

JAMES J. PIZZADILI FILES FOR SCHOOL BOARD

James J. Pizzadili, president and owner of Pizzadili Poultry, Inc., of Felton, has filed petition for re-election to the consolidated Lake Forest School District Board of Education.

As the incumbent board member, he has served five years in office, originally on the old Felton School District Board of Education, as member and as president, and on the Lake Forest Board of Education since its creation. He is also active in the Delaware State Board of Education, for which he is currently serving as a member of the program committee.

Pizzadili, 42, is a long-time resident of the Felton area and a graduate of the old Felton High School (Class of '47). He is married to the former Alice Brown, of Elizabeth, Pa., and has two sons, John and Jim, attending college, and a daughter, Sheryl, who is a student at Lake Forest High School. Other civic activities in which he is involved are: the Camden-Wyoming Rotary Club; the U.C.F. Ruritan Club and the Delmarva Council of the Boy Scouts of America, for which he is chairman of the camping committee.

Said Pizzadili about his experience in office to date: "It has been a pleasure to serve as a board member of the Lake Forest School District. I would like to continue to work for the improved education of all children in our area."

The terms of two members of the school board expire this year, those of Pizzadili and Keith S. Burgess. Only one vacancy will be filled to conform to the gradual reduction of the board to five members. They serve five years.

Customers Worry Telephone Industries

The Telephone industry is casting a worried eye at her "411" Directory Assistance operations.

Directory Assistance is the modern title for the former "Information Operator."

Calls to "DA," Directory Assistance, are increasing at an alarming rate and some telephone companies are considering charging for this service, reports the local manager, Jim Strickland.

Diamond State Telephone Company has DA center at 3900 Washington Street, in Wilmington, and at 205 Race Street, in Georgetown.

He said the volume of DA calls over the past ten years has increased 15 percent faster than all the other calls.

"Ironically, a very small percentage of the DA calls are made by the same 10 percent of the callers. Over 65 percent of all the calls to DA are for local numbers which are listed in the local telephone directories.

"Most customers use it; but some abuse it. And some use it as a secretarial service to look up numbers," he explained.

"If we could convince these customers to look up the number, it would help hold down this growing expense," he went on, "and it would also save the same customer from making two calls. One to DA, then the call."

We have attempted to stem the growing number of calls by educating the public through newspaper advertising and also advertising en-

G.S. Planning A Bazaar

The Cadette troop 731, of Harrington, is planning a bazaar on May 13, at Gayle Smith's car lot on Clark St. There will be something for everyone. White Elephant goods and hand made articles, a bake, and games and eats for everyone. For donations we will be giving away a hand made afghan. Each donation is 25 cents or five for a dollar. All of our Cadettes have tickets available.

We would like to request anyone having white elephant goods in the line of garden and working tools, glassware, dishes, pots, pans, silverware, books, comic books, nic-nacs, pictures, mirrors, etc., that they would like to donate to our bazaar, please contact Mrs. Annice Keller, 398-8347, or Mrs. Patt Garey, 398-8289, and we will pick it up. We ask that you not donate clothes, and large furniture, or large appliances.

If there is anyone willing to donate any baked goods, please call one of the above numbers also. Cookies, cupcakes, cakes, pies, brownies, and fudge, are all welcome and appreciated.

The Cadette troop had originally planned to use this money to buy camping equipment for their troop, but the girls wanted to donate all the proceeds instead to the Lee Henry Fund. Lee Henry is a 6th grade boy, who became quite ill this past year. Due to good medical care and a lot of prayers he is recovering. But the medical bills are quite high. This is why these girls have decided to change their plans and work for this project.

Please support us with your donations and your presence on May 13. Thank you!

Seeney Seeks Nomination For Assembly

Marvin Seeney, of near Harrington, announced last week he would seek the Democratic nomination for representative of the 35th Representative District in the General Assembly.

Seeney, 53, farms near Whitesburg and works in construction. He is married to the former Jeanette Bullock.

In making his announcement, Seeney said he was "concerned about the many issues affecting the working class of people and to feel the representative of the people of this district should be someone familiar with these problems. These issues include soaring interest rates, increased taxation and a misconception of the facts by the Republican administration regarding the economy of the State."

Alcoholism Is Youth Threat

Surveys around the country seem conclusive. Young people are turning steadily away from marijuana and drugs. But hold those cheers. Far too many are like the Harvard lad who forsook pot, explaining: "I've discovered a whole new high."

His new kick: Beer and booze.

Worse, the use of alcohol seems to be spreading in high schools. In California, one typical poll showed 75 percent of freshmen and 83.6 percent of senior boys reported drinking 50 or more times a year.

The problems of youthful alcoholism is bound to worsen as states lower the legal

Extension OK'd At Harrington

Delaware Harness Racing Commission chairman Norman Baylis announced he was "more than pleased that Harrington Raceway was able to receive a five-day extension of its current harness meeting."

The Commission gave the Harrington oval permission in a meeting Monday night to conduct harness races on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 5, 6 and 7, and Friday and Saturday, May 12 and 13.

The permission was granted to an application filed by Harrington Raceway President Herman C. Brown, who reported he was "pleased with the Commission's action."

