Will Also Get New Uniforms Police Force Beefed Up Here

Police matters and zoning dominated the time during the Harrington City Council meeting Monday night.

Police Chief Ed Layton had said in an earlier Council meeting that the City needed four men to operate the local police duties and giving the City full-time protection without having to rely on the State Police. His recommendation passed Monday night. Council voted to hire two of the applicants who had applied for the recent vacancy. Council further decided to leave the part-time position open if needed, but the force will consist of the four full-time officers. This is a boost from the current two full-time and one part-time man.

Jack Wyatt, police commissioner, voiced the opinion that the two candidates selected had excellent credentials. This view was also held by others present.

Councilman William Shaw queried about the four men, "How much is it going to cost us?" According to the City's budget, which was figured for four full-time and one part-time person in the police department, $41,620 has been earmarked for the year. This figure also includes some overtime work.

The newly reinforced department will also be wearing some new uniforms. The present uniforms cost the City $1200 annually for laundering. The City is looking for some wash and wear uniforms to replace the present ones. Since there are no uniforms for the two new officers, the department will have to find two uniforms at least. This, coupled with the laundry bill, and as Chief Layton pointed out "Our uniforms are, in sad shape at the present time" has put the City in the market for replacements.

There is $1500 in the budget for uniforms. The City has received one price of $882, which would provide four shirts and trousers for the four officers.

Also under consideration are citizen band radios for the police department. Council is considering three mobile sets. Further information was needed, Council felt, before deciding to authorize purchasing these units.

Arthur(Buck) Cahall of Planning and Zoning Commission reported on the commission's recommendations regarding a request for rezoning a portion of land behind Watkins Auto Supply, the Texaco station and the Pensupreme. The request was made by a firm wanting to have the area rezoned for the purpose of

Good Friday Service Set

The annual community Good Friday service will be held at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church on Raughley Hill Road here at 7:30 p.m., April 16.

Prior to the regular service, Melvin Brobst will be playing the church's new Allen digital computer organ, which was installed last Wednesday. Mr. Brobst will play appropriate seasonal music from 7 to 7:30 p.m. as well as for approximately 20 minutes following the service.

The Rev. Alvin Willink of Asbury United Methodist Church will deliver the message during the evening service. It has been the custom for members of the local cleric group to take part during the various sections of the service.

The decision to hold the annual service at St. Stephen's was a change from the original plans to have the service at Asbury.

manufacturing. The concern involved wishes to stamp out plastic washers. The commission felt more information regarding the use of the proposed land would be needed before it could make a determination.

Mrs. Joann Clough of the Bicentennial Committee presented the $50 savings bond to Mrs. Shirley Temple during the Council meeting. Mrs. Temple's crest entry had been selected by the committee as the winner from a field of 62 entries.

Mrs. Clough said the crest was being processed on 250 plates. These will be available later this year.

A new citizen in Harrington, Mr. Robert L. Wagner of Wolcott Street, requested the City consider adopting a municipal tax information guide. This, he pointed out, would be helpful for new residents in the city, as well as for anticipating City bills into one's budget. The Council tabled the idea for further study.

Absent from the meeting were Councilmen John Satterfield and Earl McColley.

Following the meeting, the Council and several of the members' wives toured the Burris plant.

Mrs. Shirley Temple (r) was named winner of the Bicentennial Crest contest at the Harrington City Council Meeting Monday evening. Mrs. JoAnne Clough, chairman of the Bicentennial Committee presented her with the $50 Savings Bond.

Annexation Discussed At Felton

Monday night councilman Don Jacobs called for a time and place to hold hearings on proposed areas for annexation to the Town of Felton.

For decades, this small Kent County town has had growing pains. Thirty years ago the Town fathers did not wish the Town to grow and expand. Today's councilmen, however, are seeking ways to forge the Town ahead.

Myers Construction Company owns a large block of land to the northwest of the Town and they are seeking, in a low keyed manner, to be annexed to the Town. The end result as Jacobs sees it, and has pointed out in the past meetings, is that it would bring in additional revenue to the Town.

Jacobs called upon the councilmen to set a date in April for hearings. Mayor Myers suggested that the Felton Fire Co. be contacted to clear a time with them to hold the hearing in the firehall.

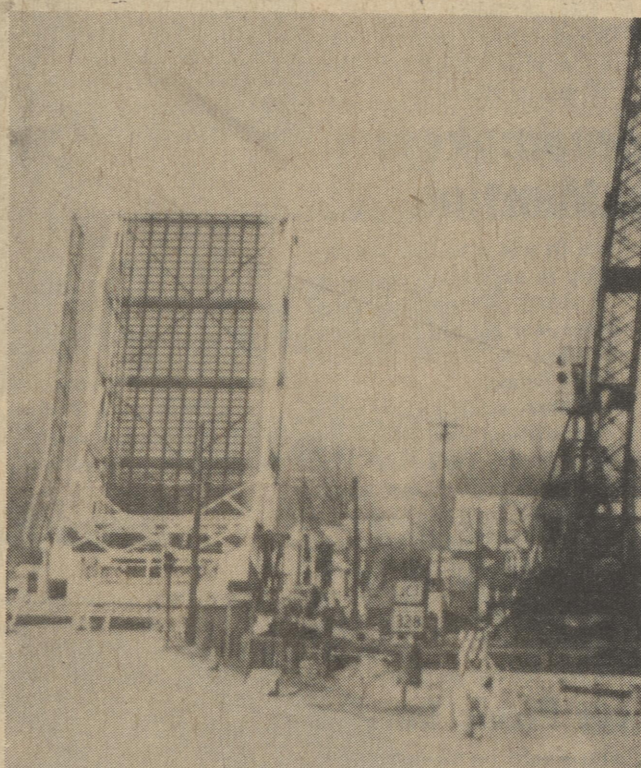

Tax assessments and re-valuation of properties captured much of the discussions at the Town meeting.

Mayor Myers suggested that three independent appraisers and assessors be sought to make suggestions and recommendations on assessments. Myers said "...I believe you will find that the assessments for the most part (currently) are right." He added "...there have been some additions put on some places and improvements made on others."

As the State Highway Administration of Maryland promised the footbridge for pedestrian traffic over the fallen Choptank River Bridge has opened within two weeks of the collapse of the old bridge. On Tuesday several people were taking advantage of the footbridge and according to one of the workers, "There is always a crowd of people using the footbridge."

While the footbridge is completed the work is continuing on getting the old bridge ready for the heavy summer traffic. Officials have hopes that repairs on the old bridge will be completed within six weeks.

Open House Set For Local Guard Unit

Harrington's Detachment 1,200 Signal Company, of the Delaware Army National Guard is planning a Bicentennial Open House for Saturday, April 10. The program theme is to be "Spend an Historical Day with the Guard."

Scheduled for 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. the open house will be held at the Charles Corbit Armory on South Liberty Street. According to Company Commander Clarence E. Workman the unit plans a "full day of activities."

Designed to provide the community with a look at the Army National Guard past and present, the open house will try to trace the Delaware Guard's history from its militia beginnings to its signal communications mission of today.

