Graduate Spec. Program Limited To School Grads.

Foremost among Army voluntary Army enlistment options, the graduate specialist program is limited to high school graduates only. This is another of the many options in the Army's "Choice No Chance" program. If a high school graduate passes the qualifying examinations for enlistment as a graduate specialist, he chooses the schooling he wants before he enlists. Successful candidates for this program can take their pick from 107 challenging classroom courses. In many technical fields, Army schooling ranks with the world's best.

Another phase of the graduate specialist program is the "early choice" offered high school seniors. This allows them to choose from the widest range of available courses — 60 days prior to graduation — before quotas for the most popular courses are filled. If a senior qualifies his chosen course is qualified, his chosen course is graduates, with no obligation until he enlists.

To take advantage of "early choice," the high school senior needs a letter signed by his high school principal or guidance counselor stating that he is likely to graduate. After satisfactorily completing the aptitude test, the Army recruiter will assist him in selecting a course of instruction based on test results and desires of the applicant.

The applicant then receives his guarantee, in writing, which goes into effect only when he actually enlists. For more information call MSGT. Walker R. Frazier, 218 S. Governor's Ave., Dover, Del., phone 736-6937 or 674-1360.

"Sylvia" At Reese March 28 and 29

One continues to hear: "See you at Movie Center on Sunday eve." Is it habit—or the BIG SHOWS being offered?

The management says it's both, habit coupled with big hit presentation. A sample of this is the listing of James Garner, Eva Marie Saint, and Rod Taylor in MGM'S "36 Hours," as the top feature of a big all-family program at the Reese Theatre, this Friday and Saturday, March 26 and 27, with "Apache Rifles," with Audie Murphy as the companion picture. This Friday and Saturday super bill is merely the primer for the coming Sunday and Monday presentation.

As an example is Paramount's new sensational, "Sylvia," with Carroll Baker and George Maharis, listed for this coming Sunday and Monday, March 28 and 29. Loaded with intense excitement and drama, critics acclaim it as one of the new "must see" bombshells of the present season.

It is true that James Stewart in "Dear Brigitte" is scheduled for showing at the Reese, Friday and Saturday, April 2 and 3.

Heart Fund May Exceed Goal

Final coverage of all potential contributors to the Delaware Heart Fund will put the drive at, or over its $150,000 goal. It was predicted today by campaign chairman Frederick Walter.

So far, the drive has raised $105,904 from gifts during the Heart Sunday door-to-door effort, mail-ins, special gifts and other divisions.

"Those who received but have not yet returned contribution envelopes can give the drive its major push to success by mailing a gift promptly," Walter commented.

The total to date includes $49,480 given in Heart Sunday collections and mail-ins; this segment of the drive has a $50,000 goal of its own. Special gifts, according to the chairman's report on individual areas, are now at $12,773, increased over last year. Still lagging however, are returns from business firms; these have raised $1,989 so far as compared with more than $3,000 in 1964.

The vicar will broadcast early morning devotions this coming week, each morning at 9 a.m. over W.K.S.B.

It will be noticed in the Calendar of the Week that an Organizational meeting for the Men of St. Stephen's has been set up for 7:30 p.m. this Mon., March 29. This comes at the request of some of the men of St. Stephen's who feel that an occasional evening of fellowship together would be to their advantage. Also the business of the Men of St. Stephen's can then be carried on systematically.

An advance reminder that the loose collection on the first Sunday of each month goes to the Vicar's Discretionary Fund. This is a fund which is particularly used for worthy needs which come to the Vicar's attention and is named "Discretionary" because its uses are entirely up to the Vicar's discretion. Most of it is used for the needs of poor people, although some has been used in the past to help young people through college, camp and other such worthy pursuits. When necessary, this fund is supplemented by the annual parish budget, but these offerings on the first Sunday of each month primarily constitute the resources of this fund.

