Burris-Council Meeting Held.....No Changes

Following a tax appeals night here, where no one appeared to appeal the Harrington taxes, members of the Harrington City Council and Mayor William Minner met with John Burris, owner of the Burris plant here off Reese Avenue.

The purpose of the meeting was to continue to discuss the truck traffic to and from the plant.

There has been a history of complaints from residents of Reese Avenue, who have taken a dim view of the trucks which in their estimation have picked up since the beginning. Their voice, which is continually heard at council meetings is that of Earl McColley, councilman from that ward.

In Monday night's meeting, the problem was again aired, as well as a possible truck route to alleviate the trucks from using Reese Avenue. According to one councilman, he would be dead and buried before his grandchildren would see a truck route around the City.

Burris extended an invitation to residents of Reese Avenue to tour the plant they can see from their homes. It was felt the residents might have a better view of what the plant does if they could personally inspect it. The tour will be following the April City Council meeting.

The Burris plant is a major industry in the City, employing 125 in the plant, an estimated 30-45 being from Harrington.

During a short business meeting preceding the speaker, Robert Taylor, Sterling Mock and Harry G. Farrow, Jr. were appointed to serve on a committee to study the feasibility of a Retail Merchants Association.

Local Craftsmen Sought With Colonial Craft Skills

The Harrington Bicentennial Committee is proceeding with plans for the Olde Towne Picnic to be held Monday, May 31.

There are many activities being planned for this day including a display of colonial crafts.

The committee is interested in hearing from anyone in the Harrington area who can demonstrate a colonial craft. Among the kind of craftspeople the kinds of craftspeople being sought are people who make corn-husk dolls, candle dippers, blacksmiths, coopers, chair caning, woodworking gun smithing, furniture making, weaving and spinning.

Perhaps readers can think of some other crafts that could be demonstrated. Call 398-4370 for further inquiries.

Doing it up like Miss America, Lisa Ann Wilson assumes her title of Little Miss Harrington in tears Saturday night here during the annual beauty pageant sponsored by the Lions Club. For those who can't quite see the charms that placed Lisa as the first choice of the judges, she is shown in the lower right portion of the picture. The five-year-old reigning queen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Wilson.

Selected as second runner up was Andrea Hodgson and third runner up was Michel Antonette Vogel.

A trophy for the queen of Harrington-Cathy Ricker was selected Miss Harrington during the annual Lions Club pageant Saturday night here. Miss Ricker, a 17 year-old, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert L. Ricker. She was also named Miss Congeniality of the contest. She and Little Miss Harrington are now eligible to compete for the title of queen of the Delmarva Chicken Pageant to be held in Salisbury June 12. Crystal Shockley was named runner up.

A flea market will go on all day under the leadership of Ellen Bollinger. Dealers are welcome.

Mary S. Cahall is general chairperson, assisted by Tyson Cannon and Lester Craft.

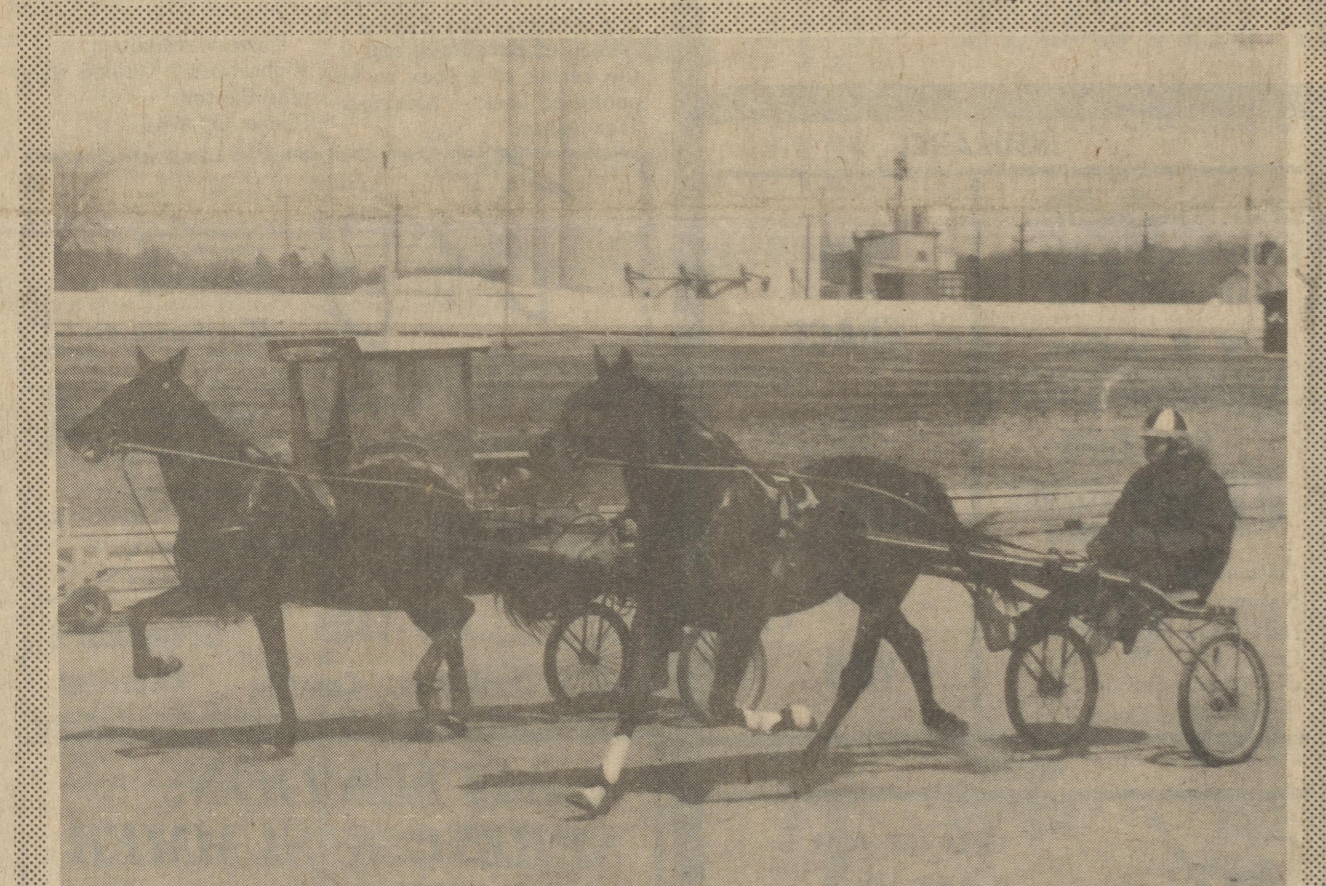

The Greenwood Bicentennial Committee will meet on Wednesday, April 2 at 7:30, either in the Fire Hall or the Bldg. & Loan room.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Greenwood Volunteer Fire Co. will hold a bake on March 27, in front of Reynolds Market starting at 10 a.m. All donations from members or non-members will be gratefully appreciated.

