Second Straight For Spartans

Lake Forest Runners Are State Champs

Keeping pace in its seventeenth winning season, the Lake Forest cross country team added to its impressive record last Wednesday by taking the state championship for the second consecutive year. The only downstate team to ever host a state tournament, the Spartans handily defeated opponents at the Killen's Pond State Park.

This victory is the fifth state championship for a Spartan team. Coach Jim Blades modestly stated "a good effort by all" was shown during the season. With an 8-0 dual meet record, to capturing the conference meet held at Lake Forest November 7, the state championship was a natural step to be taken on the way to victory this season. Leading the Spartan attack was Dan Parker, the sensational freshman runner, who covered the 2.8 miles in 15 minutes and 15 seconds, to finish third behind two Wilmington upperclassmen, Jim Brown of P.S. duPont and Victor Newman of Howard. Parker had finished ahead of Brown in the Lake Forest Invitational in September.

Harry Benson, the number one Spartan runner this year, was sixth, giving the home team two trophy winners. Kit Tilghman, a senior, ran his last race and one of his best, as he came in 12th. When Joe Voshell and Terry Pettyjohn crossed in 15th and 16th places, the Spartans were assured of the team trophy. The winning total was held to 52 points, followed by: Dover Air-74, St. Elizabeth-110, P.S. duPont-130, Cape Henlopen-146, St. Andrews-176, Tower Hill-200, Archmere-255, Claymont-259, A.I. Dupont-262, Howard-290, Smyrna-297, Laurel-343, Seaford-348, Middletown-350 and Indian River-276. A total of 16 teams and 112 runners competed.

Bob Kashner and David Richter, two other Spartan performers, finished in the top third of the field.

Bob Mullane turned in his finest with a sparkling 15.46 victory over a talented jayvee field. Salesianum was the winner of the unofficial race, with Lake Forest finishing next. Other Spartans who did well were Craig Kashner, George Gibbs, Paul McClellan, John Moffett, Herb Jarrell and Ed Thompson.

Coach Blades has 23 runners returning next season as the Spartans attempt to run the winning streak into its 18th year. Although he remarked graduating Kit Tilghman, Bob Kashner and Joe Voshell (a graduating junior) will leave a gap in the team, he feels there is potential to continue the team's powerful showing from this and previous years.

$1500 Authorized For Expert Witness

Attorneys Report To School Board

The Lake Forest School Board met for three hours Monday night and heard reports ranging from progress on their lawsuit against a major chemical firm to protests to be registered with the Cape Henlopen Football Conference regarding the officiating Friday night at Indian River.

For some time now, some of the School Board members, particularly E.B. Warrington, have had a growing concern about the progress their lawyers, Brown, Shiels, and Barros, have been making with the lawsuit against the contractors, sub-contractors, architect, and suppliers of the roofing materials of the Lake Forest High School roof. The chief complaint is the fact that the School through its attorneys, Herman C. Brown and Roy Shiels, allege that the Styrafoam which was used as a roofing material contains physical properties that under temperature changes causes expansion and contraction thereby causing cracks in the surface.

Shiels explained the complex nature of the suit, the need for the taking of depositions of many witnesses - usually at their convenience - are contributing to the delay in either getting the case to the courts or settlement. Shiels estimated it might be 6 months before the case can be firm up for trial purposes, or at least when both sides would be in a position to go into court or settle the matter. The styrafoam material is manufactured by Dow Chemical, a leading nationally known chemical firm. Shiels requested the Board authorize the use of up to $1500 to obtain the testimony of an expert witness. The Board agreed with this proposal and seemed satisfied with this report.

In other action Melvin Luff was given authority to cancel the contract with Millway Waste Disposal if that firm continues to violate its contract regarding the removal of waste from the School premises. James Pizzadili, a Board member, said he had inspected the situation at Lake Forest East and found the garbage had not been picked up at their required pick-up times, resulting in an unpleasant situation.

Mrs. Dawn Willis, Business Department head, got the Board approval for the Office of Education Association (O.E.A.) to raise money by selling candles. This group is programmed to help its members to develop leadership, self-confidence, and good citizenship.

A procedure for the selection of books and instructional material was presented by Mrs. Margaret Phelps, Chairman of the committee selected to recommend such a procedure together with the complaints which might arise from the selection of certain books or other materials. The overall effect is to give the student free access to many different types of books. The final decision in the matter will rest with the Board. An individual parent will have the right to prevent their child from reading certain material upon written request.

Lake Forest Principal, William Griffin, reported that the Football team got a "bum rap" from the area newspapers on Friday night's game with Indian River. Griffin has filed letters of protest with the Conference on the officiating of the game. He went on to report it was not necessary to have called that many penalties against the Spartans. The main complaint stems from the way Referee Carleton Jones allegedly treated one of the L.F. players.

A ten point buck caused the damage to this cadillac when the two met on the Harrington-Milford road last Thursday. The deer had just missed a tank truck owned by Sam Powell of Harrington which was heading west on Rt. 14 when it was killed by the car above.