All of those who are interested in the problems of the Aging of this area, whether Episcopalians or of any other denomination, should plan to be at St. Stephen's at 7:30 p.m. on Mon., April 5, to hear Dr. Hector Le Marie, head of the Division of the Aging in Delaware. It is hoped that out of this will come an area organization to do with the aging of this vicinity. In addition to Dr. Le Marie, Mr. H. I. Brown, who heads the work for the aged, for the Diocese of Delaware, will be a resource person. All interested persons are urged to set aside the evening of April 5.

The Women of St. Stephen's are giving up their monthly meeting in order to participate in this meeting concerning the Aged. However, there will be a short business meeting of the Women of St. Stephen's immediately afterward.

The 5th annual Antique Show and Sale sponsored by Asbury Church will be held April 6, 7, and 8. Hours are from 7 - 10 p.m. Tuesday; 11 a.m. - 10 p.m. Wednesday, and 11 a.m. - 4 p.m. Thursday. A snack bar will be open all during the show and luncheon will be available on Wednesday and Thursday. Let us support Asbury in this worthy project.

Next Sunday, April 4 at 7 p.m. there will be the last meeting of the sub-district MYF for conference year at Avenue Methodist Church, Milford. Installation of new officers and Holy Communion.

Asbury Methodist Church Notes

The subject of the sermon for Sunday morning, March 28, will be "Salvation Through Christ Our Lord". It is your pastor's hope to get us to see the source of every social ill—SIN. Every man falls short of our calling as Christians, and only by the grace of God can we come to the place where we can stand before the throne and receive the eternal blessing.

At the evening service at 7 p.m. the subject is "Dear Timothy: Come soon—Come before winter". Salvation is a word that is often omitted in our vocabulary, therefore is omitted in our lives. Without salvation of our souls you have lived in vain.

Church School meets at 10 a.m. with classes for all ages. Junior League meets from 5:45 p.m. to 7:45 p.m. The subjects of the movies to be shown to the youth group tonight are "Rich, Young Ruler" and "Chimp the Cowboy".

The Methodist Youth Fellowship meets promptly at 6 p.m. Altar flowers this week will be presented by Mrs. Enos Langrell in memory of husband's birthday.

Friendly greeters this week will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Masten.

The annual Lenten Communion breakfast for this area will be held in Trinity Methodist Church, Harrington, Sunday morning.

The Womens' Society of Christian Service meeting scheduled for April 6 has been moved up to Tues., March 30, at 7:30 p.m. in the Collins Building. This is an important meeting. It will include election of officers and the drawing of new names for circles. It is hoped that everyone will attend.

Our Fifth Antique Show will be held April 6, 7 and 8. This is a church-wide project and the committee will need your full support. Let's make this a profitable and enjoyable affair.

Our Cathedral Choir, together with the Chancel Choir will present a cantata in our church on Palm Sunday, April 11, at 7:30 p.m. The past presentations speak for themselves. You cannot afford to miss it.

Letter to the Editor

5707 Camerford Ave.
Hollywood 38, Calif.
March 16th, 1965
Dear Carrington:

I haven't seen any references to Costen Shockley, of Georgetown, in your sporting section. He is one of the very few Delawareans in the major leagues in years. I had a chat with him down at Palm Springs last Tuesday and he seems like a swell kid. The Los Angeles Angels got him in a trade with the Phillies for Belinsky, as you know, and he is supposed to be a great prospect. The Angels played the Cleveland Indians last Saturday and "Cos" as they call him played 1st base. The poor kid had an error on his first play but made up for it with a double his first time at bat.

Kindest regards to you and your lovely bride (of nearly 2 years).