On hand for the program with the historical portion will be a representative of the American Rifles, the Army Guards ceremonial unit. Dressed in full revolutionary outfit he will be on hand to discuss Delaware's part in the revolution and explain the militia's uniform and weaponry.

In addition, static displays of current equipment are planned, to include a UH1H "Huey" Helicopter, radio and teletype equipment, and an operational signal van.

Tours of the armory are planned and refreshments will be served all day. Guard personnel from the community will be on hand to assist and answer all questions.

Everyone from the local community is invited to spend an historical day with the guard. Make it a point to stop by and see how the militia grew out of the community and how the guard is a part of the community today.

Good Turnout For duPont

by Carl Hill

U. S. Representative Pete du Pont (R) met with 50 interested citizens at the Lake Forest High School, 8:10 to 9:20 p.m. Monday, April 5. An invitation was extended largely by a letter from du Pont's office. The Congressman was 10 minutes late and apologized for his tardiness due to a vote on the funding of the swine flu shots for all Americans this fall.

Du Pont offered his help to all people present if they would register special problems with his assistants. This was the second session of town meetings which have proven successful and he hopes to continue them.

The congressman restricted his remarks mainly to his office as congressman with little mention of his forth coming campaign for governor of Delaware.

Some of the concerns of the meeting centered on Conrail, the semi-private system of running the defunct Penn-Central railroads here. The poor condition of our railroads in du Pont's view is ascribed to government regulations which prevent a reasonable profit and labor unions.

Revenue sharing described as being good and of a long term benefit. The government returning money to the community is important said du Pont because the community knows the needs better than Washington.

The questions of mail rate raises and "lousy mail service" was also discussed. According to du Pont bulk mail and the poorly run system are to blame. The local post office does a good job but Washington and the regional offices are inefficient. The newspaper lobby and junk mailers headed off rate raises in their area and therefore the public subsidizes them. What is needed said du Pont is a good cleaning out and starting all over, keeping the mail system out of control of Congress.

The Social Security Program, which is in trouble, will sustain itself for about 15 years and then drive dire troubles will result unless rates are raised and unrelated programs in the welfare department are removed, was another point of discussion du Pont entered into.

If elected to governor what does du Pont see as the crime problem? The answer was poor enforcement and suspended sentences for repeat offenders. Delaware law says that juveniles over 16 can be tried as adults and should be. The courts should have mandatory sentences for armed felony offense. Capital punishment should be reinstated. The police are doing a good job at apprehension but the court system is not working properly, needing more prosecutors, and of plea bargaining, and mandatory sentences.

The congressman closed the meeting with a cordial note of appreciation for those who attended.

Police Car To Be Identified Houston Council Reorganizes

Last Thursday night, the Houston Town Council, in a reorganization meeting following the Town election held on the 27th of March, made Leonard Rollison the President of the Town Council, Harry Towers, Secretary, and Pauline Morgan, Treasurer and Tax Collector.

The newly elected members to the Council in addition to Rollison are Virginia Twilley and Tom Surdukowski. The latter two were appointed to the Building Commission Committee for the Town.

In a well-discussed issue of whether or not the police car should have identification decals on the doors met with some opposition, particularly from Police Chief Al Holt. Harry Towers introduced the issue before the Council in the form of a motion. According to Towers he felt a marked car is like a policeman in uniform "...it can prevent crime before it happens, and it also gives the citizens a sense of comfort knowing that a policeman is around." Holt on the other hand said the time has not elapsed long enough to test whether the unmarked car will be effective. Holt further pointed out

Formal Applications Begin In May Housing Project Nears Completion

Robert Moyer of the Delaware Housing Authority and two members of his staff met with members of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Monday night in response to Rev. Bruce Shortell's request to see how they might help local people in the process of applying for the public housing project nearing completion northwest of Harrington.

Mr. Moyer, who has been involved with public housing for over twenty years, gave a brief history of housing in the state, as well as the current project in Kent County, of which the 50 units near the city is a part. There are 165 units in all being built in Kent County, 60 units in Smyrna, 54 in Camden, and the 50 here.

The project, which is called a turnkey project, is built by Leon Weiner Associates of Wilmington. Upon completion and settlement, the entire project will then be turned over to the Delaware Housing Authority.

Moyer says that inquiries have been coming in regarding the local site since last July. Formal applications, however, will begin sometime around May 1. He said that letters would be sent out to all who have inquired, but that the formal applications must be made.

Local people would be given preference, said Moyer, followed by residents in other areas of the county if needed, he continued.

The application takes about 45 minutes, and will be followed by verification of the information given in the interview. For those who qualify after the project is filled, a waiting list will be formed.

Who will be eligible? The range will be between those who have annual income between $5825 and $10,400 with a family of eight or more.

The rent the tenants will pay in the project will be based solely on their income, not on the size of accommodations, Moyer said. This amount will be 25 percent of the family's income.

The requirements for eligibility is a person or persons whose income is 90 percent of the median income for the county, including a breakdown into family sizes and then applied.

Moyer said the Delaware Housing Authority will be completely responsible for the maintenance of the project. He said that where these projects had not been a success, it was because of the maintenance and community involvement in the overall project.

Moyer said he viewed the project here as one that might help families with upward mobility. He said it will be "an educational process" and could help families "get it all together".

The fifty units when completed will be four one bedroom units, 18 two bedroom units, 18 three bedroom units, eight four bedroom units and two five bed, room units.

The Harrington site will hopefully be completed by May 15, with a target date of moving people into the site by July 1.

Fire destroyed this very old brick and frame dwelling located just beyond Prospect Church on Rt # 14 west of Harrington. The farm was known as the Raughley Farm, and it is believed that the brick section, being the oldest section, was built in the mid-1700's. The bricks were brought over from England. The Harrington Fire Co. was summoned to the scene on Thursday night but before the house was beyond saving. The Fire Marshall's Office in Dover has the matter still under investigation.

Senior Citizens

Monday
This was a busy day at the center with Dorothy Graham painting ceramics for the Spring Bazaar April 9th. No band practice but the men had their usual pool playing.

Tuesday
Ceramics again was the main work with Dorothy; this year we will have much more in this department to offer to the public. Something different is being made in woodwork from the shop with the new cradles made by Elbert Stevens, which can be used for a child's doll or a paper rack - also some beautiful string art work by Sam Short.

Don't forget this worthwhile project and stop in and be served beginning at 11 a.m. Good old-fashioned homemade soup, ham and turkey sandwiches, coffee and tea.

Wednesday
More ceramics, pool, and bingo on this day and the visit of the health nurse, Charlotte Pepper, taking blood pressure. A doctor in the health department was here to show us a film on the heart and explained the cause of high blood pressure and heart attacks and stating what hypertension is and the cause and the treatment needed.

Nellie Tyler returned after being out sick for two weeks. We still have three members at the hospital Dora Taretsky, Benny Moore and Al Bruer.

Thursday
Still making ceramics and planning for the bazaar.

Friday
Bowling and shopping day again with 11 bowlers, five went over the 200 mark with Fred Littmann as top man with 264 pins, Jim Koniencki 246, Elbert Stevens, 245, Andy Anderson 238, George Goodge 236, for each member with two games each.

This week the spotlight falls on one of our newer members who joined us a little less than a year ago - Fred Littman. He has been a great asset to our bowling team.