The application was filed after it was learned Georgetown Raceway would conduct no races and that Brandywine would not open until May 14.

Harrington had been scheduled to close April 30, but Brown felt he could conduct more racing on the weekends during those two weeks of no activity and give everyone more work.

Baylis noted that "employees and the state will be monetarily benefited by the decision."

AREA GUARDSMEN TRAINING IN GEORGIA

The local 280th Signal Battalion of the Delaware National Guard is in the midst of a two-week annual training being held this year at Ft. Gordon, Ga. This unit consists of the 280th headquarters detachment of Milford, the 199th Signal Company of Georgetown, the 200th Signal Company of Seaford, and the 2198th and 2199th Signal Platoons, of Harrington. The troops left Seaford Sat., April 15, by bus to Ft. Gordon, 10 miles east of Augusta.

Because of the 280th Signal Battalion's recent change from a transportation to a signal unit, a drastic need developed for the men to receive some immediate technical signal training. As a result, the 280th Signal Battalion made its plans for the two-week training course at the Signal School.

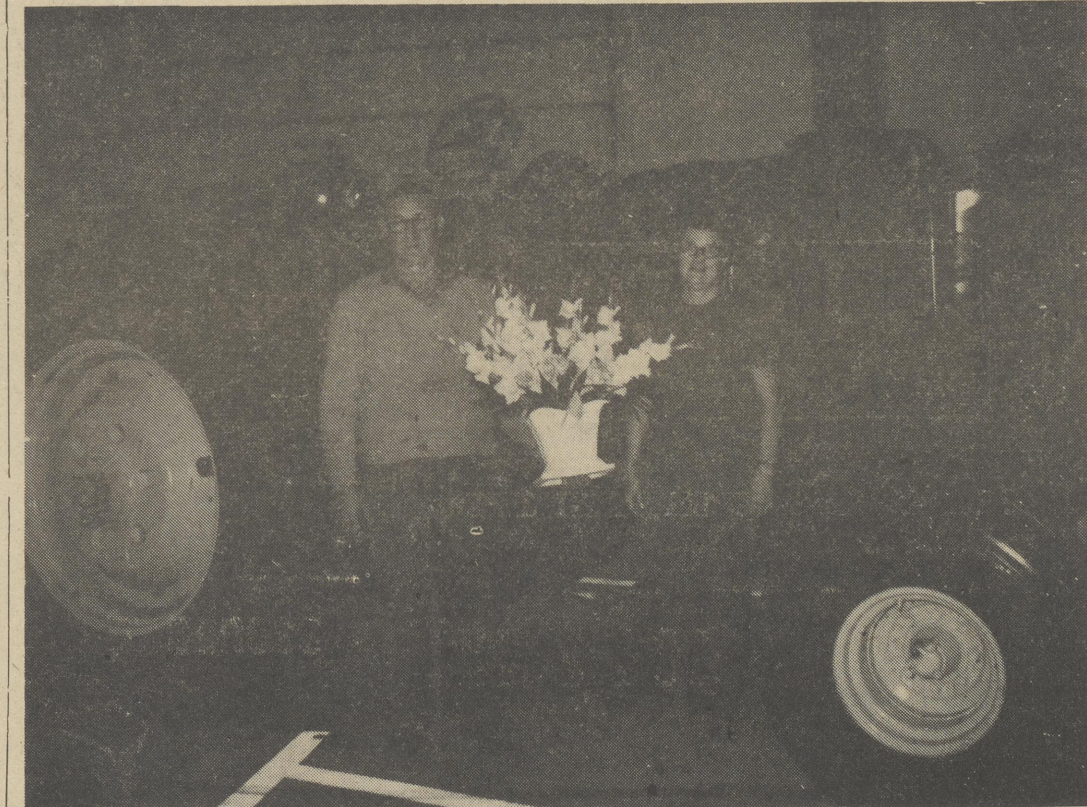

The guardsmen have been receiving instruction and "Hands On" experience in such areas as: AM/FM radio operation and maintenance, generator operation and maintenance, radio-teletype operation and telephone wiring and testing. Each student will receive a certificate of attendance from the Signal School upon completion of the two week course of concentrated instruction.

Besides the fact that technical training is being given, this year's "summer camp" is unique in that regular army and civilian instructors of Ft. Gordon's Southeastern Signal School are monitoring the classes rather than the officers of the Delaware Guard Unit. This situation leaves time for the officers of the 280th Signal Battalion to also attend classes introducing them to the development and operation of various communication and signal systems.

The 280th Signal Battalion's two-weeks training is the front runner to a trend that will require all National Guard units to be technically trained and ready for any emergency situation that may arise.

The 280th Signal Battalion will depart Ft. Gordon tomorrow evening and arrive in Seaford Saturday morning.

TOWN AND COUNTRY TOPICS

FRANCIS WEBB
KENT COUNTY AGENT

Immigration into the United States is almost inevitable, however, very undesirable! The fierce African honeybee is nearing the United States! This vast army of undesirable bees that are actually descendants of 26 accidentally released in Brazil sixteen years ago are rapidly spreading through South America. The African bees are a strain very similar to the species common to America, virtually identical; however, their temperament is much different. They are very much more aggressive and more likely to attack in swarms both animals and humans.

