

Citizens Air Their Complaints At Annual Meeting

Sidewalks and dilapidated buildings provided the highlights of the annual citizens meeting Friday night in the Fire Hall.

Previously, petitions were presented and approved for the following candidates in Tuesday's election: For mayor, Burton E. Satterfield and Wilson G. Bradley; for councilman from the Sixth Ward, Raymond Gordon Dale and John Aptt. John S. Satterfield was unopposed as councilman from the Fifth Ward.

Returning to a symposium on city problems, in which the city councilmen and other citizens participated, William Outten was informed consumers must hook up to sewer and water within a year after these facilities are available. Burton E. Satterfield, Third Ward councilman, said the regulation would be strictly enforced.

When Outten commented on lack of sidewalks and bad sidewalks, Satterfield commented the latter would be considered. Grover Brown, the city solicitor, said installation of sidewalks could be obtained by the Council or a petition of property owners.

Turning to dilapidated buildings, Outten said the state fire marshal had condemned one building (the former VanGesel store on Clark Street) but couldn't find the owner. The fire marshal said the town could raise it. Attorney Brown said the city would have to get action by the Superior Court to be re-compensated for the demolition.

U. of D. French Prof. Has Book Published

Selections from a new book of 100 classical poems by Dr. Rene Coulet du Gard, assistant professor of French at the University of Delaware, will be read on a world tour by Pierre Viala, the internationally known French poet and actor.

Dr. Du Gard said that Viala will tour the United States March through June and continue on through Africa and Asia, reading his own work and selections from Dr. Du Gard's new book.

"Feux Follets" (Will o' the Wisp) was published in December by Editions du Sphinx, of Grasse, France, poetry publishers. Dr. Du Gard described his work as symbolic lyric poetry, dealing with life, the realm of dreams, emotion, and sensitivity.

"Feux Follets" was illustrated by Dr. Gard's daughter, Regine, supervisor of art instruction in the Phoenixville, Pa., schools.

Dr. Du Gard recently was awarded the Grand Croix de Commandeur de La Societe Culturelle et Philanthropique (Continued on Page 5)

Local Youth In Inaugural Parade

Four young people from Harrington have been recommended and selected to be participants in both the presidential Inauguration in Washington, D. C., on Jan. 20th, and in Dover at the gubernatorial inauguration on Jan. 21st.

The recommendations were made by Representative G. Robert Quillen, and the selections by the Delaware Inaugural Committee.

Miss Faye Austin is scheduled to ride in the tow vehicle in both parades. Robert Outten and Jack Redden are scheduled to ride on the float on both occasions, and James Callaway is an alternate. All alternates will go to Washington and are possible participants.

Costumes are varied and are being supplied by the committee. Those riding in the tow vehicles will be in the colonial style. The float depicts events during the 18th, 19th, and 20th. Centuries, showing the progress in Delaware in the Poultry Industry, agriculture, chemicals, labor, and art.

The group will travel by bus, with the University of Delaware Band and chaperones will be the professor and staff of the music department, University of Delaware.

No One Files For Council In Greenwood

No one has filed for the two seats up for election on the Town Council at Greenwood. The filing deadline was 7 Monday night.

The incumbents are Harry N. Torbert, council secretary, and Lawrence Graham.

Although neither incumbent filed for another two-year term, both will remain on the council.

The town charter states that if no one files for a municipal post up for election, the incumbent will remain in office until a successor is either elected or named by the council.

Both Torbert and Graham are council veterans, although neither has run in an election for several years. In the bi-annual elections, the contests have either been no contest or no one has filed and the incumbents have remained in office as provided by the charter.

Local Raceway Will Open Sept. 5 For 68 Nights

For the second consecutive season, Brandywine Raceway will operate for 100 nights, free from conflict from Philadelphia's Liberty Bell Park.

Awarding dates for 1969, the Delaware Harness Racing Commission last week gave Brandywine 100 nights, May 12 to Sept. 4, which will not overlap with Liberty Bell as was previously thought. Liberty Bell races from Feb. 13 to May 10.

"The original Brandywine-Liberty Bell conflict was worked out between the managements of the tracks involved, Commission chairman Joseph R. Pittard said. "The Delaware Harness Racing Commission didn't have to consider the problem."

Brandywine, previously expected to apply for days starting on May 7, pushed back its 1969 opening to May 12. Accordingly, Harrington Raceway and Georgetown Raceway delayed their own openings to give Brandywine 100 conflict-free days.

Harrington will open Sept. 5, and continue through Nov. 22, a meet of the 68 days. Harrington could have applied for 70 nights, but did not, again to avoid conflicts.

Georgetown, already embarked upon the first segment of its meeting, was given dates of Jan. 1 - March 31, and Nov. 23 - Dec. 31, a total of 70 days. The Sussex County track will be dark Christmas (Continued on Page 8)

One Contest in Dem. Committee Election Saturday

There will be only one contest in the election for Democratic committees in Kent County tomorrow and it will be in the election district including Harrington.

Incumbent Franklin Hendricks will oppose James Temple, a Penn Central employee. Hendricks is a fertilizer dealer.

The election, for the Fifth election district of the 33rd Representative District, will take place tomorrow from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m., in the Fire House.

Mrs. Franklin Herrickson will be unopposed for committeewoman in the district. In the Seventh Election District, which includes the area south of Harrington, Mrs. David Jones has filed and is unopposed. The current committeewoman, Mrs. James Wilson, had filed but dropped out of the race. Reapportionment of election districts has placed her in the Fifth.

Dover Officer Awarded Guard Merit Honor

Chief Warrant Officer Edward R. Knight, of Dover, has been awarded the Legion of Merit for exceptional service in the Delaware Army National Guard.

The award - the nation's second highest non-combat decoration - was made by Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor in recognition of "outstanding performance in a succession of highly responsible assignments", on the recommendation of Maj. Gen. Joseph J. Scannell, the adjutant general of Delaware. Knight is a staff officer in the Military Support Section of the National Guard State headquarters. He is the first Delaware Guardsman to receive the award for service other than on active duty.

The recognition given him is unusual in two ways. Since the medal honors performance in highly responsible positions it is usually awarded only to general officers and colonels. Also it is seldom awarded to officers who are not on active duty.

Knight was cited for "singular ability as a general staff officer acting in positions normally filled by senior field grade officers."

A guardsman for over 43 years, Knight began his military service in Dover's Battery G, 198th Coast Artillery, (Continued on Page 8)

Televised Seminar In Clinical Nursing

The fourth televised seminar in clinical nursing utilizing the closed-circuit facilities of the Delaware Educational Television Network will be beamed to selected locations throughout the state from 4 to 4:45 p.m. Wed., Jan. 22.

Dr. Mary K. Carl, dean, and Marguerite Termini, associate professor of psychiatric nursing, both of the College of Nursing at the University of Delaware, will conduct the seminar.

