Lake Forest Board Accepts Bids For Sewer Project

Lake Forest School Board Monday night heard from assistant superintendent Melvin Luff on matters pertaining to the bid sewer project at the high school. The project calls for sewage beds which will cost $10,651.93. It was awarded to Tom Stayton of near Felton.

The new system will also need a lift pump station, which will cost $13,983. It was awarded to Joseph P. Richardson of Harrington. The total cost will be $24,634.93. Luff said the job will begin right away. Other bidders were H.R. Bailey and Alfred Gillis.

Two school board members, Pizzadilli and Warrington each pointed out that in the beginning the State proposed that the present septic system be built. "We did... and more so for the septic system which was constructed was larger than the one proposed, and now the State says we must have a larger system," said Pizzadilli.

In other matters before the Board, two students were placed on administrative probation...one until the end of the school year and the other indefinitely. The action was taken by the Board and it was disciplinary in nature.

A representative of the school's FFA Chapter, Mike Coverdale, came before the Board requesting Board approval of the Chapter purchasing a pick-up truck which would be used for work detail and transportation of students on field trips. Coverdale estimated that the new pick-up would cost about $4,800. The Board by motion ruled that the FFA could purchase, with their Chapter's money, such a vehicle, but the purpose and use of the truck must be used for work detail only and could not be used for the transportation of students under any circumstances. Superintendent Adams pointed out the liability for insurance purposes with the FFA Chapter using the truck for transporting students and the inherent danger of an accident. James Pizzadilli suggested the Chapter seek a used bus from the State, which might be possible soon through the State's dispersal sale.

E.B. Warrington suggested that Coverdale come back at another meeting with an updated proposal regarding a used bus.

The retirement of Mrs. Morothy Conaway created a vacancy which the Board filled by hiring Mrs. Etta Moyer to teach the 4th Grade at L.F. North. Earl Kirshner, who resigned to take a teaching job at a college in upstate New York, was replaced by Victoria Dominy.

JAYCEES Attend Congress

Three local men, this past weekend, attended the 38th Annual Ten Outstanding Young Men of America Congress which was held in Baltimore, Maryland. The yearly event is sponsored by the United States Jaycees. It honors ten men for their extraordinary performance over an extended period of time, a single act of courage or bold leadership, or selfless devotion to a cause, principle, or duty.

Democratic Presidential Candidate R. Sargent Shriver was guest speaker at the keynote luncheon Saturday afternoon. Ed McMahon, of the Tonight Show, was Master of Ceremonies at the Awards Banquet and Ball. Bob Outten, Charles Brown, and Jim Callaway of the Harrington Jaycees, were among the 600 people from across the United States who gathered at the Baltimore Hilton to honor these men for their accomplishments.

To Contact Police

The phone in the police car for the City of Harrington 674-3066 has been disconnected. Call 674-3111 to reach the Harrington Police.

Harrington resident, John 'Pickle' Porter improvises with his umbrella to keep off the white stuff Tuesday afternoon when the snow first began to fall. He paused briefly for the cameraman as he made his way to his home on Commerce Street.

Weather, Whether We Like It Or Not

The weather, a frequent topic of conversation made itself seen, heard and felt in the area during the past week, as the wind chill factor, the temperature and finally on Tuesday afternoon, the snow, gave area residents ample subjects of conversation.

Although the snow fall was no more than an inch, schools closed early in the Lake Forest District, and numerous accidents, ranging from fender benders to those of more serious nature took place throughout the state.

Locally, residents who enjoy the cold weather and the accompanying sports, have had chances to test their skills on the ice as temperatures have dipped to six degrees, according to some thermometer watchers.

Most of the residents, however, take it in stride, as has Mr. Porter, shown in the photo.

The temperature on one of the local banks registered a chilly 8 degrees Monday morning. Residents say it had been down to 6 degrees earlier in the day.

Five Nabbed At LFHS Break In

Early Tuesday morning, around 3 a.m., a silent alarm in the Lake Forest High School proved its worth as it aided in the capture of four black males who were later charged with burglary, theft and conspiracy.

The males, all from Sussex County, were arrested by state police in the refreshment stand area of the school. A fifth male was captured after a chase to Laurel.

The quartet had gained access to the school by climbing the roof, descending into the open court yard and then into the school by breaking a window. Once inside the school they apparently tried to force open doors in the office areas of the school. According to assistant principal Margaret Phelps, "The young men had ransacked the offices (including the cafeteria office)... there was damage to the equipment," which according to Mrs. Phelps would be estimated around $1000.

Ernie Dill, the school's chief custodian opened the school for police, who apprehended the four. As Mrs. Phelps remarked, "The alarm system worked." Principal William Griffin, who had been at home sick, made a trip to assess the damage. According to Mrs. Phelps the incident did not interrupt the normal activities of the school day.

According to police, the four were apprehended with cash and thefted items valued at $500.

The same group is being charged with an earlier incident at the Greenwood Middle School. There according to Principal Charles Parks, although he had made "no efforts to assess property damage," the group damaged six doors "pretty badly to get into other parts of the building."

The incident was discovered by a man making milk deliveries. He notified the state police who called town police. The town police of Greenwood have placed charges of burglary in the third degree, theft and misdemeanor.

Being held in Sussex Correctional Institution are Maurice Stratton, 20, of Laurel; Walter Davis, 21, of Millsboro; James H. Horsey, 22, of Laurel; a juvenile, 17, of Laurel. These are apprehended in the building. Arrested after a chase to Laurel was James A. Malloy, 22, also of Laurel.

Flurry of Robberies Here

Rob At Gun Point

Two black men wearing ski masks and armed with a pump shot gun held up the Banks Convenience Mart on U.S. Rt. 13 in Harrington, Monday night, State Police said.

The two bandits escaped with $300 in cash, police said.

No other description was given of the robbers.

Horse Trailer Taken

Kirby and Holloway Transportation, Inc. was robbed of a two place horse trailer valued at $3000 sometime during Monday night, according to Harrington police. The police are investigating the incident.

1976 Chicken Festival Set

The 1976 Delmarva Chicken Cooking Contest will take place June 12 in Salisbury, Maryland, as part of the 29th Delmarva Chicken Festival. The contest is a preliminary cook-off for the National Chicken Cooking Contest and is open to residents of Delaware, Maryland, and Virginia.

