

Referendum Favors Sale of City Land

A referendum Saturday, for the sale of City land, saw the measure passed unanimously by 26 voters. An election or referendum without any opposition whatsoever has to be some kind of a record.

Outcome of any voting permits the City to sell some 30 acres of the Hammond land it owns on Delaware 14. The City Council decided on the sale because of the need for funds.

Recently the students of W. T. Chipman Junior School had the privilege of seeing a demonstration of the ballet. It was sponsored by the Delaware Arts Commission.

It consisted of a group of students and its director, Jamie Jamieson. He gave a brief history of how ballet dancing began. The dancers gave a demonstration of individual steps and performed with a combination of steps. An accomplished ballet dancer must have many years of lessons and practice.

For many of our students this was their first experience with the ballet. Jamieson praised our group for their behavior and attention. Mr. Ryan and Mr. Griffin were very proud of the response by Chipman pupils.

Worriow Award Winner Named

A Sussex county pioneer in Delaware poultry improvement work has received the third annual George M. Worriow Agricultural Alumni Award.

Byard Carmean, Laurel, was honored for his outstanding contributions to Delaware agriculture by the University of Delaware Agriculture Alumni Association during their annual banquet March 18. The man for whom the award was named, Dr. George M. Worriow, vice president for university relations, presented it.

Carmean, a University of Delaware graduate in 1931, served as Sussex county assistant agricultural agent from 1936 to 1940. During this time, he initiated the Broiler Chick Report. The report, which summarized eggs set and chicks placed on farms, was expanded by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and now includes statistical information from 22 broiler growing states.

Also during this time, he organized many local poultry organizations which influenced the rapidly growing Delaware broiler industry, which Carmean started, included producers of premium eggs.

Carmean founded the Southern Delaware Truck Growers Association in 1939. In the past five years, this auction has handled an average of approximately $1 million worth of commodities.

From 1946 until 1963, Carmean owned and operated a hatchery known for its production of pullover-clean chicks. He also had a grain buying and storage facility plus an extensive farming operation. He is now active as a farmer near Ridgely, Md., with cattle, hogs and grain and as a grain buyer.

Carmean has served as Chairman of the Delaware State Poultry Commission, on the State Board of Education and State Personnel Commission. He currently serves as a member of the Committee for the School of Education and Business at the University of Delaware.

Mr. Brooks is a graduate of Wilton Academy and attended the University of Maine at Orono. He is employed as traffic manager with Melvin Manufacturing Corp.

A fall wedding is planned.

Delmarva's Pioneer Harness Strip Opens Spring Season April 5th

TUITION-FREE COURSES OFFERED FOR WESLEY PARENTS

Wesley College has announced plans to make education a "family affair" by offering to parents of Wesley College students, tuition-free evening courses.

All parents of full-time Wesley students will be encouraged to take a three-hour evening class next fall, without tuition. Academic Dean Wm. C. Wright announced today.

In addition, the College will accept credit-card tuition payment (Master Charge) from all evening students. According to Wright, both plans are designed to improve Wesley College's service to the community by offering better programs.

"Students may become more efficient learners if parents are involved in education. If parents go to classes, they better understand students, and more students become more effective learners.

"A youngster taking classes can be better understood at home if Mom has to study for finals at the same time, or register for courses at the same time.

"We feel it a tremendous asset for us to have older more mature persons in the evening program; to say nothing of encouraging parents to learn, who may, in turn encourage others," concluded Dean Wright.

Parents may take one three-hour course, tuition-free every semester their son or daughter is a full-time Wesley student. In four semesters parents may earn 12 credit hours toward an Associate in Arts degree. The only charge is a five dollar registration fee, plus books.

Wesley College offers between 30 and 35 courses in the fall and winter sessions. Free tuition for parents is an extension of Wesley College's free evening tuition for senior citizens at Wesley College. Since January, 1971, persons over 65 years-of-age have taken 10 tuition-free evening courses.

Explaining the credit card plan, Dean Wright noted that it will allow evening students to spread tuition costs over a period of months.

"A large number of new evening students make the decision to enroll in a very short time; only a week or

For the rest of the meeting Harrington will race Mondays and Tuesdays; will be "dark" Wednesdays and Thursdays and will race Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays. First post weekdays is 8 p.m. Getaway time Sunday evenings is 6:30 p.m.

