

The Rt. Rev. J. Brooke Mosley To Confirm 18 at St. Stephen's

The Rt. Rev. J. Brooke Mosley, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Delaware, will perform the rite of confirmation and preach at 11 a. m., Sunday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in his annual visitation.

The Rev. Quay D. Rice, the church's vicar, said the office of a bishop is to be a chief pastor, to confer holy orders (to ordain), and to administer confirmation. In the Episcopal Church, the Rev. Rice explained, only a bishop has the authority to confirm.

Bishop Mosley received his bachelor of divinity degree from the Episcopal Theological Seminary, Cambridge, Mass., was conferred a degree of doctor of divinity by Kenyon College in Ohio, and a degree of doctor of sacred theology by Philadelphia Divinity School.

Those to be confirmed are as follows: Charles Donohon, Jimmie Eastman, Charles Hurd, Judy Kendall, Dickie Porter, Gene Price, Idelette Rice, Jimmie Wyatt, Mrs. Takako Kinney, Mrs. Shirley F. Towers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Donohon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Price Sr., Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Stuart, and William Smith.

Those being received are Denise Bruck, Tom Bruck, and Jack Kinney.

Those being transferred from other churches are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kendall; Kathleen Kendall, David Kendall; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shenton, and Mrs. Annette Bruck.

Ox Roast to Honor Rep. McDowell

U.S. Rep. Harris B. McDowell, Jr., will be honored tomorrow at a steer roast at Delaware State Fair grounds. The event will be held, rain or shine.

The roast is being sponsored by the Young Democrats of Kent County.

There will be entertainment for the entire family, including rides for the children.

The event will be held from 4 p. m. to 9 p. m. Tickets will be available at the gate.

Miss Teenage America To Attend 4-H Conference

"Buckle-in and be better-off" is the safety slogan Carolyn Mignini, Miss Teenage America, will stress at the 44th annual Delaware State 4-H Conference on the University of Delaware campus, June 21 through 24.

Miss Mignini of Baltimore is a talented lyric soprano who plans to pursue a musical career. She says about her fellow teenagers, "Teens should be allowed to be teens. Criticism we shall always get. We should accept and benefit from it."

As the national youth safety spokesman, Miss Mignini will participate in the conference with approximately 200 4-H delegates attending the four day event.

The overall theme of the event, "Values in Focus," will be developed further by Herbert L. Schaller, director of university news, Purdue University. He will discuss the topic, "You Need CAKE to Grow." Miss Dorothy Emerson, consultant for the National 4-H Club Foundation in Washington, will talk about "Confidence in Leadership."

"The Nature of Freedom" is the topic of Andy Eure, also a National 4-H Club Foundation representative.

Kirby Krams, Delaware Youth Service director, will lead the closing days' discussion of "Values for Teens."

The conference delegates, all older 4-H members, will also take part in a youth culture symposium, the state public speaking contest, scenic and industrial tours and the annual delegates' banquet and dance.

Window Dedication For the Rev. Hinks

The Rt. Rev. J. Brooke Mosley, D.D., S.T.D., who will make his yearly visitation to St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Sunday at 11 a. m., will dedicate a stained-glass window to the Rev. Joseph S. Hinks.

The window is being given by the parishioners in honor of their former vicar.

The Rev. Hinks lives in Milford with his wife and daughter, having retired as rector of Christ Church, Milford.

When St. Stephen's was a mission attached to Christ Church, the Rev. Hinks served as vicar from May, 1930, to June, 1956.

He has supplied many vacancies in Delaware, among these being one at St. Stephen's from May until August, 1956.

TO PREACH AND CONFIRM — The Rt. Rev. J. Brooke Mosley, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Delaware, who will perform the rite of confirmation and preach Sunday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Harrington Head Start Program Is Approved

On June 1st the Harrington Special School District received notification by letter from the Office of Economic Opportunity that its application for funds to conduct a Head Start Program has been approved. The total amount of money granted for this program is $7740.00. This allocation will be used to provide 90% of the cost of all personnel, services, materials and facilities. The remaining 10% will be provided by the school in the form of classroom space, kitchen facilities, and the use of our bus. Included in the personnel of this program are one director, three teachers, three aides, one social worker, one nurse, one secretary.

As previously announced, this program will provide readiness opportunity and experience for forty-five of the pre-school children who will enter our first grade sections in September. Experience has shown that those youngsters who receive such educational opportunities progress at a much faster rate when they enter school. In short, this eight week program, lasting from July 5th to August 27th, will offer children the opportunity of becoming acquainted with a variety of social, cultural, and educational experiences so necessary to their development process.

They will learn to get along with other children in group activities. They will learn to listen to and follow instructions. They will develop a deeper appreciation of music, of art forms, and of their natural environment. Each child will be given a thorough (Continued on Page 8)

Miss Joan E. Smith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, has been selected for the annual Delaware Summer Science Workshop sponsored by Industrial and Professional Organizations of Delaware, organized and conducted by American Chemical Society, Delaware Section, and directed by Dr. Ruth E. Cornell, Edmond E. Dubbs and Lawrence Plummer. Joan is the seventh Harrington student who has participated in this program. The workshop will begin June 21 through July 16. Students selected for this program have high interest in science and must present excellent school records.

This year's program will include visits to the Edgemore Plant, Delaware Power and Light Company; the University of Pennsylvania Museum; Tidewater Oil Company; a tour through Kent and Sussex Counties inspecting the Fish and Game Commission activities and the Marine Biological Laboratories at Lewes; the Hercules Research Center; Brandwine Valley Trip; Bell Telephone Research Laboratories, Murry Hill, New Jersey; Elastomers Laboratory, Chestnut Run Plant; The Johns Hopkins University Medical Center; National Arboretum, Washington, D. C.; Naval Observatory and other places of interest in the Nation's Capital involved in science.

This is an outstanding program giving the student a broad view of the entire scientific field. Harrington is proud again to be represented in this outstanding program.

Dogs Flush Suspect In Rape Case

A Greenwood man, flushed out of a field by police dogs, Tuesday, is in the Sussex County Correctional Institute on a rape charge.

Louis Hinton, 26, was charged with attacking a Greenwood woman in the bedroom of her home between 11:30 p. m. Monday and 12:30 a. m. Tuesday. He was ordered held in lieu of $5,000 bond by Magistrate Paul H. Faulk, Greenwood.

Police said the woman told them she awoke shortly after retiring Monday night to find someone in bed with her. She said she thought it was her husband but turned on the light to find the intruder.

The woman said she screamed, leaped from the bed (Continued on Page 8)

City Council Is 'In the Dumps'

By C. H. B.

And well it should be. The City government has been having problems with trash disposal for years. It had a dump on U.S. 13 and the Chamber of Commerce complained.

After some maneuvering, the City purchased a woodland tract northwest of town and used it as a dump. A dump fire enabled an adjoining property owner, the late Dallas Slater, to collect damages.

The present Council hired a man, for $20 per week and salvage right, to watch the dump and see that people put their trash in the proper place. He could only be there five days a week, eight hours a day.

When he was not there, people dumped trash everywhere, including in the road. Pushing trash back cost better than $200. The City is disgusted. It says many non-citizens use the dump. All individuals can use the State Highway dump at Killen's Pond, without charge, but municipalities cannot use it. An attendant is on duty there and the dump is well maintained.

Wesley Graduates Miss Layton

Lynda Margaret Layton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Layton, was among the 106 students graduated at Wesley College, Dover, Sunday.

CITY ORDERS PROPERTY OWNERS TO HOOK UP TO WATER MAINS

GRADUATED—James Leonard Masten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard S. Masten, Clark Street, graduate of Bridgewater College.

