Consolidate Felton-Frederica Approved For High School

The State Board of Education last week agreed to consider a certificate of necessity for a $2.3 million high school in the Felton School District, but for a consolidated Felton-Frederica district.

The board made the decision after hearing an appeal from Virgil N. Jarrell, Felton board chairman, who projected a need for temporary classrooms in the two districts next year and 22 in 1968-69 because of increasing enrollment in both Felton and Frederica.

Felton now is using nine temporary classrooms; Frederica is holding two classes in its auditorium.

Before action on the certificate of necessity, however, the board has to seek an attorney general's opinion on whether the money for the school, provided in the 1967 bond bill, can be used by the district.

Creating the question is a section of the bond bill which states that no funds for construction included in the bill, which were not recommended by the State Board of Education to the State Planning Office before last April 23, can be used by the district.

Sen. James D. McGinnis, D-Dover, urged the board to go on with the certificate of necessity, claiming that regardless of that clause in the bond bill, "when we voted for this bill, . . . we assumed that everything provided in here would be done. At that time, the General Assembly was aware that a facility was needed in this particular area."

McGinnis said also that if the attorney general rules the money is not available to the Felton district, he is certain that the General Assembly, whether he is in it next session or not, would pass a special appropriation to provide the money for the Felton district immediately upon its return.

McGinnis, who is a candidate for re-election Nov. 8, attended the board meeting along with Sens. Allen J. Cook, D-Kent, and George A. Robbins, D-Milford, to lend support to the Felton request.

Dr. Richard P. Gousha, state superintendent of public instruction, told the board he would prepare the certificate of necessity, but before recommending its approval, he wants in his hands a list of several possible sites that have been approved by the State Planning Office.

Those sites, he said, would have to be compatible with the future possibility of a district encompassing Harrington as well as Felton and Frederica.

Jarrell told the board a joint committee of persons from both Felton and Frederica have been working for months to develop plans for the high school and consolidation, but that they needed assurance they can have the high school to win voter approval of consolidation.

He noted they had invited Harrington board members to participate in the planning, but that the Harrington board has said it isn't interested in consolidation now.

Miss A. Faye Needles Recently Wed To Charles W. Parrott

Miss Arlene Faye Needles and Mr. Charles Wayne Parrott were married Saturday, Oct. 8, at 2 o'clock in the First Pilgrim Church, Easton, Md., with the Rev. W. B. Walker, officiating.

Mrs. Gloria Nichols, of Greensboro, organist, accompanied Mrs. Ruth Worm, of Preston, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Wedding Prayer."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Needles, of Harrington, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip K. Parrott, of Federalburg.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a luxurious floor-length gown of chantilly-type lace and nylon net over acetate taffeta fashioned with scalloped neckline with seeded pearls and French sequins with a bow in the back. Her veil of silk illusion drifits of lace, accented with crystals, pearls and sequins matched her long gown. She carried a white Bible topped with a white chrysanthemum and pompons.

Mrs. Kaye Sapp, twin sister of the bride, wore a baby-blue street length gown of acetate taffeta misted over with a jacket of sheer rayon georgette with rhinestone straps. Her short veil of Swiss braid with baby-blue bow matched her gown. She carried a nosegay of blue and white carnations with blue streamers to match.

Miss Beverly Hayman, cousin of the bride, wore a ballerina dress of baby-blue polyester batiste with blue puffed sleeves of lace. Her headpiece was of white baby breath flowers and band. She carried a nosegay of white and blue carnations with blue streamers.

Dana Parrott, brother of the bridegroom, was guest book receptionist.

The mother of the bride wore a champagne beige street length dress of chantilly lace over acetate taffeta with matching hat and accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

City Hall Will Move to Smith Property

The Harrington Volunteer Fire Company Wednesday night approved a plan of its Board of Directors whereby the company would buy the property of Dr. Hewitt W. Smith, with the sale to be consummated the first of the year.

Dr. Smith is in Florida but is expected to return next week.

By purchasing the property for $18,000, adjacent to the firehouse, the City of Harrington will lease the former residence of Dr. Smith, who has lived on Raughley-Hill Road since his retirement this year, from the fire company for 10 years at a rental of $600 annually, with the City to maintain the house, to be used for a City Hall, pay for alterations and assume all other responsibilities for the place.

In view of the cost of alterations, the fire company stipulated the City would not have to begin paying rent until October, 1967.

The City would use the building, as previously stated, for a city hall and would also house the police department. The jail would remain in the fire house. The fire company would also remove the garage and trees and fence in the rear of the building and the city and fire company use the space for parking.

The lot, to the south of the residence would be partly cleared and the fire company could use it for parking or expansion.

Of Local Interest

Mrs. Margaret Homewood left Philadelphia National Airport Wednesday afternoon to spend a few days with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Homewood and children, of Jacksonville, Fla.

The Merry-makers Home Demonstration Club will meet, Wed., Nov. 2 at the home of Mrs. Donald McKnatt, at 8 p.m.

FIREMEN HAVE 2 ALARMS

Firemen answered two alarms recently. An unoccupied house on the June Ross property, back of Vernon, incurred a burnt hole in the floor from a burning mattress.

A trailer, owned by George Lawrence, West Mispillion Street, was damaged $100 Tuesday morning.

Democrats Vow For Home Rule Try

Home rule powers are among the aims of the Democratic candidates for Kent County Levy Court if they are successful in the upcoming election.

The five candidates issued a statement Sunday announcing they will seek legislative approval of a county charter that would give the Kent governmental body the same sort of broad administrative authority now in force in New Castle County and in numerous municipalities in the state.

The candidates said, "It has been the experience of the members of Levy Court that each time they desire to provide additional services for the people of Kent County it is necessary for them to obtain specific legislative authorization."

As a recent example, they pointed to this year's act authorizing the counties to set up sewer and water authorities.

"Home rule" means that the legislature would grant the county a new charter with a broad general grant of power, the administrative details being left up to Levy Court.

The five Democrats running for the new five-member Levy Court are Ernest F. Council, 25th Representative District; John A. Harnett III, 26th Representative District; William C. Holden, 27th Representative District; Dr. William Spence, 28th Representative District, and J. Noble Carroll, 29th Representative District.

Holden and Spence are members of the present three-member body.

Homecoming Game And Parade Tonight

The annual homecoming game and parade by the Harrington High School will be held today with the parade beginning at 7 p.m. and the game at 8.

The homecoming queen chosen from a list of five senior girls will not be known until she is crowned at half-time ceremonies during the game between the local team and Rehoboth. The girls are Donna Calloway, Susan Fair, Bonnie Matthews, Joan Smith, and Doris Spicer.

The parade, which will start and end at the school parking lot, will consist of floats representing various home-rooms and organizations from the school, and will be led by the high school senior band.

The local police will lead the procession through the business section of town and be followed by apparatus from the local fire company.

K & S Raceway To Make Million-Dollar Improvement

The Kent and Sussex Racing Association Tuesday night laid plans for expansion and improvements to the harness track here in the amount of $1 million.

J. Gordon Smith, president of the association which operates Kent and Sussex Raceway, said after meeting with members of the Delaware Harness Racing Commission, that "plans to improve the track and grandstand are subject to the final approval of the commission."

Smith said plans for the improvement have been in progress for about two months. He said earlier plans to build a completely new track were abandoned because of the high cost involved.

