

Kent and Sussex Businessmen To Seek New Industry

Kent and Sussex County businessmen are preparing to form a joint economic development association to draw industry to downstate Delaware.

Initial steps have been taken by both the Sussex and Kent Over-all Economic Development Planning committees to form the bi-county organization. Formal approval is expected from both county committees at a combined meeting Dec. 2 according to Burton G. Cannon Jr., Frankford, Sussex OEDP committee president. State Auditor Ernest A. Killen, Harrington, is head of Kent's OEDP committee.

The proposed group first will study ways it can finance underwriting of new industry in Kent and Sussex Counties. Cannon said members hope to have the organization legally incorporated.

Eventually, the two-county group might even join with counties on Maryland's lower Eastern Shore in a wider industry-seeking association, he said.

Actual plans for the downstate group early in October Cannon credits the idea to two University of Delaware Urban Affairs Division members, economist Robert W. Cook and urban agent John V. Johnson.

He said finance and organization committees have been named to save time and are already at work.

The finance committee is investigating land options, types of financing availability of loans and ways to raise funds, he pointed out. The committee is headed by Lewes banker Louis F. Ingram and is expected to present information at the Dec. 2 meeting.

Other committee members from Sussex are Caleb Fowler of Laurel and Frank Gordy of Georgetown. Kent members are Harry E. Mayhew, Milford, Harold E. Remley, and George Vapaa, both of Dover.

The organizational committee, which is led by Matthew Mitten, of Dover, will draw up the Dec. 2 meeting will be at 8 p. m. at the Shawnee Country Club, Milford.

Safer to Be A Calf Than A Baby?

The progress made against tuberculosis in the sixty years since the National Tuberculosis Association was founded has been as dramatic and almost as measurable as a missile track. Yet, where the hazard of TB is concerned, it's still safer to be born a calf than a baby.

The reason for this state of affairs is simple. Since 1917, veterinarians have had at their disposal a drastically effective weapon against tuberculosis in cattle: They can slaughter entire herds wherever the disease is discovered and before it has a chance to spread. As a result, bovine tuberculosis has been nearly eliminated in this country.

If we were to approach the TB problem among humans in the same way, we could undoubtedly eliminate tuberculosis in the United States within a reasonably short time. We would also have to eliminate 35 million people.

Obviously, no one wants to throw the baby out with the bath. And, fortunately, man has another effective—and far less brutal—weapon against TB. The weapon is a tiny piece of paper with a colorful picture on one side and some stickum on the other. It's the famous Christmas Seal, used by your tuberculosis association to help finance its part in the continuing battle against TB—a disease that still strikes more than 53,000 new and 10,000 relapsed patients in its active form each year.

It's a formidable task. But it has to be done. For each active case found and placed under treatment means one less person capable of spreading TB. U. S. Surgeon General's Task Force, appointed to investigate and report on the containing tuberculosis threat, estimated that more than 610,000 Americans are either recent TB patients or have been in contact with newly reported cases and thus classed as "high risk" individuals. In addition, 110,000 persons are registered as current sufferers from active TB.

In this situation, the Christmas Seal Association is pledged to continue its efforts in the fields of TB detection, treat-

State's Goal For Kennedy Library Set At $78,000

An intensive 72-hour effort to reach Delaware's quota of $78,000 for the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library was announced today by the Delaware Library Committee, headed by Robert F. Kelly. The three day drive will be conducted Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Nov. 21, 22, and 23. The first anniversary of the President's assassination occurs on Sun., Nov. 22.

Thus far, contributions from Delaware have amounted to approximately $7,000. The Delaware Committee is seeking donations in any amount and has pointed out that all persons contributing $1 or more will have their names entered in the Permanent Memorial Book, to be housed in the Library. All contributions are tax deductible. The Library buildings will rise along the Charles River in Boston at a site selected personally by President Kennedy shortly before his death.

Volunteer solicitors will be present at a number of major shopping centers on Saturday and Sunday to receive contributions. Donations may also be mailed directly to the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library, Post Office Box 1091 in Wilmington, Del.

The library will be divided into three separate departments, an Archive, a Museum and an Institute and is planned as a "living" and active memorial to President Kennedy. As such, it will enable historians and scholars, particularly young people from all over the world, to see films and tapes of the Chief Executive in action, to study the originals of his most important papers, and to take part in discussions and seminars designed to highlight the democratic ideals and policies toward which he worked during his lifetime.

The organizational committee, which is led by Matthew Mitten, of Dover, will draw up the Dec. 2 meeting will be at 8 p. m. at the Shawnee Country Club, Milford.

Swing into Spring With Garden Hotbed

Home gardeners looking for a way to get a headstart on spring can get help from the University of Delaware. They have plans for an easy-to-build, inexpensive hotbed that will bring the feeling of spring into winter.

The plans for this plastic-covered structure were developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and are being distributed by the department of agricultural engineering at the University.

Construction is of wood with three arch frames of thin-wall electrical conduit. The two removable covers of 4-mil polyethylene plastic film can be rolled down from the ridge or up from the sides to provide easily adjustable ventilation. A 360-watt electric soil heating cable with a 70-degree thermostat will provide any supplementary heating needed.

One other requirement is a well-drained site. In some cases, a 3-inch layer of gravel under the prepared soil mixture may be needed. The hotbed can be changed to a propagating frame by replacing the polyethylene with cheesecloth and adding two mist sprayers.

Working drawings for Plan No. 5971 may be obtained from the Agricultural Engineering Department, School of Agriculture, University of Delaware at Newark.

13 Breeds of Chickens Presented to University

Thirteen breeds of chickens have been presented to the University of Delaware's experimental poultry farm as a gift from Dr. Harold L. Springer of Centerville, Del. Ten of these are exotic breeds not previously included in the University flock.

The newly acquired specimens will be used primarily in the School of Agriculture teaching program, according to Dr. Morris S. Cover, director of the Agricultural Experiment Station and chairman of the department of animal and poultry science.

