Swine Flu Shots Begin Next Week

DOVER-State health officials do not expect the deaths of three elderly swine flu recipients in Pennsylvania to delay the schedule for the Delaware immunization program. The Delaware health official spokesman reported being confident the deaths were not because of the vaccine. As a precaution, however, Delaware will withhold 10,000 doses that came from the same lot as that involved in the Pennsylvania incident.

The program is scheduled to begin next Monday, October 25, and to continue through December. (See this paper next week for specific clinic locations and dates beginning next week.)

According to Hugh L. Blumen, a public health advisor in charge of the swine flu immunization program, signatures will be needed on an "informed consent" form for everyone who receives the shot at the Delaware public clinics.

The form will be distributed at the clinics to be read and signed. The form lists advantages of the vaccine, according to Blumen, as well as special precautions for some people and possible reactions.

"An individual's signature merely gives the clinic staff permission to give the shot," said Blumen. "You do not sign away any rights."

The consent form describes influenza and its symptoms, and points out that "it is unlikely you have adequate natural protection against swine flu, since it has not caused widespread human outbreaks in 45 years."

Other highlights of the informed consent document include:

The vaccine cannot give you the flu because it is made from killed viruses.

Today's vaccines are purer, and cause fewer side effects than those used in the past.

Flu vaccine can be taken safely during pregnancy.

Most people will have no side effects from the vaccine.

Side effects, in some people who receive the shot, might include a sore arm or a low-grade fever or headache.

Persons under 18 should not routinely receive the vaccine. (It may be given to "high risk" children over 3 years of age).

People with allergy to eggs should not receive the vaccine, except under the recommendation and supervision of a family physician.

People with fever should not receive the vaccine until well again.

People who have received another type of vaccine within 14 days of the clinic should consult a physician before taking the flu vaccine.

Knowledgeable people will be available at each clinic site to answer questions about the form, the vaccine or swine flu.

Questions about swine flu?

A special "swine flu hot-line" has been established for the duration of the state's swine flu program.

The toll-free number for the entire state is 1-800-292-7810.

Information about clinic locations and dates may be obtained by calling this hot-line number.

Volunteers will be staffing the flu line from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. At all other times, a recorded message will inform callers about the next day's clinics.

The public is invited to call this number to obtain information about clinic locations and dates, about swine flu or the immunization program, or to volunteer their services in the public clinics.

Volunteer workers are needed for a variety of nonprofessional jobs—such as registration, record keeping and clinic operation—at each clinic site.

The hot line will be in operation from October 12 until the campaign closes in December.

CARVING EXHIBITION—Carl R. Becker, shown here, will give a continuous carving demonstration at the Ninth Annual Wildfowl Carving and Art Exhibition of the Ward Foundation to be held Oct. 15-17 at the Youth and Civic Center in Salisbury, Md. Jim Foote, well-known prize carver, will also demonstrate both carving and painting of decoys. An interested youngster looks on as Becker works.

Frederica Discusses Water System

FREDERICA—The council last Wednesday night here covered a variety of topics, ranging from establishing the trick or treat night to possible monies for the town through the national public works program to be instituted soon.

Trick or treat night has been set for Saturday, October 30 in Frederica between 6:30 p.m. and 9 p.m.

The Frederica Police Department will soon be able to be contacted by citizen band radio, since council authorized Chief Ray Wood up to $155 to purchase a portable unit and antenna. "A couple of calls would pay for it" was the opinion of council as expressed by councilman Ira Woodland.

Chief Wood is also in the process of drafting an ordinance regarding mandatory criminal registration for residents of Frederica to whom this would apply. Council directed him to consult the City of Dover and the Attorney General's Office for wording and legal aspects of the proposed ordinance.

The Council spent most of the remainder of their meeting discussing the possibilities of what a public works grant could mean to the town. Comments and opinions ranged from Tom Betts "...it's still a gamble" to the comment made by Mayor Nashold, "We can do something now we could never ever get again" when the matter of whether to go ahead with a formal proposal of application for the grant monies was brought up.

"Our water system can't be classified as anything but critical" said Mayor Nashold and it is this 75 year-old system the council is looking over as a potential prospect for the grant.

It is estimated $400,000 would be needed to take care of a new water system. The drawback, or possible drawback is that the town may have to put down from $1000 to $5,000 of its funds in detailed plans to submit before Frederica even would be considered for the possible grant.

Council decided Mayor Nashold should approach Richardson Associates, engineers, to discuss the matter more. They planned to meet again, probably before the regularly scheduled meeting, to discuss the findings of the meeting with Nashold and the engineers.

Bridgeville Gives Delegra Month's Warning

BRIDGEVILLE—The Town Commissioners voted Monday night to inform Delegra Freezing Plant "...that according to the August 11th meeting of the Town Council the owners of the plant had promised that the matter of creating a sanitary problem at the waste plant would be corrected ...but as President Powell put it..." ...as of the 11th of October the problem caused by the Delegra Plant has not been corrected and that the owners and operations of the plant would have 30 days from the Monday night meeting to meet the requirements of the Town's Engineers and the EPA (Environmental Protection Agency)... or failure to do so (with the compliance) would result in the Town's not being able to accept any of Delegra's affluent.

Clark Carbaugh, a professional engineer with CBE Associates of Dover addressed the Town Council in Bridgeville on Monday evening to discuss the proposed EDA project for the Town.

The original submission to the Agency in Dover called for $710,000.

Houston Sets Trick or Treat Night

HOUSTON—Several mothers concerned about Halloween and trick or treat night were at the council meeting last Thursday night at Houston to express their desires for the age limit and time limit for trick or treat. Council decided the age limit would be 12 years and under and children may trick or treat from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Saturday, October 30.

The annual Halloween parade will be held the same day from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. with the parade ending at the Houston Methodist Church with a party to take place behind the church at the conclusion of the parade.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yerkes appeared at the meeting to protest the traffic arrest by Chief Frankovic of Mrs. Janice Yerkes, who was arrested for failing to stop at a stop sign.

