Appreciation Night at Raceway Set for Oct. 29

Free admission to the clubhouse and grandstand will be offered next Tuesday, Oct. 29 as Harrington Raceway plays host to patrons on the annual Appreciation Night.

A gala program has been arranged for the open house event and some lucky fan will go home with a new automobile.

Tickets on the 1968 Buick have been distributed nightly over the past several weeks and will continue to be allotted through Tuesday night. An impartial drawing will be held following the final race that evening. The winner must be present to claim the prize.

Appreciation Night will mark the two-thirds mark of Harrington's 22d fall meeting.

Each race on the open house program will be a trophy event. A daily double and four exactas will also be featured.

A red-hot driving battle is in prospect down the stretch in both the dash wins and Universal Ratings departments.

Vernon Mitchell, 35-year-old Greensboro, Md., reinsman, has vaulted into a commanding lead in the Universal Ratings competition with a 426 average. He counts 16 wins, 8 seconds and 3 thirds in 48 starts.

Hometown favorite J. D. Dennis has climbed into the runnerup spot with a .349 mark compiled on 15 wins, 8 seconds and 8 thirds in 65 outings.

Al Sleva, of Milford, the early pacesetter, has tumbled into third with a .346. He counts a dozen triumphs, 7 seconds and 6 thirds in 52 trips.

Bridgeville's Paul Myer still owns a comfortable margin in the dash wins category with 23. He also boasts seven places and 16 shows in 105 starts and a .307 UDR mark good for seventh place.

Favorites continue to more than hold their own in the Harrington competition. Forty-one per cent (135 of 327) have lived up to favorite's billing with triumphs, and 69% of them (225 of 327) have finished in the money.

Harrington's 60-night meeting continues through Nov. 14.

UNICEF Trick or Treat Collection Next Thursday

At a committee meeting at the home of Mrs. A. B. Parsons on Wednesday night, final plans were made for the annual UNICEF collection in Harrington. Children of all religious affiliations are invited to participate.

Beginning at 3:30 on Thursday afternoon, October 31, adult drivers will leave the New Century Club carrying children to all parts of our community. They will go from door to door asking for donations for the world's needy children.

UNICEF grew out of the aftermath of World War II. The war had left millions of children homeless, hungry and ill. A special body within the United Nations was created to meet these emergency needs. Its assistance is in the form of supplies not available locally and funds for the training of necessary local personnel. The projects aimed are in the fields of health, disease control, nutrition, education, vocational training, and family and child welfare.

President Johnson has said: "UNICEF Trick or Treat Day has helped turn a holiday too often marred by youthful vandalism into a program of basic training in world citizenship. This great humanitarian program aids innocent children who are the victims of mankind's oldest enemies — disease, hunger and ignorance."

When the collectors return to the Century Club, refreshments will be served to them.

Other members of Mrs. Parsons' committee are: Mrs. Frank Derrickson, Mrs. Charles Lare, Mrs. Francis Winkler, Mrs. Richard Shultie, Mrs. Kenneth Garey and Mrs. Frank O'Neal, Jr.

Brooks Robinson To Speak Here At Banquet

The Harrington Little League Baseball Banquet has been tentatively scheduled for Sat., Nov. 16 at the high school cafeteria.

Brooks Robinson, of the Baltimore Orioles, is the scheduled speaker.

Other plans are incomplete at this time, but will be made known at a later date.

Large U.S. Crops Hurt Del. Farmers

Effects of a large corn crop elsewhere in the United States are being felt by Delaware farmers, reports W. T. McAllister, extension agricultural economist at the University of Delaware.

Low prices and low yields have resulted in heavy losses for farmers, explains McAllister. And many farmers report that cash receipts from corn sales failed to cover out-of-pocket expenses such as depreciation, interest on capital investment and family labor.

Based on September 1 estimates, the 1968 feed grain crop will total 177 million tons, about two million more than last year's record crop. Added to the 49 million ton carry-over from the 1967 crop, feed grain supplies for use through 1969 may total 228 million tons — 16 million tons above last fall's supply. This will more than meet the 1968-69 feed grain needs and leave an estimated 55 to 60 million ton carry-over in the fall of 1969.

Corn production may approach last year's record 4.72 billion bushels, adds McAllister. Even though there were eight per cent fewer acres planted this year. Part of this increase resulted from favorable weather conditions in most of the country. Increased use of technology is also expected to push per acre yields to a record high of 84 bushels on a national basis.

Adding this production to a 1.2 billion bushel carry-over from last year, the total corn supply is estimated at about 5.9 billion bushels, a 400 million bushel increase over last year.

Voting Machine Available Saturday

A voting machine will be demonstrated here tomorrow at Quillen Shopping Center.

In other action on the campaign front, it was announced Republican Headquarters on Commerce Street would be open every afternoon and evening until election.

Tribbitt Lauds Geriatric Aide Program

Lt. Gov. Sherman W. Tribbitt, speaking in behalf of Gov. Charles L. Terry, Jr., at the fifth annual Conference on Aging conducted by the Commission for the Aging on Oct. 15, at the University of Delaware in Newark, lauded the results of the Geriatric Aide Program and said it should be extended to cover the state rather than be confined to Wilmington. This is a program conducted by the Presbyterian Social Services, Inc., who furnish aides to assist older people in their homes. In most instances the aides are paid by the individual who employs them.

Quoting from the recent monthly report submitted by the organization, Lt. Gov. Tribbitt stated the total requests for service were 994 of which 813 were filled. He continued by enumerating: "At this moment, 200 elderly persons are being assisted to stay in their own homes and employment is being given either on a full time or part time basis to 350 aides."

"Several of the aides are themselves over 65; others have been released from mental hospitals; other came off public relief roles. They are giving a type of service which is of direct benefit to our older friends."

In quoting from the prepared text, the Lieutenant Governor stated "the Geriatric Aide Program should be extended on a state-wide basis. If red tape or professional terminology are presenting any mythical road blocks to achieve this, then they should be pushed aside. There is nothing more distressing than to know a real need for a service and watch it denied because of red tape or professional protocol."

G.O.P. Caravan To Visit Here

There will be a Republican caravan thru the county tomorrow and Sat., Oct. 2.

