

Council Favors Rezoning Of Land For Industry

The City Council, at a busy meeting Monday night, favored rezoning of the Ralph Smith land from agricultural to commercial and manufacturing.

The 16.5-acre tract is south of Reese Avenue, east of Farmington back road and extends from the Penn Central Railroad line where there is a siding.

Council's action was taken after the Planning and Zoning Commission Wednesday night, May 5, had approved the rezoning.

The next step will be a public hearing Friday, May 28, between 7 p.m. and 8 p.m., at City Hall.

The rezoning had been requested by Thomas Draper and Garrett Grier, spokesmen for the Progress Corporation of Milford which indicated an industrial park was planned. Unverified reports said the corporation had immediate prospects for the area.

In other business, the Council decided to go ahead with a drainage project for the northern and western part of the City. The group had been trying, without success, to get the most efficient rights-of-way, and has had to revert to its first route.

This calls for a drainage ditch from the northwestern part of the City, thence north of the Dorman Street schools, to the former site of Vane cannery, thence to Harrington Manor and Brown's Branch. The ditch starts at the end of Wolcott Street, in the west portion of town, but the City hopes it may be extended to Misspillion Street.

The Council took its action after it was revealed soil conservation funds for the project had been held two years and, unless immediate action were taken, the money could go elsewhere, said City Manager Kathryn Derrickson.

In the meanwhile, the soil conservation agency is improving Brown's Branch and tributaries, a separate project from that of the City, said Mayor Burton Satterfield.

In other business, the Council acted as follows: Agreed that, after May 15, no overtime be paid to police. It was thought the problem might be solved by a recently hired patrolman and by giving the force time off instead of paying overtime.

Approved the City's collection of trash, for a fee, at small business places.

Chris Wetherhold To Enter West Point

Chris Wetherhold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wetherhold of Harrington Manor, was notified on Monday, that he has been accepted by the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.

Wetherhold will report to West Point on July 1. He had been nominated for the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., also, but chose the Military Academy.

The local lad is a fine student and has been active in many areas, at Harrington High and at Lake Forest High. He is in the band, attended Boys State, holds a pilot's license and is record holder at both high schools, in the half mile, mile and two mile runs. Chris is also defending Delaware state championship and record-holder in the one mile run. In cross-country he won many honors and awards, while winning 50 dual meets in an unbeaten, four-year career.

Prior to the 50-meet string he ran as an eighth grader on a Harrington High varsity team, that won the state championship in 1966.

William M. Wix, another star athlete at Harrington High, some years back, was serving in Vietnam in 1966, when he read in The Harrington Journal this writer's request for championship jackets, for this young team averaging only 14 1/2 years.

Wix, a West Point graduate, had been coached by Harold McDonald, the cross-country coach, in other sports and quickly responded with a check for a jacket.

This was a wonderful gesture and has been repeated in 1971, in the following manner: Colonel Wix is now stationed at West Point and has helped the Lake Forest High senior at this coveted appointment.

7500 worthy young Americans were vying for 1250 vacancies at the Naval Academy. We assume the figures are much the same at West Point.

For six years Chris Wetherhold has been running through the streets of Harrington, the whole year round in snow, rain and bitter cold. He has been dedicated scholastically and athletically. This dedication has resulted in his reaching a goal that many desire but few attain.

3 Foiled in Theft Of Copper Wiring

An attempt to steal 2,500 pounds of copper wire from the Delaware Electric Co-operative was foiled Saturday morning by a night watchman, state police said.

State police said, they apprehended two men, Eugene S. Curry, 29, and Frank Johnson, 34, and a 17-year-old boy, all of Baltimore, within 18 minutes of the attempted burglary. All were charged with fourth-degree burglary. Curry and Johnson are being held in lieu of $1,000 bond each in the Sussex County Correctional Institution for a hearing in Magistrate Court 4, Seaford. The youth was sent to the Stevenson House in Milford, also in default of $1,000 bond, pending action by juvenile authorities.

Police said the owner of the copper wire, whom they did not identify, notified them at 3:30 a.m. after the trio had allegedly driven their van through the wire fence surrounding the firm.

After seeing the watchman, police said, the trio fled north on U.S. 13 in the van where they were apprehended by a state police patrol.

Police said the copper wire had been removed from an unlocked shed and apparently was to be loaded in the van.

