

QUILLEN ANNOUNCES MEETING TODAY ON WIRE TAPPING

A joint House and Senate investigation will be launched today into the alleged wire-tapping and related incidents at the offices of the state Game and Fish Commission.

The formation of a joint investigative committee was announced Monday night by Rep. George R. Quillen, R-Harrington, who heads the House Natural Resources Committee.

Quillen said members of his committee would join forces with Sen. J. Donald Isaacs, R-Townsend, who is chairman of the Senate Fish, Oyster and Game Committee. Both committees oversee the affairs of the Game and Fish Commission.

Isaacs earlier had announced that he would ask his committee to begin an investigation into "all aspects of the commission's activities." He received expressed support from Reynolds DuPont, R-Greenville, the president of the Senate.

Quillen said Isaacs had agreed with him to combine their forces and that the hearings would be open to the press.

Both Isaacs and Quillen said the hearings would look into the wire tapping allegations as well as the April, 1969, Mating Flight, made by John W. Whitby to Long Island to breed his Labrador retriever.

At that time, Whitby was president of the Game and Fish Commission and billed the flight to the commission, signing the voucher himself. He is still a commission member.

$400 Stolen At Farmington

Charles Price Jr. Hurt in Accident

Charles Price Jr., 44, of Harrington, was the first person injured in a highway accident in the Dover area in 1970.

According to state police, Price was traveling south on US 13 south of Camden at 1:30 a.m., New Year's Day when another car came through a crossover, struck Price's vehicle in the rear, and left the scene of the accident.

Price was treated at Kent General Hospital, Dover for cuts of the head and face and bruises of the knees and released.

Police are searching for a damaged white Lincoln Continental involved in the hit-and-run accident.

At 6 p.m. Monday an unidentified man entered Andrews Store at Farmington, of Sussex Routes 61 and 314, walked behind the counter, took a purse containing $400 in receipts and fled.

Marian Andrew, 66, told police the man was wearing a hooded sweatshirt and blue jeans, with the hood pulled over his face. Investigation is continuing and State Police have a lead to the identity of the man wanted for grand larceny.

HHS Alumni To Meet Wed., Jan. 14

The Harrington High School Alumni Association will meet Wednesday, Jan. 14, at 8 p.m. at the W. T. Chipman Junior School cafeteria.

Zimmerman Introduces Conservation Bill Of Rights

House Minority Leader, Jacob W. Zimmerman (D-East Dover) announced today that he has introduced legislation to provide Delaware with a Conservation Bill of Rights. He stated, "The people have the right to the cleanest possible environment. Under the guise of progress and economic necessity our environment is being steadily and possibly irreversibly destroyed. This road to oblivion must be reversed immediately."

"Laws and regulations have been adopted in an attempt to combat this travesty of nature. But there has been no underlying basic principle in the written law to unify these statutes. An unquestionable government policy, clearly stated, which will guide us in this fight for survival, is absolutely necessary."

Zimmerman said, "To accomplish this goal, I have drafted in the House a bill, which in effect, is a Conservation Bill of Rights. It proposes to amend the State Constitution by adding a new section to the Bill of Rights, reading:

"The people have a right to clean air, pure water, and to the preservation of the natural, scenic, historic and esthetic values of the environment. Delaware's natural resources, including the air, water, fish, wildlife, are the common property of all the people, including generations yet to come. The State shall preserve and maintain these resources for the benefit of all the people."

Zimmerman stated, "The presentation of this amendment to our Constitution, challenges the Delaware General Assembly to express its" (Continued on Page 4)

Sex Education And Parents

"Sex Education and Parents" will be the title of a three-part conference now being planned for Dover. Parents throughout Kent County are being invited to take in exploring the family' role in the teaching of young people.

The meetings will take place Jan. 22 and 29 and Feb. 5 at the Dover High School Auditorium.

Cosponsors of the series are the Blue Hen Mall Ministries, the Mental Health Association of Delaware and the Kent County Mental Hygiene Clinic.

Among the speakers will be Dr. Priscilla Keeler, director of the new Charles L. Terry Children' Psychiatric Center, Fernhook.

Each of three sessions will feature a talk on problems and motives of children and youth. The talks will then be followed by a period for audience questions, comment and discussion.

Each meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. An admission fee of one dollar will be collected at the first meeting for each couple or each individual however, are asking area parents to register early by writing to the Blue Hen Mall Ministries, Blue Hen Mall, Dover; or by phoning 674-9006.

The kick-off session will hear Psychiatrist Leon Robinson of the Eastern Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute, Philadelphia. Speaking on "The Family Setting," he will outline the variety of ways by which values are taught to young people.

Dr. Keeler, on Jan. 29, will draw on her wealth of experience in child psychiatry to discuss "Sex and the Growing Person."

City Agrees to Submit Fluoridation Plan For Water By End of March

The City of Harrington will submit a plan for fluoridation of its water supply by the end of March or the first of April, it was decided Monday night by the City Council in its last official meeting.

After City Manager Kathryn Derrickson had read a letter from the State Board of Health demanding the measure, Mayor Burton E. Satterfield replied, "We'll have it."

The water of the state's municipalities is scheduled to be fluoridated, under an act by the Legislature, by 1973, as a deterrent of dental caries.

The Council had been requested for fluoridation plans some time ago, but had decided to "play it by ear."

In other matters, the Council voted to authorize Dale Phillippi, superintendent of public works, to begin working full-time Tuesday at the new sewage-disposal plant. Though it was not deemed necessary, the Council suggested a five-year tenure of employment. Meanwhile, the Council will toss into the laps of the incoming Council how to manage the street work. Some of the immediate chores Phillippi will have to handle at the disposal plant are as follows:

To grade a former nearby dump, put topsoil on it, and seed it; solve a problem of chlorination, and check on equipment. He will be compensated for use of his pickup truck, but the terms will be determined at the February meeting.

