Santa's Parade Is Saturday

According to the Journal's sources, a special visitor is due to arrive here Saturday afternoon. Although he is called Kris Kringle and Father Christmas in various parts of the world, he's known to area residents as Santa Claus.

Santa is scheduled to be on the last float in the eighth annual Christmas parade sponsored by the Harrington JAYCEES. Beginning at 1:30 p.m., the parade starts its mile and a quarter route at the corners of Delaware Avenue and Center Street and will proceed west on Center to Dorman Street. From there it continues toward Commerce Street. It will proceed northeast on Commerce Street, then east on Clark Street, past the Quillen Shopping Center. A turn left on Thomas Street to end on Liberty Street near the Delmarva Power and Light complex completes the route.

This year's parade will be approximately the size of the 1973 parade, which featured nearly 100 entries. The Honorable Governor Sherman Tribbitt will serve as parade marshal. Also in attendance will be Senator William Roth and his family.

This parade, one of the state's largest, will include antique cars, fire and rescue equipment, decorated cars and floats, as well as bands, other marching units, equestrian groups, individuals and novelty entries. Since the parade will coincide with Delaware Day, entries will be depicting the theme "A Delaware Christmas". High school bands will be judged by members of the MidAtlantic Judging Association and will be awarded cash prizes. Trophies will be presented to winners in other categories.

David Jones, master of ceremonies in previous parades, will once again man that position from the judges stand in front of Watkins' Auto Supply on Clark Street.

Following the parade, Santa will be home in his green and red home which is waiting for him at its new location in front of Food Rite in the Quillen Shopping Center. He will be there on Saturday afternoons from 1 to 3 p.m. until Christmas Eve. Sources say Santa is looking forward to his annual visit in the area and hopes to see all the youngsters here during his stay.

In the event of rain, the parade will be Saturday, Dec. 14.

Several Hats Are In The Ring

Elections Next Month

During the monthly council meeting Monday night, Mayor William Minner announced the City elections will be held January 14, 1975, from noon to 7 p.m. at the city's fire hall. Residents will be voting for a mayor and representatives from the third, fifth and sixth wards.

According to the city charter, the office of mayor is for two years, while a council member sits for a period of three years. Under ordinary circumstances, there are two council seats voted upon yearly. This year there will be three seats available, since no one ran for representative in the third ward last year. The seat was filled for one year by Dr. Vincent Lobo, who was appointed after the election this past January. He has filed for the two years left the Ward's councilmember.

John Satterfield, who was not available for comment after Monday night's meeting, has been appointed several times to fill the vacancy in the fifth ward, which is the smallest in the city. No one has filed to represent the fifth ward for several years and it is not known whether Satterfield will seek the council seat for this election. No one has filed from the fifth ward at this writing.

In the sixth ward, the location of the controversial

Reese Ave., incumbent councilmember Tharp Harrington reportedly will not seek re-election in January. Earl McColley, Sr., and Wilbert (Webb) Porter, both of Reese Ave., have filed for the seat.

Mayor Minner, who defeated Alfred Mann (former City manager) in both men's first bid for office, stated Monday night he will seek a second term. So far, Colonel Moses Huff, a black minister, who started his campaign earlier in the year but just recently has filed for the office, is the only opposition to Minner's bid.

To be eligible to hold the office of mayor or councilmember, one is required to be 21 years of age and a city resident for a minimum of two years. It is necessary to obtain ten to 25 signatures from city residents if seeking the office of mayor, and the same number from ward residents if seeking to be a councilmember. Petitions are available at the City Hall on Fleming Street and must be filed, which includes a notary's seal, by January 4, 1975. Since this date is a Saturday and the City office will not be open, the petition must be presented by January 3rd.

In order to be eligible to vote in the coming election, one must be 18 years old and must have lived in the city for six months in order to vote for the mayor's office, and be a resident of the ward for 30 days.

