

The Man

By Gloria Dill

John Wesley White is a close friend of Dr. Billy Graham and a member of the Graham Evangelistic Association. Born in Saskatchewan, Canada, Dr. White began conducting evangelistic campaigns at the age of 15. In 1948 he entered the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, where he "aspired to acquire a knowledge of the Scriptures and the work of evangelism as practiced by D. L. Moody and his successors." He received his degree from Moody and his B.A. from nearby Wheaton College. In 1952 Dr. White joined the Youth for Christ movement in Europe. After being overseas for a short time, he "became aware of the intellectual demands of the latter 20th century."

Feeling inadequate in his knowledge of the contemporary scene, the evangelist undertook graduate research in ecclesiastical history at three Old World universities. This work led to a Ph.D. degree from Oxford University in 1963.

On his first European evangelistic tour, White met Kathleen Calderwood in Belfast, Ireland. They were married in 1952 and now have four sons. The Whites live in Toronto, Ontario.

Dr. White became interested in the work of Billy Graham after hearing him speak in November, 1949. In June of 1961 White was asked to become an associate evangelist. He became a full-time staff evangelist in June, 1964.

Dr. White believes that the only solution to world problems is a "scripturally-based presentation of the Gospel of Jesus Christ." He is dedicated to presenting this Gospel in a contemporary light.

County Seeks Emblem For Bicentennial

Take pen in hand, Kent County. The Kent County Bicentennial Committee needs an official emblem and will award $100 to its designer. Any Kent County resident, young or old, professional artist or memo pad doodler, may compete for this honor. Advertising and information materials and all mementos of the nation's 200th birthday celebration in Kent County will display the winning emblem design.

The contest deadline has been extended to midnight Thursday, Oct. 31, 1974. For contest rules call the Dover Chamber of Commerce at 678-0892.

State School Enrollment Down For Third Straight Year

Public school enrollment in Delaware will fall for the third straight year as some 131,137 pupils are expected to begin school next week.

James Spartz, supervisor of research at the State Department of Public Instruction, said the September, 1974, enrollment is expected to drop 1.4 per cent from last year's enrollment of 132,940.

The statewide declines will be greatest in Grades 2, 3 and 4, reaching almost 9 per cent, and the overall enrollment may fall by five per cent in some local school districts.

The declines in enrollments here, which began to appear in 1971-72, are slightly ahead of the national trend.

The United States Office of Education projects a 1.1-per cent dip in enrollments nationwide this year, down by 500,000 to 44,900,000.

Classes for handicapped children are expected to increase by some 1,300 students, up to a statewide enrollment of about 7,900, or about 6 per cent of the total.

The increase is due in part to the General Assembly's lifting of restrictions on classes for students with learning disabilities or emotional maladjustments.

Studies prepared by the department last year projected a 9.5-per cent decline in enrollment between 1973 and 1978. The projected September, 1978, figure would be the lowest enrollment since 1967.

No new school buildings will open in September, according to Dr. Jack Nichols, supervisor of school plant planning at the department.

A new elementary school in the Appoquinimink District is expected to open early in 1975.

Hughes Likely PSC Member

It appears that Governor Sherman W. Tribbitt is in the process of naming Kent County Democrat Benjamin Hughes, Jr., of Harrington, as commissioner of the Public Service Commission to replace John Abbott, also of Harrington.

Abbott, a Harrington farmer, is a Democratic appointee of former Governor Russell W. Peterson. His term expires Sept. 1. Democratic State Chairman Ernest Killen confirmed he has told Abbott he will not be reappointed to the job which regulates public utilities in the state and pays $4,500 annually.

Abbott has been one of the most outspoken critics of DP&L management, and has been sitting in on the hearings for the proposed 20 per cent hike in electricity rates by the Delmarva Power and Light Company.

It is reported Hughes has agreed to accept the appointment if it is forthcoming.

Lake Forest Dist. School Openings Are Announced

Kindergarten pupils of the Lake Forest School District will begin classes on Monday, Sept. 9. All other pupils of the district will begin classes on Wednesday, Sept. 4.

School dismissal on Sept. 4 will be at 1 p. m. and lunch will be served following this date full day sessions will begin.

to provide facilities for Middletown Elementary School, which now meets in the Middletown High School building.

Major renovations or enlargements scheduled for completion in September include the addition of ten classrooms at Delmar High School and eight classrooms at Lake Forest Elementary, Frederica.

Schools in New Castle County open for pupils on September 4 or 5. All downstate districts except Delmar and Laurel start on Sept. 4.

Deputy Receiver Of Taxes Named

Laura Belle Wilson, Vernon Road, Harrington, assumed her duties as deputy Kent County receiver of taxes Monday.

She has been a life-long resident of the Harrington area. Mrs. Wilson's maiden name was Hopkins, and her mother, Lela Hopkins, has long been a devotee of the Delaware State Fair as well as superintendent of the children's department in the 4-H Building.

Mrs. Wilson is a graduate of Harrington High School and has been a Democratic committee-

Kent-Sussex Crusade Draws Thousands

by Margo Farrow

A local man's dream is being realized this week in the 10-day Kent-Sussex Crusade held nightly at the Delaware State Fairgrounds here.

H. John (Jack) Dill, of Raughley Hill Road, Harrington, has envisioned a crusade of this scope at the Fairgrounds for years. According to him, the idea originated with the late Fulton J. Downing, one-time mayor of Harrington. Mr. Dill said Downing called him one evening 12 years ago and suggested they try to contact Billy Graham and speak at the opening night of the fair. Some 66,000 such requests are made yearly to the Billy Graham Crusade and it was not possible for the idea to take root then.