Under the new Delaware law, a police officer may inform the person arrested of the amount of the fine and costs so that the arrested person does not appear in court if

Harrington Police Are Busy Again

After a relatively quiet week, the Harrington Police were once again logging a variety of incidents this week to investigate.

On Friday, October 8, Kennard Ringgold, 25, of Wilmington, was stopped by Officer Ben Twilley for allegedly going through a stop sign at Center and Dorman Streets. Twilley reportedly pursued Ringgold to the Clarks Corner project, where according to police, Ringgold was arrested for the traffic violation and a disorderly conduct charge as well.

Also on Friday night, around 11:30 p.m., a juvenile reportedly kicked out two side panes of glass at the front entrance of the W. T. Chipman Junior High School. The windows are valued at $100. Charges are pending in the incident.

Two thefts occurred in the city last week. A citizen band radio and a ship to shore unit were stolen from a boat in the back yard of the residence of Jennie Morris of Hanley Street some time on October 6.

A tool box with $300 worth of assorted tools were reported stolen from a truck belonging to Sheldon Hayman of Harrington Avenue. The theft occurred between Sunday night and Monday morning. At the time of this writing there were no clues involving the missing tools.

Tuesday morning, at the Clarks Corner project, state police responded to a domestic complaint and Patrolman Robert Pasch was involved in the pursuit that followed.

A common law husband reportedly broke into the residence of his common law wife, by breaking a window at the rear of the residence, ripping a screen and according to police, chased the woman through the house with a knife and a hand gun.

The man was pursued into a corn field behind the W. T. Chipman School, where state police had at least one canine unit and was assisted by Harrington Patrolman Pasch. The man has evaded capture at this writing.

Garage Burglarized

HARRINGTON—Meredith's Garage located on U.S. #13 So. bound lane and Liberty St. in Harrington was burglarized on Tuesday evening, Oct. 12. The business is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Meredith. Money amounting to approximately $150 was missing from the cash register.

Mrs. Meredith said the entry was made through the bathroom window. At closing on Tuesday Mrs. Meredith reported that she found the bathroom window unlocked and in turn locked it before leaving the day for home. On Wednesday morning when they returned to their business they discovered the money missing. Inspecting the bathroom, they found the window broken, the same window she had locked the previous night.

Happenings

by Carole Glasspool
 Bill and Jean Wothers and their children, Karen and Randy, returned Sunday to some nippy, fall Delaware weather and their Canterbury home after having spent the past week getting lovely sunburns in 85° Florida weather. The Wothers family spent several days at Disney World and Jean reports there were so many new things to do since they were last there four years ago that it was simply a fantastic time. The new River Country at Disney World is completed and fun-filled; just the "perfect place for water bugs like us," says Jean.
 They also visited friends in Tampa, Florida and other spots of Florida's west coast.
 While the Wothers were getting those sunburns, C.E. and Alice Hinson and their STP kids (Sherrrie, Tammy and Pete) ventured north in their van, the Dragon Wagon. The Hinsons are on their first tour of New England to visit historical spots and view the gorgeous fall foliage in New York, Vermont, New Hampshire and Connecticut. I am positively green with envy as it's been years since I've been to my original home in the Catskill Mountains to see the beautiful changing colors of fall.

 Cliff Chambers and son, Scott, were in Philadelphia, Pa. on Sunday to see the Phillies lose their second play-off game in a row to Cincinnati 6-2. Hopefully by the time this reaches print the Phillies will have picked up a couple of wins.
 Visitors in the Woodbury home of Tom and Noreen McFry this past weekend were Mr. and Mrs. James Allen, Noreen's grandparents, and Mrs. Flora Blunt, Noreen's mother, of Elk Mills, Md.
 Don't forget the school Spirit Parade through Felton, Frederica and Harrington tonight!
 Last week in an article authored by me about the Girl Scout Cadette Court of Awards, I inadvertently omitted the name of Mia Butler as an 8th grade Cadette. Mia was unable to attend the Court of Awards; but she is a fine Cadette who has earned badges which will be awarded to her at a later date. My apologies to Mia!

Youth Program Gets Funds

Through the efforts of Dee Hartley and the staff of the Kent County Manpower office the 70,001 program will get some $28,000 in funding to continue its programs to be channeled through the Department of Labor from the Governor's Special Vocational Education funds.

This funding will enable the 70,001 program to keep two counselors in continuing its efforts to provide counseling and job training for young people, 16-21, who have for one reason or another dropped out of high school.
 The announcement of the forthcoming funding was made by Ms. Hartley at Tuesday's session of Kent County Levy Court.
 The funds were procured through a consortium composed of representative lower New Castle, Kent and Sussex counties, and will come from monies that in the past have only been available through the Wilmington Skill Center.
 The 70,001 program, now in operation for about three years, has a two-pronged thrust: counseling and job training and placement.

ment. Young people involved in the program are given guidance aimed at finding out the causes for their leaving school and in straightening out any personal problems they may have. They are also placed in positions in the private sector where they may receive on-the-job training and become wage-earners.
 According to Ed Goate, Assistant Superintendent in the Capital School District and responsible for supervising the program, a key factor in its operation is the on the job supervision the program provides along with the counseling and follow-up. This is aimed at assisting the young person in handling a situation for which he may be unprepared. Goate said that about 60 young people many in the greater Dover area but also scattered throughout the county, are involved in the program at any given time. This number does not include the extensive follow-up done with those previously assisted. Capital School District is the legal agent responsible for the administration of the program in Kent County.

School Board Wants To Hear From Public

by Carole Glasspool

In THE HARRINGTON JOURNAL this week, for the first time, the Lake Forest District Board of Education is publishing the agenda for their monthly board meeting to be held Monday, October 18, at the Lake Forest High School library at 7:30 p.m.

The publishing of the agenda is being done in the interest of improving communications between the School Board and residents of this school district. Members of the School Board voted to do this on a three month trial basis. Whether or not they continue to publish the agenda at the end of the three month trial period depends on citizen response. This does not necessarily mean your attendance at the meeting, although that is desirable; your response could also be in the form of a telephone call to a board member regarding an item on the agenda that particularly concerns you.

The Board is most anxious to receive input from parents so that they may better serve this school district.

