The Peoples Bank of Harrington has appointed two directors, Thurman Adams, of Bridgeville, and Charles L. Peck Jr., of Harrington.

The latter, appointed Jan. 18 is a graduate of Harrington High School, was in the infantry from 1941-45, and is a graduate of Goldey Beacom College of Wilmington.

He is a member of the Lions Club, the American Legion, and is on the administrative board of Asbury United Methodist Church. He is a member of Peck Brothers Farm Supply Company.

Married, he has a son, Chas. W. Peck, attending the University of Delaware.

He is also a member of the Harrington Fire Company.

Adams was appointed a director Feb. 1. He was on the State Highway Commission six years, the Interstate Commission, an interstate group acting on the Delaware River watershed, 10 years, and served on the Bonus and Korean War commissions.

He is president of T.G. Adams & Sons, manufacturers of feed and dealers in lime and fertilizer.

He has three sons, Thurman Jr., Alvin and Leon.

Driver Injured As Car Hits Tree

A 23-year-old Greenwood man was injured early Sunday when his car went out of control and struck some trees.

State police at Bridgeville said a car driven by Roger Sherman was traveling on Sussex 61 when it left the road and struck two trees.

Police said Sherman was taken to Milford Memorial Hospital by the Harrington ambulance and was treated and released.

William C. Stallings

William C. Stallings, 68, of near Harrington, died Tuesday in Milford Memorial Hospital after a short illness.

He was born in Philadelphia and had lived in the Harrington area the past 29 years. He was a retired salesman for the Bond Bread Co.

He was an honorary member of the Amateur Radio Club of Kent County and a member of the Senior Citizens Center of Harrington.

He was also an Army Air Corps veteran of World War II.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Sadie M. Stallings; and a brother, Howard Horn of Harrington. Stallings is an adopted name.

Services will be this afternoon at 2 from the McKnatt Funeral Home, 50 Commerce St., Harrington. Interment was in Hollywood Cemetery, Harrington.

John Anderson

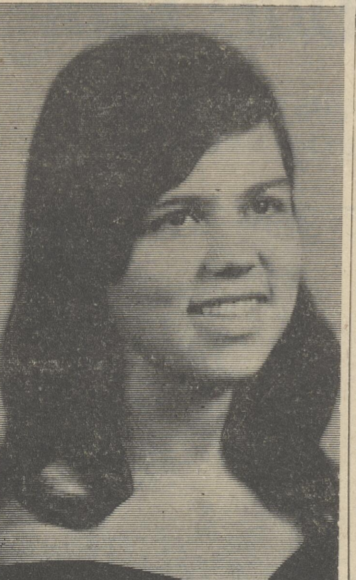

John Anderson, 85, of near Felton, died Mon., Feb. 7, in the Veterans Administration Hospital, near Elsmere, after a short illness.

Mr. Anderson was born near Harrington—lived most of his life in Philadelphia and moved to Felton a few months ago. He was a retired painter and paper hanger. He was a veteran of World War I.

He was never married.

There are no immediate survivors.

Services were held Monday afternoon at the Metropolitan United Methodist Church, Harrington. Friends called Sunday night at the McKnatt Funeral Home, Harrington. Interment was in Williamsville Cemetery, near Houston, with military honors.

Victoria Lynn Lewis Engaged To Harold Jump Jr.

Mr. Alvin T. Lewis of Cumberland, Maryland would like to announce the engagement of his daughter, Victoria Lynn, to Harold I. Jump Jr.

Miss Lewis graduated from Fort Hill High School, Cumberland, June 1971. She is residing in Harrington with her Uncle and Aunt, the Rev. and Mrs. Richard Reitano. Miss Lewis is employed at the Harrington Day Care Center.

Mr. Jump is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold I. Jump Sr., High St., Harrington. He graduated from Harrington High School in June 1969. He is employed by Burris Food Distributors of Milford as a computer operator.

TERMING career education as Delaware's educational priority and the best way to alleviate social problems, Governor Russell W. Peterson proclaims February 13-16 Vocational Education Week as he meets with Dr. Daniel J. Koble, Jr., director of career education, the State Department of Public Instruction (left), and Franklin D. Arbaugh, state supervisor of industrial arts and occupational programs. To learn of the career preparation being given to an estimated 35,000 students, the governor urges residents to observe the vocational programs offered at all comprehensive high schools and three area vocational-technical schools and the career orientation being taught in the lower grades.

Days Of Our Years

Damages of $75,000 were caused by a fire at Callis-Thompson Inc., Thursday morning, Feb. 8. State Fire Marshal William R. Favinger reported the blaze was evidently touched off when a worker removed a gas pump and leaking gas in the pump either flamed when a spark was struck or hit a hot exhaust pipe.