The City Council Tuesday night made an addition to the water code whereby property owners are to connect to the water mains if they were adjacent to the property.

The property owner will have six months, retroactive to June 1, to hook up to water wherever "it is available and adjacent." The penalty for failure to do so was described as $10, for the first offense, and $15 for each additional offense. These penalties, it was added, apply to all violations of the water code.

In other business the Council was informed bids were not to be opened for drilling a well and building a pumping station until the city engineer secured some information.

Appointed Wilson Bradley, First Ward councilman, civil defense director after reading a letter from Joe Rawlins, Kent County Civil Defense director, asking the City to appoint a local director and commission.

Reduced the water rate of Stone's Hotel from $40 to $25 per quarter after it was explained the hotel no longer had a dining room. The hotel goes under the exceptional user's rate set by Council.

On complaint of hotel about drainage, city manager agreed to clean catch basins.

Blue Cross Rate Increase Postponed

Despite a loss of $327,856 in the first four months of 1965, Blue Cross officials say they are sticking to their plan to postpone any rate increase until Fall.

At a meeting this week of Kent County and Sussex County business and civic leaders, held in the Shawnee Country Club in Milford, Harold W. Maybee, managing director of Blue Cross and Blue Shield, Milford, reported the loss.

Group Hospital Service, Inc.—Blue Cross and Blue Shield hospital - surgical - medical plans is operated on a non-profit basis. A loss in its operations represents higher expenses—mostly payment of members' claims—than income. Maybee said the Plan's reserves are covering the loss.

"The trustees of the Plan," said Maybee, "have decided to hold off any rate change until (Continued on Page 8)

Miss Gray went into final examinations with a 3.91 grade point average. Miss Hobbs with a 3.87 one. Miss Gray has accepted a teaching position in Henrico County, and Miss Hobbs has a scholarship to study library (Continued on Page 8)

Fire Marshal Says Danger in Toy Carbide Cannons

William R. Favinger, state fire marshal, reports that toy carbide cannons are in use within the state and sales also are a possibility. In the interest of safety and with the approach of July 4th, when the desire to celebrate by setting off fireworks is more prevalent, a clarification of the dangers of the carbide cannon and of its inclusion under the fireworks law, seems in order.

First of all the State Fire Prevention Rules and Regulations are quite clear regarding the term "fireworks," as used in this chapter, shall mean and include any combustible or explosive composition, or any substances or combination of substances, or articles prepared for (Continued on Page 8)

However, there is a light in the clearing. A bill will be introduced into the General Assembly to use abandoned borrow pits for dumps, to be maintained by the state.

The City Council, Tuesday night, fired the attendant at the local dump.

In other business, the Council agreed: To place one light on Thomas Street.

To put mercury vapor lighting on Delaware Avenue and on Center Street from Delaware Avenue to Dorman Street. It is planned to install the lighting on other streets as time goes by.

Agreed to resolution calling for a referendum granting franchise to Chesapeake Utilities to install gas mains.

To install 4-inch water main on Thomas Street from Liberty Street, some 300 to 350 feet, to a house being constructed by K. Failing at a cost of about $1500. It was explained there were several building lots which might be used.

William Palmatory, Center and Dorman Streets, delivered notice of his refusal to accept the City's offer of compensation for damage to be caused by the widening and improving of Center Street. The City offered a chain-link fence to replace a hedge; Palmatory wanted some boot.

It was once thought Palmatory would have to file the suit. It now appears the City will have to file a condemnation suit in Superior Court. Three assessors would make the appraisal but the Court's arbitration board would decide the damages, if any.

NAVY AND YOU

ROBERT EUGENE BUSH was presented the MEDAL OF HONOR for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of his life while serving as Medical Corpsman during World War II. As he was administering blood plasma to an officer who had been wounded, the enemy struck back with a counter attack. In a perilously exposed position BUSH kept the blood flowing into the officer while helping to fight off the enemy who was charging point-blank. He accounted for six of the enemy despite his own serious wounds and the loss of one eye. With the hostile force routed, he completed his mission disregarding his own serious condition. His great personal valor and heroic spirit of self-sacrifice in service of others enhances the finest traditions of the United States Naval Service.

MRS. HATFIELD PLAYS PROMINENT PART IN SUCCESS OF ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The success of the Harrington High School Alumni Association, which held its ninth reunion recently, can be attributed to the recording historian, Mrs. Luther P. (Zita Zimmerly) Hatfield, more than to any other person.

Of course, other alumni and groups and individuals have also helped in a substantial way.

However, Mrs. Hatfield, whose position in either organization, might be called executive secretary, has borne the burden of the task. She would be hard to replace.

In her home, that of her husband, the mayor, she has maintained the association's offices and worked unceasingly without pay.

Some features of the alumni association, many of which were first recommended by Mrs. Hatfield: Publication of an annual newspaper running to about 12 pages; awarding of banners for attendance at the reunion, and the awarding of scholarships. This year, for the first time, two scholarships of $300 each were awarded by the association. Scholarship funds are provided by voluntary contributions from the members.

The banquet portion of the association is held in the cafeteria of Harrington School. More than 500 persons were present at the recent reunion. The association has more than 400 members.

After the banquet, a dance was held in the field house. Both cafeteria and field house were beautifully decorated by the Junior Class of Harrington High School which had held a prom the night before. The alumni association helps financially, with this decorating.

The Harrington school system knows the value of an alumni association, as does any educational system, and has offered the use of a room for office work. Again, praise must be given the Board of Education for the use of the school facilities.

In conclusion, Mrs. Hatfield does the work of two or three persons, with work beginning in January. Actually, her job is one that would be avoided by the more fleet of foot.

MRS. ROGER D. HENDRICKS

Priscilla Richman Marries Roger Hendricks

Miss Priscilla P. Richman, of Wilmington, and Roger D. Hendricks, of Harrington, were united in marriage Saturday, May 29th, in the Richardson Park Methodist Church, Wilmington.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Priscilla P. Richman, of Woodstown, N. J., and the late Walter L. Richman. Mr. Hendricks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Hendricks, of Harrington.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Olin J. Shockley, Jr., at two o'clock, with reception following in the Fellowship Hall.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Warren E. Richman, wore a floor length gown of pou di soie with bouffant sheath and fitted bodice, scooped neckline, and long sleeves. Her headpiece was a pou di soie pill box with silk illusion veil. She carried a white orchid cascade.

Mrs. Ruth Smith, of Wilmington, was matron of honor. Miss Carol Lewis, of Newark, Del.; Miss Susan Cobb, of Bridgeton, New Jersey; and Mrs. Betty Lee Taylor, of Harrington, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. Miss Beverly Hendricks, of Harrington, was junior bridesmaid. Their ballerina length sheath with bouffant overskirt of blue embossed pou di soie had a fitted bodice, scooped neckline and cap sleeves. Their headpieces were matching embossed pou di soie bow and veil.

Mrs. Smith carried a white with pink carnation cascade while the other attendants carried pink with white carnation cascades.

Richard Smith, of Wilmington, was best man. The ushers were David Welch and Robert Wilson, both of Harrington, and Melvin Toadvine, of Salisbury, Md. Serving as junior usher was Charles Brown, also of Harrington. Master John Wayne Hendricks, brother of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Richman chose a blue lace over taffeta dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Hendricks wore pale pink and white lace over white taffeta dress with matching accessories. They both wore white orchid corsages.

The bride is a graduate of George School, Penna., and Goldey Beacom School of Business, Wilmington, and is employed by Newark Welding and Fabricating Corporation, Wilmington.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Harrington High School, Harrington, and Goldey Beacom School of Business, and is employed by Kenneth G. Lilly

Fasteners, Inc., Wilmington. Following their honeymoon, the couple will make their home in Wilmington.