The process for the present crusade began to shape two years ago through laymen from the Milford-Harrington area. Originally the crusade was to have been a Milford project, but the facilities at the Fairgrounds in Harrington proved to be the largest in the area to accommodate the anticipated crowds.

Usually the groundwork is done by the ministry, according to Dill, but laymen have had a large part in the organizational work for this crusade. The general chairman, for example, is a builder from Milford, Charles Bradley. The chairman for youth is David King, a teacher at Delaware Technical and Community College. Mr. Dill is serving as chairman for counseling. In all, there are 12 committees, ranging from financing and publicity to visitation and field work.

Generally, Kent and Sussex Counties were broken down into eight zones. For this particular crusade the fund raising goal was $32,000. This was raised primarily through individual contributions, not from churches. The goal wasn't quite reached, according to Dill, and offerings were taken on three nights to meet the goal. Two offerings are taken on the Sunday nights to go to the Billy Graham team. All the money raised locally is used locally, said Dill. Expenses for operating the local crusade office in the Avenue Methodist Church, the materials and publicity are some of the expenditures involved. According to Dill, "for every dollar raised locally, two dollars are spent by the association."

To say it has been "a lot of work" is a modest understatement by Mr. Dill. Hundreds of volunteers are still involved. Many have been working toward the project for two years. Even now around 50 people do nightly follow-up work after the evening program ends. Sometimes this work goes on until the morning hours.

This crusade is being led by John Wesley White, one of eight Billy Graham associates. The activities get underway nightly at 7:30 p. m., although some 400 choir members arrive at 6:15 p. m. for rehearsals.

Nearly 10,000 have attended to date, with five days left in the crusade. Tonight a Youth Night is scheduled, followed by a Music Night on Friday, Saturday, Aug. 24, another Youth Night is scheduled with a pre-service Youth Rally at 5 p. m. The closing activities are Sunday, Aug. 25.

The Team ...

by Gloria Dill

Assisting Dr. White are three other talented members of the Crusade team.

Crusade coordinator is Lewis F. Blanchard, of Staples, Minn. Born in Big Sandy, Tenn., in 1936, Blanchard received his B. A. from St. Paul Bible College in Minnesota. He served as minister of the Viola Lake Alliance Church, Webster, Minn., for four years, and Staples Alliance Church, Staples, Minn., for four years before joining the Graham team in 1968. Blanchard resides in Minnesota with his wife, two sons and two daughters.

Music Coordinator Thomas L. Bledsoe was born in Hot Springs, Ark., in 1939. He attended the University of Houston and received his B.A. from Baylor University in Waco, Texas. Bledsoe served as minister of music and youth in two southwestern churches before joining the Graham association in 1970. He is now soloist and music coordinator for Associate Crusades.

Bill Fasig, of Naperville, Ill., serves as pianist and organist for the Crusade. Born in Oak Park, Ill., in 1929, Fasig began studying the piano at the age of eight and later the organ at 13. While still a high school student he joined the radio staff of Moody Bible Institute's WMBI in Chicago. He majored in sacred music at Wheaton College and attended the Missionary Training Institute in New York. It was in this city that Fasig accepted an invitation to become organist and music director for Evangelist Jack Wyrzten's "Word of Life Hour," a radio and television ministry.

For 12 years Fasig served as program director for the Christian Audio-Visual Center in Buenos Aires, Argentina. He worked part time for Billy Graham from 1967 to 1970 and then became Spanish music editor of the Lillenas Publishing Company in Kansas City, Mo. Fasig began to work for Graham full time in 1971. He, his wife and four of their children live in Naperville, Ill.

Fertilizer Shortages Seen For Fall Grain Plantings

Farmers this year may well be faced with critically low supplies of all fertilizers. This includes phosphorus, potassium and nitrogen.

But there may be a way around the shortage for Delaware growers — at least as far as fall plantings go. Much of the state has had subnormal or critical amounts of moisture this summer, notes Dr. William H. Mitchell, extension agronomist at the University of Delaware. This means there has been poor utilization of present fertilizers on crops — especially corn. And it could mean that there's still enough fertilizer present in the soil for this fall's grain crops, without adding more.

Mitchell has this advice for Delaware growers — don't fertilize until you've had your soil tested. Then, wherever phosphorus or potassium readings are high or very high, skip any fertilizer application this fall. There's very little justification for it with such readings.

Come spring, reassess soil fertility on your small grains. Do this in late February or early March. At this time add 40 to 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre of grain. And decide whether to add phosphorus and potassium. These additions will also depend on whether your grain crop will be followed by no-till soybeans. If you're double cropping these, you'll need to apply a top-dressing of complete fertilizer.

Make sure you rely on soil test indications, emphasizes Mitchell, when you make these or any fertilizer decisions.

Two Receive Sussex Service Club Awards

Two Sussex County farmers were cited by Sussex County service clubs on Aug. 13 for outstanding contributions to agriculture in Southern Delaware. Joseph O. Penuel, Milford, and Ralph O'Day, Seaford, received the 19th annual Service Club Award in ceremonies at the University of Delaware Georgetown Substation.

Penuel has been president of the Delaware Farm Bureau since 1966. He has served on the State Farmland Evaluation Committee, Sussex County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, and is now chairman of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Agriculture.

O'Day is master of the Delaware State Grange and a member of the Delaware Council of Farm Cooperatives. He has served on the Sussex County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee and several committees of the Delaware Grange, Farm Bureau and Kiwanis Club.

Sussex County service clubs began honoring outstanding community leaders in Southern Delaware in 1956. Approximately 200 club members and their wives attend the annual picnic supper presentation on the evening preceding the University of Delaware's annual Farm and Home Field Day.