If there is question of which ward a resident lives in, The Journal will be showing a City map in a future edition prior to the election. A map of the wards is also available in the City Hall.

Those elected will be sworn into office on the Wednesday following the annual election at 7:30 p.m. in the council chambers in City Hall.

Police To Supply Dinner

This year the Harrington Police Dept. will supply a complete Christmas dinner to a family in need. To be eligible the family must live within the corporate limits of Harrington. Contact the police dept. at 398-4494 or at 103 Fleming Street if you know anyone who would qualify. The department will select the recipient on Dec. 23.

Dr. Hewitt Smith Dies In Florida

Hewitt W. Smith, M.D. a long time resident of Harrington, died of a heart attack, Wednesday, December 4 in St. Petersburg, Fla., after a long illness. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

High Winds, Heavy Rains Ravage Coast

On Sunday, the first winter storm ripped into the state, doing considerable damage to the coastline.

In Kent County, much of the damage was concentrated in the Bowers Beach and Mispillion Lighthouse section.

At Mispillion Lighthouse, Charles Fitzwater reported to The Journal that he was hit hard. "I just paid off the paper (mortgage) last year and now I will have to start all over again." Fitzwater runs the restaurant on the main dock at Mispillion Lighthouse. He had several 1000 gallon storage tanks for diesel and gasoline which had been covered with water. This fuel would have to be destroyed. He claims to have sat on the bar during the storm as more than 2 feet of water came into the restaurant. The water ruined all of his equipment which included his freezers, and french fryer. Fitzwater had no insurance.

City Manager of Harrington, Jack Harrington

reported that the City had an unusual amount of water but no real storm damage was reported.

Brigadier General Colbert W. Adams of Delaware National Guard, and Harrington resident, reported that it was not like 1962 but "...it was bad enough." Adams said units from Georgetown, Dagsboro, and Milford were called out to the beach areas. "Sometime between 11:00 p.m. and 1:00 a.m. the wind died down, and this seemed to be the real break," according to Adams.

Richard Johnson, District Manager of DP & L at Harrington, reported minor limb damages around Harrington. Johnson went on to relate: "Bowers Beach was the worst hit. We could not get into Bowers Sunday night, and in connection with the Bowers Fire Department, turned the current off to Bowers from 10:00 p.m. until 8:30 a.m. the following morning. This was done to prevent possible fires."

HUD, Planning And Zoning, Powell Head Council Meeting

At Monday night's Harrington City Council meeting, the upcoming City election was officially set for January 14 between 12:00 noon and 7:00 p.m. Of the six Wards in the City, three Wards (3rd, 5th and 6th) and the Mayor's seat are up for election. See related article.

At last month's meeting, the Council ruled that Sam Powell's septic truck should be kept out of the City limits for storage purposes. The truck has caused a great disturbance among the residents on Grant Street where Powell resides, and stores his truck. Powell again offered as his defense that the truck must be kept inside during cold weather to prevent its freezing. Powell listened to a Grant Street resident, Howard Horn, register a complaint that the truck is still kept on Powell's premises despite the ruling by Council that concluded the truck was there illegally mainly due to the fact that a commercial operation was being conducted in a residential area. Powell continues to put forth the argument that he is constructing a building on his farm on the Harrington-Milford road. As a further surprise in this matter, the Mayor, after hearing Horn's complaint, read a copy of a letter, from the Kent County Health unit, to the Council in which it was revealed that Powell had requested an inspection of his premises by health authorities. The contents of the letter in short concluded that Powell's truck was not a health hazard to the community. At least...as the letter further related...not in the winter time.

Gary Homewood

Gary Homewood, the Chairman of the Planning & Zoning Commission of the City, asked that Mayor and Council in future changes regarding the City refer to the Comprehensive Development Plan and refer these matters to the Planning & Zoning Commission as well.

