Cahall Announces For Mayor

Arthur "Buck" Cahall

HARRINGTON-Arthur "Buck" Cahall of Harrington became the first to declare his candidacy for Mayor, Monday, one of three positions up for the city election which will take place January 1.

Besides Mayor the 1st and 3rd wards are also up for election.

Cahall, 31, is currently a Drivers Education teacher in the Caesar Rodney School District and is also chairman of the planning and zoning commission in Harrington. He is a graduate of Slippery Rock State College in Slippery Rock, Pennsylvania.

Cahall thinks the city government should be run efficiently, should be open to the public and that residents should become more involved in the city government. Cahall says he attended his first city council meeting out of curiosity.

Cahall stresses he wishes to keep costs down to a minimum and "spend only what's necessary." He looks forward to working with the council and stresses he wants the people of Harrington to become more involved in the city government.

Last date for filing for the city election is ten days prior to the election on January 1.

Candidates must have petitions signed with ten to twenty-five names and may be turned in to the City Manager.

Petitions for mayor may have signatures gathered from any area in the district. Council candidates may gather signatures from their respective wards. Candidates must have lived in the City for two years and be at least 21 years old.

Cahall is the only candidate to file for the January election.

Harrington Police Report Variety of Activity

The Harrington Police Department is currently investigating two house burglaries that happened in Harrington recently. The first was at the residence of Charles Bright, the other was at the residence of Novell McReynolds. In these two burglaries an undetermined amount of property was stolen. Both burglaries occurred in the daytime and the police are still investigating and have some leads. Chief Ed Layton of the Harrington Police Department wishes to remind everyone to keep their doors and windows locked and don't leave keys in hiding places such as under the door mat or in the mail box.

C.B. Antenna Taken

On December 16 Police received a complaint from Ronald Wood of Commerce St. that someone had stolen his C.B. antenna off his car during the night. Someone unscrewed the antenna from the mounting and made off with it. Police are still investigating the theft.

Alleged Burglar Nabbed

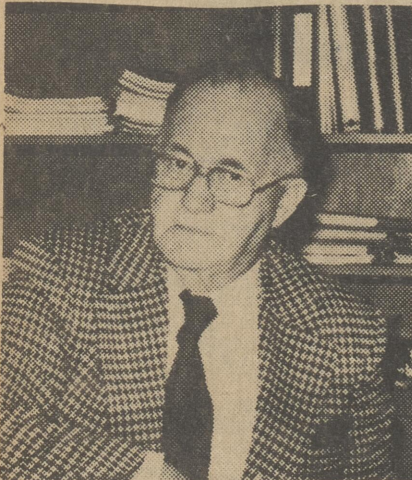

On December 17 the Harrington Police Department stopped a vehicle for a routine check. The driver of the vehicle was Michael Howard Creed, age 18, of Harrington. Further investigation including a check with NCIC (National Crime Information Center) revealed that the subject was a fugitive from Oregon where he is wanted for alleged Grand Theft. The subject was detained at the Georgetown Correctional Institution pending extradition to Oregon. Due to further investigation conducted by the Milford Police Department and State Police Troop 7, the subject was arrested on three additional charges of burglary in their respective areas. Subject will also be questioned in reference to burglaries in our area.

Shrimp Snatched

On December 18 while on routine patrol at the Burreis Food Warehouse police discovered 2 5-pound boxes of frozen shrimp in the back driveway. Further investigation of the grounds revealed a total of 17 5-lb. boxes of shrimp. All the stolen material was recovered and returned before it had been damaged. Two subjects were questioned on Tuesday and charges were expected to be brought against them.

Chrismons: Symbols of Christmas

Christmas...a season of beautiful and symbolic traditions. The tree in Prospect United Methodist Church near Vernon is filled with Christian symbols, called Chrismons. The word is taken from two words, Christ and monograms. Symbols were used by early Christmas as a means to identify one another and to designate meeting places for worship. Today's Christian church is filled with many symbols, a number of which are seen on Prospect's tree in the photo at the far left.

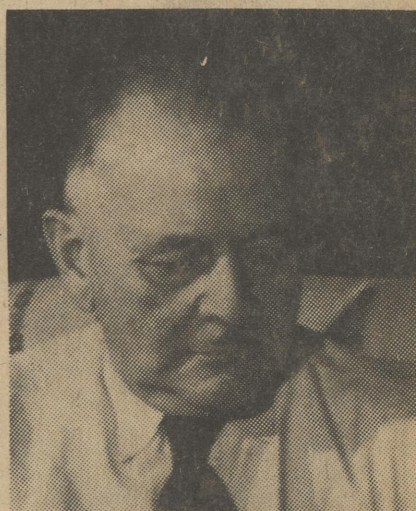

The Chrismons were made from white and gold colored materials, to symbolize the purity of God and the royalty, majesty and glory of God.

Around 80 members of the church gathered during a family night last year to create the Chrismons, which are seen in the remaining photographs. They are identified as the Jerusalem Cross, which is symbolized by the large center cross and the four smaller crosses indicating the four corners of the earth. The nativity scene is shown in miniature detail in the last Chrismon.

W. Clifford Miller Dies

Paradise Alley, Felton. William Clifford Miller died Thursday in Milford Memorial Hospital following a stroke suffered two weeks earlier. Mr. Miller became a resident of Harrington in the early 1940's upon being transferred by the Pennsylvania Railroad from Harrisburg to Harrington.

