

Postal Service Says No More Free Rides

Beginning Sunday, Nov. 17, the U.S. Postal Service will discontinue delivery of unstamped mail. Edward A. Biegel, manager-postmaster of the Wilmington Postal Sectional Center Office, reminds Delaware residents, "Mail without stamps will be returned to the sender, or directed to the dead letter office, if there isn't a return address," Biegel said.

on Sept. 30. It's designed to eliminate the growing trend of sending payments in envelopes for utility, bank and other bills without stamps.

Formerly, any unstamped mail placed in a postal collection box would be delivered to the addressee with "postage due." Only if refused would that mail have been returned to the sender, if indicated by a return address. Under the new policy, ac-ording to Postmaster Biegel, "No stamps on the envelope or package means no delivery!" The reason for the policy change at this time stems from the tremendous cost which the Postal Service is incurring in handling unstamped mail. "What happens if you make an honest mistake and put too little postage on your letter? It will be delivered 'postage due.'"

School Incident Unresolved

A preliminary inquiry is now under way by the Attorney General's Office in Dover concerning an incident reported on the 17th of October between William H. Abbott, an Ag. Mechanics teacher in the Lake Forest High School and a student, Kim Cooper, a 17 year old 10th grader at that school.

The exact details of the incident are not of public record. At this time no formal charges have been brought by either principal regarding the incident. The School Board's action regarding the matter was to withhold any decision until final action by the Attorney General's Office or by court ruling.

You're On Moving Radar

Thanks to the new portable radar unit recently acquired by the Harrington police force, one can be detected "coming or going."

According to the police department, the new unit has been in operation since October 18 and was purchased for $1811.50 through a federal highway safety program.

The equipment can be moved from car to car and can detect the speed of an oncoming car while stationary or approaching the vehicle.

Chief Ed Layton stressed the new equipment was purchased with community safety in mind, not as a revenue making source.

Safety's Sake For Halloween

Delaware drivers are asked to wage an all-out conservation effort this Halloween to save from harm all the little spooks, ghosts, witches and goblins who will be on the road after dark.

You can be a spook-saver if you're driving your car on Oct. 31, says the Insurance Information Institute.

Nearly all of the state's 72,000 elementary school children will become trick-or-treaters for a few hours, romping through neighborhoods and criss-crossing the roadway with little on their minds but the next treat.

While Halloween can be a fun night for children, it is potentially the most dangerous for them as they wander the darkened streets in awkward, difficult-to-see costumes and vision-impairing masks.

The following safety tips are offered to motorists and to parents of spooks and goblins:

To motorists:
-- Drive slowly and warily. Watch for children darting out between parked cars. Tap your horn occasionally on dimly-lighted residential streets. Be extremely cautious when backing out of driveways.

-- In suburban areas, country roads normally clear of pedestrians after dark are especially hazardous with trick-or-treaters walking on the roadway. Keep your speed down as you pass inhabited areas.

To parents:
-- Escort your little ones. Be sure each group has a flashlight or a battery-operated jack-o-lantern.

-- Bright clothing or costumes and the new, highly-effective reflecting tape applied to waring apparel makes it easier to see children after dark. Widen eye holes in masks and pin up oversized clothing.

Remember, Halloween is a fun time for children. In all the excitement, they're not likely to be thinking of safety. You -- the motorist -- have to do their thinking for them.

An extra bit of caution will save a spook for next year.

H.H.S. To Hold Dance

The H.H.S. Alumni Association has set Dec. 7th, as the date of a benefit dance.

According to Donald Derrickson, a spokesman for the A.A., the annual spring event has brought about many requests by its members to bring their friends and relatives to the affair. Because of the size of the association, it has had to be limited to members only. The winter dance is being held as to allow the public to attend the social event with members and friends who could not enjoy the spring affair. Tickets will be sold on a first come basis.

The money raised will be used to offset the rising cost of communication with the members and of materials in hopes of keeping annual dues at $1.00 as has been the practice since the establishment of the organization.

The dance will be held at W.T. Chipman School Fieldhouse from 9:00 to 1:00. It will feature the Generation Gap, who has been so well received the past two years at the spring dance. Set-ups will be available. BYOB!

A Voter Service

Kent County Elections Department

by H.G. Farrow

This is an election year, and to many it means watching on TV or reading about various politicians vie for that important post. The final act is entering the polling places, going through the various checks, and then entering the "booth to cast the ballot". This is a sacred privilege, and one of the few each of us possesses free from undue influence and pressure.

The Kent County Department of Elections is located in Dover. The office and complete facilities were moved recently from behind the Court House to new offices on U.S. 13 across from McDonalds Restaurant. The goal of this department is to make the privilege of registering and voting easier and more convenient. Before the 1974 election there are an estimated 32,734 registered voters, but this number is expected to increase to some 36,000 by Election Day.

One of the key factors to this registration drive was use of mobile registration units. These were school buses that went to remote areas. The people of Sandtown area must travel the long distance to Harrington in order to register so that they can vote later.

The mobile registration was begun in July and continued through the middle of September. The Department of Elections Office in Dover is open year round and citizens may register there. This is beginning to pay off from the standpoint that in 1972 over 80 percent of the eligible voters voted in the general election.

There are six Board members (three Democrats and three Republicans) equally divided among the three Senatorial Districts, an Administrative Director, a Deputy Administrative Director, an Administrative Assistant and a Clerk. The Administrative Director is chosen from the party the serving Governor represents. Under Governor Tribbitt, the Administrative Director is Jonathan Hopkins of Harrington. The Deputy Administrative Director is Nathaniel Taylor who was the Director during Governor Peterson's administration. It was obvious from the initial meeting with these fine public servants that politics does not interfere with their jobs at hand. It is a very cohesive group determined to complete the difficult job of administering to and overseeing the election itself.

Since the Department is legislative founded, it is naturally dependent upon the governing laws. All acts and decisions are based upon well defined law governing this Department. There are training sessions held whereby the employees at the polling places are instructed on how to deal with problems on election day. There are 36 polling places around the County, with 252 election workers assigned to these polling places. The breakdown of the 252 election workers are as follows: (1) Inspector; (2) Judges; and (4) Clerks.

Another function of the Department is to see to it that voters unable to attend the polling places in person are supplied with an absentee ballot. These are sent out to the requester in the form of an "Affidavit for Absentee Ballot", whereby the requester indicates one of the following: (1) in public service of U.S. or State; (2) in the Armed Forces; (3) Business or Occupation; or (4) sick or physically disabled. The absentee ballot must be received at noon by the Department of Elections the day previous to the election day. The ballot is not opened by the Department, but is forwarded to the polling place where it is tabulated by the workers.

It is all in a day's work for these public servants so that the citizen may exercise his privilege to vote. If voters realized just how much goes into the "making of an election", there would probably be more people voting and exercising their privilege made easier by those at the Department of Elections.

Motel Under New Management

The Holiday Motel, one mile north of Greenwood, is now under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mueller. Formerly from Pasadena, Md., the Muellers had owned and run a restaurant there.

They have stated the snack bar will soon be open and that customers of the snack bar and motel are welcomed back.

Former owners of the Holiday Motel are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Robinson of Shaw Avenue, Harrington Manor. The Robinsons had owned and operated the business for 18 years before moving to Harrington.

One Killed, Two Injured

Sixteen year old Barbara L. Keyser, a Milford High School junior, was killed Saturday afternoon in a headon collision on U.S. 113 near Little Heaven.

According to State police, Miss Keyser was driving south on U.S. 113 about 1:30 a.m. Saturday. With her was Lue Ann Howell, 14, of 317 S. Walnut St., Milford. Police stated Miss Keyser's car and one driven by Gary L. Dernberger, 24, of 111 Lovers Lane, Milford, a state prison guard, collided headon.

Dernberger was not badly hurt. Miss Howell was listed in serious condition in Delaware Division, with multiple injuries.

Miss Keyser was a junior at Milford High School. She is survived by her mother, home; a half-brother, Michael Biggs at home; a half-sister, Laura Annette, her step-father, Robert W. Annette; a sister, Lauria Keyser at Sharon Biggs, also at home; her paternal grandmother, Pearl Keyser of Chestertown, Md. and her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ament Foulkner of Harrington.

