

Raceway Wants to Dicker On Racing Dates

Harrington Raceway wants to settle a point on racing dates before it applies for its 1970 season, which it must do before Dec. 15, from the state Harness Racing Commission.

Herman C. Brown, raceway president, at a meeting of the directors of Delaware State Fair Monday night, presented the case and started off by citing a proposed schedule for 1971 for Delaware tracks.

Dover Downs, Jan. 1 to Feb. 13, after which the track wants to race Feb. 20 thru April 3 for thoroughbreds. Harrington wants to start April 5 and race until May 1, meeting six nights the first week, five nights in the second week, five nights the third week, and four nights the final week.

Brandywine Raceway, with standardbreds, wants to race May 17 thru Sept. 9. Harrington's fall meet could call for Sept. 10 thru Nov. 6. Georgetown Raceway's proposed schedule is May 12 thru July 5 with Dover Downs harness meet Nov. 8 thru Dec. 31.

The real problem, explained Brown, was we wanted to start Sept. 1. Will Brandywine give 'em up or compromise, he asked.

U. F. Drive Nears Completion

The United Fund Drive in Harrington is 80% complete, says David Jones, local chairman. The drive, held each year in October, is expected to exceed its goal.

In an interview, Jones related the importance of this year's drive since the Harrington Senior Center, on of the member agencies, will have to rely on the drive because its federal funds have been terminated.

The drive does not make house-to-house solicitation but does attempt to approach each individual through places of employment. In addition, all places of business are asked to contribute.

Railroad Installs Safety Gates

The Penn Central Railroad installed safety gates Tuesday at the crossing west of Delaware State Fair grounds. Martin Dill, foreman of communications and signals, said the devices were cantilever and short-arm gates.

SMITH ACCUSES PETERSON OF CALLING DEMOCRATS LIARS

James G. Smith Jr., chairman of the Kent County Democratic Committee, said this week he was shocked to read a press account of Gov. Peterson's remarks last week that the Democrats are liars.

"If the DuPont press' story is accurate, our governor said, 'If you tell a big enough lie often enough, they'll believe it—that's what Hitler said and that's what the devil said, and they (the Democrats) practice that very well.'"

Smith said the governor is quoted as saying the mercantile tax, his alleged substitute for a sales tax, now only brings in $2 million a year.

During the year ending June, 1969, before the mercantile tax increase, the state took in $1,820,000 in mercantile tax receipts, said Smith, while in the year ending in June, 1970, after Gov. Peterson and the Republican legislature rammed thru their increase, the state collected $6,920,000. "I submit Gov. Peterson collected $2 million in only the first two months it was in effect—July and August, 1969, just as Budget Director Cashman said in the Morning News of Sept. 19, 1969," ended Smith.

Dennis Wright Leads Spartan Jayvees In Six-Team Race

Dennis Wright, a 13-year-old freshman harrier, led Lake Forest's jayvees to a close second place finish, in the junior varsity division of the Lake Forest Invitational.

Wright, a first-year runner, cut 31 seconds off his previous best effort, to finish fourth in the six-team race. He should be one of Lake Forest's top seven varsity runners, in 1971.

Chris Adamo, has improved steadily all season. He logged a new-record, 14.41 on Friday, for seventh place. Bob Smith, was next in 14.42, followed by Jerry Scott.

He added it was the direct responsibility of the police department to observe and make arrests for all viola-

Nation's Farmers Hold Ready Reserve of Grain

Over a billion bushels of feed grains and wheat from 1969 and prior year crops currently are held under government price-support loan by farmers. These farmer-owned commodities are stored both on farms and in commercial warehouses throughout the grain-producing areas. The price-support loan enables farmers who watch the market closely to pay off their loans and sell their crops at the most advantageous time for them, according to Russell C. Bowdle, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

In addition, he said, 1970 crops are now being put under price-support loan in quantity. He pointed out that this grain-under-loan constitutes a ready reserve of basic agricultural commodities thus assuring the American public of a steady, stable supply month in and month out.

In citing the latest grain-under-loan report of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, (Continued on Page 5)

Use Of Mini Bikes Illegal On Roads, Streets, Alleys says Police Chief

It is a violation of the law to operate mini bikes on sidewalks, streets, highways and alleys in Harrington, said Chief of Police Franklin S. Rogers Monday.

He added it was the direct responsibility of the police department to observe and make arrests for all violations, including the unlawful use of mini bikes. The warning was made, Chief Rogers explained, because of complaints on the use of mini bikes. In conclusion, the chief warned the use of the bikes was legal only on private property.

Delaware Food Market Report

by Anne Holberton

Let us give thanks for a season of bounty during this year's month of Thanksgiving — November. An outstanding list of fourteen foods will be in plentiful supply, with rice and turkeys leading the group.

All indications point to a "turkey for every table" for Thanksgiving dinner. Marketings of the big bird this November will exceed those of last year, and cold storage holdings are also above a year ago. Moderately lower prices on the average are predicted. With such good news, plan to use turkey more often; it's delicious any time and can be prepared in so many ways.

Young, tender broiler-fryers will remain in large supply and prices are expected to be much as they have been—low. As for the other meats, look for continued good buys on pork. Supplies are large and should remain so. All indications for the next 12 months see the largest marketings of pork in almost 20 years.

Ordinarily, increases of this magnitude in pork would mean considerable lower prices for pork and competing red meats. However, higher corn prices are driving up the cost of feed for all livestock and for poultry also. We will just have to wait until the new year and see to what degree the retail prices will be affected.

Beef prices have eased down a bit and it looks as if this will hold for awhile. Continue to check steaks for fairly good buys as well as rib roast and chuck cuts.

Another bumper rice crop is forecast, adding to the ample supplies already available. Add to this the record high fall potato crop and you've got lots of good eating in store for economical prices. You'll find good uses, too, for onions, the most popular of all flavors. They also are plentiful.

Another top scoring crop in prospect is the cranberry. Look for plenty of fresh cranberries and also the well-loved cranberry products, such as cranberry sauce, cranberry and fruit mixtures and cranberry juice.

