

PASKEY DOESN'T FAVOR KENT LANDFILL CHARGES

A Kent County Levy Court commissioner doesn't favor the charges to individual householders at the county's three landfills for trash disposal, he revealed Monday night at a Christmas party of the Ninth District Democrat Club in the New Century Club building.

William Paskey, Jr., of Felton, after saying he was trying to change the charge system, said individuals were charged $1, for half a pickup truck load; $3, for flatboard trucks, and $1, for more than 100 pounds.

Individuals, living in or out of municipalities, pay no costs on loads of under 100 pounds at a county landfill. Municipalities, however, pay $5 per load for a packer-type trash truck. This week the City of Harrington started using a county landfill on County Road 384. The rates, Paskey pointed out, were set by the previous Levy Court.

Some persons, at the Monday party, did not favor charging municipalities for the use of county landfills, believing the cost would be reflected in City taxes. "I always think about the man who pays the bill," said the commissioner.

It was for this reason, he explained, he voted against a proposal to map Kent County from the air at a cost of $170,000. This measure was defeated, he said, by a party-line vote.

Present Monday evening was Frank Whitley, of Camden, a retired service man, who announced his candidacy for representative from the 33rd Representative District in next year's elections. The former Harrington resident, said he found no one actively seeking it, but hoped others would run to give voters a choice. He added he "had very strong feelings on state and national affairs."

Also president was Ronnie Dartling, of the First District Democrat Club, who hoped the district clubs would maintain closer relations and exchange worthwhile ideas.

An election of officers will be held at the local club's next meeting, Mon., Jan. 5, at 7 p.m., at the New Century Club. Present officers are as follows: President, Mrs. David Jones; secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Lare, and treasurer, Clarence Collins.

Two Delaware 4-H'ers Win National Honors

Two Delaware 4-H girls won nationwide recognition at the 48th National 4-H Congress, Chicago, this week. And they were sisters—perhaps the first time sisters have ever won in the national 4-H awards program in the same year.

That impossible dream came true for Joy, 18, and Dana Gooden, 16, Camden-Wyoming, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Dan M. Gooden, Rt. 2. Joy received a $600 educational scholarship in the Achievement program sponsored by the Ford Motor Company Fund, and Dana was awarded a $500 scholarship for her work in the Horse program sponsored by Merck & Co., Inc. Both were already named Delaware state winners.

The odds were a million to one against both Joy and Dana winning, Mrs. Gooden feels. "In fact, it was such an impossibility, I didn't even dream it could happen; when it did, I couldn't believe it. I still don't."

Winning 4-H honors is nothing new for Joy Gooden, a freshman home economics at the University of Delaware. In her seven years of club work, she has earned county honors in all of her many projects—which range from beef to public speaking, home improvement to horse.

City Plans Collection Of Delinquent Taxes

The City Council took a long and hard look at the delinquent tax list Monday night and came up with a solution the procrastinators might not like: The City plans to get in touch with their employers.

The decision came after City Manager Kathryn Derrickson spent approximately a half-hour reading a list of more than 300 delinquents, with Council members naming the employers.

Another maneuver could be the garnishment of wages. The Council made no decision on bringing cases to court, however, the City manager mentioned the costs would be excessive.

The delinquent taxes are on capitation and 72 on real estate. $6,259 is due on 1969 property and capitation taxes; $2,467 due back to 1965, said Mrs. Derrickson Tuesday.

In other business: Council learned Kuhn Construction Company, Hockessin, would be here Tuesday to test electrical equipment at sewage-disposal plant.

Council learned a federal inspection would be made yesterday of disposal plant and improvements to sewer system. This is necessary because of federal grants.

Heard from Grover C. Brown, City's solicitor, he had received a letter from supplier four pumps were scheduled to have been shipped Nov. 28 for the disposal plant.

Motioned that Edward H. Richardson Associates, the City's engineering consultants, give a price for surveying the City limits and placing monuments, or markers. The measure had been suggested by the State Planning Office.

Motioned parking be prohibited on the west side of Railroad Avenue from Mechanic Street northward to 113 Railroad Ave., or the property beyond that of Benjamin Emory Jr.

Considered dilapidated housing, with each Council member to list such places in his or her ward. The City solicitor is to check on procedure for eliminating these buildings.

Ordered letter from Mayor and Council members complimenting Jaycees on its Christmas parade last Saturday.