The City of Harrington was four years old in 1874 when St. Stephen's Episcopal Church came into being. The church was built on Fleming Street on property conveyed to the Reverend J. Leighton McKim by Mr. Benjamin F. Fleming, for the sum of $150. The property was deeded over on April 17, 1875. The church which stands there today held its first worshippers January 30, 1876.

Prior to the founding date of 1874, three men who were lured to this area by extraordinary accounts of the soil and climate of lower Delaware (a common practice carried out by real estate agents and farmers having land to sell) wrote to their bishop in New York requesting his influence for a "donation for the purpose of building a chapel at Harrington". These three men, Aaron Barlow, A.B. Barlow, and S.P. Hewes visited Mr. McKim, rector of Homewood further requested in writing that Mayor and Council formally grant to the P & Z Commission the right to make a complete study of the Reese Avenue matter and the surrounding events leading up to the recent controversy.

In other matters before the Council, Leon Weiner has made another proposal to the City Council in that he now wishes to connect into the sewer at a point on Center St. between West St. and Dorman St. The Council is expected to reject this proposal since it does not tie in with the overall comprehensive plan for the City's sewer expansion. Weiner proposes to construct a housing complex for HUD and The State Housing Authority. Work is not to begin on the project until the sewer matter is settled. Council left the door open for Weiner to come back to their original proposal where the sewer line would be taken along North St. to an interceptor at Calvin and North St. intersection.

100 Years For St. Stephen's

Christ Church, Milford, in the spring of 1868, and asked him to hold services on Sunday afternoon in their district school house, twice a month. They intended to build a church with the moneys realized from the large crops they expected to harvest from their land. The promise was not made good when the crops failed to materialize to their expectations, and the church was not built at that time.

In 1870 a worshiper at the Harrington School House offered to give a lot, but declined to execute the deed until the church was built. In 1871 a foundation was laid on this lot, and some materials were contracted for, but the site was later abandoned and the lot on Fleming Street was subsequently purchased in 1875.

The funds for building the original church were raised by subscription, the greater portion being contributed by Rev. McKim. It is recorded that the Young Men's Missionary Association gave a total of $100 during 1870 and 1871. This money was given to Mr. McKim, to be used at his discretion, towards building a church, and if not, for his own support while endeavoring to do so. The society was entirely voluntary.

The little church flourished precariously when Rev. McKim left the area having been open only two and a half years. It remained closed nearly a year, to be opened for a short period of time, only to be closed again. In January 1882, Mr. Jackson took charge of a dwindling congregation during a three year period. In May 1885 the church closed for nearly four years.

During this period the church was nearly destroyed by vandals; windows were completely broken, a melodeon was ruined, even the door of the porch was forced from its hinges, leaving the church to all manner of 'profane and improper use'.

In 1894, following a very sporadic number of services, the church once again came under Mr. McKim's administrations and continued without intermission until May 1, 1913. (?)

Various ministers filled the post from that date to 1930. It was then the Rev. Joseph Hinks, of Milford, served until June 1, 1956. At this writing he continues taking part in the services and related activities of St. Stephen's and Christ Church, Milford. He was on hand Wednesday evening to cut the three-tiered cake and had a few remarks for the gathering.

The present building, on Raughley Hill Road, was dedicated by the Rt. Rev. J. Brooke Mosely, in May of 1960, at a diocesan convention. The Rev. John R. Symonds, Jr., rector from 1957 to 1962, was instrumental in the construction of the new church. The Rev. Quay Rice served St. Stephen's from 1962 to 1971. Following a 2 1/2 year period when St. Stephen's was without a resident priest, the present rector, the Rev. Bruce Shortell began his ministry in September 1973.

It is said that history repeats itself, and so it seems to be with the original church of St. Stephen's on Fleming Street. The church passed from the church family of St. Stephen's to house several congregations, but at this writing, stands vacant and reportedly is suffering once again the attack of vandals.

