Annual Thanksgiving Service Set

HARRINGTON-The annual community Thanksgiving church service is being held this year on Wednesday, November 24, at Calvary Wesleyan Church located on Delaware Avenue.

The Rev. Bruce Shortell will deliver the message. Special music will be given by the host church.

This community service is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

State Farm Bureau Queen Named

MILFORD-For the second year in a row, a Sussex miss has retained the title of State Farm Bureau Queen. This year the honor went to Miss Carla Vanderwende, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Vanderwende of Bridgeville.

The very active Woodbridge senior is no newcomer to contests, having been named fourth runner up in last year's Miss Delaware pageant.

The criteria for being named State Farm Bureau Queen include a written essay on a given topic, as well as a presentation summary of the essay during the annual bureau's meeting-banquet, held this year at Milford High School.

Miss Vanderwende is a member of the Woodbridge FFA chapter, as well as the varsity club, chorus, 4-H, the National Honor Society, year book staff, of which she is sports editor, and student council representative. She is also a statistician for the basketball team and is a Sunday School teacher.

She has also been named in Who's Who Among American High School Students and is a state officer of the FFA.

Miss Vanderwende is taking the academic course at Woodbridge High School and plans to attend college next year to study anesthesiology.

She was crowned Thursday night by Marian Hopkins of Lewes, the past State Farm Bureau Queen.

Police Have Full Week

HARRINGTON-City police report another busy week here with incidents ranging from traffic violations to what was thought to be armed robbery at first.

On November 16, David D. Whittboldt, 18, of Felton, was stopped by Harrington police around 11:45 p.m. for a traffic violation. Upon checking the vehicle, Whittboldt was found to have consumed alcoholic beverages under age and was arrested for consumption of alcohol under 20 years of age and for operating an unsafe motor vehicle.

The youth was brought to the police station where his parents were called and into whose custody he was released, pending trial later.

Once outside the police station, the youth escaped the parents' custody, according to police, made his way back to his vehicle, got into the car and evading an attempt by the police to stop the vehicle, fled.

He was pursued to Farmington where he jumped from the car and fled across a field.

The following morning, his parents returned him to the police station here where he was arrested on additional charges of speeding 110 in a 50 mile zone, failing to stop at a stop sign, reckless driving, failure to stop at the command of police officers and operating a vehicle without lights.

He was fined a total $680, and plead guilty to all charges except failure to stop at the command of a police officer. He was found guilty of this charge after the hearing.

Robbery Suspected

On November 18 around 9:20 p.m., police received a report from the Peoples Bank, where employees saw what they believed was a robbery in progress. The employees believed a gun and a white and blue cadillac were involved.

Police responded and discovered a man apparently sharpening a knife in the back seat of the car. All persons in the vehicle were related to one another. All were released and went on their way.

Police Chief Ed Layton told the Journal he wished to commend the employees of the Peoples Bank for their attention. "Someone else might have looked the other way," remarked Layton.

Suspicious Car Reported

Around 10 p.m. on November 19, a call was received from a resident on Second Avenue, reporting a suspicious car parked behind a house.

Police arrived to investigate and five people were arrested, four for consuming alcoholic beverages under the age of 20 and one was arrested for possession of alcoholic beverages. Arrested was Christopher Jones, 19, of Harrington.

Of the remaining four juveniles, all 17 except for a 15 year-old, two were released to their parents or an older person and two were incarcerated in Stevenson House. All juveniles are pending hearing in Family Court. Jones was fined $5 and costs.

Burglar Alarm Rings

Also on November 19 police answered a burglar alarm set off at Quillen's Market, triggered when someone kicked in the plate glass window on the bottom of the front door.

Police believe the incident was a test to determine if the burglar system worked. It did. Some leads are being investigated.

Traffic Violation Noted

On November 20, at approximately 11 p.m., a vehicle was stopped for a routine traffic violation. The operator, Shanley P. Smith, 18, of Felton, was found to have consumed alcoholic beverages under the age of 20. He was arrested for driving at 40 miles per hour in a 25 mile per hour zone, inattentive driving and consuming alcohol under the age of 20. He was fined $75, including costs.

Erratic Driving Reported

On November 21 at 1:45 a.m. a vehicle was stopped for driving in an erratic manner on Clark Street. Upon checking the vehicle, Robert W. Cerklefskie, 19, of Harrington, was arrested for driving in an erratic manner, a speed exhibition and consumption of alcoholic beverages under the age of 20 years. He was taken to Court 7, where bond was posted for him to appear at a later date for trial.

TV Celebrity Heads Parade

Jaycee Parade Finalizes

HARRINGTON-Youngsters in age and at heart will be pleased with the line up for this year's JAYCEE Christmas Parade. This annual event has been scheduled for Saturday, December 4, with a rain date for the following Saturday.

According to co-chairmen Lee Dean and Bob Outten, the grand marshal, although he has a busy schedule, is Cookie Monster of Sesame Street fame. The purple-coated character will head the parade which will kick off at 1:30 p.m., with the line up an hour before. The parade will follow its customary route, down Commerce Street, turning onto Clark, past the judges stand in the vicinity of Watkins Supply, to the shopping center, where it usually disassembles.

One Applicant Is Woman

HARRINGTON-Thirty-two applications have been received for the two positions on the Harrington police force. Of the applicants one is a woman.

Outten Holds Open House

HARRINGTON-The newest business location in the city held open house last weekend and well wishers dropped by Friday and Saturday to greet William Outten and his wife, Irene, in their new building on Commerce Street.

The modern glass and brick structure occupies the site where one-time merchant Wilbur Jacobs first started a milliners shop.

Insurance will be the business transacted at the Commerce Street and Dorman Street site from now on. Outten has been a Nationwide Insurance agent for 25 years in the Harrington area, having been born and raised in the community.

Corporal Punishment Guidelines Approved

Woodbridge School Board Hears Reports

BRIDGEVILLE-The Woodbridge School Board finalized its corporal punishment guidelines during its monthly meeting last Wednesday night. With the exception of deleting the words "or the use of a small strap" in the definition of corporal punishment and the words "small strap" from one of the times when corporal punishment might be used, the guidelines stood as proposed. The addition of the word "teacher" to be added to those who might be endangered by a student's antisocial behavior was the only addition to the two-page list of guidelines that Already the jaycees have commitments from seven bands who are Delmar, Woodbridge, and Lake Forest High Schools and Milford, Greenwood, Sussex Central and, W.T. Chipman Schools. For the first time the parade will also be broadcast live on WTHD-WAFL.

The guest of honor, Santa Claus, will be on the last float in the parade, after which he is scheduled to be on hand at the shopping center to talk with youngsters. More information about Santa's hours will be announced as they are made known.

Anyone still wishing to participate in the parade may still do so by contacting Bob Outten at 398-3816 or Lee Dean at 398-3291.

The William Outtens pause during their open house dedication Friday for this photo taken in Mr. Outten's new office on Commerce and Dorman Streets.

will be publicized before going into effect January 1, 1977. These guidelines were set up under Senate Bill No. 27, which amends Section 701, Chapter 7, Title 14 of the Delaware Code, and was signed into law by Governor Sherman Tribbitt in August this year.

The Board heard two lengthy reports from James Johnston, dealing with the Woodbridge High School evaluation and Marie Shockley, regarding the Title I reading program.

In the first report, Johnston said the preliminary evaluating team found the "overall atmosphere at Woodbridge High School" very favorable. The area needing improvement was in the library. He cited instances where the team had made recommendations which were being acted upon this year. A full time librarian now is a result of one of the recommendations as is a faculty advisory committee, which is now being formed.

Johnston said he hopes to see the high school have a "full career guidance area". He told the Board there was about $6,000 available to the district for development of guidance, which, according to Johnston, would be enough "to make this a first class guidance center."

The high school is to undergo the Middle States evaluation in April of 1977. This team will determine if Woodbridge is to receive accreditation for the next 10 years.