Dean Carl will examine the topic, "Learning Process and Its Implications to Nursing Intervention." Professor Termini will discuss, "Development of Individuality of the Child and Family Influences on the Child's Behavior."

The purpose of the seminar is to describe the learning process with its implications to nursing intervention, and (Continued on Page 8)

Mayor's Report To Citizens Meeting

As we begin the new year of 1969, we think of the progress and accomplishments of the past year. I feel your Mayor and Council have accomplished much during the year of 1968 for the residents of Harrington. We might list some of these accomplishments such as the sale of timber for the amount of $8,510 sold from the recently purchased Hammond tract of land. We sold bonds which were authorized by the referendum for the amount of $380,000; we immediately invested $340,000 of this in government securities which, to date, has netted us $14,934.73 interest, even though some of the bonds were sold to make progress payments on the contracts.

We signed a contract with Teal Construction Company, low bidder for the sewer lines, in the amount of $274,327.50 and a contract with Kuhn Construction Company, low bidder for the disposal plant in the amount of $401,166.75. Because of the good weather in the fall, Teal Construction Company has completed the laying of the sewer lines. The disposal system is progressing very satisfactorily according to the engineers.

We have completed the surfacing of all the remaining dirt streets in Harrington Manor.

Snow route signs have been installed on the main streets in the City, which will better enable the Highway Department to open these streets after a snowfall.

One of the last things accomplished this year was the annexation of a portion of land on the East side of Route 13 including Callis Thompson, Ace Dress Corp. and New Era Shirt Company. By this annexation, these companies will be able to operate with City water and sewer facilities water is already installed and sewer is being planned.) The Council felt that here were three major companies employing many people from Harrington which should be given consideration for the requirements they had to meet in the way of sewer and water. Along with this, the taxes from these valuable properties will be a good source of additional revenue for the City.

We are looking forward to a prosperous 1969 and are striving to make Harrington and excellent community in which to live.

Finally, I would like to say to the People of Harrington that I have personally enjoyed serving you as your Mayor for two terms. I have had the excellent cooperation from the Council, the City Manager, and all the other City employees. I believe these people will give the same cooperation to your new Mayor as they have in the past with me. I would like to point out that harmony is the strength of any institution, and in a City Government this goes a long way in giving the Citizens the type of leadership they deserve.

In closing, I wish the new Mayor and Council, city employees and citizens the best of everything for this wonderful city.

Signed:
Fulton J. Downing
Mayor of Harrington

This information was received by brother, Merritt, who is visiting Harry Farrow, Sr.

Satterfield Elected Mayor; Aptt Wins Council Post

Vice Mayor Burton E. Satterfield, councilman from the Third Ward, easily won the post for mayor here Tuesday in the annual municipal elections.

Satterfield, who will serve two years, defeated Councilman Wilson G. Bradley, First Ward, 526 to 107.

The loser will continue as councilman but the Council will have to name a successor to serve the unexpired term of the mayor.

In the only other contest Tuesday, John Aptt, Sixth Ward, was elected councilman, 58 to 19, over Raymond Gordon Dale, who had nosed him out three years ago. Councilmen serve three years.

John T. Satterfield was re-elected councilman in the Fifth Ward without opposition but still tallied 17 votes. Alderman F. Lawrence Price swore in the victors Tuesday evening in the City Hall.

At the reorganization meeting Benjamin Hughes, Second Ward councilman, was elected vice mayor; Mrs. Kathryn Simpson, acting council secretary until a city clerk is hired, and Howard Wagner as treasurer.

The mayor decided to dispense with the meeting of Jan. 27, usually referred to as a special one, with the next regular meeting scheduled for Tuesday evening, Feb. 11. At that time the Auditing Committee will be appointed and city help will be hired.

Outgoing Mayor Fulton J. Downing, who presided until Tuesday's winners were sworn in, made a short talk saying he was pleased with working with the outgoing council, that he enjoyed it, he had never worked with a better group of people, and he thought he could say he had tried very hard. Visibly affected, he repeated his talk was extemporaneous.

Mayor Satterfield, who was on his third term as councilman, is associated with General Baking Company.

Joseph Low Bidder on Road Improvements

The State Highway Department has received bids for the improvement of four dirt roads in the southern part of Kent County, covering a total of 6.42 miles.

Melvin L. Joseph Construction Co., Georgetown, submitted the apparent low bid of $199,749 for the project. There were four bidders.

Three of the roads, numbers 118, 440 and 612, loop together just north of the Sussex County line, while the fourth road, number 455, extends from Vernon to the Whiteleysburg to Harrington highway. The roads will be graded, have drainage installed, made some curve adjustments and will be treated with a bituminous surface. The work is to be completed in 140 working days.

Other bids received on the project George & Lynch, New Castle, $204,284; Edgell Construction Co., Dover, $206,698, and Seaford Construction Co., Seaford, $220,885.

Alice Hearn Inducted Into Honor Society

Alice Hearn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Hearn, was one of fourteen students inducted into the Mu Alpha Chapter of Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society at ceremonies held Sunday afternoon at Delaware State College.

Miss Hearn, a 1964 graduate of Harrington High School, is a senior majoring in elementary education.

Alpha Kappa Mu recognizes and encourages scholarship and leadership. In order to be eligible for membership, a student must have at least 75 credit hours with a cumulative grade average of 3.3 or above based on a 4 point system.

Air Pollution, Smoking Harmful To System

Air pollution and cigarette smoking have made the public more acutely conscious of a medical fact with which these phenomena are closely associated, respiratory diseases.

The Delaware Tuberculosis & Health Society says that among this group of ailments that affect the breathing system, the ones most directly caused by or related to cigarette smoking are emphysema, chronic bronchitis and asthma. These diseases are commonly grouped by physicians as chronic obstructive pulmonary diseases (diseases of the lungs marked by obstruction of air passages). Doctors and public health agencies for some time have been urging people with symptoms of these diseases to quit smoking.

In a quarterly scientific journal, Clinical Notes, Dr. John A. Pierce, director of the division of pulmonary diseases at Washington University School of Medicine, writes, "More reduction in the number of cigarettes smoked has little effect on the illness." And he adds, "For the patient with obstructive pulmonary disease, cigarette smoking is like drinking for the patient with alcoholic cirrhosis of the liver."

In other words, for such people "No Smoking" is not just a sign on the wall, but a medical "must."

Clinical Notes is published for physicians by the American Thoracic Society, medical arm of the National Tuberculosis & Respiratory Disease Association. The Delaware Tuberculosis & Health Society also has literature on the effects of cigarette smoking prepared for the general public available on request at the society headquarters, 1308 Delaware Avenue, in Wilmington.

Emory N. Lynch, Jr., Named Assessment Board President

Emory N. Lynch, Jr., of Lynch's Heights, was named president of the Kent County Board of Assessment Tuesday after the Democratic-controlled Levy Court had elected the board's members.

The board was organized immediately after the appointments and elected Lynch as president.

The assessment board members were elected by the Levy Court.