Fred and his wife Marian moved to Delaware from Brooklyn, N.Y., and live near Statonsville.

Fred really throws a hard ball when he bowls. No wonder he gets good scores. He is well liked by all the men and the center members, as well. He is easy going and gets along with all.

Will Help Local Track

The House passed legislation last Thursday that will give harness race tracks a permanent tax break, especially those handling races of nine or more horses.

A temporary measure passed last year to primarily aid Dover Downs also aided the local track. In a telephone interview with general manager George Simpson, as he stated the permanent bill's effect for Harrington Raceway means "We'll stay in business...without it we wouldn't."

The local raceway created "$1 million dollars in purses and payroll" into the local economy last fall, according to Simpson.

Weekly Report

By Senator Joseph Biden

For the past week, the Senate Budget Committee (and its counterpart Committee in the House of Representatives) has been hard at work setting Federal spending "targets" for the 1977 fiscal year, which begins on October 1.

It's all part of a new Congressional budget process. While we held a "trail run" of the system last year, this is the first time Congress will be making full use of the new system mandated by the Budget Control Act of 1974.

The idea is to make sense out of the way Congress decides how much money we spend, and what we spend it on.

Under the old system, Congress annually passed a dozen or more appropriations bills. They were passed independent of each other, and they accounted for about 60 per cent of all Federal spending. The remainder was pretty much uncontrolled spending. Since all of this we've handled piecemeal, we never added up the overall total. No wonder we've had 15 deficits in the last 16 years under both Democratic and Republican presidents!

The new budget system seeks to bring order out of this chaos. Basically, it provides that each spring, Congress sets a series of spending "targets" for the coming fiscal year. These targets guide summer months. Then, each fall, Congress takes another look at the budget. If, for example, the economic condition of the country has changed, Congress can decide it needs to change Federal spending. It incorporates any changes (if needed) in a second concurrent resolution, which sets the final budget for the fiscal year that begins October 1. If Congress has appropriated too much money, or too little, to meet the budget, then the system requires that appropriations be "reconciled" to meet the budget.

This is, of course, a simplified explanation of a very complex process. But I hope it shows just how serious an effort it really is. As one of the charter members of the Senate Budget Committee, I'm committed to making the new system work. For that matter, I believe we need more reforms — such as a mechanism to limit the life span of Federal spending programs. But until those reforms are passed, the new budget system is our best chance to come firmly to grips with Federal spending, and make sure that our national budget matches the needs and priorities of our country.

Thoughts.....

By Senator William Roth

With the deadline for filing Federal income taxes again close at hand, most of us are keenly aware of the high cost of government. In the Senate Subcommittee on Intergovernmental Relations, we are conducting hearings on legislation that would go a long way toward improving how our Federal tax dollars are spent.

This legislation, which Senator Edmund Muskie and I introduced, would require that Congress review, top to bottom, all Federal programs in each major policy area at least once every four years. This would force Congress to recognize the need to choose between competing claims for those tax dollars.

The ideas of zero-base budgeting and automatic termination dates for programs, which are part of our bill, are not in themselves new. They have been suggested for more than a decade, and several states, including Georgia and New Jersey, have put similar reforms into effect.

What is new is that under the legislation, all spending programs in a broad functional area, such as welfare or health, would be reviewed at the same time so that our resources, which are limited, can be allocated wisely. And, for the first time, a bipartisan panel of Senators are working together to introduce these reforms in the Federal government.

For the first time, Congress would view spending comprehensively rather than on a program-by-program basis.

Senator Edmund Muskie and I are encouraged by the interest and support which many in Congress have expressed. A companion bill in the House has already gained 80 co-sponsors.

The defects in the present procedures in Congress are clear. Many programs serving similar objectives have been established in such areas as welfare and law enforcement. Today there are more than 1000 separate federal domestic programs. Nearly four-fifths of these programs have been added to the Federal budget since 1960. One result is that the program objectives set by Congress have been lost in the confusion of competing programs.

Our proposal is that all programs and agencies in the same policy area be reviewed simultaneously to encourage consolidation in duplicative programs. The review would raise these questions: What are the program's objectives? What is its cost? Is the objective attainable at reasonable cost? Is the program accomplishing what was intended? How can government become more effective?

We believe Congress needs a procedure to force action and guarantee a periodic and comprehensive evaluation of existing programs and agencies. We believe these reforms are necessary to restore confidence in the effectiveness of our government.

The Museum is expected to be ready for opening by June 19 which is the date for the festival day at Bowers Beach.

Letter To The Editor

April 5, 1976

Mr. Harry G. Farrow
Editor
Harrington Journal
1 Commerce Street
Harrington, Delaware 19952

Dear Mr. Farrow:
In the March 26th issue of the Journal, an article describing the meeting between City Council and Mr. John Burris, owner of the Burris facility on Reese Avenue, contained a statement made by an unnamed Councilman which apparently created some concern and perhaps even aroused some anger among your readers and others who were told of the article and statement.

First, for the record, I was the Councilman who made the statement. Secondly, if my memory is correct, your article is basically correct with regard to WHAT I said; however, I believe when I made the statement, I referred to my CHILDREN and not my GRANDCHILDREN. I can overlook that minor error since it had no effect on the overall meaning of the statement. Upon reading it, I must say that I was dismayed to learn that whoever had informed you as to what was said placed me in the grandfather category while I am still in EARLY middle age. (Do I really look that old?)

When I first heard of the comments and possible anger, I was puzzled as to why this should have occurred; however, after I carefully read the article, it became apparent that a reader could have been misled.

Permit me to explain. The initial phase of the meeting was related to Reese Avenue. Topics such as number of trucks, noise, speed, pavement life, city taxes and other items DIRECTLY related to the Burris operations were discussed at length with Mr. Burris by members of Council. After the discussion on the aforementioned topics, an unnamed Councilman brought up the subject on a bypass that would get all truck traffic out of town. Since the subject of the discussion had been changed from Reese Avenue to the bypass, I made the controversial statement.

I realize that in the Council Meeting of February 9, the Council voted unanimously to request the state to construct a bypass. If the minutes of the meeting are checked, you will find that I advised that a quick response to a request for a bypass would not be forthcoming, nor would it be for a long time, due to lack of state funds for Capital Improvements.

In other words, I am not against the bypass, but I tried to be realistic when the subject was brought forth. However, the article in the Journal connected the use of Reese Avenue by trucks from Burris with the bypass, making it appear as though I saw no solution to the Reese Avenue situation. This is not my position.

If I disturbed some citizens with my statement, I regret it, however to repeat, it pertained only to a Route 14 bypass to eliminate truck traffic on Clark and Commerce Streets.

My disturbing statement was made not to alarm, but only to express my opinion, which I concede may be wrong, but was reached only after careful evaluation and study on my part.

Rather than refrain from making disturbing statements, I have a feeling I will be making more because I always try to speak the truth and sometimes the truth IS disturbing.

Very truly yours,
Gary B. Homewood

Do you know what a worker in a drafting job is called? If you say draftman, you're behind the times. The correct job title is drafter - it's one of the many sexist job titles recently changed by the federal government.