Researchers have found that the African bee even promotes other strains of bees to sting more frequently. The African bees are much more active, faster flying, harder working insects than their domestic relatives. As a result they can produce 25 to 100% more honey than common domestic strains. This fierce African descendant is very similar in appearance to the American honeybee and differs only in that it is somewhat smaller.

The African strain was imported to Sao Paulo in 1958. They were confined to a small experimental breeding program where entomologists hoped to produce a hybrid that was as gentle as the domestic strain, but would retain its high productivity in honey production and pollination. A year later the screen around the experimental colony was mistakenly removed. 26 African queen bees escaped and began to interbreed with the resident bees. Studies have indicated that with this crossbreeding of the two strains of bees, high honey productivity was retained in the crossbreeding along with the high temperament of the African bee.

This new bee hybrid has been so prolific that it has almost replaced the domestic bee in Brazil and is well established in Argentina, Bolivia, and parts of Peru. They are still spreading, moving slowly to the south and rapidly to the north. They are moving about 200 miles a year, and it looks as if they could well spread up through Central America and into Mexico and the United States if nothing is done to stop them. They could be here in ten to fifteen years, but, believe me, researchers are working diligently on ways to slow the spread of this undesirable strain.

If you are not tickled over the thought of increased pollution through the misuse of chemicals, keep a close watch on your own program this season. Don't rely on your neighbors to reduce his chemical use to allow you to use all kinds of chemicals to control your weeds, bugs, and diseases.

Sprays should only be used when a specific problem is evident and used at the recommended rate. Be sure to follow the precautions given on the pesticide label. Don't spray because you think you may have something; make sure you, in fact, have a problem before you start using chemical pesticides.

If you need assistance or identification of pest problems, be it weeds, insects, diseases or unidentified, you can bring samples to our office for prompt identification. The University of Delaware Kent County Extension Office is located on the second floor of the Wesley Church Educational Building on Lockerman Street across from City Hall. If you have a problem, either give us a call at 736-1448, or bring a sample in and we can give you specific recommendations on the best control method.

When bringing in a sample, if it is a small plant or a piece of a large plant, place it in a plastic bag and seal it. Include in the bag your complete name, address, and telephone number. Please bring samples that are just showing the symptoms and not twigs, branches or plants that are completely dead.

Caulk Opposes Controls On Farm Prices

Citing increased supplies of food products as the best remedy for rising prices, Delaware Secretary of Agriculture, G. Wallace Caulk, this week voiced his opposition to threatened price controls on farm products.

"Farmers must be allowed to receive a fair return for growing our basic food supply if we expect them to continue producing it. Today, farmers are working for 25 percent less than the average per capita income of non-farm workers," Secretary Caulk said.

Those persons who believe that prices received by the farmer are the cause of rising retail food costs need to be reminded, he stated, that in the past 20 years wholesale food prices have increased only three percent.

"It is the non-food cost in food items that is putting the pinch on consumers, along with higher costs of housing, transportation, health care, entertainment and all other elements of modern-day living."

"We cannot blame any one factor or group. Higher outlays for supermarket facilities, rising labor costs at packing houses and food processing plants, higher costs of transportation and handling, higher taxes, increasing pay for store employees—these are the factors causing higher retail prices for food," the Secretary said.

He pointed out that the farmer's share of the food dollar spent by consumers has slipped from 49 cents to 38 cents in the past 20 years. At the same time, he added, food takes only $15.60 out of each $100 of the consumer's disposable income today, compared to $23 of each $100 twenty years ago.

"The greatest counter-move to higher food prices, he concluded, "is increased production. During the past two decades, farm output has increased twice as fast as manufacturing industries. We will not continue to benefit from such productivity if we lock the farmer in with price controls where he cannot make a decent living growing food."

Rid Home of Ants

Unfortunately, the area a colony of ants chooses for its nest is often near your home. Ants frequently build their nests close to the foundation of a house, under sidewalks or in the lawn or garden, according to Frank Boys, extension entomologist at the University of Delaware.

Ants are social insects like bees and most live in wood. Most ant colonies become active with the first warm weather of spring and continue their activity until the start of cold fall weather, Boys explains.

In general, ants are relatively harmless to the homeowner. But they can be annoying, especially in the kitchen and food storage areas. Extra sanitation is important in preventing worker ants from being attracted into the home in search of food.

Most species of ants are not particularly difficult to control, the entomologist points out. Indoors, trace the ant's line of march from the food source to the approximate nest location and treat this area with a recommended insecticide. The nests may be outdoors or in the house—within a wall, partition, under flooring or behind appliances.

Treat only limited areas and not entire walls or floors, Boys says. These areas may include door sills, lower parts of window frames, around sinks and pipe fixtures and kitchen cupboards. Never contaminate food, water, dishes or utensils with the insecticide. Let the spray dry before children or pets are allowed in the treated area.

Ants can be controlled with liquid household insecticides such as two percent chlordane or two percent malathion (premium grade). Other insecticides such as diazinon, dichlorvos (Vapona) and Baygon, when formulated in a ready-to-use aerosol space spray, can also be used indoors.