Elmer Betts, (D), of Felton, outgoing deputy sheriff, was elected 4 to 3, with the court's three Republican members voting for Maurice Adams, of Harrington. Adams is a former member of the House of Representatives and former Democratic committeeman from the lower part of the former Ninth Representative District. Regulations state only one assessor can be selected from each senatorial district.

Franklin English (R), of Smyrna, was the other appointment. English is the only holdover from the old board. Lynch is former clerk of the peace, a former member of the Levy Court, and formerly director of Civil Defense for Kent County.

Harold Powell, of Smyrna, and James B. McIlvaine, of Magnolia, served on the former board. McIlvaine is now a member of the Levy Court.

Ralph Baynard was reappointed secretary to serve at the pleasure of the board.

Bay Authority Elects Chairman

Clarence B. McCormick, prominent Bridgetown, N. J. banker, was elected chairman of the Delaware River and Bay Authority at its biennial reorganization at New Castle last week.

Remsen C. Barnard, III, of Milford, was elected vice chairman for the two-year period in keeping with the bi-state compact that New Jersey and Delaware alternate the top posts. Barnard is president of Wharton and Barnard, wholesale automobile parts distributors. He also heads Barnard Marine, Inc. of Dover.

McCormick begins his second term as chairman on Feb. 1. He previously served as chairman in 1965-1966. He succeeds Alexis I. duPont Bayard, Wilmington attorney who declined reappointment as vice chairman.

Bayard was praised by Commissioners of both states for his services. He replied that inter-state team work had been excellent during his term. He also paid tribute to the "top-flight authority staff."

Authority director William J. Miller, Jr., announced that the Commissioners and the staff wanted more time to study the possible increase of commuter rates on the twin bridges. The increase was recommended by the Authority's traffic engineers. Action was deferred until the Feb. 11 meeting.

In other action, Harry A. Roberts, former New Castle County Levy Court Commissioner was retained as Public Relations Consultant for Delaware. Roberts has an office in the Farmers Bank Building, Wilmington.

The firms of Krieger, Dwares and Stein, Wilmington and Henry Roeser and Co., Ocean City, N. J., were retained as Authority auditors for another two years.

Safety contracts for 1969 were awarded to the Salem County Safety Council, Inc., New Jersey State Safety Council and Delaware Safety Council.

Ruth A. Gilstad On Dean's List

Ruth Anne Gilstad is on the Dean's List at Wesley College, Dover, for the first semester of this academic year. To qualify for the honor, a student must achieve a 3.1 (B+) average with no grade below a 2.0 (C). Ruth will be presented with an academic award certificate at the Honors Convocation on January 19 at Wesley College.

Ruth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold B. Gilstad, of 56 Clark St., Harrington.

H.H.S. Club News

Club activities are scheduled every two weeks. The purpose of the clubs is to create interest in extra curricular areas which students do not have an opportunity to become involved in during the regular school day. Although all clubs are not functioning as well as anticipated, the following reports reflect the high interest and concern that have been developed in several organizations.

Natural History Club
Purpose — To interest students in developing their knowledge and understanding of natural history and biology by:

- a. collecting specimens, artifacts, etc. of biological interest
- b. preserving, mounting, embedding, modeling collected materials
- c. eventual development of a natural history case for the biology department.

Work accomplished to date — Members are learning how to embed specimens in plastics. This work is progressing satisfactorily. There is good interest and participation.

Plans for immediate future —

- a. perfect embedding technique
- b. simple taxidermy - fish, small birds and animals.
- c. use of clay and plaster in model work.
- d. search known Indian camp grounds west of Harrington for arrowheads and other artifacts.

Comments — Although the club is very small in membership, those who are members are quite interested. Their work to date is anything but perfection; they are learning. Several interested students have shown some curiosity, and the club may grow some in time. Also a couple of girls are interested in a branch dealing with simple horticulture, basically growing and caring for houseplants. We are not hunting for members. We would like more, but we feel that it would be better if the interested people come to us. Once we have developed materials to some point where we have some results to exhibit, we may show an increase in membership. Our president is Mike Tatman and John Shulties is secretary.

Photography Club
The Photography Club has been a useful organization for school activities. It has cooperated with the Football Club in viewing films from other football games. They also plan to cover most of the school's athletic events. They were responsible for the individual pictures of the Varsity and Junior High football players. These pictures and more are posted on the school's bulletin boards. They have done some work for the Harrington Journal also.

To date, the Dark Room Club has shown a balanced budget. New members have been instructed on the operation of the photographic equipment. The dark room has been reorganized so as to provide more efficient facilities for film processing. All exhausted chemicals have been discarded. They are experimenting with an actual size enlargement.

In the future they will continue to intensify their studies in photographic techniques. Further studies are provided in available light photography.

Track Club
The Track Club is planning to take a field trip to the University of Delaware to attend a track clinic. Films of major track meets are planned for future viewing. Basketball games with the F.F.A. and Natural History Club have also been suggested. Officers are: President, Chris Wetherhold; vice-president, Danny Hitchens; secretary, Brad Morris; treasurer, Olin Davis; movie projectionist, Russell Kessler.

Art Club
Goal: A class trip to a museum or art center.
Project: Reclaiming discarded copper pieces and making pins to sell during noon hour at some future date.

dent, Mike Coverdale; vice president, Terry Donovan, secretary, Nyle Callaway; treasurer, John Brown; sentinel, Larry Larimore; reporter, Marshall Anthony; parliamentarian, Donald Harcum; historian, Aubrey Brown; chaplain, Wilbur Bradley; student advisor, Bobby LeGates.

Some of the activities that are being planned for this year are: Career's Day at the University of Delaware, Land Judging Contest at Dover, Leadership Training Conference at Felton, trip to Harrisburg, basketball games with other F.F.A. chapters, F.F.A. Public Speaking Contest, F.F.A. Parliamentary Procedure Contest, State F.F.A. Parliamentary Procedure Contest, State F.F.A. Convention at the University of Delaware, Proficiency Award Contest, State Fair Judging Contest.

Yearbook Club
The Yearbook Club has decided on the cover, the end sheet, the arrangement of the seniors' pictures, and we have two pages featuring our foreign exchange student, Luisa Quesada. Also decided on, was quotes for the seniors in the Yearbook.

Ten members of the Yearbook Club went to the second annual D.S.P.A. meeting held at William Penn High School in November. In February we plan to have a Sweetheart Ball on Valentine Day.

In June there will be a dedication assembly in which the editor, on behalf of the senior class, will dedicate the yearbook to a special person. Officers are: Phyllis Holson, editor; Andy Walls, co-editor; Judy Davis, business manager.

We plan to make a successful yearbook!

Century Club News

The Harrington New Century Club met on January 14, with Mrs. T. H. Storus, presiding. Routine business and future plans were discussed. A rummage sale will be held on Jan. 28th at Spence's Bazaar, Dover. Anyone having rummage to donate, please call Mrs. George B. Mahoney, 398-8484.

