Miss Joan 'Bunny' Pote

Site Manager Named At Senior Center

The Harrington Senior Center, following a reorganization, has Miss Joan 'Bunny' Pote as its site manager.

Miss Pote, who according to a Center Board member, is well qualified for the position, has a B.S. degree in home economics, served during WW II with the W.A.C.S. and most recently owned and operated the Country House of Yarn near Woodside. She has lived in Delaware for over 20 years, coming to the area with her parents who settled in Camden, where her father practiced dentistry, although semi-retired.

During her interview with the Journal, Miss Pote remarked on several occasions her particular interest was with older people. Before the position became available at the Harrington Center, she had applied to the State of Delaware for employment at which time she specifically stated she was interested in working in the field of senior citizenry.

Going into her third week as site manager, Miss Pote stated generally she hoped to see the Center increase membership and activities offered, reflecting a "greater breadth of interest and wider span of things to do". Loneliness to her is the chief problem to combat with senior citizens and she hopes to see the Center provide a general place to gather, as well as providing various forms of projects to work on.

She called for volunteers from the community, not necessarily senior citizens, but anyone who could donate time and or talent. For example, she stated, "someone to play the piano for an hour". But "We need to be needed, too", she said, suggesting a two-way exchange in and with the community.

Reorganization of the Center followed the cut-off of state funds on December 31 of 1974. Miss Pote, who, along with other applicants, answered an advertisement for the position of site manager, will be aided by Ernest Gleason, who is a volunteer bookkeeper. Gladys Hill, who is a paid volunteer supervisor of the kitchen and Charlotte Welch, a volunteer, Mrs. Loris Henry, the most recent center director, did not apply for the new position of site manager.

The center receives prepared meals from Clayton, which are distributed to the homebound and also serves the lunches at the center. This is part of the federally funded MANNA program.

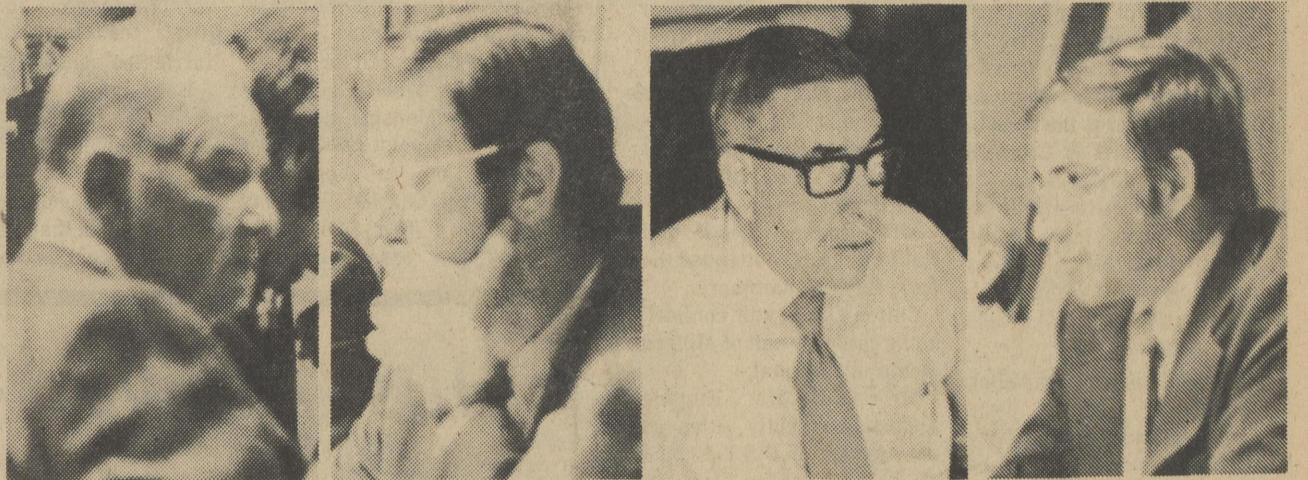

Many activities exist and will continue, including the ceramic program, the covered dish suppers and the bowling, all of which are popular.