A dramatic film, Like A Mighty Army, the down-to-earth true story of a man in tune with his times, Hickory Ridge Congregation Methodist Church will be shown at Greenwood on Sunday, March 21, at 7 p.m.

The social revolution among young people today is frightening in many of its aspects. Even the church is being seriously questioned as to its existence and activity. Instead of responding with bewilderment and fear, a handful of people in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida led by their dynamic young minister, Rev. James Kennedy, committed themselves to the principle of providing life-changing answers for the people of their community.

In nine short years the Coral Ridge Church has become one of the fastest growing congregations in the world, growing from 17 to more than 2,000 members and needing three Sunday morning services to handle the crowds. The film is a release of Gospel Films, Inc., of Muskegon, Michigan.

The pace increases at the Harrington Race Track as the Spring Meet opening date nears. Horsemen gave their charges a brisk work out as they pass workers in the background who are in the process of preparing the track for its thirtieth year of racing. Racing gets underway at 6:30 p.m. No racing will be scheduled Monday or Tuesday evenings.

A-a-a-n-n-d-d-d- they're of-f-f-f-f....on Sunday..... Raceway Prepares For Thirtieth Year

This will mark the thirtieth consecutive year of pari-mutuel harness racing here at Harrington, the oldest pari-mutuel night racing track in Delaware and the second oldest in the United States.

Many of the first driver-trainers still actively participating include Tom Lewis, Ellis Myer, Alan Myer and Pat Hubbard. Also appearing in those early programs were such greats at Stanley Dancer, Joe Hylan and the late Paul Vineyard.

When they open Sunday night several of the old timers will be on hand plus such regulars as Jimmy Porter, last fall's leading dash winner, and Winston Lineweaver the meet's leading UDR driver.

Other top driver-trainers such as Ned Galentine, Jack Parker, Jackie Parker, Harold Frazier, Ellis Myer, Jim Scholtzauer, Walt Calahan, Charles Pitts, Danny Murphy and Grady Speers.

The meet will end on May 8th. There will be no racing on Good Friday or Easter Sunday.

Chipman Evaluated Next Week

March 30, 31 and April 1, Chipman Junior School will be visited by a team of fourteen professionals to conduct a Middle States Evaluation. Two and one half years of total staff in-service time has gone into preparation for this culminating activity. When the visiting committee completes its written report of the evaluation, the staff will set up a new series of in-service meetings to analyze the results. The expected outcome will be official acceptance as an accredited member of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The staff has undertaken a structured analysis of all areas that make up the total educational process at Chipman. Results have already proven enlightening and

Mementos Sought For Smith Building

The Delaware State Fair wishes to announce that they are now accepting articles of historic interest to be placed in the James G. Smith Memorial Building located on the Fairgrounds in Harrington.

At a recent organizational meeting between the museums benefactor, Mrs. J. Gordon Smith, Mrs. Smith's family, and a committee selected by the Fair, it was decided that articles pertaining to the history of the Fair or to harness-horse racing on the Eastern Shore would be accepted for display. It was also decided that articles could either be given to the museum or placed on loan for a specific period of time.

The building was dedicated last summer before the opening of the 1975 Fair. During the Fair, it served as a focal point for the observance of the 100th Anniversary of the Delaware Grange

Many items have been donated and Fair Officials are hopeful that the museum will be full by this year's Fair which will be held the last week in July. They point out though that they are looking more for quality items rather than quantity. Anyone interested in making a loan or donation to the museum should contact Mrs. Hattie Thomas at the Fair office or by calling 302-398-3269.

and displayed many historical items that made up the daily life of families living 100 years ago.

Riders Needed For Skating Bus

The bus taking children from the Harrington area to the Dover skating rink still needs more children, according to Mrs. Charles Bright. The originator of the idea, Mrs. Bright says between 35 to 50 children are needed to keep the bus running from Harrington to the Capital Skating Arena. She hopes the interest will continue to the extent that summer trips might be planned. For information, call 398-4301.

Denton Bridge Collapses

Travelers in this area accustomed to using Maryland 404 through Denton as a means of reaching their destinations will now have to detour indefinitely. Portions of the 65-year-old bridge spanning the Choptank River at the western side of Denton collapsed Monday afternoon, causing minor injury to two persons who were in a car on the bridge when it collapsed without forewarning.

The bridge, which is a bottleneck for beach-bound traffic, is used to carry Maryland 404 into the town from the west, which is the main route for Denton, the Caroline County seat.

Detour from the west will be on 404 east of Queen Anne, which will mean going on Maryland 480 to Greensboro, then south on 313 to Denton.

It has been requested by town officials in Greensboro that all traffic northbound from Ridgely on Md. 480 go to Harris' Exxon station at Md. 313 and turn south to Denton there.

Since Greensboro city fathers would like to ease traffic on an old bridge in that town, they are requesting those northbound vehicles to use route 313 to 480 at Harris.

Traffic heading south and to Easton will have to make a 20 mile detour to Bethlehem or Preston.

According to state police, Janet Hutson, 52, of Denton was driving her car onto the concrete approach to the steel drawbridge middle section when the bridge collapsed. This was around 3:30 p.m. She and a passenger, Joseph Steelman, 37, also of Denton were slightly injured, were treated and released at the Easton Memorial Hospital.

It may be months before the collapsed bridge is serviceable again. No estimate was given at this writing when repairs would be made.

Yes, the bridge is up but don't wait - unless you plan to camp for quite a while. The span of the bridge at Denton stands drawn, revealing its west end which crumbled into the Choptank Monday. Since there is no word on when repairs can be made, extensive detours will be necessary for those traveling into or through Denton for an indefinite period.

