

Earle Palmer Brown, Rosecroft President

Rosecroft Elects President

The board of directors of Rosecroft Raceway in Oxon Hill, Md., recently elected Earle Palmer Brown of Potomac, Md., as the third president of the 21 year old suburban Washington, D.C. harness track. The track was founded in 1949 by William E. Miller who served as its first president until his death in 1949. He was succeeded by his son, John W. Miller, who died this year.

Brown heads Earle Palmer Brown and Associates an advertising and public relations agency which has handled Rosecroft's promotional activities for the last 8 years. He is a member of the United States Harness Writers Association and the Harness Tracks Publicists Association.

LeRoy Pumphrey was re-elected vice president of Rosecroft and William W. "Pete" Shaw was again named as general manager and secretary-treasurer. Named to the executive committee were Clarence Hahner, chairman of finance committee; William E. Miller, II, chairman of the racing committee, Samuel Breward, chairman of the building and grounds committee, and Clark Magruder.

City Approves Street and Sewer Improvements After Hearing

MEDICARE HOSPITAL COSTS TO RISE $8 JAN. 1

Older people who enter the hospital under Medicare Jan. 1, or later will be responsible for an additional $8 of their hospital bills, a mandatory increase required by law. The increase results from a provision in the law requiring an annual review of hospital costs under Medicare, and an adjustment of the portion of a Medicare beneficiary's responsible for these costs have risen substantially. Medicare now pays all but the first $44 of a Medicare beneficiary's hospital bill in each spell of illness. In announcing the increase in the deductible amount from $44 to $52, Robert M. Ball, commissioner of Social Security, noted that the hospital bill for an average stay by a Medicare beneficiary now runs about $700. The hospital deductible amount, Ball explained, is intended to make the Medicare beneficiary responsible for

After a quiet and uneventful hearing, attended by a handful of property owners in the affected areas, the City Council Monday night motioned to provide enough money to make street and sewer improvements. At a special meeting recently, the Council agreed on a limit of $20,000. It was decided, however, Monday night this figure might prove inadequate. The improvements are listed as follows: Hot mix applied on Commerce Street from Clark Street to Mechanic Street. The same treatment with curb on west side of Railroad Avenue. Hot mix on Mechanic Street from Railroad Avenue to Dorman Street. A curb and sidewalk, in one piece will be placed on the same street from Railroad Avenue to Fleming Street. Hot mix on Fleming Street. This will include curb and sidewalk from Commerce Street to Mechanic Street. The curb is estimated to cost $1.50 per foot, of which the property owner is to pay half. The property owner will reimburse the City of Harrington for the sidewalk priced at $7 per square yard. This will be 4 to 5 inches of concrete over the present walk. The hot mix, priced at $10.50 per ton, will be 2 inches thick in the center of the road and 1 1/2 inches thick on the sides. Five manholes will have to be raised at a cost of $200 in all. Before the street work is started in the downtown area storm sewers will have to be laid at a cost of $10 per foot. In this area, which suffers particularly from flash floods, a 16-inch sewer will go from No. 1 Commerce Street to the Penn Central. At the railroad, it will meet with another from the corner of Mechanic Street and Railroad Avenue. This sewer then proceeds north along the railroad and passes under it to Delaware Avenue below Liberty Street. After the tile passes under the railroad, the sewer becomes an open ditch for a short distance. Mayor Burton E. Satterfield deemed it wise to tile the ditch since it filled frequently with dirt and debris. Warren Brothers, of Mt. Pleasant, is scheduled to do the work. Mayor Satterfield said a spokesman for the firm said he hoped to get the work done this fall. Continuing on street work, a delegation of Mrs. Alfred G.B. Mann, Mrs. Harold Melvin, and Mrs. William Wetztenhiser complained that North Street, which some time ago had a sanitary sewer installed, had not been restored to its original condition. Mrs. Mann said the sewer trench had collapsed. The mayor said the contractor, Teal Construction Company, of Dover, was doing work in Harrington Manor, and that a company representative and the mayor would look at the street Tuesday. After the delegation had departed, the Council agreed it had a point and suggested 6 inches of concrete on the trench site, covered with black top.

Harrington Man Slain In Scuffle

A 68-year-old Harrington man was shot to death Sunday with a gun he pulled during an argument with another Harrington man.

State police said Lee Jackson of W. Mispillion Street was dead on arrival at Milford Memorial Hospital about 4:19 p. m. They said he had been shot in the face and chest.

Police said Jackson was slain on Mispillion Street just west of the Harrington town limits. They said it apparently stemmed from an argument between Jackson and Leon Charles Cannon, 47, of Milby Street.

Police said the two men were arguing about 3:45 p. m. Jackson apparently went home, police said, and came back with a .32-calibre revolver in his pocket.

The argument was continued, police said, and in a tussle that followed, Jackson pulled the gun from his pocket. Cannon wrestled it away from him and fired at Jackson five times, they said.

Cannon later gave himself up to Solomon Anderson, Harrington patrolman, who lives nearby. He was taken to Magistrate Court No. 6, Harrington, and committed to Kent Correctional Institution in default of $10,000 on a charge of second-degree murder.

LFHS to Offer Broader Curriculum

Students at Lake Forest High School are offered a much broader curriculum this year. With consolidation and a greatly increased enrollment many new courses have been added.

In addition to the regular agricultural course, boys can now take agri-business, power mechanics, landscaping and metal shop.

For college preparatory students the science department is using the B S C S (biological science curriculum study) programs. An advanced biology course with concentration on research is being offered for the first time.

Del. Schools Participate In Lunch Program

Delaware schools will be participating in the national school lunch week October 13 to 17, along with other schools in the nation.

The week will be highlighted on Wednesday October 15 when all schools nationwide will be serving the same school lunch menu (hamburger on roll, green beans, tossed salad, fruit cup, peanut butter cookie and 1/2 pint milk).

Thursday, October 16, the schools in Delaware will serve a Delmarvelous chicken menu. All schools in the state will be taking part in this program with invitations to parents and officials, special menus by students, decorations and other events.

Journal to Print Anniversary Edition

The Harrington Journal will print a special edition commemorating the 100th anniversary of the incorporation of the City of Harrington. The edition will be printed this fall but exact date will depend on when the advertising is prepared.

Kent Rezoning Plan Faces Hearing

An amendment to the Kent County interim zoning ordinance approved by the County Zoning Commission is scheduled for public hearing.

The amendment provides that single-family dwellings may be built in agricultural areas regardless of whether the person living there is related to the farmer's family.

Denied were the following applications:

— Helen Haas, 1.9 acres from residential to commercial at the intersection of Mifflin Road and the Hazletville Road.

— John K. Walters, 50 acres in Marydel area from agricultural to residential with the idea of subdividing the lot for single family dwellings.

City Still Has Trash Problem

The City Council, Monday night, considered a solution to its city dump and came up with an agreement to let it remain as it was.

Representatives of All-Rite Rubbish Removal offered to collect the trash for $2.50 per house per month. The City had estimated it had 835 residences.

