

Delaware Youth Wins National 4-H Poultry Competition

The son of a Kent County poultry producer who appears to be following in his father's footsteps, has been named one of six national winners in the 4-H poultry program.

The youth is Lee Mesibov, 18, of Rt. 1, Houston. To reward his efforts, he received a $500 educational scholarship donated by the Heisdorf & Nelson Farms, Inc. while attending the 47th National 4-H Congress held Dec. 1-5 in Chicago. He was selected by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Mesibov has been enrolled in the 4-H Poultry program for three years. During that short time he has managed more than 2800 layers.

Throughout his project work, his father has provided the poultry house, the layers, feed and equipment. Egg production has been contracted to a hatchery, and Mesibov is given responsibility for the management and operation of the hen house.

His experience in the project may be short in terms of years, but he has acquired management practices on the operation of a breeder flock. He has learned the amount of feed and light the birds must have during each period of laying and at each season of the year. He also has learned to cull the non-laying hens from the flock, a subject he presented at county and state demonstrations, and which rated a first place ribbon and a scholarship.

A highlight of his career in 4-H was his selection as a Delaware delegate to attend the Maryland State 4-H Conference.

His other 4-H projects, many of which have earned awards, include — strawberries, garden, electric, and photography. He has participated in judging events, public speaking and talent shows.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mesibov, the high-school senior is interested in electronics as a career.

NATIONAL WINNER — Lee Mesibov, of Houston, a national winner in a 4-H poultry project.

Inauguration Of Governor Jan. 21

The Delaware State Development Department, as directed by Senate Bill 418, is charged with the responsibility of arranging for the inauguration of the Governor of the State of Delaware. The Department, along with others appointed by both political parties, has formed the Joint Committee for the Inauguration of Gov. Russell W. Peterson.

The Honorable Margaret R. Manning was selected as chairman of this committee, which has already met three times to discuss the various inaugural activities. Other members include: John Purnell, Hon. Jacob W. Zimmerman, Hon. Herman M. Holloway, Sr., and Samuel L. Shipley, director, Delaware State Development Department.

Preceded by a short inaugural parade, Governor-Elect Peterson will take office on Tues., Jan. 21, inside the Colonel John Haslet Armory, Dover, at 1 p.m. Inaugural balls will be held that evening in each of the three counties with Governor Peterson and Lt. Governor Eugene D. Bookhammer attending all three.

Delaware will be represented in the Presidential Inauguration parade on Jan. 20, 1969 in Washington, D. C.; however, this committee is not responsible for this event.

Harrington Vote OKs Annexation

Harrington voters gave overwhelming approval Saturday to annexing a tract of land southeast of town.

The area, between the dual lanes of U.S. 13, encompasses three firms—the New Era Shirt Co., the Ace Dress Co., and the Callis-Thompson Co., which produces parts for petroleum firms.

Mrs. Kathryn Derricksen, city clerk, said the annexation was proposed to bring into the city the land between the present city limits and the property recently bought for a new city sewage disposal plant.

The vote was 1,507 to 176 in favor of annexation, Mrs. Derricksen said.

School Christmas Program Dec. 11

What will probably be the last of the annual Christmas Candlelight Music Programs presented by the Harrington Special School District will take place Wednesday of next week, December 11, beginning at 8 p.m., in the School Field House.

The program is open to the public without charge.

The evening will begin with the customary candlelight procession by the girls of the high school glee club to be followed by Christmas carols and anthems.

Mr. Brobst, in charge of the program, will be assisted by Mrs. George Giltenboth of the music faculty in charge of the two elementary choruses that will be taking part in the program.

The soloist for the Cantique de Noel will be Miss Linda Rogers, a member of the senior class, with her accompanist being Miss Kathy Miller.

The organist for the evening will be Miss Gail Melvin.

These annual Christmas Candlelight concerts by the Harrington School District were inaugurated during the 1930's by Mrs. Paul Hawk, at that time directress of the school's music department.

3 Injured in U. S. 13 Crash

Three persons were taken to Milford Memorial Hospital Monday evening in the ambulance of the Harrington Fire Company following an auto collision on U.S. 13 two and a half miles south of town.

Elaine Thompson, 20, Goldsboro, Md., driver of one vehicle, suffered a fracture of the leg and lacerations, while Irving Shreaves, Parksley, Va., operator of a second vehicle, suffered lacerations of knee and forehead. Beatrice Startt, of Smyrna, a passenger in the Shreaves vehicle, suffered a lacerated thigh.

PROMOTED — ROBERT JESTER, of Delmarva Power & Light Company, who has been promoted to salesman of electrical heating equipment for Kent and Sussex Counties.

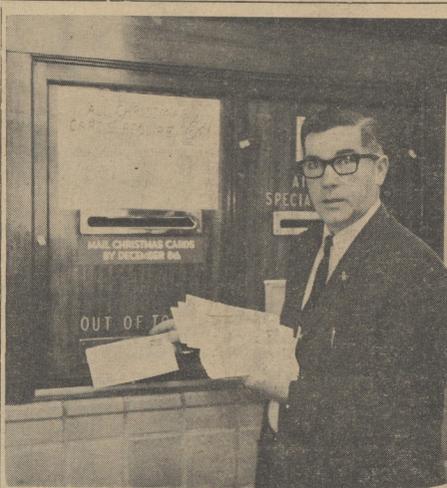

Robert T. Jester Promoted

Robert T. Jester of Harrington has been promoted to serve as sales representative for Delmarva Power & Light Company in Kent and Sussex counties. T. H. Storus, division manager for the company, said Mr. Jester's promotion would become effective December 1 and that he would specialize in selling electric house heating.

Mr. Jester has been with the electric company at Harrington for 17 years; first as meter reader, then as engineer's helper. He is a graduate of Harrington High School, attended Beacom Business College and served one year in the U.S. Air Force.

Mr. Jester is manager of the Little League Baseball Team, and the Biddle League Basketball Team. He belongs to American Legion Post No. 7; the Harrington Fire Company; Temple Lodge No. 9 - AF and AM; Tall Cedars of Lebanon, Evergreen Forest No. 49. He was finance officer of the American Legion Post for 10 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Jester have one young son, Darrell, and are members of Trinity United Methodist Church.

SHOP EARLY! MAIL EARLY! — Postmaster Howard W. Dill is shown mailing his Holiday Greeting cards on December 2. Only you can avoid delays for delivery of your Christmas cards and packages by mailing early, correctly addressed, using your return address and by all means use ZIP-CODE. Be sure to have the correct postage of 6¢ per ounce—you may mail Greeting cards weighing up to two ounces for 6¢ providing they are unsealed and without writing enclosed.

Public Can Benefit The Post Office; Themselves at Christmas

"Your local Post office can generally handle the rain, sleet and snow - provided mailers tell the postal service where their mail should go." Postmaster Howard Dill said this week.

Bad weather and angry dogs are not always highest on the list of hindrances preventing the speedy and accurate flow of your mail. It's the little things we sometimes forget to do, like failing to advise the Post Officers of our change of address, no return of address or correct address on our mail, poor wrapping and non-use of ZIP CODE.

Greeting cards for distant states should be mailed not later than Dec. 11, and those for local delivery not later than Dec. 16. Your domestic gift parcels should be mailed not later than Dec. 14, for local delivery.

Postmaster Dill asked Harrington residents to mail early in the day to avoid crowds - both crowds of people and crowds of mail. Purchase your total supply of 6 cent Christmas stamps now.

