

Votes To Maintain Current Tax Rate For Coming Year

Lake Forest Board Begins Talks Of Expanding The High School

At Monday night's School Board meeting, the Lake Forest School Board voted the tax assessment for 1975-1976 to be $1.07 per $100 assessed valuation and $15 per capita. This rate is the same as the current tax rate.

In other related business, it was recommended that the following be included in the next State Capital Improvements Bond Bill: for the High School (x) general classrooms and associated areas - 6,400 sq. ft.

(x) 1 biology lab and associated service areas - 1,600 sq. ft.

(x) 1 industrial arts shop - 1,600 sq. ft.

(x) Expand present gymnasium - 6,000 sq. ft.

Lake Forest North Elementary School.

(x) Expand cafeteria dining hall - 2,000 sq. ft.

Total Expansion - 17,600 sq. ft.

Estimated Cost-$809,600. Estimated District Share - $323,840.

The Board reasons that the justification for this is that presently the classrooms are overcrowded in the High School making it difficult to schedule classes, study periods, and other activities. The true effectiveness of the instructional program is being depressed by the lack of adequate facilities. Currently there are 54 teachers for 42 classrooms, laboratories and shops. In addition to this, there are six science teachers carrying on the science program in five laboratories. In general it is felt that students are forced to learn under conditions more crowded than any other school in the district.

In order to accomplish this capital improvements program, it will be necessary to have a referendum, and the time suggested will be in early October. A more detailed discussion of this proposal will be held at the June 9th Board meeting at the High School.

Since consolidation, Mr. Adams has served as the W. T. Chipman Athletic Director with varying financial and budgetary responsibilities, and for the most part, he served without pay.

Gets New Post

David C. Adams

David C. Adams of Harrington has been named by the L. F. School Board to a newly created position that being Director of Student Activities. This post is a carryover from the position of Athletic Director which was formerly held by James Hogsten, whose resignation was officially accepted by the School Board at Monday's meeting.

This new post will be a full time one for Adams who will step down as math teacher at the Chipman School. He has also been coaching the girls' softball team. This will also be dropped by Adams in accordance with a School Board ruling that an athletic director cannot be a coach of a sport at the same time.

Adams has been a teacher in the District since 1967 when it was known then as Harrington Special School District as a mathematics teacher. In addition to being a math teacher, he has also taught physical education at Harrington and W. T. Chipman after consolidation.

The new position will be salaried on a teacher's pay scale plus an additional sum of $1200 for the extended responsibilities the position will entail. In his new role, he will be responsible for "all student activities," and this is not to mean athletics alone.

