

Minor Vandalism Here Follows News of King Assassination

Minor damage was inflicted here early Friday morning after news was received of the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Negro leader, in Memphis, Tenn.

Moderate damage was done at Harrington Elementary School on Dorman Street and at a fieldhouse in the rear.

Using air rifles, with steel bees, the vandals shot out floodlights near the fieldhouse, and damaged the doors of the building.

SHORT TELLS GOP: I'M 'AVAILABLE'

Insurance Commissioner Robert A. Short Wednesday morning said he is "available" for the Republican nomination for governor.

He called himself a "reluctant candidate," said he will not campaign for the nomination, and that he made his announcement to give the party a choice of candidates.

Short acknowledged that Russell W. Peterson, the Republican's only announced candidate, is regarded as the probable nominee. "But without this testing," he said, "we'd never really be sure."

Short, 45, of Georgetown, said earlier this year he would not run for governor unless the other candidates "dropped dead."

"Of course, this has not happened," he said Wednesday morning. "And I am not yet actively seeking the nomination."

Short said he still has reservations about seeking the office. He said he would like to finish his term as insurance commissioner, and that "being governor of the state of Delaware has not been one of my dream or goals."

Short made his announcement less than two weeks after Herman C. Brown, the Kent County Republican chairman, said the insurance commissioner should make his position clear. Short said he has received encouragement from throughout the state.

He said he consulted with National Committeeman Harry G. Haskell Jr., and "Hal had reservations, but recognized that there is considerable merit in this approach."

Short said he had no preference for a running mate, but mentioned several possible lieutenant governor candidates. Included in his list was Sen. Eugene D. Bookhammer, R-Lewes, who was endorsed by Sussex County Republicans Monday night.

The insurance commissioner said he recognized it was improbable both top candidates would come from Sussex County, but did not interpret the Bookhammer endorsement as a slap at him.

That endorsement, he said, was "spontaneous."

Short answered with a flat "no" a question on whether he would accept the lieutenant governor's spot on the ticket.

In attendance at the press conference at Kent County Republican headquarters Wednesday morning was Auditor George W. Cripps, who said several months ago he also was "available" for the gubernatorial nomination.

Cripps declined any comment at the press conference, but said earlier Wednesday "I never stepped in so there's no step to be taken either way."

Both Short and Cripps said Wednesday they would favor a system of statewide primaries for selecting candidates.

Short has been insurance commissioner since 1963. In 1966, he was elected to a second term by the largest majority ever received for any office in Delaware. He is married and the father of four.

He said Wednesday morning he has an advantage over Peterson because he knows more of the delegates, but that he thinks that if Peterson is nominated, "as of Wednesday, I think he would be elected."

During brief comment on issues, Short said he has "nothing but praise for the way (civil unrest) has been handled in the last two or three days," but that "it is distressing that we have to wait until things happen before we do anything about it."

The vandals also shot out a few floodlights on Wolcott Street and the west side of town. Harrington Hardware Store was entered, thru a side window, Thursday evening or early Friday morning, and robbed of air rifles and ammunition.

TWO TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS IN RURAL AREAS TUESDAY

The new ambulance of the Harrington Fire Company was busy Tuesday morning, taking the victims of two traffic accidents to Milford Memorial Hospital.

Racetrack Chief C. M. Pardee, Dies

Clarke M. Pardee, 63, Delaware Park track superintendent and internationally known racetrack authority, was pronounced dead on arrival at Delaware Division Thursday night, April 4, after suffering an apparent heart attack at his home.

Mr. Pardee, who lived on the racetrack grounds, joined the track in 1935. In addition to his Delaware Park responsibilities, he has been consulted for the construction of racetracks in Mexico City and Canada and in 1961 for the Monterrico Hippodrome in Lima, Peru, the largest and most modern track in South America.

Mr. Pardee attended the U.S. Naval Academy and was graduated from the University of Delaware. He was a licensed civil engineer and a director of the Artesian Water Company.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Edith B. Pardee; three sons, Adrian of Honolulu, Michael of St. Louis and Peter, at home; two daughters, Miss Patricia Ann Pardee of Wilmington and Mrs. Dinah Doremus of Heritage Park, and seven grandchildren.

Mr. Pardee was the father-in-law of Mrs. Michael Pardee, the former Barbara Smith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hewitt S. Smith, of Harrington.

Matinee Races to Feature Prominent Stables Here

Matinee races here Sat., April 20, and Sat., April 27, will feature some prominent stables, said Eugene Anderson, committee chairman, last week.

"The public will get a chance to see some real good, green 3-year-olds from the stables of Ned Galentine, Paul Vineyard, Olin Davis, and Jim Stokley," said Anderson.

He added there would also be races for 2-year-olds if "we can get enough to field."

The races, sponsored by Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Tee Post No. 7, American Legion, will be qualifying races, with this action necessary for horses one desires to enter at Rosecroft, Brandywine, or Atlantic City.

Persons wishing to donate trophies should be in touch with Anderson.

Marshall Scott, 61, while running across the road, was hit near Brownsville by a car driven by Richard Becker, 26, Rd 2, Harrington. The accident took place about 7:30 a.m. Scott suffered a broken leg and internal injuries. No charges were placed against Becker.

Three cars were involved in an accident about 11 a.m., on County Road 281 near Masten's Corner. Cars driven by Terry Rogers, 16, Rd 1, Felton, and Charles Cohee, 16, Harrington, were going north, when the drivers lost control, state police of the Bridgeville station said, and ran into a pickup truck driven by Robert E. Harrington, of Felton.

Thomas Edwards, 18, Rd 2, Harrington, a passenger in the Cohee car, and Rogers were taken in the Harrington ambulance to the Milford hospital and treated for lacerations of the face.

Mrs. Blanche Bell Returns From Hospital

Mrs. Blanche B. Bell, 95, returned last week from Milford Memorial Hospital where she had been treated for bruises suffered in a fall at her home. She was born Oct. 13, 1872.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald B. Bell, Mt. Rainier, Md., the former, a son of Mrs. Bell, visited Mrs. Bell and her daughters, Mrs. Blanche Cahall and Mrs. Bess Boozer, 225 Delaware Ave.

Turning to other Legion activities, the group, at its meeting Thursday evening, April 4, acted as follows:

Named William A. Kohel, chairman of the Americanism Committee, to secure a speaker for Memorial Day exercises at Hollywood Cemetery.

Commander Morrison Stuart appointed a Nominating Committee as follows: Earl Quillen, chairman, Fred Bailey, and Carington H. Burgess. Officers will be elected at the first May meeting and installed in June.

Announced two Americanism awards to be made at Felton School and two at the local school. Winners will be selected on citizenship, leadership, scholarship, and character. Winners, to be honored on an awards day to be set, will receive a plaque, certificate, and a pin.

May Is Season For Tornadoes; Red Cross Gives Safety Tips

Measures that will help prevent injury or death when tornadoes strike were detailed by C. Milton Jackson, area director of Disaster Services for the Red Cross Eastern Area.

The Red Cross is joining with the ESSA Weather Bureau and other U.S. Government agencies in an intensive community preparedness and education campaign to acquaint the public with what to do when tornado warnings are issued, he explained.

"A tornado warning means a tornado has been reported and warns you to take immediate safety precautions," Mr. Jackson said. "A tornado watch signifies that conditions are such that tornadoes may occur in your locality. The Weather Bureau is the official source of tornado forecast information."

May is usually the month with the highest incidence of tornadoes across the United States.

The Red Cross, Jackson added, has expanded its facilities for speeding aid to victims when tornadoes and other disasters occur. "The Red Cross has in recent years spent more than a half-million dollars to provide 112 vehicles — canteens, Handi-vans, and other disaster units — 82 generators, and 33 short-wave radio base stations. These resources are in key locations from which workers can converge on disaster areas. These vehicles augment a vast fleet of chapter-owned mobile equipment."

There are now almost 100 Red Cross chapters with short-wave radio stations on the emergency frequency allocated to the Red Cross. Others utilize the voluntary services of local 'hams' using their own equipment."

All Red Cross assistance to sufferers from tornadoes and other disasters is an outright gift from the American people, he emphasized.

Jackson listed these tornado safety tips:

1. If a tornado watch is issued, keep tuned to your local radio or television station and listen for the latest Weather Bureau severe weather statements and possible tornado warnings. If a tornado warning is issued, seek inside shelter immediately, preferably in a tornado shelter.

2. There is no universal protection against tornadoes except caves and underground excavations. When time permits, go to a tornado cellar, cave, or underground excavation or to a steel-framed or reinforced concrete building of substantial construction. Stay away from windows. Areas planned for use as a tornado shelter should be kept free from water, gas, and debris, and should be equipped with a pick and shovel.

3. If you are in open country, move away from the tornado's path at a right angle. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression, such as a ditch or ravine.

4. In a city or town: In office buildings, stand in interior hallway on a lower floor, preferably in the basement. In factories, on receiving a tornado watch, post a lookout. When a warning is issued, workers should be prepared to move quickly to the section of the plant offering the greatest protection in accordance with advance plans. Advance preparation is essential.

