What Is A Fire Policeman?

by Lt. Herman Kohland Jr. These are the firemen that aid in control and extinguish the fire. Without these men traffic blocks the fire apparatus responding to an alarm or returning for another load of water. They frame the danger of the hazardous highway with a reflective cape and a traffic type flashlight or highway fuses.

All Del. State firepolice have issued blue rotating lights. These can be mounted on the dash or roof of an automobile. If one of these men ask you to move on or pull over, give them your cooperation and do as they ask. By doing so, you will aid in the extinguish of a fire or rescue of a victim from an accident.

No driver of any vehicle, shall follow any fire apparatus traveling in response to a fire alarm, closer than 500 feet or drive into or park such a vehicle within 500 feet where the fire apparatus has stopped in answer to a fire alarm.

Mrs. Lorraine B. Kingdon, assistant agricultural editor at the University of Delaware, served as judge for the contest.

City to Vote Saturday On Land Sale

A referendum will be held Saturday from 12 noon to 7 p.m., at the city hall to permit the sale of city land known as the Harry C. Hammond property.

This land conveyed to the city by Hazel Greer Hammond, Dec. 26, 1967, had to be purchased in its entirety, some 80 acres, so a major portion of it could be used by the city for a sewage disposal plant and two lagoons.

The city, being in need of funds, would like to sell the some 30 acres remaining, but must get permission of the electorate to do so. The law stipulates any city property, believed to be valued at more than $5,000, cannot be sold without a referendum.

The Hammond land is bordered on the north by Delaware 14 and on the south and east by a prong of Brown's Branch known as Cemetery Ditch.

CITY TAX RATE UNCHANGED; OTHER REVENUES SOUGHT

Appeal night Friday was significant when the City Council received no appeals on the scrap assessment and did not change the tax rate.

The Council warned, however, the taxpayers to watch out for next year.

In the meantime, the Council is making a study of unoccupied lots with the idea of taxing the owners for sewer and water lines on a front-footage basis. The same idea was also studied last year.

Senior Center News

Drawing near is one deadline that many senior citizens will not have to make, April 15, income tax time. Nevertheless this past week was a busy one. There was a large turnout for the birthday party with four birthday "girls" in attendance. They were Kathryn Masten, Josephine Konienci, Helen Graisberg, and Mildred Vincent. Best wishes to all on the start of another year.

Thursday was bowling day and there are two results to be reported. Gladys Hill held high game score a week ago. Last week was dropped into second place by Annabelle Morrow. Emo Tee was second highest first week with Della Ryan third.

The average score standings in the first games proved to be Gladys Hill with Della Ryan and Emo Tee in a tie for second. Sam Short stood third this past week for single game score. Gladys Hill had high average score with Annabelle Morrow second, and Emo Tee third.

On Friday, March 17, the bake held at the Center was a success with the gross receipts being almost one hundred dollars.

Then on Saturday, March 18, the Lions Club sent a bus which transported 22 members of the Center to the Capital Grange in Dover. An entertainment was presented prizes were given, and refreshments were served. This is the second year for this event.

Still further activity - another group interested in our mature citizens, the 4-H Club, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Taylor, entertained for the members of the Center at the Asbury Methodist Church on Monday. A pleasant afternoon was spent bridging the generation gap.

Future activity for men is beginning to look like a reality. A grant has been received from the Bureau on Aging for the addition of a shop with a specific amount set aside for purchase of equipment. It is hoped that building can begin in the very near future.

Two of our members attended the Flower Show and the Best of Mummer's String Bands at the Civic Center in Philadelphia on Saturday. They were Gladys Hill and Viola Hill.

You say all you have to do is sit around? Join the Center. Go places and do things! Next is an overnight trip to Williamsburg. Get your name in early.

Sunshine 4-H News

by Jerri Draper and Donna Shultie

The Lake Forest Chapter Exchange Student, Jean Sloan gave a talk and showed several very interesting slides of her homeland, Australia, at the Sunshine 4-H Club meeting on March 13. Miss Sloan said the schools in Australia are quite different from those in the U.S. The government is in control of most of the schools. She said the main difference in the schools is what the students wear.

Everybody must wear a uniform. School uniforms may differ but everyone must wear the same uniform. Sports are also different. Everybody must play sports.

Several members from the Woodside Emeralds Club enjoyed the slides along with our club. Those members were: Mrs. Gooden, Mrs. Warren, Greg Warren, Joe Gibson, Mr. Carlisle, Kenny Gooden, Jay Brown, and Breat Banks.

