Journal Becomes Wednesday Paper

HARRINGTON-In an effort to offer our readers the latest news and to give our faithful advertisers the most for their advertising dollar, the Harrington Journal has become a Wednesday publication. Prior to last week, the sixty-one year old weekly has published on Thursday. Originally it was a Friday publication. It is the feeling of the publishers, after having made a survey of readers and advertisers to make this most recent step in the history of the Journal.

In the past two and a half years, the Harrington based weekly has been undergoing changes, from converting from letter press to offset system of production, to a six-column front page format to the Wednesday date of publication.

It is the hope of the staff at the Journal that the new publication date will be of benefit to our readers and advertisers. Subscribers will find a copy of the Harrington Journal in their mailboxes on Wednesday instead of Thursday, which should give them more time to catch up on the news, current activities, as well as what the merchants have for sale in the area in plenty of time for the weekend shopping.

It will also mean a few changes in datelines. People who wish to place coming events in the paper should have these items on the editor's desk at 5 p.m. on Monday. Coming events should be called in or sent in at least two weeks in advance if possible.

Wedding releases, engagements and other personal items should be brought in to the Journal office on Commerce Street by Monday at 5 p.m. The correspondents news may still be submitted on their regular schedules. There is no charge for printing engagement or wedding pictures.

Anyone having any questions about the deadlines should contact the editor at 398-3206.

When approaching those Journals on the stand this Wednesday, don't be confused, it is this week's edition.

Frederica Council Will Be Special Police

FREDERICA-The Frederica Council may not be 'packing pistols', but they will become special police at the next town meeting. On the recommendation of the police department, and following the town of Clayton as a guide, Frederica Councilmen will soon have police authority in emergency situations or in special town situations, such as directing traffic in parades.

They will be sworn in at the December meeting, when proper identification badges will also be issued.

The council unanimously voted to spend $4,500 with Richardson Associates to draw up detailed plans to submit for possible approval of a public works grant for a new water system.

Realizing they may not get the grant, Mayor Nashold and council considered the situation. The consensus was stated by Nashold, who said, "We're gambling approximately $4,500 to get back $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 in if not new, a completely updated water system."

The present water system is estimated to have been installed in 1906, although no one at the meeting was exactly sure when it was installed.

According to the stipulations of the public works program monies to be disbursed, the economic situation of the area will be considered, as well as priorities for the work a group desires to have done.

Ezekiel Dill was the only citizen at the meeting. His presence was to state there were three sewer taps on his property, which should have one.

He was informed there will be a final inspection of the newly installed system this morning. The entire council and Mayor Nashold plan to attend.

Schools To Close Early

Schools of the Lake Forest School District will dismiss their pupils at 1 p.m. on Friday, November 12 in order to provide an inservice day for teachers and administrators.

Houston Council Hears Trailer Owner

HOUSTON-The trailer presently located on the John Eisenbrey property in Houston was discussed at great length at Houston's council meeting. Eisenbrey was at the meeting to clear up the matter. He said the trailer belonged to a relative, Mrs. Alberta Long.

He stated further that he had been disturbed by a story that appeared in The Harrington Journal after last month's council meeting. He went on to explain why the mobile home was parked on his land within the Town limits. The trailer belonging to Mrs. Long is only there temporarily until he can help her locate a suitable property "...down... around the beach", according to Eisenbrey. He asked the Council if he could keep the trailer on the lot until the end of April.

