Love's Group Is Third Purchaser

Love Spearheads New Company To Acquire Delmarva Line

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
Publisher

For the past three weeks, since H. Graham Claytor toured the Delmarva Line of the Penn Central R.R., excitement has been mounting about the likelihood that someone is going to purchase the Penn-Central R.R. It is quite likely that the railroad will be sold off in parts, for there are some 20,000 odd miles of track connected with the Penn Central.

We have been keying our interest on the Delmarva Line for it is the main line from Wilmington to Cape Charles. As a result it goes through the town of Harrington.

Last May a group calling itself the Eastern Shore R.R. Co. headed by Mark E. Love of Bucks County, Pa., met with the Delmarva Advisory Council in an effort to begin negotiations which could possibly lead to the purchase of the Delmarva Line of Penn Central. The conversations and discussions carried over a period through August. Mark E. Love is a former employee of Penn Central in the operations and planning department. He came to Penn Central as a result of the merger in 1968 between the Pennsylvania R.R. and N.Y. Central R.R. He gained a vast amount of experience and knowledge concerning the Delmarva Line for he was assigned the task to do an evaluation study on parts of Penn Central's lines, which included Delmarva, to determine which should be abandoned, upgraded and the like. With our own section of the country the branches off the Delmarva main line were studied like the one from Harrington to Snow Hill, Georgetown to Rehoboth, Massey to Centerville, King Creek to Crisfield and the like. The study and the knowledge proved to be very valuable for the coming events. Love was convinced after the study that the Delmarva Line could be maintained and operated at a profit. Whether those reviewing the study approved of this recommendation is not an issue in this article.

Love, in 1974, did move away from Penn Central and formed a group with two other men who shared his thoughts. They are Martin T. Dyke and Daniel W. Kitchen. Mr. Love held as basically correct the process of acquiring the railroad as appeared in the two previous editions of the paper concerning the articles on Seaboard and the Southern Railway. Theoretically after United States Railroad Association (U.S.R.A.) disbans in favor of Conrail, the railroad will be disposed of piecemeal for Penn Central. No one, according to Love, is convinced that this can be accomplished...not even U.S.R.A. because of governmental entanglements. However if all goes well, Conrail could be formed in the spring, and the final sale to take place in the summer.

When Love was asked about the sales price for the Delmarva Line, his comments were that for the longest time it was hard to determine what U.S.R.A. was seeking. The vagueness was pointed out in the two previous articles of this newspaper as well. A salvage price is talked about, but it is not defined. The consideration as far as the old corporations are concerned like Seaboard and Southern would most probably be with stock. The new corporation, the Eastern Shore R.R., would trade negotiable securities and mortgage bonds, or what the creditors of Penn Central will accept. Remembering of course that once U.S.R.A. has acquired all the properties of Penn Central, they then will distribute the properties to Conrail, who in turn will sell to one of the three companies taking back the negotiable securities for the creditors of Penn Central. It will be a complicated process.

Love explained one of his biggest problems will be in the change over from the Trustees of Penn Central to the new group...if he is selected. He feels that his function, as is the case with the other two men in the group, is to select key people to run the day to day operations of the railroad and concentrate more on long range management planning. He would like to see the new corporation eventually go public. As Love sees it, the other railroads have their own problems now and with the acquisition of Delmarva Line, it would mean one more problem. With his group, they will be Delmarva, and that problem will be a singular one which they will deal with on a day to day basis. Every customer will be of the most uppermost concern of this new corporation. In following this rationale, they feel that they can give better service to this once highly traveled line. The evaluation study enabled Love to study in depth the problems of the Delmarva Line and in particular the float barge at Little Creek. He saw the need then as now to update the old barge, which according to some is completely outdated and in bad shape. As Love puts it, Penn Centrl always had a more pressing need elsewhere...like a 100 new freight cars for some other point and the prime consideration for the Delmarva Line being by-passed. If traffic could be improved with the barge across the Chesapeake Bay, this rail service could be solving many of the traffic problems around Baltimore and Washington, as pointed out in earlier articles.

What would the purchase entail and cover? The properties, according to Love would be all of Penn Central's Line from Wilmington to Cape Charles which is the main

Meeting Reveals Check Irregularities

City Officials Take Oath

On January 15th, the new Harrington City Council met following the elections held on the 14th to determine organizational positions. After Alderman Anna Hampton swore in William A. Minner as Mayor for two more years, she did likewise for councilmen, Dr. Vincent Lobo, John Satterfield and Earl McColley. Councilman Rev. William Griffin was selected by fellow council members to serve as Vice Mayor and Howard Wagner of Peoples Bank was selected City Treasurer.

City Manager Jack Harrington's nomination was placed before Council as Secretary to the Council. Opposition was first raised by councilman William Shaw to Harrington's appointment. A letter was then passed among the Council members, the contents of which had requested an investigation by Chief of Police Ed Layton to look into allegations that the Mayor's signature had been affixed to "some" checks drawn on the City account without the Mayor's knowledge.

Discussions at the council table then revealed that after an earlier monthly meeting in November and executive session had been held at the Mayor's request to discuss the matter of the checks which had been discovered by the team of accountants auditing the books. The auditors discovered some irregularities in the Mayor's signature. This was reported to the Mayor who in turn, it was stated, revealed the matter to the Council in the executive session.

