Christmas: A Time For Caution

'Tis the season to be jolly - and throughout Delaware gala celebrations are the order of the day, don't let fire mar this joyous season.

Failure to pay attention to fire safety in regard to Christmas trees, lights and other decorations can inject tragedy into this traditionally joyful season. These suggestions are offered for keeping Christmas a firesafe and happy time:

1. Natural trees should be fresh-looking and firm-needled when selected. Saw off the butt an inch above the original cut, stand the tree in water and keep it in water until it is disposed of - soon after Christmas Day. Don't rely on do-it-yourself flameproofing treatment, as none is truly effective. Set up the tree away from heat and where it won't block doorways or stairs...Artificial trees should be clearly marked as made of slow-burning materials. Look for the Underwriters' Laboratories (UL) label on trees with built-in electrical system. With metal trees, use only indirect lighting to avoid the possibility of electrical shock.

2. Check lighting strings for frayed and cracked wires, loose connections and broken sockets. Replace only with UL-labeled sets. Bulbs made in the U.S. generally are safest; imported bulbs may have dangerous hot spots. Electrical cord sets with built-in fuses are strongly recommended. Always turn off tree and other indoor holiday lighting when leaving the house or retiring for the night. For outdoor lighting, use only sets UL-listed for this purpose.

3. Noncombustible materials such as metal, glass and asbestos should be used for decorations as much as possible.

4. Make sure cotton batting, flock and decorating paper are flameproofed. Natural evergreen decorations dry quickly, burn readily, so keep them well removed from candles, the fireplace and other heat sources. Don't use polystyrene foam for table or mantel decorations where there are lighted candles.

5. Dispose of gift wrappings promptly and safely -- NOT IN THE FIREPLACE.

6. Be especially careful during the Christmas season to keep matches and cigarette lighters out of the reach of children, and try to keep youngsters from playing beneath or near the Christmas tree.

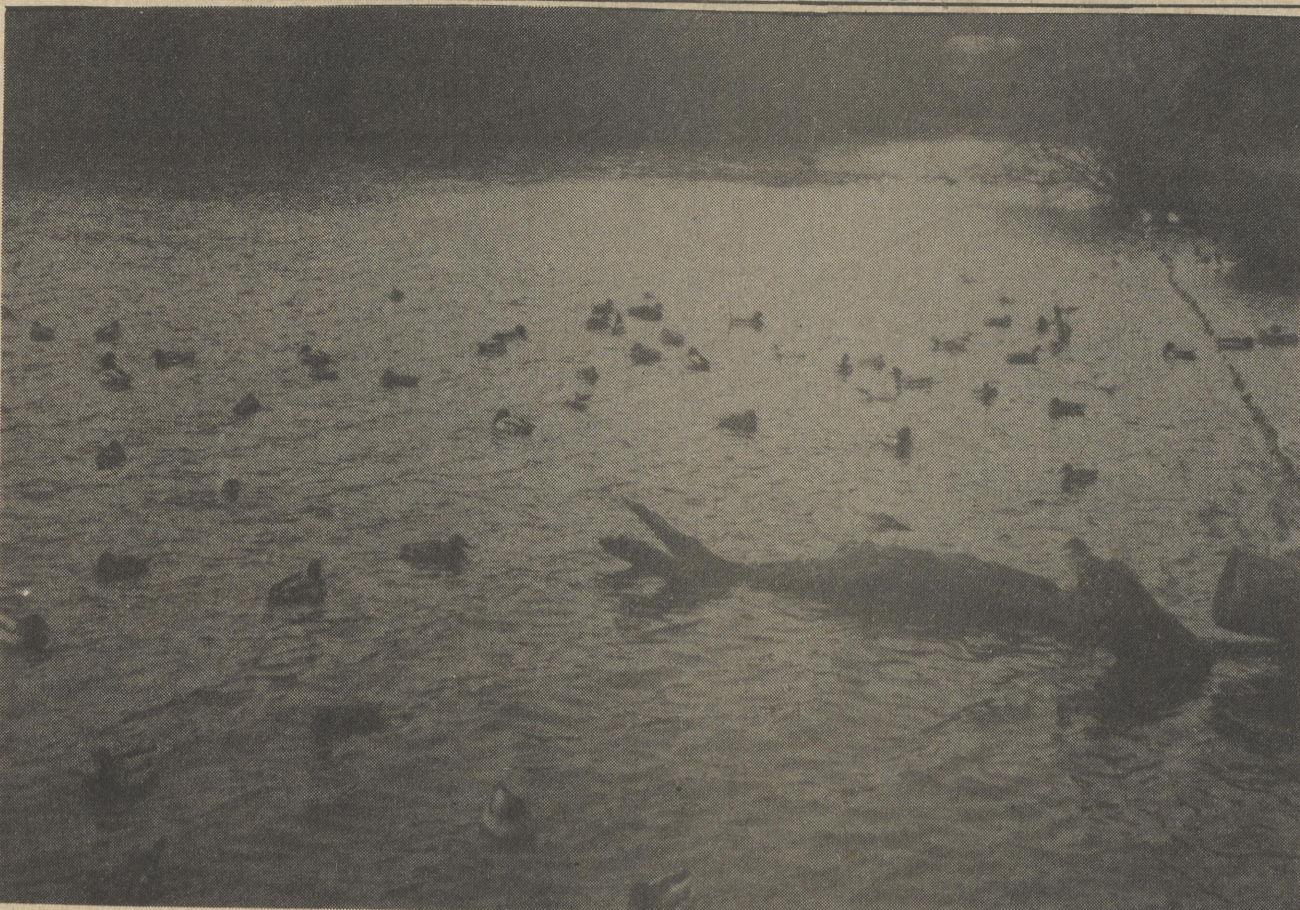

7. It is especially important during this busy time of the year that children never be left alone or without proper supervision - even for a short time.

8. Every family should have a well-rehearsed escape plan for use in case of a fire emergency.

9. Have your fireplace checked, especially the brick work inside. When brickwork falls out, the wood is more exposed and may create a fire hazard. Use a fire screen to prevent flying sparks and logs from rolling out. Keep dampers open. Never use flammable liquid to start or freshen a fire.

10. Use good cooking procedures with gas stoves. Make sure all gas is turned off when stove is not in use. Aubrey T. Brown, Harrington Fire Prevention Chairman, reports there were seven house fires in Harrington last Christmas, most were in the chimney area.

From the Fire Prevention Committee and the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company we wish our citizens a most joyful and safe Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

It was like summer on Monday. The ducks and gulls of all kinds were splashing in the pond near the Henlopen Hotel in Rehoboth.

Woodbridge School Board Tables Bus Trip Rates

At its regular monthly meeting last Wednesday night, the Woodbridge School Board heard suggestions regarding increased rates for bus trips. Ray E. Judy Jr., president of Woodbridge Bus Contractors, Association, requested that the Board increase in mileage from 49c to 53c per mile, which Judy maintained was the State's fee. Dr. Foster Flint suggested to table the request, along with Robert Messick, until Judy, Superintendent Flint, the Board members and Mr. Sizemore, the bus supervi-

Shopping Center Hit Again

Ed. Note: Early last Friday morning, Collins Clothier of the Quillen Shopping Center was broken into and robbed of an undetermined amount of merchandise. Neither Mr. Collins nor the local police force would divulge details of the robbery. It is for this reason no details are available for this paper. Because of the robbery, the tenants of the shopping center have taken the following steps to prevent a reoccurrence of whatever happened Friday morning.

Recent breakins and burglaries in the Quillen Shopping Center in Harrington have prompted the tenants of the Shopping Center to hire their own police force.

Reports of recent crimes in the City of Harrington as well as surrounding areas have made area residents cautious in the tending their possessions.

