Consumer Protection, 2-Way Street

Consumers need more protection today than they did 50 years ago. But, it's a two-way street.

Consumers must also use their own common sense to protect themselves, according to Mrs. Frances West, director, Delaware division of consumer affairs.

She told delegates to the Delaware Home Economics Extension Council's annual State Day, May 5, that changes in the marketplace make more government regulation necessary today.

"We've urbanized; the store owner is no longer the man who lives down the street." Community pressure and opinion is often on longer sufficient to keep business practices in line, Mrs. West stated.

"In Delaware, many businesses are under no regulation whatsoever except licensing. No one checks on their fiscal or moral responsibility." However, she added, bills have been introduced in the Delaware legislature to regulate the home improvement industry and private training schools.

Another market change is evident; a constant stream of new products is being advertised. And, somehow adds now equate "newest," "largest" or "sexiest" with best. The result all too often, said Mrs. West, is a confused marketplace and confused consumers.

Increased consumer protection legislation is not the entire answer, she emphasized. Three-fourths of the buying in the U.S. is done by women; they handle all the money. "If women don't use old-fashioned common sense—if they don't take time to be well-informed—a great deal of that money may be wasted."

Emotion is a poor substitute for knowledge, at least when you're spending money, she added. For instance, don't buy a car just because you like the color of the upholstery makes you feel luxurious. Use your common-sense—try it out first—check out the motor—buy carefully. Don't believe everything you read or hear. Don't be pressured into quick decisions by door-to-door salesmen. Many of the complaints handled by the consumer affairs division result from that tactics these salesmen use, Mrs. West commented.

Check their claims before you buy and also compare prices. Many times you can get a better deal at local

L. F. Delegates To 1971 Girl's And Boy's State Have Been Selected

Delegates to the 1971 Girl's and Boy's State have been selected at the Lake Forest High School. They are Gwyn Melvin and Donna Mahony, Ricky Hamm and Craig Moore. The program, which is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary and American Legion will be held in June at Wesley College, Dover.

Alternates who were also selected are Peggy Phelps and Darlene Melvin, Mike Trotta and William Erbe. All are members of the Junior Class at Lake Forest.

Students who will participate in this exercise in the practice of government of the community, state and nation will come from all sections of the state for the 5 day session. Units and Posts will contribute to the cost of the week as a part of their con-stores.

Always check contracts before you sign, but be particularly cautious about signing contracts with door-to-door salesmen. You may never be able to find them again if you have a complaint or a repair problem.

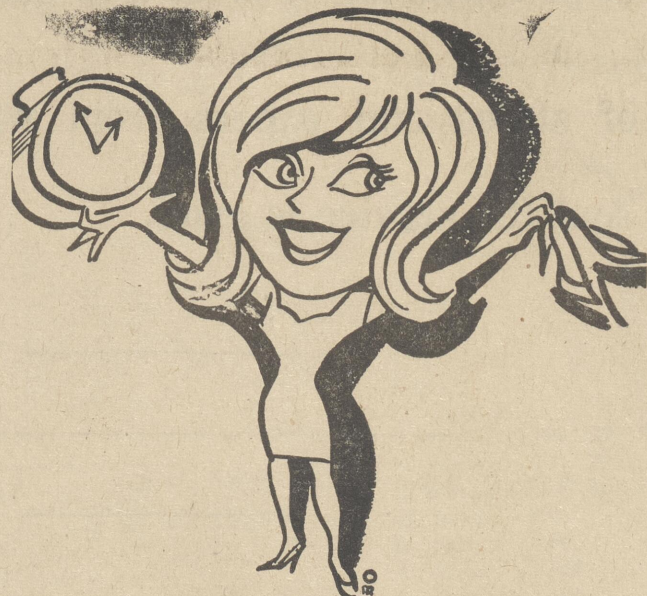

Again, legislation now being considered in Delaware may help, according to Mrs. West. It proposes a mandatory three-day "cooling-off" period during which you can change your mind about such purchases without liability.

Women need to educate themselves—and their children—about credit, she stated. But, more than that, women need to know more about laws governing credit contracts. Some contracts are illegal; some collection methods presently being used are illegal. However, if women don't know enough about them to inform authorities, then the best protection agency in the country can't do much.

Women do indeed have power in the marketplace, concludes Mrs. West. If they exercise their right to make knowledgeable common sense choices.

Veterans News

Q—I am 20 years old, and going to college under the War Orphans Educational Assistance Program; I earned $800 last year, and wonder if that will prevent me from receiving benefits?

A—No. There is no limit on your earned income.

Q—I am attending the university under the G.I. Bill, and my wife and I are expecting a child later this year. Will I receive extra benefits for the child from the date of birth, or only from the date I inform the VA?

A—You must inform the VA of the child's birth by submitting a copy of the birth certificate within one year from the child's birth. Then you will be paid from the date of birth.

Q—My wife is the principal beneficiary on my National Service Life Insurance Policy with a lump sum settlement. If both of us were fatally injured in a car accident, but she survived me even by a few minutes, how would the proceeds of the policy be handled? How could expensive probate proceedings be eliminated?