Miss Marie Shockley of the Title I reading program reported 250 students were being served with the $150,000 available for the district's Title I reading program. "We do not have a whole lot of money to play around with." The breakdown of use of this money includes salaries of 14 personnel, trailer rental, and equipment and supplies for the program.

She told the board the program has undergone inspection at the state and federal levels and was "not in any violation of federal regulations."

Two groups of students were given permission to take trips. In May the high school band has been granted permission to participate in the Niagra Falls Festival. It is a three-day trip.

Members of the high school French class will attend the American Institute of Foreign Study from April 8 to 16.

Senior Center Bazaar Set For Dec. 2

by Cleota Wiley
Our mittens for moppets are slowly coming to an end at our center. Monday was a bad morning, but we had a good number for hand rehearsal and fun with fitness exercises. Due to the weather the band did not go to Greenwood County Rest Home as was scheduled. We had 55 members for the monthly birthday party. There were 5 or 6 members around the birthday table. There was a movie by Mr. George Goodge after lunch. All enjoyed the beautiful cake and ice cream. The quilt making seems to still be taking Mrs. Seldess time. The crochet work is at a stand still now. The pool table is still a popular place at the center. It is awful nice to have a hobby to occupy your time and mind after you have retired from your lifetime job. We had a very nice Bible Study and Hymn Sing with Rev. and Mrs. Watson.

ministers who have given so graciously of their time to try to help us to understand the Bible. We would appreciate all of you people who have the time to come and be with us at our next Bible Study on Nov. 26 at 11 a.m. with the Rev. Watson. One of our members, Louise Schaeffer, of Mechanic St. is in St. Francis Hospital at this time. We hope to hear she is better and will soon be home again. The bus went again to Milford to take the folks, bowling, shopping, and doctors appointments. Or just to visit a friend or neighbor who is in the hospital. High bowler for the ladies this week was Mrs. Marian Littmann. The gentleman was Jim Konienchi. A safe and Happy Thanksgiving to one and all.

Happenings

by Carole Glasspool

About one hundred and fifty inveterate gamblers gathered in the Lake Forest High School Saturday night to be greeted by Mr. James Moore, looking for all the world like the keeper of a gambling house of the old West during the early 1900s. Mr. Moore, attired in red velvet vest and black bowler, exchanged our real dollar bills for $2500 worth of "funny money".

The occasion, of course, was Casino Night sponsored by the Lake Forest Athletic Boosters. There was school board member Don Garey running the dice game, bright, breezy and smiling Sue Lemmons spinning the roulette wheel, while Cliff Chambers kept raking in the money for the house and Bill Falasco was dealing at the black jack table. Now, Bill is a physical education instructor at W. T. Chipman Jr. High but you'd have a difficult time convincing this writer that he hasn't missed his "calling" to be a Las Vegas dealer. I mean how many times can you turn up an 8 to someone holding 14, or a 10 to someone holding 12, or even a 9 to someone holding 13. Then he deals me 21 and you guessed it -- he deals himself a 21 also. Really!!!

Whatever, there were some big winners because when Paul Garey started the auctioneering, a ham went for $30,000 and a radio went for $80,000 (I'm not counting that money up," quipped Cliff Chambers). Without mentioning any names, I know one dynamic duo that had to combine their winnings to bid $9,000 on four bicentennial mugs. The younger set definitely seemed to be the big winners. Must have something to do with sweet innocence!

Fifty gallons of gasoline that you could buy chances on was won by Mrs. James Moore of Felton.

Among those enjoying the fun and games were Lake Forest guidance counselor Justin Hyatt and spouse, Cliff Chamber's wife Ann, Dave Buck and a very attractive blonde, Joan and Bob Kashner, who were also working, ABC President Bill Morris and Priscilla who was at work, C. E. and Alice Hinson, Ruth Cole, Dave and Colleen Whitt and daughter Rhonda and Bill Falasco's spouse and daughter who are both absolute dolls.

The Boosters netted over $200 profit from the evening.

While all this fun and games was in progress at Lake Forest High School, Mr. Alex B. Becton, W. T. Chipman band director sat proudly in the audience as the 1976 All-State Junior High School Band Concert got underway at the University of Delaware. Mr. Becton has every right to be proud, as the five names he nominated for All-State were all selected and joined with the "best from other junior high schools in the state."

Four of the students are eighth graders at Chipman and one is a ninth grader at Lake Forest High School who was eligible because in some parts of Delaware ninth graders are considered Junior High students. The ninth grader and former Becton student is Adam Hobbs who plays tuba; the four eighth graders are Kenneth Clark, first trumpet; Lori Clough, percussionist; John Way, first clarinet; and Elizabeth Roach, second flute. Congratulations to all of the above named students!

Accompanying Mr. Becton to the concert and earlier seeing the University of Delaware beat Maine was a foursome known as Alex's Angels -- Diana Voshell, Laurie Glasspool, Lisa Stubbs and Kay Sylvester.

At the Lake Forest North Elementary PTA meeting last Tuesday night Mr. Robert VanVessen was elected treasurer to keep watch over the PTA's bank balance which is already a whopping $385.76. The PTA was only started at the beginning of this school year.

At the same meeting Mr. Grogan, Mrs. Bancroft, Mrs. Wittboldt and Mrs. Stayton were elected to serve on the Problem-Solving Committee. This committee was formed to investigate and try to bring to resolution any problems of a general nature that seem to be affecting large numbers of students.

At a recent meeting of the Cadette Council which includes all Cadette troops in Kent County, three of the officers elected were from this area.

The Council is comprised of four representatives from each troop between Smyrna and Harrington. Elected President is Arnett Petraski from Ann Morrow's Troop 365, Felton. Vice President is Jane Reirden of Barbara Evan's Troop 905, Harrington. The new Council Treasurer is Linda Salaz of Barbara Rubel's Frederica Troop 239.

In other business, it was decided to accept the offer made by Major John C. Shield, USAF Retired, of Dover, to instruct the girls relative to their Aviation Badge. All girls from all Cadette troops in Kent County may avail themselves of the opportunity to earn this badge by receiving expert instruction from Major Shield who was an A.F. pilot prior to his retirement.

Have a very Happy Thanksgiving!

4-H News

Twenty-two Delaware 4-H members have been named state winners in the 1976 National 4-H awards program, according to James O. Baker, state 4-H leader. Three members will receive prizes of U.S. savings bonds while the remaining winners will attend the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 27 - Dec. 3.

The winners in each project were selected on the basis of their outstanding 4-H club work. The purpose of the projects is to develop leadership talents and to work toward the broad objectives of character development and effective citizenship. Award winners must also exhibit knowledge and skills in their specific project areas.

Besides winning at the state level, several of the Delaware competitors also placed with their projects at the national level. In the National 4-H Dress Revue Awards Program, Debbie Murray of Middletown was named first alternate. Other alternates were Nancy Pederson (Middletown), Home Management; Betsy Cook (Newark), Food-Nutrition; and David Crary (Hills of Skyline, Wilmington), Bicycle.

Winners of the national awards programs receive $800 scholarships to the colleges of their choice; alternates are in line for these scholarships, should any winner decide not to go to college.

This year there was also one U.S. sectional winner from Delaware, Cynthia Sweitzer (Leedom, New Castle), who goes to Chicago because of her achievements in the National 4-H Home Environment Awards Program.

During their week at the 4-H Club Congress, the Delaware 4-Hers will join about 1600 other delegates from all parts of the country. They will participate in recreational activities and meetings, and hear nationally-known speakers.

The awards and trips are provided by local and national sponsors.

Choral Society To Present Concert

DOVER-Selections from Handel's "Messiah" will be a highlight of the Delaware Choral Society's 20th anniversary Christmas concert.

The concert is scheduled for 8 p.m. Sunday, December 12, in the Whatcoat United Methodist Church of Camden, 16 N. Main St., Camden. There is no admission charge, and the concert is open to the public.

Organized in 1956 to perform the "Messiah" each Christmas, the Delaware Choral Society has since expanded its repertoire to include other classic choral works.

In addition, the Society will perform the complete "Midnight Mass for Christmas" by the French composer Marc-Antoine Charpentier. This is a classic choral work based on a number of popular French Christmas carols.