Even isolated areas in the country are being "hit" according to the law enforcement bodies as well as area businessmen. A common practice is for a criminal to phone first and if there is no answer that is a good signal that no one is at home. The next step is to break into the house and take what can be gotten.

Two Council Seats In The Running

Applications for filing for council seats in the second and fourth wards, are available at the Harrington City Hall. According to the City Charter, petitions must be filed and properly filed with the City ten days prior to election date, which is January 13, 1976. The necessary forms are available at City Hall.

The Council seats are currently held by Councilmen William Griffin and William Shaw.

On Tuesday, THE HARRINGTON JOURNAL had a silver maple planted at the North Bridgeville Elementary School. The tree was planted by a local nurseryman, Ray Nichols of Greenwood. According to Nichols who explained the planting to the 4th grade class of Mrs. Kay Hardesty, the tree will grow to approximately 80 feet in height.

Also on hand was Mrs. Barbara Slacum, President of the Bridgeville PTA, who is interested in the betterment of the school. She and the Bridgeville PTA recently donated flower bulbs to the school. They are red, white and blue to commemorate the bicentennial year coming up. Representing the school was David Winski, Principal of North Bridgeville and Bridgeville Elementary Schools.

On an interview with Mrs. Hardesty by the Journal when the flower bulbs were planted, it was learned that a tree would be nice for the children for shade during the warm months, since the

Historical Spain Trip Related

By Virginia Paskey

We were there when many historical events took place so I decided to share our trip with you and your readers.

We were notified by Standard Oil about two weeks before departure that Mexican Chevron dealers were unable to obtain passports for Spain and others who were fearful of conditions had there canceled reservations, so extra seats were available.

We called friends and relatives to join us. Many didn't feel they could get passports in time, however we were fortunate to have Loretta P. Purnell fly out for a visit and join us on our flight.

We left L.A. Airport at 11 a.m. Nov. 19th. Landed in Bangor, Maine to refuel and then to Malaga, Costa de Sal, Spain at 9 a.m. Spain time, which is nine hours ahead of West Coast.

Checked in at hotel and headed for lunch and a short nap. First tour was at 2:30. What beautiful sights, so clean and mostly all new apartment buildings, built by manual labor.

Children go to school from 4 to 14 years old, and then if needed stop to help support family. Since Franco's reign in the late 30's, the laboring classes have had four to five bedroom apartments to live in. They all loved their leader and grieved at his passing the day we arrived.

Our next day was a two hour bus ride, one hour hydrofoil boat ride across Mediterranean Sea by Rock of Gibraltar into Africa. (Loretta went to Grauda on a tour since she'd been to Africa). Tangiers, the tourist capital of Morocco, what an interesting place, but glad to depart from. We stood in front of "Straits of Gibraltar." We had a marvelous guide and were given the royal treatment. We were safe to shop in a department store instead of peddlers. Were entertained on street by snake charmer and then onto a hotel for lunch. We were escorted to a large circus type tent, lined with embroidered velvet in different shades. Tables were set up for 8 and hassock chairs were used. Were served the traditional dish, soup, beef or a skeiner, "que-que" pronounced "goose goose", cookies, wine and hot mint tea. Entertainment was flame and belly dancers.

As we approached our Main street to return to our boat, we were met with military police and our guide had to have gates removed to get us through. The "Morocco Marchers" who had marched on the Sahara Desert, had settled their differences peacefully and were returning home for a parade of welcome. There

The "Morocco Marchers" who had marched on the Sahara Desert, had settled their differences peacefully and were returning home for a parade of welcome. There were thousands on both sides of street. A colorful sight.

Next flight on a DC 9 to Alicante. We had a nice tour of city, but could do little shopping because of "cornation of King" and Francos Funeral of Sunday. We watched parts of it on Black and White T.V. Beach was lovely and walks crowded. Our big event here was our banquet dinner in our hotel. We'd never seen anything served with spot lights before each course. The wine keg, huge fish, flaming foods corks popping, paraded around by the waiters. Most every one in our corner found out that Walt didn't like fish, our second course, but did like potatoes. The head waiter sure played it up big and Walt was served a heaping large plate of boiled potatoes and more than his share of French fries with the steak. This caused lots of laughter Champagne and demitasse coffee was last.

Monday, we flew to "Palma de Mallorca." Upon approaching we thought we were landing in Holland for the individual wind mills used for water were a sight to behold. This was another beautiful city and a place you'd like to return to. Again our tour, to a large castle and cathedral. Lots of steps to climb which made us puff. The next two days instead of tours we ventured by bus to down town shopping.

Beautiful shops, very clean, even lots of sidewalks were mopped daily. People well dressed. I was wearing an American Eagle necklace, a lady on the street said "America beautiful," and a salesman asked if it was pure gold. He said it was very nice. We finally got on a bus for trip back to hotel. Was about 15 miles around curves. What a ride? Ask Loretta. We had to hold on to top straps, and each bend we'd sway. Loretta and I were having fun and laughing, not knowing others could understand us. The couple in front could stand it no longer so they started laughing too.

Jaycees Thanked By Mayor

Dear Sir:

May I take this method to express the appreciation of the Citizens of Harrington to the Junior Chamber of Commerce for their recent Christmas Parade. As in years before the event was a great success, with over 500 people in attendance this year.

The Jaycees are to be commended for their efforts with, not only this event, but in their other activities during the year.

A special note must be made of the work of the Parade Chairman, Lee Dean. He took care of every detail so that the parade was held without a hitch, and everyone obviously enjoyed the entire event.

Continued success to them. Sincerely, William A. Minner Mayor, City of Harrington

Correction

It was stated in last week's article about the Lake Forest School Board that an architect had been selected at the November 17 meeting. This was an error on the part of the Journal. The architect was selected at the December 8 meeting of the Board. We regret the error.

NOTICE
The First National Bank of Harrington will close lobby and drive-in at 1 p.m., Wednesday, December 24, 1975.

Dr. Retains Membership In AAFP

Dr. Zosimo A. Buendia of the Harrington area has completed continuing education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The Academy formerly was called the American Academy of General Practice.

The requirement call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. Members become eligible for re-election at the end of the third year following their election to membership. The Academy, the country's second largest national medical association, is the only national medical group that requires members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

The Academy, founded in 1947 and headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., was instrumental in the establishment of a new primary specialty in family practice in 1969. The new specialty is expected to increase the numbers of family physicians available to serve the public in the future. The Academy's continuing education program is the foundation of eligibility for family doctors now in practice who apply for certification in the new specialty.

To Seek Senate Seat

Joseph F. McInerney, 36, of Rehoboth Beach announced on Monday his intentions to seek the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate now held by U.S. Senator William V.

Roth. McInerney is a registered Democrat while the incumbent Senator is a Republican. Roth is now completing a six year term in the Senate. Before this Roth was a Congressman from Delaware.

The thrust of McInerney's speech was an appeal to the "grass-roots people". He suggested that the voters are tired and fed up with a lot of talk in Washington. The people want action now. He appeared to be making a citizen's appeal. He felt the obvious issues were the energy crises, crime, the economy, environmental pollution, troubled school situations, rampant unemployment, job security, and no fiscal responsibility in government.

McInerney has never held an elective office. He worked for one U.S. Senator as his chief assistant, has been a partner in a political consulting firm in D.C., is an individual member of the New York Stock Exchange, and founder of a Group Radio Holding Co. McInerney appeared with his immediate family at the press conference.

In addition to the foregoing he talked of balancing the budget and perhaps lowering taxes if the country could rebound from the present economic situation in order to do so.

He plans to have an office in each of the three counties.

Phone Co. Set For Yule Calls

The Diamond State Telephone Company will have 162 operators on duty on Christmas Day to handle about 56,000 calls requiring the assistance of an operator.

The firm has two switchboard centers, one in Dover and the other in Wilmington.

The Dover switchboards, with 47 operators, will handle about 8,600 Christmas Day calls from subscribers in Kent and Sussex Counties.