Chief Layton's investigation, as stated before Council, revealed that some 20 checks had been signed with the Mayor's name but not in the handwriting of the Mayor. Layton claimed handwriting experts identified the writing of the Mayor's signature to be that of the City Manager. Layton did not make any further details available to the public and press, but he pointed out that no personal financial gain had resulted from this alleged act.

Councilman Wyatt asked Harrington if he in fact did sign the Mayor's name to those checks. Harrington's answer was "Yes..." Newly elected Councilman Earl McColley asked to be left out of the discussion "for he was hearing it for the first time, an knew nothing of the background."

Councilman Griffin repeatedly asked, "where do we go from here gentlemen," and together with Councilman Satterfield seemed disturbed that Harrington's reputation could be damaged. City Manager Harrington explained the motive for signing the Mayor's signature was related to payroll checks for he would not see the Mayor for weeks at a time. An employee could not cash the check unless the check was signed. The City Charter only authorizes the Mayor to sign checks. Councilmen Lobo, Shaw and Wyatt wanted the matter brought out through an investigation as a proper means to handle the situation.

Allegedly the Mayor approved of the investigation when Chief Layton informed him of the investigation request. Wyatt in response to Griffin's request, suggested that the City's attorney be at the next monthly meeting.

The next regular meeting will be held on the 10th of February rather than the regular date of February 3rd. The question will be discussed at that time on how to proceed with the matter. In the meantime, City Manager Jack Harrington was appointed temporary secretary to the Council.

Mark 7 Shuts Doors

Mark 7 Seafoods & Industries in Houston closed Jan. 10 and has left 110 employees without jobs. The company, which was started by Mulk R. Prudent, a native of Pakistan, operated on the site of the Libby, McNeill & Libby frozen food plant.

The business was to have primarily been the processing of seafood, grown on created farms of locally grown catfish. The plan had to be abandoned it was reported, because it was not economical in terms of demand. The vegetable processing however, had turned out fairly well.

Prudent was forced to sell Mark 7's assets to pay back monies loaned by the Mercantile Bankshare Corp. of Baltimore, which had demanded immediate repayment of the loan.

Prudent stated he hoped the plant could re-open some way.

employees, he quickly responded, "Yes...indeed." This is provided by I.C.C. under a uniform agreement which applies to situations such as this, add Love. He would anticipate a union shop in the new corporation, and most

Senior Citizen Forum Slated

Senator Joseph R. Biden, Jr. (D-Del.) will sponsor his second Senior Citizens' Forum on Saturday, February 8th, at Milford Senior High School in Milford, Delaware.

The Forum, from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. will provide older Delawareans with an opportunity to discuss their concerns with Senator Biden and federal officials who administer programs for the elderly.

All older Delawareans are invited and reservations may be made by telephoning Senator Biden's Wilmington Office at 800-292-9539 (toll free for Kent and Sussex Counties) or 571-6345 (for New Castle County). Participants should bring their own lunches, but beverages will be provided.

Federal officials attending the Forum will include

Maurice Dewberry, Regional Commissioner of the Social Security Administration; Jesse Lynn, Health Specialist in the Social Security Administration; Helen Holt, Assistant to the Secretary of HUD for Programs for the Elderly; Nelda Scott, Internal Revenue Service Taxpayers' Representatives; William Oriol, Staff Director of the Senate Special Committee on Aging; and Jim Young, Program Manager for the Urban Mass Transit Administration (DOT).

Senator Biden's first Senior Citizens' Forum was held last November in Wilmington. At that time the Senator announced his plans to hold a similar Forum more centrally located for residents of Kent and Sussex Counties.

