Police Confiscate Felton Marijuana

A 14-hour stakeout by two state policemen in Felton netted a haul of 30 pounds of marijuana Wednesday.

Sgts. A. T. Citro and Joe Rowan of the state police intelligence unit arrested Peter Weidlen, 26, of 1000 block S. Farragut St., Philadelphia, as he left the home of an unidentified Army buddy carrying two white sacks, each of which contained 15 one pound bags of marijuana.

Acting on a tip police had been following Weidlen's movements since May 1. Citro and Rowan watched him drop off the two sacks about noon Wednesday and then waited until Weidlen returned again about 8:30 and arrested him as he left the house carrying the two white sacks.

Weidlen has been charged with possession of marijuana, carrying a concealed deadly weapon (a large knife) and possession of hypodermic needles and syringes. He will have a hearing today (Thurs., May 8) in Magistrate Court 7.

Ernest Gerardi Hurt in Auto Accident

Ernest Gerardi, 51, Federalburg businessman, suffered lacerations of the head and body when his car slammed head-on into a softdrink truck operated by Robert A. Smith, 21, Goldsboro, on Route 928, about five miles east of Easton, Tuesday afternoon.

Gerardi, manager of the Denton and Harrington Gerardi Brothers Stores, is listed in satisfactory condition at Easton Memorial Hospital.

Maryland Trooper First Class H. S. Carroll charged Smith with improper passing. Smith is reported to have attempted to pass a four-row corn planter and tractor near the crest of a hill.

Color TV, to Be Or Not to Be?

Al Hedgecock, manager of a Dover radio station, is still interested in installing cable TV in Harrington but he will have to wait for a referendum if the City is so minded.

The law says cable TV is a public utility and the citizens must vote on its installation. The City Council will have another look-see at the proposed project, especially since it has not been offered anything for a franchise.

In other business at a meeting Monday night, the Council acted as follows:

Told Mrs. Alfred G. B. Mann it had ordered Teal Construction Company, of Dover, to repair the streets it tore up when it improved the sewer system. Mrs. Mann said North Street, abounding her house on the north, was in bad shape and the dust was harming recently installed siding. The City owes Teal a bill but is waiting for the street repairs before paying up.

Agreed Mrs. Mary Greenly, William Wheeler, and Harry D. Adkins, whose properties abut, in whole or in part, on Wolcott Street, would not have to pay for sidewalks. (Continued on Page 5)

McCabe Resigns County Post

William A. McCabe, supervisor of Kent County landfill operations, dumped his $6,442-a-year job last week, unknown to Kent County Levy Court until Tuesday.

McCabe, not present for the court's regular session, said over the telephone that he quit because "I was just dissatisfied. It was nothing in particular . . . not pay . . . I just wasn't satisfied with the job." He said he notified county engineer Walter L. Fritz of his decision "last Tuesday or Wednesday."

His resignation was effective May 1. A retired Navy man, McCabe said he has no plans. "I'm just going to take a rest."

McCabe's action sparked a warm dialog between Democratic members of the court and Fritz.

McCabe is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McCabe of Harrington.

"It's about time the entire court takes these landfill operations under its wings," William C. Torbert, court president, said. Torbert said that landfill supervision might not require a full-time man.

"My point is," he said, "do we really need a supervisor or can Mr. Fritz do it?"

"You can depend on it," Fritz shot back. "I can't do it." He said he was having problems checking the operation in the one week that McCabe has been gone. "A man should be out there all the time."

Felton Firemen Win In Jersey

The Felton Ladies Auxiliary, also credited with best appearance, took the top $75 award and the Christiana Fire Company Auxiliary was second with $50.

Zane said 55 companies and 85 pieces of apparatus were in the line. There were six bands and 43 antique cars.

City Eyes Referendum to Complete Sewer Extensions

The City Council Monday night considered another referendum to complete installation of sanitary sewers and extension of some water mains.

A current sewer improvement program has been practically completed by Teal Construction Company of Dover. Some work is still to be done on the sewage disposal plant and polishing ponds by Koontz Construction Company of Hockessin. Money for both projects was raised from a bond issue voted in a referendum June 24, 1967. Bond issue was for $380,000. About one-third this amount is to be received from the Federal Water Pollution Control Authority with a grant of $100,000 from the State Water and Air Resources Commission.

Total cost of the projects was figured between $600,000 and $700,000. However, after bids were received, it was found funds were not sufficient for part of the work; hence, the consideration of another referendum.

The Council would like to install water and sewer on Coleman Street; sewer to three houses on U. S. 13 south, and sewer in an area recently annexed on the eastern side of U. S. 13.

The City is at work ascertaining the money to be gained from additional water and sewer usage fees in the new areas. It hopes these additional funds will pay for the project, costs of which still have to be determined.

The Council has encountered, however, a snag on Coleman Street. An owner of several houses has stated she would have to build bathrooms for the houses.

The Council will have to continue action on the matter at the June meeting.

SCHOOL ELECTION DISTURBED BY CANDIDATE'S RESIDENCE

Tomorrow's school board election here will be disturbed by the unsolved problem of whether or not one of the two candidates lives in the district.

Opponents of Nyle Callaway Jr., challenger of the incumbent, Roland B. Hitchens, charge Callaway doesn't live in the district and have been in touch with state agencies to get proof.