Mentioned annual election would be held second Tuesday in January. The three-year terms of Benjamin Hughes, Second Ward, and Grace Wanda Quillen, Fourth Ward, will expire then and neither said anything Monday night about their plans. The term of James Carroll, Third Ward Councilman, will also expire. He was appointed by Council last year to the office in place of Mayor Burton E. Satterfield whereby he would hold office until the next election. A candidate will be elected to fill out the one year remaining.

Candidates must file by Jan. 2. Petitions for candidates will be read at the annual citizens meeting the Friday evening before the election.

Agreed to check on sewer stoppage near Peoples Restaurant after its owner, Clyde Draper, appeared before the Council.

Motioned to advertise the city dump northwest of town for sale. The City began using a county landfill on County Road 384, near Brown's Branch, as of Monday. The State Board of Health and the State Water and Air Resources Commission had compelled the closing of the previous dump on County Road 279 which the City had operated since 1958.

Motioned in favor of a comprehensive plan for Kent County after Peter O. Brockstedt, chief planner of the Kent County Planning Commission appeared.

The federal department of Housing and Urban Development had informed the county unit that work on the county's application for funds for a comprehensive plan had been stopped.

HUD, which will pick up two-thirds of the total costs for the plan, refused to review the application further until the county could secure recognition as a regional planning unit from Kent Municipalities.

HARRINGTON'S NEW POLICE CAR—The Chevrolet arrived last week from Harrington Motor Company without a trade-in. The City will keep the older vehicle and use it for City business. We are growing.

Use Credit Cards Wisely

If using credit cards is part of your Christmas shopping this year, use them to your best advantage, says Miss K. Morris, extension home management specialist at the University of Delaware.

Most card plans permit you at least 225 days of credit without charge. So, if you pay your bills within 25 days of the date of your billing period, no finance charge will be added to your bill next month.

But, do you know when your billing period "closes"? This date is shown on each statement you receive. It may be a week or more before you receive the statement. (Continued on Page 8)

Fire Destroys Farm House

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a farm house on County Road 285 early Wednesday morning. Harrington firemen received a call at 1:40 a.m., and stayed on the scene until 4 a.m., assisting Felton Fire Company.

The farm house, occupied by the Wade Blankenship family, was gutted but outbuildings were saved. The family received shelter in a nearby trailer.

An Early Season's Greetings

Felton

Mrs. Walter Moore

Nov. 30th was the first Sunday in Advent. Rev. Charles M. Moyer's sermon was Prepare For His Coming. The anthem of the Junior choir was Children of the Heavenly Father and Mr. Nick Hobbs of the Senior choir sang a solo, A Voice In The Wilderness Crying. A new cross has been placed in the church. The cross was made by Edward Moore with the help of Arthur Walker. The Advent wreath is used in keeping with this season of the year for Christ. The wreath is the ancient symbol of victory and glory and is round symbolizing God's eternity. The greenery is a sign of ever new life. A purple ribbon is often added as a symbol of the royalty of the coming of the King. Each week a new candle is lighted which symbolizes our hope of his coming—both his first coming and his final coming, to establish the kingdom of God on earth. Advent is the beginning of the Christmas year.

If you are not in the habit of daily Bible reading why not start now? A worldwide Bible reading program from Thanksgiving to Christmas is designed to stimulate Bible reading throughout the year.

The Women's Society of Christian Service will meet Monday evening Dec. 8th in the Fellowship Hall at 7:30 for their Christmas program and party. Mrs. Charles M. Moyer will be the acting president and will be in charge of the program. Mrs. Richard Adams will be the worship leader. The hostesses for the evening are Mrs. T.L. Kates, Mrs. Reed Hughes, Mrs. Medford Killen, Mrs. John Dill, Mrs. George Gottual, Mrs. Moyer and Mrs. Adams. Members will exchange gifts at the party.

The Felton Community Christmas party will be held at the Felton Fire Hall, Saturday, Dec. 20th at 7 o'clock. Santa will be present with a treat for the children. The Felton School Band will be present to play for the singing of Christmas carols and other music. This project is arranged by the Felton Firemen and sponsored by the merchants, civic organizations and interested people of the town. Dispose of Excess Pesticides Safely

Attempts to ban or restrict the use of certain pesticides have created a problem for many farmers and home gardeners—"What should we do with these chemicals now in storage?"

The best way to dispose of pesticides is to burn them in an incinerator at a temperature of at least 1,800 degrees Fahrenheit, according to John S. McDaniel, extension chemical specialist at the University of Delaware. The incinerator should have water scrubbers to trap gases and vapors not destroyed by the heat.