The combined Harrington Lions and Rotary Clubs entertained their former guests at the annual Farmers Night Monday evening at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Miss Dolores J. Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Brown of Harrington, was a member of a mid-year graduating class of Goldey Beacom School of Business, Wilmington.

Dr. Robert T. Weaver, of Wilmington, has begun practice with Dr. Hunter Addis at his office of Weiner Avenue.

Mrs. William Humes, Harrington's 1962 Heart Fund chairman, announced Lawrence Price, Reese B. Harrington and the Junior Auxiliary of Callaway - Kemp - Raughley - Tee Post No. 7, American Legion, are planning an aerial assault on the business district of Harrington at 11 a.m., Feb. 24. Balloons will be inflated by the auxiliary and dropped from a plane. In some balloons will be free passes to Reese Theatre.

Those residents of the Frederica area objecting to the construction of a by-pass east of that town as a part of the improvement of U.S. 113, will have an opportunity to express their feelings at a public meeting Feb. 19.

Walter Larmore, 76, formerly of Harrington, died Sunday evening of a heart attack at his home in Tampa, Fla.

Willard D. Boyce, Dover fruit and vegetable broker, was named this week as Delaware district director of the Office of Price Stabilization.

Completing its first month of operation, the new bookmobile presented to the state Library Commission won wide acceptance in the Kent and Sussex County communities it serves.

Mrs. Howard Klapp and son, Roger, spent a part of last week in Norfolk, Va., visiting her husband, Seaman Klapp.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Greenly Jr. were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Orange, Queenstown, Md.

After winning 14 consecutive games, Harrington's Eastern Shore Basketball League leaders dropped two games when confronted with misfortunes. The Legionnaires, heretofore undefeated this season, dropped one at Chincoteague Sunday, 69050. The absence of Bob Snowden, who is visiting in Gary, Ind., was noticeable, as was also that of Martin who is on his honeymoon. The local hoopers lost another game, this time to Salisbury, here Monday evening, 77-73, with Snowden, Martin and Prentiss absent.

Jack Morris, assistant general manager in Philadelphia, passed thru town Tuesday to a meeting with the Eastern Shore Tower Company in Salisbury. His business car was on No. 453 south of the Pennys.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Williams were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baker, of Gumboro.

We received a card today from Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Boyer mailed from Havana, Cuba.

Correction

It was mentioned in last week's newspaper Patrolman Robert Champion pulled a girl from a water-filled furnace pit in the rear of 36 Commerce St. Jan. 25. This was in error. The facts are: Gary Greer, 5, pulled Diane Somerville, 6, from the pit. Patrolman Champion investigated the case with Mayor Burton E. Satterfield and was instrumental in having the landlord board up the pit. The Journal regrets the error.

City Repeats Warning on Hooking to Water and Sewer

The City Council, at a special meeting Monday night, repeated its warning of last week to property owners who have not hooked up to sewer and water mains where readily available.

Last week Mayor Burton E. Satterfield, backed by a motion of the Council, said such hookups must be made by April 1 or penalties would be invoked.

The question came up again when Martin Mitchell, of Shaw Avenue, explained that when he bought his property he did not know he had to hook up to city water because he had a well. He asked to be excused from using city water until his water pump became obsolete. One councilman answered "that could be ten years."

The Council voted to give

Mitchell until June 1 to hook up but explained this was not a precedent for other property owners who must obey last week's decision unless the Council deems otherwise.

It was revealed Monday night a number of property owners, particularly in the Harrington Manor area, had not hooked up to water. This is annoying to the City particularly since, said City Manager John S. Harrington, the State Board of Health is in here checking on hookups.

When the matter of penalties came up for failure to hook up to readily available sewer and water mains, it was revealed a 1956 ordinance identified it as $100 for each offense with each day counting as an additional offense.

In other business on water, the Council authorized the city manager to get in touch with the state Public Service Commission to ascertain rates in nearby towns.

Water meters, too, came in for their share of attention. Some commercial enterprises and schools have meters but they have not been read regularly. Dale Phillippi, superintendent of public works, was told to read the meters in two consecutive months to ascertain the amount of water used.

John Burris, of Burris Foods Milford, interested in erecting a cold storage plant here, wanted to know the water and sewer rates. The city manager was told to contact Burris to get a breakdown as to water use which would include a sprinkler system and amount.

In other business, the City pany will meet with the Harrington Fire Company which asked about a stop sign and sidewalks at its parking lot in front of the fire house.

Authorized purchase of a siren for the police car from Capitol Fire Equipment Company for $90.

Agreed persons paying for trash collection a year in advance, could have a flat yearly price of $24 in place of the usual 50c per week charge.

Heard James Moore say the Senior Citizens wanted to extend their Fleming Street building back to the property line. The request was turned over to the Planning and Zoning Commission.

