

SEE ANYONE YOU KNOW?—The Paradise Alley Farm of Herman C. Brown was the scene of a mammoth picnic Saturday afternoon. The signs indicate it was a Republican gathering. One booth, seen at the right, was sponsored by Rep. Robert Quillen, of Harrington, up for re-election. Palm-reading was done in the booth. Did Quillen have his read?

G.O.P. Rally Attracts Huge Crowd at Paradise Alley

by C.H.B.

One of the largest political outings Kent County politicians can recall in recent years attracted an estimated crowd of 13,000 Saturday at Paradise Alley.

Though it was referred to as the Kent County G.O.P. Fair, the event was also enticed numerous Democrats and independents.

The fair, on the Paradise Alley horse farm of Herman C. Brown, Harrington native, was a dusty affair which prevented the performance of a sky diving team but not with free airplane rides.

Parking space was at a premium. One area, encompassing a soybean field, was much harder to get out of than it was to get in. We found it out when we parked on the front row.

It was scheduled as strictly fun, food, beer and games, but politics was everywhere.

We waited a half hour in line for a barbecue sandwich and found it was the hot dog line. This reminded us of a barbecue at the fairgrounds in 1948, held by the Democrats, when we waited in line and wound up with a bologna sandwich and an apple.

Each candidate had a gimmick, from fortune telling in a tent espousing Robert H. Quillen, candidate for representative from the 33rd district, to just raffling off prizes.

It was estimated the fair cost in the neighborhood of $23,000, with, said an informed source, most of the cost coming from New Castle County.

Kent Site Ok'd As Trailer Park

The Kent County Regional Planning Commission Monday gave the OK for development of a 73-unit mobile home trailer park on 15 acres of land on the southeast corner of U.S. 13 and Killen's Pond Road.

The development, to be run by the 3-H Company, will be for the rental of lot spaces. The park will feature a swimming pool, and on-site sewage treatment and wells.

In other matters, commissioners voted to hold all future meetings on the first Thursday of each month at 1 p.m. They had been meeting on the first Monday of each month.

Band Parents Ass'n. Organized

A group of interested parents met in the Lake Forest High School Cafeteria on Sept. 30 to form a Band Parents Association.

Officers elected at the meeting were Mrs. Vivian Newnam, Pres.; Roland Neeman, V. Pres.; Louis Guisto, Sec.; Mrs. Marie Erne, Treasurer. All interested parents are invited to attend the next meeting on Oct. 23, in the high school cafeteria.

HOUSING DEVELOPERS INTERESTED IN HARRINGTON

Representatives of a nationally known real estate developing firm appeared before the City Council Monday night and expressed interest in real estate development.

Norman Orchant and William G. Benham, of Leon N. Weiner & Associates, Inc., Wilmington, were the spokesmen. The former said it was not feasible for private developers to go into a community without state or federal support. He suggested the City see the State Housing Department if it was interested. He added the state agency or the federal Housing and Urban Development (HUD) department would check sites.

Benham suggested a survey to see "what your needs are." Orchant added, "If you have the need, you qualify."

The builders and developers are interested in all types of housing, have built homes for middle-income groups and the senior citizens, worked in urban renewal, and also talked on private housing. Orchant explained, after a mention of 25 houses by a city official, it was impractical to build less than 50.

The City is to check into it.

Harrington Raceway News

by Jack Renault

Harrington Raceway management announced this week that the popular Kent County oval will switch to four nights of racing each week through the month of October.

Ten races will be programmed Wednesday through Saturday night with six exactas, the daily double and the Big E.

Tonight (Thursday) is Diamond night at Harrington. The first 1000 women to enter the track tonight will receive an envelope; in four of those envelopes will be a 12-point diamond, courtesy of the track.

Harrington's exciting Big E returned a whopping $4,019.40 Thursday night.

Tom Lewis, of Frankford, continues to lead in overall driving, but Harrington's John Childress now has 17 winning trips behind him; one more than Lewis.

The top ten drivers includes, Yogi Benard of Houston; Jim Wilson of Harrington; David Brock of Georgetown; Charles Laws of Middletown; Vernon Mitchell of Greensboro; Wayne Marsh of Harrington and Hubert Jackson of Queen Anne.

We, like most Americans who take the time and trouble to think about our country, are deeply concerned about how its citizens are divided, the amount of violence that is occurring at frequent intervals both on and off our campuses and the general disagreement existing even within the various factions that

Lake Forest Open House, Oct. 15

Lake Forest High School holds an open house at 7:30 p.m. Thurs., Oct. 15, for all parents of students in the high school and other interested patrons.

This will be an opportunity for parents and patrons to become acquainted with the staff and the high school programs of study. There will be a brief general meeting in the high school cafeteria at 7:30. Following this meeting parents will be able to visit each of their sons or daughters classes to meet the teacher and to hear the goals of the various programs of study.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria at the close of the program.

Further DDT Cancellations

Further restrictions on the use of DDT have been announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, reports John S. McDaniel, agricultural chemicals specialist at the University of Delaware.

Although DDT has not been recommended for any crops in Delaware, some growers have been using it on apples, asparagus, peaches and potatoes, he explains. With the recent USDA notice, however, it is illegal to use DDT on these crops except for soil surface applications or seedling treatments.

The USDA announcement also said, "withdrawal or re-labeling of stocks of those products not now in possession or control of the registrants is not considered necessary." Thus, DDT that has left the producer does not have to be recalled or re-labeled.

DDT treatments under the direction of public health officials or state or Federal quarantine officials are not cancelled. These treatments may be required for public health safety.

The USDA announcement also suggests that more cancellations are possible, says McDaniel. All uses of DDT not previously restricted are being reviewed, and a 90-day period has been provided for interested persons to submit their views.

McDaniel adds that some of the insecticides being used to replace DDT are much more dangerous, however. These insecticides do not last as long in the soil as DDT, but they increase the risk of injury to the applicators and others in the area. Several accidents have already occurred because the more toxic materials were mis-used.