Levy Courtman Indicted On Election Violation

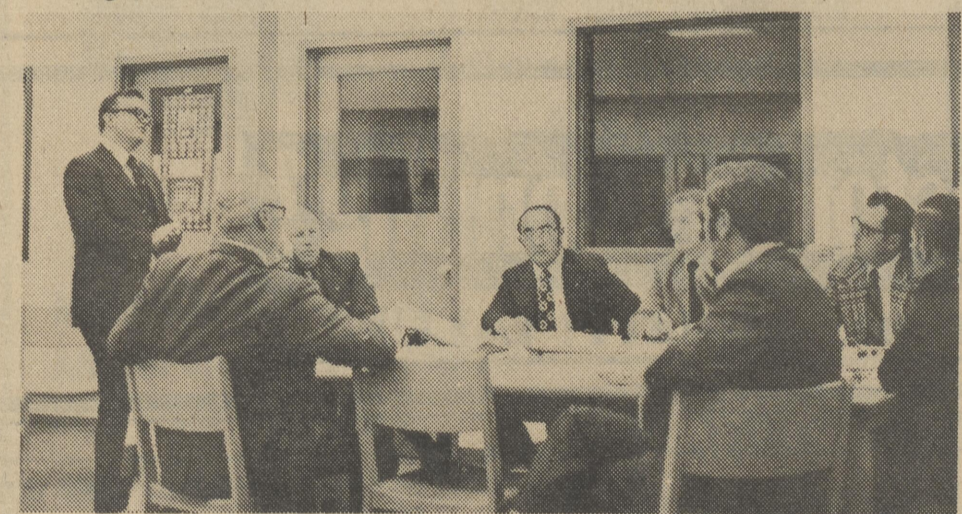

James P. McIlvanie, a Democrat Levy Court member from Magnolia, was indicted on Monday by a Kent County Grand Jury. The charges are all misdemeanors punishable by fine of $100 to $1,000 and/or 30 days to 2 years in jail. The 5 count charge has to do with entering a polling place unlawfully and entering a voting booth unlawfully. McIlvanie is also charged with 3 counts of unlawfully entering a voting booth with a voter. This too is a misdemeanor with fines up to $200 and a jail sentence of 2 years.

McIlvanie has declared his innocence in the matter claiming to be aiding friends in voting as he has done in the past, and defends on the ground that he was asked to enter the polling place by the election officials.

Others for which a true bill of indictment was returned stemming from the same situation were James S. Metz, a Polling Place Inspector, Edna M. Orvis and Dawson B. Hollinger. The latter two were judges at the polling place. These persons were charged with election law violations involving 11 counts of unlawfully admitting people into a room unlawfully and a voting booth unlawfully. Each of the officials declared their innocence based on assertions that the voters requested McIlvanie's help. All violators are from the Magnolia area. Hollinger a local Realtor is a Democrat. The other officials are Republicans.

The Attorney General's Office through its Deputy, Kenneth Abraham, received the complaint which led to the investigation of the election law violation resulting in the indictment being returned. The complainant remains unidentified and confidential. In the recent election McIlvanie defeated Sherman G. Stevenson by a margin of nearly 2 to 1 for Levy Court seat.

Roy Shiels, standing left, and Herman C. Brown, right-foreground, attorneys for Lake Forest School Board answer questions Monday night related to the lawsuit against the roofing contractors and manufacturer who performed and supplied the roof construction at L.F.H.S. for the School Board members.

Supervisor Nominations Sought

The Kent County Soil and Water Conservation District Board of Supervisors have announced nominations may be made for a supervisor to serve on the District Board. The term will start January 1, 1975, and continue for a four-year period. The election will be held in December. The date and time will be announced later.

Any interested farmer or landowner who desires to be a candidate for election to the Board may be nominated by ten or more farmers or landowners of the county.

Three requirements that a candidate must meet are as follows:

1. Be a Kent County farmer resident.
2. Receive the written endorsement of ten other landowners or farm operators in the county and present this endorsement to the Kent County Soil Conservation District office, Dover, by November 29, 1974.
3. Reside in the southwestern quadrant of Kent County (boundaries being: Route 10 on the north, U.S. 13 on the east, the Sussex County line on the south, and the Delaware-Maryland line on the west).

Merritt Camper, Harrington, is the present supervisor whose term expires December 31, 1974. Mr. Camper was re-nominated by the Board as a candidate for the election. This procedure is in keeping with the rules as presented by the State Soil Conservation Commission in conducting the annual election of a supervisor.

Brown Will Step Down As Raceway President

In a letter dated the 18th of November, Herman C. Brown formally advised that he plans to resign his post as President of Harrington Raceway at the conclusion of his present term. The Delaware State Fair owns 50 percent of the stock in the Raceway and the remainder of the stock is distributed as follows: 33 1-3 to Rollins & Associates and the Public 16 2-3 percent.