Smith says he hopes the improved facility will be ready for the next racing season.

Smith said he expects the plans to be completed within four to six weeks. He said the architect for the proposed improvements is Lionel Levy of New York, architect of Roosevelt and Yonkers Raceways and other tracks in the country.

In a statement following the meeting with the commission,

Smith added: "The commission was appraised of the future plans for expansion and improvements at the Delaware Fair Grounds.

"The expenditure of $1 million would be made," he said, "to widen and make an all-weather track, build a new clubhouse, and make many general improvements to the grandstand area.

"Financing would include the sale of additional shares of the Delaware State Fair Association stock."

Smith said work to be done on the track will bring it up to United States Trotting Association standards, making it a regulation track. The present track at Harrington can carry only six horses abreast.

He said the improved grandstand will be changed to accommodate back-wall betting, the enclosure of the front and downstairs in glass and the addition of 54 feet added to the grandstand area will increase the capacity from the present 4,000 to 5 or 6,000.

The clubhouse, he said, will be constructed at the east end of the grandstand and will have a capacity of 750 people.

City Plans To Build Disposal Plant and Extend Mains

Frederica Man Fined $250 In Manslaughter

"You have suffered considerably more punishment, as a result of this accident, than I could inflict upon you," Judge George R. Wright told Franklin Reynolds Robbins, of Frederica, when he appeared in court Friday for sentence for manslaughter in the traffic death of William Masche of Milford, on June 4, to which he had pleaded guilty.

"These cases always prove troublesome for me," stated the judge, "since they happen without any criminal intent upon the part of the person involved in them." He then placed a $250 fine on Robbins.

In other cases before the court Melvin Days of Harrington, charged with receiving liquor stolen from the Moose Home in Harrington on July 27 was fined $100, given a year's suspended sentence and placed on probation for two years.

Thomas Donahue Dodd, Jr., 21, of Sudlersville charged with breaking and entering at Townsend Brothers, Dover, on July 13, and Carroll's Market, Dover on July 13, was given four months in jail from Aug. 10.

Charles Herbert Hutchins, 18, near Dover, and Raymond Lee Vanderwater, also 18, near Dover, charged with breaking and entering at Spence's Bazaar on June 24, were given a year in jail, with the final eight months to be suspended for which period they were placed on probation with each man to procure employment within 60 days of the start of the period of probation. Sentences on grand larceny charges against both men were deferred.

Ernest Nathaniel Watson, was charged with breaking and entering at The Hub Restaurant on July 14, was given 10 months in jail.

Harrington voters will vote on a bond issue tomorrow to improve the sanitary-system. Voting time will be at the City Hall from 1 p. m. to 8 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The bonds are to provide funds for the extension and enlargement of the sewer system maintained and operated by the City for furnishing of sanitary sewers and sewage treatment by extension of service sewers, interceptor sewers, together with pumping stations and force mains to be connected where necessary. The construction of a new sewage treatment plant, including the acquisition and installation of equipment, machinery, and apparatus necessary therefor.

At the special election tomorrow, every person who had a right to vote at the next preceding annual election shall have one vote for every dollar and fractional part of a dollar of tax paid by him during the year preceding the election.

The bond issue will be for $500,000 which amount will be paid from an increase in sewer usage fee and not from an increase in taxes, as has been rumored. Total cost of the plant and improvements is approximately $950,000, with the additional cost to come from state and federal grants.

The present sanitary-sewer system, installed in 1935, is operating at capacity and is not adequate to handle additional installations.

Scheduled for tapping into the new sewer system are seven local areas which have been able to benefit from the extension of water mains last year.

Considerable pressure has been applied to the City for several years by the Water Pollution Commission, now called the Water and Air Resources Commission, for improvements to the sewer system. Part of this pressure originated from cesspools flowing into ditches and part from the output of the sewage disposal plant into a tributary of Brown's Branch.

The state authorities have not been as harsh as they could have been because they have seen the City was attempting to do something about the problem.

These solutions included improved drainage, an improved water system and, more recently, a renovated sewage-disposal plant which is expected to handle the problem until a new plant gets under way.

City officials, the City's engineering associates have emphasized the presently improved plant is only temporary.

WED. IS APPRECIATION NIGHT AT KENT - SUSSEX RACEWAY

Next Wednesday (Nov. 2) has been designated as Appreciation Night by officials at Kent and Sussex Raceway, the Harrington harness track that is scheduled to wind up a 40-night fall meeting on Nov. 5.

Patrons will be admitted to the grounds and grandstand without charge on appreciation night and will be eligible for the 1967 Buick automobile that will be given away to some lucky ticket-holder.

Tickets on the auto prize are being distributed nightly to patrons as they enter the grandstand area. They are requested to fill in the necessary data and deposit the tickets in the boxes provided, retaining the stub half for the Nov. 2 drawing. You must be present for the Wednesday night program to win.

A gala ten-race program will be offered on Appreciation Night, with the Cloverleaf Standardbred Owners Association Trophy going to the victor of the featured seventh race. All ten events on the card will be trophy races.

A select field will go postward each of the remaining nine nights of the meet. The Brown Fox Trophy will be spotlighted as tonight's (Thursday) feature, the Swain's Hotel Trophy Friday night, and the Jacob B. Rudnick Memorial Trophy on Saturday. Turns his attention to the side-wheeling set next Monday night when he visits to see the victor when he visits to see the victor of The Governor's Pace, a headline even that promises to bring together the top competitors on the grounds.

A real donnybrook is taking shape for driving honors as the 1966 meeting heads for the wire. Guy Lockerman Jr., of Middletown, is setting a torrid pace in the Universal Ratings System standings with a 497 percentage. He counts ten wins, ten seconds and seven thirds in 36 trips to the post. He's being hard-pressed by Eddie Davis, who shows 10-10-9 figures in 45 starts.

J. D. Dennis, of Harrington and Harold (Buck) Gray of Bishop, Md., are locked in a deadheat for most wins with 17. Elton White of Pittsville, Md., is challenging with 14.

Tickets on the auto prize are being distributed nightly to patrons as they enter the grandstand area. They are requested to fill in the necessary data and deposit the tickets in the boxes provided, retaining the stub half for the Nov. 2 drawing. Dover Choral Society Rehearsals Underway

The Dover Choral Society is once again preparing for its December presentation of Handel's "Messiah", conducted by Carl Miller, of Seaford.

The chorus, which is composed of people bound by a mutual interest in music, meets on Tuesday nights, at 7:30 p.m., in the Presbyterian Church on State Street in Dover. Although rehearsals are underway, openings are still available, especially in the tenor section. Anyone wishing to join the chorus is asked to attend Tuesday evening.

It is hoped that the soloists for this year's production will be from the downstate area. Auditions for soloists have been scheduled at 3 p.m. on Oct. 30, in the Grace Fellowship Hall, of Wesley Church, located on Lookerman Street, Dover. Those auditioning are requested to use selections from "The Messiah". All interested persons are urged to attend this single rehearsal.

Felton Man Hurt In Traffic Mishap

Grady Smith, 21, of near Felton, was driving east on County Rt. 380, at 7:55 p. m. Friday 2.4 miles west of Frederica when his car went out of control while rounding a curve, went down an embankment, and struck a tree.

Smith, driving alone, suffered some face lacerations, but refused medical treatment. State police charged him with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, of which he was found guilty in Magistrate's Court at Milford, Saturday.