AT HARRINGTON RACEWAY A Y, teamster John Childress is now leading dash driver and second leading percentage driver. Childress, who makes his home in Harrington, has scored 17 victories, two second and five third place finishes in 46 trips around the oval for a 478 percentage.

Tom Lewis has scored 16 winning drives and is overall leading driver. Lewis lives in Frankford. Yogi Benard of Houston is third. Harrington Raceway switches to four nights of action this week through the month of October. There will be six exactas, the daily double and the Big E included in the ten race program nightly. Post time is the usual 8 p.m.

2-Car Accident Hurts 4 People

Four persons were injured late Saturday afternoon in a two-car collision on U.S. 113 north of Milford.

State police said John J. Jones, 65, and his wife, Viola Jones, 61, of Milford were both admitted to Milford Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Jones Sunday night was listed in fair condition and her husband was listed in satisfactory condition. Police said she suffered cuts of her head and arms and her husband suffered multiple rib fractures.

The Jones car which according to police was driven by Mrs. Jones, was crossing the southbound lanes of U.S. 113, entering Kent County Road 403 when it and a car driven by James A. Tucker, 24, of Greenwood, collided.

Police said Tucker's car was traveling in the southbound lane.

The impact of the collision knocked the Jones car approximately 65 feet. Tucker's car, police said, continued on about 80 feet.

Tucker and a passenger in his car, Michael Stevens, 21, of Milford, were both taken to the Milford Hospital where they were treated for abrasions and released.

BROWN'S BRANCH TAX DITCH NEEDS RIGHT OF WAY

The only thing holding up the beginning of construction of the Brown's Branch Tax Ditch project is the acquisition of a right of way for a feeder ditch.

Emory Schmeitzler, state soil conservation engineer, told the City Council Monday night, the waterway would be a short cut.

The tax ditch starts to the west of Harrington, proceeds northeast, crosses under the Penn Central Railroad at the site of the former Vane Cannery, goes east to a ditch in Harrington Manor. The latter ditch then goes north to a prong of Brown's Branch.

The soil conservationist mentioned this route as being impractical, as well as one thru the Peck land where a ditch would have to be dug to Brown's Branch.

Another route, from the Vane Cannery site, along the west side of the railroad north to Brown's Branch, was discarded because land was not available.

Schmeitzler suggested the most favorable thing to do was to dig a running from a was to dig a ditch from a ward across land of the Sapp heirs to the prong of Brown's Branch which eventually runs thru Wheeler's Park.

Mayor Burton Satterfield said the only thing he knew was to meet with the Sapp heirs and let the soil conservationist know the outcome.

Schmeitzler later told The Journal a Prospect Tax Ditch Company had held an organizational meeting a week or so ago. He added a court hearing was the next move in late October or early November.

This ditch would drain part of the west portion of Harrington, the experience and know how of my good friend Bill Draper adds strength to my platform and further assures another Democratic victory," announced Daniello.

Draper is a former vice-chairman of the Kent County Democratic Committee.

Upon his appointment, Draper proclaimed, "I accept with pleasure this position as John Daniello's Kent County campaign co-ordinator, and I anticipate the county and the entire state lending their support, giving Delaware a Democratic Congressman Nov. 3."

The City Council, meeting Monday night, voted to relieve Chief of Police Franklin Rogers of his duties with the option of staying on the force as patrolman.

The motion read: . . . to give the chief a chance to resign or dismiss him as chief and give him a chance to stay on as patrolman if he so desires and name Patrolman Robert Martin acting chief, effective as of Oct. 21."

The motion, following an executive session of approximately half an hour, was made by Jack Aptt, Sixth Ward Councilman, seconded by James Carroll, Third Ward Councilman. It carried, 4 to 1, with Councilman John Satterfield, Fifth Ward, casting the dissenting vote, and Councilman Wilson G. Bradley, First Ward, not voting.

Chief Rogers had been on the force six years, said City Manager Kathryn Derrickson, and had been chief the entire time.

No reason was advanced for the chief's demotion but one city official blanketed it with "an inefficiency" indictment.

In other police business, the Council motioned that radar should be used on named streets in the incorporated city. Vote was 3 for, 2 dissenting, and 1 not voting. The radar should be here in a few days, said Mayor Burton Satterfield, and would be used on a rental basis.

Daniello Names Kent Co-ordinator

John D. Daniello, the Democrat for U.S. Congress, Monday evening announced the appointment of his Kent County campaign co-ordinator, William H. Draper. Draper was among the guests at a reception in the Hub Restaurant, Dover in honor of Jacob W. Zimmerman, the Democrat for U.S. Senate, and Daniello.

"The experience and know how of my good friend Bill Draper adds strength to my platform and further assures another Democratic victory," announced Daniello. Draper is a former vice-chairman of the Kent County Democratic Committee. Upon his appointment, Draper proclaimed, "I accept with pleasure this position as John Daniello's Kent County campaign co-ordinator, and I anticipate the county and the entire state lending their support, giving Delaware a Democratic Congressman Nov. 3."

NOBLE CARROLL'S FIRING BY AG BOARD RULED ILLEGAL BY SUPERIOR COURT

A Democratic state official who was fired from his job when the Republicans reorganized the Department of Agriculture was improperly dismissed, a Superior Court judge has ruled.

In a decision handed down Friday, Judge Robert C. O'Hara ruled that the now-defunct Board of Agriculture did not have the power to abolish the post of the director of Bureau of Marketing, held by J. Noble Carroll of Kent County, because the position had been created by the General Assembly.

The board of agriculture, under the leadership of G. Wallace (Pat) Caulk, now secretary of the reorganized department, fired Carroll in April 1969 from his $7,730-a-year job.