CABLE STOLEN FROM RAILROAD; BURNED AT MUNICIPAL DUMP

Some 1000 feet of cable were stolen from the Penn Central Railroad here early Tuesday morning, and burned at the city dump to recover the copper.

The cable was taken from near the toolhouse, in the south end of town, and hauled to the dump northwest of town. Here it was chopped and burned to recover the copper core, figured to be about 1 1/2 inches in diameter. The burning was believed to have taken place about 3 a.m.

Comprehensive Development Plan Ready for Publication on City

In the central core area, provisions are made to develop a civic and government center. This will include a library, open-space, off-street parking, municipal buildings, an all purpose civic auditorium, and youth center. This recommendation hinges on whether the City takes steps to renew its central area.

In terms of the City's present water distribution system, several recommendations are advanced. These include replacing standard lines which are less than four inches in size and looping the system where dead-ends presently exist. The City should consider tying into the Fairgrounds water system for emergency purposes. On a much broader scale, a planned system to serve outside areas with sewer and water, if land is to become an integral part of the City, is being considered.

Recreation is no longer a luxury, but a necessity in modern day life. Harrington is endowed with nearby recreational facilities. Passive facilities for adults in the form of parklets are not provided. The use of the school grounds for after school or summer activities should be an integral part of the City recreation program. Wheeler's Park should be expanded and made more accessible. In order to create an environment which would encourage the development of higher priced homes, Harrington should consider developing a par 3 golf course in the vicinity of Browns Branch east of State Route 13. The residential use recommended here could very easily be woven into a par 3 course layout. Many other proposals are contained in the preliminary report on community facilities and services which was made available to the Planning Commission on April 25, 1967.

New housing developments should be required to have utilities placed underground. The Planning Commission and Council should work closely to see this goal realized. Adoption of a local substation ordinance will assist the City in implementing this goal.

A more central bus terminal is needed in Harrington, and should be considered in the City's future plan. The railroad station or the in-town shopping center could serve as a location for such a stop. The new shopping center proposed on U.S. Route 13 offers another desirable location for such a bus terminal.

Solid waste disposal is a problem which every community must confront. Open dumping should be discouraged and other means found to dispose of waste matter. Because of economies of scale, it would be advantageous for Harrington to join with other communities or the county to jointly work toward eliminating this growing problem.

Harrington is now considering increasing the capacity and updating of its present sewerage treatment facility. Plans of this kind should include treating waste from areas which might be annexed to the City at some future date.

School facilities not only represent a major capital investment, but they are also the cornerstone for developing an enlightened citizenry. The school district proposes additions to the West Elementary School and additional land has been set aside in the Plan for this purpose.

Administrative Considerations This final section will address itself to those administrative functions of the City which relate to Community Planning. Its purpose is to recommend methods and organization necessary to accomplish the effectuation measures recommended in the Plan, such as subdivision and zoning and other local regulations. It also discusses continuing planning, and how the City may proceed in developing an on-going program.

Effectuation Measures The City has a zoning ordinance and map. This document, however, needs extensive revision in order to bring the ordinance and map into greater conformity with the General Plan. It is recommended that the governing body create a zoning commission in accordance with State Law to study the Comprehensive Plan and zoning changes suggested by the City's planning consultants.

It is also recommended that the zoning commission be appointed from members of the Planning Commission. This will insure that the Zoning Commission members will have a knowledge of the City's future plan. (Continued on Page 4)

City Still Awaits Federal Report on Sewer System

Farmington Man Files Suit Against Harrington Patrolman

A 20-year-old Farmington man has taken court action against a Harrington police officer he claims hit him over the head while arresting him for a speeding violation in February.

Summonses were served Friday on Frederick Taylor, the officer, and to the town of Harrington as his employer.

The complaint was filed last week in Superior Court by Nicholas H. Rodriguez, a Dover attorney representing the youth, Francis Perry Rust.

The suit, which asks for general and punitive damages for assault and battery, states that Rust was struck on the head with a hard object by Taylor after Rust had been stopped near Milford following a high-speed chase from Harrington.

February 17 is listed as the date of the incident. In the complaint, Rust claims he pulled off the road and went back to the police car where Taylor roughed him up, handcuffed him and then hit him behind the head with a hard object.

Rust, according to the complaint, was taken to Milford Memorial Hospital by the police where the wound in his head was stitched. He further claims in the court suit that Taylor shoved him to the ground at one point and hit him in the face with his fist at another point while in the police car.

Officials at Magistrate Court No. 6 in Harrington, said Monday night that according to their records Rust was arraigned in that court on Feb. 17 and was fined on three charges: Failing to stop at a command of a police officer, $200; no driver's license, $10, and driving at 115 miles an hour in a 50-mile-an-hour zone, $65, for a total including costs of $297.50.

When contacted Monday night, Taylor said he had not yet talked with his attorney, and said that until he did, he would not comment on the court suit. Grover C. Brown, attorney for the town of Harrington, said Monday night that he had not completely reviewed the case, but an answer would be filed within 20 days.

Rodriguez, who has been retained by Rust's mother, Mrs. Barbara Collins, of Lewes, said the complaint does not include another Harrington officer, Alex P. Sharon, who was with Taylor in the pursuit car. A passenger, who was in Rust's vehicle also is not involved in the suit.

Mayor in Hospital With Heart Ailment

Mayor Fulton J. Downing is in Beebe Hospital, Lewes, with a heart ailment.

He was hospitalized Friday afternoon on the advice of Dr. Robert Klingel, of Rehoboth, who said Tuesday the mayor was doing very nicely.

Mayor and Mrs. Downing had gone to Dewey Beach Friday afternoon when, on arrival, the former complained of weakness

2 Injured When Car Is Hit Broadside

Two residents of Newburyport, Mass., were injured slightly Wednesday morning when the car in which they were riding was hit broadside.

The driver, Mrs. Annie P. Champoux, 61, and her husband, George W. Champoux, Sr., were taken to Milford Memorial Hospital in the ambulance of Harrington Fire Company and treated for bruised legs.

The Champoux were proceeding north on U.S. 13, near the Delaware State Fair grounds when their vehicle was hit broadside by another entering the lane from a crossway.

State police of the Bridgeville station said a summons is pending, on a charge for failure to yield right of way, for Mamie Jones, 24, Rd 1, Harrington, driver of the second car.

Democrats Outnumber Republicans At GOP Sponsored Meeting Here

Democrats outnumbered Republicans at a GOP sponsored meeting Monday evening here, but that was the way it was supposed to be.

Nearly 100 persons turned out at the American Legion Home for the first GOP chairman's dinner in the 33rd Representative District this year.

Informality was the theme and there were no prepared speeches. Following cocktails and dinner, Herman C. Brown, Kent County Republican chairman, introduced several elected and former officials and candidates. Among those present were William O. Cabbage, former senator; Rep.

Robert H. Quillen, of the 33rd, up for re-election; Isaac Thomas, Levy County commissioner; Rep. Leon Pleasanton, candidate from the 16th senatorial district; State Auditor George Cripps; Al Mann, of Harrington, superintendent of the Dover sewer system, and William McCabe, county sanitation engineer and a Harrington native.

Russell Peterson, seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination, arrived late and spoke briefly. Atty-Gen. David Buckson, Quillen's campaign manager, addressed the group but was later called from the meeting because of rioting in Wilmington.

The City cannot advertise for bids for improving its sanitary-sewer until it hears from the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration.

Its building specifications have been approved by the State Water and Air Pollution Control Commission, but the plans must also achieve FWPCA approval because federal grants are involved.

Dudley Willis, of Edward H. Richardson Associates, the city's consulting engineers, told the City Council Monday night he thought federal approval might be received in two weeks.

In the meanwhile, negotiations are under way for a right-of-way on the land of Max Corder on the eastern side of U.S. 13.

In other council business: Agreed to see Kent County Court about using its Porter landfill for refuse.

Told David Welch, Little League president, to see lawyer about a lease he wanted on city land for a baseball diamond. The possibility of a federal grant for recreational facilities was mentioned by Willis. The land Welch is interested in is across from Hollywood Cemetery.

Former Local Resident Killed In Accident

A Bridgeton, N. J., woman, a former Harrington resident, died Tuesday from injuries suffered in an auto accident near Denton Sunday.

Funeral services for Mrs. Robert L. Drain are mentioned elsewhere in this newspaper.

Her husband remains in serious condition in Easton Memorial Hospital.

Four others, including three children, were hurt in the accident at Noble Road and County Route 404 at about 4:30 p.m. Most seriously hurt, police said, were Robert L. Drain, 25, of Bridgeton, driver of one car. Three passengers in his car, Diane Hignutt, 13, Connie Sue Hignutt, 16, and Ruth Coady, 14, all of Denton, were treated for cuts and bruises and reported in a satisfactory condition. Mrs. Amelia C. Nowell, 75, Denton, the other driver, is reported in fair condition.

