

Reese B. Harrington Pace To Be Featured Tomorrow

Another record-busting weekend is in prospect for Harrington Raceway as harness racing competition moves toward the third big week of a 60-night meet.

Headlining this weekend's program are the L. L. DeBerry Pace on Friday and a pair of memorial events on Saturday, the Elwood B. Long Trot and the Reese B. Harrington Pace.

Horses are gradually whittling down times over the new Harrington track surface, widened to accommodate eight abreast for the first time this season.

Sassafras Mate lowered the season standard to 2:06.1 last weekend with a sizzling second half-mile effort under the rein of Bobby Myer. The victory was the first of the year for the 4-year-old gelding from the Sassafras Stables of Georgetown, Md. The Jim Stokley trained speed-ster thwarted stretch challenges by Bumper Jack and Starlite Boy for a $4.90, $3.40 and $2.80 payoff.

Taking some of the luster off the Sassafras Mate triumph was Lucky Smokey, 5-year-old trotter owned by Dover attorney Herman Brown, who ran his victory string to six in a row with a photo finish triumph over Sassafras Spud, a stablemate of Sassafras Mate. Lucky Smokey toured the mile in 2:08.1, a season best for trotters at Harrington.

New season marks in wagering and attendance also went on the boards. A crowd of 3,753 pushed $140,778 through the parimutuel machines.

Rematches of last Saturday's co-features can be expected this week. Sassafras Mate likely will be paired against his top rivals in the pace, with Lucky Smokey and Sassafras Spud again figured to match strides in the trot feature.

ONE THAT DIDN'T GET AWAY — Usually, the large ones do, but not in this case. Mrs. Elaine Kenney, Brentwood, Long Island, is shown holding a 51½-pound codfish caught at Montauk Point, Long Island. Mrs. Kenney's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Steve Duda, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ignatius Strachar, all of Harrington.

New Senior Center Referral Service

Members of the Harrington Senior Center are in need of assistance in maintaining their homes. A referral service is being established, through which those needing services may get in touch with those who are capable and willing to provide these services for a fee.

The required services consist of: house painting, house repairs (minor), house cleaning, plumbing, plastering, lawn mowing, snow removal, replacing storm windows and screens, chaulfering, etc.

If you are available for any of these services please submit the following information to the Harrington Senior Center:

Name, address, telephone number, type of work, rate per hour, hours available.

We have members who are available for the following work: Practical nursing, companion, sewing, ironing, stove clerk, tutoring and baby sitting. If you have need of any of these services please call the Harrington Senior Center, 398-3908.

Mental Health Chapter In Sussex To Be Reactivated

A meeting was held on Sept. 7 at the State Board of Health Center in Georgetown. The purpose of the meeting was to reactivate the Sussex County Chapter of the Mental Health Association of Delaware.

Mr. P. Charles Martucci, executive director of the MHA of Delaware presided. In attendance were H. Ingersoll Brown, Jr., president of the board of directors; Joseph C. Kerr, associate director, and over 15 Sussex Countians.

The main topics of discussion were community mental health education, crisis intervention, and social action concerned with problems of mental illness.

Ralph Lewis, of Laurel, was elected chairman pro tem. A meeting was called for Oct. 12 at which time a steering committee (to be appointed by Lewis) will submit recommendations as to the future direction of the local association.

It was announced that the MHA of Delaware is currently planning to open a branch office in Sussex County, the location of which was not disclosed pending negotiations. It is expected that an announcement will be made in the next few weeks.

The Mental Health Association of Delaware is a United Community Fund Agency dedicated to helping the mentally ill and supporting programs that will improve the mental health of members of a community.

Community Singers Seeking Women Singers

Women who would like to sing with a choral group are invited to join the Community Singers. The singers meet every Wednesday morning from 9:15 to 11:30 at the Dover Public Library, State and Budd Streets, to rehearse for the current season. There are no auditions and free nursery service is provided for women with small children.

Officers for the 1967-68 season are Mrs. John F. Brady, president, Mrs. Albert Laporte, secretary, and Mrs. W. A. Martin, treasurer. Mrs. William J. Storey is the director.

Mrs. Marlin Roll is accompanist for the Singers. Mrs. Roll, formerly of Stonington, Conn., and Iowa City, Iowa, is a graduate of Lamoni Junior College, Graceland, Iowa, and the State University of Iowa, Iowa City. She was formerly the organist for the Congregational Church in Stonington and was a piano accompanist in radio in that city.

Anyone wishing further information regarding the Community Singers can contact Mrs. Storey at 734-2094, or Mrs. Brady at 674-3503.

Archeological Society To Meet Sept. 20

The Kent County Archeological Society will hold its monthly meeting Wed., Sept. 20, at 8 p.m., in the Civil Defense Room, of the Kent County Court House. There will be a guest speaker, and refreshments served after the meeting. All interested persons are invited to come, and bring any Indian artifacts they may have found in the state.

Mrs. Everett Vanderwende

Mrs. Barbara E. Vanderwende 59, died Tuesday at her home on Paradise Alley Road after a long illness.

Her family said she had muscular dystrophy.

She is survived by her husband, Everett Vanderwende; two sons, Brice E., Dover, and William W., Bridgeville; a daughter, Mrs. Viola Taylor, Dover; a brother, George Stutzman, of Centerville, Md.; two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Whitesell, Philadelphia, and Mrs. Myrtle Meredith, at home; and eight grandchildren.

Services will be Sunday afternoon at 2 at the McKnatt Funeral Home, 50 Commerce Street, Harrington, where friends may call from noon until the time of services. Interment will be in Hollywood Cemetery, Harrington.

Miss Green and Mr. Alexander Are Wed In Felton Church

Miss Marilyn Louise Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Green, Felton, was married Friday evening, August 25 to David Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Alexander also of Felton, at the Felton Methodist Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend Charles Moyer before an altar decorated with gladioli, mums, and palms. A reception followed in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of chantilly lace over taffeta. She wore a sequin crown with shoulder length silk illusion veil.

She carried a white orchid on a white Bible trimmed with lily of the valley ribbon.

Miss Brenda Green of Felton served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a pink taffeta ballerina length gown with a scoop neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. She wore a matching headpiece and short veil. A nosegay of pink carnations was her bouquet.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Jo Ann Stayton, cousin of the bride, and Miss Mary Jane Killen, both of Felton. They wore matching dresses after that of the maid of honor in color of yellow and blue; also matching headpieces, veil, and nosegays.