However, Dr. Kenneth Madden, state superintendent of public instruction, said: "If they (the state agencies) can't resolve it, how can I?"

"I say let the man run. If he loses, the question is academic. If he wins, let somebody bring a suit."

Callaway lives near McCole's Pond, pays taxes in this district and send his children to school here. The local school district map is vague on the issue. However, a map of the Milford School District, shows Callaway as residing in its district.

The election here tomorrow will be held at both schools from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Contests elsewhere in the newly consolidated school district, presently referred to as Lake Forest School District, are as follows:

Felton — Joseph H. Hughes and I. Kenneth Richter; Frederica, Marvin E. Brown and Charles H. West.

The newly elected officers will assume their posts July 1. At that time, the board for the consolidated district will rule on the actions of an interim board.

Park Workers Dumped In Killen's Pond

Two employees of the State Park Commission, one of whom could not swim, were rescued Monday morning after their boat was swamped at Killen's Pond.

One of those plucked from the chilly waters, Harris J. Smack, 43, of Milford, said Monday night "I'm all right; only just a little shook up that's all."

Smack, a non-swimmer and manager of the Killen's Pond park area, said he and another employee, Harry Silberstein, 58, of Houston, were placing cement - anchored buoys in the water at the time.

Using a flatbottomed outboard, Smack said they were marking off the swimming area when the boat began to take on water.

"I don't know exactly what happened," he said. (Continued on Page 4)

A Frederica man has been charged with kidnap and assault to commit robbery in the abduction of a cab driver at Dover Sunday.

Walter C. Ireland Jr., 24, was committed to Kent Correctional Institution. He also is charged with grand larceny in connection with an April 27 auto theft.

State police said Ireland forced the cab driver, Lester Hopkins, 49, of Dover, to drive him around the East Dover-Little Creek area at about 3:30 Sunday afternoon. Hopkins was threatened with a knife, police said.

According to state police, Ireland was frightened away by another cab driver. Ireland was arrested later in the afternoon by state policeman on Delaware 8, two miles east of Dover.

Ireland is being held for Superior Court on all three charges in default of bond totaling $4,500.

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton

Appetites and eyes craving the fresh crispness and the bright color of a big cool salad bowl on the dinner table can feast to their fill now. Many stores are featuring a much greater variety of salad vegetables and fruits, and leading the list is lettuce. Prices on lettuce are back to normal and quality is greatly improved. Remember, though, you can help keep top quality by storing lettuce properly. Do not keep in a hydrator; instead wash and drain well, then place in a plastic bag or any airtight container. Store on the middle shelf of your refrigerator. You will be pleasantly surprised how crisp and crunchy lettuce can be when stored this way. It makes all the difference in a truly delicious salad and one that will "do".

The weather is beginning to truly smile on Florida now, and we will soon see lots more top quality produce at the store. Already peppers, radishes, carrots, cherry tomatoes, celery and cabbage have dropped a bit in price. All of these are delightful additions to the salad bowl, but don't forget spinach, water cress, escarole, zucchini and cucumbers (they are reasonable now, too).

There is another side to the coin — tomatoes, corn on the cob, onions, green beans, and new potatoes are all higher in price. Artichokes and sweet potatoes remain unchanged and in moderate supply.

Fruits on sale include strawberries, five-pound bags of seedless grapefruit, Florida Valencia oranges and bananas. Cantaloupes, honeydews, grapes, plums and even watermelon are all coming to market in limited supply, but this will soon change.

An overall view of the meat market shows higher prices on all cuts than a month ago. This is particularly true of beef, so it is increasingly important to check prices and compare cost per serving instead of cost per pound.

The beef cuts to check for special sale are top and bottom round steak, ground round and rump, round and sirloin top roast. You will also see sales on Delmonico steaks and a few chuck cuts.

Fresh pork cuts to look for include rib half roast, whole loin, rib chop, smoked hams and a few picnic. If these are not "featured," do not be surprised at the increase in prices as pork is continuing to move up to its seasonal high in June and July.

Whole fryers are excellent buys, especially when on sale. The bagged whole fryer is about the most economical meat available when specially priced, and it is definitely one of the most versatile. Turkeys continue to be in good supply and are priced quite reasonably.

Egg prices are showing signs of weakening and this remains an excellent protein choice.

Asbury W.S.C.S. News

The annual Pledge Service of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Asbury United Methodist Church was held on Tuesday evening in the Collins Hall.

Mrs. Mark Willey planned the service, assisted by Mrs. Guy Winebrenner, spiritual growth secretary. A reading from the scriptures set the mood of the program, with Mrs. Winebrenner reading from Corinthians II. This was followed by Bible verses concerning the gifts of Life, Wisdom, Peace and Comfort, Food and Raiment, Grace, Forgiveness, Heavenly Home and Love, with each of the eight Circle leaders, giving the related Bible passage for each gift.

A message from the lesson from the Bible was given by Mrs. Willey, after which each Circle leader made a personal pledge for some gift she was returning to God.

Candles were lighted to signify the gifts from God, and as each leader made her personal pledge she placed a dogwood bloom in an arrangement of ivy surrounding the base of a cross.

Mrs. Willey asked that each member present also make a silent pledge or promise for the coming year.