Todd and Becky Gruwell gave an interesting demonstration on "Bicycle Safety". Some of the safety rules in bicycle riding are: (1) Obey traffic signs; (2) Keep to the right; (3) Follow traffic; and (4) Never hitch-hike rides.

Delaware Food Market Report

by Anne Halberton

The better buys for April will be found in the poultry department. Egg production continues at a high level, and they will be in ample supply--this is good news since they are a traditional staple for both Passover and Easter special dishes. Though the egg market has firmed during Lent, the usual seasonal pattern--a letdown in demand--can be expected after Easter. So, if all goes as expected, eggs will be a very attractive buy during the first month of spring.

The seasonal increase in broiler production and marketings will occur early this year. As expected, producers are responding to high prices for competing meats by expanding output. Marketings during April will be 8 to 10 percent more than for the same month last year. In fact, April marketings will be at about mid-summer level of 1971. Don't overlook turkeys; they are also on the moderately priced list for the month. Look for specials throughout April when turkeys will be at such a price it might be an excellent idea to buy some for the freezer.

Live animal prices have fluctuated considerably in the past two months because of bad weather and wide swings in marketings. However, the price trend for red meats is firming upward. Some short run declines may occur, and buyers should be alert for them. There should be some easing of prices on pork during April, but prices will resume their upward trend in late spring and summer. Although cattle numbers are up this year, marketings have not yet reflected this increase. Expect less lamb and veal this April than a year ago as crops continue to grow smaller each year.

Renewed activity on nearby farms during April is a promise of bountiful harvest to come later in the year. However, we will see only a few items during the month. Look for fresh rhubarb and spinach to be available in quantity. Local asparagus will be appearing in late April. Shipments of local produce will increase sharply in May. The fresh fruit during April will be shipped in from distant producing areas. Those to check are bananas, pineapples, strawberries, oranges, grapefruit, and a few melons. Controlled atmosphere apples are still available although near the tail end of the season.

Stocks of processed fruits and vegetables are down this year. The bright spot among canned fruits is pears, the only large item in significantly larger supply. Supplies of fruit juices are also down this year.

The April Plentiful Foods list features eggs. Other plentifuls are milk and dairy products; canned cranberry sauce and canned cranberry juice cocktail; frozen concentrated grape juice and canned grape juice, canned applesauce and apple juice; canned pears; prunes and prune juice; and potatoes and potato products.

KENT COUNTY COMMENTS

by JOSHUA M. TWILLEY
 Levy Court President

Next Tuesday morning the Levy Court will decide whether to establish a two year program for the aging. The possibility of a grant for this program came from the State Department of Aging. They explained the State and Federal programs to the Levy Court last Tuesday and before that to the newly appointed County Task Force on Aging. The task force has reviewed the application and strongly recommended that the Levy Court participate in the program. The County's cost will be to provide the space and office equipment which we can do at a nominal expense.

The objective of the program will be to develop and propose improved ways to meet the needs of elderly citizens and to coordinate the organizations now serving the aging.

Under the grant, the Federal Government and State will approve a Director of Services for the aging in Kent County. Among other things, he will evaluate and recommend the allocation of Federal and State grants in Kent County. These grants presently amount to over $100,000.00 per year. In addition to this, however, he will serve as a coordinator and organizer of people. This is especially important when so much of our services to the aged depend upon voluntary and free community services.

Out of this project we hope to bring order to the hit and miss methods presently used to provide help for the aged. For example, one of the Director's duties will be to determine who has the most critical needs, and what organizations can best undertake the responsibilities of meeting that need.

The Levy Court realizes its responsibility to the aging in Kent County, and this new program is designed to enable us to help our many older Kent Countians. If you have any suggestions on what should be done in Kent County to help the aging, please contact your Levy Court Commissioner or call the Levy Court office.

Peaceful Atom

The growth of nuclear power is a worldwide, not just an American, phenomenon. There are more than 80 operating nuclear plants in the world, only 22 of them in the United States. Authorities predict there will be more than 250 operating plants throughout the world by the end of the decade. And that's just the beginning. Unless technology comes up with an alternative, it appears that atomic energy will become the world's primary source of power.

The implications of this growth add importance to the fourth meeting on nuclear power sponsored by the United Nations' International Atomic Energy Agency. The 10-day meeting in Geneva explores such topics as the world energy demand by the year 2000, nuclear plant operating methods, health and safety--plus a host of related issues. It can be predicted in advance that not all the scientists will agree that nuclear power is perfectly healthy and completely safe.