A fine of $200 plus costs was imposed in his case. In default of payment, he was sent to jail for 60 days.

Emergency Telephone Repair Program

An expanded program to provide emergency telephone repair service at night and on holidays and weekends was announced by the Diamond State Telephone Company.

"This program to improve customer service is based on the concept that 'if it's an emergency for you, it's an emergency to us,'" said H. B. Short.

"Three of the other 19 Bell System companies have inaugurated such programs recently," he added. "We have studied their problems and solutions so our additional new service can operate smoothly even in its initial stages."

"We have trained sufficient personnel to handle emergency repair calls. They will discuss with the caller the nature of the problem, the need for repairs, and will provide prompt action." This service is being provided at no extra cost to the customer.

Night, weekend and holiday telephone repairs are all in a day's work.

When your telephone doesn't work, it seems like a calamity. Especially at night. Or on a weekend. But if it's an emergency for you, it's an emergency to us. So here's what to do: Just get to another phone and dial our Repair Service number. It's in the Pink Pages of your telephone book. Simple as that. Fixing your phone, anytime, is all in a day's work for us. And there's no extra charge. But if it's late at night, please give us an extra bit of time to get to your place. Our man may have to slip on his working clothes.

Del. FFA Members Win Nat'l Awards

Two Delaware Future Farmers of America chapter members and a Delaware FFA chapter received awards at the 39th annual national convention of FFA at Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 12-14.

Donald Kling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Kling, Dover, won a silver emblem for livestock judging and Bart Shetzler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Shetzler, Townsend, earned a bronze emblem for meats judging.

Greenwood FFA chapter was awarded a bronze emblem chapter award at the national meeting. The club president, Larry Larrimore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewese Moore, Greenwood, accepted the honor for his chapter.

Eleven FFA members from Delaware attended the convention. State FFA Association president, Arba L. Henry, Laurel, and state secretary, C. Fred Stites, Dover, were the official delegates, with Edward Davis, Newark, as alternate.

The delegation was accompanied by Fred Myer, state supervisor of agricultural education, and Neil Warrington, instructor of agricultural education at the University of Delaware.

Nearly 13,000 FFA members attended the national convention, representing 10,000 chapters in the United States and 14 other countries.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

Calendar for Oct. 28 to Nov. 3

Tonight and Saturday night—7 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. Work at food concessions.

SUNDAY—8 a.m. Holy Communion 9:30 a.m. Church school. 9:30 a.m. Senior Episcopal Young Churchmen.

10:45 a.m. Holy Communion, children's sermonette, adults' sermon.

12 noon, Coffee hour. 5 p.m. Vicar celebrates Holy Communion at St. Martin's Selbyville.

SUNDAY—8:30 p.m. Episcopal Series, Parish of the Air, Bishop Hines on WAMS, Wilmington.

MONDAY—7:30 p.m. Choir rehearsal.

TUESDAY—10 a.m. and 7 p.m. All Saint's celebration of Holy Communion.

WEDNESDAY—7:30 p.m. Healing service.

FRIDAY—7-10 p.m. Intermediate Episcopal Young Churchmen party in lounge.

MONDAY through FRIDAY—7 to 11:30 p.m. Work at food concessions.

On Tues., Nov. 1, All Saint's Day, there will be two services here at St. Stephen's at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. respectively.

Blanks will be found on the table in the rear of the church on which everyone should give the names of departed loved ones for whom they wish prayers offered during this traditional service.

It will be noticed that the vicar is to celebrate Holy Communion in Selbyville this Sunday. As there is now no priest at St. Martin's in the Field, the vicar feels justified in cancelling the Intermediate Episcopal Young Churchmen Sunday and he and his family will enjoy a covered dish dinner at that church at 5 p.m.

St. Stephen's should be proud of our Episcopal Young Churchmen. They have conducted the Saturday night canteen in a splendid way with the help of their advisor, Mrs. Edward P. Bakley. This group meets at 9:30 each Sunday morning.

After a short business meeting they are led by their leader in a serious discussion concerning issues that matter to youth of today. This past Sunday they decided to adopt a Korean orphan boy and will send money for his support each month hereafter. Also Sue Perry and Wayne Horner were selected as delegates to attend the senior high conference of Episcopal youth which will be at Camp Arrowhead the weekend of November 26.

The vestry takes pleasure in calling attention to the congregation of the "new look" at St. Stephen's. For the past two weeks painters have been employed to paint all of the trim and the steeple of the church and repairs have been working on the roof of the vestibule and kitchen of the church.

Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Fred B. Greenly, co-hostesses of Mrs. Greenly were Mrs. George Mahoney and Mrs. Horace Johnson.

Mrs. William Davis, of Houston, entertained several from here, Monday evening, at cards.

The Dover Camp of Gideons, of International, held their monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dill, Monday evening. Mr. Dill attended the Delmarde Gideon Convention held in Washington, D. C., over the past weekend.

Mrs. Wallace Bull and daughters, of Hollywood, Va., were Sunday breakfast guests of Mrs. F. R. Bull, enroute to Longwood Gardens.

1966 Commodity Diverted Acres May Be Grazed November 1

Farmers who diverted acreage under the 1966 feed grain and wheat programs may graze this acreage without losing program benefits, Olin Gooden, Chairman, Kent ASC County Committee has announced.

November 1st is the starting date for such grazing marking the end of the six month period during which the no-grazing provision was in effect under the diversion programs.

The chairman stressed, however, that this program relaxation regarding use of the acreage applies only to grazing the acres diverted from commodity production. Hay on such acreages still may not be harvested.

Land diverted under the Conservation Reserve Program or Cropland Adjustment, may not be grazed or harvested through the whole year.

Kent County farms participating in the 1966 commodity diversion programs number about 400.

VOTE 'YES' IN THE SEWER REFERENDUM TOMORROW

We say vote 'yes' in tomorrow's referendum to float a bond issue for improvements to the sanitary-sewer system. Here's why:

1. If this referendum doesn't pass, the state will force us to continue referenda until one does pass.
 2. Financing of the City's $500,000 portion of the bonds for the expense will come from an increased sewer-usage fee, not from increased taxes as has been rumored.
 3. Part of the sewer improvements will be a new disposal plant. It will use less chlorine, thus saving the citizens money. The daily chlorine cost has been around $34, not to mention the annoyance of servicing it.
 4. The sooner the referendum passes, the sooner the City will have the benefit of the improvements.
 5. An improved sewer system will come to the attention of industries looking for sites. These businesses do not have to come here to find out: they can sit in their ivory towers in the cities and study reports which will give them almost all they want to know about any community.
 6. If the passage of a referendum is postponed, rest assured you will have to pay more when one does pass in these inflationary times.
 7. We are assured we can get outside grants to aid this referendum. We have no assurance we can get state or federal grants in future years. If we cannot, the citizens will have to pay an even greater price.
- You can get one vote for each dollar, or fraction of a dollar, paid in taxes. If you do not vote 'yes' tomorrow, you will be sorry because your pocketbook will be hit harder later and that's where it hurts.

"A Letter In The Mail, And Of Course—It Was From 'Cale' "

By W. C. Burgess

"The Elephant Writes to the Donkey."
 An answer to last week's article: "Man, I need votes." While sitting in the governor's office one day—many years ago—I was talking to Cale and he said, "stay just like you are." "How can a man change anyway?"
 If you lie to yourself — you are a phony." "You can't do it anyway, no matter how hard you try."
 "Amen!" "I help those who try to help me; and sometimes I get hooked. So, that is the way the ball rolls, and the apple bakes."