Phillippi, who has been trained to operate the disposal plant, was given his hurry-up order after it was revealed an inspection was made by the State Water and Air Resources Commission, the City's consulting engineer, Dudley Willis, and a representative of the Federal Water Pollution Control Authority.

Federal and state grants are involved and may be curtailed until corrective measures are fulfilled. Then a letter must be sent to WARC which, in turn, will send it to Washington.

In other business, the Council acted as follows: Appointed Robert Martin, of Dover, retired master sergeant in the Armed Forces, as full-time patrolman. He will be on probation two months at $80 per week. There were two more applicants, both from Dover, present at the Monday meeting. Their names will be kept on file.

Appointed Robert Wilson as director of Civil Defense for Harrington on the recommendation of the Kent County Department of Civil Defense of which William M. Murphy Jr. is head. Wilson is active in the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company. The previous local director was Councilman Wilson G. Bradley who had been appointed during the term of Mayor Luther P. Hatfield.

ABRAHAM DECKTOR DIES AT HOCKESSIN

Abraham Decktor, 81, of Lancaster Pike at Loveville Road, Hockessin, died Tuesday, Dec. 30, after a long illness.

He resided at Hockessin for the last three years, having previously lived at Harrington where he conducted a mercantile business for 45 years. He had been retired for the past 10 years.

Besides being in business here, Mr. Decktor, who lived on Clark Street, operated a shoe store and a dry goods store on South Walnut Street at Millford.

He was known as a scholar of Hebrew and a maker of violins.

Mr. Decktor was a member of Adas Kodesch Shel Emeth Congregation. His wife, Mollie, died in 1966.

He is survived by two sons, Herman of Wilmington and Dr. Philip Decktor of Hockessin; a daughter, Mrs. Arnold Miller of Philadelphia; a brother, Jacob Decktor of Wilmington; a sister Mrs. Olga Isbit of New York City; nine grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Services were held last Thursday afternoon at the Schoenberg Memorial Chapel, 519 Philadelphia Pike. Interment was in the Jewish Community Cemetery on Foulk Road.

In lieu of flowers the family suggests contributions to a favorite charity.

AFS Host Family Wanted

The beginning of the year 1970 will signal the beginning also of increased activities of the American Service Harrington Chapter. President Thomas Peck this week reminded members of the committee that several important events will be occurring in the near future.

Foremost, because of the time element, will be the selection of the host family for the 1971 Foreign Exchange Student for this area. Anyone wishing to apply for the privilege of becoming that family may call Mr. Peck. Several forms and letters must be sent to the New York office by February to assure the assignment of a foreign student by the summer months. The previous host families would be most willing to tell anyone of the fine experiences they have had in past years.

Annual Citizens Meeting Friday Night Will Find No Election Contests

The annual citizens meeting Friday night will be confronted with three petitions revealing no contests in the municipal election.

The gathering, at 7:30 p.m., at the Fire House, will hear the annual report of Mayor Burton E. Satterfield, check the City's annual financial statement, and hear the petitions for councilmen.

George W. Vincent, 224 Delaware Ave., will be unopposed for councilman in the Second Ward where the incumbent, Benjamin Hughes, did not choose to run. In the Fourth Ward, William Minner is unopposed, replacing Grace

Wanda Quillen. Both candidates will serve the usual three-year terms. In the Third Ward, James N. Carroll, Jr., 104 Grant Street, is unopposed to serve the two years remaining in the term of Burton E. Satterfield who resigned last year to run for mayor. The election will be held Tuesday, Jan. 13, at the City Hall. The usual hours are from noon to 7 p.m., but the time is expected to be curtailed because of the lack of contests.

The Election Committee is Alderman Lawrence Price and Councilman John Satterfield and Wilson G. Bradley, with Jack Aptt as alternate.

Teachers Ask 10 Per Cent Hike in Pay

The president of the Wilmington Federation of Teachers yesterday proposed to Gov. Russell W. Peterson that he work for a minimum 10 percent teacher pay raise this year.

James Warnick, president of Local 782, American Federation of Teachers, said after a meeting with Peterson that the 7.5 percent increase Peterson has proposed for teachers is "inadequate."

Warnick said Peterson's proposed pay hike "just barely meets inflation and the cost of living. The least it (Continued on Page 8)

His tenure of office begins at the end of this month.

FARMINGTON HAS RASH OF TRAILER FIRES

John M. Hurd Jr., deputy state fire marshal, has been called in to probe the cause of a fire early Tuesday morning which swept through a trailer home just north of Farmington.

Fire officials reported Mrs. Margaret V. Ziegler, 47, who lived alone in the mobile home said she smelled smoke shortly before 2 a.m. and got up to see the living room portion of the dwelling in flames.

Volunteers firemen from Farmington said the 10x50-foot trailer was fully involved in flames when they arrived at the scene at about 2:10 a.m. Mrs. Ziegler managed to escape through a rear door.

Hurd is also investigating similar fires late Friday night and early Saturday morning in which two vacant trailers, adjacent to the one which burned Monday night, were destroyed.

Arson has been listed as a strong possibility in the first two fires, according to Hurd, who declined further comment until his investigation is complete.

All three trailers are owned by Clarence Collins who lives nearby.

FENCE TALK

Francis J. Webb, Asst.

If you have a little spare time on your hands now, mid winter is an ideal time to fertilize your shade trees. However, you should do this chore when the soil is not frozen. Feed the root system with 2-5 lbs of a 10-6-4 fertilizer per inch of trunk diameter by perforating the entire dripline of the tree with holes about 18 inches deep and 2 feet apart. A hand augur drill is preferable to a crowbar because the crowbar causes soil compaction. If you do not want to drill holes even though it is best, the fertilizer can be spread on the soil surface under the dripline, but no fertilizer should touch the bark of the tree trunk. If you drill holes distribute the fertilizer equally among the perforations, then fill them with equal parts of topsoil, sand, and peatmoss. This mixture provides aeration and water access as well as filling the space. The chore of fertilizing trees can be performed until early summer, however, mid winter and early spring is the best time for most trees.