Services were Tuesday afternoon at the Rogers Funeral Home in Milford. Interment was in Odd Fellows Cemetery in Milford.

143 Register Bikes

Following the example of other communities in a growing attempt to curb theft and because of the increased interest in bicycling, Harrington launched its first bicycle registration day Saturday.

Beginning at 10 a.m., police chief Ed Layton and Corp. Royce Purcell stamped identification numbers and affixed corresponding license plates to over 100 bikes.

The registration fee is fifty cents, which includes everything described, and helps guarantee a more adequate system of tracing bicycles that are stolen. Prior to the new identification number, owners had to rely on knowing their bicycle's serial number. With the new process the City will keep a permanent record of the identification numbers.

Chief Layton says that enforcement of the registration will begin December 1. At that time any bicycle or adult tricycle not registered will be impounded and a $5 impounding fee will be charged.

Registration will again be held this Saturday, from 10 to 1 near City Hall on Fleming Street.

Delaware Adv Section In November 'Fortune'

In order to help dispel Delaware's anti-industry image, Governor Sherman W. Tribbitt proposed that Delaware tell its story in Fortune, one of the world's foremost business magazines. The final published version appears in the November 1974 issue of Fortune. The Delaware advertisement section begins on page 109.

"I am pleased that Delaware's business and industrial community has seen fit to support the effort of the State Department of Community Affairs and Economic Development to publish this section, advertising our willingness to bring new and clean industry into The First State," Governor Tribbitt said.

"Delaware's handsome 11-page section far outshines those published in Fortune in the past on behalf of many larger states," he added. The Delaware advertisement in Fortune was supported by the leading businesses, firms, and industries throughout our state, the Governor noted.

"Our hope is that the Fortune section will explain to firms and industries around the world that Delaware offers a quality of life that is not found elsewhere on the East Coast of the United States," Governor Tribbitt stated.

"Additionally, we hope these firms will then contact either my office or the office of John Daniello, Secretary of the Department of Community Affairs and Economic Development, so that we can further explain the virtues of Delaware as a location for future business ventures," the Governor added.

Rose Williams, left, clerk, Edna Gruwell, administrative assistant, Nathaniel Taylor, rear left, assistant director, and Jonathan Hopkins, director of the Kent County Department of Elections facilitate the voting process by making sure all is in order for the upcoming elections.

“Hello, this is your phone company...”

Dial it yourself. Calling long distance? Dialing station-to-station without operator assistance is the least expensive way to make your call. Dial a wrong number? Don't just hang up and call again. Dial "Operator" and report what happened. The Operator will make sure you're not billed for the call.

We pay for our mistakes. If you're ever billed for a long distance call you didn't make, call us. A Service Representative will arrange to have the charge removed.

There's a right time for everything. You can save even more on your directly dialed, station-to-station Long Distance calls by making them in time periods when rates are lowest. Did you know that calls made on weekends, until 5 p.m. on Sunday, have the lowest rates? And that during the week lower rates apply in the evenings and late at night? The information pages of your phone book list all the specific ways you can save. It's worth the time to look them up.

Going...going...gone! If a coin phone swallows your money without giving you your call, you're entitled to a refund. On a phone that works, dial "Operator" and explain what happened. We'll return your money by mail. Naturally, if you also tell the Operator the phone number and location of the phone that took your money, we'll fix it as soon as possible.

A commonsense approach to telephone savings. Use your telephone book to find the numbers you need, and you'll help us continue to keep costs down for everybody. You'll also find more time and money-saving tips listed in the information pages, which are in the front of your book. The more you know, the more your phone will be worth to you. Questions? Or a problem? Our Business Office will be glad to help. So, please don't hesitate to return our call.”

"...HUD, the concept is a good one, but it makes it too easy."

Last week the City Council of Harrington met with Leon Weiner and Associates to make final preparations for the City to supply water and sewer to the HUD project on the north end of Townsend Master's farm just northwest of the city.

I have been associated with similar projects during my real estate career, and frankly speaking (I am sure to the disliking of many) I am diametrically opposed to this type of construction. I don't want this to sound like a condemnation of the City, for their role is merely to supply water and sewer facilities to the project. I am not condemning Mr. Weiner, for I know Mr. Weiner, having been associated with him in an attempt to get together a similar project in Dover.

My basic observation is that the people who will use this type of project do not appreciate on a whole this type of government subsistence. The program is designed to furnish housing to people who are otherwise unable to afford housing at conventional bank rates and terms. It is a combination rent and ownership subsidy. In some cases the "recipients" are having the money loaned to them for as little as 1 percent annually. The basic overall concept is very good in that it makes available homes for those unfortunate who would not be able to afford them otherwise.

The tragic breakdown in this type of project is in the management of it once it is completed. If this can be accomplished then it would be a good thing, and indirectly would benefit the community. This would be my fervent hope and prayer, for it is no easy matter managing one of these complexes.

Recent statistics indicate that "Uncle Sam" owns some 78,000 units under HUD that are now vacant...and unlivable.

This is why I am opposed to this type of project. It is too easy come, and I am afraid that on the whole, these projects will never be totally successful. This type of government spending cannot but be a contributor to the public's No. 1 enemy...INFLATION."

THAT'S MY CHOICE! WHAT'S YOURS?

From The Frying Pan...

In 1845 Congress established the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November to be Election Day. Many states hold local elections on that day and so it is in Delaware.

The "first Tuesday" is rapidly approaching, the political hopefuls are building campaigns to peaks, and polls are churning out predictions, all to reach that elusive and too frequent apathetic quarry...the American voter.

It is difficult to believe Americans will sit on their hands next Tuesday, especially after the political controversy that has raged in this country during the past several years, yet it is safe to assume that many will not exercise their "Constitutional right and privilege."

The beliefs that all politicians are corrupt and that the individual vote is worthless are both ridiculous and fortunately untrue. However, our politicians are direct reflections of the voter, or all too frequently, the non-voter. Whatever the excuse for failing to take the time to vote, when the poor excuse turns out to be the elected official, everyone suffers.

Because of the various media at the public disposal as well as the accessibility to the political hopefuls, one has the opportunity to observe, and more importantly, to evaluate records of and platforms of those seeking election or reelection.

Take the time before Tuesday to think about that all important vote, and when the time comes, exercise the judgment, responsibility and privilege that becomes the vital one vote each of us has.

Poems From Paradise Pastures

by Cliff Miller

I wanted to write a prologue to introduce this poem, explaining how much Mildred Messick has helped many families, and perhaps even wave a flag or two in her behalf since there has been so much adverse publicity aimed at her. But the following thought by Jane Sailer, a former patient of the Messick Nursing Home speaks for itself.

MY WISH

I sit here in my sunny room and wish I could repay
A portion of the happiness
That Mildred brings my way;
And if I had one wish this year,
This only would it be:
To be the kind of friend to her
That she has been to me.

Yes, Mildred Messick runs her home
With lots of "T.L.C."
I'd love to give her back the joy
That she has given me;
I'd like to say the kindly things
That I so oft have heard;
I wish that I could rouse her soul
The way that mine she stirred.

She's full of love and tenderness
Each minute of the day,
And as she goes about her work
It's strewn along the way;
And gradually, as time goes by,
I find I wouldn't part
With any bit of this because
She's grown into my heart.

By the way, I understand Jane is coming back soon to be with her friend.

American Indians Preparing For Bicentennial Celebration

The Navajo Nation of Arizona is making a major effort to improve communications and the exchange of information among the almost 800,000 American Indians in the United States.

In Denver, there are plans to build a complex for Indian people and families from reservations who seek to make a life in that city's urban community.

The Smithsonian Institution is preparing a 20-volume set summarizing the pre-history history and changing cultures of all Indian groups north of Mexico, which will become the standard reference on North American Indian history and anthropology.

From ambitious, multi-million dollar projects of the Navajo Nation to the display of Indian arts and crafts by the Candelaria Indian Council in Oxnard, California, the descendants of the original American settlers are taking full part in the nation's Bicentennial.

The American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA) has to date officially designated seven Indian communities as Bicentennial Communities, entitling them to use the national Bicentennial symbol in their projects and programs.

