

HARRINGTON MAYOR RAPS C. OF C. PRESIDENT ON STAND

Mayor Luther P. Hatfield said Wednesday Chamber of Commerce President Thomas H. Peck used the organization to express his own opinions of the present City Council situation.

"Peck is using the chamber as a means of expressing his own feelings," Hatfield said. "He is meddling in council business, not the chamber."

Peck, however, said he felt the expressed sentiments of most of the chamber members in discussing a resolution passed unanimously by the group Tuesday to ask more harmony in council actions.

"I said last night (Tuesday), that we are not trying to run council, but want things improved," Peck said.

"We're not trying to create an issue, only show we're interested," he added. "I felt I spoke for most of the members at the meeting."

Peck said originally the chamber members were disturbed by statements of a proposed wholesale firing of key city employees at the reorganization meeting of the City Council next Tuesday night.

"The personnel committee incorporates a person from both sides of the council split, Russell McCready and Howell Hitchens, plus City Manager Alfred Mann," Hatfield said.

"The committee won't even be meeting until after next week's council meeting, when the rehiring of city workers is done for the coming year," he added.

"As for the split in council," he continued, "we're trying to work it out. I don't like having the deciding vote, either."

Peck had asked that council straighten itself out so votes would not be split into a tie, giving Hatfield the deciding vote on much of the town's business.

"As for the firings," Hatfield added, "we may let someone go next week, but it won't be a wholesale firing."

114 Survive Mrs. Thompson

Mrs. Alice C. Thompson, 92, widow of John W. Thompson, died Monday at her home near Farmington after a several-month illness.

She is survived by five sons, Charles D., Harrington; John H., Seaford; Carl H. and Earl L., both of Greenwood, and George B., Felton; five daughters, Mrs. Mary B. Bowers, Latrobe, Pa.; Mrs. Ethel E. Short, and Mrs. Alice C. Price, both of Harrington, and Mrs. Fannie C. Dickerson, Milford, and Mrs. Grace M. Elliott, Georgetown; 21 grandchildren, 62 great-grandchildren and 21 great-great-grandchildren.

Services were held yesterday afternoon at the McKnatt Funeral Home, Harrington, with burial at Hollywood Cemetery.

C. OF C. TO ASK FOR CITY COUNCIL HARMONY

The Chamber of Commerce approved a resolution calling for harmony in the City Council at its January meeting Tuesday night in the second floor of the First National Bank.

The resolution was the outcome of statements made concerning a proposed wholesale firing of key City employees at the organizational meeting of the Council next Tuesday.

The draft of the resolution was amended, "watered down," some said, before passing without a dissenting vote. It will be presented to the Council Tuesday night.

Horse Handler In Kent Shot

State police last Friday were questioning a Suffolk, Va., horse handler after the shooting Thursday night of a 17-year-old youth at Kent-Sussex Raceway, at Harrington.

Arthur Johnson, 17, of Harrington, also a horse handler, was taken to the Milford Hospital with a chest wound inflicted by a .38 caliber pistol, police said. He was reported in satisfactory condition Friday night.

Robert Jordan, 30, of Suffolk, is being questioned, police said.

Police said the shooting was satisfactory Friday, at the Harrington track after an argument.

Lynda Margaret Layton

Miss Lynda Layton Engaged to Pa. Man

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Layton, of Harrington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lynda Margaret, to W. Malcolm Anders, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Malcolm Anders, Sr., of Lansdale, Pa.

Miss Layton is a graduate of Wesley College and is a junior at the University of Delaware. Mr. Anders is a graduate of Wesley College and is a senior at West Virginia Wesleyan College.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Marvel Gets Trot Position

Nutter Marvel, of Georgetown, was re-elected to a three-year term to District 7, United States Trotting Association board of directors at its annual banquet Saturday night in Washington, D. C.

Also re-elected to three-year terms to the board were Del Miller, of Washington, Pa., and U. S. Steele of Glen Rock, Pa. Marvel and Miller were re-elected by the 11 tracks, (in Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Washington, D. C.) and Steele by the membership.

Stanley Dancer, of New Milford, N. J., famed trainer-owner-racer, received the USTA's award on behalf of Cardigan Bay with I. W. Berkmeier.

Mrs. Lawrence Shepherd, Hanover Shoe Farms, Hanover, Pa., received a plaque for her horse, Ayres, who was named the three-year-old trotter of 1964. Mrs. Sheppard was unable to receive the award last year.

At an afternoon meeting those in attendance voted to suggest to the board of directors of the trotting association that a special meeting be held to revise the present strike rules involving horsemen. There was no amplification of just how the rules would be altered.

Approval Seen For Felton Firm Sewage Plant

The manager of the Swift Company processing plant in Felton said Monday that he would have no trouble with the new plans for a sewage treatment plant he will present to the Water Pollution Commission on Friday.

"The plans are being checked by our company in Chicago," John L. Hill said, "and we should be ready to build it in a very short time."

The Water Pollution Commission had set up Friday as a meeting time with the Swift Company officials to discuss the waste they are now dumping.

"It's a hearing date," explained Water Pollution Commission Director John Bryson, saying that the company would be required to show its plans and a timetable for construction at that time.

Bryson said that the company would have to take between 85 and 90 per cent of the BOD (Biological oxygen demand) from its waste, and estimated treatment costs at between $100,000 and $150,000.

The company estimated the job cost at about $75,000, but said "We don't mind spending $100,000 to clean up the waste."

He commented, however, that original treatment plan bids ran to $154,000, and said that a new design had been drawn up.

Mrs. David Snow, Former Resident, Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Ruth Reburn Snow, 50, of Garrett Road, Todd Estates, died Sunday afternoon at Wilmington General Division about 15 minutes after arrival.

According to Dr. Ali Z. Hameli, state medical examiner, death was due to natural causes.

She was the wife of David R. Snow and a native of Oxford, Pa. She had moved to Todd Estates 18 months ago from Delaware City. She was a member of the Freeman Grange and the Nottingham Presbyterian Church, and was active in the Girl Scout movement.

She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Winona Mae and Mary Ann, both at home; three brothers, Melvin G. (Reburn, of Nottingham; Oscar Reburn, of Woodbury, N. J., and J. Fred Reburn, of Oxford, Pa., and two sisters, Mrs. Margaret E. Scott, of Toughkenamon, Pa.

Services were held yesterday morning at Gracelawn Memorial Park.

The Snows formerly resided here where Snow was a teacher and athletic coach at Harrington High School.

Terry Cited By Ocean Highway Association

Gov. Charles L. Terry, Jr., has been cited by the Ocean Highway Association for his "effective and dedicated leadership and efforts which have played a vital role in promoting increased travel in Delaware and along Ocean Highway."

The resolution signed by President Sidney S. Kellam, Virginia Beach, Va., was presented to Governor Terry at the annual meeting of the Delaware Travel Council, where he also received a copy of a 1938 guidebook entitled, "Ocean Highway," which he sponsored as Secretary of State in 1938.

The guidebook was issued by the Works Projects Administration and was one of the early informational pieces on attractions along the Delmarva Peninsula.

Kellam said in the resolution that "Governor Terry has proclaimed (Continued on Page 8)

Boggs Announces Hearings on Adv. - Junkyards

Senator J. Caleb Boggs (R-Del.) has announced a federal hearing will be held in Delaware March 22, on standards for control of roadside advertising and junkyards.

Boggs said the Bureau of Public Roads will conduct the hearing at the State Highway Department's office on Route 7 in Christiana at 9:30 a. m. on March 22.

"The hearings will provide a forum for persons to submit the Highway Beautification Act of 1965," Boggs said.

Boggs is a member of the Senate Public Works Committee which considered the Highway Beautification Act last year.

CHURCH MUST GET WITH IT OR DIE, BISHOP TELLS BANQUET

The church "must engage or perish—get with it or die," the presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States told Delaware Episcopalians at Milford Tuesday night.

The Rt. Rev. John E. Hines, of Washington, D. C., said "in the twilight zone of history" the church needs to be flexible, self-analytical and knowledgeable.

A vital church must be keenly self-analytical, he said, "to find out whether or not your parish is where it has been assuming it is."

The problems of the church can be solved only by interdependence of Christians no matter where they are. Suburban peoples must be concerned with city people and city people with urban people," he emphasized.

He urged that Episcopal laity engage in continuing education on the theological basis of their faith.

"For the majority of us will never come to grips with the Gospel until some crisis happens to us. We must dig to get to a satisfactory relationship to the truth."

At Tuesday night's banquet in Milford Junior High School, standing ovations were given the Rt. Rev. Arthur R. McKinstry, bishop of the diocese 16 years, now retired, and the Rev. Joseph S. Hinks, vicar of the host church 33 years until his retirement.

While at his Milford post, Mr. Hinks was also vicar of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Harrington.

The Rt. Rev. J. Brooke Mosley of Wilmington, present bishop, introduced the presiding bishop at the banquet Tuesday night. Robert Fischer, of the host church, presided. Some 500 persons attended.

Mr. Hines was in charge of the chapel at Bethany Beach seven summers.

Mrs. Charles Murphy was chairman of the committee on arrangements for the convention which ended Wednesday.

Dr. Brightenbach To Speak On Controlling Worms In Horses

Thurs., Feb. 3, at 1 p.m. there will be a meeting held at the Delaware State Fairgrounds Restaurant on the morning of horses.

The state veterinarian, Dr. Robert Ricker, along with many of the local race horse trainers, are feeling this is a problem of increasing importance.

This meeting is a part of the regular groom school offered by the Harrington School, but the general public is cordially invited.

Dr. Brightenbach, of Merch & Sharp Veterinary Chemicals of Rockway, N. J., will be the discussion leader. He is well qualified and has done considerable work with worms in horses.

City Manager Attends Meetings On Federal Aid For Sewers

Harrington is still looking for a sewer referendum, it was realized last week when City Manager Alfred G. B. Mann attended meetings at Snow Hill, Md., and Millsboro.

At these gatherings, a federal official discussed grants available to communities for sewer improvements.

Mann said he believed improvement of the sanitary sewer system here could be financed partly by federal aid with a possibility of state aid.

He said it was possible outside aid might pay for nearly half the cost of the project which includes improvement and extension of the system, including its disposal plant.

Local Students In All-State Chorus

Six students from the Harrington High School, all of whom are in the local high school chorus, were accepted as members of the Delaware All-State High School Chorus that will meet in Dover on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 10, 11, and 12, with a public concert on Saturday evening, March 12, in the Dover auditorium.

Acceptance was based on competitive auditions held last week in Dover.

The students from Harrington are Jeri Ann Jarrell and Marianne Clark, first sopranos; Cheryl Lynn Saterfield, second soprano; Elizabeth Ann Trotta, first alto; Marshall Hatfield, first tenor; and Donnie Sam Knox, first bass.

The director for this year's chorus will be Robert E. Page, of Temple University, Philadelphia. Mr. Page has been director of the chorus at the Delaware Music Camp held in June of each year at the University of Delaware. His choruses have sung many times with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, under Dr. Eugene Ormandy.