 W. C. Burgess, Harrington Journal, Harrington, Del. Dear "Lonesome Me":
 You were wonderful to write that very interesting article about our associations and experiences together. I have cut it out and will treasure it. I hope to get down your way and see you soon.
 With highest personal regards, and many thanks for your friendship and kindness, I am,
 Sincerely,

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller
 ALL-HALLOWE'EN

All Hallowe'en of youthful dreams,
 When older children in their teens,
 Would "clown" down and off to parties go,
 And log fires in the grates would glow.

To listen to the stories told,
 Of ghosts and goblins of old,
 To picture in the embers red,
 Castles where the fairies wed.

When goblins with gaunt faces long,
 Chased witches out across the lawn,
 And large black cats with gleaming eyes,
 Chased wicked bats from out the skies.

When pumpkin heads came from the barn,
 With grinning faces lacking charm,
 And tombstones sowed to take on shapes,
 And dances around like grinning apes.

And when at last it came bedtime,
 And up the creaking stairs I'd climb,
 To dream of ghosts and witches' screams,
 All-Hallowe'en of youthful dreams.

Them was the good old days that led to:
 "Pathways of Yesterday"

While it's just in dreams of wander,
 And in childhood's days of ponder,
 Still it makes my days seem brighter,
 To go over pathways old.

So that's why I dream them over
 And trip through fields of clover,
 Back in Pennsylvania mountains,
 Where the sunlight falls like gold.

Dear Cliff: "Railroad Man"—"Did they ever hold Wednesday's train up until Thursday?"

ONE BLAST UPON HIS BUGLE WAS WORTH A THOUSAND MEN — Clarence Cohee, of Harrington, bugler at Deming, N. M., in 1916 when General John J. Pershing was chasing the Mexican bandit, Villa. Cohee, who also served in France, recently commented on the number of snakes in New Mexico.

FENCE TALK

By George K. Vapaa

Can plants have a social life? A French professor, Dr. J. Braun-Blanquet wrote a book on Plant Sociology, or the study of plant communities.

The idea had never once occurred to me until I saw an English translation of this milestone effort to our knowledge of vegetation. For surprisingly enough, plants do indeed have a great deal of social life.

Soils, light, weather, water and wind are blended to determine the types of plants we have. Think for a minute. Sandy soils and clay soils support very different kinds of plants in nature. I've seen the lush growth of ordinary garden plants such as cabbages or begonias in Scandinavian countries as compared to Delaware. Temperature, tropical and arctic climates all support different groups of plants. Look at your marsh plants as compared to mountain pastures.

Walk out to your farm woodlot. You will see lots of oak, gum, poplar, with undergrowth of sassafras, dogwood and holly. Out on the edge of the woods you will find sumac, blackberry bushes and some ground covers. Walk over to that odd shaped corner of old pasture. You will probably see a great deal of sedge mixed in with the native blue grasses.

It seems obvious that if you have a crop cultural problem, try to find the answer elsewhere in the world where the conditions persist. Drouth for example. We breed in resistance by crossing adapted varieties. Or we adopt a crop like zoysia for lawns, or sudan grass for pasture.

Our thanks to Monsieur Braun-Blanquet for his scholarly work.

Nominations may be made for a new supervisor to serve with the Kent County Soil and Water Conservation District. The four year term will start January 1, 1967, with the annual election to be held in December. Specific times and the date for the election will be announced by the District supervisors after nominations have been received.

An interested farmer landowner who desires to be a candidate for election to the Board may be nominated by ten or more landowners of the county.

Requirements that candidates must meet are as follows:

1. Be a Kent County farmer landowner.
2. Receive the written endorsement or petition of ten other landowners who live in the county and present this endorsement to the Kent County Soil and Water Conservation District office, in the State Board of Agriculture south of Dover by November 10.
3. The candidate must reside in the southwest portion of Kent County. The old 6th and 9th representative districts make up the specific area.

C. Arthur Taylor, of Harrington, the outgoing supervisor, has announced with regret that he will not file for re-election. He has served continually since 1943 as supervisor, much of the time as chairman of the Board.

The supervisors have offered the name of Merritt Camper of Harrington as one of the nominees.

If you want to be sure about the warmth and glow of your fireplace this winter, here are some suggestions about the heating value of different species of wood. Austin Lenz, Extension Forester, Rutgers University, prepared the list.

Best: white oak, apple, black birch, blue beech, dogwood, hickory, and black locust.

Good: white ash, beech, red oak, yellow poplar, sugar maple and black walnut.

Fair: white birch, black cherry, elm, sycamore, gum, soft maple and red pine.

Poor: aspen, basswood, willow, white pine and spruce.

Read Contracts Before You Sign

Know what you're signing — read and understand credit contracts before you sign on the dotted line.

This advice was emphasized in a series of meetings, sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service at the University of Delaware, for professional workers who guide low-income families. However, the advice applies to everyone, according to Miss Coral K. Morris, extension home management specialist at the University.

When you sign a contract, you agree to the conditions it lists. If you don't understand what you're agreeing to, you may be in for an unpleasant surprise. Read the entire contract and don't skim over the fine print. In fact, the finer the print, the more curious you should be to understand every word.

Never sign blank contract, Miss Morris warns. If you do, you're asking to be cheated.

Every contract should contain the total charges and a listing of the cash price, insurance charges, if any, and credit and other charges. It should also list the down payment, your credit for a trade-in or special allowance and the unpaid balance. Of course, you will also want to know the terms for payment.

Your rights and the creditor's rights should be clearly spelled out in the contract, Miss Morris points out. This includes when you will get title to the goods; generally title remains with the seller until the goods are paid for in full. Any conditions under which you may dispose of the good should be given. Will you receive a refund in credit charges if you pay for the goods in a shorter time than the contract requires?

No one expects to be unable to make the payments, but it does happen. Be sure you know what the contract says about penalties for non-payment. Will the goods be taken back? Must you pay the return charges? Some contracts state that you forfeit all payments already made; you may even be still responsible for the unpaid balance although the goods have been re-possessed.

Find out whether a co-signer will be liable for payments if you are unable to make them, advises Miss Morris. Could your property or that of the co-signer be sold to pay toward the obligation?

A wage assignment clause permits an employer to hold out a portion of your salary to pay installment debts. Many times, however, an employer will dismiss an employee before he will act as a bill collector.

An add-on clause in the contract will allow you to add another purchase onto the contract before payments on the first purchase are completed. If you cannot complete payments on the second purchase, often both items can still be re-possessed even though you have paid enough to buy the first.

Don't sign a contract with a so-called "balloon clause", Miss Morris cautions. A balloon contract clause requires a small monthly payment during the early months of the contract with a large final payment. The installment payments pay off only a part of the amount due and a lump sum is necessary to complete the contract. If you're unable to save enough to meet the large final payment, you'll lose your purchase.

Any oral agreements the seller may make should be written into the contract, with his signature added.

Be sure to ask questions before you sign, Miss Morris advises. It's too late after you've signed.