In the business meeting Mrs. Audrey Schreck presided and accepted the slate of officers for the coming year from the Nominating Committee. Mrs. Theodore Harrington was chairman of the committee, assisted by Mrs. Edgar Graef, Mrs. Donald McKnatt and Mrs. Edward Taylor. Installation of those officers will be held at the June meeting. Senior Center News

More questions? More answers! How long has the Senior Center been in existence? It will be two years on July 1 since the Commission on the Aging, by authority of the Older Americans Act, agreed to fund this center for a period of three years, provided an interested organization could furnish a building in which to meet. This the New Century Club did. Other organizations promised their support.

Is there an organized body to ensure that funds are used as intended? There is a Board of Directors, who administer the funds and sets up policies governing the activities of the Center.

Who comprises this Board? The eighteen members of the Board of Directors are interested citizens who have been chosen from civic and service groups, and from the ministerium. Two representatives are from the Center's membership. Also, there are several directors at large.

Who may become a director? Anyone who wishes and is interested in the furtherance of this project may submit his or her name to the center before the end of June. From those names submitted, six new directors are selected each year with twelve held over.

Meetings Oh! yes! These directors meet once a month and their attendance record during these two years has been exceptional. The organizations have chosen representatives who are truly interested in making a success of this program for our mature citizens. At these monthly meetings a detailed report of the expenditures is given by the bookkeeper, and the executive director gives a complete report of the month's activities along with a financial statement of the members' funds.

Who are the present officers of the board? President, Samuel Short, Jr.; vice-president, the Rev. John Edward Jones; recording secretary, Harriett O'Neal; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Charles Hatfield, Felton; treasurer, Marion Moore; bookkeeper, Ernest Gleason.

Serving with these officers are Cliff Miller, Betty Ann Cooper, William Humes, Herman Ryan, Leah Coleman, Phillip Price, Anna Lee Derickson, Burton Satterfield, Jennie Morris, and the two members from the Center membership are Gladys Hill and Lelia Hopkins.

To whom has the responsibility of carrying out the directors' wishes been delegated? The executive director, Mrs. Angela Johnston, has this awesome duty. She must be able to stimulate, supervise, inform, advise, encourage, assist and persuade.

Does Harrington want this project to phase out in three years? Ask any of the directors! The members have given their answer by earning over $1000 toward their future program. Yet, now and then, is heard the rumor that the members just "go" and "sit". One thousand dollars is not collected by sitting in a rocking chair!

Can you match the enthusiasm and vitality of these senior citizens? Come, visit, volunteer to be an aide. The door is always open on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday, during the summer.

Happy Mother's Day! The Center is privileged to honor the many mothers who are members with a luncheon on May 9. An interesting and varied program has been prepared.

Beginning, Mon., May 12, the Center will be open on Tuesdays instead of Fridays.

On May 1, fourteen May baskets were made and delivered to those members who have been unable to attend the Center for some time. All recipients were so appreciative of the thoughtfulness that prompted that program. Those visited were Blanche Bell, Leah Coleman, Mary Cooper, Frances Harrington, Bernice Johnson, Elsie O'Neal, Linda Layton, Alice Langrell, Emma Passmore, Reba Smith, Ethel Stubbs, Mary Thistlewood, Viola Jacobs, and Ida Vanderborcht.

Heartfelt sympathy is extended to Mrs. Mary Stafford on the loss of her son, Bob.

On Mon., May 12, a trip to the Methodist Manor House, at Seaford, is planned. The group will leave the center at 10:30 a.m. Please call 398-3908 if you wish to make the trip.

May 19 at 8 interested members will leave the center for Winterthur and May 20 is the Senior Citizen's Day planned by the State. A bus will leave the center on Tuesday at 10:30. Lunch will be eaten at Haven Lake.

Interested in knowing about the budget? How much? For what are the funds spent? Buy next week's Journal!

U. of D. Releases Farm Fact Sheet

A publication outlining common Delaware lawn problems has been released by the University of Delaware's Cooperative Extension Service. Your lawn may not look right for any number of reasons, says University garden specialist David V. Tatnall. Wrong seed, poor soil, unfavorable weather, insects and disease all contribute to a poor lawn.

It's not always easy to recognize the cause of your lawn problems, he adds. But many of the problems facing Delaware lawn owners are discussed in the bulletin "What's Wrong With My Lawn".

Lawn difficulties are discussed under four general categories — soil problems, insects and diseases, weeds and general maintenance problems.

Copies of "What's Wrong With My Lawn?" are available from county extension offices in Newark, Dover and Georgetown and from the Mailing Room, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark 19711.

It Seems To Me

By Janet C. Reed

It's time for summer sewing — play clothes, beach and casual wear. Pattern books are full of ideas. Or, shop the clothing stores for the newest trends in styles and fabrics.

An old fabric favorite being used in more imaginative ways each year is terrycloth, or turkish toweling. Terrycloth is comfortable, easily washed and a good cover-up for beach wear.

Terry can be bought by the yard in colorful patterns, or you may be able to buy towels to fashion your designs. If you shop carefully, you may find towels of excellent quality with small flaws being sold as seconds at reduced prices. You probably can cut around the flaws anyway.

The beautiful velour-terry makes handsome robes and dresses. One manufacturer fashioned white velour-terry into an evening coat and even added a white mink collar. You may not get that far, but don't overlook its possibilities.