At that time, and at several hearings before the State Personnel Commission, Caulk said that Carroll's job was being eliminated on the recommendation of the Governor's Economy Study Committee appointed by Gov. Russell W. Peterson who, like Caulk, is a Republican.

The case was the first major challenge to the state's new merit system and to the personnel commission, which ruled in December 1969 that there was nothing wrong with Carroll's dismissal. Carroll appealed that decision to Superior Court.

O'Hara wrote in his opinion that the case involved two questions: Whether the board of agriculture had the power to abolish Carroll's job, and whether such a power was "properly exercised through a bona fide reorganization of the Department of Agriculture or if such reorganization was, in fact, motivated solely by political considerations."

O'Hara ruled that the board of agriculture did not have the power to abolish the office of director of markets, which had been clearly established by the legislature, adding:

"The creation and adoption of a state merit system to administer a civil service form of state employment, rather than one based entirely upon the political spoils system, does not automatically and within itself endow the personnel commission with the authority to create or abolish positions which are creatures of the legislature."

O'hara ruled that Carroll, therefore, should be reinstated to his job and receive the pay he would have received had he been employed during the last 17 months—back pay amounting to about $12,000.

One sidelight of the case is that Carroll was at one time represented by former Gov. Charles L. Terry Jr., a Democrat, who died early this year. The case since has been handled by Terry's nephew, N. Maxson Terry Jr.

Peterson Announces Mag. Appointments

Governor Russell W. Peterson has announced the names of 15 persons he is nominating for appointment as Magistrates.

The Governor called the Senate into special session on Tuesday, Sept. 29, to act on the appointments. All would serve four-year terms from the date of confirmation as a salary of $10,000 a year.

All of the 15 nominees have taken written examinations and have been interviewed by the bi-partisan Magistrate Screening Committee named the Governor to help him improve the calibre of the Magistrate system. All have the committee's approval.

The Governor said that appointments will be made later upon the committee's recommendation. The purpose is to avoid having too many inexperienced magistrates joining the system at the same time.

Ten of the nominees are new, and five are reappointments. Of the 15, 10 are in New Castle County, 3 in Kent and 2 in Sussex. Four are women.

If the Senate approves the appointments, the state's 53 magistrates will be comprised of 25 Republicans, 26 Democrats and 2 declines.

When Governor Peterson took office, there were 40 Democrats, 13 Republicans and no declines. The governor said his goal is to bring about a political balance as exists in other Delaware courts.

The new appointees nominated by the Governor are:

Mrs. Doris E. Harris, 1305 Walnut Street, Wilmington, a Republican legal stenographer in the Attorney's office, to succeed Morris Bronstein; James M. Thompson, 506 East Sixth Street, Wilmington, Democrat, chemist, to fill vacancy; Mrs. Hildegard M. Weldin, 2003 Lynch Drive, Eastburn Acres, Republican, a chief clerk in the Magistrate system, to succeed George W. Hoffman.

William R. Sheldrick, 1809 Hettering Road, Afton Democrat, production control employee, to fill a vacancy; William McMullen, 405 North Broad Street, Wilmington, decline, New Castle County policeman to succeed Albert S. Moor.

Raymond A. Clay, Henderson Heights, Newark, Democrat, insurance agent, to succeed William A. Panaro; Charles M. Hollis, III, Seaford, decline, school teacher, to succeed Edward E. Elliott; Mrs. Louise T. Brothers 95 East Park Place, Newark, Democrat, housewife, to fill a vacancy; Russell T. Rash; Magnolia, Democrat, constable, to succeed W. Max Hollenbach; Emory R. West, Sr., Milton, Democrat, police chief, to succeed William C. Crouch.

Recommended for reappointment are:

Joseph A. Knusman, Clayton, Democrat; Harold T. Perkins, Newark, Republican; Paul Neeman, Harrington, Democrat; Frederick, Jr. Nichols, Jr., 403 Maryann Drive, Wilmington, Republican; Elizabeth O. Richeson, 500 Ruxton Road, Wilmington, Democrat.

A total of 183 persons were given written tests by the Magistrate Screening Committee. All but 15 were personally interviewed by the committee. The 15 either withdrew or could not arrange for the interview.

Veterans' News

Q - What is the age limit for recipients of benefits under the G. I. Bill education program?

A - None. Benefits are available to all veterans and service-men who qualify regardless of their age. However, the law specifies that veterans and servicemen must have served after Jan. 31, 1955.

Q - Where should I write in case my VA benefit check is not delivered on time?

A - Wait long enough to be sure that the mails have cleared, then write to the VA Regional Office which has your claim file. Include your name, if you're a veteran, or the deceased veteran's name if it is a death claim, and your claim number. Do not write to the Treasury Department because the VA will not receive your letter promptly, resulting in a delayed response.

Q - I am receiving on-the-job training. May I also take some college courses at night and still receive on-the-job training?

A - No. The VA pays full-time benefits for on-the-job training, therefore, you would not be eligible for additional benefits if you took the college courses.

Q - If I sell my home and secure a release of liability to the government for my GI loan, will I be eligible for a new GI loan?

A - No. To qualify for restoration of your GI loan entitlement, you must have sold your home for a compelling reason, and the loan must have been paid in full.

Q - I plan to enter college under the G.I. Bill and will be taking 16 semester hours. How much will VA pay me since I have no dependents?

A - If you have no dependents and carry the full-time load you anticipate, your monthly payments will be $175 at the present rate.

Q - Upon my discharge from the service, I received a lump sum disability severance payment. Will I have to pay this back to the government if I am awarded VA compensation for the same disability?

A - The law requires that VA monthly compensation payments be withheld until the amount received is equal to the amount of severance pay you received because of the disability.

Q - May I purchase a home with a G.I. loan over the VA appraisal?

A - Yes, provided you pay in cash the difference between the reasonable value determined by the VA and the price of the house.

Q - I entered military service last year before completing high school. When I get out of service will the VA pay me any educational allowance while I complete high school? If so, how much?