Roger Alexander, Felton, was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Jeff and Edwin Alexander of Felton, cousins of the bridegroom.

Miss Peggy Ann Alexander, sister of the bridegroom, attended the guest book.

Mrs. Green, mother of the bride, chose a blue dress and white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a green dress with beige

Kent County Zoning Group Is Appointed

The Kent County Levy Court Tuesday appointed two farmers, a banker, a dentist and a state employe as the county's first zoning commission.

The commission was authorized, along with an already filled planning commission, in home rule legislation passed by the General Assembly earlier this year. The five-member zoning commission named Tuesday includes three Republicans, a Democrat and an independent.

Under the provision of the home rule bill it must have at least one member of each major party. The five were appointed by a 3-0 vote with both Democratic commissioners, William Holden and William Spence, abstaining.

The commission will work closely with the recently appointed planning commission in setting up a county plan and zoning regulations.

Levy Court President Glenn A. Richter recently said the county can expect a greater flow of money from federal agencies (Continued on Page 5)

ANTIQUE CARS VISIT FELTON RAILROAD

By W. Cliff Miller

Jimmie Havelow's residence, on the corner of Winter and High Streets, at Felton, suddenly became a bee-hive of activity at 3 p.m., Sunday when 15 antique automobiles appeared, and at least twice that number of curious and interested followers started parking and snapping pictures.

The occasion was the 2nd annual Delaware tour of the Brandywine Region Antique Auto Club of America. To every owner and operator of these cars goes a lot of credit but to Jimmie and Mary Havelow, and the little railroad which "encircles" their beautiful home, goes the credit for bringing this tour to Felton.

It also involves a civic pride that keeps youngsters railroad-minded and helps oldsters remember. Both the old automobiles and the little diesel-powered railroad are symbols of transportation, and someone has wisely said the most important objects of civilization are religion and transportation. They go hand in hand and one cannot survive successfully without the other.

Lewis Taylor, in the picture with Jimmie, lives two blocks from the Havelows and was present when the caravan arrived. Lewis, retired the last of September after 45 years as a track foreman, says the little engine with a big engine's whistle, helps keep him railroad-minded.

Cars at Felton included the following: 1933 Chevrolet, 1914 Hupmobile, 1930 Graham, 1939 Dodge, 1922 Packard, 1918 Stanley Steamer, 1915 Buick, 1931 Model A Ford pickup, 1930 Model A Ford sedan, 1930 Model A Ford panel delivery, 1931 Model A Ford roadster, 1929 Model A Ford coupe, and 1931 Model A Ford tudor.

The itinerary of the tour also included: Dover, Hartly, Church Hill, Md.; Centreville, Md.; Wye Mills, Md., and Ridgely, Md.

WARC Tables Plea For Postponement Of Sewer Schedule

The Water and Air Resources Commission of Delaware tabled a plea Wednesday to grant Harrington an additional postponement on a schedule for the improvement of a sewer-system. Installation of a sanitary system. Meeting at Dover, the commission heard Dudley Willis, of Edward H. Richardson Associates, the city's consulting engineers, ask for the following schedule: Submit engineering plans by April 1, 1968; open construction bids, June 1, 1968; award contract, July 1, 1968; and to complete work by May 1, 1969.

Current schedule has called for the work to be completed Oct. 1, 1968.

The request for postponement was tabled until the October meeting WARC. Willis told the commission Wednesday plans were not ready because the city was waiting to hear from Washington on a federal grant to instigate a demonstration project. Willis is to appear at the October meeting with his plans, and reasons why the job cannot be completed by Oct. 1, 1968. (Continued on Page 5)

Fraud Laid To Laurel Man

Robert Lee Cooper Jr. of Laurel was arrested Saturday on an embezzlement charge, according to state police.

Police said a warrant signed by Melvin Harrison, a security agent for United Parcel Service in Landover, Md., charged that Cooper had been collecting cash-on-delivery charges at Royer-Barto, an appliance store in Easton and did not turn the money over to the office in Harrington.

Cooper worked for the service from July 1964 to May 1967. He was arraigned in Magistrate Court 6 and released on $400 bond for a hearing in Kent County Court of Common Pleas.

City Starts Ball Rolling to Combat Drainage Problem

The City of Harrington has started the ball rolling on eliminating a drainage problem, emphasized by a flood here in early August.

The City Council Monday evening motioned to apply for assistance on drainage to Kent Soil and Water Conservation District. Signers are being sought for a petition for a tax ditch. Fred Mott, of the U.S. Soil Conservation District, who was present at the Monday night meeting, suggested the petition be presented Monday to Kent and Sussex Soil Conservation.

To get it rolling, as Mott phrased it, he further suggested the city petition the Federal Watershed Program, and request federal assistance. He figured it would take about a year to organize.

At this step, the Council, explained the soil conservation office, is asking only that the Soil Conservation District make he was appearing before the Council to ask its assistance. Councilman Wilson G. Bradley, the community's civil defense director, told Largent he was drawing up a list of possible fall-out shelters. These must be certified by visiting teams of federal and state inspectors, Largent added.

In other business Monday night, the Council acted as follows: Passed a resolution to authorize bids on sewer bonds to be opened Oct. 24. Agreed to provide $550 for current for Christmas lighting on an appeal by David Jones, chairman of the Christmas Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The Council will also provide $500 for installing lights.

Failed to motion, for want of a second, to install a sewer line to a house, owned by K. Failing, on Thomas Street, installing a sanitary sewer on the street is part of a communitywide project scheduled to be completed next year. It was thought it would be cheaper then.

City Needs Fall-Out Shelters, Civil Defense Planner Tells Council

The City of Harrington has insufficient fall-out shelters, it was revealed to the City Council Monday evening by Robert Largent, civil defense planning officer of the State Planning Office.

Largent, asked by the state to make an emergency plan for Kent and Sussex Counties, on fall-out shelters, told the Council had only three approved shelters. These are the Post Office, providing for 97 persons, Peoples Bank, 14, and Reese Theatre, 10. However, the planner was told the theatre is being razed.

He showed a map which indicated practically every home and trailer in the two lower counties. The chart revealed there were 761 houses in Harrington, with 2.97 persons per house. It did not reveal the two or three trailers.

