Asbury Ever Ready Class Observes 50th Anniversary

Fifty years! A long time, but despite the very inclement weather many people assembled in the Collins Hall of Asbury United Methodist Church to pay honor to the Ever Ready Class on its 50th anniversary. The class met the first time on April 1, 1923, (exactly 50 years ago last Sunday) with 8 young women. Four are deceased: Mrs. J. Willis Clifton, Misses Mary Satterfield, Edith Bryan and Irene Rickards. Of the 4 now living, Mrs. Ernest Dean, the first president, was unable to come but Mrs. Charles Evans of Wilmington, Mrs. Theodore H. Harrington and Mrs. William W. Sharp were present. Mrs. Sharp who has been the only teacher through the whole 50 years, presented a lovely four-tier birthday cake to the class and guests; and bountiful refreshments were served at a beautiful tea table by the committee on education of which Mrs. Ralph Butler is chairman.

The minister, the Rev. John Edward Jones, was master of ceremonies and presented an interesting program. Years ago, the class selected a class song, "You Can Smile" which they sang together. Mrs. Donald Jarrell accompanied the musical numbers. Miss Pauline Hopkins, the president, extended greetings and presented a framed picture of Sallmans "Head of Christ" in honor of the teacher, who then expressed her gratitude for the privilege of having been the teacher throughout the entire period and in reminiscence told of certain times when her favorite slogan "Let go-Let God" had been used during these 50 years. Two members of the class, sisters, Mrs. Jehu Camper and Mrs. Abner Hickman, sang "How Great Thou Art" and later in the program another duet "The Mansion Over The Hilltop" was rendered by Mrs. Gary Homewood and Ronald Hughes.

A fashion show of costumes of different periods of the past 50 years was presented by members of the Sunday School followed by a clever and amusing number in which the minister attempted to reproduce Mrs. Sharp in the first session of the Ever Ready class.

4-H Public Speaking Contest Scheduled

Five Delaware 4-H members are scheduled to compete in the state 4-H public speaking contest at 7:30 p.m., April 12, in the State Highway Administration Building in Dover.

The five contestants are Janet Cahall of Hartly, Keith Adams of Felton, Rita Cannon of Bridgeville, Lenny Savers of Hockessin and Susan Marengo of Wilmington.

Winners will receive prizes of U.S. Savings Bonds. The contest is free and open to the public.

that the unanimous vote of the official members of the church, the latest addition to the church building, which is used entirely by the Sunday School, would be named in memory and in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Sharp in recognition of the services both of them have rendered to Asbury Church in the last 50 years.

Sunday morning 37 active and former members of the class attended the lesson period at 10 a.m. and were joined by others in the sanctuary, making the number at least 50 to worship together at the service at 11 a.m.

L.F. School District Registration For First Grade and Kindergarten

Registration for children who will be attending kindergarten in September in the Lake Forest School District is set for the week of April 9-13. Parents should also register next year's first graders who will be entering an elementary school in the district for the first time in September.

Registration centers will be open from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the following locations: the nurse's office in the W.T. Chipman Junior High School in Harrington (Dorman Street), the nurse's office in the Lake Forest East Elementary School in Frederica and the nurse's office in the Lake Forest North Elementary School in Felton.

Parents are asked to register their children in the building located in their elementary attendance area.

Children attending kindergarten in the district are considered to be registered for the

Increased Production Primary Hope For Lower Meat Prices

Delaware's secretary of agriculture, M. Martin Isaacs, said today that increased production is the primary hope for lower meat and poultry prices to the consumer, not boycotts or threats of price rollbacks.

"While such action may result in reduced demand over the short term," he pointed out, "they discourage producers from increasing future production plans and this leads to continued tight supplies and high prices. In extreme conditions, the ultimate result is meat rationing and black market operations."

Higher beef, pork and poultry retail prices traditionally lead to increased production at the farm level, he stated, and this normally corrects the supply-demand imbalance which is the true cause of today's high cost of these products to the housewife.

"At the same time," Secretary Isaacs said, "it is a mystery to most of us associated with agriculture why an increase of ten cents a pound for meat at the farm level results in a re-

FFA Attends State FFA Convention

On March 20, the Delaware Association of Future Farmers of America had its 43rd convention at the Dover Air Base NCO Club. The convention started off with greetings from the base commander Col. Daniel J. McVicar. Then came a presentation from the new Secretary of Agriculture, Martin Isaacs.