Additional Star Route will be put on in December to assist transportation of your mail. Special attention will be placed on the delivery of mail to our servicemen in Vietnam and surrounding areas, please, use APO's and FPO's numbers on all overseas parcels to military bases in Dec. 11 by air-mail.

Public cooperation is the key to successful and fast on-time delivery at this time of the year. Literally billions of pieces of mail will be delivered between now and Christmas. If everyone were to wait until the last week to mail their gifts and greetings, postal facilities would be severely overloaded. After the first of December the post office will be hard pressed to handle the tremendous volume of Christmas mail expected.

Remember, Christmas cards are 6 cents per ounce, same as first-class mail, while third-class is also 6 cents for the first two ounces. Since most Christmas cards weigh under one ounce, it will cost 6 cents whether you send a Christmas card first-class or third-class unsealed. First-class mail gives you forwarding and return privileges, so be sure to use your return address and zip-code.

"Most of the half million undelivered pieces of mail each year is caused by the mailer. When a patron has taken the time to purchase a card, envelope and postage, or a gift, it is unfortunate if the mail can not be delivered because the sender did not take a little longer to prepare their mail correctly," Postmaster Dill said.

Postmaster Dill and the entire staff of the Harrington Post Office wish to express grateful thanks for the cooperation of the mailing public during the holidays in the past. This office has never had a backlog of mail. We intend to process and deliver the mail this Christmas without additional help or expenses - without our customer's help, we may still be sorting and delivering mail after the holidays.

The entire staff of the Harrington Post Office sincerely wishes you the very best for a prosperous holiday season and a happy new year.

Governor's House Closed to Visitors

The Governor's House, Kings Highway, Dover, will be closed to public visits on Tuesdays from December 10, 1968, until further notice.

Norman Wix, Sr. Celebrates 92nd Birthday

Norman Wix, Sr. recently celebrated his 92nd birthday at a family gathering at the home of his youngest daughter, Mrs. Willis Kates, near Masten's Corner.

Mr. Wix was born Nov. 30, 1876 on a farm on the Harrington-Whiteleysburg road approximately 7 miles northwest of town and has lived within a 2-mile radius of his birthplace all his life.

On Jan. 6, 1894, he married Nettie D. Saunders and they were the proud parents of 13 children as follows: Mrs. Ella Brown, Robert J., Mrs. Eunice Brown, Mrs. Mildred Welch, Carroll, Marvin, Kenneth, J. Leon, Mrs. Dorothy Raughley, Mrs. Esther Andersen, Mrs. Evelyn Groves, Norman, Jr., and Mrs. Audrey Kates. Mrs. Wix died about 15 years ago and he retired from farming shortly thereafter.

He boasts of having over 100 grandchildren, and wasn't sure of the number of great-grandchildren and even great-great-grandchildren.

He enjoys excellent health and is keen of mind, however, he says his eyesight is failing badly.

He presently makes his home with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brown, near here.

Kent Told Plans For St. Jones 2,000-Acre Lake

A two-part program for the development of a 2,000-acre lake in the proposed St. Jones recreation area was explained to the Kent County Levy Court Tuesday.

Dudley L. Willis, consulting engineer with Edward H. Richardson Associates, Inc., recommended a series of steps for two-stage elevation of the lake.

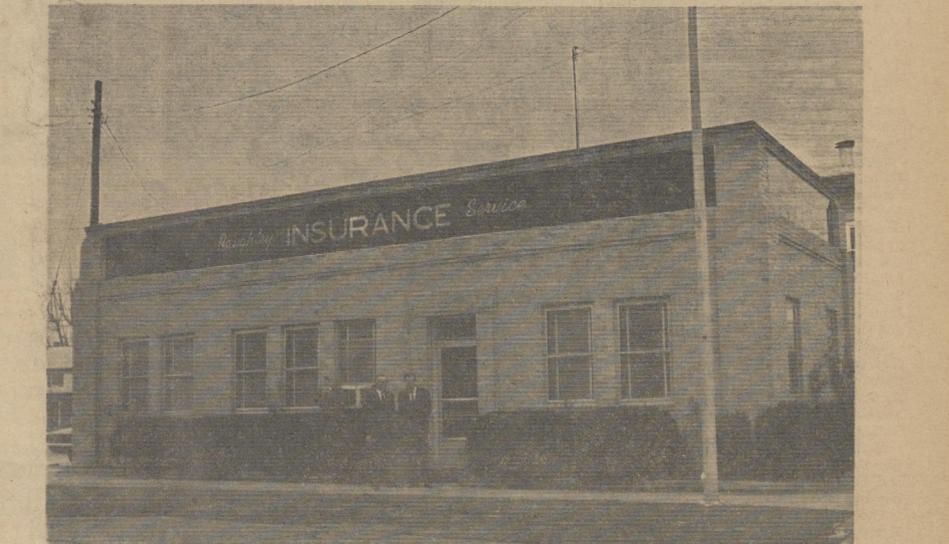

He said the county would have to create a park department to handle all administrative aspects of the project.

Following that, he suggested, the Levy Court send letters to state legislators and the governor asking support for the area. He further suggested letter to: The State Fish and Game Commission, seeking construction of a dam; the State Parks Commission, (Continued on Page 8)

Delaware Food Market Report

December is a month of happy anticipation, of rustling tissue paper, mixing bowls filled with butter-rich dough, and the punch bowl lifted from its storage space by careful hands. December means parties—teas, brunch, coffees, dinners, buffets and snacks—as well as numerous everyday meals. Meals that are quick, as well as ones that take time to prepare. Yet December is a month that should be filled with happiness and joy. The bountiful food supplies forecast for this festive month will do much to make the job easier and the days happier.

Broiler-fryers top the list of plentiful foods. Marketings are estimated to be 5 per cent above last year. This type of meat is so easy to prepare and delicious to eat. Since broiler-fryers are so versatile, they can be served several times a week, with a minimum of preparation.

Turkeys will continue in good supply, though total marketings are expected to be a bit less than last year. Prices should be about as they were at Thanksgiving time.

California's dried prune output is large. This fruit can be served any time of the day and also with little preparation. They are delicious for breakfast, make many refreshing and different salads, and with a little care can be served as an elegant dessert.

Oranges and grapefruits are expected to be in abundant supply. Florida is already shipping in fair volumes and the size of each fruit is getting bigger; flavor is good to excellent. Fresh fruit of this type is ever so good for a quick pick-me-up snack. Be sure to keep plenty on hand throughout this holiday month. It may help chase a cold away.

There's a very large pack of canned tomatoes and tomato products; in fact, the 1968 crop for processing is estimated to be a new record. This opens the possibility of saving pennies when preparing soups, casseroles, and many other nourishing yet delicious tomato dishes. The vegetables that are in the December spotlight are onions and dry beans. Supplies of both are still large. During the next two weeks look for a number of specials on beef. Marketings for the past week have been very quiet with no spectacular sales offered—could be everyone's thoughts have turned to turkey.

Pork marketings are adequate and ham will continue to be featured during the month of December. This is a good choice when you need quick meals often. After the ham is roasted it is always ready to eat.

Trinity United Methodist Church News

Church school at Trinity United Methodist Church, Harrington, will be held this Sunday, Dec. 8, at 10 a.m. The 88th Anniversary of Trinity Church will be observed this Sunday. Morning worship will be conducted by the pastor, the Rev. William J. Garrett, at 11 o'clock. The sermon topic is "My Father's House". Melvin Brobst, organist, will play "Prayer" by Martens as the prelude and "Lovely Appear" by Gounod as the postlude music. The Senior Choir will sing "Jesus Thou Joy" by Hosmer. The Junior Choir will sing "Savior, Hear Us, We Pray" by Brahm.

