500 Attend Harrington's Alumni Dinner

By Michael Kohel
D.D. Derrickson

The Harrington High School Alumni Association held its 18th annual reunion Saturday night in the W.T. Chipman School Cafeteria and fieldhouse.

Two scholarships were presented in honor of two local personages. The first was the "Zita Z. Hatfield Memorial Scholarship" and the second was named for Mrs. Minnie P. Slaughter, a longtime favorite teacher who retired after 53 years of service.

President Ronald F. Hughes, class of 1965, called the meeting to order with a cordial welcome. Invocation was given by Miss Mariate Gomez-Bernardo, AFS student from Spain, followed by a delicious meal served by Hazel L. Johnson, class of 1938, and her staff. Mr. Hughes introduced the officers and executive committee for the current year, who are: C. Richard Black, class of 1965, of Milford, vice president; Michael C. Kohel, class of 1966, also of Milford, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Betty L. Chambers, class of 1954, of Viola, recording secretary; Mrs. Lena V. Paskey, class of 1957, corresponding secretary; Donald Derrickson, class of 1948, executive vice president and treasurer; Jack V. Wyatt, class of 1959 and Miss Jennie L. Morris, class of 1929, executive committee members of Harrington; Mrs. Phyllis C. Link, class of 1957, of Frederica, recording historian; Mrs. Bertha M. Wyatt, class of 1961, Alumni news chairman and editor and James W. Rash, class of 1949, past president, both of Harrington.

Mr. Hughes continued the meeting with the introduction of the 47 invited guests of the evening, who included past principals, teachers, and friends of the alumni.

The meeting continued with the presentation to the membership of the new officers for 1974-75: C. Richard Black, class of 1965, president; Michael C. Kohel, class of 1966, 1st vice president; Eugene H. Porter, class of 1954, 2nd vice president; Lois R. McIntyre, class of 1966, of Houston, recording secretary; Shirley K. Mackert, class of 1956, of Milford, corresponding secretary, and Donald W. Derrickson, executive vice-president and treasurer.

The meeting was turned over to Mr. Black who read the historian's report. This report gave in detail: membership, dues, comparisons and goals of the Association. Mr. Black then presented Mrs. Winona Thompson Rosander, class of 1924, the award for traveling the longest distance. She and her husband live in Richland, Wash., 3000 miles from Harrington. The class award for the greatest number in attendance went for the ninth straight year to the class of 1965. The class award for the greatest percentage in attendance went to the classes of 1904 and 1910 each with 100 per cent in attendance. The award to the lady representing the oldest class present went to Mrs. Ada Jones Wilson, class of 1903. The award to the gentleman representing the oldest class present went to Ernest L. Gleason, class of 1911. Both are from Harrington.

Michael C. Kohel, the 2nd vice president took the speaker's stand to introduce the honor classes. He introduced Mrs. Florence Collins Layton, class of 1904, who was celebrating her 70th anniversary. The class of 1914 celebrating its 60th anniversary was represented by Mrs. Nellie Hughes Stokes. Both reside in Harrington. The class of 1924, celebrating its 50th reunion held an open house earlier that day at the home of a class mate Mrs. Irene C. Welch, and was well represented at the banquet with 11 of 15.

The class of 1949, was introduced with 13 members present to celebrate its 25th anniversary; the class of 1934, celebrating its 40th reunion; the class of 1944, its 30th anniversary; cele-

BILLY GRAHAM COLLEAGUE LEADS LOCAL CRUSADE

The Executive Chairman of the Kent Sussex Crusade of Christ, Charles Bradley, announced this week that Dr. John Wesley White, personal friend and associate of Dr. Billy Graham will lead a 10-day evangelistic crusade at the Delaware State Fairgrounds, Harrington, Aug. 16-25.

A native of Canada, Dr. White has been associated with Dr. Graham since 1964. During this time he has traveled to 82 countries, preaching the Gospel from Britain to Australia, from South Africa to Russia and extensively throughout North America. Dr. White has two earned Ph.D. degrees, one from Oxford University, England. He is the author of several books and is also Chancellor of Richmond College, Toronto, Canada. Mr. Bradley stated that another Graham Team member, a Crusade Coordinator, is also involved. The Rev. Lewis Blanchard, Staples, Minn., will spend at least 50 days in our area, giving guidance to local committees and in training hundreds of people for participation in the Crusade. Starting in early July, he will teach two Christian Life and Witness courses, one in Milford at the Avenue Methodist Church and one at Grace Methodist Church in Millsboro.