It will leave Dover at 9:30 a.m., and stop at all towns. It will arrive in Harrington at 1:35 p.m., and leave at 1:50 p.m. There will be bands, decorated cars, floats, candidates vehicles, and a sound truck.

Democrats Outregister Republicans and Declines

Independent voters outregistered Republicans in the last registration day Saturday, but both trailed the Democrats.

The state wide totals were Democrats, 5,396; declines, 4,730, and Republicans, 3,984.

With the registration over, there now are a record 258,000 persons eligible to vote in the state.

In New Castle County, Edwin W. Hutchinson, secretary of the county department of elections, said Saturday's registration yielded an additional 903 Democrats, 355 Republicans and 528 declines in Wilmington.

Outside Wilmington registration was 2,511 Democrats, 2,236 Republicans and 2,893 declines.

Delbert W. Mills, Sr., secretary for Kent County, said an additional 902 Democrats, 578 Republicans and 711 declines registered in his county.

Sussex County had a registration of 1,080 Democrats, 815 Republicans and 598 declines, according to William F. Betts, secretary for Sussex County.

Hutchinson said. "This is the highest registration we've ever had in New Castle County."

He predicted total would go over 186,000. The previous high was about 170,000, he said.

Mills said Kent County's total should be about 32,000, about 5,000 more than in any other election.

And Betts said the total in Sussex County should reach about 40,000 about 4,000 more than the previous high.

Local School Board Issuing Passes to Elderly

The Board of Education of the Harrington Special School District is presenting a season pass to all school activities to the "Senior Citizens" of the school district. This act was unanimously resolved at a recent board meeting to express the appreciation of the school district for the support given educational progress throughout the years by these citizens. In its letter of transmittal, it expressed the hope that the recipients would find it possible to enjoy the programs presented by the school.

The Nurses Club, under the direction of Mrs. Lagatha Farrow, has compiled a list of the senior citizens of the district and cards have been mailed to these citizens. However, if any person within the Harrington District 65 years of age or older did not receive this token of appreciation, he is requested to contact the superintendent's office and the oversight will be promptly corrected.

Wallace Public Relations Officer Appointed

William O. Phillips, State Chairman of Wallace's American Party in Delaware, has announced the appointment of William H. McCauley of Georgetown as State Public Relations Officer.

Mr. McCauley grew up in Georgetown where he attended and graduated from Georgetown High School. He received his bachelor's degree in political science from the University of Delaware in 1955 and a master's degree in history from the University of Delaware in 1961.

Mr. McCauley's experience includes four years as assistant State Archivist with the Public Archives Commission in Dover from 1955 to 1959. He has since taught school at Virginia Episcopal School in Lynchburg, Va., and in public schools in Delaware. He is currently employed as a teacher of social studies at Felton High School.

As public relations officer for the Wallace campaign in Delaware, he will be responsible for press releases to the various news media and for the procurement of advertising.

Mr. McCauley is a local history buff and has researched and written a number of articles on Sussex County history and on local industries. (Continued on Page 4)

Special Services At Church of The Nazarene

The Church of the Nazarene announces that revival services will be conducted beginning Tues., Oct. 29, and continuing through Sun., Nov. 3. The pastor, the Rev. William Griffin, would like to extend a welcome to all to come and hear the evangelist, the Rev. Dayton Lockard, of Princeton, W. Va.

The Rev. Lockard has conducted two previous revivals in the local church, and is well known in this area. He is an ordained minister of the Church of the Nazarene, and has had many years' experience in the field of evangelism. He is an excellent singer, and will be singing as well as bringing the message each evening.

Services each evening will be at 7:30, except Sunday, when the evening service begins at 7 p.m. The public is cordially invited to visit during these services.

Kent Sewage Plan Gets Richter Nod

Glenn A. Richter, Republican Kent County Levy Court president, Monday defended the decision to go ahead with plans for a countywide sewage disposal system without Dover.

"Although we would like to have the city of Dover join our efforts, it is irresponsible to assume that the county cannot solve pollution problems without the city of Dover," Richter said. "It should be made perfectly clear that the decisions to install sanitary facilities in the county were made by the unanimous decision of the Levy Court, both Democratic and Republican," Richter said.

"Your Levy Court has made every effort to have the city of Dover join with the county to clean up our pollution problems, but the city of Dover by formal motion has rejected our overtures and has informed us that they wish to go their separate ways."

"However, Richter said, he believes a separate system for Dover and the county will be more expensive, adding that the county will receive state and federal aid, "but I have been told that this aid will not be available to the city."

Richter made his remarks at the Kent County Republicans' regular Monday news conference, saying that some Levy Court candidates had been making erroneous comments about the sewer system.

William C. Torbert, Democratic candidate for Levy Court, said earlier that the Levy Court should have reached an agreement with Dover before going ahead with the sewer system.

Richter said a citizens committee, after reviewing opinions from four engineering consulting firms, recommended the course of action which the Levy Court has followed.

Richter's opponent in the 30th District, John T. McKenna, also suggested that a sewer authority be created to handle the sewer problem.

"The legislature gave to the Levy Court the authority to administer this county facility," Richter said Monday. "And we cannot turn this authority over to some other group."

Richter also denied that the board of assessments was withholding assessment records from the public.

However, Richter said, some records are "valuable to you and must be protected from theft and vandalism."

He did not elaborate. Torbert had scored the board for closing some of the records to the public.

William S. Hudson, county attorney, explained Monday that the actual assessment records were available to everyone.

However, the worksheets, used by the private assessing firm to arrive at an assessed value of a certain piece of property—including such matters as the dimensions of the building, income received from the building, etc., were not available, he said.

The contract negotiated with the firm had the provision that these records would be closed.

An individual can determine the value of his neighbor's property, but not how the evaluation was made.

Torbert had complained it had become difficult to appeal an assessment because other property records which might be used for comparison are not available.

Also, Torbert said, it makes it possible for the county government to hide any possible political favoritism in tax assessments.

Sterilization Rejected at Kent Forum

Sen. Eugene D. Bookhammer's sterilization proposal received a unanimous thumbs-down from office seekers of both parties Monday night at the Kent County League of Women Voters candidates forum.

All but one of the candidates present said they opposed the plan to sterilize mothers with two or more illegitimate children. Sen. George A. Robbins, D-Milford, who was on the Senate committee that recommended sterilization and is known to approve of it, did not comment.