If you can't dispose of excess pesticides, it's important to keep the material locked in storage until a safe method of disposal is available. Or, if it's a small quantity of pesticide, you may be able to use it up. Even chemicals like DDT will cause less of a problem when carefully applied to a particular area than disposed of carelessly.

When disposing larger quantities of pesticides, contact your local garbage collection service, says McDaniel. They may accept pesticides; burying them in an area remote from water. Do not remove the chemical from its container. Wrap the container in several layers of newspapers and put it in a tightly covered garbage can.

Where proper dump facilities are not available, you may be able to bury these chemicals safely by following certain procedures.

Select a dry area which has a low water table and is away from wells. Clay soils are usually much safer than lighter sandy soils for burying pesticides, points out McDaniel.

Dig a hole large enough for the container as well as the pesticide, in a single layer of soil. This layer should be at least 18 inches below the surface.

You will also need calcium (hydrated lime) equal in volume to the pesticide. Pour one-half of the lime in the bottom of the hole. Place the pesticide and container on top of the lime—making sure the container is open—and cover it with the remaining lime. Next, fill the hole with dirt making a mound on top so that water will run off to the sides.

When handling pesticides, always use the same precautions that would be taken if spraying, McDaniel stresses. Follow the directions of the label.

Glass and metal containers should be rinsed at least twice with water when emptied at spraying. The rinse water should be run through the sprayer. This will remove most of the pesticide remaining in the container and it is one of the safest means of disposal, adds McDaniel.

Puncture and destroy your metal containers, if possible. But do not puncture or burn pressurized cans, he warns. Also, pesticide containers should never be reused for other purposes. When properly rinsed, punctured or broken glass and metal containers should not create a problem if left for regular garbage pickup.

WORSE THAN WILD BEASTS

While the Harrington Jaycees put out their time, day after day, and the community assists with financial assistance, vandals persist in destroying Christmas decorations in the heart of town.

These persons, compared with whom wild beasts would be a credit, have stolen lights from a tree on a lot at the corner of Dorman and Commerce Streets.

Furthermore, these young punks destroyed a nativity scene on the corner lot last Thursday night and stole 20 light bulbs from the larger Christmas tree on the parking lot of Peoples Bank.

The annual Yuletide program is to observe the holiday season. Included in the festivities is the giving of fruits and candies to the children, and the presence of Santa Claus.

Vandalism of Christmas lighting, especially, has been going on from time to time, for years.

Christmas is mainly for the children. Persistence in wanton destruction of the decorations can only mean the children shall suffer.

It is our opinion a curfew should be enforced, as it is in some other communities.

HARRINGTON SOLVES ITS TRASH PROBLEM

After many years, the City government has solved its problem of trash disposal and, thus, has more time to devote to the multitude of affairs constantly confronting it.

Beginning Dec. 1, the City truck will carry the trash to a newly opened county landfill on County Road 384 near Brown's Branch. Approximate cost will be $5 per load and, City Manager Kathryn Derrickson estimates, probably six loads per week will be dumped, though she adds it may be more before long.

Thus, it appears the City will get a better deal than when it purchased the land and maintained its own dump.

The present dump, on County Road 279 west of Harrington, will be closed as of Dec. 1. It will be fenced and covered with dirt. The fence will be a six-footer and will give those noncitizens considerable difficulty when they try to dispose of trash. Anyway, an individual can deposit trash in dumps, maintained by the county, without cost.

But, getting back to the history of the trash problem. The City dump was formerly near the present sewage-disposal plant just east of U. S. 13. When burning trash sent smoke across the highway, a tract was purchased from Herman Emory west of town. When neighbors protested, the City bought its present tract.

Operation of the present dump entailed considerable expense pushing back the trash and covering it with dirt. But that is all over.

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller

WE SHALL NOT PASS THIS WAY AGAIN

Through this troubled world, alas!
 Once and only once we pass;
 If a kindness we may show,
 If a good deed we may do,
 To an aging fellow-man,
 Let us do it while we can.
 No delay, for it is plain,
 We shall not pass this way again.

We oldesters (eligible, male Senior Citizens) appreciate the effort put forth for our benefit at the new Senior Center and will try in our feeble way to show it.

The steps at the former site were a definite stumbling block that has now disappeared, thanks to our directors.

Treated Cones Burn With Colored Flames

To give added color to logs burning in your fireplace this holiday season, add chemically treated evergreen cones and bits of wood, advises Miss Coral K. Morris, extension home management specialist at the University of Delaware.