In addition to the Navajo Nation of Arizona, the Bicentennial Communities are: The St. Francis Sioux Indian Mission in South Dakota, the Seminole Nation of Oklahoma, the Li-Si-Wen Community and the Potawatomi Indians of Oklahoma, the Winnebago Tribe of Nebraska, and the Chitimacha Reservation in Louisiana.

The Navajo Nation of Arizona has one of the most significant Bicentennial programs of any of the over 1,500 communities in the country which have been officially recognized.

In addition to the effort to improve communications among Indians, a Navajo Irrigation Project will provide water for cultivating 110,000 acres of otherwise arid land. Other projects include a $2.5 million Navajo Heritage Center, a trade center where arts and crafts of all tribes can be shown and sold, a Navajo Land Outdoor Theater, and an amphitheater in Canyon de Chelly National Monument on the reservation.

The St. Francis Sioux Mission in South Dakota will commemorate the history of the mission by honoring Christian Sioux leaders, as well as the founding Jesuits and Franciscan Sisters. Projects include a published history, a pageant, a pow wow and an Indian feast.

The Seminole Nation of Oklahoma is planning a museum and library to house priceless objects of their cultural heritage of their ancestors, written materials and recordings of the language, legends and folk tales of Seminole history.

The 110th annual Winnebago Pow Wow will highlight the deeds of Little Priest, a 19th century patriot. Other Bicentennial efforts by the 2,800 members of the Winnebago Tribe include a conservation and ecology program to preserve and improve timberland areas of the reservations and expansion of a library into a full-fledged learning center.

Other examples illustrate the widespread efforts by and for native Americans as part of the nation's Bicentennial. Thief River Falls, Minnesota, will unveil a statue of a major Indian landowner in conjunction with a Pow Wow staged by the Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians.

Tuolumne County, California, will reconstruct an assembly house of the California Miwok Indians. A 44-foot steel sculpture of a Plains Indian will mark the historic camp ground of the Wichita Tribe in Wichita, Kansas. The surrounding area will be made into a park with bike trails.

The Phoenix Symphony will perform for Indian audiences throughout the state during 1975, featuring music with Indian themes.

In North Dakota, a Plains Indian studies curriculum is being developed for use in all primary and secondary schools.

In New York City, there will be an exhibit reviewing the American Indian from 1876 to 1976.

Across the land, Americans will discover more than 2,000 years of cultural heritage and traditions as they commemorate 200 years of independence during the Bicentennial.

Europeans will also have an opportunity to learn of the cultural heritage of the American Indian. The ARBA recently designated as an official Bicentennial project, "Two Thousand Years of American Indian Art," a major exhibit comprised of 600 to 700 art objects to be presented in cooperation with the Arts Council of Great Britain in September and October 1976 at the Hayward Gallery in London.

Radar Your Protective Shield

Ed. note: The following editorial has been released by the Harrington Police Department in conjunction to their announcement of recently having purchased a mobile radar unit for the City. It is their hope the device will save not embarrass the citizens of the community.

Radar is a precision instrument for measuring the instantaneous speed of moving vehicles on a street or highway. Radar, in its general aspects, consists of sending out radio frequency energy from a transmitter to a desired target; of returning a portion of the energy impinging on the target in the direction of the transmitter; of sensing, by a receiver located at the point of return, the position and movement of the target. The above process is analogous to the ordinary echo noted when sound is transmitted over a long path and reflected from a surface back to the original source. Microwaves behave similar to light. They can be directed so as to locate specified targets.

We believe the present death rate on our highways justifies every possible method of combatting it. Accordingly, the use of Radar will be continued in force as an adjunct to the regular patrol method. Radar may be used in many ways other than from an automobile parked at the roadside and will be so used. Now, the violator may no longer feel secure from arrest so long as he does not see the device. Radar is strictly for those who violate our conspicuously posted and reasonable speed limits. No one who stays within them need have any fear whatsoever of it. All devices are carefully checked before and after each use.

As long as you observe these limits and keep your eyes on the road ahead rather than divert them to the roadside, you will not be cited for speeding, and your chances of avoiding a traffic crash will improve far more than you realize.

Law observance not only prevents citations but is the mark of a good citizen. It is a strong factor in determining whether you will live, die or kill.

Dairymen: Please mark every detail. your calendars for January 22, 1974, as Delaware Dairy Day. Arrangements are being made to hold the activity in Dover. Previously we have had a series of dairy seminars. However, this year we thought we would have one big Dairy Day and not have a seminar. The program will include the following topics: Using Sense to Make Dollars in Dairy Cattle Feeding, Presentation by Cal DeGolyer, Dairyman from Castile, New York, who is milking 275 cows with a 17,000 pound herd average, Using Facts to Breed Cows for Tomorrow, A Look Ahead at Dairy Cattle Housing. Details of the time and place will be announced.

Winter weed control in alfalfa is important to the longevity of alfalfa stands. Because of our recent mild winters chickweed has been particularly troublesome because the chickweed growth is so rank that it makes the first cuttings of alfalfa very difficult. Chickweed has already started to germinate and the use of the proper chemical at the correct rate and at the correct time will be very effective for weed control and minimal crop injury. The following chemical can be used for chickweed control in alfalfa: Chlorpropham (Chloro-IPC furloe), Dinoseb (premerg, Sinox and others), Simazine (princep), Diuron (Karemax) and Pronamide (Kerb). In using these chemicals we cannot stress enough that you follow the label instructions in

The Beef Industry Council of the National Livestock and Meat Board said that consumers can expect to see more "baby beef" and "grass fed beef" on supermarket shelves and should learn what these terms mean. Baby beef comes from 7-10 month old animals having just been weaned and therefore grows on a diet of milk and grass to a weight of 400-600 lbs. prior to marketing. Generally the meat, based on revised Department of Agriculture calf standard will grade Good, with some choice.

"Grass fed beef" on the other hand are grass fed for 12-24 months reaching a weight of 600-900 lbs. They are marketed directly off of grass and usually grade Good and below. With grass fed animals, the total absence of grain in the ration reduces the fat covering and marbling. The reduction in marbling may have an effect on flavor and juiciness, but should not significantly effect the tenderness.

The color of the fat present may be a cream to light yellow color due to the presence of a high level of carotene resulting from a longer period on grass with little or no grain. Baby beef is currently being marketed in the southeast and west coast. However, no significant quantity of this type of product is appearing in retail meat cases at this time. The live price for baby beef is 10-15 cents per pound below that of grain fed cattle. The grass fed price is 5-6 cents less said the Beef Council.

4-H'er Of The Month

Peach Blossom 4-H'er of the month is Donald Hopkins, son of Mrs. Lois Hopkins and the late James L. Hopkins. Donald is 16 and a junior at Lake Forest High School. He has been a 4-H Club member for six years and is presently president of the Peach Blossom Club of Farmington. His favorite project is swine in which he won an all expense paid trip to National Club Congress in Chicago last winter.

Donald Hopkins

Donald was recently honored to represent Kent County club members on October 11 by taking part in State Day. State Day is held in Dover and involves a tour of state government facilities and a visit with the governor. This year's group was happy to have the Governor and Mrs. Tribbitt lunch with them. The tour included visiting the Hall of Records, the Townsend Building, Old State House, State Police Academy, Legislatue Hall and then Mrs. Tribbitt invited them to tour Woodburn which the group called the highlight of the day.

"Why can't the electric companies pay for their increased costs out of their own pockets?"

Electric companies have absorbed many rising costs of making and distributing electricity by finding ways to operate more efficiently.

But there's no way we can absorb all of these costs.

Fuel adjustment clauses help cover higher fuel costs but are not enough to offset the other skyrocketing costs of providing electricity.

Fuel is only one of the factors. Others are higher interest costs, higher building costs, higher labor costs—all unavoidable if we are to supply this country with all the electricity it needs.

Unlike many other businesses, every "price rise" for our service can only come with the approval of government regulatory authorities. We are not allowed to decide our own prices independently.

With virtually every cost of providing electricity going up, rates must go up, too.

We need your understanding of these economic facts of life we cannot change.

REV. JAMES HILL

In light of a rapidly declining economy, an upwardly spiraling unemployment, and a general trend toward national pessimism, keen observers of segmented America agree a small light of optimism is gradually evolving to a point of newly acquired brilliance; Namely, the perilous situation before us shall only be succumbed as we look beyond self and unite as a nation.