Ten finalists from each state in the tri-state area will be selected to prepare their recipes for judging during the Salisbury event. Transportation, meals, and lodging are provided for finalists.

Anyone eighteen years or older can enter. Deadline for entering is April 1. The recipe must include chicken as the predominant ingredient, at least one teaspoon of Accent flavor enhancer and 1/4 cup Mazola corn oil. Recipes are judged on the basis of simplicity, unique appeal, use of nationally available ingredients, appearance, and flavor. An individual can enter as many recipes as he wishes.

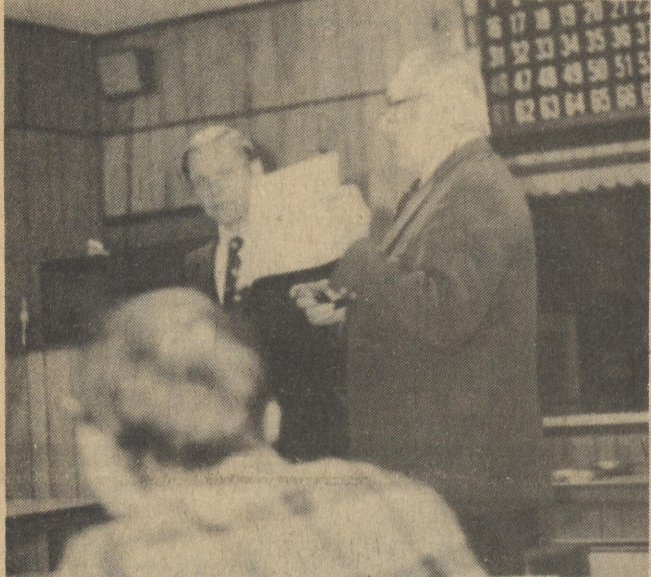

Additional information and entry blanks are available from the Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc., Rt. 2, Box 17, Georgetown, Delaware 19947.

Messner In Hospital

Jacob C. Messner, former Superintendent of the Harrington High School was operated on Monday afternoon at Florida Hospital North in Altamonte Springs, Florida. Since his retirement, he has resided for the most part in Maitland, Florida. His age was listed as 85, and his condition was listed as not good.

Local Fire Report

Harrington Volunteer Firemen answered the following alarms during the past week: on January 12, they assisted the Denton Fire Company with a house fire at Burrsville. One piece of equipment was used, and sixteen men were on the scene. On January 17, they assisted Felton Fire Co. with a fire at the residence of Arland Edwards on Route 280 at Mastens Corner. One piece of equipment was used, and five men were on the scene.

Bowers Beach Sewer Hearings Draw Crowd

Last Thursday night at the Bowers Fire Hall, 50 citizens of Bowers, Bay View Heights, and South Bowers flocked to the town meeting to voice their concern over not being properly notified about the sewer hearings and their opposition to the sewer for the three areas the Levy Court has under study.

County Engineer, Walter Fritz, when descended upon by the citizens said "we are here at the request of the County". Some of the complaints centered around the fact that the citizens allegedly were not properly notified. Mayor Phillip Tutill, Mayor of Bowers, said that he had personally tried to contact everyone.

The cost of the sewer was not disclosed, but the annual cost per resident was disclosed. The figure was to be $150 per year. Fritz said approximately 50 percent of the figure or $75 would go to retire the principal and the other 50 percent would be for maintenance costs. One citizen said that in a couple of years that the maintenance fee would be raised. Most of the residents of Bowers and the surrounding area are summer residents, like Cleveland Pauley of Pennsylvania, who feels the $150 per year is a heavy expense for him and his family who spend a few days during the three summer months at Bowers. The other residents are retired persons on fixed income. Robert J. Touhey, Supervisor of Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Control, made a plea to the citizens in attendance that they vote to accept the sewer proposal. The money has been provided by the Federal government, which if isn't used by Bowers, will be offered to other communities. James McLivaine, a Levy Court Commissioner, pointed out that if the funds were not used he has been informed that communities in Pennsylvania would be offered the opportunity to use the funds. "So the funds will be used", said McLivaine.

Tom Smith, an engineer with Gilbert Associates, the engineers making the study for Bowers, was the chief speaker of the meeting. He began his talks pre-supposing that proper notice had been extended to the townspeople. The question was debated and was decided to be a moot one. Smith explained the money is coming by way of a grant from the federal government through a 1972 amendment (Public Law 92-500). The federal government "will pick up 75 percent of the expense of the sewer project", said Smith.

The study comes in three stages: facility, design, and construction. The Kent County Levy Court applied for funds under Step 1, and this was granted six months ago under the eligibility plan and was extended the right to receive in the future 75 percent of the cost of the project. Step 1 requires engineers to make an examination of the situation in Bowers, and in essence the most economical cost effective plan was proved to be to do all of Bowers, and the surrounding communities connected including South Bowers and Bay View Heights. Smith also pointed out that there are two types of sewers, gravity systems and pressurized or utilization of pump type systems. The latter system was recommended with the pumping station "out near Little Heaven". This would mean in effect tying into the Kent County System at Little Heaven.

School's out early Tuesday afternoon, and Teddy and Brian Elliott of Dorman Street have a little fun in the first snowfall of the year as they play on the sidewalk by their home here.

Monday afternoon these youngsters took advantage of the ice on one of the fields near the City as varied means were used to enjoy the cold stuff. The family pet came along with on youngster, and it appears that he has his own ideas of what should be happening.

Monday afternoon at Wheeler's Park, the feathered friends are enjoying [?] the water (duck on left), while the goose carefully pads along on the ice. Could the conversation have been [from goose to duck]: "H-s-s-t-t-t, do you think I'll quack this ice?"

Silver Anniversary For Moose Auxiliary

Harrington Moose Ladies Auxiliary celebrated their 25th Anniversary on Saturday with a dinner and dance at the Harrington Moose Lodge. About 100 people were in attendance. Eleanor Semans read the minutes of the first meeting when 25 charter members were inducted into the Moose Auxiliary.