Terrycloth is inclined to shrink, so wash it before cutting. If you are using linings or other fabrics in combination with terry cloth, shrink them also; the whole purpose of a terry garment is its easy washability. Launder dark colors separately since they can bleed the first few washings.

Terrycloth is bulky, so choose simple patterns with as few seams as possible. You may be able to eliminate certain seams such as the front facing seam or center back seam. This also cuts down on the raveling problem, for this fabric does ravel.

Make use of salvage edges if possible for a "ready-made" seam finish. Exposed seams can be stitched along the edge with a zig-zag stitch, or all raw edges can be bound.

If you are using a towel with a fringed edge, plan a use for the fringe. Use it for the hem or the trim on collar or down the front of the garment. The velour-terry can be trimmed with bands of the reverse side for a subtle contrast.

Choose a style which doesn't have buttonholes. Buttonholes are not too satisfactory in this fabric but they can be done by machine.

As you buy terrycloth for your sewing project, don't let pattern and fabric overshadow quality. The best wearing fabric will have the firmest weave and close thick loops. It will look better for a longer time with less pulling of the loops after wear and washing.

Harrington School News

Here are some paragraphs written by Mrs. Brobst's sixth grade students:

I was so scared. I had been sleeping soundly when suddenly I awoke. I felt that someone was standing near me. I could hear its heavy breathing. I hardly dared to look. Finally I opened one eye a little. All I could see was the shape of an enormous man. I screamed. The shape faded slowly away into nothing. I fell asleep and when I awoke again the shape had returned—this time with a knife. He tried to hurt me with it, but I grabbed my baton. I hit him on the head. In the morning we found the knife, but the man was gone.

—Angela Minner

Yesterday I was at the graveyard. I was putting flowers on my uncle's grave when suddenly up from the grave came my uncle! He was holding a knife. As soon as I saw him I ran and ran until I got home. When I found out what really happened later, I learned it was my cousin who had dressed up in a sheet, carried a rubber knife, and had hidden in back of the tombstone.

—Cindy Brown

I was terrified! I saw a shadow on the kitchen wall. It was coming up the stairs to my room. I heard the footsteps getting louder and louder. Suddenly I saw a face... It was my father.

—Robert Cerklefskie

I was all alone when suddenly a man broke into our house. I got a flashlight to see who it was. It was Mr. Coot and he had a shotgun! When he saw me, he ran after me. I ran upstairs and got a bat. When he got to the top of the stairs, I hit him over the head. Then I tied him up and called the police.

—Thomas Gray

Mom was terrified! The rug looked bloody and the door was shut. I went over to the door where Mom had gone out. She screamed and came running back in the house. She said that she had seen a dead man in the garage. Just then Dad came in with ketchup all over him. He had tripped carrying the groceries.

—Kevin Wooters

There we were flying in the airplane. Suddenly we ran out of gas. The plane started to fall. Everyone was so scared! We started to put on our parachutes, but it was too late. Suddenly the plane crashed! Everyone was killed.

—Geraldine Draper

I went to Canada and walked over the falls. It was cold. When we got down with the trip under the falls, we were soaking wet. Do you think you would like to go under the falls?

—Luann McKnatt

We went on one of the most scenic trips I have ever been on when we were on our way to Niagara Falls. We went right through the beautiful Appalachian Mountains. It was in the summer and the trees were nice and green. The mountains looked beautiful with the green trees on them. The ride was fabulous going up and down over big and small mountains.

—Robert Wyatt

I went to Valley Forge. It was a wonderful place. Most of the people saw the room of George Washington. Then they went to where a movie was shown about George Washington in the war. There was a cabin where they sold food.

—Kenny Smith

Wow! Did I have some fun on August 18th. My father had just bought a new camper, and we were starting on a trip. We got our necessary equipment together and we were off! When we found a nice cool lake, we set up camp beside it. We went in our boat and caught many fish. We stayed there for two weeks.

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller

HOW MOTHER'S HAIR TURNED GRAY

The sunshine on a darkened crowd Will paint a silver lining, Sunshine paints the leaves of gold, Where ivy vines are climbing.

Sunshine paints the golden grain, That hides the piping quail, And pathways green will turn to brown, Along a mountain trail.

The sunshine turns the sumac red, And paints the sunflower yellow. Oft kissed the wine-sap and the grape, To turn them rich and yellow.

And so I gaze at mother's hair, Now turned to silver gray, And think the sunshine in her heart, Has turned her locks that way.

NO OTHER LOVE LIKE MOTHER'S LOVE

By Helen Steiner Rice

A mother's love is something That no one can explain, It is endless and unselfish And enduring come what may For nothing can destroy it Or take that love away... It is patient and forgiving, When all others are forsaking, And it never fails or falters Even though the heart is breaking. It believes beyond believing When the world around condemns, And it glows with all the beauty, Of the rarest-brightest gems... It is far beyond defining, It defies all explanation, And it still remains a secret Like the mysteries of creation... A many splendored miracle Man cannot understand. And another wondrous evidence Of God's tender guiding hand.

happened," he commented. "I had just let up on the motor or something and, just all of a sudden, she began filling with water."

When the small craft went under, Smack said, it flipped over and he and Silbereisen clutched its sides while yelling for help. "It was a little bit cold out there," he recalled.

"There was some gentleman on shore," he continued, "and we hollered to him and asked him to get help. He went down to a store and called the Milford rescue squad. We just held on to her until they got to us."

