

Chipman Wins Second In Seaford Parade

On Saturday Nov. 29 the W.T. Chipman Band participated in the Seaford Christmas parade and came away with an impressive second place showing. The Chipman band marched to the tune of "Rocking Around the Christmas Tree" and the catchy tune had people tapping their feet all along the parade route. The band finished second behind a strong Sussex Central Jr. Band which includes ninth graders in its organization. The Chipman Junior Band consists of only seventh and eighth grade students. The Chipman Band received a beautiful 36" trophy and $200 for their second place award.

The Chipman band travels to Rehoboth Beach this Friday night to participate in the Christmas parade, and will also participate in the Harrington Parade.

Bob Taylor, of Taylor's Hardware remarked in an interview following Monday night's council meeting he "...favors a police commission."

Felton Council Meets

At Monday night's Council meeting, several Felton residents appeared to argue against annexation of the proposed areas in earlier meetings. The three parcels in question are those to the north (Bob Cordrey's land), to the north west (Myers Construction Co.), and lands to the west on Rt #12 (Voshell's land). Some of the concern about over expanding and extending the Town limits came first from the Mayor and members of the council. Too many homes to serve with water would cause a drop in pressure along the lines, which might necessitate a larger water tower. This would mean a greater expense on the Town.

The chief reason for considering annexation was to enable the Town to bring in additional revenue through taxes and water rent. The somewhat heated discussion Monday night regarding annexation came from property owners within the Town now who felt that too much attention would be given to the new areas and the older areas of the Town would be neglected. Some claimed that already the water pressure has started to drop due to the fact that there are too many new homes on the Town water now. Mayor Myers denied this saying that all fire hydrants are maintaining 50 pound pressure at this time.

Of the three areas in question regarding annexation, the Mayor at the last

Leroy Calhoun, owner of L & D Electronics of Harrington, was back before City Council on Monday night seeking answers to questions posed at the November meeting regarding "Why the City cannot have 24 hour police protection." Calhoun, who had hoped to get support from other business owners through their attendance according to him several merchants had agreed to appear with him was determined to find the answers in the ongoing problem regarding the lack of police protection.

Calhoun was burglarized earlier this year when an attempt was made on his electronics shop. Alert policemen at the time prevented the completion of the crime.

Calhoun dug deeply, since it appeared he wanted answers. A heated discussion developed between himself and the Mayor. In the meeting requested the three property owners in question to submit letters setting forth their intent on annexation and their plans. On Monday night Bob Cordrey submitted his letter explaining that he wished a portion of his property be brought into the Town limits. The remainder of the property owned by Cordrey would remain farming land. He also desires the Town to realign West Street so as to enable him to gain more frontage on West Street. It is planned that the annexation vote in the form of a referendum will be taken up at the next elections in the Town which will be in March of next year.

In other business, it was announced that the base of the Town memorial has been moved into place. The top of the memorial has been refurbished. The Felton Ladies Auxiliary has donated the flag to be placed at the memorial. This will be presented on June 26 next year which is the festival or bicentennial festival day for Felton.

The Town is interested in purchasing a new Town Hall, and they are looking into the prospects of acquiring the old railroad depot. The building is in bad condition at this time showing shades of vandalism. Many of the bricks have been removed from the rear of the property. If the Town can acquire the brick building, which bears historical letter from Calhoun, he asked that all matters "be kept out of the back room." The Mayor quickly shot back "what matters are you talking about?" It was then that Calhoun brought up the matter of Jack Harrington, former City manager who resigned under fire. From this point forward, discussion ranged around the matter of Mr. Harrington attempting to draw unemployment. The discussion took a bizarre and incoherent group of statements regarding Mr. Harrington's situation of unemployment. Some councilmen feel it unfair of Harrington to permit the case to be rehash'd. Each side of the Council table tried in the next 30 minutes to explain their interpretation of the unemployment affair of Mr. Harrington.

From there, the matter was resolved in that the Mayor felt the Jack Harrington affair had no application to the discussion at hand. The matter moved to the issue of "whether overtime should be paid". The Mayor said the Town has a budget. The budget for the Police Department is approximately $30,600 for salaries. Currently the salaries have risen $44,460, approximately, which is about $13,000 over the budget. The Police Department itself also has a budget which should run about $39,400, but instead it is currently $60,000 which is about $25,000 over their budget. "Gentlemen, the Mayor said this entire matter has got to stop". This is why I said there would be no more overtime. The Mayor explained that the town's people could not bear any more taxes at this time in order to support additional policemen. The Mayor also significance for there is a geodic marker on the building which marks the spot in Felton as being the center of the State as far as north south bearings are concerned.

One citizen, Mrs. James Jefferson, inquired about the progress being made on the preparation of the new charter. It was reported by the Mayor that work is progressing well and should be finished by early 1976. It was brought up that the Town does not have a P.O. Box, and some of the council members thought it might be appropriate to have a mail box so that all mail related to the Town would be placed in such a box.

Mrs. Morris Named To Post

At Monday night's Council meeting, the Town of Felton named Mrs. Jo Ann Morris the new Receiver of Taxes. She replaced Mrs. L. L. Harrington, who had held the post for several years.

Mrs. Morris, a 1966 graduate of Felton High School is married to Francis W. Morris, Jr. They reside on the corner of Railroad Avenue and Sewell Street in the Town. They have one child a daughter age six. Mrs. Morris is employed by The State of Delaware in The State Fire Marshall's Office as a clerk typist. She has worked there for six years. She is also a member of the Ladies Auxiliary of The Felton Fire Company.

JAYCEE Christmas Parade To Feature Santa

As the song goes, Santa Claus is coming to town. Yes, it is just about that time of year again, and the whiskered gentleman will be ushered into Harrington in style, as usual, during the annual JAYCEE Christmas parade this Saturday afternoon at 1:30 p.m.

Santa will be the guest of honor, and in tradition of saving the best for last, will bring up the rear of a 70 unit parade here Saturday afternoon. Among these units will be seven bands and approximately 20 floats.

According to Lee Dean, parade chairman, the "parade is about 95 percent lined up."

Among the dignitaries will be Governor Sherman Tribbitt, who will attend the parade briefly, since he is enroute from an earlier stop off in Laurel. The Governor will arrive in the state police helicopter for his brief visit.

Mayor William Minner is parade marshal and master of ceremonies is radio personality Dennis Hazzard of WTHD.

ASC Delegates To Meet

The annual Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) County convention is announced by J. Heyman Roosa. The convention of newly elected delegates will be held on Tuesday night, December 9, beginning at 7:30 p.m. The convention will be held at the County ASCS office located at 2319 South Dual Highway, Dover.

The purpose of the convention is to elect a Kent County farmer to a three year term on the County ASC Committee. Roosa said. The new committee man will replace E.T. Horsey of Smyrna who is not eligible to be re-elected because he has already served three consecutive terms. In addition, the delegates will elect a chairman and vice-chairman of the Committee.

The delegates will also vote for two county farmers to serve as first and second alternates to the County ASC Committee for one year.

NOTICE

The State Highway Department will have the crossing at Weiner Avenue extended closed from December 8 to December 12 in order to repair the damaged bridge there. The damage was received during recent flooding in that area.

Concert Set

"When you hear the fife and drum, dance and make the village hum" are the directions given in the old song "PAT-A-PAN" which is one of several colonial favorites still sung today included in the cantata, "CHRISTMAS IS COMING", to be presented by the Singing Players in colonial costume Sunday, December 7 at 7 p.m. in the Dover Central Middle School Auditorium. The music director is Mrs. William J. Storey assisted by John Mingus as narrator. Mr. Mingus is Stage Director for the organization and is also director of the College Center of Wesley College. Kathryn Copple and Janet Spengler are the accompanists. They presented this program in Wilmington Dec. 1 and Georgetown, Dec. 3.

The public is cordially invited to attend this free concert supported in part by a grant from the Delaware American Revolution Bicentennial Commission.

One of the most colorfully costumed groups organized for the Bicentennial celebration is the Dover Light Infantry Company, commanded by "Captain" Larry Doyle. The Dec. 7 concert of The Singing Players will open with a special drill presented by the Dover Light Infantry Company concluded with escorting Governor and Mrs. Sherman W. Tribbitt into the Hall.

Also on hand and serving as judges will be the Delaware Junior Miss, the Delaware FFA Sweetheart, Jim Bezanson, the state JAYCEE president, and Vicki Kulp, the president of the Delaware Jaycees. They, as well as a local member of the Chamber of Commerce, will judge floats. Band judging will be done by members of the Mid-Atlantic judges.