W. Clifford (Cliff) Miller

He was born in Glentown now Torrance, Pa. in 1888 and his early life was spent growing up in the steel towns of Pennsylvania. His first job at the age of 16 took him to Stubenville, Ohio to be employed in a steel mill there. Two years later he joined the Pennsylvania Railroad as a freight brakeman, and two years later was transferred to the signal division in which he spent his entire career with that Railroad. He achieved wide recognition for his achievements and administration in the signal division. He worked in every major division of the signal area for Pennsylvania Railroad from Ohio to New York City. He later became the Supervisor of the New York City Signal Division for the Pa. R.R.

His promotion to Supervisor of the Delmarva Division brought him to Harrington even though at the time the main headquarters for this Division was at Cape Charles. At the time the railroad had made unannounced plans to move the headquarters at Cape Charles to Harrington. During this intervening period prior to the change, Mr. Miller spent many long hours riding the rails between Harrington and Cape Charles, until the change was made official. He remained in the position of Supervisor of the Signal Division for the Delmarva Line until his retirement in 1957. At the time of his retirement he had earned a 50 year pin for his employment with the Pa. R.R.

Mr. Miller was also a good athlete and avid sportsman. He joined the Johnstown (Pa.) Ball Club a semi-professional baseball team as a second baseman in the early 1900's. He demonstrated his skills as a lead-off hitter and performed as an agile defensive infielder so much so that he was approached by professional baseball scouts, but he followed instead a career with the Pa. R.R. In 1909 in a game between the Johnstown Ball Club and the Cleveland Indians, a major league team in the American League, Miller was compared to the great second baseman of the Indians, Larry LaJoie. The other great moment for Miller that day was becoming the proud father of a son, Charles L. (LaJoie) Miller.

Mr. Miller never got beyond the 8th grade in education, but he never stopped being a student and learner. In his early days he was a prime mover in the labor movement within the railroad system. He was one of the organizers and supporters of the Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen (BRSA), and a Pa. delegate to the first national convention in Kansas City, Mo. in 1916.

Over the years Mr. Miller developed a deep appreciation for poetry. He studied the works of James Whitcomb Riley, Robert W. Service, and Edgar A. Guest from the standpoint of their style and message. He wrote many poems, some of which were printed in THE HARRINGTON JOURNAL. He also wrote a Pa. R.R. column for THE HARRINGTON JOURNAL about the men of the Pa. R.R. on the Delmarva line. (Continued to page 4).

Mrs. Olive Sharp Dies

Funeral services were held here Monday for Mrs. Olive T. Sharp (87) who died last Thursday at the Methodist Manor House in Seaford. A resident of Harrington for over 50 years, Mrs. Sharp spent many of those years at 109 East Center Street. She was the widow of William W. Sharp who was a druggist here.

The Rev. John E. Jones and Mrs. Olive Sharp are shown here in the photograph taken to honor the Ever Ready Sunday School Class' 50th anniversary. She was the founder and teacher of the class for 50 years.

"If you had put more into it you would have gotten more out of it." That was the closing line of a story with which Mrs. Sharp admonished many who can remember her. It is a statement that exemplifies her life here. She was a teacher, advisor, and friend to young and old. She was long active in church and civic affairs being named Harrington's citizen of the year in 1963, serving as first President of the Peninsula Conference Women's Society of Christian Service, and teaching for many years at the Old Millville school and at the Harrington High School which stood on the present location of Quillen's Market. (Continued to page 4.)

Phone Company Ready For Yule Calls

DOVER-On Christmas Day, it will be "telephone bells" instead of "jingle bells" for 45 telephone operators on duty at the Dover switchboard. These operators will be on duty to handle collect, person to person and credit card calls reports Jim Strickland the local telephone manager. It is expected that the Dover operators will handle about 8,200 calls on Christmas Day, slightly below the approximate 10,500 calls handled on a Normal business day. Although the operators will be available, it's faster and also cheaper to dial calls direct rather than placing calls through the operator. There will be in the neighborhood of 98,500 directly dialed calls made from subscribers in Kent and Sussex Counties, Strickland said.

Peak calling on Christmas Day usually occurs late in the morning and again from 7 until 10 p.m.

Christmas Once Banned

"Hear ye, hear ye! Christmas will not be celebrated. A ll who observe the abominable day will be severely punished." An unlikely message for a town crier? Not in the time of Oliver Cromwell!

Cromwell and his Puritan Party did indeed consider Christmas an "abominable day," and on December 24, 1653, they succeeded in getting the English Parliament to pass a law making Christmas celebrations of any kind illegal.

Imprisonment or exile was the penalty for disobedience. A few days before Christmas, town criers went through the streets warning against holiday celebrations.

In England, the ban lasted eight years - and even longer in the United States. The belief that Christmas merry-making was sinful came to the New World with the Pilgrims.

Ed. note: We saw this article in the issue ten years ago and felt it was worthy of reprint. Fortunately, Cromwell's views did not last.

Anna Jackson and Donna Herman of Felton and Jean Gustafson of Canterbury are at their respective homes for the holidays from Goldey Beacom College in Wilmington.

One hundred twenty-five Felton children were on hand Saturday night as the Felton Fire Company threw their annual Christmas party for the town's children.

As the W. T. Chipman Jr. High Band directed by Alex Becton played "Jingle Bells", Santa arrived, not on his traditional sleigh, but on a fire engine.

All of the children were greeted by Santa as he passed out gifts to each one -- a box of candy, a candy cane and a Tangelo. The Chipman Band also played other selections from their Christmas repertoire for the entertainment portion of the party.

The response to share a Caring Christmas has been rather disappointing, but the Athletic and Band Boosters will be a few dollars richer because of it.

Caring Christmas
Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all our friends and neighbors from the Gemmill Family -- Beverly, Walt, Mark and Danny. The Gemmills will make a donation to Lake Forest Band Boosters.