Actually, two volunteer fire companies, Houston and Carlisle for Milford, were summoned to the scene. Richard Green, Carlisle fire chief, said their rescue boat brought the men and their capsized vessel ashore and routed the two men in an ambulance to Milford Memorial Hospital.

"But we both went right back to work for awhile," Smack stated. "We got the boat up in storage and Harry went to have the motor checked and I went home to sleep."

Rid Home Of Ants

Several different ant species may become household pests in Delaware this spring and summer, according to Frank E. Boys, extension entomologist at the University of Delaware.

Ants are social insects that live in colonies in the ground or in decaying wood, he explains. They often nest near building foundations, under sidewalks and in the home law or garden. Ants may also nest in household woodwork, under shingles or in posts.

Most ants are relatively harmless to the homeowner, adds Boys. But they can be annoying, especially in the kitchen and food storage areas.

All types of ants will be active from now until the beginning of cold weather. Extra sanitation is important in preventing worker ants from being attracted into the home.

Fortunately, ants are not particularly difficult to control. Chlordane, lindane and diazinon sprays, dusts or aerosols will provide effective control and many commercially prepared baits are available. Apply dust or spray directly to the nest when possible.

To prevent ants from invading the home, use a two per cent chlordane or one-half per cent lindane spray along baseboards, window sills and other areas where ants may be found. To avoid drifting spray mist, particularly in the kitchen, use a small paintbrush to apply insecticide where it is needed or use a five per cent chlordane dust.

Cover all foods, cooking utensils, dishes, dog and cat feeding dishes and aquariums before spraying, warns Boys.

And apply insecticides every other week until ants disappear. Be especially careful with insecticides and commercial baits in homes with small children. Be sure to follow label instructions carefully. To rid your lawn or garden of ant colonies, Boys recommends a teaspoon of five per cent chlordane dust spread over nesting areas. Soak the treated area with water to wash insecticide through the soil and into the nest.

Improve Home Landscape

When planning improvements in the home landscape, why not consider the use of additional shrubs, suggests David V. Tattall, garden specialist at the University of Delaware.

Since excess size is a major problem in Delaware foundation plantings, Tattall recommends using a variety of dwarf or compact shrub.

Limit the use of tall, narrow plants, he says. These are often difficult to fit into the landscape. Tightly sheared shrubs that form balls, triangles and other geometric patterns are also difficult to use.

In improving lawns, use less ryegrass and more Kentucky bluegrass, red fescue and tall fescue. Fertilize lawns at least once, preferably twice, each year—usually in April or early May and again in October. More demanding lawn grasses, such as Merion bluegrass, may require additional fertilization.

Many Delaware lawns are being mowed much too short, he adds. To maintain a healthy lawn, keep the cutting height at two to two and a half inches.

For additional landscape hints, ask for the University of Delaware bulletin "The Art of Lawn Care" at county extension offices in Newark, Dover and Georgetown or write to the Mailing Room, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark 19711.

A second bulletin, "Trees, Shrubs and Woody Vines for Delaware," is available for a fifty cent fee.

Use Farm Welder Safely

The welder in your farm shop can be a valuable, money saving tool, according to Thomas H. Williams, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Delaware. If improperly used, however, that same welder may be the source of tragedy.

Carelessness has no place in welding or in the farm shop, says Williams. A thoughtless moment may cost you a building, a machine or you life.

Keep your welder in top condition, he advises. Store electrical welders in a dry place and make sure wires are not frayed and are properly grounded. Check oxygen-acetylene safety valves and torches and remember to turn off the gas when not welding. Gases used in welding are highly explosive.

Never weld near gasoline, oil, hay, chaf or other combustible material, adds Williams. And see that the welding area is well ventilated; fumes are deadly. Finally, remember to shield yourself and others to avoid burning your body or eyes.

Efficiency is not lessened by the time it takes to practice welding safety, says Williams. The few extra minutes it takes to be safety conscious is only a fraction of the time it could take to recuperate from a costly accident.

STATEMENT FROM ROLAND D. HITCHENS CANDIDATE FOR HARRINGTON SCHOOL BOARD

The question of the legal status of the local school board election is now being decided.

According to the boundaries of the Milford School District, established by the State Board of Education in 1955 and unchanged since then, my opponent lives in the Milford School District.

Irregardless of the answer to this problem, I have the following statement to the people.

I realize that my long term on our local board is of concern to many people. It is my feeling that this experience, not only on our local board, but even more important, the decisions made during the interim board meetings justify my concern. It is or should be of vital interest that our students have the best available professional educators.

The five board members, Mrs. Gruwell, Mr. Holloway, Mr. Burgess, Mr. Price and myself have struggled these past four months to keep the standard we now enjoy at the same enviable level. This is not an easy task when our neighbors to the north, except for Mr. Warrington, care not for education but for control.

On July 1st the interim board will dissolve. It is on this date that the newly elected members have the deciding vote on whether the actions taken by the interim board will be upheld.

Perhaps the Harrington board was wrong to assume the community did not desire it to work for better education. If this is the case, and if certain opposition in the three districts win their elections, then our town if left with but four dependable votes on the new board, consisting of eleven members. In plain language, we will have little or no representation as to the quality of education our students receive. They deserve more consideration than this.

Consolidation is difficult at best. It is a simple fact that taxes are the only source of revenue any board has to maintain such a large educational district. No one can change or ease this burden.