For the purpose of raising funds for the club, Mrs. Charles Rapp is selling place mats with the scenes of Delaware on them. Her effort merits your generous support, call 398-8357.

The program was handled by Mrs. Gayle B. Smith, chairman, and her committee, Mrs. Daniel McSweeney, Mrs. Howard Thistlewood, Mrs. F. Brown Smith, Miss Elva Reese and Mrs. Reynolds French.

Mrs. Smith reviewed the achievements of the library during the past year. She spoke at length on the inadequacy of space for the books and periodicals. Please contact Mrs. Smith for further information on this subject.

Refreshments were served prior to adjournment.

Enrollment at W.O.T.M.

At the enrollment for the month of January for the Chapter 1229 of the Women of the Moose, thirty-two members were present and five new members were enrolled, Mabel Wilkinson, Addie Revell, Elva Baker, Mildred Embert, Patricia Butterworth and one member, Mrs. Helen Dean, was transferred from the East-on Chapter.

The Christmas party held on December 23rd for the children and grandchildren of the Moose members was a great success. Ninety-seven children received gifts, apples, oranges and candy from a very jolly Santa and delicious refreshments were then served.

Around Home

with Jean H. Cranston

Do your house plants need to be "freshened up?" Have they taken on a tired dingy look? Then what they need is the same thing you need when you look tired and dingy! A good soap and water bath! Dust, soot, and fireplace ash are bound to deposit a film on the plants' leaves, and it will stay there and collect more dust unless you wash it off.

Unless you are skilled, probably the easiest way to do it is simply to cover the dirt in the pot with waxed paper, and swab off each leaf with a sudsy sponge. Gentle handling, of course, is very important so the plant doesn't get bruised. Rinse each leaf carefully. You will enjoy your plants' "Flower Fresh" look.

1969 Good Year For Delaware Dairymen

The new year 1969 will be a profitable one for Delaware dairymen who are good managers. Dr. W. R. Hesselstine, extension dairy specialist at the University of Delaware, told dairymen attending the first in the annual series of dairy meetings on Wednesday, Jan. 8, that management is the key.

He added dairying will become even more profitable compared to other agricultural enterprises. Undoubtedly, this will slow the sale of herds and increase the number of cows per herd. However, this is no time for inefficient managers to jump back into the dairy business. "There won't be that many good years."

Many farm operators with cows and cash crops have too frequently concentrated their best efforts on crops and left the herd to unskilled, untrained labor. But next year, like 1968, cows will keep these businesses alive. "Put better management skills where the profit possibilities lie — with the dairy herd," Hesselstine recommended.

He pointed out that Secretary of Agriculture Freeman recently announced two actions to maintain dairy farmer's income during the 1969-70 marketing year. Fluid milk prices (Class 1) to farmers will continue at their present levels after April, 1969.

The action will make prices set by the earlier orders permanent, instead of temporary, at their present levels which include a continuation of the 20-cent increase in the Class 1 price differentials and a minimum basic formula price of $4.33 a hundredweight (3.5 per cent milk fat content).

The price increase to Delaware dairymen will be held down somewhat because milk will continue to shift from the New York-New Jersey market, Hesselstine explained.

Also, he said, wise dairymen will take advantage of lower concentrate prices. Increases in world grain supplies and conservative leadership at home may keep grain abundant and reasonable in price for some time.

More dairymen will make greater use of corn silage, soybeans and other home-grown feeds. "Corn silage feeding will take another big step forward in 1969," Hesselstine predicted. This will go hand-in-hand with more dry lot feeding based on year-round storage.

Labor costs can only rise due to increased minimum wage laws and union contracts already signed. A change in Vietnam and a more conservative government may make labor more available, however. "Don't wait for cheap labor — it's not in a realistic look ahead."

Cows and farms will continue to shift into the hands of better managers, Hesselstine predicted. This will increase the average size of herds to nearly 40 cows in Delaware with production per cow at 9,000 pounds. The effects of improved inherited ability to produce will begin to take hold next year as a result of wise use of the best A. I. sires.

The beef market may weaken some, hurting dairymen, Hesselstine said. Beef cattle numbers are up so there will be no price increase for cattle. However, fewer dairy cows will go to the beef market in 1969, making the beef outlook less pessimistic.

Additional dairy meetings will be held January 15 and 22 with the same program repeated in Houston and Crothers Brothers Store, Mt. Pleasant. Dairy Day will be held at the University of Delaware on January 29 during Farm and Home Week.

Cluttered Workshop Can Cause Accidents

A cluttered workshop usually means lost time and often leads to accidents and injury, reports Oscar R. Harman, assistant professor of agricultural engineering at the University of Delaware. So take an evening of two this winter to put your shop in order — to eliminate safety hazards.

Keep each tool in a definite place when not in use, says Harman. Using the wrong tool because you've misplaced the proper one may cause painful accidents.

Keep flammable liquids in tightly capped, non-breakable containers. Be sure that all containers are plainly labeled and stored in a cool place. Dispose of oily rags or store them in tightly sealed metal containers; carelessly stored liquids and rags invite serious fires.

Inspect power cords on soldering irons, drills and other electrical equipment. If insulation is deteriorating or plugs are cracked, replace them immediately. Replace missing safety guards on grinders, saws and other equipment. And use safety glasses for eye protection.

If your shop contains welding equipment, make sure it is located away from flammable materials. See that welding areas are properly ventilated and always wear the protective face shield and gloves when welding.

Finally, keep a fully charged fire extinguisher in a convenient shop location, advises Harman. These are certainly cheap fire insurance.

Social Security Notes

The monthly premium older people pay for the voluntary medical insurance part of Medicare will remain at the present $4 for the period July 1969 through June 1970. W. J. Bulkeley, District Manager, social security district manager, said this week.

The premium covers half the cost of protection that helps pay doctors' and surgeons' bills and a variety of other health care expenses. The other half is paid out of Federal general revenues.

A new enrollment period opened January 1, 1969 and will provide another chance for people who missed out earlier to sign up for the protection. For some—those who were born October 1, 1901, or earlier, and those who were enrolled but dropped out before January 1, 1967—it will be the last chance to enroll. The Dover social security office at the Blue Hen Mall will be glad to help any who want information or wish to enroll. The telephone number is 674-3610.

High Machinery Costs Increase Custom Work

One of the greatest expenses of modern farming is the cost of owning and operating farm machinery, reports W. T. McAllister, extension economist at the University of Delaware.

Increasing costs of new machinery combined with low annual use for many machines is causing many farmers to examine the possibility of leasing specialized machinery or having work done by custom operators.

Machinery costs may be classified as either ownership or operating costs, explains McAllister. Ownership costs include depreciation, taxes, housing, insurance, interest on investment — those costs incurred regardless of the extent of use. Operating costs include fuel, grease and oil.

Repair costs have both ownership and operating cost characteristics depending on circumstance. If repair costs are included as a percentage of new machine cost, ownership costs will usually be from 15 to 20 per cent of initial machine costs each year.