Safe chemicals to use when treating cones include copper sulphate which burns blue; calcium chloride, orange; lithium chloride, purple; strontium chloride, red; potassium chloride, lavender; and copper chloride, green. These are safe to use, but not necessarily safe to eat—so keep the chemicals and treated cones out of the reach of small children.

"When treating cones, work in a well ventilated room or out of doors and wear rubber gloves," says Miss Morris. Dissolve chemicals in a wooden, glass or plastic container using about one pound of chemical per gallon of water. Never dissolve chemicals in a metal container. Chemical action can easily destroy a metal container. Chemicals will dissolve more readily in warm water but there is no need to heat the mixture during use.

Fill a large open mesh or porous sack with weathered cones and bits of wood and submerge in the solution for several hours. Then let the cones drip dry. Be sure to use weathered cones, she cautions. Resins on many fresh cones will not allow the chemicals to penetrate readily.

Dip cones into only one chemical; you'll get dull, odd colors if you dip cones into several solutions. To get varied colors, mix cones after they have dried. Protect treated cones from the weather because rain and snow may leach chemicals away.

Treated cones and bits of wood make an ideal novelty gift for the family that uses their fireplace regularly, concludes Miss Morris. Put them in a mesh or polyethylene bag and tie with colorful ribbons.

Chemicals are available from chemical supply houses and at many hobby shops. Most hobby shops will order chemicals on request.

Potter's Field—By John Potter—We would like to take this opportunity to wish a very Merry Christmas to John L. Lewes. We want to wish him a Merry Christmas on behalf of the children of the miners he called out on strike. We also wish him a Merry Christmas on behalf of the kiddies of the thousands of railroad men who were laid off as a direct result of the strike. We wish him a Merry Christmas on behalf of the untold thousands of tiny tots who have been affected in countless families which have no immediate association with the coal industry, but who, nevertheless, are going to wonder why Santa Claus didn't bring what he promised.

We wish him a Merry Christmas for building up the miner's relief fund (those boys deserve it) so he could pull them out on strike and pay them a bare subsistence stipend until the fund was almost exhausted before he put them back to work.

We wish him a Merry Christmas in behalf of a family living in a drab, unpainted shanty in Nanty Glo, Pa., and the families in thousands of other coal mining towns just like it.

We wish him a Merry Christmas on behalf of the 26-year-old railroad man with a six-year-old boy who was sure Santa was going to bring him a bike for Christmas and will wonder why he didn't. Maybe John L. will explain it to him.

We would also like to wish a very Merry Christmas to the administration (party in control of federal government) regardless of party, that allows one man to be in the position to paralyze the industries upon which this country's very existence depends, with merely one word, STRIKE!

We would like to wish a Merry Christmas to the lobbyist, the grafters and the political con men who make it possible for one man to keep Santa Claus out of tens of thousands of homes.

We have gotten ourselves worked up to the point where we are beginning to get just a little bit sore with John L. and may lead to a couple of unprintable paragraphs, besides it isn't the proper Christmas spirit.

So, We wish Mr. John L. Lewes is a very Merry Christmas and we sincerely hope that his Christmas dinner gives him the dad-blamed case of acute indigestion that a human (or inhuman) being ever had.

Improve

Humidity For House Plants

House plants being moved indoors to escape winter weather usually require special care, reports Robert F. Stevens horticulturist at the University of Delaware.

In addition to higher temperatures and reduced light, humidity is relatively low indoors, he explains. In fact, the humidity of most houses is less than that of desert climates. With the exception of plants such as cacti and succulents, this dry atmosphere may cause yellow leaves, scorched leaf edges, poor fol-

It Seems To Me
By Janet Reed

What does your clothing say about you? Clothing is a form of communication whether we realize it or not. Does yours tell others what you want them to know? First impressions are especially important. We rely on clothing to help us form those impressions; they may not be accurate, but they tend to be lasting. Research studies show that first impressions of people's intelligence and personality are no more accurate than mere chance, but it is difficult to convince us that our first impressions are wrong.

At certain periods of your life, communicating by clothing is more important. During the teen years, we need to bolster our self-esteem and we seek acceptance by our peer group.

Clothing communicates a need for acceptance. The teen who is unpopular with his group may believe it's because of his clothing. Clothing may have little to do with his popularity, but it is easier to accept rejection on the basis of clothing than of self.

It appears that people are more immediately accepted if they conform to the mode accepted by their group. If you feel you are dressed acceptably, your self-confidence will grow and this affects your performance.

The individual who is unsure of himself or has low self-esteem will place more importance on clothes than the self-assured individual.

Clothing also assumes more importance as we move into strange situations. We want to convey to others that we are knowledgeable in this situation.