The civil defense officer said

Can Be Financed Up To 7 Years

The project can be financed up to seven years, preliminary survey and engineering costs are paid by the soil conservation district, and a 12-foot right-of-way must be granted by the property owner.

Dudley Willis, of Edward H. Richardson Associates, the city's consulting engineers, said "We can handle local problems but not a massive one such as Brown's Branch. Soil conservation would like to handle the local problem as soon as possible. Drainage of all of Brown's Branch to McCauley's Pond, would take 10 years, it was divulged at a meeting here of federal and state soil conservation officials in 1963. At that time, it was decided to wait because it was felt not enough interest was shown from property owners outside the city.

Since then, a map has been prepared of the Murderkill Watershed Project. It is broken into units, of which Brown's Branch is one. If the Murderkill Project were approved, emphasized Mott, work could begin on the Brown's Branch unit.

The Murderkill Project was approved by the Governor in December, 1963, submitted to Washington in early 1964, and that's where it sits today, continued Mott. "It's waiting for state projects to be approved."

He said the Nanticoke, Choptank, and Marshy Hope projects were active and he figured the state was waiting for a New Castle County project. He suggested the city write to Pete Talbert, state drainage engineer, and ask him about the status of the Murderkill Watershed Project.

Notice, 1967

The Kent County Tax Office will be open, for the convenience of the public, Saturday mornings, September 23 and 30, from 8:30 to 12 noon.

Local Alumni Ass'n. To Meet

There will be a regular meeting of the Harrington High School Alumni Association Tuesday, Sept. 19, at 8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Vietnam Veterans To Receive Benefit Increase From VA

President Johnson, Aug. 31, signed into law a bill providing for significant increases in benefits for Vietnam veterans and for older veterans as well, according to Leon Fields, manager of the Wilmington Veterans Administration Regional Office.

Called the "Veterans' Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967," most provisions become effective October 1, 1967.

Under one major provision, veterans of the Vietnam era, which began August 5, 1964, will receive compensation for disabilities at full wartime rates and will qualify for non-service-connected pensions on the same basis as old veterans. Their widows and children become eligible for non-service connected death benefits.

While this provision becomes effective October 1, 1967, an allowance of $250 for burial and funeral expenses of deceased individuals who served in the Vietnam era became effective immediately, Mr. Fields said.

Under the law, certain other major provisions effective October 1, 1967 apply to all qualified veterans who served after January 31, 1955. These include:

Educational assistance allowances for full-time courses have been increased from $100 to $130 a month for a single veteran, from $125 to $155 for a veteran with one dependent, and from $150 to $175 for two dependents with an additional $10 for each dependent in excess of two. Proportionately smaller allowances will be allowed for part-time training.

Full educational assistance allowances will be paid to "educationally disadvantaged" veterans so they can complete high school without reducing their eligibility for advanced educational benefits.

Rev. Baker will be preaching nightly in the 7:30 services and on Sunday at the 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. services. Mrs. H. G. Baker will be the soloist and song leader for the revival. Rev. Etta M. Clough is the pastor.

Director's Message On Civil Defense

At repeated intervals, we in Civil Defense must re-evaluate, by thorough examination, our efforts and techniques of reminding the American public of their responsibilities to themselves and their families and, as citizens, to their nation, in the event of a major natural disaster or a nuclear attack.

Too often, our attitude toward Civil Defense is not unlike that of many people who hold term life insurance policies which offered no personal benefit to the insured individual. A tendency to procrastinate in providing any protection was prevalent. The manner in which one buys insurance and the plan of insurance has changed radically since 1945, so that today, we may, by selection of appropriate insurance programs, provide for almost every contingency, with emphasis placed on providing for living.

So, too, in our civil defense programs, we must always focus on the fact that our primary mission is to provide for living. We, the professionals in civil defense, must guard against succumbing to occasional feelings of futility and ineffectiveness which creep slyly into the thinking of all mankind, regardless of high dedication, when faced with ennui from those whom we would motivate.

Ennui is a mirror of man's natural tendency toward inaction or inertia, especially when confronted with a distasteful task. Ennui can be the end product of certain patterns of thought, regardless of original enthusiasm and high ideal motivating such thought.

It can be, and is, utilized by potential enemies of our country as a weapon of cold war. Residual benefits derived from an enthusiastic civil defense program for "all out war" are an increased capability to deal with catastrophic event of lesser magnitude.

We, in civil defense, are constantly revising our "life insurance program" for living in this complex world of today. We are a mutual company — your participation in this program could prove beneficial to you as well as your loved ones.

CDEX-67 Scheduled for Fall

October 24 through November 1 is the date for National Civil Defense Exercise 1967. Primarily a "Command Post" exercise all levels of government are involved in implementation of the emergency operation plans. Special emphasis is placed on those activities appropriate to in-shelter and shelter-emergency situations and selected increased readiness actions thereby related.

Exercise dates are: October 24, 25, 26—Increased Readiness Period; October 27, 28, 29—Attack and Immediate and Post Attack Period; October 30, 31, November 1—In-Shelter and Shelter Emergency Period.

Hurricane Safety Tips

The hurricane season is here! Guy Anderson of the Weather Bureau advises that hurricanes typically begin as tropical storms in the Caribbean and moving northward, gaining strength, August, September and October are considered the peak hurricane months.

"During the coming months," he pointed out, "the U. S. Weather Bureau, the Red Cross, Civil Defense and related agencies will be on constant alert for hurricanes that move up the Coast. The closer we approach to the fall months the greater our watchfulness."

For those directly in the path of a hurricane, "the safest course is early evacuation" Mr. Anderson said. He offered these 12 safety tips for Delaware residents which could save lives:

1. Stay away from low-lying beaches or other locations which may be swept by high tides or storm waves. Leave those areas early because roads to safe locations may become impassable several hours prior to the arrival of hurricane conditions.
2. Stay at home if your house is safe from high water and flash flooding.
3. Secure loose material and movable objects which might blow away or be torn loose and thrown against buildings or through windows. Secure garage doors. Awnings which can be moved should be raised and tied securely or taken down. Fasten storm shutters or board up windows with good lumber.
4. Boats should be hauled out of the water or strongly moored. Be sure that there is ample scope in moorings. Avoid trying to secure boats after waters become dangerously rough.
5. Make certain your automobile is on high ground, away from trees, preferably in a garage or other shelter.
6. If you must use your car, be alert for falling trees, fallen wires, and flash flooding. Fill your tank with gasoline because most gasoline pumps cannot be operated if power fails.
7. Have a flashlight in good working condition. If it is necessary to use candles or other emergency lighting and cooking facilities, be careful of fire.