This year there were seven contestants in the Sweetheart pageant. The new Sweetheart to take Cathy Sepacks place was from Caesar Rodney chapter. The FFA was also honored to

Burriss Foods Must Start Shipping by June 4

John Burriss, president of Burriss Foods, told the City Council Monday night his plant must start shipping June 4.

Appearing to learn a tax situation, he said he had hoped to start operations of the new plant by May - but it seemed unlikely, he added, pointing to damages to structural iron and the roof by recent high winds.

The Burriss plant is under construction on Reese Ave. at the Penn Central tracks.

Turning to the tax situation, after Burriss had left the meeting, the Council decided assessment value of the uncompleted plant and land in the 15-acre plot to be $400,000.

The tax rate is $1 per $100, with assessment at 60 per cent.

The arrangements with Burriss, permissible under the City Charter, calls for a tax rate of 100 per cent on the first $100,000; 75 per cent on the second $100,000, and 50 per cent on the remainder.

The above evaluation of $400,000, assessed, is not a permanent figure. Total taxes figured at $1,950.

The City next year will go by the Kent County assessment, bills for which are sent out by July 1. At that time, the complete Burriss assessment will have been established.

Relative to construction of the Burriss plant, the City Council Monday night awarded a contract for running sewer and water on an extension of Franklin Street to Reese Avenue. Joseph T. Richardson, local contractor was awarded the contract with a low bid of $11,670; A.P. Isakson Inc., Salisbury, $17,603, and Marvel Contracting Co., Rising Sun, $20,821.

Returning to tax assessments, the Council ruled an assessment of $108,000 on the Penn-Dol Development Company, Baltimore, which has 10 townhouses nearing completion on a 10-acre tract on Peck Avenue.

In other business, the Council--

Awarded contract for 858 feet of nine gauge link fence around City water wells and tower to Pierce Fence Co., Dover $2066. The Lightning Fence Company, Magnolia bid $2367, and Montgomery Ward, Milford, $2550. bid. Specifications also call for two 12-foot gates.

The Council also decided to install a gas pump on the lot, bordered by Franklin and East Milby Streets, when the fence is erected.

Motioned to oppose fluoridation of water system, despite State Board of Health ruling call for same, without a referendum.

Accepted letter of resignation from Sgt. Ronald W. Hobbs who resigned because of a conflict with Chief of Police Richard Bradley. The letter also indicated Hobbs would go into detail on his resignation at the May meeting of the Council.

Before Monday night's regular meeting Hobbs, who had joined the police force Jan. 20, 1972, met with the Council in a 45-minute executive session.

This 'N That

Dover attorney Herman C. Brown today put himself in the race for Republican state chairman to stay, stating that the challenge of forging unity in the party "is too great a challenge for me to ignore or resist."

Brown is a Harrington native. The former Kent County GOP chief's entry into the race will mean a contest for the top party post at the scheduled May 18 convention in Wilmington Manor.

Former Rep. Thomas L. Little of Wilmington, before Monday the only announced candidate for the post now held by Eugene Bunting of Selbyville, has announced he will stick until the roll of the 220 delegates is called.

The Delaware Standardbred Development Fund directors have informally voted to "put the heat on" a state Representative that wants to trim the agency's purse money in half.

The fund this year is contributing $500,000 in purse money for Delaware bred, foaled, or owned horses racing at the state's 3 harness racing tracks--Dover Downs, Brandywine Raceway, and Harrington Raceway.

The fund directors held a special meeting last Friday to discuss a bill introduced by Rep. Joseph Ambrosino (R-Edgemoor Terrace) which would halve the purse schedule.

Three Nabbed For Burglary

Harrington police have arrested 3 young men in connection with a house burglary Feb. 19 in Ocean City, Md.

Arrested on fugitive warrants and charged with breaking and entering and grand larceny were Richard A. Wilson, 18, Robert D. Wilson, 20, and an unidentified 17-year-old juvenile, all of rural Harrington.

Police said they made the arrests last Thursday following an investigation at the request of authorities in Ocean City.

According to police, the two Wilson brothers waived extradition proceedings and were turned over to Maryland police last Thursday. The juvenile, who will be extradited later by youth authorities, has been released to the custody of his parents on a $2,000 secured bond.