Then, what is the radical dress of young people of today communicating? Psychologists tell us that young people are rebelling against what they feel is too much importance placed on personal appearance. Their clothing is a protest against a culture that cares more for how a person looks than he thinks and feels.

Highest honors are brought to Kent County by the Gooden sisters. Joy and Dana Gooden, Wyoming, are named National Winners in 4-H this week. The daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gooden have been selected from hundreds of 4-H'ers to receive college scholarships. Joy receives her honor in the Achievement Program sponsored by the Ford Motor Company. Dana's honor is in the Horse Program sponsored by Merck and Company, Inc. The award selection was made recently in Chicago, based on their 4-H records submitted to a National Selection Committee in competition with records from throughout the United States. Joy's Achievement Award is based on her total 4-H record.

This Fox Hall Club member does not have a long list of first place honors in our County and State 4-H program, but rather has an active participation record. Joy has given to the 4-H programs and developed as a leader. These awards are based on personal development, citizenship and educational growth in 4-H.

Dana's horse record competed in one of the fastest growing 4-H projects in the nation. While competing against some midwest and western 4-H'ers who have opportunities in larger horse operations, Dana's record like her sisters is strong in participation in a variety of 4-H programs. Both gals have been active in the Kent County Junior Council. Joy was the 1968 Council President, while Dana has been secretary-treasurer for 1968 and 1969. Joy is presently attending the University of Delaware as a Home Economics freshman; Dana is a senior at Caesar Rodney High School.

Along with seven other Kent County 4-H'ers, these 4-H'ers are being feted at National Club Congress this week.

You can't come to the center because you will miss your stories? Forget it! There is a television donated in our living room, all hooked up, and ready to go. Also plenty of easy chairs in which to relax while you watch. Come and enjoy the comforts of home plus friendly companionship.

It has been advised, "Hold on to your money! That's about all it is good for these days." But at the last director's meeting it was voted to apply $600 of money donated and made at the supper to the mortgage on our house. This reduces the indebtedness to approximately $4,000.

Are you watching the thermometer? It maybe time for colder weather, but the thermometer in front of 102 Fleming Street is going higher all of the time.

Have you sent in that contribution you have been intending to send? Good intentions are fine but fulfilling them is better.

FENCE TALK
Francis J. Webb, Asst.

The American Age of Abundance. Many of us do not stop to think just how fortunate we really are living here in America. We have an abundance of all the bare essentials, such as food and fiber, as well as an abundance of many of the luxury items in life, such as color TV's, boats, dishwashers, and many others.

Why are we able to produce so many of these so called "fancy things in life"? Because five million farm workers in the United States produce enough food and fiber for 195 million Americans and 60 million foreign consumers. In other words one American farm worker produces enough to feed and clothe himself and almost 50 others. This means that 95% of the United States population is free to dream, to study, to strike, to launch rockets to the moon, to indulge in other wants and fancies.

This age of food abundance that we take for granted here in the United States is not a reality in Russia and other countries of the world. In Russia half of the population is required to produce enough food for the other half. In Communist China, a "guesstimated" 75% of the population is required for the production of the barest food essentials. These countries and many others do not have the unparalleled efficiency of agriculture as does the United States, to allow for most of their population to manufacture the luxuries in life.

Did you know that in 1900 every American family spent 40% of its disposable income on food. Today the average family spends only 17% of its disposable income on food. Also in the past 20 years, the average farm prices have gone down 9%. Hourly earnings of manufacturing workers have gone up 127% and corporate dividends have gone up 251%.

Today it requires only 1/4 of an hours earnings to purchase the same items it took 1 hour earnings to purchase in 1920. Yes, this is food and fiber power, USA. Let us all join the Psalmist in his thankful cry: "The earth has yielded its increase; God, our God, has blessed us."

Would you like an idea for an attractive and inexpensive Christmas gift. Well, how about a terrarium.

Terrariums are miniature wild gardens enclosed in glass. They are easy to assemble and will grow luxuriantly for months with very little attention. The main purpose of a terrarium is to create a small woodland scene. It is practical and inexpensive way to bring some of the outdoors into your home for enjoyment during the winter.

The glass enclosure may be any container that transmits light; globes, fish tanks, and large brandy glasses often are used as containers.

Many native and cultivated plants are suitable for growing in terrariums. African violet, maranta, begonia, coleus, ivy, philodendron, mosses, ferns, and seedling evergreens are commonly planted in terrariums.