Although all board meetings are open to the public, the local opponents to the decisions already made have seldom attended. The true facts of consolidation can be answered by calling any or all of the local board members.

FENCE TALK

with George K. Vapaa

Saving prime crop land is becoming an issue all over the country. Not simply Kent County, Delaware because of the proposed West Dover By-Pass issue. People are beginning to see that farming has many virtues for a community. Gobble up the prime crop land and you mess up your ag-industry. Everyone loses in the process.

The state senator of Franklin County, Pa., D. Elmer Hawbacker, was the latest to bear down on the topic. He is chairman of a commission to examine their trends in land conversions. A report is due shortly after a series of hearings over the past few months. Closely related to this was a discussion on the effect of chemical pesticides on the environment. Mass aerial spraying has been needed to control the Gypsy Moth on forest trees. The public relations problem is vast because some special interest groups create hysteria. We learned that one man (name unimportant) opposes pesticides because of wildlife effects, yet at the same time heads a campaign for fluoridation of water supplies! Agriculture does not lack for problems, says Ray Kerstetter, who also was on the program with Senator Hawbacker. The trend toward corporate farming, the effects of the minimum wage and hour law, rural poverty and the need for better rural housing, taxation, modernization of local governments, to mention a few. Some needs cited were the problems of waste disposal, the fact that perhaps half the wells in Pennsylvania are contaminated one way or another, and more efforts with planned land use.

America the Raped is the title of a new book in the news by Gene Marine, published by Simon and Schuster. It attacks the engineer mentality and the rape of bulldozers on the landscape. Faulty designs and action can devastate our living. Read it.

The black buggy Amish are not the most conservative of the Mennonites by any means, your county agent learned last week. In Mifflin County, Pa., there are two groups - yellow top and white top Amish groups with closer knit traditions.

Apart from their buggies, you identify the sect by the length of hair. The white top buggy Amish males wear their hair to the shoulders much as our present day hippie types. The hair line of the yellow buggy Amish man comes about to the middle of the ear, and the black buggy Amish male hair reaches to about the top of the ear in that section at least.

The Mifflin county agent Clair deLong also tells of the black car modern Mennonite who also uses tractors and electricity. Such a man competes strongly with other modern farmers in that area. One modern Mennonite retired and sold off his herd of cows. Four cows brought over $1,000 each.

That is over twice the going price for good milk cows.

Most of us are somewhat familiar with the teaching traditions of the Amish. No graven images as portrayed in school movies. School consolidation for some time created private Amish schools in central Pennsylvania. And only this year in central Delaware. There is deep concern about the fundamentals of schooling by the Amish themselves in Pennsylvania due to poor teacher preparation. This may also develop in Delaware.

Your county agent plans to write more about minority groups such as the Amish, the migrants, blacks, and other ethnic groups in the near future. Suffice it to say that in the democracy we profess to live by today there seems to be much undue compulsion toward goals which need a closer look-see.

The job fair of the Greater Dover Chamber of Commerce rates a splendid success. Credit Ernie Dannemann for building a team of teachers and local employers to "deal with" graduating high school seniors for jobs.

U. of D. Sergeant Awarded Bronze Star

Sergeant First Class Abel Amaral, tactical noncommissioned officer to the ROTC senior class at the University of Delaware was awarded the Bronze Star for Valor for heroism in Vietnam by Colonel Frank J. Nemethy, chairman and professor of the Military science Department.

Sergeant Amaral was cited for heroic action on Nov. 2, 1967, while serving as an advisor to the Vietnamese Army's 44th Ranger Battalion. When his unit was attacked by a Viet Cong battalion, he unhesitatingly moved under fire to determine the size and strength of the enemy attack.

He accurately pointed out critical areas and assisted in directing counterfire which effectively neutralized those danger points.

Sergeant Amaral continued to expose himself to hostile fire taking cover only when a mortar round exploded nearby, knocking him to the ground.

Sergeant Amaral is a 21-year Army veteran and a native of Napili, Neau, Hawaii. He fought during the Korean War with the 25th Infantry Division. He is a veteran paratrooper and wears the Master Parachutist Badge and the Combat Infantryman's Badge with Star.

He resides at 758 Christiana Road, Newark with his wife, Renate. Their two teenage children attend school in Hawaii.

McKnatt Funeral Home Repeats As Local Bowling Champs

Hats off, boys, to the McKnatt Funeral Home squad, who repeated their feat of last year, winning the championship of the Harrington Bowling League.

In the first of three contests to be bowled, Taylor & Messick met Gerardi Bros. last Thursday evening at the Milford Lanes. The furniture boys started out in fine shape, trouncing the farm boys in the first game, as dame fortune seemed to be with them. However, in the remaining two games, the fortune went the other way with Taylor & Messick putting on the pressure to easily take the next two games, winning total pins for a three game win, to take a good lead in the chance for a championship. S. Collins bowled superbly for Taylor & Messick, rolling fine games of 207 and 210 to amass a great 577 series. G. Collins also bowled well, rolling a 203 game, in a 554 series. T. Brown also aided the three-game win with an above average performance. H. Wheeler paced the Gerardi Bros. squad with a very grand 578 series, including a very nice 214 game, getting assistance from D. Jones, P. Fallon and F. Dill who all rolled above their averages, though it was not enough to keep them from falling behind in the battle for the title. As it turned out, three games was all Taylor & Messick would win, as they ended in third place in the finals, with Gerardi Bros. ending in second place.