According to critics, nuclear power plants heat up water ways, emit radiation and have the potential--through a freak accident--of causing death and destruction. Proponents reply that, at least in the United States, there has never been a loss of life or property damage in 14 years of operating experience. What radiation escapes from nuclear reactors is only a tiny fraction of the radiation we constantly receive from the sun, the earth and food. Nuclear plants, they add, are equipped with backup safety features and failsafe systems which shut a reactor down at the first hint of trouble. This is an over-simplification of the atomic debate. In Geneva, the scientists will argue about millirems of radiation exposure, esoteric design criteria, complicated statistical computations and probability mathematics. In this rarified atmosphere, the general public--which has the most to gain and lose from nuclear power--finds itself in the hands of its scientists. It doesn't help matters when the scientists disagree as they so frequently do about the pros and cons of nuclear power. The Daily Star, Hammond, La.

LAKE FOREST CITES NEED FOR BUILDING PROGRAM

For the past few weeks members of the Lake Forest Board of Education have been discussing with the citizens of the district the necessity for a school building program at this time. In determining such a need, the Board made a thorough study of various growth factors in the district, including birth rate, industrial growth, change in military population, and population growth due to erection of mobile home parks and low-cost housing developments. The study led them to assume: that the birth rate in the area appears to have leveled off and will likely remain stable for the next few years; that industrial growth is likely to increase at a very moderate rate; that the military population will likely remain at approximately the present level; and that population growth due to new mobile home parks and low cost housing developments will increase tremendously, especially in the northern part of the district.

This study also clearly indicated that the East Elementary School (Frederica) and the North Elementary School (Felton), which are now overcrowded, will be in a very serious overcrowded condition within the very near future. It also indicated that the growth in the Harrington area is the least affected and that while the South Elementary School and the Chipman Junior High School (Harrington) are near their capacity, the growth in this area could be accommodated for the next few years.

The facts in this study are based on the knowledge that thirteen new mobile park areas and low-cost housing developments have been approved by the Planning Commission within the past year totaling a minimum of 919 family units. Most of these are located in the area around Felton, Canterbury and Frederica. For planning purposes, the district can expect an average of 1.5 school age students for each family unit, which would total well over 1000 new students in the district. After studying the growth conditions and the economic factors involved, it was determined that it was not feasible to increase the size of the North (Felton) Elementary School because of the excessive cost of providing new heating, electrical and sewage systems. It was also found it was not economically advisable to increase the size of the South-Chipman complex because of the tremendous amount of busing that would be necessary to bring boys and girls from the northern to the southern part of the district. The Board believes that the most economical solution, as well as the most educationally sound one, is to increase the size of the East (Frederica) School to accommodate about one-third of the District's students in grades K through 6. Land is available at the Frederica location and, therefore, no new purchase would be necessary. The present basic building which now can house 342 could be increased to house approximately 750 boys and girls. This would enable the boys and girls in grades K through 6 to attend the school nearest their homes, since with the expansion of the Frederica location, East could handle 750; North, 850; and South, 750. In addition to the elementary problem, the Board discovered that with the students already enrolled in the lower grades the Lake Forest High School would be over its capacity within a year. It therefore established, as a second priority, the addition of a shop building to accommodate the tremendous surge in career and vocational courses being offered by the high school, to expand the music and business education, and to add two to five classrooms as funds permitted.

The State Board of Education concurred with the findings of the Lake Forest Board and approved a Certificate of Necessity for $1,143,000 of which $686,000 would be paid by the state and $457,000 by the local district. It approved the date of April 12 to hold a referendum for local voters to decide the issue. Approval of this bond issue would necessitate an increase in local tax rate of approximately 15c per $100 of assessed valuation.

The overall building program calls for: At Lake Forest East Elementary: 2 kindergarten classrooms-100 pupils; 2 special education classrooms-30 pupils; 10 standard elementary classrooms-250 pupils; 1 library; 1 art room; 1 music room; Alterations: Remodel the multi-purpose room for physical education purposes and large group meetings; Enlarge the kitchen and dining area to serve 300 pupils at one sitting; Remodel office, health services, and faculty workroom areas; Expand heating and sewage facilities; At the High School: Construction of an industrial arts-vocational shop; Increase space and rearrangement of the music and business facilities; The addition of two to five classrooms as funds permit.

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller

Spring Memories

Perhaps it's just that Spring is here
 That truant fancy strays,
 And wanders back o'er yester years,
 To Spring of other days.

And visions crowd my waking hours
 As dreams come in the night,
 Of boyhood days back on the farm
 Make present cares take flight.

The old hay field, the clover patch,
 The sunny pasture field,
 And even chores that once seemed hard,
 A thousand pleasures yield.