Start assembling your terrarium by washing your container with strong detergent until it is clean. Place a layer of moss to line the sides of the container below soil level with the moss against the glass. Add a layer of small stones in the bottom for drainage. Then add a layer of soil mixture composed of equal parts of clean sand and peat moss or leafmold. To make it a little more attractive you can mound the soil to one side of the container to make a slope.

Do not use too many plants in your terrarium. Even though the plants are small and will grow slowly, they will need plenty of room.

Now insert your plants into the soil mixture; with long tweezers if they are necessary. Try to avoid getting soil on the leaves. After the plants are in place, clean the leaves with a dry brush. Then spray the plants and soil lightly with water.

Cover the container with a sheet of glass or a piece of clear plastic film.

Place the terrarium in a location where it has bright light, but never any direct sunlight. Turn the terrarium occasionally so the plants in it grow uniformly.

Water the terrarium only

Delaware Food Market Report

The hams, turkeys, roasts of any type of meat that we eat here in America may be eaten with confidence that it's safe, wholesome food, if it has been inspected.

This sense of security, amplified by Federal and State implementation of new food laws, stems largely from an inspection organization in the U.S. Department of Agriculture that has matured along with the growth in America's meat packing and poultry processing industries.

Involved are about 3,050 people. They include about 5,880 food inspectors, 1,475 veterinarians, and 700 management, laboratory, and other support personnel. The inspectors are stationed in 4,150 meat and poultry plants across the country.

Last year the inspectors examined 100 billion pounds of meat and poultry products marketed across state and U.S. borders. They condemned as unfit for food 383 million pounds of poultry and meat products, 370,000 meat animals, and about 35 million pounds of meat and meat food products. They refused entry into the United States or condemned 21 million pounds of foreign meat products. To insure that products were truthfully represented to the consumer, they reviewed about 100,000 different meat and poultry product label designs, rejecting about 2,000 that didn't accurately state the contents of the package.

This program goes even deeper since it involves plant sanitation, health of employees and of course the health of all livestock and poultry moving into slaughtering plants.

These are a few of the reasons it is so important to buy meat that has the blue-purple seal of inspection assuring each buyer the meat he has bought is good, wholesome and above all, safe to eat. This week look for a number of cuts of beef to be on special sale. Steaks are down

Lake Forest Edges Milford, 27-26 In Thriller

Ask many sports fans in this area which team they would rather beat and usually the answer is Milford. Before consolidation, Harrington people would rather see an H.H.S. team win over Milford because the neighboring town was much bigger. Victories over smaller schools like Greenwood or Felton weren't quite so tasty.

On Thanksgiving Day, former students from Harrington and Felton Highs, ganged on the Buccaneers and made them walk the plank by a score of 27-26.

The contest, played at Milford, inaugurated a Thanksgiving rivalry, between Lake Forest and Milford. The outcome was in doubt right up to the final whistle. The two teams may never again engage in as exciting a Turkey Day struggle, as was this opener of the new series.

Milford ruled the favorite because they had fared better against three of the four common foes. The Bucs had clobbered Dover Air's Falcons 42-7, while the Spartans edged the Birds by only 12-7. Milford had laced Caesar Rodney 25-2. The Riders then outscored Lake Forest 20-8.

Form held up in the early stages. Milford threatened to have a romp, as they moved out to a 12-0 lead. The first TD, came on a 22 yard run by state scoring champion, Bruce Watson, after a long gain on a pass competition, set up the score.

Dale Motter, a great football player this day, saved another tally moments later. A Buc runner was headed for the end zone but Motter, the last Spartan, floored him at the 30, inducing a fumble, recovered by L.F.H.S.

Immediately the hosts posed a third threat. A Spartan aerial was picked off, then a Milford throw found an open receiver who obliged by dropping a sure six-pointer. Ron Allen caught a 22-yarder on the next down. 3 plays gained 11 yards into the end zone.

Motter, who has deceptive speed, changed the complexion of the contest by dashing some 80 yards to Milford's one yard line. Sophomore quarterback Mike Davis, sneaked across the wide stripe. Frankie Daniel's kick was good and the Spartans were close at 12-7.

A low hard inside kick went straight at a Milford lineman, who should have ducked for the bullet ricocheted off him right back into the charging Spartans. A break followed as a Davis pass bounced off a defender and a Spartan caught it for a gain. Motter took a pitchout to Milford's 44. Ken Tribbett, another terrific performer last Thursday drove hard for 14 yards on two tries. Davis pitched out to Rick Porter for 15 yards. A penalty moved the ball from the 14 to the 9 yard line. Tribbett scored in two attempts.