The altar flowers are to be presented in memory of Mrs. Nellie Collison by Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Minner and Kathy. The acolyte is Darrell Jester.

Fellowship Night will be held in Fellowship Hall, beginning at 7 p.m. There will be special singing; a family film, entitled "This Is Your Church" will be shown; refreshments will be served. This is a family night affair intended for the entire family. Everyone is welcome.

The choir will rehearse, as follows: Junior Choir, Thursday, 6:45 p.m.; Senior Choir, Thursday, 8 p.m. Next Saturday night, December 14th, the O.U.R. Class will hold the Christmas Party, beginning with a Covered Dish Supper at 6:30 p.m. A program for the children and the exchange of gifts will follow the dinner.

Social Security Notes

An important deadline in Medicare is coming up on December 31. This is the last date for filing a claim for Part B Medicare services received from October 1, 1968 through December 31, 1967. The social security law fixes a time limit for reimbursement claims under Part B of Medicare. Part B is the voluntary part of Medicare that covers doctor bills and other services under Supplemental Medical Insurance.

For services used in 1968 bills may be submitted until December 31, 1968. But a few people have not sent in their bills for services as far back as October 1, 1966. The December 31, 1968 deadline applies to these bills. Anyone who needs more information or help in making a claim can get it by telephoning 674-3610 or calling at the Social Security Office in the Blue Hen Mall.

Does that box of sewing machine attachments have you puzzled? Unless you use them often, you may have to learn how to use them again each time. For instance, most of us don't use the ruffler or binder often enough to develop much skill.

Attachments can do sewing jobs quickly and professionally if you learn to use them and practice regularly. Sewing machine instruction books are easy to follow, so you can teach yourself how to use the attachments. If you've lost your instruction book, ask your sewing machine dealer for help.

Attachments are designed for a particular sewing machine. Those left over from one machine probably will not operate well on another. Even if they fit onto the presser bar and seem to be the correct height, the timing may not be adjusted for your machine.

Engineers plan the timing of each attachment to correspond with the timing of the machine for which it is designed. Timing is based on the interval between the time the sewing machine needle leaves the fabric on its upward rise and re-enters the fabric as it comes back down. All attachment movements must be done while the needle is out of the fabric.

When you use any attachment, fasten it securely to the presser bar of the machine; use a screw driver or the tightening device on the machine. Also check that the needle clamp is tight. The vibration of the attachment can loosen these screws.

When you start sewing, hold the threads in back of the attachment for a few stitches to prevent knotting the threads. This is a good practice for any kind of machine stitching.

When you stop sewing, the threads should be pulled up to its highest point.

Take good care of your attachments. Wipe off lint after use and don't crowd them into a small area for storage.

Many of the newest machines may make certain attachments obsolete, but some of us are still using older models, with the occasional assist from an attachment.

Kitts Hummock Beachfront To Be Repaired

The Kent County Division of the Delaware State Highway Department will undertake immediate emergency repairs on the beach at Kitts Hummock to relieve a threat to the beachfront properties in that area.

The Highway Department was authorized by the General Assembly to expend up to $100,000 for this emergency type of beach stabilization. The bulk of this work is to be done by contract, which is expected to be let during the middle of February; however, it was felt that this particular problem deserved immediate attention along with another which has been completed at Broadkill Beach by the Sussex County Division.

Kitts Hummock is one of five beaches which will require beachfront stabilization. John Sipple, Kent County's Division Engineer stated, "The only work we are going to do with maintenance forces will be to replace that which is washed out completely."

Apples are undoubtedly one of nature's delicious gifts to us.

Piled in a fruit bowl, the red and yellow varieties make a beautiful centerpiece for our fall dining table.

Apples are delicious cooked, as well as raw. Apple crisp is a luscious baked dessert served with hard sauce.

Apple Crisp

6 cups sliced cooking apples (4 large apples)
1/2 cup sugar, divided
1/8 teaspoon nutmeg
1/8 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, divided
5 tbsps. molasses, divided
3 tbsps. butter or margarine
3/4 cup sifted all-purpose flour

Pare and core apples; cut into 1/8 inch thick slices. Mix together 1/4 cup of the sugar, nutmeg, salt, and 1/4 teaspoon of the cinnamon. Alternate apples and sugar mixture in a greased 6x10x2 inch baking dish. Spoon 4 tablespoons of the molasses over the top. Mix together remaining 1/4 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon molasses, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, butter, and flour to a crumb consistency. Sprinkle evenly over surface. Bake in 375 degrees F oven 50 minutes. Serve warm with hard sauce.

Hard Sauce

1/3 cup butter or margarine
2/3 cups sifted confectioner's sugar
1 tablespoon milk
2 tablespoons molasses
Cream butter. Add confectioner's sugar alternately with milk and molasses.

To Host Guest Lecturer

Dr. Stuart Patton, Evan Pugh research professor of agriculture at Pennsylvania State University will be a guest lecturer on the University of Delaware campus December 18 and 19, according to Dr. William J. Benton, chairman of Delaware's department of animal science and agricultural biochemistry.

Patton has been involved in basic research on the role of fats in heart disease and has received substantial support from the National Institute of Health and the Heart Institute. He also received the Borden Award in dairy chemistry from the American Chemical Society in 1957.

During the past summer, Patton studied the cell and body aging process of the Pacific salmon with the Scripps Institute of Oceanography, University of California. Results of the expedition appeared recently in Time magazine.

On Wednesday, Dec. 18, at 4 p.m., Patton will conduct a scientific seminar on "Synthesis and Secretion of Milk Lipids" in Room 238, Agricultural Hall.

At 8 p.m. Wednesday, he will present an illustrated, non-technical lecture on the "Biology of the Pacific Salmon" in the Agricultural Hall auditorium.

Both lectures are open to the public.

Motors Vulnerable To Winter Weather

Arrival of cold weather and the first snow and ice storms of winter may result in a rash of burned out motors, reports Thomas H. Williams, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Delaware.

Grease in the motor's gearbox often stiffens in cold weather, explains Williams. And ice and snow may freeze moving parts. Blowing snow may also find its way into the motor where it melts and breaks down insulation.

To prevent motor burnouts during the winter, protect against adverse weather conditions and overloads, he advises.

Electric motors that are used out of doors or in dusty areas should be of a totally enclosed type, says Williams. A more expensive motor with epoxy-sealed windings is available for outside use.

Most motors will pull at least twice their rated horsepower for a short time, he adds. But if this overload persists for any length of time, motor windings will burn out.

To guard against overload, use properly sized fustats and fuserons in small motors. For larger motors, use magnetic or manual starters with interchangeable heater elements. Heater element rating should match the ampere rating of the motor.

To avoid delay or inconvenience during the winter months, see that electric motors are protected, suggests Williams.

Mrs. H. Millard Betts

Mae L. Betts, 67, of near Milford, died last Friday in Milford Memorial Hospital, where she had been confined with a heart condition.

She was the wife of H. Millard Betts. Mrs. Betts was born near Greenwood, and had lived in the Milford area for 40 years. She was a member of the Ellendale Home Demonstration Club and a former Sussex County school teacher.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, are a son, Charles M., of Milford; a sister, Mrs. Florence McGee, of Greenwood; three brothers, Oscar and Harvey Lofland of Greenwood, and J. Cornelius Lofland of Blades, and two grandchildren.

Services were held Monday afternoon from the Berry Funeral Home, Milford. Interment was in Odd Fellows Cemetery in Milford.