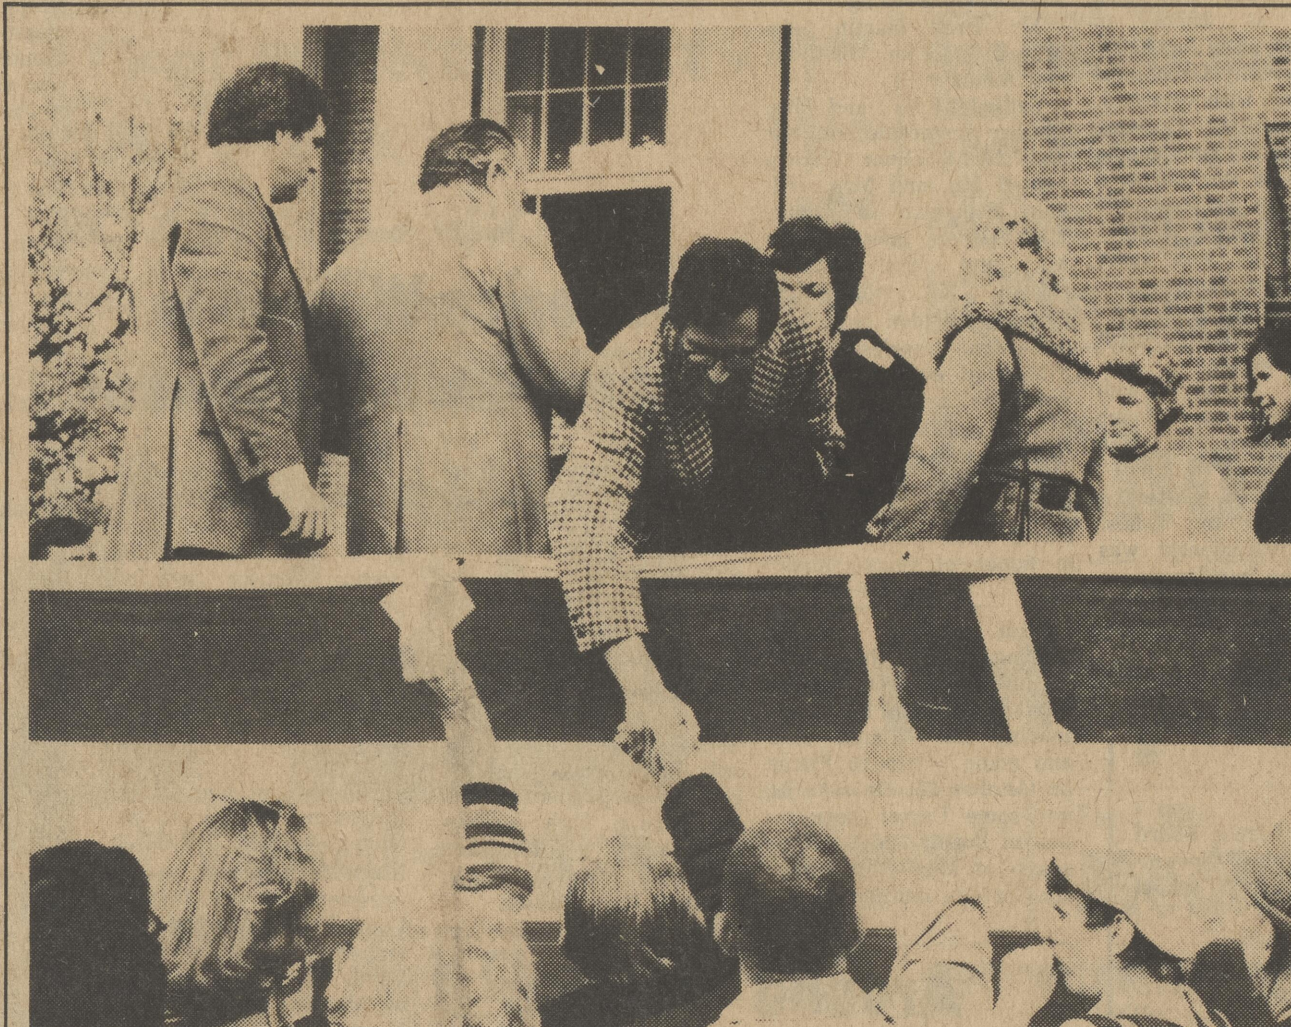

At first Mayor Leonard Rollison read the Town ordinance and pointed out that trailers are forbidden within the Town limits. To keep them there in opposition to the law can subject the owner to a fine of at least $5 but no more than $25. Councilman Tom Surdukowski pointed out an amendment to that ordinance on the books to the effect that the Council may elect to extend the period of time up to 12 months. With this new information the Town Council granted Eisenbrey a permit to extend through the end of April. Eisenbrey explained the purpose of the light pole adjacent to the trailer. He said it was for hooking a pump in order to set up an irrigation system for his garden. He said "...if it makes that much difference I will take the pole down and remove it." Eisenbrey was granted a permit and charged $12 for the permit.

The Houston Fire Co. asked for a donation for their annual fund drive, and the matter was tabled primarily due to the fact that some of the Council members desired to give the same amount as last year while Councilman Tom Surdukowski requested the Council make a $1,000 donation to the Fire Co. Surdukowski felt the donation could be made from the municipal aid and revenue saving funds. Mayor Rollison pointed out that such a grant would be illegal according to his understanding of the law. Council lady Virginia Twilley asked to see the rules governing what funds can be used and where. A set of rules were produced and it was determined that such a contribution to the Fire Co. from the Town's Municipal aid and Revenue sharing would in fact be illegal. It was interpreted the money should come from the general fund which is from taxes but as Rollison stated that "There is not enough money in the general fund for that sort of thing." It was decided that the matter should be tabled until the next meeting when more thought can be given to the subject.

Police Report Two Incidents

HARRINGTON-The local police department reports two incidents during the past week.

On Saturday, November 6, at 3 a.m., Harrington police received a call from Millford Memorial Hospital where William N. Bass, 22, of 218 Weiner Avenue had been taken following a beating.

Convention are selected during State FFA Conventions to represent members of State FFA Associations in conducting business of the National FFA Organization. Business sessions will be conducted throughout the National Convention beginning with an orientation meeting held on Monday, November 8. In addition to his role in the conduct of National FFA Organization business, Richard will serve on the National Chapter Awards Committee which will discuss and propose changes or additions to the present National Chapter Awards Program.

Harrington Still Holds On Manager

HARRINGTON-The local city fathers came to a dead heat on a decision about a new city manager Monday night.

Now going into her second month of acting city manager, Joan Wilson will continue to act in that capacity until a decision is reached regarding a replacement for Bobby Quillen, who resigned when council denied a leave of absence for him to campaign.

Two applicants have been narrowed down from a field of 12. The council gave Dave Peterson of Harrington and Henry Flood of Seaford an equal number of votes for the position. The applicants are to be interviewed by Mayor William Minner, who may have to cast the tie-breaking vote in the situation.

Resignations from two policemen were accepted Monday night in other council action. Officers James Woodruff and Robert Pasch resigned effective November 1 and November 5, respectively.

In last week's article in the Harrington Journal Pasch's resignation was listed as being effective November 30. In the meantime, however, the officer had failed to report for duty, according to Chief Ed Layton, who suspended him until council could view the matter. This was the reason for the resignation date to be changed from the later to the more recent date of November 5, according to Chief Layton.

Routine committee reports completed the council's work.

Area Students Compete At FFA Convention

FELTON>About two dozen youngsters with advisers will be representing Lake Forest High School at the 49th National FFA Convention, held this year in Kansas City, Missouri this week.

The local FFA chapter will have participants in eight contest areas. Representing the talent presentation will be Donnie and Cathy Hopkins, winners of the state FFA talent contest in March.

Rhonda Fibelkorn, the State FFA Sweetheart, will participate in the American Royal Queen Contest as well as being a participant in the convention.

Three members of the livestock team will test their knowledge against 44 other teams while at the convention. On this team are Ronnie Blessing, Art Kauffman and Mike Layton. Their instructor and adviser is Mike Coverdale.

Donald Bullock, Chris Wyatt and Larry Risser, all members of the FFA dairy cattle team will be one of the 43 dairy teams to judge nine classes of dairy cattle provided by the American Royal Livestock and Horse Show of Kansas City, Missouri. Billy Abbott is the team's instructor and adviser.

The horticulture team will be represented in competition by Robin Chandler, Crystal Reed, Dianne Bauer, and Linda Moore. They will be competing with 39 teams in identification of plant materials, judging nursery products and landscape models, among numerous areas of the contest. Neil Brasure is the team's adviser. (continued to page 11.)

Greenwood Police Praise Town

GREENWOOD-The police department in this community praised the residents for a quiet Halloween this year during the monthly council meeting in Greenwood last Tuesday night.

Council discussed at some length the town's water line and the directions they may take in the event of future expansion.

A report was given about street work, which is being done now, and is primarily patching.

The council donated $25 to Sussex County's Return Day Committee. Mayor Floyd McDowell was invited to attend the festivities of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ashley of Woodbury Acres entertained family and friends of their son Billy on November 6th in honor of his sixth birthday which was November 5th.

The children who enjoyed playing traditional children's games and helped Billy consume his "Football field" birthday cake were Amy Hazzard of Milford, Ronnie Farmer and Steve Sheline of Felton and Hope Hertzberg of Woodbury Acres.

The L.F.N.E. school PTA will show a film about playground athletic equipment at their meeting next Tuesday, November 16. The film's main theme is how to secure this equipment for a minimum of expense.

Also on the agenda will be the election of a treasurer. They need someone to take care of the near $200 they made on their bakesale at the Charity Bazaar in the Blue Hen Mall the end of October. The dance for "Chippies" given by the Harrington Janecees at Chipman School on Friday, November 5 was an unqualified success.

About one hundred and fifty "Chippies" enjoyed dancing to disco being spun by the "Doctor of Everything" from W.L.R.B. Mr. Chuck Bettyman.

The Janecees also operated a "marriage booth" where guys and gals could be unlawfully wed for the evening. The "Chippies" I know thought this was great fun.

The Janecees are most appreciative of the cooperation they received from Mr. Earl Griffin, W. T. Chipman principal; Chipman custodians Paul Stubbs, Frank Ross and Nate Pearson; and the above mentioned faculty for chaperoning.

Teachers from W.T. Chipman who chaperoned the dance are Mr. Tom Muehleisen, Mr. Charlie Michaels, Mrs. Roberta O'Neil, Louise and Ron Peery, Mrs. Matilda Kukulka, and Miss Pamela Chambers.