8. Fill clean containers with drinking water.

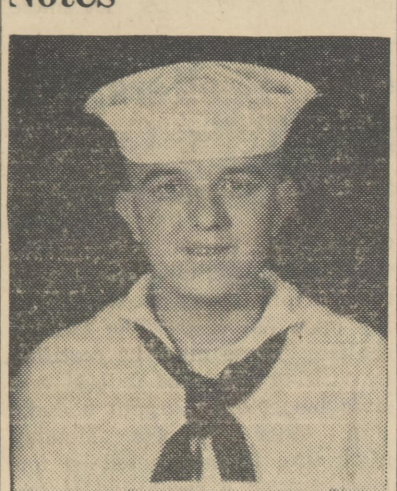

9. Be sure you have sufficient food on hand that does not need refrigeration or cooking.

10. It is advisable to keep a window slightly open on the side opposite that from which wind is blowing in order to provide ventilation and to prevent certain types of wind damage. If high winds bow out a window, open wide a window on the opposite side of the house to prevent further damage.

11. Be especially careful of fires. Have a bucket of sand or a good fire extinguisher available to put out oil fires. A bathtub filled with water is helpful in case water mains are broken.

12. Keep your radio or television on. A battery-powered radio is useful in case of power failure.

Armed Forces Notes

Seaman Recruit Dennis P. Simpson, 19, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Simpson, of Route 2, Harrington, was graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

His training was highlighted by participating in mid-American's "Salute to the Flag" ceremonies held at Soldier Field in Chicago. He was one of the more than 10,000 Navy men who formed a human "Living Flag" in honor of all men and women who are, or have been, in the U. S. Armed Forces.

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holbert

High meat prices suggest that something will have to give. Perhaps the homemaker with a job outside the home should investigate the many new convenience foods made of meat (entirely or partly).

Recent food studies done at the College of Home Economics, Drexel Institute of Technology, indicate that tests on seven typical meals show that the average meal prepared with convenience foods costs only thirteen cents more than a similar meal prepared totally at home.

Examples of some of the food included in the tests were canned beef stew, canned tomato soup, bottled foods such as salad dressings, frozen products such as broccoli, fish and green beans, and packaged items such as salad greens and rolls.

Not only was the cost compared but also the time involved, since time has become a very important consideration. To prepare the convenience meal it took approximately 32 minutes or about one-fourth as long as it took to prepare the same meal from scratch (approximately 119 minutes).

In 1963, Drexel's Department of Food and Nutrition did similar tests, and at that time there was a difference of 23 cents. This indicates that the price on convenience foods has risen only about half as much as that of the average home-prepared meal. All of this is food for thought and especially for those people who are running short of hours in the day to do the numerous jobs they have to do.

Pork wholesale prices have been dropping for the past week and a half, and are now reaching the lowest level in four months. Pork items are expected to cost the consumer less in the coming weeks. Even so, supplies will be an abundance of other protein less than last year and lack of meats will prevent pork prices from dropping to any new low.

Cattle prices advanced for the fifth consecutive week. Wholesale markets are higher, but they haven't as yet affected retail—except through scattered features.

Produce counters look good again this week with supplies on the increase for such vegetables as artichokes, broccoli, brussels sprouts, cauliflower, celery, eggplant, sweet potatoes, and turnips.

The country's overall fruit crop is expected to be a small one this fall, so check carefully and compare when you buy.

Greenwood

By Pat Hatfield
The Greenwood Lions Club, together with the V.F.W., completed another very successful season on Labor Day weekend. This last weekend held a very special surprise for them. They had the pleasure of serving Miss Lynda Johnson, daughter of President Lyndon B. Johnson. This was entirely unexpected and caused no commotion except the flurry of Secret Service men, who incidentally enjoyed the barbecued chicken also.
Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Yeako, who welcomed their first little grandchild on Sept. 4. The small girl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Freer, of Magnolia. Mrs. Freer is the former Miss Bonnie Yeako, and Mr. Freer is stationed at the Dover Air Base. The child weighed 6 lbs. 13 ozs. and has been named Sherry Ann.
Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield were out of town from Wednesday until Sunday. Mrs. Hatfield spent two days with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Albin P. Ottey, in Media, Pa., while Mr. Hatfield was helping his nephew with a home project. The last of the weekend was spent in New Castle with Mr. and Mrs. David E. Keith.

4-H Club News

With Marion MacDonald
Wanted—4-H Clubs in Dover. Interested youths and adults can get together to form a 4-H Club. There are many activities available for you in the Dover area. Clubs are formed when five to ten youths get together with adult leadership (your parents or friends' parents). 4-H offers a variety of project areas for Urban youth such as woodworking, electric photography, entomology, outdoor flowers, indoor flowers, automotive, clothing and foods. Members carry projects which then guide them into a variety of other activities and contests. Local clubs meet once a month in their neighborhood. Contact Mrs. Marion MacDonald, 736-1448 or visit the second floor of the Old Post Office where the County Extension Office is located.

New enrollment cards for 4-H members have been distributed to all 4-H clubs. Members are urged to complete and return to their local leaders as soon as possible so that they can be placed on the current mailing list and receive their new project books. Your project selection should be more specific with this new card.
National 4-H Club week starts September 30. Clubs should be planning their window displays. Announcements of other activities will be made through your local 4-H club leader.

THE HARRINGTON JOURNAL THE HARRINGTON JOURNAL PUBLISHING CO. (Incorporated) Publishers C. H. BURGESS Editor W. C. BURGESS Associate Editor Subscription Rates $3.00 Per Year Out of State $3.50 Per Year

Office of Publication, 1 Commerce Street, Harrington, Delaware Entered as second-class matter August 16, 1946, at the Post Office at Harrington, Delaware, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Congratulations to Miss Elva Reese and Harry Greenberg for painting the exterior of their store buildings on Commerce Street. The improvements add immeasurably to the appearance and, we hope, will inspire others to do likewise.

TRASH BAG EXPERIMENT INTERESTING

Milford is experimenting with the use of paper trash bags for 30 families. These bags can be thrown, with their contents, of course, into an open truck. This vehicle will cost considerably less than the $22,000 needed to purchase the usual trash truck.