Three charter members were present on Saturday night, including Virginia (Tucker) Satterfield, Eleanor Semans, and Virginia Holston. The original list included the following: Evelyn Thompson, Elsie Barlow, Dena Fleischauer, Belvia Vanderwende, Marie McVey, Emma Vanderwende, Victoria Hamblin, Lillian Lynn, Pauline Morgan, Myrtle Tatman, Elizabeth Wix, Kathleen Craig, Mary Porter, Myrtle Wright, Olive Wiederkeke, Iva Ralph, Elizabeth Robbins, Elsie Capehart, Laura Jerread, Helen Billings, Mary Phillips, Bernice Stayton, and Helen Jory.

Mrs. Semans reported that the first institutional meeting was held at the Raughley, Tee, Kemp, American Legion Post No. 7. They also held meetings on the third floor of the Camper Building (now owned by THE JOURNAL) which is located next to the First National Bank of Harrington. In their first meeting they voted to sell shares to purchase the new Moose home, which is where the present home stands today.

It was purchased from Harry Greenberg. The money was borrowed from the Peoples Bank to start the kitchen. The kitchen supplies were purchased from Concord Supply of Wilmington.

Over the years the Ladies of the Moose have held oyster roasts and box socials for members and guests in order to raise money for worthy causes. Today the enrollment in the Moose is 273. Most of the benefits are carried on through the men of the Moose, and the biggest effort by the Auxiliary is the catering for the Lodge. The Auxiliary each year sponsors a project for Stokley, and they sponsor a scholarship to the Milford School of Nursing every three years. The Ladies of the Moose also support Moose Heart and Moose Haven where children of the Moose are cared for.

"...I sometimes wonder if our politicians have all but forgotten them"

As I sat through the public hearing at Bowers Beach last Thursday evening hearing the County official and the contracting engineers speak about the new sewer proposed project for that community and surrounding area, one thought kept coming back, but I did not have an answer for it.

The proposed project for Bowers is a necessity...no doubt. Problems septic in nature have been a chronic problem for dwellers up and down the bay coast line. For most of us the cost of such a project as it pertains to each home dweller could be easily borne by many of us. The problem overlooks, in a measure, the other portion of our population who might be in the minority everywhere else but not so in Bowers...I don't believe. There are many senior citizens in this community of 200 or more people who are otherwise on a fixed income...or maybe no income at all.

The project is needed to be sure, but what about these citizens...proud as they are...of this small fishing village. For our politicians who pull down large salaries...or for that matter government workers who command large sums of money, this cost is seemingly a drop in the bucket. What about the retired people, whose incomes are shortened. What are our priorities, where do our loyalties lie?

I think that most people would agree that the sewer project for Bowers, Bayview Heights, and South Bowers is necessary...even the people on fixed incomes would agree. They would agree with you...so why don't you seek ways to help them meet the payments...for as long as they live and live in Bowers, they will have to pay for the sewer project. Where are our priorities with our politicians...or in the alternative doesn't it sometimes makes you wonder if they haven't all but forgotten "them".

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Harrington and surrounding area residents had a rare, spiritually moving opportunity to hear Drew University's Theological School Choir one night last week through the efforts of the Rev. Wayne Grier to whom all who heard them owe a prayer of Thanksgiving. (Hope he can prevail upon them to return next year). An expertly and beautifully written article by Melvin Brobst in last week's Harrington Journal brought it alive to those not fortunate to have been present.

We had two fine Christian young ladies from the choir as guests in our home overnight. After the concert, we had refreshments and a Praise and Sharing couple of hours. As we were reluctantly preparing to retire, the subject of church demonstrations arose, and would you believe it, we were of three different faiths. And, as we embraced good night, one lovingly said, "It is unimportant as we are one in the Body of Christ."

This is the week of prayer for Christian unity, (Jan. 18-25). It seems most fitting to me that it should follow on the heels of such an enriching experience.

Annually, at least, Calvary Wesleyan, Asbury United Methodist, Harrington Baptist, St. Stephen's Episcopal and other churches in the area have special speakers and music. Avail yourself of these services and, speaking for myself, you will be much richer for having done so.

Better still, don't wait for special services. Visit a church of different denomination than yours soon. Any who do not have a church home would be welcomed at any church. Lay it on your heart and follow through. We are truly blessed by having fine ministers in all of our churches in this area.

Within the past year, a young boy not yet in his teens, who was then our paper boy, joyfully invited me to his church for a special service. As he went on his way, I thanked God for this lad who was a great witness for Jesus Christ. His parents and church are to be commended for having instilled this love in his young heart, and they will be surely blessed.

We received lovely "Thank You" notes from each of our guests for which we are grateful. In the one was a poem I would like to share with you:

Speak with your voice of knowledge Listen with your ears of care Watch with your eyes of wonder Reach with your arms to share. Cherish with your heart of loving Sing with your soul that soared Create with your mind of infinity, And give of your life from the Lord.

Weekly Report

By Senator Joseph Biden

A few days ago, the Army informed me that it has agreed to my request that it declare as excess some 172 acres of prime recreational beach property at Cape Henlopen.

This decision is a beginning -- a first step toward what I hope will be the ultimate return of all military property at Cape Henlopen to the control of the State of Delaware, where it can be put to use as part of the Cape Henlopen State Park, serving the recreational needs of Delawareans and thousands of our neighbors who flock to our beaches every year.

The need for this land is crucial. The popularity of our beaches continues to grow every year, bringing record numbers of visitors to the shore, creating new pressures. If all the military land were returned (about 580 acres are now in the hands of the Army and Navy, including more than a mile of prime beach frontage), there would be no need for discussion of such things as beach user fees -- a proposal seriously considered by Rehoboth Beach for this year.

Last October I wrote to the Army and the Navy on this matter. My first priorities were the return of about 190 acres of Army land and an end to Navy restrictions on 240 acres of land which the Navy gave back to the State a few years ago. This Navy land cannot be suitably used as part of the Cape Henlopen State Park as long as these restrictions exist. Ultimately, I would like to see the Navy also give back -- free of restrictions -- the remaining 390 acres of land it controls.

The Army has now said it is willing to give up all but about 20 acres of the land it controls -- retaining that parcel for a military recreation area. Ultimately, I would like to see this land also returned, but in the meantime, the first step will be to expedite the return of the 172 acres the Army is now willing to give up. This land will be reported by the Army as "excess" to its needs, and the General Services Administration will then decide whether it can be classified as "surplus" to all Federal needs. I see no reason why this cannot be negotiated, with the land to be turned over to the State for recreational purposes.