Pork Industry Day Feb. 29

A new fashion look has arrived. Delmarva will get a first-hand look at this year's Pork Industry Day, Feb. 29, Civic Center, Salisbury, Md. A "Pigskin on Parade" fashion show to be held as part of the evening program will introduce new fashion ideas such as pork-suede. The show has been developed by the national group of Porkettes, the ladies auxiliary of the Pork Producers Assoc.

Consumers will also have an opportunity to see a pork cookery demonstration and learn to use their small electrical appliances for new pork dishes. Home economists from the Delmarva Power and Light Company will demonstrate.

Need an explanation of those cuts of pork you find in the meat market or at your grocers? You'll be able to learn just what part you're buying—from another evening demonstration at the Pork Industry Day.

The day-long event begins at 9 a.m. and is sponsored by the Maryland and Delaware Pork Producers Association with the Cooperative Extension Service of both states.

Latest commercial equipment, marketing and producing techniques will be presented to the pork producers during the day's program.

Watch That Sales Pitch

A fertilizer is a fertilizer is plant food. Or, it should be. But, farmers are often approached by salesmen who're offering something "just as good as fertilizer," according to Dr. William Mitchell, extension agronomist at the University of Delaware.

"Then, watch out," he says. (Continued on Page 8)

POLICE HAVE BUSY WEEKEND; THREE ARRESTS ARE MADE

Harrington police arrested two juveniles early Sunday evening.

One juvenile was charged with burglarizing Harrington Jewelry Store early Sunday morning and taking 4 rings, a watch and 2 cigarette lighters, besides damaging a safe. Entry was gained thru a back door. The defendant is awaiting appearance in Family Court.

The same defendant and another juvenile are also charged with burglary of Harrington Package Store Feb. 6, early Sunday morning. The alleged offender was also arrested on a charge of possessing marijuana. He is out on bond awaiting trial in Superior Court. Local police are making further investigation of the latter charge.

Part-time Farmers and Federal Income Taxes

If you're a part-time farmer or have a small income from crops or livestock—is it necessary to report this income for tax purposes?

According to W.T. McAllister, extension economist at the University of Delaware, anything produced and sold represents income subject to tax. "Of course," he adds, "the income can be reduced by the amount of the cost of production."

Farmers must file their tax returns by March 1, McAllister explains. "But, you are not a farmer unless two-thirds of your income comes from farming."

If you do not qualify as a farmer but still have some farm income, you should file out tax form 1040F and file it with the rest of your tax report prior to April 15.

If your income from farm products is quite small, less than $500, it is possible to include it with a brief explanation under "other income" on your 1040 and you won't need to file a schedule F, the farm form.

If you're not a farmer but do have taxable farm income, you still must file an estimated tax report on this income if the tax on the income is expected to exceed forty dollars. "This rule applies to

Stockholders Approve Stock Issue

Stockholders of the First National Bank of Harrington approved two changes in the capital structure of the bank at the stockholders meeting held Tuesday, Feb. 15. One was a five-for-one split of stock outstanding and the second change was the approval of issuing 1500 new shares. This historic action represents the first change in the outstanding stock since 1927. The market price of the new stock was set at $70 per share.

In businesses, the following Directors were elected for the ensuing year: George W. Cain, Arnold B. Gilstad, C. Tharp Harrington, Benjamin Hughes Jr., Ernest E. Killen, Amos Minner, R. Harry Quillen, William W. Shaw, Dr. Robert H. Smith, and Frank Tharp.

Holloway-Hughes Beagles Triumph

Two beagles owned by Bob Holloway and Benjamin Hughes, both of Harrington, triumphed in Southern Maryland trials over the weekend.

Ben Bob Spicy won first place for Holloway and Hughes in the 13-inch division and Ben Bob Gambo took fourth in the 15-inch class.

Derby trials for dogs aged 18 and 19 months will begin Saturday at the Diamond State Beagle Club headquarters at Felton.

Your Telephone Manager in Dover

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY
For most of us, Monday the 21st means the first long weekend since the big holidays. If you are planning to take a trip, plan to use your phone. Call ahead for reservations. Call home to keep in touch.
If you are having guests from afar for the weekend, again, the way to make plans is by the Telebargain. Better communication leaves you more precious time for fun, friends, family.
YOU HAVE INHERITED ONE MILLION DOLLARS FROM YOUR LONG-LOST UNCLE. THE EXECUTORS ARE LOOKING FOR YOU.
An unlisted telephone number used to be a bit of a status symbol. Today, in a world increasingly in a hurry, it is more likely to be a stumbling block. You have more friends than enemies. So it just makes sense to make sure your name and number* are listed in the phone book.
Let folks reach you with that good news... whatever it is.
*For a small extra charge, you can list others in your home. Especially helpful, if their last names are different.
DON'T SEE RED
Are you baffled by such phone matters as long distance area codes, credit card calling, and off-hours rates? Don't get frustrated; just think pink. Pink Pages, that is. They are the first thing in your telephone directory, and the first place to look for a wealth of useful facts. Pink Pages. Try them, you'll like them.

On Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred MacIlvaine motored to Wilmington and picked up Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Cook, taking them for a ride to Lancaster with dinner at the Holiday Inn. Friends of the Cooks, who formerly resided here, will be happy to hear that they are in reasonably good health in their pleasant surroundings in Wilmington.

Mr. George Sevier of Delmar was a caller last week at the Jacob Hatfields. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Meredith were Friday evening callers.

Luncheon guests of Mrs. Nelson Meredith this past week were Mrs. Anne Sisson of Waldorf, Mrs. Violet Bringhurst of Viola, and Dr. and Mrs. Richard Ryder of Baltimore.

Recently Mrs. Medford Calhoun was hostess to a birthday dinner given in her home in honor of her twin sisters, Mrs. Lulu Bryan of Millsboro and Mrs. Milton Milliner of Hearn's Pond, and her grandchildren, Terry and Shelley Calhoun of Harrington, and her husband, Mr. Medford Calhoun.

A delicious turkey dinner was served with all the trimmings and birthday cake and ice cream was enjoyed by all. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Calhoun and daughter, Sherry of Harrington; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond West and Miss Ruth Ann Bryan of Millsboro and the Rev. Milton Milliner of Hearn's Pond.

Greenwood Kiwanis News: 11th Division Lt. Gov. Ed. Elliott, made one of his official visits to the Greenwood Kiwanis Club last Thursday. He reported on 11th Division activities; the Mid-Winter Conference in Washington, D.C.; and emphasized the International Convention in Atlantic City in late June. With him, and introduced, was Lt. Gov. elect Nelson Short of the Milford Club.

Louis Mills, program chairman for the evening, introduced Vernon Kerr of Milford, who showed a number of colored slides of his trip to the San Francisco and Los Angeles area. The slides were good and they refreshed the memories of those who had visited that area and possibly caused those who hadn't to want to go and see that part of our country.

Pres. Chas. Elliott reported receiving for the Club a $25 check from a friend of the Club who had needed, for a while, one of the Club's wheel chairs.

Ebe Reynolds, Sr. represented the Club at the Mid-Winter Conference in Washington.

On Sat. evening, Pres. Chas. Elliott and Nancy, Nelson Meredith and Minnie, Stanley Cahall and Mary, Lawrence Meredith and Mary, traveled to Chincoteague to make an inter-club visit with that Club. They reported a very pleasant visit.

New Century Club Notes

On Feb. 8 at 1 p.m. the New Century Club met at the Club House for House for their meeting. Mrs. Winkler, president, opened the meeting and we all joined in repeating the Pledge and Collect.

We all then carried our plates to the Buffet Table, where many different salads, prepared by different members were attractively displayed. Each one took a sample of these different salads and returned to the table, where the hostesses of the day had coffee and crackers for us.

The minutes were read and approved, and the treasurer's report given and accepted. We now have 63 paid up members. We welcomed a new member, Mrs. John Harrington. The Sunshine Collection was taken.

Under new business, Mrs. Winkler explained to us the program on Arbor Day. Our Club will have the two schools here in Harrington and Frederica.

Our Easter Club Luncheon was discussed, a motion was made by Mrs. John Curtis and seconded by Mrs. T.H. Storur. We go to the Dinner Bell for luncheon on Tuesday, April 14.

Our next meeting will be Feb. 22 at 8 p.m. Our exchange student in Harrington will be on our program.

To continue our program of the day, Mrs. Rapp gave us a reading on Our Talents and Art. We then browsed around the room to look at the articles on art and crafts made by some of our members. We then took our time and copied some of the receipts of different delicious salads we had all sampled. The meeting was adjourned.

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller

SOLITUDE

Happy the man who can leave his cares;
 The stress of work and world affairs;
 To tramp about through pasture fields
 Enjoying the treasures that nature yields
 And feel its inspiration.

Happy the man who finds a place;
 An interlude in time and space
 Where he can pause and muse and dream
 By a quiet pool and rippling stream
 In quiet meditation.

THIS AND THAT

Hope for the best, prepare for the worse,
 And take what comes with a grin.

Gus says: You'll have to give back-seat drivers credit for one thing; they never run out of gas.

Cagers Rout Delmar 64-27

Jim Blades' Lake Forest basketballers took one period to get untracked, then ran away from winless Delmar, over the last three frames. The 64-27 triumph was the Spartans' seventh in thirteen games.

Jim Dill led the winners with 14 points. Others in double figures were Frank Daniels (13), Lawrence Sorden (12), and Neal Travis (10).
 Delmar 12 5 4 6-27
 Lake Forest 13 16 19 16-64

Grapplers Crush Dover Air 46-6

Dover Air offered only token opposition against Lake Forest's fourth-place Spartans. The Falcons won only two bouts, one of those against a substitute.

