

New Era Shirt Co. to Move St. Louis Facilities Here

The New Era Shirt Co., with manufacturing and shipping facilities at Harrington, will move a major portion of its office facilities to Harrington from St. Louis, Mo.

Initial operations of the office functions in Harrington, according to Sheldon L. Starr, president, will require an office staff of about 20.

"These employees will be recruited from the surrounding area of our Delaware operation and will include almost every category of office worker. In cases where we do not find local area persons with the specific skills required, if they show proper aptitude for office work, we will train them in our own methods in an on-the-job training program," Starr said.

Expansion of the official staff of New Era includes the appointment of Herbert D. Cluley Jr. of Camden-Wyoming as comptroller. Starr, formerly vice president and manager, has been promoted to president.

When New Era opened a new 30,000-square-foot building to supplement its other structures on Route 13 south of Harrington three weeks ago, Starr reported this as part of the expansion of the company's Delaware facilities.

The new building serves as a retail store and a receiving, shipping and storage center, with installed electrical systems which could be used later should manufacturing be brought to the building.

According to Starr, the 20 office employees will be a part of about 100 whom he said would be needed in the near future to carry out operations and administration of the New Era activities in Delaware.

At the present time, the employees of the sewing rooms of New Era, in addition to the regular orders, are engaged in filling a $100,000 government contract for 25,000 women's surgical hospital gowns.

Operations on this contract are under immediate supervision of Mrs. Irma Culp, sewing plant manager for the company at its Delaware location.

Starr reports that continuing expansion would add the 100 new employee requirements to the present plant personnel of about 150.

"We are seeking additional production workers who can serve as sewing machine operators," Starr said as he reviewed the expansion program at New Era.

Race Meet Ends Here Monday

Lights at Harrington Raceway go out next Monday night, but not before some expected on-track fireworks come Saturday.

The final weekend feature will spotlight the Adios Harry Pace, a mile test restricted to horses sired by the great Sugar Hill Farms' standardbearer.

A new season track mark is in prospect as the Harry kin vie for the $1,500 purse. They'll be shooting at the 2:04 4/5 chalked up two weeks ago by Charnie, 4-year-old gelding owned by Charley Esterhoj of Beaver, Pa. and Arnold Rosenthal of Edison, N. J.

Charnie will be included in the six-horse lineup assured for the attraction. Other Adios kin on hand for the head-to-head rivalry will be a pair of Roosevelt Raceway invaders, Becky Bell and Storm Proof; Liberty Bell campaigners Sassafras Mate and Skunk; and Harrington hometown favorite Mike's Adios Lynn.

Skunk boasts the top credentials in the field. The 3-year-old colt has chalked up a 2:01 2/5 record for Millis. (Continued on Page 4)

Baseball League Banquet Saturday

Plans are complete for the Harrington Little League Baseball Banquet, which will be held at the high school cafeteria, Saturday evening, Nov. 16.

The organization has acquired Baltimore Orioles' famous Brooks Robinson, as guest speaker.

All persons connected with, and all players and their immediate family are eligible to attend. A small charge and a large covered dish is the admission price per family.

Some help is needed in setting up for the banquet on Friday afternoon, around 5:00. Any help will be appreciated by the chairman in charge.

site elevations and models to the district residents prior to another referendum.

The Board voted to name the combined high school beginning in September, 1969, Woodbridge High School and the junior high school the Woodbridge Junior High School. Currently evaluations are underway to determine the location of each.

Joseph T. Conaway, present Bridgeville High School principal, was named Woodbridge High School principal and Charles Davis was appointed junior high school principal. Davis is principal of Greenwood High School. The appointments are effective July 1, 1969.

The resignations of Mrs. Marilyn Ottinger and Mrs. Jacalyn Bozzone, both elementary teachers, were accepted.

Sgt. Knox To Return to States

Sgt. Randall H. Knox III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Randall H. Knox, Jr., formerly of Harrington, now residing in Taneytown, Md., will be returning to the States, Nov. 15, after serving 18 months at Clark A.F.B. in the Philippines.

After a 30-day leave, he will be stationed at Andrews A.F.B., Washington, D. C. Sgt. Knox is a graduate of Harrington High School and completed two years at the University of Delaware before enlisting in the Air Force, September 20, 1966.

W.S.C.S. Bazaar Food Sale Scheduled

Mrs. Earl Sylvester is general chairman and Mrs. Arnold Gilstad, co-chairman of the 13th annual fall bazaar, sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service of Trinity United Methodist Church.

Items offered for sale include baked goods, chicken salad, vegetable soup, jams, jellies, homemade candy, aprons and fancy needlework.

Doors will be opened at 10 a.m. on Sat., Nov. 23.

TORBERT TO HEAD KENT LEVY COURT

Democrats Monday named William C. Torbert president of Kent County Levy Court and returned a familiar name to the job of Levy Court attorney.

N. Maxson Terry Jr., will get the $4,800 attorney's job when they take control of the Levy Court in January, the Democrats said at a press conference.

Democrats won control of the Levy Court after two years of Republican majority by winning four of seven seats in last Tuesday's election.

Terry will replace Roy S. Shiels, who served in the two-year interim between N. Maxson Terry Sr. and the younger Terry. The elder Terry, brother of Gov. Charles L. Terry Jr., served for years as the court's attorney under Democratic control.

Terry said he will resign as lawyer for the Water and Air Resources Commission the first of the year for two reasons. First, he said, there would be a conflict between the two jobs. Second, he said, Republicans who took over the state administration undoubtedly would remove him.

The WAR job paid Terry about $7,000 a year.

The Democrats also picked William Paskey Jr. vice president of Levy Court and promised renewed efforts to bring Dover into the county sewer system.

Torbert said that the "most vital question" confronting the Levy Court is the sewer problem.

Republicans in the last two years have pushed a plan which would run a line from (Continued on Page 4)

Farmington Pastor Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Jones, Columbus, Ohio, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Jane, to Ernest LeRoy Tracy, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Tracy. Miss Jones graduated from Whitehall-Yearling High School, attended Columbus Business University, and Ohio State University. Her fiancé was graduated from Pleasantville High School, Pleasantville, Pa., and Houghton College, Houghton, N. Y.

He is presently attending Wesley Theological Seminary, Washington, D. C., and is pastor of the Farmington United Methodist Church in Delaware.

A December 28 wedding is being planned.

COUNCIL APPROVES BID FOR WATER MAINS TO 3 FIRMS

The City Council, Monday night, approved a bid for putting a water main under U.S. 13 to serve three firms on the eastern side of U.S. 13.

It accepted the $9167-bid of Teal Construction Company, of Dover, the firm improving Harrington's sanitary - sewer system. Dale Phillippi, superintendent of public works, hoped work would begin this week.

In other action Monday night, the Council acted as follows: Approved opening an alley, parallel with the southbound lane of U.S. 13, from Porter Street to back of the property of Mrs. Edith Hammond, and thence to U.S. 13.

Approved sending Phillippi, City Manager Kathryn Derrickson, and James Moore, chairman of the Planning Commission to attend planning seminars in Dover Sat., Nov. 21, and Sat., Dec. 5.

Sat., Nov. 16 — Little League Baseball Banquet at school cafeteria. Brooks Robinson is to be guest speaker.

Fall Bazaar, Trinity W.S.C.S., Harrington, Sat., Nov. 23, in Fellowship Hall, beginning at 10 o'clock.

The Harrington B. & P. W. Club physical fitness program, held at the fieldhouse each Wednesday at 7 p.m.

C.K.R.T. American Legion Auxiliary would like to have the names and addresses of local servicemen that are serving overseas this Christmas. Please send names to Mrs. William Outten or phone 398-3165.

Northeaster Damages Lower Delaware; Brunt to the South

A northeaster, with winds up to 70 miles per hour, struck the state Monday night and early Tuesday morning, doing considerable damage.

While Kent County was hit, most damage was done to the Sussex area where trailers were overturned and houses damaged. The full extent of the storm was felt along the oceanic coastline where an oil barge went aground at Rehoboth.

Inland the damage was not as pronounced but the local area was affected to some extent.

Antennas and limbs fell across power lines, putting them out of commission here from a half hour to an hour and a half according to the section of the city.