Again I hear the plodding hoofs,
 And lowing of the kine,
 As Rover brings the cattle in
 And know it's "milking time".

I see the mellow friendly lights,
 That in the kitchen glow
 And even scent the "Goodies",
 That only farm boys know.

I wish that I could dream right on,
 But telephones will ring,
 And city life crowds in again--
 I guess it's just the Spring.

If you like spicy books, read a Mexican cook book.

Bryant, Bowers Top Spartans At Franklin Field

Don Bryant and Vernon Bowers were the leading performers for Jim Blades' Lake Forest High track team, in the annual "Spiked Shoe" track meet, held at Philadelphia's Franklin Field, on Saturday.

Bryant, a versatile track veteran, has the size, talent and experience to excel in several thin clad events. He ran the 60 yard High Hurdles in 8.1 seconds to finish second in a qualifying heat. In the semi-final heat he improved slightly to 8.050, but was one place away from being eligible for the six-man final heat. Some thirty-four hurdlers competed. Many of them competed in indoor track this winter. Bryant, of course, was playing basketball for the Spartans, during the same period. Don did very well and should have a fine, outdoor season.

Vernon Bowers is a freshman, 14 years old, but already has a string of accomplishments, as distance runner. His only previous track competition saw him run an excellent 2.26 half mile, at Chipman School. Track practice started for Lake Forest on March 15, a Wednesday. That Saturday, the slender, Spartan ran a 2.17 half mile, in the Spiked Shoe meet, only his second start, ever. He didn't win the event, He didn't win the event, but was competing against older runners from the Philadelphia New York, and New Jersey area. Again, many of these were in top shape from winter, indoor competition.

Bowers is almost certain to break 2.10 in the 880 and 5 minutes in the mile in 1972. He is also capable of getting under 11 minutes for the two mile, having done 11.10, in a time trial, at Washington College, Chestertown, Md., last fall.

At 13, Bowers ran third in a national championship race in New York City's Van Cortlandt Park. He was running in borrowed, flat-soled shoes, having left his spikes at home, or he probably would have been a national title-holder. Last fall, Vernon was No. 1 Spartan in cross-country and was runnerup in the multi-team Lake Forest Invitational. Bowers can go to college on an athletic scholarship, for his excellence in the running sports. However, he must ignore those ill-advised persons, who are imploring him to give up his No. 1 cross-country, varsity rank and put his 128 pound body, in gridiron togs. Of course, it is obvious that these people have their own interests in mind and can not be thinking of what is best for Bowers. While we are on the subject, Dave Moore, who lives down the road from Bowers, is in a similar situation. Dave's potential equals that of Bowers. He's not football size either, yet has been under relentless pressure, this entire school year, to switch to freshman football at Lake Forest this fall.

Remember, Moore has a 11.11 two mile clocking, outran the best javvee runners in Delaware, in cross-country as an eighth grader and could push Bowers for the No.1 varsity spot, this fall. Moore ran the state meet layout, at the University of Delaware's cross-country course, in 14.30 for 2.7 miles.

When Lake Forest won the state championship in 1969, only Chris Wetherhold ran better than 14.30. A slim lad of Moore's potential in track, should play football? Ridiculous! To get back to Philadelphia, Rick Hamm, a senior had his best two mile clocking, at 11.11. Bob Smith turned in a 56.2 440, Rudy Bordley had a 2.28 half, Larry Dill a 62 quarter, Eddie Thompson clocked a 5.28 mile, his best yet.

Sprinters Don Parker and Herman McBride each ran 60 yards in 6.8 seconds. Parker later lowered his to 6.6.

TOWN AND COUNTRY TOPICS

DAVE WOODWARD
ASSISTANT KENT COUNTY AGENT

On Tuesday, March 28th, a meeting of interest to horse owners will be held at the Capital Grange Hall, Dover, at 7:30 P.M. "Nutrition and Feeding the Horse" will be the subject of the main speaker, Mr. Paul Throckmorton, Jr., Winchester, Kentucky.

How does your horse pasture rate? Finding out what you have growing in your pasture will help determine which pastures to re-establish and which to improve with lime and fertilizer.

Each spring we get many questions on how many horses per acre of pasture. Usually, it should be the reverse, how many acres of pasture per horse. This judgment can be made by the following table: (One animal unit is equal to a 1,000 lb. horse or two 500 lb. ponies.)

Pasture Rating	Animal Unit Requirements Per Acre
Poor	5.5
Fair	4.0
Medium	2.8
Good	1.8
Excellent	0.8

Rotational grazing offers an easy method of pasture management. Divide your pasture area into four or five plots. Each plot should be large enough to provide feed for about a week. Move the horses to a different plot each week and at the end of four or five weeks the first plot will be ready to graze again. Rotational grazing keeps the plants young and growing, providing lush feed throughout the summer.