Band Boosters Canvass For Uniforms

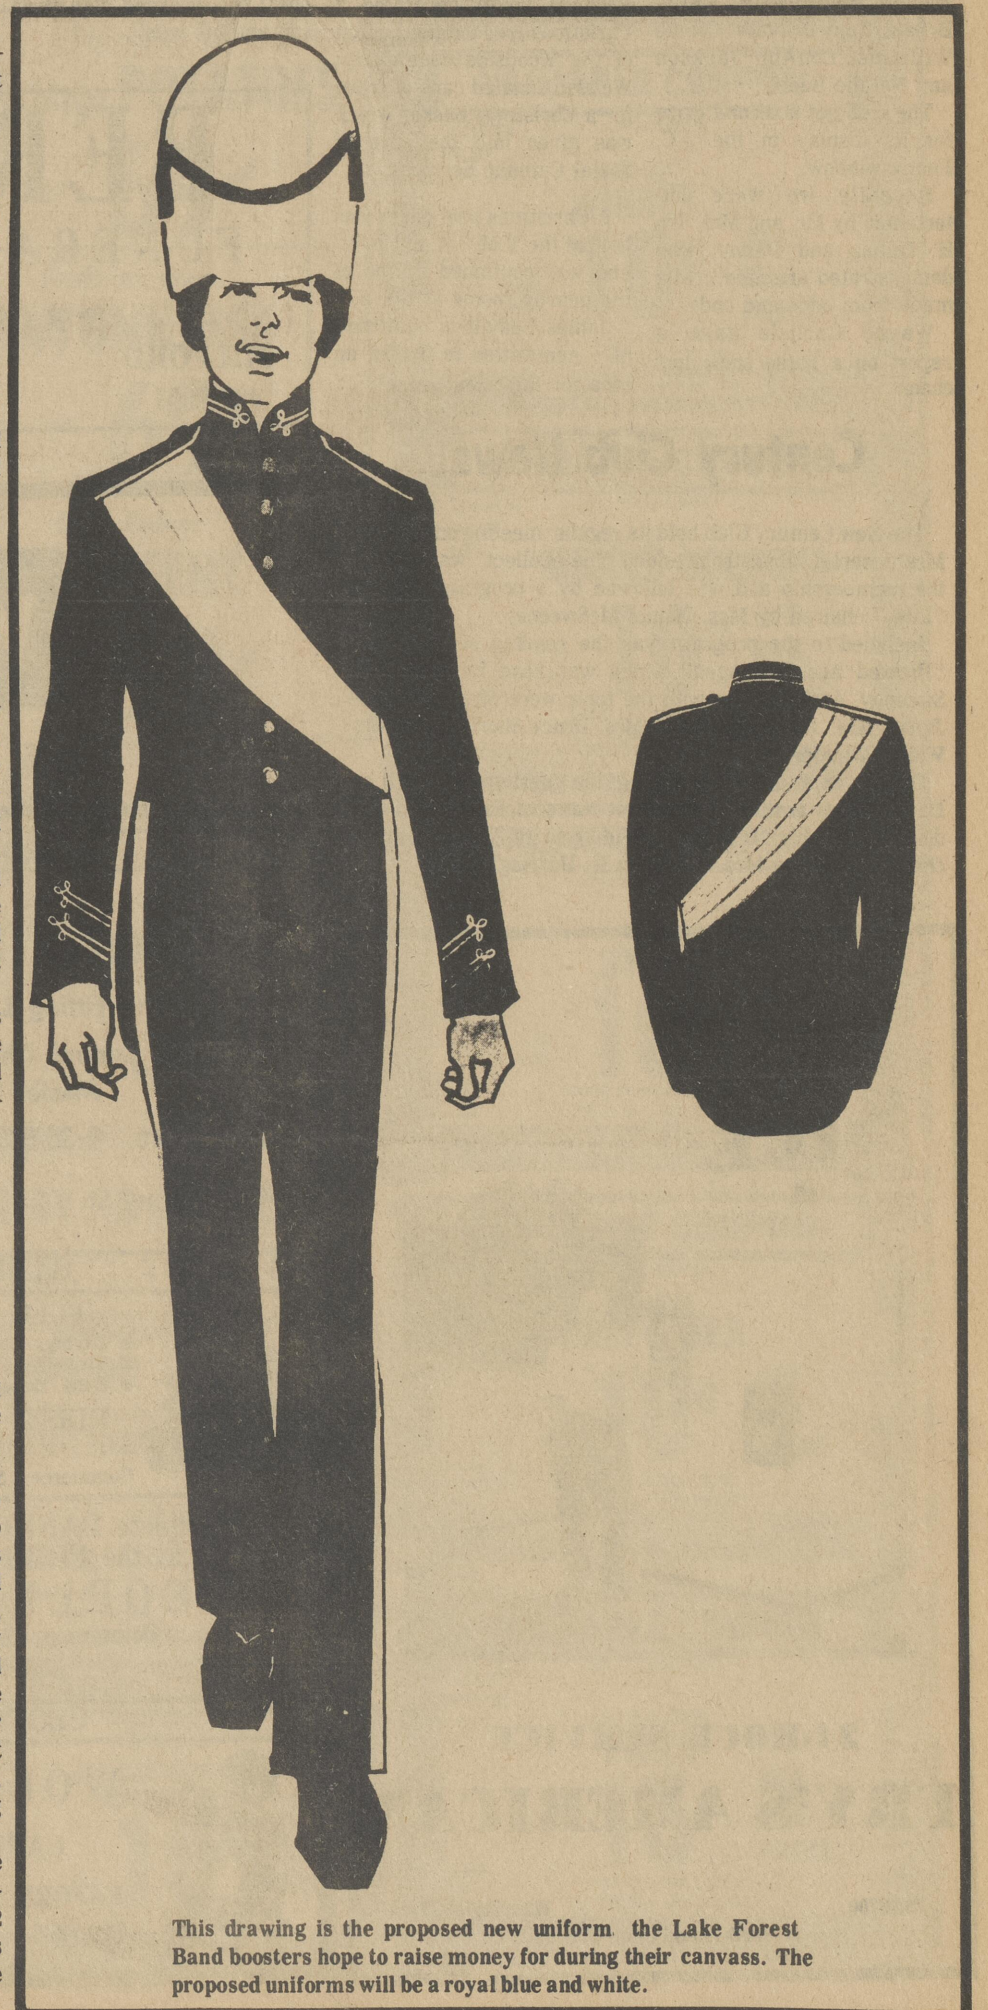

On Saturday, February 1, members of the Lake Forest Band Boosters and the W.T. Chipman Band members and their parents will begin an area door to door canvass in hopes of raising money to help finance new band uniforms for the junior high school.

The new uniforms will cost approximately $135 each, with majorette and pom-pom uniforms costing less. The uniforms presently being used by the Chipman band have been in use from 12 to 22 years. One student this year remarked she is wearing the same uniform her cousin wore 20 years before.

The W.T. Chipman Band has had successful years since its existence, first performing under the baton of long-time band director Melvin Brobst, and following his retirement, Alex Becton for the past two years. In this school year to date, the Chipman band has placed first in the Milford and Rehoboth Halloween parades, it took second in the Salisbury V.F.W. parade and included the Dover Halloween parade for the first time. Their presence is also evident during parades in Harrington, especially the homecoming and Christmas parades.