Slot machines were rejected on the recent referendum but you can enjoy "A Night in Las Vegas" anyway. Casino Night sponsored by the Athletic Boosters will be held in the Lake Forest High School cafeteria on Saturday, November 20, from 7 p.m. until ???

You'll be able to buy your "funny money" at the door and then proceed to the gaming tables for poker, dice, black jack, roulette and bingo. At the end of the evening you can take all those winnings and bid on prizes donated by area merchants. There will also be door prizes.

This affair is for young people as well as adults. Since the "gambling" is with play money no one will be breaking the law. I'll see you there!

The V.C.F. Ruritans will be holding a B.Y.O.B. dance this Saturday night, November 13 at the Ruritan Building in Viola. Music with a country-western flavor. Come have a ball! Don't forget "college night" tonight at LFHS from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.! Call Carole at 284-9632 with your "Happenings".

COMMUNITY ENTERPRISE got a day camp going for the youngsters of rural Willow Grove last summer. # Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

Some famous educator has said that we are not truly educated if we do not grow up with the Mother Goose rhymes. Be that as it may, I do think they are a part of childhood, and even Garith can recite many of them already. Of course I guess everyone in this modern age knows that they were not originally intended for children, but were English political satires. The one that goes "Early to bed and early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise" does not apply to this household. We have always been "stay uppers", eleven-thirty to one a.m. being our preferred bedtime. But in the morning I like to get up early and have my special quiet time alone. Sometimes I step out of doors and sometimes I just watch from the windows. The whole world is mine and I hold it close.

This morning, in the early dawn, I looked out the kitchen window to see what the world offered for joy. The little brown bunnies were not yet out of their homes. I imagined them opening one eye and snuggling back in their warm nests to wait for the sun to get a bit higher. But I looked up and saw a "picture" I shall long remember. Silhouetted against the soft, misty gray of the sky, on a black electric wire, sat nine halfgrown, charcoal-colored starlings. They sat very close together with their fat little chests puffed out and every little head with its sharp bill turned in the same direction, toward their left. They were wide awake, but motionless. Now, I would not say that starlings are my favorite bird, but everybody loves a baby...even a baby starling. I thought what a wonderful picture it would make on canvas...a symphony in black and white. It will remain always as one of my memory treasures.

Dad has a memory treasure also that he often speaks of. One snowy winter morning he walked across the garden and came upon eight cardinals feasting on a sunflower that had been left standing in the garden for just that purpose. My friend, Tess, remarked the other day that no matter how many seeds you put out in artificial containers (and they are grateful and will eat them), still it is much more to their liking to just pick the seeds off the dried flowers and plants standing there.

Ever since I got home from church today I have been scurrying around preparing covered dishes for our church supper, which opens our fall crusade. I made sweet potatoes with marshmallows and then decided I had better assemble a bowl of fresh fruit. Can't go wrong on fruit. And, somewhere in the back of my head is the notion that I really should make a pie or cake for the house here. I'm not too comfortable with no pie or cake in the house. Somebody might stop by.

Today is Indian summer again. The sun is hot, the air is soft and balmy, and there is a brooding haze over the meadows and woodlands. It has tricked even the mockingbird into singing. He was probably still turned on from the glory of the full moon last night. I, too, felt its spell...its mysticism, and its wonder. And Dad reported that he had seen the largest flock of geese ever. We paused and savored the moment. What is this strange feeling of loneliness or nostalgia or something we cannot put into words when the geese go over? It marks the end of a season and beginning of another bit of time. We await their return.

Ed. note:

We are pleased to announce Mrs. Hatfield's "Gab Fest" will become a part of the Harrington Journal beginning this week. She is well known in this paper for the Greenwood social column and we welcome her additional touch with the "Gab Fest".

Career Corner

by Buck Thompson

Values, Interests, Aptitudes

In career planning, there are no "right" and "wrong" values. Each person is different and may have different values.

Since the lifestyle you aim for depends on your values, you can see that becoming aware of those values is a vital part of decision-making. But you can't base everything on your values (or the lifestyle you want). You also must consider your interest in the work. You may, for example, like the lifestyle of a pilot but find out that the work bores you silly.

The time you spend learning about all the things required in an occupation is time well spent. What if you discover an occupation that really revs your motor and the lifestyle is great too? There's still another factor to consider: your attitudes. How realistic is it to set your heart on becoming a physician if you can't pass science courses? Or becoming an executive secretary if your fingers can't tap dance on a typewriter? Or on becoming an auto mechanic if you have trouble with pencil sharpeners?

Taking all three factors into account—values, interests, and aptitudes—as well as finding out about the job market, is the way to go.

If you haven't done so before, why not amble off to a quiet corner and think hard about how your career decision affects your whole life? Your career defines you as a person. It is an expression of the way you feel about yourself. It is a measure of your goals.

If you find a super match between career and you, you'll be happy with yourself, and probably happy in life.

Open Letter To Chipman Parents

Dear Parents,

The newness of the school year is beginning to wear off. The marking period ends November 11th, and report cards are to be issued a week later. Students are, of course, aware of this and are beginning to ask about averages and, in some cases, extra work. A reminder that the new marking period begins on November 12, which is well before report cards are out, is in order. Some students, to their own disadvantage, adopt a wait-and-see attitude at this critical time.

Most classes have taken their "Operation Study" quiz. Now it is up to each student to decide which suggestions he or she will put into practice.

Before we start on the unit in which we discuss what students can do to improve their relationships with their parents and brothers and sisters, we will take a look at a personality theory, which I hope will enable the students to understand themselves a little better. Dr. Eric Berne encouraged people to think of themselves as having three parts to their personality—PARENT, ADULT and CHILD. Some people call this the PAC theory. In the PARENT we store the advice, rules and restrictions recommended by our parents and by important adults in our lives. The PARENT may be critical or nurturing. The ADULT is the part of our personality which collects facts, considers consequences, and makes choices. The CHILD is the spontaneous, fun-loving part of our personality, but it may also be rebellious.

A healthy personality has and operates from, all three ego states, as these PARENT-ADULT-CHILD parts are called (PAC for short). The practical part of this is that an awareness of these three parts of our personality helps to improve our interpersonal relationships. For example, there are some people who sound very bossy a great deal of the time (PARENT). Almost always this hooks the listener's rebellious CHILD. Trouble follows unless one or the other of the participants puts his ADULT in charge. Then, the theory goes, the other ADULT is likely to be activated and the relationship resumes its original balance.

This theory in no way challenges parental authority, but it may help some students to understand what they are doing to cause a great deal of unpleasantness for themselves at home and at school.

Until next week... Sincerely, Sarah S. Webb, Counselor

In the tradition of Return Day the winners and losers ride together to hear the results read at the Sussex County Court House. Here Pierre DuPont (left side of picture in carriage) and his wife sit across from Governor and Mrs. Sherman Tribbitt. They are riding in a carriage from the Hunter Marvel Antique Carriage Museum near Georgetown. Mr. Marvel himself is driving the carriage.

Re-elected Congressman Bill Roth and his St. Bernard appear to be at odds on where each is going, but both got back into step after this photo was taken. The six-ten deep crowd may be partially seen here. It was estimated from 25,000 to 50,000 were in attendance.