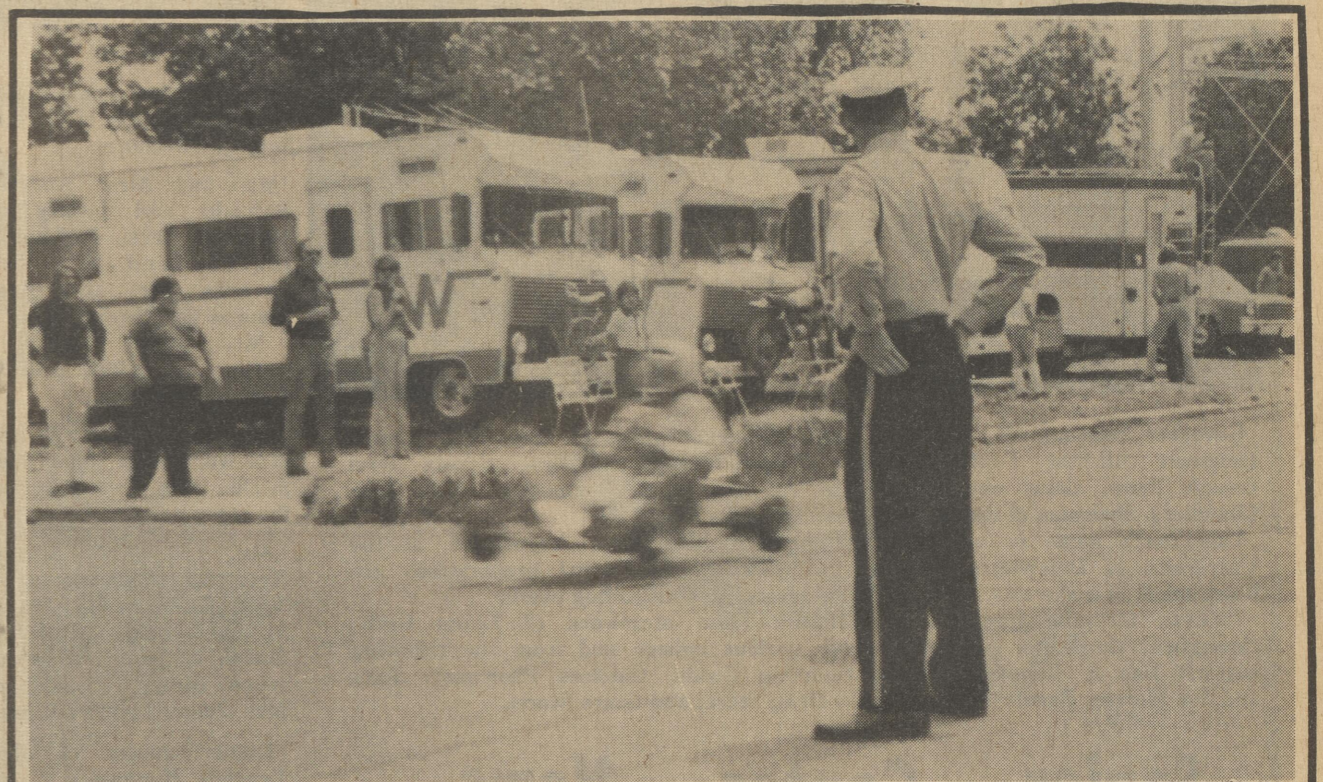

Mr. S. Markowitz was granted approval by the Lake Forest School Board to enlarge the Title I program which he has headed for several years. This the Board pointed out should be done contingent upon getting Federal subsistence for the program.

By enlarging the program, it will mean the teachers' aides will be given more working hours each day from four hours to six hours and more working days during the school year from 162 to 180 days. It will also mean that the reading program will be extended into the 3rd grade level whereas heretofore it has stopped at the 2nd grade level.

The proposal will also mean additional reading for the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades. Due to this enlargement, there will be a reading center established at the Chipman School. The center will be staffed by a reading specialist with the assistance of an aide.

Mr. E. B. Warrington, who was recently elected to another five-year term on the L. F. School Board, asked Mr. Markowitz what "student he was trying to reach in this program."

Farmers Alerted To Disaster Payments Eligibility

Producers in Kent County are being alerted to the disaster payment provisions of the 1975 feed grain and wheat programs administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

"We want to do all we can to explain how producers become eligible for prevented planting and low yield payments," Lister V. Hall Jr. said. Prevented planting means that the farmer is unable to plant because a severe natural disaster, or other disaster condition beyond the farmer's control striking at planting time, prevented him from planting at any time during the planting period. Low yield is when a disaster seriously affects the potential yield of a crop after planting.

In the case of wheat and feed grains, if the producer is prevented by a disaster from planting an acreage of annual nonconserving crop at least equal to the sum of his wheat and feed grain allotments, he may qualify for a prevented planting payment.

Low yield payments apply only to program crops of wheat, corn, grain sorghum and barley that have been planted, and when a disaster totally destroys the crop or reduces the potential yield substantially below normal.

Hall emphasized that if a disaster prevents a farmer from planting his crop acreages or severely damages a planted program crop acreage after planting, he should immediately report it to the ASCS office. Participation in these programs is open to all farmers regardless of race, color, creed, sex or national origin.

Woodbridge Board Will Pay Tatro

Last Wednesday night the Woodbridge voted to pay Clifton Tatro, former Building Principal at the Bridgeville School. The following was presented to the Board for their determination "in light of the decision of the State Board of Education..."

1. As promptly as possible, it should pay Mr. Tatro all back salary which would be due to him as of the current date and resume payments to him on a regular basis. (This the Board elected to do.) 2.

In addition to making such salary payments, it may consider reinstating him to his position as principal of Woodbridge High School or may negotiate with him to return him to the school system in some mutually acceptable position (you are not required to hire him in any capacity). 3. It may determine that a writ of certiorari should be filed to the Superior Court challenging the decision of the State Board of Education on the grounds that the State Board exceeded its authority and incorrectly applied the laws of the State of Delaware.

David Maupin

Mrs. Betty Penrod, Reading Supervisor and Director of Title I in the Woodbridge School System told the School Board of obtaining $576,897 from the Federal government. Mrs. Penrod told the Board that her department plans to expand the Title I program into the 4th, 5th and 6th grades. In a surprise action, Mr. David Maupin, the Woodbridge School psychologist, read a prepared statement to the Board informing them that he would resign from his part-time position as (continued on page 7)

Ralph Billings

Wins Poster Contest

A 17-year old Viola student has been named the winner of a $25 U.S. Savings Bond and three certificates of merit for his entries in the American Automobile Association's 31st Annual School Traffic Safety Poster Contest.

Ralph Billings, Jr., a senior at the Kent County Vocational Technical Center in Woodside, will receive the awards for three posters based upon the theme "Safety Belts Help ... Only If Worn". The bond and certificates will be formally presented to Billings by William P. Markland, Secretary-Manager of Delaware Motor Club AAA, at an afternoon ceremony at the school today. The ceremony will be held during an assembly of the Vo-Tech student body.

Billings submitted three posters in the contest and received an award for each one. His top poster, which was awarded third prize, earned him the Savings Bond and certificate of merit. The other two posters received honorable mention and commendation certificates.

Also at the assembly, Markland will present a certificate of appreciation to Henry J. Evans, art instructor at the vocational center, for his instruction and guidance related to the award-winning entries.

According to Markland, this year's AAA School Traffic Safety Poster Contest attracted 39,762 entries from 2,995 schools in 46 states, the District of Columbia and Canada. The annual contest is one of many programs conducted by AAA clubs, all of which are designed to promote traffic safety among school age youths.

Originality, art execution and correct visual interpretation of a basic safety concept were the criteria on which this year's posters were judged. Students designed their posters around one of 20 basic safety themes and awards were presented in each category at three grade levels - elementary, junior high and senior high.