Police said the three allegedly took items valued at $480 from the Ocean City home. Since the arrests, officers said they have recovered all the items.

Storm Damages Transformer

A potential transformer was damaged Sunday night at the substation of the Delaware Power & Light Company at the edge of the city.

Company employees put out the blaze in the device which was assumed to have been caused by lightning.

The Harrington Fire Company stood by.

Sunken Manhole To Be Repaired

Joseph H. Richardson, of Harrington, has been awarded the contract to repair a sunken manhole at Mechanic and Dorman Streets at a cost not to exceed $1500.

The decision surfaced after the City Council, meeting Monday night, was notified of the need of the repair work.

SCHOOL-FUND LOSS IS FEARED IN KENT

Kent County Levy Court President Joshua M. Twilley has raised a question on taxation which could be costing the county's five school districts about $75,000 annually.

In a letter Monday to the superintendents of the districts, Twilley said, "In my opinion, the constitutional amendment (transferring the power to grant tax exemptions from the state to the counties) begs the question as to whether or not (1) applies to school district real-estate taxes."

Currently if an individual or charitable organization, applies for a tax exemption, it is decided upon by the county. School districts then use county assessment rolls to determine their own tax bills.

Twilley is questioning whether the affected school districts should consider tax exemptions themselves, rather than accepting those granted by the counties. According to Twilley, tax exemptions granted by Kent County currently result in an estimated $75,000 annual loss to the five districts, since they use the county exemptions in collecting district real-estate taxes. He said next year that figure will jump, possibly to $150,000, because of extended old-age exemptions.

The losses would not occur if the districts did not allow the exemptions.

In his letter to the superintendents, Twilley concludes, "It would be my intention to direct the (County) Board of Assessment to continue the procedure we have been using in the past until a school district has provided us with legal authority that our procedure is in error."

In February, Twilley asked Atty. Gen. W. Laird Stabler Jr. for an opinion on the issue, but was told by State Solicitor Kent Walker that there would be no answer because of legal restrictions on opinions to other-than state agencies.

Mrs. Anna P. Holliday Retires

Pictured with Mrs. Holliday are: William E. Griffin, present principal of the school; William E. Cline, former principal, and presently principal of the Lake Forest South Elementary School; and Solomon Markowitz, former principal, and present supervisor of instruction for the Lake Forest district.

After 13 years of service in the cafeteria in the Lake Forest East Elementary School, Mrs. Anna P. Holliday retired March 30. She has served as cook for the major part of her working time at the school.

The faculty and staff of the school held a retirement party in her honor, and presented her several gifts. The presentation of a sampler-clock, to which each member of the faculty and staff had contributed some of the needlework, was a highlight of the party. Present for the activities were three of the four principals with whom Mrs. Holliday has worked. She began working in the school cafeteria when it was only a small kitchen room in the older part of the building. In 1960 when the addition was added to the building, a new cafeteria and kitchen were included.

It is estimated that Mrs. Holliday has helped prepare the school lunch for approximately 2,500 school days; and, during that time has helped cook and serve over 500,000 lunches. "After all of that," Mrs. Holliday says, "I think it is time to take some time to do the things I would like to do."

KENT COUNTY CURRENTS

by
JOSHUA M. TWILLEY
Levy Court President

Next week the Kent County Levy Court and the City Council of Dover will meet in joint session to discuss the buffer zone agreement. This agreement was signed in 1968 and provided that the Kent County Levy Court that the city of Dover will recognize that the buffer zone agreement has accomplished its purpose and should not be terminated.

The agreement was signed by Kent county so the county-wide sewer system could be built, since it was one of the conditions required by the city of Dover.

Five years have gone by since that time and the situation in central Kent county has changed dramatically.

In the first place, the geographically boundaries of the city of Dover have tripled in these five years and most of the area in the city limits and some areas beyond the buffer zone have been annexed. In the second place the city has had five more years to determine whether or not the areas in the buffer zone should or could be annexed, and those areas have also had five more years to determine the question. In the third place recent court decisions have determined that the city of Dover cannot withhold utility services from areas outside the city limits and require them to be annexed as a condition for receiving water and sewer service.

Finally, there has been a legal question raised that the buffer zone agreement is not legally forcible.