Accompaniment for the concert will be organ and chamber orchestra. Organist for the performance will be Leona Kelley, who is organist and choir director of the Whatcoat United Methodist Church.

The Dover Baroque Ensemble is cooperating with the Choral Society by providing recorder (flute) players for the chamber ensemble. Additional members of the orchestra will come from the University of Delaware.

Members of the 60-voice Delaware Choral Society come from throughout central and southern Delaware. The group performs a Christmas season concert early each December, and two spring concerts. Dr. Peter McCarthy, coordinator of choral music at the University of Delaware, is director of the Society.

The Delaware Choral Society is supported by members' dues, donations and matching funds provided by the Delaware State Arts Council.

Thoughts...

By Senator William Roth

One of the top priorities of the new Administration and new Congress will be tax reform. Even though Congress spent the last two years working on a massive tax reform bill, the tax laws are still too complex, too inequitable, and too much of a burden on working middle-income taxpayers.

I believe the work done in the last Congress was an important first step in reforming our tax laws. The new tax law provides expanded pension protection for many housewives, a new child-care tax credit for working parents, and important tax relief for senior citizens. Important progress was also made on my proposal to provide tax credits to help offset rising college expenses.

The tax bill also included significant but little-publicized provisions to make sure that all taxpayers bear their fair share of the tax burden. The bill cracks down on tax-shelter abuses and puts an end to the arrangements which allowed people to receive large tax write-offs after investing only a small amount of money.

In addition, the new tax law significantly strengthens the minimum tax. The minimum tax was first enacted in 1969 to prevent high-income individuals and corporations from avoiding Federal income taxes.

This new minimum tax will increase taxes on wealthy individuals and corporations from $130 million to more than $1 billion, and it is an important step in removing inequities from our tax laws.

But much more work still remains to be done on tax reform. Congress must continue to work to provide relief to middle-income taxpayers by increasing the personal exemption and adjusting personal income taxes by the rate of inflation. It must work to simplify our tax laws by repealing or simplifying the hundreds of deductions, exemptions, and exceptions in the tax code.

As a result of an amendment I drafted, a comprehensive study is underway to find ways to simplify the income tax system, and I am hopeful this study will lead to meaningful reform.

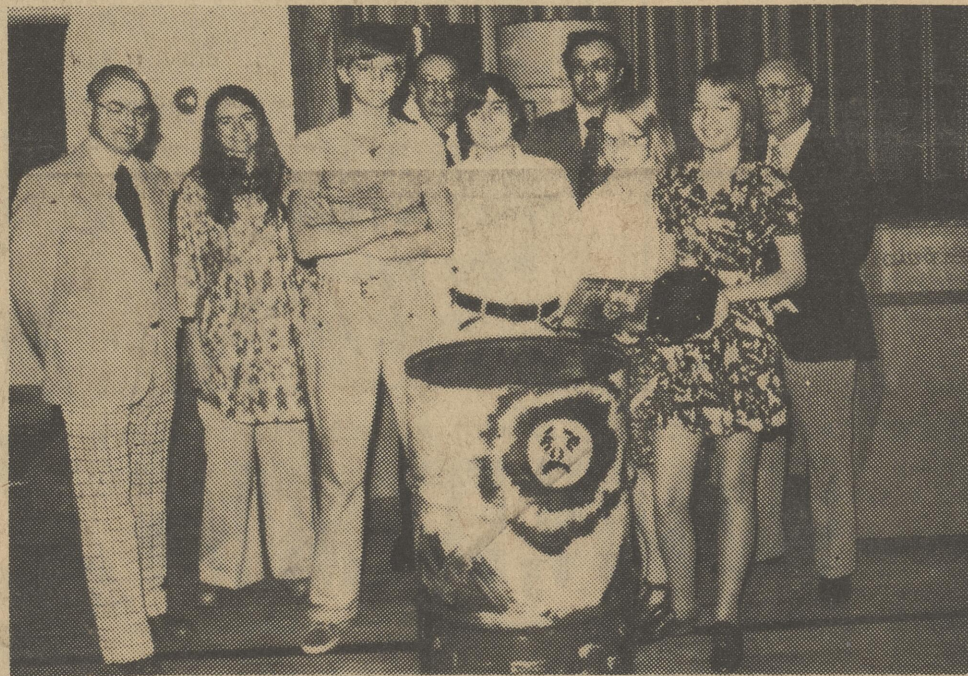

The first president to broadcast in a foreign language was Franklin Delano Roosevelt who addressed the French people on November 7, 1942 from Washington, D.C.

Students at Lake Forest North received plaques during a school assembly for their fancifully designed trash containers. Each group designed and painted the containers themselves. They will be placed around the school as part of the nation-wide Pitch In Program. Shown in the front row are [l to r]: Teri Smith, Bonnie Hrupa, Billy Joe Kemp. Second row from left to right are: Frank Young, principal, Mrs. Lowe, art teacher, Donald Hickman, Carol Gray and Hyland Webb, all representing the State Highway Department, which coordinates the program founded by the U.S. Brewers Association.

Days Of Our Years

Ten Years Ago

Fri., Nov. 25, 1966 The City office of Harrington moved Monday to the new City Hall, the former property of Dr. Hewitt Smith, next door. Harrington firemen extinguished a grass fire at the home of Hyland Webb, near town, last Friday. The previous day, they attended a woods' fire at Robert Stafford's place.

Plans were made by the Harrington Home Economics Extension Club's Christmas party to be held at the Bridle Bit. Mrs. Joshua Lister and Mrs. Byron McKnatt and Mrs. Clarence Jarrell are in charge of the party. Mr. and Mrs. Reed Hughes of Felton are spending the weekend in Williamsburg, Va. and other points south.

Twenty Years Ago

Fri., Nov. 30, 1956 Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vogl celebrated their wedding anniversary Thanksgiving day.

The Harrington Fire Company was called to a chimney fire at the home of Harold Redden. There was no damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin and children have returned from a two weeks stay at West Palm Beach, Fla.

From the Harrington School notes: "Mr. Donovan's Junior Class is presenting a comedy 'Abner Crane From Hayseed Lane' on Friday morning during assembly. The characters are: Abner Crane, Ronnie Correll; Eliza Rhodes, Joyce Meredith; Rhody Rhodes, Nancy Whittington; Griselda, Adrianna Potter; Gwendolyn, Penny Graham; Fi Fi Latour, Eleanor Baker; Constable Perkins, David Coady; Quigley W. Quick, Tony Perrone; Daniel J. Loaphole, Joseph Kliment."

Dan Hicks, Nick Morris, Chris Wetherhold and Keith Burgess attended the Mason-Dixon Conference cross-country championship meet at Washington College in Chestertown, Md., Saturday.

For anyone wishing to write to Frank Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collins, his address is Pfc. Frank E. Collins, U.F. 52-652842, A Battery, 1st Bn 83rd Artillery, A.P.O. San Francisco, Calif. 96257. Frank is serving in Viet Nam.

Mrs. Nelson's fourth graders are studying the paragraph in English here. The following is an ex-"Why I Like School" by Nancy Dill.

"The thing I like about school is when you're in the fourth grade you get to go to the library every other Friday.

When the right Friday comes, I'm ready."

From the Sixteen Years Ago column (Fri., Nov. 25, 1950): "1st. Lt. Ridgely W. Vane, Jr., whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Vane, Sr., reside at 313 Weiner Ave., is serving with the 508th Military Police Battalion in Munich Military Post.

Wilbert Sherwood, Jr. and Johnson Green of Felton spent last week deer hunting in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown of Hickman are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son born at the Milford Memorial Hospital Nov. 17. Mrs. Brown will be remembered as the former Phyllis O'Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin O'Day.

Letters To The Editor

by Barbara Brown

One of the most effective expressions of thanks is in loving response to the need of some other person. This is especially true if the response is to someone who is unable to repay the kindness. Verbal expressions of Thanksgiving are very important and can be more precious than is often realized. But the phrase we use so much, "Words cannot express" is also true. Words are many times inadequate and, by themselves, unconvincing. The world says, "Show me," and will not believe what we say unless it is backed up by what we do.