Dan DeMora, went up after a Davis aerial, on the extra points try, juggled the ball, then came down with it, just barely in the end zone. Lake Forest led 15-12.

Jenny Jones, MHS quarterback completed two passes as Milford drove into Lake Forest territory. Another throw looked good but a would-be receiver turned the wrong way and Tribbett picked it off.

DeMora gained 40 yards to Milford's 35 on a pass from Davis. Milford intercepted in the end zone.

The Bucs tumbled the ball away on their 27. Tribbett carried three times and bulldozed to the 7. A picture play saw Tony Burton, on a tackle-eligible formation, all alone in the end zone, as Davis hit him with a quick pop over the middle.

The Spartans couldn't get the point after in two tries. Spearheaded by Watson, Milford came roaring back. Watson gained 60 yards on five runs to reach the end zone. Jones went to the air twice during the series but he overthrew one open man and another dropped the pigskin. Jones connected with Kittrell on a two-pointer, that brought the count to Lake Forest 21-Milford 20. 45 yards in penalties were levied on three straight plays, later. DeMora nabbed a 23 yarder to reach Milford's 35. Motter speared a Davis toss, two downs later and added 18 yards to the 12. DeMora made a great, key catch as he leaped high in the end zone, caught half a pass, then outwrestled the Milford defender, who had the other 50 percent.

Leading 27-20 with time running out, it happened that the Spartans were home free. Such was not the case. The Bucs blocked the P.A.T. kick, then completed a pass for good yardage to Lake Forest's 47. Watson hit to the 36. A throw was good to the 19. Another pass and a line plunge gained 10. Watson got seven of the last nine yards, including the touchdown.

Trailing 27-26 with 1:25 left, Milford went for the win with Watson attempting to back over the two-point try. The battered, reeling Spartans stopped the 6 foot, 185 pounds inches away from the wide stripe.

Milford's inside kick-try looked successful, as it hit one Spartan and then a Buc, but the Blue, Gold and White got the ball. Dale Motter was taken to the hospital with a possible shoulder separation that happily, turned out to be only a bad bruise. When his football jersey was stripped off, at the bench, a cloud of steam rose from his body. Boy! Did he play a game? Ken Tribbett was carried, writhing, from the field, but returned to action, moments later.

The Bucs got the ball in time to complete a pass, but Chester Scott intercepted a desperate throw with 13 seconds left.

Lake Forest salvaged a respectable season by winning its last four outings, all by margins of six points or less, to emerge with a 4-5 log.

Plans are underway to secure a railroad bell to be used as a rotating trophy in the Milford Lake Forest, Thanksgiving Day Service. Little did we think the Spartans would be displaying this award for the next 12 months. Therefore, it behooves us to quickly obtain this prize and install it in the trophy case.

Meanwhile, Coach, Bill Muelheisen has already secured the game ball, lettered it, with the game's score and placed it under glass, for all to see.

Seniors ending their scholastic grid careers at L.F.H.S. were John Brown, Dan DeMora, Lenny Donovan, Pat Gibson, Louis Kemp, Roger Klapp, Chester Scott and Ken Tribbett.

Since Lake Forest's jayses under Jim Hogsten and Elliott Workman had a fine season, 1970 could see a winning Spartan record.

Howard Parker Wins Third 1969 Race

Howard Parker of Mechanic Street in Harrington doesn't get to run in many races because of his youth. But when he does get the chance to compete, he makes his presence known.

The sixth grade pupil at Lake Forest South Elementary School was 11 years old on Oct. 25th. He had previously won two races in Wilmington against older opposition. These were cross-country races in Rockford Park, Wilmington, over distances of 1.25 and 2.3 miles.

Delaware Track and Field Club, of which this writer is a member, gives both young boys and girls, a chance to compete in track and cross-country. This club staged two races at Killen's Pond State Park this past Sunday afternoon. With two 15-year-olds harriers in the lineup, it would not appear that an 11-year-old would have much chance.

Parker clocked 15.20 for 2.4 miles. Don Woods, 13, of Harrington did a fine job with a 15.45 clocking. His brother Ron Woods, another 11-year-old sixth grader, was next. Terry Jarrell, 12, was fifth.

These boys are all good prospects. The Woods brothers practiced together last summer and were able to beat boys, several years older, this fall.

Harrington Bowling League

Well, once again there is a new leader at the helm of the Harrington Business League as Jarrell Fuel made a clean sweep over Quillen's Market in Tuesday night's fray to move one game out on top of the league. Howard Tibbett rolled a real fine 500 series, with Preston Carmean adding a good above average effort, and getting a fine first night effort from Robert Jarrell was responsible for the move to the top by the fuelers. The grocery boys' John Winkler bowled very well in defeat, coming through with a good 508 series. Earl Quillen rolled well for the market boys with a very good above average contribution.