A - Yes, if you have more than 180 days active service. If you are a single veteran, you will receive $81 a month for adult evening high school or $175 a month for full-time schooling; more if you have dependents. The law entitles you to this allowance without deducting anything from your entitlement to further education and training.

Q - I plan to enter college under the G.I. Bill, and carry 16 semester hours. How much will VA pay me, since I have no dependents?

A - The latest amendment to the current G.I. Bill provides that if you have no dependents and carry the load you anticipate, your monthly payments will be $175 a month.

Q - Upon discharge from the Armed Forces, I received a lump sum disability severance payment. Will I have to pay this back to the government if I am awarded VA compensation for the same disability?

A - The law requires that VA monthly compensation payments be withheld until the amount received is equal to the amount of severance pay you received because of the disability.

Q - I was recently honorably discharged from the Army. While stationed in the United States, I received a service-connected disability. Will I be paid the wartime disability rate or the peace time rate?

A - The law grants wartime compensation rates for service-connected disabilities for Vietnam Era veterans (those serving in the Armed Forces after Aug. 4, 1964) no matter where they served. Contact your nearest VA office for information and assistance in applying for disability compensation.

Q - I am entitled to training allowances as a Post Korean veteran. My mother is dependent upon me for all her support. May I claim her as my dependent and be paid additional training allowance?

A - Yes, your dependent mother makes you eligible for additional allowance.

Q - I served in Vietnam. What is the first thing I should do to get a G.I. home loan?

A - When you talk to real estate people and home mortgage lenders it is advisable to have proof of your eligibility which you may obtain from your nearest VA office. Your application to the VA should be accompanied by a copy of your discharge papers.

Q - I have lost my discharge papers. Can VA furnish me with a copy?

A - No. It can be obtained from your individual branch of service. These addresses may be obtained from any VA regional office.

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller

I breathe a prayer of gratitude—for life,
 For all that I have learned—
 and comprehend,
 And I feel blessed, indeed
 If I have earned,
 The kind regard—
 Of an enduring friend.

— DECENT PEOPLE —

We God-fearing persons are recognized as the decent
 People of the world;
 We are the great majority, for most of us are decent;
 There are almost two billion of us on earth;
 We live in all nations; we live under many flags.
 We want to paint and sing and carve, not to kill and maim;
 We want to glory in building, not in killing;
 We want to help and not to hinder.
 We want to live quietly and enjoy life's simple pleasures;
 We want a chance to think our own thoughts, live our own lives.
 We believe that if a man is decent and high-minded, the language he speaks and color of his skin do not matter.
 We, the decent people, in every corner of the world must wage eternal battle against greed and hate and all the other poisons.
 —From "Good Reading."

are planned by the members and the current major project is making ceramics and other works to sell at their Christmas bazaar.

Volunteers give instructions in needlework, chair caning, and crafts. Members share their talents by teaching each other such skills as sewing, rug making, and knitting. The woodworking shop is now turning out birdhouses and creches for the bazaar.

Instructions are also given about Social Security and other available funds or programs of aid to senior citizens.

A monthly newsletter and calendar of events is sent to all members each month.

Telephone calls are made to absent members to check on their well-being each day the center is open.

Membership is free and open to persons at least 60 years of age or older living within a 10 mile radius of Harrington. It is hoped that the minimum age for membership will be lowered in the near future. Approximately 1/3 of the members are men and their numbers are increasing since the center moved last year from the Fleming Club to the home on Clery St.

Membership applications may be obtained by writing to the Center or calling 398-3908 when the center is open. Mrs. Byron (Angela) Johnston of Dover is the Executive Director of the center and also instructor in the ceramics and arts programs. Other salaried professionals include a part time clerk-typist and part time bookkeeper.

Their $8,000 mortgage on the two-story house on Fleming St. has been reduced to $2,800 in the past year. This was accomplished by a Building Fund Drive and funds raised by bazaars, rummage sales and a public annual dinner. Local groups who use the upstairs rooms for a meeting place make donations to the building fund. Most of the food for the hot lunches is donated—the remainder is purchased from operating funds.

The Harrington Senior Center received federal and state funds for the first three years and last year applied for membership to the Bi-County United Fund and was accepted. Their operating budget must be obtained through gifts of the local contributors to the United Fund Campaign which is presently in progress. The Harrington Senior Center along with 10 other United Fund agencies who give service to our community are depending on your contribution during this campaign. The 1970 campaign goal is $20,400.

The local chairman for the United Fund Campaign is David G. Jones. Robert Taylor is co-chairman. The team of co-workers are: Donald McKnatt, Howard Wagner, J. Edward Taylor, J. Millard Cooper, Arnold B. Gilstad, W. T. Parsons, Donald Chalmers, Sam Short, Leroy Calhoun, Thomas Peck, Wm. H. Outten, Richard Johnson, G. Robert Quillen, C. Buck Cahall.

If you would like to help, make the first step yourself now. Give the United Fund Way. Remember the U.F. slogan, "If you don't do it, it won't get done." (in Harrington).

Because the Harrington Senior Center is only the second most active center in the state they are planning to be the most active in the state his year. Won't you please help. Give through United Fund.

FENCE TALK

Your agriculture agent finds that lands kept in tillage or grazed tend to promote the concept of good open space land use. This contrasts with speculative uses that tend to parcel up plots, allow weeds, and reflect poor planning.

Few farmers today will sell off lots because it is the same as cutting farm income. I know many who buy up farms with the hope that the lands will be absorbed by neighboring towns. They will be cropped only until the land is subdivided for housing or industry.

A good community will adopt a plan for growth and urge the landowner to wait for proper timing. It is much more costly to service scattered houses than whole new developments. For the new owner angle, he can also enjoy improved living conditions in a development.