Members will be in the Harrington area on Feb. 1 between the hours of 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. They will canvass surrounding areas the following two Saturdays.

This drawing is the proposed new uniform the Lake Forest Band boosters hope to raise money for during their canvass. The proposed uniforms will be a royal blue and white.

Delmarva Line

probably the same union which now represents Seaboard and Southern employees.

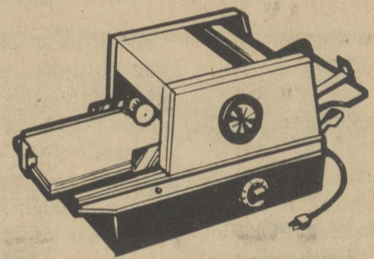

Finally something about this man Mark Love. He is 32 years old. A graduate 10 years ago this June of St. Ambrose College in Davenport, Iowa, having majored in economics and political science. He joined a railroad after graduation...the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, in the traffic department. From there, he moved to the St. Louis and San Francisco R.R.

An opening developed at N.Y. Central in the management training program, and he remained there for 18 months prior to the merger in 1968 with the Pennsylvania R.R. and N.Y. Central R.R. While at N.Y. Central he learned the real "nuts and bolts" of a railroad system, and made him ready for the eventual study which he made for Penn Central concerning the upgrading and abandonment of certain areas of the Penn Central R.R. He acted in that capacity as an "in-house consultant" at Penn Central. Since 1974 he has been with a transportation consulting firm as well as working to raise capital to purchase the Delmarva Line of Penn Central.

In future editions of this newspaper, an attempt is being made to do an in-depth study and reporting to the readers of this newspaper concerning the history and development of Penn Central. It will be designed to carry down to the sale and transfer of properties of Penn Central.

Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

"...some say that Mark Love is running with the pack, but I say that he is MOVING ON THE RAIL."

While the country staggers under a great cloud of economic chaos, life nevertheless goes on. The President is caught up on energy conservation plans dealing mainly with oil. The import of foreign oil is running well over 7 million barrels a day. The intent is to get tough and cut this consumption by a million barrels a day. The domestic production of oil is shrinking correspondingly. So...the end result is to adopt a program of federal "rationing" in order to avoid a wipe out of the conservative gains achieved over the last year.

Oil isn't the only problem that faces us. There are many more. The country needs to get going again. We need new goals...something to look to which we can achieve. One wonders sometimes if this old ship of state isn't too old. Has she reached an age like other countries in history at this point in time when her internal problems have become too much to unravel and solve. Where is that spirit...the spirit that won the West, and the determination to overcome greater odds and adversities that we today can appreciate. Can we really imagine the great hardships which faced our small army and General Washington that bitter cold winter at Valley Forge. Go up there some time and see how those troops lived that winter. Some of course did not make it through...others with strong constitution and perseverance did. There was no concern then among the living and dead about foreign oil...Arab oil...whether it was 7 or seven million barrels a day. They made do with what they had. They pressed on...as did the settlers who pushed west not knowing what fate was ahead only that danger was stalking near at hand.

To be sure we should be concerned with the problems that face us abroad, but our attentions should be focused upon our own section of the country. I love this section of the world...Delmarva, and so have those I have met elsewhere who have traveled these parts. There is something very eccentric yet peaceful about our land. Maybe it is the people. There is someone who is coming with a rush...who loves it too. It would seem almost as much as we do, for he is willing at the age of 32 to sink a whole lot of money in Delmarva. He is in love with our country. I know for I have talked with him, and it is only fitting that his name is MARK E. LOVE a mid-westerer now living in Bucks County, Pa. He has a persuasive way about him that exhibits a convincing manner. I think that he has hit on a very simple issue that should rate paramount importance with us peers. He views the Delmarva Line of the Penn-Central R.R. as a main line...not a branch line as maybe Penn Central views it.

He and two other men want to purchase this line of Penn Central. They have convinced a few mortgage bankers, and caused many older railroad heads to sit up and take notice. He may appear to be running at half-throttle with the pack...but he is actually moving on the rail. To horsemen of Delmarva, that can only mean that he is getting closer to the finish line. He has the spirit too and courage to battle the economic odds ahead of us to make his venture a success. His task...if he acquires the railroad...is to rebuild the Delmarva Line. Jobs available! Why there will be more work for those who want to work, and Delmarva will be a main line again with frequently scheduled freight trains.

In times such as these it is encouraging to witness someone like Mark Love who is trying to improve the situation. Leave something a little better than you found it. This has to be encouraging to our feelings, and gives us something to look forward to with excitement. When you think of Mark Love, think of him running with the pack (Seaboard and Southern)...but remember he is really MOVING ON THE RAIL. With that kind of an outlook, the ship of state will never grow old...nor will Delmarva.

HARTSVILLE, S.C., MESSENGER: "During the gas shortage, everyone slowed down and remarked how great it was to loaf along at a sedate 55 miles per hour. Now the S. C. State Highway Patrol reports that drivers are speeding up again. We notice that the kids have started 'gittin rubber' again on the city streets. It just goes to show that most of us live for the present, with little care about next year or even next week. In this respect we are like the dog whose only concern is the next meal."

Our Men In Washington

Roth Warns Against More Deficit Spending

Senator Bill Roth warned tonight that Federal budget deficits expected during the next two years could trigger a new round of inflationary pressures that would dwarf the present rate of inflation.