At his law offices, a saddened Brown told the Journal that "it is time to leave (his post)." Brown has been president of the Harrington oval since 1969 when he picked up a floundering racetrack and made it a winner. The five years as President and countless hours of attention have obviously been a pull upon him. Some of the high water marks of this recent meet are as follows:

- Attendance - up 41 percent (172,293) for 73 days.
- Daily attendance - 2,360.
- Wagering for 73 days - $9,554,862.
- Daily wagering $130,889 from 864.66 in 1969.
- Net gain $1,230.97 up 264.78 percent.
- Net gain per share $14.47

While other tracks around the State are allegedly running in the red, the Harrington plant is a solid enterprise. A $500,000 mortgage to enclose the grandstand has been reduced to $221,000 and payments are six months ahead of schedule. Brown leaves the plant in good financial shape. He reports that he has no immediate ventures at hand.

Essay Winner

Debora Wyatt, a seventh grader at W.T. Chipman Junior High School here has been named winner of the Kent County Fire Prevention Essay Contest. The competition was conducted in the seventh and eighth grades throughout Kent County. Her essay will now be entered for judging on the state level.

Debora is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wyatt of Harrington.

Child Suffocates

A three-year-old child was apparently suffocated by a plastic bag at a trailer home near Felton early Saturday. State Police said Terrance Watson was found dead in his bed by his mother, Joyce A. Watson, at about 8 a.m. Saturday.

The child was last observed alive at about 4 a.m., according to statements given to police. The child was pronounced dead on arrival at Milford Memorial Hospital, and police said an autopsy would be performed at Nanticoke Hospital in Seaford.

Due to the Thanksgiving holiday, all items appearing in the paper must be submitted no later than 9 a.m. Monday.

Christmas Parade Set

The annual Christmas parade held here is beginning to take shape well, according to Jaycee spokesman and general parade chairman Lee Dean. The parade, which last year featured over 100 units, will be held Saturday, December 7, at 1:30 p.m. with the rain date scheduled for the following Saturday.

Since the date is also known as Delaware Day, this year's theme will be "A Delaware Christmas." According to Dean, the organization has received definite confirmation of attendance from Governor Sherman Tribbitt as well as an acceptance to attend from Senator William Roth and his family.

Among floats and novelty entries, the National Brewing Company's Antique Beer Truck from Baltimore will be attending. The Jaycees will award 26 trophies and will present $300 in prize money to the high school bands who will receive $150, $100 and $50 for first, second and third places, respectively. Judging the bands will be representatives from the Mid-Atlantic Judges Association.

Dean states the Jaycees are pleased that David Jones, an ex-active associate Jaycee and cashier of the First National Bank here, has consented to serve again as master of ceremonies. Jones has been a popular figure on the viewing stand and has kept the spectators informed and amused during the course of previous parades.

The deadline for entering this year's parade is December 3. For further information contact Lee Dean at 398-4338 or at 398-3219 or any Harrington Jaycee. The organization, which is open to young men 18 to 35 years old, is designed to develop leadership qualities, as well as promoting projects to improve the community. Dean stated there are currently 24 members in the organization, although, according to a recent census of the surrounding areas, there are nearly 1,000 possible eligible men for Jaycee membership. In addition to the parade project, the membership is responsible for installing the Christmas lights on Clark and Commerce Streets. They also maintain the popular Santa's house, which is located on the vacant lot at the corner of Commerce and Dorman Streets. These projects are underway now, and the community should see the lights up by Thanksgiving, although they are not due to be lighted until the evening of December 7.

This service of united praise will also include special thanks for Prospect United Methodist Church west of Harrington, and St. Stephen's Church who are celebrating 100 years of ministry in this area of God's world. While Prospect had their celebration earlier in the year, St. Stephen's will say thanks to the community for its love and support by hosting a reception following the service at which pictures and documents will be displayed depicting some of those earlier years.

"More Than Possessions" will be the title of the sermon by The Rev. Joseph V. Holliday, pastor of the West Harrington United Methodist Church. The Asbury Methodist Choir will sing two anthems. Also taking part will be The Rev. John Edward Jones, Asbury Methodist; The Rev. C.M. Huff, St. Paul's A.M.E. Church; The Rev. William Miller, Calvary Wesleyan Church; and The Rev. Bruce M. Shortell, Vicar of the host parish.

It is hoped that all members of the community will take advantage of this opportunity to worship together in praise and thanksgiving.

It Seems To Me

By Janet Reed

How do you store your sewing supplies? There comes a time when you need to discard old supplies and reorganize your sewing area. It's easy to accumulate so many odds and ends that valuable time is wasted looking for supplies you have stored away.

First of all, discard all those items that you are not likely to use again. An assortment of colored threads is handy to have when you suddenly need a specific color. But cotton threads do deteriorate in time and may not have their original strength. Use up your oldest threads first. They can be used for inside seams, even if the color isn't exactly right. Styles in notions change, too. We don't use much seam tape anymore, and I have a number of bolts or partial bolts taking up valuable storage space. I really haven't come up with a good use for old seam tape though. If you have, let me know.