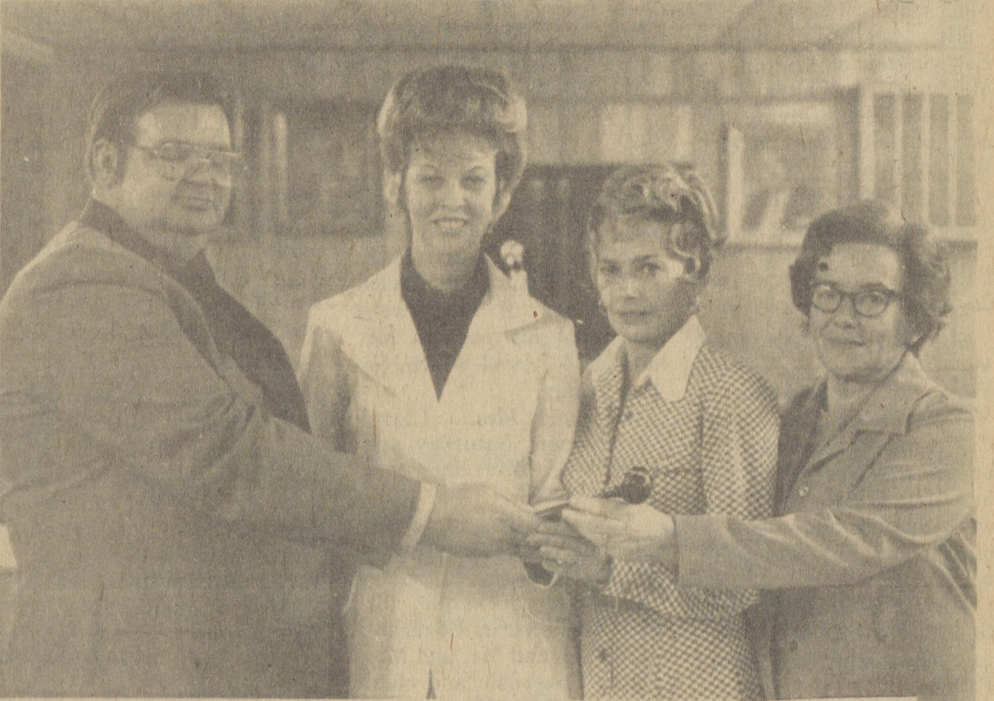

Groups from Easton and Federalsburg are expected to be among the 70 units, as well as a large number of vans and antique autos.

Before the parade, the public will be treated to two separate shows of vehicles, as the bank parking lots will exhibit a van show (Peoples) and an antique auto show and meet (First National). The public will have an opportunity to vote for a people's choice during the van show at 11 a.m. The antique car show is scheduled for noon to 1 p.m. In both instances, prizes will be awarded before the parade at 1:30 p.m.

The JAYCEES plan to decorate the evergreen tree on the lot maintained by the Rotary on the corner of Dorman Street. Dean said members of the Lake Forest Elementary School had been busily preparing these decorations.

Santa, by the way, will be in his house in the Quillen Shopping Center following the parade. He will also be available the following Saturday. According to Journal sources, he will have to begin the long trip back to the North Pole after December 13. It is suggested that youngsters pay their visits as soon as possible during the next two weeks.

Hotel Land Rezoned

The Harrington Planning and Zoning Commission recommended to The City Council at their regular monthly meeting that a rezoning request by Raymond Gagne, proprietor of Stone's Hotel be granted.

The area in question is the lot immediately to the rear of the Hotel. The parcel of land was purchased by Gagne from Mrs. Edsel McCready. The house on the lot was in recent weeks moved from the lot.

The zoning request was related to change from R-2 (residential) to C-2 (Commercial). The C-2 classification is what Stone's Hotel is zoned. The Commission members recommended the zoning in light of possible relief from the on-street problem now. The Senior Center Citizens would also be provided with access to the proposed parking area.

The rezoning commitment was conditioned upon Council requiring strict adherence to information called for in the zoning order to be eligible for selection, the students must also be juniors or seniors and must have maintained a C or better grade average throughout high school.

Choral students selected include: Mary Jean Mason, Raughley Hill Rd., Harrington; and Clinton Graham of 307 Weiner Avenue, Harrington.

Named from the band students are: Bill McGinnis of rural Felton; Diane Cordrey of rural Harrington; Connie Scott of rural Harrington; Cheryl Lissy of Frederica; Dan Glasspool of Felton and Ruth Griffin of Harrington.

The students are directed by Dale Bruklard, band director and William L. Butler, the vocal choral director of Lake Forest High School.

William W. Eisenbrey, Right, Soil Conservation Technician received a special certificate of merit from Otis D. Fincher, State Conservationist for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service in Delaware. Headquartered at the Dover Field Office, Eisenbrey has the job of receiving and coordinating requests for the construction of soil conservation practices in Kent and Sussex Counties. Last year landowners in both counties made record breaking requests for work. He was sited for handling the extra workload, and almost impossible situation, in a timely and superior manner. Eisenbrey lives in Milford with his wife, Winnie. They have four children, two at home and two in college.

Signs of Winter

Portents of winter - the snow geese and the snow fence are seen in this photo as they were viewed Tuesday north of Harrington, south of Paradise Alley Road. These feathered visitors are in season for the first time in many years in Delaware, perhaps that is one reason for their flight as they saw the cameraman approach.

"...I believe if it were me I would get out the peace pipe and get to the bottom of the matter."

On Monday night my wife was ailing and therefore was unable to cover the City Council meeting at Harrington. I went in her place. Usually on the first Monday of the month, I am attending and covering the Felton City Council.

There were many items on the agenda Monday night, but tempers flared somewhat over the police protection issue and another matter which occurred several months ago. The police matter has to do with "whether or not the City should or can provide 24 hour protection." It has been a hotly debated issue, but the matter does not seem to be near any kind of solution.

From where I sat, it would appear that there is a spoke missing in the wheel. I believe the monthly meeting is a place where citizens can come and air their ideas. If they want to shout, I believe they should be permitted to do so...there is a limit of course. I believe a step in the right direction however is to require the proponents to present their discussion to get on the agenda so that the matter is not sprung on the council members suddenly. This, of course, should have some exceptions to the rule. There should always be room for arguments as put forth by the citizens of the City, but there should be allowances so that the Council members can respond...and respond responsibly. The matter of police protection is a very important...but very moot question...which must be resolved only through discussion, study and experiments. There isn't one person at this time in the City who has come forth with a concrete response. For this reason, the matter should be referred to a committee to look into the matter with the idea of resolving it on an equitable basis. There are a number of ways the matter could be resolved...but which one is the best from an economical standpoint. Do we need a merchantile tax, or a businessman's tax, or raising the assessments in the City, or working the police more at night than daytime. Cool debate and discussion will produce an answer. It is probably time we looked into the matter of a police commission...not a police commissioner...directly in the eye.

I believe the Mayor is moving in the right direction when he decided that there would not be any more overtime paid except under extreme circumstances. There must be another way, however, which will prove satisfactory to all concerned. My conclusion is therefore that the citizens should be permitted to bring their arguments before Mayor and Council...and talk in a loud voice if necessary so long as it does not hurt one's ears...in order to get resolved a very important matter such as the matter of police protection. So gentlemen...I believe if it were me I would get out the peace pipe and get to the bottom of the matter. You will all feel better when you do...and I guarantee that you will sleep better after each Council meeting.

Wanted-Your Opinion

From the pages of the news (20 years ago) and still relevant:

In case you don't agree with any of the views expressed on this editorial page, don't feel frustrated. Write us a letter! Most of the things written here are aimed at providing food for thought. We don't expect everyone to agree with what we say. If an editorial sets people to thinking, it has served its purpose.

Any newspaper worth its salt should express an opinion on subjects of local interest. Citizens should do the same thing. We stand ready to provide space for citizens to "sound off" in, always subject to the libel laws of Georgia, of course.

Too many people today swallow their opinions for fear of offending some unknown power and thereby placing their financial security in jeopardy. We would like to see this trend reversed.

Hardly a week goes by but some citizen stops us on the streets, expresses a very strong opinion, but then sheepishly requests that his opinion not be published under his name. Such cowardice has become too prevalent in this regimented world.

Don't be afraid of your opinions, if they are honestly thought-out and sincere. You may be wrong, but few people will condemn you just for having an opinion.