Referendum Trowned; Garey Voted To Board

A referendum for major capital improvements in Lake Forest School District was defeated easily Saturday. At the same time, Donald L. Garey, Sr., of Harrington, won handily for the single school board position to be vacated.

The referendum called for a tax increase of 13 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, and a $2 increase in capitation taxes, saw 222 votes cast for the proposal, with 949 against. Present tax rates are $1 per $100, with capitation at $15.

The tax increase would have provided $410,000, to be supplemented by $615,000 from the state, to build an administration building, a multi-purpose building and classrooms at Harrington and Frederica.

Referendum voting was as follows: Harrington 104 for, 503 against; Felton 64 for, 350 against and Frederica, 58 for, 96 against.

While there was some open objection to the administration building, some Lake Forest School board members believed the raising of taxes was the main reason for the resounding defeat of the referendum another of which cannot be held until after six months.

Results of the election for a single post on the school board Saturday, saw Garey win the five-year post with a total of 459 votes.

Two seats were vacated by Mrs. Edna Gruwell and Medford Killen. One seat is being eliminated.

Garey's opponents were Oscar Bishop Jr., 260 votes; William Walls, 235 votes, Mrs. Bertha Shelman, 128 votes; and Vincent P. Arkins, 56 votes.

	Results	Hgn't Fel. Fred.
Garey	352	76 31
Walls	155	54 26
Shelman	16	85 27
Bishop	64	158 38
Arkins	10	17 29
Totals	597	390 151

In the Woodbridge School board election, Raymond J. Baker, of near Greenwood, won with 182 votes as compared with 164 votes for E. Dale Wheatley. Two opponents for the five-year post, Bradford B. Barnes and Mrs. Mary Hall Stuart, dropped out two days before the election.

In Milford school district 817 votes were cast in a referendum for major capital improvements, with 2067 against. The money was to help buy bonds for a $1.4 million elementary school.

DOING HIS PART — Governor Russell W. Peterson obviously approves of the chicken just prepared by his wife. Citing an oversupply of poultry and other meat products on the market as a threat to the Delaware broiler industry, the Governor has asked state schools, hospitals and other institutions to serve healthful, economical chicken more frequently. He has also urged housewives to do the same as a means of helping the state's important poultry industry overcome its current economic problems.

Unfavorable Economic Conditions Threatening Del. Poultry Industry

Expressing concern at unfavorable economic conditions threatening the Delaware poultry industry, Governor Russell W. Peterson urged housewives and state agencies to serve more chicken.

He cited the huge oversupply of meat on the national market and a tightening cost-price squeeze as primary reasons for trouble in the industry that provides over half of the state's farm income and involves thousands of growers grain farmers, processing plant employees and others.

J. Manno 2612 Faulkland Rd., Wilmington; Stephen G. Miller, 2108 Haven, Wilmington; and Richard H. Payne 700 Milltown R., Wilmington.

Honors Day ceremonies were held at Smith Hall on the University campus following a reception at the home of University President E. A. Trabant.

The governor's statement was made at a chicken dinner served last night at the Governor's House in Dover, attended by members of the State Council on Poultry Promotion, State Department of Agricultural officials and the press.

John E. Burris, poultry council chairman, stated the industry is doing what it can to correct conditions that actually threaten its continued existence in the state.

He said Delaware broiler growers have reduced production so far this year by 6 per cent under 1970 in an effort to decrease the oversupply of chicken. He added that this true in the 22 major broiler producing states.

"Another factor influencing the current unfavorable cost-selling price relationship of broilers," Burris said, "is the increasing cost of feed, labor and materials."

"A $10 per ton rise in feed cost due to last year's corn blight, 7 per cent increase in materials and marketing expenses and a 20 per cent wage and benefit raise for processing plant employees have added a minimum of 2 cents per pound to the cost of delivering a dressed broiler to the wholesale market over last year," Burris added.

As a temporary measure to help ease the market glut, Governor Peterson urged everyone to eat more chicken. He pointed out that it is healthful, nutritious and economical.

"I have asked appropriate cabinet officials," he stated, "to increase the serving of chicken in our state schools, hospitals and other institutions. It is hoped that private institutions will do the same."

He said that Secretary of Agriculture G. Wallace Caulk, through the Department's production and promotion division, was currently soliciting the participation of area retail markets in a comprehensive promotion program aimed at increased chicken sales.

Governor Peterson revealed that he had contacted Governor Marvin Mandel of Maryland and Governor Linwood Holton of Virginia suggesting that they join a united effort to promote increased consumption and sale of chicken throughout the three-state area in coming weeks.