A mid-March bazaar is scheduled, and Miss Pote, whose specialty is handicrafts, gave a glimpse of a few new items. Watch the Journal for further details and visit the Center on Fleming Street.

Harrington Gets Attorney's Advice

At a special meeting called by Mayor William A. Minner, Harrington's City Council met on Monday night to "clear the air" concerning the matter of "some 20 checks" which City Manager, Jack Harrington, had signed in the name of Mayor Minner. City Solicitor, N. Max Terry, Jr., was present to discuss the matter in light of the alleged infractions. Also present at the meeting was Howard Wagner, Cashier of The Peoples Bank of Harrington and City Treasurer. The checks were drawn on The Peoples Bank and Wagner is a co-signer as well.

Terry commented that the infraction seemed to fall within two categories under the new criminal code of Delaware and they were as follows: (1) forgery and (2) abuse of office. Both crimes require the criminal element of willful intent to defraud. Terry concluded that there was an absence of the criminal element. Terry held that Harrington had used "poor judgment". "A large part of my law practice is criminal law, and it is my experience that there is more human error in most cases than criminal", Terry said. "The City Manager is the one who runs the City on a day to day basis. He approves bills and therefore is placed in the position to authorize payment when they are presented for payment. You would not want to crucify Mr. Harrington for it was more poor judgment than dishonesty," said Terry. The checks amounted to $797.80 and covered a period of one year.

Howard Wagner added that "some years back, before this present City Council, we had another scare, and after that I began to reconcile all bank statements of the City. It makes for an extra audit." Wagner questioned Chief Layton on how he detected the irregular signatures. Chief Layton said that upon the letter request by some of the councilmen, he checked several checks for their signature, and sent those off to Washington for confirmation. Layton said there are two sources to check the signatures and they are the FBI and Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division of the federal government. Each agency has a handwriting expert. It was the handwriting experts of the latter that reported back to Chief Layton that it appeared the signatures of William A. Minner were not the signatures of Minner in his own hand writing. Wagner concluded that "he did not see any infraction at all".

Councilman John Satterfield asked Terry if the Council was under any obligation to anyone as a result of this incident. Terry said that when it was first reported to him his initial question was whether the checks had been written to benefit Harrington or was it done to conduct City business. Following this procedure

Councilman Griffin moved that in essence since no crime had been committed that Harrington's name be cleared and the matter be concluded.

Councilman Shaw refused to go along with the motion which contained the words "no crime had been committed". Shaw pointed out that the act of signing the checks was not authorized, and the motion implied unauthorized signing of the Mayor's name to the checks. Councilman Dr. Lobe joined Shaw in pointing out that the Charter had been violated in that only the Mayor can sign the checks and that the City Manager's act was illegal and unauthorized. Griffin's motion was called and defeated.

The Mayor then stated "gentlemen, where do we go from here?"

Shaw attempted to get a motion before Council stating in effect that the Council would not accept the responsibility for the unauthorized checks by Harrington. A matter of terminology in expression for the motion became a confusing issue due mainly to Griffin's questions on interpretation of the motion.

Shaw then stated he had "several" phone calls over the weekend concerning the manner in which City Manager Harrington has dealt with several of the townspeople on occasion. "In

17 Cities Awarded For Safety

Harrington was one of 17 municipalities in Delaware to receive recognition for their successful effort in completing 1974 without a highway traffic fatality within their jurisdiction.

The award, sponsored by the Governor's Office of Highway Safety, was presented at a formal ceremony last Thursday at the Highway Administration Building in Dover by Walter E. Nedwick, Governor's Representative for Highway Safety; Lemuel E. Hickman, Secretary of Public Safety; and James L. Ford, Superintendent of the Delaware State Police.

Other cities and towns receiving the award were as follows: Bridgeville, Georgetown, Laurel, Lewes, Milford, Millsboro, Milton, Seaford, Selbyville, Camden, Wyoming, Clayton, Delaware City, Elsmere, Middletown and Newport.

The award is presented annually to all cities and towns who maintain a fatality free highway record for an entire calendar year. To qualify for consideration, a city or town must have a population of 1,000 and a full time police force providing coverage on a 24-hour basis.