Karen York of Coventry, R.I., formerly of Canterbury, wishes a Merry Christmas to the "Sports Gang", the "Lunch Gang" and all her friends in the area. Karen sent a donation to be split between the Band Boosters and Athletic Boosters.

From myself and my children to all of our neighbors and friends, readers of this column, and those who have so graciously shared their "Happenings" with me thereby making this column possible goes a wish for hope, peace and joy -- hope in your heart, peace of mind, and joy in your lives at Christmas and throughout 1977. Christmas Plants - Their Safety Record Is Good

Just before Christmas each year, stories are picked up by newspapers and warnings are given over the radio about the hazards of poisonous plants that may be used in homes for Christmas decorations. The poinsettia is perhaps the plant most often cited.

Much of the confusion about plant poisons stems from a failure to explain what is meant by poison and by the lack of any precise data about the chemical composition of plants involved. The stage of growth or age of a plant, the particular species or variety, the climate in which it is grown, the part of the plant—all affect poisonous qualities, points out University of Delaware extension horticulturist Dr. Charles Dunham. Where small quantities can cause severe illness or death, plants (and other materials as well) should be regarded as very dangerous.

Plants which need to be consumed in huge quantities or which cause only mild gastric or other disturbances are no more hazardous than many other household items, notes Dunham.

There is one documented case in the tropics of a small child being poisoned from eating poinsettia leaves. There is no record of any poisoning by poinsettias in the continental United States, though the plant has been grown here for many years.

All children should be taught not to eat or put in their mouths any parts of plants unfamiliar or not usually eaten.

Other Christmas plants besides the poinsettia which are cited for poisonous properties are Jerusalem cherry and the mistletoe. Although the Jerusalem cherry contains some possible harmful alkaloids, there is no documented case of poisoning from this plant. The Christmas mistletoe is considered poisonous because of one case of death attributed to drinking a tea made from mistletoe berries.

The chances of serious poisoning from Christmas plants are remote, even if the plants are eaten, concludes Dunham. So enjoy your holiday plants.

She was also the teacher of a class of young women organized on April 1, 1973. The Ever Ready Sunday School Class celebrated its 50th Anniversary and Mrs. Sharp's retirement as teacher in April 1973.

A graduate of Wesley College, Mrs. Sharp later donated a scholarship there in honor and memory of her husband. She arrived in Harrington on April 1, 1911 to take a teaching position under Mr. Wilbur Jump, then principal. During her teaching years she was instructor in many subjects, including English, Latin and history.

She was also the "Bubble Gum Lady" who stressed manners in her daily distribution of bubble gum to the neighborhood children and an avid fan of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at Asbury United Methodist Church by the Reverend Alvin Willink. Interment was in Gracelawn Memorial Park near Wilmington.

Tuesday morning at 9:51 Harrington Fire Company responded to the alarm at Milby St. They were there at the house three minutes after the alarm. The cause of the fire is being investigated by the State Fire Marshall Office.

In 1957 upon his retirement, Mr. Miller was selected by Fulton J. Downing, co-owner of the Harrington Lumber & Supply and Downing Construction Co., to oversee the demolition of the depot at Cape Charles. Downing had just been awarded the demolition contract. The task took nine months, but the important part of the job was the salvaging of the very valuable materials which went to make up the depot. Mr. Miller guided the operation with the gentleness of a craftsman. He and Downing had teamed up in other pursuits. When Indian River inlet was initially opened in the '30's, Mr. Miller established a summer retreat at the seacoast site. Mr. Miller acquired a scrapped railroad caboose, and turned it into a summer "cottage". Later with Downing they founded the annual Governor's Day fishing party. At the time of his death Mr. Miller was engaged in a horse farm operation with his son-in-law Thomas Clarke on Paradise Alley.

Mr. Miller was a member of the Harrington

Rotary Club for 30 years, a member of The Harrington Chamber of Commerce, and founded the annual venison dinner at Asbury Methodist Church, and a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen.

He is survived by his wife, Mollie L.; a son, Clifford L., of Edison, N.J.; two daughters, Eileen Lockerby of Rutland, Vt., and Betty J. Clarke of Felton; a sister, Margaret Smith of Bellevue, Pa.

eight grandchildren, and 12 great-grandchildren. Services were Sunday afternoon at 2 at the McKnatt Funeral Home, 50 Commerce Street., Harrington. Masonic services were at 8. Interment was in Hollywood Cemetery, Harrington.

Open Letter To Chipman Parents

Dear Parents, For some reason school becomes more hectic in December, just as home life does. Perhaps we all just carry our excitement around with us wherever we are. Despite the testing program I have managed to see quite a few students, to talk with a number of parents via the telephone, and to make several home visits. However, the subject matter of the classes is what I should like to tell you about this week.

We have been talking about recognizing and owning feelings. That sounds quite simple, but how do you usually label your feelings? I find that most of us use words like pretty good, not too bad, ok, I guess, etc. These vague descriptions do not get at real feelings as do words like confident, anxious, lonely, discouraged, cheerful, annoyed, excited, guilty, strong, helpless, happy, hurt, angry, and a great many others. I have encouraged the students to make their own lists, for being able and willing to label feelings is the first step toward dealing with them.

Feelings cannot properly be judged. What we do, how we express these feelings, can be right or wrong. Understanding feelings, our own and others, may prevent us from harming others and/or destroying property, which is unacceptable behavior. It is only fair that I point out that there are those who believe that our feelings are largely determined by what we tell ourselves, the way we talk to ourselves. In any case, feelings need to be labeled and owned so that we may deal with them responsibly.

