander; second, Harold Minner, and third, Rosalie Tribbitt.

8A—First, John McDowell, second, Susan French, and third, Allan Dill.

8B—First, Billy Browne; second, James Boone, and third, Eddie Cole and John Hennessey.

The effort put forth by the students was excellent, and they will be pleased to have their parents come to the PTA meeting to see the results of their work.

Walters-Moore

The marriage of Miss Evelyn J. Walters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Walters Sr., of Canterbury, to Walter W. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Moore, of Felton, took place Friday evening, Feb. 28 in the Felton Methodist Church. The Rev. Donald Washburn officiated. Mrs. Reed Hughes was the organist.

Mrs. William Swain, sister of the bride was the matron of honor and Clifton Chambers, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore are residing at the Rice Farms Apts., on the Felton-Frederica Road.

Elisha Dukes To Speak to Democratic Club

The regular monthly meeting of the 9th District Democratic Club will be held Wednesday evening, March 10, at 7 p.m. This meeting is being held the second Tuesday rather than the first, due to the unexpected death of Mrs. George Vincent. Mrs. Vincent was a loyal club member who had devoted many hours to the club serving for many years on the kitchen committee. Her husband, George Vincent, is vice-president of the club.

The meeting at Farmington Fire Hall will be a covered dish. As usual, an excellent dinner is being planned for the Farmington meeting.

The Honorable Elisha Dukes, secretary of the State of Delaware, will be the featured speaker. Mr. Dukes will be representing Governor Elbert N. Carvel, Governor of the State of Delaware who had been scheduled to speak at the postponed meeting. Governor Carvel will be enjoying a ten day vacation in Florida. Mr. Dukes will inform those present of the current political atmosphere.

The purpose of the 9th District Democratic Club is to provide an informal meeting place and forum for Democrats to keep informed on the affairs of our government. Throughout the coming election year candidates for political offices will be given the privilege of coming before Democrats in the 9th District. In addition to the serious business of government a pleasant social evening is provided.

The monthly meetings are held alternately at the Farmington Fire Hall and the American Legion Home in Harrington. Currently the club has approximately 100 active members. All loyal Democrats are invited to join.

Mrs. Harry L. Boyer

Mrs. Katie W. Boyer, 74, widow of Harry L. Boyer, of 13 E. Mispillion St., died Tuesday in Milford Memorial Hospital.

She had operated the Boyer Funeral Home here for many years before her retirement in 1961.

She was formerly secretary for the Messenger Canning Co., of Federalsburg, Md. In 1922 she moved to Harrington and was bookkeeper at the Peoples Bank of Harrington.

She married Major Wyatt, Harrington funeral director, and continued the business after his death. Some years later she married Mr. Boyer and changed the name of the business to the Boyer Funeral Home.

Mrs. Boyer was a graduate of the Eckles College of Mortuary Science, Philadelphia.

Jobs Available On Ferry

Watermen interested in positions with the new Lewes-Cape May ferry have been invited to Lewes Town Hall on Monday, March 9 and Monday March 16 for interviews, general manager Nolan C. Chandler said this week.

Chandler said he is interested in talking to qualified personnel in the following job classifications and he listed the opening monthly pay rates. They are as follows: Chief Engineers, $651.86; First Assistant Engineers, $539.67; Second Assistant Engineers, $485.10; Firemen and able bodied seamen, $303.19.

Interviews will be conducted from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on each of the two Mondays, and candidates should have their seaman's certificates with them, showing their Coast Guard ratings and qualifications.

It is understood that crews will work "two days on and two days off" which makes the positions most attractive, Chandler believes.

Watermen who are not able to apply for positions on March 9 and 16 may do so by writing or calling in person at Delaware River and Bay Authority headquarters, at Delaware Memorial Bridge. Information is also available for those who write to Delaware River and Bay Authority, Box 71, New Castle, Del.

Legion Auxiliary Exec. Committee Meets Tomorrow

The third executive committee meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Delaware, will be held at the Log Cabin Sussex No. 8 Post Home, of The American Legion, at Georgetown, tomorrow at 10 a.m.

Mrs. George Hess, of Dover, the department president, will preside. Reservations for the luncheon are being taken by Mrs. William B. Hickman, Jr., of Route 2, Milford, president of the Sussex Unit No. 8.

Walter J. Harrington II

Walter J. Harrington, 43, died Tuesday night at St. Francis Hospital, Trenton, N. J., after a long illness.

He was the son of Mrs. Helen S. Harrington and the late Lee Harrington, of Felton.

In addition to his mother he is survived by his wife, Ruth Cusick Harrington; two sons, Michael Lee and Walter J. III, of Trenton, N. J.; one brother, Dr. Lee Harrington, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Funeral services will be held today from the Ivans and Taylor Funeral Home, Trenton, N. J., at 2 p.m. (Continued on Page 8)

Delaware State Fair to Expand Facilities

Construction will begin shortly on four new horse barns and a new grooms' quarters at the Delaware State Fairgrounds in Harrington.

J. Gordon Smith, president of the fair association, said that the $120,000 project will be completed in time for use during this year's fair which will be held July 25 through August 1.

"These new barns and quarters," Smith said, "are part of our continuing program aimed at enlarging and improving fair facilities. Only recently we completed and occupied a new office and administrative building built at a cost of $60,000.

"Since 1961 when the name of the annual event was changed from Kent and Sussex Fair to Delaware State Fair," he continued attendance has increased almost 50%. The fair is becoming a growing source of education and enjoyment for Delawareans throughout the state.

To provide adequate facilities for all phases of the fair will require a constant expansion plan and program."

The four new concrete block barns will replace present frame structures and will provide some 100 stalls plus tack rooms. The two-story grooms' quarters will provide living accommodations for 60 persons.

Smith said that establishment of a 20-unit trailer court is also planned in time for this year's fair.

Resource Material Available On Heart Disease

If you have heart disease, what adjustments must you make in your daily routine? What steps can you take to protect your child against rheumatic fever? How can you plan your meals so that cholesterol and other fatty substances can be kept to a minimum?

These and hundreds of other questions can be answered by a phone call or post card to the Delaware Heart Association. As a part of its public education program, the Heart Association makes available a host of booklets, films, slides and transcripts covering practically every phase of heart disease. Some are prepared for medical groups, while many others are designed to explain to members of the public the facts about heart disease and what should be done.

Dr. Richard N. Taylor, president of the Delaware Heart Association, issued an open invitation to all individuals and groups to explore the resource material of the Association for both private consumption and for meeting program material.

"You can find exactly what materials are available by phoning the Heart Association at Olympia 4-5269 or writing to the Association at 2108 Baynard Boulevard, Wilmington," he said. "This service, doubly important because of the position of heart disease as first among this nation's killers, is made possible by the annual contributions to the Heart Fund."