Mayor Burton E. Satterfield and the Councilmen decided not to accept the offer. Its trash truck picks up five or six loads a week which it deposits at the city dump.

Reluctantly, the mayor thought it would be better to deposit the trash at a county landfill at $5 per load. Under current regulations of the State Water and Air Pollution Control, the trash is supposed to be covered with dirt at the end of each day.

In other business, the Council voted to have a temporary well dug at the sewage-disposal plant. It will have to do until the City sells a $100,000 bond issue it passed in a referendum.

Agreed to have State Board of Health, which acts for the City, to investigate several vacant houses which may be fire hazards because of playing children.

He was charged with driving under the influence of intoxicating liquors and will be tried in Court 6 here Sunday.

Karlik Land Sells To Lewes Firm

Land along County Road 432, parallel to the D.M. & V. branch of the Penn Central, has been sold to Peninsula Properties, Inc., of 2401 Bay Ave., Lewes.

The land, 141 acres, of which 46 acres are tillable, belonged to Albert L. and Edna M. Karlik, of Salisbury. Price was listed as $1 and other considerations.

The Journal was unable to get in touch with the buyer to find the intended use for the land.

State to Sell Commission Boat

The State is going to sell a Shell Fish Commission boat that has been in drydock for a year, Gov. Russell W. Ferguson announced last week.

"This boat is not needed and would cost several thousand dollars to repair," the governor said.

The 52-foot boat, the "Delaware," is more than 10 years old and was used initially for patrol by the commission.

The governor said that under state procedures, the boat will be offered to other state agencies before asking bids from outside buyers. Proceeds will go into the general fund.

Attendance Figures at W. T. Chipman

Attendance figures for the W. T. Chipman Junior School were collected for the month of September.

The seventh grade attendance was 95.1% and the eighth grade 94.5%. The average number of absent students was approximately eleven students per day out of 530. The number of absentees was highest on Monday and lowest on Friday.

Harrington High Year Book The Harrington High 1969 yearbook "The Lion's Journey" is on sale at the W. T. Chipman Junior High School after school from 3 to 4 p. m. Graduates should plan to pay balance when they pick up their order.

FREE EDUCATION PROGRAM OFFERED FOR ADULTS

An adult basic education program is being held every Tuesday and Thursday from 7 to 9 p. m., for the rest of the school year at the Community Hall of St. Paul A.M.E. Church (opposite West Harrington Elementary School).

It offers basic education studies as well as high school courses. It offers an opportunity to complete one's high school education, after which a diploma is issued, which is acceptable at colleges. Also, a course in dressmaking, and general sewing are offered. The program also offers basic education in other areas, such as improved reading, mathematics, and other basic studies for persons 16 years and over. In fact, this program is flexible enough so that one may get what one requires in the way of basic or high-school courses, said the Rev. C. M. Simmons, pastor. Originally, the program was operated through the poverty program set up by the federal government. Now, however, it is operated by the department Public Instruction set up by the state government. Instruction is provided through the public school system. The instructors this year are the Misses Elaine Pavloff and Carol Gallner. It should be emphasized this is a state program—not a church-sponsored program; and is free, and open to everyone. For further particulars contact Miss Elaine Pavloff, phone 674-2676.

City Will Have to Wait For Fines

Chief of Police Franklin Rogers, making his monthly report to the City Council on Monday evening, said the City had $1,400 fines collectible. He added, however, $1,077 was on the "easy" payment plan. Under a law passed by the current General Assembly, on some convictions, the defendants are allowed to pay on the time-payment plan instead of being jailed for non-payment. The chief explained he had one instance where he did not expect a fine of $500 to be paid before a year. In other police business, the action was as follows: The chief had two applications for full-time patrolmen, one of which was to be hired. The chief had interviewed one but the Council motioned he also interview the other. Successful applicant would get $80 per week while on 60-day's (Continued on Page 5)

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton

As the economy heads into autumn, business activity continues brisk. However, despite rising prices, a number of the signs suggest that monetary and fiscal pressures are steering the economy toward more moderate growth. Items pointing to some moderate easing include declines in industrial production during August and September, little change in retail sales, reduced housing activity and recent scaling down in planned investment increases. However, consumer demand appears to be holding up well as wages continue to rise.

Though these signs are showing up, retail food prices continue to rise. Wholesale prices for farm products in September dropped another 0.6 percent from August. Wholesale prices for processed foods in September were steady with August, but down percent from the July peak. This movement plus seasonally larger food supplies may moderate retail price increases through the balance of the year. But if the demand continues to rise, prices will remain steady or continue upward.

As the market stands now, things are steady — much as they were last week. The best chance to save money is to make the best possible use of store specials. Look for slightly lower prices this week on beef steaks—sirloin, round and a few Delmonicos. Short ribs, corned beef and liver are other wise choices at the meat counter. Pork items to look for are fresh picnics and hams, bacon, cured hams and Boston butt roast. When checking these cuts, be sure to look for meat that is pinkish gray and with not too heavy a coat of fat. The amount of bone should be considered when you check the price per pound. Often a low priced item is actually high in price when the waste is realized.

Lamb and veal prices are unchanged and from the look of things these meats will continue to be luxury items. The supply of broiler fryers continues above a year-earlier levels. But due to the high prices for competing meats, prices are higher than they were a year ago and will probably remain so. However, when on special, nothing can beat this meat for economy, versatility and just plain good eating. Egg prices remain relatively high and the medium size egg is still your best buy.

When shopping at the fresh vegetable counter expect best buys in white potatoes, late crop green beans, green peppers, sweet corn and salad greens. Better quality cauliflower and broccoli is arriving and prices are a bit more reasonable.

Here Come the Mice
Cooler fall weather may invite visitors to your house—including unwelcome ones as mice.
The whitefooted mouse is a frequent undesirable guest, says Dr. E. Paul Catts, associate professor of entomology and applied ecology at the University of Delaware. "In fact, it's one of the most common mammals in Delaware woodlands."
When the mouse population increases after the fall breeding season, overcrowding in the woods forces mice to find a new home—in your house. Once inside, the mice usually nest behind baseboards and

In the woods, white-faced mice eat nuts, berries, seeds, insects and the tender bark of growing trees. But, inside your house, they turn to fruit, crackers, stored cereals and other food crumbs. They will know through cardboard and other packaging to reach the stored foods.
An old world cousin, the house mouse, is also found indoors. This grey rodent lives and breeds within the house, and its numbers increase rapidly. It eats the same types of household foods as its cousin.
Both mice are active during the night, although the house mouse is not as shy as the whitefooted intruder, Catts says.
Houseproof your house to keep mice out, he advises. If a garage is attached to your house, make sure all doors are in good repair and tightly closed. A mouse can get in through a hole the size of a nickel.
Replace any broken windows or torn screens at ground level and shut all the cellar windows and doors. Usually, mice won't gnaw their way in—they get inside through existing openings. And they usually come in at ground level; they seldom climb up to look for an opening.
The best control for mice is still the trap, Catts states. Peanut butter or bits of bacon are a most effective bait. Commercially prepared baits also control mice, but don't use them around the kitchen or in places where youngsters or pets can be tempted. Also, remove any dead mice immediately.
As an added precaution, put traps or bait near strategic areas where mice are most likely to get into your house.
If you already have a large number of mice inside, Catts recommends contacting a reputable pest control operator, preferably a member of a state or national pest control association.