Most of the breeds are of historic, rather than economic importance, some dating back as far as the 10th century. Many are popular today as hobby breeds, but most are not raised commercially.

Among the particularly unusual breeds included in the gift are the Yokohama, said to be raised in Korea before 1000 A. D. and noted for its colorful tail feathers which have been known to grow 20 feet long; the White Crested Black Polish with a greenish body and white crest; and the Blue Andalusian, only standard breed which does not

Christmas Seal Sales Began In Delaware

The annual voluntary effort to find, prevent, and wipe out diseases of the respiratory system was launched this week in Delaware where the idea originated.

This is the 57th year of Christmas Seal sales, sponsored by the Delaware Tuberculosis and Health Society, proceeds of which go into several channels of improved public health. Begun in 1907 by the late Emily P. Bissell of Wilmington, the brightly-colored Yuletide stamp has become a national trademark of the citizens' battle against not only tuberculosis but such diseases as asthma, chronic bronchitis, and the serious ailment known as emphysema.

More than 100,000 envelopes containing sheets of the two-part seals were mailed this week to Delawareans. A voluntary contribution for the stamps is requested and should be mailed to the sponsoring Society at 1308 Delaware Avenue, Wilmington.

In addition to financing the familiar and widespread mobile chest X-ray unit in conjunction with the State Board of Health, the seal sales underwrite treatment for patients requiring long-term care at the Emily P. Bissell Hospital and undergraduate scholarship at the University of Delaware for girls working toward a degree in nursing.

In addition to the medical care for patients with any of the respiratory ailments, the Society assists men and women in their re-employment periods following hospitalization, serving as liaison agent in any re-training and replacement which might be needed.

Dr. Gerald A. Beatty, president of the non-profit society, pointed out today that "our fight to find, eradicate and hopefully prevent such diseases is being accelerated, for respiratory ailments now rank as the fourth major cause of American deaths."

The toll in terms of lost income, man-working hours and family incomes is vast, the president added, noting: "Basic research and a detailed program of case detection are now ranked equally with the efforts put into curing a case once it is discovered."

"We again urge every Delawarean to buy—and use the traditional Christmas Seal as a means of supporting improved health for himself and his neighbors and of spreading the message of our expanded fight," Dr. Beatty concluded.

"Blood Feast", at Reese Sat., Midnight, Nov. 21, Sun. - Mon., Nov. 22 - 23

For the first time in six years the Reese Theatre lists a midnight show. According to the management, "Blood Feast," to play Saturday, Midnight, Nov. 21, and Sun. and Mon., Nov. 22 and 23, early shows only at 7:15 and 9 p. m., was booked thru the recommendation of another showman. After seeing the preview Friday, every effort was made to cancel the picture. Never has the Reese Theatre reeked with so much appalling horror. It is undoubtedly the gorriest, bloodiest, and most terrifying spectacle ever.

It was impossible to cancel "Blood Feast" but decision was made not to allow any children under sixteen years to see it. So gory in blood color, arrangement has been made to have a nurse in attendance at all showings. Heart patients are advised to stay away as the Reese Theatre accepts no responsibility as to what might happen.

One of the top all family treats is scheduled for Fri. and Sat., Nov. 20 and 21. Two shows Friday at 7:15 and 9 p. m., and continuous Sat. from 2:30 till 11:30 p. m. The top feature is Universal's "The Lively Set," with James Darren and Pamela Tiffin plus a great speed cast in this story of auto racing and the merchants of speed. Jeffrey Hunter is the star of the MGM spectacular, "Gold For the Caesars," the number two all family hit.

It has been announced that the Reese Theatre will be open on Thanksgiving (Thursday), Susan Hayward and Bette Davis star in Paramount's "Where Love Has Gone", with Glenn Ford's "Fate of the Hunter," the second holiday treat. Both features will play Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Nov. 26-27-28.

Delaware Food Market Report

Thanksgiving, a truly American holiday, is almost here and it is time to start planning a holiday meal. If it's turkey you will be serving, there's a size just right for your needs. However, the king size birds are especially plentiful. This is welcome news to all who look forward to extra generous portions and then to some additional turkey dishes in post-Thanksgiving meals.

When buying your turkey, it is wise to bear in mind that the larger the bird, the more meat there is to bone, meaning you get more for your money. Here are some figures you will need to consider before you buy. From a 4 to 8 pound turkey that is ready-to-cook you will get 4 to 10 servings; 10 to 20 servings come from an 8 to 12 pound bird; 20 to 30 servings from a 12 to 16 pounder; 30 to 40 servings from a 16 to 20 pound bird; and 40 to 50 servings from a large bird (20 to 24 pounds).

If your turkey is frozen, be sure to allow enough time for it to thaw. This means 2 to 3 days for thawing large birds and 1 to 2 days for smaller turkeys, this, of course, is thawing in your refrigerator. Turkeys sealed in watertight wrappers may be thawed in cold water. This takes 2 to 6 hours, depending on size. Never thaw frozen stuffed birds, read the directions and follow them.

For a very flavorful and evenly browned turkey, use low oven roasting (325 degrees F) in an open pan. If you need to save time, then try cooking your turkey in foil or covered with the roaster lid in a hot oven (450 degrees F). You can save up to half the cooking time this way, flavor remains good, turkey is tender but the turkey doesn't develop the same rich even brownness of the slow roasted bird.

Have you ever tried roasting turkey in a paper bag? This way gives the same effect as covered roasting, but you use a slow oven (325). Rub shortening inside a clean, heavy, brown paper bag then slip your turkey inside and close the bag. Be sure to leave space to collect the juices inside the bag. Grease the outside of the bag, place it on a rack in a pan and roast. It's self basting the turkey and it's inexpensive.

Other meats to consider are many fresh pork cuts such as: Loin roasts, hams, chops, and spareribs; beef continues in good supply as do broiler-fryers. Production of veal and calf meat continue to outpace the levels of last year. In fact, production is the largest since 1960.