Firemen had three calls early Tuesday morning. One was an ambulance call about 1:30 a.m., for an accident at Delaware 14 and U.S. 13. About 3 a.m., they answered an alarm at the residence of Mrs. Grace Howard, 304 Dorman St., where an antenna had fallen across a power line. At 5:40 a.m., they went to the residence of Doris Moffett, 101 Commerce St., in response to a flooded heater.

In other damage, the side show window of Clendening Pharmacy, at Quillen Shopping Center, was blown in.

The storm was responsible for the first cancellation of the harness meet at Harrington Raceway. Part of the track fence was blown away, according to George Simpson, fairgrounds manager, and some fixtures on track light towers were blown down. Outside ticket booths were unroofed, a couple farm machinery sheds were squashed, and two trees blown over in a grove near U.S. 13, said Simpson.

However, racing was resumed Wednesday night at Harrington's all-weather track.

Though the rain was sharp, it slackened at periods and there were no flooding problems here, though some coastal homes were evacuated by rising waters and flooded roads.

Cars Crash on U. S. 13 Tuesday

Two automobiles crashed near here early Tuesday morning, when one ran a red light at Delaware 14 and U.S. 13.

A station wagon, operated by Theodore Frank Dooz, Rd 2, Milford, was going west on Delaware 14, and had the green light when crossing the southbound lane of U.S. 13.

An automobile, operated by Ralph N. Carullo, of Berlin, N. J., going south on U.S. 13, ran the red light, according to state police of the Bridgeville station, collided with the Dooz vehicle, but continued south some 200 feet where it hit a house and a bird bath.

The five passengers of the Carullo vehicle were taken to the Dover Air Force Base Hospital in the ambulance of the Harrington Fire Company, treated and released. Dooz was uninjured.

Carullo was fined $10 and costs in Court Four, Seaford, on a charge of disregarding a red light.

Felton Fire Co. Names Essay Winners

The Felton Volunteer Fire Company has announced its winners of the fire prevention essay contest, held at the Felton School, in observance of Fire Prevention Week.

First place award went to Billy Paskey; second, Matthew Fleming and third, Faye Neeman.

The first place winner's essay will be put into competition with the other first place winners from schools throughout the state.

Mayor Will Not Run For Re-election

Mayor Fulton J. Downing said he would not run for re-election because his doctors had advised him to cut down on his activities.

Furthermore, the mayor, after about Dec. 1, will use his summer home at Dewey Beach and commute to work and city meetings until his term expires. The election is scheduled for Jan. 7, but no candidates have appeared.

Downing is moving because of the sale of his house to Dr.

Zosimo Buendia, of Milford, who will practice here. The mayor had been a member of a Chamber of Commerce committee seeing another doctor.

At Monday night's meeting of the City Council, the mayor offered to "get out right away if the council wanted it," but Vice Mayor Burton Satterfield answered all would like to see him finish out his term as mayor.

"I just wanted to do what is best for the City and the council," concluded Downing.

Phoebe Bullock Weds Glenn T. Green

The marriage of Miss Phoebe Lea Bullock and Glenn T. Green took place at 7 p.m. Saturday in a candlelight service at Trinity Methodist Church in Harrington.

The Rev. William J. Garrett officiated at the ceremony.

The church was decorated with white gladioli. Wedding music was played by Melvin Brobst, Mrs. Gordon Warner, cousin of the bride was soloist.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Fellowship Building adjoining the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Genevieve Bullock and the late Richard C. Bullock. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Green of Ellendale. The bride was escorted by her uncle, Henry Bullock. She wore an Empire, A-line gown of white velvet trimmed in seed pearls with long sleeves and a chapel train. A matching headpiece held her silk illusion veil and she carried a cascade of roses and carnations.

The maid of honor was Miss Carole Wirick of Harrington. She wore a floor length gown of deep rose faille and carried a bouquet of white and pink roses.

The bridegroom's best man was his brother-in-law, William T. Sammons, of Milton. Ushers were Larry Wirick of Harrington and Paul Thomas of Salisbury, Md.

The bride is a graduate of Harrington High School and Goldie Beacom School of Business. The bridegroom is a graduate of Milton High School. Both are employed at International Latex Corp. in Dover.

After a wedding trip to Virginia the couple will reside in Harrington.

Pre-nuptial showers for the bride were given by Miss Carole Wirick, of Harrington and her aunt, Mrs. Margaret Homewood, of Greenwood.

First Horses Arrive at Georgetown

The first contingent of horses arrived on the scene at Georgetown Raceway Tues., Nov. 12, for the annual winter race meeting of the Sussex County oval.

Georgetown will start racing Wednesday evening, Nov. 20 and will race every night the remainder of that week; after which it will operate five nights a week—Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with Tuesday being the "dark night," until December 31.

Under the Delaware racing law, Georgetown will then become eligible for additional dates, subject to the approval (Continued on Page 4)

Miss Frances Downing Becomes Bride of Arthur D. Spivey, Jr.

Miss Frances Emily Downing and Mr. Arthur Douglas Spivey, Jr., were married in the First Baptist Church, Wilson, N. C., Saturday at 11 a.m. The Rev. William R. Bussey performed the wedding ceremony which was followed by a reception in the Fellowship Hall. The bride is the daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Fulton J. Downing, 71 Clark Street, Harrington. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Douglas Spivey, Sr., of Wilson, N. C.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of ivory satin and Alencon lace, fashioned in an A-line silhouette. The empire bodice featured an oval neckline and long tapered sleeves. A band of matching satin defined the empire waistline. Her detachable Watteau train featured four lace inserts and satin covered buttons. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a contoured headpiece of Alencon lace petals dusted with crystals. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, French mums, and snow drift pom-poms.

Mrs. Ray Lopez, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Jessie Arthur, Mrs. Elaine (Continued on Page 4)

City To Hold Second Referendum To Annex Land East of Highway

The City will hold a second referendum Sat., Nov. 30, to annex land on the eastern side of U. S. 13.

The City refused to accept the results of a successful referendum Sat., Aug. 24, when a property owner said the vote was illegal and threatened court action.

The City then decided to hold a referendum to annex the plot originally sought except that of Cadillac Realty Company, owned by Nelson Rash, the disputant in the case.

The plot sought for annexation is on the eastern side of U. S. 13 and runs from Porter Street extended south to the Cadillac Realty Company.

Among the firms in the area are Callis-Thompson, Inc., Ace Manufacturing Company, and New Era Shirt Company. The August vote saw 694 votes, for the annexation, and 577 against. The Nov. 30 election will also be for territory between the northbound and southbound lanes of U. S. 13, running from Delaware 14, southward to and including the lands of Chauncey Messick.

In the event of an affirmative vote Nov. 30, the City will be in a position to annex, by resolution, adjoining land it owns and on which a sanitary-sewage disposal plant and polishing ponds are being built.

Sewer Improvement Project Making Good Headway

Work on the improvements to Harrington's sanitary sewer system is progressing well, with one link ready for property owners ready to hook on.

Dale Phillippi, superintendent of the city's public works, said the available portion was in Thomas Alley where the link connects with Liberty Street.

Other links completed but not ready for the property owner to tap, were as follows: Franklin Street from Mispillion Street to Milby Street; Harrington Avenue, from Carrow Street to city limits; North Street; Thorpe Street, and sewer from Simpson Street thru the Trane Company property to Dairy Queen near the city line.

Work is continuing on East Street. Other lines will go out Mispillion and Milby Streets in western Harrington.

The Teal Construction Company, contractor, finished putting sewer under U.S. 13, at Porter Street, last week, said Phillippi. This underpass will connect with the new sewage disposal plant under construction by the Kunn Construction Company, of Hockessin.

This contract, which includes two polishing, or finishing ponds, has been a little slow because of a labor shortage, explained Phillippi.

In other business, Phillippi said street work in Harrington Manor was completed excepting for cleanup. In this project, the Teal Construction Company blacktopped a final portion of Dixon Street, Center Street extended, and Benjamin Street. Gutters and curbs were placed on some of the above.

The Teal Construction Company will install water mains under U.S. 13 to Callis-Thompson, Inc., Ace Manufacturing Company, and the New Era Shirt Company. Phillippi hoped work would begin this week.