Land use planners think of clustered growth as a goal to shoot for. The person with a house on an acre or two of land soon finds he has too much lawn to mow. Yet it should be mowed, or at least the weeds controlled.

We now have a Delaware law to control Johnson grass. The pest is so scattered that efforts to limit it can be hard and expensive. Yet the job must be done.

Stop Johnson grass on croplands and roadbanks and we are well on the way to stem the problem. Phone 736-1448 if you want to solve your problem.

Look for rhizomes or roots the width of a pencil and tops much like sorghum or small grain in head at this time of year. It is an easy weed to recognize once you learn what to look for. Homeowners may find Johnson grass in gardens or brush patches.

Many of you farmers are in the middle of planting small grain, particularly barley.

Have you given malting barley any thought, well for you good growers, it could mean higher profits. All Tschermak barley to be sold for malting purposes will be under contract to the brewery. As it is now contracts are available, so if you find that you are interested in planting some, contact me or your nearest county extension office for further information.

This malting variety (Tschermak) is a two row, awned barley with yields equal to Wong and other barley varieties. The planting rate is 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 bushels/Ac. and can be seeded until Nov 1.

The harvested barley at 15 per cent moisture must be stored until the malt house notifies you to move it to a hopper car at a designated siding in the general area. The barley is usually out by the first to the middle of August.

Here are the other specifications outlined by the brewery:

1. Seed must be bright in color and meet a set minimum protein content. This can easily be controlled by time of top application in the spring.

The contract price paid last year was appealing to the producers, so it may pay you to look into this crop a little further. Call 736-1448 or write P.O. Box 340, Dover.

It is bulb planting time. For beautiful spring color, select the proper bulbs and plan your plantings. Plant in well drained soil enriched with fertilizer, usually about 2-3 lbs. per 100 square feet of a 5-10-5 material. Plant crocus, scilla, grape hyacinths and snowdrops with bulb tips 2 inches below the soil surface. Hyacinths should be 4 inches, tulips at 6-7 inches, and daffodils at 6-8 inches. After the ground freezes you should mulch with 2 to 4 inches of leaves, hay, or straw.

Once this is done, relax and wait for the arrival of spring which will bring much color and charm to your home. For a booklet on fall and spring flowering bulbs, call our extension office, 736-1448, or write P.O. Box 340, Dover.

Delaware Food Market Report

by Anne Holberton

These first few weeks of Autumn are weeks filled with sunshine and cool breezes, but they represent an in-between season for most fresh foods. Summer crops are fast disappearing and fall crops are just starting to arrive at local markets. This is also the season when many processed foods are featured at your favorite grocery store.

This week, as you shop be sure to look for good buys on late crop green beans, tomatoes, potatoes and green peppers. These favorites won't be around locally much longer, since they can not stand many more nights when frost appears.

Supplies of broccoli, Brussels sprouts, and cauliflower have increased and prices are a bit lower. Other new crop vegetables to check are cabbage, turnips, sweet potatoes, acorn and butternut squash, and pumpkins. Lettuce supplies are larger and quality is better. This week check prices because they should be down and much nearer normal levels.

Fruit counters are beginning to fill with colorful apples, table grapes and more citrus fruit. This is the season to enjoy honeydew melons; supplies are seasonally large and prices reasonable. Banana imports are a little lighter this week, but check for specials. The first of the fresh cranberries have made an appearance and there is a good supply of pineapple on hand.

Egg prices are a little lower this week. When buying eggs, check the price spread between the sizes. Generally speaking, if there is less than a seven cents price spread per dozen eggs between one size and the next smaller size in the same grade, you will get more for your money by buying the larger size. The protein in eggs is complete, making eggs a good alternate for meat, fish or cheese in meal planning. Eggs are easily and completely digested—an excellent food for everyone.

Retail beef prices are about steady to a week ago after some increase in receipts and slight decrease in wholesale prices. With the cooler weather, demand for quick cooking cuts has eased and there are more features on steaks and chops. Look for specials also on some chuck cuts as well as hamburger.

A number of pork cuts are more reasonable this week, so check rib roast, fresh pork shoulder cuts as well as the smoked ones, and also a few more specials that can be found on ham.

The veal market remains unchanged and lamb prices are continuing to ease down seasonally, but wholesales are still above last year due to a smaller crop.

Use Apples In Season

Autumn and apples go together. Flavorful, crisp apples belong on your weekly grocery list, especially since they're now on the USDA's plentiful food list. Choose apples according to appearance, taste, texture and what you're planning to use them for, suggests Miss Marguerite Krackhardt, extension foods and nutrition specialist at the University of Delaware. Mature apples are the best buy; a good, ripe apple will "squeak" when you rub over the surface.

Choose fine-textured, sweet apples for eating raw. Golden and Red Delicious are the sweetest apples available in the fall.

Tarter apples are the best for cooking; Rome Beautys are considered tops. Apples that "go to pieces" when cooked are usually best for applesauce; those that keep their shape are best for baking whole. Stayman, Winesap, Cortland and Jonathan apples are good for eating or for cooking.

According to Miss Krackhardt, small apples may be wasteful for cooking because so much is lost when they're cored and peeled. Medium and small apples are often best for the fruit bowl, particularly for snacks for youngsters.

Store slightly under-ripe apples for two weeks in a cool place to ripen. Keep the ripe apples in the refrigerator for a week or longer. Don't forget to put refrigerated apples in ventilated plastic bags to keep them humid.

Use apples with bruises, skin breaks, or decapped spots first. You can prevent cut or sliced apples from discoloring by mixing them with lemon, orange, grapefruit or pineapple juices.

Apples are extremely versatile. Eat raw apples as a low-calorie snack or dessert. Use applesauce or escalloped apples instead of a vegetable dish. Apples combine well with many vegetables, too—sweet potatoes, for example. And apples are delicious in fresh salads or chilled in gelatin.