Maryland Rt. 404 from Wye Mills ends abruptly in the Choptank River at Denton after the collapse of the bridge there Monday afternoon.

Addresses Chamber Of Commerce

John Purnell, representing the Kent and Sussex office of the Better Business Bureau, was the guest speaker during the monthly meeting of the Harrington Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday afternoon at the race track restaurant.

Purnell explained the function of the BBB, citing examples of how the bureau works, which according to Purnell is "helping alot of people from teenagers through senior citizens".

The BBB aids in problems arising between businessman customer, said Purnell.

Written complaints are handled through a series of steps, including mediation and arbitration if necessary.

He pointed out that not any business could become a member of the BBB, whose standards include a 'track record'. A business must be in operation at least six months before it will be considered for membership into the BBB.

Sixty percent of the complaints the office receives are unfounded Purnell reported.

The BBB also checks on charitable organizations that canvass the area.

One of the greatest services the BBB provides according to Purnell is to try "to help people spend their money through the right channels."

The office is located at 20 S. Walnut Street, Milford.

Monday
The Jolly Timers Kitchen band visited the Fletcher's Nursing Home on this day and also we were invited to play at the Dover Grange Hall on Saturday by the Dover Lions organization.

Tuesday
Dorothy Graham was at the center helping and instructing the members with ceramics. In the afternoon several members were on hand to celebrate their birthdays. George Goodge entertained us with a travelogue of slides of the Amish people from Lancaster, Pa. and several slide and scenes of Hamburg, Pa. were on the list.

Wednesday
Sewing and ceramic projects were conducted in the morning. In the afternoon Claudia Holden and her partner were here again with recipes they prepared and served the members.

Thursday
Bingo was played later.

Friday
We had 10 bowlers with five members going over the 200 mark. Fred Littman, one of the new members, pulled down 290 pins; Elbert Stevens had 288; Jim Koniencki had 282; George Goodge had 271; and Dan Noel had 211. This is a fine thing for senior citizens, good exercise and a way to show a person over 65 that he can still be able if he is still capable of standing on his feet to keep up with the good ones.

Friday
The spotlight this week falls on another one of our rural members who lives on the Tug Mill Road about three miles from Milford Mrs. Frieda Wilcutts. This fine lady is called by her first name by most members. Frieda has been on the sick list most of the winter and has been unable to attend the Center as much as she would have liked to, but she was able to be with her many friends at the birthday party held here Tuesday. She was able to go bowling with us Friday.

Frieda has two boys, one living near and the other here in Harrington who is the husband of Clara Swain. Frieda has learned to make beads since joining the Center and has quite a number of strings for herself and the Center.

Al Brauer is still in the hospital and Dora Taretsky was taken back again Thursday.

Would you like to take a trip to Las Vegas? Short of time? Short of money? Well, the Lake Forest Athletic Boosters have solved your problems. Tomorrow night, Friday, March 26 at 7 p.m. we'll have a 'lil bit of Las Vegas at the Lake Forest High School cafeteria.

Casino night will begin at 7 p.m. featuring poker, blackjack, casino, roulette, bingo and games for the littlest players too. Dealing the cards, spinning the wheels and calling the numbers will be the coaches from LF school district.

Now for the best part, you can play all the games with funny money (play money) and you can purchase $500 worth of it for only $1. Yes, that's right, five hundred dollars worth for one dollar.

After the games end at 10 p.m. and 11 p.m., you will be able to bid on prizes donated by merchants of the district. You can pay for them with your "funny money" winnings.

All proceeds will go to help defray the cost of the Athletic Banquet the boosters hold at the end of the school year.

This really sounds like a fun "happening" and a bargain to boot.

Lake Forest North Elementary first graders and primary learning center students discovered where that white liquid they put on their morning cereal comes from last week.

The five first grades and learning center students made this educational and fun trip to Mr. William ica's most raucous periods, the 1890's. Brenda Collison (Annie) is in her second season with the Singing Players. Presently from Harrington she attended Lee College in Cleveland, Tennessee. dian of Woodbridge, informed the school board that some of the residents of Greenwood as a result of the problem were without water for a short time.

Wells' dairy farm about about miles west of Felton. Accompanying their small charges were the following teachers and aides: Mrs. Cheryl Dill and Mrs. Jean Wothers, Mrs. June Ward and Mrs. Doris Bostick, Mrs. Lois Woodward and Mrs. Carolyn York, Mrs. Shirley Nickle and Mr. Chris Moore, Ms. Kathy Killay and Mrs. Connie Kemp, Ms. Nancy Campbell and Mrs. Mimi Stoops.

In My Opinion.....

Ed Note: The following opinion contribution was the result of the removal of the bathroom doors at Lake Forest High School this week.

by Carole Glasspool

The saga of the bathroom doors at Lake Forest High School decidedly and graphically demonstrates that we have a communication gap between the School Board of this district and the residents.

The reason given for removing the doors was to combat vandalism. Vandalism to me and to most people means destruction of property.

Gambling is not vandalism; but when a student is pitching nickles or quarters that is his lunch money, that's a very real problem.

Education does not stop simply because we have a diploma. If the board of education wishes to have community cooperation to combat a problem, they must assume a responsibility for educating and informing adults to those problems.

If parents are not aware of what problems exist how can they be expected to react favorably to a solution when it involves an action such as this.

It has long been my feeling that the lines of communication between the board and the school community including parents, should be opened wider than they are at the present time.

Parents must accept their share of the burden to close this gap, also. Just because we elect people to serve on the school board does not mean we can relinquish our responsibility to know what is happening.

We cannot turn all that responsibility over to five men who are after all human beings and subject of the same frailties as everyone else.

Remember, if you are part of the solution, then you are part of the problem!

Weekly Report

By Senator Joseph Biden

This week, the Senate Subcommittee on Intergovernmental Relations began hearings on legislative proposals that I consider to be among the most significant to come before Congress since the passage two years ago of the Congressional Budget Act, which streamlined the way Congress sets Federal spending priorities.

The hearings that began this week are important, because they are focusing attention on an area of government that needs reform. It is my hope that the hearings will lead to adoption of a zero based budget procedure. Such action would be the most significant legislation since adoption of the Congressional Budget Act in 1974 -- and it would demonstrate that we are serious about finding more effective ways to handle Federal programs and Federal spending.