Poems from Paradise Pastures
 By W. Cliff Miller

(The Old Barcus Farm)

I have been asked many times by friends and neighbors who have witnessed the transition of the old abandoned, melon and sweet potato farm into a popular, picturesque pasture land, to say something here about it's apparent success.

This success has been primarily due to day dreaming by my son-in-law, Tommy Clarke, who purchased the farm upon retiring from military service.

During his first five or six years, he harvested melons and soybeans with fair success, but was forever cherishing a dream of pasturing horses, which was his hobby since childhood.

There are now ten horses quartered here, several successful at the recent Harrington and Georgetown meets, all doing well because of:

—DAY DREAMING—

All the deeds that were ever wrought,
 The castles that ever grew,
 Were long before just a bud of thought,
 And a day-dream that one made true.

Success in any chosen field,
 Didn't just happen to you,
 'Twas just a dream that happened another day,
 And your work made the dream come true.

The gate to achievement is ever open,
 And a space allotted to you,
 For the object you always dreamed about,
 If you'll see the day-dream through.

So, dreamer, dream of all things to come,
 The kind of a man you'd seem,
 The wonderful thing that's called success,
 Will be yours, if you'll only dream.

About the only thing that comes to us without working,
 is old age,
 We have a friend who hasn't any faults,
 But he makes the most of what he has,
 To get the best of an argument,
 Keep out of it.

We can't decide if the world is getting worse,
 Or if the reporters are working harder.

Wood Program Marketing Year Ends Dec. 31

Growers were reminded that the 1968 marketing year under the wool program ends December 31.

J. Heyman Roosa, chairman, Kent County Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Committee, explains that this means that payments for the current 1968 year will depend on completing all details of marketing either wool, or lambs by that date. Marketings completed after December 31, 1968, will become marketings in the 1969 marketing year, and thus not eligible for payments until early 1970.

The chairman urges producers to make sure that all details for the 1968 sales are completed by the end of the year. This includes passing title to the buyer, delivering the wool to the buyer either physically or through documents (such as warehouse receipts or bills of lading) transferring control to the buyer, and having available all the information needed to determine the buyer's total purchase price.

Applications for 1968 marketing year payments under the National Wool Act may be filed with the Kent County ASCS office at any time, and the Chairman advises that this be done as soon as possible. Incentive payments under the wool program are based on the average national price for marketings during the whole year, and this can be determined more exactly if reports on marketings are complete. ASCS therefore is urging that all 1968 - year applications be filed before January 31, 1969.

Payments for the 1968 marketing year will likely begin in April of next year.

Letter to People Of Harrington

November 22, 1968
 Casilla 2894
 La Paz, Bolivia

Dear People of Harrington, I guess it's time to write you a few lines and let you know all about me.

There are many things I've been doing since I left my dear Harrington. First of all, I finished my Junior and Senior years in the first three months. I graduated from high school last year in November.

I went with my class on a Senior trip for 10 days. That was really something. We visited Cochabamba, Oruro, Potosi, and Sucre. These are the principal cities in Bolivia.

I started college in February. I'm studying economics. It's pretty hard but I like it. I'm attending "Universidad Catolica Boliviana". I'll finish my second semester around December the 20th.

Thanks to the wonderful year I spent in Harrington, I decid to have an A.F.S. girl during this summer. The girl was from California and her name is Erin Moore. She got here June 27 and stayed until September 2.

During the summer she was attending my high school. We took few trips, had lots of parties.

I am the secretary of the A.F.S. club here in LaPaz. I really enjoy working for it.

How is the A. F. S. program coming in Harrington? Are you going to have only girls? Let's try for a boy.

During the United Nations Day, I wore a costume from Yugoslavia. There was a big dance and people from every country tried to show their customs.

Couple days later I gave my piano concert. I usually do it at the end of the year.

I always want to thank you for making my visit to Harrington pleasant and also making my year in the States the greatest.

Christmas is almost here so I want to be the first to wish you "Merry Christmas and a very happy New Year."

Please come to visit me. The door of my Bolivia and my heart are open for all of you.

Love,
 Anita Sapunar

Asbury W.S.C.S. Free Surplus Food For Elderly

Members of the Asbury United Methodist Church Senior M.Y.F. group presented the Christmas program at the Women's Society of Christian Service on Tuesday evening. Amid lovely Christmas decorations on the worship center, and with a huge lighted tree nearby, Miss Emily McKnatt opened the service with a devotional reading. Included in her opening remarks was an explanation of some of the symbols of Christmas.

Group singing or best-loved carols and hymns followed, interspersed with Scripture readings of the Christmas story by Miss Renee Quillen and accompanied by Miss Judy Wyatt.

A short playlet entitled "A Little Bit of Christmas" was performed by other members of the group. Those taking part were Norris Guy Winebrenner, Ronnie Bramble, Aleta Mason, Ginny Jo Richardson, Kay Raughley, Karen Minner, and Cindy Clarke.

Mrs. Kenneth Garey, M.Y.F. advisor, assisted with the program.

At the business meeting Mrs. Audrey Schreck announced that gifts for the Neighborhood House in Wilmington will be accepted until the end of this week at the home of Mrs. Earle Nelson. Mrs. William Taylor will take the gifts to the House sometime next week.

A study course on the Gospel of John, "Coming to Life" will be offered at some date after the holidays. Watch for the time and further announcement of the course.

Mrs. Norman Toadvine, program chairman displayed the new program book "The New Prophets" which will be used next month when Mrs. Wayne Brown will be leader. The Martha Circle with Mrs. Fred Greenly and Mrs. George Mahoney will be hostesses.

It will probably be one day a week. If interested call Mrs. Schreck and she will forward information.

A social hour and refreshments with the Mary Circle as hostesses concluded the evening.

Samuel A. McDaniel

Samuel A. McDaniel, 50, of 119 Grant St., Harrington, was pronounced dead on arrival at Milford Memorial Hospital, Sunday.

Dr. Judith G. Tobin, assistant state medical examiner, attributed death to massive hemorrhage from a self-inflicted gun shot wound in the side.

State police said McDaniel shot himself about 4:20 a.m. Sunday. Police said he had been despondent since having an operation for cancer in January, and added that his wife, Mrs. Ivory McDaniel, said he had been in constant pain.

Mr. McDaniel, a native Virginian who had lived here for the past several years, was a member of Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Tee Post 7, American Legion, and the Eastern Shore Fox Hunters Association. He was an electrician with Hetzel and Bueler Construction Co. of Seaford.

In addition to his widow, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Roy Marker and Mrs. Paul Rash, both of Harrington; a brother, Cecil of Salem, Va.; two sisters, Mrs. Irene Quick of Verona, Va., and Mrs. Oren Bohen of Gibbsboro N. J., and two grandchildren.

Services will be at Roger's Funeral Home, Milford, at 2 p.m. Friday. Interment will be at Barratt's Chapel Cemetery, near Frederica.

Holiday Budgeting

Traditionally December is the month for emotional overspending. Beautiful displays of Christmas gifts, high-pressure advertising, deferred payment schemes and the excitement of the holidays help you forget the family budget.

Shoppers part with money more readily — with less thought — this time of year than any other, says Miss Coral K. Morris, extension home management specialist at the University of Delaware. But, don't throw common sense out the window this Christmas.

Buying on credit is increasingly easy, but it's always more expensive. No matter how alluring the offers are for cash-for-Christmas shopping, credit extensions or deferred payments, the day of reckoning comes. The truth in lending law won't go into effect until next year, but you can and should check the true rate of interest on all credit.