A—If your wife survived you, she becomes the beneficiary under the policy. The VA must pay the proceeds to her estate and not to the contingent beneficiaries that you may have specified.

Summer Music Classes

Summer music classes for students of the Lake Forest School District will again be sponsored by the Board of Education of the district beginning the week of June 20 and closing the end of July. Students who will be enrolled in grades five through twelve for next year are eligible, and instruction given to beginners, intermediates, and advanced players in all band instruments. While the emphasis will be placed on the beginning program as has been done in former years, all student musicians are encouraged to continue with their musical training during the summer interim.

There will be three places of instruction - the East Elementary School for students in the Frederica area, the North Elementary School for those in the Felton area, and the band room of the W. T. Chipman School for students in the Harrington area. Instruction will be given by the two instrumental teachers of the district - Mr. Guisto for the North and East Elementary Schools and Mr. Brobst for the Chipman Junior School.

Instruction at all three schools is free, but registration is necessary which involves a two dollar per family application fee, and it is hoped that a large number of students who will be involved with the band work of the schools in the Lake Forest School District will avail themselves of the opportunity to begin and to continue their musical education for a short time during the summer recess.

Probate could be avoided through the use of the "Common Disaster Clause," available upon request at the time of the policy is issued, or later. This provides for a time lapse between the death of the insured and payment of the proceeds to the principal beneficiary. Thus, if the beneficiary falls to survive the specified period, payment of NSLI proceeds will be made as if the principal beneficiary had died before the insured.

BUILDING TRADES UNIONS FLOUT NIXON'S WAGE RESTRAINT ORDER AS CONTRACTS NEAR EXPIRATION

Many construction trade unions negotiating in this area for contracts expiring last Friday, are ignoring President Nixon's wage/price stabilization order, and demanding increases which are double and even triple the federal guidelines established in the executive order.

The Mid-Atlantic Construction Management Association (MACMA), which does not negotiate, but which speaks for associations representing 1,475 contractors in Eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, stated today that reports from its member group negotiating committees show a defiance by virtually all the unions of any Federal restraints on wage demands.

MACMA's Labor Committee reported that employer negotiating committees are facing demands ranging from 14 per cent for a one year agreement to as high as 190 per cent over three years.

In the latter instance, ironworkers in Trenton, N. J., now making $9.13 per hour (including fringes) are demanding an additional $17.40 per hour over the next three years.

Pension and welfare fund trustee reports show that virtually all union craftsmen, who wish to work, are making $10,000 to $12,000 per year, and many of them are making as much as $16,000 to $25,000 per year, despite claims of seasonality in employment.

Local negotiators have reported to MACMA's Labor Committee that union negotiators are "throwing President Nixon's order in his face" with such phrases as "he can go to hell with his order" and "we'll show him what we think of his order next November."

The "Order" referred to was issued by the President on March 29, and established a construction industry stabilization committee and national craft dispute boards. The committee was directed to see that wage increases do not exceed the average of wage and fringe benefit increases during the base period of 1961-1963, as well as allowing for supportable inequity and productivity increases.

Under the terms of the executive order, all building trades agreements negotiated after midnight, March 28, 1971, must be submitted for review by the appropriate craft board and stabilization committee.

Management negotiators also report that the unions are not only flouting the President, but are turning their backs on an agreement negotiated and signed by their own international presidents as well. In doing so, the local unions are rejecting the basic principles of an agreement signed February 14, 1971, between the AFL-CIO Building and Constructing Trades Department and the National Constructors Association.