The city would provide each family with two bags, without charge, weekly. Additional ones would cost 6¢ each. Householder would purchase stands for the bags at a reasonable figure.

Bags, which must be waterproof, could be easily tossed on the truck. No more clattering of garbage cans. No more fighting to get the tight lid off. One disadvantage, as far as the city is concerned, more trips of the conventional truck would be required than of the packer-type vehicle.

The city might even make a little money by selling advertising space on the bags. In any event, the City of Harrington will watch the experiment with interest.

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller

AUTUMN

The melancholy days have come The saddest of the year With hurricane threats to shade the sun And meadows brown and sere.

No early song birds greet the ear The days of autumn now are here No more the early morning sun Will start the busy bees to hum.

No fleecy clouds are in the sky Just fog and mist now greet the eye All nature garbed in solemn mien Soon changed to brown from lovely green.

No longer soft farm breezes blow Through meadows where wild flowers grow, Moist in dew and gentle rain I wish that June was here again.

REMEMBER

We suggest you set those big problems aside for a brainy day.

A tree never hits a motorist except in self defense.

A bird in the hand is an awful nuisance if you want to blow your nose.

Fire Company Auxiliary Notes

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Harrington Fire Company met on Sept. 11 in the fire hall. The meeting was called to order by the president, Betty Taylor. The minutes of the previous meeting was read and approved. Roll call was taken with only 13 members present.

The Sunshine Report was given by Dorothy Collins and the treasurer's Report was given by Angie Potter. Irene Outten also reported on the proceedings of the Kent County meeting held at Magnolia on June 27.

The main subject of our meeting was the preparations for the supper to be held on Oct. 1, in the fire hall starting at 1 p.m. The menu consists of ham, chicken salad, and dumplings. All members are to try and help Friday night and Saturday in order to make this supper a success.

Any member wanting tickets to sell for the supper, contact another auxiliary member or the financial secretary. We need all the help we can get.

It was also brought to our attention concerning the different members who haven't paid their dues for this year and even those who haven't paid them in the past. Please try and have these dues paid by the end of the year so the books can be balanced. If any member doesn't know whether they have paid their dues, contact the financial secretary, Geraldine Outten.

The meeting adjourned at 9 p.m.

Sunshine 4-H Club Notes

This seasons first meeting of Sunshine 4-H Club was held at Diane Jarrell's home with Diane Liles co-hostess. New officers were elected. New and old business was discussed. The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served. The next meeting will be Oct. 9 at Barbara Ryan's home with Joan White co-hostess. The news reporters are Calvin Liles and Bill Winkler.

Army Pilots Needed

Qualified high school graduates can learn to fly through the U.S. Army's Warrant Officer Flight program, said Sergeant Walter R. Frazier, located at 218 S. Governor's Ave., Dover.

Training to be an Army pilot lasts a total of 38 rugged weeks, but at the end of that time, the graduate is a qualified helicopter or fixed wing aircraft pilot.

After completion of the training, graduates are appointed Warrant Officers in the U.S. Army and are accorded all the courtesies and privileges of an officer. In addition to the basic Warrant Officer salary, quarters and subsistence allowances, Army pilots receive an additional $100 a month flight pay.

Qualified applicants must agree to serve a period of three years upon completion of training. Failure to graduate from Warrant Officer Flight Program entails a two year enlistment obligation.

Sergeant Frazier has all details and is ready, willing and able to explain how qualified high school graduates can get started on a new Army pilot's career. Call 736-6937 or 674-1360.

U. of D. to Confer Honorary Degrees At Convocation

The University of Delaware will confer two honorary degrees at its traditional Convocation exercises Monday (Sept. 18) which officially open the 1967-1968 academic year.

Dr. John W. Shirley, acting president, will greet some 6,500 undergraduates, a record number, at the morning ceremony.

Receiving honorary degrees will be the honorable Daniel F. Wolcott, chief justice of the Supreme Court of Delaware, and Walter M. Whitehill, editor of the Boston Athenaeum, one of the country's oldest and most distinguished libraries.

Whitehill will deliver the Convocation address. Also on the Monday agenda are awards for 24 students who had the best grades as freshmen last year.

Judge Wolcott's honorary doctor of laws degree is in recognition of his long service on the bench, his deep interest in Delaware's heritage, his work with the University of Delaware Library Associates, and his efforts on behalf of education in the state.

Whitehill's honorary doctor of humane letters degree will pay tribute to his scholarship in subjects ranging from Spanish art to American maritime history, his service to numerous scholarly enterprises such as the Euterian Mills-Hagley Foundation, and his efforts to preserve ancient landmarks in Boston and elsewhere.

ASC Committee Elections To Be Held Sept. 18

Kent County farmers today got a reminder about the upcoming election of ASC Farmer-Committeemen who will serve for the next year as local administrators of national farm-action programs.

According to J. Heyman Roosa, chairman, Kent Agricultural Stabilization County Committee, official ballots were mailed Fri., Sept. 8 to all known eligible voters in the county. The return of ballots will be by mail or in person to the ASCS County Office at Dover. All ballots must be postmarked or delivered by September 18th. Any farm operator, landlord, owner, tenant, producer or sharecropper may obtain an official ballot by stopping in the Kent ASCS County Office at Dover, if he fails to receive one in the mail.

The following slate of nominees have been compiled: Community A, Frank B. Cole, Donald R. Dixon, Donald E. Dulin, Harold Hilyard, Alfred M. Moore, Jr. and Charles B. Ross; Community B, Millard W. Dixon, John T. Moor, Joseph P. Moore, Clarence T. Scuse, John F. Tarburton and George E. Wilson, Jr.; Community C, Earl Black, A. L. (Charlie) Brittingham, Carlton A. Carter, John E. Gunter, H. Baxter McKee and Steve Szelestel, Jr.; Community D, Paul W. Carter, Arch's Dill, Dan Gooden, Wm. R. McCullough, Francis E. Thomas and Jack Webb; Community E, Derrickson Biggs, Marvin J. Davis, John H. Greenly, James S. Metz, Samuel D. Walker, and Samuel L. Webb; Community F, Robert T. Collins, Owain D. Gruwell, Frank Hrupsa, Orville Jack Moore, Tilghman Outten and W. A. Stafford; Community G, Ernest Argo, Charles G. Cain, Robert H. Dean, Elmer Lindale, Jr., Fred Martin, Ronald D. Robbins and Howard Warner. Kent County farmers will elect from the above slates of nominees a chairman, vice chairman, regular member, 1st and 2nd alternates for each community. The three newly elected regular members of each committee will serve as delegates to the County Convention to be held Wednesday, Oct. 4 at 1 p.m. in the County ASCS Office to elect a Kent County farmer to fill the vacancy on the county committee.