The Kent Sussex Crusade came about as a result of local interest and initiative, continued Mr. Bradley. A number of pastors and laymen felt a growing concern to see a united evangelistic endeavor develop in Kent and Sussex Counties, and over a year ago wrote to Dr. Graham's organization for assistance. Following an exchange of correspondence and a visit by their Director of Associate Crusades, the local group incorporated

Cape May-Lewes Ferry Gears For Summer

CAPE MAY, N.J.—As vacation time approaches, the Cape-May-Lewes Ferry gears itself for what may be a record year for transporting people and vehicles across the Delaware Bay.

General Manager Theodore C. Bright points out that the energy crisis has forced travelers to seek vacation sites closer to home and to use the most economical route to reach their destination.

"Using the Cape May-Lewes Ferry means a savings of several miles of driving," according to Bright. "At the same time, travelers enjoy a scenic and restful hour on the Delaware, all without deviating from a direct north-south route along our major highways."

Bright added that the first of three new bayliners is expected to arrive at the Cape May Terminal in late May and will be in service throughout the summer months.

Chipman Jr. Band Places Second In Md. Parade

The Junior Spartans of the W.T. Chipman Jr. Band did an outstanding job of marching and playing last Sunday en route to winning second place in the Salisbury V.F.W. Loyalty Day Parade. The band marched to the tune of "Joy To The World", a pop rock march made popular by the Three Dog Night.

"This was the first time this year the band had been out of state and their nervousness was quite obvious," quotes Mr. Becton, Chipman band director. Students were fainting, turning pale and showing other signs of competitive pressure in which the 85 and 90 degree temperature didn't help. But once the waiting was over and the parade got underway, the band showed that all of our extra rehearsals and practice time would pay off. I was very proud of our band Sunday, they gave me their very best throughout the entire parade. They deserve all that they won."

The band finished second behind the powerful Sussex Central Jr. High band.

City Council Meets: Water Rates, Brown's Branch, Midges Discussed

All members of the Council were present Monday night. One of the first orders of business was a discussion of the need for an ordinance banning "trucks-- and other related vehicles" in primarily residential areas for an extended period of time. The proposed ordinance and the writing thereof was tabled for further discussion at the next meeting.

The water rates was the topic of much discussion due to a report of the rates paid by various commercial operations in the City. Wide spread rates exist. No motion was requested. The report was merely submitted for the pleasure of the Council, but indications point to further discussion later. The issue of whether water meters should be installed on all commercial operations was the underlying implication.

The Brown's Branch Ditching operation was brought for discussion as the responsibility of the City to pay for the correction of the bridges in the three locations, the center of previous discussion. A motion was made by Councilman Griffin that the City take the responsibility for the payment of these bridge corrections due to the possible dredging in the three areas. Prior to the motion the mayor stated that no estimates had been submitted and consequently no bids had been let for the areas in question. Griffin's motion was that the matter should be paid for out of the general fund. Motion was carried.

Dr. Lobo reported on the "midges" which many refer to as "gnats", becoming pests in this area. Lobo reported on facts of the Laurel, Del., situation where similar problems existed. Laurel had used certain chemicals and pesticides with maximum success. The Mayor asked for a motion to have a man dispatched to Laurel to learn "the system" to cope with this mounting problem.

The City Manager, Jack Harrington, initiated the discussion regarding building permits...in that, the new building permit fees for the City are: $5 for the first $1,000 and $3 for each $1,000 above that to $1,000,000. Since the City does not have a building inspector, the County would be entitled to collect the same fees beginning in July under their new code. The Council thereby decided that by looking for a part-time building inspector, the double fee situation would be eliminated. The City would then send a copy of the building permit to the county, i.e. the Board of Assessment Office, to eliminate paying twice.

Jack Harrington also gave the recommendation to the Council from the Planning & Zoning Commission that the Hammond lands be rezoned as requested by Continental Resources, Inc. The PZC recommendation was to approve the zoning as requested (Commercial and residential) subject to the proviso that a site plan be first submitted and approved by the PZC.

The Mayor suggested that the recent moneys received by the City under the revenue sharing plan be directed in the area of West Mispillion Street. Council agreed that the matter should be taken care of regarding the sewer and water situation. This matter is to be decided at the next council meeting, and in the meantime the paving of Reese and Peck Avenues should be resolved. It was felt that if moneys could be raised elsewhere so as not to affect the debt limit situation of the City then the City should direct the funds recently received to the Mispillion area.