If ants are a problem outdoors, apply a 5 to 10 percent chlordane dust or 4 to 5 percent malathion dust to nest openings or around foundations. Soak the treated areas with water to wash the insecticide into the ground. A spray of chlordane can also be applied as a spot and foundation application.

It Seems To Me

Swimming weather's coming up. Why not make your own swim suit? You'll save some money and you can be as creative as you like in making a style suited for your figure.

Almost any fabric can be used for a swim suit depending on the pattern style. If you use a two way stretch fabric, designed for swim suits, select a pattern designed for this fabric.

A dressmaker style suit can be made of woven fabric or knit fabrics with less stretch because it does not fit the body so closely. Look on your pattern envelope for fabric suggestions.

If lining is required, consider a lightweight knit nylon or acetate tricot. Before launching on this sewing adventure, look at ready-to-wear suits. You'll get lots of ideas for construction techniques as well as fabric and lining choices and trimming ideas.

You can buy bra cups to sew into the lining or to pin in if you prefer. The pin-in type can be removed to wear with other bathing suits. If you prefer, you can make bra cups from polyester fleece.

If you need elastic, buy the type for swimwear. Rayon covered elastic is absorbent and will stretch when wet. Some elastics are damaged by chlorine or salt water, so check the label.

If the elastic doesn't perform and there was no information on the label, let your store know. We need

How To Control Crabgrass

Is that perennial headache—crabgrass—starting to make its presence known again in your lawn? Don't despair. Crabgrass can be controlled and now is an ideal time to tackle the problem.

According to Dr. William H. Mitchell, extension agronomist at the University of Delaware, most home and garden centers carry several herbicides that will control this weed problem. He says Dacthal, Tupersan and Balan are among the best crabgrass killers. On newly-seeded lawns, however, use only Tupersan. In using these herbicides, be sure to read and follow the directions on the container.

To apply a crabgrass treatment, mow the grass, then rake and clean the lawn thoroughly. Apply the herbicide evenly and don't disturb the lawn with further raking. Water and mow the lawn as usual. For best results, apply the material on a cool day before the soil temperature reaches 60 degrees.

If your lawn—or your neighbor's—was plagued with crabgrass last year, you will probably need to use a herbicide, says Mitchell. Millions of seeds fell to the ground and, given a chance, will sprout this year. As soon as the soil warms up, they will germinate and grow wherever there's a tiny patch of bare soil.

Another way to control crabgrass is to keep it from showing up at all, points out Mitchell. A thick stand of turf will choke out crabgrass before it can become established. Crabgrass seed needs light to germinate.

Plenty of water, proper fertilization and frequent mowing at two-inch height will encourage vigorous turf and provide the shade and competition needed to keep crabgrass under control.

No-Tillage Field Day, May 4

No-tillage, or no-plow, crop production has helped farmers increase corn profits in many states. But the relatively new production practice has not been fully tested in Delaware.

Can no-tillage corn increase farm profits in Delaware? University of Delaware researchers hope to find the answer to this question at the University's Georgetown Substation. Field tests will be used to evaluate the economic potential of no-tillage corn, according to Thomas H. Williams, extension agricultural engineer.

Highlighting the University's research demonstration will be a No-tillage Corn Planting Field Day, Thursday, May 4. Williams says representatives of Allis-Chalmers, Ford, International Harvester, John Deere and Oliver will demonstrate their no-tillage equipment starting at 1:30 p.m.

Seventeen acres of sandy loam soil at the Substation have been prepared for the no-tillage demonstration. The corn will be planted in a rye cover crop that will be killed with a herbicide just before the corn is planted.

Williams says the no-tillage corn demonstration will give farmers an excellent opportunity to compare this planting practice with the more conventional methods and examine the major no-tillage implements in operation.

KENT COUNTY CURRENTS

by JOSHUA M. TWILLEY
Levy Court President

The Levy Court is moving closer to a final decision on improved airport facilities in Kent County.

The State Department of Transportation, should be complimented for their fine help in developing the cost estimate and plans, which have made it possible for us to now realize that it will cost over one million dollars to build a new airport, and only $260,000 to set up a joint use airport at the Dover Air Force Base, of this $260,000.00 only $150,000.00 would be needed locally. They've also prepared a cost estimate which shows that the annual cost to the county to operate this airport would only be $10,000.00 per year.

If we can establish an airline operation out of the joint use airport, it is now clear that the income from this will cover the cost and possibly even make a profit for the county.

Spring Tasks For Horseowners

Most horses lead a less active life during the cold winter season, so when spring comes, you'll need to get your horse ready for more intense use. Even if you've been actively using your horse through the past few months, he'll need springtime attention, according to C. Melvin Reitnour, extension equine specialist at the University of Delaware.

"Now is the time to trim your horse's hooves and reshoe him if necessary," Reitnour says. Also, treat the animal for both internal and external parasites.

Inspect, repair and condition all pieces of equipment. Your saddles and all leather straps should be cleaned, treated with neatsfoot oil and cleaned again with saddle soap, Reitnour advises.

Disinfect your saddle blankets or cloths against any bacteria, fungus or insects which may have contaminated them during the months they were not in use. First wash the blankets and then soak them in a mild disinfectant. Wash them several times and rinse thoroughly after each washing. You need to remove all traces of the soap and disinfectant, Reitnour cautioned.