Another glimpse of the throng of people gathered at Return Day also shows Ruth Ann Minner, Democrat incumbent who was re-elected in the 31st Representative District. Reese Phillips, Republican, was the unsuccessful bidder for the seat.

Unemployment Rate Is Still 8%

Through its manpower office Kent County expended $109,000 dollars last month and served 332 county citizens in the area of employment and training. However, the unemployment rate is still 8% and, according to Dee Hartley of the manpower office, people come there every day who "want work, and there is no work."

These comments were made in the substance of a report given by Ms. Hartley to Kent County Levy Court Tuesday. She also pointed out an emphasis through the office in helping people meet high school equivalency requirements by passing GED tests. According to Ms. Hartley there are frequent instances in which the GED person may be more qualified than an actual high school graduate who has managed to pass through the required years without actually gaining the necessary knowledge. In the area of adult work experience, Ms. Hartley reported that many people seeking help don't have career goals. Consequently there has been an effort through cooperation and contracting with Delaware State College for counseling in this matter.

The District operates an exceptional children's education program for students in kindergarten through twelfth grade. Thirty-eight students in kindergarten through eighth grade worked with three teachers certified in this area. Continued efforts are being made to insure that the year to year progress of these students is along a carefully developed educational plan and educational profile.
 Records of the students

are in complete compliance with state recommendation and requirements. Scheduling is done in such a way that students are not isolated from the others. This is called mainstreaming and is the current philosophy of education leaders and the State.
 By special arrangement with two other state agencies, the District has received psychological services for thirty-five students. The current aim is to expand the program to include other students.

 Grades 9-12: This is the first year of having an Exceptional Children Program at the high school. The program was flexible enough to enable each student an opportunity to reach his potential. The greatest accomplishment was getting through the first year -- observing our good points and making note of our poor ones to help us grow and improve our techniques.

Migrants

and the migrant teacher participate. The migrant teacher also serves as a liaison between the parents and the school to help interpret the education program to the parents and to aid the parents in providing reinforcement of their children's efforts.
 The basic objective of this federally-funded project is to help each migrant student to function in the world in which he must live -- a world that is predominantly an English-speaking world. For these students, this additional help is crucial if they are to have the opportunity to be successful in this country.

Career Guidance And Placement Program

There were 70 seniors of the 1976 graduating class from the vocational-technical areas.

A survey was conducted in September to determine the seniors' interest, abilities, and values to help them formulate more adequate career plans.
 An effort was made to provide all eligible and qualified students full or part-time employment assistance. To help achieve this goal, we developed a liaison with the local industrial, agricultural, and mercantile community to facilitate their cooperation in job placement.
 An effort was made to provide exit interviews with all dropouts and potential early school leavers. Surveys were mailed to dropouts from the previous two years to gather information about employment and satisfaction with employment.

 All students were exposed to current and pertinent career information. Job interview seminars were conducted with all 11th and 12th grade students. The 9th grade participated in a career unit in civics which covered reading classified ads, writing resumes, filling out applications and job interview techniques.
 An item of particular problem is the lack of a centrally located counseling suite and career resource center. Also, full time clerical help would conserve valuable time spent in record keeping.

The health needs of more families in this area are being met since the opening of a new clinic in Seaford. More children are receiving fee lunches due to changes in eligibility requirements. However, there still remains a need for regular dental care. An increase in serious accidents was noted this year.

Due to time spent last spring informing parents of needed immunizations for entrance in kindergarten and support of the administration in enforcing the regulation pertaining to basic immunizations, it was not necessary to set up an immunization program this past school year.

Reading Centers

One of the main goals of the Reading Centers is to screen children who are referred for a reading evaluation and choose those children who require extra help in reading. Children needing additional help are included in the program until a maximum amount has been reached. When this occurs, a waiting list is begun for remaining students needing remediation. The Reading Centers also make referrals to supportive agencies when the reading clinician feels additional screening would be useful. Examples of such agencies are the Alfred I. duPont Institute, elementary guidance counselors, and school nurses.

Parents can play a vital role with their children of pre-school age in the area of reading by giving their children the opportunity to have as many experiences with life as possible. Reading to their children, explaining simple processes to them, showing and doing new things with them are all important preparatory foundations which will later enhance a varied background for reading.

To Parents and Friends:

The Annual Report covering school year 1975-76 is presented to the residents of this school district in expectation that each of you will become better acquainted with our school system.

This year, in an effort to reach the maximum number of residents and other interested persons, we have chosen to present the report through the Harrington Journal.

For the Board of Education and the entire Woodbridge School District personnel, I wish to thank all residents for the support we are receiving. The PTA, the Boosters Clubs, the Service Clubs--all have contributed to the development of our programs. We hope you will continue getting involved in providing the best possible educational opportunities for all district children.

Kindergarten

The district kindergarten continues to be a vital part of the Greenwood Elementary School Operation. Enrollment in kindergarten (110) shows to decline over the previous year.

A battery of tests including the Metropolitan Reading Test was given again this year to kindergarten students. The results of these tests help determine which students need to go in the Readiness Class before going to first grade. The Readiness Class is now generally accepted by the parents and we have few serious objections to placing children in it.

Elementary School

Despite cut back in personnel, we have maintained a good educational program for the students in our elementary schools.
 In the areas of curriculum development, most of the district goals and objectives were revised last year and the revised objectives have formed the basis for this year's instructional program.
 We completed a comprehensive evaluation of the elementary schools under the leadership of personnel from the Department of Public Instruction. The evaluation reports reflect very favorably on many aspects of our school operation and, at the same time, they suggest areas of continued effort. The results of the 1975 State Test were again utilized to the best possible advantage for the improvement of instruction. Particularly gratifying was the fact that the fourth grade students who were also tested in our schools in first grade did as well or better than was predicted on the basis of their first grade results.
 Our PTA organizations have remained active and we continue to enjoy good working relations with most of our school patrons. Our monthly Newsletter, and teacher and administrative calls to parents have helped us to maintain a close working relationship with the community.
 We must continue to improve upon the major programs such as Title I, the tribal reading, district prepared instructional goals, readiness, and supportive services. The mixing of primary grades with the high school in one building is still a major problem to be resolved. Proper facilities are essential for better education. Limited services in special subject areas such as art, music, and physical education are also a concern under present state and local funding systems.

 The curriculum is in constant review and evaluation by the teaching staff to insure the meaningfulness of the program and its relevance to all students. The course of study was updated and completed in April of 1976 in time for the Department of Public Instruction visitation for evaluation of the instructional program. The purpose of such visitation is to determine the extent to which the high school is providing educational programs in accordance with the rules and regulations of the State Board of Education. The report should be most beneficial to review in making the necessary preparations for the expected visitation by the Middle States Association in April of 1977 for re-accréditation.
 Open-line communication was maintained within the school and throughout the community. A monthly Newsletter was sent to parents with a review of past accomplishments, present accomplishments, upcoming events, review of policy, procedures, and regulations. Local news-

Junior High School

We have succeeded in providing a transitional year for the switch from an academic to an exploratory program in foreign language. Considerable work was accomplished in revising, updating, and improving course outlines. Most courses now have well defined objective and logical sequences.
 Our testing program consisted of the State Test for the eighth graders and the Metropolitan Reading test for all students. Results indicate that our developmental reading program is having some positive effects.
 An in-school Title IX committee was formed early in the school year. The committee studied Title IX regulations and made recommendations for the adjustment of our scheduling in industrial arts, home economics, and physical education to comply with these regulations.