Reduced to its essentials, the idea is to force every government program to justify itself periodically, from scratch -- or from a "zero base."

Introduced one of the bills under consideration last July, and variations have been proposed by others since. Under the bill I am sponsoring, every Federal program would go out of business every four years, unless specifically re-authorized by Congress after a searching examination process.

The proposal is significant because it promises a mechanism that will help us cope with government spending, much of which goes for programs that have outlived their usefulness.

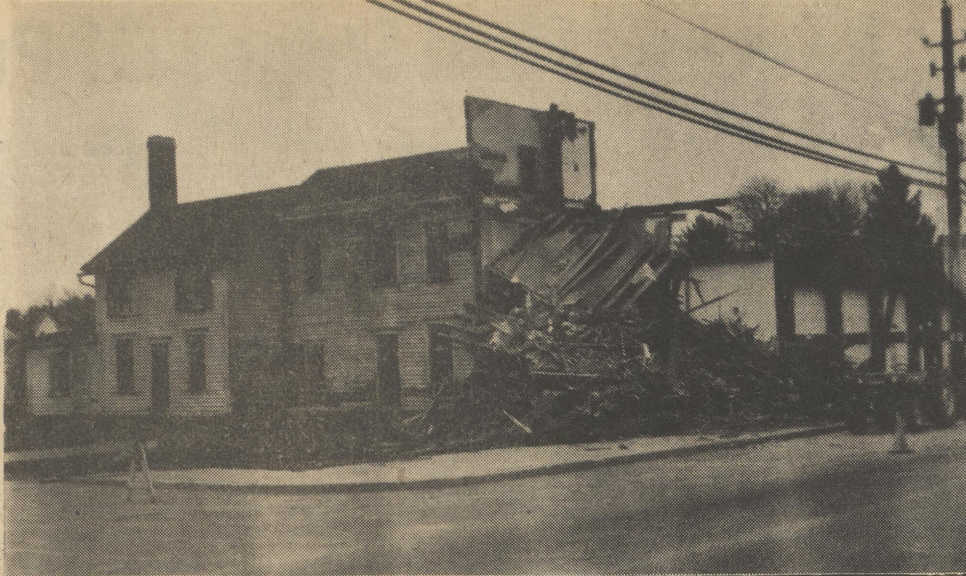

The need is for a procedure that will automatically force Congress and the Executive branch to review Federal programs in a calm and dispassionate way calculated to bring results.

Don't Be Poisoned By Common Plants

All that's poisonous in your house may not be in a locked cabinet or out of reach of small hands, no matter how careful you are. You may have poisonous substances growing on your window sill or in your garden, says David Tatnall, extension garden specialist at the University of Delaware.

Tatnall says there are four house plants in particular which can cause harm if eaten: the leaves and stems of dumbcane; the berries of the Jerusalem cherry; all parts of Oleander; and the leaves and sap of the poinsettia.

Some of the more common yard and garden plants which can poison are: the berries and leaves of Common Privet; berries, leaves, and bark of Daphne; the

This old property which is known as the Luff property in the town of Felton, has needed some upgrading for years. It has recently been purchased by the Felton Fire Co. and was demolished last week the behest of the new owners.

Felton Loses An Historic Site

by Barbara Jacobs

Ed. Note: Because of an omission of parts of the following article from last week's issue and because of the interesting historical aspects of the article, it appears in its entirety below as originally written. We regret the omission.

I guess this Bicentennial year is making everyone sit up and take notice. Area residents are doing a lot of cleaning up, painting and restarting their projects.

This is what has happened to the Luff Property after many years of none really caring for the beautiful old homestead with its history back to the early 1800's.

The Felton Fire Co. purchased the property to enlarge their building and parking area as I understand sealed bids were given by local construction Co.'s and our own local man has won the sad job if it as it was Ray Starkey Construction Co. who started the painful job of taking apart this once lovely home.

It was a new undertaking for Ray who did a fantastic job with his crew of men. This also gave plenty of excitement for the youngsters and oldsters for the entire week. The old stories of this home were being told as we stood there seeing board by board and brick by brick being loaded into the dump trucks and being hauled away.

A real bit of excitement took place when we found out that the oldest part of this home was going to be restored by Mrs. Robert Hemphill. This section of the Luff home was the middle section and the oldest. It is of the empire period and belonged to Thomas Jefferson Moore of Berrytown.

We think it was moved in town around 1840. Mrs. Hemphill will move this section to her property and restore it. She already has a Chippendale sofa for the living room. Most of us know Mrs. Hemphill is very interested in preserving history and antiques. Sometime in the future she has the idea of starting our very own Historical Society. Wouldn't that be great?

Another great undertaking is that of our town council. Across from the Luff property the corner of Main St. and Railroad Ave. is the new Memorial Park. It is dedicated to those men who have made the supreme sacrifice for their country. The monument has been moved from its old place at the Felton Hardware Store to the Park.

Notice also the new fence around the property and the lovely trees and shrubs also four (red) azaleas at the base of the monument. I'm told that as soon as Delmarva Power and Light place the two colonial lamp posts the sidewalk will be paved and the flag pole erected. Three cement benches have been ordered for us all to sit on one time or another. All of this has been accomplished by the generous donations of the Felton area residents.

Observe Poison Prevention Week With Safety

printed in The Journal as a community service

One of the most serious medical emergencies facing young children today is the hazard of accidental poisoning, according to Mary Ann Finch, extension family and child development specialist at the University of Delaware.

Children under the age of five are in stages of growth and development where they are constantly exploring and investigating the world around them. This is the way they learn, and they should not be discouraged, emphasizes Ms. Finch, but, unfortunately, what they see and reach for they put in their mouths. Parents must be aware of these characteristics and carefully store potentially poisonous household products away from a child's reach.

Common household products such as furniture polish, drain cleaner, lighter fluid, and turpentine, as well as prescription drugs, have the potential of poisoning a child. Parents can observe precautions to minimize this danger in the home.

Ms. Finch suggest that adults keep all household products and medicines out of the reach of children, and, preferably, locked up when not in use. If they are being used, they should not be out of sight of the adult. Carry that open bottle of furniture polish with you when you answer the telephone, says Ms. Finch, or put the top back on the store it out of reach.