Veterans News

Veterans interested in the new law re-opening National Service Life Insurance may obtain a "general information" sheet at any VA Regional Office, Leon Fields, manager of the Wilmington Veterans Administration Regional Office, said.

This printed sheet gives a general outline of what the law provides and what the veteran must do and concludes on the reverse side with sample tables of monthly premium rates.

A copy of this sheet may be obtained by calling, writing or telephoning the nearest VA Regional Office. They are available, Mr. Fields said, at the Wilmington Regional Office, 1601 Kirkwood Highway.

He reminded veterans, however, that no application can be made for the insurance until May 1, 1965. This date for re-opening is set by law.

Mr. Fields gave this brief resume of key facts which interested veterans should know:

Veterans are eligible if— (1) they were originally eligible for NSLI between October 8, 1940 and January 1, 1957.

(2) they now have no GI insurance or less than $10,000 in coverage.

(3) they have service-connected disabilities, and regardless of degree, they meet standards of good health, or are prevented by their service-connected disabilities alone from meeting standards of good health.

(4) they had on or before Oct. 13, 1964, nonservice-connected disabilities which are sufficient to prevent them from buying commercial insurance at the highest rates.

Going Along

The little girl who said she knew the difference between sins of commission and sins of omission and proceeded to explain, saying "the first consists of doing things one shouldn't do, the second not committing the sins one should have committed and didn't", wasn't much farther off the tract than those who "go along with the crowd" in ventures they don't approve, because IT WOULD BE JUST AWFUL TO BE A WET BLANKET.

Young people, especially, frequently find it difficult to say "no" to proposals they know to be unwise. For them it takes real courage. But they aren't alone. Most adults play follow the leader just as frequently, either giving lip service to the proposal or remaining silent, which is only less noticeable form of agreement.

Being deliberately critical of every proposal gets one nowhere, nor does it do any good. Being willing to voice an opinion, even an objection pointing out a proposal's weakness is a duty most of us fail to perform.

Much of the world's trouble could be avoided if so many didn't feel they "had to get along."
 —Sleepy Eye (Minn.) Dispatch

Raise the Age

Some Ohio officials are encouraging consideration of a new law that would raise the age for securing a driver's license from 16 to 18 years.

Many police officers, who must cope with the actions of thoughtless teen-agers when they get behind the steering wheel of an auto, will support its passage. They are also called upon to deal with parents who defend the action of their children in many cases.

The hot-rodding escapades of young motorists at night, during and after school hours, present a growing problem. There will be many arguments pro and con the suggested revised law would it reach the voting stage in the state legislature.

Teenagers live what seems to them an eternity, waiting for the eventful day when they reach 16 and are able to pass tests and receive a driver's license.

Raising the age limit to 18 will add many problems to those which parents face in this age of automobile transportation. The use of autos for many years was a luxury. Today they are a necessity. Meeting the numerous deadlines and appointments which parents face in transporting their children to and from school would increase if the age limit was increased two years.

Few boys and girls walk to and from their homes and their school activities. The growing number of 16-year-olds who have their own cars is adding to the parking problems in school areas.

It will be interesting to note the "heat" which such a proposed law will generate as the argument develop "for" and "against" the proposal.

What's Worrying You?

What did you worry about yesterday? Taxes, the hydrogen bomb, Castro, Khrushchev, inflation, cutworms, crab-grass, dying, cancer, Democrats, neighbors, growing old, immortality, Communists, left wingers, conservatives, Berlin wall, Vietnam, rain, pesticides, drugs, wrecks, baldness, fattiness, bank accounts, poison ivy, dandelions, flat tires, backache, poverty, riches?

The fears of the day, what are they? There is always some worry-wart in the crowd that couldn't see a silver lining, ever, if he was wrapped in it. Worry kills more people than all other diseases put together. It kills the incentive to live and some are convinced that only death will bring them peace. For some, this is probably true.

Let's take a look at one of the supposedly big worries of the day — the atomic and hydrogen bombs — and any other new ones they haven't put on the market yet. We don't think people are really worried about being atomized. If it happened to everybody at the same time, it would be like the end of the world and there isn't any sense in wasting time on that.

What people are afraid of, we figure, is not being destroyed utterly. They dread being crippled. They dread the possibility that they might live in holes and caves, not knowing where their loved ones are. They dread the prospect of pillaging, looting and killing in the wake of nuclear explosion. Public officials have long been puzzled about the apathy toward civil defense precautions. We think this is a partial answer. People have taken a resigned attitude toward this fear. If they live through it, then it will be time to worry.

Now as to the other fears — ours is only a partial listing, of course—they don't appear to be as catastrophic as some imagine if they are examined closely. It's all a matter of attitude, of discipline, of self-examination. There are fear-mongers on every side but most people are going ahead with the prospect of living from day to day, simply because they have resolved that worrying gets you nowhere fast.

Oh, how we envy them!

Life In South America

By Gary Homewood

We are living in Ciudad Bolivar, Venezuela, a city of 75,000 people. My wife, Eleanor, and children, Mark and Elaine, are slowly learning their way around. The streets are very narrow and crooked. Not any of the streets have names posted and there are no stop signs. Driving around is sometimes quite exciting as one uses the horn a lot. They do drive on the same side of the road as in the states, which is a help. There are three post offices in the town and you have to go there to mail all letters and to get your mail as there are no home deliveries.

To get to work each morning, I travel by boat for a distance of three miles down the Orinoco. The river is high now, though during the present dry season it is slowly going down. The S & P Engineering Company is building an expansion bridge over the Orinoco River which is the 9th largest river in the world. There are alligators in the river but they do not come around the bridge. The people down here have funny ways of doing things. They are not used to big machinery and modern building equipment and there is often quite a lot of damage to equipment. The temperature seldom goes below 75 degrees and in daytime it stays mostly in the 90's.

It is surprising that so much of the food is like that in America. Much of it is processed here, but by American companies such as Kraft, Oscar Mayer, Campbells, and etc. There is no such thing as hot water here. Cold water is used for everything including showers, which is not hard to get used to with the warm temperature.