Not a bad showing at all for Taylor & Messick, who had never been in the finals before. The story is different however, with Gerardi Bros., who have been in contention for the title for the past four years, though never once capturing the coveted first place crown.

McKnatt's wasted no time in eliminating Taylor & Messick, taking all four games from them Tuesday night. D. Garey paced the way in McKnatt's first setto, rolling a grand 570 series, with a fine 212 game included. H. Brode also rolled a grand 213 game, amassing a nice 543 series, with R. Garey and D. McKnatt coming through with above average performances. Taylor & Messick in defeat, received a grand effort from S. Collins, who amassed a great 563 series; G. Collins, who rolled a fine 547 series, and A. Hickman, who chipped in with an above average effort, including a fine 200 game.

In the final contest of the finals, McKnatt's needed one game to take championship honors, and took no chances, by winning the first game of their battle with Gerardi Bros. It was a good thing too, that they won the first game, as they were solidly trounced in the remaining games by the furniture boys. Of course, it must be considered that with the one winning game McKnatt's needed already won, they could bowl more relaxed,

All Gerardi Bros. could hope for at best was second place, by winning the remaining games. H. Brode paced the way for McKnatt's in the first game win by rolling a fine 215 game, as the rest of the squad came through with an above average effort. D. McKnatt topped the squad in an overall good performance, rolling a great 205 game, amassing a real fine 545 series. K. Layton came through for the Gerardi Bros. squad, rolling grand 217 and 235 games, in amassing a superb 635 series, to lead all bowlers in the finals. H. Wheeler, bowling well, rolled a great 223 game, with a fine 557 series. D. Jester also rolled a real fine 539 series, including a great 220 game, as Gerardi's never gave up, coming through with a near record 955 team game.

McKnatt's, as champs of the local league, will vie for the bowling lanes title with other league champs, in the near future. Last year, this team not only won the local title, but took all honors, in winning the championship as top bowlers of the Milford Bowling Lanes. Good luck goes to this fine team in their next settos.

Last, but not at all least, is the fact that the local bowlers, who won the Bowler of the Month titles this season at the Milford Lanes will be competing with other such bowlers for the title of Bowler of the Year. Good luck to all who are participating.

Felton Bows to Falcons in 13 Innings

Felton's 13-inning 2-1 loss to Dover Air was one of those rare classics. Felton scored a run in the fourth frame. The Falcons tied it up in the fifth. Two fine high school hurlers Gary Mahoney of Dover Air and Felton's Chris Moore pitched superbly. Mahoney was the winner, although Moore had a slight edge in the statistics. Chris allowed ten hits to twelve, walked two, compared to Mahoney's four passes and whiffed 19 Birds while the Felton fanned a dozen Green Devils.

Felton, now showing three victories and as many defeats, were led offensively by John McCloskey's three bingles and a pair apiece for Mike Fisher, Moore and Sam Bostick.

Wetherhold's 10.04.5 Breaks Own Seaford Invitational 2-Mile Mark

Chris Wetherhold set a new record for the two-mile run in the Seaford Invitational last Wednesday afternoon. His time of ten minutes, four and one-half seconds, bettered the old standard of 10.15.3, established by Wetherhold as a freshman last spring.

Temperature in the fifties probably kept the Lion from breaking 10 minutes again. He holds the two best performances in Delaware this season in the two mile run. He had done 9.53.4 earlier.

Karl Shuler, of Seaford was second some 17 seconds off the pace after shadowing Wetherhold for five laps. Jim Waldbusser, of Caesar Rodney was third.

Harrington's Brad Morris ran a beautiful race. The Lion had done 10.58, 10.56 and 10.55 in his only previous races at this distance. He trailed Shaffer of Seaford and D'Antonio of Caesar Rodney through most of the grueling grind,

Lion Nine Wins At Millsboro

Harrington High's baseball team won its third game in five tries by downing Millsboro 10-5 last week, in an extra-inning tilt.

Dave Newnum, Buddy Sipple and Mike Trotta limited the Blue Devils to three hits, while the Lions tallied ten safeties.

Mickey Chaffinch, who formerly was used in ninth position in the batting order, made his bid to escape that ingnomious spot forever. Big Mickey banged out three hits, drove in two runs and scored two more. Steve O'Neal was perfect with two hits in two trips. Chester Scott hit safely and ran his streak to five games. Dale Motter, also had a pair of baseknocks.

Harrington scored in six of the eight innings, including four game-winning tallies in the eighth.

Lions Beat Greenwood, Take Third Loop Spot

An 11-3 triumph at Greenwood on Monday afternoon gave Bob Young's Harrington High baseball team a 4-2 log and put the Lions in third place in the eleven-team Henlopen Conference.

Fate was cruel to the losers. Harrington's hurlers Mike Trotta and David Newnum are sons of former Greenwood High athletes.

then put on a burst of speed in the homestretch, that left both behind and narrowly missed catching Waldbusser. Morris clocked a very fine 10.39, which puts him second to Wetherhold on the all-time H.H.S. list. Danny Hitchens was seventh in a personal record 11.11.8.