Moore Named To Dean's List

Ruthann Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Moore of Harrington has been named a first semester honor student in West Virginia University's College of Human Resources and Education.

Students must make at least a 3.4 grade point average (4.0 is perfect - straight A's) to be named to the Dean's List in the College of Human Resources and Education.

The Rev. William H. Clark

Delaware Episcopalians Select A Bishop

On Friday, Episcopalians of the Diocese of Delaware met at St. David's Episcopal Church north of Wilmington to select William Hawley Clark their new bishop. Delaware has been without a bishop since the death of Bishop William H. Mead in February, 1974.

Bishop-elect Clark will become the 8th Bishop of Delaware in their 190 years of existence. He currently acts as Executive Director, Worcester County Ecumenical Council Worcester, Mass. Clark is 55 years old. He and his wife, Rosemary, have 3 children.

The procedure for electing a Bishop requires a vote of two-thirds of the clergy and lay delegates on the same ballot. Clark was selected on the 11th ballot.

The Bishop-elect must now be approved by three Episcopal Standing Committees in the U.S. and pass a mental and physical exam of

Southern Bid Sounds Promising

Governors Meet To Discuss Fate Of Penn Central

Following a breakfast meeting in Annapolis Monday with Governor Marvin Mandel, Delaware Governor Sherman W. Tribbitt announced that discussions have been initiated regarding the possibility of Southern Railway taking over service to the Delmarva Peninsula.

At present the Penn Central Railroad serves the tri-state peninsula. Under the proposed Railroad Reorganization Act, however, many critical rail services provided by Penn Central would be eliminated.

Governor Tribbitt said he was "tremendously concerned as to the negative impact (the Reorganization Act) would have on the Delaware economy." He had met Southern Railway President Graham Claytor at the Southern Governors' Conference in November and had observed that the Southern Railway might "have a viable proposal to not only continue existing service to the Peninsula, but to improve existing track conditions, as well."

President Claytor expressed interest in meeting with the Governors of Delaware, Maryland and Virginia to further discuss Southern's proposal. Monday's meeting with Governor Tribbitt, Delaware Director of Transportation, John B. Wallace, Governor Mandel, and Maryland Secretary of Highways and Transportation was a direct outgrowth of that November discussion.

"One of the prime concerns of both Governor Mandel and myself is to maintain the barge float facilities at Kiptopeke and maintain the prime rail artery from Cape Charles to Wilmington," Governor Tribbitt explained. The Federal Railway Reorganization proposal would discontinue part of these services.

"After our experience in 1973 with the C&D Canal bridge accident when rail service was severed for months, the importance of maintaining that Cape Charles facility was underscored," Governor Tribbitt continued.

Both governors also felt, after seeing the number of spurs to be discontinued under the federal proposal, that Mr. Claytor had offered an attractive plan which also would include updating and maintenance of the tracks and roadbeds which have become so deteriorated and dangerous in recent years.

Governor Tribbitt further stated he and Governor Mandel were in "full support of Southern Railway's proposal" and they would "move in the direction of doing business with Southern". Both governors plan to meet with their respective congressional delegations asking for their support.

Governor Tribbitt stressed that all the rights and benefits of the present Penn Central employees would have to be protected should Penn Central and Southern Railway come to an agreement concerning service on the Peninsula.

The Monday meeting followed an inspection of the Delmarva Penn Central Line, which was conducted by President Claytor and a group of rail executives on January 4 and 5. The inspection tour was from Cape Charles to Wilmington.

It will also be remembered that Seaboard Coast Line Railroad, headed by W.

Thomas Rice, a former track supervisor of the old Pennsylvania Railroad in the late 30's, had expressed interest in the Penn Central line here.

In last week's edition of the Journal it was further noted a third interest in the line might be forthcoming from Eastern Shore Railroad Co., which is headed by Mark E. Lome of Bucks Co., Pa. He is a former employee of Penn Central and was in the operations and planning department.

The fact there is interest generating can only be a positive one for Harrington, which became what it is from the railroad.