This coming Sunday at 3:30 p.m. the Kent County Youth Convocation will show the full length film, "The Gospel According to St. Matthew". Adults are invited as well. Discussion and supper follow. Those who can, should take a box lunch and sufficient change for beverages.

There is a Thanksgiving Youth Choir rehearsal scheduled for 7 p.m. on this coming Thursday. Youth of all the Churches between the eighth and twelfth grades are invited to take part. As there is a football game after this service, which will be held at St. Stephen's on Wed., Nov. 27, at 7 p.m., youth are invited to come dressed for the game.

Confirmation will be held at St. Stephen's on Sunday morning, Feb. 16. In preparation for that sacrament, those who wish to be confirmed, will begin confirmation classes at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 26. Baptized people 12 years of age and older are eligible for this sacrament. Many people who have already been confirmed should come to these sessions and renew their knowledge of Church Doctrine. Those who are not confirmed but who come to the class are under no obligation to be confirmed, but may simply attend as inquirers.

Those who receive the "Episcopalian" are reminded that their subscription fee of $2 for the current year is due. The annual meeting will begin on Mon., Nov. 25 with a covered-dish dinner at 6:15 p.m.

As it will be impossible for many people throughout the Diocese to attend the consecration of Bishop-elect Mead, there will be a reception for him in each of the three counties. The Kent County reception will be held from 2:30-4:30 p.m. at Christ Church in Dover.

Advance attention is called to the Union Thanksgiving-Eve Service, which will be held this year at St. Stephen's at 7 p.m. Nov. 27.

Two Del. 4-H Regional Winners

Two Delaware state 4-H winners have been awarded regional honors in their respective project areas, according to state 4-H leader James O. Baker.

State dairy winner, 16-year-old Alan Sheats, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sheats, Middletown, was named regional dairy winner. Sheats is a six-year 4-H member and has earned two county medals in dairy. He has also served on county and state dairy judging teams and was awarded the Interstate Milk Producers Youth Award in 1967 and 1968.

Eighteen-year-old Lee Mesibov, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mesibov, Houston, has been named regional 4-H poultry winner. Mesibov has been active in 4-H work for six years and has earned three county medals in poultry. He also received the 1967 Delaware Poultry Improvement Association Youth Award and serves as a junior 4-H leader.

In addition to receiving a $50 state award, both youths will receive all-expense apid trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago later this month.

Fall Weather Means Time to Buy Snowsuits

Fall weather forecasts of "cold tomorrow" mean snow-suit and winter coat weather.

Look for garments that are warm but lightweight, advises Miss Janet Reed, extension clothing and textile specialist at the University of Delaware. Outer fabrics that are closely woven—twill, taffeta or poplin—give the best protection against cold and wind. For Delaware's damp winter climate, choose a water repellent fabric finish.

Nylon is a popular fabric because it wears well. And it's warm, lightweight, washes easily and dries fast. Cotton is a good choice for the preschooler; it's closely woven, easy to care for, sturdy and long wearing. Wool provides warmth, but most wools need to be drycleaned.

The snowsuit's inner fabric is an important factor in its warmth. Good linings are either quilted, made of acrylic pile or insulated with plastic foam. Quilted lining using nylon or polyester fill are highly-resistant to matting. Look for closely spaced stitching to keep batting from shifting and lumping since lumpy batting loses much of its warmth.

Acrylic pile linings keep in warmth well enough that no interlining is needed. Pile tends to be quite bulky; quilting should be used for sleeve linings to make the jacket easier to get on and off.

Weightless warmth is the main feature of the new polyurethane foam lining. It can be laminated to a number of fabrics, including knits. It lends shape and stability and can be laundered or drycleaned.

Whatever fabric you choose, the snowsuit should have a label that guarantees shrinkage control so you can expect the suit to keep its original size and shape after several cleanings. Since they are worn only outdoors, all snowsuits should be sunfast—check the label.

Your child will wear all his indoor clothes—and perhaps sweaters too—under the suit. It must be roomy, with freedom for the child to climb, bend and run. Trousers need extra width and length in the seat and full legs bloused slightly at the ankle band.

To keep out the cold, snowsuits must fit well at the wrists, neck and ankles; usually knit bands are used. However, knit cuffs must be elastic enough to slip on easily over shoes. Cotton cuffs tend to stretch out of shape, but wool or nylon ones do not, according to Miss Reed.

If there's a hood attached to the jacket, make sure it fits closely at the front to keep out the wind. The hood should be warmly lined and deep enough to reach well down on your youngster's forehead.

A soft, rolling collar will keep out chilly winds better than a high stiff collar that will keep your child's head from moving freely. The collar may also be rough and scratchy.

Tape reinforcements at the crotch, under the arms and on pocket corners will give the suit extra strength and longer wear. Many snowsuits are made with reinforced patches at knees and elbows. If they aren't, reinforce these areas before they wear completely through, recommends Miss Reed. Good quality suits have bartacking at pocket corners and zippers.

Every snowsuit needs at least one pocket; two at hand level are better. A large pocket will hold report cards, school notices and lunch money—safely.

If you prefer a coat—especially for dress-up occasions—choose a simple style that's becoming and comfortable. A child always needs plenty of room for activity. A raglan sleeve or one cut continuously with the coat body will provide enough room; set-in sleeves should have deep armholes.

Winter coats should also be lightweight and warm; wool is the most common fiber used. Be sure the label states the fiber content of the coat and lining and the kind of wool.

Two Groups To Host Annual Swine Meeting

The University of Delaware Cooperative Extension Service and the Delaware Pork Producers Association will host their annual swine producers meeting, Thurs., Nov. 21, at 8 p.m. at the University's Georgetown substation, according to Sussex County agricultural agent Bill Henderson.

The session will feature slides of hog housing facilities on the Delmarva peninsula and owner comments on their experiences with these facilities. The discussion will include farrowing, nursery and finishing houses. Also on the agenda is "Feeding For Greater Profit"—a discussion of nutrition requirements for various age hogs and ideas for efficiently meeting these requirements. The discussion will be led by Richard Fowler, extension livestock specialist at the University of Delaware.

Also featured at the meeting is an up-to-date report of progress in the hog cholera eradication program in Delaware and Maryland. Attention will also be focused on emergency procedures in the event of a cholera outbreak on Delmarva. Speakers for this session include Delaware state veterinarian Dr. E. L. Symington, Dover, and Dr. O. J. Hammon, extension veterinarian at the University of Maryland.

Mrs. Margaret Thistlewood

Miss Karen Brown, of Lancaster, Pa., has been spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Brown, of near town.

Gary Simpson, of the University of Delaware, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Simpson.

Mrs. Helen Gilbert and Mrs. Anna Hawkins spent Monday in Wilmington. They visited Mrs. Francis Hart, who is a patient in Delaware Division.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morgan and daughter, Cheri, Mr. and Mrs. George Thistlewood and George and Fred, were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McCreary and daughter, Karen.

Tracy and Kim Simpson, of Magnolia, spent last week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Simpson.

Emory Webb is a patient in Kent General Hospital, Dover, and will be there for observation and treatment.

The P.T.A. is sponsoring a bake on Sat., Nov. 16, at Penney's Corner in Milford, beginning at 9 a.m. Soup, pies, cakes, etc. will be for sale.

Mr. and Mrs. William Manlove, of West Redding, Conn., are staying in Houston due to the illness of their mother, Mrs. Grace Manlove. At this writing she is much improved and expects to be home from the hospital in a few days.

Thanks are extended to the participants and organizers of the Halloween parade held in Houston on Oct. 29.

Mrs. Marguerite G. Cooper spent several days last week in Georgetown with her cousin, Mrs. Eva B. Pittard and family and enjoyed "Return Day" which she had not attended for 50 years.

Fire Company Auxiliary News

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Harrington Fire Company met in the Fire Hall on November 11, at 7:30 p.m. The meeting was called to order by the president, Betty Taylor. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the recording secretary, Mary Ann Wilson and stood approved as read. Roll call was taken with 15 members present for this meeting.

The following reports were given, financial secretary's report, Jerri Outten; sunshine report, Dorothy Collins, and the treasurer's report, Angie Potter.