I would that we in Kent County declare November 5th a day of Prayer, and all institutions of worship open their doors one hour before the polls, and remain open until the polls close. It is my prayer that we all take time to pray before we go to the polls and solicit divine-guidance in our selection of those persons who shall govern our Nation and County.

Democrat

Bar-B-Que Nov. 2

The lower 35th Representative District Democrat Club has completed plans for a Chicken Bar-B-Q, at Wheeler's park, on Saturday, November 2nd. This free event with Bailey Minner, Chairman, will be from 2-5 p.m. Local and County Candidates will be in attendance.

Mrs. Edgar English was a Friday luncheon guest of Mrs. John Roast of Seaford at the Village Inn in Little Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar English were Saturday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Lemmon of Milford at a surprise birthday dinner given for Mrs. Lemmon's mother, Mrs. Edna Sapp of Houston.

The youth from the Greenwood Wesleyan Church visited the Country Rest Home on Saturday afternoon and sang (as always) to a most appreciative group. From there, they went to Harbeson, Delaware, and visited the unique doll tree house of Mrs. Alden Hopkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gootie Brown of Greenwood. The children enjoyed the beautiful collection of dolls and toys and then were served surprise refreshments by Mrs. Hopkins in Halloween style.

News of our Senior Citizens: The members of Cheer Center wish to extend sympathy to the family of Mr. Albin Ottey who passed away this week.

We were sorry to learn that Mr. Walter Mills and Mr. Robinson are in Nanticoke Memorial Hospital, Seaford, receiving treatment. They have been greatly missed at the Center this week.

Mr. John Turner, another of our members, was able to leave the hospital and will be staying with his daughter, at Georgetown, for awhile.

The activity at the Center this week was making trays to be used as pin or snack trays or to use as pictures to hang on the wall.

Mr. John McCullough and Mr. Dan Wiseman and wife were luncheon guests one day this week. We hope they will decide to become active members.

The Center has prepared 173 lunches this week.

Several bus loads of citizens went to Washington to visit the new Mormon Temple which has been opened for inspection this year, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week. Our Secretary, Mrs. Charlotte Welch, who has been in the hospital the past three weeks returned home Tuesday. The new meal system started Thursday, Oct. 24. Anyone 65 or over may get one by signing two days ahead of time or calling the center, 398-3908. Jim Konecki came through this week with a top score of 263 pins for a two game average, and Andy Anderson, right behind with 262 with Albert Stevens, 242 pins. Lucy Irvin was back Tuesday, Oct. 22, from the hospital very much improved.

Several members have already signed up to go to the Halloween Party at St. Joseph's, Smyrna, Oct. 31. A state nurse comes to the center every other Thursday. Her next trip will be Nov. 7th, if you would like to know how your blood pressure is and are a member of the center come in around 11 a.m. It's free. For the 22 days of Oct. we served over 500 lunches to members and visitors. Several members of the center were honored with certificates and a pin Monday afternoon, Oct. 28, for the volunteer hours they have given the center this year by the R.S.V.P., Dover. Members don't forget the practicing of the kitchen band each Monday morning. Let's make this band the best in the State.

Miss Debbie Walton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Walton of Magnolia, was recently awarded the blue ribbon in the Reserve Hunter Pony Class during the ninth annual Delaware 4-H Horse Show. The event was held at the farm of Dr. W. L. Mroz, near Dover.

Understanding Current Economic Terms

Today people are reading and using economic jargon not usually heard around the bridge table, at the store or on television. To use these new words correctly we need to have an understanding of their meaning.

The most used economic term today is "inflation." To inflate means to blow up or to enlarge. Of course, we think of inflation as an increase in the volume of money, relative to the volume of goods available. Webster goes on to say that this increased volume of money -- without an equal increase in the things that consumers want to purchase with their money -- results in a substantial and continuing rise in the general price level. This causes the real value of money to go down. Or, as it is commonly expressed, "the dollar buys less."

Another economic term in popular use is "the Consumer Price Index" or the Cost of Living Index. Consumers buy a wide variety of goods and services, so it is necessary to reduce all their expenditures to a value in dollars that reflects the kind and quantity of things an average family buys. This cost of total family expenditures is compared with the cost of similar expenditures during a previous base period.

The year 1967 is the current base period for these comparisons. The cost of items consumers buy in 1974 is divided by the cost of the same items in 1967. This gives us what is known as an "Index." The Cost of Living Index in August was 150 -- which means the cost of providing for a family was 50 percent greater than during 1967.

The Wholesale Price Index, often used in the business world, is the same as the Consumer Price Index except that wholesale prices are used.

A few weeks ago newspaper headlines read, "GNP Down Again In August." GNP stands for Gross National Produce, which is a measure of the total quantity of goods and services being produced. The GNP is considered a barometer of the economic health of the nation.

"God knows, I'd like to help, but..."

But what?

Do you really think God will let you get away with that? If you can't do things alone, join with others at your local church or synagogue. Example: in Atlanta, one religious group helps move families and elderly people who can't afford a moving service. The God we worship expects us to help one another.

Start treating your brothers and sisters like brothers and sisters.

The Possum Point Players will present "Wonderful Town" Nov. 14, 15 and 16 at the Sussex Central Senior High School. Tickets may be purchased at the following locations: Barbara Gayle Hallmark, Georgetown; Lord and Lady Sussex, Millsboro; Trader's, Lewes, Queen of Hearts Kitchen Bazaar, Wilmington; and Carlton's, Seaford. Cost of tickets is $3.50 for adults and $1.75 for children. A special price is offered for groups.

What's Your Sign?

Does your birth date determine what kind of driver you are? That depends on what you think of astrology. Anyway, the Automobile Association, a British Drivers' Club, had the London Astrology Centre work up charts especially geared to road habits. Here's what the stars said:

Aquarius is the sign of the driver who likes the wind in his hair.

Pisces drivers appear to be dreamy, but in reality they are power maniacs hiding behind a meek exterior.

Aries suggests overfondness for speed and dangerous showing off on the road.

Taurus car owners take extra good care of their vehicles, polishing and touching them up, but with little real love for driving them.

Gemini drivers are just the opposite. They enjoy the going and are a bit disappointed when they arrive someplace and the trip is over. Cancer is the sign of the "family motorist," who needs the back seat full of children to feel at home.

Leos look to their cars as status symbols and tend to buy more horsepower than they really need.

Virgo drivers see themselves as extremely careful, always watching the gauges and quick to blame any other driver on the road for any mistake.

Libras are the nonaggressive sort it is a joy to have in other cars-an insurance company's dream.

Scorpio suggests quicksilver, changing moods, cool and logical one moment, rash and emotional the next.

Sagita Sagittarius behind the wheel is the original "wroom-wroom," slap-dash and flashy.

Capricorns never break the rules.

Tips For The Consumer

THINKING ABOUT A NURSING HOME?

At some point in your life, you may find yourself looking for a nursing home for an older member of your family. Finding a good nursing home will take time and effort, but if you know what to look for, you can improve your chances of finding a good one.

Even if you don't need to find one now, don't wait for a sudden emergency or serious illness to force you into a fast decision. The Better Business Bureau advises that you plan ahead, so that you will be better able to choose a good home should it become necessary.

CONSIDER ALTERNATIVES

First of all, consider whether a nursing home is needed. There can be some alternatives. Supportive services for the aged at home may be available through community programs in your area, including mobile meals programs and transportation services. Counseling and emergency services from psychologists and social workers may be available. Or you might consider a trained nurse to treat the patient at home, or a homemaker to help with cooking, laundry and cleaning. Care at home could turn out to be less expensive than care at a nursing home, and better for the patient.

If the individual involved requires more intensive care or if home care is not feasible, then you should investigate all the nursing homes in your area.

MEDICAID AND MEDICARE

If financial aid is necessary, find out if the homes you look at participate in Medicaid and Medicare programs. Medicaid pays bills for some low-income people, while Medicare will pay for most people over age 65. If a person qualifies, these programs can help out with the nursing care described below:

- Intermediate care facility: some nursing supervision in addition to personal care.
- Skilled care: nursing services available day and night.
- Extended care: provides the above, plus medical supervision, as an extension of previous hospital care.

