Lake Forest Aggies Get School Board Approval

For several school board meetings, the Lake Forest Agriculture Department has been trying through its department head Neal Brasure and his assistants Bill Abbott, and Mike Coverdale, to obtain approval from the school board to get a pick-up truck in order to take students to various places on assignments.

Brasure read from a prepared statement how the truck would be used and that it would solve many of the existing transportation problems. Brasure met with board opposition, particularly from James Pizzadili, who voiced the consensus of the Board's feelings and warned about the inherent dangers associated with "...this sort of thing." Brasure equated the

The agriculture department had invited Arnold Olsen from the State Insurance Department to describe the various ramifications of the insurance coverage under the state. When Brasure explained "...that anywhere from 11, 12 to 15 students might be riding in the rear of the truck. Olsen was asked questions by the board members related to coverages.

Olsen told the board that it would depend on the number in the vehicle. "The state's coverage of $10,000 and $20,000 would mean that each of the 20 students would be covered to the extent of $1,000. If one were killed the matter then jumps to $100,000/$300,000." Brasure said "...you might truck we will endeavor to Markowitz described the central part of the program in an example "...where you have 28 students in a classroom roughly 25% of students in the classes will be below the mean throughout the state. So what we are trying to do is reach those students in that lower level. The basic skills are the reading and math. The reading has been improved through the Title I program," which Markowitz said has done a terrific job. The next board meeting will be held April 26.

Bowers Continues To Discuss Sewer Plan

Mayor Phillip Tuthill of Bowers at last Wednesday night's Town Council meeting asked Lorraine Moyer, assistant secretary to the Council, to direct a letter to the County Engineer, Walter L. Fritz, to seek a clarification as to whether or not Bowers can by vote elect to keep the outlying districts from hooking up to the Bowers and county sewer at a later date.

At last month's council meeting, it was decided by motion that if the outlying districts of Bayview Heights and South Bowers did not join in with the Town of Bowers for the implementation of the central sewer system which includes a pumping station in the Town of Bowers to be hooked up with the County's system at Little Heaven, where another pumping station will be installed, then they would not be permitted to do so at a later date.

Bowers wants these districts and settlements to join in at the same time they are having their system installed. One of the council members said the feeling now was that the people in these settlements had "a change of heart since last month's special meeting with the consulting engineers." Tuthill said "...it would only take 10% of the people there to petition the Levy Court to hold a referendum."

The feeling was there was a good chance a 10% petition would be possible, and that the voters would now vote for a central sewer system.

The plan was that federal monies would be used to construct this project and that land owner would be assessed so much for open land in the Town, and that each house or dwelling or establishment would pay an additional $150 per year to maintain the sewer system. Vice-Mayor John King said "...the $150 is a high figure ...a top figure."

In other business, complaints poured in regarding

"sloppy garbage collection". Mrs. Nancy Pedersen, a new resident of Bowers, said "even though the cost of the garbage pick-up is very reasonable, I feel that the work should be less sloppy, and the cans not scattered all over the place. I think Wilkerson's men should be told about this."

Tuthill said there had been many complaints about the garbage pick-up. Tied in with this discussion was that which Councilwoman Lorraine Moyer noted when she

City Crest To Be Selected This Week

The Design-A-Crest, which had a total of 60 entries, has now reached the stage of selection, according to the Harrington Bicentennial Committee.

Mrs. Bernadine Butler, chairman of the contest, displayed the 60 crests during the committee's meeting Thursday night. Those present at the meeting assisted in the narrowing of possible winners to 15 crests which they felt best represented the community.

The winning crest will be selected sometime this week. The representative of the company who will be making the mug on which the crest will be shown is scheduled to arrive in the City some time this week and will aid in the final selection.

All designs will be displayed at "The Olde Towne Picnic", which is scheduled for May 31.

Plans are also underway to have the crests displayed during the month of May in one of the buildings in the City.

The Bicentennial Committee will be meeting Tuesday, March 30 at 8 p.m. in the City Hall. Those interested citizens are invited to attend.

Plans for "Ye Olde Towne Picnic", Harrington's first official day of celebration of the nation's Bicentennial, is beginning to shape up.

The date will be May 31st, according to members of the Harrington Bicentennial Committee, organizers of the day of activities.