A joint meeting with the city of Dover should result in a review of the responsibilities of Dover and the county to the suburban areas as to water and sewer and it is the hope of the Kent County Levy Court that the city of Dover will recognize that the buffer zone agreement has accomplished its purpose and should not be terminated.

Book Fair at Chipman School April 9-11

The W.T. Chipman will sponsor a book fair from April 9-11. Students will be able to browse and purchase books. The book fair will be open during the hours of 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Books will be on display in the library.

The book fair committee invites all students, parents and visitors to attend the fair. The fair will encourage student interest in reading and in building home libraries, and will also contribute to a worthwhile project.

The book fair display will include attractive new books from many publishers in all popular price ranges--wonderful books to read or to give as gifts. All reading interests will be represented, including classics, fiction, biographies, adventure stories, science, nature, crafts, mystery and reference books. The committee is working with Educational Reading Service, a professional book fair company, to furnish an individual selection of books for the fair.

Greenwood

By Pat Hatfield

Notice: The Jet Cadets and the Whirly Birds, sponsored by the Greenwood Methodist Charge, have changed the time of their meeting from Monday evening. They will now meet from 3:30 until 5 p.m. The church bus will pick them up at school and return them to their homes after 5. The Whirly Birds are for the first, second and third grades and the Jet Cadets are for grades 4, 5 and 6.

Teachers are desperately needed for these groups. If you are interested in the children of our town, now is a chance to make a contribution.

The two groups will hold a car wash and a bake sale on April 14 on the church grounds.

Don't forget the groundbreaking ceremonies for the Hickory Ridge Congregational Methodist Church April 7, at the site of the proposed building, along Rt. 13, north of Greenwood. Time, 3 p.m.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cox were Mrs. Cox's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sawadski of Trenton, N.J. Friday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCreary were Mrs. Janet Bishop of Felton, and Mrs. Ellie Cox of Greenwood.

The McCreary's Saturday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Galen Walt and daughter, Lois, of Bethlehem, Pa., and Sunday their dinner guests were Mrs. Loretta Reiter of Allentown, Pa., and Mrs. Lena Knass of Egypt, Pa.

Friday evening callers at the Jacob Hatfields were Mrs. Helen Maloney and Mrs. Edward Snyder. Sunday callers were Mr. and Mrs. George Sevier and Georgia of Deumar.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Meredith and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield were among those attending the W.S.C.S. supper at Galestown, Md. Saturday. Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar English were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shortall of Pots Nets, Millsboro.

KIWANIS CLUB NEWS

Fifteen Kiwanians and their wives and invited visitors assembled Thursday evening for a covered dish meal, followed by a talk, along with colored slides, portraying life in New Zealand.

The speaker Stephen Brockelbach, an exchange student in the Georgetown High School, was introduced by Joseph Gordy Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Gordy Sr., of Georgetown, who are Stephen's American parents for the year he is in America.

Program chairman for the evening, John Turner, introduced Mr. and Mrs. Gordy, who responded with words of praise for the exchange program and also appreciation for the invitation to be a part of the evening's program. He recalled that he and his family had spent enjoyable years in Greenwood community and felt that he still had many friends here.

William Fleischauer gave the invocation and Ralph Hynson led in the group singing.

Minnie and Nelson Meredith and Lawrence and Velma Graham made all the arrangements for the covered dish meal.

THE ANTIWAR ACTIVISTS ARE QUIET

The antiwar activists are quiet. Not a murmur is heard from Jane Fonda or Joan Baez.

Now that the inhumane treatment of American prisoners in North Vietnam is surfacing, what have these activists to say? What can they say or do to atone from their crimes against humanity?

Incidentally, a TV movie last Thursday night depicted the treatment of the crew of the Pueblo in North Korea. Was it a coincidence Channel 13 showed the film at this time?

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller

NEW vs OLD

New things are important,
 To progress, I'm told,
 But you take the new things
 And I'll take the old.

Old houses with beams,
 That are dark with age.
 Old books turned down,
 On most every page.

Old slippers whose wrinkles
 Are those of my feet.
 Old pipes that the years
 Have made mellow and sweet.

Old friends who know when
 To be silent, when gay.
 And who, when they talk
 Have something to say.