Telephone Co. Reports Income On Increase

The Diamond State Telephone Company reports that net income for 1963 was $4,632,000, an increase of $283,000 over 1962.

The Company said expenditures for expansion and service improvement programs amounted to $7,646,000 in 1963. Of this amount, $5,119,000 went into additional plant, bringing the total amount invested in plant facilities to $86,687,000.

This progress was accomplished without an increase in the general level of telephone rates and despite increases in wage and salary rates and other employee costs, higher prices for some purchased materials and services, and higher taxes, W. D. Gillen, company president, stated in the firm's annual report published recently.

Over the last few years, he adds, additional and supplementary communications services have provided approximately $60 of every $100 increases in local service revenues and more than $40 of each $100 rise in total operating revenues.

He reports substantial increases in installations of data transmission facilities and other services for business customers and in such items for residence customers as Princess (Continued on Page 8)

Reciprocity Day At Century Club Tuesday

Tuesday afternoon, March 10, women from the Federation of Women's Clubs in Kent County will be guests at a Reciprocity Tea, given by the Harrington New Century Club. Also expected to be present for this annual affair are the state officers of the Federation.

Mrs. Lester E. Smith is serving as chairman for the afternoon. The program has a slight air of mystery about it, since only the general topic "American Homes" has been announced. Mrs. Smith did hint this week that the program will be in a light vein and most enjoyable to all who attend.

Assisting with the arrangements are Mrs. Kenneth D. Aiken, Mrs. Robert H. Creadick, Mrs. Fred S. Bailey, Mrs. Samuel M. Williams, Mrs. G. Fred Wilson, Mrs. Charles L. Peck, Jr. and Mrs. Robert T. Weaver. The hospitality Committee under the direction of Mrs. William W. Shaw and the Decorating Committee with Mrs. Floyd N. Nasser, chairman, have also been engaged in preparing for this meeting.

Don't forget the date—next Tuesday, March 10, 2 p.m. — in the club house for an afternoon of pure pleasure and an opportunity to meet members of the other clubs in Kent County.

KCEA Annual Convention Today

The Kent County Education Association will hold its annual convention today at the Caesar Rodney High School. The convention will mark the forty-third year of service to Delaware education. Mrs. Beatrice Holland, president of the KCEA, will preside.

The theme of "Let's Be Professional" has been chosen for this convention which will be attended by all Kent County Educators. A business session in the morning will be followed by an address by Dr. Richard P. Gousha, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. In the afternoon, teachers, administrators, nurses, librarians, and school lunch personnel may attend any of the twenty-four sectional meetings they desire.

KCEA is a professional organization dedicated to the welfare of Kent County teachers and pupils. It was organized in 1922 and with the exception of an interruption during World War II, 1943-47, has been active to the present time. In the beginning it worked primarily for professional interests and educators' welfare. Over the years it became interested in all phases of education including the employment of a paid State Secretary, standardized courses of study, specialized education, FTA Clubs, a school budget to include increments in salary, teacher and school personnel retirement, pensions, federal aid to public school education, to mention a few.

Perhaps, at the present time, its most effective function is to act as a liaison organization between county interests and state and national organizations.

KCEA has brought to Kent County teachers many well-known educators and national figures to keep the county up to date on the trend of the times in education. (Continued on Page 8)

Farm Bureau Young Peoples Organization Formed in Kent County

A Kent County Farm Bureau Young Peoples organization was formed at a meeting in Dover on Thursday, February 27.

Robert Biggs, of Felton, was elected temporary chairman, William Mack, temporary vice-chairman, and Elaine Mack, temporary secretary.

A group of about 25 young farm people were present and decided they would like to organize in order that they might meet with people who have similar problems and attempt to find solutions to them. It was explained that they would work closely with and be affiliated with the regular Farm Bureau organization.

Plans for future get-togethers were discussed and it is anticipated that business will be liberally mixed with pleasure. The next meeting is scheduled for March 12 at which time Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dempsey and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Moore are in charge of the program.

The City of Harrington needs money and some members of the City Council, at its regular March meeting Wednesday evening, thought it was about time more revenue was raised.

Councilman Burton Satterfield said the City had to raise more revenue. He was backed up by Councilman Albert Price who said the City's services had been increased but the revenue to pay for the increase had not been raised.

Vice Mayor Howell Hitchens, who presided in the absence of Mayor Fulton J. Downing, who is on a Caribbean cruise, said the Council would have to have a pow wow when the mayor returned.

Mentioned as probable sources of income were increased capitation taxes and a sewer rental. Price explained that some towns south of us had raised capitation taxes considerably. That tax here is $4.15. Councilman Wilson Bradley believed some change might be made in the capitation tax but he did not favor a sewer tax.

The discussion on increased revenue came up after the Council had voted to borrow money to tide the City over until taxes were paid. This is a normal procedure. In other business Wednesday night:

The Council voted to hold a public hearing at 7:30 p.m., March 25, on a proposal to rezone two lots from residential to commercial. The request was made by Rowe Pleasanton, of Dover, concerning lots 5 and 6 on the southbound lane of U. S. 13 across from the General Banking Company. Pleasanton said the Tazee Freez Company wanted to buy the lots from him to erect a stand.

Voted to employ a part-time patrolman.

In other business, the vice mayor appointed Councilman F. Lawrence Price, Albert C. Price and Burton Satterfield to a committee to study the water code, with recommendations to be presented to the Council at its April meeting.

Accepted the scrap assessment list and agreed to hear appeals from 7 to 9 p.m., Mon., March 16.

Ferry Contracts Awarded

Low bids on ferry terminal construction work at Cape May and Lewes ran approximately $57,000 more than engineering estimates when bids were opened at Delaware River and Bay Authority headquarters, Delaware Memorial Bridge Tuesday.

The bids covered preparations of sites in both states, including grading, wiring, paving, parking and service areas, storm drains, toll booths and other items.

On the Cape May side, bids also included construction of a complete ship fueling and water system and storage facilities. This is what made the Cape May bids nearly $300,000 higher than the Lewes estimates.