Cobb County Times, Marietta, Ga.
Ed. Note: With the exception of the names of places, this editorial may be applied to this city and the readers of this newspaper. Your opinions are welcome. We do still live in a country where we are not persecuted for our views. If you have something to say, say it here.

Guess Who's Been Watching?

My elves have been watching you this year and tell me that you've tried your best to be good. Well, I'm getting ready to load my sleigh and I need some ideas for gifts for you. Why don't you send me a letter telling me what you'd like and I'll see if we can't get your order in SPECIAL DELIVERY! I have my elves working in other towns, so this is only for good little boys and girls with Harrington mailing addresses. Be sure to put your name and full address on the letter so I can be sure to get your letter to me before Christmas Eve. I will be at Santa's House in the Quillen Shopping Center and will have a mailbox right by my house where you can put your letters. That way I will be able to take them with me after visiting you on December 6 and 13. So be especially good from now until Christmas. P.S. Rudolph says HI!

Weekly Report

By Senator Joseph Biden

In the next few days -- following Thanksgiving -- Gerald Ford will make his first visit as President to mainland China. The trip is an inevitable part of the on-going process of "normalizing" relations between the United States and the People's Republic of China, and I wish the President well.

This trip, however, offers an opportunity for diplomatic initiative on a subject of continuing concern to Americans: the fate of an estimated 1,300 Americans still missing in action in Indochina.

To that end, the Senate last week passed a resolution I sponsored which calls upon the President to use the occasion of his visit to Peking to seek the help of the Chinese (their "good offices," in diplomatic language) in obtaining from Hanoi a final accounting of the fate of Americans still missing, and who may be held prisoner.

The day after the Senate passed my resolution by a unanimous vote, I wrote to President Ford, asking him to give this matter his personal attention.

"These missing Americans" -- to quote the letter I wrote to the President -- "in a very real sense represent the legacy of our involvement in the tragedy in Vietnam and Indochina. As long as their fate remains unknown, it will not be possible to fully close the door on that fateful chapter in our history."

It seems to me that we have very little to lose in raising this matter with the Chinese. The Chinese, after all, are known to want improved relations with the United States -- if only because of their continuing feud with the Soviet Union. It may turn out that the Chinese will not help us, or that Hanoi will continue to turn a deaf ear to any request for a final accounting, no matter what the source.

But the fact of the matter is that over 1,300 Americans -- mostly servicemen, but also including a number of civilians -- are still unaccounted for in Indochina. I believe the United States has a continuing obligation to pursue every possible avenue of approach in obtaining a final accounting of these MIA's. Asking the Chinese is one of those avenues, and I hope very much the President will take it on this visit to China.

Thoughts....

By Senator William Roth

One of the continuing tragedies of the war in Vietnam is that 1,300 American servicemen are still unaccounted for in Southeast Asia.

The President has expressed objections, the Congress has passed resolutions, our diplomats have raised the matter, repeatedly, and appeals have been made through the United Nations and non-involved countries.

But the leaders of Vietnam, in callous disregard for all standards of human decency, have been unresponsive to these appeals. Instead, they have tried to exploit our deep concern for these men and use it to their political and diplomatic advantage.

This is why I offered an amendment to the foreign aid bill intended to bar North and South Vietnam from the United Nations until they do provide a full accounting of missing servicemen. The amendment, which the Senate has accepted, would call upon the President to use our veto power in the U.N. Security Council to make it crystal clear that they will never get into the U.N. as long as they continue to disregard their obligations under the Paris peace accords.

Until now, we had no real clout to back up these accords. But both North and South Vietnam want to be admitted to the United Nations, which gives us a very direct and real way to apply pressure on them.

We are in a strong moral position to use our U.N. veto. Any government that has so blatantly abused the solemn pledges made to another government, which has disregarded all international codes relating to the treatment of prisoners of war and missing servicemen and which has shown no comprehension of the nature of the humanitarian principles involved, has no business being part of the United Nations anyway.

In supporting my amendment, Senator Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), floor leader for the foreign aid bill, said that "we will fight to the last man, so to speak, to keep it in the final bill, because it is needed."

By adopting this amendment, Congress may find a tool for prying loose the information which North Vietnam and its allies have on Americans still missing in action in Southeast Asia.

Open Letter to Chipman Parents

Dear Parents,

Hectic is the word which describes this week for me. I am anxious that the eighth grade testing be carried out properly so that the results will be reliable. Since our scores are compared with those of other eighth graders across the nation, who have taken the test during the first semester of the eighth grade, every effort must be made to follow the instructions to the letter. For this reason the eighth grade teachers accompany their classes to the testing room and remain to help me to answer questions and monitor student work and behavior. In addition to administering the tests to those students who report with their group, I must remember to look for those students who have individualized schedules, for they do not always take the responsibility for getting themselves into the testing session. Students who are absent for part or all of the regular sessions must be scheduled for make-up sessions.

Individual problems still occur. I try to see as many students as I can in the short time that I am in my office. The seventh grade classes also continue. When I can I teach them myself, but there are times when I must ask an eighth grade teacher to take a class while I go on with the eighth grade testing. The microphone and other public address system equipment must be taken care of. The answer sheets must be handled so that each student gets his own back as the sessions progress. Remember, there are over three hundred eighth graders! Because the test is given in the cafeteria, we have to clear out completely for a rather long period in the middle of the day and return when the cafeteria has been cleaned up from lunch-time use...Now you know why the week is hectic for me.

The two filmstrips which the seventh grade is seeing this week are entitled "Who Are You?" (parts I and II). Emphasis on the first is on the differences in the surroundings of each of our lives, including where we live, how the day starts at home, how we get to school, classroom experiences and after-school experiences. Part II raises questions and hopes to stimulate class discussions about your own feelings toward others in your family, special talents, and the development of

Career Corner

By Buck Thompson

printed in the Journal for youths

Meteorology is a study of the atmosphere - the gases that surround the earth and other planets. Meteorologists are environmental scientists who try to describe, understand, predict, and sometimes control the atmosphere.

Sources disagree somewhat, but it appears that there are 6,000 civilian meteorologists today, plus another several thousand in the Armed Forces.

Two-thirds (3,800) of all civilian meteorologists work for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), which includes the National Weather Service. Most NOAA employees work in weather stations across America and in some foreign countries. Other agencies that employ meteorologists include the Environmental Protection Agency, National Science Foundation, National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) Energy Research Development Administration (ERDA), and the U.S. Departments of Agriculture, Transportation, Defense and Interior.

About 1,000 meteorologists work for education institutions doing research and teaching. Others hang their hats and barometers in airlines facilities, weather and engineering consulting firms, agricultural experiment stations, radio and tv stations, and non-profit research labs. As many as 1,000 meteorologists may work in the private sector (as opposed to government employees.) Another 150 or so meteorologists are on state and local government payrolls.

Meteorologists work in all states, but are concentrated in Maryland, Washington DC, and California. Working conditions are pleasant and the work is steady. The hours are regular except that weather forecasters may have to work rotating shifts, including nights and weekends, to cover an around-the-clock watch.

Most experienced meteorologists earn between $14,000-$30,000 per year, although top jobs pay more. Beginners often start at about $10,000.

Beginning professional jobs in meteorology require bachelor's degrees in meteorology or in a related science - usually physics, mathematics, or engineering with courses in meteorology. For research, teaching or management positions, an advanced degree is necessary.

Perhaps the most dramatic aspect of meteorology is weather modification. Meteorologists know how to disperse some types of fog, produce rain and snow in special circumstances, and are trying to cut the destructive power of hurricanes and tornados.

Opinions vary about the job outlook. The federal Labor Department expects

Mini Moments
In History

On Nov. 19, 1775, the Artillery branch of the United States Army was formally established with the appointment of Colonel Henry Knox to command the Continental Regiment of Artillery.

On Nov. 23, 1780, 80 dismounted dragoons of the Continental Army crossed Long Island Sound from Fairfield, Connecticut, then marched across Long Island to attack and defeat a Loyalist force of far superior numbers at Fort George, N.Y.

On Nov. 30, 1782, the United States and Britain signed a preliminary treaty of peace, recognizing American independence.

On Nov. 25, 1783, the British completed their evacuation of troops from New York City.

H. Faulkner, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Faulkner, of Frederica, has enlisted for two years in the regular Army, unassigned.

W. Cliff Miller, in a letter to the Journal from Snowshoe, Pa., this week said he shot a 150-pound buck on Snowshoe Mountain. It was the only one killed in the vicinity on the opening day of the season.