Rep. Jacob W. Zimmerman, D-Dover, said he feels it would be reasonable to make the women attend birth control clinics.

Candidates also expressed views on the Dover bypass, gun control and fluoridation. Sen. Andy Foltz, R-Dover, defended his action in amending the bond bill to prohibit the State Highway Department from using any funds for a West Dover bypass.

"We can only tell the highway department where highways cannot be built," said Foltz, explaining that the legislature by constitution is prohibited from spelling out highway routes.

James D. McGinnis, Democrat seeking to regain the Senate seat Foltz now holds, has criticized Foltz for his action saying the bypass was needed whether it be built "east or west, up or down."

Democrat Julius Tudor, seeking the House seat from the 31st representative district, suggested a beltway around the city.

On gun control, Rep. R. Leon Plessanton, R-Magnolia, now seeking a Senate seat, said he is against gun registration.

He is a former Delaware trap-shoot champion.

Republican Neal Moerschel, running for the House from the 31st District, agreed, adding the accused assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy broke four California gun laws before pulling the trigger.

Rep. Lorin B. Sebrell, R-Dover, said that although he had voted for fluoridation, his ballot might have been cast differently had he known Dover had the difficult problem of monitoring 11 different wells.

C.-K.-R.-T. Aux. Seeking Addresses

Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Tee American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 7 is seeking the addresses for all servicemen from the Harrington area who are serving overseas. It is the desire of the unit to remember those men and women during the Christmas season.

Since the Christmas mailing date for overseas is in early November, Mrs. William Outten would appreciate receiving the addresses by Nov. 4. Call her at 398-3165 or send a post card so the unit can make this a successful project.

FENCE TALK
with George K. Vapaa

An intercontinental jetport, with 10 runways to land six supersonic planes at a time, has been proposed for the pinelands of central New Jersey. It will require 34 square miles or 22,000 acres of land.

The estimated development cost will be $663 million for the cheapest of seven possible sites. It will be large enough to handle just about all of the air traffic now using the Kennedy, La Guardia, Newark and Philadelphia airports. This is the predicted growth in air-passenger and air freight traffic by 1985 for this region.

Kent County, Delaware figures in this industry study to determine the impact of such a project. I heard a summary given at the Delaware Valley Council in Philadelphia. For one thing, our county population will double by 1985.

Small satellite airports may be expected to develop, although the study director, Albert E. Blomquist, did not elaborate on this point—nor even mention the huge Military Air Command Base here at Dover.

I couldn't help but think of a remark by a local farmer recently: "Do you know anyone who would like to buy this farm? You just never get used to the noise of planes taking off and landing here near the end of that runway."

His solution would seem to be to rent his home to someone less sensitive to noise, and to commute from town himself to till the land.

Farming appears to be compatible use for land near large airports. I don't think crops are sensitive to noise, although livestock might be another story.

Blomquist cites the difficulty of finding large open tracts for airports today. The whole area usually builds up quickly so that expansion becomes prohibitive. The case of the New Castle airport is probably one of the better examples.

The movement of air traffic staggers the imagination. Our son just flew home from Vietnam—half way around the world—within a period of 28 hours, of which 10 hours were spent on the ground at three stops on the way.

It's a new world again. Can we plan well enough to live as one world?

A new supervisor of the Kent Soil and Water Conservation District will be elected to serve a four year term. David Robbins of Milford would like to move off the board of supervisors. His term expires at the end of the year.

The new supervisor must come from the southeast quadrant of Kent County. He must live east of the dual highway, U.S. 13 and south of a line bounded by route 10 to Rising Sun, thence to Lebanon and the St. Jones River.

Any farmer resident is eligible for nomination as supervisor. He can be nominated by petition of any 10 landowners in Kent County.

The petition should be presented to the Kent County Soil Conservation District Office by Fri., Nov. 8. It is located at the State Board of Agriculture building just north of the Camden traffic light on U.S. 13.

Supervisors serve a four year term without pay, and normally meet on the second or third Monday of each month. They serve more than 1000 farmers cooperators in Kent County. The District operates heavy earth moving equipment, mostly for land drainage work and for farm ponds.

Pruning trees and shrubs. Wait just a bit longer before you hack away at them. Your plants will soon be dormant and should not develop new growth before next spring.

Do we need a demonstration? I will be happy to set one up if there is enough interest. Just call our Extension Service office, 736-1448, and we can arrange it. Or at the very least, we'll send you some fact sheets on how to give your trees and shrubs a good trimming.

David H. Robbins of Felton called the other day about pruning. He said: "I know there is a right way, even a better way, to make my trees and shrubs look better. The information you sent me last spring about fertilizer, planting instructions and the like was very helpful. So I'm back for more."

And Charles Dupras, Ocean County agent over in New Jersey, is holding a pruning demonstration. He points out that ornamentals will gradually weaken if they are not stimulated to develop new growth.

The demonstration I have in mind will deal with long established trees and shrubs.

Corn cob jelly is very good, if you make it the way the Calvin Clarks of Star Hill do. But that's all I know about it.

This bit of information came about when Mr. Clark called to find out if the blooms or seeds of the white magnolia are poisonous to human beings, animals or birds. But they do not seem to be toxic according to our sources of information at the University of Delaware.

I was curious why he asked this particular question. It turns out that the family likes to experiment with making different kinds of jellies. And they want to try the magnolia as another source - but safely.

Campbell Complex at the Hospital for the Mentally Retarded, Stockley, on Sun., Nov. 3 at 2 p.m.

The dedication will honor the late Mrs. Nan Fooks Campbell, of Laurel, a member of the board of the Delaware Colony for the Feeble-minded before it became a facility of the Delaware Department of Mental Health.

Former State Rep. John M. LeCato, secretary-treasurer of the Board of Trustees of the Department and chairman of a special dedication committee, said that the public is invited to the program.

Participating in the dedication will be Miss May B. Kenney, of Laurel, a sister of Mrs. Campbell.

When the Rev. James R. Hughes, chairman of the Department of Mental Health, advised Miss Kenney that the department would name six new cottages for her sister, he said that "The Board of Trustees for many years has been aware of the intense interest and dedication of your sister." After the ceremony there will be a reception in the new resident dining hall and there will also be tours for all visitors.

Governor Terry will be presented by Houston Wilson, Georgetown attorney.