Pastures should be grazed down to about two inches in height. The horses should then be removed from the area until the grass has again reached the height of six to eight inches.

When combining more than one fabric in a garment, check care directions. For easy care, all fabrics should require the same treatment.

Soybeans--Top '72 Cash Crop?

Next year, for the first time, soybeans may be the No. 1 U.S. cash crop.

Soybeans came close this year, with record-high cash receipts equal to those for corn, according to Roger Ginder, extension crops marketing specialist at the University of Delaware.

Record-high cash receipts are fine, but farmers are really interested in how much cash they get to keep, he adds. "Farmers have been able to keep a greater portion of higher soybean receipts because that increase is primarily from higher prices, not larger acreages."

Ginder explains that, in general, cash farm receipts can be increased two ways--by planting more or getting a higher price. If a farmer plants more acreage, he usually has more crop to sell.

However, much of the extra money he earns goes into land expenses buying more fertilizer and seed, and so on. He certainly can't keep all the additional money.

But if farmers get a higher price, most of added receipts can be kept as profit. Obviously, this is the kind of increase farmers like to see, and it's the reason soybeans are a popular crop.

Also, Ginder points out that more of the soybean crop is actually sold overseas than in the U.S. "Therefore much of the extra farm income comes from foreign countries, not U.S. consumers." This means the entire country has benefited from the balance of payment assistance that soybean exports give.

Incentive Payment For Farm Help

Like many other businessmen, farmers are discovering they can increase labor efficiency with incentive programs or bonus plans.

But an effective incentive plan for farm workers requires careful planning, points out W.T. McAllister, extension agricultural economist at the University of Delaware.

He says finding a standard on which to base bonus payments may be the most difficult problem of establishing an incentive program. The standards should be above current production levels, but not out of reach. Incentive programs based on added output are usually better than those based on an increase in net income.

Bonus payments should remain separate from the usual wages so workers won't confuse the two. Payments should also be in cash rather than in form of a farm animal or extra vacation, says McAllister.

Also, try spreading the incentive payments throughout the year. Don't wait until the end of the year or harvest-time to give one large bonus.

Of course, incentive payments won't be the answer to all farm labor problems. An effective incentive program must be preceded by good labor relations, an equitable basic wage, adequate privileges and sound buildings and equipment for workers, the economist stresses.

When incentive programs are properly set up, however, workers should take advantage of the opportunity to improve their income by increasing production or assuming additional responsibilities.

Soils Scientist To Speak At U of D

Dr. Charles R. Frink, head of the department of soil and water at the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station, will discuss the influence of water pollution on the future production of agricultural products, March 29, at 3:30 p.m. in Agricultural Hall at the University of Delaware.

Frink has completed numerous studies in the field of soil microbiology and plant nutrition. His presentation, which is open to the public, will focus on the problems of maintaining good-quality water supplies. He will also discuss agricultural pollution problems associated with fertilization and animal waste disposal in high-production farm systems.

Frink's appearance is sponsored by the department of plant science under the University's Visiting Scholar Program.

It Seems To Me

by Janet Reed

Bring out all your remnants and fabric scraps left from past sewing projects. This seems to be the time to use them for your new spring outfit. Anything goes!

If you look at spring ready-to-wear, you wonder about the financial health of that industry. You get the idea they're trying to use up every scrap of material whether it goes together or not. There are dresses with as many as four or five different materials used, one for skirt, another for bodice, a third for collar and yet another for sleeves.

If the home seamstress made dresses of some of the combinations I've seen in stores, she'd be too embarrassed to wear them. Maybe the poverty look is "in," but it doesn't have to be in poor taste.

MARCH

While you are waiting for March to do its annual lion-into-lamb act, here's a simple suggestion for fighting off the chill.

Stay indoors.

When the temperature takes a nosedive, just reach for your telephone. Shopping and making social calls by phone not only save you time, they keep you nice and warm on days when you wouldn't send your worst enemy out.

EYE, ONE, OH, ZERO

Why do people make mistakes when dialing telephone calls? Research shows that most errors can be traced to two basic problems: First, the letter i (eye) is sometimes mistaken for the number 1 (one); and second, the letter o (oh) looks a lot like the number 0 (zero).

And so, to ward off the i and o errors, we suggest you memorize this less than classic verse:

Remember the difference—
Be a dialing hero;
An eye's not a one
And oh's definitely not zero.
