

Referendum Goes To Lake Forest School District Voters Nov. 12

Voters in the Lake Forest School District will decide the fate of the students for years to come as they cast votes for or against the referendum that will call for additions to Lake Forest High School and the Lake Forest North Elementary School at Felton.

At the high school the referendum voters will be voting for or against a 36,000 square foot addition to include eight classrooms, one science laboratory, an industrial arts shop, a 6,000 foot expansion of the gymnasium, which would include dressing rooms, showers, and storage, and an auditorium with a 1,200 person capacity. Projected plans for the auditorium would also include several instructional areas for large classes.

The present high school was too small when it was built, but nearly adequate at the time. Now, the school, designed for 750, houses 1173 according to official district figures. "There is no way this school is going to get back down to what the school can handle" says William Griffin, high school principal. According to Griffin, traditionally the secondary school's enrollment will be higher, partially due to repeaters and with people moving into the school district. Next year, he continued the enrollment "will go to 1220, to about 1250 the following year. We may reach as many as 1275 in 1978, after that I would predict it will remain stable for the next three to five years."

With the elective system in the high school and the special education programs that require class space, it is not feasible to "cram 30 kids in every room" says Melvin Luff, assistant superintendent of the school district.

According to state formula, there must be 137,000 square feet of space for every 1,000 students. The ratio at Lake Forest High School is 1175 to 99,000 square feet.

School officials are not looking much beyond the referendum at this point and were reluctant to talk about the possibility of split shift scheduling. This, for those who have not experienced severe overcrowding before, is where the student body is divided into two shifts, school is from 7:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and from then to 5:30 p.m. "This means students either come to school or go home in the dark", says Griffin, who has experienced split scheduling in New Jersey. At the moment, the school district is not talking about split shift scheduling.

Another nonmentionable at the moment is the evaluation at the high school, which is scheduled for 1977. Griffin pointed out that evaluation accreditation would be seriously impeded if the crowding situation is not being taken care of by the time of the evaluation. A twenty-five percent figure over capacity almost automatically cuts you out, says Griffin. Current enrollment is forty percent above capacity. Students graduating from a nonaccredited high school will have serious problems entering schools of higher learning. Ivy League colleges will not accept students from nonaccredited high school, says Griffin. At the moment the high school is accredited.

At Lake Forest North, a 2,000 foot addition to the cafeteria will be voted upon. The maximum capacity for the cafeteria now is 196. The 845 students in kindergarten through grade six are eating home 10:45 a.m. to 12:50 p.m. in six shifts.

There are "no allowances for people with special problems or slow eaters. No body dares not leave late or early. When your time's up you have to go" says Louise Fisher, cafeteria manager. The referendum will ask voters to vote for a tax increase of possible seven to (continued on page 11)

Council Hears From Citizens

Citizens dominated much of the action during Monday night's City Council meeting in Harrington which was chaired by William Griffin Vice Mayor. Mayor William Minner had a conflicting meeting and was not present during the evening.

Leroy Calhoun, as president of the Chamber of Commerce read a letter (see conclusion of article) in which he, as spokesman for the local chamber, indicated the Chamber's endorsement of a twenty-four hour police protection for the City, which, according to the letter, the City does not have at the moment. After hearing the letter, Griffin suggested response to it might best be made during the December meeting since fact-finding was necessary as he viewed the contents of the letter.

Calhoun also read a letter of commendation regarding the action of the police during the attempted burglary of Calhoun's business, L & D Electronics. The letter praised the action of the authorities for thwarting the burglary, which could have had serious financial effects to Calhoun's business had the burglary occurred.

A petition from the residents of Reese Avenue requesting the removal of truck traffic on that street was read to the council by Councilman Earl McColley. According to the petition, the truck traffic has five drawbacks: it devalues the property on Reese Avenue, the trucks blow horns "at all hours of the day or night", the trucks use excessive speed, there is a danger to children, and trucks park on the end of Reese Avenue and run their refrigerator trucks. McColley made a motion for a legal opinion on the possibility of removing trucks from Reese Avenue, which would mean these trucks would have to find another access to the Burris refrigeration storage plant there. Council voted to seek such an opinion, but not without discussion and a dissenting vote from John Satterfield.

A representative from the State Highway Department (Planning) is scheduled to appear at the December council meeting to present findings on possible alternative truck routing through the City.

Lee Dean, representing the JAYCEES, requested funds from the City to assist in the annual Christmas parade and Christmas lighting, which are projects sponsored by the JAYCEES. The Council granted $700 to the organization. Dean reported that some repairs are necessary this year, and that because of the removal of some poles on Clark Street, the Christmas lights will only be along Commerce Street this year.

Saying that "It's a little bit asinine and ... a little bit harrassment", Sam Powell briefly appeared to remark on a complaint he said was made by Grant Street residents about his leaving a truck overnight in his yard. Powell has moved his business from the City and reportedly uses the garage for repair of trucks he uses in his septic tank-drain field installation business. There has been a running feud between Powell and the neighbors for well over a year regarding his business, which City Hall has arbitrated periodically. The most recent phase involved a flat tire on a truck, according to Powell. This is what prompted his appearance at City Hall Monday night.

The balance of the meeting was spent in reports and bill paying. Among these included: hearing a report from police chief Ed Layton on the feasibility of installing citizen band radios in the police vehicles. Council decided to wait on taking any action until results on the effectiveness of these radios could be established based on a statewide survey presently being made.

The possibility of having an alderman who would hear night cases was mentioned. According to Layton, Anna Hampton, the City Alderman, is not on-call at night.

Among the bills to be paid was a $20,133.29 bill to the Kent Soil and Water Conservation District for street crossings for the Browns Branch Ditching project. It was necessary to borrow the money from a local bank on a two-year note. "I think we should pay for this under protest", said Councilman Satterfield. He remarked all that ditching was done under court order. The City will also have to pick up a $700 tax tab yearly on the project.

Comments about the possibility of future water and sewer rate hikes and a tax hike concluded the meeting.

New Book Released

A story of Delmarva's participation in the Revolutionary War, untold for 200 years, has finally been published and was released this week. Bearing the title "Breadbasket of The Revolution and sub-titled "Delmarva's Eight Turbulent War Years", the book is a comprehensive chronicle of the role of the Delmarva Peninsula and Delmarvans in the birth of our nation. "A diligent search failed to find any previously published book on the subject" states Charles J. Truitt, the author whose research extended over more than five years. The book is hardcover, illustrated, contains copious reference sources, appendices, bibliography and a comprehensive index. "Although no major land battle was fought on the peninsula, the tri-state area was vital to the war's success", the author asserts. "The fertile fields and lush meadow land of Delmarva became the chief source of provisions for the Continental Armies, without which General Washington

Mervine Gets Zoning Approval

Merle Embleton discusses possible expansion of Nanticoke Homes to the Harrington area.

Felton City Council Meets

The annexation of an area north and west of Felton off High Street was the main topic of discussion at the Felton Town Council meeting Monday night.

Bob Courtay, Jr., Bill Myers, Jr., and Willis Voshell, three builders in the Felton area, attended to find how much interest there was in such an annexation.

This annexation would be the first such attempt by the town. Mayor Myers' main point of consideration was the financial end of this undertaking. The present water pipes would have to be added on to, with possibilities of a new sewer system in the next couple years. He stated that this was not something to be rushed into. Councilman Don Jacobs said such expansion of the water system would be possible since the water is now being pumped to the school, and following such a radius from the water tower, at least most of the area should get water if all the pumps are in proper working order.

Mrs. Francis J. Jefferson pointed out that while there may be a lot paid to get water piped out there, the town would benefit in the long run because these people would be paying city tax, and add to the city's revenue.

It was decided that each of the builders would submit a letter to the Council explaining exactly what they hoped to gain by this annexation, and some research would be done to find out how much the proposed pipe addition would cost, and investigate to see what, if any, federal funds could be obtained. After this, a meeting will be set up to discuss only the annexation.

In the meantime the builders agreed that if any of the land was sold, it would be understood that if that land was annexed, the owner automatically would be annexed, with no say in the matter.

It was also noted that this area is now zoned as agricultural, and would need to be rezoned as residential.