And remember, you're taking your horse out of "storage" so don't demand too much of him at the start of the season. Bring him into condition slowly, Reitnour says.

Armed Forces News

Pvt. Walter N. Gustavson, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Gustavson, Rt. 2, Felton, recently was assigned to the 69th Signal Battalion in Vietnam.

A 1967 graduate of North Fort Myers (Fla.) High School, Pvt. Gustavson received his associate degree in 1970 from Edison Junior College, Ft. Myers.

Pvt. Allen J. Verley, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan A. Verley, Ellendale, recently completed eight weeks of advanced individual training at the U.S. Army Armor Center, Ft. Knox, Ky.

Pvt. Verley entered the Army last November and was last stationed at Ft. Dix, N.J.

PO1C Alden W. Davison, son of Mrs. Flossie Kirby, 500 N.E. Fifth St., Milford, has reported for duty aboard the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier USS Enterprise, currently undergoing overhaul at Hunter's Point Naval Ship Yard, San Francisco, Calif.

He will be assigned to duties as an Electronics Technician.

A 1963 graduate of Caesar Rodney High School, Camden, he joined the Navy in October, 1965.

Pvt. Wayne Bryant, 18, whose mother, Mrs. Gee Gee Quillen, lives in Chicago, recently completed eight-weeks of basic training at Ft. Polk, La.

He is a 1970 graduate of Lake Forest High School, Felton. His father, Wayman L. Bryant, lives on Rt. 1, Houston.

This means, the Kent County taxpayers will not have any tax burdens and the benefits to the community will be quite substantial. It also clearly shows us that we would be foolish to consider a separate general aviation airport in Kent County, if it is to be paid for by the Kent County taxpayers.

Just last Wednesday, representatives of an airlines company discussed their desire to establish an airline commuter service, which would leave Dover at 8 a.m. each day and arrive in Philadelphia or New York in less than an hour and carry 25 passengers. The plane would make a return trip at noon back to Dover and then would leave Dover again at 1 in the afternoon for another round trip and finally make a third round trip leaving Dover at 5 p.m.

This kind of service we need in Kent County, so that local businessmen and local residents who make long plane trips will be able to pick up their flights in Dover, without the need of driving to Philadelphia, where they would have to leave their cars and incur extra expense, inconvenience and delay.

The plane company told me that Kent County would expect an income for their use of the airport of over $5,000.00 per year. In addition to this our local industries would also rent parking space and use the facilities. This makes it even clearer that the decision to go forward with a joint facility is sound and economically feasible.

In the past years, many people in Kent County have become more familiar with the details of this project and therefore have a better understanding and acceptance of the public need for improved airport facilities in Kent County.

Trees: Solution To Pollution?

On April 19 the Girl Scouts of Junior troop 686 and the Cadette troop 731 planted trees around Harrington. In a nationwide tree and shrub planting day, designated Eco-Action day by National Headquarters, Girl Scouts all over the nation participated in planting trees, shrubs, and ground cover. These two Harrington troops decided on a beautification approach for Harrington. They received permission from the city council to plant two trees on city property. These were placed at the pumping station on the corner of Liberty and Dixon Streets. Jack Harrington, city manager, accepted the trees for the city. A white dogwood tree was then planted at Asbury Church and St. Stephen's Church, in appreciation, from the troops for meeting there.

All of this tree planting project was made by the Moose, Rotary, and Jaycees of Harrington. The Girl Scouts went to them and asked them for a donation to purchase the trees. These organizations were more than happy to help out in every way they could. We would like to thank them for their donations and for the interest and response they showed the scouts.

Come see our trees and then work on an eco-action project for yourselves and your families. Let's make Harrington an ecology minded city and a clean and healthy community.

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller

April Thunder Showers

We caught it today on it's northern way, Others too, felt its balmy sway; The trees and the birds had heard it too; And were out to give it the welcome due.

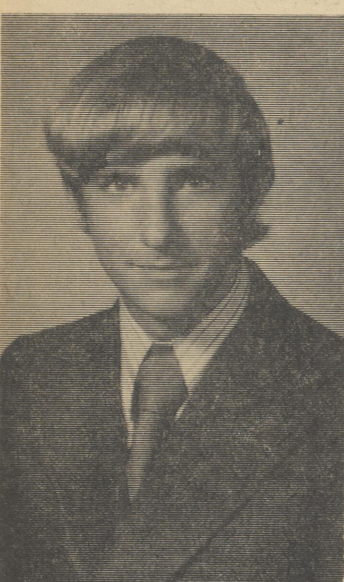

It came with the noon-day sun's bright ray, And I know by its welcome had come to stay; Blossoms burst forth from the mother trees, And the birds sang old-time melodies.

Ferns round the woodland came out to see If what they heard could really be; The Spring had come on a soft south breeze, And was painting the tips of the brush and trees.