Sincerely,
John S. Harrington

Mental Health Speakers Available

Speakers on mental health are available to groups of any size, at no charge, it was announced by the Public Relations Committee of the Mental Health Association. The committee, of which Mrs. W. B. DeRiemer is chairman, was formed in 1964 in an effort to help bring the message and the facts concerning mental health to the general public. It is hoped that by the use of speakers, films and other devices, some of the myths concerning the field can be dispelled. The group has been trained and educated by leaders in the field of mental health and are prepared to present knowledgeable talks on a variety of topics. The Speakers' Bureau, of which Mrs. Leon Scott is chairman, said in discussing the purpose of her group, "One of the things I have found in talking to people is that they are not aware that people can recover from mental illness the same as a physical illness, and before any great strides can be taken in the rehabilitation of the former patient, the public must be aware of this". The Speakers' Bureau can be contacted by calling the Mental Health Association, Olympia 6-8308.

Cancer of the Rectum Strikes More Than 70,000 Americans a Year

Thousands of Americans are living full, active lives even though they have had a colostomy for cancer of the bowel. If you are one of them, be patient with the necessary adjustments, and have confidence in your physician. Having that annual physical makes good sense. But if you're over twenty-five, insist that your doctor include a thorough rectal examination as part of the check-up. That's the way to be sure cancer doesn't go undiscovered.

Fence Talk

With George Vapaa

Why plan and zone? Sorry I can't tell you now. It's the title of my talk for the farmer's night program at the Hartly Lions Club on Thurs., April 1.

I mention it to let other groups know the same talk can be given to them. It deals with the changing growth patterns of Kent County and of Delaware. Some of our farm leaders feel this is our most important concern at the present time.

Very briefly, we deal with our changing conditions, what they mean specifically to farmers, and how farmers can adjust to these changes. Quite frankly, many of us are optimistic about the future. I'll reveal one statistic. Even though we may double our county population by 1980, only 4% more of the land need go out of farming—perhaps even less land.

The case for county and community planning is very much on people's minds. The legislature just passed a constitutional amendment to enable Kent and Sussex Counties to zone. Now specific legislation is being developed by the state planning office to make sound planning and zoning possible.

Why plan and zone? This is the kind of thing that calls for an exchange of ideas. Let's talk about them together.

Here's good news for your annual battle with crabgrass. We now have the first truly selective crab grass killer. The name is "Tupersan", from a chemical formula developed by the DuPont Company.

This makes spring seeding possible with a good chance for success. Professor Claude Phillips, chairman of our Agronomy staff at the University of Delaware, is highly pleased with his research trials. He tells me that research workers from other states report equally encouraging results—no failures.

The material also works well on two other pesky weeds, fox-tail and barnyard grass. It won't hurt the seeds of Kentucky bluegrass, red fescue, redtop or bentgrass.

The Golden Perfection cantaloupe is a new variety perfected by Professor Eugene Brasher, chairman of our department of horticulture at the University of Delaware. He says it is a significantly better cantaloupe than the current standard variety, Edisto, which is grown by most Delaware farmers.

The only catch is we have a limited supply of seed. The commercial houses are increasing the seed supply. But I have a small stock on hand for trial by Kent county farmers and gardeners. We will be glad to supply small trial packets at no charge as long as they last. Simply call 736-1448 and ask for a free sample.

Grooming a horse correctly is good not only for his appearance, but also for his health. The horse feels better when he is clean. And the owner while grooming has an opportunity to carefully examine the animal and look for cuts, abrasions, and external parasites.

Have a complete grooming kit. It should contain a hoof pick, a metal currycomb, a rubber currycomb, a brush, a sponge, a bucket, a small piece of toweling, and an old towel or a square of old blanket.

Make sure that the horse is properly tied. Remove the bridle, loosen the cinch, and allow the horse to cool a bit. Then remove the saddle, but leave the blanket or saddle pad on until the animal cools. Meanwhile, be cleaning around the eyes, in the ears, and in the nostrils with a damp sponge. This removes dust and other foreign material.