John Mervine, President of Nanticoke Homes, Inc., of near Greenwood last Tuesday received approval of a zoning request, light industrial, before the Kent County Planning and Zoning and Levy Court on a 45.8 acre site located on the west side of U.S. 13, south of the Delaware State Fairgrounds. The ground was owned by Delmarva Power & Light Company. The land has frontage on U.S. 13 and County Route 315. Basically the lines of the parcel are the northern line of Gruwell Greenhouse along the west edge of Gruwell lands south to County Route 315. The western boundary line of the parcel is the right-of-way of Penn Central Railroad.

In an interview this week with The Journal, Vice President and part owner Merle Embleton discussed the long and short range plans for the newly purchased site. The land was purchased from Delmarva Power & Light conditioned upon the ability of the purchaser getting the necessary and proper zoning so as to further conduct their present construction of homes on an assembly line basis as they are doing in their Greenwood plant. Embleton said that the plan is to see how the economy progresses and observe whether or not their company experiences a sharp or gradual rise in the number of sales of new homes. When the demand by the public is so great upon Nanticoke Homes, Inc., to deliver a completed home within a reasonable time, they then will begin to make plans to construct an assembly line plant, warehouse and the like. Currently their assembly line operation is in a building 102 feet x 240 feet with a 50 feet x 160 feet warehouse for a total square footage of approximately 40,000 square feet.

Both Embleton and Mervine are religious men associating a large part of their success in the fact that they hold to a Christian way of life. Embleton, who has been associated with Mervine since he opened the business and a partner within the past five years, said also that their rapport with the general public is good, "...and that we try hard to give the purchaser of one of our homes value for his dollar". The average price of their home last year was $26,125 with three bedrooms and two baths. Their success is also measured by the fact that no two homes which go out of their plant are the same. "The way we build these homes is in fact giving the purchaser a custom house on an assembly line basis", said Embleton.

They can turn out any kind of home imaginable from ranchers to bi-levels to split levels, and even to two story styles. A customer may also pick his paint colors, panelling, hardwood floors or carpeting and their speciality which is a sprayed on acoustical tile ceiling. All of the homes which leave their plant are at least 28 feet wide with a two foot overhang which makes the building a little over 17 feet as it is pulled over the highways. This is why they always need a State Police escort. Their homes are being sold in Maryland and in New Jersey. The home is too wide to be carried over the Virginia and Pennsylvania highways. The home is also approved by VA and the Farmers Home Administration, where approximately 50 percent of the new homes are financed. The company built 280 homes last year.

They have 60 pieces of rolling stock with their company and employ 137 employees. There are usually more carpenters and subcontractors on the site, for all plumbing, heating and electrical work is subcontracted. These sub-contractors send their employees to the Greenwood plant and work there during a normal shift. The company also has salesmen employed in the areas of Salisbury, Easton, Snow Hill, Ocean Pines, Ridgely and Dover. They recently sold a house built in the Greenwood plant which contained over 3500 square feet and was carried in three sections. They have also supplied Washington College with homes which were converted into office space. To that extent, they have built for commercial usages, but primarily they are residential builders.

BBB To Open Branch Office

Kent and Sussex Counties now have a branch of the Better Business Bureau, located at 20 South Walnut Street in Milford.

The office at Milford, although official dedication and open house ceremonies take place this Sunday afternoon from 1 to 5 p.m., is already functioning. John Purnell, marketing representative for Kent and Sussex Counties, told the Journal the Milford office is equipped to handle all calls from the two counties that previously had been handled in the Wilmington office. According to Purnell, approximately 300 calls a month have come from Kent and Sussex and had been previously handled in Wilmington. Now by calling 422-6300 (for Kent residents) or 856-6969 (for Sussex residents), these calls will be handled in the Milford office.

The purpose of the Better Business Bureau is to have businesses self regulate themselves as regards healthy business practices. The Bureau is a resource for persons inquiring about businesses not only in the state of Delaware but nationally and internationally. Numerous pamphlets are available also in the Milford office that could aid the businessman and the consumer.

One of the advantages of the Better Business Bureau according to Purnell is the procedure used by individuals who feel they have a legitimate complaint about a business. The consumer may file a complaint for which the businessman is given a chance for rebuttal. A mediator may then be called in, or a final step if needed is through arbitration. Ninety five percent of the cases brought to the attention of the bureau are handled and settled in mediation, said Purnell. The advantage here as he sees it is the time and money saved by avoiding court proceedings, since this is a service of the bureau.

The bureau is "in no way a bill collector," said Purnell.

The bureau serves to do everything it can "to convince the businessman to be as legitimate as the public expects him to be. We hope the Better Business Bureau will build up a lot of confidence in the consumer," he continued.

John Purnell, marketing representative for the Better Business Bureau in Kent and Sussex.

Over 150 businesses in the Kent-Sussex area are members of the bureau, which is financed solely by membership. Local members include Taylor's Hardware, L & D Electronics, People's Bank, Taylor & Messick and Dover Mobile Homes, J. Edward Taylor of Taylor's Hardware is a member of the advisory council.

Purnell said he was excited to be in the area and said he was "Completely sold on what the Better Business Bureau can do in the area." A graduate of the

Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, he grew up in the Georgetown area and had helped operate the family's hardware business in Georgetown.

Completing the staff at Milford is Mrs. Desiree Noble, service representative.

Merit Scholarship Recognition

Susan Eliason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Eliason of near Harrington, is given a certificate of merit from the National Merit Scholarship by Lake Forest High School principal William Griffin. Only one percent of all students who take the test nationally achieve recognition, said Griffin. Last year 385,000 students took the test. Students from Delaware have led the nation for the past five years, according to Griffin. Miss Eliason is only the second student at Lake Forest to receive such recognition.

Letter Calls For 24 Hour Police Protection

To Harrington Mayor Bill Minner, Harrington City Council

Gentlemen: This letter is in regards to the Chamber of Commerce stand on 24 hours police protection for the merchants and citizens of Harrington.

We realize that the burglar of L & D Electronics on that Friday morning of Oct. 10 had happened Tuesday morning Oct. 7 the thieves would have gotten off clean with approximately 15,000 dollars of L & D Electronics merchandise. We did not have 24 hour protection on that Tuesday morning.

Since the 10th of October the Chief of Police has given the town 24 hour protection. But by doing this it has put an extra load on the Harrington Police Dept. Making them work over time.

The Chamber of Commerce of Harrington would like to go on record at this time and put in City Council Minutes that we want 24 hour protection in this town. We realize increase in crime that has come to the eastern shore. We need this protection especially between the hours of 12 midnight and eight in the morning.

We realize that by asking for this it causes a added load on the police department by making them work over time. We also know if they work over time they should be compensated by either time off or be paid over time or hire another police officer.

We understand that certain members of the Council and the Mayor do not want to pay this over time. We also know that if they take this time off it leaves the

Greenwood PTA Plans School Projects

The Greenwood Elementary Woodbridge Junior High PTA organization has recently installed a jump pit on the Greenwood school grounds. Last year under the direction of Mrs. Norma Prettyman, then president of the PTA, the organization was activated once more. Between last year's activities and this year many worthwhile projects have been completed.

This past Saturday a jump pit was constructed on the grounds south of the school and adjacent to U.S. Rt. 13. It can be seen from the highway. This project was the result of the members of the PTA soliciting the needs of the school last year. The gym teachers suggested that a jump pit be constructed for their classes. This year's gym teachers, Carl Baker and Mrs. Susan Breeding, have approved of the project. The pit is roughly 12' x 18' x 1 1/2' deep. It is covered in with saw dust.

Mrs. Prettyman noted that last year's projects which were completed under the direction of the PTA were as follows: purchase of play ground equipment, crayons for kindergarten, a closet for storage of completed articles in the home economics classes and volunteer parents helping out in the nurse's office and principal's office when the work load was heavy.

The PTA is sponsoring a bi-centennial program for all grade levels. The program will be a combination musical, chorus, band and recitations. It will be held on Nov. 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the Junior High School Auditorium.

A project currently underway is to get crossing guards for Governor's Ave. in Greenwood, which is the street directly in front of the school. There are no signs posted in this area notifying vehicles of a school zone, and certain mothers in the PTA feel that safety is lacking when school children cross the street to enter the school grounds. An appeal has been made to the Town Council of Greenwood to remedy the problem.

This year's officers of the PTA in Greenwood are Veronica Cannon, President, Mary Parsons, V.P., Secretary, Judy Rash, and Treasurer, Marie Batson. Efforts are being made to have the association meet once a month. For further information, contact Mrs. William Mark Prettyman or Mrs. Norman Cannon.