Carla Vanderwende

Miss Vanderwende Is Versatility Itself

by Keith S. Burgess

Back in 1940 this writer played baseball on a pretty fair country club called "Horn's Corner." Team-mates were Anthonys, Makovecs, Chvostals, Vogls and Vanderwendes.

Recently we watched Woodbridge High's girls softball team get the nod over a good Lake Forest club. Playing second base for the Sussex Countians was a pretty, pig-tailed blonde with a familiar name, Carla Vanderwende. She is the granddaughter and niece, respectively of Everett and Thurlow Vanderwende, two of our team-mates some 35 years ago.

Carla played a flawless game afield with five put-outs and two assists, some of them were hard chances. In the final inning, Lake Forest threatened with runners on first and second. Vanderwende fielded a grounder and without hesitation, fired to third, to get the lead runner on a force play. It's hard to find that kind of coolness in girls' high school softball.

Earlier, she had kept a Woodbridge rally alive with a hard shot into right field. Carla Vanderwende is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Vanderwende, who operates a dairy farm on the Bridgeville - Denton road, about one mile north of Scott's Store.

She's the youngest of four children. Her three brothers have all been active in sports and other facets of scholastic life at Woodbridge High.

Her mother and father, William and Ellen Ann Draper Vanderwende, were both graduates of Harrington High and later moved to the Greenwood Bridgeville area in 1954. William Vanderwende was recently elected to the Woodbridge School Board.

Dan Vanderwende, No. 1 son, played three sports at Woodbridge, graduated from the University of Delaware and is married to the former Becky Messick.

Doug Vanderwende was a football player and trackman at Woodbridge. He's now attending Del Tech South at Georgetown.

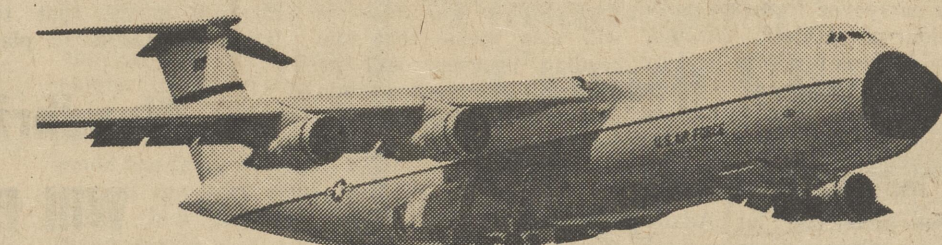

Jim Vanderwende, still at Woodbridge, is batting a hefty .333 on the baseball team and recently had four hits in a seven inning game.

Viola "Windy" Vanderwende, was an all-around athlete at Harrington High years ago. She's William's sister. William was recently chosen by Governor Tribbitt to fill a spot on the Agriculture council of Delaware.

The Vanderwendes are all busy people. Sophomore Carla is no exception. This 15-year-old is Miss Bridgeville, plays hockey, basketball and softball, sings in the Woodbridge High Chorus and is a member of the student government. She also participates in varsity club and French club.

Miss Vanderwende is a member of the National Honor Society, vice-president of the sophomore class, treasurer of the FFA, vice-president of the Dublin Hill 4-H Club, secretary of the Sussex Junior Council and a Sunday School teacher.

Obviously this member of this active, civic-minded family is an asset to her community. Harrington and Kent County's loss was Bridgeville and Sussex County's gain.

... it is mostly their money—and they should have the right to supervise it.

Since 1964 some of our political leaders have been telling us that our social security system is in trouble. Like the problem of inflation—everyone talks about it, but no one seems to be willing to move fast enough with proper cures to curb it.

I am not here to endorse Barry Goldwater, but it was he in 1964 who warned us about the pitfalls of our social security program. It was his advice then that the social security funds should be in their own fund and not the federal government's general fund.

For the next ten years the social programs, good in design and thought which the federal government put forth, were eroded away by deficit spending by our leaders in Washington. Finally the massive debt has sent our economy into a tailspin.

During this period our social security deposits have been taken up by the general fund—for that's where it is deposited. The government has been financing part of their debt with it.

This new crop of youngsters coming on won't be fooled. They have been to college and been taught to read and write and do their numbers. The older generation—the senior citizens they once called themselves, now they are "keenagers" by name—are pretty good at numbers, too.

These keenagers have worked long and hard for their social security benefits and if this money had been properly looked after, their payments would be far greater than they actually receive today. Let them run this program—which is not totally for their benefit, to be sure—but for the most part it is. Don't anyone think that they could do it. Let them appoint their own director as well.

Farm Heritage Traced In Bicentennial Series

As the United States approaches the beginning of its 200th birthday year, many words will be written and spoken about what made America great. And at a time when all does not seem to be going as well as many would like it, mention will be made about things that could be better.

One of the facets of American life that must be faced on a daily basis is the necessary habit of eating. For an urban-oriented nation, which is what America now is, food is generally viewed in terms of dollars. When its costs are low, food is taken for granted. When its costs rise, food is termed expensive.

The truth is that American agriculture has developed at a pace that makes it the envy of the world. Today, less than five per cent of the nation's population is engaged in farming. This in itself is truly remarkable, and has come about because of many reasons. Tracing agricultural development is not easy, but it is interesting.