Other plentiful for November are excellent quality apples, canned apple sauce and apple juice, canned fruit cocktail, and dry split peas. All in all it is quite an impressive list and can help make November a month of saving as well as the month of Thanksgiving.

Right now, just by using seasonal fruits and vegetables it's possible to give your meals a new look and add zest to them also.

The fruit counter continues to offer plenty of good apples and apple cider. Tangelos, grapefruit and oranges are arriving from Florida, starting the citrus season. Tokay grapes are lower in price and are excellent for eating out of hand and for salads.

The fall vegetables you should be sure to check are sweet potatoes (excellent in flavor now), yellow onions, turnips, rutabagas, acorn squash, cabbage, cauliflower, Brussels sprouts, and broccoli.

FENCE TALK

Here's George Vapaa

Plan for the preservation and wide use of the variety of natural resources in Kent County, so that these resources will provide most benefits to the people of the county and of the state, how and for the long range future.

I like this leading statement of goals prepared by Robert W. O'Brien, our county planning director in a preliminary report on "Goals and Objectives to the Kent County Citizens Advisory Committee" recently.

A total of nine goals is offered, together with supporting objectives for the wise use of our lands. We suggest that every citizen call for a copy of this general report that serves as a take off point for our Kent County Comprehensive Land Use Plan.

It is good to see that our planners are hoping to concentrate urban growth and to provide for open spaces or places for outdoor recreation. Farms serve as wonderful buffer zones to separate conflicting land uses.

You can call the Kent County Planning Office on The Green in Dover for a copy of these fine goals and objectives. I think too you will find a sympathetic ear to your own views, should you care to state them.

Discussion by Francis Webb
Most of you have heard some discussion about malt barley. Some of the talk has been good, but I'm afraid most of it has been on the discouraging side. I think this is due mainly because the person doing the explaining was not familiar enough with the production aspects to be talking about it in the first place.

This is a new crop that looks to be promising for this area, if production is handled properly. I must admit that it is not a get-rich-quick crop, but if it can be handled in your cropping program, a reasonable profit can be realized.

The malting barley is a Tschermak variety which has a 2 row seed head. The yield potentials for this variety is equal to Wong and some of the other varieties. The cultural practices followed with this variety is very similar to good production of regular barley.

I am certainly not trying to push this crop on anyone, but any farmer presently producing small grain in his rotation and has storage facilities, you can probably increase your profits with malting barley. If you want more information on this crop, we can have a very good economic evaluation and production pamphlet available on this crop. I would also be available to talk to any of you that would be interested. Call 736-1448 or write P. O. Box 340, Dover, 19901.

If any of you farmers would like your questions answered about advantages and disadvantages of farming partnerships, corporations or just individual farm ownership, contact our office. We now have a bulletin entitled "Business Organization for Modern Farms" which is free for the asking.

Other new or revised publications available free of charge are as follows:
Silverfish - How to Control Them; Cockroaches - How to Control Them; Controlling Wasps, Bees, and the Home; Growing Chrysanthemums in the Home Garden; Growing Iris in the Home Garden.
If you would like to have any of these booklets, just call 736-1448, or write P. O. Box 340, Dover 19901.

It Seams To Me

Janet Reed

Have you tried your hand at a fabric with a diagonal weave or stripe? Most wool fabrics are woven with a twill weave which shows a diagonal line.

The diagonal may not be very noticeable if only one color is used in weaving the cloth, but if one color is used in the length-wise threads and another cross-wise, a diagonal stripe of the two colors is formed. This diagonal stripe can present some designing problems and the garment style must be chosen with these problem in mind.

Occasionally, the information on some pattern envelopes tells you "not suitable for diagonal fabrics." You'll have fewer problems with simpler styles and straighter lines. Avoid a style with lapels or you will find the stripes lying in different directions on each lapel.

Set in sleeves are best. The diagonal seam for a raglan sleeve or the shoulder seam of the kimono sleeve will have the diagonal stripes meeting at odd angles.

The same is true for the bias seams of an A-line skirt. Skirt styles with straight lines are more satisfactory.

Twill weaves may run in either right or left directions. The left twill is more common; on the right side of the fabric the left twill will run from the upper left shoulder to lower right skirt on the body. If you should use the wrong side of the fabric, you'll notice that the diagonal runs from the upper right shoulder to the lower left of the garment.

If there is no other apparent difference in right or wrong sides of the fabric, you can reverse the fabric for matching effects. Careful planning of the pattern layout is a necessity when using this fabric.

If the diagonal happens to follow the true bias of the fabric, you have a natural trim for garment edges. When the fabric is cut on the bias, it gives the effect of a straight stripe. The bias can be shaped to fit curved edges such as neckline, collar or pockets without distorting the stripe. Don't overdo on this trimming, though. Let the trim be subtle rather than overpowering.

As you work with diagonal weaves, you will discover ways to create your own original design. Be sure it's planned that way for the most satisfactory effect.

Adult Basic Education Program at St. Paul A.M.E. Church

Once again the Adult Basic Education Program has started at the community Hall of St. Paul A.M.E. Church. This program is sponsored by the State Dept. of Education. It offers an opportunity for high school dropouts to complete their education and obtain a diploma in general education which is acceptable at most universities and colleges. It might also be emphasized that a high school graduate can compete for better jobs and salary. Courses are also offered in basic education.

Classes are held every Tues. and Thurs. from 7-9 p.m. The teacher this year is Lee Akers, who can be contacted for further information at 697-6639 or Rev. C. M. Simmons at 398-8166.