Houston Church Sunrise Service Sunday Morning

Hoffman, Welch Winners In Local Jaycee Road-E-O

Charlyne Hoffman and Louis Welch won the local Jaycee sponsored teenage road-e-o in the girls' and boys' division, Sunday at the school parking lot.

Robert Thompson, of Harrington, and Scott Baker, of Greenwood, finished second and third respectively.

The contest consisted of 50 multiple choice questions that would stump the majority of veteran drivers, a parking test and driving through a marked course. A score of 100 could be obtained for a perfect score on the written test and 400 points on driving skill, with 5 to 35 points deducted for various driving errors.

The two winners will now represent Harrington in the state contest, to be held Sun., April 28, at the local school parking lot. The winners will then advance to the national finals to be held in Ann Arbor, Mich., the first week in August.

Judges in the contest were Dennis Cannon, driver education instructor from Caesar Rodney; Gary Rodgers, local driver education instructor; Bob Taylor and Sheldon Hayman, co-chairmen of the project; Phillip Price, who handled the written test and local Jaycee President Bill Wood, course judge.

Progar to Teach Art Course at Com. College

Henry Progar, well-known Sussex County painter, will teach an adult oil painting class for beginners and advanced students at Delaware Technical and Community College, Southern Branch, Georgetown.

Mr. Progar explained that the entire problem of organization of the painting will be studied. Each individual will discover his own approach to painting through problems in still life landscape, expressive and abstract painting, composition or design, techniques and styles, finishing and proper framing will be studied. The class is on an individual basis so that both the "Sunday painter" or the hobbyist will enjoy it.

Mr. Progar has an extensive background in teaching, having directed Ocean City Art League classes and exhibitions, taught at the Wicomico Art League as well as numerous classes in Seaford and Laurel. He has exhibited widely and at regional exhibitions at the University of Delaware, Baltimore Museum of Art, Harpers Ferry Regional Show, and Rehoboth Art League.

The course will meet ten Tuesday nights from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. starting April 16. Fee for the course is $25. The class will be limited to seventeen persons. Registration may be arranged by calling the college at 856-7711.

Veterans' News

President Johnson has signed into law a bill protecting nearly a quarter of a million veterans, widows and parents against any reduction in Veterans Administration pension or dependency and indemnity compensation due to the recent Social Security increase.

The measure will also result in added VA payments, beginning Jan. 1, 1969, to more than 1.1 million on VA pension rolls, according to Leon Fields, manager of the VA regional office, Wilmington.

VA now pays out approximately $2.3 billion annually to these two groups of beneficiaries and to some 600,000 pensioners under a prior protected law.

Mr. Fields said pensions are paid to veterans whose total and permanent disabilities are not related to military service and to widows, who, like eligible veterans, meet low income limitations.

In two messages to Congress on America's servicemen and veterans, the President recommended legislation to "protect the veteran against disproportionate losses that could result from increases in other income, such as Social Security."

Veterans, widows and parents are assured by the law of no reductions in VA benefits through 1969 because of increased Social Security payments which went into effect this month.

Added VA benefits beginning next January for more than 1.1 million pensioners will result from restructuring of the entire VA pension and dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC) program, as provided in the new law.

Effective Jan. 1, 1969, income limitations, which govern financial eligibility for VA pensions and dependency benefits, will be raised $200 for all beneficiaries. This increase is particularly important to "Old Law" pensioners since it will mean that the recent Social Security income hike will cause no loss in VA payments.

Also starting next year, income levels, which determine the amount of current law VA pension and DIC benefits, will be computed in $100 increments, with maximum payments going to those with the lowest income. VA benefits will be reduced only a fraction of each $100 increase in income up to the new ceilings.

Currently, there are only three to five income levels used in determining the amount of benefits a recipient may be paid. There are no graduated benefits for income between these levels.

Under the restructured VA pension and dependency indemnity compensation program there will be from 13 to 28 income levels used to compute a recipient's pension or dependency benefit, Mr. Fields said.

Delaware Food Market Report

by Anne Holberton

Easter is the time for eggs. Children throughout the western world look forward at Easter-time to baskets filled with brightly colored eggs. After the day is over, everyone enjoys the delicious meals and snacks made from these eggs.

The dual use of eggs—as a symbolic decoration and as a major food—originated in the early history of mankind. Eggs symbolized the earth and life in pagan ceremonies celebrating nature's rebirth in spring. Use of the egg in Easter celebrations was probably a vestige of this, but early Christians transformed them into a symbol of resurrection.

Egg throwing matches on Easter Sunday and rolling colored eggs on Easter Monday became popular in northern England during medieval times. The custom of egg rolling officially came to Washington in 1810, when Dolly Madison got permission to roll colored eggs down the slopes at the capitol. This celebration was transferred to the White House lawn in 1878 by President and Mrs. Hayes. It has continued as an annual event at the White House.

When you buy your extra dozen or so eggs, be sure to select the best—Grade A or Grade AA. These eggs are ideal for boiling, since the yassure you of top quality.

To hardcook the eggs, cover them completely with water in an enamel pan, if possible, since they will take the color more evenly. Bring the water to simmering and simmer for 20 to 25 minutes. Do not let the water boil. Then cool the eggs at once under cold running water.

The green discoloration that sometimes appears between the white and the yolk of a hard-cooked egg results from a chemical reaction between sulfur in the white and iron in the yolk. This off-color is harmless, but unattractive. To help prevent it, cook eggs at a low temperature. Avoid overcooking and cool promptly.

The members of the home economics classes of Felton High School will present their annual spring fashion show on Tuesday, April 30, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. This year's theme will be "Fashion Fantasy". Students from grades seven through twelve will participate.

The seventh grade girls will model pleated skirts. A variety of shifts will be modeled by the eighth grade classes. Casual cotton dresses will be featured by our tenth grade class. Junior girls will model occasional apparel. The seniors offer a variety of creations in casual apparel and lined and unlined suits.

Prizes will be donated by the Felton P.T.A. and Danneman's fabric shop. Judging these lovely creations will be Mrs. Althea Clark and Mrs. Mildred Wells.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Greenwood Bldg. & Loan Elects Directors

In their recent annual meeting, stockholders of the Greenwood Building & Loan Association, re-elected as directors for a three year term, E. Laird Kratz, A. Kenneth Hubbard and Ebe T. Reynolds, Sr., all of Greenwood.

The 48th annual report showed among other things, assets of $682,401.03, reserves, $29,902.53, and the 39th series maturing in 130 months. This is believed to be the shortest length of time, for series shares to mature, of any association in the area.

The directors proceeded with the election of officers for their 49th year. Elected president was N. W. Meredith; vice president, Ebe T. Reynolds Sr.; secretary-treasurer, Charles H. Conaway; asst. secretary-treasurer, Charles F. Jones.

The 49th series was declared open for the sale of shares. Miss Rachel C. Wilson, Seaford, had the honor of buying the first 10 shares of the new series. Secretary Conaway asked the cooperation of all directors, in promoting the sale of shares.

By official action, the directors decreed that the interest rate, to be distributed to full-paid shareholders, for the six month period, ending Sept. 30, 1968, shall be five per cent. These full-paid shares, in multiples of $100, can be purchased any time and are redeemable upon 30 days notice. Interest checks are mailed out, April 1 and Oct. 1, each year.

The directors voted to change their regular monthly meeting to the Tuesday, after the first Wednesday, 7:30 p.m.

Awarded Food Business Inst. Scholarships

Four University of Delaware Food Business Institute students have been awarded scholarships at the 11th annual Delaware Conference on Food Distribution. Joel R. Furman, David M. Converse and Steven R. Barlow were awarded National Food Brokers Association scholarships at the preconference banquet March 31. Paul A. Suneson received the Don Parsons Food Business Scholarship Award.

Furman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Furman of Northumberland County, Pa., is enrolled in the Food Business Institute's graduate study program. He received his Bachelor's degree from Pennsylvania State University, University Park, where he was president of the Penn State Horticulture Club, treasurer of the Agricultural Student Council and a member of Phi Eta Sigma and Alpha Zeta, national agriculture honorary. Furman and his wife, Margaret, now live in Newark.

Converse, a sophomore majoring in food business management, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo E. Converse of Massillon, Ohio.

Barlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Barlow, Wilmington, is a 1967 graduate of Conrad High School. He attended the University's summer session and is now enrolled in the S. Hallock Dupont associate degree program.

Suneson, a food business graduate student, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Coit Suneson of Davis, Calif. After graduating from the University of California at Davis, he entered the Army and served as commissary officer and assistant of the director of logistics at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds. Suneson and his wife, Barbara, now live in Havre de Grace, Md.

U. of D. Professor Awarded Food Dist. of Year

A University of Delaware professor has been named Food Distributor Educator of the Year at the 11th annual Delaware Conference on Food Distribution.

Robert L. Bull, director of the College of Agricultural Sciences Food Business Institute was selected for the award by the Conference on Food Distribution and the Food Trade Advisory Committee.