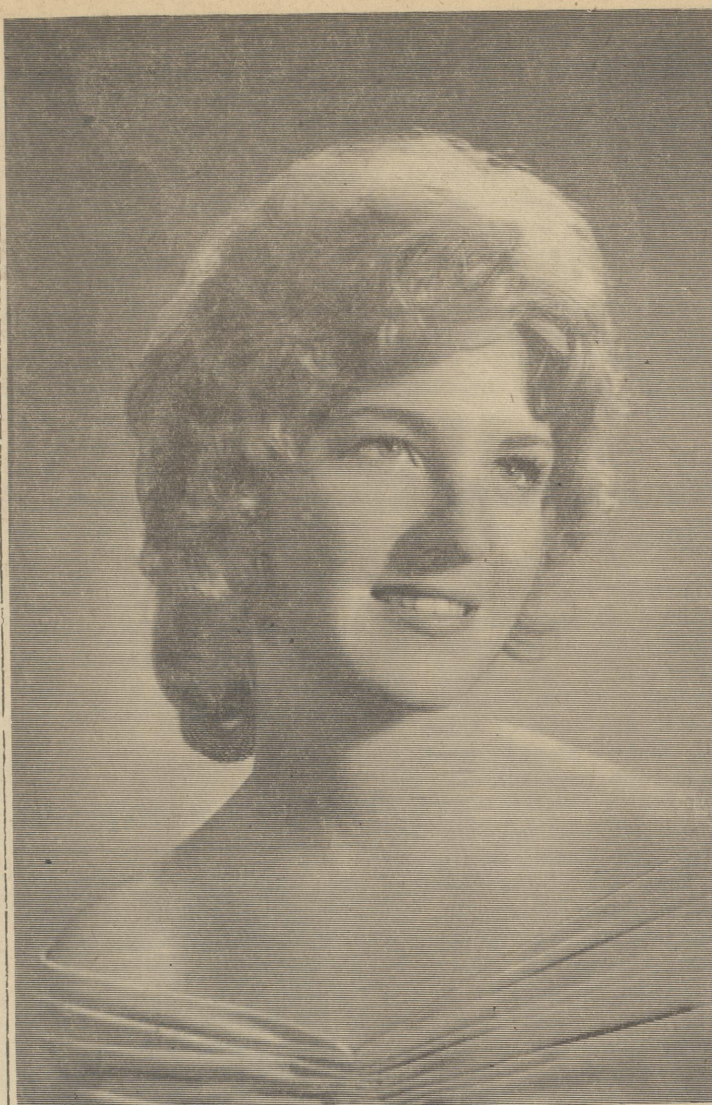

Under that agreement the international unions recognize the need to remedy several productivity problems that are currently the concern of labor, management, government, and construction owners. "Work Rules" are incorporated to solve these problems. When management negotiators cite this agreement, many of the local union committees reply: "To hell with the international. We'll write our own rules."

Among the rules, for example, are prohibitions against slowdowns, standby crews, featherbedding practices, non-working stewards, illegal strikes and work stoppages, unnecessary overtime, and other restrictive practices.

MACMA members are resolved to help make the President's wage/price stabilization program effective in the face of the union objections and despite restrictions which will also affect contractor prices and earnings.

Contracts expiring last Friday in the tri-state MACMA area include those with bricklayers, carpenters, cement masons, laborers, laters, marble setters, millwrights, operating engineers, painters, plasterers, roofers, tile setters, and tile setter helpers. Contracts with plumbers and ironworkers run until June 30.

A strike would halt work on 500 million dollars in contracts for new construction in the Pennsylvania - Delaware - New Jersey area, and would idle more than 30,000 workmen.

—LIFE—

Life is a wonderful thing, and sweet,
 If you let it swirl around your feet,
 And know that we are a living part,
 Of all the world's pulsating heart.

To make life meaning firm and clear,
 There are rules we have to follow here.
 Simple rules as most rules go,
 Given two thousand years ago.

Deny no man what he wants to believe —
 Respect his thoughts, and don't deceive
 Take him by the hand and lead
 And help him in his hour of need

For all are equal in fear and pain
 We all shall die and rise again
 And no man is greater than another
 In the eyes of God - each is our brother.

Racing Started At Georgetown Raceway

With Georgetown Raceway scheduled to run Friday and Saturday weekend programs from now until after Labor Day, the first summer-long race meeting in the history of the local plant, there has been considerable curiosity in racing circles whether enough horses would be available. Everywhere the Georgetown emissaries went soliciting entries they were invariably greeted with the question, "How about horses? ... will you have enough horses?"

The answer was not long in coming when 125 horses were named for the opening night's card and 135 dropped in the box for the second night of racing at the Sussex County plant. Under the rules only eight horses can go in an overnight race and since Georgetown has elected to limit its programs to eight races in the interest of getting the fans, who travel considerable distances to get here, home before midnight, that meant only 64 horses could go on a program, also limiting the weekend total to 128 horses who would see action on the card weekend schedules programmed.

Sports Editor KEITH S. BURGESS

ed. Jim Blades' boys would have had a good chance to take all the marbles in Group 3 but were determined to make a good showing against the larger schools, some much larger. The Spartans won the medley relay and the two mile relay, the latter in school record time 3:24 and finished second to Cape Henlopen's 27 points with 19. De La Warr was third with 14.

In the medley, Brad Morris (880) Fred White (440) Bob Smith (220) and Chris Wetherhold (mile) nipped the Cape at the wire, in a fine 8:08.5. The two mile victory was featured by Allan Parker's 2:05 opening leg and Wetherhold's 2:03.3 anchor stint. This record should last for quite a few years at Lake Forest since Wetherhold, Parker and Dan Hitchens and Brad Morris will not return in 1972.

Trackmen Beat Woodbridge, Laurel

Lake Forest High School's track team is assured of a winning season after besting Woodbridge 99½ to 40½ and Laurel by 79-62. Jim Blades' Spartans have five wins and three losses and have only a non-conference test with Tower Hill in Wilmington, left on the dual-meet slate. Chri Wetherhold won the mile, then scorched the rough, stony oval with a track and school record of 2:01.5, in the half mile run. This was a supreme effort since he had no competition and had to battle the wind and the poor footing.

Wetherhold Is A Henlopen Champ For 4th Time

Lake Forest's Chris Wetherhold is a Henlopen track champion for the fourth straight year. Chris annexed the mile run in an unpressed 4:32.3, then charged from fifth to third in the home-stretch of the 880 yard run, behind state champion Emory Howell of Cape Henlopen and Ken Dodgers of Dover Air, two of Delaware's premier half milers. The Spartans scored in seven of the eighteen events to tally 19 points and finish seventh of twelve Henlopen Conference teams. However, the locals were only two points out of fifth place.