After this is done, remove the blanket and fold it with the sweaty sides within the fold. Then rub the sweaty back with a cloth. Use the metal currycombs over the well fleshed areas, and the rubber currycombs over the less well fleshed parts. Brush all over the body, except in the ears, around the eyes and nostrils.

Pick up the feet and clean them out with the hoof pick and clean the fetlocks well with the brush. In grooming the hindquarters of a nervous horse, we suggest holding the tail with the left hand and keeping the horse's weight on the leg nearest you. If the horse should attempt to kick, he will have to move his weight off the leg and you will get the signal through the tail in time to avoid trouble. Be careful, too, of horses that bite.

Keep all equipment clean, using a good grade saddle soap on leather. Wash the blanket with a mild, good grade soap and follow with a thorough rinsing. The appearance of skin irritations over the back, under the saddle, or under the cinch line is often due to dirty sweat-encrusted equipment or the use of irritant soaps.

Use this set routine every time the horse is groomed.

Most pigs that don't reach market die before they are one week old. There are many causes for this high mortality, but most losses can be prevented with good management. Cold, drafty wet farrowing houses cause many of the troubles with baby pigs. To raise a greater number of pigs, give them a chance by keeping the farrowing quarters warm and free from drafts.

A source of heat such as a heat lamp may be needed for the young pigs. Additional heat is usually needed in the building to help keep the pens dry. Precautions like these should result in larger, healthier litters at weaning time.

When the supply of fruits, vegetables and meat gets low in the freezer, it's a good time to fill the empty space with cooked and baked foods for quick-to-prepare meals on busy days.

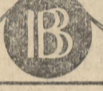

A freezer that's filled only once a year will not give the satisfaction of a freezer that's kept nearly full the year-round. Studies show that the higher the rate of turnover in the freezer the lower the cost per pound of frozen food.

Preparing a double recipe of a casserole, making two pies or two cakes and putting one in the freezer is a practice of many homemakers.

But for top quality and most economical use of freezer space, use these pre-cooked main dishes and baked foods within several months. Many foods lose their distinctive flavors after three to four months of storage unless held at -10 degrees F. or lower.

Do you need to do anything different when preparing a casserole dish for freezing?

Avoid overcooking foods to be frozen. Cook vegetables only partially, or the subsequent freezing and heating will make them mushy and unattractive. Meat should be tender but firm—not overdone. Don't add cloves or garlic to foods to be frozen, since these flavors become stronger during storage. Onions gradually lose their flavor.

Avoid freezing diced or cubed potatoes in stew or other main dishes; they become mushy and grainy.

Cool cooked foods promptly for freezing by placing the sauce-pan of cooked food in a large pan of ice water. Keep the saucepan covered to reduce loss of aroma and to prevent contamination.

How do you package combination foods for freezing?

Package immediately after cooling. Pack all types of cooked foods as solidly as possible to avoid air spaces. Gravy and sauces are desirable with meats and vegetables to fill air spaces. Baking dishes that suit the size of the family are convenient to use for freezing. You may wish to line the casserole with foil before filling it. After the food is solidly frozen, it may be removed from the dish and wrapped in freezer paper. Then, when you're ready to cook it, the food may be fitted back into the casserole. This not only saves space in the freezer, but you have the use of the casserole during this time.

Farmers— Look How Little it Really Costs To Avoid Crop Troubles

When you plant a crop and get a lot of weeds, that's trouble. When you get a spotty stand, that's more trouble. And when you get yields below the break-even point, that's the most trouble of all. By planting Southern States Quality Seeds, however, you can avoid these expensive crop troubles—for less cost than you may think. Did you know that Southern States Quality Seeds usually give you more pure live seeds for your money—than the cheap, inferior, unprofitable seeds that cause all the grief? Southern States Quality Seeds represent only about 5% of your total crop production expense. When the best costs so little, why plant anything less? See your Southern States Cooperative Agency now.