MEDI-PHONE

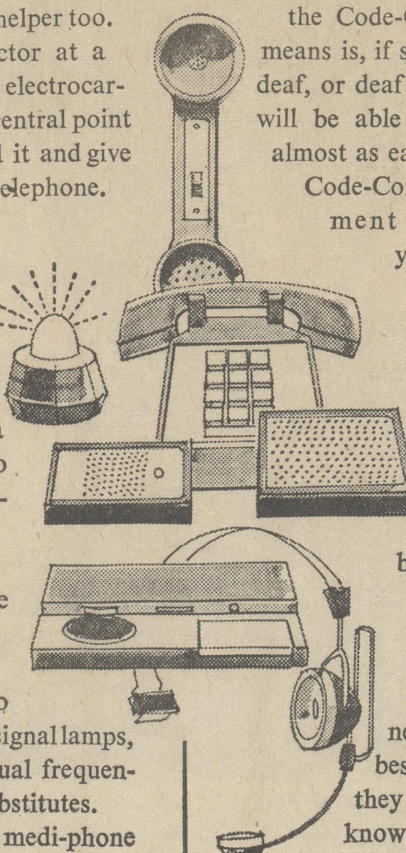

You know that helpful little telephone next to you? It's a doctor's helper too. Just for instance, a doctor at a patient's home can send an electrocardiogram over our lines to central point where a specialist can read it and give him a diagnosis over the telephone. It's done by data transmission.

Or, take the important matter of helping people with special disabilities. Here, the telephone is so adaptable it's like a chameleon. For people who need "hands-free" communication, there are special headsets and Speaker-phones. For those with voice problems, there are voice amplifiers and electronic larynxes. For those who can't hear the ring, we have signal lamps, gongs, and signals in unusual frequencies, to name just a few substitutes.

So what's new on the medi-phone front? Just this. We will soon be able to offer a new product called the Code-Com® phone. What it means is, if someone dear to you is deaf, or deaf and blind, that person will be able to use the telephone almost as easily as you and I.

Code-Com is a special instrument that "translates" your voice into blinking-light or pulsating-plate signals for the handicapped person on the other end. There's a lot more to this remarkable new set, of course (it can even be used by a deaf-blind-mute), but that's the basic idea.

We have many such services for special needs, and we'll do our best to build new ones when they are needed. So, if you know someone who has a special problem, please call on us.

Dental Health

Physical Health. Dental authorities offer these suggestions to parents:

Many people still think that dental health is less important than physical health, in spite of the fact that dental problems can cause equal pain and expense.

Developing community awareness of the importance of good dental health is one task of Dental Health Services of the state Division of Children should learn the value of good dental health as early as possible, so they can develop lifelong practices of good hygiene. Parents should start helping their children with dental care at about age three, when the child's habits and values are being formed.

Parents can help by taking the child to the dentist, regularly, by helping the child brush his teeth, and by reducing the child's between-meal snacks. Sweets should be eaten only at meals, and snacks may be made from fruits, vegetables or milk products.

Between the ages of three and five, the child should attempt to brush his teeth once a day. Parents or older children should help the child brush at least one additional time.

From six to eight years of age, the child should accept dental appointments as a routine part of life, should brush his teeth at least twice a day, and should choose non-sweet snacks.

From nine to 11 years, the child should no longer require an accompanying adult at dental appointments. He should brush his teeth after every meal and restrict sweets to mealtime. Along with setting a good example, parents should continue to oversee brushing habits and set dental appointments.

Dentists and teachers also will help the child learn proper dental care, but much of the responsibility for the child's health practices still lies with the parents.

Commission

No one seems to have an answer. The president has appointed a commission headed by former Pennsylvania Governor William Scranton to try to fathom the violence that flared up in May on the various campuses around the country. We have grave doubts as to whether this commission will be any more successful in solving the campus problem than the Warren Commission, which was appointed by President Johnson, had in putting to rest the question of who shot President Kennedy.

The reason that we doubt the effectiveness of the commission systems of conducting investigations and making a report of findings and recommendations is that the commission is made up of several schools of thought — and is not intended to be an impartial judicial body. The members of the commission were not picked for their judicial temperament and experience. They were picked because of each member's views represented a certain shade of belief — therefore, each member is an advocate rather than a judge.

It would have been much better for President Nixon to have appointed a board from men and women who have experience in viewing evidence judiciously, objectively and unemotionally. Then he should have gone a step further and appointed well known, qualified trial attorneys to examine the witnesses and develop the different views of the evidence. No method is so successful in bringing out the truth.

We shall wait as patiently as is possible to see what evidence is presented and what recommendations are made. We hope the commission proves us to be wrong.

It Seems To Me

By Janet Reed

You'll eliminate most pattern alterations if you choose your pattern carefully. Let your best fitting ready-to-wear dress be your clue to pattern choice. You'll need to consider not only size, but figure type, style of the dress and the fabric you're using.

Pattern sizes today conform more nearly to ready-to-wear sizes, although there will be variations between brands and between patterns in the same brand, just as you find differences in ready-to-wear.

If you look for shorter proportioned sizes in ready-to-wear, no doubt you'll find a good fit in the misses petite patterns, or half sizes. The misses petite is sold by only two pattern companies, but many shorter women of average proportions find this size fits well.

The half size gives a good fit if you buy this size in ready-to-wear. Pattern companies are featuring many more stylish designs than formerly, and these patterns flatter in style as well as fit.

If one size ready-to-wear fits reasonably well most of the time, except for a snug fit at hipline or bustline, this is your cue to add extra fabric at that part of the pattern when you cut it out. The same is true of length-wise proportions.

Rather than making dress alterations, you probably look for certain styles—fuller skirts for larger than average hipline or raglan sleeves for broad shoulders. Do the same with patterns and you'll find alterations reduced to a minimum.

Fabrics make a difference, too. If you've ever noticed how the exact pattern fits differently in different fabrics, you'll know what I mean. Knit fabrics have considerably more stretch than wovens and you can get a comfortable fit with less fabric ease.

But there really is no way to be certain how a dress will fit until you try it on. Experienced dressmakers think that time is well spent when you make up your pattern in inexpensive material before cutting into expensive fabric. You'll have an idea of fit as well as becomingness of style.

It's a help too, to have a knowledgeable and generous friend to perfect the fine points of fit on your own body. It is extremely difficult to fit your own figure all by yourself.

Land Judging Competition

Kent county 4-H'ers won first place honors in the Delaware state land judging competition, September 26, at the University of Delaware Farm. Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey teams participated in the contest together for the first time but did not compete against each other, according to Leo Cotnoir, soil scientist at the University of Delaware.