Registration for more than 300 University of Delaware Extension courses will be held Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 31 and Feb. 1, in Kent and Sussex Counties.

Monday's registration is scheduled at the Dover Air Force Base High School from 7 to 8:30 p. m. The school is located on Lebanon Road, one-half mile west of the Air Force Base main gate.

First Major Snowfall Of Season Hits 4-6"

The season's first major snowfall, in Harrington area, reached a depth of 4 to 6 inches, Wednesday and Wednesday night. High winds pushed snow into drifts of 1 to 2 foot depths in places.

The State Highway Department went to work at the beginning of the snowfall, sanding and keeping arterial roads open throughout the storm, which ended early yesterday morning.

Racing at Georgetown Raceway was called off minutes before post time of the first race, due to protests of horsemen.

The local schools were not in session yesterday because of conditions of country roads.

The snow has one good aspect though, as it will be of great benefit to the agricultural areas, providing much needed water and protection for small grains and pastures.

Fifty-five of the Extension courses, most of which meet in the evening, are scheduled at the Dover Air Force Base High School. The others are to meet on the Newark campus or at Wilmington's P. S. duPont High School.

Classes start the week of Feb. 7. Course fees are $15 per credit hour of Delawareans and $35 per credit hour for non-Delawareans.

The courses are in 30 broad areas of study and in all colleges within the university—agriculture, arts and science, business and economics, education, engineering, and home economics.

Clerks and Constables Appointed To Magistrates Courts

Appointments of eight constables and 22 clerks to serve in the new downstate magistrates courts were announced Monday by Chief Justice Daniel F. Wolcott.

They will go to work in the new courts next week along with the 20 magistrates appointed last week by Gov. Charles L. Terry Jr. They will be paid fixed salaries in the same manner as the magistrates.

The list of constables includes five Democrats and three Republicans.

The clerks are split evenly between the two parties. The laws establishing the new magistrates system require that no more than a bare majority of either the constables or the clerks come from one of the parties.

Monday's appointments apparently mean that a majority of the constables to be named in New Castle County will be Republicans because of the 5-3 Democratic edge downstate.

Wolcott is not expected to nominate the upstate court officers until after Terry names the upstate magistrates. The governor plans to make those appointments in May.

The downstate magistrates went to school in Dover Monday to learn the rudiments of the profession. The constables and clerks will get a similar short course later in the week.

Each of the constables and clerks is assigned to one of the eight new courts which will be opened next Tuesday in Kent and Sussex Counties.

The appointments, along with their party affiliations and assignments:

- CONSTABLES
- Sussex County
- William R. Smith, Frankford, Democrat, Dagsboro Court 1.
- Elwood B. Walls, Milton, Republican, Lewes Court 2.
- John Elwood Jones, Georgetown, Republican, Georgetown Court 3.
- Turner T. Blocker, Seaford, Democrat, Seaford Court 4.
- Victor R. Adams, Bridgeville, Democrat, Milford Court 5.
- Kent County
- Leonard Rollison, Houston, Democrat, Harrington Court 6.
- Reginald Cross, Dover, Democrat, Dover Court 7.
- John W. Jacobs Jr., Smyrna, Republican, Smyrna Court 8.

(First named are chief clerks, others are deputies.)

- Sussex County
- Dagsboro Court 1 — Mrs. Margaret B. Ross, Delmar, Democrat; Mrs. Elizabeth L. Hudson, Selbyville, Democrat.
- Lewes Court 2 — Mrs. Joanne R. Reinhardt, Lewes, Republican; Mrs. Beverly H. McCarty, Lewes, Republican.
- Georgetown Court 3 — Mrs. Ruth E. Murray, Georgetown, Democrat; Mrs. June D. Callaway, Laurel, Democrat; Mrs. Marie Mumford, Georgetown, Republican; Mrs. Helen P. McIlvaine, Georgetown, Republican.
- Seaford Court 4 — Mrs. Jean T. Greenbaum, Seaford, Democrat; Mrs. Esther D. Conner, Seaford, Republican; Mrs. Julia T. Price, Seaford, Democrat; Mrs. Ida Mae Friedel, Seaford, Republican.

- Kent County
- Harrington Court 6 — Mrs. Ann H. Leonard, Harrington, Democrat; Miss Bonnie Jean Thompson, near Milford, Republican.
- Dover Court 7 — Mrs. Gloria MacMillan, Dover, Democrat; Mrs. Reita Marie Bingnear, Camden, Republican; Mrs. Adele C. Jones, Harrington, Democrat; Mrs. Marjoria H. Boyd, Dover, Republican.
- Smyrna Court 8 — Mrs. Pauline G. Frances, Smyrna, Democrat; Mrs. Mary G. Thompson, Smyrna, Republican.

All the clerks and constables serve at the pleasure of the chief justice. The magistrates are appointed by the governor, must be confirmed by the Senate, and serve four-year terms.

All serve under the supervision of the chief justice through his deputy administrator for the justice of the peace system, George (Continued on Page 8)

Panel Will Discuss Overcrowding At Felton School Monday Evening

A panel of state and local educators and School Board members will discuss overcrowded conditions at Felton School at the local P.T.A. meeting next Monday evening, Dr. G. Kent Stewart, State Director of School Plant Planning, will explain how the Felton building needs are involved in the total plans for school district reorganization.

Virgil N. Jarrell and William Myers, chairman and vice-chairman of the Felton Board of School Trustees, will review the School Board's efforts to meet the needs of Felton pupils in this fast-growing district.

Dr. Howard E. Henry, supervising principal, will present enrollment and financial information which will determine the type, location, and costs of needed school construction.

Frank Wright, president of the Felton P.T.A., will serve as moderator of the panel. At the conclusion of the presentation the panel will respond to questions from the audience.

P.T.A. meetings in March and May will follow up on the same topic and serve to inform the citizens of latest developments and plans to meet the housing requirements for Felton pupils.

The existing plant is already crowded far above capacity. Five elementary classes are meeting in portable classrooms and in a section of the Felton Methodist Church.

Registration For Del. Ext. Courses Mon. - Tues., 31-1

Registration for more than 300 University of Delaware Extension courses will be held Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 31 and Feb. 1, in Kent and Sussex Counties.

Monday's registration is scheduled at the Dover Air Force Base High School from 7 to 8:30 p. m. The school is located on Lebanon Road, one-half mile west of the Air Force Base main gate.

Tuesday's registration will be held at the Sussex County Vocational Technical Center from 7 to 8:30 p. m. The Center is located four miles west of Georgetown, on Georgetown-Laurel Road.

Fifty-five of the Extension courses, most of which meet in the evening, are scheduled at the Dover Air Force Base High School. The others are to meet on the Newark campus or at Wilmington's P. S. duPont High School.

Classes start the week of Feb. 7. Course fees are $15 per credit hour of Delawareans and $35 per credit hour for non-Delawareans.

The courses are in 30 broad areas of study and in all colleges within the university—agriculture, arts and science, business and economics, education, engineering, and home economics.

How To Keep Tax Refunds Busy And Growing

When you get your '65 tax return form, take a look at the option that lets you take U. S. Savings Bonds instead of a cash refund. You'll find how to hang on to your tax refund, if you're lucky enough to have one coming.

When you check the Savings Bond line, you automatically assure yourself of two advantages: You provide an easy way of hanging on to your money and a sure way of making it grow one-third bigger at maturity.

Here's how that check-mark goes to work for you: If you're entitled, for example, to a refund of $42, you'll get a $50 face-value Series E Bond (cost $37.50), plus a check for $4.50.

Another good thing about that check-mark—it also helps to strengthen our country's future security. Uncle Sam puts our Bond dollars to good use in safeguarding our freedom.

Think it over. And if you haven't started that regular program you've been promising yourself, here's a good chance to get at it—with ease, merely by checking the Savings Bond box on your tax return.

DEDICATION OF SCHOOL ANNEX

Despite inclement weather, some 275 people viewed the new Sunday School Annex and attended the service of consecration at the Pilgrim Holiness Church this past Sunday.

The sermon and charge to the local trustees was delivered by the Rev. Melvin H. Snyder, area general superintendent. Greetings were also presented by Luther Hatfield, mayor of the City of Harrington. The Rev. Wm. H. Miller, pastor of the local congregation, announced that the cash offering for the Building Fund received during the morning and afternoon services amounted to $4,600.

The picture shows one of the new rooms in the Annex with the pastor at the lectern and Mrs. Miller at the organ. A number of the Radio Choir members had gathered for rehearsal when the picture was snapped.

Many a lamp has been bought as a "conservation piece"—but unless you choose lamps that give good light, the "conservation" may be mostly grumbles from the family.

What height lamp gives the best light?

The bottom edge of the shade should be at eye level with the person using the lamp. Eye level for the average woman seated in a chair is about 40 inches from the floor. So, a floor lamp should measure 40 inches from the floor to the bottom of the shade. For a table lamp you would need to know the height of the table. Get a table lamp tall enough to bring the total up to 40 inches. For most men eye level is two inches higher. If the lamp is slightly behind you it will need to be higher to keep from making a shadow from your head.

What type of shade is best?

Broad white-lined shades give the best light. The top should be open. The drum type is preferred for the wide top. The shade should not allow a glare spot to show through. An opaque shade is best if a bright or dark color is desired, or if a lamp is to be placed against a dark wall. It's helpful to have an undershade device to reflect, refract or diffuse the light.

What kind of socket is best?

A single socket is best when it is slightly below or at the lower edge of the shade. Multiple sockets should also be low in the shade. The idea is to get more light downward in a wider spread. Shades over 10" deep can be lifted by a metal ring.

How many lamps are needed in a room?
A good lamp should be placed by each chair in which reading will be done. Other than this, the experts recommend one lamp for each 40 or 50 square feet of floor-space.

Veterans and dependents on veterans Administration's compensation and pension rolls who have school age children, will receive a special questionnaire with their January checks, Leon Fields, manager of the Wilmington VA Regional Office announced recently.

Mr. Fields said the checks and questionnaires would arrive in their mail box about February 1, 1966.

Need for information asked by the questionnaire follows a recent law that provided higher rates of additional payments for school children, and at the same time, raised the minimum age limit from 21 to 23.

The questionnaire also asks for the payee's zip code number n keeping with current postal regulations in order to speed up the delivery of both checks and correspondence.

Space also is provided for the payee's social security number, if readily available, so that identification files may be kept up to date.

The questionnaire should not be mutilated nor folded and all questions should be answered before the card is signed. A special addressed envelope is provided for the return of the questionnaire.

This coming Sunday morning the Church School pupils from the first grade up will have the privilege of seeing the Camp Arrowhead movie and hearing Larry Huchins, the camp director. Camp Arrowhead is the Diocesan youth and children's camp of the Diocese of Delaware. The movie, which was filmed about three years ago, at Camp Arrowhead, has been shown all over the nation as an example of the highest type of camping. Parents who are interested are urged to see this movie.