Houston: Mr. and Mrs. Hummel Sapp and children, Guy and Robin, of Wilmington, spent Saturday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oley F. Sapp.

Andrewville: Mr. and Mrs. George Wright and son, Ray, and Mrs. Maggie Bowen have moved back to this community.

Herman Albert Zeitler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Zeitler has enlisted in the Navy and will take basic training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Base. He graduated from Harrington High School in June.

Thirteen Brownies were invested Tuesday and received pins. The little girls included Kitty Burgess, Mary Emma Brown, Page Quillen, Emiline Adams, Sandra Ferrelli, Shirley Feyerabend, Vicki Hill, Kathy Hopkins, JoAnn Moore, Faye Pearson, Carolyn Porter, Cheryl Satterfield and Marilyn Walls.

Mrs. Peggy Malek spent the Thanksgiving holidays in New York City.

William W. Shaw, Jr., is spending two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Shaw, Sr. He has finished boot training at Bainbridge Naval Training Center and will report to Key West, Fla., after his leave.

stated that the department was the only one which went beyond its budget. At this point Dr. Vincent Lobo, a councilman, suggested that a committee be appointed to study ways in which additional revenue could be raised to run the city.

The Mayor and Council also heard from Doris Dadds and Sterling Mock owners of The Harrington Food Rite regarding a letter which was sent to them regarding the disposing of organic material from their store. The matter was referred to Dr. Lobo who said that "Mr. Hicks had made a complaint about the order from the trash truck." Lobo's opinion was to the effect that organic matter should not be washed into the storm drains. Lobo did in fact praise the Food Rite owners for using the truck rather than a dumpster to dispose of their trash. The situation is better now than it has been in the past. Dadds and Mock explained the truck was used for removal of cardboard boxes and the organic matter for the most part was separated and set aside for some of the townspeople to gather up for animals. Lobo praised the owners for the job they have done and stated that if they would undertake to keep the disposing of the organic matter into the storm drain at a "bear minimum". It had been suggested that a fence be put up between the shopping center and Mr. Hicks' property. This would be done at the expense of the Harrington Associates of Baltimore the new owners of the shopping center. They have requested that this not be done at this time due to the major expense.

In other matters before the Council, it was decided that the city employees would get a bonus of $25 for full time personnel and $12.50 per part-timers. At the conclusion of the meeting, the Mayor appointed Councilmen Wyatt, Shaw, and McColley to study ways of obtaining an assistant for Mrs. Hampton. The regular meeting was adjourned, and the Mayor and Council went into an executive session.

Board Meeting Changed
The December meeting of the Lake Forest Board of Education will be held on Monday evening, December 8, at 7:30 p.m., in the high school library instead of the regularly scheduled meeting night.

Area 4-H News

December 14 - 4-H Leader Link Christmas Party, University of Delaware Substation, 2 p.m.

January 13 - 4-H Leaders Meeting, Substation, 7:30 p.m.

This year the Leaders and Links Annual Christmas Party will be held on December 14, at the University of Delaware Substation with dinner being at 2 p.m. Roast turkey and beverage will be provided. Each family should plan to bring a salad, vegetable or dessert. We will also exchange gifts again this year. One gift per person attending, according to his or her own sex costing 50c. Why don't you plan to attend for a good afternoon of fellowship. It will also give you an opportunity to meet some of the new leaders and Links.

The Holiday Season is a good time for leaders and 4-H'ers to say "THANKS" to those who have helped during the year. Your leader has the address of the National Donors for county medals in their National Awards Handbook. Remember, too, the businessmen, neighbors, and friends. Let's show that 4-H does care!

Much of the project work in 4-H is centered around the home and family. Many parents are former 4-H'ers and want their children to have the same opportunities. The projects often involve plans and work similar to that done on a larger scale by parents of 4-H'ers. The youth can work with their parents, beginning early to learn the duties involved in homelife. The success of a girl or boy in 4-H depends to a large extent on their parents.

Club meetings for next week: Lord Baltimore on Monday; State Line on Tuesday; Bridgeville Handy Helpers and Shawnee on Wednesday and Dublin Hill on Thursday.

Call State Police On Channel 9

The citizen band radio program started by the Delaware State Police in late August has once again proven that the most valuable tool available for law enforcement is public involvement. Since the start of the CB reporting program, CB operators have been instructed to contact the state police on Channel 11. Many CB clubs and a statement from the FCC, however, have persuaded the state police to switch to Channel 9. The FCC explains that Channel 9 should be "used for emergency communications involving the immediate safety of life of individuals or the immediate protection of property, or communications necessary to render assistance to a motorist." The Delaware State Police will be making the change effective immediately at all four base stations. Stations are presently housed at Troop 3 in Camden, Troop 5 in Bridgeville, Troop 8 on the Delaware Turnpike, and Troop 9 at Odessa.

A total of 206 complaints were reported to the Delaware State Police between August 29 and the 25 of October. New Castle County, having two stations, accounted for 134 of those calls. Thirty calls were received in Kent County, and 42 calls were made to Troop 5 in Sussex County. The types of calls received included accidents, disabled motorists, various criminal complaints, driving under the influence, speeding, or driving recklessly, complaints of debris on the roadway, and malfunctioning traffic control devices.

Anyone equipped with citizen band radio equipment can contact the state police on Channel 9. The call letters are KGN-9835, and the stations are monitored around the clock at all four locations.

Three Win In Journalism Contest

Seaford High's Jill Clendaniel and Dawn Borders shared the winner's circle in last week's Sussex County Bi-centennial Youth Salute to Education Journalism contest with Woodbridge High's Dorothy Breeding. The trio participated in a press conference with the Wilmington News-Journal's Bill Frank and then wrote a feature story about it. All three are 17 years old and emerged as victors from a group of 15 participants from Sussex County high schools and junior highs.

Auction Bazaar Scheduled

Gerald I. Street, Chairman of the Mid-Del District, Boy Scouts of America, announces the First Annual Auction and Bazaar to be sponsored by the District. This program is to take place at the Peoples Church at 46 South Bradford Street at 10 a.m., on Saturday, December 6.

The purpose of the Auction Bazaar is to raise funds for Scouting Programs for the Bicentennial Year 1976. Half of the proceeds will go to Troops, Packs and Explorer Units, and the other half to the Del-Mar-Va Council for Special Projects which the Mid-Del Scouts recommend for the entire Council Scouting Membership to share.

The District Committee, Leaders of 25 Cub Packs, 26 Boy Scout Troops with 1700 boys are providing from their homes and friends many valuable items for Auction. Articles such as: walnut beds, desks, shawls, a side board, a bicycle, chairs, a Kodak Toto Copier, a lamp, a stereopticon camera, a set of encyclopedias, (replia) of 45 Cal. Kentucky Percussion Pistol, and an early edition of a Boy Scout Handbook.

If you are interested in making a purchase, here is your chance. If you have something you wish to have Auctioned and donate the proceeds to Scouting call: Gerry Street 734-7401, James Thompson 678-1693, Bill McFarland 492-3862 or John S. Charlton 734-4073. All purchases and or donations and contributions are good for tax purposes, since ALL proceeds are to be used for SCOUTING.

Come, bring your children to enjoy the Magic Show, refreshments and baked goods for sale. William Rash will serve as Chief Auctioneer, and Big Ed. Miller the Master of Ceremonies, and head fun maker.

Woodbridge Drama Club To Perform

A nineteen member cast from the Woodbridge Drama club will perform a three act play on two nights, Dec. 9 and 10 at the High School auditorium. The price of admission will be $1.50 for adults and $1 for students.

The title of the play is They Run In Our Family. It is a story about a sports-minded family, the Pennwinners, who are sports minded except for the mother Agnes played by Cathy Crendorf, and the daughter, Peggy portrayed by Terri DeCarlo. The other members of the family treat the home as though it were a gymnasium. They jog in it, do push-ups there, and generally live and breath sports 24 hours a day.

The setting of the play is mainly Woodbridge High School, which has lost 25 games. The big game is with Seaford, and Coach Sam Pennwinner's job is riding on the game. To learn the outcome the WHS Drama club invites the public to see the following cast: Tim Chambers (Jr.) as Coach Sam Pennwinner,

Terri DeCarlo (Jr.) as Peggy, Cindy Hartzell (Sr.) as Pat, Cathy Crendorf (Jr.) as mother Agnes, Janet Cannon (Soph.) as Aunt Alice Doug Griffin (Soph.) as Buzz Pennwinner, Geoff Wharton (Soph) as Alvin, Dennis Loockerman (Soph) as Seymour, Gordon Clarkson

(Soph) as Alexander, Vivian Outland (Soph) as Mrs.