The Wilmington switchboards, with 115 operators, will handle about 47,500

Yule calls from subscribers in New Castle County.

This year, the company, also expects to handle about 500 overseas calls.

The telephone busy hours on Christmas Day are usually in the morning from between 10 a.m. to noon, and in the evening from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

The company said calls cost less and go through faster if you dial your long distance calls direct, instead of going through the operator.

Due to our early deadline, copy for the next two issues - Dec. 23 & 30 - must be in by 5 p.m. on the preceding Friday.

A Tree Grows At North Bridgeville Elementary

school playground did not have one. With this in mind, The Journal set about correcting this matter. With good luck, the tree, if properly cared for and watered, will grow to great heights

By Sam A. Short

Monday was membership meeting with Hero Hussey presiding. It was decided to resume the open house meetings starting in January 1976. The birthday party will be held Dec. 16th, and the Christmas party for the members on December 17th. Each member is to bring a gift valued at a dollar or over.

The Jolly Timers practiced more Christmas carols Monday. Tuesday several members joined in with the senior citizens of Milford and took an all-day Christmas trip to Cherry Hill Mall in New Jersey.

Wednesday the members joined in making favors for the coming Christmas party, and in the afternoon they played paperbag bingo. Some painted ceramics on Thursday.

Marian C. Powell and Claudia H. Holden, home economists, visited the center in the afternoon with recipes for dietary fudge and cookies and nutritious candies which were very good.

The Directors' Board meeting was at 8 Thursday night. Friday was bowling day again and out of 13 bowlers, six went over the 200 mark as follows: Fred Litmann 263; Ann Brennen 258; Marion Litmann 254; Andy Anderson 232; Betty Martin 215, and George Goodge 211.

The spotlight this week falls on one of our members whose home is near Milford Neck. This member is not only a member of the center, but has turned nursemaid as well. She is Mrs. Lucy Irwin. Losing her husband a few years ago, Lucy was left with two boys, now grown and married. One lives near, while the other one lives in Dover. Lucy is a volunteer in the kitchen every Monday. She is a good seamstress. She is energetic and does her work well and is well liked by all. When one of our members lost his wife and needed some one to help him out, Lucy came to his aid and is now living here in Harrington.

Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

"...we said they were snow geese, but Jake said they were Swans", that's what Jake said.

A few weeks ago we made pictures of what we thought were snow geese. As it happened it turned out to be something else. We made a mistake, and we were glad it was brought to our attention. A man who would know about such things was right in passing on the information.

The incident spurred me to think of a parallel situation. It gets at one of my chief gripes concerning politicians, the federal government and the like. I tried to remember when I last heard a politician call a press conference to admit to an error. It has also been quite awhile since one of them voted in favor of a bill which would ease economic pressures on the vast populace who need a break.

Across the state and across the nation people are struggling to make ends meet. Politicians on all sides are now suggesting higher wages (after the first of the year the minimum wage goes up again which affects employers...and the withholding goes up again which affects labor...as well as management), and above all else...higher taxes. None of us will be able to make ends meet any easier by getting higher wages. That's not the answer. The working man today is faced with one very simple issue...the more you make the more taxes you will pay and the more money you make will not guarantee that you will save any more in the long run. It therefore must be concluded that it is not how much money you make but how much money you save. We must all learn to live within our means...and this policy should be followed by our politicians and our government. Fiscal responsibility is needed in our home and in our government.

There is another area however which needs some elaboration. I read somewhere recently where employees during the depression worked as high as 80 hours a week...straight time too. Perhaps that is a bad example, for I would admit that 80 hours is too many hours for a week. I keep reminding myself that each week as week in and week out, I approach that figure. Employees today are looking...or expecting automatic raises, for "...after all everything else is going up". We are over looking one thing however and that is "...we need to tie productivity to employment". When we achieve this, the matter of raises will not only be automatic they will be economically beneficial to our economy and to us, the workers. If we can achieve this, we can also go further and find ways to balance the budget...reduce taxes, put our economy back on sound footing again, and make the dollar worth something again.

What do swans or snow geese...or for that matter what Jake has to say about the entire matter...have to do with this article? It might not matter too much what we call them, but it matters always what a man like Jake says and thinks. We need someone to point out our mistakes. This country needs a strong watch-dog. It makes a big difference if some people are talking productivity and expecting something and others are talking work and expecting more. At a time like this when the energy crisis is all but stopping our country, we need to know why our leaders are spending so much time in China and the Far East...or in the alternative why they refuse to reveal all the details about these meetings.

The government that set out 200 years ago to prove to the entire world that people could live free of government domination has reversed itself. We are controlled not "governed" by our politicians. It won't change until citizen groups become so powerful that the politicians will be forced to recognize them. Is it possible? What will it take?

What Our Bicentennial Heritage Means To Me

Ed. Note: The following essay was written by Willard Thomson, second place winner in the Greenwood V.F.W. Post during their "Voice of Democracy Contest." It deserves to be read.

As an American, I am proud to look back and see the great advances America has made. In the short span of 200 years America has become the leader of the world in all respects. No country has attained such high standing and stability in such a short time. I look back with pride at the freezing soldiers at Valley Forge and the dying soldiers at Anzio. They were willing to take a stand because they were fighting for what they believed in. America is the closest to an ideal society than any other nation has established. Americans are given freedoms which many of the worlds people have never heard of or dreamed of. This freedom of the people plus the peoples part in government have welded this into a great nation. Many times other nations have called America imperialistic and capitalistic due to differences of ideologies. How short their memories are because more often than not these same nations in the past years have received aid and guidance from the United States in a time of need. Countries are quick to criticize but the United States has never been found lacking compassion and sympathy for other countries in need. Many times this has happened and the United States has accepted it and let it go. I just wonder what would happen if we isolated ourselves and let the rest of the world go and if other nations realized this, their reactions may be different.

Within a short time after our country's birth we had become the leader in the world. How did this great advancement take place? This cannot be answered by just one factor but by many. The United States was formed by rebels. These rebels were those who would not stand for injustice and tyranny. So they all got together here and formed a nation following their beliefs and ideals. They combined their ideas and beliefs in freedoms and rights of all men and set up a government truly "of the people, for the people, and by the people." The government was established to protect the rights of all men and see that their freedoms were protected.

The compassion, integrity, and high moral values of the peoples of the United

Thoughts....

By Senator William Roth

Individuals who are self-employed or work for companies without pension plans are permitted to set aside, on a tax-free basis, money for their old age. Why can't housewives do this?

This provocative question was raised in a letter I received from a housewife in the Wilmington area.

"Widows," wrote Mrs. William D. Ross, "rarely receive much, if any, pension from the former employers of their late husbands. Social Security provides only a very meager livelihood."

Investigating the circumstances in which many women find themselves at retirement age, I found that Mrs. Ross is entirely correct. Expanding the present Individual Retirement Account program to permit a pension plan for housewives

Open Letter to Chipman Parents

Dear Parents,

Group tests are behind us now except for the state achievement tests, which are to be administered in early March this year. Again it is the eighth graders in the junior school who will be tested.

Guidance classwork has continued to be centered around "understanding and getting along with parents."

We have listed the kinds of conflicts that seem most generally to occur between parents and teenagers. Some of these conflicts are the need for privacy, selection of clothes, doing chores, keeping rooms neat, the setting of time limits, choosing friends, smoking, types of recreation, and showing respect. Recognizing that the teenager is really able to change only his behavior and not that of his parents, we have tried to think of changes that the teenager can make in himself that would improve his relationship with his parents. Among the suggestions for change were to get into the habit of talking things over with parents, to make an effort to explain to parents how you feel as well as to try to show them that you are trying to understand how they could be feeling, to do things that show the parents that you are responsible, let your parents get to know your friends, make sure that your parents are informed about meetings so that they have an opportunity to talk with other parents, invite your parents to be chaperones at social events, and let your parents know that you love them.