Robert Creadick and the Vicar are representing St. Stephen's at an M.R.I. conference which will be held at the DuPont Memorial House at Rehoboth, beginning at 11 o'clock Tuesday and continuing through breakfast on Wednesday. Other churches which will be represented at this conference will be Christ Church, Greenville, the companion church of St. Stephen's; All Saints', Bridgeville, and her companion church, St. Andrew's, of Wilmington.

The Vicar and William F. Smith have been asked by the Bishop to act as representatives of the Diocese at the Delaware Council of Churches which holds its winter meeting in Dover, this coming Thursday evening.

All persons over 65 years of age who desire Social Security Health Insurance, must be registered for this before March 31. If they are already receiving Social Security benefits, they will probably receive an insurance application form. This announcement is most important as a period of almost two years will elapse before the next opportunity to register for this health insurance.

 If your battery is run down don't throw it away. That does not mean you have to buy a new one for your car.
 Get VX6, a new battery additive that reconditions and charges your battery up as you drive to and from work.
 The number one cause of your battery failure is lead sulphation, a soft spongy film that clogs the pores and prevents normal chemical reaction.
 Batteries die without warning and creates roadside hazards, expenses and inconvenience.
 When VX6 is added to batteries, sulphation is dissolved and prevented even in new batteries.

Todd, of Jefferson, Md., last Thursday.

Mrs. Danley remained overnight so as to take the bus from there back to her Albuquerque home. She was here due to the illness and death of her mother, Mrs. Frank Adams.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes
 Morning worship in the Trinity Methodist Church, Harrington, will be held this Sunday at 11 a.m. The pastor, the Rev. William J. Garrett, announces the sermon topic "My Father's House". Professor Melvin Brobst, organist, has chosen "In the Shepherd's Fold" by Martens as the organ prelude. The Junior Choir, under the direction of Mrs. William Garrett and Mrs. C. Tharp Harrington will sing the anthem "The Church in Which I Worship" by Arbuckle. The anthems by the Senior Choir will be "Turn us Again" by Wyatt. The friendly greeters will be Mrs. Georgia Jacobs and Mrs. William E. Palmatory. The altar flowers will be supplied by the Loyal Worker's Bible Class.
 Church School will be in session from 10 to 11 a.m.
 The MYF will meet in the Chapel on Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock.
 The Fourth Quarterly Conference will be held on Tuesday evening, 7:30 p.m. The Rev. Hartwell Chandler, District Superintendent, will preside over the conference. Reports will be given by the trustees, church treasurer, financial secretary, youth fellowship, Woman's Society of Christian Service, and by the several church commissions. A period of fellowship will follow the order of business.

A NEW BROOM DOES NOT ALWAYS SWEEP CLEAN

Information is the key personnel of the City of Harrington's limited personnel will be replaced at the organization meeting, Tuesday evening.

On the other hand, part of the Council has indicated it will stand by the present personnel.

If these sentiments persist, the Council will have a tie vote, and it will be up to Mayor Luther P. Hatfield to cast the deciding vote.

Those slated for the chopping block, the opinions say, are City Clerk Kathryn Derrickson, Alderman Arthur L. Marsan, Chief of Police Franklin Rogers, and City Manager Alfred G. B. Mann.

Replace this personnel and where will the City be? No businessman would think of replacing all his key employes and retraining all new help. Even in training, some will not suit the job.

The statements about replacing help, make it bad for the morale of present employes and will make others think twice before accepting a position whereby their posts will be up for grabs at every change of the Council. There is plenty of demand from area industries now for capable workers.

We thought the City government last year did a good job, although there is room for improvement.

Right now, businessmen and other citizens are on tenterhooks regarding the proposed changes.

Use of a new broom could hurt Harrington as an attraction for industry and retail establishments; it could hurt a sewer referendum in the offing as bonding agencies would wonder about the stability of the City government. There is not a single businessman in the City government and it is high time the businessmen took an active part.

We request he citizens attend the Tuesday night meeting and express their opinions on the wholesale discharge of employes. When this has to take place, it usually indicates something is wrong with the employers more often than the employes.

We do not think all is lost. We believe the mayor has done a good job and we believe he can see the big wood from the brush.

But we want to be on the safe side: after Tuesday night it might be too late.

Poems from Paradise Pastures

"Lives of great men oft remind us, we should make our lives sublime;
 And, departing leave behind us, footprints in the sands of time."
 It has been my good fortune—and glorious privilege—since coming to Harrington in 1946 to have had a personal acquaintanceship of so many men who did just that.
 Many have passed on; but their uprighteous christian character is reflected in their third and fourth generations, still with us.
 Among those in mind are the Randall Knox's, Walter Paskey's, Jake Camper's, and Ernie Raughley, Harvey Burgess, Charley Murphy, Horace Quillen, Doc Chipman, Earl Sylvester, Ed Rash and Book Harrington.
 They are the men who made Harrington a good place to live in and prompted outsiders to coin us, "The Down-Homers." They are also referred to in the good book: "Once I was young, and now I am old; yet I have not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread."
 Assoc.-Ed's Note: Dear Cliff: Keep on writing; I like to read your articles. Which reminds me of the late Ernie Raughley. Because of your article, I think I will write him up. I had forgotten—look for my article somewhere else in this story. You could have made a pretty good journalist if you had taken up that profession instead of the railroad. However, it is never too late to start.
 How come you picked this town to retire in when you had your pick of a lot of other places with a lots more to offer? It wasn't because you rode that hot cattle car from Iowa to Pittsburgh, many years ago, was it? Drop us a little article on that sometime. Make it just like you told it to me! That is a very good human interest story.
 Sometimes I get disgusted, and then I read some of your articles; and they recall some interesting things to write about—some things I had forgotten.

Century Club News

On Tuesday the Harrington New Century Club had its bi-monthly meeting. The president, Mrs. Lester E. Smith, announced that the annual spring luncheon is scheduled for April 12, to be held at the club house. The date for the bridge tournament is Feb. 21 through March 28, anyone interested in joining the tournament may contact the president or Mrs. Ken Aiken. Milford Century Club is having a fashion show on March 4, to which all the members of our club are cordially invited.

Mrs. Gayle B. Smith, chairman of health, gave an interesting and informative talk on population explosion, and the problems pertaining to this. Those on Mrs. Smith's committee were Mrs. Oscar T. Roberts, Sr., Mrs. Melville Taylor, Mrs. George Price, Mrs. F. Brown Smith, Mrs. Leonard S. Masten, Mrs. James Hawpe, and Mrs. Samuel M. Williams.

Mrs. William A. Kohel, communications chairman, has procured an interesting film for her program on Feb. 8. This film shows how modern communication facilities are involved in jetted air travel. It includes reservations, weather, inter-city arrangements and actual flight procedures.

From The Files of THE JOURNAL
 Jan. 27, 1950

The City has difficulty filling three posts. The posts of auditors were declined by Howard Wagner and Leonard Horleman. It was the desire of the City to have its books audited before the new city clerk, city manager, H. M. Deputy, had assumed his office. However, Deputy resigned the post this week after thinking it over. William Humes and W. A. Nichols started a general assessment of the town this week, with the former replacing Ernest Killen, who resigned because of the press of other duties. Howard Rust assumed the post of extra patrolman, replacing Charles Price, Jr., who resigned.

Manager William Wechtenhiser and Capt. Paul Porter, of Chosen Friends Lodge No. 35, motored to Seaford with the lodge's softball team Thursday evening, and brought victory home once again, making our team only one game behind the leaders, Georgetown.

Burton Smith has started construction of a new home on Delaware Avenue adjacent to the properties of Herman Minner and H. N. Trader.

Dr. and Mrs. Sidney G. Fine, of Trenton, N. J., announce the engagement of their daughter, Beatrice Jean, to Ralph Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brown Smith.

Fred Greenly recently sold Marion Direct out of Calumet Evelyn to R. C. Larkin, Poplar Hill Farm, Lexington, Ky., at an undisclosed price. Greenly also sold Sarah Chief, in foal to Knight Dream, to Larkin.

Earl Sylvester is state chairman of the March of Dimes now under way. He was the first March of Dimes chairman in the United States to accept the post when the program for aid to polio victims was instituted years ago.

Mrs. O. T. Roberts, Mrs. H. Clyde Miller, and Miss Catherine Downing, of Milford, attended a luncheon Saturday at the home of Mrs. Charles Smith, of Federalsburg, given for members and guests of the Nanticoke Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mr. and Mrs. William Grimes, of Kent Island, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Brown.

Norman Smith has returned to his home on Delaware Avenue after spending some time in Milford Hospital.

Leonard E. Taylor has accepted a position as salesman for Bryan & Rollins at Lewes.

John Harrison Rifenburg, of the maritime service, spent Tuesday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rifenburg. He has returned to Texas.

Miss Emma Derrickson, of Wilmington, was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Derrickson, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lee Yoder announce the birth of a son, born Jan. 24 in Milford Hospital.

In honor of the 12th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hayes, a turkey dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. John B. Case, of Harrington.

Registration may be made by contacting Robert F. Dowd, director of the adult education program, at 629-4584, or mailing the registration fee to him at Katie L. Handy Junior High School. Classes are scheduled to begin Jan. 31. Each course will include 10 weekly Monday meetings from 8 to 10 p. m. in the senior high school building.

Course fees will be $7 for residents of the Seaford Special School District and $10 for non-residents, with two exceptions. Fee for oil painting will be $25 and for ballroom dancing, $15 per couple. Classes will be limited in size.

Course description and instructors are as follows:
 Ballroom dancing, Mr. and Mrs. William Zeiger, professional dancing instructors. Second semester will cover new and additional steps in the dances already taught, with emphasis on lead and styling. New dances, such as the easy-to-do cumbia learned by the Ziegers on their recent trip to Argentina, will also be taught at class request.
 Bridge, H. Richard Ort, DuPont Co. engineer with wide experience in bridge-playing. For beginners—A course tailored to fit the needs of those who have never played bridge or have only a scant knowledge of the game. Instructions will be given in bidding and playing fundamentals.
 Creative Arts and Crafts, Hubert Hogue, director of art at the Milton Consolidated School and well-known Delaware artist. An approach to design analysis through an understanding of working materials and media. Some crafts projects, drawing, water coloring, and frame finishing.

Mathematics for Parents, Ralph Mahan, Seaford High School mathematics instructor. For parents who are confused and bewildered by their children's "new" mathematics. Little knowledge of mathematics will be needed for parents to become familiar with modern mathematics and also to become aware that in spite of "new" mathematics, the "old" is still with us. Parents of elementary and secondary students can still profit easily from this course.
 Oil Painting, Henry Progar, head of the Laurel High School art department. An opportunity for instruction from one of Delaware's most highly-regarded artists.
 Record keeping, Robert Arts, Seaford High School business administration teacher. Course will include preparation of household records; personal records; payroll records; cashier records; banking services; overview of fundamentals of book-keeping; and preparation of financial statements.
 Mrs. David Bloodsworth, head of Seaford High School's home economics department. This course in clothing construction includes fabric and pattern selection. A very practical course for the housewife or others wanting to learn how to sew.
 Intermediate Sewing, Mrs. Charles Cranston, Seaford High School home economics instructor. A course designed for persons with some sewing experience who wish to perfect their skills.