The drafter communicates ideas by drawings. Drafters convert sketches or notes prepared by engineers, architects or designers into detailed plans, with exact dimensions or specifications for the entire object and each part.

Drafters are employed by engineering firms, engineering departments of manufacturing firms, architects, construction companies, public utilities, and federal, state, and local government agencies.

There are many areas of specialization in the drafting field, but the main ones are:

Mechanical drafting - this is the largest branch and includes product design and engineering, tool design, auto body design, patent drawing, and machine drafting.

Architectural drafting - this branch includes architectural plan drawing, structure drafting, heating and ventilation drafting, plumbing drafting, and electrical circuit drafting. Architectural technician is a related occupation requiring drafting and other skills learned in a two-year technician program.

Harrington also has its unidentified flying objects when Ayeta and Jan Fowler sighted the objects at 8:45 p.m. recently as they were walking north along the railroad right-of-way. The objects were described as flying north, at an altitude of several miles, were oval shaped and as the children explained, were circled in red, with a green center. They sounded like jets and traveled very slowly.

Spring, isn't that a great word? I just know all of us housewives can't wait to get started with the spring cleaning. Just look out your windows and see all the beautiful spring flowers and dogwood trees just ready to burst open.

All this brings us to the Felton Bicentennial Committee donating 30 ornamental cherry trees to the Town. Fine very conscientious men donated their Saturday to planting these lovely trees. They were distributed from Lake Forest School all the way up Main St. to the west end town limits, as well as on Church St.

There are 30 more trees on the way to be distributed throughout the town. As they bloom it will make our town really lovely. We are asking every resident to make sure these trees are treated with plenty of T. L. C. (tender loving care). Anyone with a shovel is asked to help Saturday at 1 p.m. Contact Donald Jacobs or Bill DeLong if you can help this Saturday. Many thanks to the Felton Fireman who with the help of the weed wagon watered the trees after they were planted. Representing the Bicentennial Committee were Dwight Stephens, father and son team William and Billy DeLong and Donald Jacobs, representing the Boy Scouts of Felton were Joseph Sherwood. Where were the rest of you Scouts?

Congratulations are in order to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mahoney of Mahoney's Markets on Main St., Felton. She won $100 on the state lottery. Hope you do it again.

We are sorry to hear Mr. and Mrs. Fred Greenly of High St., Felton, are moving to New Orleans in the very near future. Good Luck to you Fred in your new position.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jacobs had house guests this weekend from Easton, Pa. Mrs. Rayette Hulsizer and Mrs. Dot Abbott visited Rehoboth Beach Convention Hall Sunday for the showing and sale of bottles and antiques. They would like to invite anyone interested to the Fork of the Delaware Bottle Bicentennial Show Oct. 24, 9:30 to 4:30 in Easton, Pa. For further information contact Mrs. Harriett Skovrousky, 307 Liberty St., Easton, Pa. 18042 or phone 1-215-258-3683. Anyone with any news or friendly gossip please call 284-4096 between 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. any day.

Miss Tammy Butler celebrated her first birthday Tuesday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Butler of Felton.

Trackmen Make Good Showing

Jim Blades' Lake Forest high school track team engaged Glasgow High's big-school squad on the host team's all-weather track.

No score was kept in the practice scrimmage, but Lake Forest performed creditably.

Chuck Carter and Bob Mullane were the Spartan standouts. Carter's 53.4 quarter mile and 2.03.1 half mile makes the lanky senior a threat to set school records in both in his only season of track.

Carter later anchored the mile relay quartet, to a 3:42.6 clocking. Harry Benson, Ron Loper and Craig Kashner ran the first three laps. Craig also ran a fine 54.9 440.

Mullane cleared 5 feet, 9 inches, in the high jump as did sophomore Tim Mc-

Combs, a lifetime best, for the latter, McCombs is No. 3 on the twenty-year, Harrington High - Lake Forest list and has three full seasons left.

Kevin Thomas jumped five feet, four inches. Mullane and Gusti Voshell made 10 feet in the pole vault. He and Jerry Custis did a 17.8 and 17.9 respectively in the high hurdles.

Mullane capped a day of fine efforts with a 44.4 time in the 330 hurdles. John Moffett had a 47.5 in the same event.

Mike Benson and Stacey Sams promise to keep Lake Forest respectable in the horizontal jumps. Benson long jumped 19-3, then triple jumped 40 feet 4 inches. Sams did 18-8 and 37 feet, here. Mike, then teamed with Tony Smith, Charley Scott and Kevin Pritchett to easily outpace Glasgow in a 48 second, 440 relay.

Smith and Scott ran 10.8 and 24.4 in the 100 and 220, respectively. School record holder in the 220, Greg Pritchett did not compete because of a muscle pull.

Harry Benson and Dan Parker went 2-3 in the mile run. Benson clocked 4.45; Parker was a second back. Chris Palmisano ran two miles in 10.33.

Doug Warrington upped his lifetime shot put mark. Warrington hurled the 12-pound ball 37 feet, 6 inches.

Chuck Carter spun the discus 107 feet, while John Clarke threw 113 feet in practice a day later indicating the discus event, will have adequate coverage.

team took the second third.

Next on the list are the ever ready 4-Aces. Taking three from the befuddled Strikers, the 4-Aces were boosted to the third place position. Joan Edwards fired in a nice 196 game and with the help of some nice games by her teammates, this team went home hoping to keep up with the M and P's and gain the top position for the final third. The Strikers struck out Monday night as they won one game. Their one game win caused this team to be bumped down to the number six spot on the standing sheet. Hang in there Strikers, anything can happen these last few weeks of bowling.

The fearless four on the Dy-no-mite team demonstrated to the Moose I team how to get the ball down the alley and win three games. Flo Dopirak started the ball rolling with a 162. Just for good measure, her husband Joe added a 208. The big hammer of the night for women was Cheryl Wingo with a 211 (high game for women). Way to roll, Cheryl!

Even with Moose I's three game loss, I must say that this team had good games too and gave it all they had. Dennis Mullins and Sharon Anderson were the strength of this team with Denny rolling a 204 and Sharon a 174.

The Goldiggers, tied with Moose I for the top position last week, had their share of troubles Monday night. Mary Bergold rolled a 164 and her teammates had good games to bust high handicaps only let this team take one game. Even with this set back, the Goldiggers are still in contention and will be giving it all they have to gain top spot.

The Spares are still in there plugging away. Even though they only managed to take one game from the Campers, they are only four games out of first place and they, too, will be in there fighting for the top slot. Martha Vogan's 180 and Jay [Continued to page 11]

Seventeen Wrestlers Compete in Junior Olympics

by Linda Flemming

Seventeen wrestlers from Lake Forest School District participated in the opening rounds of the middle-Atlantic Amateur Athletic Union Junior Olympic Wrestling Tournament held March 27 at Newark High School.

Competing in the intermediate division were Larry McCombs (140), David Shultie (105), Kevin Satterfield (148), Vincent Ware (140), Jimmy Fleming (133), Mike Gannon (140), Randy Ramirez (126), Mark Stayton (140), Jesse Gallo (105), Brian Ecenrode (75), and Ken Williams (100).

Junior division wrestlers were Charles Jones (70), Bobby Fleming (75), Gregg Ecenrode (75), and Craig Ecenrode (80). Also competing were Dave Lapinsky (85-midget) and Scott Fleming (70)-bantam.