Since the date coincides with the Memorial Day Weekend, the day will begin with a Memorial Service at 10 a.m. at the flag pole. This service will be led by the K.T.C.R. American Legion Post here.

quilting and wood carving. At 4 p.m. a band concert is planned which will be followed by a talent show at 6:30 p.m. The latter is under the direction of Nancy Thompson.

The committee is hopeful a booklet will be released giving a complete schedule and rules for participation in the activities.

The committee is hopeful members of the community will be wearing colonial costume to the picnic. Many pattern books are available, according to the committee, and a colonial costume contest is also on the drawing board for the day.

A beard growing contest which is being conducted now will end on the day and judging will take place. Information regarding how to enter the contest and further details are obtainable at City Hall.

'Annie' Is Loaded With Locals

by Keith S. Burgess

"There's No Business Like Show Business" might be in the back of Harrington's Matt Burgess' mind, as he sings Irving Berlin's "Bad, Bad, Man," then dances with five of Kent County's prettiest young ladies.

This scene takes place in "Annie Get Your Gun" to be performed by The Singing Players, April 8, 9, 10, at Dover's Central Middle School Auditorium, a beautiful 1000-seat facility.

In 1975 "Showboat" played to 3000 people, in three nights, with many more unable to get tickets. See the want ad section of the Journal to find out how tickets may be obtained. Two of the fair, distaff quintet previously mentioned are former Miss Harringtons, who were All-State Chorus members in high school. These are Kathy Miller Wetherhold and Linda Rogers Collins. The remaining trio are from Dover.

Mrs. Dave Harmon, from Dover AFB, whose husband plays Mac the handyman, goes into a show business swoon, after tripping the light fantastic with the legendary Frank Butler, the handsome, champion marksman.

Burgess, who portrays Butler, is a music major at Delaware College. He's had a great deal of vocal experience, so his main task is to acquire a modicum of acting skill. Hopefully, this will transpire by curtain time, as he progresses under the astute tutelage of director John Mingus of Wesley College and music director, Margaret Storey.

Vicki Glidden of Dover, a 16-year-old, graduating junior at Dover High, is another participant in the terpsichorean scene. Vicki would like to make a career of dancing.

Barbara Wilkerson sang with "Up With People" for two years and there met Harrington's Mary Anne Clark. This diminutive blonde duo, fooled many observers into thinking they were sisters. Barbara, a Wesley College graduate, later dances the "Sun in the Morning" number with Keith Burgess, Matt's father, who is taking the part of Foster Wilson, the obstreperous, recalcitrant hotel owner, who wants to protect the local populace of Cincinnati, from the "likes" of show people.

In one scene, Matt "Frank Butler" Burgess, attempting to soft soap the noted owner into renting ten rooms to Buffalo Bill's Western Show troupe says "What can you lose?"

Keith "Foster Wilson" Burgess' reply is "spoons, towels, soap, bath mats, salt cellars. I've had show people before etc."

Brenda Collison and Darin Dell of Harrington are a most appealing pair, as Annie Oakley and her brother, Little Jake. Teresa Smith, a 1975 Lake Forest grad, capably portrays one of Annie's two sisters.

There are 17 Harrington and Felton people in the show all told: Felton's Jerry "Nick" Hobbs plays Pawnee Bill, who has a Wild West Show, that competes with Buffalo Bill's troupe. Sara Nechay of Sandtown is Dolly, Frank Butler's helper, who is continually frustrated by Annie Oakley's naivete. Smyrna's Howard Deakne and Ralph Mills who has the part of Buffalo Bill, are veteran actors. Deakne is Charlie the coman-barker, who opens the show with the rousing tune "Colonel Buffalo Bill."

Julio Ramirez of Woodside is physically ideal for the key role of Setting Bull. He's stocky, dark complexioned and has a resonant speaking voice.

The show is funny, full of great, Irving Berlin music, plus the poignant Butler-Oakley love story, which finally all obstacles by the final curtain.

We think you'll like it!

I have liked many of her friends since joining the center learned how to spell and pronounce this fine lady's name. I used to think it was spelled Emma but I have since learned it is spelled Emo and pronounced as E-MO.

Emo is not as large in size as some of her friends but she takes her place in many activities and can hold her own as she goes.

She is a member of the bowling team the board of Directors of the center.

She was the wife of the late Albert Tee who passed away several years ago. They lived on Grant Street.