Wetherhold, Shuler, Waldbusser, Morris and Hitchens are all sophomores. We believe Shaffer is a junior. We are not sure what D'Antonio's class is. He was the only non-Teuton of the septet. With so many fine, young two-milers downstate, track fans of this area can expect some great performances for the next two seasons.

The eight points contributed by Wetherhold and Morris was one-third of the Lion's total. Harold McDonald's thin-clads finished fourth in the field of thirteen schools, one of their better performances in this meet.

Ken Tribbett was the top scorer for H.H.S. The junior speedster clocked 10.3 in the 100 yard dash and 23.9 in the 220 to get third place in each event, then anchored the 880 relay quartet to a fourth place clocking of 1:38.7. Tribbett tallied 6½ points for his school.

John Swain finished third in the 440 yard run in 54.2, his best effort of 1969. He is co-holder of the school record in this event. Swain and Ronald "The Champ" Morris both did 52.8 in the state meet on the University of Delaware's tartan track, last May.

Freshman George Turner surprised by nabbing fourth place in the long jump. George is a fine prospect in this event and the sprints.

In the mile relay, Harrington reeled off a heat-winning effort of 3.41, which gave them third place overall. John Swain and Tolbert Harris both sped around the quarter mile oval in less than 54 seconds each. Roger Jarrell and John Brown each bettered 57 seconds. Seaford was a distant second to the Lions in the race. The 880 relay unit of Harris, Tribbett, Bob Smith and Fred White, like the mile relay foursome, turned in their best clocking of the campaign, 1:38.7 and also finished first in their heat and fourth overall. Roger Jarrell proved to be the best pole-vault prospect in Lion history on Wednesday, then broke his leg on Thursday. Jarrell cleared 10 feet and 6 inches at Seaford, then missed at 11 feet. This latter height is the H.H.S. school record. Frank Cain, a vaulter for five years, is the record holder. Jarrell was knocking at the door after less than four weeks' experience as a vaulter.

Roger cleared 10 feet, in practice the next day and fractured a bone in his ankle, putting him out of action for this season.

Like most small schools that have track, H.H.S. has only sawdust to land on in the pole vault pit. The higher a vaulter goes, the more chance of injury.

The larger schools use huge bags of foam rubber scraps, as a landing area. Others use an expensive balloon-type air-filled apparatus. We feel that the foam-rubber setup will do the job and should be installed in time for the 1970 season.

Other young thin-clads to do well for H.H.S. were: Bill Walls, down to 25.7 in the 220, an improvement of two full seconds; John Shulties, a 2:17.7 half mile as a freshman; Mike Davis, another freshman down 25 seconds in the 880 to 2:25 and Robin Callahan, 2nd in his heat of the low hurdles, a brand new event for him.

Felton's Fisher Whitewashes Milton

Lefthander Mike Fisher held Milton's Warriors to a pair of safeties and had three hits himself, as Felton parlayed three, three-run innings into a 9-0 triumph. The Green Devils now have won three of five outings.

The winners racked up nine hits. Chris Moore and John McCloskey had two bingles

Dover Downs Raceway News

Bill Brown, a strapping 82-year-old horseman who is racing at Dover Downs, is one of those people who always remind you of somebody else, usually somebody illustrious. With his salt and pepper hair, rough around the edges, his ruddy cheeks, and his big, dusty stetson shading heavy eyebrows, Brown at once favors such obviously dissimilar personalities as Carl Sandberg, the poet, and Buffalo Bill, the circus performer and plainsman.

Bill has only been licensed to train horses since last year, but his acquaintance with horses goes back beyond that. In fact, back to a couple of race-tracks like Sheephead Bay in New York and Highland Park in Detroit, no longer in existence, where he was an apprentice jockey and exercise boy in his youth. That had to be back around the turn of the century.

From there he headed west to become, as he thought, a cowboy, after giving up on his aspirations to be a jockey. He recalls "I was a school dropout. Actually, I was more interested in hopping freights than I was in going to school. That was in 1904, but instead of becoming a cowboy he drove a tourist stagecoach in Yellowstone Park. "They were those big, beautiful Concord Coaches, made in Concord, N. H., I think," recalls Brown. However, in the winter when the tourists were back east at home in front of warm fireplaces, Brown was handling a "Jerk Line" on 20 horses hauling freight, for the Wylie Camping Company. "It was a terrifically bad job, brutal in the winter," he says of his $50 a month post, "but it didn't bother us." Four years of that kind of work, however, was enough as he headed west to Seattle where he booked passage, "steerage," on a boat headed for Alaska where there were reports of another gold strike. After three days, however, he had had enough of "Steerage" and put the rest of his money up to be moved into second class. But, as it turned out, it would have taken more than money to improve conditions on that ship, "Senator," by name. "The 'Senator' was about 400 feet long," recalls Brown, "and she must have been fifty years old. There were about 600 of us on board, mostly headed for gold country. "Just about when we were ready to ship out a storm came up and held us in port three days. The trip, which should have taken us about six days, actually took 46, and everything happened to us. "We hit an ice flow and got stuck in it, punching a hole in the starboard side. But our captain, "Foghorn Riley," as he was called, was the most practical man that I've ever met. "You see, the old tub was originally a water ballast ship but just before we sailed the company had changed that, putting sand aboard as ballast. As cargo we had a big load of cement for a company in Nome. "Foghorn" got everybody (Continued on Page 5)