To estimate machine costs, calculate ownership costs — 15 to 20 per cent of new machine cost; then estimate operating costs per acre—gas, oil and grease — and multiply by total acreage on which the machine will be used.

Ownership costs plus operating costs result in total machine cost for the year. Compare this cost to leasing or custom costs.

Don't forget to include the cost of your own labor when comparing machinery and custom costs, cautions McAllister. Labor costs are usually included in the custom rate.

It is also advisable to weigh machinery costs against possible crop losses due to untimely custom work, he concludes.

Middletown Coed Named Delaware Dairy Princess

Miss Ann Louise Sheats, Middletown, was chosen Delaware Dairy Princess at Dover, Fri., Jan. 3. Lt. Gov.-elect Eugene Bookhammer presented the award.

Miss Dorothy Hopkins, Lewes, was named alternate winner in competition with 16 other contestants.

Delaware's new princess is 19 years old, 5 feet 6 inches, and has dark brown hair and gray-green eyes. A junior at the University of Delaware majoring in elementary education, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Sheats who have operated a dairy for 26 years. Miss Sheats has been active in church and 4-H club work and is a member of the Choral Union and educational associations.

As Dairy Princess from Delaware, she received a cash award and an all-expense paid trip to the American Dairy Princess Contest in Chicago next June where she will compete for national honors. All contestants received gifts of luggage.

Nineteen-year-old runner-up, Miss Hopkins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hopkins, who have also operated a dairy for 26 years. The tall, brown-haired, blue-eyed coed is a junior majoring in home economics education at the University of Delaware.

A state 4-H project winner for two years, she is also active in church work and has served in the Home Economics eSate and as dormitory advisor and treasurer.

The contest was sponsored by the University of Delaware Cooperative Extension Service and a group of Delaware dairy organizations, according to chairman William W. Vanderwende, Bridgeville. It supports the American Dairy Association program to promote dairy products and publicize the dairy industry throughout the country.

Judges for the event were Mrs. Bette McNear, Women's Editor, Wilmington News Journal; Mrs. Anne Nesbitt, Seaford, Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc. home economist; Elbert N. Carvel, Laurel, former Delaware governor; Crawford Carroll, Dover mayor; and Richard Graham, program director for WDEL, Wilmington.

Beef Program Set At U. of D.'s Farm Week

Running a profitable beef operation means good management—taking advantage of new ideas on pre-conditioning and feeding programs and keeping up with consumer preferences.

Two experts in raising and selling beef will discuss these aspects at the beef session during the University of Delaware's annual Farm and Home Week, January 29-30. The beef program is scheduled for Tues., Jan. 29, beginning at 10 a.m.

Garland Moon, manager, Rokeby Farm, Upperville, Va., will discuss feeding and management of feeder cattle at Rokeby Farm. He will touch on getting calves started on feed, pre-conditioning practices, type of calves preferred for feeding and the method of feeding and management. He will also discuss the returns expected from calf feeding.

Joseph Lochte, vice president, beef division, Esskay

Packing Co., Baltimore, Md., will bring the beef consumer's preferences into focus. He will comment on the consumer's likes and dislikes as they affect beef producers and make predictions for the future of beef from the packer's viewpoint. Lochte will also discuss the operation of Esskay's feedlot at Wye Mills.

A slide presentation from Iowa State University's Meat Department will compare undesirable and meat-type steers. It will be shown both before and after the formal meeting, according to Dr. Richard E. Fowler, extension livestock specialist at the University of Delaware and chairman of the beef program.

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller

"IT'S AN ILL-WIND THAT BLOWS NOBODY GOOD"

The continued cold snap of the past three weeks has provided good ice-skating on Paradise pool where lighting has been installed and barriers provided to prevent recurrence of a parked car getting into the pool.

By this time next year, with the new high school in service nearby, there will be greater demand for this form of recreation and it is hoped the new park at Killen's Pond will be far enough on for taking care of it.

KILLEN'S POND STATE PARK

Old mother earth in turning 'round,
 Has formed a mighty plan,
 Has kept the ocean in its place,
 And left the land for man.

Mighty rivers feed the soil
 That trees and plants might grow,
 With help of sun and wind and rain,
 So man, his crops might sow.

But nature in the wild is rough,
 Man came to tune it down.
 And so, man has the city streets
 And all the country towns.

A place to live and earn his bread,
 A place to toil and rest,
 A place to live and love and learn,
 Man's brain from nature wrest.

To live and toil and rest and love,
 Is not man's only mark,
 There's need for recreation too,
 And so man built a park.

A place apart when nature grouped
 Some hills and woods and streams,
 That man might go to play a while,
 A park of golden dreams.

4 U. of D. Courses Relate to Urban Development

Four courses relating to urban development will be offered by the Division of University Extension at the University of Delaware this spring.

"Urban Communities," "Urban Politics," "Urban Planning," and "Urban Transportation" will examine urban development within the framework of civil engineering, political science and sociology.

"Urban Planning," a two credit course offered in the Dover area, will be concerned with various aspects of urban growth and plan implementation.

"Urban Transportation," a three credit course to be held in Room 203, Evans Hall on the University of Delaware campus in Newark, will emphasize the determinants of travel demand and the development and use of models and techniques of urban travel.

"Urban Politics," a three credit course scheduled for the P. S. duPont High School in Wilmington, will focus attention on major policy problems facing the city and the metropolitan area.

"Urban Communities," a three credit course to be held in Room 100 Sharp Laboratory on the University of Delaware campus in Newark, will examine urbanization, rural-urban social differences and the organization of urban communities.

Students interested in taking any extension course are urged to take advantage of the opportunity to register by mail prior to the mail registration deadline of Jan. 17. Requests for mail registration materials may be sent to the Division of University Extension, University of Delaware, 79 Amstel Avenue, Newark, Delaware 19711.

OUTSTANDING TEENAGERS — selected to compete for state and national awards in the Outstanding Teenagers of America program are Hope Torbert, John Brown and Judy Davis. These three candidates for the award were selected by the local high school, of which they are now attending.

UP IN SMOKE — go some 125 Christmas trees, at a Christmas tree burning ceremony, held January 4, at the Farmington School grounds. The burning was sponsored by the Peach Blossom 4-H Club as a safety project, in urging the taking down of the tree before it became a fire hazard. A large number of persons were on hand to witness the burning, as was the Farmington Fire Company, who stood by as a safety precaution.

Charles L. Peck, Sr., is back in the municipal saddle again: he was elected mayor in the election Tuesday. Last year, after many years as councilman, he was defeated in a second Ward contest. Peck tallied 405 votes against 207 for Paul Neeman, a last-minute candidate. Three Council posts, filled without opposition, are as follows: First Ward, Thomas E. Brown, incumbent; Third Ward, Raymond Dean, and Sixth Ward, Charles W. Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Cluley, Sr., announce the engagement of their daughter, Janet, to Gene Hilger, of Sharpstown, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Seward, Sr., of Felton, announce the engagement of their daughter, Norma Lee, to Robert L. Messick, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Messick, of Farmington.