Two finalists in each category from Delaware joined six from New Jersey in advancing to a Regional Tournament held April 3 at Glasgow High School. Representing Delaware from the district were McCombs and Lapinsky who won first place honors, and Gregg Ecenrode and Scott Fleming who placed second in the state in their weight classes.

Lapinsky, a Lake Forest East fifth grade student, went on to win a third place bronze medal in the regional competition by losing 7-6 in a closely fought bout with the eventual tournament champion.

None of the local contingent will advance to the finals which are to be held at Franklin and Marshall College in Lancaster, Pa., April 10.

The Junior Olympic Wrestling Tournament is held each spring throughout the United States. In Delaware proceeds benefit United Cerebral Palsy of Delaware, Inc.

Twenty-Seven Year Record Broken

A track record for three year old trotters at Harrington Raceway of 2:07 established in 1950 by Guy Hamilton no longer stands. It took 27 years to be broken but the sensational three Year Old trotting filly, Kitty B, lowered it by a full second Saturday night when she trotted the mile in 2:06h.

This daughter of the great free-for-all trotter, Carlisle, out of Secret Passion surely shows the making of a super trotter.

She was making her fourth 1976 start Saturday night, having won her three previous starts. She trotted in 2:05 4/5 two weeks ago at Dover Downs, thus making her the national season's champion three year old trotting filly on a 5/8 mile track. Saturday night she became the national season's champion on a half mile track.

Although the weather was rather nasty Sunday night the racing was good. There were three sons and daughters of the great pacing sire Adios Harry win her Sunday, Rattlethecash, Pepper's Sandy and Harry's Wizard.

The spring meet will run until May 8th, racing Wednesday thru Sunday. The track will be closed Good Friday and Easter Sunday. Post time is 8 p.m. except Sunday when post time is 6:30 p.m.

This top filly is owned by Mr. Arthur Lusby of Chestertown, Md., trained and driven by Hubert Jackson of Queen Anne, Md.

As the second week of racing begins here at Harrington the quality of racing has been the best ever. The attendance and pari-mutuel betting is up 15% over the corresponding period of last year.

Battling it out for the third base spot are [left] Ricky Moore and George Luff. Luff was the teams regular third baseman last season and appears to hold the upper hand again this season.

One of the newcomers on the team this season is second baseman Glenn Witt. Witt has experience playing second base in big league play last season.

The Spartans open up the season today against Dover Air and one of the veteran returning players will be shortstop Wayne Voshell who last season was one of the teams leading hitters.

Attention!!!

ATTENTION: Boys and girls, ages 9 to 12 years of age who are interested in playing Little League baseball. You are required to register Thursday night April 8, at the Greenwood Elementary School at 7 p.m. in the auditorium. You must bring your birth certificate and be accompanied by one of your parents. At this time we would also like to recruit some of the fathers to serve as umpires, as try to bring Dad. This will be the only opportunity to register. Try-outs will be held Saturday, April 10, at 12:30 p.m. at the Greenwood School with the rain date Saturday, April 17. Don't forget, if you don't attend Thursday night to register, you can't try-out.

Little League News

There will be a general meeting of the Harrington Little League and the Ladies Auxiliary Monday, April 12 in the second floor of the First National Bank at 7:30 p.m.

All ladies are requested to attend this special meeting of Lady's Auxiliary. Both parents of players are requested to attend. Umpires are needed.

Misfits. Claire Melvin put the pedal to the metal and took off with a 169 and 188 for a 507 series (second high series for women). Claire seemed to be the only one able to carry her average as her teammates were just high enough for the team to take the four games. Their worthy opponents, the Misfits, had a bad night as no one on that team seemed to be able to put it together. Even with their four game loss, the Misfits are assured of being in the rollofs as this

On March 14, five men from the Harrington Moose Lodge #534, bowled in the Lower Delaware Bowling Association Tournament held at Milford Bowling Lanes in Milford. Out of the seventy teams that entered the tournament, Harrington Moose "A" team came out on top. The winners of the tournament were: Snookie Gallo, Junior Gallo, Ken Baker (front row). Back row: Dick Clegg, Al Melvin. The five man team bowled a 3150 series with each man rolling all games above average. They were awarded with patches, first place trophies, and best of all $300 to be divided between the five man team. To Moose "A" team, congratulations and good luck in future tournaments.

Moose Captures Tournament

A Moose Pool Tournament was held at Easton Moose Lodge, Easton, Md., on Saturday and Sunday, April 3 and 4th respectively. Once again, our own Moose team from Harrington Lodge #534 came out on top. They made us very proud and brought home the FIRST PLACE TROPHY, along with individual trophies for each man on the team. This is the third time that this team has won a first place trophy. They also won a second place trophy in February.

Participating in this tournament were three teams from Maryland - Easton, Edgemere and Highland Lodges plus two teams from Delaware - Harrington and New Castle Lodges.

The Highland team placed third while Easton placed second and naturally Harrington placed first. The members participating from Harrington Lodge were: Captain Al Morris, Eddie Jones, Mike Graham, Sam Faulkner, Bobby Faulkner, Bobby Carroll, Jr. Porter, Louie Overstreet, Harold Cain and our own Governor of the Lodge, Dick Crouse. Each player should be congratulated for a job well done since they never lost a set. You must lose two sets in order to be knocked out of

Woodbridge Opens Against Smyrna

Coach Jym VanSciver's varsity team have played three pre-season games and scrimmages already for this young season. They were able to record victories against Parkside in Salisbury (2-0) being the strong right arm of Rich Tull who gave up only two hits while striking out 10 batters. Joel Topper came in relief for Tull. Next they turned the tide against North Carolina by winning 13-2. This gave saw Kevin Dewey throw a few. Dewey normally plays third base. Cambridge then went down 3-2 which saw Tull go the route against the Cambridge team. The first loss came at the hands of J. M. Bennett with a 7-6 defeat on the winning run being scored in the final frame. Topper got the loss.

This year's team shapes up as follows: Clifton Hardesty, C. Gary Baker, 1st, or 3rd, Jimmie Vandervende (2nd base), Joel Topper, SS, and Kevin Dewey, 3rd base when Tull pitches or SS when Topper pitches. Barry Breeding will be in LF, Mike (CF) and Kevin Baker (RF). Kevin Baker and Rick Tull are co-captains for this year. Reverse outfielders Mike Rust, Reserve catcher Glen Divil and reserve infield Paul Cahall.