Steve Mesibov, Houston; Mike Baker, Greenwood; and Junanne Jerread, Harrington, all members of the Peach-blossom 4-H Club, were on the winning team from Kent County. Eugene Henry, Leslie Kennedy, Brad McWilliams and Keith O'Neal, all of Laurel, were the top team from the Delaware Future Farmers of America.

The Delaware 4-H group will go to the national land judging competition this spring in Oklahoma. This is the first time that Delaware will be represented in the national contest, Cotnoir stated.

The land judging contest is planned to provide a learning experience for 4-H'ers and FFA members interested in soil and water conservation, he added. Contestants judged the land on landscape and soil features, and land capability and management.

IKE THOMAS

With the campaign drawing to a close, the issues have been clearly drawn. Compare Ike Thomas with his opponent on some of the issues.

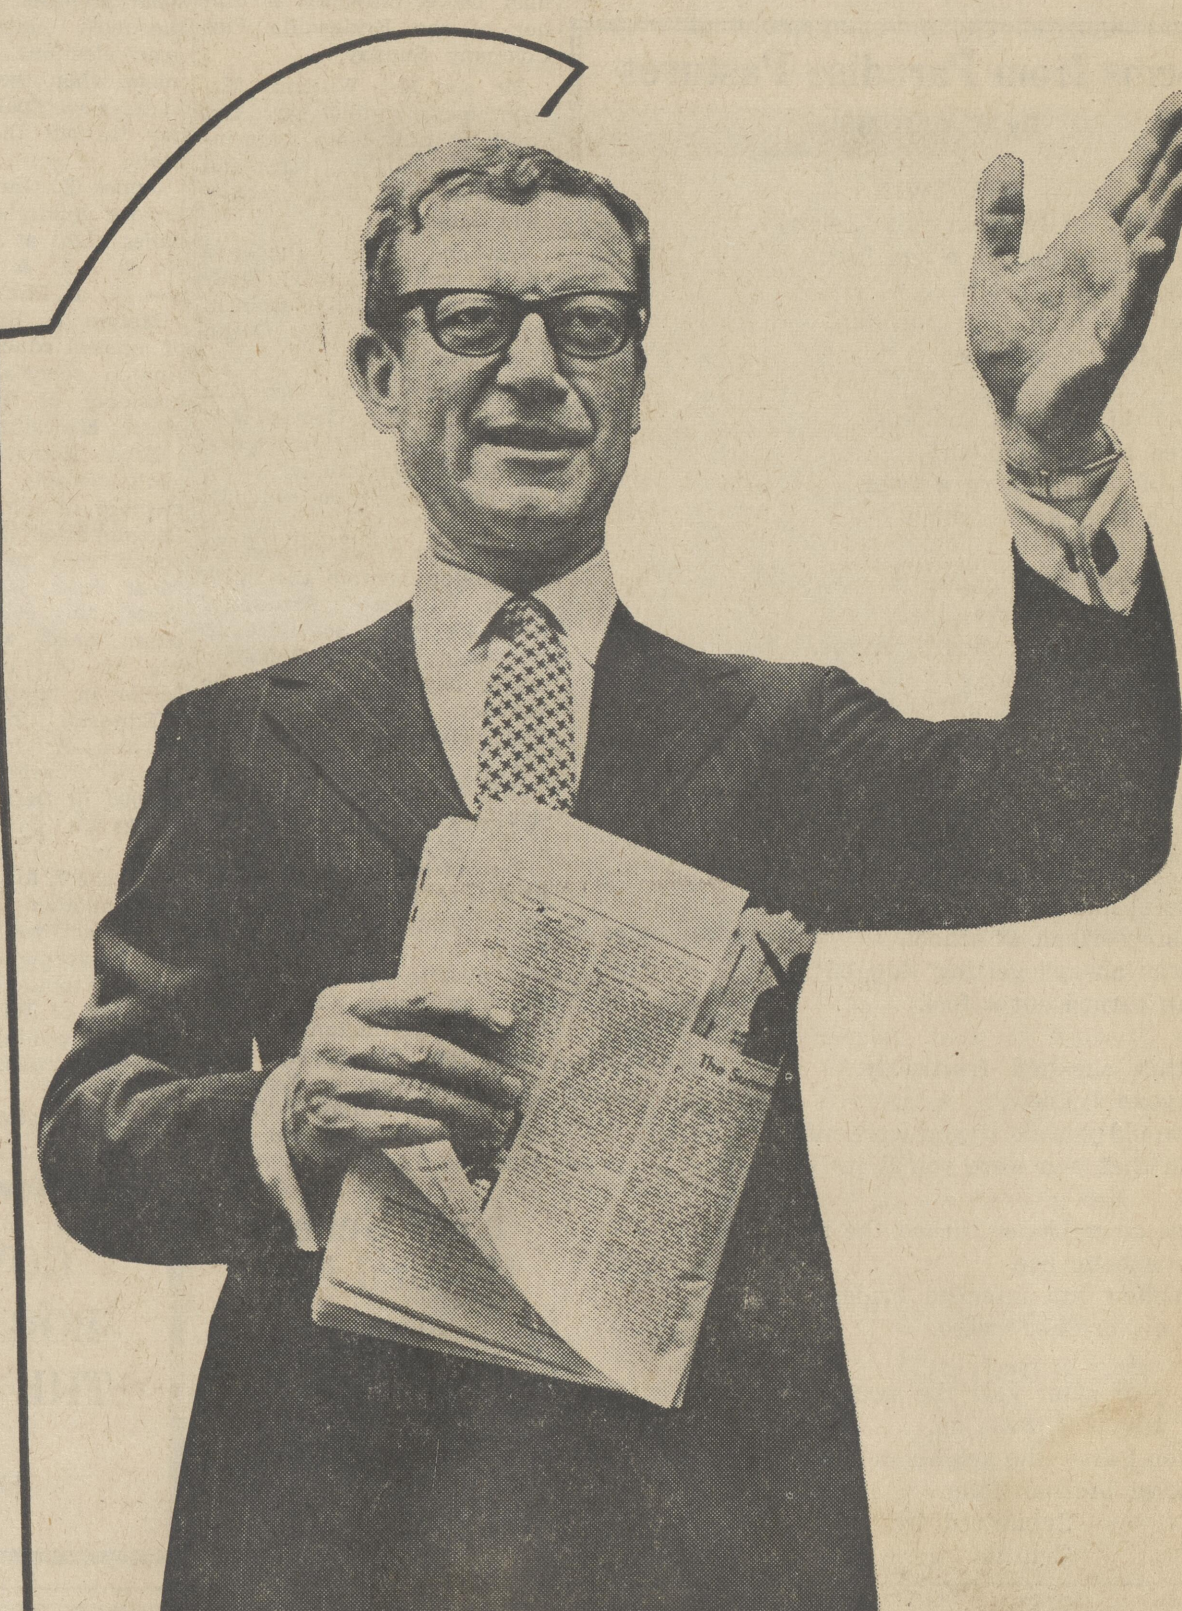

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Support Kent County "home rule" legislation. | Ike Thomas has worked diligently for home rule for 4 years. |
| 2. Allow county employees to engage in political activity. | Ike Thomas helped create the Merit System, and opposes the threatened return to the political spoils system. |
| 3. "Moral support" for police and fire companies. | Ike Thomas believes the fire companies and local police deserve more than "moral support." He favors increased county support for these public servants where a surplus is available. |
| 4. A full-time county manager. | Ike Thomas believes the county should get more work for the dollar from the employees we now have, before employing a county "czar." |
| 5. Improved trash disposal. | Ike Thomas has repeatedly been thwarted by Democrats in his efforts to improve landfills, which he helped institute. |
| 6. Closer cooperation between the county and towns on double taxation. | Ike Thomas already has voted such consideration for the City of Dover and other towns. |

PLAUDITS FOR THE CITY COUNCIL
 Congratulations to the City Council for changing its mind on demoting Chief of Police Franklin S. Rogers to patrolman.

He was under a vague charge of inefficiency but the Council wisely weighed his merits and found them more than tipped the scales.

Keeping a full complement of police officers is difficult nowadays. In the past 21 years, for example, we can recall at least six chiefs here. Of the five predecessors of Chief Rogers, one is deceased and the remainder have moved to more favorable climes, they hope. Chief Rogers has held his post six years, a record for the position since World War II.

Without doubt the Police Commission, after meeting with interested citizens last week, was able to present the picture in the proper perspective to the Council later in the period.

The ways these boys keep escaping from the Delaware Youth Center, at Dover, it might be better to jail the keepers and let the inmates do the supervising, writes Fuzz Peach from Hogwallow.

Poems from Paradise Pastures
 By W. Cliff Miller

— THE TWINS —
 (By Henry St. Leigh)

In form and feature, face and limb,
 I grew so like my brother,
 Folks got to taking me for him,
 And each for one-another.

It puzzled all our kits and kin,
 It reached a fearful pitch;
 For one of us was born a twin,
 But not a soul knew which.

One day to make the matter worse,
 Before our names were fixed,
 As we were being washed by nurse,
 We got completely mixed.

And thus you see, by fate's decree,
 Or rather nurse's whim,
 My brother John got christened me,
 And I got christened him.

This fateful likeness even dogged
 My footsteps when at school,
 And I was always getting flogged
 For John turned out a fool.