Since the poinsettia is the favorite plant given for Christmas gifts, here are a few tips to help you keep your plant healthy and growing. Place the plant near a sunny window, where it will get the most available sunlight. Keep all plant parts from touching the window, because the cold window could injure the plant.

To keep your plant in bloom maintain a temperature of 65 to 70 degrees Fahrenheit during the daylight hours and move it to a 60 degrees Fahrenheit temperature, if possible, at night. Try to avoid exposing the plant to hot and cold drafts which may cause premature leaf drop.

When watering, examine the soil surface, when the surface is dry to the touch, water the plant until the water runs freely out of the bottom of the flower pot. If you use a flower pot container, discard the water which accumulates in it. Do not leave your poinsettia standing in water because this will cause permanent damage. On the other hand, a wilted plant, from lack of water, may drop its leaves prematurely, so try to keep the plant well watered. If wilting does occur, water the plant thoroughly once to moisten the entire soil, mass, then again after five to ten minutes.

If you follow these few and simple instructions, your poinsettia will stay healthy for months and carry the atmosphere of Christmas on into January, February, and March. If you would like more information on poinsettias, contact the Kent County Extension Office. (Call 736-1448 or write P. O. Box 340, Dover, 19901.)

Corn and soybean producers should reserve on their calendars: January 15th, for the Lower Shore Corn Meeting and February 12, for the 4th Del-Mar-Va Soybean Meeting. These will be very educational and interesting meetings featuring the latest research in crop varieties, weed control, disease and insect control, fertility, marketing aspects, and many other pertinent topics.

The Lower Shore Corn Meeting includes the three lower counties in Maryland and the two lower counties in Delaware and any one else that's interested in attending. The meeting will be held at the Salisbury Mall, starting at 10:00 a.m. and will cover interesting topics dealing with the realm of profitable corn production. Topics such as marketing alternatives for Delmarva corn growers, no-till corn, and many other subjects will be discussed.

February 12, is the date for the 4th Annual Soybean Meeting at the Wicomico Youth and Civic Center, Salisbury, Md. Soybeans for the Seventies will be the theme for this year's meeting. Speakers such as Carroll G. Brunthaver will cover the topic, Outlook for Soybeans in the 1970's and other subjects such as financial management, weed control, planting rates, and many others will be covered by well known researchers and specialists.

You will not want to miss these meetings. Here is your chance for new ideas for more profitable corn and soybean production.

It Seams To Me

by Janet Reed

If your dress size has stayed the same over the past several years, your figure hasn't. Its generally believed that the fashion industry in recent years has been down-sizing some of its merchandise, thereby flattering the American woman's ego.

Today's young adult woman is taller, heavier, bustier and leggier than any previous generation of American females. A recent study indicates the average woman today is 5 ft. 4 1/2 inches tall and weighs 126 pounds compared with the hour glass girls when the average was 5 feet 2 and 114 pounds.

Much of this change is due to better diets, more nutrition knowledge and to wholesome exercise.

All this has meaning in the fashion world. For some time now, manufacturers of ready-to-wear have been down-sizing their merchandise as customers on the average have been getting bigger.

Most observers of fashion see an element of vanity in all of this. They say "every woman likes to think she's able to get into a girlish size dress." Makers of better dresses have known this for a long time.

In more recent years, makers of less expensive ready-to-wear and of dress-making patterns have followed suit.

Over the years, a gap developed between the size of patterns and the size of ready-to-wear, forcing a woman to buy a size 12 pattern if she wanted to make what was considered a size 10 dress. Changes in pattern sizes mean that they now conform more nearly to ready-to-wear sizes.

As dress sizes come down to size 5 - and 3 - and even 1, I wonder where we go from a size 1.

ment. Drop-in hoods that are neatly hidden inside the collar when you don't need them are both fashionable and practical. So are those handy pockets here and there to store goggles, pin money or even makeup.

Parka length is up to you; choose your jacket long or short, at hip level or just below the waist. Ski jackets today are leaner and trimmer—belted or straight—to give the ski bluff extra dash and extra freedom of action.

Whatever you choose, says Miss Reed, make sure the jacket lining gives you adequate protection against wind and wet snow. For all its good looks, your parka is only as good as its lining. Interlinings with polyester fiberfill insulation give warmth without weight and serve as a permanent shield against melting snow.

You may not know a snow-plover from a schuss, but you'll look like a pro in today's skiwear if you choose an outfit that's long on style and comfort—and full of color. This year's jackets get their fashion excitement with gay colors in all-over stripes or brilliant borders.

With jackets like these topping lean stretch pants—put on a pair of thermal longjohns underneath for practicality—you'll be ready to take on all weather and all fun the snow country can serve up.

ASCS Launches Management Training Course

Two state officials of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will attend a management training course beginning Jan. 5 in Baltimore.

Lister V. Hall, Jr. and Donald W. Campbell, managers of the Kent and Sussex county ASCS offices will join 19 county managers from New Jersey and Maryland for the two-week program.

Having completed 34 correspondence tests in the management development program, Hall and Campbell will receive additional training in the principles of management and human relations.

In announcing the management program, William H. Brady, state executive director of ASCS, says the courses recognize management as a science.

"Sound administration requires that we effectively manage all our basic resources, programs, funds, equipment, facilities and people. We know that a common understanding of good management and improved practices of supervision will enable us to operate farm programs under more uniform concepts, understandings and principles," he adds.

To conduct the classroom courses, ASCS has employed Dr. Steven Carroll, University of Maryland, Dr. Hall P. Eastman, Rutgers University; Dr. Sheldon L. Freud, American University; and Dr. Dennis Ray, Mississippi State University.

Fun Ski Fashions

Skiing is the most popular winter sport, and it's no wonder. Snow country is where the action is and where the fashion scene is, too, according to Miss Janet Reed, extension clothing specialist at the University of Delaware.