Bonds Again Offered As Refund Option

Savings Bond Chairman for Kent County, H. Irving Buckson, today reminded taxpayers that the Treasury Department will once again offer them the opportunity of taking income tax refunds in United States Savings Bonds.

The savings option, introduced in 1963, is in addition to the two standard options of taking tax refunds in cash or applying them to next year's tax.

"When a taxpayer elects to take his refund in Series E Bonds," Mr. Buckson said, "his money goes to work immediately on two jobs. It begins to build his financial security. At the same time, it contributes to our country's economic strength. Those who elect the U. S. Savings Bond option join millions of Americans who are investing in their country's future in this way.

"When you check the Savings Bond line on your 1965 tax form," Mr. Buckson continued, "you automatically assure yourself of two advantages: You provide yourself with an easy method of holding on to your tax refund dollars and a sure way of making it grow one-third larger at maturity. When your mark is made, the rest is automatic. For example, if you're entitled to a refund of $42, you'll get a face-value Series E Bond (cost $37.50), plus a check for $4.50.

"This 25th anniversary year of the E Bond is a good time for more taxpayers to get in on this opportunity," Mr. Buckson said. Choosing bonds is the surest way I know of to make your tax refund really mean something to you."

Adult Education Registration January 18

Twelve courses will be offered. They are ballroom dancing, bridge, creative arts and craft, mathematics for parents, oil painting, recordkeeping, beginning sewing, intermediate sewing, TOPS, conversational Spanish, typing and wood-working.

Registration may be made by contacting Robert F. Dowd, director of the adult education program, at 629-4584, or mailing the registration fee to him at Katie L. Handy Junior High School. Classes are scheduled to begin Jan. 31. Each course will include 10 weekly Monday meetings from 8 to 10 p. m. in the senior high school building.

Social Security Notes

By W. J. Bulkley

Interest in Medicare is high among Delaware's older citizens as March 31 draws closer.

This is the deadline by which those over 65 must sign up for "Part B" benefits, according to W. J. Bulkley, Dover Social Security District Manager. "Part B" refers to the voluntary medical benefits which covers much of the cost of doctor bills, visits of nurses and other medical services. The premium is $3 a month and the Federal Government pays an additional $3. There is no deadline for registering for Part A Hospital Benefits.

As many as 4000 downstate Delawareans have not signed up for "Part B" protection. About 1500 of these are difficult to reach because they do not receive social security or any other type of benefits.

Bulkley said another reason for failure to enroll is a lack of understanding of changes that may be made in their private health insurance after July 1.

No one should, because of Medicare, make such a change before July 1, 1966. However, many firms will be offering a different contract or changing their rates. Everyone who has private health insurance should find out how he will be affected. A number of firms will offer protection using Medicare as a base.

There are several things the person near or over 65 can do. One is call the social security office at 736-1426 for information. A second is to attend a Medicare meeting. Some dates are set and more will be announced. Those set now are the Dover Middle School Auditorium, evening of March 3rd (time to be announced), and in Sussex County, one will be held in Dagsboro at the John M. Clayton School, on February 9 at 7 p.m. and in Seaford at St. Luke's Parish on February 23 at 2 p.m.

One of the most difficult groups to enroll for Medicare are the homebound who are not receiving social security. Many do not realize they are eligible. The Dover Social Security office is interested in receiving the names and addresses of these persons.

Because of the large number yet to be registered, the Dover Social Security office is now open Saturdays 9 a.m. to noon.

Three new members were welcomed at our January meeting held at the Fire Hall. They were Donna Rust, G. B. Langford, and Steven Johnson. Devotions were led by Barmeta Hassett and refreshments were by John Bradley and Ronnie Bramble. Our guest speaker of the evening was former state legislator, John Annett. He told of the importance of obeying parents. Project reports were heard from the girls carrying sewing as a project and Mark Williams told of the selection of his heifer for his dairy project.

Blue Cross Offers Full Range Of Coverages To Old

Trustees of the Delaware Blue Cross-Blue Shield organization decided on Monday to offer a full range of coverages complementing the federal Medicare program. They will be known as the "Delaware 65" series.

Most Delawareans 65 years of age and older are expected to subscribe to the coverage which will permit them to have the wider benefits they have now, while taking advantage of the two parts of the Medicare program.

A large percentage of Delawareans 65 years of age and over have Blue Cross and Blue Shield and Extended Benefits. The most popular coverage, therefore, is likely to be one that will add to Medicare's part "A" and part "B" to bring the total benefits above the level of their present Blue Cross, Blue Shield and Extended Benefits program.

The Blue Cross-Blue Shield program offering the broadest benefits will cost $6.83, and the government portion (Medicare's part "B") $3.00 a month—for a total cost of $9.83 a month. This is $1.01 less than the coverage for which they are now paying and will bring their benefits above the level of their present Blue Cross, Blue Shield and Extended Benefits. This includes the benefits of Part A of Medicare which are provided without charge.

To be in a position to serve all Delaware senior citizens by offering them choices of supplementary benefits geared to the two kinds of federal coverage, Delaware Blue Cross-Blue Shield will have six separate plans available, it was explained by H. V. Maybee, managing director:

—One of these six plans will be a national program to be offered by all Blue Cross Plans. It will cost $4.40 a month.

The other five programs have one feature in common—they all supplement Part A of Medicare, the part everyone 65 and over gets without charge.

—One of the new offerings will be Blue Cross hospital plan coverage supplementing Medicare's Part A by filling in certain gaps in its benefits, but going no further. This will cost $2.03 a month.

—A second choice will fill out both Part A and Part B of Medicare, but will not include extended benefits. This choice will cost $5.06 a month.

—A third choice—expected to be the most popular one—includes the feature of extended benefits. The extended benefits programs of Blue Cross-Blue Shield have been popular with a great many Delawareans. This is the $6.83 package.

Group Hospital Service has been urging its senior citizens to take Part B of Medicare, which is a bargain at $3.00 a month, Maybee said. In case some fail to take it and want to continue to have

Blue Shield coverage at a higher rate, the present Blue Shield coverage will be available.

—The fourth choice will fill out Medicare's Part A, and will include Blue Shield. It will cost $6.08 a month.

—A fifth choice, adding the new "Delaware 65" extended benefits program to the plan above, will cost $7.85 a month.

The trustees voted to change the name of Group Hospital Service, Inc., to Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Delaware, Inc. This follows a national trend in use of the familiar Blue Cross and Blue Shield names.

Monday's session was the annual meeting and three officers were re-elected. They are: J. Sellers Bancroft, president; Harry W. Lynch, vice president; and Henry M. Canby, secretary. William C. Lickle was elected treasurer, succeeding Alfred E. Bissell.

Maybe reported membership in 1965 reached record high levels, with 353,183 members in the Delaware Blue Cross Plan at the end of the year. This was a gain of 21,354 for the year. The Delaware Blue Shield Plan also reached a new high with 322,156 at year end, for a gain of 20,869. The number participating in the extended benefits program was 244,623, a gain of 22,329.

Pilots Wanted By Army

The necessity for air mobility of Army Combat Forces has created an urgent requirement for hundreds of additional helicopter and conventional type aircraft pilots, announced Sergeant Frazier, local Army Recruiter.

In recognition of the shortage of trained personnel, the Army has taken measures to shorten and simplify the processing of applicants for enlistment in the "Warrant Officer Flight Training Program," said Sergeant Frazier.

Despite the urgency for the need of pilots and the short-outs that have been incorporated in the processing procedures, there has been no change in the qualification requirements, added Sergeant Frazier.

The applicant must be a high school graduate, a citizen of the United States, at least 18 years of age, and not have reached his 30th birthday at time of enlistment. His weight must not be over 200 pounds. He must be between 64 and 76 inches in height and be willing to enlist in the Regular Army for two years.

In addition to the above requirements, the applicant must agree to accept appointment as a Warrant Officer for an indefinite term upon successful completion of flight training program and to serve as a Warrant Officer for no less than three years after acceptance of the appointment.

More information on this program and other Army enlistment options can be obtained through Sergeant Frazier, located at 218 S. Governor's Ave., his collect telephone number is 736-6937.

E. S. Mortimer Elected President Of ESPSC

Edmund S. Mortimer was elected president of The Eastern Shore Public Service Company of Maryland and Eastern Shore Public Service Company of Virginia at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the two companies in Salisbury, on January 24.

He succeeds George Merle Nelson whose retirement becomes effective February 1. For almost 40 years, Mr. Mortimer has been actively engaged in building, planning and operating the electric utility system here on Delmarva. He has a first-hand, working knowledge of this system and is ever alert to spending construction dollars to do the most good for the greatest number.

Mr. Mortimer's services to the Peninsula started in December of 1926 when he came to the company as a field engineer. He was virtually fresh out of college; he had been a test engineer for General Electric Company for 2 years, but then decided the good life of Maryland's Eastern Shore was for him.

From field engineer he progressed to and through such jobs as assistant superintendent of construction, assistant superintendent of operations and superintendent of operations. In July 1952 he was made manager of operations, a comprehensive job covering phases of the business all the way from production of power at the plants to its ultimate delivery. In 1959 the Board of Directors elected him to the post of vice president of operations.

Mr. Mortimer is presently a member of the Board of Directors of the Maryland and Virginia companies of the Eastern Shore Public Service. He is a member of the Salisbury Area Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Mortimer is a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers and a past chairman of the local group. He is a working member of the International Association of Electrical Inspectors, an organization which makes continuing effort to interpret electrical codes for electricians.

Mr. Mortimer was born in Charleston, South Carolina, and attended the public schools in Grafton, Mass. He earned a B. S. degree in mechanical engineering from Stevens Institute of Technology in Hoboken, N. J., and while there was on the lacrosse team and a member of Chi Phi fraternity.

During World War II he spent 3 years as navy lieutenant and lieutenant commander assigned to construction battalions (Seabees) on Guadalcanal, at Pearl Harbor and in the Philippines.

Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer live on Leonard's Pond, near Delmar, Md., and are members of the Salisbury Unitarian Fellowship. They are members of Seaford Golf and Country Club and Green Hill Yacht and Country Club. Mrs. Mortimer is president of the Town and Country Garden Club. Their son, Lt. Commander Edmund Craig Mortimer, USN, is on duty at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, and his wife and two daughters are with him.

Weekends find Ned Mortimer golfing and yard tending. He likes to travel and has experienced ocean voyages on both cruise ships and freighters. Small boat sailing and piloting are favorite sports with him, too. He brings to the president's job sound and practical experience, coupled with tolerance and a zest for life.