Use Common Sense When Appliance Stops

Appliances are not just an advantage to the busy homemaker; they are a necessity. Few things are as frustrating, however, as a toaster that will not toast or a washing machine that will not wash. Of course, a trained repairman is needed for major repairs or those that require dismantling the appliance or replacing many of the parts. Minor repairs can often be done at home, says Miss Coral K. Morris, home management specialist at the University of Delaware.

A set of instructions for the use and care of the appliances usually comes with them when you buy them. Miss Morris advises keeping these instructions handy and always following them carefully. Daily care and prompt repair when necessary will determine the useful life of the appliance and the value you get for the money you spent.

Check the fuse or circuit breaker if an appliance suddenly stops working completely. The wiring circuits in homes and farm buildings are protected by either fuses or circuit breakers. When fuses blow or circuit breakers trip, the trouble is not in the fuse or circuit breaker themselves, but some place in the appliance or wiring system, or the circuit may be overloaded. Be sure to locate the trouble and correct it before replacing the fuse or resetting the circuit breaker, recommends Miss Morris. Always disconnect the appliance before you clean it or make repairs, she cautions.

To test for trouble in the electric circuit, first disconnect all appliances and then open the main switch. Remove the blown fuse, insert a light bulb and close the main switch. If the bulb burns, a short circuit exists in the wiring system, says Miss Morris. If the bulb does not burn, the trouble will be found in the plug, cord or equipment. Test the cord and plug by inserting a trouble lamp with a weatherproof socket and bulb into the appliance plug. If the lamp does not burn, the cord or plug needs repair.

Complete instructions for the care and simple repair of household appliances, large and small, are available in the free, illustrated booklet, "Household Equipment—Its Care and Repair." Copies are available from county home economics extension agents in Newark, Dover and Georgetown or from the Department of Rural Communications, University of Delaware, Newark, Delaware.

Veterans News

At least one of every five American men 64 years old and over is a war veteran. Leon Fields, manager of the VA Regional Office, Wilmington, pointed out this week.

For this reason, the VA has been expanding its program of research in aging, placing major emphasis upon new approaches to the problems which aging presents. One example is the study now underway on the effects of saturated and unsaturated fats on hardening of the arteries and heart attacks. Others are major studies into hardening of the arteries, various types of heart disease, strokes and similar seizures; lung diseases including the increasingly prevalent emphysema, and cancer.

Mr. Fields said the VA is also obtaining cooperation of non-VA scientists and physicians known to have important ideas of these subjects, by offering them facilities and staff in nearby VA hospitals as "satellite laboratories" in which the VA will serve as a partner in advancing their ideas.

William J. Driver, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, is deeply interested in the program and serves on the President's Council on Aging with the Secretaries of Health, Education and Welfare, the Treasury, Agriculture, Commerce, Labor, the Chairman of the Civil Service Commission, and the Administrator of Housing and Home Finance Agency.

The month of May is designated as Senior Citizens Month, and VA notes there are eleven living veterans of the Indian Wars and 18,000 veterans of the Spanish-American War that took place 67 years ago.

Nearly 2,115,000 veterans of World War I are 65 years of age and older—in fact, their median age is 70.5. Mr. Fields said each day, some 1,000 Americans join the ranks of our Senior Citizens. By 1970, 20 million men and women will be over the age of 65.

More than eight of every ten persons receiving veterans pensions from the VA are 65 or older.

One third of all VA hospital beds are occupied by veterans 65 or over.

The VA has also developed: —Half Way Houses where newly discharged patients from VA hospitals can gain confidence to face the world.

—Foster home where other convalescing veterans can be exposed to normal living.

The VA's nationwide system of hospitals uniquely lends itself to such an approach. Such research is made all the more feasible by the fact that many VA hospitals are already intimately affiliated with medical schools for research and education purposes.

Letter to the Editor

246 Delaware Ave. Harrington, Delaware May 26, 1965 To the Editor Harrington Journal Harrington, Delaware

From all early indications it appears as though this area is in for another extremely dry summer. Many garden crops are suffering from the lack of moisture as well as farm crops and lawns. Which brings me to the point of this letter. There are many residents of Harrington who enjoy a lovely green lawn throughout the summer season at the expense of lowered water pressure throughout the entire town. This happens mainly because some persons water their grass constantly day and night through the summer.

A fine green lawn is a lovely sight and truly enhances the beauty of a home. However, when a man cannot draw a tub of water for a bath, the time has come to STOP watering lawns and start thinking about the necessary things we need water for. Things like drinking, washing, and have enough water to draw on in case of a fire. It would seem that the time to stop this foolish waste is now, not when the water shortage is at the critical stage.

I sincerely hope the lawn waterers will consider this and correct this problem themselves, NOW. But if it isn't corrected in this way, perhaps the city council should put a ban on lawn watering for the duration of the summer or at least until enough rain has fallen to raise the water table to a level that will accommodate our water needs. Now is the time to think about this problem.

Respectfully Submitted, Wm. A. Wise

Del. Flower Show Scheduled June 5, 6

The 11th annual Delaware Flower Show will be held Saturday and Sunday, June 5 and 6, at Carpenter Field House on the University of Delaware campus, Newark. The show will run from 2:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Sunday, according to Mrs. Robert Hibner of Wilmington, chairman of the show.

The only statewide event of its kind in Delaware, the flower show is open to the public free of charge. There are no entry fees, and anyone who wishes to may exhibit flowers in the more than 100 entry classes.

A landscaped castle will highlight the theme of the show, "Fantasy of Flowers," and, in addition, many special exhibits by local nurserymen, florists, garden clubs and individual entrants will carry out this theme. In addition to the competitive classes in artistic arrangements and horticultural specimens, the Delaware Rose Society and the Delaware African Violet Society will have special competitive classes. Entries in the adult artistic arrangements division must be made in advance with Mrs. Curtis Layton, 105 Galewood Rd., Wilmington, OLympia 5-2758. Entries of horticultural specimens such as cut flowers and plants will be received until 11 a.m. Saturday, June 5, in both the adult and junior divisions. There are classes for almost every type of plant or cut flower grown by amateur gardeners, according to Mrs. Hibner.

A new division for high school entrants has been added this year, with rules the same as those for adult competition. A junior division for youngsters through junior high school is divided into three age groups with a number of special entry categories. Several hundred junior entries have already been received, and additional entries will be accepted until 11 a.m. Saturday, June 5.

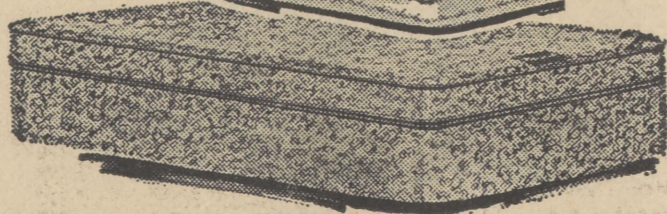

Prizes and awards in all divisions will be presented at 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

Sponsored by the University of Delaware and the Delaware Federation of Garden Clubs, the Delaware Flower Show also has the support and participation of many other organizations, including the Delaware Nurserymen, National Association of Gardeners, 4-H Clubs, Delaware African Violet Society and Delaware Rose Society.

Several thousand people attend the flower show each year, and this year's event is expected to be the largest show ever staged in Delaware, according to Mrs. Hibner. BE WISE - ADVERTISE SHOP AND SWAP in the WANT ADS

In-Service Training Grants Approved

Two in-service training grants have just been approved by the National Institute of Mental Health for facilities of the Department of Mental Health, it was learned Wednesday from Dr. Daniel Lieberman, Commissioner of the Department.