Monday the Jolly Timers practiced Christmas Carols, and planned for the Halloween party at Clayton.

Tuesday some of the members went shopping at Pantry Pride and Nichols. Wednesday Judy Phillips was to come and show the members how to write and balance personal checks but she did not make it on account of car trouble. In the afternoon Paper Bag Bingo was enjoyed by all.

Thursday the center with Cite Manager, Miss Bunny Pete, visited Clayton to attend the County Wide Halloween Party. Everyone had a good time watching the contestants try to bite donuts on a string and pick up an apple with their teeth from a pan of water.

Miss Bunny Pete made a very good looking Scarecrow.

None of our members got a prize but they had a lot of fun. Out of our 13 bowlers Friday, seven went over the 200 mark with Jim Keniencki leading the pack with 337, and Elbert Stevens closely following with 321.

Fred Littmann 250, George Goodge 215, Andy Anderson 209. Marian Russum topped Andy with 213 and Dan Knoel rolled 202 for two games each.

The spotlight this week falls on one of our neighboring members whose home is on Washington St. in Milford. Her name is Mrs. Kendall J. Jarrett, known to us as Ella Jarrett. This fine lady and her husband have been happily married for eight years. She is a good house wife, and attends one of the Milford churches. They both enjoy their garden and flowers that her husband takes care of. It seems he is the one in the family with a green thumb.

Ella has many friends where she lives and likes to attend our Center where she has many more. She helps in the making of ceramics, which are now being made for the coming Christmas bazaar. She is very handy in her work and does it well, and enjoys her self while working. She is also a member of the Jolly Timer's kitchen band as one of the bazooka players.

Sam Short, member of the Harrington Senior Center (and columnist for the Journal) works over a craft project for the Center's annual Christmas Bazaar. This year the bazaar dates are Friday and Saturday, November 21 and 22. Lunch will be served on Friday. The members are busy with many past favorites, which includes their ceramics, as well as several new offerings.

LAKE FOREST REFERENDUM ON NOV. 12

Any difference of opinion on this referendum is quickly branded as being apathetic to education, as racially or geographically prejudicial or just being indifferent.

These supporters simply imply that the problems of over enrollment will be alleviated by a few more pennies. School Administrators project "leveling off" of school population and project that this referendum will suffice.

This is far from accurate, in fact population in this county is projected to double in less than twenty years and enough developments in this district are being considered to necessitate much additional school construction.

Most important, according to officials of the Kent County Planning and Zoning Office, is that not once has any official of the Lake Forest School District responded to their inquiries concerning the impact of proposed developments within this district.

Apparently this board fails to recognize the cause of our problem and evidently does not care.

Finally taxation of property and land places the entire tax burden unequally and totally upon certain people. These real estate taxes are often quoted being easiest to collect not the fairest.

We must realize that great efforts in time and money and political pressure is being exerted to develop every square inch of land in this district and Kent County. This alone is the one important fact that affects our school's enrollment.

If we are to escape the same fate as our neighbor New Jersey, we must stop massive rural development and we must find a fair and equal way of financing our education system.

Apparently the "apathy" lies not with the voter, but with officials who cannot see ahead any further than this referendum.

"...he may have a daggone limp now, but it hasn't slowed him down too much."

A few months back we began covering the Town Council meetings in Felton. It was a familiar haunt for me, for it was formerly the office of Magistrate Elijah (Lijie) Harrington. He would call me from time to time when I was a member of the Attorney General's Office asking me to drop by "...(he) wanted to talk to me." I always did for above his company, I enjoyed hearing his yarns about the times he spent as a cowboy...or some such thing.

Not only was the Town Hall of Felton a familiar place, but so were most of the Council members and of course the Mayor...Bill Myers. I believe the Mayor and council members possess a real genuine way about them which time and time again demonstrates logic and good sense. There is one who is obviously a shrewd old fox...a good bargainer...in complete control of the meeting... and usually two or three steps ahead of all of us. That's the Mayor. Time and time again he permits the discussions to drift. Invariably he chooses the right moment to bring them back on course as though he could have done so any time he desired.

If the talked-about annexation is put to a referendum vote, it will be a landmark situation, for never in the history of the Town has there been such an event. In Mayor Myers, the townspeople have a man who has their interests at heart, and he knows every detail about the Town...and more too. I could not help but think Monday night during the Council meeting as spectators were knee deep in the Town Hall that everything was under control. He knew when to speak, what to ask... and more importantly what not to ask. It might come with age, with practice or with experience...or a combination of all three. It is true that someone else could always do a better job, but until that happens, I would think the Town of Felton is in good hands. The hip operation sidelined him for awhile. Aside from that "...he may have a daggone limp now, but it hasn't slowed him down too much."

Referendum . . .

A Final Note

During the past several issues, the paper has attempted to present information regarding the referendum that will be voted on next Wednesday in this school district. By now most people should know what the referendum is about.

There have been many views, pro and con, voiced in the area. This is healthy. Whenever there is a decision such as this to make, it is never easy. Hopefully logical thinking will prevail. Hopefully people will scrutinize all the issues and ramifications and come up with the best solution for the district's youths, now and for the future. After talking with many people, attending meetings, being in both schools on several occasions, hearing from students, parents, administrators, teachers, it is our opinion the need for the referendum is valid.

It is true, we, as property owners, are once again asked to shoulder more responsibility. It is also possible that this is one burden, at least, that will lighten as the debts are satisfied and bonds mature and are retired. This has happened at Caesar Rodney, where the school assessment tax has dropped in recent years.

We are trying to view the problem at hand. The school is unhealthily overcrowded, partially because it was not large enough at the time it was constructed. The longer we delay the inevitable move to add to the present facility, the more it will cost the taxpayer, since building costs are not diminishing.

For the future growth of the area, it is up to the citizens to direct its growth. It is our opinion that the referendum should not be used as a whipping boy for controlling growth in the area, or for any other complaint. Many complaints we have heard are legitimate, if somewhat misdirected. Let's keep the issue clear, and vote accordingly. The future children in the district now, and for the future, are in our hands. In the final analysis they are the future...can we afford to shortchange them? We think not, and therefore support and endorse this referendum.

town with out protection. Why doesn't Council and Mayor want to pay overtime? Why doesn't Council Mayor want to hire another policeman? Why not have an alderman that they can use during the night so they won't have to take the arrested after 12 p.m. at night to Dover Court Seven and leave the town unposted and wide open to thieves.

These are some of the questions that the Chamber of Commerce are asking. I will be back next meeting for these answers. Can Council or Mayor answer these questions?

Weekly Report

by Senator Joseph Biden

How far should Congress go in seeking to assure the citizen's right to privacy, and is there a need for new legislation to help citizens protect themselves against unwarranted snooping into their private lives?

Those were the questions posed by three recent days of hearings before the Senate Subcommittee on Consumer Affairs, of which I am Chairman, on legislation to strengthen the Fair Credit Reporting Act of 1970. That law, for the first time, spelled out the basic right of consumers to obtain adverse information about them stored in private files of consumer reporting agencies - those firms that run "credit checks" and obtain other information on citizens for insurance companies, retail firms, employers and other business firms.

After those hearings, there is no doubt in my mind that there is a need for legislation to strengthen the right of citizens when dealing with these credit-reporting firms.

The Subcommittee heard a number of stories which make it clear that there continue to be severe abuses when it comes to gathering information on credit for private firms.

Just to cite one example, a man in St. Louis was denied automobile insurance because a reporting firm said that "a poll of four neighbors proved" the man had a "lack of judgment," undisciplined children, a prior history of evictions, and a "bad attitude." After a great deal of time and effort, the man obtained a copy of his credit file, and discovered that one disgruntled neighbor, only, was the source of all this adverse information. This man sued, and collected a judgment of $25,000.

Similar stories, from all over the country, could go on for hundreds of pages.

I think the average citizen should have recourse, in law, to protect themselves. Even though the present law has a number of safeguards - including the right to obtain information, to insist on a credit "reinvestigation," and to submit a statement for their files giving their side of the story, I think there is a need for improvement.

At the very least, I think consumers ought to be able to see with their own eyes what information is contained in consumer reporting agency files; consumers ought to be given the assurance that such information is gathered in reliable, honest ways; and they ought to be given every opportunity to challenge and correct information that is inaccurate and or irrelevant. I also think that consumers ought to have a veto power over the preparation of personalized investigative reports into their character, lifestyle and morals.