Felton School Notes

The Felton F.F.A. Chapter was privileged to attend the annual farm show in Harrisburg, Pa., on Jan. 12.

The Chapter members saw over 600 exhibits, showing the progress of modern agriculture. Four other chapters in the state of Delaware attended the farm show.

Also, on Jan. 20, the Felton F.F.A. Chapter received a first place award in soil judging. Carl Shelman, who won first place and Kenneth Haines, who placed second, received the awards along with their advisor, James B. Testerman, at the Treadway Inn.

Today the Felton F.F.A. Chapter decided to till 25 acres of cropland for the year of 1966.

Rehoboth Beach To Hold Pageant In 1966

Delaware's quest for a 1966 entry in the Miss America Pageant will end at Rehoboth Beach this spring.

President Harry E. Derrickson of the Rehoboth Beach Chamber of Commerce said his board of directors approved acceptance of a franchise to stage the state pageant—probably on Saturday, May 7.

Approval of the franchise grant is expected from Miss America Pageant officials after consultation with William Muncie, field director, who recently visited the resort community to determine its interest.

Derrickson said that upon approval an open invitation will be extended to organizations throughout the state to apply for local franchises with the hope that community pageants may be completed by April 15—or the end of the Easter holiday vacation period. Communities who formerly sponsored pageants will receive direct invitations.

The Rehoboth Beach Chamber of Commerce hopes that at least 20 eligible contestants between the ages of 18 and 28 can be recruited and that it will be possible to stage a two-day pageant in the new Convention and Civic Center.

Derrickson indicated that interest and enthusiasm are high in the community. Assurances of five entries have already been received and a number of Chamber members have volunteered to serve on committees.

The state pageant was held last year in Rehoboth Beach. The state pageant was held Delaware Jay-Cees for the past number of years. Dover Jay-Cees served as host city for the past three years. Last in 1965, the State Jay-Cees decided to drop the franchise and the hunt began for a new Delaware sponsor.

Derrickson said his organization had a three-fold purpose in wanting to become the state franchise holders:

1. It was felt that a resort area provides the proper background for such competition, and the new Convention and Civic Center is ideal for the purpose.

2. The Chamber felt that Delaware's young ladies should not be denied the opportunity of competing for more than $26,000 in national scholarship awards — and that it believes First State girls can successfully compete with those from any of the other 49 states.

3. The Chamber also believes that scheduled on an annual basis, the pageant could provide a real "kick-off" for its summer season.

"We are ready to take the responsibility for all phases of the state pageant," Derrickson declared. "All we need and want are charming and talented young ladies who can meet the qualifications outlined by the Miss America Pageant officials."

Fashion Show Set For Univ. Program

A fashionable, well-fitting wardrobe in adult styles often rewards the woman who "sews her own." Fabrics are available in all the desirable fibers and in a wide range of designs and colors to suit everyone.

The modern homemaker is no longer dependent on the whims of fashion designers, since she can choose from a selection of patterns that includes nearly all styles and all sizes.

A fashion lecture Thursday afternoon, February 10, by Miss Helen Wright, special field representative for the Simplicity Pattern Company, will be one of the highlights of the University of Delaware's Farm and Home Week. She will discuss choosing becoming clothes from today's fashions, emphasizing sewing the fashionable look.

Miss Wright will present 15 complete costumes styled for adults in the season's newest fabrics and color combinations. Members of Delaware home economics extension classes will model the garments. Special emphasis will be given to the style and fabric selection for all figure types, as well as tips for professional construction techniques and original personal touches.

This program is one of several planned for homemakers at Farm and Home Week, February 6 to 11, in Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark. Other sessions include a panel discussion of home financial planning and talks on nutrition and poultry products.

Tours of the University woodlot and computer center, special demonstrations and displays and programs on urban pressures, home landscaping, dog care, horsemanship and numerous agricultural topics will be featured at the annual event. All programs are open to the public without charge.

Mrs. G. Hall Riggin Dies at 76

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Riggin, 76, widow of Dr. G. Hall Riggin, died Thursday morning, Jan. 20, at Jewell's Nursing Home, Milford, where she had been a guest for two years.

A native of Harrington, Mrs. Riggin spent her early years in Harrington and Delmar, then lived in Wilmington more than 20 years. Her later years were spent in Rehoboth Beach.

Mrs. Riggin was a past worthy grand matron of the Order of Eastern Star in Delaware and was a charter member of Kent Chapter 11, O.E.S. She was a member of All Saints Episcopal Church, Rehoboth.

Her husband died in December, 1962. Mrs. Riggin is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Kurt O. Runge of Green Acres, and a brother, Lewis Curtis, of Milford.

Services were held Saturday afternoon from All Saints Church, Rehoboth. Interment in All Saints Cemetery near Rehoboth.

Dr. G. Hall Riggin was a physician for the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Mrs. Riggin was the daughter of John and Elizabeth Curtis and was a sister of Lewis Curtis now at Jewell's Nursing Home.

She was graduated from Harrington High School in 1907, was born March 7, 1889. She was president of the Harrington New Century Club until April, 1926, when the Riggins moved. In Harrington, they lived at 311 Weiner Ave., where Mr. and Mrs. William W. Shaw reside. The late Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Harrington resided there before the Riggins.

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton

Mid-winter though it may be, February markets will show no dearth of foods. Emphasis will continue to center on fruits and vegetables with oranges, grapefruit, prunes, onions, and potatoes being the ones in largest supply during the month.

However, the feature foods of the month of February according to the U.S.D.A.'s plentiful foods list will be prunes and prune products, canned red salmon and red tart cherries. Briefly here is the picture for these various foods. Last year's huge pack of two million cases of salmon was over twice the size of the previous year. This pleasant canned fish has many uses in salads, sandwiches, hors d'oeuvres, casseroles, croquettes and many other cooked dishes.

Prunes, dried, canned and juice products are in ample supply as the crop this year was excellent. Look for many good buys here. One of the most popular foods during this month of special days is canned red tart cherries. The supply is large, prices should be reasonable to low and quality is high.

As for this weekend, prices of most fresh vegetables are higher again. Rains, ice and snow in many growing areas which produce winter vegetables have caused some crop damage and definitely interrupted harvesting. Many local food dealers are finding it a bit more difficult to keep in stock vegetables of the good quality that local customers want.

Letuce is still going up as well as both yellow and white squash. Corn, snap beans, beets, cucumbers, broccoli, sweet potatoes, and white potatoes are all 1 to 4 cents higher at wholesale. However, weekend specials have helped to lower some prices such as cauliflower, turnips, dry onions, and even a few of the vegetables just mentioned are "special buys".

Weekend sales of beef in most stores offer the best price news on meat which is continuing on the high side. Hind-quarter cuts of beef continue to be the most plentiful. For the most flavorful, tender, and juicy cuts look to U.S.D.A. Grade Choice or comparable quality in a packer's grade. Scattered promotions on less plentiful pork are to be found, but prices are high and are still moving upward.

There are bright spots on most fruit counters despite the prevailing increases on vegetables and meat prices. Beautiful strawberries are now arriving from Mexico and Florida. Mexican watermelon is also available and is reported to be delicious. Chile is adding her annual contribution to displays of luxury fruits by providing nectarines and plums.

BBB Offers Free Booklet On Rugs And Carpeting

In the market for a rug or carpeting? Not really sure about how to determine whether a rug of a certain material or construction is preferable to another? Then a new 16 page booklet, "Facts You Should Know About Rugs and Carpeting," available free from the Better Business Bureau will supply the answers. The pamphlet also describes selling schemes which should be avoided.

The booklet examines the various types of fibers most frequently used in the construction of rugs and carpeting — wool, nylon, acetate, acrylic, rayon, etc., and reports what the purchaser can expect in the matters of durability, strength and cleanliness.

The pamphlet describes weaving, tufting and knitting—the three basic methods used in the construction of rugs and carpeting in a wide range of styles, quality and prices.

Padding and installation, critical to the satisfactory long-carpeting are also discussed.

In addition to providing useful information on how to select rugs or carpeting with which the consumer can be reasonably satisfied, the pamphlet reveals the various schemes employed by those who pretend to offer a "real good buy."

The "3 Rooms of Carpeting," offer, for example, is more often than not an attractively priced eye catcher which is quickly transformed into a high pressure sales pitch for carpeting other than that advertised and at prices which are far in excess of the advertised price. In addition, the sizes of the "3 Rooms" referred to in the advertisement are so small as to be virtually and unfortunately non-existent.

In addition to the "3 Rooms" scheme, the pamphlet explains the "referral" technique, the "Yard Jumping" hoax, the "Carpet Rental come-on," the "Commercial Carpet" offer and the "Look-Alike" scheme.

As is true with any purchase, the pamphlet emphasizes the necessity for doing business only with a reputable, reliable firm. If you have any questions about any company, check with your Better Business Bureau.

For your free copy of the new 16 page booklet, "Facts You Should Know About Rugs and Carpeting," simply mail a stamped, self-addressed, legal envelope to the Better Business Bureau of Delaware, 1609 Delaware Avenue, Wilmington, Delaware, 19806.

1965 Red Cross Fund Drive Goes Over The Top

The Delaware Chapter, American Red Cross, exceeded its goal of $219,000 in the 1965 fund campaign to finance its humanitarian program by raising a record total of $322,159.69.

Success of the appeal was announced recently by Harry B. Bissell, Jr., drive chairman. Mr. Bissell said a surge of gifts in recent weeks enabled the state chapter to top its quota by $3,159.69.

Mr. Bissell paid tribute to the contributors and volunteer division chairmen, solicitors and other workers, "whose generosity in terms of time and money meant our chapter could make such an excellent showing."

Mr. Bissell said the thousands of Delawareans who contributed to the appeal "prove that the Red Cross, in its local and international scores, has the generous support of the public."

He said the just-completed 1965 drive serves to keep the Delaware Chapter's outstanding record of fund-raising intact.

John J. De Luca, chairman of the state Red Cross Chapter said he was well aware of the excellent planning and organizational work of Mr. Bissell, the division chairmen, volunteer solicitors and chapter staff which went into the campaign.

"I want to thank the many volunteers recruited from industry, business and the professional world who gave countless hours of volunteer service in organizing and assisting until the close of the fund raising," Mr. De Luca said.

"The Delaware Chapter is proud of these dedicated workers who enable the state Red Cross to carry on its service to humanity."

Fifteen Kent County 4-H clubs received training in visual presentations. Local 4-H leaders and junior leaders participated in meetings held at the Milford fire-hall and Caesar Rodney High School. These sessions were given in cooperation with William Pinnell, Sussex County 4-H agent and Kent County's Club Agent.

Farm and Home week program will hold several sessions of special 4-H interst. 4-H Day - Feb. 9 will find Ed Reeves from the Federal Extension Service with an action program. This will be followed by an arts and crafts presentation. Also, during the week will be sessions on light horses and dog care. Other sessions will be of interest to 4-H adults in specific project areas.