An application submitted by the Governor Bacon Health Center was approved which will provide for approximately $25,000 each year (total amount approved is $123,688 to be parceled out over a five year period) to be used for training of non-professional staff at Governor Bacon. There are presently 115 attendants, psychiatric aides and cottage parents who qualify for such training.

The objective of such training, which will consist of lectures, seminars, on-the-job training and field visits, is to give hospital personnel a continuing education to better assist them in treating emotionally ill children. According to Dr. Cono Galliani, who is Chief Psychologist at Governor Bacon, and who will also direct the training program, consultants - psychologists, psychiatrists and social workers from the surrounding area will also be asked to participate in the educational program.

The other in-service grant-in-the amount of $1,575, was awarded to the Department of Nursing Education at Delaware State Hospital to be applied toward a ten-day workshop designed for the nurses employed by the hospitals of the Department of Mental Health.

These would be the Delaware State Hospital, Governor Bacon Health Center and the Hospital for the Mentally Retarded at Stockley.

"The Nurse as a Therapeutic Agent," will be the focal point of the program, with particular emphasis given to the techniques involved in establishing a therapeutic relationship with an individual patient and with groups of patients.

The workshop will be conducted by two psychiatric nurse specialists from the College of Nursing, Rutgers University, Miss Paula Gerspacher, and Miss Cynthia Rector. Miss S. Margery Jarmon, Director of Nursing Education at the Delaware State Hospital, will serve as program administrator.

Such Federal funds are made available only to those States which demonstrate forward-looking mental health programs.

I once saw a funny-looking garden. Instead of people raising flowers—flowers were raising people. If a flower planted a seed in the ground, a baby would grow up to the waist and the legs would be the roots. If a flower planted a red seed in the ground, a red-headed baby would come up. (OLIN DAVID)

I went to Kitty Hawk, N. C., where I saw the Wright Brothers' National Memorial. There is a building where many letters are shown. There is the building where the brothers lived when they were experimenting with planes. Then there are monuments marking the distance of their first three flights. Also, on top of steep Devil's Hill there is a tall monument built as a memorial to the Wright Brothers. (KAHY NELSON)

Cheryl Mosely is a girl in the fifth grade. She does her work well. She has brown hair, green eyes, and most of the time wears her hair in braids. She is a beautiful writer. She is pretty and is a very nice girl. I like her very much. (PEGGY TRIBBITT)

I have a girl friend who is funny. She is chubby. Her name is Kathy. Kathy has one million toes on each foot. She gets an F in each subject at school. Her nose is round. She has green hair and she lives in a cave. You should see the clothes she wears to school! She is five billion years old. (THEA QUILLEN)

Have you ever been to a place where nothing goes wrong? I have—and it's wonderful. We went on a picnic one day and found a spot where the trees were green and all the flowers were in bloom. We had a wonderful time at that spot. (JAMES ARGO)

When we went to a Little League banquet last year we saw two major league players. One of them was Chris Short and the other was Steve Barber. They are both major league pitchers. Chris Short pitches for the Phillies and Steve Barber pitches for the Orioles. (NORMAN SHORT)

I once saw a place where the automobiles were flying 300 feet in the air! Later I saw rivers flowing up the mountainside! Once I even saw a chicken that barked. The people had square faces and were ten feet tall! Everyone was worth a million dollars. They had birds that could read and write! They had a machine that if you pressed a button, it would rain; and if you pushed another button it would snow! (MICHAEL TROTTA)

One day we saw a little pond in a dirt pit. It was a hole with water in it. There was a fallen tree on one of the small mounds of dirt that stood above the water. Some flowers made it look like a tropical water hole. (MICHAEL TATMAN)

Yesterday my mother, father, brother, and I loaded the lawn mower in the back of the car and went up to Dover. We went to the cemetery where we cut grass on our lot and put some flowers on my Uncle Freddie's grave. We walked around and looked at other graves. It was very pretty there with all the flowers on the graves. (DAWN WILSON)

We went to the World's Fair on the excursion. When we got there I was hungry so we ate. Then we went to the General Motors exhibit. We went on a ride to see the World of Tomorrow. After that we went on the monorail. We wanted to go on the Pepsi Cola ride, but the line was too long. (JOHN CURTIS)

I have a girl friend named Karen. Her nose is one-foot long. She has purple hair. One day she went out to play on the mountain. She found a snake and jumped rope with it. Then she saw a bobcat on a rock with her babies. She went up to it and took a baby bobcat. Then she went home with the snake and the bobcat to show them to her mother. (WANDA ROGERS)

Yesterday my mother, father, brother, and I loaded the lawn mower in the back of the car and went up to Dover. We went to the cemetery where we cut grass on our lot and put some flowers on my Uncle Freddie's grave. We walked around and looked at other graves. It was very pretty there with all the flowers on the graves. (DAWN WILSON)

We went to the World's Fair on the excursion. When we got there I was hungry so we ate. Then we went to the General Motors exhibit. We went on a ride to see the World of Tomorrow. After that we went on the monorail. We wanted to go on the Pepsi Cola ride, but the line was too long. (JOHN CURTIS)

with George K. Vapaa

Pray for rain! Farmers, gardeners, outdoor living room loungers. We're seeing all sorts of plant symptoms that can be traced to a lack of rain.

We have lots of corn planted this year. And I've tramped over many fields in the past week. The stands have come up fine for the most part. But we're seeing signs of fertilizer burn that a good rain will eliminate.

The same troubles can be resolved with a rain for our gardeners and OLR loungers. Shallow rooted shrubs and trees are pumping out the soil moisture in the normal transpiration process. So gardeners are killing their plants unwittingly with their kindness. Fertilizers are salts for the most part which go into solution to be picked up by the plant. Reduce the solution and you concentrate the salt—with resultant "burning" or browning at the growing leaf tips. Soak affected plants with your garden hose.

Some plant signs are hard to trace. Ed Prettyman of Houston brought in some twisted corn that looked at first like 2-4D spray damage. But the corn had not been sprayed. There was no sign of insect injury, or plant disease, nor any history of spray residues. I checked out the possibilities by telephone with our University specialists: Don McCreary our entomologist, Dr. Heuberg's plant pathology laboratory, Professor Elisha Rahour, our weed specialist.

Then Ed and I walked over the field itself. There were streaks in the row where four and five plants showed wilting. About that time I kicked at a clod of dropped fertilizer and a new thought occurred. We carefully scratched away the soil around some affected plants. In every case, a rootlet had reached over into the banded fertilizer where enough salt concentrated soil moisture was absorbed to give the twisting effect. The root hairs on the non fertilized side of the row were perfectly healthy.

So all together now. Let's pray for a good shower!

"A good teacher conveys the spirit of service to his students and his community by his example." I thought this testimony for Professor Claude E. Phillips, chairman of our Agronomy Department at the University of Delaware, best summarizes his career.

We had a staff luncheon for Claude which many of his former students also attended. Of course we had the usual battery of eulogists, but the comments of two "old timers" will probably be of most interest to our readers.

Ed McCauley of Seaford once served as a Vo-Ag teacher and as our state 4-H club leader. He cited Claude's influence with Delaware farmers built up with such activities as the 4-H Hybrid Corn project, the 100 bushel corn club, the Greener Pastures Program, and the 40 bushel soybean club. Farmers in Delaware first learned to use hybrid seed corn thru their 4-H club youngsters half acre test plots measured against the parents' open-pollinated seed corn.

I first knew "Gil" Gilligan, the other old timer while a student of chemistry at the University. He and Claude had worked together on a study of the availability of plant nutrients as measured by yields. In recent years, his weed identification research has pointed up some promising guidelines. Gil noted that "Many people go fat in the head when the pressure is off," and then welcomed Claude to the "club where the cheapest commodity is time."