Read the agenda! See if there is some matter being considered by the Board about which you have an opinion! Let the board hear your opinion. This is not only your right, it is a parental responsibility! They are your children and it is their education!

Delmarva Advisory Council Seeks County Money

Roy Tolbert, Executive Director of The Delmarva Advisory Council, appeared before Kent County Levy Court Tuesday morning to request the county join others throughout the three-state peninsula area in what he described as a "token" financial participation in the programs and activities of the council.

peake and Delaware Canal to the Chesapeake Bay bridge-tunnel system.

Resulting from the council was the creation in 1967 of an Economic Development District under the Federal Economic Development Administration. At present it is funded on a 70 percent federal-30 percent state basis. It is the specific request of the EDA that the counties and municipalities in the area show their good faith by some financial participation in the program.

At present the council works through citizens committees in such areas as seafood, agriculture, conservation, education and railroads.

The matter of financial participation was referred to the Budget and Finance Committee for its recommendation.

Correction

The Harrington City Council voted last week to give the JAYCEES $1000 towards the annual Christmas parade and street lights project. The $125 was an estimate to refurbish the lights, not actual money voted to the JAYCEES as reported in last week's council article. The Journal regrets the error.

Schools Close Early

Schools of the Lake Forest School District will dismiss their pupils at 1 p.m. on Wednesday, October 20 in order to provide an inservice day for teachers and administrators.

ROTH CITED AS 'WATCHDOG'—Senator Bill Roth of Delaware receiving a "Watchdog of the Treasury" award from H. Vernon Scott, chairman of the National Associated Businessmen, an organization representing small businesses throughout the country [left]. At right is Undersecretary of the Treasury Jerry Thomas. The award, a miniature bulldog, is presented to members of Congress who consistently vote for economy in government. The senior Delaware senator has received the award every session he has been in the Congress.

Thoughts... by Senator William Roth

One of the most encouraging signs during the session of Congress has been the growing commitment to "sunshine" and "sunset" reforms.

The Government in Sunshine Act signed into law earlier this month permits citizens to attend meetings of some 50 Federal agencies, boards, and commissions. Citizens have a basic right to know how their elected representatives and other public officials conduct the public's business.

"Sunset" reforms would establish the principle that every Federal program must be open for review at least once every five years and prove its worth before being continued. No dollar of spending would be excluded from public scrutiny, and there would be no sacred cows when it comes to examining public programs.

The sunset legislation and the sunshine law are consistent in principle and philosophy with efforts to open up all government business to the public.

I am the only Senator who has been directly involved in the development of both kinds of legislation. Actually, these two elements of open government were developed independently of one another, despite their similar concepts.

Senator Lawton Chiles and I led the fight in the Senate for passage of sunshine legislation. The battle was waged in Congress for over three years. Now the principle is established in law that all areas of government conduct are to be open to public scrutiny as a general rule unless the case is made that national security, privacy matters, or trade secrets will be infringed.

Now the battle has shifted to sunset reform. Senator Edmund Muskie and I have authored legislation to terminate programs after five years unless careful review demonstrates they are working effectively and do not duplicate other programs with similar objectives. Our bill has been endorsed by 57 other Senators, reported unanimously by the Senate Government Operations Committee, and embraced by groups ranging from the U.S. Chamber of Commerce to Common Cause.

The heart of the sunset approach is to review program spending in all functions to assure that effective programs continue and that ineffective programs be terminated. The sunset reform would establish a new rule that programs will not be permitted to remain on the books unless shown to be worthwhile and cost effective.

This reform effort also will require months of persistence and debate before it is enacted. But my experience with the 'sunshine' bill makes me optimistic that the forces for open government will prevail. I believe the American public deserves a firm commitment to continue the fight for reforms as the top priority of the next Congress.

Open Letter To Chipman Parents

Dear Parents, By the time you read this, the Open House will be over, and I hope to have seen many of you. It is our purpose to strengthen the ties of home and school. Perhaps the opportunity to follow your child's schedule and to experience his school environment will make it easier for you to share and more fully understand the anecdotes, interesting happenings and assorted comments which your boy or girl brings home to you.

In class we have moved on to a consideration of good study habits. This far into the marking period one would think that some students are searching for ways to improve the productivity of their study time. However, I continually pick up feelings of resignation.

I believe that every family member has a responsibility for devoting some of his or her time to the general welfare of the family. Many things must be done to maintain a family and every member can do something. Psychologists tell us that the major task of parenting is to teach the children to be cooperative. Where else and how else can these young people learn to become participating members of our society? Besides, no kid should have so much homework that he or she cannot share in the family's work and fun. That is one of the best reasons for developing efficient study habits. There is, of course, the need to learn to manage large volumes of work for some students who are planning for careers which require many years of preparation; but everyone is a part of a family. Following are some general recommendations we have talked about:

- 1. Write down your assignments, and check them off as you do them.
2. Pick the best place you can find for study and go there every time to study.
3. Have a certain time to study each afternoon or evening. (Later never comes!)
4. Get everything you will need before you sit down. (pencil, paper, books, eraser, ruler, dictionary etc.)
5. Begin to work as soon as you sit down.
6. Use the SQ 3R method of study.

I shall describe this method in detail next week.

Until next week...

Sincerely, Sarah S. Webb Counselor

"Let me mount your head and tan your hide" is the way a Washington D.C. taxidermist advertises. Taxidermists preserve birds and animals for educational and decorative purposes.

Few schools offer this craft on campus, although courses pop up from time to time. Two which do are: Piedmont Technical Institute (Roxboro, NC), Al Carver, instructor; and Kansas State Teachers College (Emporia, KS). Richard Schmidt, biology department, instructor.

A correspondence school is the Northwestern School of Taxidermy (Box 3507, Omaha, NE 68103), which offers 10 lessons for $12. This price doesn't include the cost of materials; the school's main business is selling supplies through its catalog.

American Taxidermist magazine (Box 11186, Albuquerque, NM 87112) should be of interest.

Additional questions can be sent to Joseph E. Bruchac, President, National Taxidermists Association, Box B, Greenfield Center, NY 12833.