Trimings too, tend to accumulate. These can be donated to groups that do service sewing or sew for Christmas bazaars. Mothers who sew for young children often make good use of trims suitable for children's clothes. Maybe you could fashion a wall hanging or collage for your sewing room made up with odds and ends from your sewing supplies.

Sewing gadgets you no longer use are not likely to be used again. Throw them away or give them away. Maybe there will be a white elephant sale at your favorite Christmas bazaar. Some sewing gadgets qualify beautifully for that.

Possibly the best method of controlling sewing supplies is to be careful of the type and quantity you buy in the first place. Those "bargains" tend to lie around, unused. Buy only the supplies necessary for the sewing project on hand.

The extra monthly charge for residence subscribers is $1.75 per telephone line. For business customers, the extra monthly charge is $2.35 per telephone line.

Estimates of cattle, hog, chicken and sheep numbers, expected pig and calf crops, and winter wheat plantings will hinge on a major nationwide survey set for late November by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

B. R. Bookhout, Statistician in charge of the Maryland and Delaware Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, explained that published estimates from this annual survey are always significant to those making decisions in agriculture. However, the information will carry added importance this year because of concerns surrounding feed grain supplies and prices and their impact on livestock and poultry production.

The wheat acreage estimate also will be of unusual interest because farmers were again free to plant for the market place and not influence by government restrictions.

The survey enumeration starts on November 22 and ends December 5. Thousands of farmers and ranchers representing a cross section of the nation's producers will be contacted by USDA representatives. Enumerators from Bookhout's office will ask a carefully selected sample of Maryland and Delaware farmers about livestock and poultry currently on farms, expected pig and calf crops and acreages seeded to winter wheat and rye. All responses are confidential and only state and national estimates will be issued.

Survey results will be available through the Maryland and Delaware Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in December for wheat, hogs and poultry; a mid-January sheep publication; and an early February cattle release.

In a transplanting mood? Then remember that fall is the ideal time to transplant narrow-leaved evergreens. In the fall the plants have gone dormant and top growth has ceased. Roots, however, are still active and will continue to be until the soil freezes.

All such plants transplanted in the fall should be moved, balled and burlapped. In this way, the roots are disturbed as little as possible, unless you drop the soil ball.

When planting in well-drained soil, dig the one foot wider and six inches deeper than the size of the root ball. Prepare a planting mixture of two-thirds soil from the hole and one-third peat moss by volume.

Do not remove the burlap from the ball, but do take any strings or other binding from the top of the ball after it has been placed in the hole. Handle the plant by the soil ball, not the trunk of the plant.

Fill the hole with enough soil mixture so that the top of the soil ball is level with the soil surface. Never plant deeper than this. This insures the plant will be at exactly the same depth as it was originally.

Then fill the hole three-fourths full of soil mix and add water until the hole is full. After the water has settled, fill the hole to the original soil level and prepare a shallow basin around the edge of the planting hole to catch any additional future water.

Complete your job by mulching with a two-to-three-inch layer of peat, bark or other coarse material.

Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

"... by whatever name, the problem is still the same."

When I was a law student at Washington & Lee University, I had a law professor named Charles F. McDowell, Sr. He taught commercial courses, and his keen wit won him the admiration, and appreciation, to be long remembered in the hearts of all who passed through those portals. He was a heavy weight in his own right, having been one of the first twenty pilots in WWI, a short story writer of airplane battles, a great basketball star at Centre College, with a home-spun Kentucky way about him that certainly inspired all of us.

Mr. McDowell was also a great kidder, and if he ever got anything on you, you'd never forget it. He had gained his law degree from Yale, and whenever he had the opportunity, he liked to lay the blame for the economy on the "Harvard boys". His pet phrase was "the trouble with this country is that there are too many Harvard boys in short pants trying to run the affairs of the government".

When it comes to the economy and pet phrases describing it, call it what you like or blame it on whomever you please, "...but the problem remains the same". Sometimes the high powered government economists will also come up with so much per cent increase in the cost of living, etc. On closer inspection however these phrases and figures can tell a different story altogether. These phrases...these figures only tend to arouse the public to a frenzy.

What do the words depression, recession, inflation, or good times mean? All of us from time to time are in a recession, for it means that prices on certain commodities have climbed to such high prices that we cannot afford them. It is possible that some people can afford them, but where the largest part of the population cannot afford them...then there is a stuffing off and recession sets in.

A case in point is what is happening to the auto industry today. The unions, through their efforts have negotiated annual salary demands. These hikes in prices are written off to the consumer...but there is a limit to anything as is happening with Chrysler. It got caught with the production of the large car...then the gas squeeze hit the country, and Chrysler was stuck with a costly item. As the cost of the car moved up so did the interest rates, and despite what the President of Chrysler says is the real cause, the financing charges at the bank had to spread over 4 years for buyers to afford these large cars. Is it any wonder people are not buying the big items? Call it what you want...recession, peaking out, and the like, but the problem is still the same. In the final analysis...don't be disturbed by terms. Fit yourself to the situation...if you can't afford it, don't buy it.
THAT'S MY CHOICE, WHAT'S YOURS.