During the coming months, a series of interesting glimpses into America's agricultural development will be published. While these articles are not intended to be a complete history of agriculture, they will give readers an insight into the heritage of that five per cent of the national population which is working hard to keep America the best fed country in the world.

Thoughts...

by Senator

William Roth

Once again the Senate has refused to block the use of Federal funds for the forced busing of school children.

The House added a strong anti-busing amendment to the major supplemental appropriation bill. The House amendment would prohibit any of the funds appropriated from being used to bus school children against the wishes of their parents, and would prevent the funds from being used to coerce school districts into establishing busing programs.

When the appropriations bill was before the Senate, I led the fight on the floor to retain the provisions in the House amendment and to defeat the far weaker Senate version.

The Senate bill contained language gutting the stronger provisions. When the Senate leadership sought passage of this bill by unanimous consent, I objected. I argued on behalf of the House anti-busing provisions and forced a vote on the matter.

Thirty-seven other senators supported me in this fight, but the weaker Senate amendment was ultimately adopted. The vote was 51 for and 38 against.

In rejecting the stronger anti-busing amendment, the Senate chose to ignore the wishes of a great majority of the people in this country.

The forced busing of children has proved to be an extremely divisive and dubious approach to our educational and social problems, and I have consistently fought it since I've been in the Congress. A far better approach, in my view, is to concentrate on quality education for all children.

Earlier this year I introduced a bill which provides for a Constitutional amendment to prevent forced busing. I have also initiated legislation to prevent the use of Federal funds for this purpose.

Most parents want their children to attend schools in their own neighborhoods. They don't believe the Federal Government should decide where and how their youngsters should go to school. Many feel it is a matter of jeopardizing the future of their children for social experimentation at the expense of the primary purpose of our schools -- to provide as good an education as possible.

Forced busing is a social experiment that very few whites or blacks seem to want. Both are more concerned about the caliber of the education their children receive than who their classmates are.

To emphasize my unhappiness with the Senate action, I voted against the supplemental appropriations bill itself, even though it provides funds for a number of programs I have always supported.

A Backward Glance

A view of South Commerce Street, Harrington, taken mailed. Note the tree lined and unpaved street, both some time between 1908 and 1910. The postcard, victims of progress. In the left hand foreground is a property of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Vanderwende of early twentieth century version of the street light, now Houston, required a half penny stamp if it had ever been too gone from the City's main street.

Fire: Outdoorsmen Beware

Fire outdoors can be dangerous. Barbecuing, camping, and boating trigger thoughts of recreational fun that good weather and leisure time bring. But any one of these good times can become a fiery catastrophe. Take outdoor cooking. Flammable liquids (the use of which happens to be forbidden to the Boy Scouts) can be used safely as long as you remember that they can cause explosions, serious burns and even death because the vapors explode near heat or flame.

For outdoor safety, flammable liquids rank well behind other charcoal starters. Safest of all are chemicals in cake form or a charcoal igniter which is labeled by a nationally-recognized testing laboratory such as Underwriters Laboratories.

Using gasoline to start a fire is asking for explosive trouble. Trying to get more pep into a charcoal fire by dumping any flammable liquid onto hot coals is asking the fire to reach right out and burn you. If a slow fire needs help, tuck dry kindling underneath it.

Camping in the backyard has always been great fun for youngsters. Make sure the tent is flame-retardant. Parafin-coated tents are great for keeping rain out - but they can burn up in minutes with a child trapped inside.

Under no circumstances should any flame be used inside a tent. Flashlights are the answer. Too many children have been seriously burned experimenting with campfires, candles and flammable liquids.

Boating demands fire safe activities, too, and they are simple. When fueling, don't smoke and don't fill up if the motor is hot. Leave a touch of room in the tank for fuel expansion and wipe up all fuel spills.

The same goes for fueling power mowers and saws. After you fuel, move the mower or saw away from the fueling spot before you start the motor. You will enjoy good boating, camping, cooking and living in the outdoors if you just "Learn Not To Burn."

Weekly Report of Joseph Biden

In the wake of drastic curtailments of available natural gas supplies, Senator Joe Biden today announced his support of a proposal to allow large industrial users of gas to bypass the traditional distribution system and purchase the energy at the well-head.

The end result would mean more natural gas for large industrial suppliers at higher, unregulated prices, with homeowners and other small users still receiving lower-priced, regulated supplies.

At stake is a proposed policy statement from the Federal Power Commission which would enable large industrial customers of natural gas to purchase gas at the well-head, then arrange for regulated interstate pipelines to transport it for them.

In a letter to the FPC, Biden noted the drastic cuts in the amount of natural gas available to the State of Delaware. The Delmarva Power and Light Co. has warned its 20 largest industrial users to expect a 20-25 per cent cut in firm supplies next winter because of curtailments in DP&L's supplies, which come from the Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp. (Transco). At present, Transco envisions a cumulative cut of 43 per cent in the 1975-76 heating season over supplies available before the energy crisis.

Noting the importance of natural gas as a chemical feedstock to Delaware's chemical manufacturers, Biden said that further cuts could not only threaten Delaware industry, but could "if severe enough, serve to abort recovery of the nation's economy."