Harringtonians have a unique opportunity this Thanksgiving to say "Thank You" in performing a small service for our elderly homebound citizens.

As of last weekend we were the only community in Kent County not yet having enough volunteers to deliver the daily hot meals to shut-ins.

This is a service that asks a few hours in the middle of the day for one day a week and the use of the car (for which volunteer drivers will be reimbursed at 15¢ per mile). The opportunity is to bring a hot meal and a friendly contact with the outside world to a few of those who may otherwise spend long hours alone.

Some have already responded. More are needed. Are there those others who can and will say "Yes" to this need? Our strength and health, our freedom and ability to move about, the time we have at our disposal - all these are things for which we should express "Thanksgiving". What better way to say it than by dedicating some of that strength and a little of that time to someone else. No words could speak more loudly.

Those interested could call the Harrington Senior Center or the Kent County office of aging for information.

Letter to the Editor:

I think it is time for the parents to stop griping about how Lake Forest High School is run but to band together to stop some of the things that are wrong: We MUST do something to weed out teachers and administrators who do everything but teach. Our kids are condemned to detention or suspension before their side of what happened is ever told. The criminals and insane must be proven guilty. Not our kids. We protect and help our children all their lives, send them to Sunday School. FOR WHAT! If we join together we can fight the school for our children. Loretta Jackson at Lake Forest High School.

I would also like to publicly thank Mr. William Griffin, LFHS principal for his total cooperation in doing four thirty minute radio spots. This involved his driving to Rehoboth Beach on a Sunday night for a nine o'clock radio show while his wife was ill in the hospital. Most people would have "begged off" under similar circumstances.

In my two years on the Parents Advisory Committee, I have never known Mr. Griffin to say no to any request for his time or his energy on behalf of the Lake Forest School District.

In my twelve years as a parent of students in the public school system I have never known so dedicated an administrator.

Sincerely, Carole A. Glasspool, Chairman of Publicity for "College Night"

Dear Mrs. Farrow, On behalf of the Parents Advisory Committee of Lake Forest High School, I would like to thank you for the space given us in the Harrington Journal to publicize "College Night"

Open Letter To Chipman Parents

Dear Parents, Report cards have gone out, and they do not have to be returned the way they used to be. The second marking period is already in its second week, and the busy month of December is at hand. The Differential Aptitude Tests will be given to the eighth grade students during the week of November 29th. These tests do not affect the student's grades. Rather, they represent an effort on the part of the school to help each student find out where his or her strengths lie. We hope that this information will be considered as the student plans for the future. In particular, we hope that these results will be helpful as our students make their ninth grade course selections.

Please encourage your eighth grader to get a good night's rest each night, eat some breakfast each morning, and be present for all his or her testing sessions. (Each eighth grade teacher has a copy of the testing schedule).

It is "Count Your Blessings" time again. I hope you all have the best Thanksgiving season ever.

Sincerely, Sarah S. Webb, Counselor

Career Corner

Career Shopping? Here's How

by Buck Thompson

Today, it's more important than ever to plan your career future. Growing specialization is putting a premium on specific career training, training which usually takes less than 2 years. In order to make a wise investment in a good career, use this checklist.

1. Your interest -- Do you enjoy helping people, working with your hands, working with figures, creating, designing, being outdoors? Pinpoint your likes and translate them into career possibilities: Mechanics, dress design, the medical field, electronic technology, advertising, computer programming?

2. Salary -- What is the beginning salary of your chosen career? What can you expect to make after 2 or 3 years of experience? Check with employers. Get realistic estimates of what the return on your investment will be.

3. Advancement -- Is the career you've chosen open-ended? Where does it lead you? Don't get stuck in dead-end job. Will it allow you to eventually start your own business (if that's your goal)?

4. Job demand -- Is there a need for your career specialty? Will you be in demand or are there more people than jobs? Get long range projections of demand. Make sure you won't become obsolete in a few years. Talk to your counselor about job demand.

5. Where are the jobs?

6. Working conditions -- Find out exactly what a person in your chosen career does-know what your duties and work environment will be. What is one person's delight is another's misery. Don't be unpleasantly surprised on the job.

7. Educational requirements -- Most all good jobs today require specialized training beyond high school. Find out what courses you need in order to qualify in your career. It may take a few months or one or two years of training. Private vocational schools specialize in preparing persons for careers in the shortest time possible.

8. Where to get training -- A major source of career training is offered through private vocational schools which specialize in teaching skills needed in the job market. They teach only those skills which are related to your job specialty. As a result, training is short. Most trade and technical schools also offer placement assistance which can be a valuable help in finding you

Cheer Center News: Week of Nov. 15-19

On Tuesday, November 23, Mrs. Watson will be at the site to bring a nutritive program to our members.

We are all looking forward to our Thanksgiving dinner served on Wednesday at the Cheer Center with turkey and all the trimmings. We will be closed Thanksgiving Day and also on Friday but business as usual on Monday, Nov. 29.

The Cheer members will present a contribution to the remodeling of the educational facility used by our group at the Greenwood U.M. Church. Mrs. Beatrice Horner, our president, will present the check at the Sunday morning worship service. This is a token of our appreciation for what the church community has contributed free of charge for a place to serve daily lunches and an area for activity and crafts for senior citizens. Thank you, Greenwood United Methodist Church. We would also like to thank Mr. John Cannon of the Sussex County Council for his generous contribution to our center as well as Mr. Gerald Pearson, Mrs. Ruth Hurd of Milford Stitchery and many others that contribute in various ways to our successful operation for the elderly.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Mary McCreary is recuperating at home after her stay in the Milford Hospital. Our members welcome our new Outreach worker, Nettie Ziegler, to the Greenwood area. The visitors at the Center this week were Mrs. Miriam Lord and Mrs. Clara Schull.

The Singing Players To Perform

Following their annual custom of presenting their fall concerts in each of the three counties of Delaware, The Singing Players' "Merry Christmas The World Around" may be heard at the Methodist Country House in Wilmington, Monday, November 29 at 7:15 p.m.; at the Georgetown Technical and Community College on Wednesday, December 1st at 8:00 p.m.; and in Dover at the Central Middle School Auditorium on Sunday, December 5th at 7:00 p.m. All concerts are free and the public is cordially invited to attend. Margaret S. Storey is the music director.

John Dickinson, general chairman of The Singing Players, is coordinating the preparation of these presentations.

As The Singing Players have traditionally included the talents of all members of the families involved in as many capacities as possible, ten of their children will be dressed in costumes of various countries and will participate in the multi-lingual musical greeting which provides the title to this series of concerts.

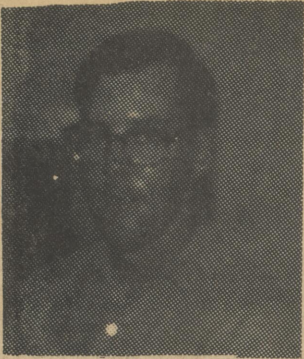

A Brass and Percussion Ensemble will accompany The Singing Players in Handel's "Awake the Trumpet's Lofty Sound", from the oratorio "Samson"; "Joy To The World" by Handel in Frank Kuykendall's Festival arrangement for Chorus, Brass and Tympani; and Beethoven's "Hymn to Joy" from the Ninth Symphony. Members of the Ensemble are Mid-Delaware band directors, music teachers, the Delaware State College Band Director, and a music major from the University of Delaware. The Bob Wagner Band is the featured solo instrumental group.

OBITUARIES

Paul R. Webb
Greenwood
Councilman Dies

GREENWOOD—Paul R. Webb, a Greenwood councilman, fireman and self-employed tire serviceman, was killed Thursday afternoon as he apparently tried to open a sealed barrel with an acetylene torch.

He was pronounced dead at Nanticoke Memorial Hospital, Seaford.

According to Deputy State Fire Marshal Charles G. Stevenson III, apparently vapors inside the empty drum expanded from the torch's heat to cause the explosion that blew the barrel lid across the repair shop where Webb was working, to a distance of 50 feet.