Alonzo Speel, Catherine Evans (Fresh.) as Josie, Vickie Morrone (Soph) as Dimples Dillard, Pat Polk (jr.) as Mitzi Jones, Joan Willey (jr.)

The Green Thumb

November and early December—after we've had a few killing frosts but before the ground freezes—is the time to apply winter mulches. These mulches insulate the soil and prevent the ground from freezing deeply. They also conserve and encourage the penetration of moisture. This helps many evergreen plants survive the winter.

Materials for winter mulches are the same as those you use for summer. They include bark, wood chips, licorice root, straw, salt hay, chopped leaves and compost. The plants that benefit most from winter mulches are the broadleaf evergreens, such as boxwood, Japanese and other hollies, azaleas, rhododendrons, camellias and pieris.

Plants can be fertilized at the same time that you apply a winter mulch. First broadcast the fertilizer around the plants; then spread your mulch. Use a combination of organic and inorganic fertilizers for best results. The inorganic fertilizer will be taken up by plants over winter. The organic fertilizer will be available after they start growth in the spring. Bone meal is an excellent fertilizer for boxwood, but hollies and azaleas prefer acid fertilizers.

Mulches may be applied to a depth of two to three inches, but be sure not to mound them up too much around the stems of plants. A half inch is enough to apply close to stems. Straw or chopped leaf mulches may be a little thicker, since both will settle and pack over winter to some extent.

In the perennial garden newly-set plants and plants with exposed crowns like chrysanthemums benefit from winter mulches. It is important here that the mulches do not pack too tightly. Evergreen clippings are excellent for this purpose. A combination of branches and straw work well, too.

In the vegetable garden, strawberries should be mulched. Salt hay is the ideal material for them or for perennials, but straw is also satisfactory and cost much less.

Mulches on strawberries and perennials should be left on until growth starts in the spring. Mulches on evergreens may be left to provide weed control during the summer.

#2 of a series: The onshore impact of offshore oil

How far off is offshore oil?

There's a feeling in the air along the East Coast that great pools of offshore oil are just waiting to be tapped and that the effects on the economy will be massive and immediate.

We at Amoco wish it were true. But the day of offshore oil is a long way off. Our experience tells us that nothing is as painfully slow and uncertain as the search for new offshore oil fields.

Over the past ten years, the oil industry has conducted over 70,000 miles of seismic studies on the Outer Continental Shelf waters off the U.S. East Coast. At this time, three areas have been identified as having the most favorable geological conditions for the accumulation of oil and gas deposits.

The next step, subject to federal government approval, will be to get a hard look at the rock formations near the edges of two of these areas. Twenty or more oil companies will sponsor the drilling of one test well in the Baltimore Canyon area 100 miles southeast of New York City and another on the Georges Bank, about 350 miles northeast of New York City.

If the core samples yielded by these test wells indicate that the rocks are not of the type which could hold oil or gas, additional test wells would have to be drilled.

If the samples are favorable, oil companies may submit competitive bids on lease tracts offered by the federal government. This procedure probably wouldn't be completed until late 1976.

Only after the leases have been awarded can the detailed planning begin for actual exploratory drilling. Again, our experience tells us that the planning and early exploratory drilling phase could take as long as two years to complete.

The onshore impact during this phase will be negligible.

Arts and Crafts Festival ...

Donald R. White, a professional tinsmith, never stopped creating his Early American light reproductions during the Arts and Crafts show. Mrs. Smith and the couple's daughter, son-in-law, and new grandson were also present during the show to watch as the work progressed. Shown in the picture are some samples of White's creativity. The couple lives in Salisbury, Md.

Marian Day of Milford pursues her craft of creative stitchery during the two-day show. Mrs. Day specializes in crewel creations.

Ken Leidigh [center] and son Eric [l] of Baltimore, Md., explain the items on their table which ranged from fossils to stone jewelry. An interested viewer pauses during the two day craft show to inspect the table.

Sally Wright of Dover concentrates on trimming out work for her decoupage items. An interested viewer inspects Mrs. Wright's work.

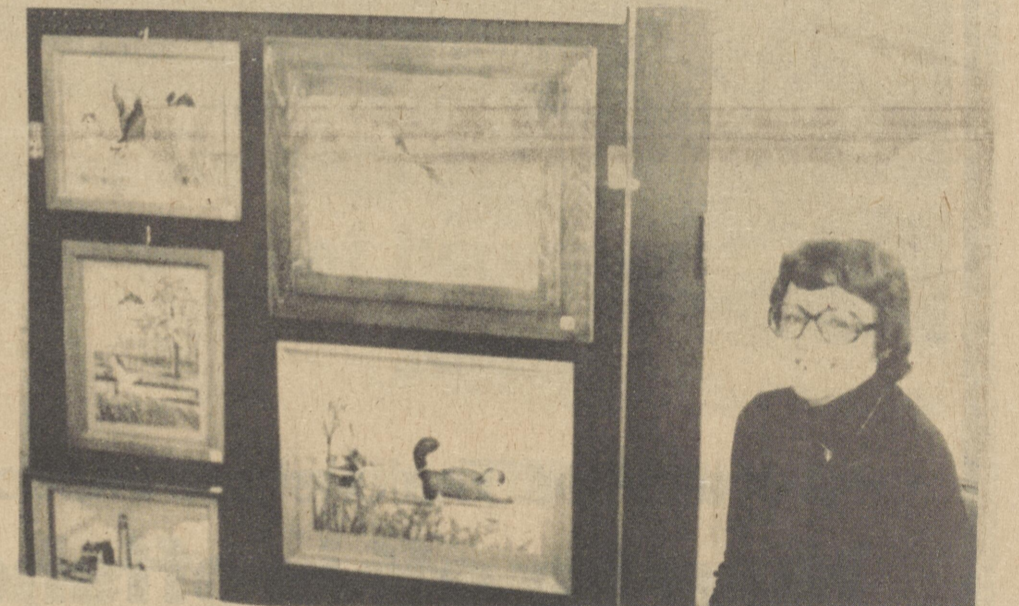

A. Richard Olsen of Dover creates water colors and pastels, and specializes in pet portraits, as can be seen in the pastel of the Boston terrier in the center of the photo.

Mrs. Silva Decker of Dover puts some craftsman touches to a light she painted during the craft show here. Her china paintings proved to be a popular aspect of the festival.

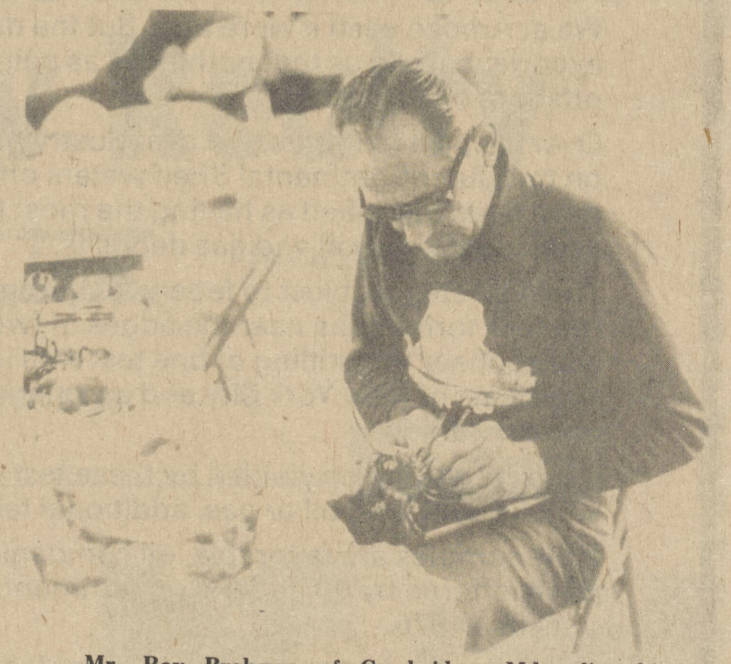

For those who wished to create, Family Fun Kits of Dover was present with supplies and ideas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Chedester sit surrounded by Mr. Chedester's wood carvings, done in high relief. Several Delaware points of interest could be recognized in this Lewes resident's work.