If you're planning to spend your first weekend in ski country this season, you'll soon realize that, on the slopes, that's pure fashion is no substitute for skiwear that's 100 percent weather proof. Skiing's no fun if you're chilled to the bone.

When you're choosing your new parka, look for double knit storm cuffs to shut out icy blasts; two-way front zippers and underarm gussets will provide ease of move-

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller

THE PERFECT GIFT

Each brought his gift to the altar, Where, in his crib, the Christ Child lay; Gifts of rich and stately splendor, Kindly gifts in grand array.

Some there were who were not gifted, With the wealth that others claim, But each gave his worldly portion, With a card that bore his name.

One there came to the altar, No earthly goods with which to part, But the Christ Child had already received it, The perfect gift, a Sinless Heart.

Christmas Sonnets

Mrs. Brobst's Reading Class On Christmas Eve we were excited, When all the candles were lighted. At last we are under the spread, "Can you hear the bells?" I said. Then we were all so pleasant Tomorrow we'll get so many a present. On Christmas Day we rejoice— I sing at the top of my voice. Saint Nick delivers me a gift Which gives me such a lift! At once we go out to play, All of us shouted, "Hurray!" Finally the New Year is here. I hope Christmas will come next year!

KEVIN PECK When Santa comes to town He will come down Upon your roof You may even hear the hoof Of Rudolph, the reindeer. You better keep your chimney clear So Santa can get through. Although I think you know That Santa will bring presents Even to the peasants. So—don't be dumb And say he won't come Because you better believe He'll be here on Christmas Eve! STEVEN LANE When we wake up and see the toys We see all the happy girls and boys Boys and girls pop out of their beds, They go down hills with their new sleds. Then you see each little tyke Riding around on his new bike. The father goes with his two sons Hunting with their brand-new guns. Then the baby as he wakes up Comes down to play with his new pup. Next comes father with a bright eye. Showing off his brand-new tie. Then last—but not least Comes our wonderful Christmas feast! NEAL SMITH Christmas Day we run down the stair Into the living room and pull out a chair. I sat down and opened my present wide I bet you can't guess what I was inside. When I opened it guess what I saw What I saw was a great big ball. A great big ball all shiny and red. When I saw it, guess what I said. I said I would play with it all day. I went outside and began to play. Isaw on the porch a great big present. I realized then that I hadn't opened my other present. When I went in, I liked them all— But what I think the best I liked the ball. CINDY HOPKINS Christmas comes on the twenty-fifth When each boy and girl gets a gift. When Santa Claus comes to town He goes and looks around. When Santa is in his sleigh He is all happy and gay. When he lands on the roof You can hear each reindeer hoof. When he was in the house There came a little mouse. He put all the presents under the tree And hoped the children would be wild with glee. Up the chimney he rose With the twinkling of his nose. RONNIE TIBBITT I wonder if the sun will show On the bright morning snow On Christmas Day I hope and pray That today will be bright and gay. We thank him for the Christmas presents And for the Christmas Day pheasant. We want to play with all our toys And sing our songs full of joys. We hung the wreath on the door And dropped the ribbons on the floor. Father got his brand new car He said he would go near but far. My sister tied her new scarf in a knot She turned it over and found a spot. BRIAN MANGES Asbury W.S.C.S. News The snows of Tuesday evening did not daunt the spirits of some 40 women of Asbury Women's Society of Christian Service. They braved the storm to attend the first meeting of 1970 in Collins Hall. Their efforts were not unrewarded for Mrs. A. B. Parsons presented a most interesting and informative program on the women of the Bible for whom the 10 Circles of the society are named. Devotions for the evening were given by Mrs. John Edward Jones and pertained to the concept of standing at the door of a more stately mansion and the question—What will it be like, and how will we make it into a more wonderful mansion this year? Taking part in the program of the Circle names were Mrs. Earle Nelson, leader of Deborah Circle. She mentioned that the story of Deborah is found in Judges and that she was a prophetess. Esther Circle of which Mrs. Fred Powell is leader was explained by Mrs. Harry John Dill, Jr. She told of the 10 Chapters of the Book of Esther and the story of the orphan Jewish girl who married a king. Mrs. Mark Willey, leader of a new Circle named for Hannah related that the name means Grace and is told in 1st Samuel. The Book of Ruth is a perfect example of story-telling in the Bible. The tale of her devotion to her mother-in-law Naomi, is well known to students of the Bible. Mrs. Carroll Welch told this story. Dorcas Circle with co-leaders, Mrs. William Walls and Mrs. William Brode was named for the woman in the Bible who was returned to life after death. Mrs. Brode was the narrator. Mrs. Edward Taylor told of Lydia, a "Seller of purple goods," from the works of Paul as he visits in the churches he helped to start. Priscilla is the name of another new circle in Asbury W.S.C.S. Mrs. Charles Greenhaugh told her life as related in Acts, Romans and 1st Corinthians. Mrs. Haywood Quillen is co-hostess. From Genesis, Chapter 24, Mrs. Thomas Porter told of the life of Rebekah, wife of Isaac who was found by a servant of Abraham at the well. Her identity was revealed to the servant by a sign from God. Mrs. Ethel Bull is co-leader of Rebekah circle. The story of Martha was read by Mrs. Welch in the absence of Mrs. Frank Derickson. The sister of Mary and Lazarus who displayed great faith and abiding love in Jesus, Martha is a very well-known figure in the new Testament. Mrs. Parsons whose circle is Mary was last, but not least in the program. The story of Mary was read from the books of Luke and John in a new translation of the new Testament. A poem A New Day, written by George Hudson, a Delaware poet, was followed by a guideline for making New Year's resolutions from an article by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale closed the program. Mrs. George Mahony read the article by Dr. Peale. Mrs. Norman Toadvine, president, thanked the members for attending the meeting. She also read a Christmas letter from Mrs. Dukes, District President of the W.S.C.S. Three new members were announced by the circle leaders; Miss Gayle Umphlett to Deborah circle, Mrs. William Ward to Rebekah and Mrs. Lee Graef to Martha. The new program books have been printed and will be distributed to the members during the next few weeks. The next meeting will be February 3rd, with Mrs. Charles Peck, Jr., as leader for the Pledge Service.