Century Club Holds Luncheon

The fall covered-dish luncheon for members and prospective members of the Harrington New Century Club on Tuesday afternoon was greatly enjoyed amid a setting of autumn flowers beautifully arranged by the decorating committee, and a table literally groaning with delicious food of great variety. The president, Mrs. James D. Moore, led in the salute to the flag and the club collect was read in unison; Mrs. Fulton J. Downing asked the blessing. Mrs. Moore announced an invitation from the Round Table Club of Wyoming and Camden to this club to attend a reciprocity tea on Friday afternoon, Nov. 4. All members desiring to attend will please contact Mrs. Moore before this

Friday, Oct. 23.

Mrs. Samuel Williams was in charge of the program and presented Mrs. Arnold Gilstad and Mrs. William Shaw who sang two beautiful numbers with Mrs. Ernest Raughley at the piano. Then Mrs. Williams introduced the guest of honor, Mrs. Jonathan S. Willis, of Milford, the immediate past president of the Delaware State Federation of Women's Club. In her own inimitable way Mrs. Willis spoke of the work of women's clubs and how they have grown since their origin in 1868. She related several interesting experiences of her own administration during 1964-66. Mrs. Willis has a charming style-often adding bits of humor which hold the interest and attention of her audience and at the same time driving home the point she is making.

The next meeting of the club will be on Tuesday, Nov. 8, at the regular hour—2 p.m. The subject of the program will be "Education" and will be in charge of Mrs. William G. Stokes and her committee is Mrs. Ernest W. Dean, Mrs. Wallace Hanson, Mrs. Charles Peck, Mrs. Quay D. Rice, Mrs. William W. Sharp and Mrs. T. H. Storus.

St. Bernadette's Church Notes

Sunday is the feast of our Lord Jesus Christ the King. The gospel for that day is that of John, Chapter 18, verses 33-37.

The Harvest Dance will be held Saturday evening at the parish hall. The Art Mann Quartet of Wilmington will provide the music. Dancing will be from 9 to 11.

The annual Halloween party will be held Sunday evening at 6 p.m. Prizes will be given in several categories to the best masquerades. Refreshments will be provided by the parents as usual.

There will be no C.C.D. classes this week because of the Halloween party.

The spaghetti supper will be held next Saturday, Nov. 5 at the parish hall. Serving from 4 to 8. Take out dinners from 3:30 to 5. A limited amount of tickets are on sale.

ASC Community Election Nears

The approaching election of ASC community committees for farm program administration in Kent County was announced today by Olin Gooden, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee.

The community committees assist the ASC county committee in administering the price support, acreage diversion, agricultural conservation, and other farm-action programs in the county; they are particularly responsible for keeping their neighbors informed about the programs. The county committee supervises various programs.

Voting will be by mail, one chairman explained, and ballots are being sent to each known eligible voter. In case eligible voters fail to receive a ballot through the mail contact the county office at Dover before November 1. Generally, a farm owner, tenant, or sharecropper is eligible to vote if he is eligible to take part in one or more of the programs administered by the ASC committees. Eligibility to vote or to hold office as a committeeman is not restricted by reason of race, color, creed, or national origin.

Envelopes containing marked ballots may be mailed or returned to the Kent ASC County Office anytime by November 1. Ballots will be tabulated publicly by the county committee. The public is invited to witness the vote counting on Fri., Nov. 4 beginning at 8 a.m., at the county office.

Following are the slates of nominees for ASC county committees: Community 1: E. T. Horsey, H. Lloyd Jones, Clarence T. Scuse, Jr., A. Gene Short, Robert B. Slaughter, W. Smithers Snow, Jr., George E. Wilson, Jr., all of Smyrna; Community 2: Melvin L. Brown, Henry F. Carey II, Charles C. Dempsey, Millard Dixon, John T. Moor, Joseph P. Moore, all of Dover; Community 3: Frank B. Cole, Donald R. University.
The first in a series of meetings during the fall and winter on swine management, the event is sponsored by Delaware Swine Producers Association in cooperation with Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.
Speakers on the program will include Dr. Raymond Smith, chairman of the department of agricultural economics at the University, discussing "Computer Techniques of Least-Cost Rations" and H. Don Tilton, graduate assistant in the same department, talking about "A Closer Look at Delaware Swine Industry". Bill Henderson, Sussex County agricultural agent, will speak on swine promotion possibilities on Delmarva.
Morrow will moderate a panel discussion on herd health programs. Panel members include Lester J. Lichtenberger, Worton, Md., speaking on internal parasite control; John Curtis, Harrington, discussing swine vaccination program, and Charles Mills, Lewes, speaking on respiratory diseases, scours and nutritional disorders.
Reservations are not necessary to attend the session. Some programs will be mailed; however additional programs are available from Bill Henderson, University Substation, Georgetown.

Menonite Church News

We wish God's blessing on Pauline and Alvin Beachy, who left on Tuesday to begin voluntary service with the unit at the Center for Education, Health and Research.

We shall miss them in various areas of community service, including the school cafeteria, but we are glad they are willing to answer the call of the C. M. Mission Board to be house parents. Address: Kentuckiana, P. O. Box 16039, Louisville, Ky.

Jean Miller is assuming responsibility for the school cafeteria in place of Pauline Beachy.

Our revivals are in progress this week. Saturday and Sunday we will have emphasis meetings about I-W. The evangelist is Harry Shetler, Davidsville, Pa.

Cafeteria Menu - Oct. 31-Nov. 4 MONDAY—Milk, witches' beef stew, buttered corn, buttered lima beans, yeast rolls and butter, fresh fruit or bread pudding.

TUESDAY — Milk, barbecue beef sandwich, pickle chips, French fries, buttered string beans, celery sticks, fruit or gingerbread.

WEDNESDAY — Milk, turkey pie with crust, buttered peas, orange juice, angel biscuits and butter, fruit or vanilla pudding.

THURSDAY — milk, meat loaf, mashed potatoes and gravy, cole slaw, angel biscuits and butter, fruit or peaches.

FRIDA Y— Milk, clam chowder or tomato soup, grilled cheese sandwich, pineapple salad, fruit or cookies.

Sympathy of the community is extended to the family of Mrs. Lulu Zott, 77, who passed away in the Easton Memorial Hospital after a long illness. She was a lifetime resident of Greenwood, a member of Todd's Chapel Methodist Church.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bowden, formerly of Greenwood, on the birth of their second child, a son, Gerald Burton Bowden, II, on Oct. 9. The little boy weighed 7 lbs., 2 ozs. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Burton Bowden.

Little Miss Cindy Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Davis, was a luncheon guest of Miss Hilary Keith this past week. Hilary returned home with her for the afternoon and dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Medford Calhoun, Mrs. Doris Hudson and Mrs. Cora Calhoun attended a birthday dinner given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin West of Laurel on Thursday. The dinner was in honor of Mrs. Calhoun's sister, Mrs. Sallie Truitt, of Georgetown and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Benjamin West. There were 22 guests present.

The Kiwanis Club of Greenwood entertained their ladies at a dinner at the high school cafeteria on Thursday evening in honor of their 20th anniversary. The speaker was Robert Wheatley whose subject was a Biblical one, entitled, "A Hole in the Dark". A barbershop quartet, composed of performers from Bridgeville, Harrington, Seaford and Salisbury, entertained.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

Church school at Trinity Methodist Church is scheduled, this Sunday, for 10 a.m. Manlove Bradley, superintendent, will be in charge. A Halloween party for the children's department will be held in the church basement, this Saturday, at 1:30 p.m.