Others taking part will include Dr. Albert L. Ingram, Jr., mental health commissioner, and the Revs. George Rhodes and John A. Massimilla, Catholic and Protestant chaplains, respectively, at the Hospital for the Mentally Retarded.

GOVERNMENT:

YOU CAN INCREASE THE POWER OF THE PEOPLE.

Power has been flowing to Washington for too long. Now it's time to start power flowing back to the states, to the communities, to the people.

Elect Richard Nixon President. He applies this standard to every program: "Does it increase the power of the people, or diminish it? Does it enhance the self-respect, the pride, of the individual human being, or reduce it?" We need that new standard today.

THIS TIME, VOTE LIKE YOUR WHOLE WORLD DEPENDED ON IT.

RE-ELECT BILL ROTH FOR CONGRESS

A MAN OF ACTION... let's keep him!

Congressman Roth backs his words with action. Here's a partial listing from his record to date:

- Major role in rewriting Law Enforcement Act of 1967 so that funds to help local and State officials prevent crime go to States by formula rather than at discretion of Federal Attorney General. Due in part to Congressman Roth's action, Delaware is now guaranteed at least $100,000, under this Act.
- Supported a bill to make it a Federal crime to cross interstate lines to incite riots.
- Supported a bill to make it a Federal crime to use violence to interfere with the lawful exercise of civil rights such as voting.
- Appointed Advisory Committee of Delaware citizens to counsel him on crime control laws needed.
- Supports emphasis on local and State authorities rather than Federal Police Force.
- Introduced wiretapping bill against organized crime, now a part of Omnibus Crime Bill.
- Supported a bill making it a Federal crime to interfere with police or firemen attempting to prevent riots or fires caused by riots.
- Introduced bill to permit "stop and frisk" of criminal suspects by police authorities.
- Introduced a bill making it unlawful to assault any member of armed forces engaged in performance of official duties while under orders of the President.
- Supported bill to require testimony of hostile witnesses by granting them immunity.
- Supported bill making it a Federal crime to lend money in interstate commerce at rates prohibited by State laws.
- And on public platforms and in Congress, Congressman Roth has made his position clear:

"It is incomprehensible that law and order has become a controversial term. I care not what you call it... let no one make any mistake... there must be law and order in this Nation. Without it, there is only anarchy."

"There can be no progress without order... without respect for law and the decent regard for others that makes peaceful and constructive change possible."

"I say that it is time for each one of us... parents, government officials, just plain citizens... to make clear we expect all people to respect the law. We can no longer tolerate a permissive society."

Congressman Roth, as a concerned citizen and an experienced lawyer, has labored hard to return law and order with justice to our State and Nation. He's the kind of man we need to represent us in Congress in the troubled years ahead. Don't you agree?

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller

APPROACHING HOLIDAY SEASON

At Christmas time old friends recall
 The days of long ago;
 Of loving, kindly thoughts of all
 The friends they used to know.

And though some journey far apart
 And travel different ways
 Each keep a corner in their heart
 For happy yesterdays.

One of those friends of mine is Wade Mitchell, a former railroader and resident of Paradise Alley Road, now living at RD 3, Slippery Rock, Pa. 16057, where I am sure he would be glad to hear from his many Harrington friends. Let's keep this in mind at X'mas time.

Wade never had anything detrimental to say about anyone and is a perfect example of the thought established in the following lines:

SCARS

A scar may come from a cut or a bruise,
 From a bump or an operation;
 They may also come from a mark at birth
 That will last for a generation.

Scars may be left from a bite or sting,
 From a burn or a vaccination,
 Or even a boil on the back of the neck
 Leaves a scar in its consternation.

But all these scars while ugly to see;
 The real hurt is gone and forgotten,
 While a scar that is left by an unkind word
 Will hurt as the day it is gotten.

So let us bear scars of bruises or hurts,
 They remain but we do not mind,
 But the ugliest scar that never heals
 Is the word that was unkind.

Mrs. Mary J. Williamson
 Mrs. Mary J. Williamson, 70, a retired elementary school teacher, died Monday at her home at 30 West St. after a long illness.

A lifelong resident of the area, Mrs. Williamson retired from the Houston School District in 1960.

She was a member of the Trinity United Methodist Church, Harrington, the loyal Workers Bible Class, the Women's Society of Christian Service and the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Survivors include her daughter, Mrs. George E. Hobbs, Harrington, and a brother, Benaiah Anderson, Philadelphia. She was divorced

SPEAKING OUT

As election day approaches, each of us finds himself faced with many crucial decisions. Sincere and true representation in government is of the utmost importance to all of us.

Over the past two years, the strong and fine leadership of Gov. Charles L. Terry has been hampered by Republican control in the State Senate and House of Representatives. Many Republicans, my opponent among them, were more interested in opposing the governor than in representing the people. And in instance after instance, it was the people who suffered, when important legislation was defeated because a Democratic administration had proposed it.

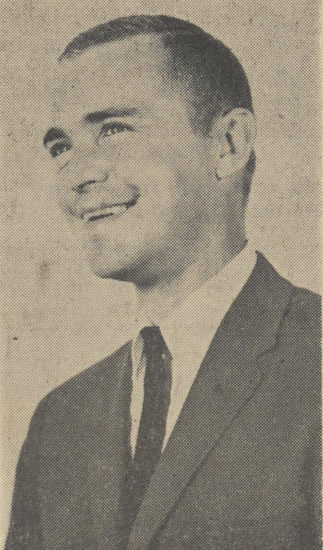

It is time to end this useless waste of needed legislative action. It is time to give Gov. Terry the support, in the Legislature, that will allow government to work for the people.

I feel that you will agree with me that the needs of the people in this 33rd District can best be served by Democratic representation.

A Ballinalloch Georgina January heifer, bred by C. A. Morrow's Wakefield Valley Stock Farms, New Windsor, Md., earned $1750 Saturday afternoon to top a purebred calf sale in Salisbury. The event, first of its kind in Salisbury, was sponsored by the Maryland Aberdeen-Angus Association. Purchasers of the top animal were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bache, Canton Farm, St. Michaels, Md. Average for the 62 head on sale, mostly heifer calves, was $454, an excellent figure.