He was an electrician and a partner with Satterfield and Ryan when they started the business.

They later moved to her present home on the Harrington & Milford road near Milford. They had two children, a girl Ruth who owns and operates a ladies dress shop in Dover, and a boy, Bobby, who was lost in World War II.

Emo has decided to sell her home and move to Dover.

Weekly Report
By Senator Joseph Biden

Most newspaper headlines about Congressional hearings generally revolve, understandably, around legislation: a bill is introduced, hearings are held, changes are made, it is approved or rejected. That's what Congress is all about.

But there are other kinds of Congressional hearings. Some of them are well publicized -- like the sensational Watergate and CIA investigations. Others, however, receive little attention. These are the hearings that are exploratory in nature, and which are designed more to ask questions than to answer them.

A set of these exploratory hearings will be held this month before the Senate Subcommittee on Consumer Affairs, of which I am Chairman. The hearings are being called to consider whether changes are needed in the way we enforce the penalty provisions of the Truth in Lending Act -- which was one of the first major consumer bills ever passed by Congress.

The Truth in Lending Act has now been on the books for nearly 8 years. It was and is designed to force full disclosure of the cost of credit, and to prevent credit abuses.

For differing reasons, both industry and consumer groups have expressed dissatisfaction with provisions of the law affecting class action suits -- suits filed on behalf of many people (the "class") who have suffered losses as a result of violations of the law. As the law now stands, class action suits are allowed, but the maximum amount in damages that can be recovered is $100,000, or one percent of the net worth of the defendant, whichever is less.

Consumer organizations have complained that the limits on damages mean that, in some cases, each member of the class may collect only a few dollars -- or perhaps only a few cents. Meanwhile, industry representatives argued that these kind of suits are sometimes filed just for harassment, or to gain leverage for settlement.

In the hearings this month, one of the suggestions that will be considered is a little-used legal doctrine known as "qui tam," which is derived from the Latin phrase "qui tam pro domino rege quam seipso," which means, "one who acts both for the king and for himself."

The idea is to let the Federal government join individuals in bringing suit to recover damages for violations under the Act.

Under our draft of this proposal, and individual or a consumer protection agency would file suit, then notify the Justice Department, which would have 60 days to decide whether or not it wants to join as a co-plaintiff in the suit.

In assessing damages, the individual would stand to collect more than he could in a class action suit (up to $10,000) -- but the Federal government would collect much more (up to $490,000). The idea is not only to encourage private suits, but to assess civil damages for violations. Funds collected by the government would help pay for the cost of litigation.

It's too early to determine whether this proposal will be translated into specific legislation. We're still asking questions. But this is a new and innovative possibility, and it's worth taking a look at in some detail.

Will Plant 35,000 Trees

Starting this week, nearly 35,000 tree seedlings will be delivered to households throughout the state of Delaware by Girl Scouts in the Chesapeake Bay Council.

The seedlings are supplied by the Forestry Section of the State Department of Agriculture and the girls' activity supports Project Seedling, the State's Bicentennial project to supply one tree for each of Delaware's half million people. The Girl Scout project coincides with Girl Scout Week, March 7 to 13. March 12 marks the 64th anniversary of the founding of Girl Scouting, a movement which embraces 3.2 million Girl Scouts and men and women volunteers in 1976.

Girl Scouts will distribute a variety of two-year old conifer seedlings, including pine, spruce and fir, in their neighborhoods. Each house will also receive a sheet of instructions for the planting and care of their trees. Twenty-five thousand trees will be delivered in New Castle County, 8,000 in Kent and 1,900 in Sussex.

In the Chesapeake Bay Council which serves 14 counties in Delaware, Maryland and Virginia, Girl Scouts are active in many other ecology and community service related projects.

This old property which is known as the Luff property in the town of Felton, has needed some upgrading for years. It has recently been purchased by the Felton Fire Co. and was demolished last week the behest of the new owners.

The Felton Bicentennial committee has requested the building shown in the back and will be moved to property belonging to Robert Hemphills. The building will be relocated near the couple's business, The Owl's Nest.

The demolition of the main portion of the building was done by Ray Starkey of Felton.

Felton Loses Historic Site

by Barbara Jacobs

I guess this Bicentennial year is making everyone sit up and take notice. Area residents are doing a lot of cleaning up, painting and restarting their projects. There is also some demolishing going on in our town. This is very sad for all of us history buffs who want to restore instead of destroying but sometimes this is very necessary to improve the area.