Lake Forest had five victories by falls. Both Martin Miller and George Davis flattened their rivals in the first round.

Spartan Matmen Extend Sussex Central

Lake Forest's wrestlers, coached by Tom Muehleisen and Elliott Workman, made their best showing against a Herman Bastianelli-coached team, in several years, when the Spartans dropped a 27-21 verdict to Sussex Central, here, last week.

In the early sixties Harrington High had a Georgetown team on the ropes. With two matches left the Lions had state champion, Louis Starkey, available to wrestle at 180, or heavyweight. Starkey would almost certainly pin anyone the opposition would put on the mat with him, in either class. Unfortunately, the rules stated that Harrington, as host team had to put its man on the mat first. Thus, when Starkey stepped up at 180, Bastianelli forfeited that match, then moved his 180 pounder up to heavyweight. The visitor then pinned Harrington's game but inexperienced heavyweight to give Georgetown the match. If that contest had taken place at Georgetown, Starkey could have followed the Sussex Countian's 180 pounder wherever he went, to 180 or to heavyweight. As Joe Louis once said "He can run but he can't hide."

To this day the County Seaters are the only lower Delaware scholastic wrestling team to have a perfect record against Harrington and Lake Forest. But, last week's showing by the Spartans was the best effort against Bastianelli, since the Louis Starkey era.

Tom Clarke (123) and Skip O'Neal (182) pinned their rivals, Rod Wyatt, Norman Baynard and Robin Callahan won by decision. But the big surprise of the evening, to this writer, was the sterling performance turned in by Bob Bosco. The freshman Spartan was up against one of Bastianelli's sons, Danny, who is one of the most experienced matmen in Delaware. Danny has a long, unbeaten streak and has been wrestling since way, and Robert Mullane were victorious. Doug Vincent and Donald Murray battled to draws.

Harrington Recreation Activities

In the third week of competition in the Harrington Youth Basketball Program the Bullets emerged as the only undefeated team in the six team league.

Tony Smith had an outstanding day offensively as his 20 points was high for the game. James Flamer was right behind with 19 points as the Bullets scored at will on the previously undefeated Celtics to post an impressive 52-11 win. Bruce Benson was the standout for the Celtics.

In what turned out to be the only closely contested game of the day the Lakers edged the Knicks 15-13 in a low scoring game that saw Ricky Jones of the Knicks take top scoring honors with 8 points closely followed by Billy Moore of the Lakers with 6. The win moved the Lakers into a four way tie for second place.

In the highest scoring game of the season the Bucks ran up a 62-22 score on the Hawks in posting their second win. Calvin Burris hit for 29 points to up his game average to 24 points a game. Charles Benson was high for the Hawks with 12.

The fourth week of action in the Harrington Youth Basketball Competition saw the Bullets rally to maintain their undefeated record and the Bucks stay close behind in second place.

Led by the offensive efforts of Darnell Burton and Calvin Burris a strong Buck team overpowered a determined Laker squad 50-17. Burton and Burris combined for 37 points.

Before leaving the game in the fourth quarter, James Flamer sparked the underdog Knicks in a strong effort to overthrough the Bullets. When the smoke cleared the Bullets had eased past the Knicks 25-22. Flamer scored 12 points for the Knicks as Roger Perry hit for 10 points for the Bullets. In the last contest for the day the Celtics posted a 32-20 win over the Hawks. Both teams played well as Benson and Peck scored 8 and 16 points respectively for the Celtics and Charles Benson hit for 10 points for the Hawks.

Jerry McGinty remained undefeated as he captured his seventh consecutive victory, a pin in 1:25. After being sidelined for the past two matches with knee ailments, Mike Smith returned to the Chipman line-up to capture a 5-0 decision.

Another undefeated Spartan Donald Baynard, had little trouble in disposing of his opponent, with a pin in 1:55.

Smyrna was unable to fill the 96 and 101 pound weight classes, thereby giving Robert Richard and Arthur Wilson victories by forfeit.

Terry Stewart captured a 7-4 decision. Delmer Freeman reversed his Eagle opponent in the last few seconds of the match to register a hard-fought 8-6 victory. Bill Jackson fought his Eagle to a 2-2 draw.

In a rugged battle of the unbeaten, Richard Wright triumphed with an 8-2 decision. In a previous meeting of the two teams, Richard and this same Eagle opponent had battled to a 4-4 draw.

Mike McGinnis gained the last Spartan victory of the day, a 2-0 decision. In scrimmage matches, Donald Smith, Jimmy Calla-

Robbins Hardware took two and one-half games from the T & M Rejects to take total pins to give the hardware team the third spot in the standings.

Harold Melvin paced Jarrell Fuel as he hit a 200 game and a good series as the fuelers took two games and total pins from a three-man Taylor & Messick squad Tuesday night.