I do not quarrel with the right of creditors, insurance companies and other business firms to seek information having a legitimate bearing on the credit status, or insurability, of a citizen. But I think we can devise ways to insure that such information is fairly gathered, impartially administered and fairly presented. At the very least.

Counselor's Corner

By Dan Newman

Question: Why do institutions require a parent's confidential statement?

Answer: Assistance from most postsecondary institutions, states, federal programs and scholarship agencies is awarded to students on the basis of need. The amount of a student's financial need at a particular college is determined by subtracting the total family expected contributions from the college budget. When education costs are greater than the amount of money a student and his family can reasonably contribute, the student is considered to have "financial need". To award aid on the basis of need, colleges must have a way of figuring how much of the costs of higher education can be met by the family. The PCS gathers this information about the financial resources of the family, providing the family with a chance to explain special circumstances (illness, fire damage not covered by insurance, educational expenses of other members of the family, etc.) that reduce the resources available to the family to pay for college. Then the information is analyzed and a copy of the PCS and a report showing the analysis of the student's need are sent to each institution or scholarship program listed on the PCS. The PCS procedure enables the college to know about the special problems of each family while determining need in a consistent way.

Thoughts . . .
By Senator William Roth

In our system of criminal justice the needs and rights of the victims of crime are frequently overlooked. I believe it is time that our legal system, which has shown great concern for the rights of the accused in criminal cases, show equal concern for the rights of the people it is intended to protect.

The primary obligation of society is to assure the safety of law-abiding citizens by removing the criminal from our streets and, if possible, rehabilitating him. But we must recognize that it is simply not possible to rehabilitate all criminals. In these cases, the rights of the great majority of Americans, our law-abiding citizens, must receive first consideration.

I believe our system of criminal justice must be reformed to assure that the basic rights and needs of crime victims are recognized and safeguarded.

The need for more attention to the problems of the crime victim was noted eight years ago by the president's Commission on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice. If we knew more about the characteristics of the victims as well as of the offenders, the Commission said, crime prevention and control programs could be made much more effective.

I believe a major part of our crime problem stems from a breakdown in the basic agencies of social control - the family, the church, the school, the community. The social fabric of our society has been weakened by the permissive attitudes that are so prevalent today.

We need to return to the old-fashioned ideals that brought this country its greatness. If we are ever to succeed in making our streets safe again, we must renew the emphasis that earlier generations placed on respect for law and the rights of others.

I have advanced a number of proposals which I believe are important to reducing crime in this country. I believe a special advisory commission of law enforcement officials should be established to obtain the undiluted views of those who are in front-line of the fight against crime. I

Open Letter To Chipman Parents

Dear Parents, I apologize for not having written to you last week. A death occurred in my family, and the duties and obligations connected with such a loss prevented my following my usual routine. Now let me bring you up-to-date.

We are, in our classes, dealing with the ways in which all human beings are alike, that is, regardless of our age, there are certain needs we all have and try to meet. We may do this in either acceptable or unacceptable ways; so an understanding of them seems desirable. A list of these needs with some comment about each one follows: (1) The need for recognition - to feel that we are worthy of the respect of others, that we are "some good". When we have this feeling of self-worth, we are said to have self-esteem or a positive self-concept. Remember about the positive and negative strokes? Well, as you may have guessed the positive strokes we receive build self-esteem and negative strokes tend to diminish it. If we are called stupid, rattle-brained, or irresponsible often enough, we begin to believe we are what we are called and tend to act appropriately. We tend to meet positive expectations too! Don't forget that we would rather receive negative strokes than to be ignored.

(2) The need for security - to feel that we are loved and protected by those close to us. Seeking employment, going to work regularly, seeking adequate food, clothing, and shelter, keeping promises, issuing invitations, making thoughtful telephone calls, writing letters, leaving notes to tell other members of the family where we are, all these things are a part of our trying to feel secure and to make others feel that they can count on us. Linus' security blanket and my very large purse are some other examples we talked about in class. The reluctance that some of us have to remove outdoor garments in a classroom or in other public places may be another example of our striving to feel safe and secure. Knowing that they are loved is important to parents as well as to children. Make it easy for your children to express warm and tender feelings. Try setting an example for them, with your own parents and with your own children. Most of us, with little effort, find it easy to let people know what we don't like; but we have to work a little harder to say positive, constructive, feeling words. Why do you suppose this is true? Or haven't you found it so?

(3) The need for friends - to feel that there are people our own age who enjoy being with us. This does not mean that people of different ages cannot be friends, but it does mean that we need to help our children to develop the habit of friendliness rather than to let them think that having or not having friends is just a matter of luck - something that they have no control over.

(4) The need for new experiences - to feel that life is filled with variety and many interesting things if one becomes involved. To meet this need we travel, we meet new people, we shop, we look at TV, we have a picnic supper in our own back yard, we read books, start collections, try new recipes, and spruce up old clothes with new accessories. I am sure that you can think of many more examples. It is easy to think of many unacceptable ways of meeting this need too, such as smoking, using drugs, using alcohol, hot-rod-riding (on bicycle or car) thumbing rides, destroying property, shoplifting, and ignoring safety rules in the use of any equipment or in any activity.

We have talked about all these needs and socially acceptable and socially unacceptable ways of meeting them. We have used paragraph-length descriptions of behavior to analyze. In each case the students have considered what need the person was trying to meet when he behaved as he did in the episode described and whether it was socially acceptable or socially unacceptable behavior. The students are assigned to write at least one such description for class next week. They are invited to write more if they care to.

Hopefully, we will all come to understand this "need" idea so well that we can better understand, first, the behavior of others and then our own behavior. The next step then will be to put our "Adult" in charge when the situation requires figuring out what is happening and deciding what is to be done.

'Til next week.
Sincerely
Sarah S. Webb
Counselor/Chipman School

believe we need to set mandatory prison sentences for certain categories of crime and restore capital punishment for such grave offenses as treason, espionage, skyjacking, and murder.

The jurisdiction of the Federal Government in law enforcement is limited. In our society, law enforcement is primarily a local and state responsibility. But I believe the Federal Government has an obligation to provide leadership in this area.

Our need to eliminate the root causes of crime and to develop ways to rehabilitate those who flout the law should not be put ahead of the plight of the victims of crime or our obligations to those who abide by the law and wish to live in peace and safety.

Moving Headaches

The Effect On The Children

Moving has become a common feature of the American way of life. Statistics indicate that one out of every five families moves every year. Many of these families are "old hands" at relocating; others will be moving this year for the first, and perhaps only, time.

But whether a family is a veteran or a rookie in the moving process, one aspect of moving too often left to chance is the effect relocation will have on the children.

According to Mary Ann Finch, extension family and child development specialist at the University of Delaware, many factors contribute to how a child reacts to a move. If you as a parent view the change as a happy one, the feelings you will transmit to those around you will be happy ones. You will meet the inconveniences of moving with an optimistic outlook.

On the other hand, if the move is associated with disappointment or grief, you and your children will be troubled, and the children could be unintentionally left to fend for themselves in a situation they probably do not understand.

Talking with your children about a move is important. Explain to each child at his own level of understanding why you are moving, what the new home will be like, and how each of them can contribute to the success of the family's relocation.

Encourage them to express whatever feelings they have on the subject. Accept their attitudes, even if they are negative, and discuss with them your own feelings. Remember that you probably have some misgivings about leaving, no matter how nice your new situation promises to be, says Ms. Finch.

Above all, be honest. Truth will go a lot farther than pretense or made-up stories in preparing children for the move. And remember that the strength of the family as a unit will contribute to the readiness and confidence with which the children adapt to their new surroundings.

If your children have

A Halloween party was held Oct. 29th with games and fun for all. Thanks to Mia Butler, Rhonda Hammond, Ruth Kates and Carole Muehleisen of Cadet Troop #365 in Felton for surprising our troop with a well-planned and eerie "Dracula's Haunted House". All scouts will agree-it was haunted.

Former Milford Students Lead Virginia Wesleyan Soccer Team

Two hundred miles from the fields where they first learned to play soccer, three Milford students are currently leading the Virginia Wesleyan College soccer team to one of the best seasons in the College's ten year history. Starting for the Blue Marlin squad that is rewriting soccer record books at this small, liberal arts college, are three former All-State soccer players from Milford High school—sophomore Bob Jacobs and freshmen Russell Taylor and Jack Wanzer.