It was felt that money would be wisely spent by purchasing a new police car instead of the past experience of purchasing used cars that required the expense of "keeping up a used car". The Council adjourned with the Mayor announcing that a special meeting would be called in the near future to shed light on many issues arising from this meeting that required additional information.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Stayton and son, Mark, and Mrs. Julia Allen attended the 99th Annual Commencement at Concord College Sat., May 4 in Athens, W. Va. Lynn E. Stayton, their daughter, was graduated with honors in the field of library science.

Teresa Martin Wins

Miss Teresa Martin, ninth grader at Lake Forest has found it pays to read the Harrington Journal. Miss Martin, of Viola, correctly identified a picture of herself that appeared in last week's issue. In the picture Miss Martin was shown at the first aid station after the walkathon, which she completed. She collected $2.50 for the identification. Congratulations.

Our Mistake

The article reporting the AFS walkathon incorrectly stated that some participants, but not part of the walk, included Cub Scouts and den members. Not only did they walk, they collected over $100, which definitely made them part of the day. Sorry!

Record Spring Season Ends Saturday

Harrington winds up the most successful Spring Harness meeting in its 29 year history Sat., May 11. Handle and attendance figures showed a large increase over the corresponding figures of last year and raceway officials are predicting even greater gains this fall when the half mile oval conducts a 42 day meet beginning Sept. 6 and continuing through Nov. 2.

During the Spring session Kincaid and McCleny's crack two year old pacing filly, Pacing Stuff, set a season's record for her age, sex, and gait when she won her second lifetime start in an astonishing 2:07.1 for driver-trainer Richard Putz.

Another milestone was reached on April 13 when a record crowd of 3487 people sent $201,910 through the mutual machines to mark the first time ever that the Harrington oval topped the $200,000 figure.

The fastest mile of the meeting was recorded by the vastly improved Russ Whiteley who took a new lifetime mark of 2:04.1 for driver Jim Porter. Russ Whiteley is a nine year old gelded son of Milford Hanover and is owned and trained by Sam Matthews of Harrington.

Saturday's closing session will be appreciation night with FREE admission to both grandstand and clubhouse areas. A trip for two to Disney World in Orlando, Fla., includes round trip fare, deluxe hotel accommodations, dinner in the clubhouse and free admission to Seminole Turf Club for two evenings plus $150 in cash and free admission and tickets to various wonders of Disney World.

Race Secretary John Phillips has several surprises set for the Fall meeting, including a return visit by World Driving Champion Herve Filion.

Pos time for the balance of the Spring session will be 8 p.m.

Variety is the spice of life. The homes opened for the two-day event were scattered throughout Dover, as well as in the country. Many tour these homes and never tire of the beauty of the historical heritage shared by Delawareans with mutual pride.

Area merchants took up the historical theme, some with heirloom displays in their storefronts, and in the case of Rodney Village Merchants Association, held an antique auto show. Several contemporary sidewalk sales were also held in conjunction with the festivities.

Annuals Will Add Color

There's nothing like a good selection of annual flowers to add beauty to a yard, accent a landscape or provide a blaze of color, according to David V. Tatnall, garden specialist at the University of Delaware.

Use one type and color of annual in each planting area. Place flowers in beds along the foundations of the home, within areas that complement the house or in planters and planter boxes.

Since flowers often need a dark or contrasting background for maximum effectiveness, try planting a flower border in front of shrubs, walls or fences.

Annuals make excellent edging plants for either sun or shade. In the sun, try ageratum, allysum, dianthus, dusty miller, marigold, petunia, phlox, snapdragon, verbena or zinnia. In the shade, you'll have better luck with flowering tobacco, coleus, pansy, impatiens and vinca rosea.

Built-in outdoor planters are becoming increasingly popular for areas along porches, walls, patios and foundations. Annual flowers selected for these should be free-flowering and provide continual color. Tatnall suggests marigold, petunia, salvia, snapdragon, verbena or zinnia.

A variation of this limited-space planting is the urn or tub, now available in a variety of ceramics, plastics and redwood. A combination of annuals or annuals with evergreen shrubs or ornaments may be effective here.

For combination plantings, try ageratum, sweet alyssum, begonia, coleus, marigold, petunia, snapdragon or zinnia.

Window boxes remain an important flower area for many urban dwellers with limited time and space says Tatnall. But remember to allow for the light needs and heat tolerance of plants in selecting window box annuals.