Bruchac also publishes Modern Taxidermist magazine and taxidermy textbooks. Bruchac, who has been a taxidermist for 51 years, says the best way to learn is a two or three year apprenticeship follow-

This figure was merely an estimate and called for several projects under the overall proposal. It was explained that the State would select some or none but all of the requests. Another factor which the area might have in its favor is the rate of unemployment.

One of the pumps at the pumping station is not functioning properly. It will be rebuilt at a cost of $3,950. President of the Council Norman Powell commented "The alternative was a new pump at a cost of $4,800 plus accessories...with I might add a 23 week delivery". Powell felt it would be better to get the used one.

Carbaugh said the State would require the Town to have a suitable replacement for the pump if the period was to be longer than reasonable. Carbaugh also warned of storm drainage into the sanitary systems. They reported that there was no such drainage at this time. The Town will get two new catch basins at Delaware Ave. and R.R. and Walnut St. and R.R. Ave.

News from Hickory Ridge Congregational Methodist Church:

The Sunday morning worship service attendance was very good with 90 present. It is impossible to greet each one personally, but we do appreciate everyone who comes. We especially want to welcome our visitors and hope you will come again real soon. Roger and Helen Breeding presented their infant son for Infant Baptism and Dedication to the Lord. We rejoice with them in this blessing from God.

We're glad to report that work has begun upstairs on the sanctuary. Some of the men have been working on Tuesday evenings, and have started laying the floor. They will appreciate any others who can come to help.

We'd like to invite you again to take part in the Monday Evening Bible Study. The group has met several times at the home of Allen Everline; but in the future, they plan to rotate the meetings to various homes. It is meeting next at Allen Draper's home.

Next Wednesday is our day for the ladies to go to the Hospital and Home at Smyrna. We take the gift cart around and visit the patients in their rooms. Some Greenwood area folk are there and look forward to our visits.

The Church is collecting canned foods and other items for an Emergency Fund. Call the pastor or bring your contribution to the church if you wish to help.

Mrs. Helen Workman was a Thursday guest of Mrs. Blanche Perry of Preston and they motored to Easton for dinner.

Recent dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allison Davis were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davis of Federalsburg, Mrs. Barbara Sparks of Harrington, and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Davis and children of Greenwood. Recent callers at the Davis home were Mrs. Emerson Appel of Lincoln, Mrs. Sharon Lord of Ellendale, and Miss Valerie Hill of Milford.

Congratulations on a job well done. We want to wish the Broadkill Kool Kats good luck at the

Countdown to leadership

- Pete duPont has been a leader in the Congress in the fight for honest government. He was the first congressional candidate in America to limit his campaign contributions to $100. He is keeping that limit in his campaign for Governor because he is committed to cleaning up Delaware politics.
- Pete duPont helped write America's first ocean dumping law. As a result, 70% of the businesses which were dumping wastes off the Atlantic Coast are no longer doing so.
- Pete duPont was an author of the War Powers Bill to require congressional approval before the President can commit U.S. troops abroad. No more Viet Nams.
- Pete duPont wrote the language in the Coastal Zone Management Law which provides coastal states like Delaware automatic financial help to offset the onshore costs of oil drilling in the ocean.
- Pete duPont began Delaware's first work-study program in Washington for high school students to help restore the confidence of young men and women in government. 250 Delawareans participated.
- Pete duPont was an author of the amendment to stop the spread of nuclear weapons abroad, because he believes nuclear proliferation is a threat to world peace.
- Delaware has no financial disclosure law for elected officials, high level appointees, or judges. Pete duPont thinks we should have one.
- Pete duPont believes that excellence in our education system benefits all of our citizens. Achieving and maintaining top quality educational programs will be a priority of the next administration.
- Pete duPont believes our schools should insure that graduating students have the ability to do basic computations, to write clearly, and to read with comprehension.
- Pete duPont doesn't think educators should be forced to strike for benefits already promised. He supports the COLA.
- Pete duPont thinks that teachers and school administrators must be backed up in dealing with discipline problems. Punishment should be swift, certain, and effective.
- Pete duPont thinks that better educational opportunities for the handicapped and mentally retarded are a must.
- Pete duPont believes that Delaware cannot weaken its commitment to a higher education program second to none.
- Pete duPont has consistently opposed the forced busing of school children to achieve racial balance. He believes in local control of schools, and thinks monies spent in busing could be better utilized to provide quality education for all.
- 133 people have escaped from the corrections system during the current administration. That's one every 10 days. Pete duPont and Andy Foltz believe we need better guard training, higher personnel standards, better security facilities, and some leadership from the Governor's office.
- The Delaware Agency to Reduce Crime, spends over $700,000 annually in overhead to give away $2 million annually in federal dollars. Pete duPont and Andy Foltz believe those wasted dollars could better be used in direct crime-fighting activities.
- Delaware has had four different prison chiefs during the current administration. The top position in adult corrections has been vacant for months. The Governor's Advisory Council on Corrections remained unappointed for months. Pete duPont and Andy Foltz believe that problems of our prisons require the personal attention and leadership of the Governor and Lt. Governor.
- In Delaware, juveniles between the ages of 15 and 19 make up 9% of the population, yet account for 45% of the criminal arrests. 70% of the Smyrna inmates are under 30 years of age. Pete duPont and Andy Foltz believe that our crime reduction programs should be targeted at juveniles.
- Pete duPont and Andy Foltz think it's time to get tough with violent offenders. They support mandatory minimum sentences for crimes of violence, even for juveniles, and for those convicted of using a gun while committing a felony.
- Pete duPont and Andy Foltz think the treatment of prison inmates with mental disorders should receive special attention. A full-time psychiatrist, which does not exist today, is a must. Additional beds for psychiatric patients are needed.
- An effective justice system means equal justice for all, regardless of race, creed, color, or position in the legislature. It's time to get the politics out of the police and the police out of politics.
- In spite of a 10% increase in your personal income taxes during the current administration, Delaware has endured two consecutive years of budget deficits, and is headed for a third. Pete duPont and Andy Foltz are committed to limiting expenditure growth to fit revenues.
- Delaware's authorized debt is nearly $600 million, which is the second highest per person in the nation. $200 million of this has been added by the current administration. Pete duPont and Andy Foltz believe that the growth in state debt must be effectively limited.
- This year, Delaware's legislature passed a $444 million budget only 50 hours after it was made public. Pete duPont and Andy Foltz believe that only by a reformed budget procedure can effective limitation of expenditures be achieved.
- The state-owned Farmers Bank has collapsed, costing taxpayers $20 million outright, and more than $5 million per year. Pete duPont and Andy Foltz believe the state ought to get out of the banking business just as soon as possible.