Another encouraging sign is the decision of the Army Reserve to give up training at the Cape with large amphibious vehicles known as "LARKS."

These monstrous machines -- which are largely obsolete anyway, having been replaced by large helicopters for military amphibious operations -- were causing environmental damage to the beach, especially to the dunes.

The Army Reserve has informed me that it is moving the LARKS to another site, which means that any environmental damage can now be repaired.

These are first steps. It may take years before my efforts to phase out the entire military operation at Cape Henlopen can be accomplished. But the pending return of 172 acres of the Army land and the decision to move the LARKS is a welcome beginning.

Thoughts....

By Senator William Roth

Our first concern in the year ahead must be to maintain the recovery of the economy without triggering a new round of inflation.

The Congress, in its final action before recessing for the holidays in December, approved important legislation with this dual purpose in mind. It extended the tax cut for another six months as a further stimulus to the economy. And, after considerable wrangling, it added language proposed by Senator Russell Long and myself which places a moral obligation on the Congress to also cut back Federal spending, a primary cause of inflation.

One of the major challenges of the year, I am sure, will be holding the big spenders in Congress to this pledge and convincing them that the Federal budget can and must be brought under control.

Last year the Congress enacted -- and I supported -- several measures to stimulate the economy and assist those most affected by the recession. These measures included a major tax cut and responsible legislation to extend unemployment benefits, create jobs in the public sector for the unemployed, assist homebuyers and the depressed housing industry, and permit full cost-of-living increases in Social Security benefits.

Unfortunately, record spending and budget deficits also were approved. I voted against the budget resolution, which allowed an enormous deficit or more than $70 million and repeatedly cast votes during the year against costly and irresponsible bills, including aid to New York City, pay increases for Congress, foreign economic aid, tobacco subsidies, increased United Nations' funding and ill-conceived economic programs.

Another continuing concern -- energy -- was a major source of conflict last year. Early in the year a confrontation between the White House and Congress was avoided when President Ford adopted my proposal to defer increases in his oil import fee, which was particularly burdensome to Delaware.

In the fall, with Congress and the Administration still at a stalemate on basic energy policy, a partial breakthrough was achieved when Congress approved a temporary compromise, and action stimulated in part by legislation I advanced in order to avoid full and immediate decontrol of domestic oil prices.

The energy bill that was finally passed in December provides for more stringent fuel economy standards for automobiles, the development of strategic energy reserves, new emergency powers for the President, and other energy conservation measures. But by failing to make any provision for gradually phasing out controls over domestic oil prices the bill does nothing to increase production of U.S. energy resources and reduce our growing dependence on foreign oil.

I supported the energy bill only because more far-sighted and responsible action could not be secured in the politically charged atmosphere in Washington last year. Such action seems even more unlikely in the current election year.

In the Senate, we did succeed in passing significant legislation for dealing with chronic natural gas shortages. We also passed two important measures concerning offshore oil and gas operations, one to provide aid to Delaware and other coastal states expected to be affected by such activity and the other to set guidelines to insure that offshore operations are conducted in a sound and prudent manner.

Unfortunately, the House failed to complete action on either natural gas or offshore development legislation. Both are matters of vital importance to Delaware, and I hope they will be given immediate attention by the House in the new session.

In foreign affairs, the past year brought new strains in our policy of detente with the Soviet Union. One of the important questions in the year ahead is the future of our relationship with the Russians and whether detente can be made to work more for our own benefit.

Open Letter to Chipman Parents

Dear Parents,

Last week the seventh grade guidance classes saw filmstrips designed to encourage discussion about feelings and getting along with brothers and sisters. In most classes we decided to see all the filmstrips and save the discussion for this week. This is the last week of the semester. We thought about that, but we didn't know that we were going to be able to use our class periods in our own way.

Every student in the junior school has to have a new schedule, and there is no mid-year break as there is in college. Since I have seven of the ten seventh grade sections on Monday and Tuesday, it was decided that I should use guidance class time to give out and explain the new schedules. In this way it seemed that there would be less disruption in the total school program. So, our brother-sister discussions never took place. May I encourage you to have these discussions at home? The main idea of the filmstrips was that instead of simply trying to win an argument, more could be accomplished by identifying our own feelings and considering the feelings of our brothers and sisters. Being aware of everyone's feelings generally changes our behavior and makes family relationships more pleasant. Isn't it worth a try?

With the disruption of our classes and the receipt of report cards, you can see that this has been a trying week, an exceptionally busy one, to say the least. The issuance of marks for the second marking period not only gave every student and his/her parents a chance to examine his/her progress but also signaled the beginning of the second semester of the school year. Eighth grade students are no longer taking home arts. They are now scheduled into music, art and guidance classes. Seventh grade students are no longer scheduled into music, art and guidance classes, for they are now spending four or five periods a week in home arts classes. Time of day and days of the week for other classes have had to be changed in some instances. Also, science and social studies teachers exchange students at this time. This is a time for re-adjustment and a new beginning for all of us. In addition to these whole class changes, about seventy-five students have individualized schedules, for every effort is made to provide the very best program we can for each student.

The first order of business in eighth grade guidance classes will be an explanation of their Differential Aptitude Test scores and then the planning for their ninth grade classes. Let me hasten to assure you that no final course selection plans will be made for any student without parental approval, but more about that at another time!

Parents of seventh grade students, please be reminded that I will still be your child's counselor even though I will not be meeting her/him regularly in class. Every seventh grade student knows how to get in touch with me. Encourage your child to see me if I can be of help, for I will continue to be interested in each of them even though my regular classes will be with eighth grade this semester.

Until next week! Sincerely, Sarah S. Webb Counselor Chipman School

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

It is frightening to learn that within the town of Harrington there are only nine citizens who value their Birthright.

So many lives have been spent in the past two hundred years to secure and insure our privilege to vote in a free election; and I should think there are few families living today in Harrington who do not have at least one member who has fought and perhaps died for his Country. How is it possible to so obviously show that their effort and sacrifice is unappreciated?

If the difference is based on a lack of support for the registered candidates that is no excuse, for Delaware law provides that a voter may Write-In on his ballot the name of any citizen, including himself, who he believes to be eligible and worthy of the vacant office.