Among the annuals best adapted to window boxes are sweet alyssum, begonia, coleus, impatiens, ni-rembergia, petunia, salvia, snapdragon, French marigold and dwarf zinnias.

Publisher's Choice ...

HARRY G. FARROW, JR., Publisher

Since the past week, the inflationary spiral has not changed much at all. As someone said to me the other day, the only thing that is coming down is the stock market; however, this is not too important "unless you are selling". Last week as my column indicated the wage and price controls were being lifted for "the first time in 32 months" as opposed to the error that was in my column reflecting "12 months". I noticed again this past week when the term "raising the prime-rate" comes into our every day conversation, there is a tendency to shudder somewhat as though another burden was being placed upon our aching backs.

Actually the "prime-rate" as such does not have any real bearing upon our fate... as private citizens... because the "prime-rate" as the term indicated... prime... is the best rate the large city banks in New York, etc. offer and charge their "large customers". These customers are not residential mortgage hunters. They are the large investors or users... and always corporations like General Motors, Chrysler and the like. What these banks charge as their "prime-rate" should therefore have no effect on our mortgage rates for individual homes. However as much as this is true in theory, the amount of the "prime-rate" has some direct effect on inflation. The "prime-rate" has doubled in the last 3 to 5 years, and therefore the cost to the manufacturers for this money has caused the end product to increase. This is basic logic. This is one leg of the triangle that is used to argue the point "that with the hike in the prime-rate" this measure in effect will have a tendency to slow down the economy. "High costs... Higher Costs" will cause the public's appetite to be curbed in their wants. The net result is to have a cooling off period. So much for the "prime-rate."

First cousin to the "prime-rate" is the "discount rate", and it is called this because of its nature. This rate is the one which the Federal Reserve charges or "discounts" to the member banks who in turn lend to individuals or small corporations... local concerns. This is the rate however that has a direct effect on the individual's purchasing power, because as this rate rises, it has a twofold effect by limiting the ability of the borrower to pay back the money lent, and by limiting the "member banks" in what they desire to lend. With the latter, there must be a "2 point" spread for the bank to consider it economical. So if the "discount rate" is 7 1/2 or 8%, there would be less money... if any... to lend, for the "2 points" would push the rate above the legal limit of 9%. This is one reason that some states like Pa. are removing the lid on the legal rate, and let it be a fluctuating one. So the "discount rate" is what is referred to when we hear "money is getting harder to get and money is tightening up". This will in fact slow inflation.

President Nixon's economic adviser, Arthur Burns, feels the discount rate is the one lever of many to pull to grind inflation to a stall. When this is done to the extreme it will slow everything down. So many people across the country can be affected like the plumbing and heating contractors, the electricians, carpenters, brick layers, etc... one could go on. Although it is said many times that "children" are the backbone of the economy, this other segment of the economy must be considered also.

Last week the President, speaking at a rally on the west coast and at a news conference later, said that he had a plan under consideration to lift the building industry from its present doldrums. No doubt he has something in mind which I have mentioned... like lowering the discount rate, which would open things up. The real drawback of these governmental implementations is that they take 9 months to "bring off". This would then be around election time... perfectly timed. We need it now... in my opinion. With the lifting of controls last week... things could get out of hand. If something like this is not done, we could get a ground shot measured not as a "9.9", but one that would go right off the end of "The Richter Scale". This is MY CHOICE... what's yours?

PUBLISHER'S NOTE: Next week I plan to present a "Publisher's Profile", and a feature article on a current issue.

Deborah Lyn McKnatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKnatt, receives a memorial scholarship from James W. Rash.

MOTHER'S DAY

It takes a mother's love
To make a house a home,
A place to be remembered
No matter where we roam.

It takes a mother's patience
To bring a child up right,
Her courage and her cheerfulness
To make a dark day bright.

It takes a mother's kindness
To forgive us when we err,
To sympathize in trouble
And bow her head in prayer.

It takes a mother's wisdom
To recognize our needs,
And to give us reassurance
By her loving words and deeds.

That is why in all this world
There could not be another
Who could fulfill God's purpose
As completely as a Mother.

— Helen Steiner Rice

Vaccinate Horses

Equine eicephalomyelitis killed horses in 25 states last summer. Each of these animals could have been saved had they been vaccinated against this disease.

There are two common North American varieties of this "sleeping sickness," according to Dr. C. Melvin Reinour, equine specialist at the University of Delaware. Both are spread by mosquitoes and can affect humans as well as horses.