ALL WRONG

A large city newspaper carried a front page story, with pictures of two young, unsocial, unruly, hoodlums. Sob reporters wrote interviews with their parents.

Buried back in the same paper was the notice that a young Scout had earned the "God and Country" award. There were no pictures.

The energy, mental effort and courage involved in winning any one of that Eagle Scout awards far exceeded that made by the beatniks who made the front page.

Our society is built on what this young Scout and thousands of others are doing. It is being ruined by what the hoodlums are doing. Why are the delinquents given the publicity, lionized in the eyes of sentimentalists, breeding more delinquency? Surely the big-town newspapers are not trying to encourage it.

We "Down-Homers" feel the big-time heavy-duty truck driver had a better solution, stopping for a snack, he seated himself at the lunch counter, ordered a hamburger sandwich, coffee and pie. Two Hell's Angels motorcyclists sat down, one on each side of him, one picked up the sandwich, the other ate the pie. Without saying a word the driver picked up the check, paid the cashier and left. When the two "toughs" finished his coffee one said to the cashier, "did you see what we did to that truck driver?" She told him she did. The other said, "he must not be much of a man." She said, "he must not be much of a driver either, when he pulled away he ran over two motorcycles."

Brad Morris Conquers 13-Mile Run Challenge

Brad Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morris of Harrington Manor, was a star cross-country and track performer at Harrington and Lake Forest High Schools.

At Lake Forest, Brad was No. 2 man on a state championship cross-country team in 1969. Like many area long distance runners, used to 5 or 6 mile training runs in flat Kent County, Morris wondered how he would fare in the Caesar Rodney Half Marathon, held annually in Wilmington.

This test is 13 hilly miles. Runners from many states, including Olympians, college and ex-college stars converge on Wilmington for this prestigious affair.

Any runner, who finished the grind in one hour and 30 minutes, could qualify for the world renowned Boston Marathon, held each Patriot's Day, April 19th.

Brad Morris finished 75th of almost 200 runners and was clocked in 1 hour, 25 minutes and 50 seconds.

Brad met his challenge and conquered it. If you see him training on the streets of Harrington wearing a white shirt with the letters spelling out Caesar Rodney Half Marathon, Wilmington, remember - you can't buy that shirt in a store, you must run 13 grueling miles to get one.

Hobby Division Set For Little Lincoln Speedway

The increased cost of stock car racing on the Delmarva Peninsula the last two years has virtually forgotten the man who would like to break into the sport, learn how to drive and win a race or two. Keeping with the Little Lincoln tradition, Promoter Douglas Morgan has revised last year's spectator class into a hobby or claimer's division with a set claiming price of $300.00 on all competing automobiles in this new class. It's an idea that has been successfully employed at many tracks in the country and it provides the league for the low budget man where he can gain valuable experience. With the high cost of groceries the novice can no longer expect a favorable return while making an attempt at being competitive in the bigger league of sportsmen-modified racing inaugurated for the 1973 season. These drivers and owners have been at work preparing their new mounts since last season's end with over $1,500.00 invested in engines alone, not to mention precision suspension parts most are installing. They will be racing for the coveted honor of becoming Delaware's first 'State Champion' in the new breed of automobile racing that was instituted at Little Lincoln in the late 1960s.

The hobby machine can be any American made steel top car dated 1949 to 1973 provided that it has; the glass removed except the windshield or screen in its place, a racing paint job, roll cage and seat belts mounted to the frame, a tight fire wall front and back with the gas tank fixed in the trunk and stock running gear for make and model. The official opening date for the new season will be announced within two weeks. Further details available by contacting Doug Morgan at Lincoln or George Keller in Dover.

$500 Top Prize In Soap Box Derby

Entries are now being received for the annual Soap Box Derby to be held in Federalsburg, Sun., June 24.

All boys and girls between the ages of 11 through 15, residing on the Delmarva peninsula south of the C & D canal, are eligible to compete for the $675 in prize money, plus trophies. With the big event less than 3 months away, all contestants should begin at once to get their vehicles in readiness. First place carries with it a prize of a $500 bond, plus an all-expense paid trip to Akron, Ohio, to compete for national honors. Second prize is a $100 bond, $50 and $25 bonds will be awarded to third and fourth place winners. Anyone interested, both contestants and sponsors, should contact: Delmarva Soap Box Derby, Inc., P.O. Box 53, Federalsburg, Md. 21632.