The way of life here is about the same as it was 100 years ago. Even with TV, radio and cars their customs remain unchanged. With Thanksgiving coming up (it is not celebrated here) I look around and realize how much we in America have to be thankful for. The people here are very poor and sometimes it is very pitiful to see how they live. If I learn but one thing here, it will be thankfulness for life as we know it. I heard the song "America the Beautiful" on the radio today and brought to mind a line in the song which goes "God Shed His Grace On Thee". A more truthful statement has never been made. I think it would be beneficial for every American to see and learn what I have in less than a month in this country.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—I did not receive my check for last month, and I want to know why.

A—Wait a reasonable period of time and then notify the VA regional office having custody of your claim file. Make sure you furnish your claim number and, if you have moved, give them both your old and new addresses.

Q—The envelope containing my check had the large letters "V-O" on it. What does that mean?

A—That is the way the postal authorities identify Veterans Administration checks that are to be released for delivery on the 30th of the month. Checks are printed and shipped to key delivery points throughout the country prior to the delivery date.

Q—I am a patient in this VA Hospital. How do I find out if I am eligible for a pension?

A—File application and request that you treatment records be requisitioned to support your claim that you are permanently incapacitated for earning a living. The VA rating officials must also consider the amount and nature of military service and type of discharge, amount of money you expect to receive other than from the pension, and your "net worth" and dependency status.

Winter Dairy Meetings Planned by University Specialists

A series of five Winter Dairy meetings, starting on January 6, is being planned by dairy specialists at the University of Delaware. The sessions will be held in three locations in the state on successive Wednesdays. The first meeting will start at 10 a. m. at the Georgetown Substation. The same material will be presented at the Harrington Fairgrounds at 1:15 and at the Middletown high school at 8:00 p. m.

The session on January 6 will include material on building a top dairy herd. The second session, on January 13th, will highlight the Sussex County better heifer program. On January 20th, the dairymen will discuss the business aspects of dairying and on January 27th, they will discuss crops and equipment as they apply to the dairy business.

The February 10th meetings will shift to the University of Delaware in Newark for "Dairy

Fence Talk

With George Vapaa

Weather satellites and the farmer will be the theme of the 1964 Delaware Crop Show. No topic, except politics, is more on the farmer's mind this year than the weather.

A 100 foot long space vehicle exhibit from the National Space and Aeronautics Administration will be on display at the Capital Grange Hall in Dover Sunday afternoon between 2 and 5 p.m. It will be open again on Tuesday evening, Nov. 24 after 6 p.m. The regular crop show will also be on display. There is no charge to see the exhibits.

Reservations must, however, be made for the annual awards banquet Tuesday evening, Dr. Richard L. Haley, who is also Lt. Colonel Haley of the U. S. Air Force assigned to NASA, will show how he helps forecasters gather weather information with space satellites. Phone our Extension Service office for details, 736-1448.

While we're still in the air, we would like to remind our fruit and vegetable growers of the marketing tour to New York City Dec. 9 and 10. It will feature a visit to Trans-World Airlines terminal to see their perishable food jet cargo operations.

The airlines have developed new types of containers and methods of loading. Even the jet planes have been modified to speed loading and unloading.

Dennis Hawkes, our University of Delaware specialist in food distribution, is still working up the final details of the tour. We may visit in the Bronx area to see a prepackers, a chain warehouse, and some type of food manufacturing. We're told too that the new Verazanno bridge will be open over the Narrows in New York harbor. So we'll circle back home by way of Staten Island.

This is a splendid chance to learn how our food move into our city markets.

Representative Wriah Patman, of Texas, reminds us that there are just a few things the USA would have to do to "catch up" with the Russians:

Knock down seven out of every ten homes.

Cut all paychecks by 75 per cent.

Abandon 95 per cent of our cars and trucks.

Disconnect nine out of every ten telephones.

Sink eight out of every nine of our ships.

Scrap 40 million TV sets.

Rip up two-thirds of our railroad tracks.

Scrap 60 per cent of our steel industry.

Close seven of every ten producing oil wells.

Ship 60 million American back to the farm.

Pastures, like automobiles, need to be "winterized". Livestock should be taken off the pasture before they eat all of the fall growth because of winter kill when sod is grazed too closely.

Three or four inches of growth on the grass helps hold snow which provides moisture for growth next spring.

Dropping should be scattered by harrowing before winter. If the droppings are left unscattered, unpalatable grass grows up around them. Most irrigated pastures need fertilizer. By putting the first application of nitrogen on in early spring, rapid growth will be promoted so the pasture can be grazed sooner.

A pasture that comes through the winter in good condition and is managed well is able to carry more livestock the following summer.

Daily exercise, a good diet of hay, and protection from rain, snow drafts, and strong winds are the keys to proper winter care of saddle horses.

Regular daily exercise is especially important if horses are stalled. Serious foot and leg troubles can develop during long periods of inactivity.

Space and light rope, about 25 feet long, will do much to solve the exercise problem. The rope should be attached to the horse by a ring in the noseband of a longing halter (cavesson). The trainer stands in one place and lets the horse trot in a circle around him. Remember to work him both ways to as not to tire or bore him. Fifteen or twenty minutes of this exercises daily will help keep the horse in good shape.

It is also a good idea to take off the horse's shoes during the winter. If the horse is ridden regularly during the winter, leave the shoes on. In either case, feet should be trimmed about every six weeks.

Horses develop a thick coat of hair in the wintertime and do not need to be kept warm in a tight barn or closed shed. They do need a dry place where they can get in out of the rain and snow and also find shelter from drafts and cold winds.

The North American Wild Turkey, the ancestor of our present day turkey, was the pride and sustenance of our Pilgrim Fathers and has been accepted as the symbol of our Thanksgiving feast.

Ben Franklin proposed that the wild turkey image be used on the Great Seal of our country to symbolize our liberty and independence. His proposal was not accepted, and the Bald Eagle was adopted.