Morning worship at 11 o'clock will be conducted by the pastor, the Rev. William J. Garrett. The sermon topic, as announced by Mr. Garrett, is "Discontentment Versus Satisfaction". The organist, Professor Melvin Brobst, will play "Fugato on Crusader's Hymn" by Young as the prelude and "Hymn to Joy" by Beethoven as the postlude music.

The Senior Choir anthem is "How Wonderful is Thy Name" by Von Berge. There will also be a special selection by the Junior Choir. The altar flowers are to be presented by Mrs. Edgar Hill and family in memory of husband and father. A nursery is provided for the small children during the hour of worship.

The MYF will meet on Sunday evening at 6:30 p.m. A call to prayer and self denial will be held on Sunday at 7:30 p.m. The service is in cooperation of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

The Woman's Society will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Ernest Raughley, president, will preside at the business session; Mrs. Richard Shultie is in charge of the program, which will center on Thanksgiving.

The choir will rehearse on Thursday, as follows: Junior Choir, Thursday, 6:30 p.m.; Senior Choir, Thursday, 8 p.m.

Members of the congregation are invited to attend the Christian Ashram for the Dover Area on November 6 and 7, at Wesley Church, Dover.

Publication Lists Shrubs, Trees For Delaware

Plants can put beauty and comfort into a bare plot of ground. But the plantings must be well-planned.

Plan before you plant is the key to landscaping home grounds, according to Robert F. Stevens, extension horticulturist at the University of Delaware.

Look at your property and decide what you want a particular planting to do. Whether it provides shade for the patio, ground cover for a steep bank or screens the trash can, every plant should be planted for a reason.

Plants come in all sizes, shapes, textures and colors. Select those that best suit the reason for planting, the authors advise.

Plants have requirements of their own; they differ in the soil and climate in which they grow best.

Some plants are quite tolerant and adaptable, while others are very demanding. For instance, a shrub may thrive on a hot, dry, sunny bank but do poorly or even die in a low, shady, poorly-drained location.

Whatever you need to suit your landscaping and your soil, you will probably have many plants to choose from, Stevens says.

Plants with outstanding flowers, ornamental fruit, bark or twigs and unusual foliage are also listed. Over 150 species of trees, shrubs and woody vines are described and their growth requirements given.

Copies of the booklet are available from the Mailing Room, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark, Del. 19711.

Horticultural Society Schedules Annual Meeting

The 80th annual meeting of the Peninsula Horticultural Society is scheduled for December 13 and 14 at Centenary Church, Laurel, according to Robert F. Stevens, extension horticulturist at the University of Delaware and secretary of the society.

The program will feature reports on sub-irrigation, mechanical harvesting and labor problems and special sessions on research results in the production of fruits and vegetables.

More than 500 society members, including farmers, processors, commercial company representatives and staff members of the University of Delaware, University of Maryland and the Virginia Truck Experiment Station are expected to attend the annual meeting.

Veteran's News

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—I am a female veteran and was denied disability pension benefits in Jan., 1964, due to excessive income because my husband's wages were $5200 per year.

A—Yes. Effective Jan. 1, 1965, the spouse's income if consisting of wages only, is not considered as the veteran's income.

Q—Two years ago, I surrendered my right to monthly service-connected compensation payments in order that I might receive a greater monthly payment of disability pension for nonservice-connected disabilities.

A—The VA did not consider your election to receive pension as a "surrender" of your right to compensation payments. You may again receive compensation payments effective as of the day following termination of nonservice pension payments to you.

Q—My service-connected disability of emphysema is rated at 60 per cent. I have been unable to work since 1959 because of this disability. How can I reopen my claim.

A—You should submit evidence of your unemployability. Veterans who are rated at least 60 per cent disabled for one disability may be increased to 100 per cent based on individual unemployability if the service-connected disability causes the unemployability.

Q—I have a service-connected disability presently rated as 100 per cent. Are my children entitled to benefits under the War Orphans Educational Assistance Act?

A—Sons and daughters of living veterans with service-connected disabilities rated permanent and total in nature are entitled to Educational Assistance under the War Orphans program.

Q—Will you please tell me if the 10 per cent deductible from the income of a nonservice-connected veteran is only for Social Security benefits, or does it include local, state and railroad benefits or pensions also?

A—Report the full amount of Social Security and pensions to the Veterans Administration and the VA will then make the 10 per cent allowance in Social Security payments of pension payments, such as state and railroad retirement benefits.

Q—I am 77 years old and receiving $59 a month from Social Security pension with no other income of any kind. I lost a son in France, July 16, 1944. Could you please inform me as to whether I am eligible for a pension from the VA or not? If so, who do I contact?

A—You should contact the VA Regional Office, for an application to file for dependency and indemnity compensation as the dependent parent of a serviceman killed in action.

with Eleanor K. Vosnell

In your house perhaps only the man is the money-earner. Maybe both of you have earnings. No matter. Both of you share in the spending of daily money. If there are children old enough to take part in family decisions they share too.

What are you looking for? In marriage, in life, in yourself? The things you want out of life don't just "come your way". You usually have to plan and work to get them. You have to think ahead.

Almost every family does some type of financial planning. "If we ever get this car paid off, I'd sure like to get a new vacuum cleaner," says Mom. That's no elaborate plan with stacks of forms, but it does show thought as to how far the family income will go and what comes first.

No doubt about it, money is to be spent—either for the present or the future. To get the most from your financial resources keep these thoughts in mind:

1. Regulate your spending so it helps rather than hinders you in realizing the values of your marriage. The goals of your marriage might include a plan to move to another town and establish a business of your own three years from now. In that case, you would most likely invest as little as possible in your present housing and save as much as you could to support your future plan.

2. Your income should be the basis for all financial planning. Dreams are dangerous when they have no foundation of fact. Take a look at the money you can count on coming in during the year, and make your plans on that basis.

3. Change your financial plans as your family situation changes. If there is a substantial increase in your income, change the plan so your family can benefit accordingly. You have to be ready to make adjustments for a fast

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS

MANNER OF VOTING

When a voter presents himself for the purpose of voting, the election officer shall ascertain whether his name is upon the register of voters, and if his name appears thereon and is not challenged or a challenge be decided in his favor, one of the election officers to be stationed at the entrance of the voting machine shall announce the name of the voter and permit him to pass through the entrance to the booth of the voting machine for the purpose of casting his vote. Each judge shall then stamp or write the word "VOTED" in the column opposite the name of the voter in the Books of Registered Voters in his possession. No voter shall remain in the voting machine booth longer than three minutes, unless for good and sufficient reason he be granted a longer period of time by the election officers in charge. When the voter has cast his vote the voter shall at once leave the room. If he refuses to leave after a reasonable period he shall be removed by the election officers. No voter after having entered and emerged from the voting machine booth shall be permitted to re-enter the same on any pretext whatever. Only one voter at a time shall be permitted to enter the voting machine booth. Added 49 Del. Laws, Ch. 18, § 1, eff. Mar. 20, 1953.

INSTRUCTING VOTERS ON ELECTION DAY

Any voter requesting instruction shall be given such instruction by an election officer with reference to the sample ballots posted in the polling place.