Take the feeling anger. Psychologists tell us that generally we get our feelings hurt first. Then we get angry to protect our self-esteem, to stop the hurt. Many of us get so good at switching on the anger that we honestly forget the hurt. However, the hurt is still there to be dealt with or suffered from later. Next time you feel angry, take some time to figure out by whom and how your feelings were hurt. You may be surprised at the change in your feelings. If a family member or a friend is acting angry, it is quite likely that hurt feelings triggered this angry behavior. Help your children to apply this knowledge. Perhaps, with your help, they may learn to increase their interpersonal skills and become happier people both at school and at home. Have a happy holiday! Sincerely, Sarah S. Webb, Counselor

Olin Dill's home is once again the subject of thousands of spectators as he and his family illuminated their home and surrounding shrubbery and out-buildings with Christmas lights. The home, north of Canterbury, has been illustrated in several newspapers with large national circulations. It continues to please the area residents each year.

Lake Forest/Chipman ? ? ? ? ?

It's Christmas, and nowhere is the season more in evidence than in the programs, decorations and activities of our schools. The pace is frantic; the ingenuity is abundant, and the excitement mounts.

(On these pages we offer a glimpse of some of the decorations and activities around the Lake Forest district in the elementary schools.

Lake Forest East Presents Christmas Program

The Christmas program at Lake Forest East Elementary School in Frederica was staged before a full house of parents and friends last Thursday, December 16. Conducting the program which involved grades one through six was the school's music director, Richard Collins.

Under Collins' guidance each grade presented a variety of carols and Christmas songs with a dramatic emphasis. 'Pudding eaters' in the first grade demonstrated how to dispose of the traditional dessert, and Suzy Snowflake, a snowman and their playmates joined the second grades for their performance.

The Frederica third graders conducted a candlelight processional straight out of old Mexico including breaking a pinata.

Christmas from the religious to the secular was spanned by the fourth grades in their presentation. Three visitors from the East joined the group in the solo parts of "We Three Kings". This was followed by Santa "Rockin Around the Christmas Tree".

A chorus of fifth and sixth graders offered a variety of Christmas music. In a special musical presentation, Donna Underwood and Darlene Wyatt played a flute duet.

Other students having special parts in the evening's program were Carla Boyd, Jeannie Jackson, Wayne Richrode, Tommy Graham, Steve Fowler and Kimberly Brown, first grade; Dawn Webber, Leroy Petrovich, Shari Hall, Pat Chodkiewicz, Shawn Caulk, John Carter and Elvin Spence, second grade; Timmy Gilbride, Diana Wilkins, and Pat Caskey, third grade, and Brian Mullins, Billy Wireman, John Caskey, and Tammy Bell, fourth grade.

Many teachers and parents were involved in the evening in assisting and in costume making.

Decorations for the evening were done by students under the direction of Peg Tewelow, Marion Gusset and Debbie Ziegler. A highlight was a Christmas tree towering some 6 to 10 feet on the gym wall. The tree was formed of vari-colored triangles cut out by all of the students in the school.

Trees for the future, not for Christmas, are planted by Nancy Green's sixth grade class at Lake Forest South.

Chipman Sports Program Gets Underway

The winter sports program at W. T. Chipman is getting underway with the selection of basketball and wrestling teams.

Bill Falasco is coach for the boys' basketball team, and two newcomers to the school, Dave Zinkham and Steve Wolak, are handling girls' basketball and wrestling respectively.

Out for the boys' basketball squad are James Evans, Jeffrey DeShields, Duane Harrell, Lewis Scott, Ron Dixon, Tom Dixon, Doug Collins, Dale Benson, Marvin Scott, David Moore, Wayne Scott, Ricky Booth, Kevin Moehlenkamp, Neal LaSalle, Gustus Teague, Doug Poore, Bruce Tolson, Ernest Smith. Managers are Andrea Kimmey, Jo Ann Smith and Rhonda Hammond.

Thirty-eight young men were listed on the Chipman wrestling team: Dennis Voshell, Doug Stevens, Charles Jones, Walter McIntire, Dale Jarrell, David Moffett, Curtis Harmon.

Library Contest Winners Announced

In November fourth, fifth and sixth graders at Lake Forest South were invited to participate in a contest in commemoration of National Children's Book Week (Nov. 8-12).

Those who participated and received awards were as follows:

- First - Christy Wise, fifth grade, The Headless Horseman; second - David Burdette, fourth grade, Railroad; third - Lisa Stayton, fourth grade, Turkeys; fourth - Lori Ann Wyatt, fifth grade, Pony Rider; fifth - Stacy Horseman, fifth grade, Boston Terriers; sixth - Beth Reed, fourth grade, Puppets and seventh - Stephen Wyatt, fourth grade, Snow White.

VOTE FOR ONE

This is the second edition of our monthly school section emphasizing the Lake Forest elementary schools and the W.T. Chipman Junior School. A number of names for this section (about 50 in all) have been submitted. They ran the gamut from "Cool News" (suggested by someone at Lake Forest North) to "The Hot Ones" (from Lake Forest East where it's perhaps a little warmer). Among the more unusual selections were "The Blue Banana" and "The Three Bears." Some were too long ("Stop, Look and Read What's Going On in the Lake Forest District") or reflected only one of the four schools. ("A Chip Off the Spartans", "Lake Forest East Superstars"). However, we were able to make a selection of four to be voted on for our next edition. They are: Spartan Selection, Lake Forest News, School Journal and Lake Forest/Chipman Journal. Which would you choose?

Angels and others need practice - sometimes a lot of it. Bill Comer directs students as they prepare for the annual Christmas gala production which was given at Lake Forest North in Felton last night.

Fire Prevention Contest Winners Named

Winners in the fire prevention poster and essay contest at Lake Forest East Elementary in Frederica were announced last Thursday. George Stubbs of the Bowers Volunteer Fire Company was on hand at the Christmas program that evening to make the awards.