Butler's Fuel is still going full steam as they trounced McKnatt Funeral Home in the first and third game to give them the total pins and three points to their credit.

Gallo & Stevenson went into the fray against the Spoilers with just four men, but managed to come out on the best end of a three to one verdict.

Ken Layton paved the way for Penn Central as they bounced back from the opening game defeat to the Honey Dippers to win the second and third game to get three points in the standings.

SALES PITCH

"It will pay you to be very sceptical of anyone selling substitutes for conventional agricultural fertilizers."

These products are often called soil conditioners or soil additives or organic humates. The only thing they have in common is very small quantities of essential plant foods, Mitchell says. One field study actually showed an average yield reduction of 29 bushels per acre of corn for one farmer who used one such product.

Check the label; are the amounts of nitrogen, potassium or phosphorus listed? How do they compare with the amounts in a standard fertilizer? Are the ingredients even listed?

In other cases, salesmen are pushing other products such as liquid fertilizer with acceptable plant food levels. But the price is three to ten times that of conventional liquid fertilizers. Yet, pound for pound, these expensive materials perform no differently than regular fertilizers. Crops react to the plant food not the cost, Mitchell says.

"If you're doubtful about a product, ask your county extension agent or extension specialist," he adds.

KENT COUNTY COMMENTS

by JOSHUA M. TWILLEY
Levy Court President

Last Tuesday the Levy Court enacted the Permanent Zoning Ordinance for Kent County effective on Feb. 19, the day when the Interim Zoning Ordinance expires. Several facts about the new ordinance have not been reported adequately.

One important point to remember is that the permanent zoning ordinance can be changed exactly the same way as was the case under the interim zoning ordinance. That is to say, if a resident owns a piece of land which is not zoned for the use he wishes, he can apply for a change in zoning. The Zoning Commission will make a recommendation to the Levy Court and the Levy Court will have the final decision just as it has before.

There should be fewer requests for rezoning under the permanent zoning code. This fact is true because the interim zoning ordinance required that every change from an existing use had to be rezoned. Under the new zoning map and ordinance, large areas of the County have been rezoned single family residential and several areas have been zoned multiple family residential, and some land has been set aside for mobile home parks. This is in addition to the residential use now possible in the agricultural zones on one acre parcels in the East and one-half acre parcels in the West.

Under the interim zoning ordinance there was only one category of commercial use. Under the permanent zoning ordinance, there are four categories and parcels of land have been rezoned for each one of these. For example, in the neighborhood business districts, it would not be possible to build a factory or a filling station. This will make it possible to control the location of heavy industry to locations where they will not be offensive to residential developments.

One final point, the Levy Court Commissioners know that the permanent zoning ordinance and zoning maps are not perfect. We have made every effort to adopt the best plan for the citizens of Kent County on the facts as they now are known to us. The zoning ordinance and maps will be under constant review and will be amended from time to time as conditions change and new facts are known. The important thing to remember is that the permanent zoning ordinance is the first step toward carrying out a comprehensive plan for the direction of growth of Kent County in the next twenty years as well as serve to protect the investment that Kent County citizens have in their properties.

If you have room in your car to take someone, please get in touch with Rev. Reitano. We were sorry to hear that, Mrs. Reitano, Kathy and Danny Lee, are down with the flu. Please pray for them, so they can be back in church next Sunday with us. Also please pray for Dave Gustafson, who is ill. We wish him a quick recovery. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wisk on their wedding. May God be with them always.

It Seems To Me

Janet Reed

Easy to sew! Are the pattern companies going too far? The trend to simplicity of line in today's patterns means easy, quick sewing. Most companies are featuring more and more styles that are "Easy to Sew" or that can be made in a few hours time. If you want an endless amount of new clothes or you're a beginner hesitant about trying more intricate designs, it's a great idea. But for a skilled, experienced seamstress, the designs lack a distinction she may prize in the clothing she wears.

Most of us are glad to see the linings and underlinings go, and we welcome the softer, more fluid line which doesn't require the nuisance of handling layers of fabric. And we may not be too sad about the absence of buttonholes, or collars or pockets because sewing surely is easier without them. But these are the details which give variety and interest. And collarless styles are unbecoming on women.

It's a fact that the beauty of the popular bright prints would be lost in an intricate design, but not all of us are the wild print type, nor do we want all our clothes in bold prints.

More and more girls and women are taking pride in making their own clothes. As they gain more experience, these simple styles are not presenting much of a challenge. Part of the fun of sewing is being able to master different and increasingly difficult techniques. Consider the number of women who are trying new and difficult fabrics such as the fake furs, vinyls and suedes and shear tricot.

And if we spend time sewing, let's make garments comparable to expensive and unusual ready-to-wear instead of something we can buy as cheaply as we can make it. Let's hope the pattern companies don't continue to concentrate most of their efforts toward the simple little dress. There is a need for both easy and intricate styles. But at present, it appears that the pattern companies are underestimating the ability of the woman who sews.