A common-sense Christmas can be fun — and that good feeling lasts through the January "bill season". Make a holiday spending plan — in advance. Base it on the real needs of your family and on what you can afford. That plan will help you withstand the holiday pressure to buy luxury items you can't afford.

Your Christmas spending plan will have to be flexible, of course; leave room for changes you might need to make. But the closer you stick to it, the easier it will be to pay Christmas bills, Miss Morris points out.

For high cost items — the clothes dryer, dishwasher, or color TV — check with the homemaker ahead of time so she can pick the particular model and brand she really wants. She'll be happier surprised. You can surprise her with a smaller gift.

And, don't make a gift of the down payment only; that can really mean hamburger all January when your harried homemaker tries to squeeze yet another payment out of the household budget.

Be a careful shopper; insist that cartons and boxes be opened before you take them home. Occasionally, the item in the box is not the same as the one you chose on the counter — or it may be damaged. Who needs yet another trip to the store for a replacement?

Save sales slips. Recommend Miss Morris. Most stores stand firm; they won't accept returned merchandise unless you have a sales slip. Identify the slip — "Aunt Sadie's slippers" — and keep it safe until you're sure it won't be needed.

If you have a gift in mind when you shop, it will help you resist phony Christmas specials. Look beyond the fancy wrapping. Three miniature jars of jelly taste no better boxed and wrapped with a red bow and cellophane, but they probably cost much more. Three dishcloths may look pretty in their wrapping, but they're still just three dishcloths.

It isn't easy, but try to shop as skillfully before Christmas as you do all year round. You'll have a happier Christmas — and a worry-free January.

U.S. Food World's Best Food Bargain

When you sit down to eat your Christmas dinner, you will be getting the best food bargain available anywhere in the world, according to J. Heyman Rosa, chairman, Kent County Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Committee.

The American farmer is largely responsible for this great bargain. His efficiency and know-how, coupled with the latest mass production methods, improved crop varieties, and better livestock, make it possible for him to produce high quality food for an expanding population, and for fewer dollars of our take-home pay than ever before.

Twenty-five years ago, the average family grocery bill was about one-fourth of its take-home pay — 25 cents of every dollar. Ten years ago it dropped to about 20 cents, and the latest estimates show it has dropped to about 17 cents, Rosa says.

Many factors contribute to the cost of our food. Weather is one. A sudden freeze, a long drought, or a pelting hailstorm can damage or even wipe out an entire crop. Smaller supplies can mean higher prices.

Transportation and our desire for "out-of-season" foods also add to the cost. So do the modern homemaker's demands for more pre-washed, pre-peeled, pre-cooked, pre-packaged foods.

Out of every dollar consumers spend for food, only 40 cents of it goes to the farmer. The other 60 cents pays for processing, transporting, wholesaling, or retailing, and the built-in maid services listed above.

For consumers, food is still a bargain even though farm income — like nonfarm income — has increased over the years. But, despite this progress, average per capita farm income is still only 73 per cent of non farm income.

With so many foods at so many prices to choose from, families of all ages and at different levels of income can enjoy a variety of nutritious meals every day of the year, not just at Christmas, the Chairman said.

Board of Education Highlights

The Board approved a Determination of Necessity for the site and site development and for planning, constructing, and equipping a new 1,000-pupil senior high school in the Middletown District.

The following Certificates of Necessity were approved: alterations and renovation of the Middletown High School; a new 24-classroom middle school in the Alexis I. duPont District; supplemental funds for an addition to the East Millsboro Elementary School; and an addition to the Kent County Vocational-Technical Center. The Board also amended the Certificate of Necessity, approved at the October Board meeting, for an 8-classroom addition to the Magnolia School so that the district may select alteration or addition projects in accordance with available funds after the 8-classroom addition is completed.

Preliminary plans for a 20-classroom elementary school in the Claymont District were approved.

Final plans for 16 special education classrooms to be added to three schools in the Newark District were approved.

The Board also approved advanced planning funds for the addition to the Kent County Vocational-Technical Center.

Results of the following referenda were recorded: bond referendum in the Alfred I. duPont District — for 2,291, against 641, void 51; bond referendum in the New Castle District — for 887, against 183, void 4.

The Board agreed to sponsor and administer a federal food service program which will provide children in non-profit institutions with as many as three meals a day plus two supplementary feedings. For fiscal year 1969, there is $55,016 available for the program in Delaware.

The Board agreed, pending USDA approval, to use a requested $11,889 in school lunch program funds for in-service education programs as an extension of the school management courses currently in existence for school food service employees and food service employees in day care institutions.

The Board approved an agreement between the John Dickinson District and the federal government for loan lease of machine shop equipment at a cost of the transportation charges only.

The Board authorized the Superintendent, the Assistant Superintendent of Administrative Services, and the Director of Finance to have access to the safe deposit box at the Farmers Bank.

The Board approved the following ESEA, Title III, programs subject to approval of the state budget commission: $9,737 for a nature study center in the Woodbridge District; $33,990 for a marine biology program to be sponsored by the Milford District and available to all schools in Kent and Sussex Counties; $29,774 for an educational development through technology program in the Dover District; and $19,896 for a modified staffing pattern in the education of the deaf at the Margaret S. Sterck School for the Hearing Impaired in the Newark District. The Board also approved the continuance of a performing arts program in the Dover District with funds now available.

The following ESEA, Title I, projects were approved subject to approval of the state budget commission: $22,963 for an exploratory business education program at the Woods-Haven Kruse School; $3,730 for a development of meaningful concepts in visually handicapped children program by the Delaware Commission for the Blind at the Shortlidge School in Wilmington; and $2,000 for a developmental guidance program, K-12, pilot project in the Claymont District.

The following vocational-technical programs were approved: $414 for a health assistant project proposal at the Sussex County Vocational-Technical Center; $5,244 for an operating engineers apprenticeship program and $4,622.28 for an iron workers apprenticeship program in the New Castle District.

The Board approved the following policy concerning the physical examinations for kindergartners: Children in nursery schools and in kindergarten shall be examined in the school examination program and immunizations provided. Children are to be examined at the time of their first admission into school or kindergarten; and, in addition, shall be re-examined at the fourth, seventh, and eleventh grade levels.

In accordance with Section 2507, Chapter 25, Title 14, of the Delaware Code, the Board established a vocational high school district in New Castle County including the City of Wilmington, to be effective July 1, 1968.

The Board approved the salary schedule for 1969-70 for trade and industrial education personnel.

The Board approved the plan for implementation of Chapter 10 of the Educational Advancement Act as it relates to the determination of highest per pupil expenditure level of former component school districts and the mandated salary schedule for the reorganized school district.

Total per pupil expenditures shall not exceed the total tax income potential, plus existing balance on hand on July 1, 1968, plus money collected in lieu of taxes, and plus tuition receipts. Enrollments as of September 30, 1968, shall be used to determine per pupil share of the total students expenditures. Enrollment in grades 1 through 12, and kindergarten enrollment divided by two.

The new salary schedule established in the reorganized district shall reflect the highest salary for each position. Position shall mean each category as established in a former component district and each salary step within the category of employees. Extra pay for extra responsibilities not required of all teachers shall not be considered a part of the salary schedule. Fringe benefits shall not be considered a part of the salary schedule.

The Board appointed Mrs. Joan E. Kelley as Visiting Teacher in the Mt. Pleasant, Claymont, and Arden Districts. The services of Dr. Fred C. Finsterbach as Consultant with the Occupational Research Coordinating Unit were discontinued as of November 29.