Lottery Office Seeking Licensed Sales Agents

The Delaware State Lottery Office is actively seeking applications from businesses throughout the state to serve as licensed sales agents. Gov. Tribbitt and Eugene G. Auen, director of the Delaware State Lottery, announced last week.

Ideally, lottery sales agents should be retail businesses located in a high traffic location, Auen said. A licensed agent must have regular hours and be readily accessible to the public.

A typical retail outlet being sought by the State Lottery Office is a neighborhood grocery or convenience store, pharmacy, chain store, entertainment center such as a bowling alley, service stations, etc.

Auen says that an agent will be supplied with all sales material, agent stamp and supporting sales supplies. Agents will be paid a five percent commission on all ticket sales, Auen noted.

"The State Lottery will be quite unique as lotteries go," Director Auen explained.

"For example, the Delaware Lottery will be the first choose-your-own lottery number system in the United States. A similar system is installed in Quebec, Canada and has been running successfully for many years. There is perhaps the world's leading lottery."

Another difference between Delaware's lottery and the other state lotteries, Auen said, is the fact that the winning number will be selected by a specially-held horse race at one of Delaware's tracks.

Merchants desiring to be licensed as lottery agents should contact the Delaware Lottery Office by writing to: Mr. Eugene G. Auen, Director, State Lottery Office, 1679 South DuPont Highway, Dover, Del. 19901.

It's important that prospective agents respond as quickly as possible, so that site evaluations can be conducted prior to licensing. Current planning calls for the licensing of 300 agents before March, 1975, Auen added.

Businessmen Warned Of Latest Rip-Offs

The U.S. Department of Labor's Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) has discovered a new breed of "rip-off" artists posing as OSHA inspectors.

Their victims are often small businessmen, and they prey on an employer's concern for his workers' safety, his reputation and his economic well-being. Passing themselves off as federal safety officers, they use scare tactics to extort phony fines or to sell bogus safety materials and equipment.

But an alert businessman can turn the tables on one of these frauds by demanding an identification check, according to David H. Rhone, assistant regional director for OSHA.

"An authentic OSHA inspector -- known as a Compliance Safety and Health Officer, or CSHO -- carries special Labor Department credentials," says Rhone. "His name and identification number can quickly be verified by telephoning his home office."

"If a businessman has any reason to doubt the authenticity of an inspector, these credentials are his first line of defense."

Rhone said the bogus inspectors use several con games.

Some will demand on-the-spot payment of penalties for what they claim to be violations of OSHA standards in the business establishment. Others go through the motions of performing a safety inspection, then offer to sell materials that they say will correct a "violation."

If the businessman balks at making the purchase, they threaten him with heavy fines that will increase every day until he buys the con artist's wares.

A third scheme is more subtle. It starts with the phony inspector pointing out so-called violations and suggesting a particular tool or piece of equipment to correct them. A day or two later an accomplice shows up, selling those very same recommended items.

"All these practices are violations of federal law," Rhone points out. "Compliance Safety and Health Officers never collect a fine directly following an inspection, and they cannot recommend or offer to sell a product to correct a violation."

He also warns employers to be alert for misleading advertisements for safety equipment. Any assertion that a product is "OSHA-approved" is incorrect, since OSHA does not approve any safety equipment.

"These misrepresentations hurt OSHA and the business community alike," Rhone says.

"They damage OSHA's credibility as a job safety and health enforcement

Roth Leads Ranking

Senator Bill Roth was ranked by the National Taxpayers Union recently as the taxpayers' "leading Senator" in the second session of the current Congress.

The nonpartisan public interest group said the senior Delaware senator has the best record for fiscal integrity in the Senate. In an analysis of votes on 20 key Senate appropriations bills, it gave Roth a score of 80, five points higher than any other senator.

According to James Davidson, executive director of the National Taxpayers Union, the average score of Republicans in the Senate was 35 and that of Senate Democrats was 32. In the House of Representatives, the average score of Republicans was 36 and that of Democrats was 31.

Senator Joseph Biden (D) had a rating of 65 on a scale of 100.

Poems From Paradise Pastures

By-Pass

When approaching most large cities
As one motors on his way
There's a sign you'll always notice
Reading "By-Pass Go This Way".

If you follow these directions,
They will guide you safely around
And you'll then escape the traffic
You would face within the town.

If you skirt the busy highways
And you skip the traffic line
Of the busy shopping center
You save yourself some time.

And so I get to thinking
As along life's way we go
There are signs just like this "By-Pass"
That direct us where to go.

I'm sure there's one big city
I believe they named it Hell,
Where the traffic jam is heavy
As the preachers often tell.

There's a "By-Pass" sign well posted
If one only stops to read,
That will take you past the city
That is packed with lust and greed.