Armed Forces

Raymond D. Pettit of Route 3, Box 207, Harrington, enlisted in the U. S. Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program, according to SSgt. David L. Jackson, recruiter in the Blue Hall Mall, Dover.

Pettit is scheduled to attend the Air Force six-week basic training course on Oct. 17. He will then receive technical training upon graduation from basic in the administration field.

He is a 1974 graduate of Woodbridge High School, Bridgeville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Pettit of Harrington.

Messick's Trial Is Postponed

Mrs. Mildred Messick was scheduled to appear in the Court of Common Pleas on Wednesday, Aug. 14, concerning charges that she was operating an unlicensed nursing home at 110 Center St. in Harrington.

Mrs. Messick appeared. So did her witnesses, but the trial did not take place. It seems that her attorney, N. Maxson Terry, Jr., has been in Canada and did not have time to prepare the case. He asked his father, lawyer N. Maxson Terry, Sr., to ask for a postponement, which was granted Thursday before the trial. An office "slip" prevented anyone notifying Mrs. Messick of the postponement.

Her attorney feels the postponement is to Mrs. Messick's benefit. He added that he was in the process of negotiating an out-of-court settlement with the attorney general's office and the Department of Health and Social Services.

A trial, if held, will not be scheduled until September, according to a court officer.

One of the many electric poles being erected for Delmarva Power by C. W. Wright, general contractors, to feed the new substation for Harrington located below Harrington on Farmington road. The new line is coming from the Cheswold Substation and will be along the railroad right-of-way line. The line is not connected with the railroad. It will carry 138,000 volts and will be a major tie for all of Delmarva's plants from Wilmington to Millsboro to Vienna, Md.

Mispiration Kennel Club Holds Show At State Fairgrounds

On Friday, Aug. 16, the Mispiration Kennel Club held their 10th annual Dog Show. Conducted under the standards and procedures of the American Kennel Club, the show attracted some 891 breeds of dogs. The judging was in six groups which included sporting, hounds, terriers, toy breeds, working and non-sporting. The winners of each class then met for the final judging and champion. The winner was a wire-haired fox terrier, Champion Sunny Brook Spot On, owned by Mrs. Robert D. Clark of Middleburg, Va., and handled by Mr. Pete J. Green.

The dogs traveling the most distance were from Green Bay, Wis. There were also many local residents in the affair.

Mrs. Jack (Louise) Kunkle of Milford won best of breed with a Cairn terrier, Champion Brown Clans Cameron. Frank and Mamie DeLong of Reese Avenue, Harrington, took winner's bitch with their Boston terrier, Perfection Duchess.

Arabian Horse Show Held at Fairgrounds

A real touch of class came to the Fairgrounds at Harrington for the Region 15 championship classes of the Delaware All Arabian Horse Show recently. It was a spectacular display of costumes, horsemanship and some of the most magnificent show of horseflesh to grace the grounds in years. Region 15 includes Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, D. C., Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Yet entries came from Rhode Island, New York and Madison, N. C., home of the Sitting Rock Farm, which a year ago purchased a 20-year-old stallion from the Lancer Farm in Michigan for $90,000. At that sale 45 horses brought a record $706,000 with the average purchase being $14,400.

Many of these professionals are beginning to import the all-Egyptian strain to this country. The Lancer Farm a year ago purchased 16 horses from Egypt. In a couple of weeks they will return to Cairo to purchase more.

Mr. Douglas Griffith of Upperco, Md., owns 30 some Arabian horses. He too is beginning to import the Egyptian strain. The so-called breed is referred to as the "straight Egyptian" or the "straight Arabian." This denotes their pure breed and can be traced back to the herds on the desert. These horses are sold by the Egyptian government at a starting price of $10,000.

Imperial Mandour, translated means beautiful blooming flower, is also owned by Doug and Barbara Griffith. This horse is a yearling colt, and is handled by Dan Lynch of the Griffith Imperial Arabian Farm at Upperco, Md.

Not much is really known about the origin of the Arabian horse. It was conjectured that the Arabs imported the first horse. According to Moslem legend, Mohammed rode Al Borak from earth to the seventh heaven. From that horse stemmed all Arabian horses.

The Arabian is the sire of all racing horses as well. The Arabs developed this strain of horse—one that is short and stocky and capable of great durability. In order to survive the intense desert heat the mares and their foals would be brought inside the tent in the daytime. The mares unable to survive soon perished. What remained was a true breed of animal which is very durable. The Arabs used the horse mainly for war. They would ride camels on the battlefield, leading the mares to be used only for fighting.

HARRY G. FARROW, JR., Publisher
THE TRIANGLE OR . . . THE COMING OF REESE AVENUE

What seems like several months ago now, although I have owned the paper for approximately three months, I published a column which urged a three-party triangle to get together, air their positions and beliefs, balance the equities, and settle their differences before a deep-seated polarization developed. The Reese Avenue matter is one that demands strict attention to a top-priority category. . . . Without a doubt, it is a matter that gets worse with each passing day, and one that wishing alone will not eliminate.

Reese Avenue looks like a straight line, but in reality it is a triangle composed of the city (Mayor and Council), the residents of Reese Avenue, and Jack Burris. Each part of this triangle has at one time or another felt like the stepchild . . . unwanted and without privileges or immunities. Anyone would choose to avoid that position just as much as the devil avoids holy water.

Burris bought the land, was granted a building permit, and constructed his building in such a position that Reese Avenue would act "as a route to his front door." This was smart judgment on his part . . . or he presumed as anyone would that inasmuch as there is a street in front of a property, one could use that street for transportation.