Bull attended Deep Springs (Calif.) College and received his Bachelor of Science degree in agricultural economics from Cornell University. He has also attended the University of Maryland and done graduate work at the University of Delaware.

Since 1954, he has served as director of the Food Business Institute with responsibility for directing educational work with food wholesalers, retailers, brokers and other distributors. He is also responsible for teaching food marketing courses at both the undergraduate and graduate levels and for supporting marketing research projects.

Bull is a member of numerous professional societies, has served on the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food Stamp Plan Program Advisory Committee and is a former national director of the Produce Packaging Association.

He has also been cited by the National Association of Retail Grocers, National Food Brokers Association and National-American Wholesale Grocer's Association and was recipient of the John and Mary Lindbach Excellence in Teaching Award for 1967.

Bull has written over 300 books, leaflets, manuals and magazine articles since becoming director of the Food Business Institute.

Get Lawn Mower Set For Spring

Spring has arrived, grass is green and growing, and now is the ideal time to get that power lawn mower in shape for the coming season if you neglected to do so last fall.

Thomas H. Williams, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Delaware, suggests that you begin by washing the mower with kerosene or fuel oil to remove any dirt, grease, oil or clippings that may have accumulated during last season. Drain the gas tank and carburetor and refill them with alcohol, soaking them long enough to dissolve any gum that may have formed over the winter.

Next, remove the air cleaner and clean it according to manufacturer's instructions. Drain dirty oil from the crankcase and replace it with fresh oil of the proper weight.

Remove and clean or replace the spark plug and pour a small amount of gasoline in the tank. Start the engine and let it run until the fuel is used. Now lubricate wheel bearings and moving parts.

Finally, check the blade and sharpen or replace it if necessary. If you sharpen the blade, take care not to sharpen it out of balance, cautions Williams. Finish the job by lightly coating the blade with oil to prevent rust.

Simple care and maintenance of your mower now can save a great deal of time and effort in the months ahead, he concludes.

Release Lawn Fact Sheet

A new publication outlining common Delaware lawn problems has been released by the University of Delaware's Cooperative Extension Service.

Your lawn may not look right for any number of reasons, says David V. Tatnall, ornamental horticulturist at the University. Wrong seed, poor soil, unfavorable weather, insects and disease all contribute to a poor lawn.

It's not always easy to recognize the cause of your lawn problems, says Tatnall. But many of the problems facing Delaware lawn owners are disclosed in the bulletin "What's Wrong With My Lawn?"

Lawn difficulties are discussed under four general categories—soil problems, insects and diseases, weeds and general maintenance problems.

Copies of "What's Wrong With My Lawn?" are available from county agents in Newark, Dover, and Georgetown and from the Mailing Room, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark, 19711.

Delaware 4-H'ers Get DPIA Award

Two Delaware 4-H'ers were honored by the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association for their outstanding poultry projects at the organization's annual banquet April 2. Miss Margaret Thomas, Maryland, and Roland Hill, Lewes, will receive a two-day trip to New York City, according to E. F. Smith, Jr., Kenton, chairman of the DPIA youth committee.

Miss Thomas, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frances Thomas, has been consistently in the top 20 winners of the junior broiler contest, according to Smith. Active for six years in 4-H club work, she is president of her local club. She won first place in the senior division of the 1967 4-H Reddy Foods contest and is a member of the committee for the Delmarva National Chicken Cooking Contest. She has taken part in many poultry foods demonstrations and in poultry and egg judging competition at the Delaware State Fair.

Hill, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hill, has been active in 4-H club work for five years and has taken part in the junior broiler program for three years. He is president of his local club and vice president of the Sussex County 4-H Council. He placed second in the egg grading contest at the 1966 Northeastern Poultry Producers Council exposition, Harrisburg.

In making the awards, Smith said DPIA holds youth work in high priority. "The poultry industry needs interested and dedicated young people willing to work in all facets of agribusiness."

Consumer King Food Men Told

This is the year of the consumer, according to Trienah Meyers, with the Economic Research Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. She told more than 300 food distributors that she based her statement on legislation proposed and already in force for consumer protection.

Meyers spoke at the 11th annual Delaware Conference on Food Distribution held recently at the University of Delaware.

Meyers emphasized the growing awareness of the consumer and pointed out that consumer reactions affect the entire food industry. The only direct contact between most shoppers and the industry is in the store. "This is where they form their opinions and, sometimes, where they display their reactions."

The reasons a homemaker prefers a particular store often don't agree with the reasons a retailer believes influence her, according to Dr. Richard W. Skinner, Kent State University, Ohio. He spoke on consumer research at the conference.

Skinner said stamp programs and the physical organization of a store—that is sold where—are not as important to shoppers as retailers believe. His research shows that homemakers pick one store in preference to another because they want a pleasant shopping experience.

Consumers want friendly, helpful clerks and a fast check-out lane. She prefers a clean store with a wide selection on groceries that are easily available. Easy parking counts, too.

Prices are important, though not as important as many storemen believe, Skinner stated. The price of meat and the everyday prices throughout the store are more crucial than loss-leaders or weekend specials, according to Skinner's research.

Consumers are especially hard-pleased about the meat they buy. They want tender, high-quality meat cuts that are fresh and well trimmed. A wide selection is also important.

Convenience plays a part in the homemaker's store preferences, too; the hours the store is open, for instance. The location of the store near her home or near other services is another factor.

Skinner advised the food distributors that the food industry should update its consumer research so that better communication between consumer and retailer will be possible.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

Church School will be held this Sunday at Trinity Methodist Church, Harrington, at 10 a.m., with Manlove Bradley and Leroy Calhoun in charge.

Morning worship will be conducted by the pastor, the Rev. William J. Garrett, at 11 a.m. The sermon topic, as announced by the pastor is "The Lord of Easter." Melvin Brobst, organist, will play "Easter Fantasy" by Peery as the prelude, and "Alleluia!" by Stults as the postlude music. The Senior Choir will sing "Easter Carol" by Rasley and "O Sons and Daughters" by Nichols. The Junior Choir will sing "Lilies", an arrangement by Roger C. Wilson.

The flowers are to be white lilies, presented by members and friends of the congregation and arranged by Mrs. Earl Sylvester and Mrs. Ridgely Vane.

The choirs will rehearse, as follows: Junior Choir, Thursday, 7 p.m.; Senior Choir, Thursday, 8 p.m.

The Union Good Friday Service will be held in Trinity Church, this Friday, April 12th, from 12 noon to 3 p.m. The service is sponsored by the ministers and churches of Harrington. The meditations on the Seven Words from the Cross will be given by the Harrington ministers. Special vocal selections will be sung by members of the participating churches. Organists for the service are: Miss Candace Peck, Melvin Brobst, and Miss Gail Melvin. Everyone is invited to attend as much of the service as possible.

DELAWARE STATE MUST HAVE NEW POLICY ON SPEAKERS

A black power advocate, speaking at Delaware State College recently, demanded white students be "kicked out of the institution." Let us know when the University of Delaware permits a speaker to demand Negro students be ejected from the Newark institution.

It is no excuse the black power speaker was not a Delawarean: someone had to invite him.

Racial harmony is a "must". We suggest Delaware State bar black power speakers. If it does not, we suggest the General Assembly change it into a junior college. Another choice, of course, is to close it.

It was founded as a school for Negroes but, since the courts have justifiably ruled they can attend the University of Delaware, there is no reason for its existence if it provides a podium for racist speakers. A deplorable feature of closing, however, would be that all students, black and white, might not be able, financially and otherwise, to attend the University of Delaware.

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller

EASTER

Keep the faith and still be brave,
The soul lives on beyond the grave,
From every tomb that Easter day—
The stone of death was rolled away.
Death is but rest from pain and strife
And represents the gate to life.

How strangely unfortunate that incidents leading up to current strife and tragedy should be timed to mar our thoughts on this wonderful truth.

The movie picture, "King of Kings" shown this weekend at the Milford Theatre could go a long way toward putting us back on the right track.

CITY PLANNING

Planning process and how the City Plan was evolved.

The Planning Commission has a draft copy of a Basis for Sub-division Regulation. This provides a legal mechanism for the maintaining of quality land development. The City does not have such an ordinance which should be studied carefully and be adopted by the Mayor and Council.

Building Codes

Harrington has no control over the type and quality of building construction within the City. If the City is determined to eliminate future substandard structures, the Mayor and Council should adopt one of the National Model Building Code to regulate building construction. Other communities use the Building Official's Conference of America Code. These codes are designed to insure minimum standards for building construction.

Should one of these codes be adopted, an inspector must be hired to enforce the provisions of the ordinance. Building and occupancy permits would have to be issued for new constructions or for additions to existing structures. On-site inspections will have to be made to insure that builders are conforming to the requirements of the ordinance. The building inspector could also serve as the City's zoning officer. In this connection, this individual would be responsible for seeing that new or expanded construction conforms to the City's zoning requirements. At the present time the City Manager is serving in this capacity. Hiring a full-time building and zoning officer would take this function out of the hands of the City Manager.