they chose. A controversy arose out of whether Chief Frankovic advised Mrs. Yerkes of the charge properly. At the council meeting it appeared that Chief Frankovic was not aware of the new Delaware Law. He arrested her "on the spot" and removed her to Court #6 where the matter had been forwarded to the Court of Common Pleas. Mrs. Yerkes contends she was not properly advised of the charges against her. The arresting officer contends she would not sign the summons and therefore he had no other choice but to arrest her then.

Virginia Twilley raised the question about a trailer which had been pulled onto John Eisenbrey's property. Mayor Leonard Rollison informed the council that he had given Eisenbrey permission to move the trailer onto the property for the general purpose of making repairs to it. Under the ordinance covering such matters for Houston, Eisenbrey may keep the trailer there for 30 days. He may not run any service lines of any nature to the trailer. At the end of 30 days he must remove the trailer from the site or face a fine of $25 a day.

Events Rescheduled

HARRINGTON-The rain and winds Saturday put a dampener on numerous scheduled activities in the area, among those the open house at the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company, the bicycle registration at Felton and the 4-H parade in Milford. A spokesman for the Harrington firemen stated the cancelled open house would be held at a later date, but will not take place until the company's new pumper arrives. The Felton bicycle registration has been scheduled for this Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Felton fire house parking lot. The 4-H parade, rained out last Saturday in Milford to conclude the National 4-H Week, will not be rescheduled.

New Church Starts Here

Harrington became the home of a new church this summer, the Bible Fellowship Church. With temporary housing for service at the garage of Ron Wright west of the city on Del. #14, the church plans to have its facilities on Liberty Street ready soon. It will be permanently housed where the Pilgrim Holiness Church and more recently, the Lions Club had been located. The church pastor, Ray Newman, reports there will be a dedication service, sometime in November, the first Sunday if possible. The Bible Fellowship Church considers itself a non-denominational fundamentalist church in classification, indicated Rev. Newman. He reports the church attendance began around 30 and has jumped to around 65. It is the first church of its particular persuasion in Delaware, according to Rev. Newman. Rev. Newman, a former teacher at Bob Jones University and Elkton Baptist College, instructed in New Testament Greek and theology and Bible history. He and his wife, Janet, have two children, a son Carey, 4, and an infant daughter Carin.

Sunny Side Up

People are always willing to tell you how to make good use of all those nice red ripe tomatoes in your garden. But, since my garden and the weather never come out even, I'm going to tell you how to use all those green tomatoes that are still literally hanging around. There are all sorts of relishes you can make. I don't like any of them so I go to the next step, which is to turn the green tomatoes red. Then I can deal with them on my terms.

It's simple to ripen tomatoes in the house, but don't decorate your window sill with them. Put them in brown paper bags or wrap them in newspaper. Or simply put them unwrapped in a fairly cool place, such as the garage. Make sure they have air circulating under and around them, though. A window screen set up on blocks can accomplish this. They'll be good eating for a few weeks after the garden has been turned under for next year.

You can register until October 16. In Kent county, you can get ballots at 1030 S. DuPont Highway at the Department of Elections (they tell me it's across the street from McDonald's), and in Sussex county, the elections people are located at 6 West Market street in Georgetown.

Remember when vinegar rubbed into an old hemline made it disappear so you could lower hems on your own and your kids' clothes without anyone being the wiser? Well, clothing specialists no longer recommend that. The new fabrics won't react the same way as the old ones did and you might even ruin them. So, don't use vinegar on your hem unless you're planning to drop it in the salad when you're finished.

As for me, I'm going to pick green tomatoes, vote, and forget about hems. Maybe next year they'll go back up. Keep your sunny side up!

October Is Bulb Month

October is bulb month. It is the time to plant flowering bulbs for next year's spring bloom. It is also the time to dig up and dry tender bulbs like Gladiolus, Dahlias and Cannas for winter storage.

Spring-flowering bulbs are available now in local garden shops ready for planting. University of Delaware extension horticulturist Dr. Charles Dunham says every garden has room for some of these beauties. He also points out that though Tulips and Daffodils are the most popular, there are lots of small flowering bulbs to choose from as well. Snow Drops and Winter Aconite, for instance, are among the first flowers to bloom in the spring, which makes them especially welcome in a garden. Two other types, Blue Squill and Glory of the Snow (Chionodoxa) follow them by just a few weeks. And then there are Crocus-the most colorful of the early small bulbs.

Plant any of these small types in groups for best effect. Dunham recommends masses of anywhere from six to 24. Plant them in the foreground of a border, in front of shrubs or later-flowering bulbs. Small bulbs should be planted with their tops at a depth of about 1 to 1 1/2 inches below the soil level. Space them apart at a distance of three to four times the bulb diameter. Besides getting in your spring-flowering bulbs now, it's also time to remove those tender bulbs that cannot survive winter in the ground. Dahlias and Cannas are usually dug after the first killing frost in the fall. You can dig Gladiolus sooner, or at the same time, depending on when they bloomed and the condition of their tops. Dig Gladiolus before their tops rot.

The secret to overwintering tender bulbs is thorough drying before storing, and storage in a cool, dry atmosphere. Dig the plants carefully with a spading fork and shake off excess soil. Cut tops back to a few inches from the roots. Pack bulbs loosely in boxes and dry them in the sun or in a dry barn or shed. If you leave them outdoors, remember to cover them with plastic during rainy weather.