J. Gordon Smith was elected president of the Kent & Sussex County Fair, Inc., Thursday night, Jan. 8, at a meeting of the board of directors in the Fire House. At the same time, the go-ahead signal was given for the construction of a mezzanine floor to the grandstand.

A highway accident Friday, at Laws Church, killed one person with another dying of injuries Sunday night, a third dying Wednesday, while the condition of a fourth was listed as fairly good. Thomas E. McNabb, 30, of 101 Commerce St., driving an automobile whose speedometer had just recorded five miles, died in the Milford Memorial Hospital of injuries suffered in a two-car crash at the intersection of County Routes 386 and 35, about two and a half miles west of Frederica. McNabb suffered a fractured skull and brain injury. He died at 6:55 p.m., about four hours after the accident. He was the driver of one of the cars. Mrs. Frances Colell, 68, wife of the driver of the other car, died Sunday night in Milford Memorial Hospital. Her husband, Carl, died in the same hospital a half hour after the funeral of his wife Wednesday afternoon. The accident occurred when the McNabb car, going northeast, ran into the Colell car, going southeast. The second car had failed to stop for a stop sign.

Clinton L. Brown is in Kent General Hospital, Dover, suffering from injuries received when his automobile ran off the road and struck a tree early Sunday morning. The accident occurred at 4:10 a.m., one and a half miles north of Dover on U. S. 13. Brown suffered lacerations and a fracture of the leg. The car, a 1949 Buick 4-door sedan, was badly damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson had as dinner guests Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Griffith and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Warrington entertained at their home on the Harrington-Milford road Wednesday afternoon, the following guests: Mrs. Charles S. Warrington, Mrs. Virgil Van Street, Mrs. Frances Price, and Roy D. Simpler, all of Lewes, and Mrs. James Hobbs and daughter of town.

Outstanding Teenagers Chosen at H.H.S.

The Outstanding Americans Foundation announced that three students from Harrington High School have been selected as Outstanding Teenagers of America for 1969. They are: Judy Davis, Hope Torbert, John Brown.

The students, nominated for this honor by their school, will compete for state and national awards in the Outstanding Teenagers of America program.

The Outstanding Americans Foundation, a nonprofit organization dedicated to honoring, inspiring and encouraging young people to take full advantage of the opportunities in America, sponsors this awards program annually.

The recipients of this honor were selected on the basis of ability and achievement. They will compete with other winners in Delaware for the Governor's Trophy awarded annually to the most outstanding teenager of each state. Each of the fifty state winners will be eligible for one of the Two National Outstanding Teenagers of America awards and college scholarships, made available by the Outstanding American Foundation.

Letter to Editor

January 10, 1969
 Dear Sir:

After reading the Letter to the Editor column of the January 10, 1969 edition of the Harrington Journal, I would like to say as a Member of the Chamber of Commerce that we feel the Mayor and Citizens of Harrington have been and still are very appreciative of the effort and work of all the Doctors in Harrington.

The thought of securing another Doctor for Harrington has been pursued for two or three years and has been discussed with Doctor Addis, to this end; a committee from the Chamber of Commerce has been working to help relieve the strain and overtaxation of our present Doctors who are so burdened with work that often it is impossible for them to make house calls.

Perhaps the biggest misunderstanding has been in the use of the adjective "a" instead of "another" Doctor. Maybe we have been remiss in letting this happen. However, all our intentions have been to secure another Doctor to help the ones who we appreciate so very much.

Yours truly,
 A Member of the Chamber of Commerce

Letter to Editor

To the citizens of Harrington, I would like to express my appreciation to the 526 citizens who got out and supported me, also to the ones that were ill and were unable to get out, but encouraged me. I am a firm believer of turning my cheek to the 107 that was against me. As your mayor I promise to serve you to the best of my ability. If there is any wrongs — I would like to make right and wish to make no enemies at any time. I did expect my opponent to be present at the last meeting (Election night) to pay his respect to Mayor Downing as the loser of the 6th Ward G. Dale did for his successor J. Apta.

Odd Fellows Club News

On Saturday evening, Jan. 18th, the regular monthly meeting of the General Service Committee of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Delaware will be held in the rooms of Felton Lodge No. 30, Felton, with chairman, Mary Keogh calling the meeting to order at 8 p.m.

Engaged Walters - Daffin Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Walters, of 306 Weiner Ave., Harrington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Peggy Ann Walters, to Lester A. Daffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester M. Daffin, of Easton, Md.

Miss Walters is a 1968 graduate of Harrington High School and is currently employed at Sears, Roebuck, in the auditing department.

Mr. Daffin a 1967 graduate of Easton Sr. High and 1968 graduate of Elkins Institute of Radio and Electronics, is music director and air personality at WTHD Radio in Milford.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Milford Adult Education Begins Program Feb. 24

The spring semester of the Milford Adult Education program will again present the kind of unusual and interesting courses which have made its reputation as the best program in the state. Adults in Kent and Sussex Counties have come to expect a choice of subjects including great religions of the world, oceanography, judo, and sculpture will again find all of these listed in the current brochure. A wide variety of sewing, business, and athletic classes, which are the staples of any adult education program, are also being offered.

This term's brochure adds classes in exotic cooking, practical law, and an introduction to basic Chinese to the long list of subjects not to be found in any other Delaware program. The brochure describing the 42 courses being offered will be mailed early next week to all residents of communities from Dover to Rehoboth. Classes will be held on Monday and Tuesday evenings from 8 to 10 p.m. for 10 weeks beginning February 24th. There will be no classes during Easter Week and the term will end on May 6th. The fee for most courses is $10, and several are free of charge. Any exceptions to these rules are noted in the brochure.

The program is open to anyone over 18 years of age, and people living outside Milford are welcome. There is no extra fee charged to non-resident.

A minimum of 10 registrants per class is required or the course will be canceled. Refunds will not be given after the first class.

Registration will take place at the Milford Junior High School on Mon., Feb. 10 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Teachers will be present to discuss their course plans with students.

Applicants are encouraged to use the advance mail registration form in the brochure. Many courses have limits on the number of students who can be accommodated, and classes will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis. In the past many classes have been filled before registration night.

Anyone who has not received a brochure by the end of next week may pick one up at the North Milford Elementary School Office, or send a stamped self-addressed envelope to Milford Adult Education association, Milford, 19963. Local libraries will also be supplied with brochures.

FENCE TALK

How do you use averages? If you are a potato farmer you might compare your costs with the average concensus developed by a committee of growers. If your costs are lower than average, and if your yields are better than average, then you are competitive.

Arthur Wicks of Leipsic was chairman of the growers committee which also included Ernest Zimmerman of Dover and Francis Bergold, of Kitts Hummock. Bill McAllister our farm management specialist at the University of Delaware, and I worked with them.