To which I can only add knowing Claude's interest in travel and with roses: "Agronomists never die. They just relax with roses."

New regulations require a 7-day waiting period after treatment with 2, 4-D before grazing dairy cattle.

Beef cattle and other livestock may still be grazed immediately following application of 2, 4-D. This USDA change in regulations has caused University of Delaware agronomists to alter their recommendations, made during the past year, regarding the use of 2, 4-D on pastures.

Although not stated as such by the USDA, we believe the same restriction should apply to pastures sprayed with 4, 5-T or silvex.

Another precaution is that farmers do not graze dairy cattle on grass pastures treated with MCPA, a chemical similar to 2, 4-D. MCPA has been used for the control of Canada thistle and buttercup in pastures.

Recent evidence showed that trace amounts of 2, 4-D are detectable in milk when cattle graze sprayed pastures within one week after application. It is known that 2, 4-D and related herbicides are not toxic to livestock when used as directed on the label.

However, a zero tolerance exists on all pesticides in milk. This means that no chemical residues of insecticides or herbicides are permitted in milk, no matter how safe they may be.

The recommendations for use of 2, 4-D and MCPA weed killers are still the same with the exception of the 7-day no-grazing period after treatment for dairy pastures. The chemicals should not be used on pastures containing legumes, such as alfalfa or clover because of possible injury to the legumes. Remember for best control spray broadleaf weeds when they are young and before they bloom. The new grazing restriction is part of the USDA and Food and Drug Administration's efforts to keep our food supply wholesome.

Who's buying the farms? A recent report from the department of agricultural economics at the University of Maryland sheds a very interesting light on the sale of farm real estate. Robert Reinse, studied 1,103 real estate transfers in six Maryland counties. Questionnaires were returned by 503 individuals who had purchased farm real estate. In most instances, smaller tracts of land averaged higher prices per acre than larger tracts. And in some cases land without buildings sold at a better price than land with buildings.

Of the 503, the land purchasers returning the questionnaires, 79 per cent were non-farmers. A third of the buyers said they purchased the land for investment, one-quarter bought a rural residence and one-quarter bought land for development.

I question the percentages. Farmers as a group don't like to answer surveys.

I don't believe the same percentages would hold for Kent County. I would guess that better than half of our transfers are made to enlarge farm unit size.

A new kind of college may be in the making based on the concept of the land grant college. Senator Clairborn Pell, D. Rhode Island, has come up with an idea for sea-grant colleges. Instead of Department of Agriculture these schools would have Department of Aquaculture and the traditional Agricultural Extension Service and County Agricultural Agents would be replaced by Fishery Extension Services and Seagoing Port Agents.

New Jersey tomato growers are using some rather unorthodox methods to gain members for a bargain organization. In a recent "membership drive" a partial busload of growers started down the road in the area of likely membership. When they came to a grower who did not belong, the growers got off the bus to talk to the grower and in most cases sign him up. Then the new member got on the bus with the old members and proceeded to the next farm.

When one processor refused to talk to this group's marketing agent, they loaded up another bus and visited the plant. The results were quite favorable for the growers.

Delaware Food Market Report

Hurrah for June, for it brings school vacation, graduation, weddings, weekend jaunts, and fun days for the whole family. It's a month full of many things that will keep us all hurrying about. Also, it's an apt time for a tribute to the dairy industry and the role it plays in keeping us supplied with all its good and delicious dairy products. For the 29th year, June has been designated Dairy Month by the dairy industry.

Signs now point to 1965 milk production topping last year's record. While overall milk production is up, cow count on farms is down. What happened? Well, Bossie is producing more milk each year. This means there will be a bountiful supply of milk, cream, ice cream, cheese, and all of the other delicious dairy products for us to use for breakfast, dinner, supper, and of course, at snack time.

More family fun is in store as outdoor cooking goes into full swing. It seems only natural that June be named National Barbecue Month, too. Nothing can fill the bill as well as young, tender, broiler-fryers for that barbecue outside. To make the sauce to brush the chicken with why not choose crushed pineapple, tomato paste, brown sugar, ginger, lemon juice and a dash of liquid pepper, combine them to make a yummy aloha barbecue sauce.

Marketings of broilers during June are expected to be 5% greater than last year, thus we can look for plenty of these tender chicken in retail stores with special prices frequently available. Specials on chicken parts will continue to be a common market practice and will offer advantages of economical buying for intended use or preference. Here are some examples:

Drumsticks and thighs separated within a package permit the ready preparation of small portions for children. The breast without wing attached might be the choice for boning and use in dishes with such special sauces as cream and mushroom. But the breast quarter with wing attached might be the choice for chicken cacciatore. The backs as a separate pack might be the choice for broth; the wings, for frying as "finger food" or for use in fricassee. Livers marketed separately suit yet different dishes, such as kebobs or pate.

The vegetable situation continues to be uncertain and you will need to watch it carefully. Due to bad weather in many growing areas and to the critical shortage of agricultural laborers, many fresh fruits and vegetables are poor in quality, scarce in volume, and high in price. This can all change but not too drastically until the labor picture is cleared.

Remember how much fun it was to play in the dirt when you were small? Children are drawn irresistibly to mud puddles, sprinklers and piles of dirt. Do not let your exasperation at the grime make you an excessive scolder.

Set limits on this kind of play—reasonable one. You cannot permit playing in the gutter or ditch along a busy street. Children must learn to respect other person's property rights. Flowerbeds are off limits for digging.

Provide old clothes for the children and relax as you watch them enjoy themselves. Give your small ones an opportunity to play with clean water. Children love to prolong their bath with play. Give your pre-schooler a paint brush and a pail of water to use in "painting" the porch or sidewalk. Try to substitute clean sand and a sandbox for the dirt pile.

Make every effort to find a satisfactory solution to the conflict between your desire for cleanliness and neatness and your children's desire to play in the dirt.

Summer play often means grass stains. How can you get them out? More out-of-doors living and working in warm weather increases the possibilities of grass stains on clothing. They can be removed with prompt treatment, fortunately.

Work from the wrong side of the fabric. That forces the stains out of the fabric rather than deeper into it. On washable fabrics, work a detergent into the stain and then rinse. If the stain is stubborn and remains after this treatment, use a chlorine or a sodium perborate bleach or hydrogen peroxide.

Do not use a chlorine bleach on fabrics that contain silk or wool. Read the labels on wash-and-wear fabrics to find out if it is safe to use chlorine bleach.

Treat grass stains on nonwashable fabrics with alcohol. First try the alcohol on a hidden part of the garment to be sure it does not damage the fabric. Use one part alcohol to two parts water for stains on acetate fabric.

Outdoor fun for children can be loaded with danger. More accidents occur during carefree summer months than any other time of year. Instruct your children for safe fun on the playground and water areas, and especially when riding a bicycle.

Dairy festival, Saturday. 4-H girls from throughout Kent County will vie for the honor of Dairy Princess. Sponsoring this annual 4-H event are the Houston Cardinals 4-H Club and the Interstate Milk Producers District No. 12. Many other business and individuals assist with the program. The invitation is out for everyone to come to the Houston Fire hall at 8 p.m. It's an outdoor event filled with fun.

4-H Conference enrollments are due June 10. The program for June 21 through June 24 at the University of Delaware is filled with outstanding activities. Our older 4-H'ers will preside at the various events. Miss Teenage America will be with us. The new Link members, our honorary older 4-H group will be inducted. 4-H'ers will live in the University dorms and experience a bit of campus life. They go off campus for tours and a dance at the beautiful Hercules Country Club. Don't you who are eligible miss the event of the year.