Chairman Roosa stressed the importance of electing representative farmers as committeemen in view of their broad responsibilities. Programs administered by the committeemen include the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP), Acreage Allotments, Commodity Loans, Feed Grain Program, Wheat Certificate program, National Wool Program and the Farm Storage Facility Loan Program. Other duties may be assigned to the committees by the Secretary of Agriculture as the need arises.

All qualified voters are urged to cast their ballots and elect farmers of their choice to administer the programs.

Observe Fly Dates Wheat Growers Are Warned

Delaware wheat producers can avoid the problems of Hessian fly damage by observing the important "fly-free" dates according to a University of Delaware entomologist. Dr. Dale Bray, chairman of the department of entomology and applied ecology, says the date varies slightly between the counties, but in general, no wheat should be seeded before October 1. Approximate fly-free days for each county are: New Castle, October 3; Kent, October 8; Sussex, October 10.

Bray says wheat planted before these dates may be severely damaged by Hessian fly maggots. The mature flies lay their eggs on young growing plants (especially wheat) in August and September and maggots hatch from these eggs in a few days and start feeding on the plants.

Only the maggots that have developed to the pupa stage before cold weather begins develop into mature flies. Less mature maggots are killed by the first heavy frost, but not before they have caused extensive damage to the host plants. The damage can drastically reduce yields the following year.

By observing the fly-free dates, farmers are taking advantage of an insect control method that eliminates the need for chemical controls. This is possible because Hessian flies lay eggs only in the early fall. If the proper hosts—young wheat plants—are not available, no eggs are produced and the insect population decreases. Complete eradication is impossible because several wild plants are also suitable hosts, Bray points out.

FENCE TALK

with George K. Vapaa

Set your lawn mower to cut at least 2 inches high. Lawn grasses store their extra plant food in the leaves. If you cut the grass too short, you cut off the food supply.

I've looked at several lawns in the past week. The big problem was that most of them were scalped, or cut too closely to the ground. This permits weeds to creep in where the ground was laid bare.

We recommend that a lawn be rolled or the ground flattened in the spring. It tends to heave because of winter freezes and thaws. The rolling avoids the scalping of high spots.

The presence of crabgrass in particular is an indication that a lawn has been sheared too short. You probably will not get crabgrass if a dense turf is kept.

Some people have the mistaken notion that close mowing "gets rid of weeds". Not so. It simply wrecks whatever grass you have left—and if anything comes back, it will probably be more weeds.

So your lawn is in poor shape. This is the time to reseed. Do a good job while you are at it. We have simple, clear instructions for the asking. We will mail them out to you if you just call 736-1448.

Treated waste or sludge seems to be a growing problem for most of our cities. The problem is to get rid of it. Burning is one solution. But it poses an air pollution situation.

A local farmer wondered about the use of treated sludge as fertilizer for crops. The United States seems to be one of the few countries that is squeamish on this point. Some states probably have laws against the practice, or at least the use of raw sewage.

Treated waste probably analyzes about like poultry manure, a 3-1-1 fertilizer. This is low value, compared to commercial grades of fertilizer. Unlike ordinary manures, treated waste usually has a high pH, because it has been treated with lime or a similar material.

I doubt if a farmer can afford to haul treated waste more than ten miles from his farm. Current practice for poultry manure is similar. Contract haulers use so called spreader trucks in our concentrated broiler producing areas.

Poultry manure and mechanical combine are changing the crop fertility picture in Delaware for the better. The mechanical harvesters return a high percentage of crop residues to the soil. We are seeing the benefits in improved yields.

Treated sludge disposal as a fertilizing material for crops seems a logical answer to the urban problem.

Walking tires out a girl. At least that's how they say it works for dairy cows in Canada. A report from Swift Current, Saskatchewan, says production suffers when animals have to walk too far while grazing.

For example, cows will spend about six or seven hours a day grazing on good pasture. Only about five or six per cent of their feed energy will be used up in work. But if the pasture is poor, the cows may spend as much as 13 hours a day grazing.

When this happens, the cows may use up 40% of the feed energy in work. Production suffers as a direct result.

So Delaware farmers have shifted to green chop feeding, or hauling clipped forage to the cows. This and silage are fed in bunkers close to the barn. So Bossy doesn't burn up her energies in walking.

The Delaware Flower Show is the top state show of its kind for the past two years says the National Federation of Garden Clubs. The 1967 show will be in the new fieldhouse at the University of Delaware in Newark. The dates and times are Saturday, Oct. 7 from 2 to 10 p.m. and Sunday, Oct. 8, from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Admission is free to see the exhibit in the show. The theme is "Autumn Revue" and will feature model garrens, rooms, sculpture, horticulture, artistic arrangements, a pool, a fountain, fashions, co-ed models and a new sidewalk cafe.

The show is sponsored by the Delaware Federation of Garden Clubs, Delaware Nurserymen and the University of Delaware.

Blame the Beetles For Brown Elms

Foliage is brown and withered on many Delaware elms. It's the work of the elm leaf beetle larvae, according to Dr. Dale Bray, chairman of the department of entomology and applied ecology at the University of Delaware.

The larvae feed on the underside of the leaves and only the veins and upper leaf surface remain. The results of the heavy feeding often gives people the idea the insects have just arrived. Actually, they've been around a month or more, slowly eating away the foliage.

Unfortunately, once the larvae's work is obvious, it's too late to do anything about it. Spraying now is a waste of money; it should be done during early June when the leaves are about three-fourths open.

The beetle is a nuisance, but the damage it causes usually doesn't kill the elm tree. However, if the tree loses most of the foliage for several years and there is drought or other injury in addition, the tree may be weakened. At that point the elm is more susceptible to attack from other insect pests.

Fortunately, the elm leaf beetle has little to do with the serious Dutch elm disease. This disease is spread by the elm bark beetle, a completely different insect which does not feed on the foliage of elm trees.