McKinnat Funeral Home lost some of their steam they had last week and fell victim to Bulter's Fuel in Tuesday night's contest. Donald McKinnat rolled a very good 522 series, but it was not enough to keep McKinnat's from dropping three games to their opponents. Setting the pace for Bulter's was Larry Larimore and Charles Brown who turned in fine above average performances.

Gerardi Bros. and Wally's Garage battled to a two-two stalemate with Hank Wheeler setting the pace for the furniture boys with a grand 566 series, including a real fine 213 game Jim Francisco and Donny Jester also contributed good above average performances to help keep Gerardi's up close to the top. Aiding in Wally's win were good performances by Norman Woodall, David Ryan and Larry Breeding.

People's Restaurant is doing well in this third also as they took Penn Central in three games to move in contention for the lead. Frank Collins rolled a fine 207 game, included in a grand 555 series effort, with Norman Clough rolling an above average series, and Cloyd Bushy rolled a fine 202 game to aid in the restaurant boys victory. Kenny Baker rolled well for the railroaders to help enable them to eke out a single game.

Leonard Outten set the pace for the Spoilers as they crushed Hamilton Funds to come out victors of three games. Outten came through with a great 538 series, with a very good 203 game included which was combined with a great effort on the part of Richard Wilson who rolled a very fine 519 series, and a good effort on the part of John Shaffer. The loss for the finance boys was hard to take when one considers the fact that all five men bowled above their averages for a real team effort.

Gallo & Stevenson denied the cellar spot Tuesday night by trouncing Taylor & Messick for four games. George Hobbs rolled a very fine 508 series and Ernest Gallo, Jr. rolled very well to set the pace in the construction boys' victory. Taylor & Messick on their loss dropped way down the ladder into eleventh place, tho they have nothing to worry about having won the first third. Course, they cannot afford to do too much coasting if they wish to maintain their individual averages.

accurate on short or long shots. Reports from Easton indicate that Copper's departure from the Talbot County School caused a lot of weeping and wailing-by Jim Lawson, the Warriors basketball coach.

At North Carolina High on Tuesday afternoon, Refosco unveiled his 1969-70 model and the Maryland spectators were soon looking and asking, as the Spartans put on a great show, out classing the home team by a near 2-1 margin. Moore and Copper tallied at will. Clever Mike Fisher and John McCloskey, 7 5 repeatedly stole the ball and intercepted passes. Both Fisher and McCloskey are capable of 30 points a night, on occasion. With four top scorers, the Spartans should do well this winter, even against teams like Dover, Smyrna, Milford and Seaford.

Bob Wyatt seems to be the fifth starter. David Newnom and Jack Warrington are the top reserves, at present. Football players, Mike Davis, Dan DeMora, Frank Daniels and Tony Burton will be tough, when they round into form.

Sam Bostic and 6 feet, 4 inch Jerry Scott have seen a lot of practice time. Other aspirants are Ned Parsons, Curt Powell, Roger Jarrell, Leslie Berry and Curt Bowers.

Refosco plans to carry 12 players, so with 18 candidates six heads will soon get the ax, or axe, if you prefer.

Art Refosco Is Loaded

This doesn't mean that the Lake Forest High coach has been imbibing too much of the liquid of the grape. Rather, it means that his basketball team is of high caliber with plenty of high-velocity ammunition.

Refosco, in a sense, is on the spot. If he doesn't meld this talent into a winner, critics will say he doesn't know his business. If he gets a winner some will say "why not! Look at all the horses he has!"

Top gunners are Chris Moore and Ken Cooper. Moore has tallied over 1,100 points in three years. He can slack off this pace somewhat and still surpass the 1,515 points racked up by Bunny Blaney of Newark in the 50's and thus became the most prolific scorer in Delaware scholastic history. We'd like to see a Spartan get this coveted No. 1 rating.

Ken Copper, a tremendous basketball player from Easton High has transferred into the Lake Forest School District. Copper has more moves than an Egyptian belly dancer. He is not tall, perhaps 5-10, but can dunk the ball and block shots. He is

In other plans, the interest rate for next month's bill is applied to all of this month's balance if you don't pay in full--no matter how much you do pay. Obviously, the second plan costs you more in finance although the interest rate is exactly the same. Which method of figuring is used for your credit cards?