In a speech to the Newark Republican Men's Club in Newark, the senior Delaware senator said that reasoned, carefully applied fiscal policies can succeed in restoring economic growth without worsening inflation.

"But we must keep in mind," Roth said, "the fact that we are experiencing an unheard of combination of recession and inflation, and large doses of the traditional weapons to fight recession - primarily massive increases in Federal spending and renewed monetary stimulation - will only sow the seeds of an even higher, more destructive rate of inflation.

"These highly stimulative fiscal policies might end the recession temporarily, but only at the price of renewed price increases and economic instability."

Roth said that measures taken to stimulate the economy must be cut back or eliminated when a recovery is achieved. For this reason, he said, a tax cut is the best stimulus. It will not increase the budget deficit as much as a comparable increase in Federal spending would, he said.

The burden of holding the line on government spending rests primarily on the Congress, Roth said.

"For years Congress ignored the warnings about the impact of its spending practices, until the pressures created by more and more Federal spending, by the huge budget deficits, and by the growing national debt exploded into inflation, and then collapsed into recession."

Roth noted that budget deficits of $34 billion and $46 billion have been forecast for the current and next fiscal years. These are low estimates based on an assumption that Congress will agree to spending cutbacks and delays of about $15 billion, he said.

Biden Approves Tax Cut

The new 94th Congress has just convened and its first week was a busy one.

First of all, the Senate took long overdue steps toward conducting its business in public. Both Republican and Democratic Senators voted in their individual meetings in favor of requiring that all committee meetings be open and that the important conferences at which Senate and House members meet to reach compromises on legislation also be opened. I supported these moves at the meeting of Democrats and my colleague, Senator Roth, was a sponsor of the open-meetings resolution at the meeting of Republican Senators.

The Nation's business was not overlooked, either. The President shared his economic program with the Congress in his State-of-the-Union Message, which was to-the-point, realistic, and without fancy words.

In my opinion, President Ford has now finally understood what needs to be done in the midst of the worst economic times since the 1930's Depression. He understands that three things need to be done:

1. Put jobless Americans back to constructive work.
2. Cut taxes to help restore our battered economy back to health.
3. Establish specific energy programs, one of whose objectives is to make us less dependent upon sources of oil and other energy fuels in unstable regions of the world.

However, in connection with his energy programs, I do oppose his proposals to deregulate natural gas, impose a tax on imported oil and apparently to weaken the Clean Air Act.

In addition, his tax proposals are confusing and I want to see them in detail before commenting at any great length.

However, the President left the impression in the minds of many members of Congress that his program gives with one hand (tax reductions), but takes away with the other (tax on imported oil and deregulating natural gas). In other words, what Americans would receive in the form of tax reductions, they would lose by paying increased prices for gasoline and heating fuels. A White House spokesman has estimated that approval of the President's economic program, as it now stands, would mean an increase in electric rates of 20 percent over last year, an increase of 12-cents a gallon in heating oil and a 10-cent increase in gasoline per gallon.

Congress should examine these proposals very carefully. In terms of tax reduction, I prefer the tax-cut bill that I have just introduced. It would provide a tax-credit of $50 a taxpayer ($100, if joint) on 1974 taxes owed. This credit would be deducted from any tax obligation due when you fill out your income tax forms.

There'd be no need to apply for a refund with all the paperwork that would involve.

In any event, there is a need for prompt action; I hope the Congress will buckle down and approve by April a reduction in 1974 income-taxes and some sound energy proposals. Americans have every right to expect prompt, conscientious and effective actions by the Congress.

The Public Library Issue...

Speak Out Sussex County

The future of Sussex County's public libraries has become an important issue confronting the citizens since a new Delaware law mandates the creation of a county wide library system by July 1, 1975.

The Sussex members of the Delaware Library Association feel that every resident should have an opportunity to discuss and examine the variety of ways in which future library service might develop here as a result of this new state law. To provide this opportunity a public meeting will be held Feb. 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the Sussex County Court House, Georgetown.

A distinguished panel of humanist scholars and citizen representatives will examine the issues; this will be followed by general audience discussion. Fredrick M. Lauter, Delaware State College, will lead the discussion with Rev. S. Alan Ruby, Milford's Reformation Lutheran Church; Joseph Dougherty, Wesley College; Joseph Conaway, Sussex County Administrator; and

James S. King, Delaware State College.

The Delaware Library Association has received a grant from the Delaware Humanities Forum for the purpose of sponsoring this program in Sussex as well as those to be held in Kent and New Castle. The Forum is a statewide program in which adult citizens and scholars in the humanities come together for discussion of current issues of public policy. Its purpose is to provide forums in which such issues can be viewed through the perspectives of the humanities. All programs currently supported by the DHF relate to the 1974-1975 theme, "Government, Power and the People of Delaware: Humanistic Perspectives on Government and How Well It Serves Us."

Programs are intended to provide a forum in which questions, knowledge and insights of the humanities can be applied to public issues of concern to the people of Delaware.

The Delaware Library Association urges all Sussex citizens to "speak out" for the way they wish to see library services grow and develop in Sussex County. This meeting Feb. 6 provides a unique opportunity for all to be heard before the county government has acted upon an ordinance which will effect every community. Where people go to get reading material, how much library tax they will pay, hours of library service, adequate or insufficient book collections these are all questions which will be answered by the action to be taken by the Sussex County Council.

More information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Irene Larrimore, Seaford High School Library or Mrs. Alice Bower, Milford Public Library.