Adult elm leaf beetles lay clusters of yellow eggs on the underside of developing leaves in late May and June. Hatching larvae then begin feeding; the nearly full grown larva is about a half inch long and is dull yellow with black stripes down its back. At this stage it can eat considerable amounts of foliage.

Full grown larvae seek crevices in the bark or at the base of the tree for pupating; transformation to an adult takes about 10 days. They're about one-quarter inch long and yellowish to olive-green with a black stripe along the margin of each wing cover; however, older beetles are much darker than newly emerged beetles.

As adults, the elm leaf beetles are familiar to many homeowners. The adult beetles seek shelter in buildings, under bark, etc. for hibernation and are often a nuisance when they fly to windows during warm periods.

Further information on the elm leaf beetle and its control is available from the department of entomology and applied ecology at the University of Delaware, or from county agents in Newark, Dover and Georgetown.

32 Delawareans To Attend Conference

Thirty-two young Delawareans are attending the annual four-state Young Adult Conference, Sept. 8-10, at Jackson's Mill, West Virginia.

Sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Services of Delaware, Ohio, Maryland and West Virginia, the conference is planned for people 18 to 30 years of age. The theme for this year's meeting is "The 'I's and In Crowd'".

Everett C. Lindsey, human motivation engineer, Dallas, Texas, will be the keynote speaker, discussing "Human Motivation."

Other speakers include Congressman Donald E. Lukens, Ohio; Henry Shriver, member Ohio house of representatives; and Karl E. Kilsholm, member of Iowa house of representatives. Discussion on citizenship and personal philosophies will be included in the three-day meeting.

James O. Baker, state 4-H leader, and William Pinnell, Sussex County 4-H agent, will accompany the Delaware group to the conference.

Around Home

With Jean Cranston

Prolonged wet weather throughout most of Delaware has created serious mildew problems for homemakers. There are several simple, inexpensive ways to remove this fungus.

Sun, air and a stiff brush are the least expensive helpers, and they work on most fabrics and surfaces, however do not brush mildewed articles indoors where the spores can cause future problems.

Other useful materials in removing mildew include lemon juice, chlorine bleach, soap suds and talcum powder.

A new fact sheet "How to Remove Mildew" that describes the best ways to eliminate the problem on clothing, rugs, mattresses and furniture, leather, wood and paper is available from the County Extension Office in Dover. Our number is 736-1448.

Country Lane Extension Club News

By Mary Lou Wright

Members of the Country Lane Home Economics Extension Club met on Tues., Sept. 5, at the home of Mrs. Mary Collison in Burrsville.

After conducting the opening exercises, our new president, Mrs. Jane Everline, passed out the new program booklets and hostesses for the coming year were selected.

Other new officers are as follows, Mrs. Charlotte Ann Collison, vice president; Mrs. Jeanette Holloway, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Collison, secretary.

Committee chairmen and leaders for the training meetings were picked and new ideas for the year were discussed.

Mrs. Everline then read from a folder about "Old Milford Days" and also a newspaper clipping describing some of the attractions of the 180th birthday celebration. Members expressed a great interest in attending.

An invitation from Mrs. Pat Pinnell, home economist for Delmarva Power and Light was read. She has invited us to attend a Christmas food and decoration demonstration on Oct. 25 to either an afternoon or evening session.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned. There will be a group meeting in the month of October so the next regular meeting will be in November at the home of Mrs. Leon Donovan.

Hatchery Clinic Well Attended

Nearly seventy key personnel from hatcheries of the Delmarva Peninsula and nearby states, during a recently conducted hatchery clinic held at the University of Delaware Substation, were urged by S. M. Smith, vice-president of Robbins Incubator Company of Denver, Colo., to make a complete and knowledgeable analysis of their hatchery results in order to achieve maximum hatchability. Continuing, Smith said "Only by knowing why results are not what they should be can the right corrective measures be adopted; and, the kind of objective analysis called for to realize top results must include a study not only of the percentage of hatch, but also the quality of birds hatched along with a post-mortem of any eggs which fail to hatch."

Use Tools Safely Advises Safety Council

"Tools for occasional use—from a posthole digger to a floor sander—are available for rent in most communities," said Walter J. Harrison, Jr., president of the Delaware Safety Council, "Thousands of amateurs or semi-skilled Mr. Fixits rent the same things because the tools are too expensive to own, too seldom used to justify purchase, or too big and cumbersome for the home workshop." For these very reasons the tools are unfamiliar to the average handyman. "Yet, he can take home the most sophisticated and lethal tool, often without receiving any instructions from the rental dealer beyond how to start the motor," states Harrison.

Here are tips on the safe use of the more common and hazardous items: Power Saws—These are among the most dangerous tools available to the amateur. When you rent a saw, see that the upper and lower guards are in place and operable. Do not rent a saw that has been "doctored" with pins, wedges or other devices that prevent the guard from functioning automatically by holding it back in an inoperative position.

Electric Hand Tools—Saws and all other hand-held electric tools (except cordless or approved double-insulated types) must be properly grounded. If the tool you rent has a three prong plug, make sure the third, or grounding, prong has not been cut off by a previous user. Never operate this type of tool without first grounding it securely. If you're not sure how this is done, ask the dealer to show you.

Wetherhold's No Firebug But Sears Countryside

Chris Wetherhold, Harrington High School's sensational, distance-running freshman, has been blazing up hill and down dale, in leading the workouts of Coach Harold McDonald's state champion cross-country Lions.

The hard-working 14-year-old has been practicing steadily for more than 17 months and has rested only two months out of the last twenty-seven. Ronald Morris, No. 1, in 1966, faces a long, up-hill fight, if he is to regain the top spot. Morris, 17, at present, is also trailing another 14-year-old, Danny Hitchens, the 4 ft. 7, 70 pound mighty mite, who has already impressed two college harrier coaches and several sportswriters, plus many thinned fans.

Captain Nick Morris is steadily improving after a bout with illness. Gary Simpson and Jack Warrington, two top runners in 1965, have rejoined the team and have all the tools to become two of the best harriers in this area. It will take them a little longer to get in shape, but when they do they should beat a lot of rivals.

Roger Jarrell has been a pleasant surprise. Roger is bigger than the average harrier but has worked hard all summer and is turning in some really fine clockings.