When dry, store Dahlias and Cannas in boxes and cover them with dry vermiculite. Place the boxes in a dry area that will be as cool as possible without freezing. Gladiolus must be further dried and cleaned before they are ready to be stored. Remove the old corm and roots of the past year and discard these. Place the new corms in a paper bag and dust them lightly with an all-purpose garden dust that contains both an insecticide and a fungicide. A combination of malathion and zineb will do. Then store the corms in open boxes in a cool, dry place where they will keep safely until planting time next spring.

The Hong Kong influenza pandemic of 1968-69 produced nearly 30,000 deaths in the United States alone. Estimates say this pandemic cost the nation $3.9 billion. The pandemic of 1918-19, believed to have been caused by swine influenza virus and the most severe ever recorded produced over one-half million deaths in the United States, more Americans than were killed in combat during World War I.

LF Eleven Loses To Delmar

by Millard Ellingsworth III
Last Friday night, Lake Forest football squad lost its fourth straight game for the 1976 season to Delmar, 21-0 at Delmar.

The Spartans received to start the game and Mike Benson caught the ball on his own 25 yard line and returned it for ten yards. However, on the play a 15 yards clipping penalty against the Spartans returned the ball to their 20 yard line. After three plays Billy Moore punted the ball away.

Halfway through the first quarter, penalties were still plaguing Lake Forest. Delmar was in a punting situation when the Spartans gave them a first down on an offside penalty. On the next play, Delmar passed to the Lake Forest six yard line. They pitched out and swept to the left for their first score of the game. The extra point was no good.

In the second quarter Lake Forest threatened to score. Delmar was on their own 33 yard line when someone decided to go the wrong way and the ball was rolling on the ground waiting to be picked up. Quarterback Greg Shortell dropped the snap but recovered quickly enough to pick up the ball and gain eight yards before anyone knew what had happened.

Next Shortell went to the air to Ron Loper but Loper was interfered with and the ball was complete to put the Spartans on Delmar's 15 yard line. With everything looking up, Shortell moved back for a quick pass and was sacked by two Delmar defenders. On fourth down attempt, he again looked up to pass, and again was found by two Delmar defenders.

Delmar took over and moved the ball most of the way down the field with their quarterback running all over the Spartan defense. With only a few seconds left in the half, Delmar attempted to pass and the ball was intercepted by Ron Loper who made his way up the sidelines as far as the four yardline. The Spartans didn't have the opportunity to push the ball over the four yard stretch as the clock ran out on them.

In the third quarter, Delmar scored again, but Greg Shortell unassisted stopped the conversion.

As the fourth quarter opened, Delmar threw a 45 yard touchdown pass to lead 18-0. The conversion attempt was no good.

After the kickoff the Spartans attempted to get started but after a couple of plays, Shortell dropped the snap and Delmar recovered on the Lake Forest 37 yard line.

Soon after this, Delmar also fumbled, and this time the Spartans were there to pick it up. On fourth down Billy Moore moved back to punt but attempted to run the ball out for a first down. He was unsuccessful and Delmar took over on Lake Forest's 24 yard line. After three plays, Delmar kicked a field goal to finish the game.

The Spartans totaled 117 yards on the ground and 30 yards in the air for 147 total yards but totaled 120 yards on 15 penalties to cancel their total yardage for the night down to 27 yards.

As a prediction for next week, Coach Fleming commented that "I think that we can play football with anyone in the Henlopen Conference" meaning that Dover High has their work cut out for them tomorrow night when they meet the Spartans on their home field for Lake Forest's second home game of the year.

Meanest Man
Ronnie Loper

Junior Ronnie Loper is the Lake Forest "Meanest Man" for last week's game. Loper is an offensive half back and defensive end.

Coach Fleming said the choice of Loper was made because he "did a particularly outstanding job." His assignment was particularly hard, said Fleming, "Delmar has one of the best quarterbacks in the league."

Loper played the same two positions last year, for the latter half of the season, and was a starting player.

"He has to be one of the hardest working members of the team," stated Fleming.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Loper of Mispillion Street, Harrington.

Junior Spartans Lose No. 3

by Scott Chambers
The 1976 football team has played three games so far, losing them all.

The season's opener was at Dover where the Spartans were defeated 22-0.

The squad met their second defeat at the hands of Cape Henlopen but did manage to drive for a score. Final score in that contest was 18-8.

Milford also shut out the Junior Spartans 25-0.

People who played well in these games were Jeff Kashner, Joe Curtis, Eugene McBride, Perry Thomas, Larry McCombs, Milton Justice, Grayson Barthlow Kermit Rust, Bruce Thomas, Mark Smith and Orlando Burris.

Other members of the team, which is made up of players who are on Varsity too, are Louis Hendricks, Tim Kemp, Darrell Voshell, Reggie Quail, John Hall, Curtis Taylor, Kevin Collins, and Harry Turner.

The team has four coaches who take turns each week. They are Mr.

Mackey, Mr. Sisson, Mr. Falasco and Mr. Scott. The managers are Mike Fankard, Ward Smith.

Talking to coach Mackey about the team's upcoming games his comments were "I think the team is yet to jell because of a late start."

Mackey also said "We are definitely progressing and will soon be a team to reckon with."

Starting time for games is 4 p.m.

Harriers Defeat Smyrna

by Keith S. Burgess
Lake Forest remained undefeated in dual-meet competition by winning easily over an improving Smyrna team last week.

The visiting Spartans, coached by Jim Blades, won 18-41 and had the meet in the bag by the time Dan Parker, Chris Palmisano and Louis Thomas crossed the finish line in a span of five seconds.

Parker clocked an excellent 12 minutes flat for 2

1/2 miles with Palmisano one second back.

Smyrna's sensational freshman, Jeff Thornberg, at Dover Air last fall, finished 11th in the 1975 state meet. He was two seconds behind Thomas, marking Thomas' first decision over the Eagle.

David Richter, Ranshaw of Smyrna, Wilson Fry, Smith of Smyrna, Herb Jarrell, Paul Mc Lellan, John Moffett and Norman of Smyrna were the next finishers.

Maurice Coverdale, 13, won a reserve race with only teammate Nathan "Top Cat" Morris giving him any competition. Coverdale was timed in 13.28.