 The Department of Public Instruction visited in school in May 11 and 12 for an evaluation. The recommendations have been implemented.
 The immediate future looks generally favorable. The transition to a full program of developmental reading for all students will be complete next year. The course of study for each class has been revised and an adequate program in both basic academic and non-academic areas has been established.
 Citizens are reminded that we are trying to operate a 1976 educational program in a 1930 building environment. Repairs and expenses are constant and costly.

papers were contacted for news concerning various areas of interest.
 Services for 1976 graduates in the area of further pursuit of education and job opportunity were maintained through the guidance department.
 The programs of instruction have definite strengths and definite weaknesses. During the next academic year, the faculty, staff and administration will continue an ongoing evaluation to improve those areas of weakness and to maintain those areas of high competency.

Speech and Hearing

Counseling Program

The Woodbridge School District offers a counseling program for students enrolled in the district's elementary schools. Last year the counselors worked with students in grades 1 through 5; however, the program has been expanded to include the kindergarten and sixth grade this year. The district employs two elementary counselors, both of whom have a master's degree in counseling, to work with students in the Title I reading program and with students in the regular classroom.

The basic objective of the counseling program is to provide Title I reading teachers, classroom teachers, and parents with techniques for improving the self-concept of the students in the Title I reading program and the behavior of students in the regular classroom. These techniques are provided for parents and teachers through individual conferences and parent-teacher-counselor conferences.

The elementary counselor works with students individually, in small groups, and in large groups depending upon the needs of the individual students.

Several safety projects were carried out throughout the school year. Students handed out safety literature at our homecoming football game, and a program dealing with bicycle safety was presented to the elementary school. We were also one of the few schools active in the Delaware Traffic and Safety Youth Club. The foremost aim of the course is to train our students in the safe and efficient methods of motor vehicle operation.

Students are referred to the counselor by teachers, principals, parents, and by the students themselves.

The elementary counselor, with the cooperation of parents and teachers, helps students develop both a positive self-concept and a positive attitude toward others.

Driver Education

As a result of identification and diagnosis, a total of 78 children in the Woodbridge School District were involved with direct speech therapy during 1975-76. These children received direct therapy bi-weekly for 30 minutes per session. The children were identified as a result of first grade screening, involvement in the previous program, or teacher referrals.

A language and speech developmental program was utilized within the District's three Title I Readiness classes. Good rapport was established between the Speech Clinician and the children involved in the Speech Therapy program. Contact was made and continued with the Georgetown Speech and Hearing Clinic regarding numerous children in the District. Telephone conversations and reports were exchanged so as to provide information regarding referrals, summer therapy, and diagnostics for these children.

It will be important to continue providing speech and language services for those individuals who are in need of improvement and attention. So as to increase awareness and knowledge regarding language, speech, hearing and other related disorders which may be present among students, a handbook and/or information sheets will be circulated among the District's faculty next year.

An increase of students in the 1976-77 program is expected as well as dismissals of children with mild to moderate difficulties.

Transportation

As requested in 1975 the parking lot at the Senior High School has been paved and all buses on a.m. runs, except elementary, are using angle parking, as well as all buses angle park for loading in the afternoon.

All standards for Federal Standard 17 were met. Transportation spent $291,232.33 school year 1975-76. We transported approximately 1,800 students for a total of 336,420 miles with only one serious injury. All buses have had their second annual inspection given by the Motor Vehicle Department, and have been inspected by the Transportation Department for minor adjustments.

Our main objective is to make sure that buses are properly inspected and safe for the transportation of students and to design routes that are feasible, routing in mind the cost and safety of all students. Efforts will be focused on areas where it is felt improvement can be made, such as the discipline reporting and follow through on discipline reports.

School Libraries

The Woodbridge High School Library has had a successful year in that most of the goals set up at the beginning of the school year have been achieved. The circulation has decreased greatly due to a decrease in the number of study halls.

The Greenwood School Library organized a Junior High Library Club the second semester. The Club proved to be a positive force in the Library and the school. Story Hour appeared to be a huge success in the elementary classes. The objective was to introduce them to a form of literature the students would not ordinarily choose to read themselves.

The North Bridgeville Elementary School Library enlarged its book collection by the addition of 1,242 books. ESEA Title II funds were used to purchase 1,140 books and Local funds were used to purchase 102 books. ESEA Title II Funds were also used to purchase 106 filmstrips which help to back up the curriculum.

At the Bridgeville Elementary School Library the book collection has been increased by the addition of 205 books, 59 of which were purchased with Local funds. We now have a total of 4,559 books or 14.2 books per student.

Every student was given as opportunity to visit the library at least once a week and charge out a book to read.

Cafeteria Services

This has been a memorable year. America is 200 years old, National School Lunch celebrates its 20th year. In tribute, all three schools served a Nationally selected Bicentennial Menu every month and held an All-American celebration during the School Lunch Week. Lunch workers wore pinafore aprons and dust caps and decorated cafeterias with posters and red, white, and blue balloons. Other activities included student involvement such as a Think Metric Menu, Field Day Special, a Menu in Spanish, and the Woodbridge Whopper. These extras resulted in increased sales, better public relations, and qualified each school for the "Child Nutrition Bicentennial School Banner" given by ASFASA.

American School Food

Service has started a certification program to recognize members for their service to America's children. North Bridgeville has 5 members; Junior High has 11 members; and the High School has 4 members to date, and 3 in Unit III.

Cafeteria workers formed their own Local Chapter this year, which was the first requirement before qualifying for national certification.

Delaware American Legion awarded Woodbridge School District a Commemorative Plaque for having all schools 100% as Bicentennial schools.

We have had more Federal commodities this year than ever before, which has kept all programs operating in the black. All in all, this has been a good year.

Shown here is the Felton water tower, the recent subject of paint-happy vandals. Felton, like many communities, is now faced with the prospect of having to paint its tower, an expensive project. They, as most city fathers, in area communities, find themselves digging into city funds to correct such thoughtless destruction as shown here.

Collins, Green Vows Said

Linda Susan Collins, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Price and the late Mr. Price of Hampton, Virginia, and William H. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Green of Felton, were united in holy matrimony at a five p.m. ceremony, November 6 in the Hiddenwood Presbyterian Church, Newport News, Virginia.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Ruth Price and Darrell Livingston, brother-in-law of the bride, of Denbigh, Virginia. Dr. John McMullen officiated at the double ring ceremony which was followed by a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Livingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Green will make their home in Fayetteville, North Carolina, where he is serving with the United States Air Force.