By now most 4-H'ers have probably seen the national 4-H news, January issue and our Cookies for Viet Nam coverage. All Kent County 4-H leaders receive this valuable magazine provided to us by the Farmers Bank of Delaware, Dover. The county-wide skating party at the Capital Arena is just a few days off now. Let's fill the rink with 4-H families and friends.

4-H'ers carrying horse projects are reminded of the special interest program February 1st on Care and Feeding. Local 4-H leaders will know the time and location.

Remember, today is tomorrow—get busy on your 4-H records.

CAPT. VIRGIL F. EMORY

Capt. Virgil F. Emory, 31, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Emory, 104 Columbia St., Milford, completed a six-month ordnance officer career course, Jan. 20, at the Army Ordnance Center and School, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

He entered active duty in January 1955 from the Delaware Army National Guard. Captain Emory attended Milford High School and Millersville (Pa.) State Teachers College.

AIRMAN WILLIAM H. GREEN

Airman William H. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson N. Green, who resides on Sewell Street, Felton, has been selected for training at Sheppard AFB, Tex., as an Air Force transportation specialist.

The airman, a 1964 graduate of Felton High School, recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Second Lt. Lawrence L. Fitchett, 23, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Fitchett, 415 Kings Hwy., Milford, completed a combat platoon leader course at the Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga., Jan. 21.

During the nine-week course Lieutenant Fitchett received advanced instruction in leadership, tactics of small infantry units, map and aerial photograph reading and Army administrative procedures.

The lieutenant was graduated from St. Andrew's School, Middletown, in 1960 and the University of Delaware, Newark, in 1965.

Pvt. Donald L. Short, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Short, Route 1, Box 40-E, Ellendale, completed an automotive course under the Reserve Enlistment program at the Army Armor School, Ft. Knox, Ky., Jan. 21.

Short will return to his Army National Guard unit, Battery D of the 198th Artillery's 3d Battalion in Georgetown, at the completion of his six month tour of active duty.

The 18-year-old soldier attended Georgetown High School and was employed by Marker's Texaco Service Station, Georgetown, before entering the Army.

Pvt. Joseph H. Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Evans, Route 1, Bridgeville, completed an automotive course under the Reserve Enlistment program at the Army Armor School, Ft. Knox, Ky., Jan. 21.

Evans will return to his Army National Guard unit, Battery C of the 198th Artillery's 3d Battalion in Dagsboro, at the completion of his six month tour of active duty.

The 21-year-old soldier was graduated from Bridgeville High School, in 1962, and attended the University of Delaware. He was employed by DuPont's Nylon Plant, Seaford, before going on active duty.

Seaman Apprentice William Fleischauer III, USCG, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fleischauer Jr., of 48 Market St., Greenwood, has completed eight weeks of basic training at the Coast Guard Recruit Training Center at Cape May, N. J.

Seaman Apprentice James T. Sharpe, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Sharpe, of Route 1, Felton, has reported for duty aboard the anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier USS Kearsarge, currently undergoing minor repairs and alterations at her homeport in Long Beach, Calif.

FENCE TALK

with George K. Vapaa

The impact of urban pressures on Delaware agriculture rates top interest for me at our University Farm and Home Week. We're trotting out a tip notch team on Tuesday, February 8, to examine these pressures.

Save for John Bivens, director of our State Planning Office, we will have four out-of-state specialists telling us of their experiences and their suggestions. William Carroll, of Pennsylvania State University, will tell of his community planning experiences with Pennsylvania farmers. Dr. Marvin Kottke ran a study on why some dairy farmers expanded while many went out of business. He believes the same reasons may well work for Delaware.

Wallace Micheltree works as the extension community life specialist in New Jersey. He will talk about the new forces operating in the farm labor market.

Once in a blue moon you will meet a truly extraordinary man in his specialized work. Louis Lingo is such an individual who will appear on our program. He operates a two man 100 cow milking herd with a 17,000 pound milk production average per cow. He has a milk route business and is the president of the Connecticut Milk Producers Cooperative. He had started with a supposedly run down farm. To meet expenses, he decided to sell gravel. Now much of the urban renewal area of Hartford is underlaid with gravel from his farm. Finally, he got into the lawn and turf business because of the pent up demand. He regards community planning and zoning as the most important public issues to which a farmer can devote his attention. He serves on his local planning board and will tell us how he has adjusted to urban growth around him.

This is only one of many topics to be handled February 8 to 11 at Newark. Call us at telephone 736-1448 if you want the complete program. All sessions are free.

For those 65 years old or older, sign up for Medicare benefits before the end of March. Or be sure that your elderly friends do so. A meeting at Asbury Methodist Church in Smyrna at 7:30 p.m. on January 27, will give an explanation of the benefits. Sign up with the local Social Security Office on West Lookerman Street in Dover.

For farmers. Look in to and consider signing up for the wheat and feed grains program, as well as the CAP, or Cropland Adjustment Program. Check with the Kent County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office, on the dual highway south of Dover for details.

Fletcher Price, of Edwinstown, that's west of Felton, was asking me about the best way to apply fertilizer on soybeans—broadcast, in the row, or plow down. As with most things, it is dangerous to generalize, because weather and soil conditions have a bearing. But here goes.

We find it hard to justify over 300 or 400 lbs of fertilizer (say 0-10-30 or 0-20-20) on soybeans. Most tests have shown a planter application in the row to be the best. Care must be taken to place the plant food to the side and below the seed, lest burning results and you may kill the sprout.

In a wet year, it probably makes little difference how the fertilizer goes on. But who can predict a wet growing season? I gave up two years ago trying to predict weather with the law of averages.

Plowing down a fertilizer makes the plant roots grow down to the food. The soil is usually wetter below the surface and this helps get the fertilizer into solution so the plant can absorb it. We generally recommend that corn fertilizer be plowed down, because we use heavier applications and plant earlier.

"RED LINE 7000"

At Reese, Jan. 28-31 The thrills and excitement of the racing world set vivid action for "Red Line 7000", Howard Hawks' wild action racing extravaganza, listed for showing this Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Jan. 28-29-30-31, with the new Paramount adventure hit, "Town Tamer" with Dana Andrews. The speed breed takes over in what the Reese Theatre management calls the fastest, wildest speed riot ever on Movie Center Screen. Due to the big hit all over the country the playing time was extended from two to four days.

The big comedy of Nineteen Sixty-Six is undoubtedly! "Boeing Boeing" with Tony Curtis and Jerry Lewis, listed for showing at Movie Center Fri. - Sat. - Sun. - Mon., Feb. 4-5-6-7.

It's the big bright story of two dedicated Airline hostess jugglers—adept at keeping one hostess in the air, one on the ground and one pending—it's the in comedy about making out. Ski Buffs and Ski Babes on the Go-Go with James Stacy star in "Winter-A-Go-Go", the fast moving co-feature.

Winter Driving Presents Added Safety Hazards

Safe driving habits will help reduce the possibility of accidents on hazardous winter roads. Practice realistic driving precautions, recommends Ernest N. Scarborough, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Delaware.

Keep your distance on icy roads. Remember that braking distances are three to 12 times longer on ice and snow than on dry roads. Lightly traveled roads are apt to be slicker than the main highways. To reduce the chance of a rear-end collision, increase the distance between your car and the car ahead.

Polished ice and snow, particularly at intersections, on curves and on hills lengths braking distances, slows traffic and presents severe hazards. Slow down before reaching an intersection and before going around a curve or down a hill. Pumping action rather than constant pressure on the brakes will reduce the tendency to skid.

To improve traction, make sure your tires have good reads. Snow treads are better for most winter driving. In tough going, chains give still more traction. Be easy on the accelerator; spinning wheels reduce starting traction.

Temperature is another factor to consider in winter driving. As the temperature rises, ice and snow become much more slippery because of the film of moisture on the surface. It is a good idea to get the feel of the road periodically to help eliminate skids.

Parking brakes can be a safety hazard all the year around if improperly set, warns Scarborough. Under some circumstance a parking brake may appear firmly set, but still allow a car to roll backwards. This can be especially dangerous if the car is parked heading up a slope.

If the parking brake is set without applying the foot brake at the same time, the bottoms of the brake shoes are brought into contact with the drums on the rear wheels, but the shoes are not fully engaged. With the parking brake in this condition, the car can move freely to the rear. If the motorist presses his foot on the foot brake while setting the parking brake, the brake shoe and drum engage completely, and the car will not move. As a safety precaution, get into the habit of applying the foot brake and parking brake simultaneously.

Drive safely this winter—and all year around, Scarborough urges. Keep your eye on the road and your mind on driving hazards, winter and summer.

Roadside Marketing Program Set For Farm and Home Week

Most Delaware farmers who sell fruits, vegetables and other farm products at their own roadside markets find it is a profitable business. Many roadside marketers feel the future is bright, and business on the upgrade for well-organized markets. Competition is growing, however, and a successful market requires hard work and know how. Continuous advertising and merchandising efforts, adequate facilities and high quality produce are increasing important.

To help provide the necessary know-how for Delaware farmers, a special program on several phases of roadside marketing will be featured Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 3, at Agricultural Hall, at the University of Delaware's Farm and Home Week.

George R. Hoffmire, secretary-manager of Jersey Certified Farm Markets, Inc., will stress the importance of forming associations with other roadside sellers. He will discuss the organization of such groups and the benefits they offer.

A highly successful roadside marketer, Robert Josephy, owner of Blue Jay Orchards, Bethel, Connecticut, will describe his market. He sells a large volume of fruits, cider and eggs from his orchard, the last remaining farm in Bethel. Josephy will discuss his own experiences with newspaper and radio advertising, signs, direct delivery to stores, packaging, pricing and the changes in products caused by storage.

The results of a three-year study of national roadside marketing will be presented by James Milmo, assistant marketing agent for the Food Business Institute at the University of Delaware. He will illustrate many of the merchandising ideas used successfully in markets throughout the United States.

The University's Farm and Home Week, February 8 to 11, also includes programs on fruits, vegetables, dairy farming, corn and soybeans, home gardening, home economics, air pollution problems, urban pressures and horsemanship. Special demonstrations and tours of the University's woodlot and computer center are also scheduled. All programs are open to the public without charge.

U. of D. Program to Feature New Corn Production Ideas

Many areas of the United States report increased corn and soybean yields from narrow row spacing. Some Delaware farmers are changing their equipment so they can plant rows closer together.

However, a substantial investment in equipment is involved. Since the narrow rows do not always result in an increased yield, Delaware farmers are increasingly aware that all possible factors must be considered. The yield increase must be balanced against the costs of adapting machinery.

A special program about the influence of row width and other factors in corn production will be one of the highlights of Farm and Home Week at the University of Delaware. Two meetings will be held in Agricultural Hall Thursday morning and afternoon, Feb. 10.

At the morning meeting, Dr. Charles D. Hutchcroft, secretary-treasurer of the Iowa Crop Improvement Association, will describe the history and importance of the Iowa corn yield test. A study of hybrid corn performance at different row widths will also be discussed.