The following were winners:
Poster Contest - Grades 1 and 2: James Schneiderwent, first; Forrest Smith, second and Timothy Mason, third.

Poster Contest - Grades 3 and 4: Richard Silkworth, first; Darren Hogan, second, and Timothy Gilbride, third.

Essay Contest - Grades 5 and 6: Robert Kawzenski, first; Donna Underwood, second, and Leroy Petrovich, third.

Kathy Lekites Newest Teacher At South B

The newest teacher in the Lake Forest District is not a new face either in Harrington or in the South B school where she has stepped into the spot vacated by Mrs. Robinson. Kathy Lekites (Mrs. Walter Lekites) grew up in Harrington, graduated from Harrington High School and worked five years here as an aide, three of them at the South B school.

Born Kathy Holloway, Mrs. Lekites was a 1961 high school graduate and attended Salisbury State College for a year before her marriage.

Starting as an aide at the outset of the Title I programs, Mrs. Lekites worked with Mrs. Bausell in the reading center at South Elementary. There she was involved with children from grades 2, 3 and 4. Later she served as an aide in kindergarten for one year and in first grade for two years. Here she was teamed again with Mrs. Bausell.

Very early on Mrs. Lekites began taking extension courses toward completing her degree requirements. Encouraged by Mrs. Bausell to go ahead with her plans for teaching, she finally left her spot as an aide to return to school full time at Delaware State. She has now finished all the necessary course work, but must wait to receive her diploma when the school holds annual commencement exercises in the spring.

In the matter of job hunting, Kathy Lekites may have set some sort of record for these days in which there is a lot of competition for the few job openings in the teaching field. Finishing her student teaching at Lake Forest South B this fall, Mrs. Lekites spent one intervening week working with Mrs. Robinson before taking over her own first grade classroom on November 1. Along with the 26 first graders in her class, Mrs. Lekites inherited the experience and help of Eleanor Cain who has worked there as an aide for several years.

Mrs. Lekites is happy to be working at the first grade level where most of her experience, even at the reading center in working with children in higher grades, has been. She is particularly in favor of the reading program at Lake Forest and likes to see both teacher and aide working with Title I students.

She and her husband live in Harrington. They have two sons, David at Chipman and Walter IV at South Elementary.

Santa's sleigh awaits the Christmas production at Lake Forest North as students await a practice session in the gym.

Imaginative bulletin boards are plentiful. "Have A Happy Holiday is the general conclusion as expressed at Lake Forest North."

Chipman Band Presents Concert

From the moment Alex Becton lifted his baton for the playing of the National Anthem until the final thunderous standing ovation, one could feel the chemistry flowing from director to band and back again as the W. T. Chipman Junior High band presented their Christmas concert last Wednesday night to a jam-packed audience.

The program began with Winter Wonderland followed by six traditional carols. Then, Mr. Becton turned, nodded and as the whistle was sounded by drum majorette Darlene Frechette, the percussion section struck up the cadence for "Do You Hear What I Hear?"

Down the center aisle marched the drum majorette, guard and majorettes with twirling, sparkling batons; on each of the outside aisles, the pom-pom girls made their swishing entrance and one could easily see why this band has been a prize-winning one this marching season.

by Carole Glasspool

The performance of this number by playing and non-playing band members was polished, perfect and glorious!

The W. T. Chipman Chorus directed by Mr. Becton then took over to sing "Joy to the World", and "Silver Bells" followed by "O Holy Night" performed by Miss Trinia Benson accompanied by Mr. Becton.

The W. T. Chipman Drama Club directed by Gary Andres and Mrs. Diane Collins presented a skit, "The Christmas Snowman."

The W. T. Chipman Band then took center stage again to perform a rousing rendition of "Jingle Bells Around the World". They played it German style complete with ompapas; a tinkling Oriental version; with a Latin American beat; a Russian version with well-interspersed "Heys", and finally in the fashion to which we are all accustomed. After playing "Silent Night" came the finale, and what a finale, the "Hallelujah Chorus" by Handel. As Mr. Becton pointed out, this music is usually played by bands of more maturity; but that didn't faze this band. They played this difficult number like old "pros" and brought the audience to its collective feet as the last note was played.

Prior to their finale, the band had presented Mr. Becton with a Christmas present -- an eight track tape player and speakers for his car. Mr. Becton, in his short speech thanking the band for the gift, spoke of their consideration for him and thanked the parents of band members for their cooperation. His concluding remark was "I've got to be the luckiest band director there is!"

It takes a good deal more than luck to achieve the results Mr. Becton achieves year after year. It takes a lot of hard work and a special teacher who develops a rapport with his students and motivates them so that their full potential is realized. For four years Mr. Alex Becton has been doing this with the W. T. Chipman Junior High Band and doing it superbly!

While serving in the position of Superintendent at Woodbridge, he has been a part of the consolidation of the school district and was present during the court ordered desegregation of the schools. He was largely instrumental in the revision of the curriculum in the school district, the construction of the new agricultural building at the high school and the prime mover in the extensive reading program through out the district where great strides have been made as well as a guidance program. Dr. Flint reported that in his tenure as Superintendent the tax base has not been raised in the district.

THE JOURNAL asked Dr. Flint about his plans for the future, and he reported that his plans were not definite "...although I will say this I have not been out of a job in my life, and I don't intend to be out of one in the future."

"As I look back over the past 22 years in the supervisor capacity, and try to compare it to today's standards, I can only say it is like night and day", said Dr. Flint. He voiced some hope that a new school some day would be built on the site which the school district owns out right just northwest of the Town of Bridgeville.