Wild turkeys roamed American forests several thousands years before Columbus. There was no need for nomadic Indians to attempt to domesticate them because they were so plentiful.

The Aztec Indians of Mexico, were a highly civilized race. They lived in permanent homes and cultivated the soil. The Aztecs also dominated a strain of turkey roaming the wilds of Mexico.

Some of these turkeys were transported to Spain by Cortez after his Mexican exploration. From Spain they were introduced into the rest of Europe and were brought back to America with the early colonists. Over the years the imported birds have been crossed and recrossed with wild turkeys.

Planned breeding programs in recent years have developed the fine wellmeated turkey found in the markets today.

Army Enlistment Notes

Additional Quotas For Army Enlistments

Master Sergeant Walter R. Frazier, commanding the United States Army Recruiting Station at 218 South Governor's Avenue, Dover, announced recently that additional quotas for select assignments have been granted him by his headquarters.

Among authorized enlistment options that he has received is that of airborne with assignment to United States Army, Europe. Under this guaranteed option the accepted applicant will receive paratrooper training immediately after completion of eight weeks of basic training at Fort Jackson, South Carolina. Following this training that qualifies the soldier as a member of the elite shock troops of the Army, the man will return home on leave prior to his direct assignment to Europe, where the crack United States Seventh Army maintains constant vigilance against enemy aggression.

Because of continued popularity of this option, Sergeant Frazier urged that interested men contact him without delay in order to assure enlistment for the existing vacancies. His office is open until five o'clock daily, Monday through Friday, and until noon Saturday. Appointments for other times may be made by calling 736-6937, or 674-1360.

U. S. Army Announces

Enlistees in the Regular Army during the month of November will be authorized leave over the Christmas holidays, according to Msgr. Sergeant Walter R. Frazier, of the United States Army Recruiting Station at 218 South Governor's Avenue in Dover.

Commenting that it is established Army policy to permit the maximum number of men to visit their homes over the holidays, Sgt. Frazier noted that training is suspended during this period so that newly enlisted soldiers may spend approximately a week with their families before completing basic combat training.

Although men are encouraged to take leave during this period, elaborate arrangements are made to assure a pleasant holiday for those who do not elect to leave the training center. Religious and recreational activities reach a peak during the Christmas-New Years holidays, with both the Army and civilian service organizations cooperating to achieve a home like atmosphere.

Sgt. Frazier urged that men intending to enlist now contact him at his office by telephoning him for an appointment to assure prompt service. He may be reached by calling 736-6937 or 674-1360.

Opportunities in Intelligence

Vacancies are now available for qualified persons to enlist in the U. S. Army Intelligence Corps. To qualify you must be a high school graduate, a citizen of the United States, 18 years of age or older, and be able to pass mental and physical tests. Selected applicants will attend one or more courses at the U. S. Army Intelligence Corps School in Baltimore, Md. A special program is available for college graduates, and for those possessing particular aptitudes, further training may be given in photography, electronics, and languages. Graduates are then assigned to intelligence corps duties within the United States or overseas. If you feel that you can meet the exacting standards and challenges of this profession, contact the nearest U. S. Army Recruiter for further information, Msgr. Walter G. Frazier, 218 S. Governor's Ave., Dover, phone 736-6937 or 674-1360.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

Tonight, Friday, November 20—Scout Cub Pack Meeting.
9:00 p. m. Participation in Church Bowling League.
Sunday — 9:30 a. m. Church School.
11:00 a. m. Holy Communion with sermon.
12:15 Coffee Hour
6:30 p. m. Meeting of Episcopal Young Churchmen.
Monday—6:30-8:00 p. m. Girl Scouts.
Tuesday—7:00 p. m. Youth Choir rehearsal, at St. Stephen's.
Wednesday—No healing service this week.
7:30 p. m. Union Thanksgiving Eve Service at St. Stephen's.
Women of St. Stephen's are reminded that the U. T. O. ingathering will take place this coming Sunday morning at the 11:00 o'clock service of Holy Communion.

This coming Wednesday, at 7:30 p. m., St. Stephen's is to be host to the Union Thanksgiving Eve Service of the community. Most of the Protestant churches of Harrington and vicinity will be participating in this service. There will be a joint youth choir from the participating churches and the Rev. William Halliburton of the Harrington Baptist Church will be the preacher of the evening.

The first Sunday in Advent is only one week away. It is hoped that all men and boys of the church are planning to attend the Corporate Communion at 8:00 a. m., on November 29, which will be followed by breakfast in the Parish Hall, served by the women of the church. For the past two weeks the men and boys have been asked to get their names in to the Parish office in advance, so that the ladies would know how to plan. At this writing, there has been no response. Certainly the least we can do is to let the Parish office have this information, and without further delay.

Attention: Women of St. Stephen's. On Wednesday, December 2, a quiet day for all Episcopal Church women will be held in Christ Church, Dover. Mother Virginia of all Saints' Convent Catonsville, Md., will give the meditations. Services commence at 9:30 a. m. with Holy Communion. The last meditation will be over about 3 p. m.
Each woman is asked to bring her sandwiches; coffee will be served. These Quiet Days are very helpful to our spiritual life, and it is hoped that many of the women of St. Stephen's will avail themselves of the opportunity to deepen their spiritual resources by attending this service on December 2nd.

The Vicar repeats—That while everyone is welcome to the annual covered dish dinner and annual Parish meeting, only those who are members in good standing (18 years of age or older) will be allowed to vote. The canons of the church which were passed at the 1961 General Convention require that those who are in good standing must be "regular in their church attendance and regular contributors to the financial program of the church." To be regular in attendance means that one is here every Sunday except when there are emergencies.