Grass for People And Cows

If it were not for cows and homeowners around the state, our streams would be nothing more than mud beds, according to Otis D. Fincher, who heads the U.S. Soil Conservation Service (SCS) in Delaware.

Fincher said SCS introduced new grasses this year that will slow pollution. He said grasses for cows to graze and lawns for people to lounge provide one of the best pollution control and air conditioning devices nature has to offer.

As an air conditioner, one acre of grass releases about 2,400 gallons of water on a summer's day, through evaporation and transpiration. This gives the cooling effect of a 70-ton air conditioner.

Fincher said, "If livestock farmers didn't have the right grass and people didn't landscape their yards, we couldn't survive the added silt flowing into our streams." He said grasses, which vary in height from 2-inch buffalograss to 100-foot bamboo, are ideal for erosion environmental improvement, and animal forage.

SCS, which operates 20 plant materials centers around the country, has scientists working on fire resistant plants for southern California, acid-tolerant grasses and legumes for strip mine restoration, and rapid-growing grasses for slipping hillsides or bare construction sites.

SCS plans to release several grasses this year to commercial nurseries through local soil conservation districts or state crop improvement associations. Included among these is deertongue (native to Delaware) that stabilizes and beautifies strip mine soil areas, steep ditches and highway cuts and fills. It has coarse, broad leaves, great seedling vigor, a height of 2 1/2-3 feet and high tolerance for acid soils. It was developed at the SCC Big Flats, N. Y., Center in cooperation with Pennsylvania State University.

Protection of the East Coast from North Carolina to Massachusetts will be greatly enhanced by the introduction of Cape American beachgrass. Selected at the SCS Cape May, N. J., Center in cooperation with Rutgers University, it has proven more vigorous than other types of beachgrass tested. A great deal of beach grass is being used in Delaware to protect our coastal dunes, Fincher said.

Swing Set Safety

Keep your swinging set safe this summer. Check your backyard swing set for safety.

Outdoor play equipment has no safety code that has to be met by manufacturers, according to Miss Coral K. Morris, extension home management specialist at the University of Delaware. So it's up to you to protect your children against injury by avoiding or repairing hazardous play equipment.

Only heavy duty, weather-proofed tubing should be used to construct swing sets. Watch out for bolts that stick out and jagged edges on sheet metal parts. They could cause serious cuts and gashes.

If you put the swing set together yourself, file all edges smooth and then touch up with paint. Cover or get rid of any small openings where tiny fingers might get pinched. Be sure the gym set is anchored securely to the ground on all legs, preferably in concrete.

Beware of "S" hooks, Miss Morris cautions. The "S" hook is the cheapest—and the most dangerous—way to attach swing parts. Each year many children are hurt by sliding over the hook. Close them up, cover them or better still—replace them.

Elaborate and expensive gym sets with umpteen different rides may please the younger set, but often they're far from ideal from the safety standpoint. Rides may be spaced too close together, inviting collisions and serious accidents.

If your set has a glider, be sure the vertical bars that fasten it to the frame are spaced far enough apart so a child's head can't wedge between them. Also, allow enough room between the ground and the bottom of the glider so it won't hit a child who has fallen off.

The floor of a four-passenger glider should be constructed so small hands and legs can't squeeze through and be injured.

Make a safety check periodically; bolts can work loose; parts can get lost. Don't take a chance.

Even though you've checked the swing set thoroughly for safety, you still need to keep an eye on small children when they're using the set. Accidents can happen even with the safest equipment if youngsters get too close to a moving swing, for instance. Safety habits have to be taught and then taught again, Miss Morris says.

Make sure your child keeps on thinking, "Swingin's the funnest thing."

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller

— LIFE IS WHAT YOU MAKE IT —

If you walk as a friend, you will find a friend—
 Wherever you choose to fare—
 If you go with mirth to a far strange land—
 You will find that mirth is there.

If you walk in honor, then honest men—
 Will meet you along the way—
 But if you are false, you will find men false,
 Wherever you choose to stay.

We are met by the traits we show—
 Love will find a friend at the stranger's door—
 Where hate will find a foe.

BARBS FROM BARB SHOP QUARTET:
 Joe: "I didn't know you had to wear a girdle, Charley, how long have you had to wear it?"
 Charley: "Ever since my wife found it in the glove compartment.?"