Del. Poultry Lab Dedicated

The new U.S. Department of Agriculture Poultry Research Laboratory in Georgetown, was formally dedicated Oct. 1.
The new laboratory represents a long step in the forward march of the Delaware poultry industry, according to Dr. Edward A. Trabant, the president of the University of Delaware.
From initial planning through construction stages, complete cooperation has existed between the University, the USDA and the poultry industry, Trabant said. He urged that cooperation continue in research projects that are planned. Research at the laboratory will complement and add to poultry research already in progress at the University; projects will not be duplicated.
Both Trabant and Dr. William E. McDaniel, dean of the College of Agricultural Sciences, urged renewed efforts to obtain sufficient funds to staff the laboratory so that research can move ahead. They asked Delaware and Maryland congressmen and poultry industry representatives to help in these efforts.
According to Dr. George W. Irving, administrator of the Agricultural Research Service USDA, there is no indication when the necessary funds will be available. He stated the laboratory is a victim of federal efforts to curb inflation by cutting spending.
The research facility is located near the University's Georgetown Substation on 16 acres of land leased to the USDA by the University. The laboratory is planned for a staff of five scientists plus supporting personnel.
Joint research by the USDA and the University will focus on broiler production problems in the Delmarva area, particularly on those factors that affect broiler quality. Studies will be directed toward improving efficiency of production, reducing losses to the industry and improving broiler quality. The research will thus benefit both the producer and the consumer.

Apple Recipes

By Mrs. Robert Collins
Baked Rosy Apples
6 medium baking apples
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup sugar
Few drops red food coloring
Wash, core and peel top third of apples. Place apples in baking dish. Boil together sugar and water for two minutes. Add one or two drops of red food coloring to give pink tinge to the syrup. Pour over apples. Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees for about one hour or until done. Baste apples occasionally with syrup while cooking. Serve warm or chilled with cream.
Apple Crisp
4 cups sliced apples
3/4 cup sifted flour
1 cup sugar (brown or white)
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/8 teaspoon salt
Peel, core and slice apples and spread in greased casserole. Mix sifted flour and cinnamon. Cut butter or margarine into flour and sugar mixture. Spread crumb mixture over apple slices and bake at 375 degrees 50 to 60 minutes.
Favorite Apple Pie
5 to 7 cooking apples
3/4 to 1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
few grains salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 recipe plain pastry
Pare and slice apples. Combine sugar, flour, cinnamon, and salt; mix with apples. Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry. Add apples; dot with butter. adjust top crust. Seal and vent upper crust. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees), 50 to 60 minutes.

Senior Center News

The difference between gossip and news is whether you hear it or tell it. So here goes! Since the duplicating machine is in the shop and you will not be receiving the program for this month, you should keep these news notes to remind you of the coming events at the Center.
On Tuesday, Oct. 14, the regular monthly birthday party will be held. We will be wishing the following a happy year ahead: Leah Coleman celebrated on Oct. 3; Grace Bonniwell was born on Oct. 4; Florence Layton is to be remembered on October 15; Blanche Bell, our truly senior citizen claims Oct. 18; Elsie O'Neal has her day on Oct. 29; and Anna Mae Short of Felton will count one year more on October 25. Remember also, this is the month our former director, Mildred Minner, celebrates her birthday, Monday, Oct. 27. We hope will start a pleasant year for her.
The next Tuesday, Oct. 21, a trip to Winterthur is being planned. Interested members should make sure their reservations are placed by Tuesday Oct. 14, in order that the necessary arrangements may be made. The plans, at present, are to leave the Center at 9 a.m. by bus if there is sufficient interest.
Please keep in mind Oct. 24 when the board of directors will be sponsoring a chicken and dumpling dinner, served family style, for the benefit of the building fund. Marian Moore and Anne McWilliams are co-chairmen and many of you will be hearing their cry for help soon.

Visitors are welcome at the new home on Fleming Street. Drop in, meet the director, Angela Johnston, and her assistant, Catherine Errigo. See what your contributions are doing—drapes and curtains are up; lamps, endtables, lounge chairs are all being used; crafts are on display; shining eyes and laughter are very much in evidence. Spirits need a lift? No better place to get this service than at the Center, either as a guest or as a member. Give us a try. It won't cost you anything but your time.
Reporting on those whom we have not seen for awhile: Virginia Clarkson is doing well but has decided for the present to remain at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jack Holland of Milford. Pearl Derickson is much improved after being confined for some time with a cold. We hope to see her at the Center again soon. A letter was received this past week from Mary Stafford and she stated she was much improved and still in the Ingram Nursing Home at Argo's Corner near Milford. Helen Graisbery we hope will soon be sufficiently recovered to be able to spend short amounts of time with her friends at the Center. Christine Clymer suffered a fall last Saturday evening. It is to be hoped that the xrays have shown nothing serious.
We're happy! Come let us make you happy, too!

MONOGRAM OIL HEATERS

Smart decorator-design walnut-grained or rich fruitwood vinyl-clad cabinets are handsomely highlighted with gold anodized aluminum to blend with the finest furnishings.

OVERSIZE "CIRCOMATIC" FAN
Keeps warm air in constant circulation throughout the entire house. Provides regulated draft to the burner—balancing oil and air to assure perfect combustion at all fire levels.

TWIN REVERSE FLOW HEAT EXCHANGER
Heats the air more thoroughly before it moves into your home—squeezes maximum warmth from every drop of oil. Adds more radiant comfort at the "living level." Puts more heat on the floor.

"MAGIC MIXER" BURNER
Actually turns fuel oil into a gas. This patented MONOGRAM air mixing feature produces a clean, smoke-free, soot-free, odorless flame at all fire levels to assure maximum heat from fuel used.

EXCLUSIVE 3-WAY HEAT CIRCULATION
Distributes an abundant blanket of heat over the floors to provide floor-to-ceiling comfort throughout the "living level" of your home. Heat you can feel and enjoy—whether you're standing, sitting or lounging on the floor.

KEEP YOUR DISTANCE

Warnings to "keep your distance" from color television sets have come from two federal agencies—the Federal Trade Commission and the Public Health Service—during the past month. These warnings reflect renewed interest in the dangers of radiation.

Just what are these dangers, and what should we do about them?

Public health officials suggest that color television viewers should sit at least six feet from the tube. At that distance, the effects of any possible radiation would be minimized. Television owners also may have their sets checked for radiation leakage by the Division of Radiation Safety of the Delaware State Board of Health.