Mrs. B. Franklin Abbott Sr.

Mrs. Ida C. Abbott, 94, of near Milford, died last Thursday at Milford Memorial Hospital after a short illness.

Mrs. Abbott had lived in the Milford area all her life.

Her husband, B. Franklin Abbott Sr., died in 1966.

She is survived by three sons, B. Franklin Jr., William L. and J. Walter, all of Milford; a daughter, Mrs. Marie Webb, of Severn, Md.; a sister, Mrs. Mae Walls of Milford; four grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Services were held Sunday afternoon in the Berry Funeral Home, Milford. Interment was in Odd Fellows Cemetery, Milford.

Veterans Administration News

Q - I know I read it somewhere, but can you tell me when I will receive the 1973 dividend on my "V"-prefixed National Service Life Insurance policy?

A - The dividend will be paid automatically on the anniversary date of your policies still in force. The same holds true for veterans with "K"-prefixed United States Life Insurance policies.

Q - My wife and I were recently divorced, and I am in school under the GI Bill. When will my allowance be cut to the amount for a single veteran?

A - Your allowance will be reduced at the end of the year, or at the end of your current term, whichever comes first.

Q - I am a married female veteran with three children. I am 50 per cent disabled, and drawing compensation and allowances for my children, but not my husband. Why can't I receive such an allowance for him?

A - You should contact the Veterans Administration immediately. A law passed last October (PL 92-540) now entitles you to claim him for an allowance.

Q - What is this "tele care" I hear about at VA hospitals?

A - Specially trained volunteers keep in contact by telephone with old disabled veterans living at home, alone. The calls provide companionship and check on whether the veteran has fallen and broken a bone or whether his condition has worsened.

Q - I hear VA medics are getting ready to grow new arms and legs on amputees and regenerate hearts of people who have had heart attacks. Does this bring regeneration of the spinal cord any closer for paralyzed veterans?

A - There is nothing anywhere near as far along as growing new arms or legs on humans, or regenerating their hearts or spinal cords. But VA does have some quite promising research on regeneration of limbs and hearts of animals, which lends hope for future progress in this field.

Q - How many former drug addicts and former alcoholics can VA hire by special appointments to help rehabilitate patients of this kind?

A - VA has been authorized to hire 200 former drug addicts and former alcoholics under these special appointments. The agency also hires veterans who are ex-addicts for other jobs.

Landscaping With Vegetables
Home gardeners with limited space are sometimes faced with the dilemma of choosing between an ornamental garden and a functional one. They may want the color and visual excitement of a flower garden, but also want to grow some vegetables.
This year might be a good time to try a new approach to gardening, suggests Robert F. Stevens, extension horticulturist at the University of Dela-

Increase Expected In '73 Corn and Soybean Acreage

Farmers in Delaware and across the nation have indicated that they intend to plant more corn and soybeans this year. The U.S. Department of Agriculture's second survey of farmer's planting intentions shows that growers will put in 7.2 percent more corn acres and 14.5 percent more soybean acres than during 1972.

If farmers carry out their intentions, the number of acres planted in corn and soybeans will be very close to the goal set by USDA, according to W.T. McAllister, extension agricultural economist at the University of Delaware. He says, because of the critically short supply of soybeans, officials hope 54 million acres would be planted. The survey shows 53.8 million acres planned.

To meet the expected foreign and domestic demand for these crops, yields similar to last year's must be obtained. McAllister says last year was a fairly good year for most corn and soybean growers. The average yield of corn for all the U.S. was 86.9 bushels per acre, an all-time record and 8.8 bushels greater than 1971. Soybean yields averaged 28 bushels per acre—the highest yield over the last three years.

Delaware farmers have indicated they are planning only a 1 percent increase in corn acreage. But soybean acreage will jump 8 percent, says McAllister. He adds that the trend to plant soybeans after small grain will increase this summer and should increase Delaware's production substantially.

Corn and soybean yields in Delaware last year were significantly below the U.S. average. Corn averaged 78 bushels per acre and soybeans 25 bushels.

Even with the increased production of corn and soybeans, McAllister says prices for the '73 crops should remain strong.

Clover Mites Invade Delaware Homes

Countless thousands of clover mites are invading Delaware homes, lawns and gardens this spring, according to Frank Boys, extension entomologist at the University of Delaware.