Other Administrative Considerations

It is not within the scope of this program to go into the entire matter of local Public Administration. However, in order to have a successful planning program continue, the City will need the necessary administrative machinery to keep it going.

Harrington has a City Manager. This form of government should be continued and strengthened through local charter revisions and by giving the Manager the necessary support, staff and salary to do the job required. The Manager is an essential person, particularly in small communities where elected officials devote only part time to local affairs. The Manager should have his finger on the pulse of the City and recommend steps for improvement. The Manager should report not only to the governing body but periodically to the people. A column in the local paper devoted exclusively to a report from the Manager might be considered.

To retain and attract qualified personnel in local public employment, a merit system should be considered for adoption by the Mayor and Council. This will encourage more individuals to view government employment as a profession and to provide continuity in local government after new officials are elected.

Maps and Records

To assist in keeping the Comprehensive Plan current, the City should add periodically any new structures or changes in Land Use to the existing Land Use Maps and code them according to type of use. The City should also have an up-to-date water and sewer lines map showing the location and dimensions of pipe. Fire hydrant maps should also be prepared and these should be made available to the Fire Company.

A Street and Public Improvement Map should be kept up-to-date showing the location of sidewalks, street conditions and the location of gutters and curbs. Drainage problem areas should be identified as well as other deficiency areas where public action is required in the future.

The Police Chief should develop a map showing accident locations. The map should be updated annually. In similar fashion, the Fire Company could develop a map showing fire locations, and this should be kept current. This map might show areas which exhibit a pattern where fires predominate. If such areas exist, the City should thoroughly inspect the structures to see that the local codes are being met. There are several reports that should be prepared annually, some of which should be developed for public review. A popularized financial report prepared by the Manager, or by a summer intern student from the University of Delaware or some other school, could be disseminated to the public at large, through the local newspaper or by brochure.

Named Delaware
Food Distributor
Of Year

A Wilmington man has been named Delaware's Food Distributor of the Year at the 11th annual Delaware Conference on Food Distribution at the University of Delaware.

James B. Webber, owner of Webber's Food Shop, received the award from Charles Neugebauer, vice president of Hearn Brothers Super Food Markets and chairman of the University of Delaware Food Trade Advisory Committee.

Webber, who has been in the food business for 11 years, operates a 5,000 square foot store with an annual volume of $1 million. "We are basically a service-oriented store specializing in fresh meat," he explains. "In fact, over 60 per cent of our total volume is done in fresh meat and delicatessen items. Our goal is to fill the public's need for quality and service at a reasonable price."

Webber is a graduate of Wilmington High School and a member of the Food Trade Advisory Committee. He and his wife, Virginia, have eight children.

Highway Dept.
Establishes Traffic Div.

The Delaware State Highway Department has established a traffic division engineering office in New Castle County so that more attention and service can be given to the traffic problems in this rapidly growing area.

The initial assignment to this office is Jon Dufresne, engineer-in-charge, assisted by a draftsman, engineering aid, and field man. All reports, studies and reviews concerning traffic problems in New Castle County will be handled through this office.

To New Castle County, this will be a local office to handle local problems such as requests for speed zones, no parking, no trucks or other signs in addition to entrance reviews, special marking studies and other traffic safety studies.

This new full time traffic office will be located on the lower level of the New Castle County Division Headquarters Building at Bear.

Army Needs
Young Men

It is possible to fulfill your military obligation, and be guaranteed job training in the field of your choice before you enlist. According to Sergeant Walter R. Frazier if you can qualify for the Army's written guarantee program you will receive your desired job training after you complete basic training.

Without obligation to enlist on your part, Sergeant Frazier can arrange for you to take the required aptitude and physical tests. If you qualify you receive the written guarantee.

The Army will give you training and experience in your chosen field, and in addition there will be more educational opportunities after your enlistment since you will be able to qualify for four years college education under the G.I. Bill.

For more information contact Sergeant Frazier at 218 S. Governor's Ave., Dover, or call 736-6937 or 674-1360 to make an appointment.

Mrs. William G. Foraker

Mrs. Bertha M. Foraker, 84, of near Dover, died Wednesday, April 3, at Kent General Hospital, after a long illness.

Her husband, William G. Foraker, died in 1958.

She is survived by seven sons, Richard, of Felton, Raymond of New Castle, Elvin of Dover, William of Camden, James of Lewes, Robert of Townsend and Heartie of Milford; three daughters, Mrs. Marie Blades of Milford, Mrs. Rebecca Ldale of Frederica, and Mrs. Mertie Voshell of Dover; 19 grandchildren; 26 great-grandchildren; a great-great-grandchild; a brother, Morton Tomlinson, of Wilmington, and a sister, Mrs. Alva Clarke, of Washington, D. C.

He went on to say that underground cables carry circuits for police, fire, hospitals, doctors, newspapers, radio, ETV, television stations as well as regular telephone service.

Mrs. Robert L. Drain

Mrs. Mary Edna Barney Drain, of 11 Cedarbrook Ave., Bridgeport, N. J., died Tuesday at Eastern Memorial Hospital, Easton, Md., where she had been a patient since Sunday as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident, which occurred on Route 404 between Hickman and Denton, Md.

Mrs. Drain, 34, was born in Louisville, Ky., daughter of Raymond and Edna Barney and wife of Robert L. Drain. The Drains were married Dec. 8, 1967, and had resided at the Cedarbrook residence for the past two months. Mrs. Drain, before residing in Bridgeport, had lived in Harrington for 15 years.

Mrs. Drain was employed at the West Company in Millville. She was a member of the American Legion Auxiliary of Harrington, and a member of the Laurel Hill Methodist Church in Bridgeport.

Mrs. Drain is survived by her mother and father, her husband and four daughters, Connie Sue Hignutt, Diane Hignutt, both of Hickman; Linda Hignutt and Janet Hignutt, both of Blackbird; a brother, Monty Ray Barney, of Ellendale; two sisters, Mrs. Shirley Clifford and Mrs. Vincent Rago, both of Wilmington; two half sisters, Mrs. Betty Marklin, of Prospect Park, N. J.; Mrs. Pauline Sheppard, Newark.

Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. Archie C. Shull, pastor of the Laurel Hill Methodist Church at the Brooks West Side Funeral Home, 181 Atlantic Street, Bridgeport, N. J. this morning at 10 o'clock. Friends may call Thursday evening 7 to 9 at the Brooks Funeral Home.

Services were Saturday afternoon at 2 at the Trader Funeral Home, Dover. Interment was in Barratt's Chapel, Cemetery, Frederica.

Liberal Divorce
Law Gains

The House Wednesday passed a bill to liberalize Delaware's divorce laws after beating an amendment which would have removed incompatibility as a basis for divorce proceedings.

In other action during a brief but busy session, House members approved bills raising the annual salary of the governor to $35,000 permitting state judges to sit in the Municipal Court during emergencies, and shifting the financing of the State Home at Smyrna from the counties to the state.

Introduced Wednesday were bills which would spell out collective bargaining rights under the new merit system and set up a presidential primary in Delaware.

Rep. Michael N. Castle, D-Wilmington, added two dual-job-holding bills to the several already on the calendars of both houses, and Rep. Anthony J. Cicone, R-Elsmere, introduced a package of five traffic-law bills, featuring a ban on drag racing.

The divorce-law measure, sent to the Senate after House passage Wednesday, would reduce from two years to one the amount of time before an involuntarily separated, or deserted spouse might seek a divorce.

It would reduce the waiting period for a couple voluntarily separated from three years to 18

DPIA GROWER COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN — Don Wilber, Route 6, Salisbury, predicted last week that Peninsula farmers may soon be growing 100,000 chickens a year apiece on the average and spending no more time at it than 25,000 chickens required 20 years ago.

months, and would allow a divorce on a plea of incompatibility if there were "rift or discord" for two consecutive years.

The defeated amendment, sponsored by Minority Leader Jacob W. Zimmerman, D-Dover, was aimed at the last provision. Granting divorces on the basis of incompatibility, Zimmerman said, would make the law too broad.

Rep. Melvin A. Slawik, D-New Castle, said that deprived of incompatibility as grounds for a divorce, marriage partners often use false testimony to gain a decree. "They call divorce proceedings the perjury hour," he said. The bill received 19 votes, one more than needed for passage.

The bill to boost the salary of the governor from $25,000 to $35,000 would take effect next January, after the current term of Gov. Charles L. Terry Jr. expires. The House defeated an amendment which would have compromised at a $30,000 figure.

The bill about judges was sponsored by the floor leaders of each party, and was introduced only Wednesday in response to this week's disorders in Wilmington.

Majority Leader Everett Hale, R-Newark, said two judges in the Municipal Court had to hear all charges stemming from this disorders Tuesday night, and "this morning these two judges were about to fall on their faces."

The bill would permit the chief justice to designate state judges to sit in any statutory court during an emergency.

The State Home bill is one of a series sponsored by Kent County Republicans to attempt to have the state take over the counties' half of the financial responsibility for the home.