Mrs. Bertha Reed of Magnolia and Mrs. Gooden Voshell of Wyoming spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Houston Short. Mrs. Lillie Kirkendall was the weekend guest of Mrs. Lydia Cooper in Camden. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hatfield were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Quill in Wilmington on Sunday. Billy Hughes of Kirkwood Gardens, Wilmington spent the weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Reed Hughes. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hatfield and family, Laura and Marc from Mt. Tabor, N. J., spent Friday and Saturday with his parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hatfield and Larry. Students from Felton area returned to the University of Delaware, Newark, after the holidays were, Pat Carlisle, Marion Markowitz, Chris Phelps, Wanda Bull, Jane Roland Eleanor Roland, Fay Markowitz, Garry Warren, Rodney Fletcher, Larry Hatfield, Sherman Stevenson, Jr., and Thomas Price. Cathy Adams, a senior has returned to Salisbury State College, Salisbury, Md., after Christmas vacation. Karen Haldeman who attends Longwood College, Farmville, Va., has returned there after being home for the holidays. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Alcorn of Cedar Crest, Wilmington, were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Lillie Blades and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Torbert.

Delaware Food Market Report Now is the time to look ahead and well into 1970. What about food prices, supplies and quality? Right now, retail food prices are easing up a bit. They will probably stay fairly stable during the winter months. However, more markups may transpire next spring, but nothing remarkable. Look for considerably less of a rise than we went through last spring. The nearly 5 percent hike

Felton Mrs. Walter Moore John Wesley's Covenant Service was conducted by Rev. Charles M. Moyer on Sunday morning. The Junior choir anthem was Somebody Bigger Than You and I. Mrs. Smith Roland and Mrs. Jay McGinnis of the Senior choir sang a duet. He. The altar flowers were in memory of Russell Torbert. Rev. Moyer's message was Following of the Way. Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Greene joined church and their two young children were baptized, they were Pamela Elizabeth and David Lawrence. Stephanie Lynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCullough were also baptized, and Mrs. Roy Dill Jr., also joined church. Mrs. Helen Harrington is a patient in the Kent General Hospital, Dover. Mrs. Orella Wilson is also a patient in the Kent General Hospital. This Sunday, Jan. 11th will be the dedication of Sanctuary Cross at the Felton Church. Jan. 11th the Methodist Youth Fellowship sub-district meeting will be held at Smyrna Church. The Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet in the Fellowship Hall on Monday afternoon, Jan. 12th at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Charles Harrison is acting president for the afternoon. Mrs. Charles Bostick Sr., is in charge of the program and Mrs. Marion McGinnis is the worship leader. Mr. and Mrs. Houston Short have returned home after spending some time in Orlando, Fla., with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Short and son. Mr and Mrs. William Smith of Salisbury, Md., spent Tuesday and Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Reed Hughes. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lockerman of Denton, Md., and Mrs. Milford Kline of Hillsboro, Md., visited Mr. and Mrs. Ola Brittingham Monday evening of last week. Several persons from Felton and area attended the funeral of Mrs. Walter Redman of Clayton. The services were held at the Berry Funeral Home at Felton, Dec. 31st. Interment was in Mt. Olive Cemetery near Sandtown. Mrs. Redman will be remembered as Miss Mabel Voshell, who was born and reared near Mt. Olive Church. Mr. and Mrs. William L. Masten of York, Pa., spent the weekend with Mrs. Elizabeth Cahall.

in food prices for 1969—balanced against an even steeper boost in the overall cost of living—still is notable. It about equals 1966's record of 5 percent, and exceeds 1968's mark of 3 1/2 percent and all other gains of the past decade. What about all of 1970? Much obviously depends on moderation of inflation and the general economic growth rate. The consumer is in for some abatement. If so, gains in food prices may range around 3 percent. Food spending for 1969 should total around $104 billion. This would represent about 16.5 percent of the total disposable personal income. Continued declines in this share (it was 16.8 percent in 1968, 20 percent a decade ago) mean that incomes have gone up faster than food bills for most of us. 1970 should show another drop in the share, already the lowest on record and below those of other countries. What about price prospects for major foods in this new year? Meats this winter may show little further change. Bargains on beef and pork cuts will probably be fewer. Pork supplies are reduced, and growth in beef output is barely keeping pace with demand. Lamb output, dwindling for the 10th straight year, signals continued price strength. Chicken production booms. Prices should be more attractive than they were last summer. A small drop in egg supplies this past year and a good pickup in demand lifted egg prices dramatically. In Sight: no bargains but perhaps some price moderation. Another coffee price boost is likely. Recent increases at wholesale will be passed on. All kinds of fruits are bargains. Citrus crops look beautiful barring any freezes. Noncitrus items, too, are plentiful. Look for price breaks in processed as well as fresh fruit items. Continuing gradually upward are prices of dairy products, cereal and bakery goods and sugar and sweets.

Felton Avon Club News The first club meeting of the new year will be held at the Felton Fire Hall, Jan. 14th at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. Erwin Richter will present a program on home life. Mrs. Richter's committee for this program are Mrs. Marion McGinnis, Mrs. Clifford Johnson, Mrs. Harry Sipple and Mrs. Larry Legates.

Use Certified Seed of Recommended Varieties

Farmers planning next season's crop program are reminded that planting certified seed of recommended varieties you are using the best seed available, says Dr. William H. Mitchell, University of Delaware extension agronomist.

Seed cost is only a small fraction of the total cost of producing a crop. For example the cost of seed is only about two percent of the total cost of producing a ton of alfalfa hay. So you can't afford to plant low-quality seed, stresses Mitchell.