This is what has happened to the Luff Property after many years of none really caring for the beautiful old home stead with its history back to the early 1800's.

The Felton Fire Co. purchased the property to enlarge their building and parking area as I understand sealed bids were given by local construction Co.'s and our own local man has won the bid job if it as it was Ray Starkey Construction Co. who started the painful job of taking apart this once lovely home.

It was a new undertaking for Ray who did a fantastic job with his crew of men. This also gave plenty of excitement for the youngsters and oldsters for the entire week. The old stories of this home were being told as we stood there seeing board by board and brick by brick being loaded into the dump trucks and being hauled away. Luckily there are people in this town who have history in their minds and pictures of us to see that this once lovely homestead will never be forgotten.

A really bit of excitement took place when we found out that the oldest part of this home was by the generous donations of the Felton area residents. There is still a lot of other things to be completed so all contributions big or small would be greatly appreciated. Contact any town council member. The Avon Club of Felton has lost a most loved member. Miss Jenny Morrow this week. She'll be sadly missed by all but never forgotten.

Les Rogers told them it all started when the ARK was settling down after the flood and bumped into the top of a telegraph pole, punching a hole in the bottom of the boat. Noah's little dog stuck his nose into the hole but could not stand it, so that's why dogs have cold nose. Noah's wife stuck her foot into the hole so Noah sat down on it and that's why men stand with their backs to the fire."

Career Corner

By Buck Thompson

printed in the Journal for youths

The United States has turned the corner in the hiring of women in the so-called blue-collar "men-only" jobs.

"That are working today in practically every type of occupation that was once the private domain of men," says Assistant Secretary of Labor William H. Kolberg. "Whether it's subway construction, bridge building, boilermaking, bulldozing, truck driving, or running big newspaper presses--although and dirty or dangerous jobs--the women are at it."

"Certainly, there are not enough women in all blue-collar occupations to permit anyone to say that sex discrimination is thing of the past," Kolberg points out, "but women today are having the chance to prove once again that they can perform most any task as well as men."

"Women proved they could handle 'men-only' jobs twice in this century-- including the highly rewarding apprenticeship programs operate in industry and labor unions under standards set by the Labor Department.

Part of the reason why few women are in blue-collar jobs is the discouragement many women have experienced because of past practices of employers. Many women think it is fruitless to look for blue-collar jobs.

Then too there's the widespread notion that if employers hire women for blue-collar jobs, males will be denied a livelihood and therefore should be given preference in hiring.

"It is ethically and legally correct to treat men and women equally in terms of work Kolberg says. "Women have the same needs for income that men do, and indeed, the 7 million women who are heads of household have as much a need for income as men."

"But the proof is being solidly documented in peacetime by these modern-day pioneers and there is no question that the practical employer looking for good workers is going to find no excuse to pass over women applicants."

"The law against sex discrimination in hiring and promotion practices is on the books and it is having a positive impact," Kolberg observes.

He stated that the latest apprenticeship figures show, for instance, a 74 percent increase in one year in the number of women learning and earning on the job in 50 selected occupation groupings. And, all but three of these occupations -- beauticians, cooks/bakers, and medical-dental technicians -- were reserved for men apprentices only a generation ago.

Kolberg says there are 415 occupations recognized as apprenticeable by the Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training in the Department's Employment and Training Administration, and the "great majority of them are in the blue-collar category."

Labor Department statistics show that at the end of 1974 about 18 percent of the total number of blue-collar workers were women. The totals are 28.2 million men and 5 million women.

Open Letter to Chipman Parents

Dear Parents,

Spring inevitably changes the pace of school life. Cutting class or leaving school altogether becomes more attractive with the coming of warm weather. Homework gets harder to do as the days get longer and outdoor activities become more inviting. Teachers tend to feel increasing frustration as they redouble their efforts to see that each child is ready for his or her next year's work and these efforts are met with increasing resistance from unwilling to take the responsibility for learning and see every assignment as an unreasonable demand from an unsympathetic teacher. Guidance counselors have the difficult task of carrying out this year's program while simultaneously helping eighth grade students make plans for next year and devising ways of gathering and organizing student information which will indicate the best possible placement for each student in next year's junior school high school classes.