The Board approved additions to the transportation contracts including kindergarten transportation and revised bus contracts. The Board reviewed a request from contractors in the Indian River District to change the formula with regard to second trips. It was decided that such a revision would not be in the best interests of the state.

The Board approved two scholarships to students under the "Higher Education Scholarships," Title 14, Delaware Code, Chapter 34, to replace two previously approved scholarships that were canceled.

ETV Board
William Lehman gave a progress report on the development of programs which were approved by the Board at the October meeting.

Mr. Lehman reported that the new approach to utilization in which a staff member makes a concentrated study of ETV utilization in a district is proving successful.

The Peninsula Horticultural Society returns to Dover on December 10 and 11 for its 82nd annual meeting. Howard Papan, the president, says the program on Tuesday at Capitol Grange Hall will be devoted entirely to marketing of fruits and vegetables. Sessions on Wednesday will be concerned with white potatoes, three fruits, and general vegetables. The programs start at 9:30 a.m. and continue to about 3 p.m.

The morning marketing session will open with a review of changes in the marketing system, summarized by J. M. Curtis of the University of Maryland. Then a panel of seven people will describe trends in the marketing of fresh market crops. Two local people, Hudson Gruwell of Dover representing brokers, and Halsey Knapp, of Lewes, representing roadside markets will take part.

The afternoon session will deal with marketing processed fruits and vegetables. H. E. Cummings, executive vice president of Curtis-Burns Foods in New York State, will describe their highly successful program. This is where growers buy shares in a plant and have a voice in management.

Joseph Jackewicz and John Walton, both of Magnolia, will chair the white potato sessions on Wednesday. Pesticide specifics, variety and fertility problems will be examined in depth.

Donald Appenzeller of Magnolia and Fred Fifer III of Wyoming will chair the fruit program which is centered on pest problems, mechanical harvesting, leaf analysis, and fertilizing for top quality yields.

Charles West of Milford will chair one of the general vegetable sessions concerned with new mechanical harvest developments, greenhouse vegetable production, new vegetable varieties, reducing field losses and pest controls.

All sessions are free and open to the public. Those aimed at the commercial farmer, some sections may appeal to the home gardener. Free copies of the programs are available from any County Extension Office on the Delmarva Peninsula. Here in Kent County, Delaware, just phone for your copy at 736-1448.

Common household pets, their selection and care is a new bulletin just in time for the Christmas season. You can have a free copy by phoning our County Extension Office, 736-1448.

Breeds of cats and dogs are described with hints on feeding, brushing and training. Or you may want to keep guinea pigs, hamsters, rabbits, white mice, or gerbils. The latter are small brown rodents from Asia.

Or perhaps you lean toward birds - canaries, finches, parakeets, or parrots. The bulletin tells enough so that you can start with the confidence to enjoy your pet fully.

Our 4-H youth leaders find that the care of a household pet is a good way to train a boy or girl to accept responsibility. On the farm, a youngster will graduate to a pony, a calf, a pig or a lamb or some baby chicks, and then move on to a horse, a cow, a brood sow, some sheep, or a laying flock.

But the bulletin is written for everyone, not just youngsters.

Annually December 7, "Delaware Day," serves as a reminder to Delawareans that theirs was the first state to ratify the Constitution of the United States, on December 7, 1787.

Delawareans are traditionally proud of their "First State" distinction, and in 1939 the State Legislature set aside December 7 to officially commemorate the occasion, and directed the Governor to appoint a commission to arrange celebrations in the three counties.

Today Delaware Day is observed with appropriate ceremonies in schools, and by clubs and other organizations throughout the State. The Delaware Day Commission has prepared a leaflet giving the Day's historic background, and providing suggestions for its observance. With the assistance of the State Development Department, the Commission provides speakers for Delaware Day observances, and, also circulates a color film in which former Governor Elbert N. Carvel, members of the Legislature, and others re-enact the historic scenes of the ratification of the Constitution.

In addition, the Development Department is supplying public libraries throughout the state with materials which they can use in special "Delaware Day" displays.

December 7, this year, is a Saturday — which makes it the ideal day for a family observance of Delaware Day. Delaware's history can be visited in so many marvelous places.

First of all, the Historical Society of Delaware's museum in Wilmington's Old Town Hall, on Market Street just below 6th, will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in honor of Delaware Day. This is a wonderful opportunity for a family visit, since the museum is normally closed on weekends. Reopened earlier this fall following extensive restoration, the Old Town Hall is now an outstanding wonder of Wonderful Delaware.

At the Henry Francis duPont Winterthur Museum, on

Rte. 52, five miles west of Wilmington, ten rooms are open without appointment, from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday. And Hagley Museum, just north of Wilmington on Route 141, on the Brandywine, opens its display of the history of industry during the same hours.

In New Castle, the Old Court House, Delaware's colonial capitol, will be open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., the Amstel House from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., the Dutch House from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Immanuel Church is open daily, of course, and a stroll along The Strand will reveal other historic buildings, including the home of George Read, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, and one of Delaware's delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

In Dover, the Delaware State Museum, which displays much of Delaware's history, will be open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. And while you're there, take a look at The Green, and the restoration work on the Old State House. Caesar Rodney is buried in the churchyard at Christ Church, on Water Street, just beyond the Green.

The John Dickinson Mansion, home of "The Penman of the Revolution," is about five miles east of Dover just off Route 113 on the road to Kitts Hummock. It will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Dickinson was also a delegate to the Constitutional Convention.

In Lewes, the Zwaanendael Museum, which commemorates the short-lived Dutch settlement of 1631, will be open from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Test New Mosquito Control Method

A mosquito control method being developed at the University of Delaware will soon be tested for use in the Syracuse, New York area, reports Dr. Frank J. Murphey, mosquito researcher in the University's department of entomology and applied ecology.

The venture began in 1964 when Murphey and Robert Lake began breeding Killifish, a salt marsh minnow that feeds on mosquito larvae, in an artificial marsh environment on the University's Newark research farm. Later research showed that the fish, which are native to Delaware's tidal marshes, could also survive in fresh water ponds.

This is a new practice in eastern mosquito control, comments Lake. Basically, we see in these fish a biological control for the mosquitoes infesting those fresh water ponds where chemical control is not feasible.

Recently, John Doll, a former University of Delaware graduate student and now vector control biologist for the New York State Health Department, decided to breed Killifish for mosquito control work near Syracuse.

The New York fish will be used to control mosquitoes in fresh water wildlife management ponds where other methods, such as pesticides, could be harmful.

"We've had a good deal of success with salt marsh minnows in our research," says Murphey. "But we don't know if they'll be able to survive in an upstate New York environment."

Last week, Doll flew into the Wilmington airport and picked up several hundred Killifish donated by the University of Delaware.

If all goes well, the fish will be released into mosquito infested ponds here in Delaware and in Syracuse next summer, say Murphey and Lake.

Two Ex-Lions Key Undeclared College Harrier Team

During the last 11 years, Coach Harold McDonald has developed many cross-country runners, who had the ability to become college harriers. Why didn't they? The reasons are many.

Some never went to college. Others didn't run in college because of lack of confidence in their scholastic ability. At least three outstanding prospects attended schools, that did not have cross-country. One turned down a cross-country and track scholarship from a major university to do this. Some may have been too busy with social activities and another group may have passed up college participation in cross-country because of pure laziness. Possibly, there are almost as many reasons why they didn't run, as there are boys.

At any rate those who did try, made good, starting with Dwight Hackett, who was a record breaking runner at West Chester State Teachers College in 1961.