Recommended field crop varieties have demonstrated superior performance, compared to other varieties. But to receive the benefits incorporated into these varieties you must plant seed of known varietal purity, and using certified seed assures you that the variety is pure. Certified seed is not more than three generations removed from foundation seed and has been tested for purity. The Delaware Crop Improvement Association supervises the production and processing of certified seed, notes Mitchell.

In addition to varietal purity, certified seed must be high in germination and meet strict standards for freedom from weeds, foreign material and other crop seeds. A tolerance is established for all certified seed. For example, the minimum germination allowed for soybeans is 80 percent, but individual lots may have higher germination.

This means that some certified seed is better than others, so study the analysis tag to determine the quality factors for each lot.

For additional information on recommended varieties, copies of Field Crop Variety Recommendations for Maryland and Delaware are available from county agents in Newark, Dover or Georgetown.

1969 Statistics Released

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has released its annual summary of agricultural data for 1969.

Agricultural Statistics, 1969 has been compiled as a reliable reference of agricultural production, prices, costs, supplies and income. Comprised of over 600 pages of information, it contains tables on land use, food consumption, foreign trade, numbers of farm workers and crops produced in other countries.

In addition, the authors have included tables on price support programs for wool and mohair; number of participating farms and payments received under the cotton, feed grain programs; index numbers by farming regions of cropland used for crops; and volume and estimated value of futures trading for major commodities. Copies of Agricultural Statistics, 1969 are available for $2.75 each from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

The Rev. and Mrs. William A. Davis and son, Shaun of Roanoke, Va., were house guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allison Davis during the Christmas holidays.

On Saturday evening after Christmas, the Rev. and Mrs. William A. Davis and son, Shaun of Roanoke, Va., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dennis, Jr., and Lanny; and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Davis and daughters, Cindy and Anjanette, were hosts to dinner at The Village Inn, Little Creek, in honor of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allison Davis' 40th wedding anniversary.

Sergeant David L. Pearson arrived at Dulles Airport in Washington to spend the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pearson of Greenwood. He returned to his base at Ft. Sill, Okla., on Jan. 3.

Christmas Day guests for dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pearson, Richard and Donna Kay, were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pearson, Sergeant David Pearson of Greenwood, and Mrs. Pearson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Baker of Goldsboro, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Yeako motored to Magnolia on Wednesday before Christmas to spend the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Terry Freer and daughter, Sherri. On Christmas Day, their son, Jimmy, who is stationed at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas, called to talk with them. He will finish his basic training and graduation will be Jan. 9.

Lt. John Williamson of Wright - Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio, joined his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Williamson for an eight day visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bennett and daughter, Michele, of Newark, also joined the Williamson and other members of their family for the holidays.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Williamson and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Williamson enjoyed dinner together. House guests of Mrs. Helen F. Maloney for the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Snyder of Long Island.

Kiwanis Club News: A week before Christmas, the Kiwanis Club held their annual Christmas party. All members were present with their wives except one.

The group was served the traditional turkey dinner by the Firemen's Auxiliary, Mrs. Donald Pearson, chairman.

Following the dinner, President Henry Peters expressed words of welcome and presided for the introduction of guests. Vice President, John Dorfee, Jr., presented as his guest, Miss Virginia McDowell and Arthur Tatman presented his guest, Mrs. Delema Smith. Other guests were Mrs. Anne Tucker, Mrs. Miriam Lord and Mrs. Jeanette Sadowski.

The meeting was put into the hands of Louis Draper, chairman of the committee for the affair, who presented Miss Grace Porter. Miss Porter, with friends presented an excellent and well-received musical program with some audience participation. Assisting Miss Porter were Mrs. Nancy Morgan of Seaford, Mrs. Lou Reynolds of Bridgeville, and Mrs. Leon Donovan of Milford.

Mrs. Reynolds led five members of the Woodbridge School chorus in some well-presented musical selections. In this group were Betty Palmer, Stephanie Betz, Carol Benner, Dorothy Wheatly, and Lynn Reynolds.

Expressions of approval left no doubt as to the appreciation of this program.

Assisting Louis Draper in arranging the affair were Charles Elliott and Alvin Mills. Each lady received a useful gift in a case with the Kiwanis emblem.

Many gifts were brought for Operation Reindeer which would provide a good Christmas for our less fortunate firends at Stockley.

Memorite News: Open House for the 40th wedding anniversary of Vernon and Verna Zehr is planned for next Sunday, Jan. 11, from 2 to 6 p.m. Everyone is welcome.

Congratulations to Eblen and Darlene Chisenhall on the birth of their first child, Yvonne Annette, Jan. 1st.

Edna Schalebach has just returned from a stay in the hospital. She can enjoy some company and letters and cards are very welcome.

Chicken Cooking Contest To Offer Biggest Prizes Ever

The 1970 National Chicken Cooking Contest will be offering the biggest prizes ever to be awarded as part of this event. The contest has been in operation for 22 years but has reached unprecedented proportions this year.

Cooking will be in two divisions with the same set of awards for each category. First prize is $5,000, second $2,500, third $1,500, and fourth $1,000. Everybody who cooks in the finals will receive $11 and a trophy. Transportation to and from the cook-off finals as well as room and meals while there will be paid by the Delmarva Poultry Industry association.

The only difference in the two divisions is age. Junior Division is for ages 8 to 15. Adult Division is for 16 years and older. Any preparation method or cooking equipment is acceptable in either division.

All that one needs for entering is a written recipe for broiler-fryer chicken and an entry blank. The entry blanks lists the rules and gives some samples of previous winning recipes.

Basically the rules are:

1. Chicken must be 2 - 3 1/2 pound size.
 2. Preparation and cooking time must not exceed two hours.
 3. In addition to chicken, recipe must contain Mazola oil or margarine.
 4. Recipe must have an entry blank attached.
- The recipe should not be too complicated or the procedure too involved. In-redients used with the chicken should be things that the average homemaker is familiar with and probably has on the kitchen shelf. Exact sizes of bottles and cans should be listed. Cooking times and temperatures must also be stated.