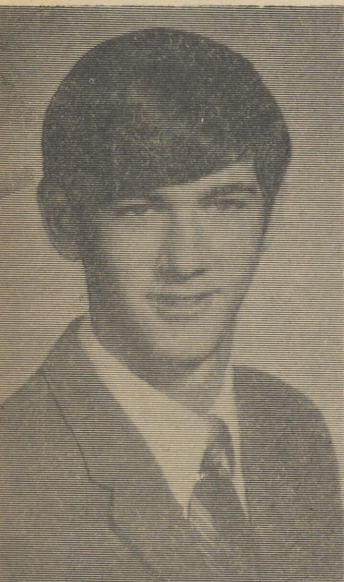

So I welcomed it too, the best I could, Crossed the pasture and through the wood, And my thoughts, like the birds had taken wing, To live once again in the land of Spring.

April, May, and June are the months of highest milk production. Supplies of milk are up a bit this year, and this is due to higher output in milk production per cow. Milk cow numbers are actually declining each year.

A number of delicious fresh fruits and vegetables are due in volume during May. Strawberries, rhubarb, cabbage, and asparagus are a few to enjoy. Others in good supply during the month will be bananas, pineapples, oranges, grapefruit, watermelon, potatoes, onions, tomatoes, and sweet corn.

Each month the U.S. Department of Agriculture releases a Plentiful Foods List. Broiler-fryers will be the feature for May. Other plentiful for the month are milk and nonfat dry milk, fresh po- (frozen French fries and instant mashed), canned peaches, canned fruit cocktail, and eggs.

Mrs. Lambert Blades, of Blades Crossroads, has a Plymouth Rock hen that lays exceptionally large eggs. One of the eggs measured 9 1/2 by 7 1/2 inches. Mrs. Blades has gotten five such eggs with a short time. The eggs enclose a perfect hard-shell egg inside which is of usual size.

Editorial-J. Harvey Burgess-A famous lecturer appeared in Harrington recently and his lecture was enthusiastically received, although a few said: It was a little bit over our heads." Be thankful for that. When anything is over your head, just stretch your neck a little, extend your arms above your head, try to grasp the object and pull yourself up to its level. In that way you improve yourself and maybe amount to something. There are so few chances to look up and so many chances to look down, but who can improve himself by looking down? The skies are above you, the sewers are below.

Hats Off To Mean Mothers

"I had the meanest mother in the world!"

"While other kids ate candy for breakfast, I had to have cereal, eggs and toast. When other kids had cokes and candy for lunch, I had to eat a sandwich. As you can guess, my dinner was different from other kids, too."

"My mother insisted on knowing where we were all the time. You'd think we were on a chain gang. She had to know who our friends were and what we were doing. She insisted that if we would be gone for an hour, that we be gone for an hour or less."

"I am ashamed to admit it, she actually had the nerve to break the child labor law. She made us work. We had to wash all the dishes, make the beds, learn to cook and all sorts of odd things. I believe she lay awake nights thinking of mean things to do to us. She always insisted on us telling the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth."

closed with the telephone bills. But the volume keeps going up.

Several Bell companies are considering charging for DA calls, including Mountain Bell in Colorado and the New York Telephone Company. The Cincinnati Bell has already filed with 20 cents for each call beyond a three-call monthly allotment.

In 1961, Delawareans made an average of 13,435 DA calls for each business day. Last year, the daily average went up to 31,567 calls.

drinking age to 18 to match new voting eligibility. In Britain, where 18-year-olds can drink legally, teen-age alcoholism is a growing worry.

"The potential teen-age drinking should give far more cause for alarm than drug addition," the Medical Council on alcoholism has warned. "Worse still, the problem is developing."

It's sadly ironic to make progress on one problem, only to aggravate one greater but that's clearly the case in youths shift from drugsto liquor.

Ironic or not, the problem will not go away by itself. It must be faced...and studied...and solved. The Daily Star, Hammond, La.

Fewer Pills, Less Worry

Easy access to dangerous drugs and other potentially harmful substances has long been cited as one of the major contributors to drug and narcotics abuse.

The drug companies have been taking their lumps for over-producing their products, thus helping to build up the supply. When the domestic market demand has been satisfied, the drugs find their way into illicit channels in foreign countries and are re-exported back in to the United States.

This cycle of events is especially prevalent in Southern California with its proximity to Mexico. Hundreds of thousands of pills are confiscated every year at the border check stations. Still they continue to be smuggled into the country, snaring hundreds of young people and either ruining their mental and physical health or threatening to do so.

for persuading one of the principal exporters of amphetamines not to ask for renewal of its export license. Every action of this nature aids the cause, drying up the sources for illegal drugs and, more important, protecting young people from their own foolishness.—The Daily Californian, El Cajon

Delaware 4-H Leader Wins National Award

A Townsend 4-H leader was named one of four leaders nationwide to receive a special 4-H Volunteers Award.

Paul Roach, leader of the Stump Corner 4-H Club, was honored April 28, during the National 4-H Conference, Washington, D.C. He was cited for notable contributions to the 4-H program.

His club has produced more outstanding young people who now serve in leadership positions than any other club in the state, says James O. Baker, state 4-H leader. "He has the love and respect of 4-Hers throughout the state, not just his own club."

Roach helped organize a county Sportsman Club for older boys and donated land for a game farm. In his volunteer work as State 4-H Camp counselor, he teaches regular classes, referees games and, in his spare time, teaches a special class on marine life identification. He also serves on the State 4-H Livestock Advisory Committee.