The assignment was for each student to do at least one additional thing this week to exhibit some kind of behavior, to do something struck me as a sound idea. Two weeks ago, I introduced legislation that would do this. It would amend the law under which the Individual Retirement Account program was established, providing tax incentives to encourage husbands to create retirement accounts for their wives. Under this system, any worker would be permitted to set aside, on a tax deferred basis, up to $1500 a year for his or her spouse.

The initial response to this proposal has been gratifying. When I introduced the measure on the Senate floor, Senator Mike Mansfield, the Senate majority leader, asked immediately to be added to the list of co-sponsors. Editorial writers and radio commentators have expressed support. One husband was so intrigued by the idea he telephoned from Los Angeles to tell me.

It's true that many women today are employed outside the home. But many of these do not work in such jobs long enough to qualify for meaningful pension benefits. Nearly 60 percent of the married women in our society do not hold jobs outside the home. These women are not eligible for retirement protection of their own. For the vast majority, Social Security is their main source of retirement security, and for many, it is not adequate to provide a decent standard of living.

As was noted in a recent report prepared for the Senate Committee on Aging, the likelihood of being poor is much greater for women than for men in old age. Two out of every three persons over the age of 65 years in poverty are women.

Because women with jobs are concentrated in low-paying and part-time work, because their job careers are frequently interrupted for raising children, their Social Security and pension benefits are considerably lower than those of male workers. For women who work only in their homes, there is no Social Security coverage. If they are widowed or divorced early in life, they receive meager or no benefits.

The housewife works hard; her contribution to our society is invaluable. At retirement age, she needs more security, and I think it's time we recognize this.

Career Corner

By Buck Thompson

printed in the Journal for youths

June 21, 1974 was special for Mary Smith. It was the day she graduated from high school. A week later, June 19, was another day to remember: Mary began her first full time job as a clerk-typist for a federal agency.

Mary's job is classified as a specialized clerk, rather than as a general clerk. In addition to clerk-typist, other examples of specialized clerks include file-clerk, reception-clerk, data typist, and tape perforator operator. Clerks work in private companies, non-profit organizations, and government agencies all over America.

In general, Mary types letters, reports, invoices, and other material which follow a standard pattern. Clerk-typists may fill in printed forms on a typewriter, type a rough draft of a document into final form, open mail, handle the telephone, file, proof-read typewritten copy, operate a photocopy machine and be all-around useful in an office. Some clerk-typists type letters and other material from dictation on a voice-writing machine (such as Dictaphone or IBM Dictating).

Clerk-typist is a lower level office job than stenographer or secretary. A secretary uses shorthand, has more responsibility, and earns more money. Both generally work in well-lighted, heated, or air-conditioned offices. Clerk-typist may have to sit for long periods of time and handle repetitive and routine matters.

Clerk-typists generally need high school diplomas and a solid knowledge of spelling, punctuation, and grammar. They should be able to type neatly, speedily, and accurately between 40-50 words a minute. Some jobs require even faster typing skills. Knowing how to operate office equipment such as coping and adding machines and dictaphones is also important.

High school, vocational school, private business schools, and some community and junior colleges offer courses in business and office skills, typing, and English which are helpful for advancement.

Clerk-typists are also trained in the military. The job titles vary. In the Navy and Coast Guard, it's yeoman for a clerical worker. The Marine Corps uses administrative clerk, while the Air Force prefers administrative specialist. In the Army, you're called a clerk-typist.

Earnings vary across the country according to ability and experience, the size of the company, and job complexity. Beginning clerk-typists average about $485 a month. Those with experience earn $565 a month, according to the U.S. Labor Department.

The job outlook for a clerk-typist is great. The U.S. Labor Department predicts several thousand job openings each year. So don't overlook a steady job, found in almost all areas of the country. Consider parttime or summer work as well as a full-time career.

Whether your aim is a job that doesn't require aggressiveness and heavy responsibility or one that offers an entry gate to a clerical career, becoming a clerk-typist may be as pleasing to you as it has been to Mary Smith.

Woodbridge Board

(Continued from Page 1) sor for the district had an opportunity to discuss the matter in more detail. Dr. Flint mentioned paying a flat fee, referring to the situation where a bus driver goes on a short trip. The amount of money per mile at the current rates or the further increases would be compensatory. The issue was tabled until the parties concerned could meet to reach a mutually satisfactory solution.

In other matters, the Board went into executive session to discuss the transfer of funds from the local Minor Capital Improvement Program Funds Account to the Advance Land Acquisition Fund for the purpose of purchasing the 137 acres of land known as Woodbridge Educational Park. The matter requires a request from the State Legislature. The Board agreed to take the necessary steps to initiate the matter.

Coach Jym VanSciver appeared before the Board to request an assistant baseball coach. He pointed out that only Dover Air and Woodbridge are without assistant coaches and their winning averages are low. Coach VanSciver argued that the better the team, the better the attendance, which would mean more income for the school.

Agway is to begin construction of the new Agriculture Building in the near future. They have obtained a purchase order from the State and should be break-

Are you touchy about some of our customs here in the Yew Ess Ay? Well, be grateful you aren't one of those old world brides who lived with the tradition of having a mother-in-law break a cake or a loaf of bread over the bride's head as she enters the door of her new home... This was alleged to establish friendly relations and make both happy...if the wee head of the bride survived the assault...We thought it a crumbly beginning!

Sending Christmas Cards--

Not An Old Tradition

A hundred years ago you would have had one less Christmas chore to contend with, says Coral Morris, extension home management specialist at the University of Delaware. The custom of sending Christmas cards in the United States didn't develop until the late 1870's. Although introduced in England in 1846, the Christmas card did not find its way to American shores until several decades later.

The custom of sending Christmas cards to friends was suggested by Sir Henry Cole to Joseph Cundall, a London artist who had a drawing made and lithographed in black and white and colored by hand. About a thousand copies of it were sold.

That first Christmas card in England was a handsome three paneled greeting showing the elders at a friendly family party, flanked by right and left panels depicting the two oldest traditions of Christmas—feeding the hungry and clothing the needy. The greeting—"A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year To You."

It is still the most popular one used today. The earliest cards featured children, landscapes, flowers, animals, fairies, portraits, and even birds and reptiles. It wasn't until Louis Prang of Boston entered the greeting card field that religious scenes were used on Christmas cards. Prang, who became known as the "Father of the American Christmas Card," contributed another important aspect of Christmas greeting. In the 1870's he perfected the lithographic process of multicolor printing, often using as many as 20 colors on one card. (His reproductions of oil paintings looked so perfect that it sometimes took an expert to tell printing from painting.) By 1881, Prang was printing five million greeting cards a year, most of them for Christmas.

It is estimated that today over four billion Christmas cards are mailed or hand delivered each year. Even though the Christmas card buyer has over 50,000 different designs to choose from, Christmas cards haven't changed that much from the earliest ones. Today's Christmas cards stress such old holiday standbys as Santa Claus, plum pudding, yule logs, and family hospitality. They buyer might even see some imitations of high-fashion children, drawn originally by Kate Greenaway, England's foremost artist who, among other things, designed some of the earliest Christmas cards.

It Seems To Me

by Janet Reed

Do the holidays play havoc with your diet? Most of us over indulge in all those holiday goodies at this time of the year.

Dressing by optical illusion is no substitute for a diet, but you can create slimming lines by your choice of clothing and accessories.

If you want to appear taller and more slender, you can do it by trying to create illusions which keep the eye moving upward. This can be accomplished by choosing vertical lines and by keeping the center of interest in the costume high on the figure.

Accessories can do a great deal to develop illusions of slimmness and give a center of interest. Chains and beads are important fashion accessories. Let several chains hang long to give a long line. Choose fine or medium size chains and beads. Also use some short necklaces to hold interest up near the face. If pins are your jewelry choice, wear them high on the shoulder.