The church family is indeed fortunate, however, on its centennial date to have at its disposal a handsome house of worship, a parish hall, rooms available for Sunday School and meetings, as well as an office and a separate vicarage. The facilities are used by the Harrington Day Care Center five days a week and occasionally by other community organizations. More importantly, there is a resident priest and a growing congregation. The founders, respective priests and congregations involved could feel their endeavors were not in vain.

The centennial celebration will be carried into 1975 with various activities planned.

Mrs. Chester (Norma) Short, will be the stenographer at City of Harrington for City meetings.

"but he only makes $40,000 a year."

With our nation and the entire world in a turmoil, we face another winter and the shortages which such a season implies. As the new Congress selects its leaders for the next session, we find turmoil there as well. As Wilbur Mills takes a glance over his shoulder at which was once believed to be one of the most impeccable political careers in Washington, we can say that even those who opposed Nixon are sinking to low ebbs as well. Where will it all end. The American public quietly hopes for and seeks a breath of fresh air. As this new Congress begins to settle down for another session, there begins a struggle for power as well on the congressional level. The outcome is likely to be that men like Mills will be stripped of their power which they have held for years.

It was interesting to note that the doorman of the House of Representatives would be retained again at his usual salary of $40,000 a year. It made me wonder at the time with utter disgust at such situations. With many small towns and cities across this land facing bankruptcy if the Federal government discontinues the revenue sharing program...which it has threatened to do...what will then happen to people who hold down these "important government jobs" at the fiscal and financial risk of all Americans.

With the extinguishing of the revenue sharing programs taken from our small communities, we will then have to learn to do it on our own once again. We must become producers once again or learn to do without the services which are paid for by tax dollars. Frankly I like the idea of the City picking up my garbage, rendering police protection to the residents, and in general providing more and better services to the community. I know that without the revenue sharing we cannot hope to have all of the services provided...but one thing the revenue sharing is not providing is a $40,000 doorman. If we cut out government waste, we will be able to better protect those things which mean a great deal to us.

THAT'S MY CHOICE...WHAT'S YOURS?

Town And Country

A beautiful flowering plant is a wonderful way to express the spirit of the Christmas season. Consider these important points when purchasing a gift plant: 1) The plant should be healthy, well-shaped and of suitable size. Flowers should be abundant, but just beginning to open. Foliage should be clean, of good color, and free of pests. 2) Choose the type or variety of plant that you feel will flower most dependably in its future home. A favorable location and proper care may greatly lengthen the blooming period. 3) Choice may depend on whether the plant is to be discarded after flowering or kept indefinitely. However, few Christmas plants make satisfactory house or garden plants after they have flowered.

Christmas plants, of course, have been grown under ideal conditions in greenhouses. Although these growing conditions cannot be provided in the average home, you can supply certain basic needs. Meeting these needs will allow you to enjoy your plant for a longer time. 1) Give the plant plenty of light (a sunny windowsill is usually ideal). On very cold days, be sure to keep foliage from touching the window pane and being frost-bitten. 2) Give the plant reasonably cool temperatures (generally 60 to 70 degrees during the day, 50 to 60 degrees at night). 3) Keep the plant out of drafts (constantly moving air, regardless of its temperature, is harmful). 4) Keep the soil evenly moist, but not soggy. 5) When you decide on a suitable location, keep the plant there -- moving it about requires it to adjust itself over and over.