For Your Information
Dear friends,

Recently we were asked if a person could make advance arrangements for his funeral...select the desired vault and casket, determine details of the funeral, and place the required funds for that purpose in a local bank.

Such advance planning is feasible at most funeral homes and is especially sensible when there are no surviving relatives.

Respectfully,

Kent County Grain Loan Rate Changes

Kent County loan rates for grains were increased across-the-board in amounts equal to the recently announced national average loan rate increases, according to James S. Metz, Chairman, Kent County ASC Committee. The loan rate increases were announced Oct. 13 by Acting Secretary of Agriculture John A. Knebel.

"The increases are applicable to both the 1976 and 1977 crop loans, and retroactive for outstanding 1976-crop loans. However, producers must request the adjustment in the rate for 1976-crop loans," Metz emphasized. "We will not automatically send out a check in the amount of the increase to producers having outstanding loans. Producers who have outstanding loans on 1976-crop grains and who want the increase, must request it from the ASCS office."

Metz said that loan rates for Kent county were changed as follows: Wheat from $1.53 to $2.28, corn from $1.43 to $1.68, Barley from 99c to $1.19, Sorghum from $2.15 to $2.57, oats from 70c to 82c, Rye from $1.14 to $1.34, soybean loan rate is unchanged at $2.47 per bushel.

Indoor Sunshine For House Plants

Somehow those house plants that summer outdoors always seem to grow and multiply when you're not looking. Now that all these plants are back in the house, do you find them taking over all your window space and threatening to topple off window-sills because they're too big?

If you don't have enough windows for all your plants, now that they've grown and flourished, there's always the option of chopping them back into small plants again, or giving some away. If you don't have the heart for these drastic solutions, University of Delaware extension garden specialist Dave Tatnall suggests you try wintering some of these plants under fluorescent lights. Besides solving the immediate space problem, it's a nice way to have plants in other parts of your house, away from natural light sources.

Perhaps you've avoided such a solution in the past because you didn't feel like undertaking the expense of buying one of those specialized plant growth bulbs now on the market. While these bulbs do an excellent job, any kind of fluorescent fixture will act as indoor sunshine, if you can arrange plants so that they are within 2 to 36 inches of the fixture. The best distance depends on the plant, as well as the bulb's wattage and age, since fluorescent lights become weaker with use. Also, fluorescent lights are brighter in the center and dimmer at their ends, so place plants needing less light towards ends of the fixture, or position end plants closer to the light. You may have to do some juggling and experimenting before you find the best spot for each plant.

If you want to install a fixture specifically for house plants, Tatnall recommends using a four-foot double unit with a reflecting hood and two bulbs, one warm-white and one cool-white. This will give you about eight square feet of growing space. Fixtures like this are often on sale at local discount stores for about $12.

If you don't want such a large fixture, a single 15 to 20 watt fluorescent tube installed in a bookcase can brighten up a dark corner of a room and give plants a boost at the same time.

"Delay is preferable to error," Thomas Jefferson

The word "nice" comes from the Latin nescius meaning "ignorant."

Sunny Side Up

"What's THAT? Yuk!" This is the typical reaction of our son to any culinary effort of mine that he can't immediately identify. I have assured him for years that he could safely eat whatever was prepared in the home kitchen.

"I'm not trying to poison you-trust me," I have told him repeatedly. No matter. Dave was born suspicious of anything different in the food line. ("Different" is one mushroom stem buried in a mound of beef tips on rice.) Although teen age has mellowed him somewhat, he would still rather eat next door where they serve recognizable spaghetti and hamburgers.

It's the same at your house? Ah well, this is the price one pays for being elected family cook.

There is, however, one remarkable exception to Dave's food hang-up-liver. He loves it. He'll even eat it with a mushroom stem. Don't ask me how or why. Probably for the same reason he crawled backward instead of forward as a baby. So I have become a collector of liver recipes in order to make the most of one of the best meat choices around.

For a food bargain with a bonus, add liver to your menu once a week. One pound of liver will yield four to six servings, depending on the recipe.

There is almost no waste. The bonus is its exceptional food value. Sue Matusiak, extension home economist, calls liver an almost perfect food. She says it contains all the nutrients necessary for building and maintaining body functions, with the exception of calcium. In addition to high quality protein, liver is a rich source of iron and Vitamin A. But that's not all. Liver also contains important amounts of copper, the B vitamins, phosphorous and other trace elements. Calories? Only about 160 for four ounces of broiled beef or calves liver.

If you'd like to serve more liver but are short on ideas, send for our free extension recipe folder. It has over 20 different recipes and menu ideas for all types of liver, plus nutrition information and cooking tips. Write to: Liver, Mail Room, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark, De., 19711.

One of the recipes is called Liver Fantastique. And it really is. I served it the other night to rave notices and applause. There was just a little bit left over, and aglow with kindly feelings toward all God's creatures, I spooned it tenderly onto our cat's dinner plate. He sniffed once, eyed me with disdain and stalked off, tail twitching in annoyance.

Oh well, you can't please everyone.

LF Wins Henlopen Cross-Country Championship

by Keith S. Burgess
Caesar Rodney was expected to extend Lake Forest, in the annual Henlopen cross-country championship run, but the host Spartans put together a great clutch effort and won in a romp. Lake Forest had 31, Caesar Rodney 52, Cape Henlopen 93, Smyrna 96, Dover Air 134, Dover 147, Seaford 170, Laurel 204. Jim Blades' Spartans had earlier won the dual-meet championship with a 7-0 mark, but had barely beaten Caesar Rodney, 27-28, in a recent dual meet.

missed making the all-star aggregation by a scant two seconds. Thomas was hindered by illness in 1975, but has come on like gangbusters this season. He's a solid No. 3 performer for his team, moving up some 14 positions in one year.

The eight-team championship run was held Monday afternoon on the 2.7 miles course at Killen's Pond State Park.

Lance White of Cape Henlopen was the individual winner in 14.20, an excellent performance on a bitter cold and windy day. Dan Parker of Lake Forest was second, as expected, but Chris Palmisano (third) and Dave Richter (fifth) rose to the occasion with perhaps the top efforts of their respective careers. The Lake Forest trio earned places on the All-Henlopen Conference team as a result.

Jim Lefavor and Bill Freeman of C.R. were sixth and seventh to grab the final two all-loop positions. Cover of Seaford (fourth) was on the select squad also. Spartan Louis Thomas was ninth, and Wilson Fry, a sophomore in his first harrier season was 12th to clinch matters for the Spartans. He's been a welcome addition to a team that graduated five of seven starters off a state championship team. Nevertheless, Lake Forest is favored to win a fourth straight Delaware crown at Killen's Pond State Park, where the state meet will be contested Wednesday afternoon, November 10.

Paul McLellan and Herb Jarrell were the sixth and seventh Spartan finishers Monday. Tom Ott and Bill Mitchell were second and third to CR's John Freeman, one of three talented harrier brothers in the jayvee race. The riders won the jayvee race despite fine efforts by Lake Forest's Ott, Mitchell

John Moffett, a comebacking Kelly Woodward, Randy Ramirez, Brian Eckenrode, Ron Wilhelm, Pete Fraley, John Nickle, Dale Jarrell, Craig Fry, Walt Willey, Lee Turner and Dave Kelly.