Reese Avenue was not in good shape prior to Burris. The east end portion was not paved at all. So . . . it has needed paving for quite some time. To be sure, the Burris traffic has added more injury, and the Burris trucks have suffered damages from traveling over this street. However, the damages to the Burris trucks are not commensurate with the irreparable damages to Reese Avenue.

The residents have a right to be concerned. Theirs is a vested right . . . a property right, as is Burris' for that matter. Many of these residents have their life savings tied up in their properties. Many have felt that with an improved street much of the noise, dust, etc., would be greatly abated.

The City, Mayor and Council seem to stand alone in this matter. If there were errors in judgment or inability of the Planning and Zoning Commission to convince Mayor and Council, there should not be a total condemnation of these bodies. Burris brings revenue by way of taxes to the city. It was good judgment to strive to find more ways for the city to raise revenue. The city, small as it is, needs more money to carry out desperately needed projects in the community. Drainage is a big problem now as evidenced by the effects of the recent rains. Many other streets in the city need improving, and the need is current.

As Mayor and Council look for ways to raise revenue, it is important that all citizens should be concerned enough to act in a rational manner.

The first thing is to repair Reese Avenue to support heavy traffic, for it must be repaired whether Burris uses it or not. This is the first thing, and I believe Mayor and Council are doing all that they can in that direction. I caution you about being too hasty. I believe the project should be studied out so as to insure the durability and longevity of the street against major traffic.

When you attend the next Council meeting, come with the positive idea that the matter can be resolved by everyone retaining mental composure and further resolve to work with others to negotiate a happy medium.

Poems from Paradise Pastures

By W. Cliff Miller

(From Modern Maturity, Feb., 1968)

SEQUEL TO A LADY MY AGE

A poem entitled "A Lady My Age," I did read
And decided its advice I would heed.
Why pine away on a shelf?
Why not step out and enjoy myself?

"A Lady My Age"—well, what do you know,
I decided to put on a one-man show,
So I passed up my rocker, knitting and book
And strolled through stores to take a good look.

"A Lady My Age"—well, what do you think,
I looked—then bought a coat of pale pink.
Too short of breath to attend a real dance,
But on the boardwalk parade I may, a bit, prance.

In a pale pink coat, imagine eighty-year-old me,
Strolling along by the deep blue sea;
Trying to appear young, you may think,
But, oh, how I love my coat of pale pink.

This story is true, I assure you, my dear,
And I'm not "off my rocker" as it may appear;
Just trying to boost my morale a bit,
And my coat of pale pink is a beautiful fit.

Charles L. Terry, Jr., of Dover, became the Democratic nominee for governor of Delaware at an emotion-charged convention in Dover Wednesday and retired as chief justice of the Supreme Court.

If one is thinking of making an European tour, one should take ample funds, according to Mr. and Mrs. John Harrington, who recently returned from abroad. Writing from Venice to Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Harrington, whom they visited recently, they say: "Prices are very high throughout Europe. Expenses cost us about $50 per day."

Community leaders from both Delaware and Maryland sides of Delmarva are urging the Pennsylvania Railroad to readjust its passenger train schedules instead of attempting to stop the service.

Miss Gene Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Graham and her fiancé, L. Lester Hobbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leand Hobbs, were among those who took a bus trip to Atlantic City, Saturday, August 15.

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the barn of Harry Larimore Saturday at Brownsville. Hay was destroyed but a pig and a calf were rescued.

Del Tech Expands Evening Program

A variety of new special evening courses is being offered for area residents this fall at Delaware Technical and Community College Southern Campus, near Georgetown. Along with other credit courses and perennially popular community interest courses, these new offerings will provide the broadest base of evening programs ever presented.

A course in Yoga is expected to release all those tensions. Dancing together will be re-introduced to the young of all ages in a Ballroom Dancing course. An expert on refinishing and upholstering furniture will instruct in a program that many people have been asking about. For the ladies, Dress Pattern Designing and another course in Needlepoint are expected to be of great interest. There will also be a class exploring human interactions and self-examination in why we act the way we do. Motorcycle owners can take advantage of a maintenance course that will include tune-ups and overhauls. For the increasing number of new Americans in this area there will be a specially-structured English course for foreign students.

Those in the food service business will be interested in a Quantity Foods course. Chair caning is one of the shorter courses offered as well as four short courses in home repair and maintenance. More information about these new courses and others may be obtained from the Office of Continuing Education, Delaware Technical and Community College, Georgetown, or call 856-7711.

Trustee's Sale Of Valuable REAL ESTATE Pursuant to an Order of the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware, in and for Kent County, in proceedings to partition the real property of Charles W. Cassell and Betty D. Cassell, I will expose to sale by way of public auction at 10 A.M. on WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 28, 1974 at the Court House in Kent County, Delaware the following described parcel of land:

ALL that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situated in Kent County, Delaware, in and for Kent County, Delaware, being on the West side of County Road #166 between Kenton and Shaw's Corner, being bounded on the East by said road on the South and West by other land of Robert Collison at six and on the North by the center of a stream which separates this tract from lands of Miller and being more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

BEING that a point in the center of County Road #166 and in the center of a bridge in said road and being 120 feet more or less to a corner for this lot and for other lands of Collison in the center of a stream, being running with the center of said road in a westerly direction 325 feet more or less to the place of beginning and containing 2 acres of land, be the same more or less.