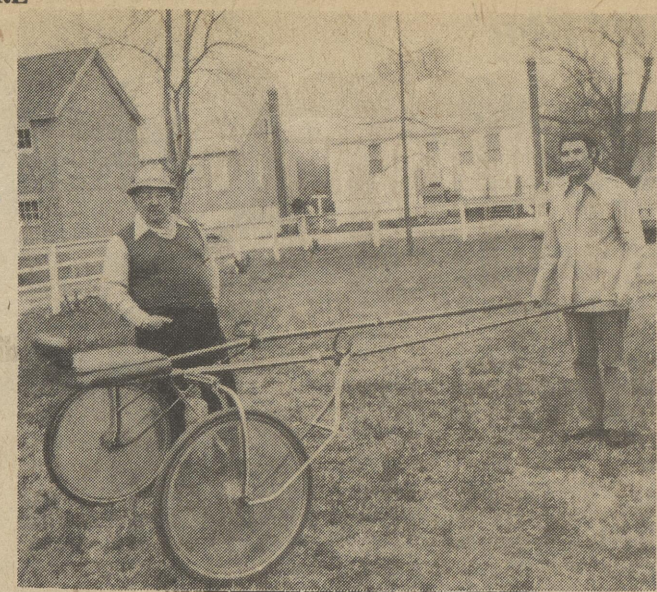

The team's record last year was 7-5. Rick Tull had a record of 5-2 with an ERA of 1.50. Tull possessed a 1-0 shutout over Sussex Central of 10-0, and a 1-0 shutout over Dover. Topper had a hitter to his credit last year over DAFB.

The Raiders play Smyrna today at Woodbridge.

Chipman Talent Show Set

On April 9, the W.T. Chipman Jr. Band is sponsoring a Talent Show in the W.T. Chipman gym. The show will begin at 7:30 p.m. and last until all talent has been presented. There will be a 50 cent admission price for all. Children under six will be admitted free. The first prize winner will receive $20, $10 for 2nd and 3rd and $5 for 4th and 5th.

Charles Price, Sr. of Wolcott St. stands behind a sulky which he recently constructed. Price's son Phillip holds the shafts. According to local horsemen, the sulky was of good quality and workmanship.

Girls Open With Win

The Woodbridge girl's team opened the season with a 6 to 4 win over J. M. Bennett last Friday. Pam Correll, a returning pitcher for the Blue Raiders, tossed Clarkson, CF, Estella Higgins (LF) and Valerie Scott or Marie Pini, RF.

The girls posted a seven and five record last year. This year is the first year for a tournament, and the Woodbridge girls hope to do their part to participate in this tournament.

an eight hitter to get the win. She also collected two hits in four bats. Kelly Davis, home for the Pennsylvania mountains for the remainder of the school year, also collected two hits in four at bats.

According to coach Kay Smith, she has two all conference players returning, Kelly Davis and Terry Rider. Kelly Davis led the team last year in virtually every category. She had a .535 batting average most RBI's, most doubles, triples, etc. Miss Davis is a catcher.

Some of the strong points the team demonstrates are batting, well balanced infield...but the weakness is in lack of hitting and very average in the outfield.

The players shape up as follows: Carol Loockerman at first base, Rochelle Messick at second, Joni Zerolles, ss, Terry Rider, third base, Pam Correll, p., Sheila

Cape Henlopen Edges Woodbridge In Track

The Tuesday meet at Woodbridge saw a fairly strong Cape Henlopen team edge by the Raiders. Cape 75 1/2 Woodbridge 65 1/2. The deciding event was the mile relay, which was won by the Cape. A win here by Woodbridge would have caused a tie for the meet. According to Coach Bill Degnan "...it is a young season."

Some of the Woodbridge winners were Pete Murray winning the triple jump 42'3", which tied a school record, and he also won the long jump of 19' 8". Spank Neal won the shot put with a toss of 49 ft. and the discus with a throw of 135 ft. 8 1/2 in. Mike Morgan jumped 12 ft. 6" to win the pole vaulting event while Donald Webb won the high jump of 5 ft. 6 in. Dave Waddler won the high hurdle in 16 sec.

The 440 yard relay was won by Rick Murray, Donald Webb, Doug Wood, and Dave Waddler with a time of 46.5 sec.

Over all the Woodbridge team won nine events to the Cape's eight victories. Te Cape came out ahead by grabbing off the second spots which enabled them to win the meet.

This was the first meet for Woodbridge this year. Last year Cape was Division II champs with Woodbridge finishing second in the State.

Lewis' 194 game this team their one game win. The Campers, too many games out to try for the top slot, aren't going to give any games away. Sam Lyons' 191 and Arno Friedline's 192 helped this team coast to a three game win.

Look out bowlers, Leroy Wheeler is bowling like fire and is back on the old high game trail. After a few months of bad luck in bowling, Leroy is back to his old self as he bowled a 215, high game for men and ended up with high series for men with a 572 set. Nice going, Leroy!! Even with Leroy's good rolling, the No-Mads took three from this team. No-Mads Linda Cooper rolled a 172 and 164 and helped her team take the three games.

This third should prove to be an exciting one as nine teams have a possibility of taking the top slot. Keep 'em rolling teams and may the best team win. Until next week, HAPPY BOWLING!

Declaration Snubbed Again

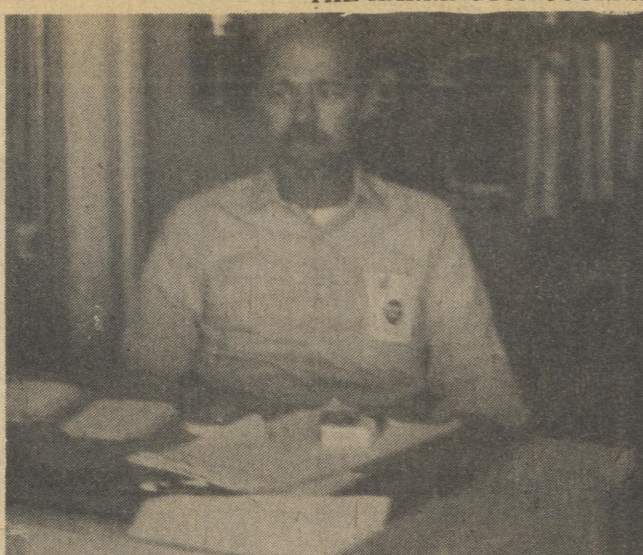

The Declaration of Independence has been snubbed again! Political Science students at the Kent Campus of Delaware Technical and Community College, Dover, recently polled over seventy-five area citizens to ask if they would sign the document. Only nineteen of them would. The poll was conducted in front of Dover's city hall, and at Rodeny Village shopping center, and consisted of asking people to read portions of the Declaration and then sign it. The poll was similar to one taken by members of the people's bicentennial committee in Delaware last year, which had the same negative results.

According to political science instructor Lowell Barrett, his students received a variety of answers, most of which were unpleasant and some of which were laced with obscenities. One student, Stanley von Essen of Felton, echoes his instructor: "The people were downright nasty," says Stanley, "and they said 'sounds like you want to start a revolution!' I was surprised because the Declaration of Independence is the foundation upon which this country is built, and some people specifically denounced it. One man said 'You young people aren't wrapped too tight - do you want to be arrested?'"

The Declaration of Independence was written by Thomas Jefferson in 1776 and was considered by some to be quite radical at the time. It severed the ties between Americans and their King, and stated eloquently many rights now enshrined in the Bill of Rights to the U. S. Constitution. According to Lowell Barrett, the exercise proved to the students that the Revolutionary War was highly controversial at the time, and that revolutions and civil wars are very serious matters in any society. "You have to realize," says Lowell, "that the Declaration was a highly inflammatory piece of literature, and it said some very unpleasant things about King George III and government in general. When you read it without knowing that it is two hundred years old, it sounds very revolutionary in deed. Americans seem to be quite satisfied with their present form of government because the overwhelming majority who participated in our poll seemed to be such strong supporters of the present system, or they simply said they didn't want to get involved.