KEITH S. BURGESS — Sports Editor

2 Talks About Sports

Fred W. Zirkel has been the director of recreation for the City of West Allis, Wisconsin, for the past 31 years. We are printing below some of his statements made in an article he wrote for the February issue of the American School Board Journal.

"Some day in the future, educators and school boards and citizens of communities will wake up to the fact that the school program in physical education and athletics must be planned so as to include every boy and girl in the school system, regardless of the skills any boy or girl has or does not have. It is the duty of the educational system in the lower grades to build healthy, strong bodies and to develop bodily skills through the physical education departments. This is a number one objective; it is realized more each day by our government that communities must make physical education a prime objective of their schools.

At this point in planning, superintendents, school boards, and the communities as a whole must work together and evaluate what they are doing in their physical education and sports program.

Now a nation of spectators: We have made a grave mistake in this country in developing a spectator nation and no one school board or community has given the problem enough attention or has mustered enough courage to dare change.

It is a serious mistake that schools select the few who already have developed skills in football, basketball, and baseball, and spend huge sums of the sports budget, and have the 95 percent of the remaining students waste time sitting on their backsides watching the few elect perform."

In Harrington we have given the problem enough attention and have dared to make changes. In 1955 H.H.S. had only two varsity sports, basketball and baseball. In 1956 a track team was added followed by football a year later. In 1958 the Lions formed the first cross-country team in Delaware south of Newark.

Wrestling made its debut here in 1960, giving the Lions six varsity sports for boys plus hockey, basketball, and softball for the distaff side. 1964 saw the construction of facilities for a night football and track with seats for 1100 people.

The athletic program at Harrington has been lauded by education officials as being the best in Delaware on a per capita basis.

Close to 100 boys and 86 girls competed in sports at Harrington High in the nine varsity sports and there was room for many more as little "cutting of squads" is done except in baseball and basketball, which carry relatively small squads. Although the nation as a whole may be a spectator nation, H.H.S. is not a spectator school with a good percentage of students out for sports. In fact, Harrington High can find something for any healthy boy or girl who wants to participate.

Despite the strong athletic program, the local institution remains a fully accredited high school, whose graduates have a very low dropout rate when they attend college. This indicates that the academic program is not being neglected and, of course, it should never be as the value of a good education is more apparent as time goes by.

Another mid-western school that subscribes to Plato's admonition of "A sound body and a sound mind go hand in hand" is Menomonee Falls, Wisconsin.

Milton Blake, the athletic director, has written an article called "An Exemplary Athletic Setup" which is reprinted below. We believe that his school has a good program but considering the difference in size between H.H.S. and Menomonee Falls High School this writer feels that the local school has a better one.

"An Exemplary Athletic Setup" It is the purpose of the athletic department of Menomonee Falls High School to develop a group of boys physically fit, mentally alert, and morally sound. This aim is accomplished through a system of regular athletic training and a code of good sportsmanship. The following injunctions are observed: keep the rules; keep faith with your comrade; keep your temper; keep fit; keep a stout heart in defeat; keep your pride under control in victory; keep a clean soul, a sound mind, and a healthy body; and play the game.

Our program and number of boys who participated last season:

FALL—Football, 134; cross country, 30.
WINTER — Basketball, 95;

swimming, 35; wrestling, 56; gymnastics, 30.

SPRING — Track, 110; golf, 27; Tennis, 33.
SUMMER—Baseball, 43.
The total number of boys W.I.A.A. (Wisconsin Interscholastic Association) insurance cards processed by the athletic director for the past year was 403. The total number of boys enrolled in high school is 807 (total school enrollment, 1572).

Since athletics are considered an integral part of a secondary school program, we subscribe to the philosophy that "all boys who are able and willing to participate" should be given an opportunity to do so.

We are quite pleased with the number of boys participating in the school's athletic program! We have evidence to show that the beneficial results of an extensive athletic program are reflected in the students' physical development and coordination, desirable social habits, future adult hobbies, and vocational choices.