AND BEING a part of the same lands and premises which were conveyed unto Robert H. Collison and Margaret Anne Collison, his wife, by deed of Samuel L. Nickerson and Sandra-Lynn Nickerson, his wife, by deed bearing date the 5th day of April, A.D. 1971, and of record in the Office of the Recorder of Deeds and the Recorder of Deeds and State of Delaware in Deed Record Book X, Volume 26 at Page 393.

TERMS OF SALE Twenty per cent (20%) of the purchase price shall be paid in cash by the Purchaser at the time of the sale. The balance to be paid in cash on or before the 2nd day of September, 1974. The percentage paid on day of sale will be treated as part of purchase price if other terms of sale are complied with; otherwise the balance will be treated as liquidated damages. The Delaware Realty Transfer Taxes are to be divided equally between Purchaser and seller.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS NOTICE in compliance with Delaware law is hereby given that the share or interest of Charles William Cassell and Betty D. Cassell in the hereinabove described parcel will be sold as above set forth, and all persons having or claiming any lien or encumbrance against or affecting the share or interest of said Charles William Cassell and Betty D. Cassell, are hereby notified to appear in the Court of Chancery in and for Kent County, Delaware, on the 5th day of September, 1974, the return day of the sale, and make proof of such claim and the amount due thereon.

Veterans Administration

Questions & Answers EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q - As a ready reservist, am I eligible for Servicemen's Group Life Insurance (SGLI) issued by the Veterans Administration under a recent law?

A - Yes. Under the Veterans Administration Act of 1974 (May 1974), servicemen on active duty and ready reservists are insured automatically under SGLI for $20,000. However, they may elect $5,000, $10,000, $15,000 coverage, or no coverage at all.

Q - My wife and I are buying a home with a GI loan from the Veterans Administration. Can we pay the loan off in advance?

A - Yes. You may partially or fully pay off your mortgage ahead of schedule without penalty - provided payments are for not less than one monthly payment or $100, whichever is less.

Q - I'm a 66-year-old World War II veteran with an honorable discharge. Am I eligible for pension from the Veterans Administration?

A - That depends, since VA pensions are based on need. If you're single and your income does not exceed $2,600 a year, are $3,800 a year if you have dependents, you could be eligible. Suggest you check with your local VA office or veterans service organization representative.

Q - How long do veterans separated from military service between April 2, 1970, and Aug. 1, 1975, have under the Veterans Insurance Act of 1974 to apply for the new Veterans Group Life Insurance?

A - They have until Aug. 1, 1975, to apply, but they must provide evidence of good health, except for VA-rated service-connected disabilities.

Sign seen along the Harrington to Milford road these days describes the Bell Telephone's new work center which can be seen under construction in background. It will have some 65 maintenance workers. There will be two buildings on a three-acre plot. Building cost upwards of $400,000 and is due to be completed in March of 1975.

Norman Toadvine displays one of his recent productions. The black bear was killed by Parvin Biddle of Dover on a hunting trip to Maine.

TOWN AND COUNTRY TOPICS

If you have been thinking of reseeding a new lawn, this is the time to do it. The best time for seeding a lawn is between August 15 and September 15. At this time, days are getting shorter and the nights cooler—excellent conditions for the establishment of bluegrass and fescues. Since new seedlings should reach a height of two inches before freezing weather, any delay in seeding after September 15 will reduce the chances of success. Late fall seedlings are sometimes necessary; use a mulch to hasten germination and protect the young seedlings. Make seedlings as soon after April 1 as the soil can be properly prepared if spring seeding is absolutely necessary.

Delaware Food Market Report

We recommend several blends of grass depending on your specific growing conditions. These are (1) sunny lawn with isolated shade trees—high quality, 70 per cent Merion Kentucky bluegrass, 25 per cent Pennlawn red fescues. Produces an attractive lawn but Merion may not persist well under stress of certain diseases, drought and low fertility. Seeding rate: 3 pounds per 1,000 square feet.

(2) Sunny lawn with isolated shade trees—high quality, 40 per cent Kentucky blue grass-Merion 35 per cent bluegrass (Kenblue, Windson, Newport, Park, Fylking Cougar Command—use 2 or more) 25 per cent Pennlawn red fescues. Blend of bluegrass varieties help this mixture withstand a variety of stresses. Seeding rate: 3 pounds per 1,000 square feet.

(3) Sunny lawn with isolated shade trees—high quality, 40 per cent Kentucky bluegrass (use 2 or more varieties shown in Mixture No. 2) 75 per cent Pennlawn red fescue. Seeding rate: 4 pounds per 1,000 square feet.

(4) Sandy soil of Southern Delaware. 50 per cent Kentucky bluegrass (use 2 or more of varieties shown in Mixture No. 2) 45 per cent Pennlawn or Chewings red fescue—5 per cent Red-top Chewings fescue is preferred under moderate shade. Seeding rate: 3 1/2 pounds per 1,000 square feet.

Lime and fertilizer should be applied before starting seedbed preparation. Soil tests can be made for a dollar by bringing soil samples to the County Extension Office. With these tests results proper amounts of lime and fertilizer can be added. If your soil has not been analyzed apply at least 80 lb. of ground limestone and 20-30 lbs. of 10-10-10 fertilizer per square foot. Work lime and fertilizer into the soil to a depth of 4-6 feet. This will encourage good root development. After sowing seed, mulch may be added to the surface of the new seeding. Mulching helps young seedlings. It helps prevent erosion and will hasten germination by keeping the soil moist. Straw, applied evenly at the rate of about one bale for each 1,000 square feet of area is one of the best. Complete coverage of the soil should be avoided; coverage should be thin enough to expose a large per cent of the seedbed.