Spice up breads, too, with applesauce or sliced apples. Also, those all-American favorites apple crisp and apple pie taste especially good in the fall. But, don't stop there — you can use apples in cakes, cookies, muffins, puddings and cobblers.

It's apple season. Why not enjoy their good taste today?

It Seems To Me

Janet Reed

Knits are more popular than ever. And why not? They're comfortable, easy to care for and easy to sew. There are knits of every fiber in a variety of interesting textures and designs.

Although knits are easy to sew, each fabric is different enough that you should experiment on a scrap before stitching the garment. But a few general suggestions are appropriate for all fabrics.

First of all, a knit fabric has "built-in" stretch. The fabric stretches as you wear it, giving the comfortable fit you like. That doesn't mean, though, that you should wear knits skin-tight. They look most attractive on most figures with some fabric ease over the body.

Since the fabric stretches as you move, seams also must stretch unless you want to constantly repair popped seams. Use a polyester or nylon thread for maximum stretch and ease machine tensions slightly. When stitching, stretch the fabric slightly as it feeds under the presser foot.

Ball point sewing machine needles are ideal for sewing any knit fabric. This needle separates the threads in the fabric rather than piercing and possibly cutting them as you might with a sharper needle. Use the correct size needle for your thread and fabric to avoid skipped stitches.

With the softer styles today, knit fabrics are softer. Most of the dress styles don't need an underlining or lining unless you wish to give a certain amount of rigidity and body to the fabric.

A jacket or coat lining hides seams and inner construction. Choose a lining with some "give" such as a crepe for a wool knit, or a nylon tricot for a synthetic fabric.

Certain areas of a dress will need to be stabilized to prevent stretch. The neckline can be interfaced with a lightweight woven or non-woven fabric. Choose an interfacing fabric that requires the same kind of cleaning care as the outer fabric. The interfacing should never be obvious—always lighter in weight than the dress material.

Since most knits do not ravel, you don't need to use seam tape of any kind on the hem. It's better to leave the hem edge flexible so the fabric is not restricted as you walk. The hem also will be less obvious. Hem with a loose tailor's hem.

Knits are among the easiest fabrics to sew, but careful attention to sewing details will give the professional touch you want.

Here Come The Mice

Cooler fall weather may invite visitors to your house—including such unwelcome ones as mice.

The whitefooted mouse is a frequent guest, says John S. McDaniel, agricultural chemicals specialist at the University of Delaware. It's one of the most common mammals in Delaware woodlands.

When the mouse population increases after the fall breeding season, overcrowding in the woods forces mice to find a new home — in your house. Once inside, the mice usually nest behind baseboards and walls, often gnawing wood and cotton for nest-building materials.

In the woods, whitefooted mice eat nuts, berries, seeds, insects and tender bark of growing trees. But, inside your house, they will gnaw through cardboard and other packaging to reach stored foods.

An old world cousin, the house mouse, is more commonly found in doors. This grey rodent lives and breeds within the house, and its numbers increase rapidly. It eats the same types of household foods as its cousin.

Both mice are active during the night, although the house mouse is not as shy as the whitefooted intruder, McDaniel says.

Mouseproof your house to keep mice out, he advises. If a garage is attached to your house, make sure all doors are in good repair and tightly closed. A mouse can get in through a hole the size of a nickel.

Replace any broken windows or torn screens at ground level and shut all the cellar windows and doors. Usually, mice won't gnaw their way in — they get inside through existing openings. And they usually come in at ground level; they seldom climb up to look for an opening.

The best control for mice is still the trap, McDaniel points out. Peanut butter or bits of bacon are a most effective bait. Commercially prepared baits also control mice, but don't use them around the kitchen or in places where youngsters or pets can be tempted. Also, remove dead mice immediately.

As an added precaution, put traps or bait near strategic areas where mice are most likely to get into your house.

If you already have a large number of mice inside, McDaniel recommends contacting a reputable pest control operator, preferably a member of a state or national pest control association.

Receive Awards At 4-H Horse Show

Six Delaware youngsters received championship awards at the 5th annual Delaware 4-H Horse Show held Sunday, September 27, at Charlotta Hampson Stables, Odesa.

Mary Beth Peck, Lewes, received championship honors in the pleasure pony competition, while Sue Kelley of Dover was reserve champion. Sue Butler and Pam Tudor of Dover were champion and reserve champion respectively in the pleasure horse competition.

Miss Peck also captured top honors in the hunter pony category, while Debbie Malin, Wilmington, was reserve champion. Janice and Bruce Damme, Newark, were champion and reserve champion in the hunter horse competition.

In the western pony class, Brenda Phillips, Lewes, was champion and Steve Forst, Georgetown, reserve champion. Tracy Maull, Lewes, was named champion in the western horse competition and Jim Golmon, Newark, reserve champion.

More than 50 4-Hers participated in this year's horse show which was sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service and the Delaware 4-H Horse Advisory Committee.

Observe National 4-H Week

"We care." That's what nearly 4 million boys and girls across the country are saying this week.

Who are they? About 2500 of them are in Delaware. They are Delaware 4-Hers celebrating National 4-H Week, October 4 to 10.

The 9 to 19 year-old youths do more than just talk about caring. They show their concern through community and project work.

Delaware 4-Hers belong to 83 community clubs, with 129 organizational leaders, 195 project leaders and 189 older 4-H members serving as junior leaders, according to James O. Baker, state 4-H club leader.

Today's 4-H members are enrolled in educational programs with something of interest to all regardless of where they live. About 100 different projects offer them learning opportunities which cover just about every home situation, ability and personal goal.

Some of these projects include foods and nutrition, clothing, health, entomology, woodworking, photography, crafts, field crops, tractor and safety.

Baker also points out that many 4-H activities are designed to offer leadership opportunities including citizenship, community service, public speaking and junior leadership programs.