One new member was taken, Mrs. Grace Bonniwell. $5 was received as donation from the Senior Center for the use of the kitchen facilities during the day of election.

Plans were made to serve at the sale of Mrs. Harrington on Nov. 15 and 16. Each member is to be responsible for making a pie for this sale. Also, coffee, sodas, donuts, sandwiches, hot dogs, and pie will be served for both days. Plenty of Auxiliary help will be needed for this sale.

Nomination of officers was held at the November meeting. The election of officers will be during the December meeting. Also, on Dec. 9, at 6:30 p.m. the Christmas party will be held. Each member is to bring a $1 gift, covered dish, and own place setting. Bingo will be played for entertainment and prizes will be given away. Remember, dues must be paid before the end of the year.

Speakers Bureau Has Agricultural Speakers

Delaware service clubs, civic groups and other organizations may now secure agricultural speakers through the newly formed Delaware Council of Farm Organizations Speakers Bureau, according to Dr. William E. McDaniel, dean of the University of Delaware's College of Agricultural Sciences and speakers bureau committee chairman.

"We now have a number of men who are prepared to speak to the various organizations in our state on a variety of agricultural topics," says McDaniel. "These men are available throughout Delaware, especially during national Farm-City Week, November 22 to 28. This, of course, is an exceptional opportunity to develop a degree of understanding between our urban and rural residents."

New Castle County organizations interested in securing an agricultural speaker may contact Dr. William E. McDaniel, College of Agricultural Sciences, University of Delaware, Kent County groups may contact Howard Papen, Dover; Jack Walton, Magnolia; G. Wallace Caulk, Woodside.

Groups in Sussex County may contact Dr. John Hammond, Bridgeville; Robert Rider, Bridgeville; Dave Elliott, Laurel; or Martin Isaacs, Georgetown.

Alpha Zeta Hosts Barbecue

Members of the University of Delaware chapter of Alpha Zeta, national honorary agriculture fraternity, will host their annual beef barbecue Fri., Nov. 15, from 5 to 6:30 p.m. in the Agricultural Hall auditorium, according to Alpha Zeta president William Boytim.

"The menu for this event will feature barbecued beef, potato salad, cole slaw, rolls, ice cream, milk and cider, all you can eat," says Boytim. "The top round of beef will be barbecued in an open pit."

Proceeds of the beef barbecue will go to the Alpha Zeta scholarship fund and for the annual Alpha Zeta banquet. Proceeds will also be used to finance the group's annual service project, a trip to the Overbrook School for the Blind in Philadelphia.

Admission price for the barbecue is $2 per person, says Boytim. Tickets may be purchased from any Alpha Zeta member or at the University of Delaware Student Center, Newark.

Trinity W.S.C.S. News

The program theme for the November meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Trinity United Methodist Church was "How Do We Worship." Participating in the dialogue were Mrs. Leon Kukulka, of St. Bernadette's Catholic Church; Mrs. Robert Creadick, from St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, and Mrs. William Garrett, of Trinity. Each described the services of her own affiliation, and there followed a period of discussion. Hopefully such communal gatherings will deepen religious knowledge and commitment and increase our love and understanding of Christian friends of all faiths.

A film entitled "Foundation for Dialogue", written by the Dominican Sisters, in cooperation with key persons of other religious affiliations, was shown by the Rev. Garrett. Mrs. Frank O'Neal, Jr. was program chairman and devotions were led by Mrs. Ellwood Gruwell.

Mrs. Richard Shultie presided at the business session and reminded all members to bring children's gifts before Nov. 19 to be taken to the Neighborhood House.

The annual bazaar is scheduled for November 23, and Mrs. Earl Sylvestre, chairman, asked that all members continue to work diligently on their various responsibilities to this project.

Mrs. Leila Hopkins reported on the activities of the Sunshine Committee for the month, and Mrs. O'Neal told of the successful collection for UNICEF held on Halloween afternoon. 112 children from all the local churches took part, and cooperation from adults was very good this year. Members of the Harrington Senior Center were most helpful with the chores at the Century Club in connection with the affair.

Following the business session, refreshments were served by Esther Circle, Mrs. Sylvestre, chairman.

Forgery Suspect Held in Dover

A 21-year-old Harrington man, charged with passing a forged check, turned himself into city police last week. The man, Stephen R. Voss, appeared before Magistrate William J. Cavanaugh in Magistrate Court 7 where he was ordered jailed in the Kent Correctional Institution in lieu of a $500 bond.

The $68 payroll check was stolen from the Milford Packing Co., Oct. 14, police said. It was passed at a Dover liquor store.

Veterans' News

The Veterans Administration announced that nearly two million disabled veterans' dependents have just received their end-of-the-year annual income questionnaire.

The check-sized income report cards were sent with pension payments mailed November 1.

Leon Fields, manager of the Wilmington VA Regional Office, said the deadline for returning the questionnaire to VA has also been moved up from January 31 to Jan. 15.

VA mailed the income questionnaire a month early, Mr. Fields said, to insure the pension check it will send out at the end of January reflect the new pension rates and income limits that go into effect the first of the year. Almost 4,500 Delawareans are involved.

The amount of each pensioner's check under the new pension system that starts on January 1st will be based upon the estimated income in 1969 reported by the pensioner on the VA income questionnaire. Without the returned questionnaire containing the estimate of income for next year, VA, by law, cannot pay a beneficiary a pension.

In addition to changing pension rates and income limits, Public Law 90-275, signed by the President last March, also provided that no beneficiaries on the VA pension rolls would have their pensions reduced in 1969 as the result of increased Social Security payments.

VA pensions are payable to war veterans with limited incomes and total nonservice-connected disabilities and to widows and other dependents of war veterans who meet established income limitations.

Approximately 575,000 pensioners continue to receive VA benefits under an "old law" in effect prior to July 1, 1960, when the "new law" covering nearly 1.4 million beneficiaries was enacted. However, because it may now be to their advantage to come under the new law, these old law pensioners will be given another opportunity between February 1 and May 1 next year to change over.

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller

My wife, Mollie, wishes to express appreciation for the many "Get well" cards from her friends here. She is still in the University Hospital at Philadelphia and will be for another three weeks (Room 1612-D).

Meanwhile, I have to remain here and take care of an old man who, after all these years, is now able to appreciate the significance of:

LONESOMENESS

When the old arm chair lacks comfort,
And your book no pleasure holds,
While the few remaining embers
In the fire are growing cold.

The house seems quiet and empty,
And the old clock on the shelf,
Seems to mock your lonely feelings,
As you're sighing to yourself.

When the strains of distant music
Do not even hold a charm,
And the sound of any foot-fall,
Causes you a strange alarm.

There's a lonesomeness that haunts you,
Like the "blues" have come to stay,
Then you suddenly remember
It's because she went away.

Letter to Editor

To: The Harrington Journal
Subject: Disrespect For Law

When a police officer encounters disrespect in the performance of their duties, it is not the affront to them as individuals which bothers them. After all, they are a body of disciplined professional men used to dealing with many people at their worst.

What mainly concerns them is the insult to the badge they wear symbolizing the majesty of the law and all it means.

A Policeman personifies the LAW. He is the LAW in action, thus, when his uniform becomes just another blue serge suit and order of arrest a challenge to a test of physical strength, what becomes of the law's vital moral force?

There are few actions more dangerous to our way of life than attempts to isolate the American Police Officer from the mainstream of community life by falsely portraying him as a person to be feared rather than a public servant working for the common good.

He is not the iron fist of some distant tyrannical power enforcing by brute strength cruel laws in whose making the people have no part. The truth is that he is a fellow citizen whose roots are deep in the community he tries to protect.

He is a family man who has been appointed a civil officer of local government for the purpose of preventing and detecting offenses against its rules of conduct.

He is not a power unto himself.

His official actions are subjected to the close supervision, control and scrutiny of governmental authorities, such as the courts, and important community, such as the press. In short, the American Police Officer is of the community, by the community, and for the community.

It is said that "good fences make good neighbors", and I suppose that is true in some ways. But I submit that the common good cannot tolerate a fence of any sort between the American Police Officer and the American citizen.