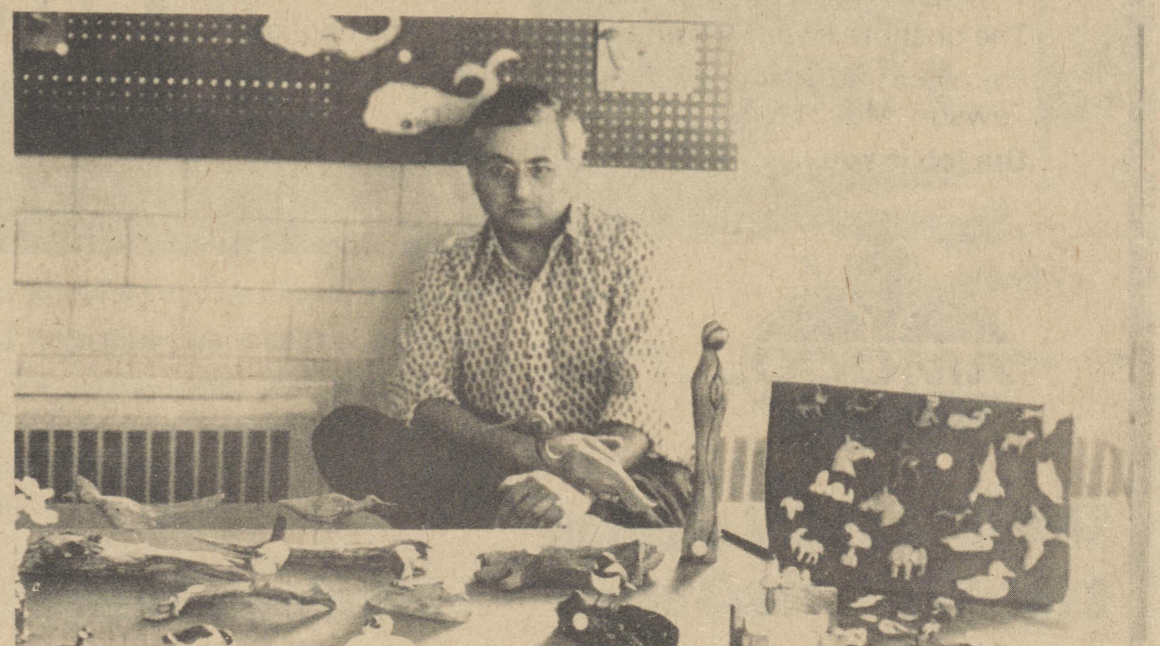

Mr. John Hall of Wilmington rearranges part of his display of gems and minerals during the craft show here.

Mr. Roy Brohown of Cambridge, Md. plies his particular talent...making doll furniture [or pincushions] out of tin cans. The effect was unique.

Mrs. Patricia Moore of Millington, Md. is a newcomer to wood carving but as her work indicates, will around for a long time.

James DeFrancis captured miniature creatures on pins and various birds posed on pieces of fritwood as this Wilmington resident poses for the photographer Sunday afternoon.

Something For Everyone

Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Smith of Newark explain a point about their gemstones to interested Harringtonians during the craft festival. The Smiths are also visitors to Harrington during the Delaware State Fair.

"Keep the coffee coming" to keep Mr. C. Watson Hall of Milford smiling. People who had the opportunity to view his hand-carved waterfowls had something to smile about as they saw this craftsman's expert work.

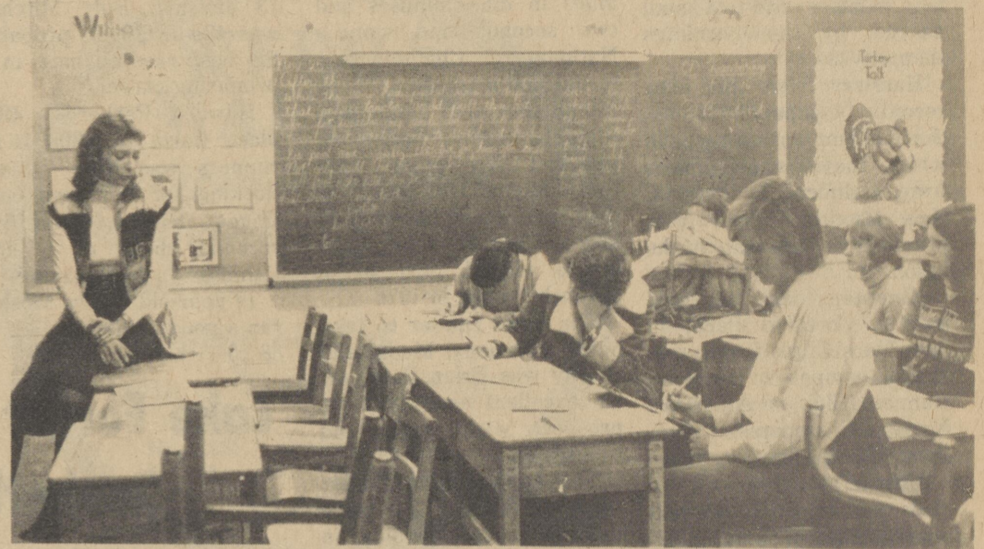

Mr. and Mrs. Vignola of Newark stand by their unique ladder structure on which they offered their dried flower arrangements. Included were the popular Williamsburg straw wreaths.

Miss Linda Siri Watkins (Mrs. Joseph McInerney) makes brief remarks during the student press conference at the Thanksgiving Arts and Crafts Festival. The students later composed a news article from the conference on which they were judged and awarded prizes. Shown in the foreground in Lake Forest winner Millard Ellingsworth.

Decoys were popular during the Thanksgiving Arts and Craft Festival. This display shows the work of Frank Gosnell of Frankford. Shown here is a son of the Gosnells, Sally Devilbiss from Harbeson poses by her water color and oils during the craft festival. She also had drawings of Delaware shore scenes.

Gerald Willey of Greenwood explains a point about his hand-crafted knives to an interested person during the craft festival.

Model Conducts Press Conference

At the Thanksgiving Arts & Craft Show sponsored by the Harrington Journal, actress, model, and mother, (Mrs. Joseph McInerney) was invited by The Journal to hold an impromptu press conference on Saturday afternoon for the benefit of the journalism classes at Woodbridge H.S. and Lake Forest H.S. The students interviewed Miss Watkins as well as she reciting how she became a model and actress. At the termination of the press conference, the students were required to write a news article based on the news conference.

The articles were judged on the following points: lead, sentence construction, accuracy of quotes, chronological order of the interview, coherence, length of article, interest and creativity.

There were to be first, second and third place awards for both schools. Only one candidate appeared from Lake Forest, Millard Ellingsworth, whose paper was judged a first place from his school. The award was worth $50. Ellingsworth is the Editor of the Lake Forest School Newspaper,

The Lancer, Dorothy Breeding won first place from Woodbridge. She is also the Editor of that school's newspaper. She received $50. Second place went to Barry Breeding which was worth $30 and third place was awarded to Becky Sipple in the amount of $20. The response to the contest was well received, and because of this the Journal is planning a Journalism workshop after the first of the year for the students of these two schools.

SPORTS

KEITH S. BURGESS, Sports Editor

Runners Vie in New York, Annapolis

By Keith S. Burgess

Athletes here in most high school sports may play out their careers and never get out of Kent and Sussex Counties. When the W.T. Chipman School wrestlers grappled at Selbyville, they had traveled further than some Lake Forest athletes will ever do.

"Run cross-country and see the world" might be the slogan of Lake Forest's hill-and-dale Spartans, who travel to several states and compete against rivals from all over the country. This gives cross-country a dimension that is not often present in any other high school sport.

Actually some of these journeys take place after the high school schedule is over and are financed by friends, fans, relatives and to a small degree, by the athletes themselves.

Harriers from this area recently competed in national championship races in which they faced runners from California, Florida, New Mexico, indeed from practically every state in the union.

Nineteen locals traveled to Van Cortland Park, in New York City's Bronx section, to compete in the Road Runners Club of America's National Championship Age-Group Competition.

Most of the nineteen thin-clads ran very well but a half dozen turned in performance es ranging from excellent to sensational.

Maurice "Reese Cup" Coverdale, the tiny, West St. dynamo may some day rank as the best distance runner ever to come out of this area, which is known as a prime incubator of distance running talent.

Coverdale ran in 1973, but sat out last year, which gave his embryo career a big setback. Also, in New York, the Harrington 12-year-old was competing against many 13-year-olds in the 12-13 race, another disadvantage. Nevertheless, he finished 13th in a field of over 300 runners, the largest field in the history of the six-year-old event.