The latest ex-Lions to succeed in college competition are Gerry Garey and Bob Matthews. Both were All-Henlopen Conference cross-country runners here three years ago. Garey was conference champion and held the school and conference records of 11:42 for a 2.3 mile course.

17 Answer First H.H.S. Cage Call

Dave Adams, new Harrington High basketball coach, had 17 candidates report for the first night of hoop practice. This number may be swelled by late reporters. Adams has 11 suits to be filled.

Leading candidates are Charles "Buddy" Sipple and John Swain. Sipple averaged in double figures for Felton High last winter despite the presence of Bob "Red" Dill and Chris Moore, who were hitting 50 points or better per game between them. Sipple will get to shoot much more often here and could be a most prolific pointman. Swain is also a double-figure performer and like Sipple, combines height and experience.

Garey and Matthews will transfer to an Eastern school next year, possibly Delaware, Towson State, or High Point College in N. C. Perhaps, we will get a chance to catch their act in a year or two.

In addition to Hackett, Garey and Matthews, other former H.H.S. stars, who ran in college were Marshall Hatfield and Dennis Rogers. Rogers was No. 4 on the Southern State College (Ark.) varsity as a freshman. Hatfield ran two years at East Carolina College, Greenville, N. C.

John Christopher and Harold Jump are probably the next two in ability. Both saw quite a bit of action last year and should win starting berths.

Many could have made the grade but did not try. The previously mentioned five boys may someday be joined by many more Harrington boys, who will compete in cross-country and track in college and possibly other sports to a lesser degree.

Now that we have picked the first four, we will let Coach Adams name the fifth starter. From here it looks like several boys have a chance.

Bob Thompson, a senior, has plenty of height. Jayvee graduates Jack Warrington, Dave Newnom and Frank Daniels are tall boys with a chance to get the nod. Short but speedy Doug Berry might be in the picture.

Junior Larry Larimore has been touted as a good athletic prospect in several sports but has been conspicuous by his absence up to this point. His only previous experience in basketball has been in F.F.A. competition, which hardly represents a fair test.

Olin "Mike" Davis is only a freshman, but has proven he can do well in most sports. Already he has turned in good efforts in cross-country, football, baseball, track and basketball. It's hard to say how much action he will see this campaign, but he has the tools to be a really fine player, ultimately.

Time is running out on most of the other candidates. None have enough ability to play much this season and next winter, they will have to battle all that fine Felton talent for a spot on the squad at the new consolidated high school. These two factors will combine to cause several local cage hopefuls to graduate before they get a chance to learn the complex hard court pastime.

Several Harringtonians are good enough to compete but do not. Two locals, who are running and doing very well are Chris Wetherhold and Brad Morris, who were Number 1 and Number 3 respectively, on Coach Harold McDonald's undefeated 1968 Harrington High cross-country squad. Both boys are good enough right now to make many college harrier teams. By the time these two 15-year-olds finish high school, they will be capable of making many more college varsities.

At Middletown, Wetherhold finished seventh in an excellent 23 minutes and 27 seconds for 4.3 miles. Morris turned in a good 25.35 clocking.

Grif Balthis, of Elkton, Md., a former High Point College, N. C. harrier, was the winner in 22:30. Dick Litchford, of Wilmington, was second, one second back. Ex-college standouts Kevin O'Connor and Wes Stack were next. Stack graduated from Seaford High and the University of Delaware. At Delaware he was No. 1 on the varsity in cross-country and held the U. of D. record in the mile run until recently. He may be remembered as the winner of the first three mile race at the fairgrounds here, eight or nine years ago. He and John Creighton, of Wilmington, brought the grandstand audience to their feet, as they sprinted side-by-side from the quarter pole to the finish line. The people in this race-track town know a "hoss" race, when they see one.

The schedule is as follows:

Jan. 7—Greenwood	H
10—Bridgeville	A
14—Felton	A
17—Delmar	A
21—Dover	A
28—Millsboro	A
31—Milton	A
Feb. 4—Rehoboth	H
7—Selbyville	H
11—Indian River	A
14—Dover Air	H
18—Greenwood	A
21—Bridgeville	H
25—Felton	H
28—Delmar	H

Mike Reilly, an older high school lad from Salesianum High in Wilmington, was fifth. Keith Patton, another ex-collegian was sixth, followed by Wetherhold 20 seconds later. Jim Waldbusser, a promising 15-year-old from Caesar Rodney High was ninth.

Ken Williamson, a former University of Delaware thinlinead was eleventh. Williamson won a five mile test at Killen's Pond last year, just nosing out Wetherhold, then a 14-year-old H.H.S. freshman.

Hubert Morgan, of Seaford, is pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist Church of Harrington. He is not a young man but he can run. His 24:45 clocking was very good, but he says that he does better in 10 and 15 mile races. In the past he ran in a couple of those arduous races up Pike's Peak and once ran the Atlantic City marathon (26 miles, 355 yards) in 3 hours and 8 minutes. That was an outstanding performance.

This week, Harrington's promising youngsters will take on a hilly 5.2 mile course at Newark. On Sunday Dec. 15 at 1:30 p.m. the fourth race will be held at Killen's Pond State Park.

Lions Win Final H.H.S. Football Game

Members of Harrington High School's first football team (1957) watched as the last H.H.S. eleven defeated Greenwood High 20-0 to end this campaign with a record of five victories, four defeats and one tie. 1969 will see local high school students, along with those from Felton and Frederica, in attendance at a new high school, as yet unnamed, between Killen's Pond and Route 13.

Bill Muehleisen's Lions did not turn in one of their better games, (the Rams recovered several H. H. S. fumbles) but performed well enough to get the job done.

Harrington attempted to emulate Indian River's feat against Felton and tried a long bomb on the first Lion scrimmage play. Chester Scott was in the clear but was overthrown. Jerry Cagle hit left tackle for 18 yards but John "King" Brady then fumbled into a GHS recovery.

Four plays later, Brady more than redeemed himself, as he made one of the finest runs we have ever seen and set up the winning touchdown. Brady started from his own 22, dodged a couple tacklers, ran into a teammate, bounced off, then broke a tackle or two. Darting, changing speeds, he ran around, over and through Rams until the last man pushed him outside, still on his feet. The run carried 60 yards as the crowd flies but Brady didn't get that way. He covered many more yards than 60. Practically every Ram had at least one shot at the stocky speedster during his circuitous journey.

Oscar Matthews picked up seven yards. H.H.S. fumbled twice, recovered both, then were penalized five yards. Sophomore Dale Motter, a fine football prospect who doesn't handle the football much, scored from the 13 on an end-around play. Steve O'Neal kicked the extra point for a 7-0 Lions edge.

Greenwood picked up almost 40 yards on a pass from Scott Baker to Denny Williams. Joe Zerolles added three more to reach Harrington's 26, but the Rams lost several yards on a bobble and H.H.S. held at the 34 yard-line.

On third down Dave Hurd took a screen pass from Mike Adams and moved upfield 35 yards. Oscar Matthews drove for 10 or 11 yards before Denny Williams stole a Mike Adams pass for Greenwood.

Hard-running Otto Retzlaff charged for 11 yards. George Zerolles and Retzlaff collaborated for 6 more to near midfield. A roughing-the-kicker call (that's a no-no, boys) put Greenwood on Harrington's 39.

For the second time a Ram drive was ruined by a fumble and H.H.S. batted away a fourth-down pass try to start anew at the 15.

On second down Adams whipped the ball over Greenwood's forward wall to Steve O'Neal, for 13 yards. An off-side call against the visitors and a run by Matthews added another first down. A 15 yard foul against the Green and Gold put the ball down 27 yards from the end zone. Greenwood again recovered a fumble, at that point.