Ruritans To Sponsor Talent Contest

The Cedarfield Ruritan Club of Houston will sponsor its third annual talent contest for students at the Milford Senior High School cafeteria on Friday evening, March 14, at 7:30 p.m.

Students from Milford, Felton, Frederica, Hartly, Dover, and Harrington competed for cash prizes last year. Again, we are looking for talent. Anyone interested in participating in this year's competition is asked to telephone 422-9842 or 422-8173 before February 21. Prizes will be awarded.

The Cedarfield Ruritan Club is devoted to bettering the relations between rural and city residents.

Cancer Detecting Unit For Milford

The Women's Auxiliary of Milford Memorial Hospital has committed itself to provide a unit in the department of Radiation for Mammography. The unit, which will x-ray the breast for early detection of cancer, is to be installed within the next three months.

The examination using the unit is an aid in locating early symptoms of cancer and is harmless to the patient. The examination causes no discomfort and requires less than an hour for the entire procedure.

According to Joseph B. Ahlschier, Administrator, the cost of the unit will be in the neighborhood of $28,000.

Fine details for installation and operation of the unit are being worked out with Dr. Leslie M. Dobson, Chief Radiologist at Milford Memorial.

Mrs. Edward Steiner, auxiliary president, says "Raising the money is a real challenge for us but we know the support of our membership and the community at large will insure success."

Annual Pledge Service Held By UMW

The Annual Pledge Service of the United Methodist Women was held on Tuesday evening at Asbury Church. Mrs. Wayne Brown was leader for the program, assisted by Miss Pauline Hopkins who gave the Devotions.

The pledges were given by the eight Circle Leaders. They gave a gift symbolic of their pledges which were: the gift of time, of thoughts, of devotion, of talents, physical resources, personal relationships, citizenship, and concern for world's needs. Following this Mrs. Edward Taylor, president of the group read the Purpose. The program was concluded with a responsive prayer and the singing of "Living For Jesus."

Mrs. Lillian Boone and the Ruth Circle were hostesses for the evening.

The business meeting was opened with a moment of silent prayer for a deceased member, Mrs. Benjamin Emory. Mrs. John Harrington read a letter of appreciation for the help given by Asbury at the Manor House Bazaar held in November.

Mrs. Carol Welch and members of the Sharing Group distributed Cheer Gifts to a number of shut-ins at Christmas time.

On Tuesday evening, January 21 the UMW will serve a dinner to the Swine Grower's Association. Mrs. Francis Winkler is general chairman and has asked for the following help - one member from each Circle to help on Monday evening Jan. 20 at 7 p.m., 6 members at 1:30 on Tuesday, 12 at 6 p.m. to help in the kitchen, and 14 members to serve in the dining room. Three apple pies will also be needed from each Circle. Members who can help in any way are asked to call their Circle leaders to offer their help.

The group voted to offer partial scholarships to 2 or 3 children of the Sunday School to attend Camp Pecometh this summer.

Mrs. Taylor read her yearly report, listing all of the activities of the UMW during this past year.

A donation was made to the Fund for Lynn Hopkins.

The February meeting will be held on Tuesday February 4 when Mrs. Albert Mason will present Jenny Milne, this year's Foreign Exchange Student who will speak on her homeland, New Zealand. Deborah Circle, Mrs. George Mahoney, leader, will be hostesses.

SPORTS

KEITH S. BURGESS, Sports Editor

Four Spartans Are All-Americans

Kit Tilghman, Harry Benson, Terry Pettyjohn and Joe Voshell, all Lake Forest cross-country runners have been named high school All-Americans for the 1974-75 school year. Their selections were based on outstanding athletic ability, sportsmanship, academic ability and involvement in extra-curricular activities. Less than one percent of the nation's athletes are so honored.

Harry Benson and Terry Pettyjohn.

KIT TILGHMAN

JOE VOSHELL

Kit Tilghman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Shaw of Harrington, is the only senior. He was a key performer in Lake Forest's cross-country state championship. He is also a fine track athlete and plays varsity basketball.

Harry Benson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Gray of Frederica, has achieved many honors in high school, junior olympic and A.A.U. track, in addition to cross-country running since he began the sport at age 12.

Benson is state vice-president of HERO (home Economics Related Occupations), a high school vocational organization. He is in training to be a chef.

Terry Pettyjohn, son of Mrs. Lucille Pettyjohn of Frederica, although small for an athlete, has participated in several sports, excelling in track and cross-country. Joe Voshell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Voshell of Sandtown, is a junior cross-country runner and will graduate this year as a result of taking an accelerated academic course. He plans to attend a college in Ohio.

490 Attend Sports Banquet

The seventh annual Milford Rotary Sports banquet was held Saturday night at the Milford High School cafeteria. Many area residents were in attendance. This affair draws a full house each year and the purpose of the banquet is to honor a Milford High student athlete with a $500 scholarship.

The award is based upon a paper a student submits outlining the reasons he or she desires to win the award. Each contestant must be a high school senior who has participated during the senior year in a sport. The $500 is forwarded to the college of the student's choice to be used for their tuition. The winner will be announced at the end of the school year.

Over the past six years three winners have been boys and three have been girls. Last year's winner was Michael Madeksza. The main speakers were

Spartans Lose In Overtime

Under new head coach Buck Starkey, the Lake Forest basketball team came close to victory before losing 62-60 in overtime last Friday. Earlier in the week the Spartans lost 65-47 to Holy Cross.