In changing its normal weekly schedule the Kent County harness oval will be in conflict with the thoroughbred track only on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Every racing program will feature the popular Exacta wagering on each race. There will be cash drawings and free admission opening night and first Sunday; a brand new look in the clubhouse and grandstand and 200 tons of stonedust on the track when Harrington Raceway turns the lights on its third spring harness season Wednesday night.

Track President Herman C. Brown announced it will be open house at the pioneer racing oval with free admission for all opening night and again Sunday evening. Brown also said there will be drawings of $100 following the first race and again after the last race both Wednesday and Sunday nights.

The cash prizes will be given away every Sunday evening during the 20-night meeting.

Nilon Brothers, under the direction of Jimmy Nilon, are putting the finishing touches on the new decor in the Harrington Clubhouse. Plush red carpeting throughout the glass enclosed dining area, wood paneling and bright spring colors will accent the good food and gracious dining.

The dull-gray finish of the open grandstand has been covered with yellows, reds and blues.

Tuesday night is ladies night with free admission for all women in addition to a spring-summer fashion show. Tuesday is also the night of the traditional Harrington Buffet.

Fans are not the only ones who'll be benefiting from the new spring look here. On the other side of the rail this week track Grounds Super in working 200 tons of stonedust into the half-mile racing surface.

Harrington will operate seven straight days starting Wednesday (April 5) through the following Tuesday. After that only Wednesday and Thursdays will be dark. Post time week nights is 8 p.m.; getaway time Sundays is 6:30 p.m.

Other members who helped make this event successful were Lou Ann McKnatt, Linda Morgan, Mary Ann Cooper, and Jerrie Draper.

Greenwood

Pat Hatfield

Once again we are privileged to hear from a former Greenwood girl who is giving life service to the mission field in South Africa. She writes as follows:

Box 15
Acomhoek, Eastern Transvaal
Republic of South Africa
Holiday season 1971

Dear Friends:
The New English-Sesotho Dictionary on my desk is becoming ragged and very "un-new" -- the Pedi (Northern Sotho) Bible is showing signs of wear--the desk and typing stands are covered with papers and stencils--my office assistant, Mrs. Silinda, and I are cross-eyed with fatigue--but we are making progress! The Beacon Bible Commentary on General Epistles is nearly complete in Pedi. The completed mimeographed book will be our belated Christmas gift to the Bible College. In addition, we are hoping to complete texts in Pedi for holiness, church history, and New Testament classes before Bible College begins the new year in late Feb.

Sehlare Church of the Nazarene is excited. Late in September we had a revival and VBS with the help of five Bible College Students. The little congregation were thrilled when they realized their tithes and offerings had increased during the past year so that they were able to pay all of their own revival and VBS expenses. They prayed, worked, and believed. God sent a good harvest of 7 members by profession of faith. Some backsliders have returned to their own churches revived in their souls. For all of these victories we thank God...and all of you who helped us pray.

Now the congregation is ready to go on to new exploits. They have started a local building fund, since the mission building funds are depleted. They have chosen the site where they want to build on an important corner in the township and on a hill so that the church can be seen almost five miles away. It is going to be interesting to see how quickly this little group of 7 full members and 11 probationary members can raise the three thousand, five hundred dollars necessary for the church and the fence around the property.

Furlough is approaching again! In case I don't get another letter out before July, my address from mid-July to mid-November, 1972 will be: Box 233, Bridgeville, Del. 19933, United States of America.

Yes, only four months this time: a writer's workshop, Washington -- Philadelphia Campmeeting, a few services, a few visits to friends, a short time with my family and then back to the field.

The steaming, sultry, summer weather we are experiencing just now still does not fit in my mind with the words, "Merry Christmas" and "Happy New Year"--not even after nine years of it. But the calendar says it's that time, and the post box yields cards, letters, gifts almost daily so that I know it's true. I'm surprised this year how many of you managed to get your greetings here in spite of the dock strike. But for those of you whose plans were thwarted by the strike, thank you anyway. Christmas greetings in March or April are just as welcomed as they are in December. In either case, as a Shagaan preacher told me at the conclusion of a recent VBS workshop, "It is in my heart to say thank you. I do not have a blanket or even tea, to give you, but my heart says thank you and God bless you."

Signed: His, Rose Handloser

Greenwood Kiwanis Club: For their Farmers' Night program thirteen Kiwanians brought the following persons as their guests: John Yoder, Wm. Walters, Jr., James Morgan, Warren McGee, James McDowell, Robert McDowell, Thomas Elliott, George Baker, Luther Lyons, Clayton Bender, Richard Bender, Joseph Malfitano and Wm. Robert Conaway.