4-H News

The Woodside Emeralds have been busy since the beginning of the 4-H year in September. Anticipating bus trips in the spring to Philadelphia and Pea Patch Island, they have been trying to boost their treasury with a bake sale, a rummage sale, raffling off a record album, and selling smiley pins and mums. In December they entertained the folks at the Smyrna Home for the Unusually Ill and also treated themselves to a Christmas Party at the YMCA with an hour swim in the pool.

Over Christmas holidays and into Jan. many 4-Hers worked diligently preparing their speeches for the Jan. 15 Kent County Public Speaking Contest. Woodside Emeralds receiving blue ribbon awards for this contest were Judy Gibson, Lynn Waldbusser, Cheryl Warren, Barbara Leavitt, Maria Warren, Debbie Walton, and Greg Warren. Lynn Waldbusser received the Plaque for the outstanding petite girls speech. Maria Warren tied with a Westville 4-Her for the outstanding Jr. girls speech. Greg Warren received the plaque for the Sr. boys. Receiving red ribbon awards were Tammy Warren, Patty Hockersmith, Nancy Waldbusser, Pat Burie, and Carol Waldbusser. Receiving white ribbon awards were Lynn Webb and Cindy Glendon.

Looking ahead the Emeralds are preparing a dance routine for the Kent County 4-H Variety Show to be held Feb. 19 at the Caesar Rodney Senior High School, 7:30 p.m.

For the month of March, much individual thought is being given to the Reddy Foods Contest being held on the 25. Also several Emerald 4-Hers are preparing their chicken houses in anticipation of the Junior Broiler Program which starts March 17.

TOWN AND COUNTRY TOPICS

FRANCIS WEBB
KENT COUNTY AGENT

I am sure that many of you have been reading some of our articles pertaining to wills. Both Dave and I have been focusing primarily on the person that does not have a will. However, I would like to have the attention of the person with a will who has not updated it recently.

An outdated will could be as disastrous for your estate distribution as having no will at all. Of course, your will is a basic element of your estate plan. Naturally, with changing times your will may have to be updated, usually once a year, if it is to effectively distribute your property in the way you wish.

Here are just a couple of examples of a person having a will but it not being up-to-date or properly designed according to state law. M. J. worked his lifetime building up a sizable farmland estate, but had no say in how it was distributed. After his death, the will was found among his personal papers, but it had never been signed. His property was distributed among all of his family and relatives, which was certainly not in accordance with the information that was in his unsigned will.

Another example was F. J., who made his will by filling in the blanks on a printed page from a book of forms. It was witnessed by a Justice of the Peace. Although it was clearly F. J.'s will and presumably expressed his wishes for the distribution of his property, it was ruled invalid because it was not correctly prepared according to the state laws.

So, if you have a will at the present time, just take the next few moments to think if it still expresses your wishes for your estate distribution if you would happen to leave in the next few days. Read through the following thoughts and see if you are satisfied with your will.

Does your will explicitly spell out designated beneficiaries, guardians, witnesses, and your executor? Ask yourself whether your beneficiaries are capable of managing the property you plan to leave them. Also, be certain that your will disposes of your current assets. Make sure that it reflects your current wishes regarding your property right today. And, of course, consult with your lawyer to be certain that your will is legally valid and that none of its provisions have been outmoded by the passage of new laws. The effect of the Tax Reform Act of 1969 on "charitable remainder trusts" is a prime example of how legislation can cause a will to become obsolete.

Now that you have read through this and hopefully given some thought to how you stand with your present will, if you have any questions do not put off doing something about it right away. Of course, it will certainly not be any great crisis to you, but it certainly could be to your spouse, children, and/or relatives.

For those of you that do not have a will, let's get with it!

Now that we have taken care of things after you are gone, let's talk about something that will take care of you while you are here—that is, wine and wine making.

It seems as though the wine-making hobbyist is becoming quite popular. Wine can be made from the same varieties of grapes that are used for fresh eating and for jelly. They would be varieties such as Concord, Catawaba, and Niagara. However, these sometimes make wine that has a foxy flavor, which is an odor connected with many eastern United States varieties.

Your finest wines are usually made from French hybrid grapes, which will grow very nicely in our locale. However, these hybrids are scarce at the present time. The only person that I know presently growing the French hybrid is Mr. Alois Strachar located on Sugar Stick Rd. near Harrington. He has cultured a very fine grape vineyard and seems to do an outstanding job with his wine making. He has constructed a wine cellar and has all the equipment to do an outstanding job of fine wine making. He has cultured a very fine grape vineyard and seems to do an outstanding job with his wine making. He has constructed a wine cellar and has all the equipment to do an outstanding job of fine wine making.