Florists, garden centers and supermarkets all offer various flowering plants for Christmas gift-giving. The following list includes the most popular varieties and their care: POINSETTIA - A most popular flowering plant and a Christmas tradition. New, longer-lasting varieties are available. Needs a sunny, draft-free location with the room temperature between 60 and 70 degrees. Keep the soil moist. With the right care, it can be made to flower again next Christmas. CHRYSANTHEMUM - Welcome at Christmas or any time for its mass of colorful, long-lasting blooms. Provide full sun, plenty of water, and a temperature between 60 and 70 degrees. Since most Christmas mums aren't hardy, discard the plant after flowering. KALANCHOE - Pronounced, "kal-an-Ko'e", this small, flesh-leaved plant has cheery clusters of scarlet flowers. Needs full sunlight and a temperature of 60 to 70 degrees. Keep soil moist but do not over-water. You can keep this as a foliage plant after the flowers are gone. CHRISTMAS BEGONIA - A well-budded plant will flower several weeks. Needs a sunny window, lots of water, and temperatures of 70 to 75 degrees during the day and 60 to 65 degrees at night. Discard after blooming. CYCLAMEN - Attractive plant with interesting foliage and beautiful flowers. It will bloom for many weeks if temperatures are kept cool (65 to 70 degrees during the day, 50 to 55 degrees at night). Also, give the plant bright light and plenty of water, but avoid wetting the crown. Discard the plant after flowering. CHRISTMAS CACTUS - Unusual looking but popular, this cactus has pink or red fuchsia-like flowers. It does best when grown in sun at cool temperatures (60 to 70 degrees). Keep the soil moist. It can last indefinitely as a house plant, but special care will be required for a repeat bloom next Christmas. AZALEA - This handsome shrub provides a mass of indoor bloom. If purchasing a plant, select one with many flower buds but few open flowers. Place in a cool (60 to 65 degrees), well-lighted location. Keep the plant well watered and the faded flowers removed. Since florist varieties do not make dependable garden plants, discard the plant after it stops blooming.

Pool Proposed

Bill McCabe, former resident of Harrington who owns property in the City, came before City Council on Monday night with a variance request affecting lots which he recently purchased on Hanley St. adjacent to the Climer property. The Council saw fit to grant this request based on the fact that properties adjacent to these lots already had improvements on them within the setback lines on the front of the property. The front setback line calls for 30 feet from the property line, but McCabe got this amended by the variance request to enable him to be able to build houses at a 20 foot setback distance.

McCabe requested that the Mayor and Council consider the prospects of a community swimming pool. When the Legion discontinued the pool on their property, this left the community without this type of facility. McCabe said there is a need for this sort of recreation, and if Mayor and Council would conduct a study on this and report by the next Council meeting, he would disclose a plan of how to finance it.

Stores Checked For Banned Toys

Volunteer Consumer Deputies throughout Delaware have begun this month to canvass stores in Delaware for banned toys as part of the Consumer Product Safety Commission's second annual holiday season toy safety campaign according to the State Division of Consumer Affairs which is the liaison for this federal agency in Delaware.

The Commission estimates that last year 150,000 children and adults required hospital emergency room treatment for injuries associated with toys. More than 150,000 different kind of toys currently deck the nation's toy shelves. During the prime toy purchasing months of October, November and December, the Commission distributes information and educational material to inform consumers about the hazards associated with toys. In Delaware, Director Frances West, and members of her staff have spoken to various groups regarding toy safety.

Since 1970, about 1,700 toys and other articles used by children have been banned for hazards such as small parts, sharp edges and sharp points. Although it is illegal to sell banned products, last year 100 volunteer Consumer Deputies visited 131 stores and turned up over 106 categories of banned toys in Delaware. We have had excellent cooperation from store managers in Delaware.

The Consumer Deputies are not official CPSC employees. They are trained, however, by CPSC staff working out of 14 area offices to use the CPSC Banned Products List to spot potentially dangerous rattles, dolls, mechanical animals and other toys.

When they discover a toy or other article intended for use by children that appears on the banned toy list, they ask the store manager to remove it from sale and to check his supplier to ascertain whether it is a banned hazardous product. Most store managers cooperate in this volunteer compliance effort, and in cases of non-cooperation or suspected violations, CPSC inspectors will make an official visit within a few days.