In case any voter, after entering the voting machine booth, shall ask for further instructions concerning the manner of voting, two election officers of opposite political parties shall give such instructions to him; but no person assisting a voter shall in any manner seek to influence his vote. After giving instructions and before such voter shall have registered his vote, the persons assisting him shall retire and such voter shall then register his vote in secret. Added 49 Del. Laws, Ch. 18 § 1, eff. Mar. 20, 1953.

DETERMINATION OF RESIDENCE OF VOTER

In all questions of residence arising under the provisions of Article V of the Constitution of this State, if any person, having resided within this State, actually removes to another place out of this State, with an intention of remaining there for an indefinite time, as a place of present domicile, he shall lose his qualifications of residence within this State, notwithstanding he may entertain a floating intention to return at some future period. The same principle shall be applied to removals from one place to another within this State.

ASSISTANCE TO BLIND OR PHYSICALLY DISABLED VOTERS

Any person who shall be physically unable to operate the voting machine by reason of defective eyesight, or the loss of use of one or both hands, or inability to walk with safety without assistance, as manifestly renders him or her unable to operate the voting machine, or to reach the polling place alone with safety, shall be permitted to bring with him or her into the election room and booth any elector or two electors, if the nature of the disability to walk to the polling district for the purpose of rendering the necessary assistance to vote. No voter shall receive any other assistance in voting than that permitted by this section.

NUMBER OF PERSONS PERMITTED IN BOOTH AND VOTING ROOM; CONVERSATION IN ELECTION ROOM

Not more than one person shall be permitted to occupy any voting booth at one time. No person shall remain in or occupy a voting booth longer than may be necessary to prepare his ballot and in no event longer than three minutes. No more than one person for each booth in the room, other than the election officers, shall be permitted to enter or be in the election room at any one time, except as in this chapter provided. No voter or person offering to vote shall hold any conversation or communicate with any other person than an election officer while in the election room, except as in this chapter provided.

No election officer, challenger or any other person within the polling place, during the election or counting of ballots, shall electioneer or engage in any political discussion.

CHALLENGERS; APPOINTMENT AND POWERS

Each of the political parties, acting through their respective county committees, may appoint and credit some suitable person as a challenger to stand without the door or entrance of the room in which the election is to be held, and by the side of the passage. If any political party fails to appoint a challenger, the Inspector and Judges shall make such appointment. The challengers shall be changed and their places filled in like manner during the day. The challengers shall be protected in the discharge of their duty by the election officers. The challengers, chosen for any general or special election, shall be peace officers of this State and shall have the same powers for preserving the peace as election officers have.

PERSONS PERMITTED TO STAND WITHIN 30 FEET OF ENTRANCE

One challenger designated by each political party shall be entitled to stand at the side of the passage and near the entrance to the room. No other person shall remain within 30 feet of the entrance except as provided in this chapter.

REMOVAL OR DESTRUCTION OF ELECTION SUPPLIES OR EQUIPMENT OR VOTING MACHINE

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton

Food prices go up and down for many reasons—some physical, such as weather, some economic, such as labor cost, some because of merchandising practices. Here briefly is more about why food prices do fluctuate month by month, week by week, and even day by day.

It goes without saying that the farmer, big or small, is still at the mercy of the elements. A long drought, a sudden freeze, a pelting hail storm, and an entire lettuce, orange, corn or other crop can be badly damaged or even lost. Too often, labor shortages cause the same effect as a severe storm—total loss of crops. Thus, due to things beyond his control, a smaller supply is created which in turn means higher prices.

Today we can buy more foods year around at year around prices than ever before, thanks to canned, frozen, and dehydrated foods. But fresh foods cannot be sold at a year around price. Why? Because so few parts of the country are warm enough to grow crops year around. Therefore, it stands to reason that these fresh foods are more plentiful and less expensive during their natural harvesting season. Thus prices are higher in January and February than they are in July and August. Right now is the time to enjoy apples, grapes, pears, and raisins—all are plentiful and prices are reasonable.

Each month a list is released by the U.S.D.A. giving the names of foods that will be plentiful during the month. Check these foods and watch their prices for good buys.

All foods in the United States have to be transported at one point or another, whether it's from the farm to processor to grocer to consumer, or from farmer to consumer, etc. Thus prices change at the consumer level according to distance traveled, labor cost involved, and equipment used.

The American consumer has and often uses his veto power over the food industry. If he doesn't like and won't buy a product it may vanish from the market or be reduced in price. For example, Red Kettle Soup Mixes and salad flavored gelatin mixes have been discontinued. Though production of butter is substantially below a year ago, prices in the last few weeks have been reduced as much as 14¢ on and end at the school parking to these recent high prices (at one point butter was the highest it's been in fourteen years) has helped to make this reduction.

Last but certainly not least, food prices vary because of our American way of life. Like the rest of us, the five million Americans who work in the food industry want a better life—larger homes, better vacations, shorter hours, (something the farmer would love but rarely gets) etc. So from time to time higher wages are given. Of course, this too is included in the price the consumer pays when he shops for food. Is it any wonder that prices change?

C.K.R.T. To Aid Voters In Getting To The Polls

One of the basic privileges of a United States citizen is the voting privilege. With but very few requirements the average citizen is able to make his voice heard by his vote in an election. To foster this special right, the community service and Americanism chairmen of the Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Tee American Legion Auxiliary are planning a taxi and baby-sitting service for those persons who desire to vote but cannot for one of the above reasons.

Mrs. L. Gooden Callaway, president of the unit, announced the plan for the project at a meeting of the unit last week. She has urged every citizen of the city and surrounding area to take advantage of this service in order to cast their vote. In the next issue of the Harrington Journal phone numbers of Unit and Post members will be published. For further information call Mrs. Callaway or William Kohel, Commander of the C.K.R.T. Post.

Wetherhold's Course Record Run Helps Save Lions' Win Streak

Chris Wetherhold's record-shattering effort, at Milton on Tuesday afternoon, was the chief reason why Coach Harold McDonald's Harrington High Lions were able to run their victory streak to 20 straight and 49 victories in the last 50 starts. Chris' time was 13.06 for 2 1/2 miles.

The Lions' No. 1 harrier, Ron Morris, was in the lead but ran off the course with a half mile to go and was back in sixth place when he retraced his steps, to get back on the right track.

Wetherhold, the 13-year-old eighth grader, is the best distance runner prospect in lower Delaware history. With R. Morris out of contention, the burden was shifted to his youthful but sturdy shoulders. Rounding the final turn with course record holder, Waszczynegn, and John Wilson, of Milton, on his heels, the young Lion started his final sprint further out than most distance runners do but maintained most of his speed to the wire, as his older rivals gave up the ghost.

Menwhile, another drama was unfolding a quarter of a mile away, as the discouraged Ronald Morris fought desperately to overhaul Milton's Dave Webb and thus give his team a chance for victory despite his journey off the beaten path. Ronald caught Dave halfway up the home stretch and hung on for fifth place behind Lion Nick Morris.

A check of the score sheet showed that if Wetherhold had not beaten Milton's two top runners in that stretch drive and if Webb had beaten Ronald Morris, H.H.S. would have lost the meet, the unbeaten season and the long victory string. Hats off to the courageous lion-hearted Lions. They are aptly nicknamed.

Bob Rash, 14, and Richard Benson, 16, also helped the cause as they both beat Reed of Milton, thereby adding two points to the Warriors team score as H.H.S. won 26-31.

Martin Adams ran probably his best race ever as he beat teammates by a big margin, that he couldn't get near before.