With everybody eating more and more chicken, there is a need for new and different ideas for cooking, but they must be such that everybody can do and enjoy.

The recipe may feature chicken that is whole, halved, quartered, or cut-up, or just legs, breasts or thighs, etc. From a recipe reading and rating, one Junior Division entry and one Adult Division entry will be selected from each state for actual preparation for a final judging by nationally renowned food editors and home economists. Recipes must be prepared in the finals by the persons submitting them and exactly as submitted.

Entry blanks are in grocery stores and supermarkets throughout the United States but can also be obtained by writing National Chicken Cooking Contest, Rt. 2, Box 47, Georgetown, 19947. Deadline for entering is February 14th.

Contest is sponsored by the Delmarva Poultry Industry association. Cook-off finals will be held in Princess Anne, Md., June 12 and 13 as part of the Delmarva Chicken Festival.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church

Calendar of the week of January 8, - January 15. Tonight, Thursday 7:30 p.m. - Vestry meeting. Friday 8:00 p.m. - Order of St. Luke Meeting at Wesley Methodist Church, Dover. Sunday 8:00 a.m. - Holy communion. 9:30 a.m. - Church school. 10:45 a.m. - Morning prayer, confirmation and sermon. 12:00 noon - Reception for new communicants and for Bishop Mead. Monday 3:30 p.m. - Brownies. 6:30 p.m. - Dinner meeting of Sunshine 4-H Club in parish hall. 7:30 p.m. - Women of St. Stephen's monthly meeting in lounge. Tuesday 6:30 p.m. - Boy Scouts. Wednesday 7:30 p.m. - Healing service. 8:30 p.m. - Choir rehearsal. It was announced today by the Rev. Quay D. Rice, vicar of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, here that this Sunday, January 11, the Rt. Rev. William H. Mead, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Delaware, will make his yearly visitation to St. Stephen's Church, where he will perform the rite of confirmation and preach at the 10:45 a.m. service. In addition to being first of all a preacher of the Word of God, we read in the Book of Common Prayer that "the office of a bishop is, to be a chief pastor in the church, to confer holy orders (to ordain); and to administer confirmations." It is the last of these functions that Bishop Mead will perform this Sunday morning at 10:45 a.m. in the Episcopal Church, as in the entire Anglican Communion, only a bishop has the authority to confirm. Confirmation is the rite of renewing the solemn promises and vows which were made at one's baptism. After those who are to be confirmed have done so, each of them kneels before the bishop who lays his hands upon the head of the confirmed and prays the confirmation prayer. The word "confirmation" is not found in the Bible, but in several places in the New Testament, we read that after baptism, the laying-on-of-hands were administered. Also there is an abundant evidence of this rite in early church history. Those to be confirmed are Mr. and Mrs. John Pinkine, Madelin Hoff, Angela Nored, Robert Nored, Jr., Rocky Kessler, Charles Walters and Rodney Wyatt. Following the Service of Divine Worship at which time this class is to be confirmed, there will be a reception for the bishop and the class.

Second Lieutenant Susan G. Buckley, (right), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur J. Buckley, 21 Steward Court, Dover, receives a pen and pencil set and a letter certifying her achievement as honor graduate from the Women's Army Corps Officer Basic/Officer Candidate Class Dec. 12, at Ft. McClellan, Ala. Presenting the awards is Colonel Maxene B. Michel, commandant of the Women's Army Corps School at Ft. McClellan. During the 18 weeks of training, she was instructed in Army administration, leadership and related subjects, and went to Ft. Benning, Ga., to observe demonstrations given by the Infantry on Army weapons. She has now become qualified to assume command and staff responsibilities to her rank. David W. Masten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Masten, 248 Delaware Ave., Harrington, was promoted Nov. 19 to Army specialist four while assigned to the 3d Infantry Division in Germany. Spec. 4 Masten is a gunnery in Headquarters Company, 1st Battalion of the Division's 15th Infantry near Kitzingen. He entered the Army in April 1969, completed basic training at Ft. Bragg, N. C., and was stationed at Ft. Dix, N. J., before arriving overseas in September. The 22-year-old soldier was graduated from Harrington High School in 1966 and received an A.S. degree in science in 1969 from the University of Newark. His wife, Phyllis, lives at 113 Fleming St., Harrington. Army Private Paul R. Carter, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Carter, Route 2, Felton, completed a light vehicle driver course at Ft. Folk, La., Nov. 28. During the eight-week course, he was trained in the operation and maintenance of military vehicles up to and including the two and one-half ton truck. Instruction was also given in the operation of the internal combustion engine and chassis assembly. Pvt. Carter entered the Army in July 1969 and completed basic training at Ft. Polk, La. He was graduated from Felton High School in 1967. Specialist Four Richard L. Powell, 22, son of Colonel and Mrs. Wade N. Powell, 3319 Hemlock, Dover, completed the Pershing ballistic missile digital computer repair course Nov. 26 at the U.S. Army Missile and Munitions School, Redstone Arsenal, Ala. The 26-week course provided him with a knowledge of the operation, and maintenance and repair of the ballistic missile digital computer. Thomas P. Potter, 22, son of Mrs. Helen M. Potter, Route 1, Bowers Beach, was promoted to Army specialist five Nov. 28, while serving as an equipment repairman in Headquarters Battery, 4th Battalion of the 62d Artillery, at Ft. Bliss, Tex. The specialist's wife, Barbara, lives in El Paso, Tex.