MAKE A VISIT

When you look at a home, be sure to talk to the administrator and to the staff. It's also a good idea to make an unannounced visit, preferably at mealtime. The BBB suggests you keep in mind the following questions, not to guarantee that you'll find a really good nursing home, but to help pinpoint the poor ones.

- Do both the homes and the administrator have current state licenses?
- Will the patient be provided with a special diet or therapy if needed? (If the answer to the first two questions is no, then keep looking.)
- What are the daily charges? What are the extras? (Some homes charge extra for wheelchairs, special mattresses, bed pans and even tissues.)
- Does the home employ a full-time staff physician?
- Are there physical facilities and staff for rehabilitation or physical therapy? Are they being used?
- Do patients share rooms on the basis of their preferences and compatibility?
- Does the administrator show a genuine interest in the patient, including his or her needs and finances?
- Do the patients look happy and alert, or drugged and docile?
- Are there odors or other signs of unsanitary conditions?
- How does the staff treat the patients? Do they appear interested, or apathetic or overworked?
- Does each bed have curtains for privacy and a nurse call bell?
- Do hallways, stairs and bathrooms have grab rails? Are these areas well-lighted and unobstructed?
- Does the home meet necessary fire codes and hold periodic fire drills? Are exits marked clearly and not locked on the inside? Are fire doors kept closed? Is there an automatic sprinkler system?
- How is the food? (You should sample it yourself). Does the meal match the printed menu? Is food served at normal meal hours?
- Are there planned activities for the patients?
- What civil rights do the patients have?
- Try to find out how patients and their relatives feel about the home.
- Does the home's advertising and promotional material represent true conditions?

For more information about homes in your area, as well as qualifications for Medicare and Medicaid, check with local welfare and Social Security offices, county medical societies, and the Better Business Bureau.

WATCH OUT FOR GET-RICH-QUICK SCHEMES

P. T. Barnum once said there was a sucker born every minute. So it would seem if one takes seriously the recent rash of get-rich-quick schemes promising spectacular returns.

Losses experienced by trusting investors who fell for claims of quick and high returns on their investments have run into the millions, says the Better Business Bureau, quoting from a recent report of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

"Unfortunately," the SEC reported, "these investments are often stimulated by tips and rumors spread by friends, relatives and neighbors."

One such recent get-rich-quick investment scheme in the Washington, D.C., area, is said to have even trapped an unsuspecting U. S. Senator and a Congressman. In fact, bankers, lawyers, doctors and other people who should know better became ensnared. This scheme lured investors to put money into a non-existent wine-importing business. They were promised high rates of return on their investment and, then using new investors' money, the promoters paid off earlier investors who wanted to cash in their promissory notes. A promissory note is a promise to pay a certain amount by a fixed date.

Such a scheme can exist only as long as the promoters can find new investors, or until the authorities catch up with them.

Eventually, the bubble bursts.

SEC OFFERS TIPS

The SEC, which regulates the country's securities business, offers these tips on what to watch for when you hear about an investment opportunity:

1. Promises of spectacular returns or profits far above those normally expected.
2. Sales approaches from strangers.
3. Rumors you hear from friends, neighbors and acquaintances about unusual investment opportunities.
4. Telephone calls from strangers, particularly in other cities, trying to persuade you to invest.
5. The use of post office box numbers in connection with communications.
6. The failure to receive full-written information about the people involved, the terms of the offering, the financial condition of the enterprise and its prior business record.
7. The promise of an instant solution to all your financial problems.
8. Pressure to make a quick investment decision.
9. Claims of a new or exotic product or enterprise.
10. Claims that you have been selected to get in on the ground floor.

For over 50 years, the Better Business Bureaus have advised: "Before You Invest - Investigate!" And this advice is just as important today as it was yesterday, even more so.

Get the facts before you act. Get them in writing. Consult those who are knowledgeable in the investment business. Check the Better Business Bureau, your state securities authority, or the nearest regional office of the Securities and Exchange Commission. And, if you do run across a questionable investment scheme, send the information to the SEC Enforcement Division, Washington, D.C. 20549.

Remember, even people who should know better can get taken in by a "too good to be true" investment opportunity. Don't be one of them.

THINK ENERGY WHEN YOU BUY

The next time you buy a sparkling new refrigerator or other major electrical appliance, look beyond the price tag to determine the real costs of your purchase.

Consider the amount of energy that the appliance will be using once you get it home, advises the Better Business Bureau. That energy usage will be an important continuing cost of owning the appliance.

There are ways of reducing an appliance's drain on the nation's energy resources - and thus on your wallet - both in making the initial purchase and in using the appliance in your home. Often you must make a choice between added convenience and added energy usage.

For example, a regular 12-cubic-foot refrigerator uses an average of 728 kilowatt hours of electricity per year. (A kilowatt hour is the equivalent of using a 1,000-watt appliance for one hour or a 100-watt appliance for ten hours.)

Many homeowners now insist on the added convenience of a frost-free model. However, that added feature not only raises the original price tag a few dollars, but it boosts the annual energy consumption of a 12-cubic-foot model to an average of 1,217 kilowatt hours. That means a 67 percent greater expense of operating the refrigerator in the home, or about $20 more in yearly electric bills at present typical rates of three to four cents per kilowatt hour.

WATER HEATER BIGGEST USER

The same thing holds true for electric water heaters, which, according to a report, compiled by the Maryland Energy Policy Office, are by far the largest users of electricity among home appliances. A typical model uses 4,219 kilowatt hours a year. This figure jumps to 4,811 kilowatt hours for a quick-recovery unit.

Second on the list of big energy users are frostless refrigerators and freezers. Then come room air conditioners, although these vary widely by size and - in different parts of the country - by the number of hours they are used over a year's time.

Electric ranges and ovens are next on the list.

as insurance commissioner BOB SHORT has

★ SAVED DELAWAREANS $10 MILLION

Bob Short has held the line on your insurance costs - no rate increases on general insurance this year and no auto insurance rate increases since 1971. Delaware's rates are 30% lower than those of nearby states! * Bob Short has lowered the cost of fire insurance for Delawareans. * He established a rate ceiling on credit insurance, lowering the premiums most institutions were charging the public. * He has disapproved countless insurance company proposals for higher premiums.

* His rejection of rates for farms and farm vehicles saves Delaware farmers about $70,000 a year. * He has consolidated purchasing of all insurance and bonds for the state, obtaining much lower rates through competitive bidding. * He conceived a group life insurance package for state employees which saves them about half the cost of conventional insurance. * He established a highly-successful self-insurance program for the State of Delaware which has saved Delaware taxpayers millions of dollars alone!

★ GIVEN YOU GREATER PROTECTION

Bob Short has doubled the size of the Consumer Services section, to answer your questions and handle your complaints. * He has initiated an arbitration procedure which lets you appeal an unsatisfactory settlement by an auto insurance company. * He has had legislation passed that prohibits your auto insurer from cancelling your policy except for non-payment of premium or habitually hazardous driving. * He requires insurance agents, brokers, adjusters and appraisers to be tested and periodically re-evaluated, to assure that your agent is competent and knowledgeable about insurance and insurance law. * He has added a rate analyst and an actuary to the staff, to review all new policies and rates and to reject any that are unacceptable. * He has levied fines and has taken other punitive action against insurance companies that overcharged, cancelled policies illegally, or misrepresented claims. * He introduced the No-Fault auto insurance program, making Delaware one of the first states in the nation to offer this to its drivers. * He helped author the new State Insurance Code, one of the most modern and most workable in the nation.

and he's prepared to do even more!