In addition, medicines should be stored separately from other household products, and items should be kept in their original containers--never in cups or soft drink bottles, which are inviting to children. All products should be properly labeled and the label should be read before using.

Because children like to imitate adults, parents should avoid taking medicine in front of children, and, further, should never refer to medicines as candy.

Ms. Finch advises that medicine cabinets be cleaned out periodically and unneeded medicines disposed of when the illness they were prescribed for is over. In addition, adults should make proper use of safety packaging, which is required by law for potentially poisonous substances found in the home.

drugs, and automobile antifreeze. Among the products which are expected to be covered by the safety package requirement are paint solvents, veterinary prescription drugs, and iron-containing drugs and dietary supplements. Other products containing pine oil, ammonia, and camphor are also being considered for coverage.

The usefulness of the new safety packaging, which make packages more difficult for children to open, depends upon the correct use by the adult. The user must be certain to close the package securely after use. Ms. Finch urges that adults read the written directions for opening and resealing the safety feature, and especially advises that users keep the contents in their original safety container.

If a child does accidentally swallow a poisonous substance, quick action is necessary, emphasizes Ms. Finch. Parents and babysitters should know the numbers of

Open Letter to Chipman Parents

Dear Parents,

The pressure is on this next couple of weeks here at Chipman. For the eighth grade, in particular, many activities are still to be accomplished. A number of parents who attended the open house at the high school Wednesday night have had conferences with me the latter part of the week.

With state tests under way this week I will not have time for parent conferences during the school day. However, despite the fact that the evaluating committee will be here the week of the 29th, I expect to go on in my usual manner seeing both students and parents.

I have been reminded that I did not go over the high school handbook page-by-page with every class to have them indicate in their own books which courses were open to ninth grade students. In one instance, at least, it seems that I explained the courses orally and wrote the electives on the board, leaving the check-offs in the handbooks to the discretion of the individual class members.

As I write this now, it does not seem to have the significance it had when the student pointed out that I had misinformed their parents about what activities I had carried on in guidance class.

However, I did not deliberately make a false claim, and I should like to state that my variation I made in my method of presentation was either purely accidental or was changed to meet the apparent needs of a particular group.

If my failure to have your child check off ninth grade classes in his handbook caused you any inconvenience I am sorry and do invite you and your eighth grader to call the school for an appointment if you feel that further clarification would in any way be helpful at this time.

With all this concern about eighth grade students you may be feeling that seventh grade students are forgotten. Such is certainly not the case, and I urge you to encourage your seventh grade students to get in touch with me if they think I can be of help.

Remind your children that not only the teachers but also the students will be acting as hosts and hostesses for the visiting committee next week.

Until next week! Sincerely, Sarah S. Webb Counselor

Thoughts.....

By Senator William Roth

Government bureaucrats ought to be required to fill out the forms they impose on the rest of us. Maybe then they would think twice before they create more paperwork.

At last count there were more than 5,700 different in use by Federal agencies alone. Each year, the Federal Government spends in the neighborhood of $18 billion to produce, handle, and store all this paperwork.

The Government's paperwork requirements are especially troublesome for the small businessman.

Small businesses play an important role in our economy. They provide livelihoods for millions of Americans. Because many of these businesses have very small work forces, interminable paperwork requirements pose a serious problem.

The problem stems in part from the fact that government regulations are too numerous and often too far-reaching. Many are not only unclear but also unreasonable. Whatever their original intent, many do more harm than good.

I think it is time we cleared away some of this bureaucratic underbrush. If small businesses were allowed to use their time and resources for more productive purposes than extensive record-keeping for the government, we would all benefit.

New Yorkers Attend School Here During An Exchange Week

by Millard Ellingsworth III

During the week of March 14-20, Lake Forest High School hosted 22 students from West Seneca, New York.

The exchange was to allow students from another school and geographic background to learn about other types of life. In this case, the students came from (a urban city) environment.

They arrival Sunday morning by bus. Monday evening, they attended a covered dish dinner at St. Stephen's in Harrington.

A trip to Washington followed on the next day followed by a hike down the nature trail at Killen's Pond and a trip to Eliason's dairy farm on Wednesday.

Thursday afternoon brought an excursion to Marker's hatchery and a tour of Dover Air Force Base.

The students also viewed the Marine Biology Laboratories and the Marines Museum in Lewes on Friday. The returned home Saturday morning.

The majority of the students reportedly liked the school. They said it was much smaller and allowed them to be closer and get to know more people. Many were enthralled at the surrounding area which they thought was beautiful. Several came upon new experiences.

"We went to a dairy farm yesterday and I got to milk a cow, I've always wanted to do that...today we're going to the hatchery and I've always wanted to do that, too" exclaimed Eileen Kausner, a senior who stayed with Barbara Rich-ter.

Although he really liked the school, Darill Suffoletta remarked that "It's a slower pace of life...there were a lot less things to do here." Several of the things to do in West Seneca are: indoor ice skating, year round swimming, the theater and skiing, thanks to the mountains. He also noted a difference in distance. "Three miles here isn't far at all, while three miles there is a long way because everything is so close together."

All of the students seemed to enjoy themselves as well as learn something.

Contract To Restore Court House Awarded

The contract for the exterior restoration of the Old Sussex County Court House in Georgetown has been awarded to Helco Engineering and Construction Company of Wilmington. Their low bid was $55,893.

The contract includes shingling the walls and roof, installing doors and windows, replacing cornices and bargeboards, and reconstructing the chimneys. Also as a part of this contract, the cupola, as shown on the 1795 map of Georgetown, will be reconstructed.

When completed the Old Sussex County Court House will reflect the 1791 period in which it was built. The first floor will contain the courtroom. This one room was sufficient to carry out most of the judicial duties for the county. The grand and petit juries attained access to their individual jury rooms by separate stairs. At times when the courts were not in session, these upstairs rooms were used by the clerks.