Against the Crusaders from Holy Cross, Lake Forest fell victim to a hot shooting left-handed guard Dave Schellardt who single handedly scored 27 points on 11 baskets and five of eight from the foul line. The visiting Spartans lost the lead early and never regained it as they trailed 14-11 at the end of the first period and 28-21 at the half. No relief came in the second half as Lake Forest was outscored by 8 and 3 points respectively in the third and fourth periods.

The Spartans were led by Ron Shockley who scored 13 points despite early foul trouble and Neal Smith's 10. Bob Quirk added 17 and Al Savini 16 for Holy Cross.

Against the Riders, with new head coach Mr. Starkey in charge for the first time the Spartans once again fell behind early, trailing 19-10 at the end of the first period and by 10 points, 33-23, at the half. Then in what has been their strongest period for the Spartans thus far this season the Spartan cut the deficit to 45-44. In the final period a shot by Vernon Bowers with three seconds left tied the score at 58.

In the overtime period Kevin Howard led the Riders to victory scoring all four of their points. Neal Smith led the Spartans with 21 points for the game. Friday, Lake Foest takes on Delmar at home.

Named To Dean's List

Fifteen University of Delaware students in the liberal arts program at Delaware Technical and Community College Southern Campus, have achieved the U. of D. Dean's list, according to Dean Otis P. Jefferson.

The 13 women and two men students are: Carol M. Brown, Seaford; Ann Cannon, Seaford; Terry L. Carey, Rehoboth; Christine M. Elliott, Georgetown; Phyllis A. Hastings, Laurel; Mrs. Dana L. Lynch, Frankford; Deborah D. Mast, Greenwood, and Karen L. McGee, Laurel.

Also Susan F. Murabito, Lewes; John A. Nichols, Dover; Denise L. Short, Patti L. Short and Janice M. Stein, all of Georgetown; Mrs. Judith Wharton, Dagsboro and Frederic T. Wyatt, Milford.

Wrestlers Take First

Thanks to an early 24-0 lead and late heroics by Rick Woodward and Jeff Chambers the Spartan Wrestling team won their first match of the season defeating Dover 27-24.

For the second straight match Spartans Ricky Mertz and James Simpson opened with pins, both in the final period of their respective matches. Then with the 12-0 lead, Tom Ware decided his man 4-2 to put the Spartans further in the lead.

At 121, the season's surprise

thus far, Terry Jarrell won his third successive match with a 12-4 score. With this victory Lake Forest had an 18-0 lead for the second successive match. Now the question was if the Spartans would again fall apart.

It didn't happen in the next two matches as Rodney Wyatt also won 12-4. Alan Welch revenged an early season loss in the Milford Invitational as he decided Andy Scrafford 1-0, scoring on an escape. This put the Spartans up 24-0.

Dover didn't waste anymore time to get rolling as Jay Lemmons was decided 4-0 and Brently Banks was pinned, cutting the lead to 24-9. The Spartans needed just one more win to assure themselves of at least a tie. Rick Woodward got just that as he scored a come-from-behind 7-5 victory.

However, Lake Forest wanted more than a tie and Dean McCombs getting pinned the Spartans led only 27-21. The pressure was all on junior Jeff Chambers, who was wrestling his first varsity match and despite losing 6-4 Jeff managed to stay off his back and give the visiting Spartans a 27-24 win.

This early in the season the Spartans have but two undefeated wrestlers, Terry Jarrell and James Simpson. Tom Ware, Rodney Wyatt and Alan Welch, all have just one loss.

Riders Win...Again

In last Friday's showdown of two of the members of wrestling's Big Three, the Caesar Rodney Riders won 30-15 over Sussex Central's Golden Knights.

This match, which many experts were calling the match of the century, began with a flurry that was fitting of that title. Doug Mays began the match for Sussex Central by deciding Bivins 13-6. He used moves typical of Herman Bastenelli's coaching as he continually took the takedown and then let Bivins escape, a two for one point margin.

Sussex Central's quick 3-0 lead didn't last long as the Riders' Glenn Kemp and Kevin Haurer both won decision victories 2-0 and 8-1 respectively. The Golden Knights then retook the lead 9-6 as Steve Bastenelli gained his third pin in four matches this season. Like Mays, Bastenelli used the two for one technique running up a large score before putting John Mancuso away early in the second period.

The 9-6 Sussex Central lead quickly became a 9-9 tie as defending state champion Bob Bosco won a 7-1 decision victory. Then in what figured to be a tough match, Chris Rincon of Caesar Rodney was upset by Stan Adkins 6-2, putting Sussex Central back into the lead 12-9.

It was from here on that the Riders began to dominate the match as Greg Warren 6-4 over Howard Sawin. He trailed at one point 3-1 but following a stalling call on Swain and a reversal the match was tied. A third period reversal by Warren proved to be the difference.

Following Warren's victory the Riders retook the lead as Gary Webb won his fourth consecutive match of the season. Webb's victory by a pin over Keith Cordrey with just three seconds left in the second period proved to be the Bonnie Dill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Martin Dill of Felton, recently won the Safe Boating Queen Contest for the Southern Region at Cape May, Va. Bonnie, who was chosen by Division XII as their representative, competed against 7 other girls from as far away as New Jersey. As District Queen she will reign at Coast Guard Auxiliary functions and participate in Auxiliary Safe Boating Week in July.