Although the mites are smaller than a pin head, they often become household pests, especially where there is a newly established lawn or a growth of well fertilized lawn near foundation walls.

These pests also feed on lawn weeds, particularly dandelions. They attack a variety of ornamental plantings like daffodils, bleeding heart, poppy, primrose, pinks and seedlings from many weeds and ornamental plants.

The first appear around windows on warm, sunny days in early spring when temperatures remain above 60 degrees for several days. However, they are relatively inactive during summer and winter months.

The mites will migrate indoors, but they are not harmful to humans or pets and do not attack household goods or structures. When crushed, however clover mites leave a red stain that is difficult to remove.

To control clover mites, remove grass and seedlings of other plants 18 to 24 inches from foundation walls. A barrier of stones or gravel near the walls provides best protection.

Spray the barrier strip and foundation walls with 1 cup of "spectracide" 25 percent emulsifiable concentrate, or 2 tablespoons of Kelthane 18.5 percent emulsifiable concentrate in 3 gallons of water. If no barrier strip is present, treat foundation walls and grass for a distance of 10 to 20 feet from the wall. Apparently these treatments at two week intervals is necessary.

At the first sign of indoor mite entry, paint or spray window channels and frames with a 1 to 10 dilution of outdoor spray. Control indoor mites by regular vacuuming and synergized pyrethrin sprays.

It Seems To Me

Sports and casual clothes seem to be the official summer garb of most Americans. If you buy ready-to-wear, you'll find your best selections now. If you plan to make sports clothes for the family, now is the time to start planning.

Sports clothes are more attractive, practical and versatile every year. You can find a lot of ideas on ready-to-wear clothes that you can adapt for your own use. All you need are a few basic patterns that fit you well. A good-fitting pants pattern can be used for pants of any length, and they can be cut slim or full or flared, as you prefer. If you use an elasticized waistband, you won't even need a zipper or have to worry about an exact waistline fit.

A basic shirt pattern can be varied in many ways for a loose-fitting top. It can be sleeveless, or have long or short sleeves. Front openings can be changed to back openings. Add a collar or not as you choose. With the large variety of fabrics, everyone can find something to her taste, and even the same style will look different in different fabrics. Several tops to mix and match will give a wide

The reversible skirt is making a big comeback this year. It's great to slip on over shorts for a quick trip to the supermarket or for those who prefer a skirt instead of shorts. Ready-to-wear reversible skirts are expensive and you can make one for a fraction of the cost and you can have colors and fabrics to your own taste. Combine a plaid seersucker with a plain color. Or use a wild print and pick up one of the colors for the lining—select co-ordinate prints, or use two bright colors. You can even combine two unrelated designs such as stripes on one side and polka dots on the other. Be sure there is a color relationship between the two fabrics, though, or it will appear as though you were just cleaning out the remnant box.

Both fabrics should be compatible as far as care is concerned, and you should preshrink both.

Press both skirts well before joining. They may be attached in one of two ways. Place right sides together, seam around entire skirt, trim seam and turn. Top stitch the edge to hold in place; or place wrong sides together and bind raw edges with self-fabric or braid.

The top of the skirt may be finished with a band, or binding, or turn the seam to the inside and top stitch. Attach Velcro fasteners at each end. These fasteners have the advantage of adjusting to any variations in waist size.

Whatever your choices and tastes in summer sportswear, there are patterns and fabrics available. You can save money and dress with greater individuality if you make your own.

More Research Needed On Soybean Yields

People and animals are now competing for available soy protein. There is not enough to go around. Present soybean shortages, resultant high feed costs and the connection between these and high meat prices have brought home dramatically the significance of soybeans in the overall food-price picture.

What can be done to stabilize the price of this essential protein crop? There are two alternatives, says Dr. William H. Mitchell, extension agronomist at the University of Delaware. We can either reduce protein costs through greater farming efficiencies, or undertake more research to increase overall soybean yields.

Larger acreage, more efficient use of machinery and better chemical weed control are ways to reduce production costs. The present goal of Delaware soybean farmers is to refine management practices to the point where one man can cultivate 1,000 acres.

Even so, Mitchell doubts that improvement is really the answer to the soybean supply problem. Farmers are doing well the present knowledge, he says. What is needed is a better understanding of the soybean plant so that they can attain more consistent high yields.