Mrs. Lyda Thorpe was given a dinner in honor of her birthday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William R. Turner, of Centreville, Md. Other guests were Mrs. Ralph Dean, Ruth and Marion, Pamela Klapp, and William F. Turner.

The State Highway Department will put in curbing on Delaware Avenue and Center Street, it was announced this week by Mayor E. B. Rash.

Registration day Saturday saw new records established with 3840 registrants, of which more than 1100 were transfers, in Kent County. New total registrants in Kent County are 15,973.

Miss Eileen Farley, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Farley, of Washington, D. C., became the bride of Jack Kling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Kling, of Wyoming, Sun., Oct. 20, at 2 p.m. in the Avenue Methodist Church in Milford. A reception followed immediately at the Farmington Fire Hall.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Stapleton. The bride, given in marriage by her brother, John Farley, of Avondale, N. J., wore an A-line gown of candlelight satin trimmed in chantilly lace, pearls and crystal beads, with a matching chapel length veil.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Louise Messick, wore a rust-colored silk shantung A-line floor-length, lace-trimmed dress. She carried rust and yellow shaggy mums. The bridesmaids were Miss Kathy Lord, of New York City; Miss Linda Kling, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Sandy Williams, of Washington, D. C. They wore gold colored gowns made identical to the matron of honor. They also carried rust and yellow flower arrangements.

Milton Griffith, of Canterbury, was best man. The ushers were William Messick, of Farmington; John Farley, of Washington, D. C., and Harold Fraizer, of Felton.

The brides' mother chose a emerald green A-line satin dress with matching accessories, and wore a white orchid. The mother of the bridegroom wore a three piece rose suit with matching accessories and a white orchid.

The bride was employed as a supervisor at Government Employees Insurance in Washington. The bridegroom is employed by his father. After a short honeymoon in Virginia, they will make their home near Wyoming.

Mrs. William Seibert spent last Friday and Saturday shopping and visiting friends in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Lois Langford and Mrs. Faye Bradley attended the funeral of Mrs. Langford's grandmother in Greensboro Sunday afternoon.

Weekend callers of Mrs. Ward Johnson and daughter, Gail, were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams, of Georgetown, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Johnson and son, also of Georgetown.

Brown N' Serve

An open letter from Kent County Republican chairman, Herman Brown, to his Democrat counterpart, Vernon Derrickson.

Dear Vernon:

I was down here in Harrington the other night at the races when we had that big turnout for the annual Lower Kent County Republican Club Dinner, and I was pleasantly surprised by the conversation of several of the members of your Party whom I talked with. I thought I had better tell you what they were saying.

The main conversation seems to center around the incumbent candidate for the Senate from your party in the 14th Senatorial District, Allen Cook. Now these folks down here in this area are not unfamiliar with "Cookie's" voting record in last year's General Assembly. They know he opposed the bipartisan Election Reform Bill. They know he opposed the bipartisan manner of selecting Justices of the Peace. They know that he opposed kindergartens and they are familiar with his opposition to the reduction of certain auto license fees.

Just like up in Smyrna, the people here all seem to be knowledgeable about his opposition to the Shell Fish Commission Reform Bill. They concluded also that he would not vote for any bill that might have terminated "Sam's" job regardless of the merits of the bill or whom it might have helped.

The voters here are also aware that "Cookie", when the chips were down, opposed the bill which, when it became law over the Governor's veto, enabled the Republican Levy Court to cut property taxes 20%. They don't understand quite as well as the folks in the north end of the district about all the members in the Senator's family who are on the State payroll, and therefore they are a little puzzled as to why the Senator seems to oppose tax reduction. There is one thing down here they do understand, though. It seems as how the impression has been created that the Senator from Kenton, threw his "weight" around with the Delaware Harness Racing Commission to keep a local boy down here from getting a job at the Harrington race meet so that a member of the good Senator's family could have the job, and they are real upset about this. As I understand it, this local job that the good Senator was so interested in carries the title of veterinary assistant, but actually the work involved is the taking of urine samples from horses that have won races. I guess in summary, when you consider that Senator Cook is interested in every job from his own, in the Senate and the Highway Department, and clear to the job of urine catcher at the race track, that you have to say that "Cookie" covers the water front.

The bad thing about it from his point of view, Vernon, is that he might wind up "all wet" on election day.

Sincerely,
 Herman

B. Collison led the way for Jarrell's Fuel as they took four games from Penn Central in Tuesday night's clash. Collison has been bowling real strong in the closing weeks of this first third and again was high for his team with a 201 game, amassing a very fine 567 series. F. Farrow with a very good 551 series and D. Hayman with a 206 game added to the scoring punch for Jarrell's Fuel. Penn Central's M. Brown made a gallant effort with a grand 225 game, but it wasn't enough to keep his team from falling to eighth place. The fuel boys moved up the ladder to a very good fourth place position.

Taylor & Messick was only able to come up with a one game win against The Spoilers in Tuesday night fray. They still managed to hold on to their sixth place position of last week. The Spoilers moved up a notch into ninth place.

H. Brode really turned on Tuesday night and set himself up as the man to catch in the high series department by amassing a superb 615 series, including games of 209 and 226, to pull McKnatt's spot of a skid to the cellar spot. Along with Brode's fine bowling, was B. Taylor with a grand 232 game and D. Garey with a 202 game, to hand Robbins' Hardware a four game defeat. McKnatt's Funeral Home has had its share of troubles getting any form of consistency in their bowling, but showed a little bit of their champion form of last year in this week's competition. Robbins' Hardware had been bowling fairly strong in the beginning of this season, but seems to be having difficulty finding the range again, as they are steadily falling in the standings. There's only one team below them in the 12-team league as of this week.

Harrington Bowling League

With H. Wheeler again at the helm, Gerardi Bros. put themselves another game out in front by taking four games from Peoples Restaurant. Wheeler's fine effort netted a 588 series, including a superb 234 game to aid Gerardi Bros. to help pad their hold on the top position. Peoples Restaurant, who had held the top berth off and on this third, saw their hopes of taking the first third diminish as they slipped from third to fifth place, seven games from the top team. With only three more weeks of bowling in this first third, they are going to have to put on an all out effort to recapture the lead.