Milton is to be lauded for their sportsmanship. When Ronald Morris took the wrong turn, the Warriors immediately shouted to him to turn back. When Wetherhold approached the final turn, he was uncertain as to whether he had to stay in the road or cut

Lion J.V. Harriers Down C.R., 17-43

Irrepressible junior varsity harriers from both schools chose to plow right through a small lake left by heavy rains of the week before, as Harrington's Cubs defeated Caesar Rodney's jayvees at Killen's Pond on Friday afternoon.

Bob Smith, a 12-year-old with loads of potential, looks like the latest in a string of excellent prospects on Coach Harold McDonald's team. Smith and "Barefoot Jim" Redden, 14, staged a torrid duel that soon outdistanced all pursuit. Smith's winning time of 14.44 represented an improvement of 25 seconds over his best previous effort.

Redden dropped from 15.02 to 14.46. Martin Adams cut four seconds off his personal course record, but he was a half minute behind Redden. The visitors' first finisher was 50 seconds behind Smith.

Gary Redden, Scarborough of C. R. and Billy Walls came in neck-and-neck. Walls ran his best race yet since he just missed his best time of 15.32, despite being slowed by the excess water on the course.

Charley Brown, Joey Gray, Mike Davis, Vaughn Baynard were others to nearly set new personal marks despite the adverse conditions.

Randy Cagle had been hoping to break 17 minutes and thus was very happy with his 16.49. John Kinney cut off eight seconds to reach 16.59.

H.H.S. Harriers Beat Casar Rodney, Harrington Bowling League

Harold McDonald's Harrington High cross-country team was not extended as it fashioned a 19th straight victory, the 48th triumph in the last 49 starts over a period of four years.

Torrential rains, 48 hours earlier, had washed out part of the Lions' Killen's Pond course and caused all runners to run from 50 to 100 yards extra over rough ground. A conservative estimate would be that the detour added 15 seconds to the running time of the 2.34 miles grind.

Ronald "The Champ" Morris and Chris Wetherhold, the Lions' 13-year-old future great, were 1-2 again in the Friday afternoon meet. Both were close enough to their previous best performances, to indicate that they were denied new records by the surface conditions. Eighth-graders, Danny Hitchens and Dale Motter, were in this same boat. Hitchens missed his fine record of 14.30 by only four seconds as he and Motter ran around the newly-created, temporary lake in Pit No. 2.

Bob Rash, another grade 8 representative, was the only Lion to set a new standard. Rash recorded a very good 14.37, down from 14.40. Hitchens, Rash and Motter, though not in high school yet, are good enough to run varsity on any team in this area. At their present rate of progress, it looks like they could make any team in the state by 1968 or 1969.

Rick Jester, formerly of here, was ninth. C. R. identical twins, Ray and Roy Wilson, caused this writer to think one of the visitors had gone an extra lap and thus passed the same point, twice.

More spectators are attending each meet as the Lions' amazing win streak goes on and on. This year's new layout makes it possible to see much of the race from one location.

Felton Harriers Tie Milford Bucs, 28-28

Buddy Bonniwell's Felton High cross-country team just missed in its attempt to knock over Milford's Buccaneers at Milford last week. Milford had edged Felton at Killen's Pond earlier in the year but the Green Devils have improved steadily since being organized in late September, approximately a month behind the other teams in the area.

Assuming that some of the Devil returnees will follow the example of the better harriers in this vicinity and train at home next summer, we would not be surprised to see them come up with a very strong team next autumn. Ties are rare in cross-country, but a 28-28 deadlock was the result at Milford.

McKinnat, of Milford, was the individual winner, trailed by Trace Williams and Lloyd Shelman, of Felton. Bullock of Milford, was fourth, with Curt Bowers, of Felton, next. The Devils were in good shape, at this point, with three runners across in the first five, but Milford salvaged a tie by having four of the next five finishers.

On Harrington's third down, Davis started around right end, cut in, then out again into the clear. He scooted down the sideline for nearly 50 yards before Dennis came up like Hurricane Inez to knock him outside at the 20. Apparently not winded, Davis went through center to the 11. Short gains reached the 3. Welch charged into the end zone but a penalty nullified the touchdown.

Late Church Bowling League

Millsboro's last hope to salvage a tie ended a few minutes later when Jim Harris, on fourth down, smashed the ball back into the passer's face with such force, that both ball and Blue Devil hit the deck. The game ended with Steve Welch sitting on the ball, running out the Ingersoll.

Felton Jayvees Win 4th Straight At Milford

Felton's jayvee harriers won their fourth meet in as many starts at Milford last week, by a score of 23-32.

Former Harringtonian, Jerry Minner, was first across the finish line in 14.11. Mike Price was second, Allan Dill, third and Bud Sipple fourth for Felton as only 12 seconds separated the first five harriers.

Kent Agent Participates In National Meeting

George K. Vapaa, Kent County agricultural agent, will lead a tour of southern California vineyards, citrus groves and truck farms before and after the annual meeting of National Association of County Agricultural Agents. The 1966 convention will be held November 1-7, Honolulu, Hawaii, with the California tour scheduled for October 30, 31, and for November 8-11.

Forty county agents and agriculturists from eight states will take part in the tour of the San Francisco and Los Angeles area, according to Vapaa. They will meet with California agricultural specialists to discuss California valuable land preserves, a recent development in land-use planning designed to keep highly productive land in agriculture.

Ed Schabinger, New Castle County agricultural agent, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harold Schabinger, Felton; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ennis, Smyrna, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Tharp Harrington, Harrington, will join the tour from Delaware.

Vapaa, vice-director of the northeast states for the National Association of County Agents, will be a member of a panel discussing total resource development at the Hawaiian meeting. He will speak about the role of the Cooperative Extension Service in developing the Delmarva broiler industry.

More than 1500 delegates guests are expected to attend the sessions.

State Crop Show Features Awards, Labor Report

Last summer's lack of rain increased Delaware farmers' interest in University of Delaware's work with sub-irrigation, according to Dr. William Mitchell, extension agronomist at the University. "How does it work?" "How good were the crops?" are the usual questions.

Exhibits at the Delaware State Crop Show, scheduled for November 22, at Capital Grange Hall, Dover, will tell the story of sub-irrigation. A model of the system used, recent developments in pipe connectors, results of tests with various pipe spacings and yields on test plots of turf, corn and soybeans will be featured in displays during the afternoon and evening.

The afternoon program will also have a meeting on farm labor. Wallace A. Mitchell, community life specialist at Rutgers University, will speak on "New Forces in Farm Labor Market," and a panel discussion will follow.

The evening crop award banquet will feature J. F. Timberlake, agricultural representative for Federal Reserve Bank, Boston, Mass., speaking on "Agriculture—A Case of Hardening Arteries."

For the first time this year, Delaware Crop Improvement Association will present recognition awards to a farmer in each county, according to Charles Blendt, Smyrna, president of the Delaware Crop Improvement Association, sponsor of the event. Awards will also be given to the outstanding seed producer of 1966 and the exhibitor of the best hay sample in the show.

The show includes classes for hybrid corn, small grain seed, field and artificially cured hay and grass and corn silage, with cash awards for winners. A 4-H judging contest will also be held.

All Delaware crop producers are eligible to compete. Blendt points out. Premium lists for the crop show will be sent to farmers throughout the state. Entries close November 11.