The Consumer Deputy program started as a pilot project by the Food and Drug Administration. The success of the program encouraged its adoption by the Consumer Product Safety Commission in 1973 after it inherited jurisdiction over the Federal Hazardous Substances Act which regulates toys and other articles intended for use by children.

In Delaware the Consumer Deputy Volunteers are members of the American Association of University Women, Newark Welcome Wagon, Family Centered Parents, St. Edmonds' Womens Guild and interested consumers. In addition to their work during the holidays these volunteers assist the Division of Consumer Affairs in distributing information throughout the year on banned or hazardous products.

Based on its experiences with the previous Consumer Deputy programs that primarily utilized individual volunteers, the commission this year will focus enlistment of existing consumer groups and women's and other community organizations throughout the country. This was the procedure used in Delaware last year.

For additional information about the toy safety program in Delaware, call Betty Campanella, Division of Consumer Affairs 201 West 14th Street, Wilmington. Call 571-3250 in Wilmington; 678-4000 in Kent County; 856-2571 in Sussex County. Residents may also report their concerns directly to the Consumer Product Safety Commission by calling their toll-free hotline - 800-638-2666.

Johnny Cash Film To Be Shown

The story is old, but the perspective is up-dated and brought into sharp focus by the film The Gospel Road to be shown on Sunday, December 8, at Asbury United Methodist Church, Harrington. The showing will begin at 7 p.m. No admission charge.

The Gospel Road, distributed by World Wide Pictures, was conceived and produced by Johnny Cash and his wife, June Carter Cash, whose desire was to tell the story of Jesus Christ in a realistic and meaningful way. The film is a unique blend of scripture-based narrative, an abundant supply of specially written songs, and a series of in-depth character portrayals, with Israel itself as the mixing bowl.

Adding to the effectiveness of The Gospel Road in its endeavor to convey reality for this day are: the fascinating treatment of the Crucifixion, making this tragedy an event of significance that reaches from its own time across the years to take on meaning for all men of all ages; and the songs and background music of Johnny Cash and other outstanding musicians, whose contemporary style is not out of keeping with the story.

Chipman Hockey Team Is Undefeated

W. T. Chipman's hockey team has just completed an undefeated season. "Not surprising," says Miss Violet Testerman, the coach. "The team has worked hard and well together. It's been the best hockey team Chipman has ever had and they have set a new school scoring record." The scores for the games this season prove out the team's efforts as their record stands: against Selbyville 3-0, 1-1; against Easton 4-2, 1-1; against Laurel 1-1, 0-0.

Chambers and Laura Neunam, felt their successful season was due, in large part, to the coaching and high morale displayed by Miss Testerman.

Bucs Lose Shot At Championship

By Ray Blanchette

St. Mark's High School used two quick first quarter touchdowns enroute to their 41-18 win over Milford in the 4th annual Delaware High School Football Tournament, Friday night in Wilmington.

Before this game both squads sported superb 10-0 records but it was evident very early that St. Mark's would win their 11th. On the third play of the game the Spartan's quarterback Mike Hodgson hit end Steve Watson on a 61 yard pass and run play. Hodgson added the extra point for a lightening quick 7-0 lead.

Following the ensuing kickoff, the Buccaneers looked like they were going to come back but failed on a fourth and two situation. St. Mark's then drove 59 yards in eight plays to score on another pass from Hodgson to Watson, this one covering six yards. With 3:54 still left in the opening period the Spartans led 14-0.

Milford then had another unsuccessful drive as did St. Mark's who stalled on the 35 yard line. Here Milford quarterback Keith Betts got off an inspiring 65 yard run to cut the score to 14-6 with 8:24 left in the half.

After an unsuccessful drive by both teams, St. Mark's drove 80 yards in nine plays to put themselves ahead 20-6. Chuck Hunter (31 carries, 213 yards) accounted for 53 of the yards including the final 31.

Just before the end of the first half Milford suffered a big blow to their second half chances for a comeback when star runner Curt Beulah was ejected from the game for punching an opposing player. The Bucs were only penalized three times for 31 yards while the Spartans were penalized 12 times for 107 yards.