The 4-H program is the youth phase of an educational program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, working with state land grant universities. The program was organized in the early 1900's when agricultural agents developed corn and pig clubs for farm youngsters as a way to introduce new farming practices to their fathers. But since that early beginning, the 4-H program has taken on a much broader scope. Today, less than one-third of the Delaware 4-Hers live on a farm, while nearly 100 4-Hers come from center city areas, says Baker.

Name New 4-H Agent

A Wilmington resident has been named assistant New Castle County 4-H agent, according to Dr. Samuel M. Gwinn, Director of the Delaware Cooperative Extension Service.

Mrs. Susan F. Poskitt, a former junior high school home economics instructor, assumed the position, effective October 1.

A native of Ansonia, Conn., Mrs. Poskitt received a bachelor of science degree from Russell Sage College, Troy, N. Y., and has done graduate work at the University of Connecticut. She is a member of the American Home Economics Association.

In her new position, Mrs. Poskitt will assist New Castle County 4-H agent Dean Belt in planning and directing

Peach Blossom 4-H News

Debbie Salmons, Reporter

The summer was a busy one for members of the Peach Blossom club. On June 12th we went on a project tour, visiting Mike and Kevin Baker's field crops and garden; saw Debbie Salmons's dairy herd; enjoyed seeing Junanne and Karen Jerread's Appaloosa horses; Jenna Lasky pleased us with her goats and rabbits; Steven and David Mesibov showed their garden before we ended at Linda Newnom's with a bonfire and refreshments.

On July 19th we went on a bike hike of about 12 miles with a rest break for cold drinks.

On August 29 we loaded a school bus to attend the Baltimore Orioles camera night. What fun we had as we were allowed to go on the field to take pictures of favorite players.

State 4-H Conference was held at the University on Aug. 31 to Sept. 3. Those from our club attending were Frances and David Belcher, Rita and Becky Messick, Steven Mesibov, Debbie Salmons, and Mike Baker.

The September meeting was held on the 16th. Devotions were by Donald Hopkins, Donna Rust, Juanne Jerread, and Marilyn Harcum. Officers were elected and will be installed next month.

Robin Cahall and Steven Mesibov told about their trip to Ohio for A.I.C. Becky Messick reported on being a contestant in the Regional Automotive Contest in Maryland. Debbie Salmons and Brenda Hopkins were named chairmen of the window display which will be arranged in window of Salmon's Furniture Store. Terry Bowman was named chairman of entry for National 44-H Week Parade. Refreshments were served by Calvert's and Mesibov.

P.S.—We ask everyone reading this article to join us in praying for the recovery of our president, Robin Cahall.

Spartans Trip Woodbridge Behind Sorden's 2 Touchdowns

Bill Muehleisen's Lake Forest High football Spartans evened their record at 2-2 after a 20-6 conquest of Woodbridge's Blue Raiders, here, on Friday night.

Lake Forest dominated the game although being hindered at times by erratic play. The recent addition of Herman McBride, a speedster from Chester, Pa., has beefed up the attack considerably, as has the recent emergence of quarterback, Lawrence Sorden, as a running threat. This pair accounted for the Spartans' entire output.

Lake Forest reached midfield on its first series of downs but saw one pass overthrown, one dropped and one misjudged. Dennis Layton, a fine punter, got off a good one but a Woodbridge roll put the visitors on their 30 yard line.

On the first play a receiver got behind the Spartan defense but the throw was too high. McBride took an aerial in the right flat and raced 62 yards for a touchdown. He needed and got a downfield block by Tony Burton. A throw for two extra points failed.

Lake Forest held after a rugged, necktie tackle by Curt Powell. McBride returned the punt to his own 40, then caught a pass to Woodbridge's 40. A quick, look-in toss to Frank Daniels added eight yards. Norman Baynard ran the right side for a first down at the enemy 29. Woodbridge was penalized 15 yards. Sorden rolled out to the one-yard line, then dove over for another six-pointer. Another aerial try for two points misfired.

Ty Huskey took the kickoff but was hit by a knot of tacklers but bounced off. He was hit by another group but wouldn't go down. Huskey was finally forced outside. Lanky Bruce Burton suffered a broken leg on this play, the second serious leg injury for the hard-luck Spartans, this campaign.

Curt Powell and Dale Motter teamed up to catch a Blue Raider for a loss. Later, Woodbridge marched to the Spartan 35. Powell tackled the ball and Motter recovered it, to halt the threat. The half ended when Layton punted long and high and Tony Burton creamed the luckless BR in his tracks.

Woodbridge got on the scoreboard by marching 92 yards with the second half kickoff. Farmington's Robin Breeding nabbed an 18 yard aerial to reach Spartan territory. Curt Batson darted through the line for eight yards. Quarterback Earl Harrington gained yardage several times, then passed into the right flat for the score. The kick was wide.

Woodbridge missed a fine chance to tie or win the game. Starting at their 24 the visitors gained six on a reverse, then 31 yards through the Spartan's line. Lake Forest held 32 yards out and drove to the insurance touchdown.

A third-down throw to Neale Travis reached midfield. Roughing the passer added 18 more. McBride caught one at the twelve. Motter hurdled tacklers to the seven and Sorden scored behind a Motter block. Sorden started wide right, then cut in to the end zone to make the final tally 20-6.

Don Parker twice nabbed pass receivers for losses in the remaining minutes. Sorden halted a mild Woodbridge advance by intercepting.

Lake Forest advanced to midfield, then brought in the clean shirts for their two plays. Loss. Loss. The gun.

The locals play the fifth game of their ten-game schedule at Caesar Rodney, Friday night. The Riders are playing good football in some games and looking ineffective in others. They had to struggle to beat "weakie" Dover Air. The Spartans need this one, want this one and may unhorse the Riders.

McKnat Funeral Home hit the winning streak again by squashing Gallo & Stevenson in all four games and once again moved back on top of the pack. Harold Brode set the pace for McKnat's by scoring the boards with a real fine 207 game and a superb 583 series. Donald Garey and Larry Garey also figured heavily in the scoring. Ernest Gallo Jr. bowled well for Gallo & Stevenson in defeat.