After a lone Smyrna finisher, in third, came a host of blue-white clad locals. Walt Willey led the parade followed by: Pete Fraley, Ron Wilhelm, Randy Ramirez, Craig Fry, John Nickle, Brian Eecenrode, Frank Jenkins and Lee Turner. Hank

Influenza got its name from an Italian work meaning "astral or occult influence." It reflected the widespread belief that flu was the result of an evil climatic influence wrought by an unhappy conjunction of the stars. Although still a mystery in some ways, influenza can now be prevented by immunization.

RAIDERS LOCKER ROOM REPORT

IT'S TOUCHDOWN TIME

Woodbridge Bows To Dover Air

Dover Air rolled to an easy 28-0 victory over Woodbridge Friday night to celebrate their Homecoming. Dover Air used a confusing offense to keep the Woodbridge defense off balance and a tenacious defense to throttle the Woodbridge offense. Inexperience and injuries came to haunt the young Woodbridge defense during the first half as Dover Air scored the first three drives of 55, 56 and 88 yards to make the score 20-0 at halftime.

Coach Jim Johnson made several defensive adjustments at halftime and Dover Air was held to one touchdown in the second half. Dover Air effectively shut off the Louis Dexter to Spank Neal passing game and Woodbridge could not generate any offensive momentum during the game. Woodbridge rushed for only 116 yards and had only 23 yards passing as quarterback Louis Dexter was 1 for 7.

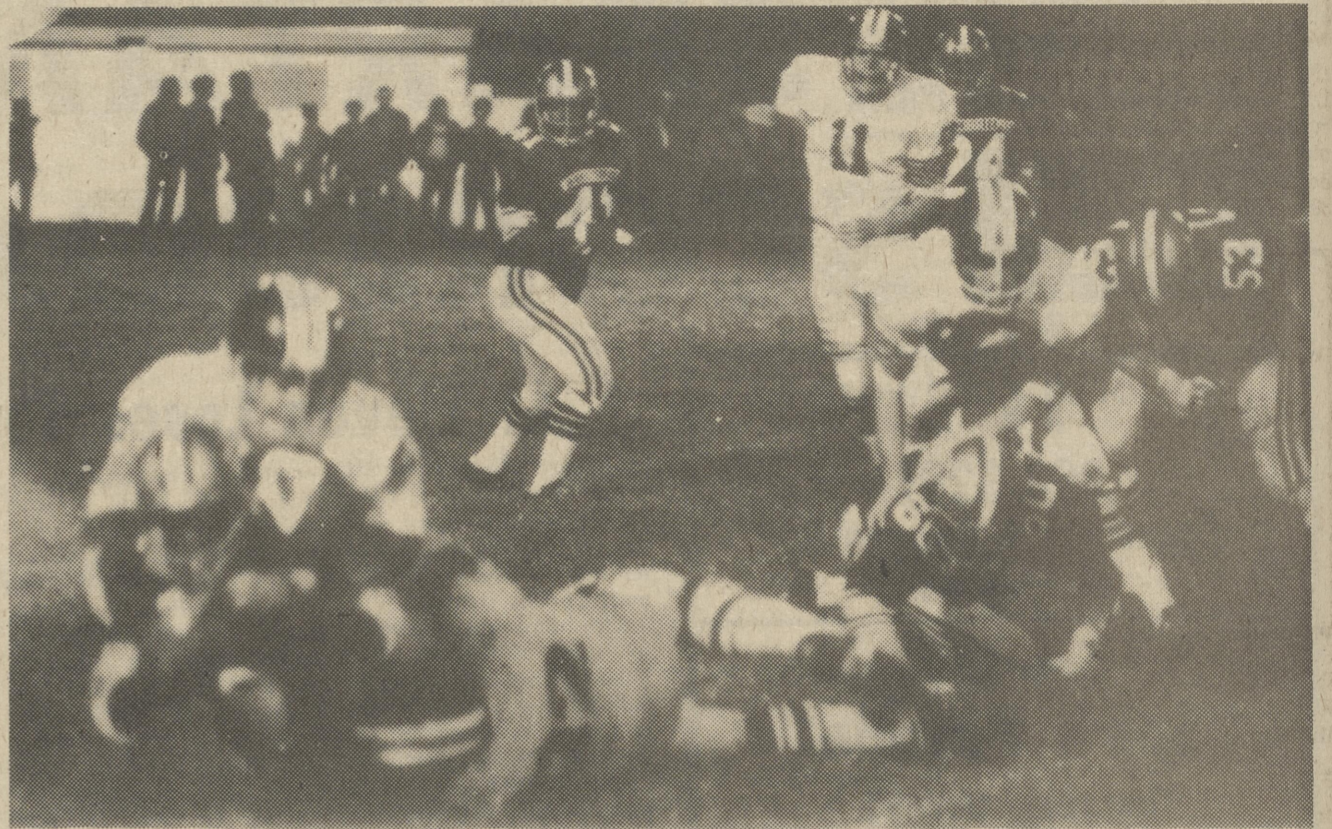

Injuries plus removal of 4 outstanding players from the team for disciplinary reasons resulted in near total collapse of the team.

Doug Wood with 126 yards in two games is out for the season due to a knee injury. He faced surgery last Thursday. Wood was hurt on the third play of the game. The resulting loss of Wood to the team left the remainder of the team at a low ebb.

Wood's replacement Andy Blake, a 5'8" 140 lb. Sr. from Bridgeville in his first full year on the varsity squad was named defensive player of the week.

Paul Purcell, a freshman, from Bridgeville stepped in to fill the shoes of Jefferson who is suffering from a head injury. Jefferson had replaced Rocky Flemm who was the starting fullback at the beginning of the season. Purcell is 5'8" 170 lbs. and hits the hole very quickly. Purcell rushed for 46 yards in eight carries in the Col. Richardson game and 10 for 70 yards in the Dover Air game. That totaled 116 yards in 18 carries. As a result of his efforts in the Dover Air game, Purcell was named offensive player of the week.

Woodbridge will be at home Friday night against Laurel.