I put this question fruitlessly,
 To everyone I knew,
 "What would you do if you were me,
 To prove that you were you?"

Our close resemblance turned the tide,
 Of my domestic life,
 For somehow my intended bride,
 Became my brother's wife.

In fact, year after year the same,
 Darned mistakes went on,
 And when I died, the neighbors came
 And buried brother John.

Superintendent of school Harrington, Kent Co. Delaware
 Dear Sir:
 I am compiling by family history and am attempting to locate school records of Ann Hamilton. She lived in Mississippi, Kent County, Delaware in 1870. The census records for 1870 indicate that Ann Hamilton, age 9, lived with her aunt, Mrs. Nancy Wills, and attended school during that year.

You can tell me where school records for the period are now located or perhaps even supply me with the names and address of Ann Hamilton's parents.

Also, any information on brothers, sisters, or other relatives would be greatly appreciated.

If there is any fee involved in obtaining information of this type, please let me know so that I can forward it.

Thank you,
 Sincerely,
 Mrs. M. O. Fisher

Navy Lauds Brown

The Secretary of the Navy has awarded Roger E. Brown, Gunner's Mate 2nd Class, U. S. Navy, the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brown of Harrington, the Purple Heart, the Bronze Star Medal with Combat "V" and Navy commendation medal with Combat "V".

It was stated that while serving with the River Patrol Boats in Vietnam, Boat Captain Brown led his men in an attack upon the enemy which outnumbered his own forces six to one. By his daring decision to attack when the enemy was only 50 yds. away, Brown and his crew killed and captured three fourths of the enemy force, dispersing the rest.

The Navy Department said that he braved intense enemy fire with disregard for his own personal safety to carry his wounded to safety and render first-aid until they could be evacuated.

The medals were presented to Brown for gallantry and devotion to duty. He is presently serving aboard the USS Braunstein based at Long Beach, Calif.

Brown graduated at Harrington High School in 1963 where he was active in sports.

He enlisted in the Navy right after high school and except for 2 years has been on continuous duty.

Brown has served 2 tours in South Vietnam.

Senior Class Officers

LF Seniors Elects Class Officers

by Barbara Bradley

The senior class of Lake Forest High elected their class officers on September 30. The results are: Beverly Callaway, president; Ned Parsons, vice president; Karen Bessellieu, secretary, and Aleta Mason, treasurer. Beverly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Callaway of Harrington, is also active as the captain of the football cheerleading squad and as a representative to the Student Council. She was the president of the pep club. Beverly is taking the college prep. course in school. After her graduation, she plans to enter a two year junior college and then enroll in an airline hostess school. When asked why she ran, Beverly said, "I ran for this office of the senior class because they needed someone to stand up for their rights and not give up after the first". Ned, a transfer from Laurel High School at the end of his sophomore year, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Parsons of Dorman Street, Harrington. He has been active in basketball and cross-country. After completing the college prep course in school, Ned plans to enroll in a college. He is undecided on a field of study. Ned's answer to the question why he ran was, "I felt I represented the feelings of a majority of the seniors." Ned also said that he hopes to see more senior privileges.