J. J. Nugent Company, of Northfield, N. J., was lowest of seven bidders for the Cape May work at $696,420.00. Consulting engineers estimated this work at $684,000.00, according (Continued on Page 8)

Hughes - Moore

The marriage of Miss Jane Lynn Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hughes, Jr., of Harrington, to Mr. Robert Irvin Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester S. Moore, of Harrington, took place Saturday evening, Feb. 8, in the Asbury Methodist Church. The 7 p.m. candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. Olin Shockley. The church was decorated with palms and white chrysanthemums. A reception followed at the Collins Hall. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin velvet fashioned with a skirt of released drape and a fitted bodice, scoop neckline, long sleeves tapering to a point, and a circular chapel train. Her finger tip-length silk illusion veil was held by a white satin pillbox hat accented with rosettes. She carried a cascade of white roses and orchids. Miss Barbara Hurley, of Detroit, Mich., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Bitting, of Oreland, Pa., and Miss Linda Brenner, of Cambridge, Md. The attendants were gowned alike in candy pink velveteen street length dresses, white fur pillbox hats, and carried white fur muffs with pink roses attached. Cynthia Lee Hughes, sister of the bride, acted as flower girl. She wore a white satin velvet dress, white fur pillbox hat, and carried a white fur muff adorned with pink rosebuds. Mr. William Parker, of Harrington, served as best man. Ushers included William Wells and David Wells, both of Milton. Mr. and Mrs. Moore will make their home in Harrington. The bride is a senior at the University of Delaware. Mr. Moore is now employed by the DuPont Company.

the junior and senior high school classes. For all the younger children in the parish there will be classes on Thursday afternoon at 3:30.

Making the Way of the Cross is a devotion in honor of the Passion of our Lord. It consists in moving from one to another of the fourteen crosses that hang on the walls of the church. While standing in front of each of the crosses prayers are said and a short meditation is made on a particular incident of Christ's Passion. This custom began in the fifteenth century and has continued down to the present time. The original stations at Jerusalem, from which this practice derives, is oftentimes called the "Via Dolorosa".

Mrs. Lester Hatfield and daughter were in Wilmington, Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Hatfield is on the sick list.

Course Offered In Radiological Monitoring

The University of Delaware is now accepting applications for a Civil Defense course to train men and women as instructors in radiological monitoring.

The training for instructors is an intensive course, said Arthur McDaniel, supervisor of continuing education at the University.

Those who complete the tuition free, 30-hour course will make up a corps of monitor instructors who in turn will be able to teach monitors in Kent and Sussex Counties.

Some 300 monitors will be needed in Sussex County alone, according to Lt. Col. Charles Bruner, county CD Director.

McDaniel said the radiological training for instructors course covers concepts of nuclear science, radiological instruments, monitoring techniques, dose rate calculations, radiation protection and related subjects.

Enrollment forms are now being distributed to science teachers and others in the two-county area.

Requests for applications should be made to McDaniel of the University of Delaware Extension Division, Raub Hall, Newark.

Bankers' Ag. Forum March 12

A noted agricultural economist and a bank president will be the featured speakers at the annual Delaware Bankers' Agricultural Forum at the University of Delaware on Thurs., March 12.

Dr. Lawrence L. Boger, head of the agricultural economics department at Michigan State University, will discuss "The Farmer's Needs and Credit Credits".

Edward M. Norman, president of the First National Bank, Clarksville, Tenn., and president of the Tennessee Bankers' Association, will speak on "The Country Bank—Future or Failure."

A panel discussion will follow, led by Dr. William E. McDaniel, chairman of the University of Delaware's department of agricultural economics and director of resident instruction for the School of Agriculture; Carlton W. Lowe, a vegetable producer from near Laurel, who has developed a recreation enterprise on his farm; and Willard T. McAllister, extension farm management specialist at the University of Delaware.

More than 180 Delaware bank directors, bankers and leading farmers are expected to attend the session, which will begin at noon with a luncheon in Kent Hall on the University campus.

Delaware Food Market Report

To some women, the approach of spring means shopping for a gay chapeau, to others it means pouring over flower seed catalogs, and to others, it means serving food that's new, different, light and airy, but delicious.

Round bread is newly out in the form of a bran loaf studded with sesame seeds. Cracker bakers have just introduced a brand new snack in a unique shape.

Another new treat is a moist date nut bread with its own bake-in-a-package pan.

Sun bathers just back from Florida will find the makings of Florida's famous key lime pie awaiting them here in a new packaged pudding mix.

There is little that is new in the meat situation, however. Beef, pork, and broiler marketings continue to be very abundant.

Bad weather in all producing areas has retarded growth, and affected the quality of most vegetables now coming to market.

At this season of the year, many fruits are being sent in from foreign countries.

Lenten Program At Asbury Society Meeting

The Cross and the Resurrection and the meaning of Easter were points considered during the program portion of the Women's Society of Christian Service meeting Tuesday evening in Asbury Church.

Mrs. Floyd Nasser, president announced the following dates of interest to members. Monday, March 9, Day Apart Service at 7:30 p. m. in Mt. Olivet Church, Seaford.

The Council has plans to place billboards and other promotional material earlier this year in order to encourage fair visitors to make stops in the First State, Green said.

Delaware attractions will be widely heralded through newspapers and radio spots, as well as at dedication exercises of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Tunnel, complex on April 15, it was pointed out.

The Rehoboth Chamber of Commerce, which will help host the Travel Council is also looking forward to a season of greater activity, according to C. W. Martin, president.

Downings Write From Barbados

"We are having a wonderful trip on the 'Empress of Canada.' We departed from New York, Monday the 24th at 3:00 o'clock P.M. We like the ship, it is new.

"Yesterday we landed at St. Thomas where we took a sightseeing trip, visiting Bluebeard's Castle and other points of interest.

"The sun is very hot, but a good breeze keeps the temperature at an average of 80 degrees.

"Last night we passed Martinique close enough to see the lights of the town. We are going ashore now at Barbados, where we will mail this letter. The town is Bridgetown.

"Tomorrow we arrive at Port of Spain, Trinidad, then to Curacao, then Kingston, Jamaica, where we leave for New York.

"We have met some very nice people, of the 620 aboard; almost half are from Canada.

"It has been interesting seeing the flying fish jump out of the water and fly along with the ship sometimes for a hundred yards.

"Barbados is called the land of the flying fish. We expect to eat some for lunch.

Yours truly
Fulton and Anna Downing."

Canterbury
The Community welcomes Mr. and Mrs. Horace Goode, formerly of Harrington, to their new home which they have recently built on the John Richardson property.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Walters, Sr. were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Melvin of Harrington.

Dinner guests of the John Richardsons on Tuesday was their grandson, Tpr. John Harrison of the Delaware State Police.

Weekend guest of the Aiken sisters was Miss Connie Mitchell of Smyrna.

Mrs. Shirley Alexander spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. John Richardson.

Donald Darling of Viola was a luncheon guest of his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilkins on Saturday.

Guests on Friday of Mr. and Mrs. John Richardson were Mrs. Gladys Smith of Woodside, and Mrs. Richardson's brother, Roy Blades of Laurel.

Saturday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Aiken and family were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hutson and family of near Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. James Mitchell and family of Smyrna, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilkins and family of Canterbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilkins and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mays and children of Rising Sun on Sunday afternoon.

Norman Wilkins and Alfred Mays visited Robert Russum at the Kent General Hospital in the afternoon.