Space does not permit us to note additional aspects of the citizen's obligation to the cause of law and order or to list the many returns the community has the right to expect from those who voluntarily chose the honor, the privilege and the ideal of police work as a life's career. Suffice to say that the duty imposed upon the "Men who watch while others sleep" is awesome and to give one single but vital example of their devotion to that duty, in the last six years, 335 police officers have given their lives in line of duty; the clearest evidence that police officers can give their fellow citizens, of how clearly they regard the great trust committed to their care.

The law does not enforce itself. By the nature of things, it must be enforced by men. It follows, therefore, that the respect for the law ought to include respect for the men sworn to act as the human instrument of its vindication.

Smyma, through Dover, to a treatment plant near Frederica and eventually dump the effluent in the Murderkill River near Bowers Beach.

The first sewer district, northwest of Dover, has been approved but Democrats have objected to the methods involved.

Torbert said every effort will be made to bring Dover into the system to assure its financial stability. He said the new Levy Court hopes to meet with Dover council this week or next to renew talks on the city's participation.

He said he was convinced that county people want a sewer system, but equally convinced that they want it carefully planned before installation.

The election of a Democratic Levy Court while the rest of the state went Republican "indicates to us that the county voters have rejected certain of the policies of the new existing Republican Levy Court," Torbert said.

He said the four Democrats plan to meet frequently before January to study problems in planning and zoning, the sewer line, garbage disposal and county expenses.

William Byrd

of the Delaware Harness Racing Commission and at this point appears that it will operate five nights a week at least until some time in February.

The downstate oval has been resurfaced for winter racing under the supervision of track superintendent, Dale Gray, with the assistance of Melvin Joseph, Georgetown contractor, who built the oval and the very latest equipment that he has available.

Georgetown has long been recognized as one of the fastest ovals on the winter circuit and has been so publicized in Hoof Beats, the official magazine of the USTA.

Pony Raceway Banquet to Be Held November 22

There will be a banquet of the Pony Raceway organization, Friday night, Nov. 22, at the Moose Home, beginning at 7 p.m.

The banquet is not restricted to raceway participants and will be open to the public, with tickets available by calling Clarence Schieber, 398-3656, or Paul Legates.

Chris, Lions Run Second In State Meet

Chris Wetherhold turned in one of the best performances of his career at Polly Drummond Hill, Newark, on Tuesday, Nov. 5, to finish second in the Group II (smaller schools) Delaware Interscholastic Cross-Country Championship 2.6 miles run, Harrington High's Lions, coached by Harold McDonald, capped a great season by finishing second to Archmere Academy, for team honors. Ten teams with 70 runners were entered.

Wetherhold's 1967 and 1968 seasons were identical and have to be rated with the top performances of any previous H.S. athlete.

In 1967 Chris, then a 14-year-old freshman, was unbeaten in the regular season, won the multi-team Harrington Invitational, then was runner-up to Jeff Brokaw, a 17-year-old junior at Tower Hill, in the state meet.

This fall, Wetherhold now 15, has done everything he did in 1967 and was beaten only by Brokaw, now 18. Brokaw is the greatest distance runner in Delaware scholastic history and is very much impressed by the prowess of the downstate, who had a huge lead over the third place finisher. Chris won't have the tall Hiller to contend with after this school year.

Ron "The Champ" Morris won the eighth-place trophy in the last race of his career. Sophomores Danny Hitchens and Brad Morris finished 11th and 15th respectively. Most of the runners in ahead of them were juniors and seniors. This pair, R. Morris and Wetherhold had the Lions in contention most of the way, by virtue of some fine running. Unfortunately, H.S.S. needed to get one more runner in the top 15, in order to have a chance to win their third state championship in six years.

Archmere Academy, the meet victor, had no runner in sight of Wetherhold but edged the Lions, by getting 5 Archers in the top 15, to Harrington's 4. Archmere Academy has a much greater enrollment than does H.S.S. and were able to field six good runners to Harrington's 4. This is one reason why we expect to see even stronger teams after consolidation with Felton. We should have no trouble picking up enough good runners from Felton and Frederica, to make a really great team. In 1966, Felton had cross-country and within a 20-day period developed a good team, including three really fine harriers, Trace Williams, Lloyd Shelman and Curt Bowers. Williams and Shelman made the All-Henlopen squad and Bowers just missed it. Williams almost won the Harrington Invitational being nosed by Ron "The Champ" Morris, a much more experienced competitor.

Night Program For Interior Design Offered

An introductory course in Interior Design will be offered at the Kent County Vocational - Technical Center, Woodside, starting Nov. 18.

The 30-hour course will meet for five weeks, two nights a week - Monday and Wednesday - from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. The fee for the course is $15 and registration can be arranged by contacting the Kent Vo-Tech Center. Registration can also be arranged at the first meeting of the class.

The Interior Design course will cover interior planning, color development, floor, wall, window and furniture decorating, "Total Design" approach, new materials and products.

Miss Barbara Lynn Bruner, who recently completed two years of study at the Parsons School of Design in New York City, will be teaching the course.

Mrs. Walter H. Moore and Mrs. Clifton Chambers spent Monday in Wilmington.

It Seems To Me

By Janet C. Reed

The sewing machine, like any piece of machinery, needs good care. This means periodic cleaning and oiling.

Read your instruction book and follow the directions. Many of the newer machines rarely require oiling, but a general guide is to oil after eight hours of continuous use. If the machine has not been used for some time, a little oil may make it operate more smoothly.

Before oiling, clean out all dust and lint with a small brush or the vacuum cleaner. Be sure to remove the plate under the pressure foot—this is a real lint catcher. If the face plate can be removed, brush away lint inside.

If your machine is very gummy and dirty, you may need to use a grease solvent to clean it thoroughly. If the machine is running hard, locate the trouble area and use additional solvent to clean it out. You may have to use a little more oil than usual after applying solvent since it completely removes the old oil.

Always use an oil especially made for sewing machines; never use an all-purpose or household oil even though the label may state it can be used for sewing machines. What the label doesn't tell you it can really gum up the works.

Don't over-oil. A drop in each oil hole or at each spot where metal moves against metal is usually enough. The oil holes are usually put where bearings that can't be reached directly need oiling. After oiling, run the machine for a while to remove any excess oil, stitching on an old cloth.

Many machine troubles clear up after a good cleaning and oiling, but if they don't, check the needle and threading. Be sure the needle is the correct length for your machine and the right size for the thread and fabric. Check whether it was put in properly; positions differ for various machines. Finally, check the way the machine is threaded, both on top and in the bobbin. Cleaning and oiling may make a slight adjustment in tension necessary. Adjust so both upper and lower stitching looks the same.

Hang on to your instruction book, and know where to find it. It can be your handyman, teacher and guide in case of machine troubles.

Fall Shrub Care Important For Survival

Proper autumn care is an important factor in helping ornamental shrubbery survive severe winter conditions, says Robert F. Stevens, extension horticulturist at the University of Delaware.

Shrubs must be well watered before the ground freezes, says Stevens. And this is particularly important for evergreens and for new plantings which may not be well established.

Shrubbery does not remain dormant throughout the winter, he explains. On days when the temperature exceeds 40 degrees Fahrenheit, most shrubs, particularly evergreens, begin root growth. Water losses occur during these growth periods, especially if shrubs are located in a windy area.

Sunburn and windburn in shrubs are caused primarily by water loss, adds Stevens. So an adequate supply of moisture is as important during the winter months as in the summer.

If the weather is particularly dry during autumn, water shrubs weekly until the ground freezes. If rain or snowfalls continue to be light during the winter, water shrubs whenever the ground is thawed.

Renewing mulching around shrubs may help conserve soil moisture, he says. And mulching will help control weed growth next summer and gradually increase the organic content of the soil.

Sawdust, wood chips, peat moss, ground bark and pine needles are effective mulching materials, says Stevens. But straw is somewhat undesirable because it may contain weed seeds which may cause weed problems next year.

Ground corn cobs are also satisfactory for mulching, he adds. But any grain mixed with the cobs may attract mice to the plant. To reduce the chance of mouse damage, keep mulch several inches from the shrub's trunk and place a small mound of crushed stone or gravel around each trunk.