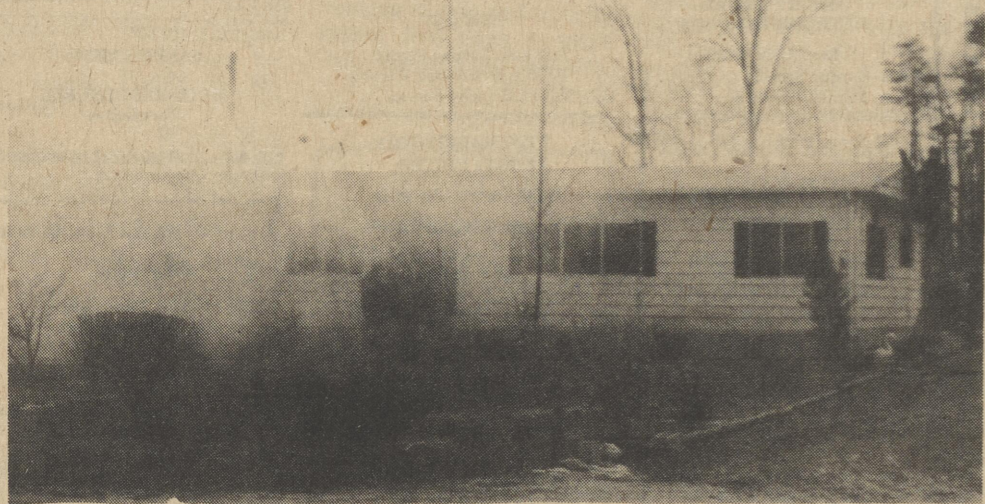

The Division of Historical and Cultural Affairs will soon begin assembling furnishings of the Old Sussex County Court House. Memorial gifts would be welcome. Delawareans who wish to contribute should contact The Division of Historical and Cultural Affairs at the Hall of Records, Dover.

The work on this phase of the restoration, scheduled to begin in a few weeks, should be completed by the beginning of June. During this period the contract for the completion of the interior and the landscaping will be prepared for bid this summer. The court house will be open to the public this fall.

At the time the fire occurred Mrs. Fritz was visiting her mother while Mr. Fritz was having a cup of coffee with the neighbors. A neighbor about a quarter mile down the road turned in the alarm. According to Houston Fire Co. Chief Harold Appt, a terrific amount of heat built up inside causing some of the windows to pop and also causing extensive damage to the home. The Chief would also like to thank the Harrington Fire Co. who stood by while Houston battled the blaze.

With just one night left in the last third, and final bowling night, Jarrell's Fuel has already claimed berth to the third play off slot, and making true the prediction stated three weeks ago. Jarrell's moves into the last night of bowling, next Tuesday with the pressure not quite as heavy. At present they are 5 1/2 game in front. Dur-A-Clean, running 4 1/2 games behind Jarrell's, hoped to give them a big loss and put themselves 1/2 game out of first. However, Jarrell's never let up, as they took three big points from them and filled the third play off slot. Congratulations, men!

Burris Foods stepped back up into second place by defeating Quillens Mkt all four points. Ned Cover paved the way for Burris with a fine 583 series. He was assisted by Ron Keily's 215 game and 555 series and Buck Thompson's 210 game. Donald Wilson struck for Quillens with a 205 game. They shot two games up in the 850's but were edged out twice by just a few pins. Fry's American stuck hard at Robbins and downed them for everything. They pulled themselves up into a tie for second place. The Jesters did the shooting for Frys and all scratch game were 60 to 70 pins above team average. Robbins just couldn't seem to put it together.

Food Rite, who has been struggling to rise to the top, met their down fall as Mc-Knatt's cooled them off by taking three of the four points. J.D. Dennis and Harry Jack led the way for McKnatts, each having a 541 series. Frank Collins struggled hard to hold on with a 542 series, but never got the help from the rest like McKnatts did.

Moose "A" let the steam out of Penn Central and walked away with four points. Pen Central seems to be having trouble fielding five players and has been coming up in the blind lately. Dick Clegg shot a 203 game along with E. Gallo's 211.

Butler's Fuel has been inching their way up, but tonight they split two and two with T & M and rested in seventh position. T & M managed to shoot above team average just one time as did Butler's Fuel.

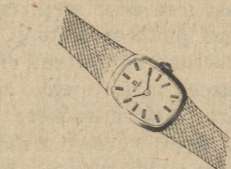

The Spoilers saw their greatest win lately, as they took three points from Wally's Garage. Leonard Outten set the high series, with a 576, while Jack Sapp set the high game for them, with a 237. Real nice, but it will never put meat on the table. Wally did strike back with a 202 game and a 547 series.

Moose "B", who was thought to be up plugging away for first, had dropped steadily to the bottom ranks. However, they did strike hard tonight as they pulled four points from Big John's. Chip Shaw set the high game for Moose, while Bill Kohel had a 202 game for Big John.

Another favorite prediction I predict no team will catter Jarrell's Fuel. I like sure things!

Samuel Tibbitt, who provided the information and extended an invitation for hunting, said he and his family bagged 51 of the masked creatures during the season. The hides fetch around $11 each. Most of Tibbitt's hunting is done around Greenwood, he reports and the hunting starts around 8:30 p.m. to around 1 or 2 a.m., depending "on the moon".

Tibbitt said he had been hunting for more than 50 years. "We looked forward to the Saturday night" hunt, "when we were boys" Tibbitt said. He says some nights, the hunt would yield as many as five or six. What happened to the catch? It's given to people who like to eat the meat, the hides are kept by the Tibbitts. No waste there.

Mack Rewrites Record

Freshman Beverly Mack, former Lake Forest All-Conference cager, practically rewrote the women's basketball record book at Wesley College during the past season as one of the mainstays on the distaff Wolverine team that posted a 15-2 record - the best ever for the Wesley women cagers. She won the scoring honors in the First State Conference with a 28.0 average and a single game high of 33. In the overall season's play in 16 games the former Spartan athlete, had 407 points for a 25.4 average.

Her single game high was 39. With another season of eligibility remaining she could easily become the first Wesley College distaff cager to score over 1,000 points in her two year Junior College career.

Not only was Mack adept in shooting she was just as effective as a rebounder and consistently hit well into double figures in practically every game.

Other honors accorded the former Lake Forest cager were being named on the All-First State Conference team and on the All Region 19 Tournament team.

Wesley College coach Joyce Starkey feels that Mack showed steady improvement over the season and has the potential to be even more effective in her sophomore year.