Spartans Set Two More School Marks In Dover Relays

Lake Forest's track team, coached by Jim Blades, had a fine evening in the 13th annual Dover Relays on Friday, May 2.

The 440 relay unit led off with a 47.8 second-place heat finish despite using two substitutes. Runners were Don Bryant, Hern McBride, Norman Baynard and Donald Parker.

The 880 quartet is an equally good 1:37. Bob Smith, Bills Walls, McBride and Bryant made up this quartet. Again two subs were used.

The surprises of the evening for many of the 600 assembled fans was the performance of the 2 mile relay four. Only Chris Wetherhold had broken 2:10 for the half mile. Allen Parker led off with a swift 2:06.8. Danny Hitchens did 2:06.9 after hitting the halfway point in a blazing 56 seconds. Two-mile Brad Morris logged 2:08 and Wetherhold scorched a 2:02.4 Lake Forest had been seeded in the slow heat and by 300 yards, with only Parker seeing his rivals. Cape Henlopen running in the fastest heat was pushed to the limit by Dover and edged out the Spartans for second place, behind winner, Salesianum. Any track fan, (make that knowledgeable)

This great effort not only peitions makes us all go faster. In the fast heat, Lake Forest's very fast 8:24.5, could have been 8:20.

This great effort not only shatters the old Lake Forest standard but is much faster, than anything done at Harrington High (1956-69).

In the medly relay, Lake Forest sliced over six seconds off the school record with a 8:04.1 performance. Most of Delaware's premier distance runners were in this one. Winner Dover Air had Ken Rodgers and Dan Rincon.

Big schools, Newark and Salesianum (2-3) had John Greenplate and Jim Peltz. Lake Forest (4th) had Chris Wetherhold. Others were Aron Price, Emory Howell (Cape Henlopen) and John P. Poltyer (Mount Pleasant).

Lake Forest got excellent legs from Brad Morris (880) Fred White (440) Bob Smith (220) and Wetherhold. The locals will be aiming for 7:59 in this event at Saturday's Capital Relays, also in Dover.

Local Horsemen

June (2:06 4/5), winner of more than $16,000 lifetime, and Amy O. a two-year-old green mare, both owned by Vito Amoroso of Newark. Sheats will also be campaign with his own five-year-old pacer, Dusty Dillon (2:06), and trotting mare, Mayme's Mark, owned by Richard Rainsier, also of Newark.

Frankford, Delaware's Vernon Murray will be in the action with ten pacers led by Valid Star, a four-year-old mare who earned more than $4900 last year. She is a full sister to speedball Valid Sam (2:02).

Richard Ring's stable includes Phillip G. Bomb Captain, Haven's Gem and Starlight Princess, who all raced with success at the recent Harrington meeting.

Harry Darling's eight horse barn is led by Blue Bullet, a 2:06 trotter, owned by Joseph Spry of Seaford and Lucknow Sally a 2:07 pacing mare owned by Cliff Stern of Concord, N. H.

Smith, the Virginian, now training at Harrington will start Jake Smith, a green three-year-old, sired by Popular Al, who holds the track record of 2:03. Smith, incidently, piloted the pacer on Georgetown's fastest trip back in 1965.

On the trotting side, Dave Buckson, who holds the "turkeyfeathers" fastest mile with Miss Becky Pick (2:05, 1965) will also be back racing at the Sussex County oval.

Harness action at Georgetown will feature the daily double and three Exactas nightly, along with clubhouse dining, catered my Sports Service.

First post, Friday and Saturday and every weekend thereafter through September 4 is 8:15 p.m.

How To Set Six School Marks Yet Lose

How can a track team set school records in six events yet lose the track meet? This rare feat was performed by Lake Forest's track team at Dover Air recently.

Obviously, there had to be hills and valleys in the Spartans' performance. While some were reaching new heights, others were suffering through below-average afternoons, as the Spartans went down 72-69.

Dover Air had several outstanding performances but surprised Spartan coach, Jim Blades, in no event. The local thincad mentor knew that Greg O'Neal, Ken Rodgers, Ed Prime and Dan Rincon might sweep the 100, 220, 440, 880 and mile runs but expected to counter this with Spartan points in the field events and relays. Even after the locals misfired in some of the field events, a Spartan victory would still have been achieved, in all probability, if Allen Parker had been available. The lanky quarter miler is only a shade slower than Spartan Frank White, who set a new school mark of 52.6, though losing by an eyelash to Prime, also 52.6. Parker probably would have been third in the 440 and could have helped Lake Forest to a 3.38 or thereabouts in the mile relay, since he was in the group that hit 3:40, three weeks ago.