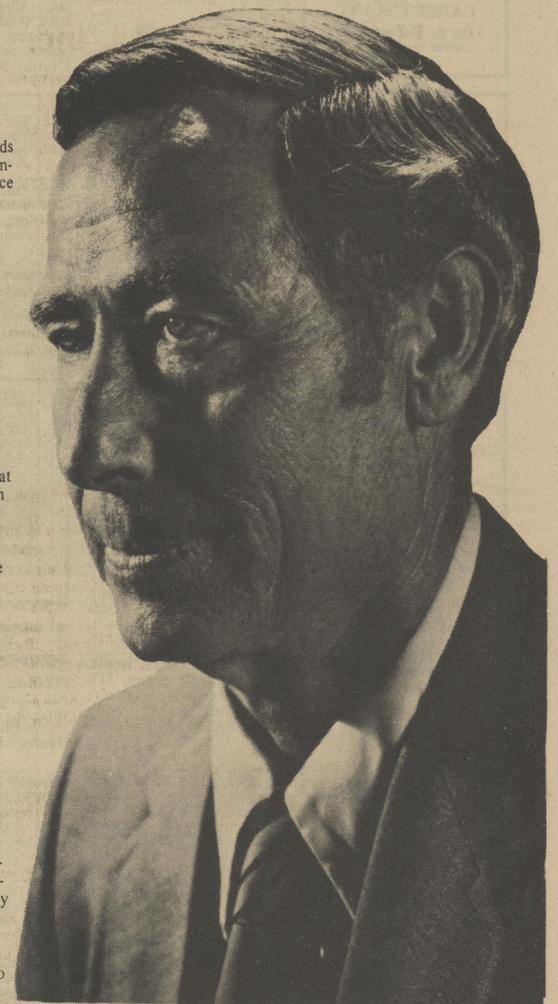

Bob Short's priorities for the next four years are significant ones: * He recognizes the need to curb the rising cost of health care, and feels that with legislative backing the Insurance Department can play a major role. * He will continue to persuade insurance companies to locate in Delaware, providing more jobs for Delawareans and a more personal interest by those companies in their policyholders. * He'll seek more efficient insurance company operations--such as simplified claims procedures and streamlined policies

---which will give Delawareans greater value for their insurance dollar. * He'll seek improvements in the state's No-Fault auto insurance coverage, including higher limits of liability and stricter enforcement of the compulsory feature. * He'll seek approval of a Wilmington service office, to make the Insurance Department more readily accessible to urban and suburban residents. * He'll seek simplified insurance policy language and standardized homeowners policies--so the purchaser will know exactly the coverage he's receiving. * He'll work for a loss control system for the state's self-insurance program to add still more to the millions this program has saved already!

Re-elect the best insurance commissioner Delaware ever had — BOB SHORT!

It Seems To Me

By Janet Reed

How is your blanket supply? You may need a few more this winter when the heat is lowered those extra degrees at night. If you have depended on electric blankets for the extra warmth you want, you might need to buy a few other blankets just in case of a brownout.

Which blankets will be warmest? Construction and fiber content are the determining factors, not the weight of the blanket.

Napped blankets are warmest when made with a high dense nap. The nap holds air which provides the insulation to keep you warm.

Thermal blankets have an openwork construction that traps air which is warmed by body heat when the blanket is covered by a spread or sheet. Thermals may be plain or napped, but the napped style will be softer, fluffier and warmer.

If the thermal blanket is not covered with another fabric layer, the construction allows body heat to escape. This is why it also is suggested for summer use. Look for claims of shrink-resistance since thermals lose some of their insulating property if shrinkage reduces the openness of the weave.

Flocked blankets have a foam core which makes them warm and lightweight. You may find them less comfortable to the touch.

Wool is one of the best choices for blankets, since it is naturally resilient and resists matting. Wool blankets may be in short supply and difficult to find in some stores. They can be laundered with care, but hold up best when dry cleaned.

Man-made fibers such as the acrylics and polyesters have good nap retention and shrink resistance, but they tend to pill in use and laundering. Pilling can reduce heat retention, and better blankets of these fibers are treated with a pill resistant finish.

Nylon is used for flocked blankets with a foam core. However, it is the foam and not the nylon that gives warmth.

Cotton is not very resilient and therefore cannot be made into a very warm napped blanket. Cotton thermals have good warmth retention if used with a top cover.

Rayon is often used in blends to reduce the cost of a blanket. Like cotton it is not very resilient and tends to mat with use. Many rayon blankets have a tendency to shrink.

Look for blanket bindings of nylon for longer wear.

Alternate blanket ends between head and foot of the bed to distribute wear and prolong the life of the blanket.

Handle them with care, loosening and lifting the blanket from the bed rather than pulling or tugging.

Launder or dry clean according to the manufacturer's recommendations. Blankets used daily should be aired and laundered at least once a year.

Bands Plan An All Out Paper Drive This Saturday

In cooperation with the Lake Forest Band Boosters Association, the band members of the W.T. Chipman Jr. School and the Lake Forest High School will be participating in an all-out paper drive Saturday. Even though the container will be in Felton this week there will be collections in Frederica and Harrington. The drive will be from 10 a.m. to 12:30 Saturday morning and the bands are asking that all persons that have newspapers, cardboard, old phone books, etc., to leave these items on their front lawns or somewhere where they will be seen and picked up.

If there are persons that have very large amounts in their garages or attics they should contact either band director and leave an address so that someone can be notified as to where to pick up these papers.

Parents who have station wagons or pickup trucks and who would like to lend the use of these vehicles to the paper drive should also notify either Mr. Becton or Mr. Claycomb. The cooperation of everyone will be greatly appreciated.

Alex Becton, Chipman Band Director - 398-8197.
Don Claycomb, High School Band Director - 284-9291.

Interested persons should call either number before 3:30 Friday.

Confidence thrives only on honesty, on honor, on the sacredness of obligations, on faithful protection and on unselfish performance. Without them it cannot live. -- Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"Inflation will not be stopped until runaway government spending is stopped...and I see that as part of my job."

Here are my answers to the questions I get asked most often about the economy. The issues are difficult and complex. I don't pretend to know all the answers . . . or have some magical solution . . . but you have the right to know exactly where I stand. So here it is.

ROBERT (Bob) DONAWAY

The Peoples' Choice For Recorder Of Deeds Vote Democratic Nov. 5th

Paid For By Robert J. Donaway

Q. Do you support President Ford's proposed 5% surtax on middle and upper-income families?

A. No. It simply is not fair to put still another burden on the average taxpayer while the very rich can continue to exploit tax loop-holes. I say "no" to the sur-tax and "yes" to tax reform to close such loop-holes as the depletion allowance and foreign tax credit for the profit-rich oil companies.

Q. Would you favor a 10c tax on the price of gasoline?

A. No. No. No.

Q. Ok, then how would you deal with inflation?

A. First, inflation will not be stopped until runaway government spending is stopped . . . and I see that as part of my job. That's why

- I voted to cut federal spending in silly areas like postal subsidies to giant and profitable newspapers, sugar subsidies, and wheat subsidies to the Russians.

- I co-sponsored an important bill to put rational limits on research and development funds for the Defense Department.

- In the Foreign Affairs Committee I sponsored amendments to drastically cut foreign military aid to countries like Vietnam, Cambodia, Jordan, and Turkey. To date, we've cut $900,000,000 from the foreign aid bill.

I applaud President Ford's early announced goal of drastically cutting the swollen federal budget. I'm working hard to find every savings possible.

Q. How can we bring interest rates down?

A. Again, the most important way is to get federal spending down. When the federal government runs these enormous deficits, it has to borrow money to pay for them. This soaks up available loan money and drives interest rates higher and higher. If the budget is balanced, the interest rates should come down.

Q. How bad do you think our problems are?

A. They are bad, and they could get worse if we don't act decisively. Now.

Q. How?

A. I've been pushing for action on four fronts:

First, vastly increased federal priority and dollars for energy research and development (which will mean jobs).

Second, a full production program for our farms. Anything less will keep food prices going up at the same time many in the world are starving. I support the President fully on this point.

Third, a decisive federal program to increase housing starts . . . and thereby give a big boost to the construction industry. This will require government agencies to intervene to make mortgage money available at lower rates.

Fourth, a program to give tax deductions to individual taxpayers who are able to save money. Money saved in a bank account becomes money available for investment loans . . . thereby stimulating the economy and reducing interest rates.

Q. All of these things will take some time. What can be done now to relieve the burden of inflation on the average tax payer?

A. The first thing Congress can do is to pass the Cost of Living Adjustment Act which I am sponsoring. It would provide for automatic changes in the deductions and exemptions allowed as the cost-of-living goes up . . . so that your tax bill doesn't go up like everything else.