State dress Revue—all eligible members who participated in the County Dress Revue should plan to be in the state event. Entries are in the Kent 4-H'er. The information blanks from the county contest will be used but any changes should be noted. Entries are due June 10.

Big Need For Ag. Workers Found in Study

The vocational agriculture departments in Delaware high schools will have to graduate approximately 550 students each year to keep up with the state's demands for agriculturally trained employees according to a study in progress at the University of Delaware. At present they are graduating about 125. Ralph P. Barwick assistant professor of agricultural education in the School of Agriculture who is conducting the study, cautions that this figure could be misleading. Although the demand figure is conservative, many of the jobs require skills that can be acquired only through special training or college instruction. But he adds vocational agriculture is basic to many of the jobs and is a contributing factor to employee success.

The study is being conducted by the University to help identify emerging agricultural occupations other than farming in which scientific technical and vocational agricultural training is needed. These include such areas as farm machinery sales and service, food marketing and distribution, livestock and poultry processing, agricultural chemicals, farm and garden supplies, fruit, vegetable and crop marketing and the many other businesses that service agriculture.

Other objectives of the study are to determine the number of employees currently working in these occupations and the number needed in the future, to estimate entry opportunities; to determine the competencies needed for satisfactory performance.

Barwick says estimates on the number of people employed in off-farm agriculture range from very few to as much as forty per cent of the working force depending on whose figures you use. "This study attempts to pin down this figure for Delaware by

Mancus Foundation News

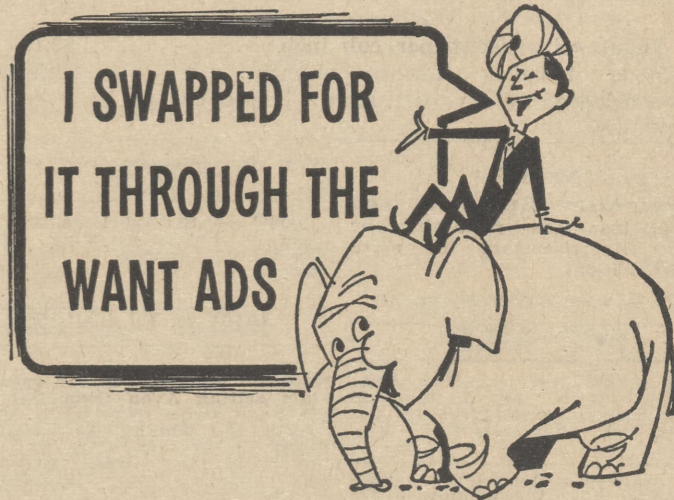

Miss Janice Ritter, President of the Kent and Sussex Chapter of the Mancus Foundation wishes to announce that the annual rummage sale sponsored by the Chapter will be held on Friday and Saturday, June 11 and 12, in the store on the Walnut Street Bridge, Milford, behind the piano store.

The hours will be from 10 a.m. until dusk each day. The chapter will accept donations of baked goods along with other items. If you have any item you think the foundation could use, please bring them to the store on Friday and Saturday, June 11 and 12, or if you would like for the members to pick up your items, please call 684-8729, 684-8854, 422-4421, or 398-8008.

The Chapter will hold its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday evening, June 3, in the Kiwanis Youth Center, Milford, at 8 p.m.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

SUNDAY— 8 a.m. Holy Communion. 9:30 p.m. Church school. 11 a.m. Confirmation, dedication of window and sermon.

MONDAY— 6:30 p.m. Girl Scouts. 7:30 p.m. Meeting of Episcopal Church Women. 7:30 p.m. Meeting Inquirer's Class No. 1.

WEDNESDAY— 11 a.m. Meeting Inquirer's Class No. 2. 7:30 p.m. Healing service.

THURSDAY— 7:30 p.m. Choir practice. Congratulations to St. Stephen's high school graduates!

They are this year: Donna Chew, Betty Jean Fowler, Nancy Bradley, Kathleen Kendall, James Wyatt and Charles Tribbett.

This coming Sunday is the last of our church school year for all children and youth of school age. During the summer they should attend with their parents the service of divine worship at 10 a.m. each Sunday. Kindergarten pupils should go to the 10 a.m. service until the sermon hymn, during which they will go to their class. Two and three year old children will go to the church hour nursery until church school class time, then to their class. Infants younger than two, should go to the nursery for the entire time.

As this coming Sunday is the last of the church school year, all church school children and youth should go to the nave of the church at 9:30 a.m. There, those who qualify will receive perfect attendance pins. Those who do not qualify will receive new Episcopal Church School pins.

A reminder! After having such a nice time here on Rogation Sunday, the Congregation of Christ Church in Greenville, have invited as many of the St. Stephen's Church family as can go, to their service of Divine worship at 10 a.m. on June 20. Following there will be a buffet luncheon in the Parish House and a trip to the nearby Hagley Museum and Yards which includes the Old duPont Powder Mills. So far ten members of St. Stephen's have given their names as desiring to go. It is important that others give their names to our companion relationship chairman, Carrington Burgess today if at all possible.

Even though we have advertised the fact that there is still one available half-scholarship to Camp Arrowhead, no one has applied. Parents should pick up a brochure on the camp from the office and should take cognizance of the fact that Camp Arrowhead has won National praise and fame. We urge parents whose children are either in the fourth grade or older, to consider seriously sending them to Arrowhead this year.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes Sunday: 10 a.m. Church School for all age groups. Our contest has ended last Sunday with the Sr. and Jr. High Youth winning the most points. Lesson for adults: "When Authority is Rejected". We continue the interesting study of King David and his home life and the light it throws on a Christian's responsibility in the home.

11 a.m. Worship Service. Pentecost Sunday. The birthday of the Christian Church. Sermon: "Christians on Fire". Recognition of graduating seniors and Building Fund Sunday emphasis.

We are happy to honor the graduating youth from Trinity Church: Jeanne Lee Anderson, Susan Brown, Lynn Bennett, Herbert Barlow, Nancy Callaway, Sharon Hopkins, Sylvia Outten, Robert L. Smith, Art Taylor, Darwin Kates, Phyllis Hobbs, Sandra Whistler, Bonnie Tucker.

4 p.m. Graduation service at the Harrington School. The ushers for the month of June are: Burton Satterfield, Norman Clough, and Leroy Calhoun.

Lions Win 4th Henlopen Track Crown in Six Years

Harold McDonald's Harrington High thincads capped a perfect season by annexing their fourth Henlopen Conference championship in the last six years.

The league title tilt took place here Wednesday night under the lights. H.H.S. had easily handled the two top challengers, Bridgeville and Millsboro in earlier meets but everything went wrong for the Lions this time. However, the locals had the courage and perseverance it took to win although best by adversities from every quarter.

The final score was Harrington 58, Bridgeville 56, Millsboro 28, Lord Baltimore, 16, Milton 15, Dover Air 15, Selbyville 13, Rehoboth 5, John M. Clayton 3, Greenwood 1, Felton and Delmar did not compete.

In almost every event Harrington had performers, who did not measure up to the standards they had achieved earlier this season.

Dick Hopkins, Bridgeville's all-round athlete, picked up six points for the Mustangs in the 100 yard dash and the broad jump. Hopkins played on the Bridgeville baseball team all year and participated in only this one meet. Good as he is in football, basketball, and baseball, he is better in track. He may find this out in college.

A snafu in scheduling the sprints cost the Lions a probable four points. This writer attended the 16 team Milford and Seaford Invitational and the state meet at the University of Delaware. In each case it was assumed that most 100 yard dash men, also run the 220 yard dash and the 880 relay. Therefore, those events were spaced far enough apart for each sprinter to have approximately 30 minutes rest between races.