Following the fried chicken supper, provided by the Ladies of the Tressler Menonite Church, president Elliott gave words of welcome to all the guests and then presented John Lyons, program chairman for the evening, who in turn introduced Frank Gordy of Georgetown, a past Lt. Gov. of the 11th Division and recently retired Director of the University of Delaware Sub-Station at Georgetown.

Mr. Gordy, after briefly recalling the years he worked and lived in Greenwood, presented the guest speaker, Wm. T. McAllister, Asst. Dean of the School of Agriculture, University of Delaware.

Mr. McAllister, with the aid of charts and graphs, made a good job of proving prices the farmer received for his products were not unreasonable and that the farmer was not the culprit, responsible for the high cost of living. Somewhere between the food producer and the consumer was the answer to high food costs.

This week the Club will have its every so often 5th Thursday Ladies Night covered dish program. The entertainment will be a lecture program presented by Geraldine A. McCormick of the Diamond State Telephone Company entitled "The Eye of Imagination".

LAKE FOREST BUILDINGS OVERCROWDED

Harold says: "One foot in the grave isn't so bad as long as you have one on top you're lucky."

Before recommending a building program to the voters of the Lake Forest District, the Board of Education thoroughly considered the utilization factors of the present buildings, the present and anticipated enrollment of boys and girls in these buildings, and the housing developments planned or underway within the Lake Forest District.

The utilization capacity of a building is derived from a formula designed by the State Board of Education which, considering all factors, is the number of boys and girls that a building can house and still provide an adequate educational program.

The East Elementary School (Frederica) has a utilization capacity of 342 boys and girls. The actual enrollment in 1971-72 was 348, with a predicted enrollment of 397 and 409 in the next two school years.

The North Elementary School has a utilization capacity of 826 with an actual enrollment of 878 and a predicted enrollment in the next two years of 904 and 931 respectively.

The Lake Forest South and Chipman complex has a utilization capacity of 1334 with an actual enrollment of 1309 and a predicted enrollment of 1342 and 1318 in the next two years.

Lake Forest High School has a utilization capacity of 918 with an actual enrollment of 887, and a predicted enrollment of 999 and 1105. These predicted enrollments are based on students now in the district plus average growth factors from previous years.

The Lake Forest Board believes it is to the best interest of the boys and girls in grades K through 6 to attend a school as close as possible to their homes. Since the greater majority of the new homes are in the Felton-Frederica-Canterbury area, it would appear that without additional school facilities in the northeastern part of the district such a community school program could not be achieved.

A second priority in the Board's plans calls for additions in the high school by the construction of a vocational shop, alterations to the music and business education facilities, and an addition of two to five classrooms as funds permit.

The above program also is most economically feasible. Land for expansion is available at Frederica. Additional classrooms and remodeling of existing facilities can be done there at the least cost to the taxpayer, and the development of this area would give three elementary schools of approximately the same size in the district.

The Felton area can not be expanded at its present location without a terrific cost since the heating, electrical and sewage facilities at this school are now at their maximum. Also, space is available in the Harrington area. However, building additional classrooms there would cause pupils to be bused away from their homes, together with greatly increased cost of transportation.

The State Board of Education has approved the reasoning of the Lake Forest Board and authorized a building program of $1,143,000, of which $457,000 must be raised by local bond issue. The cost of this bond issue would be approximately 15c per $100 of assessed valuation to the taxpayer.

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller

SONGS WE CAN NOT SING

This morning I followed a pathway, Through woods at the foot of a hill; And heard the feathered songsters Greeting the world, long still.

I felt the breath of the south-lands Wafted over the hill, Up from the land of sunshine, And my heart was hushed and still.

It wasn't the breath of Spring time To gaze at fields turning green. That caused me to stop and ponder, To gaze at fields turning green.

'Twas the call of feathered songsters, That bade me pause and rest; Though I knew I never could answer The song I loved the best.

'Twas the song I loved in childhood And memories of bygone days, When the woods were filled with songsters, Singing sweet roundelays.

So this morning my thoughts flew backward, To those days forever blessed By songs I could never answer; Songs that I love best.

Wetherhold and Walls Help Washington College Win In Track

Coach Don Chatellier at Washington College, Chestertown, Md., has two Lake Forest products on his 1972 track squad and would like to attract some more Spartans in the future.