Long narrow scarves can add color and line to your outfit. Knot them low in the front for lines which carry the eye upward. Small kerchiefs knotted at the throat also keep interest high to create illusions of height. Large scarves or shawls worn wide on the shoulders will carry the eye across and tend to shorten height and make you appear wider.

Choose narrow or medium width belts of a matching or similar shade. Wide belts of a contrasting color seem to cut the figure in half. A tie belt of the same fabric as your dress is a good choice.

Handbags which are longer than they are wide can give a more slimming effect. Choose hose in a shade similar to your outfit and coordinate them with your shoes. Stay away from sharp contrasts of color and value. Shoes without buckles, straps and trim tend to give longer line for the leg.

Lean to analyze all parts of your costume as you assemble it and see if you are developing the illusion you want.

Fizzle, the cat is back home, thanks to a classified ad in the pages of the Harrington Journal. Fizzle, owned by Robin Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rice of 7 Ward Street, disappeared on November 19. A cousin of the owner ran a lost and found ad in the Nov. 27 and Dec. 4 issues of The

196th Anniversary For St. Johnstown

On Sunday, November 30, approximately 150 people gathered at St. Johnstown United Methodist Church, Greenwood, at 2 p.m., for a special anniversary service marking the 196th year of the church's ministry. Guest speaker for the occasion was Rev. Roy L. Tawes, pastor of the Cannon United Methodist Church.

Special music was brought by the Epworth Fellowship Trio, Laurel, the "Salvation Singers," Milton, Mrs. Mary Udler, and the Ladies Trio, Lincoln Tabernacle. Also taking part on the program was Rev. William Fleischer, Jr., who led in prayer.

The first M.E. Church grew out of a series of meetings held at the home of William Laws under the preaching of Francis Asbury in 1779.

In May 1779 the great work began on the occasion of the death of a young man, John

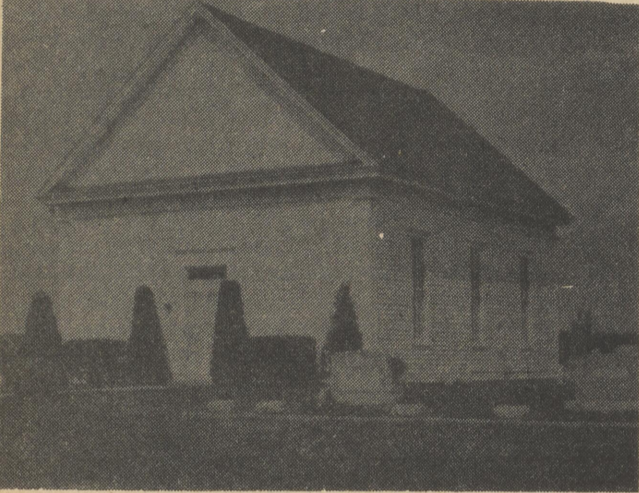

Rev. and Mrs. Phillip Shenton.

Laws. Having been converted by Asbury while sick he spoke of his great experiences. Many of his family and neighbors were deeply moved by such burning words of triumph over death which he uttered. Asbury preached the funeral to about 1,000 people.

The first church building dates from 1786. The present church building was rededicated on September 29, 1873.

Presently serving as pastor of the church is Rev. Phillip Shenton. A native of Cambridge, Md., he came to St. Johnstown in May of 1974. Prior to that time he was pastor in Blossom, Virginia. Rev. Shenton comes from a long line of Methodist ancestors. Before entering the ministry he was a youth worker. In addition to preaching he is also a soloist and has sung in several churches. Other churches in his charge are Ellendale and Chaplin's Chapel.

#3 of a Series: The onshore impact of offshore oil.
If there's oil off the East Coast, will there be enough?

Nobody knows. After ten years of seismic studies of the Atlantic Outer Continental Shelf, the best information is that there could be oil or gas fields. But whether there is gas or oil in producible quantities is a question that needs much more time and effort to answer.

Further preliminary exploration awaits the awarding of federal offshore leases tentatively scheduled for 1976. The oil companies then will conduct further seismic studies of specific lease tracts and submit environmental impact statements for government approval. Only then, can exploratory drilling commence.

These first exploratory wells will be drilled with floating rigs. Nobody knows how many "wildcat" wells will need to be drilled before it's known whether any oil or gas is there, but the history of oil exploration shows that the first strike comes only after a number of holes are drilled.

If oil or natural gas is found, several more wildcat wells will have to be drilled in the area to determine the extent of the field and its potential yield. This exploratory drilling phase will take at least two years beyond the date the leases are awarded. If producible oil and natural gas fields are verified, only then can the first decisions as to the number of drilling platforms needed be made. Until that time, onshore impact will have been minimal. The decision to build the huge and expensive offshore drilling structures, however, will change that, and onshore impact will become readily apparent for the first time.

Fortunately, the East Coast has many facilities already in existence which can be used for these purposes. The built-in slowness of the oil exploration process will allow for careful planning and rigorous attention to safety and conservation of the environment.

Considering the vastness of the Atlantic Outer Continental Shelf, its thorough exploration and development could easily stretch out over the next twenty years.

Harriers Have Nucleus For 1976

What can Jim Blades and his ultra-successful Lake Forest cross-country Spartans do for an encore in 1976? With two straight Henlopen Conference titles and three consecutive state championships in the record book, it will be difficult to do as well next autumn with four of the seven state meet winners graduating.

But, the nucleus for another strong club is returning in Dan Parker and Chris Palmisano, No. 1 and No. 2, respectively.

David Richter, No. 7, will be a junior like Parker. He is close to the other two in ability and will make an excellent No. 3 harrier.

A trio of Spartans who are at present next in line are Paul McClellan, Herb Jarrell and Marcus Bray.

Paul was No. 8, Herb was No. 9 and Bray was No. 17 over the season, but at the end of the campaign, all three ran the home 2.4 miles course in 13.50.

Kelly Woodward and Tom Ott showed fine improvement. As juniors next year, they could be No. 7 and No. 8 with a chance to move higher up if someone else falters.

Eugene Butler and Louis Thomas are next ranked and may round out the top ten.

Bill Mitchell and John Gilmore are the best Chipman runners, moving to Lake Forest.

Two possibilities could alter the picture. Transfers from other schools, such as Palmisano was this year, could be a factor. Finally, Lake Forest students with no experience might report and show enough ability and drive to oust some of the veterans. Seniors Chuck Carter and Howard Parker ran high school cross-country for the first time this autumn and ended up No. 3 and No. 5 on a state title team.

The jacket drive was helped by 50 dollars from the Boosters Club and $17.50 from an anonymous fan, who is not a native of this area, but states that he wants to help the team that always comes up a winner, like 18 straight years thus far. So the count stands at $102.50 in the till with approximately $140 more needed if the top 15 lads are to be rewarded for another fantastic season. We hope Lake Forest fans aren't satiated by all the years of harrier success.

We don't think Middletown rooters are tired of the Cavalier football victories. Smyrna, Caesar Rodney and Sussex Central boosters still appreciate their year-after-year success in wrestling. Salesianum is always tough in football.

Lake Forest has a dynasty extending back almost two decades and the end is not in sight, the beat goes on.

Inexperience May Haunt Grapplers

Inexperienced and untested may be the two best words that can be used to describe the 1975-76 Lake Forest Spartan Wrestling Team.

The team will meet its first real test this Friday and Saturday at the Milford Invitational.

Six members of last year's 6-6 squad were lost by graduation. These six include Conference and State Champion Arthur Ware and the MVP in the Henlopen Conference Tournament Alan Welch. Take these six and add one more member from last year's team that didn't come out and you can see why the team is classified as inexperienced. Of the twelve wrestlers needed for each match only one of the twelve has a previous varsity winning record, this being Jamie Simpson.