In addition to his association with the field of education, Dr. Flint over the years has been a high school football coach, and was very active in the early stages of the formation of the Henlopen Conference.

Dr. Flint and his wife Jeanne D. have one son, Foster J. Flint, Capt. U.S.A.F. who graduated from Princeton Univ. and Univ. of Mississippi. Dr. Flint is cited in the first edition of Marquis's Who's Who-Biographical Record-School District Officials, compiled by the editors of Who's Who in America, 1976.

Couple Relate Story Of Sea Rescue

Prior to this, I had gotten two life jackets out of the storage area. I had attempted to put mine on, although it was most difficult, since it was all we could do to hold on to the boat. I later learned I had not really gotten it on properly, since as a wave engulfed us, my life jacket left me. Fortunately, I was able to grab onto a string and pull it back to me. Bernie was still with-

Captain Robert Crawford
Crawford Serves In Oklahoma

Now serving at Tinker AFB, Okla., with a Tactical Air Command unit is Captain Robert H. Crawford Jr., son of retired U.S. Army Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Robert H. Crawford of Rt. 1, Harrington.

Captain Crawford, a weapons controller, was previously assigned at Lindsey Air Station, Germany. A 1962 graduate of Haverford Township Senior High School in Havertown, Pa., the captain received his B.A. degree in 1966 from Gettysburg (Pa.) College and was commissioned through the Reserve Officers Training Corps program. He earned his M.P.A. degree in 1974 at the University of Oklahoma.

out his, since he had been too busy navigating the boat to take the time to put his on.

Bernie continued to bail and then it happened, within seconds, it seemed, the entire boat filled with water and as it did, the boat began to capsize. Bernie ran to the bow with me. I remember screaming "What should I do?" and he replied "Stay with the boat, it will not sink." I have a lot of confidence in Bernie and his understanding of flotation in a boat is that the boat will fill with water and lie on top. It did not happen. The boat filled and simultaneously capsized. Fortunately, as it did, Bernie pushed the boat so that we were not trapped under it. At this point, the bow remained upright and we were able to hold on to it. I can remember hooking my fingers into the eye at the front of the bow. I pushed Bernie his life jacket which he held with one hand while clinging to the bow with the other. The waves were breaking over us. It was difficult to breathe. The waves were extremely close to one another and we were no more than recuperating from one when another would engulf us. We were swallowing a lot of water and it was taking all our strength to hold on to the bounding bow. I can't remember the chain of events or at what point the Nina Kay seemed to be changing its course and coming in our direction. It was more than we could even hope. At least we had the bow to hold on to. Then it happened, as a wave engulfed us, the bow of the boat sunk. The current swept Bernie away from me. I guess before we lost the bow, I had clung to some hope that some way we might be saved, but at that point, I knew we were dying. I can remember praying "Please God, let us die together." Somehow, even in the weakened condition we were, I swam toward Bernie and he against the current and we got back together again and clasped hands - our other arms grasping the flaccid life jackets.

Because of our condition, it is difficult to measure time, as we were constantly being battered by the violent waves, but I remember the headboat circling around us. They came within about 25' of us, threw ropes, but the current wiped them up and there was no chance of our reaching them. A second time they encircled us, again throwing ropes, but as before, the ropes were wiped up by the raging sea. It seemed to be taking approximately ten minutes to recircle us. According to Captain Nutter's relation of the story, he knew that there was only one hope of saving us and that time was of the essence. "We'll try one more time. If we leave them, they are gone. If we try to get close enough to reach them, there is a great possibility we'll run over them. Either way they are gone, but, at least, we have to try." I had gone into a state of semi-consciousness.

I was aware he was attempting to reach us again, but I really felt that even if he did, I had expended my last bit of energy and could not even grasp a rope. The thought never crossed my mind that he might run over us. I feel this is where the greatest navigational expertise was shown, because Captain Nutter headed directly toward us, knowing fully well that the bounding seas made it nearly impossible for him to come beside us, however, he did. As he maneuvered the boat beside us, two ropes were thrown to us. I had no strength to grasp the rope, although I did try. The last thing I remember was a hand grasping my right hand and then a hand grasping my left. Since my strength was gone, I hung there suspended. The two men - Norm Kelley and a black man whose name I do not know pulled me aboard. I couldn't breathe and my only thought at that moment as I lay incoherent was that they hadn't gotten Bernie. Apparently they had thrown two ropes, the first we both missed, but Bernie caught the second one and then was pulled from the back by two other men.

I want to make a note at this time. Norm Kelley, we learned later, had had three heart attacks prior to this incident and Captain Nutter was most concerned about his health.

The next hour or so things were rather hazy. I was in shock and talking incoherently. I remember being carried to the lower deck where they took the only dry clothes they could find and wrapped us in blankets. I remember Bernie getting sick. I suppose from all the water he had swallowed. I remember the boat thrashing to and fro and Captain Nutter ordering everyone to put on their life jackets - the possibility they might ditch was evident. I knew there was no way we could go into the water again if we were to ditch. Later as we lay in the lower deck, Captain Nutter shut the motors off. He had lost the radio contact and the visibility was bad. He was afraid he was in shallow water and might go aground. I can remember his remarking that he had some food and we'd have to share it. We were prepared to spend the night.

Some time thereafter, a voice from the upper deck announced that land had been sighted. Captain Nutter started the engines. As we started toward the Mispillion Inlet, the sea still raging, we lay in the lower deck, still not strong enough to go up on deck and through a small opening between the lower and upper deck, I saw the top of a tree. I began to cry to the poem, "Trees", by Joyce Kilmer, came to mind. It goes in part "I think that I shall never see, a poem lovely as a tree.....But only God can make a tree."