Add to this the administration of the state tests for eighth grade the week of March 22 and the visit of the Middle States Evaluating Committee the week of March 29 and you have a picture of my job right now. Quite frankly, it bothers me a great deal that at busy time like these I have even less time for actual counseling; and counseling time is always limited enough.

I hope that many of you who are parents of eighth graders attended the Open House at the high school. Do try to see that no eighth grade student misses school next week except in cases of real necessity. State Tests are a part of a statewide testing program, and Chipman has its part in this.

Until next week.....

Sincerely,
Sarah S. Webb

Woodside Emerald 4-H News

The Woodside Emeralds 4-H held their monthly meeting February 11th. Judy Gibson and Tina Bravata presented a demonstration titled "Picture Pretty Salads."

Mr. Ray Lloyd, from Sussex County Extension Office showed slides on his trip to Panama and his contacts with the 4-H Clubs there.

They are asking 4-H clubs of Delaware to contribute to help start rabbit projects for 4-H clubs in Panama as a source of protein for the people of that area. The death rate in children under five is very high due to the lack of enough protein in their diet.

Fourteen of our 4-Hers entered the County Public Speaking Contest held during February. Blue ribbons winners were: Jimmy Weeks, Dwayne Truitt, Donnie Warrington, Holly Webb, Carrie Holleger, Jenny Prescott, Cindy Warrington, Shari Brown and Carole Carlisle.

Charles Moller also won a blue ribbon as well as the plaque for the Mini-Boys Division. Red ribbon winners were Sandra Warren, Barbie Warrington, J.R. Blackburn and Maria Warren.

Sunshine 4-H Club

Reported by Dale Jarrell

Mike Everline, club president called the meeting to order. Connie Harrington read from the Bible and a poem. America the Beautiful was sung by the group led by Doug Crouse and Dale Jarrell.

The club has five new members: Lisa Welch, Jimmy Warren, Jane Reirdan, Karen and Chris Gerardi. We hope they enjoy being in the club and participating in the activities.

Connie Harrington read the minutes and called the roll. Treasurer's report was read by Lisa Bostick.

Reports were given by Doug Crouse on public speaking and Connie Harrington on the kickoff tea for Easter lilies.

Mike Everline read a letter from Operation Reindeer.

Judy Back showed her slides on her State 4-H trip to Chicago.

Francisco, the exchange student also told about his home town.

Mike Collison gave a demonstration on changing oil.

Poultry Banquet

The Delaware Poultry Improvement Association will host its 37th annual banquet Tuesday, March 23, at 6:45 p.m. in the Felton Fire Hall.

Featured speaker for the event will be Dr. Brooks Reynolds, pastor of Bethesda Methodist Church in Salisbury, Md. As in the past, entertainment will be provided during the evening's program by Kent county 4-Hers.

Tickets for the banquet are $3.25 each and are available from county extension offices.

Will Study Taxes

The Bowers Town Council announced a study would be made into raising taxes for the Town. According to their charter, the maximum amount of taxes which can be collected each year from the landowners is $10,000. This does not include capitation taxes. It is taxes which are to come from the tax on real estate.

Many of the Council members voiced the opinion that taxes are "...not high enough...some land owners pay $6 or $9 a year. It is too low, and the Town needs more money to develop programs for the youth in the Town.

Right now we need a recreation area, and it is pretty certain we cannot get the funds from the Levy Court." Vice-Mayor John King said "...something had to be done. We will set up an appeal night, and I am sure we will hear about it then."

Prouse Family To Sing

On Sunday, March 21st, 7 to 9 p.m. the Singing Prouse family of Salisbury, Md. will be featured at Magnolia United Methodist Church, along with other guests including Bob Appling, Luddy Tramontana, the Wheatley singers. Also singing will be the Magnolia junior and senior choirs. An evangelistic message by Robert Wheatley will be part of the program.

From March 22nd for the week, Roby Church of Leipsic will hold revival services with preaching by Rev. Clifford Tazelaar and Robert Appling, and there will be special music nightly - 7:30 p.m.

Lads and Lassies
by Terry Clegg

The Strikers put the M & P's winning streak to an abrupt end Monday night as they took three games from them. Mike Fry's 194 and 191 gave his team the extra boost to keep them tied for the top slot with the 4-Aces. Claire Melvin tried to get her team on a winning streak with a 180 but apparently none of her teammates were paying attention.