A supervisor at the Newport DuPont plant, Roach has voluntarily devoted long hours serving the 4-H program without thought for recognition, Baker says.

Six Delaware 4-Hers represented the state at the National Conference. Delegates discussed past and future 4-H programs, toured Washington and met with various government officials.

On April 10 at St. Stephen's Social Hall, the Sunshine 4-H meeting opened with a report from our health chairman, Barbara Miller, on "What you should have in a medicine cabinet" and "What you shouldn't have."

Our sewing girls are getting ready for the dress review, May 13. Charlene Keller and Lou Ann McKnatt reported they have had two sewing project meetings.

Also we had a big success with the girls who entered the Reddy Foods Contest. Our most successful was Renee Outten. She will go on to state, making her "Lincoln Log", reported Donna Shultie.

Are you interested in learning how to baby sit properly? Well, Becky Gruwell reported six of our girls in 4-H were interested and attended two days training session, April 6 and 7. They were Jerri Draper, Becky Gruwell, Renee Outten, Linda Morgan, Karen Butler, and Barbara Miller.

Can you make "No Bake Cookies", all our 4-Hers can now by Barbara Miller's demonstration of showing a film.

Refreshments were served by Lou Ann McKnatt and Becky McKnatt.

On Friday afternoon, Mrs. Ruth Sapp and Mrs. Carolyn Long, of Seaford, visited Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Shockley Daugherty spent several days last week visiting Rev. and Mrs. John A. Gilmore and family of Ambler, Pa.

Mrs. Blanche Eisenbrey and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Eisenbrey were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond King, of Wilmington, on Sunday. They also visited Paul King and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Zimney and family.

On Saturday, April 22, Clarence Tucker celebrated his birthday at a family dinner at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Minner. Mr. and Mrs. Tucker and all their children and grandchildren enjoyed a delicious turkey dinner and all the trimmings.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Warren spent last weekend visiting in Williamsburg, Va. Mrs. Warren appreciated all the many acts of kindness she received during her recent long illness.

Anyone wishing to have their mother's name in the Mother's Day Supplement of the Houston Methodist Church, contact Mrs. Anna Mae Marvel.

New Course Offered

Are you looking for a just right Mother's Day present for yourself? If you have young children, you might be interested in a new correspondence course, "Those Important Preschool Years," offered by the University of Delaware Cooperative Home Economics Extension.

The non-credit correspondence course is made up of six parts. Part one, "What Is A Child," discusses what makes each child unique. It emphasizes recognizing common behavioral characteristics at various ages and stages of children.

A section on health and safety deals with such topics as immunization shots, common upsets, knowing when to consult the doctor, taking temperatures and knowing the good dental practices important in safeguarding a child's health.

In the third lesson, "Nutritional and Emotional Aspects of Eating," one of a child's most basic needs—the need for food—is discussed. It is important that children learn to enjoy food and mealtime.

The author explores safety and first aid problems such as small cuts, bumps, bruises, burn, stomach pains, nose-bleeds, sunburns and many of the other small minor injuries that occur with young children in "Safety and First Aid."

In "Play—What It's All About," play is defined from a child's point of view. To a child, an adult's encouragement and approval is important in developing his sense of security, understanding and love.

Rather than think about what we do to children, consider what we should be doing for and with them. We need to accept our children and help them feel good about themselves. This aspect of child guidance is also covered in the course.

This non-credit course allows you to receive up-to-date materials for your study at home. Each session is followed by a short quiz to help you review the information included in the section. The quiz sheets are mailed in and by return mail, you receive an answer sheet explaining each question. To follow up your study, your names is placed on a study list and you receive mailings of any new bulletins dealing with young children.

The enrollment fee for "Those Important Preschool Years" is $5. For further information or to enroll in the study course, contact your local University of Delaware County Extension Office or the Human Development and Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark, DE 19711.

Abby Betts recited 'Trees' by Harry Behn, during the ceremony. Carolyn Leyanna made the presentation on behalf of the troop. On the same day Cadette Troop 365 planted a tree at the Chipman Junior School lawn in Harrington.

The Felton Avon Club also planted a dogwood tree on the parsonage lawn, dedicated to the glory of God.

Congratulations, Wally's Garage on winning the final third title Tuesday night.

The battle for the final third title went right down to the wire, with Jarrell Fuel and Wally's Garage, the two top contenders, clashing head-on for the championship. Wally's Garage received outstanding assistance from James Shultie, who rolled a great 202 game and a 521 set and a real good effort from Norman Woodall and Larry Breeding as the team took the first two games from Jarrell Fuel to sew up the title bid. Harold Melvin bowled very well, amassing a good 559 series, including a superb 231 game, and Howard Tibbitt hit a 537 set for Jarrell's.

Bob Annette finished out the season with a grand effort, scattering the pins for games of 203 and 212, amassing a superb 592 series and George Elliott rolled a 202 game and 548 series to pace the Honey Dippers to a crushing victory over Quillen's Market. Sam Powell also bowled very well for the Honey Dippers. Warren Steerman bowled well for Quillen's in defeat.

LeRoy Wheeler sparked for Fry's American as he blasted the boards for a fantastic 608 series, with two great 213 games and John Forbes also closed out the season in grand form, as he scattered the pins for a grand 581 series, with a 211 game included, to give Fry's a commanding four points against Robbin's Hardware. Harry Brown rolled well for the Hardware team.