Chris Wetherhold and Bill Walls were key men in high school track and are making the grade in college competition. Walls competed in the 220-yard dash, Saturday in Washington, D.C., as the sho' men nipped Gallaudet, by a point, in the season's first meet.

Wetherhold was second to teammate Paul Schlitz in the mile run, by less than a second. Chris was timed in 4:35.8. In the three mile run, the pair tied for first place and set a new Washington College record, slicing 16.4 seconds off the old standard.

Baseball Starts This Week

By the time you read this, Lake Forest's baseball team will have opened its season. The national pastime is here once again. Bob Young has 23 candidates still on hand after starting practice with 46.

Student managers are Shirley Woikoski and Kathy Massimilla. J. Miller—160 MEN 190 OR OVER I. Johnson—200 E. Vogan—191,190 K. Hopkins—190 A. Behles—190

WOMEN 160 OR OVER M. Steen—192, 164, 179 (535) J. Donoman—178 D. Butler—160, 169 M. Bergold—161, 159 C. Gooden—161

are Frank Daniels, Grant Saulsbury and Lawrence Sorden.

Sprinters are in good supply with McBride, Turner, Don Parker, Travis, Bryant, Bob Smith, Jerry Johnson, and Norman Baynard. Smith, Bryant and Parker are capable 440 men too, along with improving Ron Mosely and Ron Dunlap.

Long distance men are headed by Vernon Bowers, a freshman with enough potential to rewrite the distance running record books at LEHS. Another freshman, Ed Thompson, is a truly fine prospect. Rick Hamm, a senior should be a heavy pointmaker in the two mile.

Phil Thomas and Jim Minor are over 40 feet already, in the 12 pound shot. Robin Callahan is the top discus threat, followed by Thomas, Sam Webber, Mike Kohut, Greg Osmundson, Don Leyanna, and Matt Burgess. The last has the best form of the group, but is up to 80 pounds lighter than some of them and should be heard from in the future, when he gets some size to go with his technique.

Pole vault has more candidates than usual. Returnee Dave DeMora is tops, followed by Sam Webber, Tom Clarke, Martin Miller, Jeff Blakey, and Sven Osmundson.

Norman Baynard and Dave Gentry can go 5 feet 6 or higher in the high jump.

Among the newcomers, who have impressed Coach Blades are: Grant Saulsbury, Reggie Guinn, Tony Guinn, Howard Caskey and it Tillman. The last two named are excellent middle distance future hopes.

Other candidates, some of whom will be heard from are Craig Beebe, Bill Paskey, Jerry Thompson, Chris Adamo, Bob "The Young One" Smith, Kevin Wooters, Joe Currey, Rod Currey, Jon Leggett, Lee Dunbar, Chalfonte Waples, Bob Loper, Dave Gustafson, Chas. Besse, Bill Boyer, Jim Hutchinson, Will McGinnis, Gilbert Curry, and Keith Layton.

The Spartans will go to the post, at least 12 times, with eight dual meets, two relay carnivals, plus the conference and state meets. Milford will host the Spartans on April 13. Home opener is with Dover Air, April 18. Powerhouse Dover comes in two days later.

Allan Parker Runs Well In 13 Mile Race

"Von Parker has a lean and hungry look." Allan Parker, one of Lake Forest's track and cross-country stars in 1970-71, is 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighs 150 pounds. In Wilmington Sunday afternoon, the local lad ran in the Caesar Rodney Half Marathon and finished in 40th position, defeating more than 100 runners.

Parker had never competed in a race longer than five miles, but completed the 13 1/2 miles grind in one hour and twenty-three minutes.

Most of the 140-plus runners in the field were experienced in races of this length and longer. In fact, many of them have completed the marathon distance (26 miles, 385 yards).

The race started and finished at the statue of Caesar Rodney in Rodney Square. The course is a rugged one with many steep hills, surprising out-of-staters looking for a flat, easy layout.

Parker is a physical fitness devotee and exercises and runs daily. He was clipping off the miles at the rate of one each six minutes and 15 seconds. In order to qualify for the world-famous Boston Marathon on April 19, it was necessary to finish the half-marathon in one hour and 30 minutes. Parker beat the qualifying standard by almost seven full minutes. This is an amazing effort considering his lack of experience in races of this length.

It won't be possible for Allan to run in Boston this year, but at least he knows he is good enough. The Massachusetts ordeal draws competitors from all over the world and is used to determine the runners, who will represent the U.S., in the Olympic Marathon run this year in Munich, Germany.