Miller to Speak To Ferry Council

Director William J. Miller Jr., of the Delaware River and Bay Authority will brief members of Delaware Travel Council on the Cape May - Lewes ferry, Friday evening.

Miller will speak at the Council's March meeting in Rehoboth Beach where Vice President Mae Hall McCabe and members of the Rehoboth Beach Chamber of Commerce will be hosts.

President Harry F. Green said that Council members and the executive committee will continue to study plans to promote the "See Delaware and the Fair," theme adopted at the annual meeting. In that connection, Green says the Council hopes to have reduced price tickets available for its membership and for use in promotion work.

The Council has plans to place billboards and other promotional material earlier this year in order to encourage fair visitors to make stops in the First State, Green said.

Delaware attractions will be widely heralded through newspapers and radio spots, as well as at dedication exercises of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Tunnel, complex on April 15, it was pointed out.

Veterans News

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—A friend of mine takes "War Orphans Education" courses and her mother is living. How can she qualify as an orphan?

A—The War Orphans Education Program (which now also includes children of peacetime veterans under certain conditions) was set up for children whose veteran-parent died because of service-connected disabilities.

Q—Are there VA hospitals in Alaska and Hawaii?

A—These are the only two states that do not have a VA hospital within their borders.

Q—Are plans under way to honor survivors of the Spanish-American War? There are only a few of them left.

A—This may happen in the future. At present there are still 20,000 of these Spanish-American War veterans alive.

7 Indicted In Burglary In Harrington

The Kent County grand jury, before completing its work for the present term of court Tuesday, returned indictments in a Harrington burglary case.

Seven men were indicted for fourth degree burglary at the Harrington Moose Home, on Dec. 11. They were Thomas Edward Robinson, David Sheffer, Kenneth Edward Wood, Grady Johnson, Cecil Wayne Donovan, Lee Warren Johnson and Robert Henry Warren, Jr.

Three men were indicted on two charges of fourth degree burglary at a building owned by George & Lynch, near Sandtown, on Dec. 2, and at Lee's Record Shop, near Felton, on Dec. 2, and at Lee's Record Shop, near Felton, on Dec. 6.

The men are Cecil Wayne Donovan, Kenneth Edward Wood and Robert Henry Warren, Jr., all of whom had been indicted in connection with the burglary at the Harrington Moose Home.

Highway Dept. Snowed Under

The heavy snows of the winter are giving the State Highway Department a $193,000 deficit problem.

Ernest A. Davidson, director of operations, told the highway commission Wednesday that the salary account for maintenance and construction will be short that amount by June 30 unless remedial steps are taken.

The commission directed Davidson to adopt a policy of cutting down any further overtime and not to employ any new personnel to fill vacancies.

Davidson said the chief reason for the impending deficit has been the unusual overtime costs for crews that battled the snow through the night and early hours of snow storms. The commission also Wednesday authorized Davidson to proceed with plans for dualizing U.S. Route 113 from Georgetown to Selbyville and State Route 14 from near Nassau to a point north of Broadkill River.

Gruwell Named To Racing Unit

Hudson E. Gruwell, of Dover, Wednesday was named to the Delaware Harness Racing Commission succeeding Carroll B. Staats, of Smyrna.

Staats, who was chairman, was serving a term that expired last April 22. Gruwell's term will run until April 22, 1969.

The three commission members are paid $1 each per year, plus "reasonable" expenses for travel to meetings and official commission business functions.

Dash of Herbs Adds New Treat

Salt and pepper are standard seasonings, but ever since the time of Columbus, men have searched for new ways to enhance the taste of food. In their travels they searched for the treasure of tropical spices, and the wealth of kings sometimes balanced on their ability to return with the fragile, perishable leaves.

Today, gourmet cuisine is set apart by its masterful touches of seasoning. But the subtle flavoring of the very finest cuisine can be duplicated in your own kitchen. Creating new tastes for old favorites—meat, vegetables, soups and breads—isn't difficult when herbs and spices become a reliable part of your food preparation tools. Janet Coblenz, foods and nutrition specialist at the University of Delaware, recently told a gourmet interest group of the Wilmington area Newcomers Club.

Although there are only so many foods around, the number of ways to vary them could keep you busy for a lifetime. Spices and herbs are used to enhance the natural flavor of the food, never to disguise it, she related. Start out on your first few ventures with herbs and spices by following recipes which have been well tested. When experimenting, said Miss Coblenz, a good rule of thumb is to start with one-quarter teaspoon of a spice or herb. It is easier to add another small amount than to be faced with the problem of over-seasoning.

Almost any of the herbs can be used interchangeably or blended together in recipes. Thyme, savory, marjoram, basil or bay leaf can be used to vary stuffings. Basil, with its delicate flavoring, is often favored for egg dishes, but there is no reason why you couldn't try it in soups, with lemon on fish, or crumbled and sprinkled on tomato slices.

Herbs can be blended with butter or bread and biscuit dough when French bread, heated with garlic and butter, has lost its novelty.

Replacing butter on cooked vegetables, herbs have extra dividends for those on low fat and salt-free diets. The psychological need for salt is not as great when other seasoning is there to take its place.

Herbs are the leaves of plants which grow north of the tropics, while spices come from tropical plants.

After picking, herbs are perishable and need to be used quickly to be at their aromatic best. Some women who grow plants on kitchen window sills have found it profitable to keep a few pots planted with rosemary, thyme, basil, marjoram, sage and parsley, Miss Coblenz said. Need a pinch of something? Pinch it yourself. But don't forget to crush your fresh-grown flavoring as you use it, to get its full benefit.

When buying a packaged spice or herb, learn to look for strength and color. A fresh, rich color and pungent aroma that rises to meet you mark highest quality, Miss Coblenz noted. Since they gradually lose color and flavor, you get no bargain when you buy a large quantity in a bag. Smaller, tightly sealed containers are best for the average homemaker. Frequent replenishment assures you of best quality for cooking.

Spices and herbs should be stored in a cool, dry place, never right over or too near the range. Once containers are opened, herb flavor begins to wane. If they are properly stored, the few ounces of herbs in tightly closed containers retain good flavor and color for several months.

Herbs tend to lose flavor a little faster than most spices, but they are used in greater amounts. If you buy them in leaf form and crush them as you use them, they will keep their flavor longer. Ground spices should be replaced within six months, while whole spices keep their flavor almost indefinitely.

Whole spices, said Miss Coblenz, are especially useful in dishes which cook a long time, such as stews. They should be added at the beginning of the cooking period to extract their full flavor and aroma. Add ground spices and herbs about 15 minutes before serving. In uncooked dishes, such as salad dressing, fruit juices or cottage cheese, the spice or herb mixture should be left standing for several hours to develop maximum flavor.

No one can say how much of any spice or herb you will prefer to use—no one but you and those who will eat what you prepare. Since the pungency of each seasoning differs, and its effect on different foods varies, there is no hard-and-fast rule for the perfect amount.