The two strains of encephalomyelitis are eastern (EEE) and western (WEE). A Venezuelan variety (VEE) is generally confined to Central and South America, but has shown up in the U.S. as late as 1971.

Typical symptoms of EEE are depression, high fever, incoordination and a reeling gait. The horse may also experience loss of vision, drowsiness and an inability to swallow. Paralysis and death usually follow within two or three days.

Reinour says the mortality rate for horses and ponies afflicted with EEE is 90 per cent. Those few animals which do survive often suffer permanent brain damage.

Owners should make arrangements with local veterinarians to have their horses vaccinated as soon as possible, he stresses. Mosquitoes are breeding again and some may be carrying the disease.

A bivalent type of vaccine should be used, giving protection against both EEE and WEE. Both strains are found in Delaware, although the eastern form has a higher mortality rate than the western variety.

Veterans Administration News

Questions and Answers

Q - I am a disabled veteran. My wheelchair, provided by the Veterans Administration, does not permit me to participate in some sports events. Can I have my chair modified at VA expense?

A - A "sports-model" wheelchair is available from the VA when it is medically prescribed and the veteran's sports activity warrants the wheelchair for his physical rehabilitation.

Q - I'm planning to be married next month. I have selected a venue to buy. Does it make any difference if I apply for a veterans GI home loan before I am married?

A - VA new accords full recognition to income and expenses of both veteran and spouse in determining ability to repay loan obligations. Formerly, local rules sometimes had the effect of discounting the spouse's income.

Q - My father was discharged last year from the Army and died last month of a service-connected cause. I'm planning to enter college this fall. Can the Veterans Administration help?

A - Yes. VA will provide training benefits for you under its Dependents' Education Assistance program.

Q - I was honorably discharged last week after two years in the military service. If I go to school, will the Veterans Administration pay for my books and tuition?

A - Books and tuition are provided under VA's vocational rehabilitation program for veterans with a 30 per cent service-connected disability; or less, if the disability is a pronounced employment handicap. Veterans without a disability who enroll in school under the GI Bill receive monthly education assistance allowances to offset school expenses.

Local Guard Unit Aids In Survey

Unit 2198th Signal Platoon of the Delaware National Guard recently completed its part in a year-long project involving the assessment of nutrient pollution threat to six Delaware lakes and reservoirs.
Completion of the project was announced Thurs., May 2, by John C. Bryson, Secretary of the Delaware Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Control, and Major General Clarence E. Atkinson, the Adjutant General of Delaware.
Since April 1973 the Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Control and the Delaware National Guard in conjunction with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) have been tracking concentrations and sources of the nutrients phosphorous and nitrogen, which can seriously damage water quality. Seventeen monthly samples were drawn from lakes, their tributaries, and sewage treatment plants in their watersheds. Killen's Pond near Harrington and Moores Pond were the sites involved in Kent County.
Sponsorde by the EPA, this project now involves 27 eastern states, and is known as the National Eutrophication Survey. The Eutrophication is the natural aging of lakes which can lead to lowered water quality and loss of recreational value. This process is speeded up by addition of excessive nutrients.
Results of the survey will be available during mid-summer, and will aid programs aimed at establishing water quality standards, developing water segment classification, establishing allowable treatment plant nutrient discharge levels, and determining land run-off pollution in various lake drainage areas.

Veterans Administration News

Q - As an eligible veteran, would I have to make a downpayment on a Veterans Administration GI home loan?
A - The Veterans Administration does not require a downpayment, but the lender may require one.
Q - I'm a disabled veteran who received a $2,800 auto grant from the Veterans Administration. Will VA help out on engine repair?
A - VA pays for repair, maintenance, or replacement of special adaptive equipment necessary to operate the car. The agency is not authorized to bear these expenses on the vehicle, itself.

Wheat, rice, soybeans, feed grains, tobacco, cattle hides—all are part of our farm export market. Equally a part—though perhaps not as obvious—are the thousands of farm and nonfarm jobs and millions of dollars of gross national product that depend on our sales of farm products overseas. The following facts detail some of the effects of farm exports on our economy.

Producing the agricultural commodities exported last year required the labor of roughly half a million farmworkers—or one out of every eight people in the farm labor force. And the exports also opened up another half-million jobs off the farm for people engaged in assembling, processing, and distributing the items to be shipped overseas.

The record $25 billion-plus in farmers' net income in 1973 was brought about in large measure by the substantial rise in U.S. farm exports. Last year an estimated one-fourth of farm income came from agricultural sales abroad. Over half the increase in net farm income over 1972 resulted from exports.