David Shulties, 112 pounds; In this class will be Jamie Simpson who is the only proven veteran grappler the Spartans have and before the regular season begins he may move last season and had an 0-5 record. However, he is very strong and could surprise several people this season.

167 pounds; In this class will be another Spartan who saw some varsity action last season in Brently Banks who had a 1-3 record.

The final two weight classes are again a sore spot for the Spartans as right now they haven't been filled. Up to a couple of days ago there was no one out for the team who could fill this void but although the situation looks brighter now that a couple of students have come out it could still be a big weak spot in dual matches.

On paper the team looks thin but as coach Tom Muehleisen puts it "We looked much the same way last year but some of the inexperienced guys came through." It'll just be another wait and see session.

As mentioned earlier the team will get its first real test this Friday and Saturday at the Milford Invitational held at Milford High School. Starting time is 4 p.m. Friday and 2 p.m. (semi-finals) and 6:30 p.m. (consolations-finals) on Saturday. Admission is 75c per student and $1.50 per Adult per session. A $2 student

Woodbridge Loses Opener In A Squeaker

In an uncanny display of second half...second effort...sheer heart antics of the 1975 Woodbridge Cagers basketball team, Jym Van-Seiver hustlers all but pulled it out in Bridgeville Friday night. The first half play was completely dominated by Laurel Sharp shooters Ty White and Don Maddox who controlled the boards and the shooting. White, in his first outing, showed signs of being able to lead his Laurel team to greater things this year.

The second quarter was Woodbridge's downfall. They scored only six points. The score at the half was 31 to 17. Woodbridge outscored Laurel in the second half 34 to 26. For a high school team to make up that much ground in the second half deserves a little more than a pat on the back. On several occasions in the fourth quarter it looked as though Woodbridge would not only catch the Laurel five, but blow them right off the court and out of the Town of Bridgeville. It appeared that Louis Dexter was everywhere...and everywhere he should be for that matter, Dexter had 18 points in a losing cause while Ty White of Laurel led all scorers with 22 points. His teammate Donald Maddox scored 15. It was Maddox who in the fading seconds of the game sank a running one hand push shot for "swish" and two points. This put the game out of reach for Woodbridge at this point.

There were 17 seconds left on the clock. That made the score 38 to 51 which was the final. Prior to Maddox's bucket, White had also scored close in, but prior to White's bucket, the Raiders had closed the gap to 54-51. At one point in the second half the Raiders were down 18 points.

While talking with Coach VanSchiver after the game, he told the Journal he had originally started with 3 forwards pressing (Ray Collins, Spank Neal, and Chuckie Hopkins). The latter two are coming off football and are not basketball ready. "My intent now is to go with 3 guards (Dexter, Burbage, and Dewey)," said VanSchiver. It appeared from an observer that the pressing from (Kevin) Dewey who picked up a couple of fouls in this class will be junior John Moffett who last season was the co-captain of the Junior Varsity squad and also had a 10-1 record. John has previous experience on the varsity but it was as a 98 pound freshman.

138 pounds; In this weight class will be one of the two seniors on the team is William Jackson. Last season Jackson wrestled some varsity at 145 pounds and 145 pounds; Wrestling at this weight will be Don Baynard. Baynard was the other co-captain of last year's J.V. team and had an 8-3 record. He comes from an outstanding wrestling family as his two brothers Norman and Charles were stars for the Spartans.

Four Pre-Teens Are Run Prospects

A quartet of elementary pupils from Harrington have been bitten by the long-distance running bug, and have spent this autumn getting an early start in the pursuit of cross-country and track excellence.

at the earliest, it would be 1978 before any of these prospects can compete for Lake Forest High School. However, if they continue to train and compete, they could all be bona-fide instant stars by their freshman years. Maurice "Reese Cup" Coverdale, at age 12, is faster, as a sixth grader, than two-thirds of the 30 Lake Forest High harriers, a state championship team. Coverdale can easily outrun the entire W.T. Chipman (7th-8th grade team). He's competed in several states against runners from all over America and is rated as one of this country's best 12-year-olds.

Frank Jenkins, age 11, is also a sixth grader. He has very little experience, but recently placed fourth in the 12-and-under Delaware State Open (won by Coverdale). Jenkins was the first 11-year-old to finish.

Jerry Mosley, age 10, has a brother and sister, 19 and 15, who are already accomplished distance runners. Jerry worked hard this fall and ran well in several age-group races in Wilmington, New York and Annapolis, Md.

Brian Barthlow, age 7, was a trophy winner in National competitions in New York City and Annapolis, finishing 11th and 18th against rivals from all over the U.S.

The four lads have won many awards already.

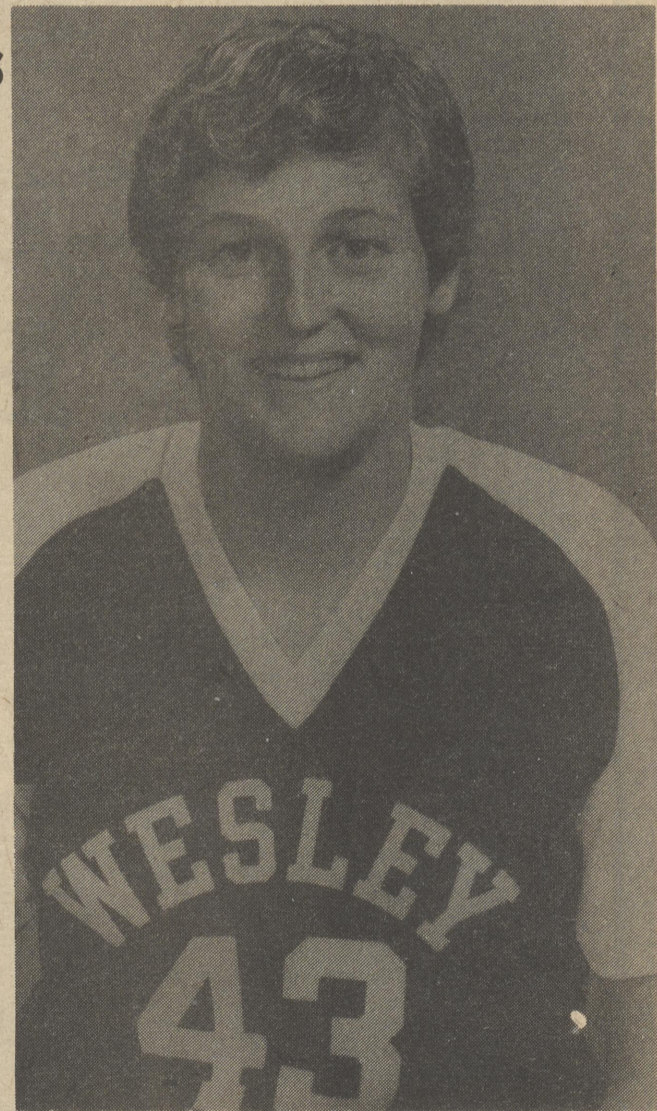

Each one has demonstrated the ability to outrun most boys three or four years older.

It will be interesting to see how many of these lads will reach the stardom predicted here.

Spartans In College Sports

Beverly Mack, last year's Lake Forest basketball star, scored 32 points in her first college contest, to lead Joyce Starkey's Wesley team to an 81-27 rout of Atlantic County, N. J. College.

Lawrence Sorden, one of Del Tech Kent's leading scorers in 1974, transferred to Del Tech South at Georgetown, when Kent, coached by Harrington's Jeff Adams dropped the sport.

Don Bryant, former Kent

ace, is at South also, but is ineligible at this time. Sorden scored 9 points and ex-Spartan Tom Carey canned 7 in a recent South loss to Burlington, N.J. Community College. Six-foot-seven Jerry Scott was a third former Lake Forest athlete in the game.