"Reese Cup" cruised the more than one and a half miles in nine minutes and two seconds and won a National Championship medal and a trophy. Of the 200 or more area harriers to compete in New York over the last few years, only David Moore, who was 14 at the time, could better 9.02 Moore did 8.48, which Coverdale should beat as a seventh grader in 1976.

The other runner to take home a National Medal and trophy was Brian Barthlow an excellent seven-year-old prospect with talent and courage.

The spunky first grader came in 11th in a field of 70 six and seven-year-olds, in his first New York trip. "Bartholomew," as he's known to this writer, should have a great career if his interest level stays high. Two fifteen-year-old first year-runners, Marcus Bray and Louis Thomas, are near the top of the all-time local list of New York, with fine 9.12 and 9.22 outings, respectively. Both boys should make Jim Blade's Lake Forest varsity next autumn. Thirteen-year-olds Randy Ramirez and Billy Mitchell did very well indeed. Ramirez acquired a coveted, "under ten" mark with a 9.57. Billy just missed at 10.02. eleven-year-old Frank Jenkins should be included in the select group, as he toured the course in 10.43.

Good efforts were turned in by: Jerry Mosley, Quinton Hendricks, Nathan Morris, Ron Wilhelm, Joe Benson, Vince Ware, Eugene Butler, John Gilmore, Walter Willey, Pete Fraley Don Lloyd, Grayson Barthlow.

Fifteen runners ran in the national Championship A.A.U. races at Annapolis, Md.

Held at the Navy-Marine

Corps Memorial Stadium, the colorful cross-country spectacular consisted of six races with America's finest young distance runners featured.

The local group again had two runners to capture awards. Brian Barthlow was 18th in the 6-7 group, covering a rough, stony 1 1/2 miles plus in 12.50.

Dan Parker, 15, was 21st of 124 runners. Parker got the second trophy with 14.51 for two and eight-tenths miles Dave Richter's 15.28 for 40th put him in the top third of the field. This race was won by the Ohio State Champion over the fabulous Assuma twins of California.

Maurice Coverdale excelled again with a 37th position of 150 runners in the 12-13 division. Billy Mitchell was 43d in 16.49, probably his best race to date in a promising career.

Howard Parker's 49th place finish of 130, 16-17 runners was the fastest clocking for the local contingent. His 14.44 was five seconds ahead of Chris Palmisano's 58th placing.

10-year-old Jerry Mosley ran a good 18.32 for 47th of 88 10-11 harriers.

Coverdale Wins Kent County Run

Maurice Coverdale, known to many observers throughout Delaware, as Reese Cup, easily annexed the State Open, age 12 and under cross-country run, held at Wilmington's Rockford Park recently.

It might have been expected that he would have an easier race, when Kent County Parks and Recreation held an ages 10-11-12 two mile cross-country run Killen's Pond State Park.

Such was not the case. Almost 100 boys and girls showed up Saturday afternoon and the caliber of competition was considerably higher than in the Wilmington test.

Coverdale who won by 45 seconds in Wilmington, prevailed by 14 seconds at Killen's Pond over a strong, Dover lad named Kozel, a brother to Dover High ace, Tom. Schneider of Dover was only a few seconds further back. Coverdale's 13.25 clocking was good for a cold, windy day.

Jerry Mosley of Harrington, an excellent prospect, at 10, gave away two years or more to some of the opposition, but kicked in strongly to finish eighth and capture one of the ten medals.

Brian Barthlow, a seven-year-old tothead, was three to five years younger than anyone else, but finished 33rd, beating well over half of the huge field.

Frank Jenkins, age 11, was fourth in the Wilmington race and probably would have finished in a similar position Saturday, but he didn't arrive in time to run. Mosley, eighth at Wilmington and at Killen's Pond, Barthlow, Jenkins and Coverdale, are students at Lake Forest Elementary in Harrington. They've been training on their own this autumn. Each has shown exceptional ability. They can outrun many boys, several years older, over distances from one to three miles and up.

This quartet should help future Lake Forest track and cross-country teams to a great degree. They have raced in New York City, Wilmington twice and last Saturday's race, with a trip to the Naval Academy meet, at Annapolis, Md., coming up.

Coverdale has three years of experience while the others are in their first campaigns, but the four distance runners have collected almost 25 plaques, trophies and medals, without even bothering to tally the ribbon awards they've won.

Lake Forest High has never had a losing cross-country. Talent like this should help keep that proud boast alive.

In the 13-14 two-miler, a trio of Dover Air High varsity runners captured the top three spots. Thornburg, Anderson and Thornton were developed by Falcon coach, Charles Bell, a Harrington resident.

Billy Mitchell (5th) Randy Ramirez (9th) and John Gilmore (10th) W. T. Chipman School runners, were medal winners. A lean trio with talent, they will be at Lake Forest High in 1976, with a chance to make the first team.

State Police Begin 'Operation Roadcheck'

The Delaware State Police announce the beginning of their annual "Operation Roadcheck" program which will be effective until January 4, 1976. Lt. Colonel Irvin B. Smith, Jr. points out the necessity for an intensified program of enforcement directed primarily at the drinking driver during the festive holiday season.

Lt. Colonel Smith states that while it is difficult to evaluate past successes of the program in terms of fatal or serious injury accidents that did not occur, it is apparent that during the Thanksgiving - Christmas season a great many more citizens are traveling to and from a variety of events celebrating the season.

The Delaware State Police "Operation Roadcheck" is based on the premise that strict enforcement of all traffic laws will result in increased respect for those laws by the motoring public and, in the end, a corresponding decrease in the violations contributing to accidents.

Nothing could make for joyous holiday season than for our state to experience a period free of motor vehicle fatalities.

Lake Forest Girls To Open Basketball Season

The players for this year's Lake Forest Girls' Varsity Basketball team were chosen last Friday, November 28. The girls who made the team are: Laura Newnom, Anna Jackson, Sandra Carey, Vivian Sudler, Debbie Knolls, Janie Warren, Barbara Richter, Cheryl Lissy, Brenda Teat, Tonya Perry, Debbie Crouse and Cheryl Short.

On Saturday, November 29, the girls faced Cape Henlopen at home in a scrimmage, their first competition of the year. The starting five for the game were Laura Newnom, Cheryl Short, Cheryl Lissy, Anna Jackson, and Sandra Carey.

The girls lost the contest 40-30. Cheryl Lissy was high scorer for Lake Forest with 19 points. Laura Newnom accounted for four points, Anna Jackson scored three points, and Sandra Carey and Debbie Crouse each contributed two points.

The main reason for the Lake Forest loss was their inability to get rebounds. Cape Henlopen had a definite height advantage which enabled them to control most of the game's rebounding. Many times during the game the Cape Henlopen girls were able to control their offensive board and get three and four shots off before Lake Forest girls were able to get a rebound.

Pat Dyal says this year's season is hopeful and was not discouraged by the loss. Her comment was, "The Cape always has a good team."

Next the Lake Forest girls face Delmar on December 16 at home at 4 p.m. Admission is free. This will be the first game of the regular schedule.

revival meetings will begin at Greenwood Church at 7:30 p.m. Robert "Bob" Wheatley of Sharptown, Md., will be the guest evangelist each evening. The singing on Friday evening will be by Dawson Howard, Denton, Md., and "The Gospel Lovin'aires." On Saturday, the singing will be by "The Morgan Sisters"; and on Sunday, by "The Wheatley Family".

December 8 will be the Greenwood United Methodist Women's Christmas Party at the church hall. December 10 at 8 p.m. the Sunshine Class Meeting and party at the Greenwood church.

December 13, the Epworth Church Christmas Program; Dec. 19, the Greenwood church Christmas program; and Dec. 20, Todd's Xmas program. On Dec. 21st, a Christmas Cantata by the Greenwood Senior Choir.

Airman First Class Terry Blake Bowden and his wife, Shelia, are home for a short visit before he reports to Minot Air Force Base in North Dakota. He has finished his training in Lackland Air Force Base in Texas.

Mrs. Theresa Ottey had, as her Thanksgiving day dinner guests, her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Clarke and daughters, Mary Ann, Cathy and Dawn of Mt. Holly, N.J. While here, they called briefly on the Jacob Hatfields and the Gary Bollingers.

Thanksgiving day dinner guests at the Jacob Hatfields were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Bollinger and children, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Davis and children. Supper guests that evening included the Gary Davises, Mr. and Mrs. J. Burton Case of Milford, and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Case and Blair of Newark.