Jacobs, who is having his second outstanding season with the Blue Marlins, is one of the team's bright lights. The young sophomore was moved from left wing to fullback for defensive purposes and has earned defensive player of the game honors three times thus far this season. With Jacobs on defense, opposing teams have scored only 14 goals against Virginia Wesleyan in the first eleven games of the season as compared to more than 30 goals last year. Virginia Wesleyan soccer coach Horst Seibert says, "Bob Jacobs was moved from the line to a defensive position because I felt he was a natural fullback. The team also lacked experience and strength. With the power Bob has in his feet, the move was natural." Jacobs is regarded as having one of the strongest feet in the area. That strength, combined with his speed and ability, makes him a sure candidate for post season honors.

Jack Wanzer is another reason that Virginia Wesleyan's soccer future looked brighter this year. Wanzer had his best game recently against powerful Old Dominion University, one of the leading teams in the South. In that contest, the bulky freshman shutout Prince Attoh, the leading scorer in Virginia and a highly-scouted pro prospect.

"I knew I could do the job," Wanzer smiled after the game. "It was no big deal."

His coach agrees. "Jack gets the job done. What more can you ask for?"

The biggest surprise of the season for Virginia Wesleyan has been Russell Taylor. He came with the reputation of being a good goal keeper, the only position he had played in high school. In pre-season drills, he lost the goalie position to a teammate. Coach Seibert recalls that, "Russell had too much talent and ability to be riding the bench. I decided to try him on the front line.

Since then he has started every game."

The lanky freshman proved the wisdom of Seibert's choice during Virginia Wesleyan's 2-1 victory over Atlantic Christian College. Taylor scored both goals. After the game, he was still a bit dazed. "I just don't believe it," he smiled. "I feel really good." Seibert feels that Taylor is the most improved player on the squad. "He is well coordinated, a good athlete and he learns fast," his coach says.

The season at Virginia Wesleyan is still not over. There remain two or three big games, including Randolph-Macon College and the College of William and Mary. The record books are already being overhauled, however. Following an 11-1 dismembering of the University of Richmond and a disappointing defeat by Dixie Conference champion Lynchburg College, Virginia Wesleyan is sporting an 8-3 record. The eight victories ties a school season record. The Blue marlins have also tied another school record; three shutouts in a season (against Methodist college, 6-0; North Carolina Wesleyan, 9-0; and the University of North Carolina-Greensboro, 4-0). The 9-0 shutout of N.C. Wesleyan set a new school record as the largest shutout scored by the Blue Marlins.

The 11-1 victory over the University of Richmond now represents the highest scoring single game. In the first 11 games of the season, Virginia Wesleyan has scored 50 goals, as opposed to 14 for opponents. Both figures are records.

L.F. QB gets last minute instructions from Coach Jim Fleming just before the half ended. Time ran out on the Spartans before they could score again in the first half.

Lake Forest Loses Another Squeaker 14-6

It was late in the second quarter when Neal Smith cranked up his strong right arm. The Dover Air defense kept giving the ball back to their offense in the first half at Harrington on Friday night which netted two scores for Dover Air in the first half, and then they hung on for dear life to win the ball game 14 to 6. With less than two minutes left in the first half, senior quarterback Neal Smith hit Mike Benson on side line pattern good for about 70 yards. Benson was finally brought down from behind when it appeared that he might go all the way as he had done against Dover. The ball was placed on the Dover Air's 8 yard line. From there Greg Pritchett bulled over from the 8. Pritchett was back to practice this past week after being sidelined with a knee injury. He had the cast removed on Monday. Pritchett's attitude and toughness is an example of this year's Spartan team. It is true that they have yet to register a victory, but their brand of football is exemplified by determination, doing the job, and disciplined team members. The bomb to Pritchett from Smith was truly a spectacular play, but equally spectacular was a key interception of a pass thrown by Mike Purcell of Dover Air who was four for seven and two TD's, was by unsung hero Kenny Crouse.

Crouse was unheard of at the beginning of the season, but in the last couple of games has played like a veteran. His aggressive play on defense Friday night should have netted him a few stars. The pass interception by Crouse stopped a key drive by Dover Air.

In the first half of play, penalties certainly took their toll with Dover Air for they had three fifteen yarders that kept them off balance. Penalties also tended to work a hardship again against L.F. It was a 15 yarder in the fading seconds of the game which put the Spartans out of range to score their second TD. It was first and goal at the eight yard line but a holding penalty against L.F. moved the ball back to the 23 after the Spartans had penetrated to the three yard line. With a break, the Spartans would have scored and possibly tied the score. Instead they ended up on the 23 yard line. They moved the ball back to the eight yard line with fourth down and goal to go. Smith dropped back and fired a strike to Ronnie Loper, who dropped the ball. It appeared that Loper had been interfered with and pass interference against Dover Air, but the officials ruled otherwise. It was a very close play however. It was a similar play in the first half that got L.F. for pass interference, but the stout defense of the Spartans dug in and held their ground at this point.

Air Base rushed for a total of just over 300 yards while the Spartans offense had 250 (plus) yards. Neal Smith was 10 out of 18 for 172 yards in the air. His favorite targets were Benson and Wayne Voshell. He consistently hit Voshell on over the middle hard thrown passes.

Guy Ramsey, the star athlete at Dover Air, made four catches for the night for just under 100 yards. In the first quarter, he made two fantastic catches of passes thrown by Mike Purcell. The one which set up the first score was a one handed catch of the ball inside the 10 yard line. He then caught a low liner on the slant to the side lines for the TD. This score came on the left side of the field. The next score came on the opposite side of the field over the outstretched hands of Lester Blades and Greg Shortell. Both catches were virtually impossible to defend against.

Leon Bynum did not see action in Friday night's game due to an injured (bruised) thigh suffered in an earlier game. As a result, he missed practice last week, and was not permitted to play. John O'Toole and Manny Christopher played in Bynum's spot which on defense is at the "nose man position".

Neal Smith punted for his average on three different occasions which is about 40 yards per kick.

On Friday night Sussex Central invades the Spartans home field at the Chipman field. The two teams sport a deep rivalry in all events between the two schools. Look for SC to try to run up the score on L.F. If the L.F. defense can give the ball to the offense enough times in the first half to enable Neal Smith to crank up his pitching arm in the first half a turn around is a possibility. Lake Forest is due to play their best game yet this season. A victory against SC would be an upset to be sure, and the possibility does exist.

Spartan Harriers In Conference Title Tie

Smyrna and Woodbridge lost dual meet runs to Lake Forest's Cross-Country Spartans giving the winners an 8-1 record and a tie for the Henlopen Conference Championship with Cape Henlopen and Caesar Rodney.

Coach Jim Blades' Spartans were unbeaten in 1974. His harrier coaching record is something like 40 plus victories and only five defeats over the last several years. This district after 18 years of cross-country, has yet to experience a losing season. Other sports have their ups and downs, so it's nice to be able to have something to crow about year after year.

The locals have been practicing six days a week since August, sometimes running as much as nine miles in a workout. This hard work is paying off. Personal records are being set often and future stars are emerging to take the place of the eight seniors next year.

At Smyrna sophomore Danny Parker and senior Chuck Carter both surpassed the Smyrna course record. Parker clocked 15.01, only one second ahead of Carter, for a scenic 2.7 miles course on the grounds of the State Home and Hospital bordering Lake Como. Steve Dunham of Caesar Rodney held the old standard.

Chris Palmisano at 15.10 and sophomore Dave Richter (15.16) edged Smyrna ace Sput Simmons. Howard Parker (15.22) was the last Lake Forest scorer in a 16-47 win. Only 21 seconds separated the first five Spartans. This is gratifying, but Coach Blades is disappointed by the inconsistency of this team. Only Dan Parker, Chuck Carter, Chris Palmisano and Howard Parker are tough in every start. Pettyjohn, Mullane, Richter, Kashner, Benson (tendonitis), are up and down performers.

The Conference and state meets are left on the schedule and if three runners have an off day, goodbye defending champs.

Steve Salisbury won the Jayvee test in 16.15, with Marcus Bray, Kelly Woodward, Eugene Butler, Louis Thomas and Tom Ott running very well. The last five named are all sophomores and below who are in contention for top seven spots in 1976.