Armed Forces Notes

Army Capt. Samuel M. Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey O. Simpson, 140 Evergreen Drive, Dover, and other members of the 30th Medical Group participated in field training exercise MED DELTA which ended Feb. 12, in Karlsruhe, Germany.

During the exercise medical units, under simulated battle conditions, performed all phases of medical duties involved in the transportation and treatment of casualties from battlefield to hospital.

Captain Simpson, assigned to Headquarters of the group's 52d Medical Battalion, entered the Army in October 1961 and arrived overseas in July 1963.

The captain is a 1949 graduate of Dover High School and a 1953 graduate of Springfield, (Mass.) College.

Army Specialist Five Nelson V. Harris, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac P. Harris, Felton, and other members of the 25th Infantry Division's 69th Armor, are participating in Exercise HIGH TOP II, a five-week training maneuver in Hawaii. The exercise is scheduled to end March 6.

The men of the 69th Armor moved from the Island of Oahu to the rugged lava beds of the volcano Mauna Loa, on the Island of Hawaii, for the live-fire and combined arms training exercises. Specialist Harris is a gunner in Company B of the 69th Armor's 1st Battalion stationed at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii.

He entered the Army in 1956 and was stationed at Fort George Meade, Md., before his assignment at Schofield Barracks.

Harris is a 1955 graduate of William Henry High School in Dover.

His wife, Doris, is with him in Hawaii.

Army Pvt. Otis R. Harmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis W. Harmon, Ellendale, and other members of the 1st Armored Division, Ft. Hood, Tex., participated in a combined arms exercise conducted at Ft. Polk, La., Feb. 12. Four hundred soldiers of the division underwent training at Ft. Polk for two weeks in preparation for the realistic training exercise. The 24-year-old soldier, a member of Company B, 1st Battalion of the division's 6th Infantry, entered the Army June 1963 and completed basic training at Ft. Jackson, S. C. He attended W. C. Jason High School, Georgetown.

Second Lieutenant James S. McClain, son of Mrs. Juanita M. McClain, of 2 E. Milby St., Harrington, has completed his first solo flight in the T-37 jet trainer. He is undergoing United States Air Force pilot training at Webb AFB, Texas.

Lieutenant McClain, who received his commission through the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps program, will receive the silver wings of a pilot upon graduation from the year-long flying training course.

The lieutenant earned B.S. and M.A. degrees from West Virginia University.

Army PFC Howard H. Piper Jr., whose parents live at 506 Truitt Ave., Milford, and other members of the 25th Division's 35th Infantry, are participating in Exercise HIGH TOP II, a five-week field training maneuver which began early in February in Hawaii.

Piper is an ammunition bearer in Company C of the 35th Infantry's 1st Battalion stationed at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii.

He entered the Army in March 1962, completed basic training at Ft. Dix, N. J., and was stationed at Ft. Gordon, Ga., before his assignment at Schofield Barracks.

The 20-year-old soldier is a 1962 graduate of William Henry High School in Dover.

Fire Company Report

The regular March meeting of the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company was held Monday evening with 35 members present.

Paul Clendaniel and Samuel Layton were elected to membership.

Delegates to Kent County Firemen's meeting in Leipsic, Wed., March 18 are Donald McKnatt, Melvin Wyatt, Tom Brown.

President Neeman appointed the following officers and committee chairmen to lay plans for the 44th annual Delaware Volunteer Firemen's Association Convention to be held here Sept. 10-11-12: general chairmen, Paul Neeman, Douglas Mills; secretary, Albert C. Price; treasurer, Dale V. Dean; publicity committee, William H. Outten, chairman; housing committee, Robert Taylor, chairman; parade committee, Walter Messick; refreshment committee, Harold Fry and Russell lades, co-chairmen; entertainment committee, Melvin R. Wyatt, chairman; program and advertising, Donald McKnatt, chairman.

Merit Scholarship Test Set for March 10

Eighty-four students at Harrington High School plan to take the 1964 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, E. A. Rutledge, coordinator of Pupil Personnel, announced this week.

The test will be administered at the school at 9 a.m. Tues., March 10. All students who wish to be considered for Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1965 should take the test at that time.

The qualifying test is a three-hour examination of educational development. The test is the first step in the tenth annual competition for four-year Merit Scholarships provided by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and by sponsoring corporations, foundations, colleges, associations, unions, trusts, and individuals.

The number of scholarships awarded in any year depends upon the extent of sponsor participation. In 1963, 1528 Merit Scholarships were awarded; 951 were provided by 179 sponsors and 577 by the Merit Corporation. There are 4119 Merit Scholars attending 425 colleges in the current academic year.

The test scores of students who are examined in March will be reported to their schools before May 15. The scores are used by counselors in many high schools to help students make decisions about college attendance and field of study. Many students who do not expect to win a scholarship take the test in order to learn more about their individual strengths and weaknesses in the areas measured by the test.

Some 14,000 semifinalists, the highest scorers in each state, will be named early next fall. Names of semifinalists are published in a booklet which is distributed to all colleges and to other sources of financial aid for undergraduates. Further, their names and test scores are sent to the colleges they express an interest in attending as their first and second choices. The order of preference is not shown.

An additional 35,000 students, selected on a national basis, receive Letters of Commendation for their high performance on the qualifying test. These students are considered for special awards made through the Merit Corporation, and their names and test scores are also sent to their first and second choice colleges.

Each semifinalist will be asked to take a second examination. Those who repeat their high performance will become finalists in the merit program. Winners of Merit Scholarships will be selected from the finalist group on the basis of school records and recommendations, test scores, extracurricular activities, leadership ability, and accomplishments outside the classroom. Each finalist is awarded a certificate of merit attesting to his outstanding performance.

The scholarship stipends are based on financial need. The minimum award is $100 and the maximum is $1500. The average stipend awarded to freshman Merit Scholars in 1963 was $796 annually, or $3184 for the four years of college. Each scholarship constitutes a form of educational insurance, since the stipend may be increased at any time if the student's financial situation changes during the four-year term of the scholarship.

Supplementary grants are usually made to the colleges that the scholars attend.

Older Pigs Do Not Need Iron Injections

A University of Delaware animal husbandryman has cautioned swine growers not to inject pigs with iron after they are three weeks old.

John Shropshire, extension livestock specialist at the University, says midwestern meat packers are finding traces of injectable iron compounds in the hams of market hogs. He says this indicates that swine producers are injecting iron compounds into their hogs within 30 to 60 days prior to sending them to market.

Shropshire says that not only is this practice quite expensive, but it is also ineffective. There has been no research work to date that indicates any benefit from injecting pigs with iron after they reach three weeks of age.