In general, advise health officials, there is no need to panic because of the warnings, but don't be careless with electronic equipment.

Early warnings about color TV came after some defective sets were found around the country. These sets were recalled by the company and the necessary corrections were made. Television sets which are leaking X rays can be corrected.

Workmen occasionally turn up the voltage on a television set to get a clearer picture. However, Public Health Service officials warn that with the higher voltage, a leaking tube may produce even more hazardous radiation.

Television is not the only potential source of radiation. Another source, which is becoming more common is the microwave oven. Originally found mostly in restaurants and schools, these ovens are being introduced into homes.

Several microwave ovens in Delaware tested by the Division of Radiation of Safety were found to have some leakage of microwave energy. It is difficult, however, to judge at what point this leakage may be dangerous. Current federal standards are arbitrary. National guidelines and regulations may result from research now being done, but the effects of microwave exposure are not yet fully known.

Among known results is damage to the eye. A Public Health Service report entitled, "Biological Aspects of Microwave Radiation," reveals that microwaves have caused cataracts on the eyes of animals. The report said exposure to microwaves has been implicated in the induction of cataracts in men who were accidentally exposed.

Of course, direct exposure would result in burning or destruction of cells, but the ovens are constructed to shut off as the door is opened. Leakage usually results from loose hinges or improper sealing of the oven. Problems could arise if the ovens are sold in large quantities before safety regulations are made and met.

At work or at school, too, a person may accidentally be exposed to radiation. New experimentation with the laser beam is largely experimentation with an unknown. But it is known that a laser, which a child can build, from a hobby kit, can burn and destroy the retina of the eye. Again, there are presently no controls because electronic radiation has not been researched sufficiently.

Recently, the Environmental Control Administration of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare directed an Illinois firm to stop selling three types of electric tubes—known as fluorescence-effect, heat-effect and magnetic deflection-effect tubes—because they have a potential for x-ray exposure.

These tubes were used in many schools and colleges. Preliminary studies by the Division of Radiation of Safety indicates that such tubes were used in at least three Delaware schools.

Testing of known high school equipment in the state is under way. In addition to these tests, the Division is responsible for checking industrial radiation, atomic radiation levels in the environment and x-ray machines for doctors, dentists and hospitals.

If anyone has reason to believe their color television set or microwave oven may be leaking radiation, he should contact E. Lee Stein, Division of Radiation Safety, State Health Building, Dover.

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

When I hear some people praise,
What they call "the good old days";
And they tell me what they miss,
I remember things like this:

Coal oil stoves, a wheat straw broom,
Outdoor, wooden powder room;
Cast iron stoves and wood for fuel,
Walk a mile or more to school.

Pitch the hay and scrub the floors,
Fill the lantern, do the chores;
Carry water from the spring,
Swarms of flies on everything.

Milk the cows and slop the hogs,
Chink the cracks between the logs;
Mend the harness, shoe the mare,
Clean the stalls, no time to spare.

Horse cars, gas lights, button shoes,
Muddy streets and avenues;
Whiskers, corsets, derby hats,
Rubber collars and cravats.

Up before the sun's first rays—
Yes! Sir! Those were "Good Old Days."

Then there were two cement mixers got married;
and soon had a little sidewalk running around the house.

Days Of Our Years

MAC Band to Honor Citizens Of Delaware

The Military Airlift Command (MAC) Band will join Dover Air Force Base personnel in honoring the citizens of Delaware October 9. The band will provide music for the Salute to Delaware Day formal parade and ceremony.

Since its organization in 1960, this musical organization has played for the enjoyment of more than two million spectators throughout the United States and in the Azores Islands of the mid-Atlantic ocean.

The 60-man Air Force band, under the baton of Major Hermna G. Vincent, prides itself on its up-to-date beat.

"We try to pattern the military band after what is correct and choice in program music," the conductor says.

This is accomplished by a skillful blend of artistry in composition and arrangement, along with harmonious interplay by the individuals under Vincent's leadership.

No matter where it performs—at a military review, state fair, or a civic-sponsored event—the spirit of the band's music soon captivates the audience.

Long hours are spent by the band in its studios at the Scott Air Force Base, Illinois, preparing for its engagements. Vincent has definite ideas of the value of practice.

"I believe that music—like any art—requires constant performance accompanied by practice. Any musician who plays less than four hours a day, whether it be a concert or in a practice studio, will find it difficult to make the grade."

In a musical organization such as the Military Airlift Command Band, versatility is a key word. The band often is divided into smaller musical units—a concert band, a dance orchestra, or combos. It provides music for military or civic ceremonies, formations, honor guards, concerts and parades for band members, the most satisfying performances are given in military hospital wards.

The ability to adapt to practically any situation leads Vincent to comment, "I sincerely believe this is a superior band in every respect. It is a versatile, flexible organization, especially in its technical competence and musical artistry."

Most audiences are inclined to agree with this candid appraisal. The band is a unit of the United States Air Force's Military Command with headquarters at Scott Air Force Base, Illinois.

WSCS Trinity Holds Monthly Meeting

The W.S.C.S. of Trinity United Methodist Church held its regular meeting in the chapel on Tuesday evening, October 7. In the absence of the president, the vice president, Mrs. Orle Hobbs, presided.

The topic of the program was Let the Earth Bring Forth. Mrs. Florence Gruwell gave a quick glimpse in the U.S. of needs for equipment and vehicles for church and community workers in town and community. Eight different members presented the needs for property improvement in community centers in the U.S.; and Mrs. Henrietta Williams spoke of needs round the world for rural life training ministers. The devotional part of the program was presented by Mrs. Elsie Cursey, and an offering was taken for the Call to Prayer and Self-Denial which is annually observed in October.

The slate of officers for the next two years was completed by the elect on of Mrs. Christine Clymer for treasurer; Mrs. Anna Tucker for member of the nominating committee and Mrs. Marie Shultie for member of the membership committee.

Mrs. Ruth Gilstad, who has agreed to act as chairman of the Christmas bazaar to be held the first week end in December, reported on progress made to date, and reminded those present that this is a society wide endeavor, which it is hoped each member will support in every way possible.

Success is not possible otherwise.

Attention was called to the district meeting to be held at Asbury, Harrington, on October 15; and also the need for workers in connection with the UNICEF party to be held at the Century Club on October 30.

Flowers for the sanctuary for November, are to be furnished by members of the W.S.C.S. At this time there are two open dates. Any interested member may call Mrs. Virginia Shultie, telephone 398-3167.

WSCS Asbury Holds Monthly Meeting

Mrs. Lottie Deuble of Dover was guest speaker at the October meeting of Asbury United Methodist Church Woman's Society of Christian Service. Mrs. Edgar Graef, spiritual growth chairman was leader for the evening and presented Mrs. Deuble to the group.

The Ways of Prayer was the theme for the talk. Mrs. Deuble is a very soft spoken, but very sincere advocate of the power of prayer, and shared with her audience some of the ways that she and others have found God through prayer. Using the poem "Waiting" by John Barrows as a basis for her talk, she related the thoughts of the poem to those tenets so important to an effective prayer life.