The current bill is tied to a revenue-raising measure which would create "vanity" license plates.

Rep. Joseph T. Cashman, R-Stockton, is chief sponsor of the bill which would stipulate that nothing in the merit system law "shall deny, limit or infringe upon the right of any employee in the classified service of any exclusive bargaining representative."

Cicione said "wild auto racing on the public highways in my district" prompted his anti-drag racing bill.

Another of his auto measures would create the offense of "careless and inattentive driving." Cicone said a new law is necessary because of the difficulty in getting convictions on charges of reckless driving.

KEEP MOVING FORWARD WITH

YIELD-PROVED HYBRIDS
FROM P-A-G

Your corn yields have come a long way in the past ten years. But the best is still ahead—if you can keep costs in line and yields growing. How? We say start with proven hybrids that are right for your soil, your climate, your way of handling corn. Start with P-A-G hybrids. We call them The Successful Ones because they've proven their worth in tough field tests on farms like yours.

P-A-G's SPECIAL RECOMMENDATIONS

Special Cross, P-A-G 399
This three-way cross rivals the best single crosses for yield. With populations up to 22,000 you can depend on excellent seedling vigor and good standability. You'll appreciate 399's easy harvesting.

Special Cross, SX 29
Popular single cross that's bred for the farmer who's willing to go all out for yields. Plant at populations from 16,000 to 24,000. Ideal for narrow rows. Has ability to use high fertility and available moisture.

Double Cross, P-A-G 395
This hybrid is very flexible as to soil type and fertility. It offers good seedling vigor and standability at populations from 16,000 to 21,000. Recommended for narrow rows. Produces excellent yields.

Your P-A-G dealer has complete details about all of The Successful Ones. Including special crosses and four-way crosses. See him soon.

Democrats Endorse Open Housing

The Delaware Federation of Democratic Clubs Saturday adopted without dissent a resolution endorsing the principle of open housing.

Secretary of State Elisha C. Dukes, elected president of the organization, called the resolution, "excellent, long overdue, and one we should pursue."

Adoption of the resolution came early in an unusually peaceful convention which also heard speeches by Gov. Charles L. Terry Jr. and former Massachusetts Gov. Endicott Peabody.

Unlike previous federation conventions, Saturday's affair offered no floor fights over offices and no debates over resolutions.

Other resolutions unanimously adopted expressed "grief and sorrow at the tragic slaying of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr." and congratulated Terry for his "forthright stand" in the face of racial disturbances.

A housing resolution endorsed the principle "for all citizens regardless of race, creed or color."

Offered by the 9th Ward Democratic Club of Wilmington, the resolution said, "We recognize the urgent need for unity and a spirit of cooperation among all races and all peoples in our country for a better and proud American. This we urge as positive evidence of our good will as free men and our leadership in the free world."

Spokesmen for the Kent and Sussex County caucuses, usually holdouts against open-housing proposals, said the groups were unanimous in support of the resolution.

Terry, Peabody and Alexis I. du Pont Bayard, Democratic state chairman, all delivered political speeches, lambasting Republicans and running down a checklist of Democratic accomplishments.

"The party is in excellent condition," Terry said. "We are not on the defense. The other side is."

He said thousands of Republicans have told him they plan to cast their ballots for a Democratic slate in November.

Peabody, now assistant director of the Federal Office of Emergency Planning, called President Johnson's decision not to seek re-election "one of the most self-sacrificing acts any man has ever taken. If he can sacrifice himself, we can do no less — than move ahead for the peace President Johnson has been fighting for for many years."

Dukes, 55-year-old former state party chairman, succeeds Mrs. Mary E. Doto of Wilmington as president.

Mrs. Kathryn Derrickson was elected a Kent County director. It was the 15th annual convention of the organization of 55 Democratic clubs throughout the state.

Good Friday Service Today

Today the Harrington Ministerial Association will present a three hour Good Friday Service. The service begins at 12 noon and ends at 3 o'clock p.m. and will be held in Trinity Methodist Church on Commerce Street. All of the churches of Harrington and surrounding area are invited to share in this service. The people may come and leave at their convenience during the singing of the hymns. At 12 noon the Rev. William Halliburton, pastor of the Baptist Church will present a meditation, "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do."

At 12:30 p.m. the Rev. Quay D. Rice, pastor of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church will have the second meditation "Verily I say unto thee, today shalt thou be with me in paradise."

At 12:55 the Rev. William Garrett, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church will have the third meditation, "Woman, behold thy Son! Son, behold thy Mother."

At 1:20 the Rev. William Griffin, pastor of the Nazarene Church will have the fourth meditation, "My God, My God! Why hast thou forsaken me?"

At 1:45 the Rev. Benjamin Washington, pastor of St. Paul's A.M.E. Church will have the fifth meditation, "I thirst."

At 2:10 the Rev. William M. Staten, pastor of Metropolitan Methodist Church will have the sixth meditation "It is Finished."

At 2:35 the Rev. William Miller, pastor of the Pilgrim Holiness Church will have the seventh meditation, "Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit." Plans have been made for special music before each meditation.

TORNADOES

Do not stay in a mobile home if a tornado or threatening weather is approaching. Take cover in a ditch, ravine, or nearby strong building. Trailer parks should have a community shelter and a community leader responsible for posting a lookout and maintaining contact radio monitoring during threatening weather or tornado watch periods.

5. In a school: When a tornado watch is announced, someone should be assigned to be on the lookout for an approaching storm. Curtains should be drawn and blinds lowered and closed to minimize the danger from flying glass. If a tornado is sighted, go quickly to an interior hallway on the lowest floor. Avoid the auditorium, gymnasium, or other areas with wide, free-span roofs. If the school does not have a strongly reinforced construction and if there is enough time, it may be safer to go quickly to a nearby reinforced building or lie flat in open ditches or ravines.

Slight Drop In March Traffic on Del. Mem. Bridge

A later Easter this year resulted in a slight drop in vehicular traffic on the Delaware Memorial Bridge in March, compared with the same month a year earlier.

Bridge traffic for March, 1968, was 1,152,709 vehicles compared to 1,174,756 for the same month a year earlier, announced General Manager Theodore C. Bright, this week. The decrease of 22,047 vehicles represented a drop of 1.9 per cent.

Revenues during the same period were $72,694.10 in 1968 compared with $72,252.70 in 1967, a decrease of $558.60 or .07 per cent.

For the 12-month period ended March 31, 1968, vehicular traffic on the bridge totaled 15,277,738 compared with 14,991,128 for the 12-month period ended March 31, 1967. This is an increase of 286,610 or 1.9 per cent.

Revenue from Bridge tolls for 12 months ended March 31, 1968 was $9,357,143.75 compared with $9,101,253.10 for the comparable previous 12-month period. The increase was $255,890.65 or 2.8 per cent.

Since the Delaware Memorial Bridge opened August 16, 1951, a total of 175,329,068 vehicles have used the span.

FENCE TALK

with George K. Vapaa

Dairymen must actively promote their product if fluid milk is to continue to enjoy good markets. Substitutes, in the form of "imitation milk" or "fluid milk" are being test marketed. This theme is driven home by three sources this past week.

Dr. Robert Holland, dairy department head at Cornell University, spoke to the northeast regional farm broadcasters. "Price alone is not a factor for substitutes, even though there may be 10 cents difference per half gallon. Additional promotion encourages people to shift, even though the product may not be identified for what it is, nor are food values established. Present laws tend to restrict modernizing fluid milk to a more acceptable product. We can easily compete with substitutes if we improve our production efficiency all along the line".

The new president of National Dairy Council, Ralph Charbeneau, cites a milk sales advantage of 38 pounds per capita greater than for the markets without Dairy Council promotion. The milk industry is highly regulated, which tends to attract competition from unregulated products (substitutes).

The Farm Bureau also recognizes the competition in their weekly newsletter and calls for a marketing emphasis. Low-fat milk can probably compete effectively with filled milk. Farm Bureau suggests that the present classified pricing system be studied - the federal and state milk orders - and that alternative pricing systems be reviewed.

Milk orders were originally designed to stabilize milk prices even though the supply varied widely. The demand had been steady, so excess supplies moved into ice cream or other dairy products at some seasons. The substitutes make fluid milk more elastic in demand. So the thought is to make fluid milk more responsive to price changes.

Complicated? Ah yes! Pity the poor dairy economist. Some regulation is needed in the farm business. But my own observation is that price protection tends to create other problems we might not have otherwise.

The corn variety plots will be planted again at the Jack F. Tarburton farm east of Dover on the north Little Creek Road. With good weather, we hope to spread 0-15-30 fertilizer this week. The nitrogen will be put on as anhydrous gas in the furrow as the ground is plowed. Anhydrous ammonia is the cheapest form of nitrogen, and this method of using it seems very logical. More farmers will be using it as they convert their equipment and methods.

About 50 varieties of corn will be tested at Dover and at Georgetown. Ideally, they should go in about May 1. I wish we could spell out the exact day that each job takes place. For visitors are always welcome.