Wally's Garage fared much better this week, than did Peoples and put down Hamilton Fund, three games to one, to remain in the runnerup spot for the second week in a row. Real fine assists from C. Gallo, who rolled a grand 211 game, amassing a great 567 series, and E. Gallo, who rolled a very fine 224 game, kept Wally's Garage in a very good striking position to take over the lead. This team can really put on the pressure when the chips are down. Hamilton Fund's J. Bogden with a 642 series and B. Creadick, with a 201 game helped their team eke out a game win from the garage boys. They also managed to move up a spot to seventh place in this week's standings.

Quillen's Market, fourth last week, moved up again on a fine three game win effort against Butler's Fuel. Both of these teams are newcomers this season, and the grocery boys are making themselves known. Butler's Fuel doesn't seem to be faring too well thus far, but there is still plenty of bowling time left to pull themselves out of that cellar position.

Let's help our Little Goblins have a safe Trick-or-Treating this Halloween. Halloween is exciting fun, but often can turn into disaster for someone's child.

A costume's mask is half the fun, yet a mask can be dangerous if it blocks your child's vision, make-up can be just as imaginative as a mask - and far safer. With mother's lipstick and eye make-up, your goblin, ghost or pirate can look as ferocious as he could possibly want.

Costumes can be hazardous too. Most are not fireproof, and many are extremely flimsy. Warn your child to stay away from lighted jack-o-lanterns.

Light-colored costumes are safer since they can be seen more clearly therefore for traffic safety, if your child's costume is dark, add fluorescent tape when they go trick-or-treating.

Have a happy Halloween.

Grain is an agricultural product, but when a seamstress speaks of grain, she means the direction of the threads in a woven fabric.

Most woven fabrics are made by intertwining lengthwise threads (those parallel to the selvage) and crosswise threads (at right angles to the selvage). Lengthwise grain means lengthwise threads.

The lengthwise grain will be stronger and have less stretch than the crosswise grain. Therefore, most fabrics are cut with the lengthwise grain running down on the body. The weight of the fabric could pull the crosswise grain out of shape more readily.

Crosswise grain is more desirable going around the body since it stretches and provides extra ease.

Follow the pattern direction for the grain direction since this will give the fabric the drape designed intended. If a garment is cut "off grain", it can affect the fit as well as the appearance.

Cut all facings, interfacings, linings and underlinings on the same grain as the outer fabric. The fabrics will be more compatible if they are all cut on the same grain.

If you find that lengthwise and crosswise threads are not at right angles throughout a fabric, how can you straighten it? Often the fabric is only askew along one selvage where it was stretched off grain in the finishing process. You may be able to plan the cutting layout to avoid this.

If the fabric has had a finish for permanent press or crease resistance, you probably will not be able to straighten an "off grain" fabric.

On fabrics without a permanent finish, threads will return to their original position once the fabric has been washed or dry cleaned. If the garment has been cut off grain, unsightly wrinkles will develop and the skirt will hang in uneven folds. Any sewing reference can give you directions for straightening fabrics before cutting.

Straight grain is especially important when you are making draperies which will hang in long folds. If the pleats do not hang in straight folds, they probably have been cut off grain.

Grainline can also be a useful tool in fitting. In many designs the crosswise grain is parallel to the floor at bustline and at hipline, so that fabric will be balanced from the most prominent curves of the body.

Veterans' News

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—I received a Veterans Administration Certificate of Eligibility for education in the fall of 1967 but I never used it. I now plan to go to school this fall and will be entering the same school and taking the same program for which I originally applied. Do I need an updated Certificate of Eligibility?

A—No. Since you are going to the same school and taking the same program as stated in your original Certificate, you need not apply for an updated Certificate.

Q—I am a World War I veteran and not in receipt of Veterans Administration benefits. However, I am a patient in a private nursing home. Am I entitled to aid and attendance benefits?

A—You are not entitled to aid and attendance benefits unless you are entitled to basic pension or compensation benefits. However, disabled veterans with limited incomes are entitled to pensions, and veterans 65 years of age or older are presumed to be disabled for pension purposes. If you think you might be eligible, check with your nearest VA office.

Q—I would like to know if a widow of World War I veteran could sell her home and buy more property without the profit from the sale of the home being considered as income. Would this "profit" cause her to lose her pension?

A—Most widows receiving VA pensions are under the "new law" in effect since July 1, 1960, which does not consider such profit as income.

Other widows are receiving pensions under a still operative "old law" which does define profit from the sale as income. Therefore net profit payments extending for a period of years beyond the year of sale are counted as income.

However, if a lump-sum payment is received in the year of the sale, no reduction or discontinuance of pension would be made solely on the basis of the nonrecurring one-time payment.

If you want further information for your case, check with your nearest VA office.

Samuel C. Johnson

Samuel C. Johnson, 76, of 4 Delaware Avenue, Milford, died Sunday at Delaware State Hospital south of Wilmington. A heart attack was believed the cause of death.

He was a retired track foreman with the Pennsylvania Railroad. He was a member of Asbury Methodist Church, Harrington, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emma Johnson; a son, Samuel Leon Johnson, of Delran, N. J.; a daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Morton, of Milford; four grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Services were held Wednesday afternoon at McKnatt Funeral Home, 50 Commerce St., Harrington. Interment was in Hollywood Cemetery, Harrington.

In the '20s, the Johnson family lived northeast of Harrington on a farm.

State FFA Leadership Conference Set

The Delaware Future Farmers of America leadership training conference will be held at the Felton High School on Sat., Nov. 2, beginning at 9 a.m., according to Frederic Myer, state supervisor of vocational education.

The purpose of the annual conference is to teach local chapter officers the proper way of conducting business, opening and closing a meeting, and to familiarize them with the aims and purposes of the FFA.

Most of the day will be spent in sectional meetings followed by an evaluation conference.

Scheduled guests include William Paul Gray, national FFA executive secretary, and various state and local educators.

4-H'ers Win NEPPCO Awards

Two Delaware 4-H'ers have earned awards in youth competition at the 31st annual Northeastern Poultry Producers Council exposition in Harrisburg, Pa., according to state 4-H leader James O. Baker.

Seventeen-year-old Lee Mesibov, Houston, was awarded third place individual in 4-H egg grading. Mesibov, who has carried poultry projects each of four years in 4-H, has won county demonstration awards in poultry and is competing for a county poultry medal this year. He was awarded a brass and walnut wall plaque for his efforts.