Frankly I was amazed that the committee could agree so closely on a per acre basis. We assumed costs for a slightly larger than average sized Delaware potato farm and a 5 year average yield for Delaware as reported by the crop reporting service.

Totals costs were figured at $441.25 for rented land per acre and $430.75 for land that a man owned. Of this $306.00 per acre was charged as variable costs for both. The difference of $10.50 per acre between rented and owned land costs was $10.50 per acre less for the owned land.

These average costs are for the 1968 season. They could be higher or lower from one year to the next. Take irrigation for example. Heavy watering will add perhaps $5.25 for the first acre inch setting and the added cost of fuel for continued watering. This does not include the fixed cost of owning the system which is already part of the machinery depreciation schedule.

Suppose you want to break out your harvest costs. These to were figured in the total costs. A daily diary will help you decide how often you used the potato combine and the packing shed. Or take the labor costs you paid the crew chief and add in your labor housing costs, bag costs, and special machines such as baggers and scales. You may decide it may be more profitable to sell in bulk.

Farmers are often tempted to sell a crop early even though they know the yield will be less. Consider the following costs per hundredweight (cwt) assuming the $430.75 per acre cost.

Yield/cwt	Cost/cwt
100	$4.31
125	3.44
150	2.87
175	2.46
200	2.15
250	1.91
300	1.72

Copies of the grower's study are available from our Kent County Extension Office by telephoning 736-1448.

Buzz buzz, you beekeepers! Or those of you who might like to keep bees. We have a list of 182 names of people who have hives, but the mailing addresses are not very good. The state bee hive inspector, Lawrence Thompson, of Dover, says he often finds the hives at places other than at the owner's residence. This may be why you have never seen him.

We want you to know about the beekeeper's program on January 30 in Newark. It will start at 7:30 p.m. during Farm and Home Week at the University of Delaware in Agricultural Hall. William Stephens, bee specialist at Ohio State University will be the featured speaker. A panel will follow to discuss local problems, including winter care of the hive. Mr. Norman Toadvine, of Farmington, will present an exhibit of bee equipment for beginning beekeepers.

The Delaware Beekeepers Association will be reorganized the same evening at Horne's Restaurant near Newark at 6 p.m. Reservations for this dinner meeting can be made with any county agent in Delaware. Simply call one of our offices at Newark, Georgetown, or Dover.

Housing in Delaware has shown remarkable improvement over a 20 year period. Back in 1940, some 69 percent of Kent County housing units were substandard. This is defined as dilapidated, deteriorating, or sound but lacking complete plumbing facilities. This compares with 29 per cent substandard in 1960, with more than twice the number of housing units.

The information was gathered from published and unpublished census reports by Gerald F. Vaughn, extension coordinator in community and resource development at the University of Delaware. Copies are available from our County Extension Office located in the Wesley Church Educational Center. (Same place as usual, the old Dover postoffice.)

The information was gathered by census enumeration districts which are correlated with the old hundreds. The towns of Milford, Harrington, Dover and Smyrna are broken out separately and the figures reflect tighter city building codes. But the good point is that housing is improving.

U. of D. Features Birdwatcher's Holiday

Birdwatcher's Holiday, a natural color film and lecture, will be one of the highlights of the University of Delaware's annual Farm and Home Week, according to program chairman Dr. Dale F. Bray.

Guest lecturer for the program, which will be Tuesday, Jan. 28 at 7 p.m., in the Mitchell Hall auditorium, is Cleveland P. Grant, a professional nature photographer and contributor to Walt Disney True Life Adventure Series.

"Grant has traveled extensively and has photographed birds, mammals and flowers in North America and Africa," says Bray. "In addition to being entertaining, his films capture behavior patterns and intimate wildlife scenes that have special appeal to everyone from the beginning bird and nature enthusiast to university and museum scientists."

Birdwatcher's Holiday, which captures many native American birds, was filmed in Florida, California and the Canadian prairies. It features sequences of the beautiful and rare Ross Geese, the mating display of the Ruffed Grouse and the brilliantly colored Scarlet Tanager.

"Birdwatcher's Holiday is intended for the general public as well as for the devout naturalist," adds Bray. "All are welcome to attend."

It Seems To Me

By Janet C. Reed

A cold, snowy day is just the time to start on a sewing project. Perhaps you have some yardage put away for such a day. If so, better check to see if you have the other supplies you will need.

Have you changed your mind about the style since you bought the fabric? Styles change so quickly that the pattern you intended to use may already be a style on its way out. If you spend time sewing, select a style coming into fashion so you'll get longer wear from your investment of time.

Do you need lining, underlining or interfacing for the style you want to use? Maybe you keep a supply of these fabrics on hand, but check to see if they're what you'll want for your fabric and style, and if you have enough. You won't want to make a trip in the snow for supplies you need.

While you're checking, don't forget thread. Even though you can use colors that aren't quite the exact shade for seams and inside work, you'll need a good match for areas where stitching will show.

If you don't have matching seam tape, it's not too serious. You might not get as far as the hem on one snowy day. And even if you do, you may not need to use seam tape. A firmly woven fabric will not ravel and will give a flatter finish without tape.

If you don't have buttons the right color, you could cover your own or devise a fastening that is a real original. Buttons, too, could wait until later, if you're sure you'll be able to find the size to fit the button holes.

Is the zipper the right length and color? How is your supply of hooks, eyes and snaps?

Now that you're in the mood for making that dress and have all the supplies, maybe you won't want to wait for a snowy day. If you make the dress now, think of all the other projects you have been saving for that day when you're snowbound. Or you could make another dress—if you have all the supplies you need.

This coming Sunday at 10:45 p.m., St. Stephen's will join the other Churches of the Diocese, in a Corporate Holy Communion for the Episcopal Churchwomen. This service will be held in the church at the regular worship time. This Corporate Holy Communion is one in which all the members of St. Stephen's will join with the Women of the Church in special prayers for their work.

The 184th annual Convention of the Diocese of Delaware will begin with registration at 2 p.m. on January 28, the banquet will be at Middletown High School at 6:30 p.m. on that day. The convention will continue thru Wednesday with adjournment at 5 p.m. The convention luncheon on Wednesday will be at Bethesda Methodist Church at 12:30 p.m.

The Episcopal Churchwomen's annual meeting will be held on the same Wednesday, Jan. 29, with registration at 9 a.m. at St. Andrews School, with adjournment at 2 p.m.

St. Stephen's, in addition to being represented by the vicar, has as delegates: William Smith, Carrington Burgess, and alternates Tom Clendenning, and Robert Quillen. The Women of St. Stephen's will be represented by delegates: Nell Clendenning, Betty Burgess, and Mary Alice Thompson.