We are grateful for Jack's cooperation. Luckily, he is a graduate agronomist who knows and understands the problems of a demonstration test. We left him with a sticky problem last year by planting the corn at two row widths. His neighbor, Alfred Billbrough, came to his rescue with narrow row harvesting equipment after we took the yield samples.

Ask people to tell you back in their own words to prove they understand what you say. There are over 300 words for which there is no general agreement as to meaning, says David W. Ross, a speaker at the Delaware Conference on Food Distribution at the University of Delaware.

For example, "being wise" can mean a smart aleck to a big city man. But in other areas it can mean full of wisdom. Or our kids use "cool" today where we used "hot" at one time. "You were 'hot' out," says the kids.

Food distributors gather each year at the University during the student spring break "To Raise the Standard" (1968 theme) of food marketing. The three day conference gives intensive study to management, merchandising, cost control, supplier services and convenience stores. The aim is to bring food products to the consumer more effectively. Most agree that the conference is enjoyable and profitable.

"I took crop insurance to strengthen my credit and to protect my investment," says Alfred Billbrough of Dover. He grows more corn than any other farmer in Kent County. Many farm leaders in Delaware are following his lead to protect their corn and soybean enterprises.

The average corn or soybean grower spends 80 cents to get a dollar back. That is a margin of only 20%. So he cannot afford to gamble on a short crop due to the hazards drought, flooding, insects, disease or other risk.

Some 30,000 acres of corn or soybean acreage has already been signed up by William Hutchinson of Clayton, Ed Hass of Dover, Elwood Clendaniel of Lincoln and Glenn Smith, who sells in Caroline County, Md., as well as in Kent County, Del. April 30 is the deadline date to sign up into the Federal All-Risk Crop Insurance Program. Over 70 percent of total corn acreage was signed up in Caroline County, Md., last year. I predict we will get the same acceptance soon in Delaware, tho we are later getting started.

Kent County horse project members are preparing themselves for a 4-H judging contest in July. Like all animal projects one needs to learn how to select a sound animal. Thus our 4-Hers will compete in the first judging contest in Delaware. In this type of event members will study such items as type and balance, muscling, straightness of legs, breed characteristics, size. 4-Hers must first learn to identify the parts of a horse so that they can be specific in noting the good points and weaknesses. In livestock judging the oral reasons is part of the contest. Each member stands before the official judge and verbally gives their reasons for placing four like animals in first, second, third and fourth place. All horse club members should be participating in this activity. It is valuable to each in understanding their animal and in selecting future animals. Information is available from local 4-H leaders or the 4-H club office.

Fashion rainbow is the theme of Kent County's 1968 Dress Revue, May 11, at Caesar Rodney High School. All clothing project members should participate.

April 15th is the last deadline for entry forms. Mrs. Becky Nickerson, Chestnut Grove leader and chairman of the Revue, will have her committee of older 4-Hers writing script. From early entries, colors and interesting fabrics will create a rainbow on the stage at 8 p.m. on May 11.

Traditional Easter eggs are decorative and nutritious. Eggs were the symbol of spring in long-ago spring rites. They are still a symbol of the renewal of life in our present-day Easter festivities.

Games and frolicking are associated with spring time and egg time. The early English custom of rolling down Greenwich Hill at Easter was replaced with the custom of rolling eggs down instead. The egg rolling custom has become a White House tradition in this country. The familiar egg hunts, now an Easter custom, have gone on since antiquity.

The original purpose in coloring eggs was to imitate the bright foliage and flowers that come with spring. In northern Europe the eggs were dyed red for the god Thor and yellow for Eostre, the goddess who lent her name to our Easter.

In the early days of Christian Church, eggs were colored red to symbolize the blood of Christ. Medieval English people used red, blue and violet dyes. The Persians and Russians have long been famous for their elaborate works of art created from blown eggs.

There are so many ways to decorate Easter eggs that your imagination is the only limitation. Blown or emptied egg shells can be decorated to resemble nearly anything—from rabbits to spacemen.

For something truly novel, write on the shell with a solution that comes through the egg itself. Make breakfast a fun-time for the youngsters on Easter morning or any morning of the year. The design or secret message is put on the egg before it is cooked. To do this, dissolve one ounce of alum in one cup of vinegar. Alum is available at any drugstore. Dip a small pointed brush in this solution and draw the design or write the message. Let the solution dry thoroughly.

Put the eggs in a pan and cover completely with cold water. Bring the water to simmering and simmer 20 to 25 minutes. Do not let the water boil. Cool the eggs quickly in cold running water.

There will be no trace of the writing on the shell when the eggs are served, but inside, on the hard-cooked egg white the writing or design will appear bright and clear. The eggs may be dyed as usual after hard cooking and cooling.

Color as many eggs as the youngsters want. Hard-cooked eggs can be used so many delicious and nutritious ways; there should be no problem using all the Easter eggs.

U. of D. to Hold Symphonic Band Concert

"Music in the Popular Vein" will be featured by the University of Delaware Symphonic Band in its final concert for 1967-68 in Mitchell Hall on Sunday, April 14, at 8:15 p.m.

Under the direction of Professor J. Robert King, the 47-piece ensemble will play jazz-oriented numbers and pieces from the Broadway musical theater from 1924 to 1965.

Principal soloist with the band will be David Lutz of Robesonia, Pa. He will be featured in a performance of George Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue. Although originally scored for piano and orchestra by Ferde Grofe of "Grand Canyon Suite" fame, it was rescored by the same composer for band. The work premiered in Aeolian Hall in 1924 with Gershwin at the Piano.

Other numbers on the program include the Overture to Candide by Leonard Bernstein; Highlights from the Broadway musical "Mame" arranged by John Krance; An Ellington Portrait arranged for symphonic band by Floyd Werle, former arranger for the Air Force Band; England's Carol by John Lewis, founder of the modern jazz quartet; proglogue to "West Side Story" arranged by Gilman, and selections from "The King and I" by Richard Rodgers, arranged by Robert Russell Bennett.

The concert is open to the public without charge.

WHAT TWO JUGS LED TO — When Mrs. Gilbert White, Bridgeville, wanted to know the age of two jugs, or crocks, she said they carried the inscription: "Raughley & Anderson Dry Goods and Grocery, Main Street, Harrington, Del." The above engraving gives us the information. The firm had a store at 36 Commerce St., in 1885. The firm was housed in a former school building, steeple and all, and can be seen on Commerce Street in the center of the picture. Lithograph is by O. H. Bailey & Co., Boston, 1885.

Measuring Crocks Gives Line on Early Local Merchants

By Carrington H. Burgess
When a Bridgeville woman acquired an interest in antiques, it revealed a highlight on early Harrington merchants.

Mrs. Gilbert White recalled she had two grey crocks in her cellar. These had the engraving in intaglio of Raughley & Anderson, Dry Goods and Grocery, Main Street (Commerce), Harrington, Del., and Mrs. White wanted to know their age. The crocks are approximately 83 years old.

One crock holds four gallons; the second is smaller, and a third was broken. The crocks, fitted inside one another, they were grey, with blue-and-white flowers in relief. Mrs. White received them from her mother, Mrs. Sulinda Hurd, Dover, who, in turn, had received them from her mother, Mrs. Sarah David.

Raughley & Anderson had a store at 36 Commerce St., in 1885, as shown on a lithograph of a bird's-eye view of Harrington, published then by O. H. Bailey, Boston. The address is adjacent to The Peoples Bank.

On the lithograph, the building has a steeple. The structure was formerly on the southeast corner of Mechanic and Dorman Streets where it served as a school and was used by Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church until it built its present structure in 1870.

Asbury Methodist Men's News

By Sam Short Jr.
Dave Welch, vice president of the Methodist Men conducted the meeting in the absence of the president, Donald Garey, by calling on Howard Wagner to grace the table.

After the treasurer's and the recording secretary's reports were given the chairman appointed J. Edward Taylor as chairman of a new nominating committee along with the help of Charles L. Peck Jr., and his brother, Thomas Peck, to nominate officers for the coming term.

The acting president then appointed a new committee to help make up the new breakfast committees for the year. He then called on Howard Wagner to give the devotions for the morning. His topic was on the present world conditions, and taking for his text the 24th chapter of Matthew, reading from the 3rd to the 14th verses.

Norman Toadvine was the chairman of the breakfast committee with Ed Graef as the chef, serving scrapple and eggs. Mark Willey is the chairman for the May breakfast.

upstairs. The building now includes Rash's Billiard Parlor and is just south of a pedestrian alley leading to Mechanic Street. We do not know what happened to the Raughley & Anderson partnership, but in The Harrington Enterprise of 1887, it stated Garrett S. Harrington had accepted a job in John Anderson's Dry Goods & Grocery. In later years, Harrington also operated a dry goods store.

Anderson afterward operated a similar store at the northwest corner of Mechanic and Commerce Streets. In 1910, it was operated by Wilbur E. Jacobs and Anderson moved to McCaulley's Pond. After World War II, the building, owned by Thurmond Brown, was razed by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. A women's group planted a dogwood on the lot this spring.