At the business meeting which followed, Mrs. Norman Toadvine, president, told of the forthcoming district meeting of the W.S.C.S. which will be held in Asbury on October 15. All officers are requested to attend both morning and afternoon sessions, and all the members are urged to be present also, for one or both sessions. A luncheon will be provided. Luncheon reservations will be $1.50 and should be made with Mrs. Gary Home-wood before October 11. Mrs. James Moore will be in charge of the luncheon and would like the assistance of all ladies who can help.

UNICEF, the Trick or Treat collection by the children of Harrington to help other children in the world, will be taken on October 30 immediately after school. Mrs. Donald McKnatt is serving as chairman from Asbury in this joint venture with Trinity. Children from all churches are expected to assist. Drivers who will take the children to various sections of the community are needed. If you can volunteer to help, please call Mrs. McKnatt.

Envelopes for the Week of Prayer and Self-Denial have been ordered, but have not arrived as yet. Mrs. Graef has asked all society members to watch for them in the vestibule of the church and to take an envelope and bring it to the November meeting.

The annual bazaar at the Manor House, Seaford, will be held on November 5 and 6. A list of items that may be donated is on the bulletin board in the Collins hall. Mrs. Fred B. Greenly, Sr., is local chairman and will be glad to accept any gifts.

The Rebekah Circle, with Mrs. Charles Greenbaugh and Mrs. Hayward Quillen, leaders, served refreshments.

WAIT FOR FINES (Continued from Page 1) Mayor Satterfield explained, however, policemen would be getting $120 per week in April to conform to a state law. Under this legislation the City of Harrington will receive $5,400 from the state, which it is to match, for the improvement of the police department. The hiring of a policeman was because of the death of Arthur L. Marsan, a part-time patrolman.

Council accepted bid of $2,908.78 from Harrington Motor Company for a police car. It will keep its present car.

Council to study request of chief of police for advice on curfew and night prowling stipulated in the code. Says he is having considerable trouble on these matters.

HGTON. BOWLING

Wally's Garage jumped off to an early lead in their contest against Penn Central, getting a real fine effort from all members of the team, with David Ryan leading the way to a three-game victory. Penn Central was somewhat hampered in their contest, going into the fray with only four men. Raymond Baker and Bernard Coffman tried to even things up with above average performances for the railroad boys. Both teams need a couple good nights to put themselves into contention for the lead, with Penn Central and Wally's Garage trailing by only 5 and 6 games, respectively.

Bob Creadick paced Hamilton Funds in a three game sweep over Gallo & Stevenson in Tuesday night's contest with a fine 510 series. Burton Case just missed by one pin in the second game of earning a triple patch as he combined a fine effort with efforts by Jon Chapman and Wayne Creadick for the finance boys' victory.

Ernest Gallo continues to bowl well, rolling a very fine 201 game for the construction boys. Ernest Gallo Jr. and George Hobbs chipped in with nice above average performance to enable Gallo & Stevenson to capture one game of their setho.

Lake Forest Hockey News On October 3 the Lake Forest hockey field was visited by Laurel. The Spartans beat them by a score of 3-1. Goals were made by Juanita Garey with two and Beth Graham with one. The J.V. also beat Laurel by a score of 6-0. Goals were scored by Karen Besse-liu with 2, Joan Mason, Jean Price, Debbie Steele and Debbie Wyatt with one each.

Monday of this week, the Spartans played hockey at the Dover Air Base field. We left again with a score of 3-1. Diane Smith, Ben White, and Thea Quillen scored for Lake Forest. Our J.V. is doing great this year as they tallied up another winner. The final score was 2-0 with Debbie Schepp and Jean Mason scoring for the Spartans. So far this J.V. team has yet to be scored upon.

Please try to come out and support your hockey team. October 9, 13, and 23 there are home hockey games on the Lake Forest field starting at 4 p.m.

Peterson Approves

Half-Million Dollar Grant Governor Russell W. Peterson has approved nearly a half-million dollars in state grants to help nine Delaware communities strengthen their police forces.

The grants will be issued through the Delaware agency to reduce crime under a million-dollar aid-to-local-police law enacted by the general assembly this year. The law calls for the local communities to put up one dollar for every $2 in state funds.

The program fulfills a campaign pledge made by the Governor last year. He said the State aid would serve as an incentive for local communities to improve their police departments.

The grants range in size from $1,800 to Frederica for the purchase of radar and radio equipment, to $305,000 to the City of Wilmington for 11 projects, including the opening of a detoxification center.

The amount available to each community is geared to the size of its police department, with the larger departments eligible for more than the smaller ones.

The grants total $466,668. The communities, amounts of grants and how they will be spent, are:

Wilmington—$305,000, comprised of $75,000 for a detoxification center to be established in the Banton Building of Emily P. Bissell Hospital; $30,000 for community relations program; $22,000 for communications equipment; $12,000 for videotape equipment; $37,000 for auto equipment; $32,000 for research and planning; $15,000 for training and education; $15,000 as a monetary college incentive; $30,000 for civilian investigators; $20,000 for community service officers; and $17,000 for radar scrambling equipment.

Dover — $61,200, including $37,100 to add four patrolmen, uniforms and equipment, and two cars, and $24,100 for two detectives, equipment, cars.

Newark—$55,800 to convert a building into a new police headquarters.

Elsmere—$14,702, comprised of $7,291 to upgrade police salaries, $5,009 to add one vehicle, equipment and radio, and $2,402 for photographic darkroom equipment.

Rehoboth Beach—$9,420 to upgrade police salaries.

FENCE TALK

with George K. Vapaa

The Kent soil conservation district will hold a cooperative dinner at Capital Grange Hall in Dover on Thursday, 6 November starting at 7 p.m. The program to follow upstairs at 8 p.m. will focus on the farmland assessment act of 1968 passed by the State Legislature and related matters.

Everyone is invited to either part or both of these events. The meal ticket cost is $2.00 per person and may be obtained from these supervisors and others:

Isaac Thomas, Marydel, telephone 492-3174

Charles C. Blendt, Smyrna, telephone 653-9679

Alvin Brown, Milford, telephone 422-4263

Merritt Camper, Harrington, telephone 398-3762

William Paskey, Felton, telephone 284-4312

George Vapaa, Dover, telephone 736-1448

Fred Mott, Conservationist SCS, telephone 697-3376

Joseph Brinster, District Accountant, telephone 678-1391

Dr. William E. McDaniel, dean of the College of Agricultural Sciences at the University of Delaware will present the program. He, together with Joseph Penual of Milford and Ernest Zimmerman of Dover, is a member of the advisory committee which administers the act. The act is voluntary on the landowners part, and is designed to preserve open space with ordinary community growth.

Pineapples are on the skirts. Where once the United States (represented by Hawaii) was the world's leading exporter, our nation now is the world's biggest importer. So what does this mean for Delaware?