"Players coming from the high school ranks to college basketball have to make some adjustments," said Starkey, "and have to learn to play as a team rather than individual standouts like they often do in high school. In this respect I feel that Mack greatly improved over the season and with practically a veteran team returning she will no doubt be even more effective next season."

Lads and Lassies

NO PRACTICE NEXT WEEK DICK!!

by Terry Clegg
With only a few weeks to go in this final third of the Lads and Lassies Bowling League, four teams are battling it out for the top slot. The Goldiggers brought the Strikers to their knees Monday night and also down from the top position they held with the 4-Aces last week. The Strikers now find themselves tied for first place with the 4-Aces, M and P's and Pinbusters.

Mary Bergold and Doris Buck were the high rollers of their team as Mary rolled a 170 and Doris a 160, 167 and 167. These scores, added with those of their teammates, gave the Goldiggers three big ones. The Strikers, none of whom seemed to be able to get going, had to settle for one game.

Also bidding for the top slot are the M and P's. This team has really come alive since all members are back together. With Al Melvin rolling a 192 and 212 for a 581 series (high series for men) and Claire Melvin a 189 and 179 for a 503 (third high series for women), Friends Four could do nothing but to sit back and watch four games go down the drain.

Terry Clegg tried to rally her team with a 165, 171 and 160 but her teammates couldn't get going. Dick Clegg rolled a 259 in a practice game before bowling on the league and couldn't do anything when it came time for it to count.

The third team tied for first place are the 4-Aces. The ladies had to do all the bowling (well, maybe not all) for their team. Joan Edwards rolled a nice 178 and Linda Johnston a 160. I did hear the male members had good games but not enough for them to be on the high game sheet. The 4-Aces had to go home with only a one game win. All members of the Campers were on Monday night as all had really nice games.

Sam Lyons paved the way for his team with a nice 205. Reds Friedline followed suit with a 202. The women of the team were not going to be outdone by the men. Mary Friedline rolled a 177 and Betty Lyons a 166 and 173. These scores gave the Campers three big games.

The Pinbusters, fourth team tied for first place, won the first third of the season and are not eligible to take this third if they should finish in the top position. This does not stop the Pinbusters from rolling good games and adding wins to their column.

I'll give you one guess as to what women captured high game and series for the night. Edna Mae Layton took it with a 169, 168 and 199. Her teammates added their games to hers and three games were added to the victory side of their bowling sheet.

The Spares had good games but were just unable to keep up with the powerful Pinbuster team. Martha Vogan rolled a 172 to help her team capture their one game win.

Moose I, upset by their four game loss last week, came back to the bowling alley with winning on their minds and they did. Dennis Mullins and Sharon Anderson lead their team down the victory trail with a 194 and 160 respectively. Their teammates added some nice games and all total, Moose I walked out of the bowling alley with three games.

The No-Mads are really having their share of bad luck this third. Finding themselves tied with Friends Four for the loest position on the roster, this team just can't seem to get together and roll any good games. Better luck next week, No-Mads!

The Dy-no-mite team exploded Monday night and the Misfits found their team caught in the fall out. Charles Fluharty lit the fuse for his team as he rolled a 195 game. Cheryl Wingo added a big 180 and 178 for a 517 series (second high series for women). These scores gave the Dy-no-mite team three games. The Misfits were not without their good games. Patti Friedline had a 188 and Gail Lutz a 165. Gary Singleton was missing from the line up... Wonder what happen to Superbowler?!!

Last but certainly not least, we come to Moose II and Mickey Moose. From these two Moose teams, Mickey Moose came out the victor. Taking three games from their brother and sister Moose, Gene Wright captured high game with a beautiful 235.

Moose II had good games too, but not enough to take the lead from their opponents. Leroy Wheeler's bowling is looking better and better as the weeks go by and he is starting to bowl like himself. Leroy had a 191 and 195 game. Leah Wheeler, like Leroy is starting to come back on the bowling trail with a 166 game. Leah has been fighting her way back after an illness that has lasted quite some time. Good luck, Leah.

In closing I would like to say that this is my first year writing a column on bowling. If anyone has any ideas as to how this column can be improved upon, I would gladly accept any suggestions.

Trout Season Opens April 3

The 1976 freshwater trout fishing season will open on Saturday, April 3 a half hour before sunrise.

The Division of Fish and Wildlife of the Department on Natural Resources and Environmental Control will stock eight streams in northern New Castle County with 30,000 rainbow trout in the 8-10 inch size and 1,500 trophy trout consisting of brown, brook, rainbow and golden trout. Stockings will take place periodically from the end of March into May. Designated trout streams and the areas to be stocked include:

White Clay Creek -- Pa. line to dam at Curtis Paper; Brandywine Creek -- Alapocas Woods to Market Street bridge; Mill Creek -- Brackenville Rd. to Rt. 7; Pike Creek -- Rt. 72 to Henderson Rd.; Christina Creek -- Md. line through Rittenhouse Park; Beaver Run -- Pa. line to Brandywine; Wilsons Run -- Rt. 92 to Brandywine; Red Clay Creek -- restricted to fly fishing only from the Pennsylvania state line to Yorklyn.

The daily limit and possession limit to six trout with the exception of Red Clay Creek when the daily and possession limit is four in the section restricted to fly fishing only. On Red Clay Creek, trout may be caught and released as long as the four trout possession limit is not exceeded. All trout released must be returned to the water as quickly as possible and with the least possible injury.

Male anglers 16 years of age and older must purchase a trout stamp in addition to a fishing license to fish for trout. Resident males over 65 years or under 16 years of age, and women when accompanied by a licensed fisherman or anyone who has a lawful right to fish do not need a license or a stamp.

It is unlawful for any person to fish by any means in designated trout streams during the two weeks before the April 3rd opening of the trout season.

For more information on complete fishing laws and regulations, write the Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Control, Office of Information and Education, Edward Tatnall Building, Dover, Delaware 19901 or call 302-678-4506.

by Millard Ellingsworth III
Students of Lake Forest High School were astonished to find the doors to the lavatories missing last Tuesday morning.

Many wondered if it might be a new sexual revolution, or maybe a new outbreak of vandalism, but these were not the cases.

Preliminary questioning of an administrator revealed it was done by the school board to "modernize" the school and the administration had nothing to do with it. No further explanation was forthcoming.