Billy Mitchell, John Gilmore, Nathan "Top Cat" Morris and Randy Ramirez were in fine form for W.T. Chipman School.

Woodbridge's first-year team lost 15-50, as Dan Parker lowered his Spartan mark for the Lake Forest-Killen's Pond course to 12-46. Chuck Carter joined the Super runner ranks with his first under thirteen minutes clocking (12.58).

Chris Palmisano's 13.04 was his best run here this fall. Terry Pettyjohn and Howard Parker had excellent clockings of 13.08 and 13.15. Bob Mullane, Steve Salisbury and Harry Benson came across in a blanket finish around 13.20.

Thompson and Dewey, Woodbridge's first runners, finished together. The Blue Raiders have only five runners. We know that there are quite a few Woodbridge students on the small and slender side who could win a varsity letter in cross-country. But these people are missing the boat. They are not competing in anything at all, or are out for sports where lack of size makes winning a letter difficult or impossible.

Marcus Bray, a Spartan soph, first-year harrier, sparked in a jayvee time trial. He did 13.50. He's now in the excellent or under 14 minutes class and could be No. 4 for Lake Forest next autumn. Louis Thomas and Eugene Butler were next. Butler was in personal-record time. Cliff Ayers, Charlie Scott, Walter Willey and improving Pete Fraley completed the top seven jayvees.

"Jaunty" John Gilmore, a 76-pound prospect from Plymouth, clocked an excellent 15.04 to nose out teammate Nathan "Top Cat" Morris. After Evans of Rehoboth, fine Chipman harriers Billy Mitchell and Randy Ramirez came across.

Hukill of Rehoboth was sixth followed by Vince Ware who wrapped up the Chipman win.

Gwen Scott, a first-year player on the W.T. Chipman Girls' Hockey team scored a total of 17 goals this year to be a major contributor of the team's 6-3-1 record for the season. Miss Scott's performance this year as an individual player brought home more Chipman goals this year than the entire team scored last year. According to her coach, Miss Vi Testerman, Gwen has probably set a school record that will stand for many years.

leave the score 14 to 12. Dave Waddler and Chuckie Hopkins provided the Woodbridge scoring. Woodbridge was knocking on the door in the late seconds of the game. After the TD by Hopkins, the Riders tried an onside kick which worked. Woodbridge recovered on the Indian River 40 yard line. They drove to the 12 yard line on the next play from the 25 yard line, but a holding penalty against Woodbridge moved the ball back to the 40 yard line. At this point it was first down and 25 yards to go for a first down. At this point time was running out on the Riders. Woodbridge moved the ball closer before the final gun, but a fumble stopped the drive and the scoring hopes of the Riders. Turnovers again hurt Woodbridge's chances for a victory against Indian River. A fumble by Doug Wood on the Woodbridge 30 yard line in the second quarter set up Indian River's second

All enjoyed themselves and leaned weaving, circling, hand signals, quick stops, and how to make a shelter out of bicycles and ponchos. They also learned how to carry gear on a bike. Many thanks to Carol Muelheisen and Donna Melvin. The rodeo will help them earn a cyclist badge. On Saturday, Nov. 8, Troop 686 is going on a bike hike. This will complete badge requirements for cyclist. This also helped with their community safety project. After the hike Saturday, they are having a cookout at the home of the Jim Flemings. This will help with backyard fun badge. Harrison Melvin shows projected two hole golf course.

Resident Builds Golf Green

Harrison Melvin has completed one golf green and plans to have another completed by this time next year at his home on Delaware Avenue here. The first hole will be a length of 170 yards, and the second, 150 yards. Both will be par 3 holes. Much engineering has gone into the building of this course. A ditch was dug around the entire area, and the green itself had to be built up. The grass also took a lot of careful planning, says Melvin and still requires quite a bit of upkeep. On the green is a vine-like grass called Penny Cross, or Bent Grass. It must be cut at least every other day in order to keep its carpet-like texture. Care also must be taken that too much of this grass does not accumulate in one spot as this may cause it to die. The fairways are Bermuda grass, or a type of wire grass.

Mr. Melvin was employed by the Caroline Country Club prior to having a heart attack in March. There he serviced the golf carts and managed the pro shop in Bill Johnson's absence of 90 days. When completed, Mr. Melvin said he plans to open the course to anyone in town who wishes to play. This will not be completed until he has recovered completely from his heart attack. Only one green has been completed so far, but there will be another green made, as well as three tees--one on either side of the two greens, and another off to the side to allow the players a choice of which tee they prefer.

Mr. Melvin is looking forward to the day when the entire course is finished and being used.

Cheer Center News: Week 20-24
On Wednesday, we at the Center, and friends went on a bus trip to Lancaster, Pa. We left a 7:30 a.m. and arrived home at 7 p.m. At 11 a.m. we met our guide at the information center in Lancaster and continued on our tour of the Amish Country. Riding along it was easy to step back in time to a by gone era as we drove leisurely through this community of quaint studios and craft shops. The peace and quiet tranquility of the farmland was reflected in the very atmosphere.

their parents can't find it. November is their marrying month as at that time the farm work is done and the women folk have their fruit and vegetables canned and put away for winter use. We saw many interesting things on this tour. One especially, where old railroad cabooses were converted into living quarters. After visiting many craft and food shops we had our dinner at the "Plain and Fancy Farm" in their quaint dining room. Our meal was served family style and the food was delicious. On our way home we were delighted by the lovely fall scenery. The green, red, bronzes and oranges of the trees along the road side were breathtaking. It was a beautiful time of the year to take this trip and everyone had such a good time.

Our first stop was at a cheese factory where we saw cheese in the making. Our next stop was at a candle making craft shop where the famous Hayloft candles are made and sold. We saw all types of candles from beautiful rainbow colors to ornamental candles in shapes of pies, ice cream cones, and cupcakes. As you enter this craft shop you thrill to the sweet smelling scents of thousand of candles in splendid display, as the candles are made each day. They also had many beautiful hand-made quilts for sale, some were priced at $145.

We visited many small villages in this Dutch country. We were taken on a tour of a typical Amish farm house. Here we saw how they live. The houses do not have electricity or modern appliances. Their farm machinery is drawn by horses or mules. They have no modern machinery to harvest their crops. No automobiles are owned by the Amish, but sometimes the young boys buy a car and hide it in the cornfield so

Several hundred people from Harrington and nearby communities in the Lake Forest School District turned out on Friday night to witness the gigantic parade put on at the behest of the Homecoming festivities. It was a falcon being downed by the Spartan. Second prize of $75 went to the senior class (76) with their rendition of the

Liberty Bell with a Victory Then and Now theme. Third prize went to the freshmen class (79) with Spartans Claim Victory theme. The FFA, O.F.A., and the Varsity Clubs all had floats entered in the parade. The parade started at the south west end of Harrington on Commerce Street continued through the town over the tracks and out

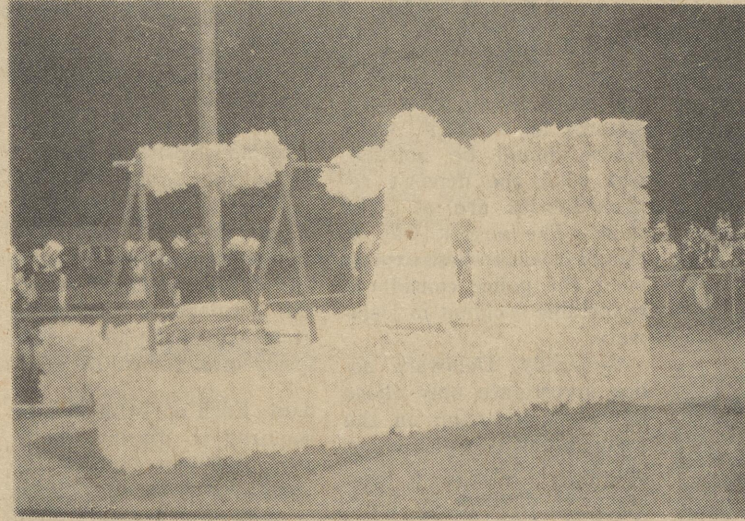

Delaware Avenue to Center Street, west on Center St. to the Chipman School and around the football field to the stands. The beauty of the parade and the gala festivities were spoiled by the loss of the homecoming football game to Dover Air by the slim margin of 15 to 6.