Harry Jack and Donald Garey bowled very well for McKnatt Funeral Home as they split four points down the middle with People's Restaurant. Cloyd Bushey bowled a good series effort and Frank Collins and Norman Clough also added good efforts for People's Restaurant.

Ken Layton paved the way for Penn Central as he amassed a grand 568 series, with a 223 game included as the railroaders trounced the Spoilers to get three points for their credit. The Spoilers' Leonard Outten rolled a 222 game and 535 set, and John Shaffer and Bruce Harrington bowled very well to give the team one point.

Butler's Fuel took on one of their championship adversaries, Taylor & Messick and came out on the good side of a three-to-one verdict. Dickie Collins bowled well for Butler's and Snooky Collins bowled a good effort for Taylor's.

Henry Jachimek, Jr. rolled a great 224 game in collecting a 543 set and Ernest Gallo Sr.

Raceway Heads Into Final Turn Of Spring Meeting This Week

Post time this Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. and getaway time on the final race Sunday 6:30 p.m.

Last week lady teamster Judy Emerson, of Westminster, Md., stole the show. The little gal rolled home a driving double Sunday night scoring with the family owned Chunky Lad and Worthy Lad, both descendants of Direct Lad. It was the first time at the Kent County oval a female driver had two wins in a single night.

In other action Jim Case Jr., of Dover, lit up the tote board with $62.20 after winning longshot trip with his own six-year-old Rudagar pacing gelding, Rudy Mite. Humdinger Pick, a three-year-old Gene Abbe colt turned the oval in 2:09 4/5 to win his first trip and first career start under the able guidance of veteran Austin Thomas, of Birdsneet, Va. Those in the know predict a bright future for the youngster.

Lewes teamster, Jim Manaway, triumphed with his own seven-year-old Burns Hanover mare, Concord Critter, and paid a handsome $19,200 and 19-year-old provisional driver, John Inslay, of Newark, his own veteran pacer, Afton Sam, an impressive win.

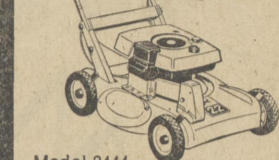

Milton owner-trainer, Elmer Hastings saw the Salisbury ace, Vic White, take Mediator Harl down to the charmed circle and Delmar reinsman scored with Mary Adio for owner, Edward Wainwright also of Delmar. Leading dash driver, Hubert Jackson, of Queen Anne, Md., posted more wins this week; his own 14-year-old Betty's Little Bill and got a second with Jimmy Wayne. Free admission and cash prizes will be part of the 10-event card Sunday.

Dover Trackmen Are Best Mudders

Dover trackmen racked up Lake Forest's Spartans 91-41, in a meet held in the rain, Thursday afternoon.

Prior to the meet, it appeared that Dover would win, by a margin of as little as ten points, or as much as twenty. This prognostication was based on the best efforts turned in by the trackmen of both teams, in earlier meets. The locals were hindered by the absence of Robin Callahan, in the discus, by the sore back of Don Bryant and the sub-par performances of a couple of the Spartans. Yet, the reason for the big point spread may be that Dover's veterans are just better "mudders", than their rivals.

Lake Forest had a few bright spots, however. Phil Thomas, as usual gave away a lot of weight, to his shotput rivals, but had his best throw ever. Phil hurled the 12-pound sphere, 42 feet and 5 inches.

Don Parker won the 100 yard dash in 10.5. Bob Smith is new to the 440 and hung back too long, as his surging finish just missed catching Dover's Harris, at the tape. Nevertheless, the 54.2 clocking is Smith's best yet. Jeff Blakey, made a great try at Harris and was in contention most of the way, despite his newness to track and his lack of spiked shoes.

Joe Triola, in his first track meet, spun the discus through the wind and rain to a distance of 102 plus feet, just missing second place.

Two young, distance-running locals had fine efforts. Ron Mosley, a sophomore, is in his first track season, but broke the 5-minute barrier, in his second mile race. Vernon Bowers, a talented freshman, ignored a bad cold and also got under five minutes, in his first competitive mile, ever. Mosley and Bowers finished third and fourth behind two, veteran Senator athletes.

Lake Forest hopes to have a track at the high school, in the near future. Many track greats were first discovered in physical education classes. This number is greatly reduced when the high school students don't have the chance to try track events during gym periods.

Spartan Nine Wins Two Games
Lake Forest's baseball team continues to feature good pitching. The locals downed Milford 4-1 and Dover Air 13-0, to gain a 4-1 won-lost record, at this writing.

Coach Bob Young threw his ace, Jim Dill, at Milford and was rewarded with a five-hitter. Milford tallied its single run, in the last inning. Lake Forest had only three bingles, but led all the way.

Jim Dill, Russell Dill and Frank Daniels hit safely for the winners. Russell had two RBIs.

Senior Milke Davis, a southpaw, blanked Dover Air's Falcons, with help from Mike Atkinson, who hurled the last frame.

Bob Nored had three hits for Lake Forest. Lawrence Sorden and Jim Hughes had two baseknocks each.