Furthermore, said the Senator, reduced energy supplies also threaten more unemployment -- and Delaware already is suffering an unemployment rate of 11 per cent.

Enabling large industrial users to purchase unregulated natural gas directly, said Biden, would bolster supplies, and aid the economy. The policy statement should be adopted, and made permanent, concluded the Senator.

Reports

Federal estate taxes today present a significant danger to the family farm. As urbanization creeps outward, higher land values develop as a result of the land's speculative value. Often there is a great disparity between the speculative value of the land and the land's actual value when used for farming. Regrettably, under the current law, estate taxes can be based on the land's highest possible value as if, for instance, it was to be used for subdivision homes.

Most farmers have a significant portion of their total assets tied up in the family farming operation. In case of the death of the head of the household, a farmer's family is often forced to sell the family farm in order to pay estate taxes based on the land's speculative value for development.

I think this type of federal estate taxation policy runs counter to our interest in preserving our open spaces and farming operations. It has become all too apparent that farm land is a finite commodity. We can ill afford to force our farm families off their land. In order to combat this problem I am co-sponsoring legislation which says that the executor of an estate may elect to have any qualified real property included in an estate valued for the use under which it qualifies. This means that estate property could be valued based on its present use as proposed to its highest possible value.

The bill also raises the value which can be excluded from estate taxes on land from $50,000 to $200,000. This will protect the survivors from having to sell land at inflated values in order to meet estate tax demands.

At a time when we are striving to meet the challenge of the world food crisis and the danger of inflation, we must see that our laws do not add to our difficulties. This bill will benefit all.

Perform a death-defying act.

Have regular medical check-ups.

Markowitz responded that the "student" he is trying to reach in this program is the one who is reading two years below grade level. Donald Garey, President of the L. F. School Board, asked Markowitz if the program was working. The answer Markowitz gave was that "it was working, but you will always have this reading program. This is why it is necessary to continue it."

When something new is successful, people feel like celebrating and one such celebration is scheduled for tomorrow in Harrington. In fact, the whole community is invited, but "Don't forget your pennies," proclaim the signs announcing the Learning Center Carnival at Lake Forest South Elementary School here.

Although a newcomer to the school district since the fall, the Learning Center's origins may be traced to a Newark, Delaware school where a similar system is in operation. At this time there are three centers in the Lake Forest District.

Basically the center here "Provides for the learning disabled child," according to Craig Jantz, the coordinator for the program at Lake Forest South. Most students who use the center's facilities are of normal or above normal intelligence, says Jantz.

Approximately 90 students use the center on a daily basis, relates Jantz, and they are instructed by five teachers. Around one third stays all day for the basically two part day.

The morning is devoted to basic academic subjects—reading, language arts and math. In the afternoon the practical arts are studied. Subject matter has ranged from personal hygiene and getting along in the community to weaving.

During a previous visit to the center, imaginative and constructive furniture finishing was in full swing on some of the students' desks and chairs. Some 15 items were refinished during that project.

Apparently the Learning Center is working. The children, ranging from second to sixth graders, receive all individualized instruction from whatever area needs concentrated help. Reading seems to be the general deficiency, according to Jantz, although the five instructors deal with a wide variety of learning disabilities.

The children who use the facilities of the center are carefully screened through testing and a child study team in order to determine who might possibly best benefit from using the resources in the center. There is a waiting list now of students to use the center.

There has been a measure of success already through the highly individualized approach. Approximately ten students have returned to the full time class instruction and have become independent of the center.

Jantz and his wife, both teachers at the center, were the general instigators of the carnival. Because of the terrific response to the carnival idea, the whole school as well as parents and local merchants and interested persons are now involved in the project. Hopefully the funds realized from tomorrow's carnival will help finance a trip for the whole Learning Center, since there were no funds available for trips for them this year.

"The kids are making everything" for the fair, says Jantz, and the list includes all items shown in the pictures as well as a table of plants (started by the students), some leather crafts, a large assortment of baked goods made by parents and interested adults and a white elephant table.

Games and booths will be manned by the students tomorrow with the aid of the center teachers, who with the Jantzes include, Mrs. Phyllis Greenhaugh, Miss Jodi Battaglia and Mrs. Thelma Miller.

When and where does the carnival take place? Bring those pennies (and nickles) to the elementary gymnasium, behind W.T. Chipman School. Student guides will be available from there for those who need their assistance. The hours are from 9:30 to 12:30 and from 1:30 to around 2 p.m.

school psychologist at the end of the school year. Maupin spends his time between the Woodbridge School and the Kent County Vocational-Technical School in Woodside. In his statement, Maupin cited his chief reason for leaving was due to the fact that some "building principals" and school administrators were disregarding state regulations as they relate to his position. Maupin spends 3 days a week in the district testing and evaluating students. His recommendations and decisions on the results of students tests have been ignored. He cited further that he believes that some students are not being tested prior to being "referred to special groups." Due to these confrontations, Maupin has decided to resign.

It Seems To Me

by Janet Reed

How much material can you save as you cut out a garment? Sometimes you can save a great deal and save time as well. Pattern companies don't often show you some of these short cuts, but once in a while you'll find a pattern with ideas you can adapt on other patterns.