Karen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bessellieu, Sr., of Frederica, is taking the college prep. course. After her graduation, she plans to attend the University of Maryland and major in journalism. Karen is active in many activities such as hockey, language club, dance band, majorette, co-editor of school newspaper and glee club. She was secretary of varsity club, Lake Forest's representative to Delaware's Youth Council, and secretary of junior class. Karen had this to say about why she ran for office, "I felt as an officer, I would be in a position to help make some changes. I agree with Beverly and will help her as much as I can."

Aleta is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mason, Raughley Hill Road, Harrington. After completing the college prep. course in school, Aleta hopes to enroll in the University of Delaware and then possibly the Peace Corps or something of that nature. She is active as a cheerleader, member of National Honor Society, mixed chorus, senior class play of 1970 and A.F.S. Club. She is also a member of the Asbury Methodist Church and its choir. Aleta said she ran for office because, "I felt I could help the senior class as an officer. I plan to support all senior class projects.

Last Thursday evening, the meeting was presided over by president John Dorofee, who presented the speaker, Jack Willis of Milford. Mr. Willis showed a short film which brought out the reasons we have the United Fund Drive each year. After the film, the speaker outlined the reasons for the United Fund, the advantages for it, its goal in this area, the various organizations that would benefit, noted and replied to some of the criticism leveled at the United Fund. He asked for club and individual cooperation and support. Those who were there could not help but feel the sincerity of the speaker and his dedication to the success of the United Fund Drive.

It was announced that next week would be ladies night and prospective members and their wives would be invited, guests. A good program has been promised by the committee on program and music. VOTE NOV. 3 FOR

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE

For

SENATOR
14th Senatorial District

Comprises 28th and 33rd Representative Districts

Your Vote and Support Will Be Greatly Appreciated

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 14TH SENATORIAL DISTRICT:

I am very much disappointed in my opponent to find he is distorting my voting record of the 125th General Assembly in order to gain his election to the Senate.

The official record from the Executive Secretary of the Senate, and by the way I am the only person that has requested this record, reveals, I voted for or against 428 Senate Bills and was absent on 37 roll calls. On House Bills I voted for or against 402 and was absent on 57 roll calls. Of 107 Legislative days I was absent 4 days. This is not the impression my opponent is trying to make.

Having had the pleasure of being a leader of the Assembly for many years, it is necessary for me to meet with the Governor and other leaders of the General Assembly many times during the session. My record is a fair comparison of a majority of the other members of the Assembly. Anyone having visited the General Assembly will verify as to my attendance, interest in good government and ability to get legislation approved.

There has never been a time to my knowledge when good legislation has been defeated because I was absent for the roll call. House Bill 903 relating to drug control, which my opponent refers, passed by 14 yeas, 1 nay and 4 absent. Had I been present, the bill would have received 15 yeas and only 10 yeas were required for it to pass.

It has been my pleasure to serve you in the General Assembly for many years, which I have done to the best of my ability. During all my campaigns I have never tried to mislead the public or impugn my opponent. I shall gracefully abide by your decision on November 3.

Very truly yours,

ALLEN J. COOK

Lake Forest Junior Class Officers

The junior class of Lake Forest High School held a meeting on October 6. The candidates for office made their speeches and afterward the class voted. The results were Mike Davis, president; Terry Hart, vice president; Gail Cohee, secretary; and Thea Quillen, treasurer. Mike Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Davis, Sr. of Harrington. He plays football, basketball and baseball. He is in the newspaper club and is vice president of the Student Council. Mike is taking the academic course and plans to attend college. When asked why he ran for president Mike replied, "Last year our class didn't have very much interest and organization. This year I would like to establish more organization and interest in the class." He wants to try to create more interest in homerooms and make the students more active in their class.

Terry Hart is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson Hart of Felton. She is in the color guard and the student council and sings in the Mt. Plymouth Church choir. Terry is taking the college preparatory course. She plans to attend a four-year college and join the Navy to become a nurse. Commenting on her reasons for running, Terry said, "I felt that there was no actual student government and that students weren't given a chance to run one. I also felt students were uninformed and that it was time someone did something about it." She hopes to help set up a better student government.

Gail Cohee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tyson Cohee of Felton. She is in the language club, the newspaper club and in the Student Council. She is taking the academic course. She plans to attend college and to major in English. Gail Cohee feels that the class needs people with new ideas and she thinks she can do the job. She wants to help out on the executive council and keep the committees straight and help with the prom.

Thea Quillen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Quillen of Harrington. She plays hockey and basketball. She is in the A.F.S. Club and participates in the choir and M.Y.F. in Asbury United Methodist Church. She is taking the college preparatory course and plans to major in education in college. Thea thinks the junior class needs someone with experience this year will be a little difficult with the prom to put on, and she thinks she is the one with that experience. When asked what she hopes to accomplish this year, she replied, "We hope to have the best prom ever held with the help of our advisors."

Make Halloween Safe For Your Children

Witching season is here again, but don't let an exciting Halloween turn into a disaster for your child.

A saw-tooth jack-o-lantern grinning into the dark is a Halloween tradition. Unfortunately, that tradition can be a fire hazard, according to Miss Coral K. Morris, extension home management specialist at the University of Delaware.

Don't use a real lighted candle with plastic or cardboard pumpkins; substitute a small flashlight fastened so the hot bulb is well away from the pumpkin side. In a real pumpkin, fasten candles securely in an upright position.

Of course, never leave a lighted jack-o-lantern unattended.

And don't let your trick-or-treater carry a lighted candle in any holder as part of his costume.

What's a Halloween costume without a mask? Yet, that mask can be dangerous if it blocks your child's vision, reminds Miss Morris. Use your imagination to create a safer disguise. With water-soluble poster paint, your goblin, ghost or pirate will look genuinely ferocious — safely. And it washes off easily.