At the Henlopen meet Frank White, the Lions' sprint ace, was forced to run a trial heat in the 100, followed by the 880 relay and a few minutes later the finals in the 100 yard dash. Hayward West, of Lord Baltimore and Hopkins of Bridgeville, did not run a 220 leg in the 880 relay as White did. Consequently, they were fresh as a daisy in the final and finished 1-2 ahead of the weary White. The Harrington boy had beaten West twice in the 100 this season. He had also trounced McDaniel of Bridgeville in the 220 on half a dozen occasions. White's 100 time of 10.1 and 220 clocking of 23.3 were not equaled although West came close in the latter with a 23.4.

The meet was set up by an alleged track expert, who did not seem to know, that every big track meet in Delaware save the Henlopen follows the policy of saving the crowd-pleasing 880 relay and mile relay events for the latter part of the evening. This meet co-ordinator, who is not from this area, also differs from all other important meet heads, on the matter of the number of entrants in the 880, mile and two mile, allowing only two starters per school instead of three. This keeps many extra boys from competing in the championship meet at a time when the trend is for more participation in sports for our youth instead of less. It appears that the time has come to get a new meet director from outside the Henlopen Conference. Perhaps someone familiar with the successful Milford and Seaford Invitational could be secured. These meets have been doing a bang-up job since the "forties". The same "Order of Events" used there ought to work for the Henlopen Conference with only minor variations.

Dennis Rogers sparked the Harrington defense of the title regained last year. Rogers coasted to a 4.48.9 victory in the mile and then set a new Henlopen record of 2:06.9 in the half mile. Bob Smith, holder of the old 880 record, was first in another heat and was awarded fifth place since his time was slower than the first four finishers in Rogers' heat.

Bob Smith won a Henlopen Conference title for the fifth year in a row. As an eighth-grader he won the junior high 880. The next year, though still in junior high, he won the varsity 440 and mile titles. As a sophomore he retained his mile crown. Last year he annexed the 440 and 880 yard runs. Wednesday night he ended his high school career by winning the 440 in 54.3. Henry Minner won the second 440 heat in time good enough for fourth spot overall.

Glenn Smith, who rejoined the team last week after a month out due to a broken bone in his arm, gave the Lions a shot in the arm by winning the high jump.

Since Bridgeville picked up seven points in this event, the Lions can thank their lucky stars that Smith recovered in the nick of time.

Frank Cain was pole vaulting and high jumping all evening and had just cleared 10 ft. 9 in. to win the vault when the mile relay was announced. Since the score was tied at 53-53 Cain had to forego a chance to excel his school and Henlopen mark of 11 feet in order to help his school win the championship in the climatic mile relay.

Henry Minner ran a fine opening leg to give Frank a two yard lead. The tired Lion let a Millsboro runner get by but fought off every challenge by red-shirted Bridgeville, the team the Lion quartet had to beat. Larry Garey, who had given H.H.S. three badly-needed points in the pole vault, ran the third leg and closed up several yards on the leading Millsboro Blue Devils. Anchorman Richard Black put the Lions in the lead on the back stretch and broke the tape in the fine time of 3:44.7 to set a new conference record. The old mark was also held by Harrington. Three weeks ago Coach McDonald decided that his team would score more points in the title meet if he weakened the mile relay team by taking Smith and Rogers off and allowing them, both to enter the 880 instead. This was one of the moves that won the meet. Rogers and Smith racked up six points in the 880 and Cain, Garey, Black and Minner lowered their mile relay time from 3:56 to 3:44.7 in two weeks.

In a move that cost Bridgeville a tie junior Gerry Garey, just passed by two Mustangs in the home stretch of the two mile run, fought back gamely to recapture second place.

Ron Hughes, Richard Black, Marshall Jackson and Frank White were second in the 880 relay in a race lost because Jackson was cut off by Rehoboth and forced to break stride. Anchorman White really blazed his 220 leg and passed two or three runners to almost catch Bridgeville's Filbert Lewis at the wire in a time inferior to the Lions' eased up victory one week earlier.

Artie Taylor had the broad jump medal in his grasp but Jim Whitney of Dover Air for the second straight week came up with a better leap on his final try after Taylor had finished with a 19 feet 2 inch effort.

Richard Black, the 1964 discus winner, made a good try but finished runnerup to Selbyville's huge Carlton Murray, who spun the platter 125 feet, 4 inches.

The 215 pound Murray won the shot put with a toss of 44 feet 1 inch. The big boy has been consistently in the 44-45 feet vicinity all year but his school did not bother to enter him in the state meet, which was won with a 43 foot toss. Murray has thrown the javelin as far or almost as far as the winning state meet throw and would have been a threat in the discus.

West of Lord Baltimore, Hopkins of Bridgeville, Layman Jackson of Millsboro, Whitney of Dover Air, ace sophomore miler Ron Chadel (4.49) of Lord Baltimore, McDaniel of Bridgeville, were all capable of placing in the state meet but were not entered. This is not the way to get ahead, folks. These kids are good enough to win statewide honors and should have been given the chance.

Harrington will lose by graduation the authors of 46 of Wednesday night's 58 points. Bridgeville loses makers of only 29 of 56 points. Watch out for them in 1966.

Sam Knox Is Lions' Leading Hitter

Sam Knox led from wire to wire in the individual batting averages of the 1965 Harrington High baseball Lions. Knox had 13 hits in 35 trips for a healthy .371. Included in his output were several extra base blows.

Marshall Hatfield and Dean Manges, juniors like Knox, batted .352 and .300, respectively.

Senior Richard Black compiled .296 to narrowly miss the select .300 circle. Rennie French, another senior, was leader in runs-batted-in with 9. Knox was runner-up with 7.

Ellis Myer had 4 stolen bases to pace the squad in that category. Knox pilfered 3. Black and Mike Wamsley swiped 2.

Seniors are Black, French, Wamsley, Rusty Jack and Bob Rouse. Sports fans here received the disquieting news that the Randall Knox, Jr. family was moving to Taneytown, Md. Harrington can't afford to lose many citizens of their caliber, even if their son wasn't a star in football, basketball and baseball. "Say it isn't so, Sam!" The grapevine says that Sam may reside here with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Williams, Harrington Manor in order to graduate from Harrington High next June. We sincerely hope this is the case. Besides, he brings us our Bulletin every Sunday.

After awakening and dressing the children, the woman went to her car to report the assault to the police. Before she could get away, she later told police, her assailant shoved a shotgun into the window and warned her against reporting him. The children, the oldest one 6, were in the car at the time, police said.

Despite the threats the woman later drove to Troop 5 barracks at Bridgeville to report the assault.

See Tom Peck For Blue-Gold Football Tickets

By Keith S. Burgess

In 1964 Harrington High School had its first representation on the Gold squad for the annual Blue-Gold All-Star Football game played at the University of Delaware, Newark.

Barry Fry, back and Frank Glazier, coach were the locals to make the first appearance for H.H.S. in the contest played each year for the benefit of Delaware's retarded children.

In 1961 10 tickets were sold in Harrington. 1962 saw twice that many purchased here. In 1963 33 was the final total bought. With Fry and Glazier on the Gold squad, Tom Peck and Co. zoomed the ticket tally to 75.

Only, Dover, Seaford and Bridgeville in Kent and Sussex Counties outsold this metropolis. Of course, Dover and Seaford are much larger than Harrington and have been playing football many, many more years. Bridgeville is smaller but has participated in the sport since the "thirties" at least. Also the Mustangs had a head coach and two players on the 1964 Gold team.

We've been told not to divulge any secrets as to local participation in this year's contest. The Wilmington papers have to break the story first. Yet, we want to help sell tickets so we will tell you what we can.