The shirtwaist dress, for example, offers several opportunities to save fabric and time. If the lapels are cut on the straight grain, you can cut the front facing in one with the garment front. Place the seam line of the facing pattern on top of the seam line of garment front and pin the two pattern pieces together.

You have just eliminated the seam line and saved 1-1/4 inches of fabric on each side of the entire length of the garment. This 2-1/2 inches may not seem like a great deal, but you have saved enough for a belt.

You have also eliminated the need to stitch the full length seam on front of the dress, saving time, thread and the possible problem of fabric pucker.

With the wide fabrics in popular use today there usually is plenty of width to cut garment and facing all in one piece.

If you use press-on interfacings, it is a simple matter to cut interfacings to the fold line of front facing and press in place on facing side of garment. You do not need this front seam to keep the interfacings in place. You may want to top-stitch, though, to give a tailored appearance and to give a firmer edge to the front of the dress.

You can save expensive interfacing fabric by eliminating seam allowances as you cut. These seam allowances are trimmed away later anyway. Even small economies of interfacing are helpful because many needed interfacing pieces are small in size.

You can apply the same principles of seam elimination when cutting other parts of the garment. If the collar is a straight style, eliminate the back seam and cut a double collar. Do the same for cuffs on a long sleeve. Pockets can be cut double with one side on a fold.

Check pattern length before cutting. Patterns allow a generous length. If you're on the short side you may be able to save several inches.

If shortage of fabric is a problem you can even eliminate some nonessential garment details such as pockets, cuffs on short sleeves, or even sleeves if you like a sleeveless style. Buy a belt instead of making one.

Piecing wide skirt pieces isn't often needed anymore with wider fabric and narrow skirts. But as wider skirts become fashionable, skirt portions may need piecing. If this is necessary cut piecing seams on straight grain.

Reversing pattern pieces to cut to better advantage is not recommended on knit fabrics or any fabric with a "one way" design. All knits have some variation in construction which gives an "up and down" or a nap. When using any knit fabric, cut all the pattern pieces with the tops in the same directions.

TOWN AND COUNTRY TOPICS

BOB MULROONEY
ASSISTANT KENT COUNTY AGENT

Apple tree growers are beginning to see leaves which are curling and have become shiny. This has been particularly prevalent in home orchards. The cause of this is the rosy apple aphid. This small rose colored aphid can curl leaves so tightly that insecticide sprays cannot touch them. Therefore, we are recommending systemic insecticides such as Systox or Dime-thoate (Cygon 267-De-fend). Homeowners will have a more difficult time if the leaves have tightly curled because these systemic materials are not available in small quantities; therefore I would recommend Malathion, either wettable powder or emulsifiable concentrate at labeled rates for aphid control. Pick off badly curled leaves and discard.

Alfalfa weevil became heavy in several plantings before the first cutting this spring. Alfalfa weevil control is recommended when 50 percent or more of tips show weevil feeding before full bud stage. See Grain and Forage Crops Guide for materials for control. If weevils were a problem in the first cutting allow some regrowth to occur and check for weevils early. If heavy infestations are present now would be an excellent time for an application of insecticide ground equipment. Our wet weather has greatly favored the growth of many fungi which cause leaf drop in evergreens (pines, yews, and spruce). Yellowing and dead needles should be checked for the presence of small pepper-like dots which may be signs of a fungus disease. Applications of copper fungicide such as Box-deaux mix will aid in control. However, don't be confused with normal shedding of needles in the springtime. Maneb (Manzate, Dithane) will also give some measure of control. Apply either material now and at 14 day intervals during June. Repeat sprays in fall beginning in September and continue into early October.

Now is the time for leaf miner control in hollies, boxwood, and birch. The adult flies are beginning to emerge. They sting the leaves depositing eggs between the leaf cells. These eggs develop into small larvae which mine the leaves. This feeding can be seen as serpentine lines running all over the leaf surface. This feeding can cause leaf drop. It will be important to protect the new foliage with sprays of Cygon 2-E, Malathion, or Diazinon. Destroying old infested leaves will aid control.

I will try to keep you up to date on current pest problems throughout the summer. If you have any cultural insect or disease problems, feel free to give me a call at 736-1448.

Agrifacts . . .

At the time of the Revolution, wheat fields in New York State were yielding 25 to 35 bushels an acre. With poor fertilizing practices, yields dropped to 8 bushels an acre over the next half-century.

Track Team Takes Third Win

by Keith Burgess

Matt Burgess' double victory helped Jim Blades' Lake Forest High track Spartans win their third victory of the season last week at Harrington.

Sussex Central's Golden Knights were beaten 92-49, as the Spartans came through with some outstanding efforts.

The high jump saw Bob Mullane and Kevin Wooters clear five feet, eight inches with first year leaper Kevin Thomas, doing a fine 5' 6".

Steve Sausbury's 11 feet clearance in the pole vault was a new personal high.

He's a junior and needs to improve only 11 inches to get the school mark.

George Moore was the triple jump winner with 39' 6 1/4", to 39' 6" for Collins of S. C. and 39' 5 3/4" for sophomore Mike Benson. Benson was a foot over his previous best, then got second in the long jump with 18' 2 1/4".