Each dollar's worth of feed grains, wheat, rice, and oilseeds sold for export generates 90 cents worth of business for the nonfarm economy in such sectors as transportation, storage, handling, and marketing. Thus, the more than $3 billion expansion of U.S. agricultural exports in 1973 required around $7½ billion in supporting output from the rest of the economy.

At the farm gate, the value of our agricultural exports in 1973 amounted to approximately $16.1 billion. But this really represented only about two-fifths of the value of these exports to our total economy. Last year total business generated by farm exports in the nonfarm sector came to nearly $21.2 billion.

Last year's agricultural trade surplus of $9.3 billion wiped out a deficit of $7.6 billion in non-farm trade. This left the Nation with $1.7 billion in the plus column, the first trade surplus since 1970. Farm exports are helping to stabilize the U.S. dollar abroad and strengthening our trade posture, in addition to paying for much needed oil and consumer goods to maintain our level of living.

It Seems To Me

Managing the family wardrobe becomes easier all the time with easy-care fabrics and more casual dressing. But there are indications that it may become even less of a task in the future.

An American Chemical Society study prepared with National Science Foundation backing tells us that in the future we will have:

Fabrics that heat or cool just as space suits do. If this happens, maybe one outfit of clothing will take us through an entire year. There will be no need for storage of summer or winter clothes, and the semi-annual task of inventory and discarding will be a thing of the past.

Fabrics that change color to suit the background of the wearer. I'm not sure I'm in favor of that. Most of the backgrounds I seem to work against are gray or beige and I really prefer more vivid color. This might be an advantage if you didn't want to be very visible, but a real egotist might be thwarted by always being part of the background.

Truly no-care apparel and household fabrics. We'll all welcome that, even though many of our fabrics today already have this characteristic.

Textiles that can be recycled easily and on a short-term basis. I'm not sure what the report means by that. It seems to me that textile products have always been recyclable. There is even legislation for labeling reused and reprocessed wool.

Custom printing of fabrics at the retail level. Imagine going into your favorite fabric store, selecting the design you want and having it printed before your eyes.

Other conclusions from the Chemical Society report are: New fiber development will be slight, and industry will con-

Delaware Food Market Report

by Anne W. Holbert

The barbarian root of Europe's early ages, long imported from China and Tibet via the caravan routes of the Middle East, rhubarb has been a magic medicine (the roots were used as a "better" and stomach purgative), a slang word for a loan in England during the last century, and often a polite way of saying "trouble". Today the delicious member of the buckwheat family, an herb in its own right but seldom known as such, is an easy springtime treat.

Botanically, rhubarb is a vegetable, however, in use it is considered a fruit. This was somewhat officially recognized on July 17, 1947 when the U.S. Customs Court at Buffalo, N.Y., ruled that rhubarb is a fruit and not a vegetable, and as such, is subject to only 35 per cent import duty and not the 50 per cent charged against vegetables at that time. The judge ruled that rhubarb is a fruit since its principle use in the home is that of other types of fruit.

The season for fresh rhubarb is from late February through June with the largest quantity arriving at markets during May. Right now rhubarb is available locally and the quality is good to excellent.

When you are choosing rhubarb at the grocery store, look for stalks that are fresh, firm, crisp and tender. The stalks should also be fairly thick as these are more likely to be tender and free from strings when cooked. Stalks of rhubarb that are well colored are usually well flavored; but some varieties on some soils show very little color. Forced rhubarb (hot-house) is usually lighter than field grown. The younger stems on which the leaves are not fully grown are usually the most tender and delicate in flavor. Stale rhubarb usually has a wilted flabby appearance. Old rhubarb or that which has grown too long before being pulled, may be pithy, rough and stringy.

Rhubarb may be sold by the pound or in "bunches". To help you calculate the amount to buy, remember: 1 lb. fresh equals two and one-half cups sauce; 1 bunch equals about 4½ cups sauce; 2 pounds fresh is needed for a generous eight or nine inch pie.

Most rhubarb is sold in stores minus the leaves, if not, remove the leaves and throw away, then store the stalks in a moisture proof box in the refrigerator as soon as possible. It wilts rapidly.

Rhubarb is usually bought for its refreshing flavor since it contains only small amounts of vitamins A and C. It is mostly made up of water. The caloric count is low, however, rhubarb is seldom eaten without sugar. Most recipes call for one cup of sugar to one quart of rhubarb. And this takes the calories up to about 140 per three and one-half ounce serving.