Dan Rincon of Dover, former Dover Air High ace, now running for the University of Maryland, was the first Delawarean to finish. He was 11th.

Harrington Bowling League News

Leah S. Wheeler

This week's action saw the league title race tighten up, with three teams sharing a part of the lead and only four weeks left to decide the winner of the final third.

Moving to the top spot along with the Spoilers and Wally's Garage, was Jarrell's Fuel, as they took three points from People's Restaurant on the strength of Harold Melvin's grand 594 series, which included a 200 game and Dallas Hayman's great 234 game and 553 set. Robert Jarrell and Howard Tibbitt (211), also bowled very well for Jarrell's Fuel.

Frank Collins paced People's Restaurant to a one game victory with a 550 series, including a 216 game and Wm. Manship and Stanley Smith also bowled good above average efforts.

A full team effort propelled the Spoilers up into a tie for the top spot as John Shaffer, Billy Morris and Jack Sapp added real good above average efforts to give the team the extra strength they needed to take all four points from Fry's American. Fry's, who has been hampered by the lack of men, went into the fray with a four man squad and in defeat, dropped a few more rungs in the standings ladder. John Forbes and Jerry Hayman provided the team with real good efforts and Hank Wheeler amassed a 553 series including a 205 game for Fry's.

Butler's Fuel played the role of Spoilers Tuesday night as they knocked Wally's Garage out of the lone top spot with a three to one verdict over their opponents. Cashing in on Ronald Wright's 523 series effort with the rest of the team providing good above average efforts, Butler's Fuel primed themselves for the championship rollofs which will be bowled in five weeks. Dave Ryan, Larry Breeding and Wally Ryan bowled well enough to give the Garage team enough strength to take one point to remain in a tie for the top spot.

A fired up Robbin's Hardware team put forth a full team effort in shellacking Penn Central in all games to move away up the ladder in the standings. Harry Brown and Herb and Frank Robbins bowled very good above average efforts for a little extra team power in their conquest of their opponents. Even in losing, the railroaders' Paul Baker scattered the pins for a superb 576 series, with a 203 game included and Ray Baker added a fine 209 game.

McKnatt Funeral Home saw its team drop in the standings, as Taylor & Messick took three big points from them. Donald Garey and Harry Jack provided the team with enough incentive to take one point, which still kept them in contention for the title. Taylor & Messick, who has already earned a berth in the roll-offs, received a real good 537 series effort from Snooky Collins, who also had a 203 game, and George Langford bowled very well again this week.

The Honey Dippers moved into the race to the top by taking three big points from the Rejects. Sam Powell and Dave Martin added to the Dippers' team effort with good above average efforts. The Rejects' Louis Welch and Junior Bishop aided the team in salvaging one point to their credit.

A three man Gallo & Stevenson squad trounced Quillen's Market as Ken Garey scattered the pins for a fine 514 series effort and Snooky Gallo added a good 210 game, with Ernie Gallo Sr. chipping in with a good effort to give the construction team three points for their fine efforts. Don Wilson gave Quillen's Market enough extra power they needed to take one point from their opponents.

FRANCIS WEBB
KENT COUNTY AGENT

Laws pertaining to child labor on farms have been talked about for some time, and these laws are becoming more stringent on the use of child work.

According to the Federal Register dated Wednesday, January 7, 1970, certain regulations are now in effect. These regulations pertain to children below the age of 16 on farms doing certain jobs in agriculture that are declared hazardous. The only exemption of a child under 16 years of age would be if he is employed by his parent or by a person standing in the place of his parent on a farm owned or operated by such parent or person.

The hazardous occupations as outlined in the Federal Register are certainly too numerous to name, but for example, the operation of any tractor over 20 PTO HP, or connecting or disconnecting any implement of any kind to such a tractor is defined as extremely hazardous. Helping to operate or to adjust any type of harvesting machinery, grinders, augers of any kind, or most any type machinery that is engine or motor powered falls under Federal labor regulations. Also, working around livestock such as being in a yard, pen or stall that is occupied by a bull, stud horse, boar hog, or new mothers of any of the larger animals are included.

Any farm employees under the age of 16 that are not your children or wards can, in fact, do some of these hazardous jobs if they have been certified to be experienced and knowledgeable of this type of work. This can be done through vocational agricultural courses in the public school, 4-H Clubs, or through FFA Chapters. The rules and regulations for certification for any of these groups are spelled out in the Federal Register if anyone is interested in knowing what they are. You as a farm owner and operator should certainly keep these regulations in mind if employing youth to work in your daily farming keep safety in mind and only let those persons that are capable and have an understanding of machinery and equipment operate such implements.