The situation brought an immediate retaliation from the students. Petitions were started, signs were posted, and gripes were heard. Students felt that it took away some of their privacy in which in their opinion was unfair.

It took a call to the school board president, Mr. Albert C. Price, to pin down the real reason for the removal of the doors. The main reason was "there was a lot of bullying in there against the smaller boys...the larger ones bullying the smaller ones."

They (the school board) thought that there was still smoking going on but "We suspected that was the pot smoking." Their abrupt action was hopefully to prevent this from happening.

"We realized that we did make a mistake" said Mr. Price, after more than likely receiving many calls from parents on the subject. The doors were up again Wednesday morning.

Mr. Price said that the school board was "exploring ways to alleviate the situation." He is not sure what will be done about the problem, as yet.

Ed. Note: See page four for further comment from a Lake Forest High School parent, Carole Glasspool.

useful in many ways. It is our sincere desire to further utilize the suggestions of the visiting committee to make sure our students are served in the most effective manner possible.

An organizational dinner, involving Chipman staff, board of education members, and central office administrators, will be held Monday evening, March 29, in the Chipman cafeteria to begin the evaluation. This dinner will be prepared by members of the Band Boosters and served by Chipman students.

"Good Turn Day" Set

The visibility on the Jackson Ditch Road near Harrington was reduced somewhat Sunday around 1 p.m. as high winds caused the sand to swirl in the air and produce the effect shown above. Although no injuries were reported locally, two people in New Castle County died as a result of the turbulent winds that ripped through the area for about an hour. Numerous reports of property damage were reported throughout the state. Early estimates indicate more than $200,000 in damage was done by the brief but violent storm.

That's Entertainment.....

"THE OTHER SIDE OF THE MOUNTAIN" TELLS MOVING STORY OF SKIER JILL KINMONT

Championship skier Jill Kinmont, a sho-in for a berth on the 1956 Winter Olympics team, suffered a near-fatal accident while racing down the slopes in the January, 1955 Snow Cup Race at Alta, Utah. With five crushed vertebrae and a severed spinal cord, the young Californian found herself almost totally paralyzed from the neck down. Her brilliant athletic career finished... but not her will to live a meaningful life.

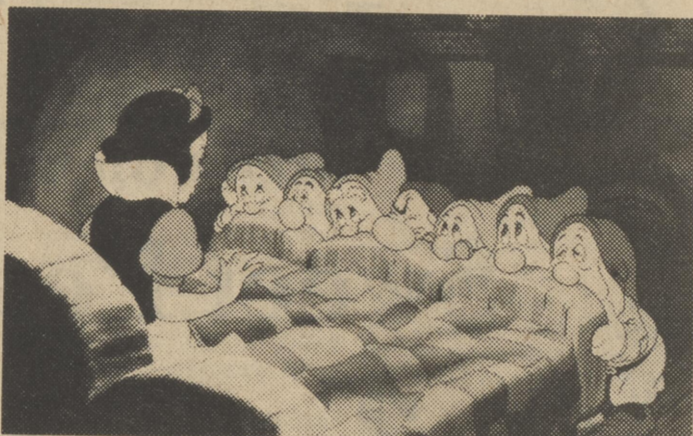

"The Other Side of the Mountain," a Filmways/Larry Pearce production for Universal, is based on this indomitable athlete's life and celebrates the resilience of the human spirit. Starring Marilyn Hassett and Beau Bridges, the love story was produced by Edward S. Feldman and directed by Larry Pearce. David Seltzer based his screenplay on the book "A Long Way Up" by E.G. Valens. Belinda J. Montgomery, Nan Martin, Dabney Coleman, Bill Vint and William Bryant are co-starred.

"The Other Side of the Mountain" was personally initiated as a film project by Feldman, senior vice-president in charge of motion picture production for Filmways, Inc., who read a pictorial essay on Jill Kinmont in the September 1, 1972 issue of Life Magazine. Ms. Kinmont was no stranger to him; his three children attended Hawthorne Public Elementary School in Beverly Hills, where she is a remedial reading teacher, and he had often noticed her moving from classroom to classroom in her wheelchair, skillfully negotiating ramps constructed especially for her.

Jill Kinmont herself served as technical advisor on "The Other Side of the Mountain."

Jill Kinmont, who was an Olympic ski contender at the 1955 Snow Cup Race at Alta, Utah, is shown as she appears today (right) as a California elementary school teacher, is portrayed by Marilyn Hassett in Universal's "The Other Side of the Mountain," a Filmways/Larry Pearce production. Edward S. Feldman produced and Larry Pearce directed in Technicolor, from a screenplay by David Seltzer.

SURPRISE VISITOR... The seven dwarfs are surprised to find a girl sleeping in their beds in this scene from Walt Disney's animation classic, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." In color by Technicolor, the Academy Award winning cartoon feature is being re-released by Buena Vista.

Multiplane Camera Perfected for Disney's "Snow White"

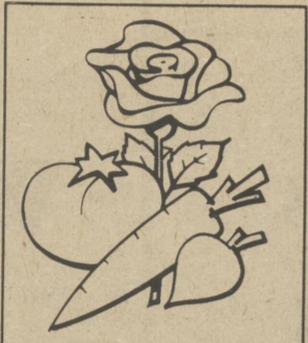

The multiplane camera, a photographic innovation discovered and developed by technicians at Walt Disney Studios, first reached a high degree of perfection in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," Disney's classic full-length cartoon scheduled for re-release at Christmas.

Introduced as an experiment, the special camera was designed to endow certain animated scenes with a third-dimensional quality by photographing the cartoon characters working within painted backgrounds on several levels. It was first used in a cartoon short, "The Old Mill," and won itself, and the short, separate Academy Awards.

Operated with a gigantic vertical crane that supports up to seven levels or planes, each carrying a component part of the overall background painted in sections on plate glass, the multiplane camera shoots down through the scenery capturing the action of the animated characters as they are moved about within the background planes, thus achieving the three-dimensional effect.

The camera is of infinite accuracy. Each plane may be lighted separately, moved individually or jointly, closer to or farther from the camera lens, or at different speeds, depending upon the complexity of the scene to be photographed. The end result produces a realism and vitality never before deemed possible in animated motion pictures.

In color by Technicolor, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" is being re-released by Buena Vista.