You can also use makeup to make that mask. Put on a layer of cold cream under the makeup so it will come off easily.

Costumes can be hazardous, too. Many costumes bought at the store are not fireproof; most are extremely flimsy. Shorten costumes that trail on the ground. It's too easy to trip and fall while dashing back and forth in the dark.

Ghosts are safer than witches — at least on dark streets; motorists can see light costumes much more clearly. If your trick-or-treater insists on being Batman or a witch, sew strips of light-reflecting tape on the costume. A responsible adult should accompany any preschoolers at least.

Halloween hazards can be internal, too, Miss Morris points out. Children who eat a six month's supply of candy in one night will probably be miserable the next day. Put some of the wrapped treats away and dole them out for several weeks. They may even last until Christmas.

Think about the goodies you're handing out; avoid suckers with hard sticks — a fall could spell real trouble. Individually wrapped homemade treats are most popular if you can take the time and trouble. Or, why not give fruit, cookies, popcorn balls or small packages of raisins this year?

Congress Studies Farm Labor Laws

Several bills have been introduced in the current session of Congress which would protect the rights of farm workers to organize and bargain collectively.

Of course, it is perfectly legal under present law for farm workers to organize, bargain with their employers or strike to enforce their demands, explains W. T. McAllister, extension agriculture economist at the University of Delaware. "But past experience has shown that legal requirements governing disputes between employers and unions are necessary to prevent violence and economic hardship to workers, employers and the public."

For non-agriculture industries, the guidelines are covered under the National Labor Relations Act. But agriculture was specifically exempted from this act and subsequent legislation governing unions and collective bargaining procedures.

What is now being discussed in Congress is the extension of existing labor legislation or the creation of new acts specifically for agriculture. Passage of this legislation will not unionize farm workers or assure that they will be unionized, points out McAllister. "It only establishes the legal requirements and government agency that will administer the rules."

These ground rules can be very important, he explains. For example, some agriculture products are very perishable and a labor strike could create an extreme hardship on producers and restrict the continuous flow of food to consumers.

Farms with a large number of permanent or semi-permanent workers would be the first target for unionization. It would not be worth the union's effort to organize the farmer with only one or two year-round employees. Thus, very few Delaware farmers would be early targets of unions, says McAllister.

Unionization of farm labor will result in higher farm labor costs and higher food costs he adds. But unionization will also encourage more mechanization of farm work. This will increase the efficiency of agricultural production and minimize the effect of higher rates on food prices.

Lake Forest Wins 9-Team Cross-Country Invitational

Lake Forest High's unbeaten cross-country team, won the Lake Forest Invitational at the Killen's Pond course on Friday afternoon, over a field of eight rivals. The local school, in its second year existence, won last year, also. The event was formerly known as the Harrington High's Invitational and had been won by that school, almost every year since the first meet, in the fifties.

Chris Wetherhold was beaten for the first time this campaign by Dover Air's Dan Rincon, reversing the results of an earlier meeting between the two, premier distance aces, held at Dover Air. Rincon set a new course record of 11:58, mark two seconds off the 12 minutes flat mark, held by Wetherhold.

Lake Forest was not seriously threatened as their 39 point winning total was 21 seconds better, than that of runnerup, Caesar Rodney. Lake Forest, C. R., Rincon, Wetherhold and Jim Waldbusser of C. R. were awarded trophies for their efforts.

Other scores were: Dover, 103; Dover Air, 105; North Caroline, 139; Cambridge, 141; Laurel, 180; Easton, 186; Milford 198. Low score wins in cross-country.

The Spartans top five finishers were across in the first thirteen positions to record the triumph. Allen Parker, a great, natural runner, cut 19 seconds off his lifetime mark to finish sixth followed by Brad Morris in seventh. Morris rallied in the stretch to nose Dover's Rick Carney.

Billy Stubbs, barefooted over the 2.4 miles in 13:10 for his best career-effort, to grab the 11th spot. Sam Bostick outlasted by a half dozen rivals, who had been pressing him earlier, to finish 13th and get his school the victory.

Jackie D. Parker had his best effort of 1970 and Jim Dill missed his top performance by only five seconds. Coach Harold McDonald has assumed that 1971 would be a building year since Wetherhold, Morris, Allan Parker, Bostick, Danny Hitchens and Jerry Scott will not be back next year.

McDonald has a fabulous 128-8 dual meet record for 13 years of coaching, has never had a losing season and doesn't want one. If he can field a team in 1971, of Bill Stubbs, Jackie D. Parker, Jim Dill, Rick Hamm, Bob Smith, Dennis Wright, Chris Adamo, Bill Erne, plus Vernon Bowers, Rudy Bordley, Eddie Thompson, Russell Dill, and David Williamson, up from Jim Blades' crack W. T. Chipman team, coach McDonald will have a strong array, capable of a near-per season.

Two Late Goals Give Spartans 14-13 Win

There is absolutely no truth to the rumor that Bruce Burton spent the weekend in the pressbox atop, the athletic field at W. T. Chipman School, Harrington. The lanky, young, football Spartan had received a broken leg earlier this season. He had been carried up the steps to the pressbox by Lake Forest High football coaches, Bill and Tm Muehleisen, prior to the start of the Laurel - Lake Forest set. When Lake Forest scored twice in the last two minutes to win a 14-13 thriller, the excited brothers Muehleisen forgot their wounded warrior and the latter had to catch another ride from his lofty perch.

Laurel had capitalized on breaks for a 13-0 lead, that stood up until 15 seconds from game's end.

Lake Forest had the ball near midfield twice in the first period but couldn't get by Laurel's 30 yard line. In the second period Spartan punter, Dennis Layton couldn't get a kick off, when the snap from center was high and to his right. Laurel, then covered 3 yards to score in two plays, with a pass reception by Bennie Hudson, notching the T.D. Al Passos, a Brazilian foreign exchange student, booted the extra point, soccer-style.