This is in keeping with the quality of education the school officials feel the district should have. The total projected building cost is estimated at $1,591,000.00, of which the state would finance sixty percent. This would leave a total of $637,000.00 to be paid for by the Lake Forest School District, which amounts to forty percent of the projected building costs. The proposals, according to the school board, are not extravagant ones. They feel it is in keeping with the educational programs they would like to see the district have.

Ducks Unlimited Banquet

The Milford High School cafeteria was the scene of the 5th annual banquet for Ducks Unlimited Kent County Chapter on Saturday night. Each year this event is held in order to raise money to preserve the wild duck species through conservation methods in Canada where the ducks are hatched. This year's receipts will amount to slightly over $14,000. There were 355 paid guests with 352 in actual attendance. It was announced that something new will be added to Ducks Unlimited in that a new segment will be introduced called "Ducks Unlimited Mexico (DUM). The annual convention will be held next year in Mexico City. The reason for holding affairs such as this is that there is a federal law prohibiting the spending of money in foreign countries for the preservation of conservation methods such as this cause. Immediately after the banquet which featured William K. DuPont, who is the national vice president, an auction of items was held to raise the money for the affair. The Ducks Unlimited shotgun was auctioned to Robert Edgehill, owner of Teal Construction Co., for $1,500. The $300 drawings, in which there are two, was won by Mrs. Darrell Louder, wife of the Director of the Game and Wild Life for Delaware, which entitled her to a chandelier and the other was won by Curt Steen which was good for the purchase of clothing at Derrickson's Men's Clothing Store of Milford, Rehoboth and Dover. The $200 cash raffle drawing was won by Rick McCall, the pro at Maple Dale Country Club in Dover, and the gift of the 20 ga. Mossberg pump shotgun was won by Willis White. Other dignitaries present at the banquet were U.S. Senator William Roth, State Rep. Lewis Harrington (D), State Rep. Ruth Ann Minner (D), State Sen. Thurman Adams, (D), and John Bryson, Secretary of Natural Resources for the State of Delaware.

Social Security Questions and Answers

Q -- Is it true that husbands of female veterans are eligible for the same Veterans Administration benefits as wives and widows of male veterans?
A -- Yes. A husband or widower is in the same status as a wife or widow of a male veteran and is eligible to receive the same benefits if otherwise entitled.
Q -- Is a veteran attending a business college eligible for tutorial assistance?
A -- Yes. A veteran, pursuing a post-secondary program half-time or more at an educational institution, who has a deficiency in a subject which is indispensable to the satisfactory pursuit of an approved program of education may receive tutorial assistance services. Business colleges are included.
Q -- I was married when I went to school on the World War II GI Bill. Can I collect the retroactive money VA is paying women veterans who did not receive the GI Bill allowance for their husbands?
A -- No. The special payment to women veterans is only for those who trained under the GI Bill between June 1, 1966, and October 24, 1972. Application deadline is July 1, 1976.
Q -- My wife and I were divorced. I am a world War II veteran and drawing non-service-connected disability pension. Since I have lost a dependent, when will the VA reduce my pension?

FFA Team In National Contest

Four members of the Lake Forest FFA Chapter will be traveling to Kansas City, Mo., next week to participate in the National FFA Horticulture Contest. The contest, which is held in conjunction with the 48th National FFA Convention is being sponsored as a special project of the National FFA Foundation by the American Association of Nurserymen, Inc., Wholesale Nursery Growers of America, Inc., Trans-Sphere Corporation, and Gulf Crop Protection Products, Gulf Oil Chemicals Company. Members of the team are Rhonda Fibelkorn, Maureen Grandfield, Don Hopkins, and Donald Bullock, all students at Lake Forest High School in Felton. Neil Brassure, vocational agriculture instructor and chapter advisor is the team coach. Linda Moore will also travel to Kansas City to serve as a team alternate.

The Horticulture Contest is one of seven national agricultural contests conducted annually by the National FFA Organization as part of the National FFA Convention. This year 36 teams will test their knowledge by identifying plant materials, judging nursery products and taking a written examination in such areas as plant materials, growing media, plant disorders, propagation, safety, and cultural instructions. The contest is one of many educational activities at the National Convention in which FFA members put into practice the lessons taught in the vocational agriculture classroom. Each of the teams competing in the Horticulture Contest participated in contests at the local, area, and state level and won at each level to earn the trip to Kansas City. As teams progress to area and state contests, the competition becomes more difficult. The Lake Forest Horticulture team has spent many hours preparing for the National Contest. Other FFA members attending the convention are Susan Harding for first place in Agronomic Crop Science Contest, Craig Dayton for first place, Vegetable Culture Contest; Dan Bishop, Star State Greenhand Award, and Alan Huffman for first place in Agriculture Mechanics. Travel expenses for the trip to Kansas City will be paid in part by the American Association of Nurserymen, Inc., Wholesale Nursery Growers of America, Inc., Trans-Sphere Corporation, and Gulf Crop Protection Products, Gulf Oil Chemical Co., sponsors of the National FFA Horticulture Contest as a special project of the National FFA Foundation. In addition to providing travel funds, the sponsors provide funds for administration of the contest, as well as for trophies, an awards breakfast, and medal awards to winning teams and high scoring individuals. Awards will be presented to winning teams and high scoring individuals at the awards breakfast to be held on Friday morning, November 14. The contest winners will be introduced to the convention audience at the Friday morning business session.

NRTA And AARP Meet

Some 40 members present for the October meeting of the Dover Area Chapter 721 of the National Retired Teachers Association (NRTA) and the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) talked about pending legislation with Mr. Albert V. Krewatch at the Dover, Kent County YMCA. The speaker told how important it is for all citizens to be aware of laws which may affect them. He cited the example of generic drugs as opposed to trade name alternatives (mostly at a higher price) being used in medical practice. A good pharmacist is often able to save a person money by staying with the generic (or scientific) named material, rather than the more highly advertised trade names. Mr. Krewatch is the Chairman of the Delaware Joint State Legislative Committee of NRTA-AARP. He asked that each member keep informed with his local counterpart, Mr. Jacob Wagner, telephone 678-2081. Also, that a booklet listing each member of the Legislature can be picked up at no charge in the State House at Dover. In other business, members learned of the Crime Prevention Program of NRTA - AARP with the Dover Police Department. A series of four sessions has been set up for November 10 and 13 from 1 to 3 p.m. at Dover-Kent County YMCA. The four topics for discussion are: "Walking Without Fear", "Invitation to Burglary", "On Guard BUNCO", and "Community - Police Relations." The local chapter will cosponsor a mobile hearing-vision clinic with the Dover LIONS CLUB on November 8 and 9 from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. at State and Lookerman Streets in Dover. While designed for older citizens, it is free to anyone who may wish to check his hearing or sight at no charge by capable, trained persons. A holiday luncheon meeting has been set up for Tuesday, December 9 at the Dover Ramada Inn, details to be given later.

PTA Sponsors Program Bicentennial

There will be a special Bi-centennial program sponsored by the Greenwood Elementary Woodbridge Junior High PTA on Tuesday, November 11 in the Greenwood School Auditorium. The featured speaker will be Mr. Willard Hickman who is a retired school administrator. Also included on the program will be musical and vocal selections and recitations.

Mr. Hickman will be speaking on the theme, "Then and Now" in relation to education. The PTA will serve refreshments following the program.

Wilmington Dry Comes To Dover

The well-known Wilmington Dry Goods of Wilmington will be coming to Dover next March, according to president Ned Munley. The new location will be at Bay Court Plaza Rt. 113, where Mason's previously had been. The new store is expected to employ 150 people in sales and supervisory positions. The Dry Goods has three locations in Wilmington, one in Vineland, N.J., and one in Huntington, West Virginia. The chain is a division of SCOA Industries, Inc., a Columbus, Ohio based $440 million dollar merchandise and footwear company. The company specializes in highly promotional sales of manufacturer's close outs and slight irregulars. Among the 40 departments to be in the Dover location are ladies and men's ready to wear, children's wear, sporting goods, auto supplies, housewares, hardware and health and domestic goods. Munley said "We are delighted with the prospects of serving Dover and the surrounding communities. Dover is a rapidly growing area. We are anxious to become active contributors to its progress."