It is a case history of what can happen to any farm enterprise. Rising costs of production and processing, labor shortages, and foreign competition, may price us out of the market. And is.

One independent local tomato canner tells me he can buy tomatoes from southern Europe for $1 less per case than he can afford to pack them.

You have one chance in five of picking up an American can of pineapple in your local market. I don't know what the odds are for tomatoes at the moment.

Some of us are wailing the decline of railway passenger service (I have little sympathy for their present methods). The same for declining postal service as a whole.

Maybe we don't need any of these things very badly. Or perhaps we can be satisfied with substitutes.

It Seems To Me
By Janet C. Reed

It's not too soon to be thinking about a dress for the holiday party season. Never have we had such a variety of beautiful, glamorous fabrics for that festive party dress. And, you can really save money by making your own.

Brocades and matelasse fabrics, with iridescent colors and laced with metallic threads sparkle under evening lights. If either of these is your choice choose a simple style to show off the beauty of the fabric.

Cut all the pattern pieces in one direction only, and do match the fabric design at major seam lines. It will take a bit of extra time and fabric but it's one of the differences between an expensive or inexpensive copy.

You probably will find these fabrics are more comfortable with a lining, and if the metallic threads feel a bit harsh to the skin, use another fabric such as taffeta for facings. Ravelling seams are apt to be a problem, so run a row of machine stitching (straight or zig-zag) close to the cut edge.

Velvets are popular this year, and the subtle shadings and soft textures will tempt you. They require extra care in sewing and may give a few headaches before you are through. Velvet also must be cut with the pattern pieces in one direction, if you want all parts of the dress to appear the same color.

Choose a pattern with as few seams as possible. Test stitch fabric before stitching the garment. You'll probably need to decrease the pressure on the presser foot and also loosen the machine tension. Avoid any top stitching.

Finger press seams so you don't flatten the pile. To finger press, hold a steam iron several inches above the fabric, then mold the fabric gently

MORE THAN FIVE FEET OF SMOKES—Chris Wyatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin R. Wyatt, of 2011 Simmons St., stands beside his tobacco plant. ly with the fingers. Do not touch the iron to the velvet.

Crepe fabrics are ideal for softly draped styles. They also provide the background for jeweled and sequined trims. We are fortunate to have a wide range of easily attached trims to give that professional touch.

Even though this is the year to be lavish, it's easy to add "to much." It's always better taste to trim with restraint, but don't worry. If nothing else restrains you, prices will.

A trip to a fabric store will give you so many ideas, you'll wish you had half a dozen holiday parties to attend and a new dress for each one.

4-H Club Talk
with Marlon MacDonald

Parade time in Milford, Saturday, October 11, at 1:30 p.m. Kent and Sussex 4-H'ers will parade to close 4-H club week. About 200 4-H'ers will enter floats, group marching, individual entries, mounted groups, either on horseback or bicycles. Trophies will be presented to the top in the five divisions. All participants will receive ribbons. This is a cooperative program under the chairmanship of Mrs. Alene Walls, with the help of Mrs. Grace Tinley and Mrs. Frances Clinton.

Window displays have been displayed throughout Kent County by local 4-H clubs. Among the clubs entering the contest are Westville, display in V. L. Harmon's, Marydel; Woodside Emeralds, Penny's in the Blue Hen Mall; Peach Blossom, Andrew's Grocery, Farmington; Smyrna Blue Joy's, Smyrna Sporting Goods Store, Smyrna; Country Store, V. L. Harmon's; Dover; and the new Dover 4-H Club at the Diamond State Telephone Company, Dover; another club with displays are White Oaks (and Acorns), Hartly.

Achievement Program Kent County's Awards night will be held October 23, at Caesar Rodney Senior High Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. County and state awards will be the high light with 4-H scholarships, trophies, club leadership recognition and the Silver Cup presented by the Kent County Order of Links to the outstanding 4-H Club. All parents, 4-H friends, and 4-H'ers are invited. The county Links will hold a reception for all following the awards program.

Leaders elect officers. Kent County's leader organization have elected Gooden Warren Woodside, president; Mrs. Ruth Ann Messick, Farmington, vice president; Mrs. Delores Dion, Dover, secretary.

4-H council's new officers are Nancy Webb, Country Grove 4-H Club, president; Dana Gooden, Fox Hall 4-H Club, secretary - Treasurer. Program chairman, Becky Messick; recreation chairman, Chris Webb, Country Grove; and Kathleen Wiebel, discussion chairman, White Oaks.

Fragrant geraniums are used for flavoring jellies and they make excellent house plants.

But perhaps the most suitable herb for indoor potting is the classic rosemary, Lighty says. "It can even be trained in a fancy shape, if you want."

Take a second look at your summer herb garden and see what pleasure it can give you this winter.

Enjoy Herbs All Year

Your herb garden can be a source of spices—and enjoyment—all winter long, according to Dr. Richard Lighty, horticulturist at the University of Delaware.

You can successfully dry almost any herb in your garden; don't worry about a loss or change in taste. After all, most cooks regularly use dried sage, oregano, hot cayenne pepper—and many more.

Use dried herbs for more than cooking, though. Tie them in tight bundles and use them to decorate a dull area in your kitchen. Lightly suggests. "Dark opal basil, savory sage, thyme and dill all make decorative and fragrant dried bouquets."

However, there's still another way your herbs can give you pleasure throughout the winter. Some herbs can be brought inside as potted plants to make a kitchen window sill cheery and give you herbs for cooking, fresh for the cutting.

Chives are probably the easiest to grow indoors, but parsley isn't too difficult either. Parsley should be potted in a light, porous soil in at least a four-inch diameter pot. All pots should have a drainage hole in the bottom.

Common sage and pineapple sage are both good for growing indoors. So why not have fresh sage in this year's holiday turkey stuffing?

Or, try bushy thymes with white, silver or gold variegated foliage. Sweet marjoram

Outlook Good For Del. Livestock Farmers

Prices for beef cattle and hogs have been attractive to producers for almost three years — will they continue? Should Delaware grain farmers consider feeding grains to cattle or hogs rather than selling at harvest?

Efficient Delaware livestock farmers have a favorable outlook for next year, predicts W. T. McAllister, extension farm management specialist at the University of Delaware.

In the past few years, consumer demand for meat has been so great that livestock and broiler prices increased even though meat supplies went up. This is an ideal market, particularly if costs are fairly stable, McAllister says. "But will that demand continue to hold prices up?"

Demand for meat is related to the amount people have to spend and their willingness to use that money for a higher quality diet. Any reductions in livestock prices in 1970 may be the result of weaker consumer demand, he states. Inflation and the measures to cool the economy will be reflected in reduced consumer buying power.

Also, McAllister predicts a small increase in the supply of red meat next year and a substantial increase in poultry meat. These increases are in response to the favorable prices of the last two years and they will have some effect on prices next year.

The meat supply increase last year was about the same as the increase in demand due to population growth. Now, beef cattle breeding herds are growing slowly. The expansion of these herds has been about as rapid as economically justified, McAllister believes.