Mitchell has earned his varsity letter with his sterling performances this campaign. It wasn't easy for the gritty, 14-year-old freshman had to battle a tough, veteran state championship roster to qualify to wear the LF on his jacket.

It's simple to earn a cross-country letter at some schools. At Lake Forest you've got to earn it by beating most of your teammates and that's hard to do, when your fellow harriers are talented enough to win league and state championships, year after year.

Maurice Coverdale, at 13, has amassed many,

Freshman Eleven Down CR, Smyrna

by Ben Potter

On October 27th the Lake Forest freshman football team invaded Caesar Rodney at C.R. The defense held the Riders to only six points, while the offense moved the ball at will scoring 20 points. Kenny Thorpe romped for 3 touchdowns and Mark Smith added 2 points on the conversion.

Next on Nov. 3rd, the Spartans took on Smyrna at Smyrna. Coming into the game Smyrna was unbeaten, and when they ran back the opening kickoff to take 7-0 lead it looked as if it would stay that way.

But then the Spartans took control and scored in 3 plays on a 60 yard run by Kenny Thorpe to make it 7-6. The defense held on Smyrna's next possession and forced a punt. Then the offense marched downfield and scored on quarterback Mark Smith's scramble. Kenny Thorpe scored on the 2-point conversion to make the score 14-7 at the half.

When the second half began Smyrna scored to make the score 14-13. Suddenly a Lake Forest screen pass was picked off and run back for a touchdown and a 20-16 Smyrna lead.

The Spartans came back with a touchdown run by Roy Boehmer and a Mark Smith to Leroy Garey pass for the conversion made the score 28-20. A tough Smyrna team fought back for another TD but could not score on the conversion, thus the Spartans upset Smyrna 28-26.

Going Hunting?

Going hunting? Then check these health safety rules. Taking care of yourself is just as important as taking care of your equipment.

Make sure you're in good physical condition before you go out hunting. Hunting is a rugged sport. Hiking, bicycling and jogging are excellent ways to build up stamina.

Out in the woods hunt at a steady, unhurried pace and don't try to do as much as 50 as you did at 25.

Dress comfortably in light but warm clothing. Remember, several layers of light clothing will keep you warmer than one heavy layer.

Never hunt alone. Emergencies do happen. Be prepared for an emergency. Know the location of the nearest phone or ranger station.

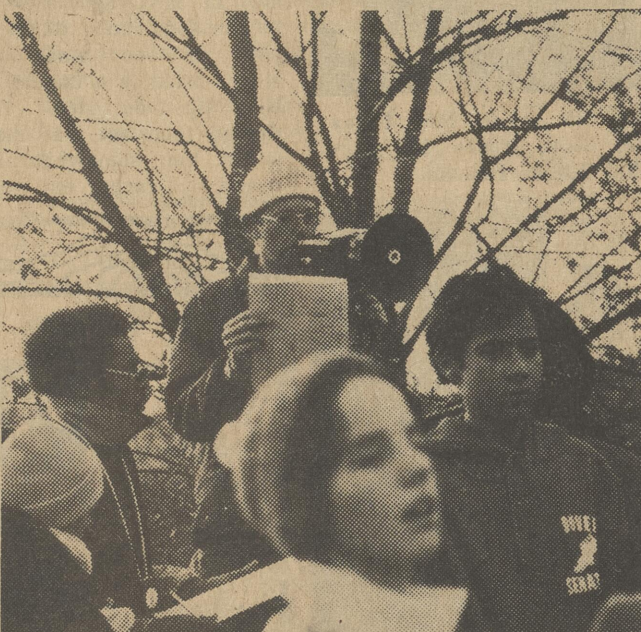

If you're lucky enough to bag a deer this season, don't try to drag it out of the woods by yourself. Wait for help.

Be sure to check with your doctor before hunting season if you are a cardiac patient. At hunting camp tell at least one member of the party about your condition. He should know what medicines you take and how often you take them.

Every hunter should know the warning signs of heart attack and what to do in case of an emergency.

The usual symptoms are prolonged oppressive pain or unusual discomfort in the center of the chest. The pain may radiate to the shoulder, arm, neck or jaw. Sweating may accompany the pain. Nausea, vomiting and shortness of breath also may occur.

If any hunter recognizes these warning signs, a doctor should be contacted immediately. If this is not possible, the victim should be taken immediately to the nearest hospital.

Spartan cross-country coach Jim Blades announces the results of the 1976 conference cross-country meet which saw Lake Forest finish in the top spot.

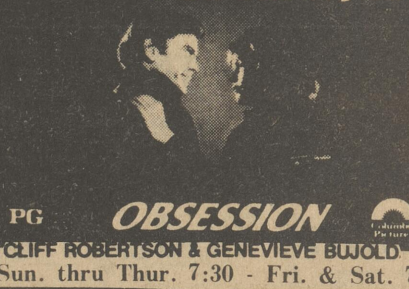

awards in long distance running. He started four years ago in age-group competition. He's the star of the Chipman team and ran 2.7 miles, unpressed in 17.37, on Monday.

Bruce Humphrey, a Felton eighth grader, is a rising star in his own right. In a brief career extending back only a few weeks, he's gradually moved up to rank second or third on a W.T. Chipman team, that can boast of some ten excellent prospects. Bruce was second Monday with tiny but tough Mike Bishop in third.

Others to do a good job were Dennis Voshell, Mike Emory, John Veith, Albert Burns and Gary Ott. The inclement weather made record performances difficult. Some of the better Chipman harriers finished a minute or more behind previous trips.

Meat Grades Tell Consumer About Quality

You may have been tempted to check into an ad selling a large amount of freezer beef at an attractively low price. Many times these ads are "on the level" and offer quality meat, but not always, says Marguerite Krackhardt, extension nutrition specialist at the University of Delaware. Consumers should know what they're buying before they fill their freezer with beef of doubtful quality.

All meat sold in this country MUST be inspected by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) to insure fitness for human consumption. Meat is inspected for wholesomeness and sanitation, though, not for quality. So, buying inspected meat doesn't mean you're getting the quality you might expect.

If meat is "graded" by the USDA, you can determine its quality, says the nutrition specialist. There are eight grades of beef quality. USDA PRIME, the most tender and flavorful, is the highest grade, but seldom available in supermarkets. It's sold almost exclusively through better restaurants.

Most beef available in supermarkets is USDA CHOICE, second only to Prime in flavor and tenderness. USDA GOOD is often sold under a supermarket brand name. USDA STANDARD is rarely sold in supermarkets. It is less tender and flavorful than the higher grades, but its lower cost makes it a good buy for people who don't mind tougher meat.

USDA COMMERCIAL, UTILITY, CUTTER, and CANNER are grades not available on the retail market. This meat is processed into ground meat, sausage, cold cuts, and hot dogs.