New Owner of Discount Auto Parts in the Quillen Shopping Center is Darcey Hamscher of Harrington. Mr. Hamscher is retired from the Air Force and doesn't plan any major changes for the business.

Cantata Set For Calvary Wesleyan Church

"Hallelujah For The Cross", A Cantata by John W. Peterson will be presented at Calvary Wesleyan Church, Sunday, April 11, at 10:50 a.m. The Cantata will be presented by the senior choir under the direction of Rev. Harry Bradford, Jr. This Cantata features music and narration to retell the dramatic story of redemption. It is somewhat simple in musical construction but profound in its message.

Soloists are: Earl Griffin, Mrs. Kathy Wetherhold, Mrs. Lois Carpenter, and Mrs. Grace Bradford. Duets are presented by Mr. and Mrs. John Mervine, and Rev. Miller and Mrs. Kathy Wetherhold. Mr. James Mervine is the narrator and Mrs. Thelma Miller, the accompanist.

Rev. William H. Miller is the pastor of the local congregation and extends an invitation to all in the Harrington area to attend this special service.

It Seems To Me

Whatever happened to the Easter outfit? Not so many years ago, it seemed we all had to have a new outfit for Easter. Today retailers admit that the Easter promotion does not have much impact on clothing sales.

This is another indication that we take on more practical, relaxed, realistic view of clothing today. Other things are more important in our lives. Clothing is bought for many occasion use, and the special occasion outfit is a rare purchase.

A more relaxed idea of proper attire has had an influence, too. When women wouldn't think of attending church without a head covering, the Easter bonnet was a symbol of spring. And a new bonnet usually called for a new dress or coat. If one member of the family had a new outfit, it seemed appropriate that all members should have new clothes.

In some cases we are told that church attendance has decreased. There is no need for a outfit if we don't go someplace to wear it.

For some time fashion has been moving steadily toward seasonless clothes. Central heating, air conditioning, layered clothes, mix and match apparel, winter whites, summer darks, easy-care fabrics have all added to the idea that there really is no clothes season anymore. Aside from the winter coat or summer sun war, most items of apparel can be worn year round. The spring ritual of storing winter woollens has become a simple matter, and very few summer clothes need to be stored for the winter.

The raincoat has become the all-season coat worn in place of the spring coat or a fall topper. An extra lining extends its use for winter wear.

Sweaters are between-season wraps, an extra layer for warmth in winter, a summer shawl for cool evenings or a part of a costume.

We all have so many things to do in our busy lives, that we appreciate not having to spend undue concern over clothing choices. Clothing manufacturers are tuned in to people's needs and know we are asking for versatile, seasonless, comfortable clothes. And they are providing us a great variety so we can make choices for our individual needs and tastes.

A Film In The Making

"Against A Crooked Sky"

Writers Eleanor S. Lamb and Douglas C. Stewart had an idea -- they wanted to write about love, human love, and the greatest sacrifice anyone can make, to give his life for someone he loves.

That idea became a short story which became another idea in the mind of motion picture producer Lyman Dayton which became a script called "Against a Crooked Sky" which became an eventual motion picture starring Richard Boone, Stewart Petersen and Henry Wilcoxon.

But between the idea and the realization came large quantities of "blood", sweat, tears and talent.

Producer Dayton, who has successfully countered Hollywood's motion picture trends by making such family films as "Where the Red Fern Grows" and "Seven Alone", liked the ingredients of the Lamb-Stewart story.

The teenage star of his previous two films--Stewart Petersen--would be perfect as Sam Sutter, the frontier boy who sought to find his kidnapped sister. For the other two starring roles he would also need special talents.

One role was Russian, the sour and dour frontier trapper who unwillingly helps the young boy in his search. The other was Cut Tongue, the disgraced Indian chief who posed an actor's challenge--that role would have to be played without words, for Cut Tongue had lost his speech through torture.

Dayton set out to find the one actor who could be Russian and found him in veteran motion picture and television star Richard Boone. The role intrigued Boone, who traces his ancestors back to the famed Daniel Boone.

For Cut Tongue, Dayton went again to another veteran actor, this time Henry Wilcoxon whose acting career has spanned famed English repertory theater and Hollywood film epics.

Dayton also wanted the film to be as authentic as possible and so he sent crews out to a number of western settings, looking for the area that would provide the rugged scenery so necessary for "Against a Crooked Sky."

Finally they found Castle Valley and Arches National Park and Dead Horse Point near Moab, Utah. There they could use the mountain settings, the raging rivers, the deeply-beautiful valleys that were the setting to the story. Moab's facilities could comfortably supply the technicians and actors that would be needed for the film. Some of the city's residents and some of the Indians on a nearby reservation could be used in the film. Moab and the surrounding country were the realization of the original story, Dayton thought.

For director, the producer went to a familiar face--famed motion picture director Earl Bellamy who had previously directed Doty-Dayton's successful "Seven Alone" motion picture. Working with production supervisor Eddie Saeta the technical crew and supporting actors were enlisted, a shooting schedule was developed and plans for sets were worked up.

In Moab some of the settings were pre-fabricated by skilled craftsmen. At Castle Valley the units were put together and a complete farm set was built. In Moab fifteen local persons were enlisted as cowboys, stand-ins and other roles. At Blanding sixty-five Navajo Indians were signed up for roles as warriors and villagers. Out at the Park Avenue section of Arches National Monument a complete, authentic Indian village was built with the cooperation of the National Park Service.

In Burbank, meanwhile, co-star Henry Wilcoxon was researching books on Indian sign language for his demanding non-speaking role. He knew Indian practices and spoke some Sioux, but he had to authenticate the hand and face gestures as well as the sand drawings that he would use for communicating his lines. Soon he would meet with Boone to work out each other's responses so that Boone would know the gestured language as well.

Then it was time for Director Bellamy to call out "quiet on the set. Lights...cameras...action!"

The 26 cast members flown in from Hollywood were ready, as were the technical crew of 48 men and women.