This "vegetable" certainly lends itself well to chilled sauces served with sweet cream, whipped cream, or ice cream toppings. The sauce with a bit of thickening makes a good pie and many cooks add a few strawberries or even half and half in the filling—delicious is the word for it. Rhubarb custard pie—it is truly a pie to remember. Don't forget rhubarb jam, rhubarb wine, rhubarb cake topping just to name a few other uses for this delicious fruit or vegetable, which ever you choose to call rhubarb.

Statewide Effort To Eradicate Johnsongrass

An all-out effort is underway to eradicate Johnsongrass in Delaware. The program, which is a joint effort of the co-operative extension service at the University of Delaware, the State Department of Agriculture and the State Department of Highways and Transportation, is aimed at voluntary elimination of this troublesome agricultural weed during the next three years. Frank Webb, associate crops specialist with the extension service, is co-ordinator for the effort.

Webb points out that even though a state law was passed several years ago making it unlawful for any property owner to allow Johnsongrass to set seed or to grow to a height of 24 inches, little progress has been made in eradicating it. The key to this new program is a field-tested chemical treatment that can be used effectively without taking infested land out of production.

The statewide eradication program works this way: Every farmer in known Johnsongrass areas has been sent a letter explaining the new effort along with an information card he is to send in if he wants to participate.

Webb then follows up on the cards with a phone call to set up a farm visit. During the visit, he evaluates the problem and makes control suggestions.

Continued contacts will be made throughout the growing season to provide additional information. And a final evaluation will be made in the fall.

Webb says the success of the eradication effort is based on a double-rate application of Treflan, an effective weed control chemical that can be used with a growing crop. He is suggesting a fairly simple procedure including plowing and double disking, incorporating one and one-half to two quarts of Treflan per acre into the soil and planting soybeans. Two or three cultivations will probably be needed, according to Webb, and the procedure will need to be followed for at least two years.

Webb points out that the eradication effort is not very costly since there is no idle land involved. Chemical cost will run $9-12 per acre each year, depending on soil conditions, and some extra field tillage is required. But this can be offset by crop production from a field that might otherwise be useless due to a Johnsongrass problem.

The seriousness of the Johnsongrass problem in Delaware is described in a co-operative extension service publication on control which states: "Johnsongrass is a sturdy perennial which spreads rapidly and thrives easily. For years, in Delaware, it has reduced land values, increased food production costs, divided neighbors and otherwise been a burden in farming areas."

Mature Johnsongrass can be as tall as a corn plant with a seed head resembling sorghum. The seeds are easily spread, highly fertile and can live in the soil for several years before germinating.

Landowners seeking more information on the program should contact their county extension agent in Georgetown, Dover or Newark.

Spartans Bow 1-0 To The Cape Beat Dover 8-0

Cape Henlopen has ten members of its powerful track team on the baseball team also. One of these highjumpers, Jim Allen, relieved on the mound, had a base hit and scored the game's only run, as the Vikings ended the Spartan's four-game win streak, by a 1-0 score.

Rodney Wyatt and Russell Dill turned in a strong, seventh-inning performance, but couldn't handle Allen's batterymate, who went three-for-three and drove in the run.

Lake Forest's three baseknocks were registered by Bob Jacobs, Russell Dill and Wayne Erne.

Dover High came to Lake Forest Monday afternoon and were dealt a one-sided 8-0 defeat by the rebounding Spartans.

It had to be a most pleasant experience for Spartan head coach, Bill Falesco, who was a scholastic and collegiate sports star in the Dover area.

Russell Dill spun a tidy three hitter, Dill was backed by a pair of double plays and a seven-hit attack. Bob Jacobs and Neal Smith had two bingles each. Bill Atkinson drove in two runs.

Trackmen Win Two, Lose One

For a time it appeared that Lake Forest's track team might be in for a winless season.

For one reason or another some key men were unavailable to Spartan coaches Craig Jantz, Ed Wheatley and Al Drummond.

Help was on the way, however. The Spartans were strengthened by the return of Steve Salsbury, Lee Dunbar, Brad Cooper, Dwayne Murray and by new candidates Greg Pritchett, Grant Salsbury, Roger Griffin and James Miner.

Powerful, undefeated Woodbridge beat the locals 94-47, but Lake Forest rebounded to defeat Laurel 83-58 and Indian River 78-62.