The 4-Aces walked all over their opponents Monday night. Linda Johnston surprised herself by rolling a beautiful 212 (second high game for women) and a 169. Joan Edwards, her teammate, added a nice 170 game.

This gave the 4-Aces three in their win column. The male members of the 4-Aces couldn't get going and had to let the women carry the load. Helen Gallo of Friends Four rolled a 160 but her teammates couldn't give her any help.

The Pinbusters took three games from the befuddled Mickey Moose team. Edna Mae Layton turned on again rolling a 170 and 175 for a 501 series. (second high series for women). Even with Mickey Moose's Gene Wright rolling a 209 and Lee Dill a 209, it just wasn't enough to overpower the Pinbusters.

Moose I laid an egg Monday and lost all four from the red hat Golddigger team. Moose I couldn't seem to get going and no one had anything equal to that of their opponents.

Like the 4-Aces, the women carried the full weight of their team. Mary Bergold captured high game and series for women bowling a 213 (high game) and 179 for a 547 series (high series). Doris Buck added a 165 game.

The men of the Spares team were the scoremakers of their team with Jay Lewis taking high game and series for men. Jay rolled a 210 and 222 for a 609 series. Earl Vagan was not without his good game too, rolling a 201. Earl gave his team the extra power to give their team three games.

Mickey Moose II is still in there plugging away. Leroy Wheeler is back on the high games trail. He rolled a nice 214 game, enough to take one game from the Spares.

Patti Friedline and Gene Wirick of the Strikers lead their team to a three game victory. Patti's 199 and Gene's 198 gave them the scores they needed to take the wins. Betty Lyons and Mary Friedline were the leaders of their team, the Campers as each rolled a 165.

The No-Mads were bombed by the mighty Dyno-mite team. Cheryl Wingo started the ball rolling with a 164 and 178. Flo Dapirak followed suit with a 174 & 163. And last but not least, Charles Fluharty, the newest members of the team rolled a 201

The No-Mads just couldn't compete with this kind of bowling. The Dyno-mites are giving it all they've got to make that climb to the top.