Chris Wetherhold received his first two setbacks of 1971, but should not be ashamed to lose to runner of the caliber of Rincon and Rodgers, both top college prospects.

Rincon passed Wetherhold in the homestretch to record a Dober Air mark of 4:25.9. Chris stopped the watch in 4:28.1 a new Lake Forest standard for the one mile run. Rodgers then blazed to a 2:02.9 880 clocking another Falcon all-time best.

Don Bryant lowered his Spartan school mark in the 120 high hurdles to 16.5, down from 17.3. The freshman then followed teammate, Neal Travis across the line in the 180 lows, with Lawrence Sorden competing a 1-2-3 sweep.

A solid competitor, Hermon McBride, has teamed with George Turner to give Lake Forest, the best 1-2 punch in the Henlopen conference in the long and triple jumps. McBride established new Lake Forest records in the triple jump (40-5) and the long jump (19-4). Turner was runner-up twice as his team swept both events.

Curt Powell set the final school record as he hurled the 12-pound ball 46 feet, 7 inches. Phil Thomas, at 180 pounds, is lighter than most shot putters and also lacks height. Yet, Phil threw several inches past 42 feet. Pound-for-pound, he's one of the best around.

Danny Hitchens ran his best mile ever of 4:50 but such was the quality of the competition, he didn't place. Hitchens ran a great leg in the mile relay as he almost regained the lead for his team.

Falcon coaches, Keith Hinkle and Charles Bell were understandably pleased with the triumph. It appears that Lake Forest should give Coach Blades an assistant in 1972. Seventeen events are too much for one man to coach. If the Spartans cap afford from five to seven football coaches, two track coaches seem to be a must. Especially, when it is considered track is competed in on a state level and thincad from this area have established statewide reputation over the last fifteen years.

Trackmen Beat Indian River On Depth

Indian River came to Harrington with several outstanding performers but were saddled with a 78 1/2 - 53 1/2 defeat. Lake Forest piled up the points with those vital second and third place finishes and evened the season's log at 3-3.

Top point performer on the field was Indian, Brad Morris, who annexed the 100, 220 and 440. He was pressed only in the latter event, by Spartan ace Fred White.

Lake Forest also has a Brad Morris, who runs further but gets less for it. The local Brad took the two mile in handy fashion in 10:35, some 48 seconds ahead of teammate Ricky Hamm. The Delaware rules limit two milers to one race.

Chris Wetherhold and Danny Hitchens were 1-2 in the mile run. Wetherhold and Allen Parker did the same in the 880.

Curt Powell and Phil Thomas overcame the visitors giant, 6-7, 285 pound Connie Hilliard in the shot put.

George Turner, Herman McBride and Norman Baynard swept the triple jump.

Mickey Chaffinch neared 127 feet in the discus to erase his old school record.

Bob Smith, Turner, Baynard and Don Parker were easy winners in the 440 relay.

Allen Parker, Fred White, Danny Hitchens and Bill Walls merely went through the motions in the mile relay since the Indians had to scramble to get four leads to compete.

Town And Country Topics

"How our food and fiber are produced and the difficulties encountered in the agricultural industry" was the theme used in discussing our environment to our Delaware youth associated with 4-H, FFA and Boy Scouts.

Your county agent spent Saturday, May 1, at Bombay Hook, along with SCS, State Department of Agriculture, and USDI representatives, in discussing their respective topics to our Delaware youth.

Just how do our farmers use pesticides and other materials, in the production of our food and fiber? The point gotten across was that without some type of pest control our food and other life materials would not be what they are today.

Agriculture is not only using chemicals, but wherever it can be adapted, is also employing biological control methods, as well as working to develop resistant varieties, toward our most common insect and disease pests.

Where biological control will not successfully reduce the pests to levels desired, there may be a necessity to use a short residual pesticide to obtain desired levels of control.

Most of our youth today need a better understanding of agricultural and what the problems are in the production of our food and fiber. More time should be devoted to our youth, so that they can understand agricultural, as well as other natural resources and how these can be managed for future generations.

The time spent at Bombay Hook by all these agency representatives, I believe, was very much appreciated by the youth in attendance, and they now have a better understanding.

The DEW line is now in existence. This is short for the Dixie Early Warning System set up for the Southern Corn Blight situation.