Jennie Milne Begins Area Tour

New Zealander To Speak

Jennie Milne is the very delightful young AFS Exchange Student from New Zealand who is spending her Senior year at Lake Forest High School and living with the Harry Rawding family in Felton. If you have not met her yet, you will perhaps have the opportunity in the next few months as she begins her guest appearances at the various clubs and organizations in the Lake Forest District.

Although it seems early, it is already time to prepare for the exchange student for next year. Mrs. Leon Kukulka announced this week that applications for host families are being solicited for 1975-76. The dead-line for the forms to be completed is next month, but anyone who might be interested should get in touch with Mrs. Kukulka or Mrs. Albert Mason in the High School Guidance Office as soon as possible.

The Lake Forest Chapter of the American Field Service has been most fortunate in having a host family every year for the past 10 years. The experience of having an exchange student as a daughter or son for 10 months is one that can never be forgotten. Each of the families keeps in very close touch with their "sons or daughters" and visits in their homelands have been made by several of the hosts.

Families of students in the junior or senior classes at the high school are especially solicited, but any family with an interest in the program is urged to apply.

Linda Moffett, AFS Club vice-president, Jenny Milne, foreign exchange student from New Zealand and her host sister, Shirley Rawding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rawding of Felton. The occasion for this picture was the AFS Christmas party and the girls holding a cake decorated with poinsettias and stating Merry Christmas, Jenny.

short", said Shaw, "you are a hard man to get along with according to the people who called me". Griffin said that in "two years and going into his third year as councilman he has had three complaints from townspeople all of which he turned over to this man (Harrington), who solved the matter."

Dr. Lobo then picked up the discussion and pressed Terry for an answer regarding the Charter as to whether or not it was the controlling factor. Lobo asked "Do we follow the Mayor, the City Manager or the Charter?" The point Lobo was leading up to was whether, if the Charter is controlling which Terry admitted was the case, all compensation paid the City Manager had to be approved by the Council. Terry commented that "it should be authorized". Lobo then brought in the matter regarding the gas receipts. A City Manager of Harrington by custom and practice furnishes his own car, but is allowed a credit card for charging gas used in his vehicle for City business. When Lobo asked if a log was kept on mileage for Harrington's traveling affairs, Harrington answered "No". Harrington then requested the privilege to speak and commented that he "worked many overtime hours" but "never charged the City for it, and that he furnished the car, paid for the tires and oil as well as making the repairs on the car out of his own pocket. With discussions back and forth across the council table, Harrington tried to defend his record by saying that it is sometimes very hard to deal with the every day complaints "day in and day out" in a sober mood. "It is natural to get upset", said Harrington.

In an effort to conclude the business of the special meeting, Shaw attempted to make a motion "to advertise for a new City Manager". Griffin shot back that this was illegal because you "...have a City Manager...you have a contract, by word of mouth, written or otherwise with the present City Manager". Griffin went further and added "...that common courtesy should extend to Mr. Harrington and give him 30 to 60 day notice." (of termination).

As that matter was dropped in a rather confusing procedure, a motion was made by Councilman Lobo "to accept the checks signed by Mr. Harrington bearing Mayor Minner's name as paid by the People Bank, paid in good faith by said Bank, but the act of signing the checks not be accepted because it violates the Charter. The motion carried by a vote of 4 to 2 (McColley, Lobo, Shaw and him". Councilman Lobo answered "that is not my intention." The late, (the personal privilege, Councilman Griffin commented somewhat long and drawn out that "he opposed the affair interrupted by short flares of temper came to a proved of what Mr. quiet ending. The next scheduled regular monthly meeting will be held on the 10th of February.

"...in the end you vote for the man...and there wasn't a crossing of the fingers in the house..."

As a delegate to the 190th Episcopal Church convention to elect a Bishop (the 8th for the Diocese of Delaware), it was a rare privilege for me. Seeing my friends from around the State was a comforting moment for me to be sure, but to be associated with that part of our religious history was something special. This convention was unlike the others which I have attended. Not too much was taken up in the amending of the constitution or discussions along those lines, but was spent in the main on selecting "the man".

I don't want to impress you with my claim to the religious world, for I am not a strict religious person...God fearing, yes...but as much a sinner as one would expect. It would be virtually impossible for me to walk within "the line" as I interpret it, but I recognize and admire those who have that calling. My purpose for being there was to participate in the election.