Statistics indicate we have a long way to go. Delaware soybean yields today are still comparable to those in 1907, when the university was just beginning studies in soybean production. Yields of 25 bushels or more per acre were not unusual then. That is what Delaware's average soybean yield was again in 1972—some 60 years later. Yet many farmers on occasion have produced 40 bushel yields. The key to getting such high yields on a systematic basis is still lacking.

Most research to date on soybeans has been directed at the kinds of problems Mitchell calls "brush fires"—solutions to specific problems. Results of this kind of research usually come just in time to prevent crop yield drops from disease or insects. These advances are important, but they mean little more than holding the line on yield levels.

Mitchell suggests that the key to higher yields may be in the area of soybean nutrition. A major research effort is needed here, he says. Nitrogen metabolism, in particular, should be a profitable area to explore.

Soybeans have a high nitrogen requirement. A 40 bushel crop contains about 150 pounds of nitrogen in the beans alone. The plant is able to absorb only about half the nitrogen it needs from the air. Logically, it should be possible to provide the balance through soil enrichment. But, unlike corn, soybeans show a negative response to nitrogen additions to the soil. This explains why direct fertilization is not always effective in increasing soybean crop yields on poorer soil.

The form of the nitrogen used may be the factor, Mitchell suggests. Highest yields usually used come from soils that are already rich with a good supply of organic nitrogen.

Finding the key to nitrogen nutrition of the soybean might well be the breakthrough needed to bring soybean yields up to 40 bushels or more—nearly double the present average output per acre.

Remove Grass Clippings From a Healthy Lawn

To make your lawn look healthy and well-groomed, remove all grass clippings immediately after you mow.

Grass clippings left on the lawn can add to the accumulation of thatch, says Dr. William H. Mitchell, extension agronomist at the University of Delaware. Thatch, the dead material around grass roots, interferes with air and water movement and encourages disease.

If thatch is thick, rain and irrigation water may be prevented from reaching the soil, causing grass to grow poorly. Under these conditions, lawns often become brown and unattractive by midsummer.

To prevent an over-accumulation of thatch, attach a tray or bag to your lawn mower to catch the clippings. However, if the grass is exceptionally tall and the bag fills rapidly, it may be easier to rake the lawn after mowing.

You can use grass clippings as a mulch for your flower or vegetable garden and around ornamentals. This tends to conserve soil moisture and help promote vigorous growth. Spread the clippings evenly, taking care not to apply a heavy layer that might prevent water from reaching the soil.

If there is already a thick layer of thatch in your lawn, you should remove it immediately. In most cases, thatch removal tools may be rented at a nearby hardware or garden center. This is a tool with vertical cutting blades which move thatch to the surface where it can be raked and removed. Thatch, like clippings, can be used as a mulch.

Thatch removal should be done when grass is growing vigorously. For bluegrass and fescue lawns, the best time is in the spring or late summer. In bermuda and zoysia, thatch should be done in early or mid-summer.

New Century Club Notes

The Harrington New Century Club held its regular monthly meeting Tues., March 27. Mrs. Brinster presided at the business meeting. The State Convention to be held in Dover May 23 and 24 was discussed.

Those desiring to attend the convention May 23 must register no later than 1 p.m. the same day. There will be a banquet at 6:30 p.m. Those attending May 24 are required to register by 9 a.m. A luncheon will be served at noon on this day. The cost of the banquet and luncheon will be $5.50 per person.

Also discussed was the April 10th trip to the Indian Relic Shop at South Bowers Beach. Mrs. Jehu, trip chairman, requests that all members taking the trip be at the Century Club by 12 noon. Members will leave the club at 1 p.m. Bring your own sandwich. Coffee and dessert will be served. The committee members are: Mrs. Leona Disprager, Mrs. William W. Shaw, Mrs. Allen B. Parsons, Mrs. Floyd Nasser, and Mrs. William R. Sollars.

There is nothing prettier than wood for finish work and for the floors in your home. However, today the latest in kitchen design make more out of wood than just that. It is quite simple to use the same flooring in oak or maple strips that you used for your floor on your countertops. Once in, the wood provides a natural, washable surface, impermeable to scratches and abrasives. An oil finish is all that is necessary to keep the wood in top condition.