A common and beneficial practice among swine growers is to inject very young pigs with iron compounds. This is done between two days and two weeks of age. Iron injections are necessary because swine's milk lacks the iron needed by young pigs for rapid growth.

Shropshire cautions producers to read and follow the instructions on the label prior to injecting pigs with iron compounds.

Mrs. Thomas H. Willin

Mrs. Elizabeth W. Willin, 89, widow of Thomas H. Willin, died Saturday in Deer's Head State Hospital, Salisbury, after a long illness.

A native of Wicomico County, she lived most of her life in the Federalsburg area. Her husband died in 1944.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Dallas Boyce, and Mrs. Samuel Mackert, both of near Federalsburg, Mrs. Katie M. Austin, of Harrington, and Mrs. Darrell Wheatley, of Seaford; three sons, Thomas J. of Federalsburg, Clarence of Sharptown, and Elwood of Wilmington; 16 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday afternoon at the Frampton Funeral Home, Federalsburg.

Kent Home Doings

Do you know your correct pattern size? Or do you have trouble finding a pattern that fits you well when you sew? Miss Janet Reed, Extension Clothing Specialist with the University of Delaware, will be in Dannemann's, Rodney Village Shopping Center, Dover, March 13 and 14th.

The best indication of pattern size is to try on a basic pattern and compare sizes and figure types. Miss Reed will have a kit of basic patterns from girls size 8 to women's size 44 and 24 1/2. Basic patterns from two pattern companies will be used so a comparison of fit between brands will be possible.

Miss Reed, assisted by Marion MacDonald, 4-H agent and Katie Thomas, home economics extension Agent, will be in the store Friday, March 13 from 2 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 9 p.m. and Saturday, March 14 from 12 noon to 5 p.m. You may stop in at any time to try on the basic patterns and discuss any fitting or alteration problems you may have.

Money invested in servicing appliances is part of the overall cost of household equipment. Approximately 10 per cent of the total cost of each major piece of equipment should be budgeted to cover servicing costs each year, notes Katie Thomas, Kent county home economics extension agent.

She says automatic and multi-purpose units may need more repairs because they have more working parts, and thus a greater chance of breaking down. Getting good repair service for your household equipment begins with buying, relates Mrs. Thomas. Before buying, select a reliable dealer, understand your guarantee coverage, and check the availability of local repair service.

When difficulty develops, be sure all controls are properly adjusted. Check the fuse box and electrical, water and gas connections to the appliance to be sure your troubles don't stem from one of these.

When calling for service, have the essential facts about the appliance on hand—the model number, the date of purchase and installation, and the dealer's and manufacturer's names. Describe the problem to the serviceman as clearly as possible to help him

NAVY AND YOU

February 19, 1945, Admiral Nimitz prepared a new drive to attack Iwo Jima which lay in the path of the superfortresses that winged their way over Tokyo. After heavy shelling by large United States naval forces the allies moved on to Okinawa and the very threshold of Japan. It looked as if it would take a long drawn out campaign to conquer the mainland, so the allies elected to drop the new atomic bomb on Hiroshima and Nagasaki forcing the Japanese to sue for peace on board the battleship MISSOURI September 2, 1945.

Accidental Death Rates Reduced

Substantial progress has been made in reducing accidental death rates in Delaware in the past ten years...

The death rate to which McMullen referred is the number of accidental deaths per 100,000 population. The Delaware Safety Council and the National Safety Council have computed the rates...

Limiting the comparison to the 10-year period of 1953-62 is conclusive because national figures are available for those years...

Accident figures frequently used by the Delaware Safety Council deal with numbers of deaths or accidents without regard to the population. The death rate figures in the present compilation relate the number of deaths or accidents without regard to the population...

In 1953, the first year of the decade under consideration, there were 272 accidental deaths in Delaware and the death rate was 77.1 per 100,000 population as compared with a national rate of 60.

In 1962 the number of accidental deaths in Delaware was lower—222—although the population was higher, and the rate was only 47.3. The national rate had come down to only 52.2.

Conceding that the death rate figures are only approximate because the population figures are estimates except in census years, McMullen said the figures still are "solid indications for solid progress in preventing accidents. We are still having too many accidental deaths, but it is very encouraging to know that the combined efforts of industry, the police, the schools, and a great number of individuals and groups, coordinated by the Delaware Safety Council are achieving notable success in a long, uphill battle."

Agriculture Offers Opportunities To Many People

You don't have to live on a farm—or even near one—to be eligible for a career in the broad field of agriculture...

The field of agriculture is so large today that its needs have expanded beyond the limits of the farm and now extend into many other forms of business. In fact, the students were told, agriculture is the largest single investment of 200 billion dollars.

Dr. William E. McDaniel, director of resident instruction and duty in America with an instructor of the department of agricultural economics, told the assembly that college graduates in agriculture are most often employed in allied fields which supply agricultural producers with commodities such as feed, chemicals, fertilizer, machinery and power...

Jobs in agricultural and biological sciences call for knowledge of engineering, chemistry, plant and animal pathology, entomology, genetics, plant and animal nutrition, soils and economics. The college programs are planned to give the student a broad understanding in many areas, and specific training in his selected field.

As examples of jobs in agricultural production, Dr. Paul P. Burbulis, assistant professor of entomology, named animal production, plant production, conservation and recreation as employment opportunities.

Services which graduates of agricultural schools can give to those who produce food and fiber include veterinary medicine, pest control, construction, machinery service, landscape architecture, management, communications and banking.

Distributing farm products has grown to be almost a 30 billion dollar a year business, Robert L. Bull, food marketing specialist with the University of Delaware, stated. Advertising, banking, equipment and packaging companies need college graduates trained to understand their problems and meet them with workable solutions. Research for new and better ways to bring products to consumers must be done by men in these positions. Technical and practical approaches have to be combined for profitable results.

Agriculture looks to research for new machinery and equipment, new developments in food science, feeding, breeding, disease control, processing, and marketing. Agricultural scientists are active in new areas of radioactive elements, radiation, electronics, solar energy, and the wonder drugs. Opportunities for jobs are found in industry and universities as well as the U. S. Department of Agriculture, state Ralph P. Barwick, assistant professor of agricultural education.

Biological sciences, Dr. G. Fred Somers, chairman of the department of biological sciences, explained, seed to explain the fundamental processes of living organisms. Using the improvement of one crop as an example, Dr. Somers showed biological science in action. He stated that the grower needs a knowledge of vegetable crops, plant breeding, soils and soil technology, agronomy, horticulture, marketing and processing. In addition, Somers indicated, the production of a successful crop depends on plant physiology, botany, microbiology, entomology and genetics—all phases of the biological sciences.

With the success of the 1964 Careers Day, Dr. McDaniel, chairman of the event, said the program for high school students will be continued in future years.