The University of Delaware College of Agricultural Sciences and the Extension Service is cooperating in this nationwide coverage so that each state and location will have an up-to-the-minute report on the spread and development of the corn blight.

Your local county agents will be surveying specific corn fields throughout the county each week so that an accurate report can be sent in as to its development here in Delaware. Reports will be received from other states to inform us on its developments and movement, if such a case exists. As it now stands, Florida and Mississippi now have the Southern Corn Leaf Blight disease on T-Cytoplasm corn, but it has not become a problem because of the droughty conditions they have had up to now.

The latest reports on the overwintering spores in the central eastern states are indicating that these live spores are not highly infectious on our field corn this year. No one really knows why this is, but we are all pleased to see it.

We will be keeping all interested persons informed on the development of the corn blight through our radio and newspaper media. If anyone would like to have more information on this DEW line, call your nearest extension office.

Soybean producers should keep in mind that Delaware is participating in the Mid-Atlantic Soybean Yield Contest sponsored by a commercial concern. The contest is open to all soybean growers with the only requirement being a five-acre block of soybeans produced. All cultural practices, fertilization, weed control, etc. is fair game.

I hope you will keep this contest in mind in making your plantings, because the winner of this contest will receive an all-expense paid trip for two to some exotic resort area abroad.

More detailed information will be sent to you in the mail within the next two or three weeks, but I mention this for those of you making early plantings to keep in mind. If you have any questions on this contest after receiving the mailed information, call our Kent County Extension Office at 736-1448.

4-H Club Talk

with Marion MacDonald

Pant suits and maxi dresses were the choice of many 4-H'ers in the 4-H dress revue. Kathleen Wiebel modeled her way to the top in a navy blue wool pants suit. Kathleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wiebel, Hartly, is a seven year 4-H club member. Right behind Kathleen in the Honor Court were: Cheryl Warren and Carol Waldbusser, Woodside Emeralds; Dana Gooden, Fox Hall; Bonnie Dill, Paradise; Terry Gallo, and Donna Shultie, Harrington Sunshine; Tommie Jones and Dawn Daughy, Double "T"; Rhonda Kenton, Houston Cardinals; Pamela Masten, White Oaks, Susan Webb, Country Grove; and Virginia Teed, Honey Bees.

The Honor Court members were selected from the Senior Junior and Petite courts. Senior Court: Kathleen Wiebel, Cheryl Warren, Dana Gooden, Bonnie Dill, Terry Gallo, Tommie Jones, Terry Bowman, Donna Chalmers, Carol Bessing, Charmayne Pierson, Wendy Hawke, Rita Messick, Sandy Armour, Connie Messick.

Junior court members are: Pamela Ridley, Cindy Jarrell, Pamela Masten, Dawn Webb, Susan Webb, Telesa Benson, Christine Marsh, Donna Shultie, Zoe Ann DeCarlo, Valerie Hawke, Lou Ann McKnatt, Sandy Potter, Paula Scrutcheff, Carol Waldbusser, Virginia Teed, Crystal Reed, and Judy Gibson.

Petite court members included: Laura Newmorn, Dawn Daughy, Pamela Scrutcheff, Bonnie Holleger, Michelle Moore, Connie Jarman, Angela Hockersmith, Rochelle Messick, Martha O'Bier, JoAnn Shahan, Rhonda Kenton, Karla Langford, Barbara Scheuens, and Debra Hopkins.

The big news of this year's revue were the entries by John Gibbs and John Garey. John Gibbs captured a blue ribbon with his gray flannel vest suit. John is a Woodside Silverleaf member. From Farmington Peach Blossom, 10-year-old John Garey sported a denim vest for a second place ribbon.

Judges were: Miss Janet Reed, state home economics leader; Mrs. Jean H. Cranston, Kent County home economist; and former 4-H'ers, Mrs. Nancy Roy, Mrs. Kay Ratz, Mrs. Thelma Gabrielson and Mrs. Beverly Evans.

Chairman for the event was Mrs. Becky Nickerson who presented the awards for the Kent County Links. Junior Council members gave their time in organizing, script writing, stage decorations, and narrating. They were Sandi Kirk, Jim Harrison, Becky Messick, Charmayne Pierson, Cindy Melhunek,

Check Now For Armyworms

Delaware small grain farmers should be checking crops regularly this spring for armyworms, advises Frank E. Boys, extension entomologist at the University of Delaware.