This is not entirely the end of our story. We have never met a finer group of people than we met that evening. Captain Nutter and his crew helped us inside. People brought clothing. It didn't matter that I am only a size five and some of the clothes would have fit a much larger person. They were some of the most beautiful clothes I have ever seen. Bernie and I had lost everything except for the clothes we were wearing and for some strange reason, his wallet remained intact in his pocket. All the fine people of the Mispillion Lighthouse Marina brought us coffee, cigarettes, brandy, food, offered us a trailer and a car. A couple took us to Bowers. No one would accept a penny for all they had done.

The following week, it seemed that every day we were awake, we had a new bruise, a hematoma formed on my upper arm and my right side was scraped and bruised. My left hand will always carry the scars where fingernails dug into my skin in order to pull me aboard. All things are unimportant. We have taken on a new outlook in life. What selfish human beings we are. How ungrateful for the little things we take so for granted. Through this experience, I realize how materialistic we Americans are. Unfortunately, it takes an experience like this to make you reassess your values, to be grateful for every day we have on this beautiful earth.

As I have told you, there is just no way we can begin to repay these fine men. There is also no underestimating the fact that we owe our lives to these men. There were no other boats in the area and in our weakened condition, I feel quite certain that we could not have lasted another thirty seconds. I cannot also discount the fact that God must have had a part in this.

We plan in the very near future to get as many of the fine people together for dinner but in no way can this begin to show our gratitude.

Sincerely,
Doris O. Woltz

Three In A Row

LF Takes Milford 64-39, Seaford 68-56

by Millard Ellingsworth III
Lake Forest ended their string of come-from-behind ball games by taking an early lead over Milford last Friday, and holding it throughout the game to mark their third straight victory.
Milford scored the first basket but the Spartans hit two in a row to take a four-two lead. Under the scoring of Bill Johnson and Frank Coursey, six each in the first quarter, the Spartans took a 20-9 lead at the quarter mark.
The Spartans slowed down in the second period with Sam Carey scoring six to give the Spartans 14 points in the second period. Milford also scored 14 points to make the half score 34-23, Lake Forest.

Usually a third period ball team, the Spartans were unusually sloppy during the third period, hitting only five of 14 shots but still holding the Bucs to less points than they scored. Ron Shockley hit three of the five shots with Carey and Johnson each claiming one.
Sam Carey led a 20 point fourth period rally with eight points to bring the Spartan total to 64. Through exceptional defense, the Spartans held Milford to 16 points in the second half and under 40 points on the entire game. Final score was 64-39 Lake Forest.

Carey led the scoring for the Spartans with 18 points, followed by Johnson, Coursey, and Shockley each with eight.
"There isn't a team in the conference that can stick with our bench," Jack Coker commented after a Spartan triumph and they proved just that against Seaford on December 14.
Seaford came on to the court ready to play and totally dominated the Spartans during the first period and should have had more than a 23-20 lead except for the shooting of Lauren Burris, Sam Carey, Jack Coker, and Frank Coursey.

Ron Shockley sank his only two baskets of the second period right after the opening jump to give the Spartans a temporary lead 24-23. Seaford, though, was playing an aggressive ball game and came back to take the lead 37-33 at halftime.

Lake Forest capitalized on several Blue Jay turnovers to tie the score 39-39 in the third period. A minute later, Frank Coursey was awarded two free throws on a foul and he made the first one to make the score 41-40, Seaford. He missed the next one but Bill Moore made an excellent rebound and shot to give Lake Forest a 42-41 lead.

The Spartans managed 14 points in the fourth period to make the final score 68-56, Lake Forest.

Alumni Games Change Dates

The Lake Forest Alumni Basketball games scheduled for Tuesday, January 4, have been changed to Monday, January 3. The games will take place at the Lake Forest High Leading the Woodbridge Raiders in scoring in their opening game was Louis Dexter who scored 14 points in their loss to Laurel.

Raiders Have Tough Opener

It was a rough opening night for the Woodbridge basketball team and their new coach Kapell Tilghman as they were routed by Laurel last Friday by a score of 92-43.
It didn't take long for the Bulldogs to turn this game into a runaway as they took a fifteen point lead at the end of the first period and continued to build on it to the point where they had the game pretty well sewed up by halftime, with a 22 point lead. Woodbridge's lack of a big man under the boards, such as Nathaniel "Spank" Neal whose eligibility ran out with the past football season, was a big reason for the large margin of victory as Laurel consistently got off more than one shot at the basket.

Not only did Laurel dominate the offensive boards but also the defensive boards as they most of the time allowed the Raiders only one shot at the basket. Big guns for the Bulldogs who are one of the strongest teams in the Southern Division were Derrell Holden who scored 27 points and Donald Holden who scored 21.

It was Louis Dexter and Nelson Burbage who kept the score as close as it was as together they combined for over half of the Raiders 43 points. Dexter finished with a team leading 14 points while Burbage chipped in 13.
Mechanical refrigeration was patented in 1851.

Milford Invitational Spartans, Raiders Have Winners

by Ray Blanchette
It was a fine weekend for both Lake Forest and Woodbridge wrestling teams, at the Milford Invitational Tournament as each placed two wrestlers in the top three, of their weight classes with the Raiders having two champions.

For Lake Forest it was "In a way" a surprise stated coach Dean Wern for 155 pounder Larry McCombs to capture the Spartans lone championship. McCombs, who is only a sophomore and already has one full year of varsity wrestling under his belt, had an easy time of it in his final match as he took advantage of four penalty points for stalling against Sussex Central's Gary Jackson to defeat him 7-1.

two champions was a very big surprise. One Alonzo Frisby was expected but the other Rocky Flem was the big surprise. Flem who was only 5-7 last year as a sophomore "didn't make weight until the day of the tournament" stated Woodbridge coach Gary Bottiger and therefore was weak. As Bottiger pointed out Flem was not wrestling up to full strength and still won his weight class so he must have something going for him. "He has good potential," stated Bottiger and he expects him to do lots better than last season's 5-7 mark.