The "By-Pass" sign I speak of Isn't posted on the road
Like a detour, or direction,
Nor is written in a code.

Might be just on some small building
Or a grand cathedral tall,
There's a cross atop the steeple
Calling out to one and all.

'Tis the greatest sign of "By-Pass"
That the tongue or pen can tell
That will pass you by the city
That the preachers labled Hell.

Food Market Report

The traditional holiday meal for Thanksgiving is one of the bright spots in the gloomy food picture. Though food prices are expected to maintain their steady increases, particularly in view of the reduced harvests this fall of major feed crops, meat, poultry and fish are down by nearly 5 percent.

Turkey, the traditional holiday entree, is in plentiful supply, particularly the cold storage holdings which are up 50 percent over a year ago. Though the total turkey crop for this year was slightly larger than last year, the largest percent of it was marketed earlier than usual. Fall marketings will be off somewhat, but this is more than offset by storage stocks of frozen whole turkeys. Prices for smaller turkeys, under 16 pounds, are about 20 cents a pound less than in 1973 and they are expected to remain this way throughout the holiday season. Cranberries are in ample supply, with harvest up 7 percent. Sweet potatoes and onions are currently selling for lower prices this year because of larger production.

As far as the marketings of beef and pork are concerned, they remain well above a year ago. Beef production has been averaging about 10 percent greater than last year at this time, and pork production is 7 percent greater. Veal is back on most meat counters for the first time in years and marketings have been up sharply for several months. Supplies of lamb are off slightly from a year ago. As far as next year is concerned it is expected that pork prices will be definitely higher since pork production through the late winter and spring will be down by 5 to 10 percent. Beef production next year will exceed this year, with most of the increase being in the lower grades of beef which have not been placed in feed lots. Thus, prices for the top grades of the most desired cuts of beef will continue high. Though turkeys are plentiful this is not so of broiler-fryers. Production has been cut back as much as 10 percent. Prices are already rising and look for fewer specials. Egg prices are likely to rise late this year and in 1975. High feed costs have led to close culling of flocks and reduced feeding rates for hens. Southern fish are the main source of fresh finfish during the winter months. The fish to be in seasonal supply for December include: croakers, whittings, bluefish, spot, Spanish mackerel, cod and flounder. Cold storage holdings of cod, flounder, halibut, salmon and whittings are larger than last year. Fish sticks and portions are in good supply - up approximately 27 percent from last year.

As far as fruits and vegetables are concerned: apple supplies are equal to those of last year, pear production is above average with record harvests of Anjou and Basc varieties. Production of the early, midseason and navel orange crop in Florida is expected to be 6 percent larger than last year, but the grapefruit harvest will be down about 8 percent. Potato production is 13 percent greater than last year's, reduced harvest, and prices have declined sharply on this staple vegetable.

Stocks of peanuts are about 50 percent greater than last year and the rice crop is 22 percent larger than a year ago. Dry beans and dry pea supplies will be much larger with 27 percent more dry beans and 36 percent more dry peas than the recent three year average.

All programs and activities of the Cooperative Extension Service are conducted on a non-discriminatory basis.

Milford Football Squad Goes 9-0 With Cape Win

By Ray Blanchette

Milford, now 9-0, once again showcased their conference leading offense and defense in romping over Cape Henlopen 35-0.

Last Friday against the Vikings, Milford again started very slowly, scoring only seven points in each of the first three quarters. The Buccaneers got rolling on Don Johnson's (109 yards) 2 yard touchdown. In the second period Curt Beulah (134 yards) scored on a five yard run giving Milford a 14-0 halftime lead.

In the third period Beulah again scored, this time on a 20 yard run. The last stanza saw the Buccaneers score 14 points on a one yard run by Curt Calhoun and a 55 yard run by Linwood Bowe. Milford's placekicker Brian Adams converted after each of Milford's five touchdowns giving him a Conference leading 23 extra points on the season. Cape Henlopen is now 3-6.

With only one game remaining in the regular season against Lake Forest, at Harrington, the Buccaneers appear to be headed for a perfect 10-0 season. A 10-0 season usually assures a team of the Henlopen Conference championship but Smyrna

High is also undefeated at this point.

Smyrna next week plays Dover which could be a tough game but is not likely because Dover has been decimated by injuries. If both Milford and the Eagles should finish the season undefeated, a point system would be used to determine the Champion. However, if a clear cut champion is not found this way, a selection committee would make the choice.

Along with the Conference Championship goes a State Tournament berth. If both teams should remain undefeated, the other would be eligible for the at-large berth.

Officiating Criticized As Lake Forest Is Dumped By I R

By Ray Blanchette

In a game last Friday that featured a little bit of everything Indian River defeated Lake Forest 31-7.

The game was not as one sided as the score shows. The Indians quickly jumped into the lead in a very unusual way. The Spartans had won the toss and elected to receive. However, they fumbled the kickoff and Indian River's Mike Truitt picked it up and ran 23 yards for the touchdown. With the extra point, the home team had a quick 7-0 lead.