Finally, do not prune shrubs in late autumn. Pruning removes reserve food supplies and weakens the plant. This makes the shrub particularly susceptible to injury or death from sudden drops in temperature.

Del. Women Win Recognition

Delaware Home Economics Extension Clubs received five awards at the national convention of the Extension Homemakers Council, held recently in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The awards include first place for work on Farm and City Week and first place for the highest percentage of members subscribing to "National Notes", the Council publication. Delaware clubs also received third place in membership competition with an eight per cent increase in statewide membership. Honorable mention awards were given in the civil defense category and for a feature story written by Mrs. Norris Givens, Georgetown.

Ten Delaware women attended the five-day conference, according to Mrs. Warren Baker, Middletown, Delaware, council president.

State FFA Leadership Conference Held

Officers representing nine Delaware Future Farmers of America chapters gathered recently in the Felton High School for the annual state FFA leadership training conference.

Most of the day was spent in sectional meetings where the chapter officers were taught how to properly conduct a meeting, the aims and purposes of the FFA, and the duties of each respective FFA office. These sectional meetings were followed by an evaluation conference.

Special guests for the event were William Paul Gray, national FFA executive secretary; Howard E. Henry, chief school officer at Felton High; Kenneth C. Madden, state superintendent, department of public instruction; and Paul M. Hodgson, assistant state superintendent, department of public instruction.

Century Club News

The Harrington New Century Club met on Nov. 12, with Mrs. T. H. Storus presiding. Business was discussed and plans made for future activities.

The program, "The Road Behind Us," with Mrs. Preston Trice, chairman, and her committee, Mrs. Earl Sylvester, Mrs. Luster Rogers, Mrs. Elmer A. Smith and Mrs. Walter Winkler was very interesting.

Mrs. Trice and her guest, Mrs. Deuble, took us on a tour of Western Europe. We visited 16 cities in eight different countries, seeing noted museums with famous pictures and sculptures, street scenes and countryside, palaces and ancient cathedrals. Outstanding places as the Louvre, the Leaning Tower of Pisa, Vatican, Cathedrals of Milan and Lucerne, canals of Venice, Windsor and Buckingham Palaces were shown. Mrs. Trice had a display of mementos, bits of craft, books, watercolors and souvenir cards to illustrate our tour. Our meeting concluded with a social period, including refreshments.

An interesting program lies ahead. We will go on a tour of "The Pan American Highway" on Nov. 26th. Mrs. Fred B. Greenly Sr., chairman, and her committee, Mrs. Frank Derrickson, Mrs. William E. Griffin, Mrs. John T. Satterfield, Mrs. William W. Sharp and Mrs. Horace Johnson, will be in charge.

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton

Turkey is a good meat for any meal—not just a holiday one. But if you are planning on having a delicious golden brown roasted turkey for Thanksgiving, now's the time to make plans. How many people are going to be with you for dinner; are they hearty eaters; how much do you want "left over" for future meals or is this not to your liking? These are a few of the questions to be considered, as well as how much time you are leaving for thawing, cooking, and carving. These are all important and if planned for can make the difference between a frustrating unpleasant day or a lovely peaceful one.

First of all, remember for each generous serving of roasted turkey allow 3/4 to one pound of ready-to-cook weight for birds weighing less than 12 pounds; 1/2 to 3/4 pound for birds weighing 12 pounds or more. If your size family is too small for a whole turkey, even a small one, or if your likes are such that only breast of turkey will do, then allow 1/2 to 3/4 pound of ready to cook weight per serving. Remember, all of these amounts are per serving and do not take into consideration "seconds" or "left-overs."

If you are interested in economy and have a way to use a large bird, consider a young tom turkey weighing 20 pounds or over. Turkeys of this size are excellent choices for roasting, yield more meat in proportion to bone than the smaller birds, and are usually priced lower per pound than hens or smaller toms. But no bargain is a real bargain if it cannot be used to the best advantage.

When buying, regardless of size, do look for the grade shield. This will assure you of quality based on such factors as amount of flesh, amount of fat and absence of discolorations, cuts and tears. Also check for the inspection seal—this assures you of wholesomeness, that the turkey you buy is safe to eat.

Be sure to allow plenty of time to thaw the turkey if you buy it frozen and/or if you roast it from the frozen state (all frozen stuffed turkey must be cooked this way), be sure to allow additional cooking time. Then, to assist in carving take the turkey out of the oven and wait about 30 minutes before you start to carve. You will be delighted to see how this helps the job of carving.

Right now all local markets have lots of top quality pork available at really reasonable prices. Poultry prices are steady as are beef prices, but with "specials" on both of these meats, they are economical meat choices.

Egg prices remain normal; however, a 1-2 cent price rise per dozen is expected within the next few weeks.

Around Home

with Jean H. Cranston

America's famous dinner party is the "First Thanksgiving" feast celebrated by the Pilgrims of Plymouth, Mass., and the Wampanoag Indians. It lasted for three days!

Through the year New Englanders have traditionally served many of the same foods as were prepared on that first Thanksgiving day with some additions and variations. Their popularity became widespread as down-east families migrated to other parts of this country, taking along with them their favorite recipes.

To add a new touch to your Thanksgiving meal you might like to try the salad mold using the increasing popular cranberry juice.

Ruby Red Salad Mold

2 cups cranberry juice
2-3 ounce packages raspberry gelatin
1 - 8 3/4 ounce can pineapple tidbits, undrained
1/2 cup Port wine (or 1/2 cup cranberry juice)
1/2 cup water
1 avocado, peeled and sliced
1 cup diced peeled apples
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
grapefruit sections

Heat cranberry juice to boiling. Add gelatin, stir until dissolved. Add pineapple, wine (or cranberry juice) with water. Arrange avocado slices in bottom of 5 cup mold. Pour enough gelatin mixture over slices to cover; chill until almost set. Chill remaining cranberry mixture till partially set; fold in apples and celery. Pour over avocado layer. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with grapefruit sections on lettuce cups.

FENCE TALK

with George K. Vapaa

County extension agents are so-called because we extend the knowledge of our land grant university and the U.S. Department of Agriculture to people in our local communities. We work to solve local problems with the people we serve, using informal education programs.

I bring it up because our National Association of County Agricultural Agents has prepared a new leaflet "Careers in Cooperative Extension" for free distribution to young people. It tells what we do, what the future holds, how we qualify, and the rewards to be expected.

Call our Extension Service office, 736-1448 if you want a copy, or if you know of someone with whom we should talk. We like the work we do and we want to encourage young people to consider similar careers.

Tax management, as with credit management or soil management, is a part of the total job of planning and managing a farm business. Good management is what usually separates the highly successful business from an average or marginal business.

Bill McAllister, our extension economist at the University of Delaware, has prepared city of Delaware, has prepared (1) Some Dollar-Saving Tax Hints, (2) Some Guidelines for Depreciation and Investment Credit for Farm Assets, and (3) a 1969 Delaware Farm Outlook.

You can have free copies of each by writing or calling our office in Dover, telephone 736-1448. It could be money in your pocket.

Do you swap plants? If so, you may be spreading pests or diseases that destroy flowers and garden plants.

In many areas, State and Federal quarantines restrict the movement of plants and associated materials. Soil, sod, compost, shrubbery, plants, and decorative greenery may harbor microscopic cysts or insect eggs, subsurface grubs and worms, seeds from parasitic plants, or other pests.

If you have a question concerning plant quarantine and how you can safely move plants, bulbs, and tubers without transporting pests, contact: United States Dept. of Agriculture, ARS, Plant Pest Control Division, State Board of Agriculture, Drawer D, Dover, Delaware 1901, Mr. John Franklin, inspector.

State Home Ec. Leader Named

Miss Janet Reed, Newark, extension clothing and textile specialist at the University of Delaware for the past 10 years, has been named state leader of home economics, effective November 1. The announcement was made by Dr. Samuel M. Gwinn, director of the Delaware Cooperative Extension Service. Miss Reed will also continue as clothing specialist.

A native of West Virginia, Miss Reed received her bachelor's degree in home economics at West Virginia University, Morgantown, and a master's degree from Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y. She has had an outstanding career as a teacher, 4-H agent, home economics agent and clothing specialist in West Virginia, Ohio and New York, according to Gwinn.