The citizens of Harrington have missed their best opportunity for celebrating our Nation's Bicentennial and it appears there are only nine citizens there who have any reason for celebrating.

Sincerely yours, Frances J. Jefferson

Crops Meetings Set

Three one-day agronomic crop meetings are scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, January 21, 22, and 23, at three Delaware locations in Sussex and Kent Counties. The meetings begin at 9:30 and end at 3:30. Lunch is available at all three locations. In addition, an evening meeting in New Castle county has been scheduled for Tuesday, January 27, at 7:30 at Crothers Brothers Store in Middletown.

Each meeting is a complete series. They are scheduled at four locations for convenience. Wednesday's meeting will be held at the Clayton Fire Hall; Thursday's at the State Fair Building in Harrington, and Friday's at the Georgetown Substation meeting room. The morning session will include talks by Dr. Robert Carroll on "Disease Control in Small Grains," a telelecture on "Increasing Soybean Yields with Chisel Plowing," by Charles Douglass; and a Soils Workshop with Leo Cotnor, Dr. Bill Mitchell, and Frank Webb.

The afternoon program will include a talk by Frank Boys on "Systemic Insecticides," "Comparing Chisel Plow, Moldboard Plow and No Tillage," by Tom Williams; "Use of Cover Crops," by Bill Mitchell; Herbicides for No-Tillage Corn and Small Grains," by Frank Webb; and "How Aerial Applications can be used Effectively," by an aerial applicator representative.

Mrs. Corney Honored On Retirement

On Friday, January 16th, Mrs. Sara Edith Corney was honored by Milford Hospital on the occasion of her retirement after thirty years of service. A reception was held from 2:30 to 4 p.m. in the Hospital's Conference Room, where Mrs. Corney was presented with a Savings Bond and an engraved silver plate. At the time of her twenty-fifth anniversary at the hospital she received a diamond wrist watch.

Sara Edith Corney was born in Milford, between Milford and Frederica, the daughter of the late Walter and Emma Scott. She went to the John Wesley Elementary School and attended high school at Delaware State College. She has also taken adult courses in dress making and tailoring.

She joined the Laundry Department of Milford Memorial Hospital in 1946. Two years later her husband, Carl, died. He had previously worked as an orderly at the old Milford Hospital for 21 years. When she came to the Hospital the laundry was then where the Maintenance Department is now located, and the late Walter Dulin was Laundry Manager.

Mrs. Corney says hospital and church have been her life. She is a member of the John Wesley Church near where she was born and has always lived. She sings in the church choir and is secretary to two of the Church's organizations. Her one regret at retiring is that she is afraid she will not be seeing her many friends at the Hospital.

When she settles down and adjusts to a slower pace she expects that she will spend some time sewing - which she does very well. She has two brothers living nearby, Leonard Scott of Dover and Marshall Scott of Harrington.

In discussing the retirement of Mrs. Corney, Joseph B. Ahlschier, President of Milford Memorial Hospital said that it had been a pleasure to honor Mrs. Corney. "In thirty years Mrs. Corney has seen many changes," he said, "and has cheerfully adjusted to whatever came. She has been a conscientious and loyal worker and all of us, especially those with whom she has worked closely, will miss her."

Make '76 A Safe Year

On the Farm, In the Home

Make '76 A Safe Year On The Farm And In Your Home-A basic ingredient to attaining a goal is belief. Because of a firm unwavering belief that we could put a man on the moon, Neil Armstrong took a giant step for mankind. Believing in safety and achieving safety cannot be separated. It has been said "it is the act of believing that is the starting force or generating power that leads to accomplishment". 1976 can be a safe year for you and your family. Do you believe it?

WINTER DRIVING TIPS

The snow and ice season will soon be upon us and we must be prepared to live with these weather elements. The following suggestions for safe winter driving will help you to cope with the winter driving hazards:

1. Be physically prepared yourself - this includes being alert and dressing comfortably but not to the extent your driving performance is inhibited.
2. Winterize your car - check the antifreeze levels in your radiator and windshield washer, make sure that the tires have good tread, and have a general maintenance check conducted.

3. Keep the windshield, windows, and rear-view mirrors snow free and clear at all times.

4. Keep the head and tail lights clear to maintain maximum lighting power.

5. In heavy snow, equip your car with snow tires or tire chains.

6. Increase the distance between you and the car ahead under wet, snowy and icy conditions to assure adequate stopping distance.

7. Pump brakes rapidly to slow down or stop; this prevents the wheels from locking and consequently helps maintain steering control.

8. Get the feel of the road by accelerating carefully and tapping your brakes while away from traffic. If the wheels spin or skid, reduce your speed accordingly.

9. If you encounter a skid, steer in the direction of the skid. In other words, steer left if the rear of the car skids left; steer right if the rear of the car skids right.

10. Carry emergency equipment which may include: flares, first aid kit, fire extinguisher, ice scraper, shovel, etc.

The Land of the Free didn't come cheap.

Even before we had a formal constitution, investors were asked to buy over $27,000,000 in securities to provide the arms we needed. And to provide the money to rebuild.

That was just the beginning. Through war and peace, the good years and the bad, Americans have always given freely. Millions invested their money. Many invested their lives.

We've never stopped fighting for freedom. For the American way of life.

Today, over 9½ million Americans buy U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan.

Maybe you should consider your interest and take stock in America. It isn't cheap, but there's never been a better deal.

Now U.S. Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4% the first year). Lost, stolen or destroyed Bonds can be replaced if records are provided. When needed, Bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America. 200 years at the same location.

Patriotic Film Set For Hickory Ridge

In a day when national heroes have become suspect and many American traditions discarded as threadbare, the Ken Anderson Films organization suggests another option. The statement occurs in a feature motion picture entitled IN GOD WE TRUST, which will be shown January 18 7 p.m. at Hickory Ridge Congregational Methodist Church 7 tenths mile north of Greenwood on U. S. 13.

Through the experiences of a conservative senator badly beaten at the polls by his liberal opponent, IN GOD WE TRUST re-examines America's early beginnings. "Christianity and patriotism aren't necessarily synonymous," the ex-senator says, "but they certainly can be compatible!"