Woodbridge Loses To Milford

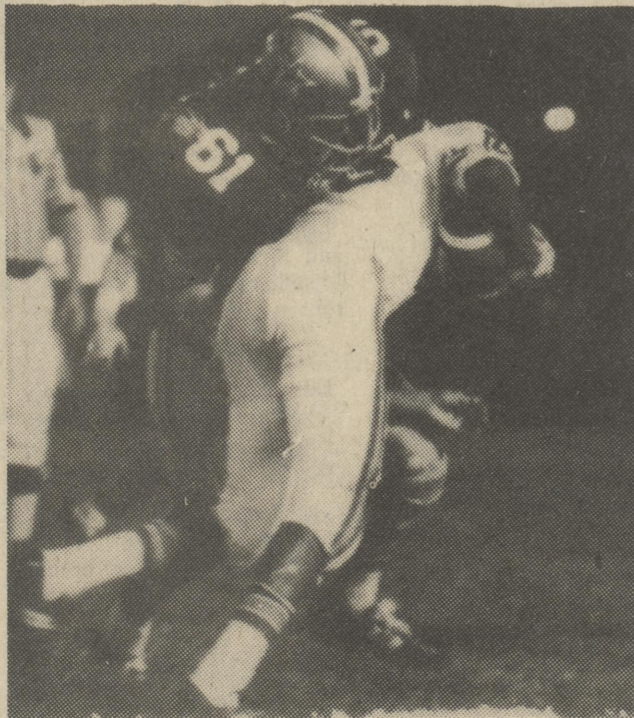

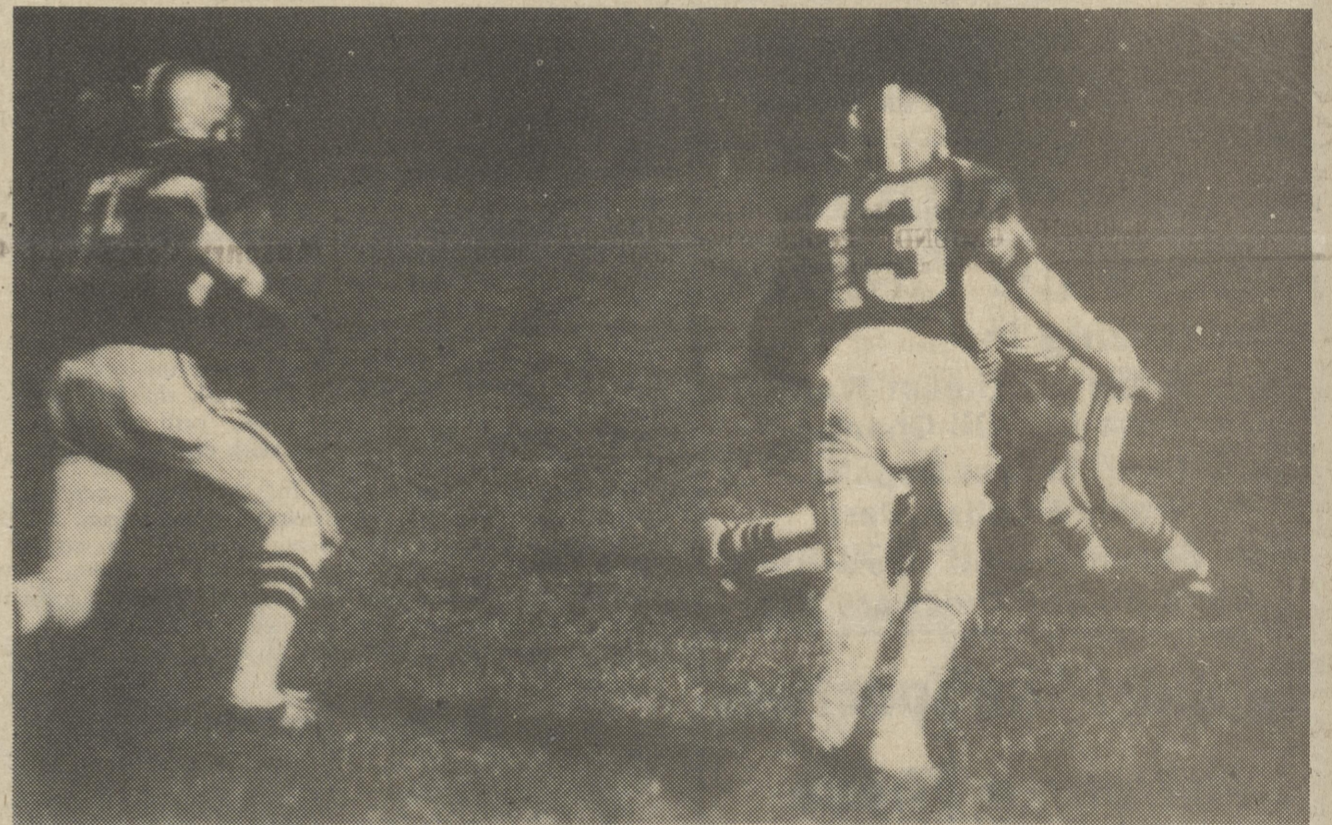

MILFORD-The Monday night meeting between two well coached teams resulted in Woodbridge losing this hockey match for their fifth defeat of the year. Milford won 3-0. The Woodbridge team is now 2-5.

The team which is mostly made up of underclassmen struggled all the way. In previous outings Woodbridge had lost to a strong Laurel team 12-0. Milford had lost to Laurel 1-0, and the defeat Monday night was not as bad as the score indicated.

The defense of Woodbridge was mainly bolstered by a standout play by goalie Carla Vanderwends and fullback Delphine Cannon. As a result of their play the score was kept at a low. Standouts on offense were Jenny Davis (left inner), Lori Curry (center forward), Jo Anne Conaway (right inner), and Mona Webb (left wing).

The team has 5 seniors. It is a young team lacking in experience. The team has boasted wins over Smyrna and Dover Air. The girls face a tough CR team on Monday.

G. L. Jefferson, #61 and Nelson Burbage, #24, teaming on a tackle against Dover Air.