Webb and his wife also owned and operated the P & P Luncheonette on Market Street for the last five years.

He is survived by his wife, Pauline, a 16-year-old daughter, Debbie Jean, and an 11-year-old son, P. Raymond, both at home; his parents, Henry and Grace Webb of Greenwood; two brothers, Francis of Bridgeville and Henry Jr. of Milford; and a sister, Loretta Smith of Greenwood.

Services were Sunday afternoon at 2 at the Fleischaer Funeral Home, Market Street, Greenwood. Interment was in St. Johnstown Cemetery near Greenwood.

Cora W. Kelley

DOVER—Cora W. Kelley, 68, of 46 W. Puncheon Run Drive, died Nov. 16 at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia after a long illness.

Mrs. Kelley retired several years ago from the Bell Telephone Co.

Services were Sunday afternoon at 2 at the Ferguson and Hayes Funeral Home, 140 S. State St., Dover. Interment was in Odd Fellows Cemetery, Camden.

Wilfred Charles "Crow" Paquette

MILFORD—Wilfred Charles "Crow" Paquette, 71, of Washington Street, Milford, died Nov. 16 in Milford Memorial Hospital after a long illness.

He was a retired welder.

His wife, Catherine M., died in 1969.

He is survived by two sons, Wilford Charles Jr. of Grand Isle, La., and Jeffrey of Milford; three brothers, Edmund T., Frank and Gene, all of Milford; six sisters, Alice P. Wood and Clara Gleason, both of Milford, Florence G. Arbour of Elkton, Md., Helen Komorowski of Staytonville, Margaret M. Krylow of Newark and Louise E. Mikell of Sebring, Fla., and two grandsons.

Services were Friday morning at 11 at Christ Episcopal Church, 2nd and Church Streets, Milford. Interment was in Henlopen Memorial Cemetery, Milton.

Joseph S. Lofland Sr.

MILFORD—Joseph S. Lofland Sr., 82, of Barker Street, died Friday, Nov. 19, 1976, in Milford Memorial Hospital after a short illness.

A lifelong resident of Milford, he founded the Lofland Funeral Home in 1918, and served on the State Board of Funeral Directors and Examiners from 1954 until 1956. He was also the last living charter member of American Legion Post 3, Milford.

He is survived by his wife, Ruth E.; a son, Joseph S. Jr., of Milford; and three grandchildren.

Services and interment were private.

Davis Kimmey Sr.

MILFORD—Davis Kimmey, Sr., 71 of 209 N. Washington St., Milford, died Nov. 16 in Milford Memorial Hospital after a short illness.

Mr. Kimmey was a retired furniture finisher for Wilkie Furniture Co. in Milford, where he worked for five years before his retirement in 1967.

He is survived by six children; 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

His wife, Jessie C., died in 1957.

He is survived by two sons, John L. of Rehoboth Beach and Donald of Houston; three daughters, Lucille B. Polk of Stone Harbor, N.J., Eleanor B. Semans of Camden and Doris B. Townsend of Milford; a brother, John Harold Brown of Goldsboro, Md.; ten grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Services were last Thursday afternoon at 3 at the McKnatt Funeral Home, 50 Commerce St., Harrington. Interment was in Hollywood Cemetery, Harrington.

Mrs. Joseph DiSalvo Sr.

WYOMING—Louise DiSalvo, 65, of near Wyoming died Nov. 16 in Kent General Hospital, Dover, after a long illness.

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

Didn't we wake up to a beautiful world that snowy morning? The old Japonica bush looked as if it had been dipped in whipped cream. Even the old pile of brush and weeds that we were not able to get hauled away had turned into a thing of beauty unsurpassed. One would never have guessed what was under the artistry of frosty white. How lovely it was...Christmas card pretty...a special gift from the great Creator of all beauty.

Have you been reading those little paragraphs in the magazines by the writer, Kate Swarthout? She calls them, "Lifesavers," and truly they are the things that make us Savor Life. There is one in front of me now and it goes thusly: "Lifesavers: a sunbonnet...the morning paper...white roller skates...a homegrown tomato...grandmothers...being houseproud...wind chimes...a child who loves to read...polished silver...the idea of a bird...a postoffice pen that writes...clean sheets...hollyhocks...our flag flying."

I couldn't resist making a list of my own: Sunrise, sunset...bird song...clean sheets...yeast bread baking...the patter of rain on the roof...the east wind...downy, yellow baby geese...pine forests...strawberries under a hot sun...cocker spaniels...yellow kittens...stewed apricots with cream.

It's so hard to stop. I could just go on page after page. But why not get pencil and paper and make your own list. What is dear and precious to you? Mail them to me and we'll share these wonderful things.

One thing I plan to do this Advent Season. I'm going to get out all my Christmas decorations and arrange them early so that I can enjoy them longer. After Christmas is over, we begin to look forward to spring sort of, and we are ready to put away the trimmings of Christmas, as we brush up the pine needles and fruitcake crumbs. So out will come the candles and the santas and all the small things we have cherished through the years.

The children are making Christmas lists and leaving them where they are sure to be seen. I think I'll do that, too. They are always puzzled what they can get for Grandmother, and I'm trying to impress upon them that the simple things are best. Grandmother would love a nice bottle of hand lotion or face cream or even a big supply of bobby pins, or a dozen pairs of stockings all at once! I used to make all my gifts by hand including dozens of five-pound boxes of cookies, and I loved it. The love is still there, but I cannot handle it all physically any more.

The cold seems to be setting in so early this year. The heater purrs actively along through the night, and in the morning the frost lays white upon the land. I poke my nose out the kitchen door early in the morning and breathe deeply of the sharp, cold air. Winter has arrived early. I don't know about those woolly bears!! Have a glorious and special Thanksgiving Day.

Filling out the platter is only the final step in dinner preparations. This platter was going to a long time patron of the dinners Ida Brown cooks to raise money for her church.

Ida Brown's children, Lillie Mae and Foster help out in the dinner preparations.

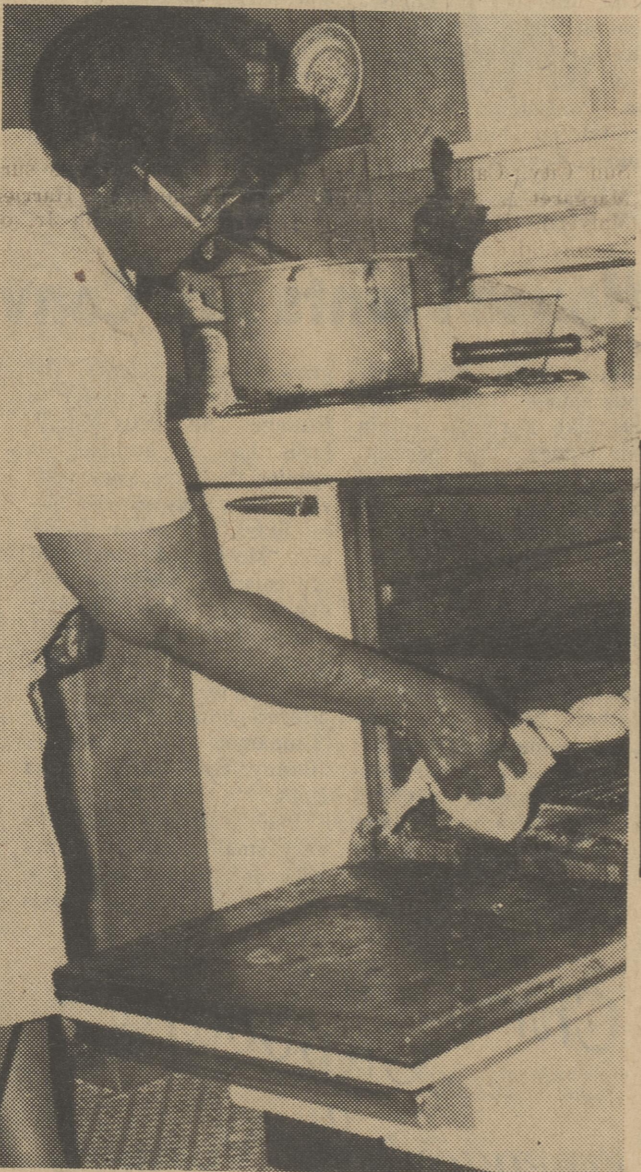

Dover To Host United Teenager Pageant

Young ladies of this area are invited to enter the Delaware United Teenager Pageant to be held in Dover, August 12, 13 and 14, 1977. The Delaware Pageant is the Official State Preliminary to the Miss United Teenager Pageant to be held in Washington D.C.