Sharon Feucht, 14, Middletown, was awarded a blue ribbon in poultry foods demonstrations. Her entry was Delectable Chicken Puffs, a cream puff filled with Chicken Salad.

Miss Feucht, who has completed five years of 4-H work, has also earned state and county awards in food and food judging and was a member of the 4-H poultry and egg judging team competing at the exposition.

Other Delaware youngsters at the exposition were 17-year-old Margaret Thomas, Maryland, a member of the 4-H poultry and egg judging team, and John Brown, 17, a student at Harrington High School. Brown represented the Delaware FFA in competition for the title Star Poultry Farmer of the Northeast.

Larry Pleasanton and Ron Sawyer, both 15, and 17-year-old Joe Jones, all members of the Middletown FFA poultry and egg judging team, represented Delaware in FFA youth competition.

Chaperones for the group were University of Delaware extension poultryman Ray Lloyd and Mrs. Alva Harvey, an Odessa 4-H leader. Mrs. Harvey also served as a judge in selecting the best egg carton design at the exposition.

There will be a Halloween parade in Houston at 6:30 p.m. on Tues., Oct. 29. Following the parade there will be refreshments and judging of Halloween costumes at the Houston School. Five categories of contestants will be judged. They are: pre-school, grades 1-3, grades 4-6, grades 7-12 and adults. The judges will award three prizes in each category by considering the originality, humor and attractiveness of the costumes.

Mrs. Frank Penn (the former Gladys Perry), is the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Daugherty. She was the guest of Mrs. Marguerite Cooper on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Shockley Daugherty spent the past weekend in Grelock, N. J., with the Rev. and Mrs. John A. Gilmore and son, Gregory. Mrs. Alice Kintz and son, Harris, returned home Sunday from a week's visit with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sickler, at Saugerties, N. Y. The country up there is very beautiful and they had a most enjoyable trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Finch and family of Wilmington, spent Sunday with Mrs. Pearl Messick and Miss Rosanna Messick. Mrs. Mabel Shockley, of Dover, was also a caller on Sunday.

Little Kim Simpson, of Camden spent Sunday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Simpson.

Karen McCreary was an overnight guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Thistlewood Saturday night.

Mrs. Anna Hawkins, Thomas Dunn, of Camden, and William McKee, of Dover, were dinner guests of Mrs. Helen

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton

This week our food dollar should buy a bit more food as there are a number of very good buys on meat available at most markets. To further help the budget, egg prices have finally leveled off and are more reasonably priced. With the aid of various dairy promotions, the opportunity to stretch the food dollar this week is really available.

A number of fresh vegetables are now arriving in good supply and prices are quite a bit lower. As you shop be sure to stop and check the following — green bean, cauliflower, cabbage, potatoes, carrots, peppers, and radishes. Sweet corn and cucumbers are arriving from Florida and quality is good to excellent. The first of the New Jersey broccoli crop is now coming to market, and it looks good. Eastern celery and dry onions are also among the best buys.

Apples continue to be the best buy at most markets and definitely at roadside stands. Don't forget it's apple cider time too, and if you are one of those people who really like cider, here's news for you. You can freeze it quite easily and it's delicious when you thaw it to use. Other fruits gaining in supply include Florida avocados, bananas, pineapples, D'Anjou pears and Tokay grapes. Florida is just beginning to ship grapefruit so look for prices to decline as supplies increase. The latest information about the Florida citrus crop is excellent as all indications point to a very large crop. Last week's hurricane did little or no damage, so things do look promising.

Now to check the meat situation. Pork prices on all cuts except ham are lower than they have been at any time during the past four months. Beef prices are lower also, and this is especially so for feature items. You easily save as much as twenty cents a pound when you buy specials, so check your favorite store for these specials.

Wholesale prices for broiler fryers have declined. Consequently, this meat is again an outstanding buy. However, turkey prices seem to remain steady again this week. But from now on until Thanksgiving don't be surprised to see prices advancing, so if freezer space is available, it might be

The sympathy of our community is extended to the family of Horace A. Maloney, 63, who passed away on Oct. 15, at Kent General Hospital, Dover, after a short illness. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Root, who will be leaving by plane on Nov. 6 for a trip to French Morocco in Africa. They will be guests of the Bolen Equipment Company. Mr. Root won this trip because of his high sales percentage of their equipment. They will be joining a group of other winners. Henry Peters and small son, Hans Martin, have returned from a visit with relatives in Germany. Miss Carolyn Hawk, who is attending the Juliet Gibson Career College in Washington, D. C., visited her family over the weekend. Mrs. Nell Lyons is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Benson and family in Locust Valley, Long Island, N. Y. Saturday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hatfield, of Felton and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Quill, of Wilmington. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Meredith had as their Sunday dinner guests, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hodge, of Dover, and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield, of Greenwood. Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor and daughter, Joanna, of Plymouth, N. C., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDowell, over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Hutchinson, of Lancaster, Pa., were Sunday guests of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDowell. The rest of the McDowell family and also the Rev. Ernest Tracy, joined the group for Sunday dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle Farrow attended the wedding of her nephew in Seaford Saturday evening. Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle Farrow were Mr. and Mrs. George Trivits and family, of Wilmington and Mrs. Pearl Trivits and Miss Jane Trivits of Newark. Mrs. Mabel Conaway had, as her house guest the past few days, her cousin, from Wilmington, Miss Ethel Cahall.

Mrs. Mabel Conaway had, as her house guest the past few days, her cousin, from Wilmington, Miss Ethel Cahall. Last Thursday evening, the Kiwanis Club, with President John Turner presiding, were hosts to Senator Frank Grier of Milford and Representative Louis Burton of Georgetown. Visitors were Past Gov. John Rogers, of Milford, Al Strohmaier of the Seaford Club and Richard Adams of Georgetown. All enjoyed a fine meal prepared and served by the W.S. C.S. of Greenwood United Methodist Church, Mrs. Fred Greaf and Miss Mabel Conaway, cochairmen. John Rogers gave the invocation and William Fleischauer led the group singing. Lawrence Meredith presented both Senator Grier and Representative Burton, who in turn told something of their background, some of their experiences in the Legislature the past two years and expressed their desire to be returned to the Legislature for another term. They also fielded questions from the audience. All seemed pleased to meet their representatives in the Legislature and hear their voice their beliefs on matters of state importance. Next week the Democratic candidate for the Legislature from this district will be guests of the club, and likewise will be given the opportunity to reason why they should be elected to represent our community in the next Legislature.