'If You Have An Accident'

Much confusion seems to exist among the residents of our state as to what constitutes an accident, when police should be notified, and what the driver's responsibilities are at the scene. The easiest way to clarify this is to first explain what the police consider a reportable accident in Delaware. Generally, Delaware police investigate only those accidents occurring on the public highway which cause personal injury or a total value of damage of $250. While it is known that the average driver is not a body repairman, most people should be able to tell if the damage to all cars and property amounts to approximately that amount. If there is any doubt, call the police and let them make the determination. Exceptions to this rule are hit-and-run accidents and private property accidents.

Hit-and-run accidents are reported to police regardless of the amount of damage or whether on private property or on the public highway. When involved in an accident, the driver must stop at the scene, remain there, and IMMEDIATELY report the accident to the police according to the above definition of a reportable accident. Each operator is then required to display his license and registration to the operators of other vehicles or owners of property damaged. To simplify future communications, also exchange phone numbers and the names, addresses, and, if possible, the phone numbers of insurance agents. In accidents resulting in injury, the driver must render whatever aid is needed by the injured, including driving them to the hospital if necessary. Since some people fear exposing themselves to civil liability, an explanation of what people refer to as the "Good Samaritan Law" is needed. A person is safe if what he does is done in good faith and is considered by a normally prudent person to be "reasonable". To be on the safe side, however, tell the person injured, or his next-of-kin when on the scene, what you would like to do and get their authorization.

Anyone with specific questions may direct them to the Delaware State Police Public Information Office, P.O. Box 430, Dover, 19901.

The Green Thumb

Training meetings for certification of pesticide applicators will be held in Sussex County beginning December 4th. As you know, all farmers who use restricted-use pesticides are required to be certified by October 21, 1976. You will receive a letter later in November telling where and when the meetings will be held in your area. I think every farmer who applies his own chemicals should attend these meetings and become certified. Even Extension Agents must be certified. Certification requirements ask that you prove that you know how to use these chemicals safely. You do this by taking a written test similar to a drivers test.

Most of you do everything that certification requires. For example, you have to be able to read the label and understand what it means. Also, can you recognize environmental hazards like too strong wind, you do these things every time you get ready to spray.

However, you should come to the training meetings to review and find out just what will be required of you for certification. At these meetings we will explain what a label means, how to calibrate a sprayer, what safety equipment is required to use certain chemicals and many other important things. At the second meeting the State Department of Ag will give the test. If you don't pass it the first time you can take it again.

Restricted-use pesticides will affect almost every farmer in our state. If you use disyston, Premerge or Sinox PE, Furidan, Mocap or parathion you may have to be certified. If you are not certified you will not be able to buy or use restricted-use pesticides even on your own land.

I hope every farmer will attend the two training meetings in his area and become certified this winter. Between March and October 21, 1976 you won't have time to take training courses and get all your farm work done.

Fruit flies, house flies and all kinds of small flies have been invading homes by the hundreds. A good hard frost will eliminate the problem but as long as we have a warm fall they are going to be around. Household flying insect or fly spray will kill them. Also keep trash, fruit and vegetable waste in containers that insects cannot enter and lay eggs.

Town And Country

Dave Woodward

KENT COUNTY AGENT

At the time of this writing we have not had a killing frost. When the frost does come there are a few problems that arise with regard to feeding frosted crops to cattle. Prussic acid poisoning is always a possibility when animals are fed sudan grass or sudan grass sorghum crosses after they have been killed by frost.

Prussic acid poisoning risk can be reduced by avoiding grazing or chopping until the frosted tissue has dried. However, it must have been safe to graze before the frost, at least 18 inches tall. Ensiling these type forages with high prussic acid levels are considered safe because of the aeration of the forage in normal feeding operations.

Animals can safely consume a low level of material producing prussic acid because they can exhale some of the cyanide gas which is produced in the rumen, but when a high concentration of prussic acid material is eaten in large numbers the animal cannot get rid of the cyanide fast enough and the animal becomes poisoned. Alfalfa and clovers are not plagued with prussic acid and poisoning problems. They still make good pasture after frost. Some slight digestive disturbances may occur on freshly frosted legumes so there is little concern.

If frost kills corn before it matures there will probably be harvesting problems. This corn will have soft kernels rooted in soft spongy cobs. Many of the kernels will be damaged passing through a combine, also many kernels will not be removed from the cob, so a considerable loss will occur. If cattle are present it will be best to harvest this corn as silage. The harvesting should be delayed so that the moisture content is less than 70% which will take several days after the frost. This will result in higher quality silage even though some of the leaves may be lost.

The first killing frost can cause problems where wild cherry trees grow along fence lines. The leaves of the wild cherry tree when killed by frost can cause prussic acid poisoning when consumed in large amounts by cattle and horses, so it is a good idea to check your pastures to make sure that cattle or horses cannot reach the leaves after frost hits.

Felton City Council

annexed they will have to be passed not only by the builders, but by referendum in the city election, possibly in March.

Controls would be set up to avoid slum conditions and to insure that the lots would be big enough so that the houses would not have to be crowded together.

Annexation of the school was also mentioned by Mr. Jacobs as per a suggestion from the School Board, but was left for consideration at a later date.

According to Mayor Myers, a draft has been made for the new town charter, but there is still a lot of work that needs to be done on it. John Filmore was due to resign as Felton's police officer as of Wednesday. Mayor Myers said he is in the process of seeking coverage from Delaware State Police at Troop 5 until a replacement can be found.

A contest was discussed to make a new town seal, but no definite plans can be made until the bicentennial committee has met to discuss the matter.

Felton now has a bicentennial flag.

A small town park will be completed in the future.

Mrs. Jefferson closed the meeting on a bright note by stating her appreciation of how the city is being cleaned up by painting along the driveways and cleaning the curbs, among other things. She said the "town looks better, brighter, nicer."

It Seems To Me

by Janet Reed

What causes the sewing machine to skip stitches? That's a question frequently asked of Extension Home Economists. It seems to happen most often when you are sewing a material such as nylon tricot, interlock knit, Qiana or other lightweight knit of man-made fibers.

There are many things that could contribute to this problem. Each person must analyze her own situation and do a bit of experimentation to conquer it.

Skipping is most likely to occur when fabric resists needle penetration and when the fabric tends to cling to the needle. Since nylon tricot is strong and soft and also can build up static electricity, resistance to needle penetration and therefore the skipping of stitches is likely to occur.

Skipping can occur, too, if the needle and thread are not the right size for the fabric. If you mend nylon lingerie using a regular size needle and cotton thread, you'll probably have skipped stitches. Use a fine (No. 11 and 9) machine needle and fine nylon or fine polyester thread. One company is making an extra-fine polyester thread for sewing lingerie. You will need to experiment to find the best combination of needle and thread for the fabric you are using. There is a definite relationship between needle and thread size and type of fabric.

Ball point needles seem to give better results and lessen the danger of cutting fabric that occurs with a sharp needle. Change needles frequently. Tough nylon fabric can quickly dull a needle.

Try to maintain a slow, steady speed. A fast speed is more likely to develop static electricity and cause fabric distortion. Experiment with your own machine to find the speed least likely to skip stitches. Check the bobbins. An unevenly-wound bobbin may be at fault. Also be certain the machine is threaded properly.

Some fabrics are treated with a finish to give more body and easier handling. This can cause a coating of the needle with resulting skipped stitches. You have the choice of laundering fabric before sewing and having more difficulty with rolled edges and soft fabric. I prefer to sew fabric before it is laundered because it is easier to handle, then look for other means to control skipping.

If you are using straight stitching, use the throat plate with the smallest needle hole. It supports the fabric better with less stretching when the needle penetrates. You may also need a bit more pressure on the fabric. Adjust the pressure foot to increase pressure.

Hold the fabric somewhat taut as it feeds under the pressure foot. This prevents the fabric from sliding around so much and makes needle penetration easier. It may also help prevent puckered seams. You'll need to experiment, though, because knit fabrics have differing amounts of stretch and if you hold the fabric too taut, the seam will not be closely sewn.

Keep the sewing machine parts free of lint. Static electricity will cause rapid buildup of lint when you sew on nylon and other fabrics of man-made fibers.

If, after all your experimentation, there is still frequent skipping of stitches, the "timing" of your machine may need to be adjusted by a qualified serviceman. I have heard that there are some machines that will never sew fabrics such as nylon tricot without skipping. But before you decide you need a new machine, try the ideas suggested.