If you would like to have more information on these regulations, call your County Extension Office, for Kent County, call 736-1448.

Fertilizer is fertilizer is fertilizer! All plants require a certain amount of plant food for optimum growth and for best yields. Many farmers as well as homeowners have been confronted with a play on words as far as fertilizers are concerned. These words, such as premium, booster, banana, and many others are not regulated by state or federal law and, in fact, add nothing to the price of fertilizer.

A person should know exactly how much plant food he needs as far as nitrogen, phosphorus, and potash and buy what will supply the proper amounts of these respectively. Actually, most fertilizer companies make up their plant food components from materials that can be bought at the cheapest price that will supply what is required. There are many different materials that can be purchased to make up a complete fertilizer either as a so-called blend or as granulated material. These raw materials are on the open market and fluctuate with the supply and demand. This will explain the reason for certain analysis of fertilizers, for example, 5-10-10 or 8-16-16, to be readily available and heavily promoted by fertilizer companies.

Many of you have been confronted with the spiel of a premium fertilizer that is more expensive because of its minor element content. Research has shown that such fertilizers contain only slight amounts of minor elements, and there is no law requiring minimum amounts of such elements.

If you do have a minor element problem on your farm, these fertilizers will not contain enough to correct your problem. In certain cases, however, they can be corrected if you specify to your fertilizer dealer the minor element and the amount needed, but you will pay in addition to the premium fertilizer cost. Usually, the only minor elements in the higher priced fertilizers come from the actual ingredients that are used to obtain nitrogen, phosphorus, and potash and have very little usefulness in keeping you from having a minor element problem or connecting such an existing problem.

One of the best and cheapest ways to buy needed plant nutrients is by applying straight goods such as muriate potash, diammonium phosphate, superphosphate and others. This method, of course, is not suitable for all farming programs. In some cases your blend fertilizers may work best or even the true granulated materials. Don't be fooled by fancy names that are given to fertilizers. Total plant nutrients required at a price per unit should be kept in mind and not names and give away minor elements that are not, in fact, controlled by the state or federal government.

It Seems To Me

Decorating for spring? You can make your own window shades of fabric to match decorating scheme. It requires patience and accurate measuring and workmanship, but otherwise it's easy to do. You may prefer to start with a shade for a small window because the larger the window, the more difficult the task. It could take two people to control both fabric and shade, especially if the window is a larger one.

Shade cloth with an adhesive side may be purchased by the yard. You will need to purchase the length of the window plus 8 to 12 inches. The shade cloth is available in widths of 36 or 48 inches.

You can make the shade to hang inside the window frame or on top of the frame, depending on the effect you want. Install the brackets for the roller first so you can measure the width accurately.

Choose a fabric that's firmly woven and has a smooth surface. Textured fabrics do not adhere as well and may be bulky when rolled. Cotton fabrics can take more heat than synthetics and, therefore, you can get a better bond.

Fabric design should be printed on the straight grain of the fabric since the fabric must be cut on the grain. Most decorator fabrics have an up and down to the design. Be sure the fabric runs in the proper direction before you start the laminating process. Press out any wrinkles in the fabric before attaching to the shade.

Working on a large table, square off the ends of shade cloth and fabric. Side hems are not necessary. However, you may want to cut fabric slightly wider than the shade and trim off any excess after laminating the two together.

Peel off the paper covering the adhesive side of the shade. Place fabric three inches down from the top of the shade, and when the two layers are exactly straight, press the two fabrics together using a dry iron set for the proper temperature for your fabric. The paper removed from the shade cloth will serve as a press "cloth" as you work.

Starting at the center of the shade, press downward, smoothing both fabrics together slowly. Be careful to smooth out wrinkles or air pockets. Seal edges as carefully as you can. Allow the shade to cool for about thirty minutes before further handling.

Then, trim sides if it's necessary. Turn up 1 1/2 inches at the bottom for the hem. Cover this with a 2-inch strip of shade cloth to seal the hem in place. Decorative fringes or trims can be inserted at the bottom of the shade before pressing on the 2-inch strip.

The top part of the shade is pressed to the roller with a hot dry iron.

Complete directions may be obtained when you buy the shade cloth. It's an easy process—if you are a careful worker.