Again a reminder of the fact that on Monday, December 7th, at 6:30 p. m., a covered dish dinner will be held in the Parish hall. All members of St. Stephen's are urged to be present at this annual congregational dinner. However, please note this change in plans. Each member is asked to provide a non-meat covered dish, and to bring the place settings for each member of their family attending. (A place setting consists of a plate, cup and saucer, and necessary silver. Women of St. Stephen's at their last meeting agreed to furnish meat, bread, butter, coffee, cream and milk. Do plan to come! Enjoy the fellowship of the dinner, the family movies which are to follow, and stay for the annual Parish meeting.

Dates to remember:—
January 25, 1965, Monday, 8:00 p. m. A service of witness will be held in Salesianum Gymnasium, Wilmington.

January 26, 1965, Tuesday. Annual Convention banquet will be held at the duPont Country Club. All communicants of the church will be urged to attend and tickets will be sold within the limitations of the seating capacity of the club.

Also, during the Thanksgiving season a special letter will be sent to all families of the diocese, inviting them to contribute to an anniversary gift for the bishop. Full information will be given you with this special letter.

Seahawks Tie Lions, 6-6; Falcons Here Tonight

Harrington High's unbeaten Henlopen Conference eleven was held to a 6-6 tie by an under-rated Rehoboth team, thus losing a chance to clinch its first loop title. The contest was played here Friday night. The Lions are assured of at least a tie for conference honors. They can win all the marbles by beating the Dover Air Falcons here tonight. If the Falcons prevail, Harrington will still be home free if Delmar upsets Bridgeville on Thanksgiving Day. If either Bridgeville or Harrington is involved in a tie game, H. H. S. will be the undisputed champions.

Since the widespread use of the motion picture in filming football games offers opportunities to see the game over and over, those mistakes made by players and officials in the game become readily apparent. When an official makes a bad call it often happens that the crowd is divided in its opinion as to whether the judgment rendered was good or bad. In football, things happen mighty fast. But after the game film is developed the truth out. We were told that the officials at Friday night's contest were the best in this area. We feel if this is true, the arbiters had an off night. Most of the questionable decisions went against the Lions, but the locals got a break late in the game when a Lion flattened a pass receiver seconds before the ball arrived. H. H. S. fans and coaches shuddered with dismay, but no flag dropped, fortunately, because the incident happened inside the Lion 10-yard line.

Rusty Jack returned the opening kickoff to the Harrington 38 yard line. Two plays didn't gain but Chuck McNally picked up nine yards off left tackle. Wayne Porter got a yard on a line plunge for the first down. Jack faked a handoff and dashed around right end to the Rehoboth 46. McNally started wide to the right, feinted in toward center but stayed out to pick up six. Jack tried the left side of the Seahawk forward wall and reached the 21-yard line as he almost went all the way. McNally tried left tackle for 7 and Jack added 3 at the same spot for a first down on the 11. Two running plays lost 7 yards. An incomplete pass and another futile ground effort gave the visitors the ball.

Dave Vignola, the big Seahawk fullback, made 10 yards on a crack at the line. Triffilis was caught for a loss of two yards by Dennis Simpson and Ron Hughes. After a pickup of five by Vignola, the Rehoboth punt was brought back to the Harrington 44 by Larry Garey. Jack was trapped 10 yards behind the line, but scrambled mightily to finally gain a yard. Harrington kicked to the Rehoboth 31 at the end of the first period.

Wayne Porter stopped Savage, a big halfback, after a gain of one. A missed handoff in the backfield was recovered by the Lions. Two plays were good for six yards. Garey faked a handoff, went wide to the outside, cut back in sharply for a first down at the 19. Jack reached the 13 on an end run to the left. A quick handoff sent a back scurrying through a nice hole in the line for a first-and-goal to go at the five yard line. Two plays later, Garey scored on another run that started outside but ended with a sharp cutback. Jack had no chance to complete a pass for the extra point as Seahawks poured in on him.

A short pickup put Rehoboth on offense at its 40. Two passes misfired. A tricky reverse fooled some of the Lions but Ron Hughes, a 220-man in track straight right with the halfback and dropped him three yards behind the line.

Next occurred the controversial call that may have cost the Lions the ball game. A Lion rushing the punter had left his feet in an attempt to block the kick. The ball just cleared his upthrown hands. His momentum carried him into the Seahawk. The latter put on an act that may have helped the official to make up his mind to penalize the Lions 15 yards for roughing the kicker. The rules say that if contact is unavoidable, as this clearly was, it's no penalty. This took a lot of steam out of the Lions. They had just scored a touchdown and stopped Rehoboth for minus three yards on three plays. Instead of a Harrington ball near midfield, the call meant a first down for Rehoboth. The Lions were fired up and might have marched down the field for a second straight touchdown. Jack and Richard Black stopped ball carriers for losses on two running plays. Harrington started again from the 18 after a kick.

Jack passed to Black for fifteen yards, but a subsequent toss was intercepted near the end of the first half.

Vignola picked up 13 yards in three smacks up the middle to start the second half. Triffilis reached the midfield but the Seahawks were penalized five yards for too much time out. Savage got that back, but Hughes again stopped a reverse to set up a 4th-and-8 situation at midfield. Another roughing the kicker levy led directly to Rehoboth's touchdown. A short pass up the middle carried to the 24. Another aerial was caught and taken to the one yard line. Harrington then staged one of the most gallant goal line stands that we have witnessed. Big Vignola hurtled at the line but was picked up bodily by Gale Fry. Another center smash didn't budge the aroused Lions. Savage tried a left tackle and lost a yard. On fourth down Vignola finally made it across the wide stripe. Wayne Porter batted down a pass on the crucial extra point try.

Rusty Jack made a beautiful sally up the middle to reach midfield. As he was tackled, he fumbled, resulting in a gain of four more yards as Sam Knox came up with the ball at the 46.

McNally garnered 9 1/2 yards on two runs, but an offside penalty cost five important yards. A jump pass didn't connect and a Harrington punt was downed at the Rehoboth 18.