However, increased hog production has been below expectations in spite of an extended period of favorable hog-corn ratios.

Market prices that are attractively high are only one part of the picture farmers must consider before they decide to get into or expand livestock production. "Production costs must be considered, too," McAllister notes.

Farmers are bidding for a limited supply of feeder animals. That drives the price up to the point where much of the potential profit may be lost.

The 1969 feed supply is large but not burdensome, he adds. "Corn and other grain prices are expected to average a little above last year's level. Protein supplement prices may average a little less than last year. However, the total price for feed will probably be five to ten percent higher than it was this year—once higher labor, interest and manufacturers costs are added in.

Despite a weakening demand some increase in the meat supply, and somewhat higher costs, McAllister, nonetheless, predicts a favorable outlook for the efficient livestock farmer.

Sewing Contest For Delawareans

The annual make-it-yourself - with - wool contest is open to all Delaware women and girls over 10 years old, according to Mrs. Bette D. Butler, Odessa, state contest director.

Judging for all Delaware counties will be held November 22, with final state judging on Saturday, December 13. The deadline for entries is 10 days before county competion.

Four divisions will compete at the state level. Adults over 21 years old, seniors from 17 to 21, and juniors from 14 to 17 may enter dresses, suits or coats; girls from 10 to 13 years of age may enter skirts or jumpers.

If you're planning to enter, be sure you choose material that will be acceptable in the contest, advises Mrs. Butler. Mohair, cashmere, alpaca, llama, camel's hair, guanaco and vicuna are all accepted as wool.

The fabric may contain up to five percent of another fiber or fur and still be eligible. Also, interfacings, facings, linings and underlinings need not be wool. All-wool fabrics bonded to tricort or foam may be entered.

All contest garments must be made from fabrics produced in the U.S. The name of the fabric manufacturer may be necessary if there is doubt about the cloth being American-made.

State winners in the junior and senior divisions will compete in a six-state Mid-Atlantic regional contest. A junior and a senior regional winner will enter national competition held in Denver, Colo., in January, 1970.

Contest information and entry blanks are available from Mrs. Bette D. Butler, Box 107 Odessa, Del. 10731.

Sponsored nationally by the American Wool Council and the Women's Auxiliary to the National Wool Growers Association, the contest is sponsored in Delaware by the Delaware Sheep and Wool Association.

The reorganization of the Episcopal Youth Fellowship has been highly successful. A nice group of youths are meeting each Sunday at 6:30 p.m. This past Sunday evening after a serious discussion, officers were elected as follows: John Kinney, president; Elette Rice, vice president and representative to Kent county convocation; Diana Rosengre, secretary; and Roxann Mertz, as treasurer.

It will be the pleasure of St. Stephen's on Sunday, October 19, at the 10:45 a.m. service of divine worship to hear from H. John Dill who comes representing the Gideons. Those familiar with this organization know the splendid work that they do in placing Bibles in hotels, hospitals, convalescent homes, motels and many other such institutions as well as distributing in various foreign languages. Special donations will be made that Sunday toward the work of the Gideons.

Woodbridge Edges LFS In Grid Thriller

Lake Forest's football Spartans, played two and one-half football games without a touchdown from scrimmage. However, at Bridgeville Friday night, the Spartans emerged from their offensive doldrums and tallied three touchdowns in succession before yielding to Woodbridge 22-18 on a Blue Raider score in the last 90 seconds.

In the first period Woodbridge tossed an aerial from near midfield. A questionable pass interference call on Spartan speedster Ken Tribbett, gave the home team a first down deep in Lake Forest territory.

Steinmetz tallied from 16 yards out, followed by a two-point conversion run by Burns.

Lake Forest was unable to mount a sustained drive and trailed 8-0 at halftime.

After intermission, sophomore Spartan southpaw quarterback, Mike Davis, connected with an aerial to Frankie Daniels. The latter flipped a lateral to Tribbett, who sped for the score. The play covered 50 yards, a pass try for the tying points failed.

Tribbett put the Spartans ahead with a 35 yard touchdown run, on a reverse. The conversion attempt again was fruitless.

Davis tossed to Daniels. Frankie went 40 yards for the Spartan's third touchdown. Richard Deputy tossed a key block at the 15 yard line, that put Lake Forest ahead 18-14. An attempt by run for two more points was unsuccessful.

Former Greenwood High athlete, Curt Batson, put the game on ice for Woodbridge, by scoring the go-ahead points on a 35-yard run with 90 seconds left.

Lake Forest was not licked yet and almost pulled the game out. Daniels had a giant-size portion of bad luck in the waning seconds. He was in the clear but was unable to hold an aerial from Davis. Later, Woodbridge's Street recovered a fumble with 30 seconds left.

October 10th, Caesar Rodney's Riders come to Harrington. Bill Mulheisen's Spartans hope to utilize their recently-discovered scoring punch, in an effort to win their first game after three losses.

The Riders defeated Sussex Central last week, 14-6 after losing three times.

Chipman Harriers Continue Improvement

Jim Blades' W. T. Chipman School cross-country runners are getting better by leaps and bounds. These seventh and eighth graders are consistently posting better clockings, than many of the varsity runners, who come to the local course, can manage. Sometimes they beat a few of Coach Harold McDonald's varsity Spartans also.

Donald Woods, 8th grader, clicked off a snappy 15:30 the other night, bettered his own 15:51 and dropped 70 seconds in his last two starts. Chris Adamo, Ron Harmon, Terry Jarrell, Kevin Wooters, Jack Shulties and Kevin Lyons, all ran faster than ever before.

Harmon dropped 32 seconds, Jarrell 48, Wooters 44, Shulties 1:40 and Lyons 1:11. Jarrell is a smooth-striding mite, who may be a great runner some day. He went from 20 minutes and 30 seconds to 17:39 in two afternoons.

Finally the elementary boys who are training for 1970, are keeping the stop watches in operation less and less. Ronald Woods, a spidery sixth grader and brother of Donald Woods, clocked an excellent 17:40, an improvement of 20 seconds.

Wiry Howard Parker, age 10, is incredible to say the least. He took only 14 minutes and 55 seconds to traverse 2.4 miles. This means that, at this stage of the season, he is faster than eight of the Spartan's fifteen varsity runners, and the Spartans are undefeated.

Harriers Win at Cape Henlopen, 23-26

On Tuesday, Lake Forest cross-country Spartans remained unbeaten and atop the Henlopen Conference standings, by trimming Cape Henlopen High at Lewes, by a score of 23-26. The picturesque course used by the Sussex countians winds up a hill, overlooking the Delaware Bay.