Contestants will be judged on Scholastic and Civic Achievements, Beauty, Poise and Personality. Contestants must be between 14 and 18 years of age as of December 31, 1977 and must have at least a "B" average in school.

The Winner of the Delaware Pageant will receive an all-expense paid trip to compete in the Miss United Teenager Pageant in Washington D.C. and other prizes.

Those interested in entering the Delaware United Teenager Pageant may write for information to Barbara S. Munday, State Director, 1491 Hidden Hills Parkway, Stone Mountain, Georgia 30088 or call (404) 469-8438.

CHECKING THE ROLLS is an important step in the meal preparation. This batch needed a little more time in the oven, decided Mrs. Brown.

Culinary Tradition Ends

by Margo Farrow

HARRINGTON-If you haven't tasted Ida Brown's fried chicken, you've missed a mouthful of deliciousness that puts a certain colonel to shame in these parts.

For nearly 40 years this Harrington resident has been raising money for her church through dinners she has handled many times by herself.

Usually around ten times a year Mrs. Brown rolls out the dough for dumplings, makes homemade rolls, bakes a batch of 8 to 10 pies, more if there's a larger dinner planned, and begins to notify the people on her list. Sometimes 75 people are fed, although the number is usually less.

Those heaped platters of chicken and dumplings, ham, oysters or chitterlings also have generous portions of two vegetables as well as mustard pickle, pickled water melon rind or perhaps preserved tomatoes, all of which Ida Brown cans herself during the season to use as finishing touches on the platters.

Whipping up a dinner for 40 or so is a routine thing for her, and most likely she begins for one of her Friday dinners as early as a Tuesday.

For the most recent dinner, she rose at 5 a.m. to bake pies, went to her half-day job at Dover, and was back at the stove by 2 p.m. getting ready for the 4:30-6:30 p.m. 'rush'.

She does have some help, usually her daughter, Lillie Mae and occasionally, her son, Foster. Both are familiar with the routine and do the necessary preparations without coaching.

Born and raised right around Frederica, Ida Townsend came to Harrington at age 6.

She first started the dinners on West Street and when she moved to her present location on East Street in 1948, a larger and more convenient kitchen replaced the one in the house, as she kept an eye open for the possibility of more dinners.

Those early dinners sold for 35c, recalled Mrs. Brown, and it was at the urging of some of her patrons that she decided to gradually raise the price to what it is now.

"Tell her the rest of the story, Mama," urged daughter Lillie Mae during the interview. Mrs. Brown then confided this dinner may well be the last one, since she plans to be married in December and to move to Rhode Island.

It's certain the parishioners at the Mt. Moriah Church will miss her since she has also found time to serve on the Deaconess Board, as well as being president of the Missionary Board and vice president of the Trustee Board.

And, for those who know, we will miss those mouth-watering, stick-to-the ribs dinners...

His building was near the proposed site of the new Peoples Bank, and when he sold it to the bank, he needed a place to relocate. He decided to stay in the community.

The new building is more spacious including a large area for the secretary-receptionist Lynn Dziwura of Milford to do her work. Outten's entire building was filled with numerous flower arrangements and plants in honor of the open house.

In addition to his insurance business, he is a trustee of Trinity United Methodist Church, treasurer of the Harrington Fire Company, a member of the Chamber of Commerce and American Legion and Lions Club.

Houston

by Margaret Thistlewood

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Houston Fire Co. have elected for President, Denise Surdukowski; Vice President, Virginia Twilley; Treasurer, Maggie Legates and secretary Anna Mae Marvel.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. William Gallagher entertained as dinner guests, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rose, Mr. and Mrs. George Whittaker, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Barcola, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Medford, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Browmiller, Mrs. Cas Fredrick and Mrs. Lee Hugh, all from Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Capehart visited Mr. and Mrs. John Kanurai of Cambridge, Md. on Sunday.

On Friday evening at 6 o'clock on Nov. 12th, Mrs. Sally Booz and Richard VanSickle were married in Denton, Md. Later a reception was held at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Walls and daughter Jennifer of Broad St. Members of the family and friends attended.

Raymond Pride Jr. who is a patient in the Wilmington Medical Center underwent surgery again on his right foot and ankle on Tuesday, Nov. 16th. He is in room 415.

On Saturday, November 20th, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Webster celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

William Musser stands in front of the large selection of Bluegate candles carried by the Hilltop Card and Gift Shop in Harrington.

Final Lecture On Death Announced

The final lecture in a series of 10 free lectures examining the inevitable, universal human phenomenon of death will be held Tuesday evening, November 30 at the Milford Senior High School, Lakeview Avenue in Milford at 7:30. (Note: Milford Senior High School - previous lectures have been at the Avenue United Methodist Church in Milford). Dr. Isaac Asimov of Boston University School of Medicine will speak on "Future Images of Death."

Isaac Asimov has been called a "genius"... "the nearest thing to a human writing machine"... "a genuine phenomenon"... "a natural wonder and national resource".

The Russian-born associate professor of biochemistry at Boston University School of Medicine began selling magazine stories at the age of eighteen and published his first book when he was thirty (PEBBLE IN THE SKY, Doubleday, 1950).

A huge following knows him for science fiction (he is one of the major science writers in this genre today). Yet, Dr. Asimov is equally adept at non-fiction science material and he has done several distinguished histories and books on geography.

Along with this prodigious and wide-ranging production, Asimov consistently wins awards and critical acclaim for his style and content - for example, the American Association for the Advancement of Science-Westinghouse Award for excellence in magazine writing.

Sponsored by the Avenue United Methodist Church in Milford and the University of Delaware, Division of Continuing Education, the lectures are supported by a grant from the Delaware Humanities Forum. All lectures are free and open to the public.

Harrington Has New Gift Shop

HARRINGTON-It's always good to have a variety of stores in a community and adding to the list of the additions in Harrington is the Hilltop Card and Gift Shop.

Located at the corner of Second Avenue and Center Street, the new shop fills a needed void that has been left since the city's lone gift shop closed its doors several years ago.

Candle lovers will feel their needs are answered when they view one entire wall of all sorts of creations in wax. Numerous cards and fine candy also are presented in an attractive and tasteful (as well as tasty) array.

William Musser, owner and operator of the gift shop said the original Hilltop Card and Gift Shop was located for three years at Five Points in Wilmington, where the shop took its name. The idea to begin a gift shop was his wife's, who probably will help out when she retires. Musser is a retired employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad, who wanted to retire in this area, and found the present location fit his needs.

Musser says the shop will have additional items added and that ceramic and crystal pieces will be among the additions, as well as a better line of costume jewelry.

He is a member of the National Federation of Independent Business and the National Retail Merchants Association.

The shop is open daily from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. except Sunday, when it is closed.

Less Demanding House Plants Are Convenient

Anyone considering less demanding house plants might consider growing some of the cacti and succulents. True cacti are plants that belong to the cactus family, while succulents include many diverse plants that store water in their leaves and stems. Both cacti and succulents are well adapted to growing indoors, says University of Delaware extension horticulturist, Dr. Charles Dunham. Their main requirement is a good source of light. Sunny windows provide the best location. Those without direct sunlight will also do, provided plants are placed right in the window.

The best known cacti are the desert species. These are characterized by swollen stems and numerous spines, though a few cacti, like Pereskia, retain their leaves. This particular plant is something of an oddity as a cactus, because of its glossy evergreen leaves. Not very common, Pereskia is a semi-vine, grows rather rankly and can become a sizable shrub if growing conditions are favorable.