Two talented young competitors who were in the Lions top seven last season may not run. Bob Rash and Allen Parker have four and five years of competition left but apparently have lost interest. Simpson, Warrington and Jarrell can take up the slack, but it's always a puzzle when successful athletes quit for no good reason, with a great future ahead.

Tommy Clarke and Jackie D. Parker, both 12, have been dabbling in the running sports for a year, competing in age-group events. In a workout over a 2.4 mile course Tuesday night, these comers were fifth and sixth, respectively, in a field of twenty runners. Clarke clocked 16.19, Parker 16.24. These boys will be heard from as many of the older runners, who ate their dust, will attest.

Back at the rugged Killen's Pond layout, one night later, Chris Wetherhold ripped off a swift 13.39 to beat everyone else by more than a minute. Others who ran well were Danny Hitchens, Ron Morris, Nick Morris, Roger Jarrell, Gary Simpson, Jack Warrington, Jim Redden, Steve Gannon, Tommy Clarke, Brad Morris, Jackie Parker, Billy Walls, Donny Cagle, Joe Gray, Ray Cannon.

The Lions open a 12-meet schedule at Seaford on September 26. Other interesting trips will be to Lewes, Oct. 10; Washington College, Chestertown, Md., to meet North Carolina High, Oct. 17; state meet, Wilmington, Nov. 1.

Harrington FFA News

By Marshall Anthony Jr.

The Harrington FFA participated in the state judging contests held at the Delaware State Fair July 23 and 24. In the dairy and milk contest Harrington placed second as a team. Individual placings were: Gerald LeGates, first; Terry Donovan, third, and Glenn Layton, 13th. These three boys will be leaving Fri., Sept. 15, for Eastern States Exposition in Springfield, Mass.

In livestock judging Harrington placed fourth as a team. Individual placings were: Calvin Bonniwell, eighth; Bill Abbott, eleventh, and Mike Coverdale, twelfth.

In the poultry and egg contest Harrington did not place in the top four but the three judges were Billy Jester, Anthony Vogl and John Brown.

In the tractor driving contest Don Harcum placed third for Harrington.

The vegetable judging contest saw Harrington place second. The judges were Harold Liles, placing second as an individual; Aubrey Brown, tenth, and Dale Holloway, eleventh, as individuals.

The hays and seeds contest saw Harrington place third as a team. The individual placings were by John Warrington, sixth, and Roger Hicks, eighth.

Pvt. Theodore L. Johnson, of Ft. Jackson, S. C., spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Johnson.

Mrs. R. Harry Quillen was admitted to Kent General Hospital Wednesday for observation.

Lions Host Mustangs Tonight

Bill Muehleisen's Harrington High football Lions kick off their first ten-game schedule Friday, September 15th, when they meet Bridgeville's defending Henlopen Conference champion Mustangs on the local gridiron.

The Lions' practice scrimmage season is viewed with mixed emotions. Playing against Colonel Richardson of South Carolina County, Md., and Caesar Rodney and Georgetown, of the Diamond State Conference, H.H.S. held the Marylanders even and split the other two tests.

Harrington's strong point is definitely defense this autumn. In the three outings, the Lions blanked two teams and were shut out themselves twice. Bridgeville lost eight regulars from the 1967 loop champs but are not singing the blues. In fact, they are doing everything but claim another pennant, so big, fast and deep they are.

The home team is hurting because of injuries, two of which were not incurred because of football. The Lions fastest man, track star Jerry Cagle and Elwood Lord, a two-way performer, were injured in an auto accident and may not see action. Others who probably won't play are Mike Stayton and Allan Greenly.

Since the locals won't be at full strength against what may be the Henlopen's toughest eleven, it appears that they will have to remove all stops, hope that the defense can hold the rampaging Mustangs and further, hope that the ball will take a couple of Harrington bounces.

Sports fans of the Harrington area are urged to come out and support this team tonight. You can bet that Bridgeville will have a large group of rooters here. A vocal Lion throng could boost the home team's chances considerably. Spirit still plays a large part in any football game.

Harrington Bowling League

By Leah Wheeler

Wow! Just look what one night of bowling can do! Three out of the four top teams from last week's bowling were rudely jolted out of their top spots; one dropping clear to seventh place.

Kent Gas was the only team to stay unchanged in the standings as they again made a clean sweep, running their win streak to eight straight. They now hold a two game lead and are threatening to walk off with the first third as they did last season.

Hamilton Fund moved up from fifth place to sole possession of second place. They too, won all four of their games and put themselves in a good position to take over first place should Kent Gas begin to falter. Hamilton Fund also took high team series with a 2332 total.

Penn. R.R. in a tie last week for fifth place, managed to pick up three out of four games to take over the third place spot. They also are in a position to overtake the leader.

Hobbs Newsstand really took a big leap, winning all four games this week. This fine effort enabled them to vacate the cellar and move up to a tie for fourth place with McKnatt Funeral Home and Robbins Hardware. McKnatt, incidentally, dropped to fourth place from a tie of second place last week. Robbins Hardware (listed as Porter's Hardware last week) came all the way up from a seventh place tie, winning three games Tuesday night.

Taylor & Messick and Wally's Garage really took a tumble this week, dropping down from a tie of second place to a tie for the seventh spot.

Acme could only muster one game this week and dropped from seventh to ninth place. Jarrell Fuel, also tied last week for the seventh spot, took over the unenviable cellar position.

Any men who would like to join the fun each Tuesday night are invited to see the captains of the teams for signing up. It seems some teams are short a man or two this year, so here's a chance for someone to gain a spot on a team, and maybe pick up one of the many awards given at the league's annual banquet at the end of the season.

Man! We expected to see more names in the high game column, but not so many 200 plus games. Save some of those for later on boys! No wonder the standings were left in a shambles after Tuesday evening.

Jack Sapp led the pack with a great 214 game. Right behind him was L. Outten with a very fine 208 high game. Ralph Gray rolled a fine 202 game closely followed by Robert Creadick with a 201 and Paul Fallon a good 200 game. We see some different names in the high game column this season. Looks as though some teams have been out recruiting.

Ralph Gray set the mark to catch so far in the high series column with a very fine 558 series. George Hobbs was close behind with a good 553 series and showed that he could be the one to break Gray's mark. D. Hayman is rounding into form and came up with a good 529 series for his first week of bowling Tuesday night.