The Rams later punted out at Harrington's 38. An Adams-to-Brady aerial gained 10. Alfred Russell captured a Lion fumble at midfield, the local's third such loss. Three Scott Baker passes fell incomplete. Otto Retzlaff caught the fourth one and was near a first down, but a penalty forced a Ram punt. Ken Tribbett returned to near midfield, as the first half ended.

Dale Motter tried the end-around play again. He gained 26 yards and would have been off and pacing, but for a T.D. saving stop by Retzlaff. Stanley Burris recovered a Brady fumble.

Retzlaff went four yards to the H.H.S. 44. The Rams, who couldn't hold on to the ball much better than the winners, lost 7 yards on a juggled pitchout. 15 yards against the Lions put Greenwood on the 37. Retzlaff, then Burris carried to get to the 32. Otto tried to left side and found it wanting, for eight yards and a first down. Greenwood's attempt to tie the score ended 21 yards away.

Brady hit to the 25. Motter and his end-around went to the 29. Matthews hit the line to the 40, then the 45. The Adams-to-O'Neal pass combo clicked to the Rams' 42. Matthews got six more on a slant off left tackle. Track star Ken Tribbett, raced around right end and scored untouched, on a 36 yard scamper. The drive carried 79 yards. The extra point try failed.

A long pass try, with a personal foul tacked on, moved Greenwood from their 37 yard line to Harrington's 36. Two plays later, offside moved them back to the 40. A nice catch by Williams gained 7. Jerry Finkbinder caught one but lost ground on the play and Harrington regained possession. Matthews took a pass near the sideline and fought hard to move 24 yards, then added 10 more on a running play. Oscar speared another aerial and was downed at Greenwood's 23, but an illegal received downfield moved H. H. S. back to midfield. Bill Halliburton kicked for pro distance (45 yards) to set the Rams back to their 15.

Retzlaff picked up six yards. A penalty nullified a first down gain by Stanley Burris. A Baker-to-Zerolles toss missed the first down by one yard, forcing a kick.

Harrington was soon at the Greenwood 42 with the aid of a facemask penalty. Greenwood's Jim Tennefoss, at 250 pounds, the game's largest participant, suffered a leg injury and had to be half-carried off the field. Williams again stopped the Lions by pass interception.

Scott Baker, back to pass, was hit and dropped the ball. Matthews scooped it up and dashed into the end zone. Halliburton was all alone as he caught a throw for the 20th point.

After 12 years of football, H.H.S. was about four victories short of achieving the coveted 500 average for the entire period. In a year or two, the victories might have caught up with the defeats.

Quillen's Market and Robbins Hardware fought to a two-to-two split in a very tough contest with Quillen's just barely edging the hardware boys in the first and third games. Robbins Hardware really poured on the pressure in the second game, setting a record 995 team single game to take total pins, and moving into third place in the team series division, with a 2654 series effort. Though they split, Quillen's Market had a big enough lead to remain in first place, getting a very fine effort from B. Johnson, who rolled grand games of 219 and 235, for a superb 628 series, to lead the league for the week. Johnson also took over second place in the individual series department. Coming through for Robbins Hardware was J. Forbes, with a very fine 557 series; H. Robbins, a great 544 series, with a 212 game included; D. Pearson, with a fine 215 game and a very good 540 series, and J. Cahill, with a fine 200 game, for a 528 series, to round out an all-around team effort.

Robbins Hardware shares the third place spot with four other teams this week.

McKinnat Funeral Home also battled to a two-way split, with their rival, to hold the second place position in the twelve-team league this week. R. Garey came through for McKinnat's, rolling a very good 539 series. Like Quillen's Market, McKinnat's did very well, considering both teams suffered a man shortage, going into their frays with four bowlers each. Butler's Fuel, getting the two games off McKinnat's, is doing a little better this third, holding down eighth place at this writing.

Holding a share of third place, Wally's Garage made a clean sweep of all four games, to move into a tie with their opponent, Jarrell Fuel. E. Gallo really turned on the steam, as he rolled a superb 577 series, with a grand 222 game included. J. Jones also aided Wally's with a great 560 series, as the garage boys threw their entire force into the fray, using all six men present Tuesday evening.

Hamilton Fund won three games off People's Restaurant to hold a share of third place also. J. Bogden rolled a fine 206 game, and H. Daufendach came through with a 204 game to aid Hamilton Fund in their contest. People's Restaurant, who started out the season very fine, has had its share of problems lately, and find themselves in the cellar position at this time. They, too, had a shortage of bowlers Tuesday night.

Penn Central took on The Spoilers Tuesday night, trouncing them solidly for four games, for a share of third place. P. Baker led the way for the railroad boys with a very grand 573 effort, including games of 201 and 202. Also assisting Penn Central was R. Baker, with a fine 204 game. The Spoilers find themselves in a tie for ninth place at this time.

Taylor & Messick holds a share of ninth place, after dropping all four games to Gerardi Bros. Gerardi Bros. had a time getting a full team together this third, but finally managed this feat, and made their showing a good one. H. Wheeler led the way for the furniture quintet, with a very fine 547 series, with P. Fallon coming through with a fine 530 series. Gerardi Bros. also holds a share of ninth place. Congratulations to F. Farrow, who has been named November's Bowler of the Month at the Milford Lanes. Farrow rolled a fantastic 652 series in last week's contests.

Bridgeville, said the accident took place at the intersection of the southbound lane of U.S. 13 and County Road 116 when the Thompson car, bound west, crossed in front of the Shreaves car.

Charges are pending.

ST. JONES LAKE (Continued from Page 1)

to establish top priority for the area in Kent County; the Department of Housing and Urban Development for funding and planning assistance; the State Planning Office, to have the project included in Delaware's master plan, which will clear the way for certain federal aid; applicable state agencies and Delaware Wildlands, Inc., for land acquisition.

He said the court should check on the legalities of obtaining a 99-year easement for flooding. He felt this would prevent land speculation.

He also said the county should set aside $50,000 for promotion, planning and engineering of the project, and $50,000 for land acquisition.

Willis pointed out that most of the money for the program would come from other sources than Kent County.

He estimated that Phase I, which provides for non-level flooding, would cost $170,000 and Phase II, which would bring the water level up to the 1962 flood level, an additional $1 million.

He said that, with "concentrated effort," Phase I could be completed in about three years. Phase II is a long-range plan.

He envisioned the lake at 1,800 to 2,000 acres, with about 25 miles of shore, lending itself to development by public and private interests.

In other action, Walter L. Fritz, Jr., county engineer, told the commissioners that "it is not unrealistic to think of 50 per cent funding" for the countywide sewage system.

Fritz said that 30 per cent funding for the $11-million project was virtually guaranteed. He said there is a possibility of gaining an additional 3 per cent from the Federal Economic Development Act, 10 per cent from federal water pollution authorities and the rest from the state.

The county engineer reported that no progress had been made on a request by Dover Air Force Base that the lease on the county landfill be relinquished. The base plans to add seven holes to its 11-hole golf course.

Frank Dobes

Frank Dobes, 89, of near Harrington, died at his home Monday after a long illness.

His wife, Mrs. Josephine Dobes, died in 1962.

Born in Czechoslovakia, Mr. Dobes became a citizen of the United States. He lived in Harrington the past 25 years and was a retired farmer.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Rose Dobes, Harrington, and two grandchildren.

Graveside services were held yesterday afternoon at Hopkins Cemetery near Felton.