Porter turned in Costello on an attempt to sweep the end and assisted on the tackle for minus yardage. Shockley, the artful Rehoboth passer, pumped, but was snowed under immediately by Black, Fry, etc. As the final chapter unfolded, two Shockley passes carried out to the Rehoboth 41. The next pass dropped incomplete and the following attempt was caught but lost three yards. Shockley tried again but just barely got the ball away before being dumped rudely by Hughes. If the call in the second period was roughing the kicker, this could have been roughing the passer, but it wasn't mentioned.

Starting at the Harrington 38, Garey swept left end to the Rehoboth 49. Jack turned the other flank and fought hard to the 43. Rusty again refused to go down and kept his feet until he was at the Seahawk 30. After he was downed he was cuffed around in full view of everyone, but did we get our fifteen big ones? We did not! Two plays didn't advance the ball, but Black outgeneraled two Seahawks to grab a pass at the 20. Jack fumbled at the 15 and it was Rehoboth's ball, although Harrington adherents to this day are still vowing that the whistle had blown the ball dead.

Rehoboth was halted and had to kick. The Lions had to move 40 yards for a clinching score. McNally got a block and got five of it. Black caught a pass and fought like a Ti-oops a Lion to get to the 8. A choice of a wide sweep gave the visitors the opportunity to get the ball back at the 11. Two pass attempts with a trapped passer on the second try gave Rehoboth control at their 20. Two ground plays ended up at the 35. Jump passes up the middle reached midfield. Shockley, trying to pass, was caught on his 45. Apparently down on one knee, he tossed complete for 10 yards to the Lion 45. The next pass attempt was the one on which a Lion knocked down a receiver inside the H. H. S. 10 yard line long before the ball arrived, but got away with it. Perhaps, someone figured they owed the Lions a break (this statement is not necessarily the views of this paper) because of the previous call on the kneeling passer. On the last play of the wild and woolly game a receiver took a Shockley pass and threaded his way goalward as hundreds screamed. The Seahawk was finally nailed at the 6-yard line.

If your ulcers are under control and if you have a strong heart, come out tonight, as the Lions attempt to wrap up their first undefeated season and a first undisputed Henlopen football championship.

Lions Nip Seaford, 62-64, to Win 10 Team Meet

Coach Harold McDonald's Harrington High cross-country team ended another splendid season by capturing the 7th annual Harrington High Cross-Country Invitational on Wednesday afternoon at Killen's Pond. The Lions won this 2.4 miles test in 1963, also. Harrington was undefeated in the regular season for the second straight year, finished second in the state championship run and currently have an eighteen meet winning streak in dual, triangular and quadrangular competition.

Dennis Rogers was second to Seaford's Heidel as the Sussex Countian overtook the Lion in the homestretch to set a new course record of 11:39. Rogers held the old mark of 11:52 set in defeating Heidel and teammate Steve Owens in a Seaford-Harrington dual meet in October. Dennis' 11.41 also was well under the previous best trip around the tough, demanding layout as he defeated Bob Stuber of A. I. duPont, the lad who nosed Rogers on Nov. 4 for the state individual championship. Heidel's fantastic spurt over the last 250 yards was something to see as he bested Rogers for the first time in five races.

A record number of ten teams and seventy boys took part. The classiest field in the seven years the event has been held provided such stiff competition that a large percentage of the harriers were forced to turn in lifetime best Killen's Pond efforts in order to keep up. Marshall Hatfield was getting fed up with those meaningless ties that strong cross-country teams sometimes arrange when running weak opponents. For example the strong team's best four or five boys will trot in together in a dead heat in order to give all a share of first place. The theory is good but it hurts the team when they have to run hard later. Hatfield ran the best race of his life as he blazed up the homestretch passing other sprinting rivals like they were striding stumps. We don't have his time as yet but we'll bet he lowered his personal course record from 12:32 to under 12 minutes. Under thirteen minutes is mighty good, under twelve puts a boy in the front ranks of the hundreds running cross-country in the Delaware area. Harrington would have lost the handsome first place trophy if Hatfield had run his normal race Wednesday.

Other Lion finishers were Ellis Myer (17th), Dan Hicks (18th), George Bonniwell (20th), Gerry Garey, (21st), and Roger Betts (30th). North Carolina High of Denton came in third. Milton's fine team made a strong showing as they captured fourth place. Three of the Warriors finished in the first 12 runners. Corpus Christi, of Wilmington, was fifth, A. I. duPont, of Wilmington, was sixth, Caesar Rodney was seventh followed by Milford, Greenwood and Lewes.

70 runners competed. North Carolina A team was the winner of the junior varsity test followed by the Harrington A team, the North Carolina B team, Milton, Milford, Greenwood and the Harrington B team. Nick Morris was 23 seconds under his best previous performance. His 12:43 along with Dan Adams' 12:52 gives H.H.S. two more red hot prospects to go along with returnees, Hatfield, Myer, Garey and Hicks. Bob Matthews is another good possibility. Currently hors-de-combat with blister trouble, he was jayvee state champion in 1963 and clocked a swift 12:39 at Killen's Pond that same season. In addition to Adams and Morris other Lions, who ran the fastest races of their lives were Henry Minner, Oscar Matthews, Ray Rash and Aubrey Brown. We don't have the time sheet available but there is a possibility that Larry Bonniwell, Donald Wells, Dennis Spicer and Jack Warrington may have new personal standards, also. If so we'll mention it next week. Greenwood finishers in the race were George Eskridge (23d), Steve Willey (31st), Tom Bragg (32d), DeFord (35th), and Grimm (36th).

Warrior Harriers Win at Greenwood

Milton's cross-country team defeated Greenwood's first year harriers at Greenwood Thursday night by a score of 15-53. Bob Edgerton's Club is having its best year ever. The Warriors lost their opener to Harrington's unbeaten Lions but have won eight meets in a row since. Webb, Curt Hudson and Buckley tied for first place with a time of 12 minutes and 33 seconds for the 2.3 miles course.

Allen, Rick Huey, Don Huey, Clyde Bragg and Calvert were the first Foresters across the finish line.