While the corn dwarf mosaic virus is not presently a problem to corn producers in Delaware, recognizing the damage symptoms it produces could be extremely important if the virus becomes a problem here. The virus, now found primarily along the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers, will be the subject of a talk at the morning session by Dr. B. F. Janson, extension plant pathologist at Ohio State University.

In the afternoon, Frank Bieberly, extension crops and soils specialist at Kansas State University, will discuss the effects of row width, soil fertility and hybrid variety on irrigated corn.

Dr. John W. Pendleton, professor of agronomy at the University of Illinois, will discuss maximum yields from closed-up corn and soybean rows.

The University's Farm and Home Week, February 8 to 11, will also include programs on dairy farming, fruit, vegetables, roadside marketing, home economics, home gardening, urban pressures and air pollution, as well as tours of the University woodlot and computer center. In addition to the corn and soybean meeting, Thursday's schedule features sessions on potatoes, horsemanship and home economics. All programs are open to the public without charge.

Dairy Day Feature Of Farm And Home Week

The final meeting in a series of six programs for Delaware dairymen will be held Wednesday, Feb. 9, as a part of the University of Delaware's Farm and Home Week.

Dr. Roy Davenport, director of field services for National Dairy Products Corporation, will present awards to Delaware dairymen with outstanding production methods and management knowledge. Ed Bailey, president of Delaware Dairy Herd Improvement Association, will award the production certificates for Delaware state leaders.

At the morning meeting, Dr. W. R. Hesselstine, extension dairyman at the University of Delaware, will discuss corn silage and complete feeds. The techniques and progress in animal health and livestock production in Delaware will be the topic of Dr. Dale F. Schwindaman, federal veterinarian, Dover. Northeastern Connecticut dairymen are making substantial adjustments to meet rising costs and decreasing land availability, and Delaware dairymen face many similar adjustments, according to Preston Roberts, Windham county agent, Connecticut. He will discuss these changes at the morning dairy day meeting.

As a feature of the afternoon dairy day meeting, Louis Longo, president of the Connecticut Milk Producers Association, will talk about the future of the dairy industry and the adjustments he has made to meet present-day problems. Longo operates a dairy farm, has a milk route and gravel pit and owns a lawn and turf company.

Herbert L. Forest, director of the Milk Marketing Order Division of the United States Department of Agriculture, will discuss the objectives of federal milk orders at the afternoon session.

The University's Farm and Home Week, February 8 to 11, also includes programs on corn and soybeans, vegetables, horsemanship, urban pressures, air pollution and home economics, as well as tours of the University's woodlot and computer center. In addition to the dairy day program, Wednesday meetings feature sessions on fruit, roadside marketing, home gardening and youth. All programs are open to the public without charge.

SPORTS

KEITH S. BURGESS — Sports Editor

Sports Odds And Ends

Leafing quickly through the automobile section of the Wilmington paper we stopped suddenly when we saw a familiar face, Jim Cooke, a Harrington native, who was a pretty good harness driver, is now sales manager for an upstate auto firm.

In sports competition, technique is very important. Lennell Shepherd first came into focus as junior high state champion in the 100 yard dash. Paul "Bear" Moore was an outstanding high school wrestler in the heavyweight class. He once pinned Doug Roebke, the state champion, but lost on a decision to the New Castle boy for the state title.

Lennell Shepherd is now a fine weight lifter. Competing in the 123 pound class, he was voted the outstanding lifter in the fourth annual Delaware State Weightlifting Championships at the Central YMCA in Wilmington. Moore won the heavyweight title. Shepherd weighs 123, Moore weighs 280. Yet Shepherd in the clean jerk lift, hoisted 190 pounds to 185 for Moore. In the press he tied the big fellow with a 240 pound lift for each. Shepherd has technique. Moore, as yet, has only brute strength.

Chris Short, the 18-game winning Phillies' lefthander, has many Delaware ties. Chris was born in Milford, graduated from Lewes High, lived in Georgetown and now resides in Rehoboth. When we were a kid hanging around the lumberyard in Harrington, it was then known as the I. D. Short Lumber Co. I. D. Short is Chris' great-uncle. The big leaguer gives partial credit for his success to Roy McCullough, a Milford mailman, who coached Short when the latter played for a Milford American League team.

McCullough had an older brother, who caught for Harrington town teams in the thirties. Roy was a pretty fair country ball player and played for several teams in this area. The writer played outfield for a Harrington team in the Mid-Del League in the late forties that had a gaudy 26-2 record in loop play and other victories over Milford, Housatonic, Frederica (Mar-Del League) and Henderson, Md. (Central Shore League). One game at Harrington against Houston saw future mailman McCullough at bat, mailman Burgess in centerfield and Bill Councilman, son of the Houston postmaster on second base. McCullough blasted a towering drive to deep center. Councilman was almost to home plate when we hauled it in after a long run. Bill started the long trek overland to third and back to second and almost made it due to our lousy arm which had thrown a customary high fly to second base.

Dover High School's wrestling team was beaten at Harrington earlier this season. Since then they have picked up a new 95 pound wrestler, who may be a former Harringtonian. We forget the boy's first name but the last part of his handle is Tipsword. His mother, the former Dorothy Tucker, was a fine athlete at H.H.S. His grandfather, Norman Tucker, was a standout semi-pro baseball pitcher and was Wilmington city champion in pool.

Brett Wix has started his conditioning for the upcoming track season. As a junior high dashman last spring he reported with the rest of the team in March. He discovered that the track season is so short, as little as six weeks some years, that many thinclads are just beginning to reach peak form when it becomes time to quit. The only answer to this problem is to start early.

While on that subject contrast the plight of the Smyrna pupil, who wants to excel in track, with a Harrington student, who has a similar goal. A local lad can run many miles in the fall as a member of the cross-country team. As a trackman in spring he may participate in the many meets scheduled by the Lions which has included in the past, the Milford Invitational, the Seaford Invitational, the Dover Relays, the Kent and Sussex Counties Championships, the famous Penn Relays in Philadelphia, the Peninsula Relays in Wilmington, the Delaware Interscholastics at the University of Delaware, the Frostbite meet at Tower Hill, the annual indoor meet at the U. of D. and last but far from least, the Henlopen Conference title meet. In addition to these special meets, a number of dual, triangular and quadrangular sets are contested including some at night under the lights at Harrington High Stadium, which can seat 1100 people.

A Smyrna Eagle can not run cross-country. He may participate in the Milford, Dover, Seaford and State meets. He can compete in some dual, triangular and quadrangular outings but always away from home since Smyrna does not have a track. How about that? Meanwhile, Harrington, a much smaller school, has the use of all these excellent facilities.

Bill Green, probably one of the best athletes in Felton High history, despite a lack of size, is now in the Air Force.

John Phillips' tall junior varsity five at H.H.S. is doing a fine job. The young Lions have lost but one game, a one-point defeat at the hands of Greenwood. Phillips' charges revenge that setback by beating the Foresters by eight or nine points at Greenwood. Some of the players, who come quickly to mind are: John Swain, John Winkler, Jerry Cagle, George Wyatt, Harold Jump, Jackie Redden, Don Fry, Nick Morris.

In the recent Bing Crosby Silver Anniversary golf tournament held at Pebble Beach, Calif., the pro-amateur division was won by professional, Chuck Courtney and amateur, Dr. John Moler, a dentist. With a name like Moler, this man had to be a dentist. Also it follows that he should be a good golfer since dentists specialize in filling holes.

Sandy Koufax, the fantastic hurler of the Los Angeles baseball Dodgers, got as far as Cleveland in his effort to reach Rochester, N. Y. to receive the renowned Hickok belt as Pro Athlete of the Year. The Boston Celtics and one other NBA team canceled games recently because planes couldn't take off because of snow. Didn't any of these people ever hear of a device called a choo-choo Twain?

Jim Grant, of Bridgeville, played for Alabama in the Rose Bowl in 1938. In 1939 he was an outstanding prospect as a pitcher but hurt his arm in Wrigley Field, Chicago. His wing recovered to the extent that he started in Double A ball for a few years with the Atlanta Crackers. Grant pitched several games against Harrington town teams in the early forties while stationed at Fort Miles or another camp near here. Later he married a Bridgeville girl and returned to this town as a twirler for Tower team in the Mid-Del League of which Harrington was a member. Grant had lost his speed but still won a few games for the Woodenhawk boys, although he couldn't do much with Harrington. As a batter he was a dangerous, long ball hitter. At Tower one day he came to bat in the ninth inning with two out and the winning runs on base. The Harrington team, coached by Woody Welch and Charley Tatman, sent all three outfielders deep but Grant disdained trying for a hit in front of them. He tried to knock the ball over them. He shouldn't have.

Grant's son is a good athlete at Bridgeville High A big lad, he plays several sports.

At the Milton-Felton showdown Tuesday night, one of the referees was a comedian. Spotting this writer, with clipboard at the ready, stationed near one of the baskets, he shouted "Jump ball" as a Warrior and a Green Devil came down together with a rebound. Turning to us he said with a twinkle, "Write that down."

W.B.A. News

Installation for the members of the National American Benefit Association Review No. 4 of Harrington, was held in I.O.O.F. Lodge Hall, Thursday evening, Jan. 20, as follows:
President, Lelia E. Hopkins, vice president, Lillie Sullivan; recording secretary, Josephine Wechtenhiser; financial secretary, Bernice Johnson; treasurer, Laura Belle Wilson; chaplain, Evelyn Lare; sergeant, Katie Austin; lady of ceremonies, Edith Massey; welfare, Virginia Clark; inside guardian, Elma Oliver; outside guardian, Edith Shockley; publicity, Irene Wechtenhiser.
On our next meeting, Feb. 17 we will have a covered dish supper. All members try to be present. Meeting will follow later.

Fire Company Auxiliary Notes

The Kent County Auxiliary met in Cheswood Tuesday evening, Jan. 25, with 15 auxiliaries and 136 members present. Eleven were from Harrington. They were as follows: Dorothy Collins, Irene Dean, Kathryn Derriekson, Lelia Hopkins, Irene Outten, Elma Oliver, Elsie O'Neil, Angie Potter, Virginia Shultie, Betty Lee Taylor, and Mary Ann Wilson.
The next meeting will be in Clayton, March 28.

Milton Halts Felton Streak At 39

A hard-fighting, never-say-die band of Felton Green Devils came to the end of a long victory road, at Milton on Friday night. Charles Neal's boys fought hard for victory No. 40, but could not overcome a superior, well-balanced, Milton Warrior quintet. The Devils were in contention for two periods but trailed by as much as 22 points in the second half enroute to a 74-57 defeat.

Milton has beaten every club on the Western, or strong side of the Henlopen Conference, and now faces the enjoyable task of meeting Lord Baltimore, John M. Clayton, Selbyville, Millsboro and Rehoboth in home-and-home contests. And these five schools show one lonely victory and twenty-nine defeats for the current campaign. It appears that if every Warrior stays healthy, that Milton will not be challenged until they meet the Western Division titlist for the Henlopen crown at season's end.