Callers on the day after Thanksgiving at the Jacob Hatfields were Karen Case of Newark and her Thanksgiving guest, Matthew Holman of Marion, Indiana.

Friday evening dinner guest at the Jacob Hatfields was Mrs. Theresa Ottey.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Bollinger and Garith were weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bollinger of Lewisburg, Pa.

Mrs. Lena Barwick entertained for Thanksgiving dinner, her sister, Mrs. Belle Allen, and her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barwick and children Patty and John of Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cahall had their granddaughters, Cindy, Carol and Christina for the Thanksgiving holidays.

The 196th Anniversary and Homecoming service of St. Johnstown United Methodist Church drew about 200. The pastor is the Rev. Phillip Shenton. He had as his guest speaker the Rev. Roy L. Tawes. A coffee hour followed fellowship between the friends and members. Cheer Center News: Week of 24-28

On Monday, November 24, the Harrington Senior Citizens group came to visit and to have lunch with us. I believe we had 48 visitors that day. They entertained us with their kitchen band which was enjoyed by everybody.

Our Center had the regular birthday party on Monday celebrating the November people who had birthdays this month.

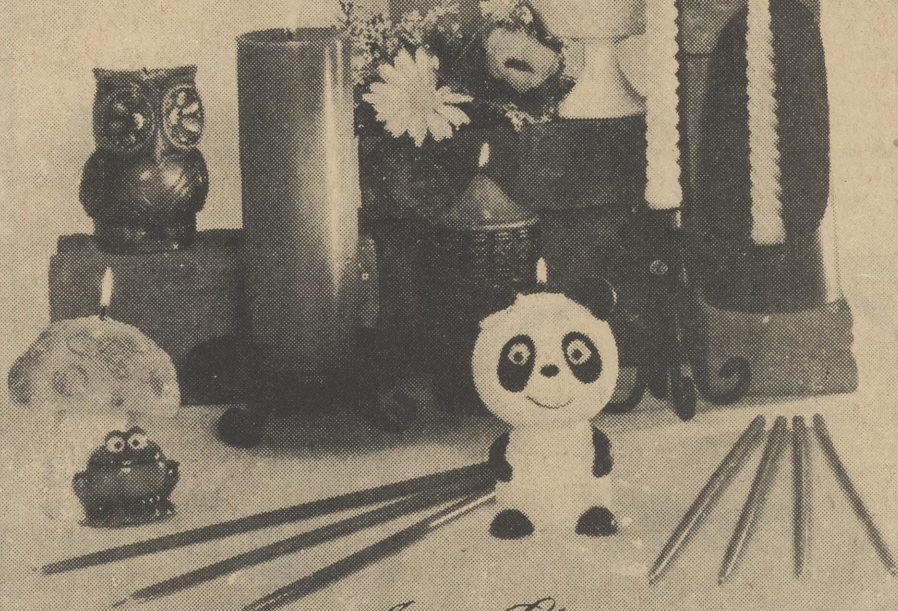

We had our Thanksgiving dinner on Wednesday as we were closing on the 27th. Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Walls enjoyed the turkey dinner with us. The Rev. James Doughten and his wife sang a duet which was appreciated so very much.

Our members are looking forward to the shopping tour at Dover Blue Hen Mall in the near future.

We hope everybody had a very happy Thanksgiving holiday.

Buyer's Guide to Value Shopping!

At this time of year there is a special reason for spending wisely. There always seems to be more that you need to do with your money. That is a good reason for consulting this Buyer's Guide, because it is published to give you ideas on how to make your money go farther.

Dover is a pleasant place to shop. There are many interesting shops and stores and wide variety. It is the state capital, of course, and on mid-peninsula shopping center simply because it has so much to offer!

Plan to visit Dover. Even Dover residents sometimes overlook all the things that go to make the city such a special place. And it is the mid-peninsula shopping center simply because it has so much to offer!

Rt. 13 Dover, Del.

There's shopping and more in Greater Dover

Dover traces its historic Green back to 1683, when William Penn laid it out. It's the heart of the city today.

But there is much more to Dover and environs than the Green which a visitor might find of interest. Even those who visit Dover frequently often pass by buildings or exhibits which they might find very interesting if they only know about them.

The Dover Post BUYER'S GUIDE lists the following points of interest in the hope that a visit to any or all of them might make a visit to Delaware's Capital City that much more enjoyable.

LEGISLATIVE HALL, Legislative Ave., built in 1933. Houses Legislative and office of Governor and Lt. Governor. Portraits of military heroes and other historical figures on display. Open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Admission free.

HALL OF RECORDS Duke of York St. Public archives of State housed here, including original royal grant from Charles II to James Duke of York (1682). Open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Groups should make advance arrangements by calling 678-4651. Admission free.

OLD STATE HOUSE AND SUPREME COURT. The Green. The Old State House is presently under restoration, therefore individuals or groups desiring a tour must contact the Historic Preservation Section in the Hall of Records 678-4564. Admission Free. Supreme Court Wing features Stanley Arhurs' "Leaving Dover - 1776", "Grant and Lee at Appomatox," and Denis A. Volozan's portrait of George Washington. Open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Admission free.

DELAWARE STATE MUSEUM, S. Governor's Ave. Exhibits on many phases of Delaware life from Swedish landing to Apollo space suits. Johnson Building has complete collection of Victor Talking Machine models in store setting. Open Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Admission free.

OLD CHRIST CHURCH, Water St., built in 1734. Caesar Rodney, a signer of the Declaration of Independence is buried in the churchyard. Open 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Admission Free.

THE GREEN Laid out in accordance with William Penn's order of 1683. Sykes Building, No. 45 built about 1812 by James Sykes, has visitors' information. Open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

GOVERNOR'S HOUSE, Kings Highway. Residence of Governor and Mrs. Sherman W. Tribbitt. Built about 1790. Once a station of the pre-Civil War days underground railroad. Information on hours may be had by contacting the Delaware State Visitors Service, 678-4234. Admission free.

DUCK CREEK VILLAGE, off Rt. 13, north of Smyrna. The Lindens, erected 1965, typical of a miller's home of the late Colonial era. Open daily 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission free.

BOMBAY HOOK NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE, Rt. 9 north of Leapsic. 15,110-acre haven for migrating and wintering waterfowl. Auto tour routes, observation towers, trails and boardwalk. Open daily to sunset. Office: Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Admission free.

ALLEE HOUSE, Dutch Neck Road, off Rt. 9, east of Smyrna. Built by a member of the Huguenot Allee family about 1753. It is a fine example of a country house WITH INTERESTING ARCHITECTURAL DETAILS AND EXCELLENT WORKMANSHIP BOTH INSIDE AND OUT. Open Saturday and Sunday, 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Admission free.

OCTAGONAL SCHOOL HOUSE, Rt. 9, east of Dover. Built in 1836, this unique, eight-sided schoolhouse contains a collection of textbooks published from 1800 to 1920 and other artifacts from the early days of the public school system. Open Saturday and Sunday, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Admission free.

JOHN DICKINSON MANSION, off Rt. 13 on Kitts Hummock Road. The boy-state and Federal holidays. ISLAND FIELD ARCHEOLOGICAL MUSEUM, off Rt. 113, near South Bower Bowers Beach. Museum built over prehistoric Indian cemetery. Indian relics. Open April through Memorial Day, weekends from noon to 5 p.m.; Memorial Day to Labor Day, Monday through Friday, noon to 4 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday, noon to 5 p.m.; Labor Day through October weekends noon to 5 p.m. Open all year for tours on weekdays. Closed all State and Federal holidays.

BARRATT'S CHAPEL, one mile north of Frederica on U.S. 113. Erected in 1720, known as "The Cradle of Methodism in America." Here the decision to organize the Methodist Episcopal Church was reached in 1784. Open, Tuesday through Sunday, 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Admission free.

PARSON THORNE MANSION, Milford. Built about 1740, once the home of Parson Thorne, Milford's founder, and famous Delaware Statesman, John M. Clayton. Open by appointment only, call 422-8583.

KILLENS POND STATE PARK, off U.S. 13, south of Felton. Kent County's only state park. Activities include picnicking, swimming, boating, fishing, sailing, day camping. Primitive youth group camping and organized family group camping is permitted by reservations only. Open April - October. Limited facilities November-March. Park User Fee (daily) Memorial Day - Labor Day: Delawareans $1 per car. Out-of-state, $2 per car.