Menomonee Falls is a member of the nine-school Braveland Conference. The conference has a frosh, J.V., and varsity schedule for all sports.

Spring and fall sports are no problem at most high schools in the state. But having four winter sports at a school sometimes create a few minor problems.

The board of education with the help of the taxpayers of Menomonee Falls have given us an athletic plant of which we are very proud. With such wonderful facilities to work with our problems are minor.

Our gym has three regulation-sized basketball courts. Fourteen baskets can be used simultaneously if by phys ed instructors or coaches so desire. We have a seating capacity of 2300. When using the center court for games, we still have 15 ft. between the out-of-bounds lines and the first row of bleachers. (We have a 10 ft. clearance on each end of all three courts.) For phys ed during the day, a folding door "makes" separate gyms for girl and boy classes.

We have a large auxiliary room (32 x 113 ft.) on the west end of gym. This room is also equipped with a folding door. During the day one is used by girls and the other by boys. For our after-school program, the room is used by our wrestling and gymnastic teams.

Our swimming pool is "out of this world." (Come by some day and we will show you around.) It has a flush deck. The size of our pool is 42 by 75 ft., enough for six lanes, starting blocks, and Duraflex board (high and low). We have a separate diving well. Our spectator capacity is 1000 (800 seats; 200 standing).

Menomonee Falls has had the state swimming meet for the past two years, and we are having it again this year (Saturday, Feb. 27).

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—In the event that both my wife and I should die, what would the VA do about my GI insurance. My children are contingent beneficiaries but they are too young to handle it.

A — The VA legal division would work with the court to appoint a guardian to handle this as well as any VA pension rights which the children might have.

Q—I have a service-connected disability which recently became worse, necessitating the amputation of my right leg. Would I now be eligible for the $1,600 payment toward the purchase of an especially-adapted automobile from VA?

A—It seems so, since yours was a recent operation. When the qualifying service-connected disability occurs after separation, the application must be made within three years after the occurrence. Contact your VA regional office for information applying to your individual case.

Q—If a reservist is injured while traveling to or from authorized training duty, is there any benefit available from the VA?

A—Such injuries may be service-connected and compensation or treatment may be provided by law. Contact your VA regional office.

Q—I served in World War II. Are my wife and children eligible for any benefits should I die before the children finish school?

A—Much depends upon the financial condition of the family after your death since your question would indicate you have no service-connected disabilities. You should instruct your wife to get in touch with the Veterans Administration at the time of your death. In that way, she may learn of any other benefits due her in addition to the $250 burial allowance.

Q—I was discharged from service for a disability during World War II after a comparatively short term of service. Because of this short service am I eligible for a GI home loan?

A—All World War II veterans discharged for a service-connected disability have the maximum entitlement for a GI loan which extends to July 25, 1967. Check with the VA to see if you are in this group.

Q—I have a $10,000 NSLI insurance policy and am 61 years old. If I now become totally disabled before age 65, am I eligible for waiver of insurance premiums?

A—Yes. As of January 1, 1965, and before age 65, you would be eligible for a waiver of premiums upon a showing of total disability existing six months or more.

Q—I was discharged in 1960 after five years service. It is true that GI insurance may now be available to me?

A—The re-opening of National Service Life Insurance for a year beginning May 1, 1965, applies to disabled veterans who were originally eligible for insurance after October 7, 1940, and before January 1, 1957. You should check with the nearest VA office to see if you are eligible.

Q—Is a down payment required on a GI home loan?

A—Not as a matter of law, but the lender may request a down payment as dictated by policy, and such factors as the veteran's income and other indebtedness.

Q—My father is service-connected for gastritis. This condition has been rated by the Veterans Administration at 60 percent disabled for several years. It does, however, prevent him from being employable. Am I eligible for the educational allowance for children of disabled veterans?