A Lake Forest sweep in the mile run was engineered by Harry Benson (4.48), Dan Parker and Dave Richter. Cliff "Sugar Bear" Ayres ran a lifetime best of 5.11.

It was 1-2-3 in the 400 yard run behind seniors Ron Dunlap (54.7), Bob Kashner and frosh Ron Loper.

Yet another sweep came about in the 880 as junior Craig Kashner did 2:11.4, followed by H. Benson and Parker.

In the mile relay the Spartans' winning foursome was made up of Dave Richter, Bob Kashner, Craig Kashner (53.4) and Ron Dunlap. 3:44.9 is good time for Chipman's slow track.

The 880 relay unit of Greg Pritchett, Charley Scott, Tony Smith and John Pickett won easily in a swift 1:34.1.

Joe Voshell was all alone at the finish of the two mile run in 10:53.2.

Bob Mullane and Bob Loper turned in 1975's best Spartan low hurdles clockings of 23 and 23.1.

Burgess' throws in the shot, (37' 11") and discus (126') weren't his best throws this year, but got the job done. Jerry Thompson was second in the discus, with freshman John O'Toole throwing 37' 7" for third.

Kevin Wooters made his last start in the Blue, Gold and White a winning one by annexing the 120 yard high hurdles in 19 seconds flat.

Ants Are At Work

With Frank Boys Extension Entomologist University of Delaware

Notice small piles of shredded wood around your house? If you do, carpenter ants may be at work. We have had numerous calls lately concerning these pests.

Carpenter ants occur widely in the United States and are the largest of our common ants in Delaware. The adults vary in length from one-quarter inch for a worker up to three-quarters inch for a queen. They are either entirely shiny black or reddish black in color.

The ants build their nests in a variety of locations. They prefer wood that is moist or partially decayed. Outdoors they build nests in stumps, weakened trees, telephone poles, fence posts, railings, piled lumber and logs.

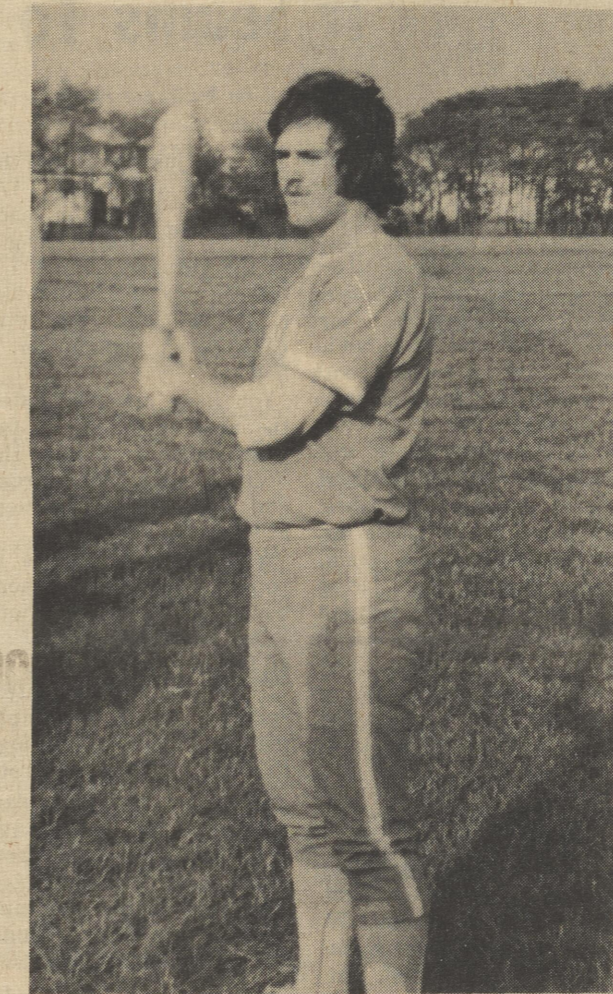

Indoors carpenter ants prefer timbers that are soft, moist (not wet) and decaying due to improper drainage or leakage. But they have also been known to nest in dry timbers such as foundation sills, main beams, between joists that are nailed together, around door frames, in wall, floor and ceiling voids, in firewood piled in the garage or in front of the fireplace and in other structures attached to the house. In most cases they enter the wood through small surface cracks and tunnel into the soft interior where they live. Porches, steps, roofs and high moisture areas near kitchens and bathrooms are especially vulnerable.

Carpenter ants don't eat wood (as termites do), they just excavate galleries in their wood to rear their young. They feed on other insects, honeydew from aphids, animal remains and household food scraps. They are partial to sweet plant juices and to common household sweets such as sugar, honey and cake crumbs. You will often see them traveling to and from the nest, searching for food.

Finding these ants in your home does not necessarily mean that the timbers are infested, since the nest may be outdoors. But it does justify looking for the colony and eliminating it.

To control this pest try and locate the nest. This is the most important part of their control and often the most difficult. Attempt to trace the ant's line of march from the food source to approximate nest location. Then treat the nest. Chlor-dane is presently the most widely used insecticide. Other effective insecticides include: Dursban, diazinon, malathion, Baygon and Korlan.

Russ Dill awaits his turn at bat in the C.R. game. C.R. won 8-7.