Q. You seem to put a lot of stress on tax reform. Why?

A. Because our tax system is unfair. The middle income family is squeezed and squeezed. That's wrong. We've got to close the corporate tax loopholes like the oil depletion allowance. But we've also got to end the preferences the rich get through loopholes. We must pass a law to assure that the very rich pay their fair share . . . and all our tax laws should be reviewed every three years to see whether anyone is taking unfair advantage of the system.

Q. Who are the hardest hit victims of our economic problems?

A. Those on fixed incomes, the poor, and, of course, the unemployed.

Q. What would you do for the elderly and others on fixed incomes?

A. I've been working hard on their problems:

- I've voted for Social Security benefit increases totalling 41%.
- We've finally enacted a law which in January will automatically tie Social Security to the cost-of-living. As inflation continues, benefits will automatically go up.

But we must do more:

- The earning limitation for Social Security recipients should be removed.
- The costs of prescription drugs should be included in Medicare.
- There should be a federal tax deduction for property taxes paid.
- Veterans' pensions should keep pace with Social Security increases.

Q. What about the very poor?

A. The two inescapable bills which every family must pay are for food and fuel . . . and food and fuel bills just keep going up and up and up. I have supported the food stamp program which helps the poor. And I'm working on a similar "energy stamp" program which can help them meet fuel and electric bills.

Q. How about unemployment? What can be done?

A. The basic answer, of course, is more jobs. I strongly support the President's job creation program. My only question is whether it is large enough. I have already voted to double the present public service jobs program.

I also favor extending unemployment benefits from the current 26 weeks to a maximum of 52 weeks . . . so that a worker who loses his job can be assured some income for at least a full year while he seeks another job.

Q. Are you optimistic or pessimistic?

A. I'm optimistic . . . because I believe in America, in the strength and vitality of her people. But I know, too, that Washington and Congress have got to find the political courage and personal integrity to act decisively. I hope it is that kind of Congress which is elected November 5th.

LF Loses In Close Game

by Ray Blanchette

A porous pass defense of an otherwise opportunistic defense led to the demise of the Spartans (2-5) Friday as Laurel defeated them 26-22.

The Spartans came out fired up for this homecoming game and quickly jumped into the lead. With 3:39 left in the first quarter and Laurel seemingly on their way to a touchdown, the Bulldog's fumbled. Anthony Smith recovered for Lake Forest and with a penalty for facemasking, the Spartans had the ball on the 11. Four plays later John Pickett crashed over from the one for a 6-0 lead.

In the second quarter a Lester Blades aerial was picked off and on the very next play Jim Whaley (8 attempts, 7 completions, 170 yards) passed 33 yards to Ty White accounting for the 7-6 Bulldog lead at halftime.

After Laurel had taken a 14-6 lead midway through the third quarter, Lake Forest's Glenn Hart recovered a fumble. On the next play Zack Taylor sprinted 55 yards and John Pickett scored the two point conversion tying the score at 14-14.

On the first play of the fourth quarter Whaley passed to Dave Whaley for 20 yards and a 20-14 lead. Following an unsuccessful Spartan drive the Bulldogs drove 60 yards for a win-clinching 26-14 lead. The final Spartan score again came following a Laurel mistake, as following a bad snap from center on a punt, Lake Forest had the ball on the 21 with 18 seconds left. An interference penalty with three seconds left gave the Spartans a first down on the ten. On the final play of the game Pickett again scored, this time on a ten yard run and also added the two point conversion.

The Spartan attack was led by Zack Taylor's 133 yards on 24 carries and 72 yards on three pass completions by Blades. Laurel held the edge in time of possession 25:13 to 22:47.

Richter Smashes Record

David Richter, a promising ninth grader at Lake Forest High, added another to his growing string of impressive performances when he chopped 27 seconds off the Rohoboth Junior High 1.8 miles cross-country course to lead his teammates to an easy 19-44 victory.

Richter's clocking was 9.40, 38 seconds ahead of the second place finisher Miller of Rohoboth.

John Nickle, Eugene Butler, Ken Sudler, Kelly Woodward, Jeff Kashner and Terry

Phelps outran Rehoboth's number two carrier, Hukill. Mark Miller, Chris Rosario, Guinton Hendricks, Tom Ott, Ed Hatfield, Shaun O'Toole, Larry McCombs, Sylvester Jones and John Gilmore gave the locals 16 of the top 20 places.

LF Tops Dover For 5-0 Mark

Dover's talented duo of Rob McKim and Tom Kozel flashed their best form of 1974, but Harry Benson and Terry Pettyjohn finished 1-2, to lead Lake Forest to a 38-19 victory last Monday.

The battle of unbeaten cross country teams took place on Dover's arduous 2.7 miles course, bordering Silver Lake. The defeat was Dover's first, while the Spartans at 5-0 are the only perfect record septet in the Henlopen Conference. Benson's 14.10 clocking was one of the best ever recorded at Dover. Pettyjohn (14.11) and McKim (14.11.7) were in the race until the final steps. Spartans Joe Voshell and Dan Parker were fourth and fifth, followed by Kozel, Kit Tilghman, Pence of Dover, and Bob Kashner of Lake Forest.

Bob Mullane, Dave Richter, George Gibbs, Craig Kashner and Paul McClellan were in the top 17 finishers.

W.T. Chipman School's top runners were Ken Sudler, Jeff Kashner, Mark Miller, Terry Phelps, Larry McCombs, Chris Rosario, John Gilmore, Shawn O'Toole and Bill Mitchell. Of the latter, the first four named could be top runners for Lake Forest within two years.

Villanova is the only team on Delaware's 1974 football schedule that has a winning record in their series against the Hens. The Wildcats have won 10 of the 14 games played to date.

Lake Forest Spartan defensive action during the Homecoming Game Friday.

LF Game Post-Game Report

By Ray Blanchette

Going into last Friday's game against Laurel the Spartans held a 4-1 edge in Homecoming battles.

However, for the second straight year the Spartans were bested on this festive evening that happens once each fall. Despite this loss the Spartans go their highest point output of the season, led by John Pickett's 16 points. "The offense was really fired up because they wanted to win this game for the seniors," was Bruce Benson's reasoning for the strong performance.

Many qualified observers stated that a major cause of the impressive performance was the high spirited pep rally which was held the day of the game. "I've never seen the students get more involved in a pep rally especially the seniors, their spirit was unreal," stated one underclassman football player who wishes to go unnamed. "The spirit shown at the pep rally wanted us to try our best," said defensive lineman Charles Bessellieu.

He then added, "Last week we tried our best but it wasn't enough so for this week's game we'll have to try even harder." Bendon added, "We really played a good game but the few mistakes we made killed us."

Intense fourth quarter play is reflected by the Spartan bench during Friday's Homecoming game against Laurel. Lester Blades (18), L.F. quarterback who replaced the injured Neal Smith (85) are among the tense onlookers.

2 C C Shut Outs

Jim Blades' 7-0 Spartan cross country team is one victory away from a perfect dual meet season, after blanking Seaford and Indian River, in a double dual meet at Dagsboro, Frankford Monday afternoon. 50 Lake Forest District Harriers competed.

The locals needed to have the first seven finishers in order to record the pair of 15-50 triumphs, but ten Spartans crossed the finish line before Abbott of Seaford, and Hall of Indian River completed the 2.7 miles grind.

Terry Pettyjohn turned in the finest performance of his career when he smashed the course record held by Caesar Rodney's redoubtable Steve Dunham, The transfer student from Conn., Pettyjohn's 15.04 was followed by Joe Voshell's 15.15, which equalled the old mark.

Freshman Dan Parker, senior Kit Tilghman and junior Harry Benson were the last Spartan scorers, as only 28 seconds separated them.

Ed Thompson, Bob Kashner, David Richter, Craig Kashner and Bob Mullane completed the top ten. George Gibbs (13th), Paul McClellan (14th) and Herb Jarrell (19th) were the final Lake Forest runners in the 33-man race.

Steve Saulsbury easily won the reserve race in 16.46, next came John Moffett, Charley Scott, Walter Bishop, eighth grader Jeff Kashner. Others who did well were John Nickle, Eugene Butler, 11-yr. old Quinton Hendricks and John Gilmore.