Light watering with a fine misty spray each day that it does not rain will keep the soil surface moist. Watering should continue until the grass is established. Don't mow until the grass is almost 3 inches tall. Lawns planted in September need mowing before the following spring, but they should be cut if some of the grass gets too tall.

If more information is desired for a new seeding on an established lawn, write or call for booklet "The Art of Lawn Care" P. O. Box 340, Dover, Delaware, 19901, or phone 736-1448.

Agriculture Tops All Industries In Petroleum Use

"Agriculture uses more petroleum than any other single industry in the nation," Joseph A. LaSala, administrator for Region III, Federal Energy Administration, said recently. The energy needs of all phases of the industry account for approximately 13 per cent of the total energy use.

"FEA recognizes agriculture's vital role and has placed farmers in the highest priority category, entitling them to 100 per cent of their current requirements," he said.

Last year, the nation's food supply came from 354 million acres of cropland. Each of these acres, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, required an average of 22 gallons of fuel. This year's agricultural fuel demands are even greater because farmers will require an additional 220 million gallons of fuel in order to put 10 million more acres in production.

LaSala said the increased demand for agricultural production and the reduced supply of energy could mean an additional strain on the agricultural industry. "To assist the farmer," he said, "FEA has published a new pamphlet—Handling Fuel Problems—Agriculture—which contains conservation check lists and guidelines for solving farm fuel problems."

4-H News

The Greenwood Hi-Flyers 4-H Club members and their leaders, families and friends attended the Baltimore Orioles-Kansas City Royals baseball game at Baltimore Saturday evening. It was a surprise night and each one in attendance received a tumbler. Some came home a little disappointed that the Orioles lost 3-2 in the 10th inning, but all agreed it was a good game.

Four-H'ers and their families attending were: Mrs. Ann Tucker; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Vincent; Beverly and Renee; Mrs. Lee Reed, Johnnie and Ronnie; Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Pratt, Sr., Dalton, Jr., Kay, Ginger and Mike; Mrs. Norman Cannon, Jeffrey, Nora and Kenneth; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Prettyman, Paula and Patty; Mrs. Leon Rus, Sr., Leon, Jr., Dale and Meleia; Mr. and Mrs. Luther Messick and Dawn Hall; Bobby, Carol and Tim Cox, and Connie Eskridge.

Others attending with the club were: Kim Baker, Mark DeCarlo, Doug Griffith, Mike Tull and Terry Willey, all of Greenwood; Larry Jones and Robbie Smith, of Bridgeville; Kim Vincent and Wayne Mills, of Harrington.

IT SEAMS TO ME

Janet Reed
Extension Clothing & Textiles Specialist
University of Delaware

Fall fashions and new fabrics are showing up in the stores. The new fashion season is always an exciting time with ideas everywhere.

If you're sewing the family wardrobe this year try to find time to look first at ready-to-wear. You'll get a good idea of style trends, colors and fabrics. You don't need to be bound by them but you're apt to get ideas you can adapt for your own purpose.

Stitch in the direction of the pile, forcing as much of the pile as possible away from the seam as you sew. When the seam is finished, use a needle or fine comb to gently pull out any pile which may have been wedged into the seam when it was sewn. This makes an invisible seam.

Be cautious about pressing fabric may not need it. Different fiber content in these fabrics respond differently to steam and heat. Always test a sample of the fabric before touching the iron to it.

Are you making coats for the children or for yourself. Take a look at some of the exciting man-made furs. I don't know why we call them furs because many of them don't even make a pretense of looking like furs. They come in bright colors and different textures.

Every year the choice is greater. This year you have a wide choice. If you don't want a coat of this fabric, consider it for a lining or for accessories. It's ideal for lining capes, which are more popular than ever this year.

Check the care directions before you make your final choice. These fabrics differ greatly in the care required.

Pile fabrics are easy to sew. If you're using them for the first time here are some sewing suggestions.

Keep the style simple. The fewer details the fewer problems. Eliminate seams where possible. For example, the center back of a straight coat can be cut on the fold instead of seamed. Front facings can be cut in one piece with the front of the coat in the same style. If facings seem too bulky, consider using braid to finish the edges. Choose styles which do not require buttonholes.

When cutting out the coat, lay the pattern pieces so that the pile goes down in a lengthwise direction on all pieces. Pin the bottom to the wrong side of the fabric. Cut a single layer of fabric at a time for greater accuracy.

If the pattern calls for darts, try to ease in the fabric instead. This will be difficult for a large dart and you may prefer to trim away some of the fabric within the dart after it is finished.

Use a long machine stitch—about 8 to 10 inches per inch and a strong thread. Tensions should be slightly loose.

Senior Center Activities

By Sam Short

The open house for seniors was very well enjoyed by those attending Friday evening with a covered dish luncheon and entertainment provided by two gospel singers from Greenwood. On Sept. 4 at 2 p. m. the public relations is asking the general public to share in a program to be presented at the Center and the public is invited. A head count will be taken and all we ask of you is to call in for reservations. It is important to the community, so try to be there.

A lot of chatter has been heard from some of the senior citizens since last weekend when several spent the weekend at a cottage in Rehoboth Beach. Who says oldsters can't have any fun? Viola Hill, Gladys Hill and Cleota Willey from Harrington, Hazel Latch from Viola, and Bette Martin from Milford can tell you how. After being on the beach several hours they enjoyed a yummy dinner at the Avenue Restaurant, then spent some of the evening walking the boards. Back at the cottage they enjoyed a game of cards which lasted far into the morning hours. Ask a certain party about the three of spades. After retiring there was more hashing over the day's events before falling asleep. Not naming names, but the two very fattest girls had their breakfast in bed, consisting of juice, coffee and sweet buns. Who could ask for more!