If the interest in home wine making continues to increase, I am sure that some of the better hybrids will be available from the actual producers as well as at roadside markets. For most hobbyist wine makers, it would be better to buy the grapes than it would be to try to grow them. However, if you have the space and care to put the time into it, it can certainly be accomplished.

Just as a service to the public, the University of Delaware Cooperative Extension Service along with professors in the Plant Science Department, has put together helpful information on recommended grape varieties, cultural practices, vocabulary of wine growing and a sheet covering the procedures in wine making. If any interested person would like to have such information, call 736-1448, University of Delaware Cooperative Extension Service, Dover.

Clark's Hybrid make 204 bu. acre this year

CLARK'S HYBRID seed this year was grown in Delaware and Maryland, all hand detassled for a 100 percent normal seed production, into each of our single cross hybrids is bred a combination of high yield factors such as outstanding resistance to disease and insects, response to high fertility and plant population, tolerance to varying conditions, strong stalks that resist wind and rain. Farmers that planted CLARK'S HYBRIDS this year had no problem from wind damage on corn.

We feel that on an average a plant population in our Eastern growing areas should be in the 18,000 to 20,000 range. It is true that high population of over 20,000 in some years or on irrigated ground will produce more. But on the average a lesser population will give you a better over all average. CLARK'S HYBRIDS will stand high population like any other hybrid, but think it over first, soil types, fertility level, etc. You may wish to vary your populations on different fields. On our SX777NB at a population of 18,500 a farmer (name on request) shelled 204 bu. at 24 percent moisture of this hybrid per acre this year near Kenton, Del. Another farmer near Cheswold, Del. using SX777 had a population of 10,500 (too low we admit) but yielded an average of 121 bu. per acre. This is the type of hybrids you want to depend on. Hybrids that operate in a wide range of conditions.

Veterans News

Q -- My daughter draws a VA pension based on her father's death in World War II. If she works the summer, will her earnings affect her pension?

A -- No. Income earned by a child will not affect this benefit.

Q -- I'm a VA pensioner who has just moved and wonder what office should be notified about my change of address?

A -- Your change of address should go to the VA regional office where your records are kept and to the post office which serviced your old address.

Q -- I am a 66 year old veteran with a $10,000 National Service Life Insurance five year level premium term policy. I suffered a disability after I reached 65 which kept me from working for six months. Am I eligible for a waiver of premiums on my insurance?

A -- No. Your disability must have been incurred before your 65 birthday to qualify for the waiver.

Q -- Can it be arranged with the Veterans Administration to automatically apply dividends from my G.I. life insurance policy toward payment of the loan on the policy?

A -- Yes, if you request VA to use your dividends for that purpose.

Q -- I am a veteran eligible for G.I. home loan benefits. Will VA guarantee a loan to buy a used mobile home?

A -- No. Current regulations authorize only the purchase of new mobile homes with VA-guaranteed loans.

Q -- I was honorably discharged from military service after serving from May 1, 1955 to May 7, 1959. Am I eligible for VA educational assistance?

A -- Yes. Any veteran is eligible for this benefit after serving more than 180 days of active duty, any part of it after Jan. 31, 1955, and receiving an other than dishonorable discharge. Veterans released for service connected disabilities (regardless of length of service) and servicemen with more than 180 days of service are also eligible.

Q -- I am the wife of a veteran with a service-connected disability rated at 30 percent. Can I receive medical treatment at a VA hospital?

A -- No. VA provides medical treatment only to eligible veterans.

Q -- I have "V"-prefixed National Service Life Insurance and wonder if I can carry this insurance after age 50?

A -- Yes, but it should be remembered that premiums for five-year level term policies increase every five years as you grow older.

Q -- I was attending college under the G.I. Bill and changed to vocational school. Can I change back to college?

A -- Yes. VA may approve the second change if, after counseling, it is determined that the change is in keeping with your abilities and interest and there is a reasonable chance you can successfully complete the program.

Q -- Is it too late for a veteran over 65 years of age to apply for a waiver government insurance premiums?

A -- No. If a veteran becomes totally disabled before his 65 birthday and meets other requirements, he is entitled to the waiver even though he does not apply for it until he is over 65.

Q -- If a veteran's widow who draws death pension benefits is a patient in a nursing home and is in need of regular aid and attendance, is she eligible for additional pension?

A -- Yes, she is entitled to an additional special monthly pension of $55 under the current law. Widows requiring regular aid and attendance are entitled to an additional $50 monthly pension under the "old" law.

Q -- As the widow of a veteran who died 14 months ago, can I collect a Veterans Administration burial allowance?

A -- Yes, provided your husband was a wartime, Korean Conflict or Vietnam veteran with an other than dishonorable discharge; or if he was drawing service-connected compensation at time of death or discharge, or retired for disability incurred in line of duty. Application for a maximum $250 burial allowance may be filed within two years of burial or cremation.