This destructive insect appears somewhere in Delaware every year in the spring. Some years many acres of crops are destroyed by this pest. But, it's totally unpredictable; areas with large acreages of small grains are most affected, but no field with small grain is immune.

Check your fields often during May, recommends Boys. Hunt carefully on the ground; the armyworms feed at night and hides during the day. The newly-hatched caterpillars are frequently found in barley with heavy growth.

Young armyworms are thin, active, bluish-green worms with a black line. Larger worms, up to one and a half inches long, are hairless and green with dark stripes. Some of the full grown worms in Delaware have a decided pink cast.

In small grain, the worms first eat all foliage, then climb the stem and cut off the seed head. If worms are numerous, they can destroy a field in two or three days. Controls should be applied in small grain if there is an average of three worms per square foot, Boys says.

The worms will attack other crops such as pasture and alfalfa; apply controls if you find five or six worms per foot. If they run out of food in a field armyworms will migrate in "armies" to other fields.

Armyworms are very difficult to control once they are large. Therefore, if your fields are infested, apply treatment as soon as possible to catch the worms while they are still small.

Malathion, carbaryl or trichlorfon are available for armyworm control. Be sure to read the labels for proper use. One application usually controls an armyworm infestation, Boys says.

It Seams To Me

by Janet Reed

Do you have a gripe about ready-to-wear clothing? Lots of women do, according to a survey of shoppers made by reporters of a trade paper for the women's apparel industry. Most commonly mentioned were insecure and unfinished seams; buttons, hooks and eyes that fell off; and zippers that didn't stay zipped. One mother of five said she seemed to be spending most of her life sewing things back together again.

Complaints were not limited to lower priced merchandise but were made against moderate and better priced items as well. Shoppers thought that price increases at all levels had brought no improvement in quality, even possibly a deterioration of quality.

Some women indicated that the only way to be safe was to buy brands they knew and trusted, but one shopper said that she couldn't even count on this anymore.

Other complaints include zippers that broke but were a different length from standard lengths you can buy. Many hanging threads that needed clipping and hemlines that couldn't be changed were annoying.

Women protested poor quality and poorly fitted linings and underlinings. Also, linings too often shrank. Fabrics that faded in dry cleaning and banded fabrics that did not perform well were problems.

Practically all the shoppers said they are much more cautious buyers than they were a few years ago. And some of them said they were merely shopping for ideas—then going home to make their own clothes.

So, back to the sewing machine, girls. And if you're not satisfied, you know whom to blame.

Following the entertainment a donation was presented to the Harrington senior citizens center building fund and refreshments were served by the 4-H foods project members.

Wet Basements Can Be Dried

Homeowners with wet basements can take some preventive steps to minimize the problem, according to Ernest W. Walpole, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Delaware.

He says surface water that drains down basement walls and seeps in can be partially eliminated by building the ground up next to the basement wall and then grading the area so surface water will be drained away. The area next to foundation walls should be sloped for at least 10 feet and covered with grass. Don't plant shrubbery too close to your home. The root systems of shrubbery planted along the foundation wall often provides an excellent route for water to the basement.

Clogged roof gutters and downspouts can also cause wet areas along foundation walls. Keep gutters and downspouts free of debris. If leaves and twigs from nearby trees collect in a gutter, install a basket-shaped wire strainer over the downspout outlet.

When gravity drainage is impossible or impractical, a sump pump may be necessary to raise the water to a level where it can be carried off through a drainline, says Walpole.

Another frequent cause of dampness in basements is condensation. It may be partially eliminated by insulating basement cold water pipes and outside walls.

Condensation can also be controlled by installing a dehumidifier and keeping basement windows closed. Walpole says basement windows should only be opened when it is cooler outside than inside. When warmer air enters a basement, it carries excess moisture with it. As soon as the outside air cools to the basement temperature, this moisture will condense on cool surfaces.

For more information on ways to maintain a dry basement, ask for the USDA's Home and Garden Bulletin No. 115, "Making Basements Dry." Copies are available from the Mailing Room, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark 19711.

KENT COUNTY COMMENTS

by JOSHUA M. TWILLEY
Levy Court President

Many of the suburban developments in Kent County have no street identification signs. Those that do, often have signs that are worn out and difficult to read.

The State Highway Department will provide such street signs free of charge to the residents which live along state-maintained roads. But the roads within many developments are not state-maintained. Even in communities where the state does maintain the roads, it does not always maintain the street signs.