Other cacti, like the Euphylliums and the better known Christmas cactus, are jungle species. The Euphylliums include the familiar night blooming Cereus.

In choosing cacti to grow as house plants, the smaller kinds are easier to manage. The genus Mammillaria has a number of species that are very suitable, says Dunham. "Golden Stars," "Powder Puffs" and "Mother of Hundreds" are common, small-growing examples. The prickly pears are also common. Some of the less rank growing of this genus are offered under names like "Cinnamon Cactus," "Bunny Ears" and "Polka Dots."

The Astrophytums are very small, globular plants with definite ridges. These are among the easier kinds of cactus to flower. Popular examples are "Goat's Horn," "Sand Dollar" and "Bishop's Cap." To encourage flowering of these and other cacti, be sure plants get adequate light. It's impossible to give a cactus too much sun, notes Dunham. The succulents offer even greater variety for house plants than the cacti. Some of the most interesting are found among the Euphorbias. "Crown of Thorns" has spines like a cactus but also leaves. It flowers over a long period with bright red or coral blossoms. The so-called "Candelabra-Cactus" is another Euphorbia. This plant can get up to 3-4 feet in height. Though large, it makes a spectacular potted specimen.

The Haworthias called "Zebra Plants" and "Tiger Jaws" are other popular succulents-easy to grow and decorative. The "Burro's Tail" (Sedum Morganianum) makes an excellent hanging basket plant, as does the Rosary Vine.

REVOLUTIONARY investment

It's been 200 years since Americans were first asked to take stock in America. And take stock they did. Our brand-new citizens invested over $27,000,000 in their new country's fight for freedom. And it sure paid off. Today, over 9 1/2 million modern Americans invest in their future as well as their country by buying U.S. Savings Bonds. Bonds are safe, dependable, and profitable. And when you join the Payroll Savings Plan, saving becomes automatically regular, too. So buy U.S. Savings Bonds. They're a revolutionary way to save.

Now U.S. Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Lost, stolen or destroyed Bonds can be replaced if records are provided. When needed, Bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.

Goodies For The Holidays

"I don't care for fruit cake."
If you hear this when you're entertaining during the holidays, you can make your guests eat their words, along with your cake. Serve something that's a little different, but still traditional—a fruit cake flavored with chocolate.

The following fruit cake recipes will delight everyone, especially chocolate lovers. One is a big, rich, round cake made with cocoa. The other is a lighter loaf cake made with cherries and chocolate chips. Both cakes will taste much better if they are baked now and allowed to ripen in the refrigerator or freezer for several weeks. Extension home economists at the University of Delaware explain that during this ripening period, flavors are distributed and the cakes become mellow and moist.

Wrap each cake in heavy aluminum foil, and put in a sealed tin or plastic bag. The less air that gets to it, the better.

CHOCOLATE WALNUT FRUITCAKE

Generously grease 1 9-inch tube pan.
2 cups sifted flour
1-1/2 cups sugar
1/2 cup unsweetened cocoa
1 tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. salt
1-1/2 cups walnuts, coarsely chopped
2 cups diced mixed candied fruit
1 cup raisins
1 cup thinly sliced pitted dates
2 eggs
1 cup commercial sour cream
1 tsp. vanilla
1/4 cup butter, melted

On wax paper, sift together the flour, sugar, cocoa, baking soda and salt.
On another sheet of wax paper, mix together the walnuts, candied fruit, raisins, and dates.
In a large mixing bowl, beat eggs, sour cream and vanilla until blended. Add butter, then flour mixture and blend well. Beat with electric mixer at medium speed for 1 minute or vigorously by hand until well blended. Add walnut-fruit mixture and fold in until well distributed.

Turn into prepared pan. Bake in a preheated 300-degree oven with a shallow pan of hot water on floor of oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—about 1-3/4 hours. Cool in pan, placed on a wire rack, for 10 minutes. With a small metal spatula, loosen edges and around tube. Turn out on a wire rack and cool completely.

Wrap tightly in aluminum foil or moisture-vapor-proof material. Store in refrigerator or freezer for at least 10 days before serving.

Tasty Tips from Checkerboard Kitchens

COOKIES SAY MERRY CHRISTMAS

Cookies at Christmas time are a lovely tradition. While most of us have favorites (that we bake every year), it's always fun to add a few more. Try Sugarplums, Frosty Cherry Cookies and Choco Rum Balls. While all are different, they have one thing in common. Each uses a breakfast cereal—bite-size crispy rice or corn squares—for unusual texture, added flavor and nutrition.

Arrange your cookies on a pretty plate, tuck in some holly and serve with rich and creamy eggnog.

To use crushed Chex cereals in the recipes below, measure and crush to volume indicated by one of these methods:

- Measure into liquid measuring cup and crush to desired volume with wooden spoon.

- For fine crumbs, process in blender to required volume.

- Or crush in plastic bag with rolling pin, and measure into dry measuring cup.

SUGARPLUMS

2 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 can (8 oz.) crushed pineapple, well drained
1 cup dried apricots, cooked, drained and chopped
1/2 teaspoon finely shredded orange peel
1/2 cup coarsely chopped nuts
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon orange extract
4 cups Corn Chex cereal crushed to 2 cups
1 1/3 cups (3 1/2 oz. can) shredded coconut

In saucepan, beat eggs slightly. Add sugar, cornstarch, pineapple, apricots and orange peel. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Boil two minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in nuts, salt and extract. Add cereal crumbs. Mix well. Cool. Drop from teaspoon onto coconut and shape into one-inch balls. Makes 4 1/2 dozen.

FROSTY CHERRY COOKIES

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup and 3 tablespoons sugar
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
2 cups Rice Chex cereal (bite-size crispy rice squares) crushed to 1 cup
1/2 cup chopped green and red glacé cherries

Preheat oven to 350°. Cream butter and 1 cup sugar. Add egg and almond extract. Beat well. Sift together dry ingredients. Add to creamed mixture. Mix well. Stir in cereal crumbs and cherries. Shape into 3/4-inch balls. Roll in remaining 3 tablespoons sugar. Place 2 inches apart on baking sheet. Bake 8-10 minutes or until bottoms are lightly browned. Makes 6 dozen.

CHOCO RUM BALLS

6 cups Rice Chex cereal (bite-size crispy rice squares) crushed to 1 1/2 cups
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
1 cup finely chopped pecans
2 tablespoons cocoa
1/8 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup corn syrup
3 tablespoons water
1/2 teaspoons rum extract
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
Maraschino cherries
Dates, pitted
Pecans
1/3 cup confectioners sugar (for coating)

Mix together first 5 ingredients. Combine syrup, water and extracts. Add slowly to crumb mixture. Blend well. Butter hands. Shape mixture into balls or around bits of cherries, dates or pecans. Let stand one hour. Roll in confectioners sugar. Store tightly covered in refrigerator or freeze. Makes 4 dozen.

Winter Energy Tips

In your home, blocked radiators or hot air registers cost you money. The Federal Energy Administration recommends that you make certain draperies and furniture do not obstruct the free flow of warm air into a room. If they do, your furnace will work overtime, and that's expensive.

The Federal Energy Administration advises householders that they will waste energy if they flush food through their sink disposer with hot water. Cold water costs less, and also solidifies grease, so it can be ground up and washed away more easily.

The Federal Energy Administration recommends that dampers be kept tightly closed during the heating season unless a fire's going. In moderate winter climates, an open damper in a 48-square inch fireplace can let up to eight percent of a house's heat escape up the chimney.

Those receiving honorable mention are: Carla Vanderwande, Woodbridge; Denis Holloway, Sussex Central; Susan Ralph, Delmar; Debbie Donovan, Dover; Tammy Dill, Indian River; Terry Harris, Delmar; Carolyn Griffith, Dover Air; Katie Coons, Smyrna; Althea Schofield, Dover Air; Delphine Cannon, Woodbridge; Judy McKinney, Dover.