One did not need a crystal ball to forecast a Milton victory Friday night. Many fans saw this one coming ten months ago when Bill Cordrey, Curt Hudson, George Brown and Co. extended the Devils' great 1965 team in the division playoff.

Cordrey opened the scoring with a jump shot and Milton led 4-0 after foul shots by Jack Hitchens and Curt Hudson. Dave Hoffer sifted through the Warrior defense and had just, barely enough room under the basket to take a fast, accurate pass and quickly lay it in. Fouled on the play he netted the toss for a 4-3 score. After a Warrior field goal by C. Hudson, Sheets tallied on a drive, only to see C. Hudson do the same for the home team. Cordrey made a foul shot and Dick Hudson dropped a set shot from the corner for a 11-5 Milton bulge.

Hoffer converted a pair of singletons and dribbled in to sink a jump shot, with an outside bucket by Milton's George Brown in between. Hitchens and Dick Hudson caged long shots for the Warriors but Bob "Red" Dill made three outside baskets.

Hoffer's free throw got Felton within a point at 17-16. The winners drew away to 21-16 as Dick Hudson rebounded for a two pointer and then got two more points up close after Cordrey took one off the boards. After a Cordrey foul shot, Sheets and C. Hudson traded baskets for a first quarter score of 23-17, Milton.

The second period saw the Green Devils fall only a point further behind, although Red Dill's field goal was their only two-pointer of the frame. Red threw in four free throws and brother Will had a trio, as the duo from Viola accounted for all of Felton's points.

In the third period, Milton broke the game wide open with an 18-9 advantage. Cordrey and Curt Hudson continued to rebound well and also hurt the Devils with their accurate shooting.

Two jump shots by C. Hudson gave Milton a 39-28 edge before French scored one point for Felton.

Coach Bob Edgerton got good outside shooting from Dick Hitchens in his first half. Now Hitchens' replacement, Jack Beheler, began to employ a nifty head fake to good advantage. Beheler netted two layups in the third quarter and three more in the fourth period.

Sheets and Berry hit for Felton to close out the third chapter with Milton ahead 51-35.
In a valiant effort to pull the fat out of the fire, the Devils staged their best offensive show of the night as they tallied 22 points. Milton, not to be denied, scored 23.

Red Dill, stole the ball for two points but foul shots by Millman nullified the basket. A French drive and jump shot was good. Curt Hudson added two Warrior points from the free throw line before three straight Milton field goals widened the gap to 61-39.

The home team was unable to bring the ball up court as Will Dill twice stole the ball and laid it in to bring the count to 61-43. Two free throws by French gave Felton fans new hope. Cordrey rebounded and made a spectacular, behind-the-backboard shot. After Berry rebounded and scored for Felton, Cordrey scored again on a pass from Beheler. Red Dill added two foul shots but Beheler faked beautifully and neutralized the points. A Berry jumper brought the score to Milton 68, Felton 51.

With 3:15 left to play, Milton wisely elected to go into a modified freeze, taking only the good shots. At 2:45 Beheler sank a layup. With 1:55 to go Red Dill narrowed the ap to 70-53. Baskets by R. Dill and Shelman for Felton and four points by C. Hudson and Cordrey ended the scoring. At the final whistle Milton fans cheered noisily for a couple of minutes while the crowd of over 1000 headed for the exits. A Warrior snapped a towel playfully at the 6 foot 2 Cordrey, who was the difference between these two teams, as he had 22 rebounds and 22 points. Curt Hudson (14), Hitchens (13), and Beheler (10) aided the winners' cause.

Red Dill had a terrific night for a short sophomore with 20 points. Will Dill had 11 markers as both were very large from the free throw stripe.

The Devils meet a very tall Bridgeville team tonight and could conceivably drop their second straight. The Mustangs are much improved after a loss to Milton at a time when Bridgeville's biggest starter was hurt.

Sam Knox Scores 29 In Lion Victory

Coach Jim Hawpe's Harrington High Lions won their fourth game in six starts by beating Selbyville 52-38 here on Friday night. Despite the good record the locals are in last place in the six team, Western Division of the Henlopen Conference. The other five teams from this side all boast 5-1 records losing only to powerhouse Milton in the East. The Lions dropped contests to Milton and Lord Baltimore.

There were hundreds of high school players in action on Friday night but only two, in Delaware, had more points than Harrington's Sam Knox, who tossed in a career-high 29 points. John Greenhaugh, the other half of the Lions' 1-2 punch, added 12 markers. Both boys are over 100 points after six games. They seem to be the only players on the squad who can hit from the field. The remainder of the team is made up, for the most part, of performers averaging less than one bucket per game Dean Manages, out with a bad ankle, might add more scoring punch if he is able to return soon.

Winless Selbyville was outscored by comfortable margins in each of the first three periods but found the range in the fourth quarter to give the Lions some anxious moments.
Harrington had an 18-15 edge in field goals and padded this margin with 16-for-28 accuracy from the free throw line.
The locals journey to Delmar tonight (Friday). After six games against the weak (except for Milton) Eastern Division, the Lions now face 10 games on a home-and-home basis against the much-stronger teams on this side of the loop. There is not a patsy in the bunch. H.H.S. will have to fight for everything it can get from here on in. More punch is needed and might come from the aforementioned Dean Manages, Marshall Hatfield and sophomore, Bill Moore.

Greenwood Edges Rehoboth; Regains First Place Tie

Rehoboth's Seahawks are winless in six starts but have come close on a least four occasions. At Greenwood on Friday night the visitors were tripled 21-7 in the second period to trail 30-16 at halftime. The Beachboys rallied to draw even in the second half before a counter-rally by the Foresters pulled out the decision by a score of 60-54. Rehoboth had a 38-30 second half advantage as they turned a potential rout into an exciting game.

Greenwood was outscored 23-21 in field goals but converted 18 of 28 free throws for the victory. The Seahawks made eight of twelve foul shots.

The balanced Forester attack saw four men in double figures led by Buell Schulze with 21. Ron Breeding, Heinz Retzlaff and Maurice Hughes tallied 11 points each. Frank Spence added six markers.

Greenwood's fifth victory in six starts returns the Foresters to a five-way tie for first place in the Western Division of the Henlopen Conference.

Lion Matmen Beat Dover Air

Bill Muehleisen's Harrington High wrestling Lions now own a 3-1 record after easily defeating Dover Air High 28-12 here last week.

The Lions won eight out of twelve bouts. Steven Welch (127) and Ed Wheatley, heavyweight, won on falls.

Earlier this season, Mike Adams, the Lions' representative in the 95 pound class, led 5-4 on the scoreboard at the end of his match but lost 6-5 when his opponent was awarded two points on riding time. Mike won 6-5 over Grant of Dover Air in the same manner.

Bill Garey (103) got out of a sick bed and outclassed Schneider 7-0, scoring a near fall in round two.

Dan Adams (112) dropped a 4-0 decision to Shawn, probably the most clever of the Felcons.

Dave Greenly (120) trailed 1-0 against Abshur when the latter was awarded a questionable escape with seconds left in the second round. Greenly started in the down position in round 3. Within twelve seconds Greenly was on top of Abshur and ahead 2-1. The Falcon never seriously threatened after that.

Steve Welch (127) gets our vote as the most improved Lion. Welch took Holcomb down to lead 2-0 in the first period. Holcomb reversed Welch to tie 2-2 but Steve rallied to enter the final period with a 6-3 bulge. Welch maneuvered the Falcon into a cradle hold and pinned his rival with 48 seconds to go.

Donovan gives away ten pounds or more but hasn't been pinned yet.

Ed Wheatley completely outclassed Elzey before pinning the big Falcon with 3 seconds left in round two.

Pins by Jim Jopp, 140 pounds and Mike Stayton, 152 pounds, gave the Lions a 10-6 jayvee win. Jopp and Stayton gave away around 13 pounds each.

Jonathan Marsan, a lad who moved from Harrington recently, scored three if the Falcons points via decision win.

The board of directors will choose officers at a meeting to be called by Harry F. Green, Wilmington.

Ches. Utilities To Expand In 1966

Expansion of its natural gas system to serve customers on the Delmarva peninsula will cost over $1,500,000 in 1966 according to E. C. Burton, Executive Vice-President of Chesapeake Utilities Corporation and its subsidiary, Eastern Shore Natural Gas Company.

A second pipeline will be built in 1966 by Eastern Shore Natural Gas Company beginning at Hockessin, and ending west of Newark, partially looping the original pipeline.

Each year thereafter, the second pipeline will be extended until it reaches Salisbury, Md. The capacity of the second pipeline will approximately triple the capacity of the original line.

This expansion is a result of the sales growth in the residential, commercial, and industrial markets as well as the expansion to new areas.

We are going to install a gas distribution system in Harrington, and Federalsburg, Md.

Mr. Burton said that a 16 mile line which will be built by Eastern Shore Natural Gas Company to supply natural gas to the City of Easton, Md., will supply the homes and commercial establishments as well as to generate electricity for Easton.

Other plans call for the expansion to reach new customers on its present system. The most rapid growing areas are in Dover, Seaford, and Salisbury, Md.

Acceptance of natural gas is most gratifying, he pointed out. In Harrington, the people voted 8 to 1 in a referendum to approve a franchise to serve natural gas.

The City of Easton will be using natural gas to supply most of its power requirements and at the same time achieve substantial savings for their citizens.

Increases in the number of homes being heated with natural gas demonstrates its efficiency, economy, and cleanliness.

Perhaps, the most exciting uses of natural gas are by industrial customers, he continued. Natural gas is now being used as a raw material to make synthetic fibers which are used to manufacture clothing, shoes, tires, etc. Even fertilizer is made with natural gas and Chesapeake is proud to be a part of this growth and expansion.

Chesapeake Presents Awards To Employees

A Service Award dinner was held on January, 20, at Harley's Restaurant in Seaford. The dinner honored all employees who have been with the company over 10 years.

The service awards presented to employees from the Sussex Gas Division in Seaford, were: Charles Schieferstein, 15 years; Robert McKee, 10 years; and Homer Ryall, 10 years.

The board of directors will choose officers at a meeting to be called by Harry F. Green, Wilmington.

Clerks & Constables (Continued from Page 1)

Under the old system, magistrates and constables received fees for each case they handled and the magistrates hired their own clerks.

The new legislation fixes salaries of $5,000 a year for constables, $4,500 for chief clerks, $4,000 for deputy clerks, and $8,000 for magistrates.

The curriculum for the magistrate school was devised by Thouron, who will act as school principal.

The teachers and their subjects are Herman C. Brown, Dover lawyer, rules of criminal and civil procedure; Judge William G. Bush III of the Kent County Court of Common Pleas, the code of ethics; and Magistrate Maurice W. Carrow