Many county residents have experienced a great deal of inconvenience of this situation.

The Levy Court has been aware of the problem and has set aside a sum of money for a street sign program in Kent County. Signs will be paid for with funds from the Federal Government, not by increases in county taxes.

Because the Bombay Hook Wildlife Refuge is federally owned non-taxable property the county cannot collect the tax revenues it ordinarily would on such a sizeable tract of land. Therefore, the county receives a payment of approximately $3000 a year from the Federal Government to help the county make up for this tax loss.

There are strings attached to the money, of course. It may only be used for roads and schools. Part of the money is used for schools. But the county no longer has the power to build roads, with the exception of suburban streets which must by law be paid for by the residents of that street.

Not wishing to see the remaining funds lay idle, the Levy Court commissioners put their imaginations to work.

Thinking Saves People's Lives

by Terry Gallo & Cindy Jarrell

Use your head and think, as a person's life may be in your hands was important advice given to the Harrington Sunshine 4-H Club members by George VonGoerres when he presented a most interesting talk and demonstration on first aid at their regular monthly meeting on April 12.

Mr. VonGoerres demonstrated mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to the group and many of the members took the opportunity to practice this demonstration.

Other business discussed at the meeting was participation in Earth Week on Saturday, April 24.

Members are still selling American flags. Anyone interested may call 398-8481.

Several girls are busy working on garments for the county dress revue.

Roddy Donovan presented an interesting demonstration on woodworking.

After much discussion, the commissioners decided that a street sign program would be in line with the limitations placed on the use of the funds.

Last week the first set of these street signs were installed in Rodney Village. Other suburban developments are scheduled for signs in the next several weeks.

If other suburban communities desire street signs because their old street signs have worn out, or there weren't any in the first place, residents should make this need known to their Levy Court commissioner. These areas will be put on the list and scheduled for the street sign improvement program.

It appears that the funds will be more than adequate to maintain all county signs on a continuing basis. This is one more example of an additional service that the Levy Court has undertaken during the last few months to improve Kent County.

If there are any other small street related projects that you feel might be of service to your community, please make them known to your Levy Court commissioner. The matter will be considered and possibly an additional program for the use of the money can be developed.

Trinity W.S.C.S. News

Ladies at Trinity Church viewed a filmstrip on the Neighborhood House in Wilmington, which showed volunteers working with people of all ages. Students from the University of Delaware come weekly to tutor children who can benefit from individual attention.

Benefits from the annual bazaar in June help carry on the worthwhile programs of Neighborhood House for those persons in the South Wilmington area. Some camperships are also provided for children from low income families. A box has been placed in Trinity Church foyer to receive donations that can be used as prizes or sold at the bazaar.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Ellwood Cursey, who also was chairman of the evening's program.

Mrs. Richard Shultie presided over the business session of the Women's Society of Christian Service. She announced that the conference annual meeting will be held at St. Mark's United Methodist Church in Easton on May 13. Mrs. Carla Bell Williams, nationally known playwright and religious leader, will lead in a praise service.

The society passed a motion to hold its annual fall bazaar, exact date to be determined later.

Circle leaders distributed the 60c-bottles of vanilla that members have been selling for many years.

Veteran's Administration News

Q-I was recently discharged from active duty and converted my Servicemen's Group Life Insurance. Am I eligible to apply for insurance from the VA?

A-Generally, no, unless you were separated from service on or after April 25, 1951, with a service-connected disability. Then you may apply to the VA for the special non-participating National Service Life Insurance. Such veterans must have been separated from service under other than dishonorable conditions, and be in good health except for any service-connected disability. Application must be made within a year from the date the VA notifies the veteran that a disability was rated as service-connected.

Q-I'm a veteran and would like to purchase a mobile home. If I obtain a guaranteed mobile home loan through VA, so can I later get a regular GI home loan?

A-Yes, after the mobile home loan has been paid in full, you will then have full home loan guaranty entitlement available for a conventionally constructed house.

Q-I'm a veteran of World War II, and will soon reach my 65th birthday. Will I be entitled to a veterans Administration pension?

A-You may be eligible for a pension from the VA at age 65 if your income from all sources does not exceed $2,300 a year if you are single, or $3,500 a year if you have one or more dependents. A wife's income and the size of her estate are factors which must also be considered. For further information and assistance, check with your nearest VA office or your local Veterans County Service officer.