Windbreaks Can Increase Your Indoor Comfort

When strong winter winds howl against your windows, it's easy to recognize the value of a well-designed windbreak planting. A properly located windbreak can be a real asset to suburban homeowners as well as to rural families, says Robert F. Stevens, extension horticulturist at the University of Delaware. A windbreak can decrease your heating costs, reduce drafts, decrease winter injury to outdoor plants and increase the usefulness of your outdoor living area. Stevens also points out that a windbreak planting may serve other purposes such as screening out undesirable views, reducing noise from highways, as a boundary divider and shrub border. Even a small windbreak will make outdoor living and working conditions more enjoyable during the winter months. And when carefully designed, windbreaks won't reduce your ventilation during the summer. This time of year is ideal for planning your windbreak, even though planting should wait until spring, says Stevens. Locate the planting in relation to the prevailing winds. For ideal winter protection, use the windbreak to screen north and west sides of the area to be protected. Evergreens make the best windbreaks, since they will reduce the wind more than leafy plants. But many broad-leaf evergreens windburn easily, so it is best to stay with needed varieties, he adds. Canadian hemlock, spruce, pine, arbutus and upright yews make excellent plantings. If space is a limiting factor, your windbreak may be planted as a hedge. A double row of evergreens will be more effective, however, if ample space is available.

Spartans Nip Woodbridge in League Opener

Lake Forest's 65-56 triumph over Woodbridge, on Friday night, could hardly be called a rousing success. The contest was the league opener for both schools, although the Spartans had recorded a non-conference win over Holy Cross.

Woodbridge's home-standing unit was made up of comparatively unknown former Cagers from the defunct Greenwood and Bridgeville High Schools. The Spartans, on the other hand, boast some of the best known players in this area and on paper figured to have a romp, at Bridgeville.

Such was not the case as the Blue Raiders were in the running all the way. Lake Forest tallied only one more field goal than the losers. A dismal showing at the foul line, in which only six of twenty-three foul shots were made; sealed the doom of the Sussex Countians.

One observer thought that the Blue Raiders received more than their share of the close decisions. Spartan Coach Art Refosco felt that his team had too many turnovers and possibly also were over confident.

Another fan mentioned Woodbridge's heightly advantage and stated that some Spartans were hurrying their shots at times when no teammate were close to the basket for rebounding purposes and were not moving the ball around enough until a good shot could be taken.

At any rate, all is well that ends well. Chris Moore totalled 22 points and Dan DeMora had 16 for the winners. Ken Copper and Mike Fisher had 14 and 13, respectively.

Copper continued to rebound well and led the Spartan's late-game comeback on several key steals. Bob Perdue and Earl Passwaters led Woodbridge with 23 and 12 points, respectively.

Harrington Bowling League

By Leah S. Wheeler

The snow Tuesday night must have put a damper on everyone's spirits as an unusually number of bowlers failed to maintain their average during the night's competition.

McKnatt Funeral Home continues to hold the top spot, with Taylor & Messick still bowling strong after their first third title, to remain on the second rung of the standings ladder. Hamilton Funds made good effort, going into their fray against McKnatt's with only three men and still managed to eke out a game to their credit. Wayne Creadick and Jon Chapman rolled very good games which enabled Hamilton's one game victory. Harold Brode, Joe Green, Harry Jack and Robert Garey figured heavily in McKnatt's win, to keep them abreast of the heap.

In the Taylor & Messick and Penn Central battle, were paced by Casmine Gallo (508) and Jesse Gallo in their winning bid over Quillen's Market. Edward Kemp made a good effort for the defeated grocery boys as they continue to hold down the cellar position.

Gerardi Bros. finally put a winning combination together by thwarting Jarrell Fuel's bid to maintain their high standing, beating a four-man team in four games, but was unable to move up in the standings themselves. Jim Francisco and Francis Dill paced the way to victory for Gerardi's with fine performances for the night. Preston Carmean contributed a fine effort in defeat for Jarrell Fuel.

A closer look at the score sheets revealed that there were three other bowlers who came close to earning triplicate patches, with each one rolling two games of three with the same. They were: Robert Jarrell, Preston Carmean, and Don Jester.

Jobless Tax Rate Increased

Employers in Delaware will be assessed .04 percent in addition to their regular rate under the unemployment compensation program in 1970 according to the Employment Security Commission, which administers the program.

The supplemental assessment formula considers the most recent years of unemployment compensation payments experience to determine the state's fund requirements.

The rates, both basic and supplemental, are calculated with formulas provided in the Delaware Code.

The basic rate varies from .01 to 3 percent of employer's payroll, depending on personnel turnover experience. The minimum is $1 for each $1,000 of payroll; the maximum is $30 per $1,000 payroll. All employers pay the same supplemental rate.

According to the employment commission, benefits paid to Delaware's unemployed workers in the most recent three years of completed experience exceeded assessments collected by $4.2 million.

The state reserve fund, used exclusively to pay unemployed workers, dropped from $25.4 million in 1966 to $24.2 million in 1969, a loss of $1.2 million. Interest earned by the fund of $3 million made up the remaining difference between assessments collected and payments.

A total of about $20 million was paid to unemployed workers during the three-year period, which saw the maximum weekly benefit increased from $50 to $55.

The national average unemployment compensation rate is 1.8 percent of employer's taxable wages. The Delaware average rate for 1970 will be 1.4 percent.

should be is 10 percent. Teachers are going to get short changed again.

Warnick did say he agreed with Peterson's plan to scuttle having teachers work an additional five days because the summer months are needed for extra college work and to "prepare themselves to teach the kids."

He also said he urged Peterson to support changes in the teacher bargaining law to give more rights to teachers and urged him to renew funding on the city schools' monitor and school aides program. Funds for that ran out Monday, Warnick said.

the Chapter will be held in Lake Forest High School library, for all citizens, parents and students. The work of the program is most interesting and rewarding for those who have taken part in it. Gunner Dale, the Exchange Student this year will be on hand to tell more about AFS.

Two fund raising projects, a Donkey Ball Game and a wrestling match have been scheduled for the next few months. More on the dates and participants will be published in the Harrington Journal in the future.