Greenwood's jayvee harriers have beaten Milton's junior varsity twice this autumn but dropped a close 24-31 verdict Thursday as the visiting Warriors flushed a couple of new prospects out of their physical education classes. The new harriers named Jalot and Short took second and fifth places to give the visitors the added strength they needed to give the visitors the added strength they needed to triumph over their previous conquerors. Tome Bragg turned in the best Greenwood clocking of the afternoon to take third place. Fred Spence was only five seconds behind Bragg. Willey, Eskridge, and Grimm also ran well for Greenwood. The young Foresters are getting plenty of competition on the first Greenwood cross-country team since 1960. All this training will come in handy next fall when it is hoped that Coach Gene Carlisle will have everyone back plus some other lads in the student body, who could be a big help if they would give cross-country a try. Every once in a while a lad comes forward to make it big almost immediately. There are undoubtedly some of these "naturals" at GHJ right now. Back in 1960 Julian Woodall, Campbell and one or two more Forester harriers were running very well after a few days of practice. Given support, Coach Carlisle and his present group may compile a fine record in the

Lion Harriers End 2nd Straight Unbeaten Season

Coach Harold McDonald's Harrington High cross-country team defeated Milford by a score of 18-41 at Milford Thursday afternoon. The win was the 18th in succession for the Lions and gave them their second straight unbeaten regular season. The locals will host the postseason Harrington Invitational on Nov. 18. It is expected that at least nine teams will compete.

Dennis Rogers was an easy winner at Milford as he also had an unbeaten dual, triangular and quadrangular season. Gerry Garey was ten seconds behind Rogers in second place.

Nick Morris ran off the course in the jayvee race but despite the extra distance this caused him to run he had no trouble winning as he had a margin of 11 seconds on Dennis Spicer, a teammate, who was next to complete the 2.3 miles' test.

Oscar Matthews, an eighth-grader, was fourth in very good time for a thirteen-year-old. Jack Warrington (8th) and Louis Kemp (12th) were the fourth and fifth Lions to finish. This pair of seventh-graders were the last locals to count in the scoring as Harrington won 27-30.

Ray Rash, Roger Hicks and Aubrey Brown are so tiny that several of Milford's junior varsity squad came over and asked them before the race "Say, what grade are you guys in?" The trio of 11 and 12 year-olds go about 4 feet and six inches each. They could easily pass for elementary pupils. Running against freshmen and sophomores the little guys beat five of them. Aubrey Brown, the tiniest of the tiny as a fast 64 pounds, gave the spectators a chuckle by outstripping a six foot rival in the home stretch. The Lions have seven of these seventh-graders on the team and every one has done well enough to indicate that each boy must be classed as a good prospect.

Eagles, Bears Play to Scoreless Tie

Ted Layton's Eagles to all intents and purposes wrapped up the Harrington Junior Football League title by battling Bill Morris' second-place Bears to a scoreless tie at H.H.S. Stadium on Sunday afternoon. The Eagles have one game left to play with Les Simpson's winless Colts and it would take an epidemic to halt the Birds in that one.

In halftime ceremonies Miss Terry Gallo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Gallo, was chosen as the Harrington Junior Football League Queen. She was escorted by David Dill. Other candidates were Ruth Ann Moore, of the Colts, escorted by Rick Welch and Karen Minner of the Eagles escorted by Dale Motter. The new queen was crowned by last year's queen, Miss Andy Walls. Assisting were Frank Glazier III and Kathy Glazier.

Early in the first quarter the Bears got a drive going when Gordy Jarrell returned an Eagle punt from his 20 to the 34. Ken Tribbett bucked up the middle for six yards. The Eagles held the net gain on the next two tries to two yards. However, a quarterback sneak reached the 45 yard line for a first down and another sneak moved the ball to the 48 yard line of the Eagles. Gary Smith and Jack Redden caught Gary Minner back at midfield for a loss of two yards. A five yard penalty took some more wind out of the Bear's sails. The Eagles defense soon forced a punt. Jarrell kicked to the Eagle 35.

As the second period started a Jack Redden pass was deflected by a charger and intercepted by Mike Derrickson, who was downed at the Eagle 20. A holding penalty cost the Bears 15 expensive yards. Jarrell was stopped momentarily but kept driving to get to the 27. Mike Adams hit up the middle for six yards. Two aerials fell incomplete and the Eagles had held. Redden tried right tackle and picked up 11 yards. Roger Klapp took a handoff and reached the 43 yard line for another first down. Redden faked a handoff to the first man through and gave the ball to Gary Simpson for a five yard gain. On a keeper Redden added four. Simpson turned left end for a first down at the Bear 40. Bob Tyler swept right end to the 33. The Eagles recovered their own fumble on the last play of the first half.

Adams returned the second half kickoff to the Bear 47 yard line. The same player went to midfield one down later. After a no gain Jarrell barreled off right tackle for eight yards and a first-and-ten. Two plays gained as many yards before Tribbett with the aid of a good second effort charged to the 34. Faced with a 4th and one situation, the Bears fumbled a handoff and the Eagles took over on their 34-yard-line.

After two downs an Eagle bobble gave the Bears another chance 39 yards from pay dirt. Jarrell took a pitchout but fooled the defense by cutting back up the middle for seven yards. Tribbett plunged for four yards and the Eagles held the next try for no gain. Tribbett and Minner bucked for three yard gains but a fourth down effort was no good and the Eagles held once again.

The fourth period commenced with the Bruins stopping three consecutive plays. Jarrell caught the punt and brought it back to the Eagle 35. A double reverse failed but Jarrell turned left end to the 26 before being pushed out of bounds by Dale Motter. Adams kept for one foot and a first down. Jarrell swept right end to the 22 and Tribbett added two to the 20. The two workhorses marked up a first down at the 16 and were one yard closer as the two minute warning was given. Two passes dropped, an end run lost ground and the last effort of the Bears had come to naught.

Three Eagle ground sorties pushed them back toward to goal as the final gun sounded. At this writing the Colts are slated to play the Eagles Sunday afternoon.