Since 75 tickets were sold here last year, 90 have been allotted to this community for this year's August 21st tilt. Ask any football player or fan around town and you will find out that the Lions will have 100% more representation this year than last. This is pretty much the same situation that enabled Bridgeville to sell so many 1964 ducats.

Little League Baseball Season Begins

The Moose Sports Committee of chairman Earl Yoder, Benny Moore and C. E. McWilliams would like to thank everyone who has helped in any way with the preparations for this year's Little League baseball season. Special mention is given to Jim Fitzhugh, Henry "Smoky" White, Alvin "Buck" Thompson, William Edgar "Ted" Layton, Harold and Doris Fry, Mrs. Martin Jarrell and Mrs. Gary Harrington.

Currently sharing first place in the Little League are the Moose and Legion nines with 2-1 records. The Rotary, former doormats of the loop, appear to be greatly improved. They have compiled a 2-2 log at this writing, which includes games played Tuesday night.

The cellar-dwelling 1-3 Lions hold the distinction of a victory over the powerful Moose nine. The latter club, if memory is correct, were undefeated all last season.

Head coach of the Moose is Gary Harrington with Earl Everline as assistant. Bill Minner heads the Legion aided by Bob Jester. Rotary is led by Chester Short, assisted by Anthony Gallo. Martin Jarrell leads the Lions and is aided and abetted by Don Jester.

Mummer's Band To Participate In Festival Parade

Participants in this year's Chicken Festival parade in Salisbury June 19, will not only have the honor of marching with first place string band winner from Philadelphia's Mummies Day Parade, but will also be in line with the famed 29th division as it makes its last public appearance.

Composed of military personnel from Virginia and Maryland, the 29th has always ranked high among the nation's fighting organizations. Now, however, it has been ordered phased out of business in the current reorganization of the various reserve units.

The Salisbury parade will also contain numerous bands, organization floats and other marching units but J. David McDaniel, parade committee chairman, says others not already signed up but wishing to participate may contact him in Salisbury at night on telephone 742-8229 or write him at 112 Hillside Drive.

Local Football Coach to Head Gold Team

Frank Glazier of Harrington High will coach the Gold team annual Delaware All-Star High against the Blues in the tenth School Football Game.

The game will be played Saturday, August 21, at Delaware Stadium in Newark, among top senior talent of last season.

Glazier was elected by fellow members of the Delaware Interscholastic Football Coaches Association. The announcement was made Thursday by the Delaware Association for Retarded Children, sponsor of the game.

Glazier, 30, most successful coach in Harrington history, is no newcomer to the All-Star Game. He served as a Gold assistant in last year's 20-0 loss.

His players will come from those state schools south of Wilmington's southern limits. The Blues will be from north of that boundary.

Glazier has had two seasons at Harrington. His first Lions team in 1963, won 4 games and lost 5. Those 4 victories equaled the total posted by Harrington teams of the previous six years. Last season, Harrington won 8, lost none and tied 1. A 6-6 tie with Rehoboth Beach marred an otherwise perfect record.

The new Gold coach is a native of Keene, N. H., and was a four-year football and baseball letterman at Baldwin - College in Berea, Ohio. His previous coaching assignments were in Maine—at Wilton Academy and at high schools in Belfast and Skowhegan. He is married and is the father of three children.

Congress acts on Medicare legislation if that action comes, as expected before Fall. "The legislation will probably result in changes in Blue Cross - Blue Shield benefits and the trustees prefer to take into account any such changes before adjustments in rates, needed because hospital charges have gone up." Maybee added. Benefit changes that are under consideration were reviewed briefly.

Maybee reported that Blue Cross membership has increased to 338,441 which is 70 per cent of the estimated total state population. He said that Delaware is second only to Rhode Island in the proportion of the population enrolled in the Blue Cross Plan.

"In spite of the high percentage already enrolled, last year the Delaware Plan was ninth among all such Plans in the nation in its increase in enrollment," Maybee reported.

Photographs of the Wilmington offices of Blue Cross and Blue Shield were exhibited and the community leaders were told that last year the Wilmington office handled over 95,000 telephone calls; handled over 245,000 claims; made over 73,000 membership changes. In addition, over 14,000 members called at the office in regard to membership; over 12,000 letters were dictated; and over 21,000 teletype wires were handled.

"Last year over $15,000,000, which was 91.1% of dues income was paid for members' care," Maybee said.

Utilization charts were shown to the Kent and Sussex County leaders and Maybee reported that in 1964 there was no significant increase in hospital use by members. "Nevertheless," he ough physical examination and the class will be provided with the services of a competent nurse during the length of the entire program. Frequent bus trips will be taken to acquaint these children with a variety of visual and cultural experiences.

The staff for this program has not been completed, though the majority of personnel have already been employed and assigned. A complete list of the staff and their assignments will be announced when all members wishing to contribute their services to the success of this program are cordially invited to do so.

Parents interested in enrolling their children in this program are invited to contact Mrs. Lagatha Farrow at the school.

FIRE MARSHAL

the purpose of producing a visible or audible effort by combustion, explosive, deflagration or detonation and shall include blank cartridges, toy pistols, toy canons, toy guns or toy guns in which explosives are used, the type of balloons which require fire underneath to propel the same, firecrackers, torpedoes, skyrockets, Roman candles, Day go bombs, sparklers, or other fireworks of like construction and any fireworks containing any explosives or flammable compound, or any caps or tablets or other device containing any explosive substance, except that the term "fireworks" shall not include toy pistols, toy canons, toy guns or other devices in which paper caps manufactured in accordance with the United States Interstate Commerce Commission regulations for packing and shipping of toy paper caps are used and toy pistol paper caps manufactured as provided therein, the sale and use of which shall be permitted at all times, "unquote."

This is, in the marshal's opinion, quite clear and the use and sale of any such devices are hereby illegal. In addition there are other conditions which would create added dangers such as the power of the explosion, projection of flame and the fact that acetylene gas is formed by the reaction within the device.

This would most certainly indicate that operation by anyone other than experienced persons could lead to serious consequences. Therefore, he earnestly requests that close adherence to the state regulations be followed to prevent any legal steps be-

William O. Dawson

William Oscar Dawson, 71, who was semi-retired, died Thursday, May 27, at Camden.

He operated a school bus line for 30 years, was a charter member of the Camden-Wyoming Fire Co.; was a member of Whatcoat Methodist Church, Union Lodge No. 9, AF&AM, and Delaware Consistory, and was director and vice president of the Wyoming National Bank, director of the Community Building and Loan Association, past master of Fruitland Grange and a member of Camden - Wyoming Rotary Club.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Nettie Dawson; two sons William A., mayor of Camden, and Demareft, Charleston, S. C.; two daughters, Mrs. Elbert Saunders and Charles Lister, both of Camden, and nine grandchildren.

Services were held Tuesday at the Berry Funeral Home in Felton. Burial was in Odd Fellows Cemetery, Camden.

Girl Scout News

Recently, the Girl Scout Troop No. 679 has enjoyed several hikes. First they took a nature hike to explore and examine the woods around the property of St. Stephen's Church. Identification of many kinds of plants and trees led to an interesting outing.

More recently the group took a trail sign hike through the woods to Wheeler's Park. Using many guides that have long been a part of scouting, the girls arrived at the Park in good time.

Sue Ann Knapp, a member of the group, enjoyed the hike so much that she wrote the following poem by way of thanks to the leaders, Mrs. Albert Mason and Mrs. Alvin Thompson.

THE HIKE
One Monday night
The Girl Scouts got together tight.
Then through the woods we roamed,
Until we got to Joann Thompson's home.
There we played in the park.
Until our leaders said, "Come on, girls, let's get back before dark."
Then we started back the homeward way.
Until we got to the place where we were to stay.