Bowling

Kreg Jester continues to bowl well and Leroy Wheeler rolled a fine 568 series as Fry's American took three points from Big John's Son and moved into the top spot in the league. Jim Carroll bowled a good effort for Big John's Son as the team salvaged one point for their efforts.

George Collins rolled a 226 game and amassed a great 566 series although his team, Taylor & Messick, could only manage to win one point from the Spoilers. Leonard Outten rolled a good 213 game and 540 series, and John Shaffer contributed a good effort as the Spoilers collected three points from their opponents.

Jarrell Fuel won three points from Harrington Moose as Howard Brown rolled a 201 game and fine above average effort. Paul Foulkrod rolled a real fine 230 game and 520 series to give the Moose squad one point for their effort.

Richard Dennis rolled a 534 series and Ray Dennis added a real good effort as Brothers Five swept three points from McKnatt Funeral Home Tuesday night. Ken Garey bowled a good above average effort for McKnatt's.

Wally's Garage and Penn Central split four points down the middle as Norman Woodall, Dave Ryan and Wally Ryan rolled good efforts for the boys. The railroaders saw good action from Donald Butler, who rolled a 500 series.

Cloyd Bushey collected a good 527 series and Norman Clough bowled well although People's Restaurant just managed to capture one point against Dura-Clean. The whole Dura-Clean squad bowled above average efforts with Bill Brode biting a good 203 game and 523 series to lead the team to victory.

Butler's Fuel took one point from Robbins Hardware with Ralph Butler adding a little extra strength to the team. Robbin's Hardware moved up the ladder with their three point win as Wallace Wooten and Jeff Robbins provided good extra effort.

The T & M Rejects and Quillens Market teams will match their respective efforts later with the Rejects making up their missed games next Monday night.

It Seems To Me

by Janet Reed

The sewing industry comes out with new ideas all the time. Here are some new developments you'll be seeing.

One of the pattern companies has started to combine two sizes into one pattern. This cuts down on the use of paper and makes their handling of patterns easier. These patterns are being evaluated at the present time to test if they are confusing to the consumer. The company is starting with easy-to-sew patterns and printing the two sizes in contrasting red and green print. If the public accepts this idea, I'm sure we'll be seeing more of this in the future.

Many patterns printed in other countries are made this way. In fact, some patterns have all sizes on one pattern. The first time I saw one of those, I wondered how anyone could make sense from it. But maybe we'll be coming to that in this country, also, as paper becomes scarce and expensive.

A new pressing item makes sense to me. It's a cushioned pressing pad - a flat 16 inch by 12 inch pad with a different surface on each side. It is reversible with a soft absorbent cotton side and a firm, moisture-resistant reverse side. It is lightweight, easily transportable and usable anywhere. For those of us who present sewing demonstrations, it provides a pressing surface for use anywhere without lugging an ironing board. Also, it would be ideal for travel, but can be used on any table or flat surface at home, too, when you don't want to set up the ironing board.

The soft side is used where you want a soft finish and for napped fabrics, embroidery and lace, or for pressing over buttons, snaps or zippers. The firm side is useful for hard-finished fabrics and when you want hard creases and pleats or crisp edges.

This same manufacturer has many other innovative ideas for pressing equipment. A special tailor board is shaped to press both inward and outward curved edges, points and small areas. This is one of those pieces of equipment you have to see to realize that it can be used in almost any pressing situation you will have in home sewing.

Another new idea I have seen is a new way to turn points. This is another tool you'll have to see to understand, but it operates kind of like miniature ice tongs that grip the fabric inside out and turn it. It is modeled after industrial methods and is sold by Nancy Olson of Fashion Services, Inc., who will conduct the pattern-drafting workshop at the University of Delaware on Jan. 24. I'm sure Mrs. Olson will be demonstrating this useful tool during her workshop. Why not plan to attend?

You can get further information from me about this all-day workshop by writing to Janet Reed, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark, DE 19711.

It has been reported that some Michigan dairymen are using a ground stone product for free stall ground bedding. This was done in an effort to find a way to cut costs and improve efficiency. The diarymen using stone bedding indicates that this holds promise for those looking for better bedding conditions in free stall barns. Although it is easy to draw conclusions they say those using stone bedding are encouraged by the reduction in time spent leveling the stalls and the amount used to keep the stalls clean.

I thought you might be interested in the story about a fast talker who was trying to sell farmers on the idea that the herbicide 2-4-D would make a good fertilizer. It really sounds incredible doesn't it? But some people will try to sell or promote anything. The magazine

Colorado Rancher & Farmer compiled a list of good suggestions to safeguard against such claims in the uses of chemicals which are not covered by the label. 1) Buy your agricultural chemicals from a reputable dealer, 2) Watch out for fraudulent soil additives, and have your soil tested before buying to make sure there are deficiencies which warrant the purchase. 3) Read the label on any product you buy, looking for use instructions, guarantees, and a manufacturer whose name you recognize, 4) Don't order new or unfamiliar products over the phone unless you know the dealer, or are sure of what you're buying, who you are buying from and when to expect delivery, 5) Check into the cost-benefit ratio - be sure the investment will pay off, 6) Beware of "good deals" on name-brand chemicals or "wonder-products" that do not carry label approval. They may be fraudulent or stolen. Contact your local Extension Agent for verification when in doubt, 7) When offered a product you are unsure of, check with your nearest university for specific research on its performance under soil and climatic conditions similar to yours, 8) When you do purchase and use a new product, leave an untreated check strip to verify the product's relative efficiency.