As for Frisby, who was top seated in his 105 pound weight class it was no surprise at all as he easily recorded a first period pin in his final match against Caesar Rodney's Mike Santy. "I knew he had a good chance," stated Bottiger about Frisby who last season was unbeaten in dual matches but failed to go to the State Tournament as he was twice upset in the Conference Tournament and finished fourth.

Lake Forest's Lane Lapinsky was the other Spartan wrestler to finish in the top three as he finished third in the 98 pound weight class. Last season Lapinsky finished second in the Henlopen Conference and was the favorite coming in to the Milford Invitational Tournament and had it not been for one move, an illegal body slam, Lapinsky probably would have been the 98 pound champion. The move against Rick Hay of Dover in their semi-final match injured Hay to the point where he couldn't continue and therefore was awarded the match.

Coach Wern termed it a "big disappointment as Lapinsky had been keeping his weight well and had completely outclassed every other 98 pound in the tournament." However Wern termed the call by the referee a "good call" and "there was no other way to call it." Lapinsky who also finished fourth in the state last season is one of the Spartan co-captains this year.

Two other Spartans who just missed finishing in the top three were 119 pounder Jamie Simpson and 138 pounder John Moffett. It was Charles Lovegrove of Smyrna who did Simpson in by beating him 6-2 in their consolation match. Simpson by wrestling 119 is in one of the most competitive weight classes in the conference.

As for Moffett, who was battling a sore ankle, it was only one point that did him in as he dropped a 9-8 decision to Mike Unruh of Sussex Central. Moffett who wrestled at 138 pounds during the tournament will drop down to 132 pounds for the season and could prove to be a big surprise. The toughest match of the season could come in the Spartans first dual match January 5 against Caesar Rodney when he will take on Milford Invitational Champion Kevin Hauer. Moffett is the other Spartan co-captain this season and coach Wern says he is "anxious".

Spartans To Meet CR Riders

First year Spartan head wrestling coach Dean Wern is looking forward to his first season which gets underway January 5 against the always tough Caesar Rodney Riders.

Wern, who prior to his selection as head wrestling coach at the high school was the W.T. Chipman head wrestling coach, will be fielding what looks to be a highly competitive team.

Leading the team will be senior co-captains John Moffett and Lane Lapinsky. Lapinsky wrestles in the 98 pound weight class and finished second in the conference last year and third in the Milford Invitational last weekend. Moffett will wrestle in the 132 pound class after finishing fourth in the 138 pound class in the Invitational last weekend.

Other Spartans who will be seeing plenty of action this season will be; 105 pounder Dave Brown who is only a freshman but did real well at Milford in winning his first match before losing to the eventual champion Alonzo Frisby of Woodbridge; 112 pounder David Shultie who had some varsity action last season is only a sophomore; 119 pounder Jamie Simpson who should be a real big plus for the Spartans following his fourth place finish in Milford this past weekend and according to coach Wern is one of the "hardest workers" on the team; at 126 pounds is junior Dennis Wheeler who like Simpson is a hard worker and very aggressive and currently is facing tough competition from Gary Kashner for his varsity spot; at 145 pounds is sophomore Louis Hendricks who was a letter winner last season and is also being hard pressed by fellow teammate Jimmy Fleming; 167 pounds is currently being hotly contested between Tim McCombs who lost by a slim margin in the Milford

Tournament to the eventual tournament champion and sophomore Perry Thomas; at 185 pounds is Mike Bonner who won his first match by a pin and then due to inexperience got pinned in his second match; and finally at heavy weight is Manny Christopher who also won his first match before being pinned by the eventual champion in his second match and who coach Wern expects to do "real well this season and possibly finish in the top three of the conference."

This season Wern stated he has been stressing basic wrestling and conditioning. "We're trying to get our team to be able to wrestle six minutes and not be dead." Wern will be assisted by Bob Snyder this season as the Spartans open their season January 5 in a home match against Caesar Rodney which could be a tale-tale match for the rest of the season.

Raiders Get Underway Against Seaford

The first child to be born in the New England Colonies was Peregrine White, a baby girl born aboard the Mayflower in Massachusetts Bay.

The Woodbridge High Raider wrestling under the direction of head mentor Gary Bottiger is currently preparing for their season opening match against Seaford of January 5. The Raiders are coming off a very successful Milford Invitational Tournament where they had two individual champions. These champions, Alonzo Frisby and Rocky Flem, will be the heart of the team. Frisby will wrestle in the 105 pound class while Flem will occupy the 167 pound class.

Woodbridge is also pretty well set in a couple of other weight classes as 98 pounder Mike Fields is a veteran wrestler who could possibly finish high in the conference. Fields captured his first match in the tournament by a pin but lost out in his second match.

Also 112 pounder Landy Correll figures to see plenty of varsity action as he too had a fine performance in the Milford Tournament as he won his first match and then lost his second 5-4 on a penalty shot.

Woodbridge has already been hit by the injury jinx this season and only fielded wrestlers in eight of twelve classes in the tournament. Coach Bottiger hopes that he will fill at least three of these classes before the season begins. Others who wrestled for the Raiders in the tournament last weekend were Ken Wilson (116), Mark Wheatley (126), David Miller (145), and Matt Reynolds.

Before the season begins for the Raiders on January 5, Woodbridge will participate in the J.M. Bennett Invitational Tournament Dec. 28-29.