Miss Reed was named in the sixth edition of Who's Who of American Women; she has served as vice president of the Delaware Home Economics Association and of the Newark Business and Professional Women's Club. She writes the weekly newspaper column, "It Seems To Me," and has written numerous clothing publications, including the award-winning "Tailoring Coats and Suits".

As state leader, Miss Reed replaces Mrs. Alice King, who retired earlier this year.

Lions Tie Unbeaten Indian River

It was "shock night" in the Henlopen Football Conference last Friday.

Harrington High, which had not held an opponent scoreless in seven previous games, battled high-scoring, undefeated Indian River to a scoreless tie, dropping the Indians from first to second place, enabling Bridgeville to assume the lead.

Coach Bill Muehleisen credited much of his Harrington team's astounding performance to old movies.

"We knew we would have trouble scoring against them," said ex-Marine Muehleisen, "so we decided to concentrate on defense. Towards that end we studied old movies of Millsboro games of last year and of John M. Clayton games of years before that. That's where Graham Dill coached before he took over at Indian River this year.

"Dill's methods haven't changed much. They're the same now as when he coached at the other schools. It's grind it out and jam it down your throat.

"For hours on end, we studied the movies—defensive coach Al Wood; my brother Tom, who works with the offense; our two junior high coaches, Jim Hawpe and Charlie Miller, who scouts for us, and myself.

"I just can't give enough credit to Coach Wood. He spent a lot of time preparing our defense for this game. And it paid off."

It marked the first time this year that Indian River, which had a seven-game victory streak, was blanketed. The Indians had won every game by at least three TDs except one in amassing 179 points for a 25.4 per game average.

"Our secondary did a fantastic job against their passer, quarterback Andy Cress," Muehleisen noted. "Cress, one of the finest athletes I have ever seen, and he's only a sophomore, completed but one of four passes and had one intercepted, Indian River had a minus 15 yards in passing. That's how tough was our secondary. We play 5-4, so we blew hard on Cress."

Each team mounted serious scoring threats in the last period. First it was Harrington, which marched 50 yards to Indian River's 9, where it lost the ball on downs.

"We had a fourth-and-one situation on their 9 and couldn't make it," said Muehleisen.

With two minutes remaining, Indian River had a first-and-10 on Harrington's 11, losing the ball on downs on the Lions' 3.

"We had about a minute left in the game when we took possession," said Muehleisen, "and I elected to run out the clock with quarterback sneaks. I was afraid to gamble after having come this far with an upset."

Halfback Oscar Matthews was the big offensive gun for Harrington, gaining 87 of the Lions' 157 rushing yards in 14 carries.

Harrington, which also completed but one of four passes, for 25 yards, racked up 182 yards total offense, compared to the loser's 154. Each team had eight first downs and each punted four times.

Twice Harrington runners nearly broke loose for TDs, but each time it was Cress who was there to prevent any scoring, once tackling Chester Scott after a 40-yard punt return.

"I have all the admiration in the world for Indian River," noted Muehleisen. "They're not really big, but they're tough and they're quick. They try these Green Bay sweeps right down your throat. This is something we worked hard on to take away and, thanks to the amazing play of defensive ends Dave Hurd and Matthews, we succeeded. Hurd was so rugged in the first half that Indian River didn't even try his end in the last half."

For injury-plagued Harrington it was only the second time this season the Lions were at full strength. Last week, at full strength for the first time this year, they rocked Millsboro 32-6.

"If we had not been bothered with all those injuries early in the season, we might have been a pennant contender," said Muehleisen.

Greenwood Wins First Game, 14-7 Over Felton

Greenwood High School's varsity football team, in its second year of play, defeated Felton's first-year team 14-7, at Greenwood, on Saturday afternoon. Carl Baker's Rams hit the win column for the first time this season. Felton, also, has one victory, over Dover Air in early September.

Early in the first period, Felton's Gene Palmer almost got loose on a long touchdown run. He was finally stopped at midfield by the last Ram with a chance to get him. John Glenden picked up five yards. Mike Sherman's pass reception was nullified by a penalty. Chris Moore punted outside at the Ram 18, but a penalty gave them another chance at midfield. Palmer swept right end for 20 yards. Glenden reached the Ram 27, but Stanley Burris nailed the next try for a loss. Gains by Palmer on a pass from Moore and a run were not enough for the first down.

Stanley Higgins hit Felton's forward wall for three yards. Otto Retzlaff picked up five yards on two tries.

Mike Fisher took the Ram punt but was almost decapitated by Curt Batson's necktie tackle.

Ron Voshell moved from the 29 to the 32 on a line smash. Palmer took a pitch-out to the 38. Gene just missed first down yardage on the next play. Felton gambled on fourth down and missed.

Greenwood advanced to Felton's 12 yard line on a 20-yard pass play from Scott Baker to Robin Breeding and a five yard run by Retzlaff.

The Green Devils took over on downs. Palmer added five yards. George Zerolles caught Chris Moore rolling out to the left and downed him for a big loss. Felton was penalized back to their five yard line. Moore punted from his end zone to the 35 yard line.

Joe Zerolles swept right end for 12 yards. Two plays gained nothing. Stanley Higgins appeared to be almost unseen as he filtered through Felton's line and dashed to the 3 yard stripe. Retzlaff hit over for the ice-breaker. Higgins ran over the extra point after a penalty gave the Rams a second try.

The next series of downs saw Jerry Finkbinder trap Moore behind the line of scrimmage. After the punt, Greenwood moved from their 40 to midfield on gains by Higgins and Retzlaff.

Felton dug in and took over the pigskin at their 20, after a fourth-down kick. Palmer got 7 yards. Voshell picked up the first down. Mike Mitchell intercepted a Moore toss and returned it to the 26. Baker hit Denny Williams for five yards, but three more aerial tries lost four yards. Moore completed a pass to Mike Sherman as the first half ended.

Stanley Burris returned the second half kickoff to his own 34. Joe Zerolles, on second down, went off right tackle for seven yards. Palmer caught Baker for a loss of 10 yards. Greenwood couldn't get the kick away, paving the way for Felton to tie the score.

Workhorse Gene Palmer picked up 21 yards on four straight carries, but was hit hard at the 13 by three Rams, including Jim Tennefoss, a 250 pounder. Gene was badly shaken up. As he left the field with a Green Devil on either side, his legs weren't working. However, the gritty Feltonian returned to action later and shone in Felton's last-ditch effort.

Chris Moore's pass over the Greenwood line was caught by John McCloskey at the 6. Voshell was tripped up early but managed to reach the 3. A throw to McCloskey in the right flat was good for the T.D. The multi-talented Moore placekicked the tying point. We wouldn't be surprised to see him drop kick one some day.

Denny Williams caught two Scott Baker passes, one on a great diving effort, but Felton stopped the advance. A good Ram punt was returned to Felton's 28. On third down Moore was snowed under at his 22. After the punt, Greenwood had good field position only two yards from midfield. Ray Scott tackled Retzlaff for a first down loss to ease the pressure, but the Ram hit the center of the line for a first down, one play later. After a five yard pickup and a no-gainer, Retzlaff booted through a big hole, to move from the 35 to the 25. Dan Demora recovered a fumbled center snap to put Felton in command. The Green Devils couldn't move and had to turn the leather back to the home team.

Denny Williams caught a Baker aerial for a first down to start the game-winning march. Retzlaff moved from midfield to Felton's 40 on two runs. After the Kent Countians picked up a five yard offside penalty, Retzlaff slashed off left tackle for an eight-yard pickup. Burris cracked the line for six yards, then added nine more as he started wide, then cut back inside to the 12. The hard-running Retzlaff booted through the forward wall and ran over people into the end zone. 13-7. Baker's nice fake into the line fooled the defenders. A pitchout to Retzlaff going wide to the left, easily added the extra point.

Felton wasn't through yet and almost scored again. A completed pass with 15 yards tacked on for face-mask tackling, a screen pass to Roger Bradley and a throw to McCloskey left Felton only 15 yards from paydirt. Palmer latched on to two aerals for a total pickup of ten yards. After a penalty against Greenwood, the ball rested at the one yard line. Voshell failed to push it across in two tries. The final gun signalled the end of the hard-fought contest.