Together with his two grandsons, the defeated politician takes a close look at American memorabilia. They visit the traditional shrines of our nation's early history, examining documents which attest to Biblical faith in the lives of multitudes of the founding

Radio Station For Del-Tech

There's a new radio station in Sussex County. The call letters are WDTS, at 610 on the AM dial. But don't try to tune it in on your home or car radio - its range is limited to the Southern Campus of Delaware Technical and Community College, near Georgetown.

Viewed as a teaching tool by instructors and a learning experience by students, the new station is sponsored by the Student Government Association and the Electronics/Electrical technology program.

Now broadcasting ten hours a week, the station went on the air last year on limited hours, and hopes are high that the hours will be extended. The 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. schedule coincides with lunch-time for most students, so speakers in the cafeteria and the student center, provide a communications center for the campus. This signal can be picked up on transistor or other sets on campus, but no further away than the parking lot.

Most of the music is modern, keyed to the interests of the early-twenties generation. It is interspersed with announcements of campus happenings and news briefs. Probably of greatest importance is the composition of the all-student staff. John Ferguson, an instructor in electronics and advisor for the station, points out that the staff represents several of the technologies on the campus.

As he puts it, "George Wootten is studying Motel-Hotel-Restaurant Management technology. As station manager, he deals with scheduling, assignments, operations, people - all related to management problems he will find in his career."

Bonnie Dill, Felton, as news director, is enrolled in the Data Processing course, and finds her responsibilities in collecting news a completely different aspect of her usual studies, adding to her learning.

On the board as disc jockeys, or "air personalities" as Ferguson prefers, are Kevin Carr of Selbyville, enrolled in Civil engineering and Don Bryant, Houston, in the Human Services curriculum. Wootten also has a board stint.

Lisa Masten of Harrington, in Data Processing, is executive secretary; the other secretary and publicist for the station is Patty Shockley, Georgetown, and Debbie Haines, Millsboro, is treasurer.

WDTS has attracted a great deal of response and interest from students, especially because they feel it is their own. It is housed in a very small room formerly an office, and even has the requisite "ON AIR" sign over the door, to discourage idle visits.

Services were Sunday afternoon at 2 at the Hardesty Funeral Home, 202 Laws St., Bridgeville. Burial was in the Bridgeville Cemetery.

Raiders Split Two Games

In two games last week, the Raiders put forth a grand effort in the win over Caesar Rodney by posting a 58 to 50 victory over the Riders. In that game Spank Neal had 18 points while Louis Dexter tallied 16. Charles Burbage and Dexter fouled out of the game thus placing Coach Jym VanSciver's boys in real jeopardy. Kevin Dewey, a senior known more for his defensive efforts than his offensive plays, came off the bench to lift the Raiders to victory. It was Dewey who drove in for two quick baskets to enable the Raiders to win the game. "It gave us that little lift which you need sometimes", said Coach VanSciver. "We pressed the entire game except for mid-way through the fourth quarter. We scored from the beginning and we were never headed. They did get to within four points in the fourth quarter", said VanSciver.

In the Sussex Central game Friday, it was a different story. The Golden Knights from Georgetown were slow getting started, but the tall team from Sussex once they got started rolled to an easy 63 to 47 victory over the Woodbridge team which was decidedly off in its shooting from the floor. Coach VanSciver said later that their shooting percentage was 33 and a third percent. "The biggest fault was the fact that Neal held a hot hand on the night (scoring 26 points), but we never got to him in the fourth quarter." Neal scored two points in the last quarter. Another drawback was the fact that Louis Dexter scored only ten points all night. He failed to shoot as many times as in previous nights, but basically he was off in his shooting as well. VanSciver said after the game that he employed the full court press using three guards. "This works if you are scoring, but we couldn't hit a basket. At the same time you lose your rebounds. What rebounds Woodbridge got, Neal got about 75 percent of them. "I guess the rest went to Ray Collins who got eight or nine", said VanSciver.

Woodbridge Grapplers Win 34-20

A happy Coach Gary Bottiger could hardly contain himself on Saturday night at Woodbridge as his grapplers downed a stubborn Delmar team 34 to 20. The crucial and deciding match was the last one between LeRoy Tingle of Woodbridge and Lyons of Delmar. Tingle spotted Lyons 68 pounds and eventually pinned the Delmar boy in the last period at 1:28 of that period. In the first two periods of this match, Tingle was jarred all over the mat by Lyons. In the fading minute of the second period, Tingle took quite a bit of starch out of Lyons with a near pin. When the third period began, Tingle broke from the referee's position to a reversal and a take down with the final stage being the pin. Lyons weighed 247 while Tingle tipped the scales at 179. It was the type of match which calls on a wrestler's courage and durability.

Bottiger said after the match "had to be proud of his lower weights". Mike Fields (100), Alonza Frisby (107), and Mike Richards (114) registered three straight pins. This put the Raiders out in front to stay even though they were required to hang on in the fading part of the dual meet. In this pinning spree, Fields got his fourth straight pin of the season. Frisby and Richards each have two pins on the season. Bottiger said that Fields attended camp this past summer, and "I feel that it helped him". Bottiger noted that earlier in the evening his JV team also won their match. Landy Correll registered his fourth straight. He is undefeated. "There were 6 guys who wrestled, and we got 5 wins. I couldn't be more pleased with the way things are going", said Coach Bottiger. Bottiger said that he feels sure that Fields is as good as he is because he gets a good elimination each week from Correll. "Correll offers tough competition," said Bottiger.

The Raiders now present a 2 and 2 record. Bottiger quickly pointed out in the interview that "the record should be 3 and 1...especially if the protest of the Laurel defeat sticks". Their false times on two different occasions jeopardized Woodbridge's chances.

Bottiger looked at his team and measured them by saying that he was shallow and lacked depth for the entire team. "If there is any depth it is in the lower pounds. Rocky Flem at 169 is 3 and 1, LeRoy Tingle at 187 is 2-1-1, and "....I am looking for Matt Reynolds back soon." Reynolds was injured in the first match with a pulled chest muscle. Bottiger thought the two unsung heroes of the night were Paul Cahall and Dan Custer. Cahall has been sick with virus "...and he probably should not have wrestled, said Bottiger. "Custer...I thought sure Dan would get it all together tonight," said Bottiger. "He was ahead at 4-0 when the Delmar boy (Banks) reversed him for 2 got a near fall for 3...then the Delmar man came on in the last period to win the match. "It was a tough one for Custer to lose", said Bottiger.