St. Mark's was not about to let Milford get any closer as they once again drove 80 yards for a score with Hunter plunging in from the one. With a 27-6 lead, Watson was attempting to punt but it was blocked by Lynwood Bowe. Rich Harmon picked up the loose ball and ran 30 yards to set up the second Milford touchdown.

Betts ran the final four yards for the score. The try for two points failed and at the end of the third period the score was 27-12. St. Mark's took the ensuing kickoff and drove 66 yards for another touchdown on a three yard run by Bob Bilenon. Nathan Weaver then scored Milford's last touchdown on a 16 yard run.

With a fourth and six situation on the Milford 49, Watson fumbled the snap on the punt. He picked it up, and when he stopped he had run 50 yards for his third score of the game. Hodgson added the kick for the final 41-18 score.

Before this game Milford, co-champion of the Henlopen Conference, had averaged 36.3 points per game while allowing only 6.2 points per game. St. Mark's had averaged 28.1 points while allowing only 7.6 points per game.

The Spartans have won 20 in a row and will meet Christiana next Saturday for the championship. Against Milford St. Mark's led in first downs 21-11, rushing yardage 380-203, and passing yardage 94-31.

Milford's lone bright spot was Betts who ran for 129 yards on only 12 carries. Seniors who played their last game for the Bucs were: Don Johnson, Eric Watson, Keith Betts, Marvin Smith, Curt Beulah, Charley Saunders, Allen Sivils, Ed Batnard, Bill Eisenbrey, Ron Cirnithian, Brian Adams, Rich Harmon, Ron Lindale, Mike Savage, Bob Davis, Fentress Traxon, and David Helsdon.

"When are electric rates going to stop going up?"

We wish we knew.

Just as we wish we knew when our own costs were going to stop going up. Because it's our increased costs that are forcing increases in your electric rates.

You're familiar with what's happening to some of these costs. For example, the price of the fuel we need to generate electricity. Many electric companies have been paying two times as much for fuel as they did in 1972. Others have been faced with even greater increases.

You're also familiar with environmental regulations. To date, Delmarva Power has invested over 50 million dollars on environmental measures. This huge added investment, which we continue to make, has a direct effect on our costs.

You may also know that since 1972 electric companies have committed nearly two hundred million dollars to research and development to find better ways to generate electricity.

Then when you add the increased costs of equipment and supplies along with today's higher costs for borrowed money, you can see the pressure that's being put on electric rates.

Like you, we wish everybody's prices could be kept down. But there is just no way to keep electric rates down when the costs of everything needed to produce electricity keep going up.

Biden Pleased With Transit Bill

Senator Joseph R. Biden, Jr., (D) said recently he was pleased with the final passage, and signing into law by President Ford, of the Mass Transit Bill. The bill, which passed the Senate last week by a vote of 64 to 17, authorized the expenditure of $11.8 billion through fiscal year 1980 for operating expenses and capital improvements for the nation's mass transit system.

"Transportation accounts for nearly 24 percent of America's total energy consumption," Biden pointed out, "and 52 percent (9 million barrels a day) of the U.S. petroleum consumption. If we are to expect our people to reduce gasoline consumption, as they must, then we must provide them with alternative public transportation systems."

"Improved mass transit systems," Biden continued, "not only provide desperately needed savings in fuel consumption, but also have a positive effect on air quality while reducing congestion of our highways."

Biden also noted that thirty years ago America enjoyed a much larger and effective public transit system than we have today. In 1945, for example, there were nearly 19 billion trips made on our various public transportation systems. But in 1973, in spite of our increase in population, this number fell to 5 billion.

"We need to restore our mass transit system," Biden said, "at least to its World War II level. We must view mass transit for what it really is - not just an expenditure - but as an investment we cannot afford not to make."