Jackie D. Parker Is Courage Personified

Last fall Jackie D. Parker, a 12-year-old, will-of-the-wisp, surprised everyone by floating around Rockford Park's 2.3 miles course in a swift 12.51 to win the 1967 Junior Varsity state championship, the youngest champ ever, by far.

Despite his tender years, it was felt the talented youngster could easily make this year's Harrington High varsity. But physical troubles popped up and he didn't make it, although three jayvee teammates, who chased Parker, in vain, all last season, won varsity letters and helped the team to a glittering 14-0 record.

Several other older and healthier runners, who could have strengthened the team quit the sport, but Jackie D. doesn't know the meaning of the word quit. He ran race after race with a constant pain in his side. A knot would swell up in the area of the pain, after a race.

The day before this year's Junior Varsity state cross-country championship, Parker pulled a muscle in the upper part of his torso, at school. With two physical drawbacks to contend with, no one would have blamed him for dropping out of the race.

But as defending champion he wanted to run and he hoped he would be able to turn in a decent effort. When the runners came out of the woods on the University of Delaware's Polly Drummond Hill course, they had completed 2.3 miles of a grueling 2.6 miles race. Surprisingly enough, the ailing 13-year-old was in sixth place in a field composed of many sophomores and juniors. As he climbed the hill in front of an imposing manor house, on the private estate on which the course is located, two larger lads passed him.

Jackie D. picked up the pace quickly, passed both rivals and sprinted, wide open, for 300 yards to finish sixth place. It was an incredible, gutty showing by a frail, little lionhearted Lion.

As far as this writer is concerned, this little guy is worth more than all those previously mentioned quitters combined. Bob Rash (5th), Jackie Parker (6th), Wardell Davis (12th), Tommy Clarke (16th), Dan Bell, David Newnom and Johnny Jackson paced H.H.S. to a second place in the jayvee race, behind A. I. duPont. Rash and Parker won handsome engraved trophies.

Tommy Clarke did a great job. He had been sidelined for two weeks with pleurisy, but gamely outspurred four rivals in the homestretch and beat many more people than expected. Like Parker he is only 13 and is an eighth grader.

Harrington Bowling League

Gerardi Bros. had no trouble in winning the first third championship Tuesday night, though they did have some doubt for a while as Penn Central took the first game of the contest by three pins, but bowed in the second game by a wide margin, and lost total pins in a two-game split. Gerardi Bros. went into the fray needing just one win to assure themselves of the championship, and as the end of the contests were over, found that they could have lost all four games and still would have won the title. Penn Central's M. Brown put in a real fine 220 game effort as his team ended the third in a very respectable sixth place.

Jarrell's Fuel moved into second place by trouncing Robbins Hardware Tuesday night for four games. L. Farrow amassed a superb 587 series, including a 214 game; W. Collison, rolled a grand 576 series, with a 202 game also, and R. Jarrell chipped in with a fine 541 series for Jarrell's Fuel. Perhaps the story would have been different if Jarrell's had had another week to bowl, as they have finally found the range and are really showing great strength in winning over their opponents. A four game forfeit by Jarrell's early in the season, proved to be the deciding factor in their finishing in second place. Jarrell's Fuel also moved way out in front of the team series department by rolling a grand total of 2661 pins Tuesday night. D. Pearson attempted to offset the fuel boy's strength by rolling a great 217 game, but it was of no help, as Robbins Hardware slipped to eleventh place.

Wally's Garage fell down to a tie for third place as they saw their hopes of winning the first third diminish as Taylor & Messick set them back on their heels with a three game loss. K. Outten rolled a fine 201 game for Taylor & Messick as they retained their fifth place spot in the standings.

Also holding the third place spot is Quillen's Market, who split with The Spoilers in this week's setto. J. Winkler rolled a great 212 game, and B. Johnson amassed a fine 531 series, with a 207 game included, to keep Quillen's up in the standings. In the meantime The Spoilers moved in to a tie for ninth place.

J. Bogden came through for Hamilton Fund with a grand 571 series, with a 212 game included, to aid them to take three games from Butler's Fuel, to remain in seventh place. Butler's Fuel received a fine assist from C. Brown with a 200 games, and S. Lyons, who rolled a real fine 213 game, though they finished at the bottom of the heap this third. Butler's won their game in grand style tho, by taking over second place in the team single game department with a superb 939 game.

Mc Knatt's moved into eighth place by getting a great assist from H. Brode, who rolled a fine 543 series and R. Garey with a nice 200 game, to win four games from Peoples Restaurant. C. Bushey made a fine attempt to pull a game out for Peoples with a good 203 game, as Peoples dropped to a tie for ninth place. McKnatt's Funeral Home has had a rough time this third, but if history will repeat itself, it will show them very strong in the next two thirds. It usually takes them a while to get rolling, but when they do, look out!

With Gerardi Bros. winning the first third, they can afford to coast until the final championship playoffs, but that is usually not the case, and should be regarded as dangerous to teams wanting the second third, as they will take on the part of spoilers the rest of the season.

Rehoboth Edges Felton, 21-14

Art Refosco's Felton High Green Devils continue to play a good brand of football. They lost a close contest to Rehoboth's Seahawks 21-14, at Harrington High stadium on Saturday night, Nov. 2. Felton is doing much better than most first year teams, especially in the offensive department.

In the first quarter Ron Voshell rushed John Coveleski, the Rehoboth quarterback, batted a pass try into the air and intercepted at Rehoboth's 39. Chris Moore later kicked out at the 13 yard line. The visitors marched 87 yards to score on a Coveleski keeper end ewcep. Travis circled end for the extra point.

Gene Palmer returned the kickoff to his own 30. The Green Devils gamely fought back to tie the score with a 70 yard surge.

Moore passed to Wayne Teat for 12 yards. On a counter Palmer hit left tackle to the 48. Palmer received two good blocks and reached the Seahawks' 29 yard line. A 15 yard penalty moved the oval to the 14. Moore went back to pass but eventually ran to the one yard line. Palmer swept right end untouched for six points. Moore was set up to kick the extra point but passed to Teat to tie the score 7-7.

Moore kicked off into the end zone. He is the only player we have seen this season, who can do this. Rehoboth then had to put the ball in play on the 20, instead of much farther up field. A shorter kickoff usually is run back and often ends up on the 35 or 40 yard lines, sometimes it results in a runback for another score.

Rehoboth moved out to midfield on three plays but Dan Demora recovered a fumble for Felton. Voshell gained three yards. Moore faked beautifully into the line, handed to Palmer who added several yards. Moore finally kicked outside at Rehoboth's 20.

The Seahawks again marched down the field to score. A pass on the extra point try was good. 14-7.

A short Rehoboth kickoff was returned to the Felton 44 by John McCloskey. Voshell reached midfield but Rehoboth stalled Felton there.

Rehoboth advanced to the eight yard line but couldn't score, as Teat made two good tackles during the push. Roger Bradley saved a touchdown with a fine stop at one point, also.

The second half started with Moore again kicking off into the end zone. After the ball changed hands a couple of times, Rehoboth recovered a fumble at Felton's 30 and eventually scored the winning T.D.

The Green Devils fought back with another long march to pay dirt. Teat returned the kickoff to the 36, then ran to the 47, two plays later. A

Moore-to-Bradley aerial reached midfield. Moore hit Palmer over the center of the line for nine yards and a first down at the Rehoboth 41. Moore pitched to Bradley on the 22. Voshell got to the 19. Palmer burst through right tackle and fought to the 3. Moore was trapped back at the 14 on a pass attempt, but connected with Bradley in the end zone, on the next play. Moore then place-kicked the extra point. Score Rehoboth 21-Felton 14.

Felton had one last chance at a tie. After halting the Seahawks at the Felton 10, a Moore-to-Palmer pass gained 7 yards. Moore ran to the 20 on another play that started as a pass.

Time was running out. Felton went to the air again but an interception ended their hopes.

Felton High put up a mighty good effort against a Rehoboth team that has now won three straight, including a 6-2 verdict over Harrington.

Saturday night the Green Devils will face unbeaten, once-tied Indian River at Harrington High.