Minor League Baseball Results

Martin Jarrell Oil Co. and HiGrade Dairy played to a 13-13 tie last Monday. Every player had at least one hit. Home runs were hit by Troy Dennis and Frank Strunk. The boys continue to rapidly progress in their fielding and hitting.

Dennis Dill pitched HiGrade Dairy to victory over Martin Jarrell Oil Co., last Wednesday as Jarrell failed to come up with a pitcher who could find the plate. Jerry Wyatt did the catching for the winners while John Miller caught for Jarrells. Both boys looked good behind the plate. Gary Price and John Miller produced the only hits for the losers while Glenn Homewood led the winners with two hits.

Lake Forest Takes Ten Medals During Meet

Benson Wins Two Medals During Championship Meet

Harry "Smooth" Benson of Lake Forest High's track team won the mile run Saturday afternoon at the Delaware Interscholastic Track Championships at the University of Delaware. Competing in Group II, the Spartan junior was officially clocked in a swift 4.31.1, some 11 seconds better than his previous top effort. Some unofficial watches had him under 4.30. He may threaten Chris Wetherhold's school mark of 4.28.4 in 1976.

The Frederica Flash used to be known as the Brownsville Bombshell. He ran a smart race allowing Robert Drysdale of A. I. duPont and Jay Reed of Cape Henlopen to cut out the early pace. He moved past Reed with 200 yards to go, then jumped Drysdale coming off the last curve to win going away.

Meanwhile, freshman sensation Dan Parker cruised across in fourth place in 4.37.1 to break Wetherhold's frosh mark of 4.38.

Benson had been knocking at the door of track stardom for three years and finally made it across the threshold.

Earlier, Benson had clocked a lifetime best for 880 yards of 2.04.1 as he ran one leg of Lake Forest's third place two mile relay team.

Freshman stars Dan Parker and Dave Richter, turned in personal bests of 2.07.9 and 2.08.2, respectively, then Craig Kashner's 2.03.9 anchor leg almost caught second place A. I. duPont at the tape. The 8.25.7 clocking was close to the Spartan mark of 8.24, set in 1971 with all four locals returning in 1976, this record should fall.

Greg Pritchett, Charley Scott, John Pickett and Tony Smith blazed 880 yards in 1.32.7 to get third in the 880 relay and set a new Lake Forest record, eclipsing the 1.33.6, set in 1972 by Herm McBride, Don Parker, Bob Smith, Neil Travis, Bob Smith and Tony Smith are brothers.

Steve Saulsbury's lead of 10 feet, 6 inches, tied for third in the pole vault. Steve is aiming for 12 feet in 1976.

Tony Smith and Craig Kashner were fifth and sixth respectively, in the 100 and 880 yard runs.

Since 1975 was a rebuilding season, Jim Blades was very pleased with his team's state meet performance. Lake Forest scored 34 points to finish sixth of 19 teams, one point behind A. I. duPont.

Ten medals were earned with state champion Harry Benson getting a pair.

Woodbridge Runs a Close Second At Championship Meet

by Keith S. Burgess

Woodbridge High's Blue Raiders' track team coached by Jim Foster, didn't even have a track to practice or compete on until the last few years, but almost won the Group II Division of the Delaware Interscholastic Track Championships held at the University of Delaware, Saturday. Cape Henlopen's Vikings tallied 91 points to 88 for Woodbridge.

The Raiders have a horde of sprinters and racked up all but two of their points in sprints, hurdles and relays. Jim Weal was not extended as he recorded wins in the 100 in an excellent 9.7 and in the 220 with a state record of 21.5. He then anchored the Raiders to a Group II record win of 43.1 in the 440 relay, breaking the old mark of 44 set by Woodbridge in 1972. Tom Faulk, Hayward and Fred Murray helped Weal there.

The 880 relay race was annexed by Woodbridge in 1.30.2, missing a record by one-tenth. Faulk, the Murrays and Dave Waddler, formed this quartet.

Woodbridge's mile relay unit broke the old Group II standard with a swift 3.26.7 clocking, but finished just behind Cape Henlopen's 3.26.2.

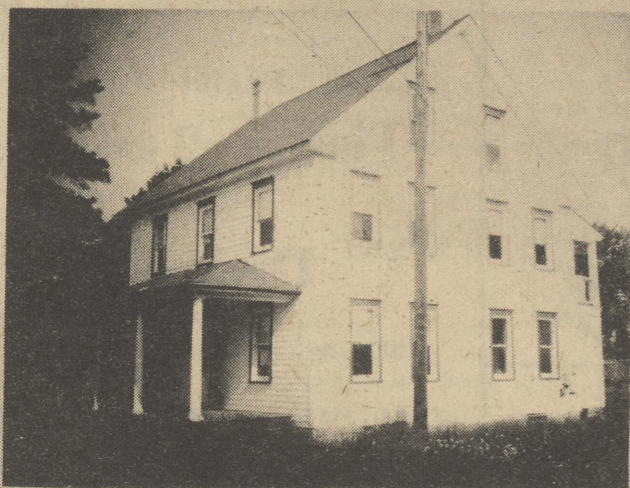

Charles Hopkins was runner-up in the 180 low hurdles. Waddler was third in the highs. Other Raider scorers were: Frank Kerns, Myron Hayes, Mike Morgan, Nathaniel "Spark" Neal.