Ron Mosley handed Tim Abbott of Woodbridge his first losses in those events. Mosley's 4.44 mile clocking was his best ever. Low hurdler Lee Dunbar, two miler Joe Voshell and the Lake Forest mile relay team of freshman Delmar Freeman, Bob Kashner, Harry Benson and Kit Tilghman were other Spartan winners. Voshell won easily in 10:46, with Terry Pettyjohn second. Ron Dunlap's best scratch 440 yet of 53.8 just missed winning, as did Mat Burgess' 113 feet 4 inch discus throw, just 5 inches out of first.

Charlie Scott, Ron Mosley and Ron Dunlap were double winners, as Lake Forest outpointed Laurel's Bulldogs on the Chipman track.

Matt Burgess' 116 feet, 10 inch discus throw earned him his first victory since he started as a freshman in 1972.

Two miler Joe Voshell remained unbeaten this campaign with his best clocking of 10:41.6. Terry Pettyjohn was runnerup and freshman Paul McClellan cut his time from 12:13 to 11:51 to insure the 1-2-3 sweep. McClellan will be heard from in the running sports.

Harry Benson and Bob Kashner, two valuable pointmakers, followed Mosley in the mile and 880, respectively.

Lee Dunbar, Greg Pritchett, Dwayne Murray and Roger Griffin gave Lake Forest its first 1974, 440 relay win.

Grant Salsbury and Kevin Wooters cleared the winning height in the high jump with the former winning, via the fewer attempts rule.

Ron Dunlap scored first in the long jump and won the 440 with Kit Tilghman runnerup. The latter ran a great anchor leg in the mile relay, just missing at the wire.

At Dagsboro-Frankford, freshman Delmar Freeman had the 120 high hurdles won until he stepped in a hole. His second place finish assured him of enough points for his varsity letter.

Ron Mosley hasn't lost an 880 or a mile run all year. Joe Voshell is all-winning in the two-mile. Pritchett, Dunlap, R. Kash-ner and Murray took the 880 relay. With Scott replacing Kashner for the 440 relay, Indian River won by a whisker, but the local's 48.7 was the fastest clocking in some time.

Ron Dunlap annexed the 440 and long jump. Grant Salsbury was first in the triple jump, second in the high jump, third in the long jump. Steve Salsbury and Bob Mullane were 1-2 in the pole vault.

Lee Dunbar had another low hurdles victory, Terry Pettyjohn broke 11 minutes in the two mile for the first time with 10:58.5.

Improving Jerry Thompson has twirled the discus 1004, 104 and 106 feet 10 1/4 inches in his last three meets. The latter throw missed second place by less than a foot and was done from a grass throwing area, which handicaps all platter spinners.

If Lake Forest doesn't win again this campaign, they've done a good job with all the talent they have lost.

U.D. To Offer Courses In Sailing, Tennis And Golf

The University of Delaware Division of Continuing Education will offer courses in tennis, golf and sailing during May and June on the Newark campus.

The courses are part of the Lifetime Sports program designed to help more Delawareans find the way to healthful, lifelong recreation and physical fitness.

Two ten-week classes in beginning tennis will be held in May. The first class will meet from 9-11 a.m., Saturdays, beginning May 18, and a second class will meet from 6:30-8:30 p.m., Tuesdays, beginning May 21.

The tennis classes will emphasize the development of basic tennis skills and the rules of the game.

Participants must be at least 16 years old, and registration fee is $30.

Also beginning May 18 will be a 10-week course in golf. Designed for beginning and intermediate golfers who want to improve their skill and understanding of the game, the class will meet from 9-11 a.m., Saturdays. A section for men and a section for women will be offered. Registration fee is $30.

An introductory course in sailing will be held June 4-23 and will consist of 10 hours in the classroom and 10 hours on the water. The class will meet Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7-8:30 p.m. on the campus, with actual sailing on weekends.

Members of the U. or D. Sailing Club will instruct participants in helmsmanship, knotting, jibbing and tacking, upwind and spinnaker sailing and racing. Minimum age for participants in the course is 15 years, and registration fee is $45.

For more information, contact Mary Margaret Juers, program specialist in the university's continuing education office, telephone 738-2741.

Little League News

Tastee Freez has jumped to a big lead in the Harrington Little League Baseball season, having won their first two games.

However, the rest of the teams have plenty of time to catch up since there have been two contests played at the local diamond due to rain Monday night.

In the first game between Tastee Freez and Downing Engineering, Tastee Freez walked away with a 7-2 verdict Saturday afternoon.

Monday L & D and Moose were rained out.

Tuesday night saw Tastee Freez squeeze past Legion by a 3-2 score.