Revival Meetings Greenwood United Methodist Church will hold special evangelistic services November 10 through Nov. 17. Dr. Chandler, district superintendent, will be the guest speaker on Sunday evening, Nov. 10. Starting on Mon., Nov. 11, through Sun., the 17th, Robert Wheatley, a layman from Sharptown, Md., will be speaking every evening except Saturday at 7:30 p.m. You will not want to miss attending these services and hearing Mr. Wheatley who is a very dynamic speaker. There will be guest musicians as well as our own that you will want to hear. These will be announced later. Circle this week on your calendar and set it aside as a time of revival and rededication.

On Oct. 22, the New Century Club of Harrington, with Mrs. T. H. Storus, president, journey to Georgetown to visit the Sussex County Vocational School. Mrs. C. A. Bushnell, chairman of the Program Committee, with Mrs. Henry Adkins, Mrs. Fred Bailey Sr., and Mrs. Blanche Cahall arranged the trip. It was truly "The Road to Somewhere". On arrival, a delicious lunch was served. Two administrators took us on a guided tour through the various shops and classrooms with the many facilities. We saw the students at work. All seemed interested and happy with their chosen vocation. With an enrollment of approximately 780, there were no disciplinary problems and all were very courteous. After seeing the many trades being taught, one realized that these students can readily find gainful employment. It gave us all "food for thought" concerning our young people. The next meeting on Nov. 12, with the theme, "The Road Behind Us". Mrs. Preston Trice, chairman of Program Committee, with Mrs. Earl Sylvester, Mrs. Luster Rogers, Mrs. Elmer Smith and Mrs. Walter Winkler, committee members.

On Oct. 17, the Wilmington Senior Center came down for a visit. There were 40 members attending, with 65 members in all. The members served coffee and cake. Mr. Smith, member of the Wilmington Senior Center sang songs and entertained the group. It was a very nice program. Oct. 21 the members had their monthly meeting in the form of a covered dish luncheon. After lunch they had their meeting, discussing the bazaar and the monthly birthday party. The bazaar on Nov. 14 and 15 will start at 11 o'clock and will continue until 6 o'clock. The chairman for the next birthday party will be Pearl Derrickson. Mrs. Johnston, the director, invited the members for tea on Dec. 12 at 12:30 at her home in Dover. Any interested members please let her know, so she can plan on how many to prepare for. The rest of the time is being spent on getting ready for the bazaar. All members are urged to come out and make the bazaar a success. Mrs. Johnston left Wednesday for a trip to Washington for a convention. She will return Friday, and should have some interesting things to tell us about her visit.

On Wednesday, Oct. 16, the Avon Club of Felton entertained the Felton School faculty at an afternoon tea. Beautiful fall flower arrangements decorated the tea table and tables for the guests. The tea was arranged by the Hospitality Committee. The next meeting will be Wed., Oct. 30, at 2 p.m. The subject for the day is International Relations, in charge of Mrs. Walter H. Moore and Mrs. Barratt Simpler, assisted by Mrs. Ashton Jester, Mrs. William D. Hammond, Mrs. Clifford Johnson and Mrs. Lee Harrington. E. Reed Hughes will show slides of his trip to Hawaii.

While in Kansas City, Billy participated in several committee meetings, attended many programs provided by farm machinery manufacturers and visited many places of interest. This trip was awarded to Billy for having the best FFA farming program in the State of Delaware last year. The American Farmer degree was conferred upon him at the convention where more than 10,000 FFA members from all over the U. S. attended. This was the first American Farmer degree awarded to a FFA boy from Delaware in the last four years. This award was won by having completed an outstanding project in agriculture in his last four years of high school. His major project was raising and showing registered Hampshire sheep. At the present time he owns 35 Hampshire sheep.

Mrs. Johnston, the director, invited the members for tea on Dec. 12 at 12:30 at her home in Dover. Any interested members please let her know, so she can plan on how many to prepare for. The rest of the time is being spent on getting ready for the bazaar. All members are urged to come out and make the bazaar a success. Mrs. Johnston left Wednesday for a trip to Washington for a convention. She will return Friday, and should have some interesting things to tell us about her visit.

On Oct. 17, the Wilmington Senior Center came down for a visit. There were 40 members attending, with 65 members in all. The members served coffee and cake. Mr. Smith, member of the Wilmington Senior Center sang songs and entertained the group. It was a very nice program. Oct. 21 the members had their monthly meeting in the form of a covered dish luncheon. After lunch they had their meeting, discussing the bazaar and the monthly birthday party. The bazaar on Nov. 14 and 15 will start at 11 o'clock and will continue until 6 o'clock. The chairman for the next birthday party will be Pearl Derrickson. Harrington F.F.A. News

William Abbott, vice president of the State FFA Association, attended the National FFA Convention in Kansas City last week with his state advisor, Fred Myer. They flew to the convention by jet plane with all the expenses paid by the State FFA Foundation. While in Kansas City, Billy participated in several committee meetings, attended many programs provided by farm machinery manufacturers and visited many places of interest. This trip was awarded to Billy for having the best FFA farming program in the State of Delaware last year. The American Farmer degree was conferred upon him at the convention where more than 10,000 FFA members from all over the U. S. attended. This was the first American Farmer degree awarded to a FFA boy from Delaware in the last four years. This award was won by having completed an outstanding project in agriculture in his last four years of high school. His major project was raising and showing registered Hampshire sheep. At the present time he owns 35 Hampshire sheep.

On Wednesday, Oct. 16, the Avon Club of Felton entertained the Felton School faculty at an afternoon tea. Beautiful fall flower arrangements decorated the tea table and tables for the guests. The tea was arranged by the Hospitality Committee. The next meeting will be Wed., Oct. 30, at 2 p.m. The subject for the day is International Relations, in charge of Mrs. Walter H. Moore and Mrs. Barratt Simpler, assisted by Mrs. Ashton Jester, Mrs. William D. Hammond, Mrs. Clifford Johnson and Mrs. Lee Harrington. E. Reed Hughes will show slides of his trip to Hawaii.