The Raughley & Anderson building was later occupied by Franklin Brothers Furniture, and then by L. Morris, in the clothing business, and replaced by the brick building owned by Baynard Smith in 1941. This shows what can happen when someone wants to know the age of crocks.

Veterans' News

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—I am 61 years of age. May I convert my National Service Life Insurance term policy to the Modified Life Plan? What would the new premium be?

A—It is not possible to convert to the Modified Life Plan after age 60.

Q—I served in the Army from 1956 to 1959. Am I eligible for any G.I. Bill benefits, particularly a business loan?

A—You are eligible for many benefits, from education and training to home and farm home loans, under the "Veterans Readjustment Benefits Act of 1966," popularly known as the Post-Korean G.I. Bill. However, this Act, which covers veterans who served in our Armed Forces after Jan. 31, 1955, does not include business loans for veterans among the benefits it provides. The Small Business Administration, though, may make business loans to veterans. Check with your nearest U.S. Veterans Assistance Center or VA office for information and assistance on all your veteran benefits.

Q—My husband is a veteran of World War II and has a service-connected disability of 100 per cent. What benefits do members of his family have if one of them needs hospitalization?

A—By law, the Veterans Administration's program of hospital and medical care is available to veterans only. VA may not provide hospitalization for the dependents of veterans. Even veterans are admitted to VA hospitals on a priority basis; i.e. (1) veterans with a service-connected disability requiring hospitalization for this disability; (2) veterans with a service-connected disability requiring hospitalization for a nonservice-connected illness; (3) veterans without a service-connected disability requiring hospitalization are admitted when beds are available if they are unable to afford private hospital care.

Senior Center News

Mrs. Betty Cooper and Mrs. Mildred Minner attended the State Senior Citizen's Advisory meeting in Rehoboth last Thursday. A buffet luncheon was served followed by a business meeting. The topic for this month was devoted to various ways of celebrating Senior Citizen's Month, which is held in May.

Mrs. DeZwarte who conducts the Senior Citizen's program in Kent County Nursing Homes along with Mrs. Fletcher and an aide from the Fletcher Nursing Home escorted four of their patients and visited with us on Monday. With their assistance the Nursing Project was completed. Some were able to renew old friendships while others were able to make new friends. We were happy to have them join us and hope they will soon be able to come back again.

This Thursday we will be starting a new project—handbags made from furniture webbing and wool. If you are interested in learning this craft bring a skein of variegated wool and a needle-point or tapestry needle. Webbing can be purchased at the center. Instructions will be free.

The Center will be closed Good Friday but a picnic is scheduled for Easter Monday. It will be held at Petersburg Recreational Center. A club house with heat, lights, refrigeration, water, cooking facilities as well as tables, chairs and restrooms are available. So rain or shine we will be able to enjoy ourselves. If you plan to join us call the director so transportation can be arranged. We will be leaving the parking lot, (two doors from the center) promptly at 11:30 p.m. Beverage will be furnished but be sure to bring your own box lunch.

Mrs. Gladys Hill and Mrs. Leila Hopkins have been selected to serve on the Board of Directors for the coming year.

Our birthday party is scheduled for Thurs., April 18. Be sure and come out and join in the celebration.

H.H.S. Nine Opens Season April 18th

Bob Young's Harrington High baseball team will visit Delmar on April 18th to open the 1968 season.

This has been an unusual spring since no cuts have been made in the squad's personnel. A few boys have resigned from time to time leaving some 23 or 24 candidates. Since Young plans to fill 20 suits, it appears that only one small reduction will be needed. This is the largest squad to be seen here in many years.

Catchers are Steve O'Neal, Gordy Jarrell and John Brown. Mound duties will be shared by Howard Brown, Chester Scott, Dave Newnom and Mike Adams. Adams is the lone southpaw.

First base hopefuls are John Winkler, Bill Newnom and Bob Thompson.

Jerry Cagle and Bill Halliburton are second base aspirants.

Trying out at shortstop are Harold Jump, Dave Newnom, Mickey Chaffinch.

Chester Scott and Gary Minner are slated to hold down the hot corner.

Dale Motter, Bill Newnom, Dick Porter are hoping for the starting nod in center.

The competition is crowded in right field with Bill Walls, Bob Everline, Bill Smith and Lennie Donovan. We can think of no humbler beginning in baseball, than to be listed as the No. 4 right fielder. Of course, we don't know who gets that dubious distinction at this date, but the lad might someday climb the ladder to stardom, there's plenty of time.

The schedule:

April 18—Delmar	A
22—Dover Air	H
25—Bridgeville	A
29—Greenwood	H
May 2—Rehoboth	H
6—Millsboro	H
9—John M. Clayton	A
13—Lord Baltimore	A
16—Milton	H
20—Selbyville	A
23—Felton	H

12-and-Under Mile Run Set For April 17th

The mile run for boys, who had not reached their 13th birthday on March 1st, will be held on April 17th.

Only Harrington students are eligible. The race is scheduled to be run between events of the Harrington, John M. Clayton, Selbyville triangular track meet.

Trophies will be given to the first six finishers, with the possibility of some additional awards being handed out.

A dozen or more lads have expressed a desire to compete. The custodial staff at the school, under Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds Edgar Dill, have the quarter mile track in decent shape and the contestants have had ample time to get in good condition.

Jackie D. Parker rates the nod as favorite to win. Danny Parker and Tommy Clarke should be contenders for the runnerup spot. Other possible competitors are Ray Gannon, Howard Parker, Mitchell Dill, Mark Krouse, Fitchell Donovan, Michael Unruh, Kim Hitchens, and others whose names we can't recall at this time. The date again is April 17th. Post time approximately 5 p.m.

Trout Season Opens on Good Friday

Brook and rainbow trout are being stocked this week in James Branch between Trap Pond and Records Pond near Laurel. Fishermen will be required to have a current fishing license but, because of the experimental nature of these stockings, a trout stamp will not be required. The trout season opens on April 12 and runs through November 9. Fishing hours are 1/2 hour before sunrise to 1/2 hour after sunset. The creel limit is four; there is no size limit.

White Clay and Mill Creeks north of Delaware Route 2 and the Brandywine are regularly designated trout streams. These streams are stocked several times in April, May and June. Quite a few trophy-sized brown trout (all over 12 inches) will furnish excellent sport. A trout stamp costing $2.10, in addition to the regular Delaware fishing license, is required to fish White Clay and Mill Creeks. A trout stamp is also required to fish in Brandywine Creek from April 12 through April 30.

Harrington Bowling League

There isn't much difference in the standings this week as the listing shows the teams as close together as last week. The battle for the final third is going right down to the wire with the winner still in doubt with only one more night of competition left.

Acme is still setting the pace with fine team bowling, to maintain their slim margin of one and a half games over their closest rival. R. Gray continues to be the main cog in their defense, as they continue, for the third week in a row, coming out of a contest with a clean slate. With Gray's 216 game and a superb 576 series, Acme trounced Hamilton Fund Tuesday night. To make it even more thrilling next week is the fact that Acme will come up against Robbins Hardware, who can be very tough at times, and who once held the lead themselves. They may play the part of the spoilers so Acme is going to have to go all out to bag this third.

Kent Gas continues to hold the second place spot, though out of competition this third, they have topped teams off the top of the list all this third, but has been acting as a shield for Acme in the final stanzas. Tuesday night saw Kent Gas take four games from Jarrell Fuel as H. Wheeler with a superb 220 game and a grand 553 series, and with K. Layton rolling a fine 213 game and a nice 524 series to set the pace for Kent Gas. Jarrell Fuel's M. Jarrell rolled a real fine 531 series to make their showing respectable, though they still slipped down to the ninth place position in the standings. An unusual position, too, we might add, as this team usually does much better than their record shows.

Wally's Garage waltzed over Robbins Hardware to the tune of four games to keep themselves in a real fine position to take all the marbles in this third. They may have an easier time next week with the Spoilers as their opponents, but had better not take the team for granted. They don't call themselves the Spoilers for nothing, even though they do occupy the cellar position. They have been known to bowl

real strong when least expected.	Wally's Garage	25	15
McKnatt Funeral Home and Taylor & Messick split four games in their setto Tuesday night. McKnatt's still remains in the fourth spot with Taylor & Messick holding down the eighth spot.	McKnatt's	22	18
	Hamilton Fund	20	20
	Penn. R. R.	20	20
	Robbins Hardware	18½	21½
	Taylor & Messick	15	25
	Jarrell Fuel	14	26
	Spoilers	13	27

Late Church Bowling League

Penn. R. R. is doing fairly well this third as they won four games from the Spoilers to move into a tie for the fifth place spot. The tempo in this third continues to pick up with the pressure really on Acme and Wally's Garage as the fight for the title has narrowed down to these two teams. Neither team can afford to lose a game next week. It will be interesting to see which team can withstand the pressure. Both teams have bowled very well the past several weeks, and it is a "must" that they do so next week.