Sunday was spent in and out of the gift shops, visiting friends and eating, then coming home tired but happy and looking forward to a repeat performance in mid-September.

Johnsongrass Control Meetings Slated For Aug. 22 At 3 Sites

Field meetings on Johnsongrass control are scheduled at three sites in lower Delaware today, Aug. 22. The clinic-type meetings will be conducted by extension associate crops specialist for Kent and Sussex Counties, Frank Webb, and are designed to give interested growers a chance to see recommended Johnsongrass control procedures in operation.

For the convenience of growers, three different locations have been chosen:

8:30 a. m.—Intersection of Rts. 13 and 10 at the Camden light. Soybean field to be visited is titled by Harold Carlisle.

10:45 a. m.—University of Delaware farm in Seaford. Take Stern Highway to foot of railroad bridge and turn right on Pine Street. Continue north about a half mile. Farm is on right hand side of road.

2:00 p. m. — Meldon Wilkins farm, a half mile east of Georgetown on Rt. 18, on right side of road. In addition to observing controls in soybean field, visitors here will be able to see the university's Johnsongrass research plot, which is located on the farm.

The program will be essentially the same at each site. Besides discussing procedures in operation, Webb will answer grower questions about control problems on their own farms. Rain date for the meetings will be Friday, Aug. 23. The meetings are sponsored by the Delaware Cooperative Extension Service.

According to "Ye Maryland Chronicle" written for the Baltimore Sun in 1933, the Maryland Crab was the main reason for Captain John Smith's visit to the Chesapeake Bay in 1607.

Local Golfers Compete In Shawnee Club Championship

Forty-nine golfers competed last weekend at Shawnee Country Club for the men's championship play. Norman Hopkins, formerly of Harrington, was entered in the championship flight. Not up to his usual golfing form due to a cut on one hand, he finished play 80-75 for 155. A Milford school teacher, Ben Wethington, was the championship with a sizzling 70 on the first day and 74 on Sunday for a 144 shot total. Larry Jones, a student at Milford High School—the 15-year-old local sensation—was two shots back at 146.

On Sunday Jones hit his ball one of bound on the 14th hole for a two-stroke penalty. He was never able to make it up. He missed a five-foot putt on the 17th for a birdie and put his drive on 18 in the bunker to the left side of the fairway. Birdies on the last two holes would have tied for regular tournament play.

Ken Walls of Farmington, was entered in the second flight, scoring 84-85 for 170. Two others from Harrington, Bill Wells (175) and Norris Jarrell (175), were entered in the third and fourth flights, respectively. Jarrell was runner-up in his flight.

Three players scored eagles during tournament play—Jerry Medd and Cookie Lucas at No. 2 on Saturday each with a one putt. On Sunday Nick DelCampo eagled the first hole, a par four hole, with his approach shot to the green. The ball hit the pin and dropped into the hole.

On Thursday and Friday, Shawnee will host the club championship for women members. On Sunday, Aug. 25, the club will be host to the Women's Peninsula Golf Association, W.P.G.A. There are 120 golfers entered.

Don Bryant 1st In Long Jump At Up-State Meet

Don Bryant, the best long jumper in Lake Forest High history, now competes for the Delaware Sports Club. Bryant leaped 21 feet, 1 1/2 inches to win the long jump, in the 18-and-over age group, at last Wednesday night's Olympic Development meet held at Wilmington's Baynard Stadium.

Four other locals entered the 14-17 age group two-mile run, as a conditioner for the upcoming cross-country season. Only one of them, Joe Vosshell, is actually a two-miler. Harry Benson finished with the leaders in 10:35, an excellent performance for a miler with two scholastic seasons to go.

Ron Mosley, a half-miler and miler, who will be competing for Delaware State College, ran 10:40.

Vosshell clocked 10:55, but has done 10:26 during the high school season when he was in top shape. Joe is 16.

David Richter was 14 recently. The Lake Forest freshman-to-be resumed training a couple of days before the meet. His first two mile clocking ever (11:22) came on a hot, muggy night that made for slower clockings all around. Richter is rated capable of a sub-eleven clocking for two miles, based on his fine, 5:03 time for one mile.

Symptoms Given For Heart Attack

How would you react in this emergency? One Sunday evening while watching television, you suddenly feel a prolonged squeezing pain in the center of the chest. You begin to sweat and feel nauseous. The pain persists for some time and then goes away.

Heart attack is the first thought that comes to your mind. Would the pain go away if it were a heart attack? Perhaps you have picked up some variety of 24-hour flu. Could it be food poisoning? If you could just get to bed, you know you would feel better.

Then suddenly the pain comes back and seems to spread toward the shoulder. Should you call the doctor? It is Sunday night. Perhaps you should wait till the morning.

Clearly a decision must be made, and there is only one right decision. The Delaware Heart Association urges you to call your doctor immediately if you experience any of the warning symptoms of heart attack.

If you cannot reach your doctor, or if you do not have a regular physician, get to a hospital emergency room at once. Half of all heart attack deaths occur before the victim gets to the hospital. Delay may cost you your life.

The usual warning signs of heart attack are:

- Prolonged, heavy pressure or squeezing pain in the center of the chest, behind the breastbone.
- Pain may spread to the shoulder, arm, neck or jaw.
- Pain or discomfort is often accompanied by sweating, nausea, vomiting or shortness of breath may also occur.
- The symptoms may subside and then return.

The decision to call for help is too important to leave to the patient alone. It is also the responsibility of patient's family, friends and associates. If a friend or relative experiences symptoms of heart attack in your presence, take it upon yourself to act immediately. Call his doctor or take him to a hospital emergency room at once.