Teen Talk

by Alice

The Cross and the Switchblade was great! Over thirteen hundred people came to the five showings at the Dover Middle School, sponsored by all of the U.M.Y.F. groups of Kent County. Pat

Boone was the star and the story involved a country preacher who goes to New York to try to remedy the gang war situation. Comment by Angela Minner - the movie was good, but some problems with the sound. Before the performance and during intermission "My Tribute" an upcoming gospel singing group sang. They also assisted during the invitation to discipleship at the end of the show.

It's a group of three - Debbie, 17, a Caesar Rodney senior with a great soprano voice; Pam is the pianist. She recently sang with the "Messengers" out of Houston, Texas; and Brad, 17, who plays the trombone in the CR band. He has a great voice and plans to be a music major in Bible College.

Lake Forest, Caesar Rodney and Dover students attended a journalism workshop at Seaford High last Thursday. News writing, features and page make-up were some of the courses. Pete DuPont was the speaker and he talked on the problems in the mass media. Some who attended were Eddie Storie, Susan Eliason, Alice Massimilla, Lisa Brown, Marty Hayes, Harry Kollock, and 1973 graduate Gloria Dill.

Debbie Miller and Alice Massimilla are looking forward to attending the 1974 Model United Nations Program in December to be held in Washington, D.C. The YMCA of Dover will be their sponsor and they will represent Peru along with other students from the middle Atlantic States and various countries.

Today is halloween, but the UMYF in the Magnolia area are planning their party for Saturday night. A real spook house will be on the scene, also games and fun for all.

There will be a fashion show on November 14th in the CR cafeteria.

Bucs Overpower S C 24-14

by Ray Blanchette

Overconfidence now seems to be the only thing that can keep Milford's undefeated football team from a trip to the state tournament following last Friday's impressive win over Sussex Central 24-14.

The Buccaneers were led by quarterback Keith Betts who ran for one score and passed for another. Sussex Central took the lead early in the first quarter on Lamont Garrison's 36 yard touchdown run. However, Milford came back on a one yard run by Betts and with Brian Adams conversion led 7-6. This did not stop the Golden Knights as they came right back with a touchdown in the second quarter on a Joe yard run by Curt Beulah and a 30 yard pass from Betts to Charles Saunders giving them a 21-14 halftime lead.

Shockley to Mike Serman 14 yard pass. Milford scored twice more before the half ended on a 38

Both defenses shone in the second half as the only scoring came on a 25 yard field goal by Marvin Smith, the Buccaneers' first field goal in over a decade.

The only competition for Milford for the state tournament will be the Southern Division leading Smyrna Eagles who are also undefeated. However, these two powers do not meet. Should they both end up with a perfect record a complicated point system would be used to pick the Henlopen Conference Champion.

Cold Weather Increases Boating Mishap Dangers

Deaths caused by capsizing are the most common causes of boating fatalities and become even more likely as the weather gets colder.

During the summer months, most capsizing fatalities can be avoided by the wearing of a PFD (personal floatation device), but when the temperatures drop, the dangers of "hypothermia" increase.

Hypothermia is the loss of body heat which impairs the circulating system and can, if enough body heat is lost, cause death. If not recognized and treated promptly, hypothermia can rapidly turn a survivor into a fatality.

In general, the hypothermia victim is pale in appearance, his pupils are constricted and react poorly to light and his respiration is slow and labored. He will usually be shivering violently and muscular rigidity is frequent. He may also appear intoxicated.

If it has been determined that hypothermia has occurred, then:

--Remove wet clothing. If the patient cannot be removed to a warmed compartment, or if dry clothing or a warming method are not available, the wet clothing should not be removed. Under these circumstances, the wet clothing is better than no clothing.

--Warm rapidly but do not burn or overheat the victim. A warm bath or shower are the most effective methods. (It may be possible to use an inflated life raft as a tub). Two other methods that are more applicable to small boats are: apply warmed blankets in a warm cabin with a heating pad or hot water bottle on the patient's chest, or apply body warmth by direct contact with a member of the rescue team.

--Observe respiration closely and remove any secretions.

--Give nothing orally. Watch for vomiting and the possibility of aspiration (taking into the lungs) of vomiters. Alcohol is absolutely forbidden in deep hypothermia.

--Treat for shock.

Requests for information regarding safe boating may be addressed to: Commander, U.S. Coast Guard Boating Safety Branch, Governors Island 10004 (tel: 1-212-264-4976).

Congratulations to Jim Fitzhugh, who won the Most Improved Bowling Tournament held at Milford Lanes Sunday, October 20. For his fine bowling efforts, Jim received a new ball and bag.

Tuesday night saw People's Restaurant set the league record in the high team series category for the season as they knocked down a total of 2665 pins scratch. Phil Shulties was a big contributor as he hit a grand 247 game and 596 series to lead all bowlers, and it wasn't a bad start for the first time bowling with the People's squad this year.

Wesley Tickets On Sale

Plans are now in full swing for the 1974 Tall Cedar Charity Football game between Wesley College and Lees-McRae, two arch Coastal Conference opponents, which will be played on Sat., Nov. 16, at the U.S. Navy-Marine Memorial Stadium at the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. Kick-off at 1:30 p.m.

All proceeds from the game will go to Muscular Dystrophy Research - the prime charity of the Tall Cedars of Lebanon - a nationally known organization.

Advance tickets at $3 are now on sale at Delmarva Sporting Goods, Maag's Sporting Goods, all in Dover, and Milford Bus Center. Tickets may also be secured at Wesley College or from Dover Lion's Club Chairman Jim McGinnis.

Aside from the promotion angle, the game could have much bearing on the final outcome of the Coastal Football Conference. Much rivalry centers on the game. Last year Lees-McRae rallied in the final seconds to defeat the Wesley Wolverines 13-10. The setback was costly to the Wolverines as it knocked them out of a chance of sharing the 1973 title with Ferrum.

Enjoy Your Fireplace More

You can get more pleasure - and more service - out of your fireplace, if you know something about the wood you use.

The heat that a fireplace log produces depends on its composition. The concentration of woody material, resin, water and ash in a log determines how long it will burn. By knowing something about the wood you buy or the logs you cut yourself, you will be able to mix light and heavy woods for an ideal fire.

A full cord of dry hickory wood weighs about two tons.

It's about equal in heating value to a ton of hard coal or 200 gallons of fuel oil, according to the Forest Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. On a pound to pound basis, heavy hardwoods have about half the heating value of coal and a third the heating value of oil.

Some of the woods that will burn longest are Osage orange, dowood, hickory, beech, hard maple, birch, mulberry, apple and ash. These hardwoods all rate high in heat value. Soft maple, cherry, sycamore, douglas fir and tulip or yellow poplar are soft woods that ignite faster and burn quicker. The softest wood suitable for fireplace use is white pine, with half the heat value of hickory.

Mix hard and soft woods for the ideal fireplace fire, advises Walpole. And he adds these safety tips.

Make sure the damper is open and the flue unplugged before lighting the fire. Place a screen in front of your grate to catch any sparks. Avoid burning wet or green wood. Keep a fire extinguisher handy. Keep other combustibles at a distance. And never use inflammable fluids indoors to light your fire.

If you have trouble with a smoky fire even with dry wood and an open damper, the problem may be due to faulty fireplace design.

The most common design fault is a chimney that is too short. Theoretically your chimney should be higher than the highest part of your house. If your chimney is too short, extending it three to four feet will usually correct the problem.

Fall For Cheese

Historically speaking, cheese has been around a long time. As a matter of fact, the use of cheese was pictured on stone tablets in 4,000 B.C. Barbara DeMesse, extension home economist at the University of Delaware, says, "Legend has it that the first cheese was made accidentally by a shepherd who carried milk in a pouch made from a sheep's stomach." And a combination of rennet in the pouch lining and the sun's heat caused the milk to separate into curds and whey; thus, cheese.

From Asia to Europe and then to the United States, the cheese-maker's art was constantly improved and today every foreign variety of cheese is made in the United States.

Natural cheesemaking, says the home economist, is considered an art. The distinctive flavor, body and texture characteristics of natural cheese depend on certain factors. Natural cheese is determined by the kind of milk used, the methods used for coagulating the milk, cutting, cooking and forming the curd, the type of culture used, salting and ripening conditions and the length of curing.

Mild cheese, for instance, is cured two to three months. Medium-aged cheese is cured up to six months, and sharp or aged cheese is cured over six months.