The Spartans threatened a quick toss over the line from Lawrence Sorden to Frank Daniels, logged a first down at the Spartan 45. This play worked several times, Friday night. Dale Motter weaved 20 yards, almost got loose, then added seven yards on his next try. Laurel was offside for five yards to the 24. Sorden rolled out to the right but his on-target throw was dropped. Two more aeriels found receivers with Daniels getting to the eleven yard line. The Bulldogs caught Sorden twice for sizeable deficits and entered the lecture room leading 7-0.

Motter opened the second half with a 21-yard bolt to the Bulldogs 45. Laurel held at the 40. Later, Sorden wrenched from a tackler's grasp and hit Daniels for a first down. Motter added another on two runs to the Spartan 45. An interception stopped that surge.

A Laurel punt rolled dead at the Spartan one yard line and led to another touchdown. Layton's subsequent punt was a good one travelling nearly 40 yards to travel to the end zone. Benny Hudson zig-zagged 25 yards on the first play, then had the touchdown in two more efforts. In one of the evening's key plays, the Spartans stopped a try for two extra points.

With time running out, local fans were hoping to at least get on the scoreboard. Lady Luck favored the Spartans with two pass interference penalties which ultimately led to the upset.

Frank Daniels, with good second effort, turned a pass reception into a nine-yard pickup. Motter gained three yards, then hobbled off the field. The first interference call followed next. Three more aeriels were tried with one good for five yards. A fourth-down throw was caught but didn't gain enough for a first down.

Laurel had the game won but for the second pass interference decision, which gave the Spartans new life 28 yards out.

Sorden threw once for zero, then hit for ten yards. Motter caught another near the 8. Sorden swept end for five, then Robin Callahan caught a quick pop for six points. Richard Deputy, furiously gesticulating on the sideline only moments earlier, speared another Spartan pass for two points.

With less than a minute to play Lake Forest had only one hope, an on-side kick. The short boot was recovered at Laurel's 39 by the Spartans in yet another key play.

Sorden fired a 31-yard-bomb to Tony Burton. A rollout failed to gain. Daniels grabbed a pass at the four. The Bulldogs were offside and penalized to the two yard line. A tackle-eligible play saw Mickey Chaffinch snag a quick flip into the end zone.

Ahead, 14-13 it mattered naught to the jubilant Spartans, that the extra point try was no good.

The stunned Bulldogs were swarmed under on the kickoff and on two, feeble pass efforts.

Bruce Burton was forgotten and wasn't remembered until he hobbled into the victorious lockerroom on his crutches, but Bruce didn't mind a bit.

Winless Delmar hosts the Spartans on November 6th. Nov. 3-4, the locals hope to win over Delmar, then beat Dover Air, here, on November 13.

This would enable Lake Forest to go to Milford on Thanksgiving Day with a 5-4 log, for the crucial traditional (one year so far) "Battle of the Bell" with Milford's powerful, Buccaniers.

Chipman Harriers Win Two Meets

Jim Blades' W. T. Chipman School cross-country team won a double, dual meet at Middletown, on Wednesday, to boost its seasonal record to 4-0. The young Spartans defeated Middletown 20-41 and Dover Air 22-39.

Despite a driving rain, Vernon Bowers, covered the course, estimated as two miles in 11:34. Chris Rincon of Dover Air was second with Howard Parker next in 11:44. David Moore, a fine, seventh grade prospect, was sixth. Eddie Thompson, varsity material next year, was eighth, Dave Williamson, ninth Kim O'Toole, tenth, and Charles Scott, eleventh.

Others to run well were: John Prickett, Ron Woods, Harry Roberts, Terry Pettyjohn, Wayne Voshell, Russell Dill, John Moffett, Lester Blades, Greg Hobbs, George Luff and Charles Walters.

In only two years, coach Blades has developed a team of seventh and eighth graders, that are good enough to outrun any junior varsity team in this area and some of the varsity units, as well. This was proven recently, when Howard Parker cruised over the 2.4 miles Killen's Pond course in 14:02, Dudy Bordley, and Eddie Thompson did 14:34 and 14:35 respectively. Vernon Bowers didn't run but has done 14:16. Add David Moore, Kim O'Toole, Russell Dill, Dave Williamson and Charles Scott and one has a team that could do the things stated previously.

Their clockings support this statement, when compared with times recorded by the twelve schools to run a Killen's Pond, this campaign.

Gerardi Bros., just narrowly eked out the top spot again this week, with McKnatt Funeral Home breathing heavily down the furniture boys necks, just one-half game behind in second place. The Spoilers, so aptly named, lived up to this legend of topping top teams out of the lead, by throwing a score into the frontrunners, as they captured the first two games of the match.

Ken Layton proved to be the big gun for Gerardi's with a superb showing, amassing a grand 598 series, with a great 220 game included. Don Jester, with a fine 211 game, Charles Hayes with a fine performance and LeRoy Wheeler, with a good 200 game added to the scoring punch for the furniture boys. The Spoilers' Leonard Outten, hit a real fine 205 game for a great 533 series, to lead the scoring attack, and George Sapp also contributed heavily with a grand 522 series. Carl Wright and Billy Morris also did well to help keep things even for the Spoilers.

McKnatt Funeral Home and Wally's Garage battled furiously in their clash, neither giving to much ground, with McKnatt's coming out a two-and-one half game winner over their opponents. Robert Garey hit a real fine 511 series to lead the struggle against the garage boys. James Shultie rolled a grand 217 game and Larry Breeding and Norman Woodall had fine performances to give Wally's the punch they needed to take one and a half games from McKnatt's.

Harry Brown and Bob Creadick set the pace for Harrington Package, tho Jarrell Fuel countered with Dallas Hayman, who rolled a grand 572 series, a 206 game included to even things at a two-two stalemate. The good effort by the Package team, moved them up into the third spot.

As the first third draws to a close, Quillen's Market is steadily moving up the ladder, now into seventh place after squashing People's Restaurant in three games. Ralph Kemp continues to bowl well, and Dennis Pase added a good performance to lead the grocery boys attack. Norman Clough, with a fine 207 game and Cloyd Bushey's fine contri-