Ron Mosley, No. 1 harrier at Delaware State College is now working out with the Hornet indoor winter track team.

In Wesley's second start, Beverly Mack equaled the opposition's team score. Mack scored 23 points as Wesley beat Goldey 89-23.

16 schools competing this year:

Cape Henlopen, Laurel, Caesar Rodney, Milford, Concord, Mt. Pleasant, Delmar, Seaford, Dover, Smyrna, Dover Air, Sussex Central, James M. Bennett, William Penn, Lake Forest, Woodbridge.

First year Maryland and Blue Hen Conference schools allowed to participate in Invitational.

Last Year Caesar Rodney went home with the most first place trophies taking four, Sussex Central came in second with two as did Woodbridge. Dover, Dover Air, Cape Henlopen, and Indian River each took one first place trophy home.

Last years tournament, was open to only Henlopen Conference schools, but in going out of state the Tournament gained National recognition.

Last Friday night the Lake Forest Spartan basketball team captured its second straight win of the season by defeating a highly touted Indian River squad by a score of 62-56.

The Spartans started off hot as they opened up a quick 23-13 lead at the end of the first quarter led by the shooting of center Sam Carey. Although their lead dwindled to just four points at the half, the Spartans still went into the lockerroom confident they could pull away again.

In the third quarter the Spartans were again outscored but this time by only two points, giving them a slim 46-44 lead going into the final period. The Indians won the tap to begin the final period but missed the shot and Ron Shockley got the rebound. His full court pass to Herbie Jarrell at the other end of the court found him uncontested for an easy layup. The Spartans then opened their lead to six points as Jarrell made a great steal and Sam Carey was found all alone underneath the basket for another layup.

Indian River was not about to give up and they came back with two straight baskets to again close the gap to two points 50-48. Spartan Bill Johnson then countered with two baskets of his own to again open the visiting Spartans lead to six points. The Indians closed to 58-54 with 52 seconds but Sam Carey sunk another layup to seal the victory.

Lake Forest, who committed several errors in the first game against Dover Air, cut down their turnovers to just 16 against the Indians. The Spartans continuously had two or more shots as they finished with 22 offensive rebounds and also added 36 defensive boards. The Spartans only committed ten fouls in the entire game but still suffered from poor foul shooting from their own charity stripe where they sank only three of 12. All three were made by the high scorer for the game, Carey, who had 23 points, Jarrell and Johnson each added ten points. Jarrell, a playmaking guard, also had ten assists and Shockley added five.

The Starkey men turned in another brilliant performance Tuesday night at Smyrna beating that northern county team by a lopsided score of 85 to 54. Starkey said after the game "...that he was glad that he caught them in their first game." The Spartans on the other hand demonstrated the fact that they are a well trained ball club who come to every game prepared to play and win.

On Tuesday night the Spartan 5 executed very well on defense, and not only that but all 11 men on the team played and all 11 scored. When the Journal reached Coach Starkey after the game he said he was "extremely happy with the win" which makes them three in a row and added "...his goal was to win the Southern Division of the Henlopen Conference."

The foul shooting improved this week with 18 out of 31 from the line. There were four men in double figures on Tuesday night including: high scorers Billy Moore and Billy Johnson with 15 each; Frank Coursey with 13; Sam Carey with 10 points.

Starkey said Carey played extremely well under the boards. "That the most rewarding thrill was having all the players in the scoring column," a jubilant Starkey remarked.

Lake Forest Bill Johnson goes in for a lay up in the fourth quarter that helped seal the Spartans 62-56 victory.

Lake Forest Frank Coursey cans a 15 foot jump shot in the Spartans game against Indian River.

A bear does what comes naturally—he sleeps all winter. He doesn't have to learn or be concerned about his future. Once he's found a den and curled up, that's it for a long time. But few people can sleep their lives away and still be a success.

The Air Force knows that you, unlike the bears, are concerned about your future. Air Force counselors can advise you about our various programs to advance your vocational skills and education. We even have our own Community College where you earn credits toward an advanced degree from the day you go on active duty — without cost or obligation. Add that to excellent pay and 30 days paid vacation each year and you have a situation well worth considering.

A bear's life is okay (for a bear), but you have a chance to catch part of the good life while he's sleeping. Look over the Air Force offer.

the second half for his efforts and the play by No. 32 Glen Morris under the boards, who came in for an injured Spank Neal, seemed to be the real sparks for the Raiders.

Morris is rather slender to be overly aggressive under the boards, but his determination and ability to hang in there probably were the contributing factors which brought the Raiders back into contention. Neal was injured under his goal when fighting for a rebound coming down hard on an opponent's foot turning his ankle and getting a very bad sprain out of it. He came to the sidelines and sat out several minutes while Morris did his thing. Neal came back limping to replace Morris for a brief rest. While in there he sank several free throws which pulled his team closer to the Laurel team.

It was a disappointing loss to Coach VanSciver, who is an assistant football coach and head baseball coach, a real competitor. He told the JOURNAL at the end of the game when asked about the second half effort "...well, you might say that it was a Knute Rockne locker room lecture, or simply we should use the guard press rather than the forward press as well as the game performance by Morris and Dewey."

Scoring results: Laurel, Ty White 22, Foskey 10, Trout 4, Holden 3, Maddox 15, Ward 0, Crockett 4 - Totals 28-2:58.

Woodbridge: Burbage 0, Hopkins 4, Dewey 0, Collins 10, Dexter 18, Neal 9, N. Burbage 2, Morris 8. Totals: 23-5:51.

The next Raiders Varsity basketball game will be Tuesday at home against Indian River.

Too Little-Too Late

Again on Tuesday night at Woodbridge, the basketball team came from...at one point...19 points behind. The second quarter again did them in with Indian River out scoring them 19 to 4. At the half it was IR 39 and Woodbridge 20. Final score was IR (68) and WHS (64).

Coach VanSciver said that his team still lacks experience, but noticed a vast improvement at the foul line, where Woodbridge was 12 for 14 attempts. "We put on a full court press in the second half and nearly pulled it out again", said VanSciver. Before the season started IR was slated to have a good shooting team. VanSciver verified this on Tuesday night. On the other hand, Woodbridge got a lot out of their guards who scored 18 points between them. In the rebounding department, Ray Collins came through with 13 and Glenn Morris had 12 for the losing cause.

Louis Dexter was high man for WHS with 27 points Nelson Burbage had 10 and Glenn Morris 13. Morris was 9 for 9 on the foul line. Kevin Dewey had 6 points in his best effort yet. Dewey said "that he would rather be a play-maker and not a point getter".

VanSciver said after the game that the four guards who would be seeing a lot of action during the season are Louis Dexter, Nelson Burbage, Kevin Dewey and Charles Burbage. Forwards who will be playing a lot of basketball are Ray Collins, Glenn Morris, Chuckie Hopkins and Spank Neal. VanSciver feels that the team can run, gun and get rebounds enough to improve over last season's mark which was three and 15. VanSciver said that he hoped to do a lot better than last year and hoped also to win one early.

Woodbridge Girls Prepare For 1975 Season

Coach Kay Smith of Woodbridge High School has launched her 1975 basketball season with a win in the first game over Holy Cross 34 to 19, a loss to Seaford in a squeaker of 30 to 28, and a win in the third game over a strong Lake Forest team by a score of 45 to 39.

Miss Smith said that she was expecting a kind of rebuilding season this year for she has just three seniors returning to the varsity squad. After this week, the number will be down to two for Kelly Davis will begin her winter migration to the slopes of Pennsylvania after Friday. Coach Smith said that "...I will miss Kelly a great deal. She is a good kid. After the two wins and one loss so far this season, Miss Smith relates that her squad is very inexperienced. "We spend too much time dribbling the ball and passing off when we should be shooting for the basket", said Miss Smith. That was their downfall in the Seaford game.