The remainder of the first period was scoreless but the Indians scored again in the second stanza. This score came on a Mark Browne 23 yard pass to Forrest Manuel giving the home team a 13-0 lead at halftime.

Lake Forest got back in the game in the third quarter as John Pickett scored on a two yard run and Russell Dill kicked the extra point making the score 13-7. From here though, the referees which penalized the Spartans 135 yards to Indian Rivers 40 yards helped the Indians build their lead.

Intense play marked the Lake Forest-Indian River game Friday night. The Spartan ball carrier (dark jersey) has just been downed here.

The fourth period was the scene of all this madness as the Indians scored 18 points on two Browne passes, one of 15 yards to Darryl Jarman, one of 10 yards to Derrick Powell and a 7 yard run with another fumble, this time by Todd

Palmer. "The Spartans definitely outplayed Indian River in the first three quarters and if not for the fumbles and officials could have beaten the Indians," stated Russell Dill. Most people agree.

Runners Win In Wilmington

Following the state win of Wednesday, several Lake Forest cross country runners took part in three long distance races held in Wilmington and sponsored by New Castle County Parks and Recreation Department and the Delaware Sports Club.

Dan Parker, a freshman, won the Junior Boys' Open for boys 15 and under with an 11.19 on Rockford Park's 2.1

miles course. He bettered the previous record of 11.24 which has been held by Chris Wetherhold, also a Spartan. Dave Richter also ran under twelve, by finishing 11.57. He too is a freshman.

Mark Miller, Quinten Hendricks and Bill Mitchell finished first, second and third in the 12 and under test. Thirty-nine ran here, in the largest field of the day. After the Chipman runners crossed the line, 36 seconds elapsed before the next runner crossed. Miller's time was 13.50.

Joe Voshell, 16, brought the Spartans trophy hoard to six as he finished 19th in the Men's Open, besting a number of college and veteran amateur runners by covering the 4.1 miles in 23.53. Terry Pettyjohn also did well by coming in 12th with 24.27.

Post Game Report

By Harry G. Farrow, Jr., Publisher and Ray Blanchette

One of the most important aspects of a sporting event is what happens on the field...and more particularly how well the game is run or officiated. For the most part, decision making on the field of play is a matter of judgment calling. Many times officials have been known to call a "close play and enforce it" in order to keep the game under control. Even this can get out of control especially if the practice is a repeated one. From sideline observation this fall of games involving Lake Forest or in the alternative in other games in the conference, it would appear to a candid observer that the officiating leaves a lot to be desired.

In the heat of the game... especially in football where tempers run rather high as a natural course...the referee must be more than just a statesman who will receive a small check for his work in the game.

Officiating is a very serious business without a doubt, for you are dealing with the youth who need examples set for them as we hope that they will live up to certain principles. The officials must take the time to explain the infractions to the players, and no one likes to see penalties after penalties called in a game...against either side...and especially in high school. It would appear to the reader or the observer that where penalties after penalties are called in a game, it implies that the game is out of hand...not in the alternative that the players are "dirty players or unsportsmen." For anyone to reason to the contrary, is really absurd.

One of the most glaring "infractions" in Friday night's game against Indian River was the treatment given one of the Spartans by the official when it appeared from the sidelines and to the spectators that the official was being overly aggressive in rebuking the player. This obviously could do more harm to the "boy" than good. It is this type of display of emotion which marks the unstableness in controlling the game, which the officials are charged with doing. To let this sort of thing go without a full conference investigation, leaves a lot to be desired.

The final discredit to the Spartan team was the newspaper coverage which the entire affair received. Good reporting...is reporting all of the facts...not just "some of the facts," and good reporting is not slanting the news but reporting it. This means that it is necessary in the case at hand to interview both sides as well as the officials. Even though the Spartan fans feel that the officials abused their discretion on several plays, it was nevertheless "in the judgment of the officials." Hopefully bad blood will not develop from this incident, which has already gotten out of hand. Hopefully a pattern of emotional stability will be the rule of the day...as well as the saying "it isn't whether you win or lose, but how you play the game."

The Lake Forest High School football squad has throughout the season, displayed a "Spartan heart" win or lose. This courage has won you the admiration of your school body. Confidently therefore you will continue to display that same courage in this week's game against Milford. GOOD LUCK BOYS!

Teen Talk

By Alice

The Dixie Echoes, The Oak Ridge Boys, The Eastmen Quartet and The Davis Family may not sound like rock groups, and they are not!

They are gospel singing groups, and believe it or not their concerts are crowded with students from Caesar Rodney, Lake Forest and Milford.

So - what's so great about gospel music that some of these students would forego a homecoming dance in order to go? I like it for the message. Most of the music today that youth enjoy stresses problems and suffering, and there isn't any answer. Gospel music tells of hope.

Senior student, David Brown, says if you just listen to the words, you are bound to receive a message of happiness. Just last Saturday there was a gospel concert at Dover Middle School with many young people attending.