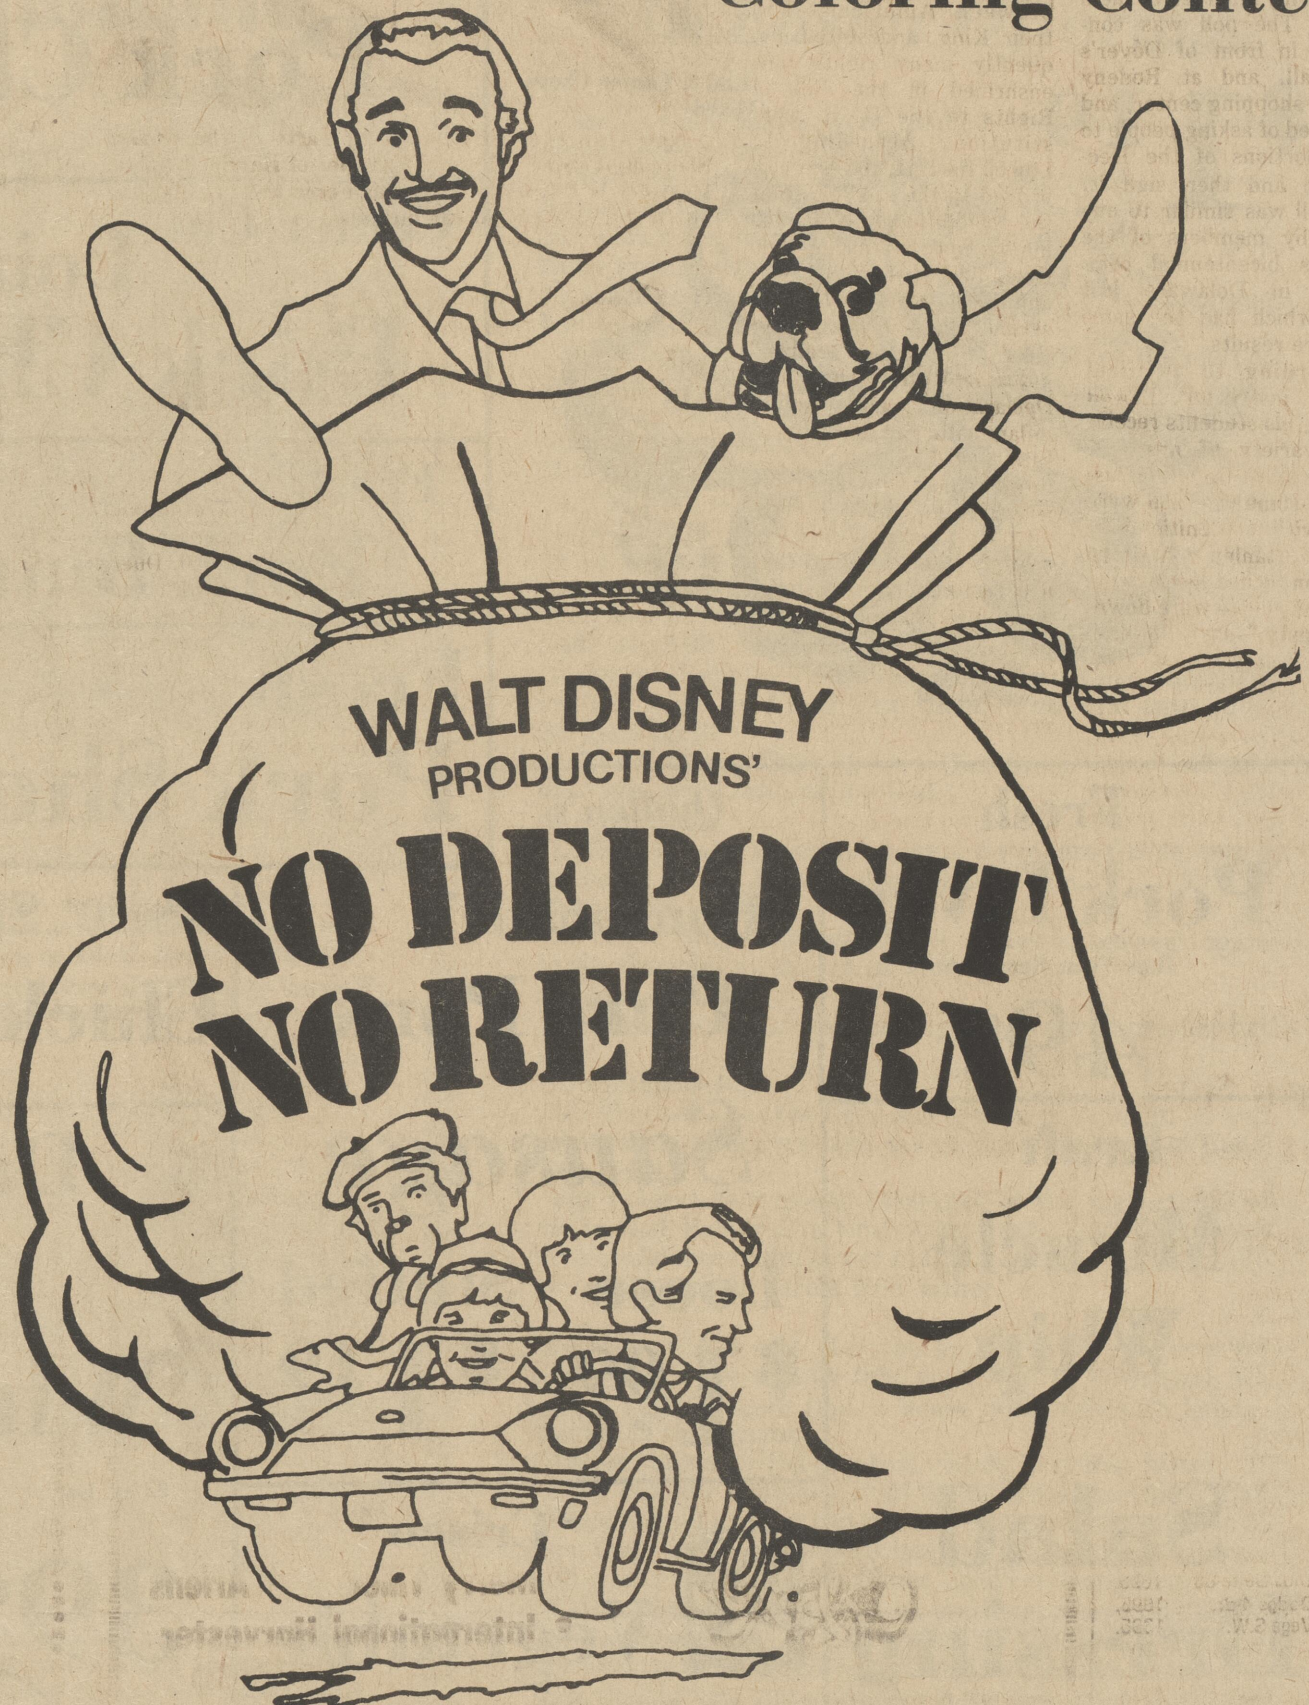

For the most part the shooting went smoothly, professionally. Occasionally there would be trouble spots. A wind storm caused an eye infection for Wilcoxon but make-up skills by Bill Turner took care of that problem. Bloody noses were daily occurrences due to the dry heat. A broken Indian sling-stretcher almost caused Wilcoxon injury but he rode out the scene for one of the best action sequences shot. Sudden wind and rain storms broke out but they would pass just as quickly, clearing the air for the dramatic scenery so necessary for director Bellamy's work.

At one time star Richard Boone showed his appreciation for the Navajos who were bused several miles daily to the setting by planning a ceremonial banquet based upon an old family venison recipe.

And one day the curious citizens of Moab showed their appreciation of their Hollywood visitors by challenging the actors and crew to a softball game--with their local championship team, an all-girls team. The "Greater love hath no man than he who gives his life for a friend."

In the dark shadows of history, lie legends of lost civilizations whose kings ruled with the power of gods, only to crumble into the dust of time. From such a place rode three horsemen, their leader wearing the gold of ancient royalty.

To the edge of the world rode two men--and a boy. One came for gold--the second for revenge--and the boy, for love.