Oak Grove Blue Hens invited parents to a dessert meeting this past week. Mary Grampp, president conducted the evening doings. Fred Stites repeated his public speaking entry, Patty Stites reported on the contest results. The evening concluded with slides showing activities the members had been participating in during the past years.

Saturday, March 7 will find the State Links gathered at the Capitol Grange for a covered dish supper starting at 6:30 p.m. 4-Hers will join the group at 8 p.m. for a state wide square dance.

George Grampp and his family of Oak Grove are becoming very interested in the birdlife around their new home. George carries the "Know Your Bird" project and is learning to identify many Delaware birds. This is a project any 4-H'er can carry.

New Wheat Standards Mean Better Markets

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said recently the U. S. Department of Agriculture will modernize official U. S. standards for grades of wheat as an important step to increasing dollar sales of wheat in overseas markets.

The new standards become effective June 1. Secretary Freeman said they will: —Improve the competitive position of U. S. wheat in world markets.

—Help combat increasingly restrictive trade policies in some areas, particularly the Common Market.

—Enable the Commodity Credit Corporation to better guarantee the quality of grain owned by the public. —Provide substantial taxpayer savings in the export subsidy program.

—Strengthen the price of wheat for the farmer who grows quality wheat.

In general, the new standards—based on narrower ranges of tolerance for each grade—will mean less foreign matter and dockage in American wheat than in the past. Quality factors of weight, soundness and cleanliness can be more readily and more precisely measured today than in the past.

Secretary Freeman noted that the changes in grade standards were made only after conferences with wheat industry representatives, a study of competitive conditions in world markets by a joint government-industry team, and four public hearings around the country.

The standards by which the quality of wheat is measured are established by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The original standards for wheat were established in 1917. The last previous revision was made in 1957.

Over the years, better equipment and better methods have allowed farmers to improve the cleanliness of U. S. wheat delivered at country points and received at terminal markets. But complaints that the standards have failed to keep pace with the improvements in marketing practices have been increasing. Repeated suggestions in recent years of the need for improvement in grade standards led to a series of conferences with the Department of Agriculture, wheat producer, trade, and processor groups and organizations. The conferences led to the drafting by U.S.D.A. of a series of proposals for improvement of the standards. The new standards will go into effect June 1, 1964—allowing the 90-days notice that is required after publication in the "Federal Register."

Louis Starkey No. 1 Grappler In Mat Tourney

Louis Starkey and Jim Cain, of the Harrington High wrestling team won individual championships and Starkey was voted the Most Outstanding Wrestler award in the third annual Delaware Independent Wrestling Tournament held at St. Andrew's School, Middletown, Friday and Saturday.

Downstate schools made an impressive showing as Delmar, Millsboro, Dover Air and Harrington, all Helopen Conference schools, won six titles out of 12 in competition with six upstate schools.

Harrington had only ten wrestlers but brought home five medals as Cain and Starkey took top honors in the 126 and 180 pound classes, respectively. Dave Greenly (95) and George Bonniwell (127) captured second places. Dan Adams (103) finished third as he won three out of four matches, losing only to the division winner, Albie Forwood of A. I. DuPont. Forwood, an experienced grappler, was 95 pound champion last year.

Bonniwell and Greenly were beaten in the final round as Frank Glazier's Lions surprised by qualifying four wrestlers for the finals.

Starkey pinned Artuner, of Sanford Prep, for the second year in a row, as he started his march to the coveted "Most Outstanding" award. Lou then took on the most superbly built wrestler in the hall, in the person of Paul Camp, of A. I. DuPont. Camp had about ten pounds on Starkey, who should be wrestling in the 165 pound class instead of 180. The huge upstater was second in the state championships last year. The pair fenced for the first two minute round, without going to the mat. Starkey lost the toss of the coin and started the second round on the bottom. He "come from there" as the saying goes and reversed his rival for a 2-0 lead. The Lion held Camp down for the rest of round two and more than half of the final round before Camp turned the tables to tie the score at 2-2. In overtime Starkey again lost the toss of the coin and had to start underneath. Again he reversed Camp for a 2-0 lead. Camp escaped from Starkey for one point with second left but the damage was done and the second-seeded Wilmington lad was beaten 2-1 by the third-seeded farm boy.

Against topseeded Angus Davis, of the host St. Andrew's team, Starkey played it close to the vest and took a 5-1 verdict. Louis' record for this season now shows 14 victories and no defeats at 180 pounds and one loss to Gary Yanta, of Delmar, at 165 pounds. Yanta, who was pinned twice by Starkey, has since left Delaware. At 165 pounds Starkey would be a cinch for state champion honors. At 180 he has a fair chance but will give away up to 12 pounds per match.

Jim Cain pinned Cajmar, of Sanford Prep, decided Rocky Klotz, of Millsboro, and then outpointed Carl Carroll, of Dover Air 4-0 to reach the finals. In the Henlopen tourney at Delmar Carroll pushed Cain to the limit before yielding on a referees' decision.

In the finals the second-seeded Harrington lad faced Barry Sabloff, of St. Andrews, who had upset top-seeded Dick Rathmell, of A. I. DuPont. Sabloff took Cain down for a 2-0 lead but Jim reversed him to tie things up just before the buzzer. Cain lost the toss to start round two but reversed Sabloff again for a 4-2 lead and maintained control of the red-clad grappler for the rest of the test. Cain has won more than 20 matches this season, while losing only two. Both of these losses were in December before Jim hit his stride. He now has a string of 17 straight victories and has won titles in three tournaments.

Dave Greenly has won 15 of 17 bouts. Like Cain he is a sophomore and has three years in which to grab off a state championship. Both could make it in that time as they work hard and never give up.

Greenly opened his tourney activity by pinning Trumbo, of Dover Air, and then handed out more of the same to Klank, of Sanford Prep. Karpinski, of A. I. DuPont was the next victim bending the knee 3-2 in overtime. In the finals Saturday night, David dropped a decision to Marshall Schell, of Tatnall.

George Bonniwell's last two or three weeks have been periods of frustration for the hardy 127 pounder. George opened his season with 12 straight victories but injured both his knees in separate accidents and was held to a draw at Easton. In order to qualify for this year's state meet at the University of Delaware, Bonniwell had to wrestle at St. Andrews and finish first, second or third. In this tourney last year the local boy won the 120 pound division. To further complicate matters he came up with blood poisoning in an arm in addition to the sore knees. Anyone with less courage and determination would be in bed but Bonniwell was third in the state meet in 1963 and wants another crack at Delaware's best. He decided Jerry Campbell, Delmar and Allen Hudson, Millsboro, to enter the final round against the powerful Warren Hoeffcker, of St. Andrews. Hoeffcker has pinned the Blue Hen Conference champion, George DeShields, of De La Warr this season and appears to be the man to beat for No. 1 in Delaware. Hoeffcker had plenty of trouble with the sore Bonniwell and held only a 4-3 lead until a reverse in the last five seconds widened the gap to 6-3. If the Harringtonian can recover from his ailments in the next two weeks, we may see an upset in the state title test.