Bicentennial Heritage Month

February is Delaware's Bicentennial Heritage Month and Delawareans are being urged to honor their heritage in many ways.

M. Catherine Downing of Milford, a member of the Delaware American Revolution Bicentennial Commission and chairman for Heritage Month, said that the feature attractions of the state's program for the month are the gala George Washington Balls being planned in each county.

Miss Downing emphasized, however, that the costume balls are not all that will be happening during February.

"Our committee has worked hard to put together a list of Bicentennial Heritage speakers from all parts of the state," she said. "We want it to be known that this list is available -- and we hope that civic and service clubs will make use of it, not only during February, but throughout the Bicentennial year and thereafter."

The list is available in the office of the DARBC, Old Customs House, 6th and King Streets, Wilmington. Requests for speakers should be addressed to Betty G. Mitchell, community affairs coordinator for the Commission. The Commission's phone number is 571-1776.

"We have speakers ready to talk on everything from the military history of the American Revolution to the part of the clergy; from the most ardent supporters of independence to the most conservative of the Loyalists. Some of the talks are illustrated; some are not. We've sought speakers who can meet almost every possible request," Miss Downing said.

"Now we hope that this list will be used by all Delawareans to help them draw added inspiration from our heritage. Please call the office for more information -- and a speaker for your group."

Each of the Washington's Birthday balls will be on February 21. The Sussex ware Technical and Community College, Georgetown; the Kent County affair at the Martin Luther King Center at Delaware State College; and the New Castle County one at the Sheraton Brandywine Inn, Talleyville.

"I want to express the gratitude of the Commission for the work of the county committees, which have taken on the responsibility of planning and running these affairs," Miss Downing said. "John Purnell in Sussex, Margaret Ingram in Kent, and Al Campagnone in New Castle County have done an outstanding job."

Spartan Sam Carey and an unidentified Milford player go up for a jump ball in the first quarter of a game played last Friday and won by the Spartans 54-37.

KEITH S. BURGESS, Sports Editor

Lake Forest's Sam Carey [No. 21] goes up with a jump shot in game against Milford last Friday. The Spartans defeated Milford by a score of 54-37. Carey is the team's leading scorer averaging 13.1 points per game.

Spartans Down Milford

Last week was an up and down week for the Spartan basketball team as they were defeated 85-40 by Dover on Tuesday, but bounced back to beat Milford at home on Friday 54-37.

Against Dover the Spartans started the game slowly as they missed their first seven shots from the floor. On Friday against Milford they again got off to a slow start as they trailed 6-2 before Spartan Coach Buck Starkey called a timeout to settle them down. The Spartans took the lead in the second quarter and never relinquished it as their stingy defense held the Bucs to just eight points in each of the first two periods.

The Spartans took a 22-16 lead into the third period and quickly added to that as they outscored Milford 15-0 in the third period. It was until 5:32 of the final period when Milford scored on a disputed goaltending call. When Harold Burton let the shot go the ball was deflected and should have nullified the call.

Last Tuesday against Dover the Spartans were never really in the game as Dover held an eight point lead at the end of the first quarter and stretched that to a 23 point lead at the end of the half.

Leading scorers for the Spartans in their loss to the Senators were Frank Coursey with eight points and Bill Johnson and Bill Moore with six points each. Leading scorers in their win over Milford were Coursey with 14 and Sam Carey with 11. Carey is 14th in the league in scoring, 13.1 points per game.

Special Championship Event

A special championship event has been scheduled for this Sunday at Dover Downs.

The First Annual Delaware Driving Championship will gather for the first time on one track, the driving champions from all three Delaware harness tracks: Brandywine, Dover Downs and Harrington.

A total of eight past and present track champions will compete in this unprecedented contest which will consist of three special races conducted as part of the normal 10-race program:

The eight drivers entered are:

- Michel "Mike" LaChance - current UDRS (Universal Driver Rating System) Champion - Brandywine.
- Ross Hayter - current Dash (most victories) Champion - Brandywine.
- Alan Myer - Past UDRS and Dash Champion - Dover Downs.
- Eddie Davis - Past UDRS and Dash Champion - Dover Downs.
- Vern Crank - Past UDRS Champion - Dover Downs.
- Hubert Jackson - Current UDRS and Dash Leader - Dover Downs.
- Winston Lineweaver - Current UDRS Champion - Harrington.
- James Porter - Current Dash Champion - Harrington.

Davis, who regularly competes at Dover Downs and who was the 1973 track champion, attained national ranking in 1975 when he won 275 races to place him 6th among all drivers in North America (U.S. & Canada). His career earnings total over $2.5 million.

Myer, who has been driving since 1947, was the Dover Downs champion during the Fall, 1973 meeting and has earned over $5 million in career purses.

Crank, the 1972 Dover Downs Champion, is also a member of the exclusive U.S. Trotting Association's "Three Million Dollar Club" with career earnings well over $3.5 million.

Hayter took the dash title at Brandywine with a total of 75 wins, and LaChance claimed the UDRS honors with 69 wins, 32 seconds and 34 thirds in 225 starts for a UDRS rating of .437.

Lineweaver had a .444 UDRS rating during Harrington's last meeting to claim top honors in that category while Porter rode to the winners' circle 24 times to win the dash title.

Jackson is currently blistering the Dover Downs racetrack with 26 wins and a

.385 UDRS rating - tops in both categories.

All eight drivers are scheduled to compete against each other for points in three special races. The driver with the most points at the end of the three events will be declared the winner and will be presented with the winners' trophy.

By Terry Clegg

With three weeks left before the second third, only three games separate the four top teams.

Mickey Moose showed Friends Four how games are won as they out bowled their opponents and added three games to their win column.

The Misfits gave their opposing team the Strikers, an Excedrin headache tonight as they took all four from them. Gary Singleton, one of the Misfits, couldn't do anything wrong tonight. Rolling a 233, 212, and a 227, he had a 672 series and captured high game and high series of the night (for men). This series will definitely put him in contention for Bowler of the Month. (Way to go, Gary!!!) This four game win ties this team with Friends Four for first place.