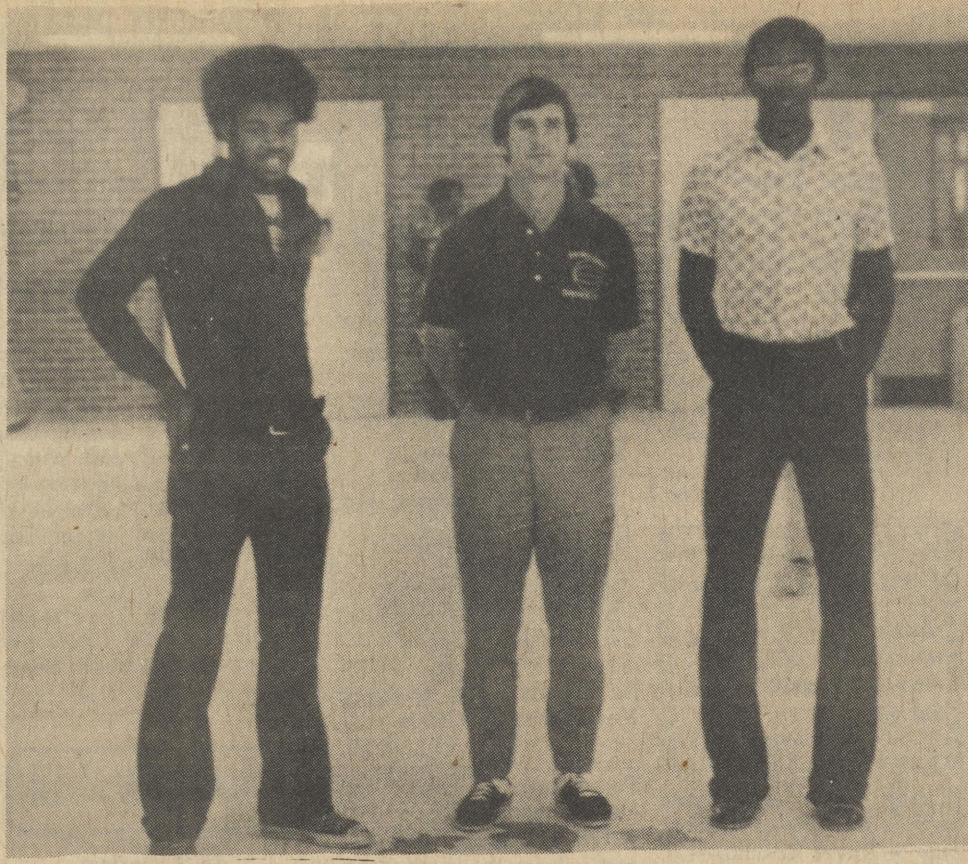

Until next week visit your nearest bowling center. You'll get exercise and have fun at the same time!!!

During the past week eight area basketball players and one coach were honored by being named to the All-Henlopen Conference Basketball team.

Topping the list was Lake Forest boys' basketball coach, Albert "Buck" Starkey, who was named the Henlopen Conference Boy's Basketball Coach of the Year. Mr. Starkey when asked about his selection stated "I was very happy and little surprised too. Starkey in almost two years of being head coach at Lake Forest has completely turned the program around when he coached the Spartans to a second place finish in the Southern Division this season. He was selected by a vote of the Henlopen Conference Coaches.

All four girls participated on highly successful teams this season as Lake Forest and Woodbridge along with Indian River finished tied for first in the Henlopen Conference Southern Division. Lissy was also an All-Conference selection last season.

This was Carey's second year of varsity basketball and he will return next year for his final season. Shockley stated "I was kind of happy that I made third team." He averaged 10.6 points per game and when asked about his play stated "It could have been better," the main problem was lack of consistency.

"We shall not give in while we still have the strength to lift that bowling ball," says Jarrell's. So they continued on their never ceasing battle to maintain the front slot.

Continue on they did, as they took three important ones from Burris Food. Shooting every game over team average and an all around support from everyone made the difference to boost them 4 1/2 games in front.

Although Dallas Hayman led Burris with a 580 series, they were still lacking in power as they had one in the blind and one with a flat tie.

Two other teams still in contention for first place met Tuesday, Dur-A-Clean and Food Rite. Food Rite, seeing a possibility to move up, did just that as they took four big ones and moved into second place. Bill Manship led his team up with 583 series, backed up by Frank Collin's 553 series. Further back up was given by S. Smith's 559 series.

Dur-A-Clean was unable to have anyone hit a 500 series and dropped back to third slot.

Fry's American was in good position to move as they had an eye open for #1 position. However, Taylor & Messick captured three of the four points. Although John Forbes did the shooting for his team, he never got the backing that George Collins got from his team.

I understand that in their second game, both teams had a total of 17 marks for one frame. Pretty tough! Robbins Hardware moved up two rungs as they took three points from Penn Central. Penn hit their team average one time and took that game. From then on, it was all down hill with them on the way down, Robbins just stayed with in their team average and carried the rest.

Moose "A" who excelled during the Lower Delaware Handicap Tournament, (which shall be elaborated on at a later date) couldn't seem to find their team average and dropped three points to the Spoilers. Leonard Outten paced the Spoilers with a nifty 576 series which included a 222 game. He was backed by Bruce Herrington's 559 series.

Wally's Garage dropped this week in their loss to Butler's Fuel, who took three big points. Mr. Kohlman turned on for one big game of 253. Very nice! Now here comes Quillen's Mkt. again, downing Moose "B" all four points. Boy!

if these guys could only just keep it all together team wise. Quillen fired all three games 40 to 50 pins above average.

Last but certainly not least come our hard struggling McKnatt's and we find they have moved out of anchor slot by taking three points from Penn Central who exchanged places with them. J. D. Dennis was the man of the hour for McKnatt's, as he set a hard striding place of a 225 and a 202 game ending up with a super 621 series. Real Nice! J. D.

Muelheisen Resigns

On Monday night at the regular meeting of the Lake Forest School Board, the Board agreed to drop 9th grade wrestling for the coming year. According to some figures, there were 41 J. V. matches which were forfeited this past season. Wrestling coach Tom Muelheisen who was at the school board meeting said that most of the forfeitures were in the heavier classes on the J.V. squad. The school board felt that "there were plenty of space for participants on the Junior Varsity wrestling team without need of a 9th grade team."