Chris Wetherhold, the Spartan captain, clicked off a course record of 12:38, in outdistancing two of lower Delaware's premier distance runners, Aaron Price and Emary Howell, former Milton High standouts. Price was 36 seconds behind the flying Spartan leader who has now won 32 dual meets without defeat since 1966. Coach Harold McDonald's Spartans are 6-0 for 1969. A McDonald coached, cross-country team last met defeat, in this area, in 1967, some 23 meets ago. Wetherhold has set course records in Dover, Seaford, Lewes and at Lake Forest this campaign. We have lost count as to how many other course bests he owns, from previous seasons. His first varsity victory and course record was accomplished at Milton when he was a Harrington eighth grader.

Sam Bostick, a former Felton High athlete, has proven that you don't have to be from Harrington and you don't have to have extensive experience, in order to make it big in cross-country. Sam's best race and highest Spartan finish came at Lewes. He was the second Lake Forest harrier to finish and gave the classy Howell, a 4:37 miler, 2:03 half miler and 52.7 quarter miler, all the action he wanted. It's hard to believe that this 15-year-old Spartan can hold his own with so many older, vastly more experienced runners. Hard work, courage and perseverance is what it takes. How many more Sam Bosticks and Jerry Scotts are hiding in the student body at Lake Forest High? Maybe, Coach McDonald can come up with a couple more instant stars in 1970. Scott and Bostick have turned a good team into a championship outfit.

Brad Morris, Danny Hitchens and Jerry Scott ended Cape Henlopen's faint hopes of an upset, by taking the next three spots after Bostick.

Jackie Parker turned in his top performance of the season. The slender freshman was ninth in excellent time. He appears to have assured himself of getting a varsity letter this season.

Billy Walls, Gunnar Dale and Charley Brown finished 10th, 12th and 14th. These boys and Ricky Hamm (15th) probably exceeded their previous best efforts of the campaign.

Billy Stubbs and Dan Bell, two of the better Spartans, did not complete this time.

Jim Blades' W. T. Chipman Blazers had a fine team performance, as all eight junior school harriers ran well. Don Woods remained in the No. 1 spot with a swift 16:03 clocking on a very windy day.

Chris Adams was next in 16:36, followed by Ron Harmon, Terry Jarrell, Kevin Wooters, Jack Shulties, Tommy Lyons and Kevin Lyons.

A trio of elementary swiftness rode down with this writer and ran over the state park layout against Father Time. 11-year-old Mike Smith (15:37) and 10-year-old Howard Parker (15:40) had great work-outs. Ronald Woods' 18:47 indicates he will be an excellent runner for W. T. Chipman School in 1970.

Spartan Harriers Win; Wetherhold's Streak At 31

Chris Wetherhold recorded his 31st dual meet victory in a row and Spartan coach Harold McDonald saw his team win its 21st straight meet, as Lake Forest bested North Carolina of Denton, by a score of 18 to 40.

This 2.4 miles cross-country test took place at Killen's Pond State Park last Thursday afternoon. The course is located one-quarter of a mile east of Lake Forest High School. Both start and finish are situated near the new blacktop road, which heads south to the recently completed parking lot.

Wetherhold left all pursuit early and breezed around the hill-and-dale layout in 12:43, good time considering he was bucking a stiff wind for much of the distance.

Tyrone Adams of North Carolina was a distant second followed by "The Long Blue Line" consisting of Spartans Brad Morris, Danny Hitchens, Sam Bostick, Jerry Scott and Billy Stubbs. Hitchens sliced his personal best by 255 seconds to start to look like the talented runner he has been for five years. Rookies Bostick and Scott, the two Spartans who have caused this team to jell into an unbeaten outfit, run their fastest clockings yet. Billy Stubbs, No. 6 harrier in 1968 to 1969, chopped 28 seconds off his 1969 standard. Sprinter Billy Walls bolted past two Bulldogs to drop another 20 seconds.

Jackie Parker and Charley Brown just missed setting personal marks. The biggest improvement shown by varsity harriers was turned in by Ricky Hamm and Norwegian exchange student, Gunnar Dale.

Hamm, a sophomore from near Sandtown, had a 16:23 but emerged with 15:05. Dale sliced off a big 43 seconds. Both boys are new at this game and are doing very well indeed. Hamm should be ready to help fill the gap when Wetherhold, Morris, Bostick, Hitchens and Walls graduate in 1971.

John Gray's 15:53 was a good effort. Ned Parson improved by 43 seconds. Gary Anthony's clocking was his lowest yet.

Caesar Rodney comes here today (Friday, Oct. 10). Powerful Jim Waldbusser is undefeated this year and will attempt to halt Wetherhold's skein. Cape Henlopen will come here on October 14. On the 16th the Spartans will invade Milford.

More spectators are viewing the home meets this autumn. This is due, in part, to the proximity of the course to the school. Also, the unbeaten Spartan team and Wetherhold are drawing cards. Last the beautiful setting is an asset with the harriers in view much of the time.

Harrington Bowling League

By Leah S. Wheeler

People's Restaurant served themselves up a three game victory Tuesday night, with Jarrell Fuel the main course on the menu. The fuel boys made a good effort in their attempt to contain the victors, getting a one-game victory in the second game, but losing handily in the other two games and total series. The restaurant boys, having taken over the league lead, find themselves out in front by a two-game margin. Alan Young rolled a superb 553 series, with Cloyd Bushey coming on strong with a first game of 221 and a grand 546 series, and Stanley Smith contributed a very fine above average performance to lead the attack for People's. Dallas Hayman rolled a nice 543 series for Jarrell Fuel, but the big gun was Alvin Jarrell with a very fine 525 series effort, bowling way above his average for the night. The rest of the fuel team contributed above average performance also, but it was not enough to halt a determined quintet. Jarrell Fuel consoled themselves with the fact that they took over the second place in the team single category by rolling a grand 901 second game. People's Restaurant has improved immensely from last Season and are going to be hard to stop if they keep up their momentum.

Gerardi Bros. blew a good chance to put themselves out in front by falling victim to Quillen's Market. Gerardi Bros. had trouble putting a winning combination together and had to be content with a two-two split with the grocery boys. Stan Johnson rolled a nice 527 series with a 202 game included, with Daniel Pearson and Donald Jester rolling very well to help balance the defensive effort for the furniture boys. Edmond Kemp and Earl Quillen paced Quillen's in their win, rolling fine above average performances. The furniture boys bowled well as a whole, but had to give away 82 pins with each game, which proved to be their downfall. Even on the two-two split Gerardi's was able to move up into second place.

as Gerardi Bros.; having to split their opponent's 78 pins each game, but did not fare as well, dropping from second place on a four game loss to the Spoilers. Richard Wilson bowled a very fine 529 series, combined with fine efforts by Billy Morris and Leonard Outen to account for the scoring punch for the Spoilers. McKnatt's chose a bad night to bowl below par, dropping into third place, though they are in no means counted out in the battle for the lead. This team has the reputation of coming on strong when the chip are down and are not to be taken lightly. Having won the championship in the league and at the Milford lanes two years in a row, McKnatt's is sure to fare well again this season. The Spoilers, being adeptly named, are up to their usual tricks and are not to be taken lightly, and have moved up into eighth place, not far from the leaders either, as the league tightened up a little this week.