Jan Ellis of Milford was named coach of the year.

Harrington Lads Win Cross-Country Race

Two Harrington lads won cross-country races, sponsored by the Kent County Parks and Recreation Department, at Killen's Pond State Park.

Races were held in three age groups. For a time it appeared that Lake Forest area students might sweep all three sections, but a Dover Air varsity runner, Vince Paczonay, survived a stiff challenge from a host of Spartans to win the 13-14 2 mile run.

Brian Barthlow is only eight, but this natural runner outsped 25 nine and ten-year-olds, over a 1.6 mile course in 12.05. Brian received a handsome medallion for his feat.

Frank Jenkins, 12, took the 11-12 two mile run in 15.03. Frank is one of the top W.T. Chipman School harriers. Jerry Mosley, age 11, also of Harrington was runnerup. Albert Burns of High Point was fourth to give this area three more medallions.

Though missing first place in the 13-14 section, this area dominated the awards capturing six out of ten. Freshman Bill Mitchell, the only ninth-grader to win a varsity letter on Lake Forest's state champion cross-country team, was close behind Paczonay. Maurice "Reese Cup" Coverdale a seventh grader was third, Randy Ramirez was fourth, with Harold Dixon, Craig Fry and Dennis Voshell finishing seventh, eighth and tenth, respectively. All these lads are harriers at either Chipman or Lake Forest, except Dixon, who came in unheralded and inexperienced, but showed a lot of natural ability. You can bet Spartan cross-country coach Jim Blades will be after the Canterbury lad for both track and cross-country.

Three of the top seven cross-country runners on the state champs are from Canterbury. Maybe it's something in the water!

W.T. Chipman Harriers Win

Bruce Humphrey, a Felton lad, ran a strong race to finish second and lead the W.T. Chipman harriers to a 21-29 victory over Caesar Rodney. A couple of Chipman's better runners were absent, but Humphrey took up the slack by running 2.9 miles over the state meet course at Killen's Pond State Park in 17 minutes and 47 seconds.

To illustrate how well he arose to the occasion, his best time over the regular 2.7 miles course is slower than 17.47. This eighth grader has emerged as a real fine prospect in long-distance running.

After John Freeman of C.R. finished third, a wave of Chipman runners led by Albert Burns gave Chipman its fourth 1976 win in as many starts.

Mike Bishop, Mike Emory, John Veith, Dennis Voshell and Dave Weber all beat the third C.R. runner across the finish line.

It was the controlled offense which Milford used last Friday that helped hand Lake Forest a 29-6 defeat. Above, one of Milford's backs squirts through a large hole in the Spartan line.

Milford Defeat LF For The Bell

by Millard Ellingsworth III
FELTON-Milford High School handed Lake Forest its first loss since the Spartans started winning four weeks ago. The annual Thanksgiving game, and the last of the year for both teams, was played at the Chipman field in Harrington last Friday.

Much of the Spartan effort was thwarted by their own fumbles, two of which set up a Milford score.

Milford had first possession and was able to push to the Lake Forest 36 yard line before Greg Shortell intercepted a Milford pass to return it to the 36. Spartans pushed 39 yards to the Milford 25 before there was a mixup in the backfield and everyone started grabbing at the ball. It went through the hands of several players on both sides before a Buccaneer defense man was able to get a handle on it.

The ball finally ended up at the Milford 41 yard line where the Bucs started their drive. Before the end of the quarter the Bucs were on the Spartans five yard line. Bill Moore stopped the Milford fullback on the first attempt from the five before the Bucs completed a pass to score the touchdown. The conversion was good to put the Bucs ahead 8-0.

Kevin Hutchins returned the kickoff to the Lake Forest 40 yard line where Bill Moore put the Spartans in Milford territory with an 11 yard run to the Milford 49 yard line. Unfortunately the Spartans were not able to get any further and were forced to punt. The snap on the punt went to Mike Benson, who attempted to run carried for five yards to the 26 and then Mike Benson broke away for a 26 yard touchdown run. Shortell was stopped on the conversion attempt.

On Milford's first play after the kickoff, their full back broke open a 61 yard touchdown run. The kick was no good. Milford's kickoff was fumbled by Lake Forest and the Bucs recovered on the Lake for the first down and would have had it, except for a delay of game penalty against the Spartans. With a fourth and twelve situation, the snap went to Moore who attempted to pass to Larry Smith, but the ball was out of his reach.

Starting at mid-field, the Bucs drove all the way to the Spartan goal line for another touchdown and kicked for the extra point.

Mike Benson returned the kickoff to the Lake Forest 38 yard line where Greg Shortell and Bill Moore took over for three consecutive gains totaling 23 yards. Shortell threw his first completion of the night to Jerry Custis for a total of 20 yards to put the Spartans on the Milford 19 yard line. Benson barreled over to the 15 yard line before Shortell attempted a touchdown pass to Larry Smith which was intercepted and returned to the Lake Forest 28 yard line. Time ran out in the half before Milford could capitalize on Spartan

To start the second half, Moore returned the ball to his 40 yard line and then carried three consecutive times for 16 yards. Next, he caught a fifteen yard pass from Shortell, putting the ball on the Milford 31 yard line. Russell Knaub Forest 46 yard line. A good Spartan defense forced Milford to punt. A second time the Spartans managed a fumble, this time putting Milford on the Spartan's 23 yard line.

With fourth and goal from the Spartan 5 yard line, Russell Knaub stopped the Buccaneer ball carrier with a one yard gain. The Spartans attempted to move the ball to safer territory, but another mix-up in the Spartan play calling caused a fumble which put Milford on the 4 yard line. The Bucs scored the first play and the conversion was good.

That put the score at 29-6, Milford. During the rest of the game, neither team posed a scoring threat and the Thanksgiving day game "Bell" will return to Milford after it is engraved.

Offensively for the night the Spartans gained 144 yards on the ground and 35 yards in the air for a total of 179 yards. Greg Shortell completed both of the passes. On the ground, Moore had 71 yards on 13 carries, Benson 37 on 11, Hutchins 27 on four, and Shortell nine on four.

Doug Warrington

Meanest Man

This week's meanest man, who will be the last one named for this year's football season, was also the first meanest man named this year.

Doug Warrington, a junior starting offensive and defensive tackle, is the only player to receive the meanest man for the second time this season, because according to Coach Fleming, Warrington played the best game offensively as well as defensively during the last game.

The 5'11", 190 pound junior is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E.B. Warrington of Felton and is currently enrolled in the agricultural programs at Lake Forest High School.

In 1925 it was possible to buy an automobile for as little as $260!

RAIDERS LOCKER ROOM REPORT

LET'S GO TEAM!

Delmar Tops Woodbridge 34-0

"It has been kind of a funny season for us this year" stated Woodbridge head football coach James Foster following the end of the Raiders season which came Friday night with a 34-0 loss to Delmar.

At the beginning of the season Coach Foster felt the Woodbridge squad had a chance for a fine season but several of the team were hit by several key injuries along the way and had to continue to play more and more underclassmen.

Delmar, who is headed for the State Division II football tournament this weekend by virtue of their Southern Division Championship, wasted little time in taking advantage of the Raiders' mistakes. They capitalized on all three, a fumble and two mishand-ed snaps on punts, to take a 20-0 lead into the lockerroom at halftime.

Defensively Coach Foster stated the team played soundly as they came up with five interceptions, two each by Landy Correll and Nelson Burbage who shared defensive stardom with sophomore Gary Pettyjohn. Offensively it was a new look at starting quarterback as another sophomore Alan Bailey handled those chores.

Reflecting back on the 2-8 season which the Raiders had finished Foster was quick to mention one player who was a great asset to the team this season, that being co-captain and senior G. L. Jefferson. "He really kept them going," stated Coach Foster, "and was always giving 115-120 percent which was a great example especially for the young kids to follow."

Looking ahead to future seasons at Woodbridge has to be a bright thought for Coach Foster as this season there were only about five seniors on the squad and several sophomores gained valuable experience. Only brighter years can be ahead.