There is a correction in one item of last week's news. St. Stephen's is honored by having Miss Faye Austin participate as part of the Delaware delegation in both the Presidential and gubernatorial inauguration parades. However, last week's news item stated that she is the only young lady to be on that float, this does not minimize our pride in having Faye participate in these events. We are proud also, to announce that Jimmy Callaway, also of St. Stephen's, is an alternate participant and will attend the inauguration with other participants and alternates. Congratulations, Faye and Jimmy. Your church is proud of you.

Convenience foods are fine, but most women want to add distinctive flavors all their own. A deft touch with spices or an unusual ingredient or two can turn out-of-the-package meals into an outstanding meal. Add the right wine and even a French chef would applaud.

It's easy to get the skillful touch that's the hallmark of good cooking, according to two food authorities. They will present "A Spicy Story" during the University of Delaware's annual Farm and Home Week, January 28-30. The creative foods program will be held Tuesday, January 28, beginning at 10 a.m. in the Student Center on the University campus.

Opening speaker Helen Carlisle uses the pen name "Mary Collins" as home economics director for McCormick & Co., Inc., Baltimore. The author of "The McCormick Spice of the World Cookbook" will discuss not only the spices and herbs that have long been used but also new processes and blends that make every cook's job easier.

An authority on gourmet foods, Arlette Schmitt, will talk about international foods at 1 p.m. The home economist for Safeway International, Washington, D. C. will focus her attention on serving wines and cheeses to add continental flair to everyday meals.

Felton, 98, Harrington, 52

Felton's powerful basketball team upped its record to 3-1 with an easy 98-52 conquest of Harrington's Lions.

Chris Moore, who has a good chance to set a new career record for Delaware schoolboy scorers, led the rout with 33 points. Roger Bradley tallied 18, Mike Fisher canned 14 and John McCloskey netted 12.

Ex-Feltonian Buddy Sipple paced the Lions with 16. John Swain and Frank Daniels added 13 each. Daniels is a young ballplayer, who may be a really fine performer some day.

Fish & Game News

In Kent and Sussex Counties the open season for taking deer with shotgun only will be January 16, 17 and 18, 1969.

Persons who killed a deer during the November 1968 season are not permitted to hunt during the January season.

Small game season will be closed in Kent and Sussex Counties on January 16, 17 and 18 and will reopen Jan. 20 and run through Jan. 29.

However, small game including quail, rabbit, and pheasant will not be closed in New Castle County during the deer season in Kent and Sussex Counties. The small game season in New Castle County closes January 25.

Detailed information about the reproductive rate of Delaware's deer herd is the goal of an expanded research program being undertaken by the Delaware Game and Fish Commission.

Only with the hunter's cooperation can vital data concerning Delaware's deer population be collected.

Hunters will be asked when checking in field-dressed doe deer to direct Commission personnel to the place the deer was field dressed.

Quillen's Market took over sole possession of first place, rolling over Hamilton Fund for three games in Tuesday night's action. B. Johnson led the way for the league leaders, rolling a grand 562 series, with a very fine 224 game included. H. Melvin rolled a very good 546 series for Hamilton Fund, although they dropped from first place to fall into a tie for second.

J. Cahill helped boost Robbins Hardware into second place by rolling a fine 532 series as they split four games with Gerardi Bros. H. Wheeler led Gerardi Bros. with a nice 534 series, but the furniture boys must still be content with the cellar position.

McKnat's Funeral Home remains in the fourth place spot although they are tied this week with three other teams for the same position. Jarrell Fuel came on strong to take three games from McKnat's as the fuel boys moved up with their opponent. D. Garey was high man for McKnat's with a very fine 553 series, including a nice 203 game, with D. McKnat adding a very fine 223 game and a nice 541 series, and H. Brode rolling a 200 game. M. Jarrell paced Jarrell Fuel in their wins with a fine 210 game, amassing a grand 560 series,

Cagers Lose At Bridgeville

At Bridgeville Friday night, Harrington held the hot hand for one quarter and the Mustangs had the edge for the balance of the contest. Nevertheless, the Lions made a good showing and were in contention most of the way against a perennially strong foe.

John Swain paced the Lions with 18 points. The other half of Harrington's 1-2 punch, Buddy Sipple, pitched in 15. Improving Frank Daniels and John Christopher were in double figures with 11 points each. Daniels, up from the jayvees, and Christopher, we believe, hit new personal highs in varsity competition. Dave Adams' Lions now own a 1-1 record. Bridgeville is 2-1 having lost a close contest to undefeated Dover Air.

Dover Air Upsets Felton, 73-69

Dover Air's Falcon basketball team upset Felton's favored Green Devils 73-69 in a hotly-contested game at Dover Air on Friday night.

Felton has been picked by many, including this writer, to be the best team in the Henlopen Conference. We still think the Green Devils are the top team in the loop, but apparently they were not in top form this time.

Dover Air was outscored in the first and second periods and trailed at each quarter post, but rallied to prevail 23-17 in the final stanza.

The Falcons had a 28-20 edge in field goals, as Felton stayed close with a phenomenal 29-for-34 from the free throw line. One of Felton's trademarks for several years has been their accuracy from the penalty stripe.

Chris Moore, of Felton and Gary Mahoney of the winners tied for game honors with 22 points each. Moore canned eight free throws in as many tries.

Other Devils in double figures were Roger Bradley (14), Howard Price (11) and Gene Palmer (10).

Delmar Trips Greenwood, 52-30

It looks like Greenwood's last basketball season is going to be a long one. A weak Delmar team, which went down to crushing defeats in its first two outings, handed Greenwood a 52-30 loss on Friday night.

Greenwood, now winless in three starts, led 11-6 after one period and still had a chance after three periods of play. Trailing 35-26, at that point, they were outscored 17-4, as the Wildcats won going away. Perdue (11) and Breeding

(6) were Greenwood's top scorers. Both clubs performed poorly at the foul line with Delmar converting only 10 of 30 attempts.

Lion Matmen Bow to Smyrna

Harrington High's wrestling Lions met another strong invader here last Wednesday night and dropped a 27-18 verdict to Smyrna High.

Smyrna last year ended a win streak of five or six years belonging to Georgetown's Golden Knights.

H.H.S. put up a good fight and could have won the meet with a little more strength in the lighter weights.

Chuck Hurd (112), Mike Adams (120) and Roger Moore (145) wrestled to draws to account for all the Lions points going into the 154 pound class.

David Hurd, who won in the 180 pound division against Georgetown, despite being outweighed, pinned Thomas, of Smyrna, in three minutes and thirty seconds for Harrington's first victory of the evening.

Oscar Mathews (165) decided Reynolds 6-4 and Lenny Donovan, one of the smallest heavyweights around, pinned Corazzi to give the Lions two final triumphs.

Harrington travels to St. Michaels, Md., on January 15th and meets Seaford here on January 17th. The Lions will be at Dover on January 22nd.

With Smyrna and Georgetown out of the way, the locals can expect to do much better the rest of the season. On a good night H.H.S. could defeat any of the remaining foes but must avoid a letdown against Seaford, Delmar and J. M. Bennett, of Salisbury.