We had meetings at the local church prior to the convention, but we were sent to the convention with open minds. The nominating committee had whittled the selection to five "heavyweights". Our decision was a weighty one. On the first ballot, three candidates broke to the front. On succeeding ballots first one forged ahead, one dropped back and the third steadily climbed on. He eventually was elected. His climb was a steady one...much like his true nature so I am told.

I spent a great deal of time thinking about my vote before the start of the convention. My first impression was a two-fold one in that I recognized age and experience as prime considerations, but no one could overlook the impressive credentials of all the men. This caused me some great concern, for on first impression, you would lean in that direction of the one with the most impressive ones.

This is not always the controlling decision in the matter, for in the final analysis, you must vote for the man. In any endeavor in your own life style the important consideration is how the situation fits your needs and situation. As you give the matter more and more thought, the real issue comes up at you like the great northern lights. With those guidelines for decision making, you feel after all is said and done that the right decision has been made.

A religious convention is quite unlike a convention held by the national political parties. There was politicking going on, but nothing like that which goes on at the ones for the national political parties. After each ballot of this religious convention, a prayer was offered and a hymn was sung. Neither of which favored any one candidate for Bishop. As each delegate bowed his head in silent prayer with hands folded in the back...without a finger being crossed in the house...and as each succeeding ballot was counted the decision on the new Bishop came into clear focus. After all this, our final decision was the right one.

Our Men In Washington

Biden Wants Postponement Of Import Fees

Taxes and the price of oil are topics we're all interested in these days.

In my last week's column, I discussed what seems to me to be a contradiction in President Ford's tax-and-energy program. The President proposes that there be temporary tax relief during 1975, but then he proposes a tax on imported oil that would raise home heating oil prices. So would his proposal to remove price regulations on natural gas produced in this country.

Consequently, I have co-sponsored along with Senators

Jackson and Kennedy a Senate resolution to postpone for three months any increase in oil-import fees, tariffs or quotas. This postponement would also apply to his proposal to de-control the price of existing domestic oil stocks as of April 1st.

Our economy has been weakened enough without inflicting further damage on it in the form of price increases. The Ford proposals, according to one estimate, might cause a two percent increase to the average cost of all goods and services. As a result, those without jobs, retired persons on pensions and low and middle-income families would endure more hardship than they already do. I hope the Congress will pass this resolution of delay until the Congress can have a chance to consider the full impact of the President's proposals.

In addition to pushing for a delay in proposals I believe would not be helpful, I introduced three tax-reform proposals on Jan. 21. The three bills would:

1. Change the existing minimum tax law so that it applies to those with $10,000 a year in preference income. The present law sets the level at $30,000. In addition, my bill would no longer exempt from this minimum tax such existing "tax shelters" as interest on state and local bonds and intangible drilling costs.

2. Eliminate the foreign tax-credit as it now applies to U.S. oil and gas companies operating abroad.

3. Eliminate percentage depletion for oil and gas wells over the course of a three year period.

Tax reform is an issue whose time has come. The economic bad times coincide with the need for economic recovery. And one remedy for bad times is to make the Federal tax system fairer than it now is.

When the Federal individual income tax law was first enacted nearly sixty years ago, it was founded on the principle of a "progressive" scale of taxation - the more one earned, the more one paid in taxes. We're now at the time when in rough terms, the tax system is so shot through with special privilege amendments for all sorts of economic groups that the low and middle-income family, living only off their wages, is finding that it is being increasingly burdened because it has no stocks, bonds or corporate advantages to claim.

County Council Will Have Final Say On Libraries

Speak Out, Sussex County

"It's all up to the County Council now" answers Mrs. Irene Larrimore of Seaford, Delaware Library Assn. president and chairman of the Sussex Library Committee, when asked about the public library issue here in the county.

Public libraries in Sussex County are an issue, because state law has abolished the system of school district libraries under which the 12 libraries here have been operated. As of July 1, 1975 these 12 independent libraries are to become a unified countywide library system. Mrs. Larrimore and more than a dozen library-conscious citizens have been working for more than a year to investigate the ways in which the law could be implemented to the greatest advantage for the residents of Sussex. The Library Committee's suggestions have been presented to the Sussex County Council, and now their decision is awaited.