In other matters before the Board, Varsity Wrestling Coach, Tom Muelheisen, submitted his resignation. This part of the meeting was held in executive session. Although Muelheisen's team finished with a poor record, 2-10, he had one contestant, Rickie Mertz, who reached the State finals and another, Bill Jackson, who reached the semi-finals in the State. Muelheisen's resignation was accepted by the Board.

After the meeting which heard a report from the track and field committee, Varsity Track Coach, Jim Blades, was asked by Journal reporter Milliard Ellingsworth about his reaction to the committee's report which essentially recommended moving the track and field program to the high school "...I wanted to come here (the high school) come here (the high school) You eat up half an hour of time just going to Chipman...and a lot of kids missed the bus...we did not have the proper equipment at Chipman...if we had a lot of rain the north end of the track was under water... someone would have to take

Chairman Brown Visits Texas

Republican State Chairman, Herman C. Brown, a native of Harrington was personally invited to the Texas ranch of former Governor of Texas, John B. Connally. The ranch is 30 miles from San Antonio. According to Brown the ranch was comprised of 9,000 acres. The house was located on a 3600 acre spread. The remaining acres were spread out in the county.

The occasion was to entertain some 19 state chairmen with 21 states being represented in which Connally exhibited a genuine concern about the upcoming congressional races, and how those gathered might find ways to get more republicans elected to Congress.

Brown said that they were well fed and entertained during their three day stay. The temperatures were in the 80's. Before departing for home, Brown confided in Governor Connally "...Governor...this represented my second trip to Texas. The

It was Brown who as a recent member of the bar in the early '50's got his first political assignment as campaign manager for the senate campaign of Dr. W. T. Chipman. From that point he has risen through the ranks in the Republican party to dine and associate with the "captains to the (Republican) party." Hats off to Mr. Brown!!!

AGWAY

284-4736

Agway certifies its spreader trucks to satisfy your spreading requirements.

Why? Evenly spread fertilizer is a crops management need. There is no law requiring inspection of spreader trucks to assure an even spread. But Agway has high standards for its own trucks. . . . aims always to give you a uniform spread pattern. It's just good business.

How? All Agway fertilizer and lime trucks are checked, inspected and certified for uniformity. Agway tests and evaluates the spread pattern and makes necessary corrections and repairs before giving the truck the verification seal.

When? Regional Agway certification clinics are held during the summer months to ready the equipment for your application needs now, in the fall and next spring. And now is the perfect time to lime and fertilize, because the ground is firm and there will be no compaction of the soil. Call your Agway store or representative today for spreader application service.

Look for the "Certified" seal on the spreader body.

#8 of a Series: The onshore impact of offshore oil

What about onshore supply bases? How big? How many? Where?

Knowledgeable East Coast residents are aware that oil exploration on the Atlantic Outer Continental Shelf will be far out of sight of land. But they are primarily concerned about the impact of onshore activities such as supply bases.

If no oil or gas is found, of course, there will be no need for additional bases.

Let's look at present offshore production in the Gulf of Mexico as an example of onshore impact.

There were few facilities for supporting marine operations when offshore drilling started in the Gulf 30 years ago. The East Coast, on the other hand, has an established industrial complex well-suited to provide the supplies and marine services.

Amoco operates 35 platforms in the Gulf and these are serviced from four bases strategically located on the 733 mile Louisiana-Texas coastline. Amoco's bases in Louisiana are at Dulac and Intracoastal City, and in Texas, at two facilities which are shared with other marine operators. Each Louisiana base has a boat dock, heliport, radio tower, small storage buildings for food and crew supplies and open storage for pipe, wellheads, fuels, lubricants, production equipment and replacement parts. The Dulac base occupies a total of 4.2 acres. The Intracoastal City base uses only 2.2 acres. The shared bases in Texas are 12 and 7 acres respectively.

If oil and gas are found in sufficient quantities, the Office of Technology Assessment in preliminary studies of the Atlantic Outer Continental Shelf area estimates that five 30-acre support bases—probably inland near rail lines—would be needed for construction, maintenance and supply of the offshore rigs. About 15 three-acre bases would be needed for harbor supply boats for the rigs along a 200-mile-long stretch of coastline. Most of these bases are already available at present harbor facilities.

We've been a good business partner and neighbor to our Gulf Coast friends.

We're looking forward to continuing good relationships on the East Coast.