The Christian Crusaders, a group from Tilghman Island, Md. were the singers at a revival last week at Little Creek. Doug could really play the piano and Hermie at the drums. Their playing could match any rock band.

The big sports event of the week was the Dover-C.R. game with C.R. winning for the first time in 22 years. Everyone at C.R. was ecstatic.

Congratulations to Valerie Wilhelm who was 17 on November 15th. She was honored at a surprise party at Dave Brown's home in Rising Sun.

What is it like doing without meat for one week? "I went insane, and that's a warning to people who are going to become vegetarians, because you really get weak", says Lillian Satrape. She is interested in health foods now. Lillian used to be a vegetarian but had to stop because it made her tired and she had a bad temperament. This Caesar Rodney Junior feels that drinking a Coke is a health food too if it makes you feel good.

Are you getting those Christmas shopping blues already? Why not start making some gifts. A knitted hat or embroidered pillow is much more appreciated than something bought. Ask Mary Jester. She knows!

If you would like to help someone less fortunate, you could contribute some canned goods to Wesley United Methodist Church in Dover to be given to the needy.

Don't forget "West Side Story" November 21st, 22nd and 23rd at C.R. High school auditorium. Don Crouse and Barbara Baudman do a terrific job in the leads.

DPI Assists Students Studying Out-Of-State

Delaware residents who study out of state may qualify for financial assistance from the Department of Public Instruction.

Paul G. Stitik, state supervisor of federal regulations and scholarships, said funds are still available for the current academic year because some grants were cancelled.

Eligible are persons who take college, graduate or professional courses not given by the University of Delaware, Delaware State College, or Delaware Technical and Community College.

The student must show financial need and be preparing for an occupation in which positions are expected to be open in Delaware.

Awards cover one year and may be renewed. They can be applied to a program that leads to the student's first bachelor's degree, first graduate degree, or both.

Applicants are judged according to merit and financial need, and the family's ability to assist is one factor in the selection.

For 1974-75, Stitik said, no grant will be awarded for undergraduates unless the student's out-of-state cost exceeds $2,122, the current fee for tuition, room and board at the University of Delaware.

Interested persons are asked to consult their guidance counselor or college placement officer or write or call Stitik at the State Department of Public Instruction, Dover 19901; telephone 678-4620.

Some 263 out-of-state scholarships were granted last year. The General Assembly launched the program in 1963 and this year appropriated $150,000 for the scholarships.

BOWLING

By Leah S. Wheeler

The league lead continues to be tossed around each week and the reigning team is the Spoilers as they trounced Butler's Fuel in all games to move to the top spot, sending last week's leaders down into second place Bruce Harrington rolled a 214 game and Carl Wright assisted for the Spoilers. The fuelers just couldn't pick up any strength Tuesday night although Jack Kohland bowled above average.

Brother's Five received a 587 series effort from Chris Moore, which also included a 207 game and a 525 set from Ray Dennis, as the team collected three points from Penn Central. Robert O'Brier, Bernie Coffman and Gary Baker bowled very well as the railroaders managed to get one game for their efforts.

George Collins paced Taylor and Messick to a four point victory, over Robin's Hardware as he scorched the boards with a 213 and 254 while amassing a league leading 661 series. Also contributing heavily to T and M's victory was Tom Brown and Ira Huffman, the latter bowling a 211 game. Leon Grodkiewicz, Frank Robbins, and Ray Jarrell bowled good efforts for Robbins.

Fry's American took three points from Dura-Clean as Jerry Hayman rolled a 539 series which included a good 200 game and Kreg Jester and John Forbes added above average efforts to help Fry's overcome their opponent. Dave Baker and Donald Murray bowled good efforts for Dur-a-Clean which enabled the team to salvage one point for their efforts.

Bill Kohel bowled a great 534 series and Mannon Robinson rolled a 511 set, as Big John's Son captured three points from Peoples Restaurant. Cloyd Bushey rolled a 200 game and Frank Collins added a 530 series for Peoples.

Jarrell Fuel and T and M Rejects clashed in a hard fought contest with Jarrell's coming out on top three points to one for their opponents. Chester Short and Norman Porter bowled good efforts for the fuelers.

Louis Welch and Bill Shockley bowled very well for the Rejects.

Gene Wright collected a 562 series which included a 203 game, and Dave Ryan added a 214 game and 535 series, with Wally Ryan coming through with a 542 series, for Wally's Garage as the team split four points with McKnatt Funeral Home. Donald Garey paced McKnatts' with a superb performance, scattering the pins for games of 210 and 212 as he amassed a grand total of 618, with Harry Jack adding a 205 game and 534 series, and Ken Garey bowling an above average series.

The Harrington Moose waltzed to a four point victory over Quillen's Market as Paul Faulkrod, Dick Clegg and Richard Porter bowled above average efforts. Quillen's Market going into the contest with only four men could not get any momentum going and saw themselves dropped a couple steps in the standings on their loss.