Cross-Country Harriers Prep Giant Multi-State Opener

This writer often hears the statement "One of these days I am going to watch a cross-country meet and see what it's all about."

Harrington High pioneered the harrier sport in 1957, at a time when Newark and William Penn (New Castle) were the southernmost schools with teams.

The first invitational was held in 1958. Other firsts were established here, including the first lower Delaware individual champion, when Harry Knotts ran away from 116 rivals and the first team champion downstate in 1963.

After another state title at H. H. S. in 1966 and a third crown at Lake Forest in 1969, after the new school had been open only two months, Lake Forest received an honor still without parallel in Delaware. The state championship meet was held on the Spartans' home course.

This honor will be repeated in 1974, in November, when four races will be contested here with the state title at stake. This will be an interesting, colorful affair with many hotly-contested teams and individual battles taking place at Killen Pond State Park.

But any interested individuals need not wait until November. The Spartans are an ambitious lot and are setting up the most challenging test, in their harrier history. It may be the most ambitious undertaking, in any sport ever, hereabouts, at the scholastic level.

On September 23, at 4 p. m. the 17th annual Lake Forest Invitational will see the Spartans host teams from four or five states. With a month to go, fifteen teams from Delaware, Maryland, and Pennsylvania are in the fold. Three New Jersey schools are hoping to compete. These are Salem, Pennsville and Woodstown.

Onancock and Northampton, both of Virginia, could complete a five-state field.

In addition to Lake Forest, Oxford, Pa., James M. Bennett of Salisbury, Md., and Steven Decater High of Ocean City, Berlin, Md., are entered.

From the Wilmington area, P. S. du Pont, A. I. du Pont, St. Elizabeth and Archmere Academy will run.

Middletown, Dover, Dover Air, Caesar Rodney and Cape Henlopen are other Delaware schools at present who will vie for the three team trophies and the 20 individual trophies and medals up for grabs.

Coach Jim Blades will hold his first practice at 7 p. m. Monday, August 26th at Killen Pond State Park.

Lake Forest, which added a fourth state championship in 1973, would like to make a good showing September 23rd and have the talent to do just that, if everyone shows up who should.

The Delaware Safety Council says that none of us consider ourselves careless drivers. Yet some 55,000 people die in traffic each year. If you like to think of yourself as a better-than-average driver, make sure your driving habits back up your brag.

Is Your Home Protected From The Energy Robber?

By John C. Sawhill
Federal Energy Administrator

Chances are that your home is being robbed of the energy you pay for. The thief is faulty insulation. The loss to you is cooling in the summer, heating in the winter, and higher utility bills all year round. Now is a good time to catch the energy robber in his lair. What can you do to catch him?

- Caulk and weatherstrip door and windows. It won't cost you much and will keep in your furnace's heat and your air conditioner's cool. One Sunday's work at this chore could save you 10 per cent or more of your fuel costs.
- Install storm windows and doors for fuel savings up to 15 per cent in winter and air conditioning savings in summer. For year-round use you might look into buying combination screen and storm windows. These may cost about $30 for windows and $75 for doors. Ask your bank or utility company if they finance improved home insulation. That may make paying a bit easier. Or try a little creative economy by taping plastic sheets tightly to your window frames. You'll get as much insulation as from a storm. And the cost? How does $10 sound for the whole house?
- Insulate your attic. The summer sun that beats down on your roof can heat your attic up to 40 degrees hotter than the temperature of the outside air. Six inches of mineral wool, glass fiber, or cellulose insulation will keep that heat out of your living area and up in the attic where no one suffers from it. Attic insulation will also keep you warmer this winter and save you up to 20 per cent on fuel costs. Chances are you'll recover the cost of the attic insulation the first year you install it!

Why all this concern over your home's insulation? Well, there's the obvious savings to you, but there's also the need for energy savings if this nation is going to achieve the energy self-reliance called for in Project Independence.

Government can make policy in Washington to promote increased energy production, but greater production is only one side of the double-edged sword we need to carve out Project Independence.

The other side is a reduction of energy demand by the American people. Americans today use more than one-third the world's energy, but we waste an estimated 30 per cent of what we use—some of it escaping through poorly insulated doors, windows and attics.

Sure, there are more obvious wastes of energy than what may be lost through the insulation on your home. But multiply your own loss by the millions of homes throughout the nation and you'll see that what we are wasting is a large quantity of energy which a few simple steps on everyone's part could have.

So, catch an energy robber! Improve the insulation on your home. You'll not only be saving money, but helping insulate America from another energy crisis.

Allotment Acreage May Be Eligible For Low-Yield Payments

With many Kent county farms hit by drought, farmers having wheat or freed grain allotments may be eligible for disaster payments, according to Russell C. Bowdle, Chairman, Kent ASCS County Committee.

In connection with the U. S. Department of Agriculture's disaster payment program, it is important that a producer report the disaster conditions as early as possible to the county ASCS office, Bowdle said.

A previous requirement for mid-summer sign-up and certification has been revised, enabling producers with wheat, corn, barley, and grain sorghum allotments to certify not later than 15 days after completing harvest in order to be eligible for payment for abnormally low yield. However, Bowdle advised, the producer's best course is to report to the county ASCS office as soon as he realizes his yield may be below normal.

Before low yield payments can be made, the county ASCS committee is required to have a field inspection made and to obtain records which verify actual production. "When a producer visits the county ASCS office to report that natural disaster is affecting production of his allotment crops, we will discuss all the details with him, including inspection and the production evidence he will need," Bowdle said. "It's one of the reasons an early visit is advisable."