The seniors on the team are Pam Correll, guard, Kelly Davis, forward, and Sheila Clarkson. The juniors are Terry Rider, Yolanda Blackwell and Mona Webb. The sophomores on the team are Zarata Hickman, Susie Harmon, Alena Conway, Edienne Moore, and Molly Lewis. Alena Conway would appear to be the one who would emerge to lead the team to a few more victories this year.

Harrington Business League Bowling News

By Rich Dennis

Burriss Food clipped Food Rite, by taking three points and remaining in the front slot by three games in action at Milford lanes Tuesday night. Food Rite seemed to lend a helping hand to the last game and dropped it in the last frame. No big bowlers, just a lot of consistency. The Spoilers, running in second slot did not relinquish any, but maintained their three game difference from the front slot. Bruce Harrington led the way for the Spoilers, but was ambushed in the third game by H. Brown's 193 game, to cause the Spoilers to drop that game by 21 pins.

Penn Central got derailed again and dropped three games to Taylor and Messick. George Collins paved the way for T & M, with his grand 602 series.

Moose A let the fuel out of Butler's and passed them on the wayside by taking all four points and moving into fourth position. Junior Gallo had an amazing 604 series which was followed by some great help of A. Melvin and D. Clegg.

Wally's Garage adjusted the brakes too tight on Fry's American and took three points. Fry's just couldn't maintain their team average and let them slide by barely making their's.

Jarrell's Fuel and Moose B couldn't stand the excitement of pressure bowling and just shook hands and took two points each.

Here are two probably a little more serious about winning, Dur-A-Clean and Big John's Son. Dur-A-Clean wanted to give Big John's Son a clean sweep by taking all four. Big John wanted to bury them by taking all four. Although both battled strong and furiously, they each took two points with Big John's Son taking total pins by just two. Although the effort and

Wesley College Women Win Opener

Wesley College women cagers opened the season in great style on Saturday night when they rolled over visiting Atlantic County Community College 81-27 in a Region XIX contest.

One of the big factors in the Wesley victory was the play of 6-1 Beverly Mack All-Conference scoring leader from Lake Forest High School, who began her college career with 32 points.

Mack, who twice led the State in scoring, scored 20 points in the opening half and 12 in the second and she actually played only half the game. Coach Joyce Starkey substituted freely once she got a commanding lead and all 10 players shared in the scoring.

The former Lake Forest

cager not only scored well but she did an exceptional job in rebounding.

Coach Starkey was very impressed with the overall play of the Wolverines and has visions of a highly successful season barring key injuries.

"We moved the ball well, did a good job on the boards and our man-to-man defense held Atlantic in check," said Coach Starkey. "I feel we will continue to improve."

Deb Lobell's Two Minute Mile Ties-Breaks Record

performance.

Her two minute performance in this final event of the series equalled the track record set by Mark Dean during the 1973 Trotting and Pacing Series and also established a new track record for 4-year-old pacing mares by eclipsing the previous mark of 2:02 set by Knock-out Lady on November 12, 1970. Most interesting about the pacing series final were the times at each quarter mile: :30, 1:00, 1:30, and 2:00. It is a rare occasion when a mile is clocked at perfect 30 second increments.

Deb Lobell and her stable mate, No No Dares, competing as a Frank Milby (Cordova, Md.) coupled entry were favored in the 7 horse field for the series final. They finished one-two in the race with Deb Lobell's margin of victory being three and three quarter lengths.

General Sumter and Col- onie Hill, competing as an Otto Sunder coupled entry finished 5th, 6th, and 7th in that order.

In other action at Dover Downs last Sunday, a new track record for four year old trotting geldings was established when Jackson S., a Harland Dean gelding owned by Bob Maloney of Dunmore, Pa., scored a 2:03 victory in the 6th race. The previous mark of 2:04 was set by Murph on December 3, 1972.

Still another track record was equalled last Sunday when Bonita's Vic won the 9th race pace with a time of 2:01 matching the mark for 4 year old pacing horses co-held by Embassy Irish and Widow's Trick.

Scout News

Jr. Troop 686 have been busy at work preparing for the Christmas parade this month. Their theme was "This is how we would celebrate Christmas if we were Girl Scouts in 1776." Each girl hand made her own long skirt, apron, fishu cape and mob cap, with the guidance from mothers, grandmothers and leaders. We have 12 scouts, nine of them are nine-years-old, two are ten, and one is eleven. The work they've done this past month has paid off as they took second place in marching units on Saturday, Dec. 6. Each girl will get to take the trophy home for a week. It will also be displayed in our Girl Scout Window in March. These outfits will help the girls earn their sewing badge and when they complete requirements they will have earned a special bi-centennial badge.

Spanish Trip

We found out they were from England. I told her I expected Loretta to fall in his lap at any time, and she said yes, he'd had his knees ready, that he liked the women. The conversation with them made the bus ride more fun. They also told us inflation hit there in 1973. This was their sixth year spending the winters there. "Thanksgiving morning," the sky shed a few tears because were "Americana" were leaving as we boarded our World Airway. We landed in Shannon, Ireland before dark and were able to see all the green farmland. Many of us headed for the Irish sweepstakes booth and then gift sections. Had only 35 minutes refueling, but what fun. I never did get all my Irish coffee drank when they said all aboard. We were served a delicious roast beef dinner before we landed in Bangor Maine in snow. Went through customs there and headed home. Forgot to mention more history, as we were to depart Spain, we had to reclaim our baggage for inspection due to so much money leaving the country to be cashed elsewhere, lots of luggage was opened. This detained our arrival in L.A. by several hours. We arrived at 11:45 p.m. Thanksgiving Day, with a safe arrival to be grateful for along with many others, but still excited.

Two more delightful days with our houseguest, and then she departed for Philadelphia on Sunday. We learned from her telephone call that her seat mate was the most colorful person aboard, we saw him at airport. A tall man, dressed entirely in red and black scotch plaid, even cap and luggage. However she said he was interesting, lived in Laguana Hills and was going to assist his family in moving here.

Well, back to one of the sad parts of life. My Aunt Emma, (Emma Blades Metzgor, who many of you know) has been hospitalized and is in a nursing home since Oct. 27 with a broken hip and inoperable brain tumor. This means a trip each day to see her and give Uncle George assistance, but I was so glad to have the break and especially glad to have Loretta with us.

To the editor and family, to our families there and friends. A Happy Holiday season and New Year to all.

Sincerely Virginia and Walt Paskey

When Mrs. Florence Walsh first turned on this light bulb, it accounted for a big part of her electric bill.

47 years later, Mrs. Walsh and her antique rose-petal bulb are still going strong. Mrs. Walsh remembers buying the bulb at a 5&10 in Salisbury around 1928. She has been using it on a regular basis in her Fruitland, Maryland home ever since.

As Mrs. Walsh told us, her electric bill was about $1.25 a month back then. She now pays around $21.00 a month.

A dollar-and-a-quarter a month. Imagine that.

Of course Mrs. Walsh has added many electric appliances in the intervening years. As most of us do, she has what are now considered to be "basics"-refrigerator, TV set, etc. These are much bigger users of electricity than that quaint light bulb. In fact, lighting now accounts for only 3% of our business and not much of your residential electric bill. Consider that a 100-watt light bulb has to burn for ten hours before it has consumed only one kilowatt-hour of electricity.

Keep this in mind as you make your winter energy-saving plans. Turn off lights, to be sure, but gain your biggest savings by cutting back on the major electric items-electric heat, refrigerators, freezers, water heaters, clothes dryers, etc. We can give you advice or send you information on how to cut back. Just write or call your nearest Delmarva Power Office.

The only thing that's lasted longer than the antique light bulb at the Walsh household is the Fruitland couple's marriage of 52 years.