A—No, the veteran must be rated by the VA as permanently and totally disabled. However, since you indicate that your father is unemployable, he should submit proof of this fact and request that his claim be re-opened. If he should be rated 100 percent disabled based on individual unemployability because of his disability, you might be eligible.

Delaware Food Market Report

There's something about April that draws us outdoors to breathe in deeply the clean spring air. The aroma around the kitchen is appealing at this time of year too.

There's the incomparable essence from the ham baking for Easter dinner, April 18. Perhaps roast lamb is your traditional Easter meat—it too has terrific sniff appeal. Or, will it be standing rib roast on your table for this holiday meal. All of these meats will be in fair supply according to the American Meat Institution. However, beef and ham will be much more plentiful than lamb, since the forecast for lamb for the entire year is less than a year ago.

This month's increased veal supplies make it a good time for veal fanciers to indulge themselves. For April Fool's Day, you could serve "city chicken". It isn't really chicken at all, but tasty veal cubes threaded on a skewer, browned and cooked slowly in a little liquid until tender.

Other foods which will be helpful in preparing meals for Easter and the Passover are eggs, canned pink salmon, broilers and dried poods. These are but a few of the foods listed by the United States Department of Agriculture on their April list of plentiful foods.

The winter cabbage crop has been delayed because of unfavorable weather, but by April shipments should be heavy. Carrot production is not expected to match last season's huge crop but it is anticipated that there will be plenty on hand. Lots of onions are also expected to move to market during April. Right now though, the fresh vegetable supply situation changes so rapidly from day to day that it's almost impossible for anyone to know what to expect. This situation will pass we hope with the March winds and icy cold weather. As of now the growth of asparagus has been slowed and movement to market has not gained as rapidly as expected so prices remain relatively high. Wind as well as cold has reduced the supply of egg plant, snap beans are also suffering so quality needs to be watched. Other vegetables that have gone up a bit in price are green peppers, lettuce, celery, radishes and sweet potatoes.

There's not much news in fruits this week. Grapefruit, oranges, lemons, and bananas continue to be the best buys. All other fruits remain about the same as they were last week.

Because of the increased demand for eggs during the Lenten season, prices are a bit higher this week. Grade A large eggs are up about 3 cents on the dozen as are Grade B large, but Grade A medium are up only a penny.

making them the better buy this weekend.

To Friends of Aged

Dear friends of the aged in this vicinity:

As you know, right around us, there are many elderly persons who are confined to their homes. Some have been committed to nursing homes; some have needs which are not known to us at present, but which are real and urgent; some are just old and bored with life in general; but vitally need some past-time activities.

We feel that where they are confined to their homes, they need interested persons to show their concern by visiting them, often relieving those who care for them or perhaps taking those who can go, for a ride or some such thing. Many nursing home patients have loved ones to visit them, but many more feel and are forgotten, and simply deteriorate gradually. They are "put on the shelf". Surely these need our attention and help. Where boredom is the problem, we should be able to provide past-time activities.

Here is where you are needed. I am secretary of Christian Social Relations at St. Stephen's, but these problems affect us all, therefore, I would like to invite you and as many of your people as can to come to a special program on this subject at 7:30 p.m. Mon., April 5, at St. Stephen's. We urge that at least one or two of those who come, be persons who are interested in helping the aged and who would be willing to be part of a community committee to work in this area.

For that program, we have arranged to have as speaker, Dr. Hector Le Maire, a Methodist layman from Smyrna, director of the Division of the Aging in Delaware. I have heard him and he is a dynamic speaker who will help us to discover and understand our problems as well as some of the things that can be done about them. Meantime, Bishop Mosley has appointed H. Ingersol Brown to work in this area in the Diocese of Delaware, and knowing him to be a sincere person of concern, we have engaged him also to speak briefly on this subject. These presentations will be followed by a question-time and refreshments.

Will you please give this your careful attention and mail to me the enclosed card at your first opportunity?