Dan Adams, only newcomer in the Lion medal-winning quintet, pinned Maloney of Delmar, lost to champion Forwood, then decided Freeman of Friends School and took a 6-5 verdict over third-seeded Bill Schawn, of Dover Air.

Upwards of fifty Harringtonians raised the roof when the announcer stated that Starkey had won the big trophy, for the local fans felt that an upstater, any upstater, would grab the prize.

The Lions have developed several outstanding wrestlers the past three years and can be proud of the five boys, who have qualified for the state meet. Facilities for wrestling are limited at H.H.S. At St. Andrew's the Lions saw five or six wall-to-wall wrestling rooms. Said a local boy, "Gee, they've got better mats on the walls than our mats at home."

Felton Edges Rebels In Double Overtime, 60-58

The Green Devils, of Felton High survived a king-sized scare as Selbyville Tuesday night and finished their regular season undefeated. The Rebels will play the Eastern Division titleists from Lord Baltimore for the conference championship at John M. Clayton, Dagsboro on Friday night.

The Rebels kept the pressure on Felton as the Devils had to come from behind on Dave Wood's field goal to send the game into overtime. Selbyville also scored first in both of the overtime periods to keep the eventual victors scrambling all night. Wood dropped two foul shots for the victory margin.

Basketball fans in this lower Kent County area look for Felton to bounce back against Lord Baltimore Friday night and bring the league title to the Western Division for the first time.

Bill Green was high scorer at Selbyville Tuesday night with 20 points. Wood had 14 and Jim Blades contributed 11.

Jaycees End 12-3 Cage Season

Jim Hawpe's junior varsity basketball team ended their season with a 27-23 victory over Greenwood at Harrington. The Lions won twelve games and lost three this winter.

Against Greenwood, Harrington reserves played most of the last period. Sam Knox led the way to victory with 15 points. Ellis Myer, Marshall Hatfield and Dean Manges threw up a defensive screen that Greenwood found almost impenetrable.

John Greenhaugh and Knox were the leading scorers for the season. The first six players are sophomores and will probably be on the varsity in 1965.

Greenwood Beats Harrington, 62-52

In the first of two games on successive nights between the two clubs, Greenwood capitalized on accurate foul shooting to defeat Harrington at Greenwood on Monday night. The Lions had a 21-19 edge in field goals.

Greenwood outscored the locals in each of the first three periods and were nosed 16-15 in the final stanza. The Foresters needed one more point by Duane Anthony to put all five starters in double figures as Drew Clendaniel had 16, Dave Henry 14, Buell Schulze 12, and Julian Woodall 11.

Glenn Smith and Bill Adams split 22 points right down the middle for Harrington.

Maley to Address Felton Sports Banquet Tomorrow

Edward F. Maley, line coach at the University of Delaware, will be the guest speaker at the Felton High School annual Athletic Award Banquet this Saturday evening. More than a hundred students and adults will attend the dinner to be held at the Treadway Inn to honor Felton athletes.

Awards will be presented to both boys and girls on fall and winter sports teams as well as to cheerleaders.

The Henlopen Conference western division trophy for boys' basketball will be presented by Sidney B. Collison, vice-president of the Conference. The Green Devils are undefeated this year and will meet Lord Baltimore for the Conference title tonight at John M. Clayton school. Felton fans are hoping for a victory and an undefeated season.

"The response to the polio immunization program earlier this winter indicated that many Delawareans, perhaps as much as half of the population, still have not received the Sabin vaccine," Dr. Stroud said. "In contrast to Philadelphia in which clinic attendance dropped off after the first clinic, the number of persons attending Delaware clinics increased with each successive immunization. This indicates to the Medical Society the desire on the part of many citizens to take advantage of this opportunity for protection of themselves and their families. It also indicates that thousands of persons have had part but not all of the doses in the series."

He emphasized that all three types are necessary for complete protection.

The company's payroll for 1963 amounted to $8,925,000, the president notes. In addition, the Diamond State Company and its supplier, the Western Electric Company, purchased $3 million worth of materials, products and services from 850 Delaware firms and individuals.

The number of telephones in service in Delaware increased by 11,900 in 1963 to the year-end total of 249,866. The daily average of calls originated by Delaware customers rose by 44,000 to an average of 1,053,000 calls a day.

In 26 of Delaware's 43 central offices, the number of customers on multi-party lines is now limited to four and the same improvement will be effective throughout the state by mid-1965. This three $1 million program was jointly conceived by The Public Service Commission and The Diamond State Company.

Harrington Downs Greenwood In Finale, 65-60

Harrington High ended its basketball season in the same manner that it started—with a victory. The Lions defeated Greenwood 65-60 after losing to the same team the night before. The victory enabled the locals to climb out of the cellar and dead-end Delmar for fifth place in the Western Division of the Henlopen Conference. Each club finished with records of three victories and thirteen defeats.

Harrington took a 33-22 half-time lead. The Foresters outscored the Lions 38-33 in the second half to draw within five points at the final gun.

Bill Adams racked up 22 points in his final game in Blue and Gold livery. Barry Fry tallied 18 though playing on a bad ankle. Jose Torres and Wayne Collison added 10 and 8 points respectively. Fry, Torres and Collison wound up their scholastic careers, too.

Richard Black and Glen Smith are the main holdovers for 1965. Jim Hawpe and Frank Glazier handled the Lions since Coach Bill Smith was confined to his home by illness.

Dave Henry, Duane Anthony, and Julian Woodall led the Foresters with 17, 16 and 14 points, respectively. Woodall had several baskets from outside.

Col. A. W. Adams Gets Guard Post

Three of the Delaware Army National Guard's top officers exchanged jobs and 11 units received new commanders in a series of officer reassignments effective Sunday.

The reassignments are part of the Guard's new career development plan for officers. Under it, each officer is given an opportunity to command at various points in his advancement through the commissioned ranks, as well as to perform in a variety of staff assignments.

In the top level shifts, Col. Albert W. Adams, of Harrington, becomes commander of the 160th Artillery Group, Dover, in place of Col. Kenneth C. Madden.

Col. Madden, who lives in Seaford, becomes executive officer of the 261st Artillery Brigade, Wilmington, replacing Col. Jerome D. Niles, Jr., of Middletown.

Col. Niles becomes the new chief of the Air Defense Tactical Operations Section of the Brigade, the post previously held by Col. Adams.

In civilian life, all three officers are in the educational field. Col. Madden is superintendent of schools for the Seaford Special School District; Col. Adams is superintendent of schools for the Harrington Special School District, and Col. Niles is in the public health education division of the United States Public Health Service.