Before the County Council drafts this important ordinance which will decide the future of public libraries in Sussex County, the people of the county deserve an opportunity to have input into this decision.

The Delaware Library Assn. is sponsoring a public meeting Thursday evening, Feb. 6, at 7:30 p.m. in Sussex County Court House, Georgetown to discuss "The Public Library Issue... Speak Out, Sussex County!" The program's format is a panel discussion by humanist scholars and citizen representatives and a representative of county government: Frederick M. Lauter, Delaware State College; Rev. S. Alan Ruby, Milford's Reformation Lutheran Church; Joseph Dougherty, Wesley College; Joseph Conaway, Sussex County Administrator; and James S. King, Delaware State College; and the public.

This program is being funded by the Delaware Humanities Forum, a statewide project in which adult citizens and scholars in the humanities come together for discussion of current issues of public policy. The Delaware Library Association urges all Sussex citizens who are concerned about the way library services grow and develop in Sussex to "speak out" Thursday, Feb. 6, at 7:30 p.m. at the Court House.

Better Be More Than Just Good."

It Better Be Flawless.

For years, we've been giving you reliable electric service. In fact, we've done our job so well that most people simply take their electricity for granted. This has not been the case with electric bills this past year.

Due to skyrocketing fuel charges for coal and imported oil, and our rate increase, your electricity is more expensive. We know you're not happy about this, so we intend to work harder to keep you pleased with the type of steady, reliable service we provide for Delmarva.

Electricity is the only thing we have to sell and you're the only customers we've got; in fact, in the American economic system, the customer is the ultimate boss. Maybe we can't get the boss to love us, but we'll do our best to satisfy you.

"When the hot water ran out, mommy started to boil."

Then she struck oil."

It would never fail. Halfway through the family wash and the hot water would turn icy. She could have screamed. But instead, she called the oil heat people. Now, with an oil-powered water heater, she has hot water to spare. For baths, dishes, washer — all at the same time.

Does it cost more for this kind of convenience? Heck no. It costs only half as much as other fuels.

Amazing but true. An oil-powered water heater heats water three times faster, at half the cost of other fuels.

Spartans Win First Tie For Fifth With Dover Air

In another week of close games for the Lake Forest basketball team the Spartans gained their first win of the season 35-33 against Woodbridge last Tuesday. On Friday the Spartans lost to Delmar 45-41.

By winning their first game of the season (earlier win against Dover Air was officially forfeited last week) the Spartans took advantage of more free throws attempts to win. Both teams scored 13 baskets but Lake Forest converted 9 of 12 from the line compared to 7 of ten for the Raiders.

Woodbridge now is the only team in the Henlopen Conference that is still winless, with an 0-8 record. Lake Forest fell behind quickly in this game as they trailed 12-6 at the end of the first quarter but quickly turned the tables to take an 18-16 lead at the half. The Spartans were led in scoring by Ron Shockley's 11 points and Vernon Bowers with 10.

Lake Forest came into the Delmar game last Friday 1-1 under new head coach Buck Starkey but suffered their second loss. The Wildcats this season are 6-4 and in third place in the Southern Division and became one of the few teams to trail the Spartans at the end of the first period this season, 11-10.

They rebounded quickly and led by Paul Johnson who scored 14 points and Wyatt Kerley who scored 12 took a 27-23 lead at the half. The Spartans cut it to two points at the end of the third quarter but never could regain the lead. Neal Smith led Lake Forest with 16 points. The Wildcats played their starting five the entire game.

The Spartans are now 1-7 and are tied for fifth place in the Southern Division with Dover Air.

Spartans Downed By Seaford

Despite an excellent start the Spartan basketball team went down to their eighth defeat of the season 38-44 Tuesday night at Seaford.

The Spartans and the Blue Jays exchanged the lead several times in the first quarter but before the end of the period the Spartans appeared to gain momentum.