Before you buy beef from a freezer-meat dealer, make sure you know its USDA quality grade, says Ms. Krackhardt. Don't pay Prime prices for Standard meat. There are no other names that indicate quality. "Fancy," "Grade A," or "Corn-fed" are meaningless terms and can be used to promote lower quality meat.

USDA grading for quality is not required. Livestock producers and meat packers must request the grading. But only if beef is graded can you determine its value.

SPARTAN SCOREBOARD

Lake Forest's Mike Benson No. 33 breaks into the clear in the Spartans victory over Sussex Central last Friday.

Spartans Defeat Sussex Central For 2nd Straight

by Millard Ellingsworth III

"Yes, I think it's definitely possible," said Lake Forest Football head coach Jim Fleming when asked if his Spartans could finish the year with four wins. The Spartans, who were winless until two weeks ago, have won their last two games, the first against Woodbridge, and the second against Sussex Central Friday night. Lake Forest staged a come-from-behind victory with Greg Shortell scoring the winning points with only 4:25 left in the game. The record now is 2-6, the best it's been in recent years. It seemed that Lake Forest's old ways were upon them as the game opened at the Sussex stadium. The Spartans received and were penalized 15 yards for clipping. After an unsuccessful series of plays, the Golden Knights added insult to injury by blocking the punt and returning it to the Spartan one yard line. Sussex scored on the next play and the extra point was good. On the kickoff, again, the Spartans were penalized for clipping and started with the ball on their own 22 yard line. Kevin Hutchins broke through the field for a 27 yard gain to put the ball at midfield. Mike Benson gained ten on the next play and then the call went to Hutchins again, this time for 16 yards. Eleven yards were gained on Benson's next run and then there was a momentary stalemate as the Spartans couldn't move the ball. On fourth and ten from Sussex 15 yard line, Shortell handed off to Benson who attempted to pass to Jerry Custiss but was intercepted. Sussex returned the ball nearly the whole length of the field before Mike Benson made the stop unassisted on the Spartans one yard line to save the touchdown. On the next play, Sussex drove over the goal line but fumbled in the end zone where Russell Knaub recovered. This put the ball on Lake Forest's 20 yard line. Mike Benson found a big hole and gained 53 yards to Sussex Central's 27 yard line. A fifteen yard penalty on the next play backed the ball up to the Sussex 38. Next, Shortell completed the Spartans' only pass of the night to Bill Moore for six yards. With long yardage for the first down, Lake Forest attempted a double reverse but the ball was lost in transit and the Golden Knights recovered. Sussex, unable to move the ball, was forced to punt. Jerry Custiss rushed in from defensive end and batted the ball down and returned it to the 49 yard line of Sussex. Benson attempted another pass and again it was intercepted. Sussex returned the ball to their own 26. Again the Lake Forest defensive team held Sussex and they were forced to punt. Benson took the ball and returned it to the Lake Forest 38. In the next five plays Billy Moore gained 23 yards, Kevin Hutchins six and Mike Benson three. Sussex gave the Spartans another fifteen thanks to a penalty. This put the Spartans in scoring position on the Sussex fifteen. Shortell swept around end and pitched back to Ron Loper to cover the fifteen yards and put the Spartans on the score board. On Sussex Central's next series, only good defense saved another Sussex score. The Golden Knights broke through for a 25 yard run which was stopped by Mike Benson. Another run which threatened to be a break-away was stopped by Kevin Hutchins and a would be touchdown pass was deflected by Benson. At the beginning of the second half Sussex scored again on the Spartans to take a 13-6 lead. The score came on the opening series of plays after several short gains and a run of 17 yards and one of 14 yards. There was a penalty on the Spartans of five yards which advanced the ball to the Lake Forest five yard line before the Golden Knights could score. Fortunately for Lake Forest the extra point was batted down. In the middle of the fourth period Lake Forest found itself on the Sussex Central 45 yard line. Benson took the first carry for ten yards and he and Shortell shared the next one for a total of about 22 yards. Bill Moore got a four yarder and then Shortell got the first down on seven yard run to the two yard line of Sussex. Ron Loper scored his second TD of the night to put the Spartans within two points of victory, 13-12. Greg Shortell barreled around right end for the conversion and the victory. The Spartans were able to hold back a last ditch effort on Sussex Central's margin of victory. Individually for the night in rushing Mike Benson carried 13 times for 142 yards, Bill Moore 11 times for 75, Kevin Hutchins eight for 45, Ron Loper five for 19, and Greg Shortell seven for 18.

Meanest Man

Billy Moore has been selected as Lake Forest's meanest man from his playing in last week's game against Sussex Central.

The junior offensive line-backer and defensive full-back, was selected, according to Coach Jim Fleming, because of his fine performance and because he had improved a great deal. Moore is doing "a lot of blocking for the offense which makes him able to score," stated Fleming. Moore has a chance to win a football scholarship next year if he continues to improve and keeps up his grades, since he is pursuing the academic course at Lake Forest. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Moore of Harrington.

Two home games, this Friday and next Friday night wind up the football season.

Gary Pettyjohn, #44, stopping Seaford's Van Belcher for a rare loss in Seaford's 28-0 win over Woodbridge.

RAIDERS LOCKER ROOM REPORT

IT'S TOUCHDOWN TIME

Ralph Scott, #53, and Tom Jefferson, #37, closing in on the Seaford offense in first period action last Friday night.

LET'S GO! TEAM!

woodbridge football
It was a different looking Woodbridge football team that came out to begin their game last Friday against Seaford but in the end it was the same result as the Blue Jays routed the Raiders 28-0.

Seaford, who ran their winning streak to six straight games with their fifth straight shutout, scored first as Van Belcher broke loose on a 62 yard run around left end in the second period. Before this score Woodbridge and Seaford had traded ball possession several times with Woodbridge having the best scoring opportunity but failing near the goal line as a fourth down Louis Dexter pass fell incomplete.

The Raiders failed to mount many more offensive threats but their defense managed to keep the score within reach going into the fourth period as the Blue Jay's led 7-0. But, in the fourth period it was a different story as Belcher who carried 31 times on the night for 212 yards scored on touchdown runs of 1 and 2 yds. Chris Webb scored the Blue Jay's final touchdown on a 39 yard run and Greg Nelson kicked all four extra points to account for the 28-0 final score.

The Blue Jays who lead the Henlopen Conference Northern Division with a 5-0 record and 6-2 overall outgained the Raiders 337 to 127 yards. Raiders coach Jim Foster was critical of the officiating as twice he had to call the head referee over to explain calls the second of which was a clear clipping call which occurred right in front of the Woodbridge bench.

The Raiders are 0-4 in the conference and 1-7 overall with two games remaining. This Friday they take on Sussex Central away and on Thanksgiving Day they play their traditional game at Delmar.

Spank Neal, #89 and Tom Jefferson, #37, leading the Woodbridge defense.

Woodbridge's No. 62 Richard Wingate stops Seaford's Van Belcher for one of the few times during the night, just short of the goal line.

Woodbridge coach Jim Foster tries to point out to the head official exactly where the missed clip occurred. The penalty which wasn't called occurred right in front of the Woodbridge bench.