Frank Collins, with a grand 567 series, with a 200 game included, and Norman Clough, who rolled a superb 244 game in a great 562 set helped People's Restaurant as they crushed Gerardi Bros. in the final two games of their setto, to take total pins for a three game credit. A full team effort by People's was responsible for dumping Gerardi Bros. out of the top spot and surpassing them to move up to the second position. LeRoy Wheeler, with a great 563 series, with a 213 game included; John Forbes, with a good 518 series, and Stan Johnson, with a fine 509 series bowled well for the furniture boys.

Harrington Package was more leary of their opponents this week and put together a winning combination on real fine bowling by Harry Brown, who rolled a grand 565 series, including a fine 201 game. Herb Robbins, Frank Robbins, and Wayne Creadick contributed good efforts for the Package team to move up in fourth place on their four game win over Penn Central. Penn Central remains in the cellar position on their loss.

Jarrell Fuel came up on Taylor & Messick, with the farm boys only able to field four men again this week, but could only come out with a two-two split. Harold Melvin hit the pins for a real fine 541 series to lead the fuelers squad. Snooky Collins scattered the pins for a grand 555 series, with a great 210 game included, and Tom Brown rolled an above average performance to help keep Taylor & Messick in the contest.

Wally's Garage moved way up the ladder by conquering Butler's Fuel in all four games. Dave Ryan led the garage boys in their win as neither team could get much action from the pins in Tuesday night's fray.

Quillen's Market made another move up the ladder into seventh place on a three-game win over the Spoilers. Ralph Kemp, Dennis Pace and Earl Quillen, combined to lead the market boys to victory. Bob Silbereisen also made a good debut for the grocery boys. Leonard Outten aided the Spoilers in getting one game to their credit, rolling a real fine 528 series. George Sapp and Ray Wright also bowled well for the Spoilers.

Harriers Outrace Seaford, 18-39

The largest Seaford squad ever, went down to its worst defeat ever, as Harold McDonald's Lake Forest High, state champion cross-country team, won its second meet in two 1970 starts. The Blue Jays were beaten 18-39, as Chris Wetherhold logged his 41st dual meet win in a row. Wetherhold's 12.17 clocking for the 2.4 miles Killen's Pond State Park course was his fastest this year, excelled only by his 12 minutes flat course record of 1969.

Brad Morris became the 3rd Spartan to log an all-time mark this campaign, when he cut his 13.02 to 12.55. Rick Hamm and Bill Stubbs achieved new all-time standards, earlier. Morris knocked off Seaford's highly touted, Karl Shuler, a "name" harrier, who normally loses only to Wetherhold and Rincons.

Allan Parker, the lad who ended his four-year boycott of cross-country to return to the sport blazed a great 13.27 to finish fourth. Sam Bostick in fifth and Stubbs in sixth outsped Blue Jay, Phil Shuler, who is rated as potentially a better harrier, than his older brother.

Jackie D. Parker, a veteran sophomore and Jim Dill a rookie sophomore were the last Spartans to figure in the scoring. Parker improved 29 seconds to 14.12. Dill dropped 42 seconds to 14.30. The latter has cut off one minute and 18 seconds in his only two starts on his home course. He's the find of 1970. It seems that Coach McDonald manages to come up with at least one bright new prospect each autumn.

Danny Hitchens' first start of 1970 produced an excellent reduction of 35 seconds. Dennis Wright, a brand-new fresh-man harrier cut off 49 seconds. Dennis may be a first stringer in his second season.

Chris Adamo, Don Woods, Jerry Scott, Martin Miller, Ed Kukulka, Ron Harmon and Hal Blades made their fastest circuits so far as only two Spartans failed to clock their best times of the year. One of these tied his old record, the other came close. Competition brings out the best in these boys.

Hockey Jaycees Have Long Winning Streak

In the past years, girls athletic teams have been overshadowed by the success of boys' athletics. However, a team has broken the barrier and recognition is deserving of these girls.

The Lake Forest J.V. hockey team has played 27 consecutive games without a defeat—the record starting with the Harrington V. team. The last defeat was against Millsboro in 1967, finishing the season with 5 straight wins.

In 1968, the Harrington JV's won 8 and tied 1. The tie was with Rehoboth in the 3rd game of the season.

In 1969 as the Lake Forest Spartanettes, the girls went undefeated in 11 straight games with the opponents scoring only 1 goal against them.

In 1970 the Spartanettes have won the first game defeating Laurel 2-1, since the tie in 1968 the V's have won 21 straight matches. This season in a shortened game they defeated D.A.F.B. 4-0. Some of the girls who have played for the undefeated teams are still members of the Lake Forest squad.

Varsity players: Peggy Tribbitt, Beth Graham, Karen Bessellieu, oan White, Thea Quillen, Ginny Richardson, Esther Straw, JoAnn Thompson, ean Price, Nancy Rawding, Debbie Steele, Renee Quillen, Bonnie Kukulka, Gwen Melvin, and Debbie Wyatt.

Dara Speedway Opens Saturday

DARA Speedway, on the Whiteleysburg - Greensboro Road, officially opened Saturday at 2 p.m. with many a new faces and cars as well. It was a great day for all!

Donald Davis and Ed Hickman each won a 6 cyl heat while Larry Andell and Sonny Brittingham each won the 8 cyl heats.

In the 25 lap feature of 25 cars Ed Hickman made his way to gain the checkered flag with Joe Statz following second, then Cordia Warrington Jr., Frank Morris and Abby Mitchell. In the 8 cyl feature of 25 laps, it was tight all the way between Eddie Pettyjohn and Sonny Brittingham. Britting-

Races will continue until the weather holds up but they will be on Sunday at 2 p.m. and will also be open competition.