With about ten seconds to go in the first period, and the score tied 14-14 the Spartans scored two straight buckets to take an 18-14 lead into the second quarter. The second basket was of the spectacular type as Wayne Ernie tipped the ball away from a Seaford player and Lester Blades sunk a 15 footer as the buzzer sounded.

In the second quarter Lake Forest took a 21-19 lead but the Blue Jays scored seven unanswered points before the half ended and four more after intermission for a 30-21 lead

From here on it was all downhill for the Spartans as they trailed by as many as 18 points before the final margin of 14 at the end.

The Spartans definitely had the height advantage. Tom Carey, led the Spartans in scoring with 12 points. Friday Lake Forest travels to Milford to take on the Buccaneers.

Spartans Win Second Mat Contest

Rebounding from their 38-9 loss to Smyrna last Wednesday, the Spartan wrestling team routed Laurel Saturday night 44-17.

In spite of winning only two matches and tying one against the Eagles, there were several close matches. Smyrna's Darryl Boone barely held on for his 6-5 victory as time ran out on Ricky Mertz, who almost had Boone on his back.

Then, James Simpson, who had been undefeated, lost his first match, 16-9. Spartan fans thought Simpson had poured out a victory after trailing 16-6 as he pinned his opponent, but it was ruled too late.

Smyrna then won the next two matches by lopsided scores as both Tom Ware and Terry Jarrell were beaten by nine points. In the following three matches the Spartans scored all their points. Rodney Wyatt decided his opponent 4-2 and a fired-up Alan Welch won by a 16-6. The team's final two points were scored by Jan Lemmons as he reversed Gil Attix in the last second to tie 9-9.

The home Spartans then lost the final five matches, the last three by pins. The decision losses were by William Jackson and Rick Woodward, who lost only 9-6 to Randy Noll. Mark Letterman, Dean McCombs and Charles Besslieu were pinned.

Against Laurel the visiting Spartans took an insurmountable 36-0 lead. The visitors recorded five pins by Ricky Mertz, Terry Jarrell, Alan Welch, Jay Lemmons and Rick Woodward. The quickest fall for Lake Forest was recorded by Terry Jarrell in 1:45. Tom Ware's and Rodney Wyatt's decision wins and a forfeit victory by James Simpson aided in the final Spartan score.

The Spartans now have a 2-3 record but have yet to win at home. James Simpson, Terry Jarrell, Rodney Wyatt and Alan Welch all have 4-1 individual records, which are used to seed the wrestlers in the conference tournament.

Bowling

Taylor & Messick got a good assist from George Collins, who rolled a 201 game and 540 series, but the team still dropped three points to Wally's Garage. People's Restaurant swept all four points from Harrington Moose as Jim Fitzhugh, Stanley Smith and Frank Collins bowled very good efforts. Charlie Larimore and Larry Breeding bowled good efforts. The Moose squad went into the fray with just four men but put on a strong effort although they couldn't muster enough strength to capture any points.

Ralph Butler paced Butler's Fuel to a four point victory over Dura-Clean as he hit a good 211 game and 538 series, and the team received a good effort from Jack Kohland, and Charlie Brown who hit a good 215 game. Dave Baker and Ray Porter bowled good efforts for Dura-Clean.

Brothers Five and T & M Rejects split four points Tuesday night although neither team could gather much strength. Junior Bishop bowled well for the Rejects. Harry Jack collected a great 560 series, which included a 212 game and Harold Brode added a good 535 series as McKnatt Funeral Home took all four points from Robbin's Hardware, who bowled well to keep the contest close.

The Spoilers moved out on top of the league by taking three points from Fry's American, Tuesday night. John Shaffer amassed a great 566 series and Jack Sapp added a fine 200 game and 539 set, with Billy Morris contributing a good effort for the Spoilers. Kreg Jester rolled a 205 game and above average effort, and David Reiff added a good effort as Leroy Wheeler collected a great 594 series which included a 207 game.

Jarrell Fuel grabbed a share of the top spot by taking three points from Penn Central as Harold Melvin rolled a great 583 set which included a 215 game and Chester Short added a real fine effort. Paul Baker bowled a good 538 series and Bernie Coffman also added a good effort for Penn Central.