Moose II, having their problems, suffered another defeat tonight and gave up all four games to the Pinbusters. Edna Mae Layton, always a threat to the opposing team, rolled a 185, 195, and a 170 for a 550 series (second high series for women).

EarlVogan of the Spares, rolled a 203 game which seemed to inspire his team on to victory as they succeeded in taking three games away from the No-Mads. This puts the Spares only one game out of first.

Joan Edwards of the 4 Aces, tried to give her team a boost with a 183 game, but still only managed to split two and two with the Dy-no-mite team.

Moose I's Dennis Mullins rolled a 225 game which helped increase his team's chances of getting to the top as they took three games from the Campers.

The M & P's turned on tonight and gave the Gold-diggers nothing but trouble. Even with Mary Bergold's 170 and 235 (552 series - high game and high series for women), the M & P's could not be stopped. Claire Melvin's 172, Snookie Gallo's 203, and Al Melvin's 212 and 214 gave this team all four games.

And so ends the second third of the Harrington Business men's Bowling League. With Burris Food, still being able to maintain their front slot by three games. Burris ended the second third by meeting Wally's Garage. Although only needing one game for a sure first place, Burris did manage to pull three points with Buck Thompson paving the way for Burris with a 259 series, assisted by Rich Dennis's 553.

Wally's is known to be able to come on strong and give a good fight, and showed just that by pulling a 931 team game in the third. J. Shulties was the big gun in the third game by making a 212 game. These boys bear watching in the next third!

The Spoilers, running and maintaining a strong second slot, pulled three points from Moose "B" with Bruce Harrington mustering up high highest series for them.

Although Roy Hawkins and Chip Shaw poured out a 227 and 191 respectively, it's hard to take a team like the Spoilers while having two in the blind. Spoilers? Yes! Another team to watch for next third.

Taylor and Messick, still warming up for the finals maintains their natural selves so they took three points from Food Rite, which also put them back into the finishing third slot. Food Rite, being handicapped by not bowling their potential was shall we say, "double handicapped," by also having one in the blind.

Harrington Moose, ending in fifth position, split two and two with McKnatt's.

Dick Clegg mustered up a fine 213 game with a fine 561 series to head their team and the McKnatt team just seemed to stay together to pull down two points.

Jarrell's Fuel only being able to hit Fry's American for one point did manage to move into the seventh finishing position. Jerry Hayman did muster up a 208 game assisted by Jim Forbes pulling down a 203 for Fry's.

Robbins Hardware went in playing with confidence and came out the same way as the took three points for Dur-A-Clean, who has been dropping steadily in the ranks. Bill Brode paved the way for Dur-A-Clean having a fine 587 series. Nice bowling Bill. Here's another blind bowler on the Dur-A-Clean team Men! if you want to make it to the top next third, you better substitute those blind bowlers.

Penn Central was moving full throttle, full steam as the gates went down on Big John's Son and Penn Central captured all four points. B. Coffman led the way for Penn with a 544 series. This also moved Penn up a couple of steps.

Quillen's Market came on strong tonight, as they defeated Butler's Fuel by taking three points. L. Wirick paced Quillen's by surpassing his own average three times. Ralph says, "We're consistent, consistently doing something wrong." Although winning 38 games, Quillen's still remains at the bottom rung of the ladder by one game.

As two teams now await their three team rival, which will come to pass after the next ten weeks or the last third. We wish all teams good luck.

Smyrna Drops Spartans

Lake Forest Wrestling Last week the Lake Forest wrestling team had one match and dropped it to Smyrna 56-5.

The Spartans won only one match the entire night as William Jackson remained undefeated by winning a 4-3 decision from his opponent.

The other two Spartan points were scored by Jamie Simpson as he tied his tough opponent 5-5. Winning by pin for the Eagles were Jeff Leager, Bret Sethman, Harry Virdin, John Ryan, Marty Dixon, Robert Watson and Ronnie Lloyd.

Webbs Win

Super Bowl Trip

Joseph H. Webb, Jr., and his wife Beverly won a trip sponsored by the Ford Motor Company to the Super Bowl played in Miami, Fla., on Sunday. Young Webb is part owner of the Ford, Lincoln, Mercury Company in Milford. The Webbs flew to Orlando by Pan Am 747 and stayed at the Hyatt House. The flight to Orlando took two hours and fifteen minutes.

Their evening entertainment featured Foster Brooks and Gloria Loring. Sunday morning the couple flew to Miami for the Super Bowl game. They had seats on the 20 yard line 45 rows high in the stadium.

Volunteer workers, participating in a project started by District 22 Lions Clubs of Delaware, rattle the roof of the Arts and Crafts Building at Camp Barnes. After a lost election, the project was taken by the Rehoboth Beach Lions Club, but it is their hope that the other Lions Clubs in the state will continue to support the endeavor.

The roofing job will cost approximately $4,000. While the work is underway, additional help is needed. Clubs wishing to participate in the program, or individuals wishing to volunteer their time, may do so through District 22.

Started in 1948, Camp Barnes has served as a camp for children from throughout Delaware. Organized by the Delaware Association of Chiefs of Police, and operated under the direction of the Superintendent of the Delaware State Police, Lt. Col. Irvin B. Smith, the facility provides full camp activities, including swimming, boating, athletics, archery, and handicrafts. Since all operating funds are obtained through contribution, the Lions Club of Rehoboth Beach is soliciting help from all the clubs in District 22 in helping to keep the camp's building in good condition.

What price Freedom?

OR HOW DO YOU pay off the WAR of Independence?

Our horses were running out of oats. Our soldiers, out of bullets. And the revolution, out of steam. We needed some money fast, but the Continental Congress had no power to tax. So we asked investors to pitch in. And they did. With over 27 million dollars. Today, it costs even more to keep things running, to hold on to the freedom we won. And the way to pitch in now is through U.S. Savings Bonds. And when you buy Bonds, you're not only helping your country, you're helping yourself. Just sign up for the automatic Payroll Savings Plan at work. Or buy Bonds at your bank. U.S. Savings Bonds. A great way to keep our country, and you, in the running.

Now U.S. Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Lost, stolen or destroyed Bonds can be replaced if records are provided. When needed, Bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deducted until redemption.

Take stock in America. 200 years at the same location.
